RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

There is an inspiration in the service and loyalty of those who journey through life with the courage and fortitude of our dear Mrs. Margaret Barbour, who departed this life October 7, 1930.

"Well done thou good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Therefore, be it resolved, first that we, the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Manassas Baptist Church bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, second that while she is gone, her influence still lives and we feel that we are better workers, in the Lord, by being permitted to know and associate with her.

Resolved, third that we extend our deepest sympathy to her bereaved family and also to her large circle of friends. We commend them to the all-wise and merciful God for comfort and aid.

Resolved, fourth that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, to the county paper, and that a copy of her blessed memory be placed on file as a record in the Society of which she was organizer and president, and in which she so faithfully performed her duties in all phases of work, as she saw fit.

"And only the Master shall praise us, And only the Master shall blame; But each for the joy of the working, And each, in his separate star, Shall draw the thing as he sees it, For the God of all things as they are!" Committee: Mrs. Elizabeth Huffman, Mrs. H. D. Anderson, and Mrs. Mary Sprinkle.

A. BENNETT SANDERS

When Bennett Sanders "went to rest," a few weeks ago, the Catharpin and Sudley neighborhoods, of by-gone days, lost one of its most beloved citizens.

When I first knew him in the 1880 he was teaching at Catharpin School, near his home. He was also the superintendent of the Sunday School at Sudley. In this way the children in both neighborhoods knew him and they all loved him for he was always bright and genial in his manner, and had a cheery smile and greeting to all alike.

He had a vision. He wanted to go to college to complete his education, but didn't have the necessary funds.

At that time, there was at Catharpin an almost unbeatable baseball team. He was its pitcher and his brother, Walter, was his catcher and that was a hard combination to beat. They went from there to interstate team in Penna. From there he broke into the American League, and, in this day, was one of the best pitchers the Philadelphia American League team and was as popular with the fans of what day, as any big League players are today.

I spent several weeks visiting in Philadelphia in the summer of 1889, and saw "Sanders" pitch many games. At the entrance to the Ball park, a bunch of boys always waited for him because he always had a broad smile, and a word for them. I have seen them fight for a chance to carry his bats in for him.

On one occasion several of us including "Sanders" were entertained in the home of a mutual friend where there was a boy about fourteen years old. I found him sitting dejectedly in the dining room, and asked him what the trouble was. He replied that "Sanders" was in the parlor and his sisters wouldn't allow him to see him. I told him that I was sure Mr. Sanders would come out there to see him, and I would ask him. Then he asked if I might bring in "some of the fellows," and I told him to get them. When he got back with the "fellows" Mr. Sanders was there to receive them. He showed them the same kindly interest, and answered their many questions as readily as he would those of the grown-ups, and those boys worshipped him.

On another occasion a party of us were driving through Fairmount Park

As we rounded a curve, we met a crowd of boys walking toward us. One of them spied him, and shouted, "Why that's Sanders, and they formed a circle around the carriage and cheered for "Sanders."

I mention these incidents which Please turn to page 7.

October 27 will be NAVY DAY.

On that day the customary hospitality of the U. S. Navy will be extended to the public which is invited to inspect all naval vessels in port and all naval establishments on shore.

This is an invitation that citizens should be glad to accept for it is through this medium that they may better acquaint themselves with the activities of this great branch of the service and arrive at a better understanding of its needs and necessities.

DROUGHT HITS WATERFOWL IN UNITED STATES AND CANADA

Chief Redington of Biological Survey Discusses Recent Alarming Reports of Situation

That conditions for waterfowl in the extensive drought-ridden regions of the United States are unsatisfactory will not be a matter of surprise to persons who have experienced a watershortage this summer. That the danger to wild ducks and geese is more far-flung, however, will come as a distinct shock to those who have thought the birds were in abundance on their breeding areas in the far North, says Paul G. Redington, Chief of the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, which administers Federal laws protecting migratory birds. Mr. Redington explained that reports received by him directly during a recent visit to Canada, which is cooperating closely with the United States in the protection of migratory birds, showed an alarming condition for the waterfowl on the breeding grounds in Alberta and Saskatchewan as well as in the United States.

"In these Canadian Provinces," said Mr. Redington, "the shortage of water this year and the utilization of additional lands for agriculture on the breeding grounds of the birds have combined to reduce the hatch of the game species 50 per cent below that of last year, and the hatch a year ago was too far below normal to be at all satisfactory. The consensus of testimony of conservationists from many Canadian Provinces and from all parts of the United States is that a decidedly serious condition now confronts the waterfowl of the two countries."

"A partial remedy is found in the fact that throughout the United States the amended regulations under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act limit the individual hunter to 15 ducks and 4 geese a day and prescribe an possession limit of two days' bag. This reduction from last year's daily bag of 25 ducks and 8 geese and the establishment of a possession limit for the first time under the Federal regulations should have a salutary effect on the game birds at the principal shooting grounds. We are still greatly concerned, however, as to what may happen in the next few months. The unprecedented drought may upset calculations as to the effect the reduced bag limits will have on the protection of the birds."

"Local observers of bird abundance are likely to be misled in some remaining water areas, and to consider that local conditions are general throughout the country. As a matter of fact, however, the constriction of water areas in many States will induce the birds to concentrate in unusually large numbers on some of the noted resting grounds and in wintering areas. For example, the gunners in some areas may find thousands of ducks in places where last year there were but hundreds, and in such instances it may create the erroneous impression that ducks are still in great abundance or even increasing in numbers. Such fallacious reasoning may lead to excessive killing on many concentration areas."

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement, without forming a habit of ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

The Committee appointed by the President of the Radiant Bible Class to present suitable resolutions on the death of Mr. George W. Meetze, would make the following report:

Forasmuch as it has pleased our gracious heavenly Father, suddenly to remove Mr. George W. Meetze, one of our most faithful and loyal members, and at the time of his departure our efficient treasurer, therefore be it

Resolved, first that we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well and causes "all things to work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose."

Resolved, second, that in the death of Mr. Meetze the class has lost one of its most useful and devoted members who was always interested in the work and the welfare of our class and who in the comparatively short time he was with us endeared himself to every one of us. And while we shall greatly miss him and his faithful and helpful labors among us, and shall deeply our great loss, yet we rejoice that he now rests from his labors, and his works follow him, and that our earthly loss is his heavenly gain.

Resolved, third, that these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and a copy be sent to the Manassas Journal for publication.

The Committee: J. J. Murphy, Chairman, W. A. Hall, and Mrs. D. R. Lewis.

so that those reading about them will know what a real man he was:

When he was assured that he could finish his college course, he stopped playing professional baseball much to the disappointment of fans all over the circuit.

His professional career was one long line of successes, and his was a useful life.

His Master has said, "Well done! thou good and faithful servant." He has entered into rest.

One of his friends, have remained clear in my memory,

No Secret Here

A simple explanation of great success

A well known author is writing a story about A&P. "What," he has asked repeatedly, "is the secret of A&P's success? Why is it the largest grocer in the world?"

At first he was disappointed and puzzled. For he found no secret, no key to success. He had expected to solve a mystery, to discover a magic formula. He found, simply, an organization of wide-awake men hard at work.

After a few weeks' study, he has forgotten all about secrets of success, and he is no longer puzzled. But he is amazed at how much can be accomplished when great numbers of men work together with a common purpose. His will not be a new story. Real success comes only to those who believe in what they're doing—and do it.

All A&P men believe that good food should be sold at low prices—and you'd be surprised to know how simple it is when they all work together.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

(OCCOQUAN AND WOODBRIDGE)

A bunch of roses—
A few thorns.
A lily
Smooth and white.
A Youth—
Just for a Night.
Age and Experience
Brings wisdom—
Clear thinking
And ability
To shun the pitfalls
To set the compass
Of High Ideals
And steer a straight course
Over the choppy seas of life.
In youth
We bluster and fuss—
We want freedom—
Freedom of thought
Freedom of action—
Freedom to do as we please.
Freedom to run and jump—
Freedom to go and come—
Freedom to break down
The laws of society.
Freedom to rip asunder
Established economic laws.
Freedom to scatter to the four winds
Political hum-buggery.
Freedom to build a youthful empire.
Freedom to laugh at age—
Not quite knowing
That a psychological
Convolution is deepening
And our grey matter is becoming set.
When set
A habit is formed,
And unless trained by
The Sage of wisdom—
Youth loses its
Youthfulness and Usefulness
And becomes a menace
To Society.
Youth properly trained
A builder—
Instead of an iconoclast.
An asset instead of a liability.
Building where Age has failed.
Carrying to new heights
The works of enlightenment.
Erecting new monuments
To the Lord of Achievements.
Sowing the ancestral ground
With the seed of progress.
Keeping the lamp
Of inventions burning.
Working out the intricate
Problems of science.
Keeping pace with
The works of Nature
And glorifying the Great Architect.
For, Man's Kingdom
Is God's Kingdom.
A life well lived
Is a belief and hope of Immortality.

"So live that when thy summons come—" wrote the youthful poet, Bryant, and today the call is broadcast from millions of men and women, "obey the spirit and letter of the law."

While on the other hand millions are teaching disrespect for law and order. The paid propagandist, led by certain politicians and millions of dollars at their disposal are winking at racketeers and undermining the very foundation of our government.

The General depression, the drought covering half of our national area, captains of industry cutting wages and laying off workmen, all help to aggravate a serious condition. Winter howling at our doors and millions out of work is a fact to be reckoned with.

"My country 'tis of thee—" Is our country in spirit and truth just as long as we have respect for her laws. The farmer with a few acres of land, a few head of live stock, is called upon heavily thru taxation to help support a county and state government that has failed to keep up with progress.

I am not acquainted with a single factor in our state or county government that needs rejuvenating more than our tax question. We need the same business principles applied to our state and county government that a business man applies to his business.

When the taxpayers demands a government, for, and by the people, they will get it.

"The way up is long, but inevitably up and on, perpetual progress."
—GEORGE DENT.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear Father C. T. Gallahan, of Dumfries, who departed this life two years ago, October 26.

Often I think of you, dear Father
And my heart is sad with pain
Oh! this earth would be a heaven,
Could I but hear your sweet voice again.

Sleep on, dear Father and take your rest,

I loved you but God loved you best
God will be done, he doeth well
But how I miss you no one can tell.

Sleep on, dear Father, your labor is over
Your willing hands shall toil no more
A Faithful Father both loving and kind
A better Father no one could find.

Two long years ago you left us
To rest in eternal peace
But my love for you, dear Father
Will never, never cease.
His loving daughter,
Mary Lizzie Wise.

The golden gates flew open
A gentle voice said come
And with farewell words unspoken
He calmly entered home.
Free from all pain and sorrow
Safe on his gentle breast
Sweetly thy soul shall rest—
Two years I have lived without you
Your spirit has guided me over
Gone but not forgotten.

His loving wife
Mrs. Lou Gallahan.
TALKING HONEY
(No. 1)

There's a lot of work done in producing a pound of honey.

In the form of nectar, as thin as water, the bees collect it from the flowers, drop by drop, and carry it in their honey sacks to the hive and deposit it in the honey comb, which they make from pure beeswax. (Beeswax itself they make from honey). Then they "ripen" it, by fanning it with their wings until it has become thick, and much of the water evaporated. After it is fully ripened, they put an airtight capping over it made from pure wax.

It is estimated that it requires 40,000 trips of a honeybee to gather one pound of honey. As a worker bee wears itself out in about six weeks in a heavy honey flow and then dies of overwork, it is evident that it takes a great many bees a great many trips to gather a single pound of the honey that you buy for a few cents.

After the bees have completed the work of gathering, storing and ripening the honey, there is still a great deal of work to be done by human hands before the honey is ready for your table.

On this part of the labor depends much of the quality of the honey you eat. I'll tell you more about it in my next talk.—Arthur J. Brady.
