3 RING CIRCUS AT MANASSAS

The Hunt Circus, which for the past thirty-six years has been a tented organization in the amusement world, with Charles T. Hunt, its veteran manager, is scheduled to visit Manassas on September 26, for two complete performances.

Mr. Hunt has owned and operated his own show from the days that all vehicles were horse-drawn, until now; he has graduated with the times and has completely modernized his show until it is the last word in motorized circuses.

"The Masterpiece of all Motorized Shows" is the synonym under which the Hunt shows now travel. Everything is transported upon a fleet of fast moving motor trucks and the show moves with speed and economy never before attained in the history of show business.

Each horse, each animal, every piece of paraphernalia is loaded in their own particular car, and travel over the broad highways from town to town. This economy enables the Hunt Circus to visit towns and play towns that have been unable to see these large circuses transported upon the railroad, due to inadequate unloading and trackage facilities.

We stop and wonder that if in the future, sometime, an advance agent won't stop in our community, and say that he wants to make arrangements for the accommodation of a circus transported by aeroplanes, so fast do the various changes of things take place in modern times.

With the enlargement of the Hunt circus to a big motorized show, many new and novel features have been added to the program. A bareback-riding act, such as is carried only by the mammoth railroad transported shows, is one; a troop of tight-wire artists is another; an extensive side show with a large collection of freaks and wonders, another.

Mr. Hunt has also added a large concert band under the direction of Prof. Milo Hart, whose concerts before the big show starts, are a pleasant feature to its many patrons. There is also a number of selections rendered upon the huge air calliope by Miss Helen (Pretzman), who is second to none in the country upon this instrument. She was formerly employed in one of the largest New York theatres as organist, and is merely traveling with Mr. Hunt for a summer vacation.

The Hunt show is in its thirty-sixth annual tour and has always accorded its patrons amusement worth while.

Mr. Hunt always has adhered to the creed that "The show going people are my friends, and the best amusement that money can buy is none too good for these friends, the circus-loving public."

SWAVELY NOTES

The school opened on Monday; most of the boys have returned, and regular work is once more under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter are in residence in town. Mr. and Mrs. Kline in West Hall, and the other members of the faculty are in their former quarters.

All those returning from distant parts express great surprise and regret to see the once beautiful gardens, the campus and the golf-course in their present state of aridity owing to the drought.

Several parents visited the school in the early part of the week to see their sons settled in.

A new member of the staff is Miss Archer, assistant matron and nurse. Miss Archer is a Canadian.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, of Chevy Chase, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Swavely.

Mr. Dean Tabor, of the Polytechnic Institute, Cookeville, Tenn., is visiting his brother, Mr. O. Tabor, of the faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. Gill reported pleasant normal summer weather in Ontario with fruit plentiful and other crops good.

Mr. and Mrs. Konold, of Pittsburgh, were week end guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Illingworth.

CONGRATULATIONS

On Tuesday, September 16, a very demure and charming young lady came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Winston. The arrival is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hunt, Jr.

Makes Special Announcement

BRISTOW LADY WINS PRIZES

Mrs. J. C. Keys, of Bristow, is the winner of fifty firsts in the Fairfax Fair of last week.

Twenty-two of these came from the women's department and twenty-eight from the department of food preservation.

Such a signal honor for Prince William County is very noteworthy.

NEW UNDERTAKING FIRM OPENS AT OCCOQUAN

Messrs. R. S. Hall, formerly of Manassas, and E. W. Groff, of Fairfax, who recently formed a partnership, have opened a new funeral home at Occoquan, and have invited the public to visit them on Saturday next. Both of these gentlemen have been in this profession for a number of years.

The parlors are located in the Elliott Building, across from the Bank of Occoquan. The show rooms, parlors and reception rooms are all tastefully furnished, and there is a large equipment of vaults and caskets in stock.

Mr. Hall, the senior partner, has a specially equipped car, designed for moving sick or injured, and Mrs. Nancy Caldwell, a graduate nurse is in attendance.

The new firm has expressed a desire to have visitors at any time but especially so on Saturday, the 20th.

A CORRECTION

In the last issue of the Journal, it was noted that in the award made by the Prince William Bakery for the best letter about their bread that the winner was Mrs. Virginia A. Lewis, whom everyone will recognize as the widow of the former owner and editor of the Journal.

In printing this letter a typographic error was made in the use of the words "baked somewhere" which should have read "baked elsewhere."

THOMAS JACKSON CATON

In the 68th year of his age, Thomas J. Caton died at Georgetown University Hospital early Saturday morning, September 1, 1930. Funeral services were held in Sudley Church at 2 p. m., Sunday afternoon, September 14. Interment was in the cemetery nearby.

Some four weeks ago he began ailing and was sent to the Georgetown University Hospital for treatment where a major abdominal operation was performed for his relief. For a time he grew better and hopes for his recovery were entertained; but the human body was too frail to stand the shock and a good man passed to his reward.

Mr. Caton was a lifelong resident of the Catharpin community and a man of acknowledged integrity. He was identified with all the activities of the neighborhood. He was a member and steward of the Sudley Church and a member of Stonewall Council, O. A. F., of Catharpin. He was a man who stood high in the estimation of his friends and neighbors. He leaves a wife, one brother, Enoch of near Falls Church and many nephews and nieces to mourn their loss. The funeral conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Phillips, was very largely attended on Sunday afternoon; the O. A. F. conducting the Ritual Rites of the order at the grave. A good man has gone from among us and Thomas Jackson Caton will be missed by his church, his fraternity and by his neighbors. What greater eulogy can any man have than this?

Miss Frances McAfee of Wilmington, Del., on Wednesday last was the guest of Miss Virginia Speiden. Miss McAfee was enroute to Hollins College, Roanoke.

SEPTEMBER MEETING MEN'S CLUB OF MANASSAS

The Men's Club of Manassas held its September meeting in the basement of the Presbyterian Church Thursday of last week.

Mr. Wilfong read a letter from Mr. Meetz's daughter thanking the Club for their kindness in the recent death of her father, Mr. George W. Meetz, who was a charter member of the organization.

On motion, the resolutions committee was authorized to draw up suitable resolutions.

Mr. Wilfong was constituted chairman of a committee to handle all matters of charity coming before the Club and to devise ways and means of maintaining a fund for such purposes.

Mr. Wilfong reported a special fund of fifty dollars to be devoted in keeping a young man of Manassas at Catawba Sanatorium.

Mr. Robert Saunders gave an interesting talk on Forestry and Conservation since its beginning in this country, contrasting with similar developments in Europe.

APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE MADE TO LOCAL COMMITTEE AT ONCE

$2,000.00 ALLOTTED TO PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY FOR SEED AND FERTILIZER LOANS

$2,000.00 has been allotted to Prince William County by the Federal Seed and Fertilizer Loan Office for loans for seed and fertilizer for Fall pasture crops such as rye, barley and wheat. These loans are to be made only to persons who are not able to obtain credit from other sources for this purpose. Since the amount available for lending is limited and if the seed and fertilizer is to be obtained in time for use for 1930 Fall pastures, applications should be made by those wishing to take advantage of this allotment at once. The necessary application forms and assistance in making the application may be obtained at the county agricultural agents office. Interest will be charged on these loans at the rate of 5 per cent and notes made payable July 1, 1931. The fund available is the surplus of the fund appropriated for this purpose in 1929 and in order to divert the surplus over to the present emergency, it was necessary that the terms of last year's loans, namely, that they be made for crops to be pastured or harvested in 1930 be followed. After pasturing these crops this fall and early winter however there will be no objection to their being harvested in 1931 for grain. The applications for loans after being examined by the County Committee will be sent to the Federal Seed and Fertilizer Loan Office for final consideration.

RICHMOND MAN NAMED HEAD

Confederate Veterans Hold Annual Reunion at Orange

About 200 Confederate veterans, or approximately one-half the number which attended the 1920 reunion, assembled this week at Orange Court-house.

The main feature of the celebration was the unveiling of a statue to General James Kemper, at his old home near Orange. (Gibson Kemper residing near Clifton is a near relative of the General—Editor's note.)

Grand Commander Edgar Warfield, of Alexandria, made the principal address. He pointed out the danger of the removal of the Confederate monument at Prince and Washington Streets in Alexandria to make way for the new boulevard, and the grand camp was unanimously endorsed any movement which will aid in preventing such an occurrence.

The election resulted in the naming of William M. Evans, of Richmond, to succeed Dr. Warfield. The camp decided that no subordinate camp should disband so long as there were two members to preserve an organization. C. B. Linney of Charlottesville was elected Brigadier General commanding the northern Virginia Division.

Observations of Chris J. Meetze

Montclair, N. J.,
September 8, 1930

To the Owners and Editors of the Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Friends at Home:—

Complying with your request when I was home last, I am sending you a few items which might be of interest to my friends in Old Prince William. I presume if we headed this, "Will Rogers Says or Calvin Coolidge Says," I might be getting in dutch, so we will leave the heading as I have put it, if agreeable to you and we will not have it copyrighted yet awhile.

There has been considerable rain here within the past thirty days and the country looks beautiful.

Conditions here are somewhat depressing, but people seem to find time and money to motor, go to the lakes and seashore, and play Miniature Golf till after midnight, it is not an usual sight to see from fifty to one hundred persons playing after midnight, these little Golf courses are very attractive, and many people who never thought of playing regular Golf are getting nutty about this little game.

Montclair is a city of wealthy residents who have their offices and business in New York, city and some motor, but most of them go by trains or buses.

Eagle Rock, one of the Residential sections here affords a beautiful view of the big building of New York, known as the Sky Line, the building reaching up into the sky so high, gives it that name. Many people go from here to Newark and take the tubes either for uptown or down town, and one can go to Downtown, N. Y., quicker from Newark than Uptown New York people can go down town from there.

Caldwell, N. Y., is just about four miles from the center of Montclair, and there we find the old home of Grover Cleveland. This is a hilly section, and the scenery around the Orange and Plainfield, Irvington, New Brunswick, Paterson and Jersey City afford great motor trips, and the cars here are very numerous and plenty accidents are in keeping with crazy motorists, all trying to outdo the other fellow, "and many get done up while trying to outdo."

Montclair is noted for its wonderful schools, which opened today. There are many fine churches here in this city, and there has been a wonderful preacher here from Cambridge, England during August, and the first two Sundays in September this great speaker was Dr. Glover, his English accent made it interesting to hear him speak; "Don't You Know." His sermons were very pointed and he did not fail to give it to the Church members who were playing with religion and flirting with God.

I had the honor to address the Kiwanis Club at Atlantic City on August 28, there were between 185 and 190 members present out of a possible 175. The president was Mr. Swift, formerly of Fredericksburg, and a first cousin of the Legislature whom I had the honor to serve with, and in the group, and a member of the Club was the son-in-law of Senator (Fitchfork) Ben Tillman of South Carolina, who knew my uncle, Maj. H. A. Meetze, who for many years was President of the State Senate of South Carolina, so you see people never get away from those who know them, I often meet with people who know folks in Manassas and Prince William, and nearly every day I meet some from Virginia.

I want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation and also those of my family for the sympathy and affection shown us in the recent death and burial of our dear one Geo. W. Meetze, who in the past two years had endeared himself to our good Manassas People. Out of the seven boys there are only four of us left, the others have gone the way the rest must go, and all three went suddenly, two died natural death one was killed in a bridge accident but it does not matter how we go, if we have done our best while here on the earth. Brother George was born in Lexington County, South Carolina in 1863 if I make no mistake and came to Virginia with my parents and sister and two other brothers after the War Between the States

My father John L., Captain Geo. W. and Major H. A. Meetze, two uncles fought with the South Carolina troops during the War Between the States in Virginia. Major Meetze was the senior partner of the law firm of Meetze and Muller, whose offices were at Lexington Court House about twelve miles south of Columbia. I have spent considerable time at the home of Major Meetze and have been in his law office at Lexington.

It was a great privilege to address the Caddies at two of these great Golf Clubs near this city on the 8th, there were sixty-five caddies at one place and there were fifty at the other my theme to these boys was, "Play the Game of Life Fair and Play to Win." These youngsters were very appreciative of the Southern Brogue. They like to call it, and it was an inspiration to address them. I forgot to announce my theme at the Kiwanis Club in Atlantic City, "The Opportunity of the Service Clubs of America to Educate their Members to Recognize the Constitution of the United States and to Observe the Laws thereunder." I have a beautiful letter from the President saying that my address was received exceptionally well by the entire Club.

I have an invitation to address the Kiwanis and Rotary of Orange and the Kiwanis at Montclair and Caldwell.

Before closing please allow me to make a few observations concerning the August primary election in Manassas. I had intended to have something in the paper before but because of the sudden death of my brother. I do not make these observations as a disgruntled voter, but to call the attention of our people at Manassas and Prince William and the state to the fact that Peanut Politick, has never gotten any people or party anywhere and it never will; harmony can only be had by treating all alike under the same circumstances, had any one contested the election the Precinct would have been thrown out: All of the people who voted for Dr. Brown had a right to vote. "All either had a right to vote or none had a right to vote" in the August Primary who had supported Dr. Brown. What was done did more to drive people into the opposing party than it did to win them back into the Democratic party. You can catch more flies with sugar and molasses than you can with vinegar. What about the Democrats who bolted the party the third time Mr. Bryan ran, and voted for Palmer and Buckner, do any of those who are responsible for the disgusting, and unfair and illegal tactics at Manassas, recall the time when men not only in Virginia but all over the South bolted Mr. Bryan, yet who had a right to say these men could not come back into the regular party again; the time has come and here to stay (Praise the Lord) when no party can put up any one they please and compel them to be voted for. It might be well to quote the following, "For when the one great scorer comes to write against your name, he writes not whether you won or lost, but how you played the game. "Some people never seem to realize that there are only two ways to do a thing one is the right and one is the wrong. Does it pay to do the wrong? Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. F. R. Saunders, Dennis Baker, Eugene Davis and myself had as much right to vote as did Mr. W. S. Athey, Dr. Brown's County Chairman, and Representative to his Convention. Of course Mr. Athey had a right to vote at the August primary and so did all the others whose taxes were paid and who would stand by the Nominee in the general election, and no one had the right to question it; I was never asked by the Judges and I tried to vote twice that day, if I voted for Dr. Brown or not, but I had heard on Saturday, Sunday and Monday that if every one else voted on Tuesday, Chris Meetze would not vote, one of those who was at a meeting of those who manipulated the affair, told me so himself. It was a

HER CROSS LITTLE BOY

WOULDN'T EAT OR SLEEP
"My little son had poor appetite, couldn't sleep and was cross. I gave him Vinol and it ended these troubles like magic."—Mrs. L. DuCrest.
Vinol supplies the body important mineral elements of iron, calcium with cod liver peptone. This is just what thin, nervous children or adults need, and the QUICK results are surprising. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Vinol tastes delicious!

shameful affair and it will take years to heal this sore over. We need more charity in and around Manassas we need men who will be fair to friend and foe alike when it comes to matters of this kind, all of certain classes of voters have the right to vote or all have not the right, there is no law, under or by which a certain chosen few can vote and a certain few who cannot.

It was really pitiful to see men who claim to be big men (just a few of them) stooping to such littleness, without one iota of law to substantiate their actions, yet it was allowed to go by, but remember thing must be paid for, and it will sooner or later. When a person is deprived of his franchise, you have deprived him of his most coveted right, the right of a freeman, and to express himself or herself, I know there are no finer Christian women living today that whose votes were challenged by a blanket challenge which had been left with the judges.

I say this in the proper spirit, I am satisfied that I ave a very few enemies, and to those allow me to say I would not do them harm if I had the power to do so and if ever I were in a position to take advantage of them would not do it.

Sincerely,
CHRIS MEETZE.

Jaded Winter Appetites
Need the Tang of Ketchup

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

It really is surprising how often some simple condiment will tone up an otherwise drab dish and give a pleasing variety in the monotonous round of meals.

Tomato Ketchup, for example, is a familiar cooking aid in every kitchen. Yet this glorious essence of ripe tomatoes and choice spice seasonings too frequently is employed merely as a garnish, and its possibilities as a seasoning ingredient are overlooked.

The uses of Tomato Ketchup in cookery are almost innumerable. Steaming hot oven dinner, savory egg dishes, zesty salad dressings and a host of other flavorful things are made attractive to even the most jaded appetite by inclusion of Tomato Ketchup in your recipes.

Try an oven dinner, seasoned with Tomato Ketchup, some evening soon when the family comes home cold and ravenously hungry. Just see how they will enjoy a familiar meal that has been dressed-up with this old culinary friend! I am sure you will find the following recipes most excellent, and will want to add them to your file for early use:

Veal En Casserole with Vegetables

1½ pounds ground shoulder veal; 2 tablespoons melted butter; ½ cup stale bread crumbs; ½ teaspoon chopped parsley; ½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce; 1 teaspoon sugar; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 egg well beaten; 6 small potatoes; 6 small onions; 1 chopped green pepper; ½ cup Tomato Ketchup; ½ cup water.

Mix together veal, butter, crumbs, parsley, Worcestershire Sauce and egg. Form into balls, roll in flour and brown in a skillet with 2 tablespoons fat. When delicately brown, remove to a casserole, add quartered potatoes, sliced onions, and a chopped green pepper. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon sugar, and a dash of salt and pepper. Mix Tomato Ketchup and water, and pour over all. Cover closely, and bake in moderate oven for 1½ hours. This is an excellent dinner course for a winter evening.

Savory Meat Loaf

3 pounds ground beef; ½ pound ground salt pork; 1 tablespoon grated onion; 1 cup moist cracker crumbs; 1 egg; 1 teaspoon salt; dash of pepper; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce; ½ cup Tomato Ketchup.

Mix ingredients in order given. Pat into a loaf, place in a baking pan, and bake in a moderate oven for 1½ hours, basting frequently with a few tablespoons cold water. A delicious rich sauce may be made by thickening with flour the juices in the pan.

Cuban Eggs

1 cup sausage; 1 teaspoon chopped onion; 3 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup; 4 eggs; ½ teaspoon salt; Buttered Toast; pepper.

Cook sausage and chopped onion in a skillet for five minutes, and add Tomato Ketchup. Beat eggs until light, season with salt and pepper, and pour over the meat. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until eggs are thick and creamy. Serve over slices of buttered toast.

Ketchup French Dressing

(A delightful piquant dressing for salads of mixed greens.)
½ cup Tomato Ketchup; 3 teaspoons sugar; ½ teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons Pure Cider Vinegar; ¼ cup Imported Olive Oil.

Place Tomato Ketchup in a jar, add other ingredients, cover closely and shake vigorously for about one minute. This gives a highly colored, well-seasoned salad dressing.

Tomato Ketchup Rarebit

2 tablespoons butter; 3 tablespoons flour; 1 cup milk; ½ cup Tomato Ketchup; salt and pepper; 1½ cups grated American Cheese; 3 beaten eggs; 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard; Toast or Crackers.

Melt butter in a saucepan, add flour, and blend thoroughly. Pour in milk and cook until thick. Add Tomato Ketchup, salt and pepper, and cheese, stirring over a slow fire until the cheese is melted. Then add beaten eggs and Prepared Mustard. Garnish with slices of pickle or Stuffed Olives and serve on buttered toast or crackers. This is a nourishing, satisfying dish for luncheon or supper.

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

THE FINAL MESSENGER—

God, who at sundry times and divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.—Hebrew 1:1, 2.

PRAYER:

"Shout the glad tidings exulting sing: Jerusalem triumphs, Messiah is King."

A CAUSE FOR PROTEST

The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered new high freight rates on ground limestone which will become effective on or November 1 upon fifteen days notice by the railroads. Farmers are not in a position to bear this increased burden especially at this time. Every farmer, business man, farm and other organization in Prince William County should write at once to the Virginia State Corporation Commission, Richmond, Va., and protest against these high freight rates on ground limestone going into effect.

Where May We Look for Help?

We are informed by the county drought relief committee that $2,000 have been turned over to them by the Federal Government for the benefit of Prince William County.

This is a very small amount and will not meet our needs. The committee is made up of practical men who will make it go as far as they can among our farmers.

Unless the government can pass needed legislation in the very near future it looks as though but for this tid-bit, our local bankers will be our drought relief. The banks in Prince William, as elsewhere, have already strained their resources helping their distressed clientele, and it is to be hoped that Hoover will do something to make good a few of his famous campaign pledges.

EXPOSITION AT WAR COLLEGE

Visitors to the Nation's capital during the fourth week of September, will have an opportunity to witness one of the most stirring Military Pageants that takes place in this or any other country.

The spacious grounds of the Army War College, at historical Washington Barracks is a most fitting setting for the Annual Military Exposition and Carnival which will be held September 25, 26, and 27. At this season of the year Washington is most beautiful; the weather clear, bracing and mellow with the richness of autumn. Washington Barracks borders on and is almost surrounded by the waters of the beautiful Potomac.

Inaugurated three years ago, the great Army show has become an annual event that draws thousands of visitors to Washington. It is the outstanding military demonstration that gives to the American people an understanding of the Army's various weapons and their employment for national defense.

Every branch of the service, Infantry, Cavalry, Field Artillery, Tanks Air Force, etc., are represented by the Army's crack troops in a spectacular program.

York's capturing, single-handed, one hundred and thirty-two Germans was faithfully reproduced under the watchful eyes of the valiant sergeant himself, who attended the performances for the three days of the show.

This year the Army has departed from its usual custom and is featuring another phase of Army history, that of protecting the covered wagon trains that journeyed west in the early part of the past century and in doing so play a tribute to the pioneer of covered wagon days.

Though it might mean the lingering torments of the desert's thirst. Though the privations of the mountain passes had to be faced. Though death by the diabolical tortures inflicted by a cruel savage might be their fate, the intrepid pioneers accepted all these risks and hesitated not to brave the perils of the plains to win for themselves a home in the famed Oregon country, and for the nation an empire in the West.

Telephone Calls Reach Peak Three Times In Normal Day

HOURLY DISTRIBUTION OF TELEPHONE CALLS IN A TYPICAL CITY ON AN AVERAGE BUSINESS DAY

There are three periods of the day when the telephone is used to a greater extent than at any other time. The first calling peak comes in the morning around 10 o'clock, and this is a particularly busy hour in business sections. Then there is another high calling peak in the afternoon about 4 o'clock. The third calling peak comes in the early evening shortly after 7 o'clock, when people are busy making engagements and completing their plans for the next few hours, according to officials of the telephone company.

However, there are exceptions to every rule, and while telephone operators generally have come to feel that the greatest calling peaks in the day are around 10 A.M., 4 P.M. and 7 P.M., telephone engineers realize that they must be prepared for other peaks of traffic.

Some of these increases in the use of the telephone arise out of public events, and holidays, and may be fore cast and provided for in advance. Others come suddenly at any time of day or night. Such unexpected peaks are caused by local conditions. For example, a sudden shower may increase telephone traffic by ten to fifteen per cent. for sudden showers occasion sudden changes in plans, and quick communication then becomes necessary. Temporary failure of train service may cause a similar jump in the volume of telephone traffic, although peaks due to these causes usually are of short duration. Extremely hot spells will sometimes increase the traffic on business calls by two or three per cent.

To meet such conditions the telephone company must be prepared at all times with an adequate operating force, but it is a tradition in the Bell System that in times of special stress, where the conditions causing the peak continue for some time, as in the case of blizzards, serious fires or floods or protracted periods of hot weather, operators who are off duty will come voluntarily and offer their services. This has occurred time and time again, and especially in cases of public calamities in which human life and property are at stake.

"Dirty Corner," let it die;
Let it pass out of sight,
Let its name be forgotten
Ere another night.

There has been wafted by the gentle winds that blow over the parched landscape from the southwest a very distressing state of affairs. Rumor does not mince words. She just blurt it out and calls a spade "spade." "Dirty Corner" is a spot near Minnieville. Such an unhealthy name has been plastered on this usually quiet and peaceful section by people who have failed to stop and think. Of course there are a whole lot of good folks in this particular neighborhood; law abiding men and women, boys and girls. The hoodlum class are in the minority. Even so, a neighborhood gets its reputation by its outward signs. We understand that Joe Hinton, Deputy Sheriff, and the honest to God folks who the proud of Minnieville and their heritage have declared war on "Dirty Corner." You good folks get behind Joe and if there is a little "Hell Hole" clean it out root and branch. Make your neighborhood fit to live in and not just, "a goodly apple rotten at the core."

Our population consists mainly of Anglo-Saxon blood, we are proud of our forefathers. Any state in the Union that gave birth to such men as Washington, Henry, Jefferson, Lee, Madison, Monroe, Tyler, Wilson, and a host of others, both men and women, who have left their names emblazoned upon the scroll of fame should be jealous of her citizenry. I do not believe there is a taxpayer in Prince William County, who would deliberately break a law or laws, providing he or she stopped to think. Laws are written as a code of rules, enforced for the protection of society obeyed as a patriotic duty. I am not writing a commentary on our American law, or slant of justice. I simply want to help the man or woman to see things, not as I see and understand, but as the law has been interpreted. Our Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and our own state Enforcement Act are too well known for comment from me. I am not speaking of prohibition from a moral, religious, or even health standpoint. I am speaking as a plain ordinary citizen. Clothed in no raiments of superior knowledge, wearing no insignia as an officer of the law. The Eighteenth Amendment and our Enforcement Act are actual facts. My dear Readers, what I would like for you to do is reason with yourselves. Make it a personal question with yourselves. Can you really and truly be a man, a patriotic citizen, and at the same time support the bootlegger? Can you be a bootlegger, breaking the laws and constitution, and then expect your fellow man to have respect for you? Can you deal in what the Constitution and the law says are forbidden and at the same time be a citizen proud of your state? Can you yoke yourself with wrong and at the same time be a citizen commanding the respect of the law? There is a law against murder, a law against arson, a law against stealing according to our code of civilization. Don't you think it is your duty to obey the law? We have't any right under the sun to destroy the other fellow's property. While on the other hand, we have an inherent right by law and by nature to work and act for the best interest of our country. Patriotic pride and our high ideals should be an inspiration for truth, charity, honesty and sobriety. Parents be honest with yourselves. Is it necessary for you to leave a trail of filth, dishonesty and dishonor along your pathway as you go through life? Is defying the Prohibition law worth the bulging purse of misery? When by your own acts, you stand upon the ruins of a once peaceful and honorable home, and behold the pit of misery you have sunk into up to your neck; do you think for a moment that defying the prohibition laws pays? When your children no longer respect you, and you bear the odium of an outcast, do you think it pays to trifle with that that has been outlawed?

When by your own acts, your own flesh and blood occupies a criminals cell, do you still try to save your conscience by saying: "My personal rights and privileges should not be abridged?"

Fathers and Mothers, I simply want you to think, think for yourselves. Propound your own questions, and answer honestly, with a desire to do yourselves justice.

Of course, I am aware of the fact, that the young people have an important part to play. Generally speaking, young folks, take their cue from their elders. Patrick Henry judged the future by the past. Children ape their parents that is the reason that I have written plainly to the old folks. And now a few words to the young man and woman who have reached to that high eminence of a manhood and womanhood, and to the boys and girls only a step behind. You have a mission in life to perform. You are the future men and women who must occupy the places of your elders in a few years. Don't start on the first lap handicapped. The grind is long and hard, to win you need a clean mind and body. It is up to each one of you personally to play the game on the square. Why brand yourself, thereby, placing the odds against you? Does any true, upright, patriotic young fellow want to hitch his star of future success and honor to a girl that flouts openly, or concealed the picture of disrespect for law and honor?

What young girl, looking squarely in the face of her future happiness, would want to become the life partner of a young man who has so little respect for himself as to patronize the bootlegger, or actually defy our Constitution and written laws?

Constitution and Law was made for our protection, as individuals we are protected, as a nation we are protected. If we as individuals, flout the law, then, how are we going to ask the protection of the law?

neighbor's house, how are we going to ask protection when our neighbors start tearing down ours?

If we do not respect our Constitution, how can we expect the foreigner to do what we are not doing?

If patriotism is worth the blood of our young manhood, then, why not protect that which constitutes patriotism—our Constitution.

Don't start out on life's voyage handicapped.

Don't deliberately and knowingly, press the hot branding iron of deceit, hypocrisy and lack of respect of law and order upon your character. If you brand yourself you are greatly handicapped.

SEPTEMBER W. C. T. U. MEETING

As several members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union expect to attend the State Convention in Danville next week the regular meeting has been postponed from the fourth Wednesday to the following Monday, Sept. 29 at 3 p. m. at the home of Miss Maggie Smith. The delegates will then make their reports. As this will be the first meeting of the W. C. T. U. year, all members please bring or send dues.

Monthly Report of Home Demonstration Agent for August

No. girls' groups met, 5; no. women's groups met, 3; no. other meetings attended, 11; no. homes visited, 38; no. miles travelled, 752; no. letters written, 210.

Several of the Home Demonstration Groups called off their meetings for the month in order that the members might attend the County Picnic which was held at Brentsville. Attendance at meetings was shorter than usual this month due to the unusual weather conditions.

The County Picnic which was held on August 22 was well attended and very much enjoyed by those present. Through these get together meetings we hope for a better understanding of county Agricultural and Home-making programs and for increased cooperation in all phases of community life.

The Northern Virginia District Short Course to which about forty of the 4-H Club boys and girls of the county were going was called off on account of the scarcity of water in Front Royal. No other place was available for the camp. The 4-H Clubs of the county had raised funds and offered to pay one half of the expenses of any of the members who wished to attend.

"FIRESTONE" COW AT FAIR

Firestone's famous "milk factory," Side Hill Ormsby Segis, world's champion cow, was exhibited at the Virginia State Fair last week.

The cow holds a record of producing 17 gallons of milk a day, compared to the average cow's two or three gallons.

Side Hill's production for 30 days would provide 4115 residents of the state's capital with a pint of milk apiece for the month. Production of 11,058 pints has been reached in three months.

The famous cow is part of Havey S. Firestone's dairy in Akron, Ohio—one of the few dairy farms within the limits of a large city.

While howls of protest usually follow a 1-cent raise in milk prices, this strange dairy gets six cents a quart more than the average Akron price and there is a long customer waiting list.

Mr. Firestone, once a farmer boy himself, conducts the farm on a business-like basis, as an example that any farmer could follow. The farm makes money, carries on experiments and gives invaluable aid to farmers all over the country.

Working Together

For high quality and low prices

Between its customers and A&P there is a partnership which works to the advantage of both sides. The customers represent demand on the largest scale. A&P represents supply on an equally large scale.

Customers know they can get at A&P stores whatever they want, the best at lowest prices. A&P, knowing its customers' wants from their daily orders, is never in doubt. It stocks no goods that stay on its shelves unsold. Thereby it avoids losses that would have to be made good in prices.

And because A&P is thus the definitely instructed buying agent of millions of people, it is able to use their united buying power wherever their best interest dictates.

Each customer gets the benefit of every saving, of every wise selection of goods. A&P, relying on many small profits, gains from increasing numbers of customers. They are attracted by the best service at the lowest cost. If there is a surer way of keeping the cost of food down and the quality of food up, no one has told about it.

RADICAL CHANGES TRANSFORM BANKING

National Commission Sees Changing Opinion on Branch
Banking Issue—Studies Group and Chain Banks.

NEW YORK.—Modification of the attitude of bankers on the long disputed branch banking question is forecast in a review and report covering rapid changes going on in banking issued here by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. The report, however, after referring to recent proposals that national banks be given branch banking powers within the business territory surrounding their location, declares that "we do not believe that so-called 'trade-area' branch banking is likely to gain the support of any large percentage of the banking fraternity."

The commission says that the "most important development that has affected American banking in recent years involves the rapid growth of multiple banking organizations in the form of group, chain and branch banking systems," and adds that "we present this report as an unprejudiced economic study and have no theories or policies to urge at this time." The statement says that the commission's information indicates there are now 269 group or chain bank systems, which control 1922 banks and $15,285,000,000 in aggregate resources, and that there are only six states and the District of Columbia where it does not find any group organizations.

The Commission's Investigation

"We have been in touch with the managers of many important bank groups," the report says. "Aside from the obvious economies of centralized operation and control a number of these organization heads very frankly tell us that they do not feel that the system has been in operation and tested long enough to justify them in making positive or sweeping statements as to its advantages or disadvantages compared to unit banking."

"The Banking and Currency Committee of the House, which is conducting an investigation into banking developments, has called a number of operating heads of some of the great group systems. These men declared that they found, under certain conditions, definite operating and economic advantage in both group and branch banking over independent unit banking. Some thought group banking was only a transitional stage, that branch banking was preferable and if it were permitted on an extensive enough scale they would change their groups over to branch systems. Others held that group banking was preferable."

"Some held that the ideal plan was a combination of the two with group bank units for localities strong enough to support complete banking institutions and with branch offices extending further into the smaller places requiring banking services but not large enough to support complete banks. Several of these who advocated multiple banking declared that nevertheless they believed there would always be room for vigorous independent unit bank competitors."

Government Officials Express Views

"The Comptroller of the Currency recommended that national banks be given branch banking powers within 'trade-areas.' The Governor of the Federal Reserve Board appeared to be in general agreement with the Comptroller. He said there were 24,646 banks and 3,547 branches, a total of 28,193 banking offices; that in this total, 6,353 offices were either branches or bank members of groups, or both, leaving 21,840 banking institutions that might be definitely termed independent unit banks, having no branches and in no way connected with group affiliations. He said all the banks had total loans and investments of $53,500,000,000, of which the group and branch systems held $30,000,000,000, or more than half."

"He opposed nation-wide branch banking at present but said that ultimately if bankers became trained and experienced in the larger technique of 'trade-area' banking he thought it would in time evolve nation-wide branch banking under control of relatively few banks, but he did not believe this would mean monopoly or lack of competition. He favored branch over group banking which, however, he said represented an economic development along 'trade-area' lines and would spread unless something else were substituted and thought 'trade-area' branch banking would serve this purpose."

"It is the intention of the Commission to develop its own studies in these questions, watch carefully every move that is made and every bit of information that may develop in this connection and keep itself prepared to give an unbiased and accurate statement of the facts of the case whenever that is desired," the report concludes.

Federal Reserve Pays Government

In the fifteen years since its establishment in 1914, aggregate net earnings of the Federal Reserve System's twelve regional banks have amounted to $515,216,000, of which $30,672,000 has been paid to the member banks as dividends, representing 6 per cent annually on their contributions of capital to the reserve banks, while $277,434,000 has been added to the surplus of the reserve banks and $147,110,000 has been paid over to the Federal Government as a franchise tax.

FORD WINS IN POLAND

Ford cars again demonstrated their ability for fast and hard travel when they captured first and third prizes in the recent international automobile race staged by the Polish Automobile Club.

The race covered some 2,000 miles. Starting in Warsaw, the cars passed through nearly all the main cities around Poland, such as Lublin, Krakow, Katowice, Poznan, Bydgoszcz, Gdynia, Bialystok and Wilno. They continued along the Russian border to Lemberg and thence back to Warsaw. The race covered six days with stops in all the important Polish cities.

First prize was won by a standard Ford phaeton which has been received from the dealer only three days before the race. It was awarded no less than fifteen prizes, the most important being the Golden Victory Cup offered by the Polish Automobile Club.

It Has Made Good Because It's Made Better

It wasn't any magician's trick that made Orange American Gas a better regular gasoline. It wasn't accomplished by waving a wand.

We sought a better crude--and found it. We built a new refinery--one of largest in the world. And we used a new process. That's why Orange American Gas will give you better performance than anything else at its price.

It has made good because it's made better.
