HEALTH WORK
LEADING THEMEPrince William Teachers Hold
Annual Institute on Monday

The teachers of the county assembled Monday for instructions and organization work. A number of interesting talks were given. Health work was the dominant theme, Professor E. Boyd Graves, district supervisor of physical instruction and Mrs. Ruby Haydon, county health worker, both spoke. Using Miss Mary Lynch as a model, Mrs. Haydon demonstrated the manner in which a pupil should be examined. Mrs. Haydon also stressed the importance of notifying her in case of any suspected cases of contagious disease.

Miss Pitt outlined the days on which she would visit the various schools, and asked the co-operation of the teaching body.

Miss Elizabeth Vaughan, principal of Haymarket High, took the chair while nominations for officers of the institute were being made. Professor C. O. Bittle, principal of Nokesville High, was elected president, Mrs. Grace L. Hite, vice-president and Miss Ruth Smith, secretary-treasurer. At the same time delegates were elected to the state teachers' institute which meets every fall at Richmond. Delegates named are Mr. John C. Cline of Occoquan, Miss Sallie Massie of Haymarket, and Miss Lucy Hillman of Manassas.

Miss Vaughan also read a letter from the Educational Association inquiring as to the sentiment regarding a proposed change of dates on which the annual meetings are now held. No action was taken, it being felt that a more thorough discussion should be entered into at the District H meeting which takes place at Warrenton next month.

Professor Young, of Fredericksburg State Teachers college, discussed college and college entrance work.

Professor Haydon outlined many of the daily and monthly requirements of routine and record work, touching many phases of school management. Adjournment was had at one o'clock when the teachers were the guests of the county school board. Professor Haydon and the board held an informal reception just prior to the luncheon.

The afternoon was devoted to routine work, and the teachers adjourned to begin work on Tuesday, this being the regular opening day. The number of enrolled pupils will be announced as soon as figures are available.

The institute voted to join the state association and make Prince William a 100 per cent county.

MRS. LEWIS WINS
BAKERY PRIZE

Prince William Bakery,
Manassas, Va.
Gentlemen:

I am stating some reasons why I prefer the bread made by the Prince William Bakery.

First, it is a good, honest loaf and made and baked under as sanitary conditions as bread baked elsewhere.

Second, it keeps moist longer than any bread I have ever used.

Third, it can be kept longer in hot weather without moulding.

Fourth, it is just as good as bread can be.

Fifth, Mr. Smith is a home man, and as the merchants advocate buying at home, they might help the cause by buying bread and other products put out by the Prince William Bakery.

With all success to this bakery, I beg to remain

Sincerely,
VIRGINIA A. LEWIS.

LOCAL DAIRYMEN
IMPROVE HERDSEfficiency Double That of a
Year Ago, Says Mr. Brady

Arthur J. Brady, official tester for the Prince William Herd Improvement Association has just filed his annual report for the year ending August 31, 1930. There are now sixteen herds showing an annual production of over 300 pounds of butterfat, or just double the number one year ago. Mr. Brady states that the most valuable help the farmer has along these lines is his record book.

In 1929-30, average fat ran 284 pounds while this year it was 310.4. Milk last year averaged 7815 and this year, 8282. This year there were twenty-five herds with a total of 629 cows.

Herds making the greatest strides in butterfat production are J. F. Miller, Broadview Farm; E. W. Thompson, R. S. Hynson, Harley and Kline, Dr. E. H. Marsteller, C. C. Lynn (Ben Lomond Farm), P. A. Lewis, Francis M. Lewis, E. R. Conner and Ivakota Farm (J. B. Barrett, mgr.). These increases vary from forty pounds increase for C. C. Lynn to 91.8 pounds for E. R. Conner.

POPULAR MANASSAS
GIRL A BRIDE

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized last Saturday afternoon at 5:30 in Manassas when Miss Catharine Weir became the bride of Mr. Marshall Parrish Mercer of Richmond and Philadelphia.

The ceremony took place in the Episcopal Church which was tastefully decorated with ferns, palms and cut flowers and Cathedral candles. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Samuel Tasker Weir. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. Hasel assisted by Rev. Stuart Gibson, rector of the Church. Organ selections were rendered by Mrs. Stuart Gibson and Mrs. Howard Rutan sang "At Dawning" and "Love You Truly."

The bride was exquisitely gowned in brown chiffon velvet and lace and carried a streamer bouquet of cream roses and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. M. M. Ellis, was attired very handsomely in lace of an autumn shade and carried roses and delphinium.

The bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Dinwiddie wore an exquisite titian shaded gown with streamer bouquet of roses and dahlias.

The bride's mother wore a very beautiful gown of blue georgette with bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Warren Mercer of Richmond, wore an imported creation of black lace and carried lilies of the valley.

Boutonnieres of lilies of the valley were worn by the groom and his attendants.

Mr. George Mercer of Richmond, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Messrs. M. M. Ellis, Hawes Davies, Jr., Paul Arrington, and Howard Rutan of Washington.

On Friday preceding the wedding a reception to the bridal party was given by the bride's parents at their home.

EMERGENCY FEED CROPS FOR DROUGHT STRICKEN FARMERS

Tennessee Winter, Union Winter, Arlington and Tennessee beardless are the best varieties. The first two mentioned will give the largest total yields but are sometimes objected to on account of their beards.

All varieties should be sown at the rate of 2 bushels to the acre and fertilized according to suggestions already given for rye.

Vetch, Crimson Clover and Austrian Winter Peas.—These crops may be sown up to within two weeks of the average killing frost date of the section. They afford early spring grazing or may be cut for early hay. The proper rates of seeding are 40 pounds of vetch, 15 pounds of crimson clover, or 60 pounds of Austrian winter peas to the acre. Seed should be inoculated and 300 pounds of superphosphate should be used as a fertilizer for each acre sown.

Mixture of Small Grains and Legumes.—Abruzzi rye and Hairy winter vetch sowed at the rate of one bushel of rye and twenty pounds of vetch to the acre up to October 10, grazing, or may be cut for early hay, will make good fall and early spring fertilizer recommendations are the same as for rye.

Winter oats and Austrian winter peas sowed at the rates of forty pounds of oats and forty pounds of peas make a good early spring hay if seeded during September. Winter oats seeded alone during September will give grain for summer feeding.

Where wheat is on hand and cheap, it may be seeded about two weeks earlier than usual at the rate of six to seven bushels to the acre and grazed until March without much damage to next year's grain crop. However, it will not furnish more than half as much grazing as a similar acreage of September at the rate of six pounds Abruzzi rye.

Rape seeded during August and September at the rate of six pounds to the acre with winter oats or alone will afford pasturage for hogs and sheep within forty days and may be grazed until hard freezing weather. Rape requires a fertile sweet soil and should not be sown on acid soils. Manure or a complete fertilizer in liberal quantities are advised.

Turnips seeded during August at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds to the acre will give roots for storage if weather is favorable. Or if no roots are made, the tops may be grazed. Turnips require about the same soil conditions as those mentioned for rape.

Where last spring's clover and grass seedings were killed by dry weather, the soil may be disked and re-seeded to the same mixtures any time up to within thirty days of the average killing frost date. These late summer and early fall seedings will give cuttings at the same time next summer that they would have been cut had the spring seeding lived through. If one-half pound of turnip seed are sown to each acre with the grass seed, a good crop of turnips may be gathered this fall without damage to the grass.

Gardens

Experience proves that even at this late date the following vegetables mature, certainly in southern Virginia, may be planted and will ordinarily only an unusually early fall will prevent this. Frost seldom comes before the last of October. Year before last we had fresh vegetables until late in November. In the present emergency, every one with available space should plant at once. If cold weather comes early, we will be, as the saying is, "out of luck," but the trial is well worth while.

Snap.—Bountiful is one of the best and will mature in 8 weeks.

Beets.—Any early variety will mature in 2 months.

Swiss Chard.—Should mature before frost.

Carrots.—Almost any variety matures in 60 days and can stay out until freezing weather.

Collards.—It takes 3 months for collards, but they stand frost; in fact, are better for it.

Kale.—There are a number of kinds, plain, Siberian, curled Scotch, blue curled scotch, etc. Matures in November and, properly protected, will remain for use all winter.

Mustard.—This excellent salad matures in 8 weeks.

Early peas.—Eight weeks are required for maturity.

Radishes.—At this time of the year, maturity can hardly be reached for forty days.

Winter Radishes.—Last long and the tops can be used for greens also. Spinach.—Sixty days for maturity. This should be planted to a large extent at once.

Turnips.—We are told that turnips can be planted until September. Whether or not they mature (they require about 2 months) the salad will be good, and, properly protected, will come forth in the spring, being a much needed green at that time. Also sow broadcast for salad.

Lettuce.—The necessity, and it really has become a necessity, requires 2 to 3 months from seed. If plants can be obtained, 2 months only. Some good varieties are New York and Wonderful, Big Boston and many others, and then there are the Roman varieties, also known as Cos. Onion sets.—Experience has shown that onion sets planted now will, unless an Early Fall comes, furnish "spring" onions in November.

Corn.—If we have a late Fall, Golden Bantam and other varieties will mature. 2 or 3 months are required, can now be used.

Brussel Sprouts.—Only large plants according to season and weather.

Cabbage.—Same as Brussel Sprouts. Of course, seed will not germinate as quickly this time of the year as in the spring nor will the plants thrive as well, but it is well worth trying. The price of all the vegetables above specified will be very high this Fall and Winter, and it behooves everyone to relieve the situation. We did this during the War. Vegetable gardens were then laid out, almost overnight, and great good was accomplished.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says: "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement, without forming a habit of ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

FORD WINS IN POLAND

Ford cars again demonstrated their ability for fast and hard travel when they captured first and third prizes in the recent international automobile race staged by the Polish Automobile Club.

The race covered some 2,000 miles. Starting in Warsaw, the cars passed through nearly all the main cities around Poland, such as Lublin, Krakow, Katowice, Poznan, Bydgoszcz, Gdynia, Bialystok and Wilno. They continued along the Russian border to Lemberg and thence back to Warsaw. The race covered six days with stops in all the important Polish cities.

First prize was won by a standard Ford phaeton which has been received from the dealer only three days before the race. It was awarded no less than fifteen prizes, the most important being the Golden Victory Cup offered by the Polish Automobile Club.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

SCRIPTURE AND ITS USE.—All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.—2 Tim. 3:16, 17.

PRAYER:

May Thy word, Lord, ever be our guide and counsel.

Bargains for Banquets

Where popular demand reduces prices

"One policy of your company which gives me the greatest satisfaction," writes an A&P customer, "is that you do not take advantage of a special demand for a product to profiteer."

"For example, on the third of last July my A&P store sold good quality watermelons from 25c to 55c below other stores in town. A&P, realizing that many people enjoy a nice melon for Fourth of July picnics, put them within reach of everyone."

A&P believes in making it as easy as possible for people to get what they want when they want it most. That is why A&P provides special bargains in fruits and vegetables at the height of their season, in turkeys at Thanksgiving and Christmas, in delicacies during the Holidays, and in eggs at Easter.

The usual custom is to charge a little more when people for one reason or another are pretty sure to buy anyhow. A&P thinks these are just the times to make the cost of high living as low as possible.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

Woodbridge and Occoquan

Good morning folks, here we come running with the news of the day in our wake. A county paper is not worth a hill of beans when it tries to ape our metropolitan dailies. Real country news is interesting to country boobs. Whoa, Old Top: Don't try to bite the man in the oon. When we say, "Country Boobs" that is a compliment to us all. We live in the country. In fact, Twin City is built in the open air and it's inhabitants commune with the "Simple Annals of the Poor."

It is interesting gossip that causes the girls to wear short skirts and rolled stockings, bobbed hair and drug store ruby lips, winsome smiles and hand painted cheeks. Simply Gossip, or a dull existence, for there is nothing left for imagination. A dimpled knee is like the everblooming rose, with us all ways.

And zowie! Roscoe Clark was surprised to find himself face to face with a birthday on the third instant. A pretty important affair in a young man's life. Rumor tells gossip and gossip not knowing a thing about a secret simply lets the cat out of the bag. Many presents and good wishes was Roscoe's fiftieth natal day. One present that keeps him wondering is a baby carriage for two.

Roscoe, my lad,

Why look so sad?

You had a birthday,

We heard the good wife say,

"I just love him

Deed I do,

I just love him,

Us two,

And all the world is sunshine

For, just us two;

I love him

Indeed I do."

But Roscoe complains,

Not because it don't rain.

He remembers the eve of his birthday

That was when he got his pay,

When his eyes were heavy in sleep,

His dear spouse made a furtive peep,

Eased out of bed

And by inspiration was led

Straight to his pantaloons, and oh!

She shook 'em so gently, just so.

Only a shake—just a shake!

And Roscoe, awake, awake!

And as the coins began to jingle,

Roscoe moaned, "I wish I was single."

But the coins for a birthday gift were spent.

Every dime, nickel and cent.

And Roscoe had just a grand birth-

Because it happened to be the day after pay day,

He no longer looks sad and full of grief,

Birthday past, great relief;

He knows the good wife can shake his pantaloons,

But won't find any coin for several moons.

School is with us again. Millions of children will start in to learn what we think we have learned. You see, we are grown and we still think that age has made us wise. We, old folks have a whole lot more to learn than the children. Why should the blind try to lead the blind? Our system of education is 90 per cent; 75 per cent of the teachers know about as much about pedagogics as a hen knows about false teeth for chewing her corn and oats. It is true at this age, we do not have the three "R's" taught to the tune of a hickory stick. It is mass studies that discourages the youngsters. Studies that are not interesting, and are not tried to be made interesting. Even a dull subject can be handled in an interesting manner by a few. Sallie and Mary, Tom and Dick are all taught the same thing in the same Hum-Drum manner. When Sallie gets old enough she expects to have a home and a family of her own. She is an absolute necessity to the growth and prosperity of our community and nation. Mary fully expects to be a film actress, foreign missionary, nurse or bookkeeper. Tom at an early age has made up his mind to be a professional man, and Dick wants to be a farmer. These four typical youngsters are all taught the same thing during the first seventeen years of their worldly being. Until we find out how to educate the young and treat the old we need not wonder at the advance of communism and the steady growth of the crime wave. We use more intelligence and mercy towards our dogs. The drought has forced Pap Mahogany to sink a well in the innards of Old Mother Earth in search of that sparkling fluid that oah used to such good advantage in boating his ark. Noah saved the human race, such as it is; Pap says that he wants to save the Mahogany family. Good luck to you Pap, the water is there, keep going. You remember that Moses used stick and beat water out of rock, surely you can use a pick and do as well. Cackle Snooks Pierce, Uncle Sam's Postmaster, west end Twin City, has polished his auto, adjusted the carburetor and taken stock of his abdomen for a two weeks' vacation. This potential vacationist reports a fine appetite, but warns his friends about trying to feed his skunk cabbage.

We visited East End Twin City Post Office the other day and made inquiry for the Postmaster and was told by the postmaster's wife that he was busy blacking the kitchen stove. Sure enough there was Jakey hard at it and just as black as any Alabama Coon. We understand that Jakey demanded as a reward, seven hot biscuits and butter for breakfast next morning. Rumor states that Jakey got two warm biscuits and a butter substitute.

Double A. Davis reports an important find. In the unincorporate limits of Twin City, lies Featherstone Farms, formerly Negley's. Years and years ago an old fellow by the name of Negley built Negley's Mansion. A beautiful three story building, near the center of the several farms that make up Featherstone Farms. Geo. Herring, its present owner, while living an active life outside of the house never gave a thought to what might be in the house. Mrs. Herring using her intuition, coupled with curiosity plus, has been exploring the house for the past ten years. A few days ago a secret compartment was found in one of the rooms and when opened there were yellow pieces of eight running into seven figures, oney from different parts of the world; dating as far back as the fourteenth century. Double A. Davis says that when Mrs. Herring showed her find to Mr. Herring he swooned and called for a glass of buttermilk to quiet his nerves. He has offered Mrs. Herring her third. She says "No." The Golden Fortune has been safely trucked to bank. If Mr. Herring passes a way because of Mrs. Herring's refusal to turn part of this find over to him, it is said, that Mrs. Herring will be one of the wealthiest widows in the Old Dominion. We advise George to continue to drink his buttermilk and be agreeable around home, probably the good wife will relent.

Luck for 'em, they lost every drop. Twiddle Dee and Twiddle Dum, That they found a bottle of Rum; They unscrewed the top And its contents went "pop" GEO. DENT.

But we thought motorists wanted more than just words—we thought they were seeking better performance.

So we sought a new crude—and found it. We built a new refinery, one of the world's largest. We discovered a new process.

And today Orange American Gas gives better all-around performance than anything else at its price—not better performance in the newspapers but better performance in modern automotive engines, including yours. Try it today.
