

APPEAL GRANTED ON SCHOOL BONDS

Haymarke Matter Finally Carried to Richmond

The rumbling in the school dispute over the bond issue election held last Spring were heard again this week when Deputy Ledman, of the County circuit court, received from Clerk of the Court of Appeals an order commanding the sheriff to stay the judgment granted by Judge McCarthy on July 7 last, and to notify the county school board of a hearing to be held in Richmond next week.

The opposing counsel in this matter are Charles Pickett, of Fairfax, for the complainants and R. A. Hutchison and T. E. Dillake, for the school board.

An appeal of his sort is novel, and represents a community dispute which is reported as having stirred up considerable ill feeling. There have been a number of hearings in this matter, and the plaintiffs have evidently shown that they are going to the bitter end.

DISTRICT MEETING O. F. A.

District No. 5, Order of Fraternal Americans will meet at Warrenton on Tuesday, January 12 at 7:30. District Deputy George D. Baker will be present. A number of candidates will be initiated and all members throughout the district are urged to be present.

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL WINS OVER NOKESVILLE

Manassas High defeated Nokesville High Tuesday January 6 by a score of 31 to 24. The game was slow and showed that both teams needed practice.

On Friday, January 9 at 8 p. m. the Manassas High School team will play Calverton High and Clifton High basketball teams at the High School gymnasium. These games promise to give local basket ball fans a real treat.

MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be held at the High School Wednesday, January 14, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. J. L. B. Buck, our State President will be with us and we are anticipating an interesting talk by her.

The Executive Board will meet on Monday at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Robert H. Smith and it is urged that every member be present or send her alternate as important business regarding the budget for the new year must be decided.

DR. HALL HEADS PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Dr. Sidney B. Hall, for the past two years head of the department of secondary education at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., has been named State Superintendent of Public Instruction as successor to Harris Hart, resigned. Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of Farmville State Teachers' College, was the first appointee of Governor Pollard, and he accepted. But he was so strongly urged by the faculty, students and alumni of the Farmville institution to reconsider that he finally did so, and withdrew his acceptance.

A HOME TOWN "BOOSTER"

Your town—it's what you make it;
By "team work" towns are made;
It's up to you to your "Bit"
And give your town your trade!
The local firms depend on you
For part of their income,
And they deserve your backing, too,
To help make business hum!
To distant marts, some people roam
To spend their money there,
Instead of buying goods at home—
The things they eat and wear;
And yet they want their town to grow
To prosper and to thrive,
But do not spend their home-made "dough"
To keep their town alive!
Build up your town, and "boost" it;
And bank your money there;
Don't let your local merchants quit
Because you buy elsewhere!
Your dollars help build shops and schools,
And fine streets, up and down;
So buy your food and clothes and tools
At home—and "boost" your town!

MRS. R. S. HYNSON U. D. C. HOSTESS

On Wednesday, January 7, at 2 o'clock p. m. The Daughters met at the home of Mrs. R. S. Hynson. The usual opening exercises were observed with Mrs. C. A. Sinclair, president in the chair. There were nineteen members present. A letter was read from Mrs. Bolling, state president, urging the chapter to be prompt in responding to the causes sponsored by the U. D. C. putting special emphasis on the Stratford Fund, of which Virginia's quota is $8,000.00. The Manassas Chapter recently contributed fifty dollars to this cause.

A letter was read from Mrs. Carrie Hancock Kelly, state historian, expressing her enthusiasm over the chapter's interest in trying to carry out a full historical program for the year under the direction of Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, chapter historian.

The most interesting feature of this month's program was a paper by Mrs. C. M. Larkin on "Why General Lee resigned from the Federal Army." The chapter was most appreciative of Mrs. Larkin's able efforts in the preparation of this article and requested that it be read again at the Lee-Jackson Memorial Service to be held here Sunday evening at 8 o'clock p. m., at which time the public is invited to be present. A program of this celebration will be published in the next issue of the Journal. Mrs. R. S. Hynson and Miss Virginia Nelson Speiden are to prepare the musical program for the occasion.

Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton read an article from the State minutes of 1914 describing the presentation of the Prince William Cavalry Chapter U. D. C. This flag was made from the dress of the mother of one of our most faithful members, Miss Florrie Lion. It has long been the desire of the Chapter to have it placed in the Museum at Richmond with many other beloved relics.

The treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, was authorized to pay the obligations of the Chapter as usual.

Mrs. Ruby Ryman Haydon's name was presented to the Chapter for membership, and most heartily accepted. Mrs. Speiden was requested to forward her application blanks.

During the past year the daughters have completed a quilt of forty-two squares—in the Confederate colors, embroidering the names of contributors in red on the white background. This work was accomplished thru the untiring efforts of Mrs. Albert Speiden and much credit is due her for the large sum it realized adding $155.00 to the treasury. Many citizens of Prince William prominent for their generous loyalty to the cause for which the U. D. C. stands will find their names thereon.

Miss Florrie Lion won the laurels for the largest contribution, her square netting eleven dollars. Mrs. Speiden was second in the race bringing in $9.40. Many others secured as much as five or more dollars.

After the meeting adjourned a delightful social hour was spent while the hostess served tea and cakes.

Mrs. Albert Speiden and Miss Nolie Nelson invited the daughters to be their guests in February.

The chapter has been called upon to bear another sorrow in the loss of Miss Katie Bridewell who was much beloved by all who knew her, a faithful member and former officer. She had for a number of years taken an active part in the Jefferson Davis Memorial Service held here on June 5 of each year, personally supervising the decoration of the graves of those who wore "the gray," and assisting wherever she could lend a helping hand. It is with hearts full of grief that we bow to the Will of Him that doeth all things well.

SCHOOLS OPEN

After an enjoyable vacation of three weeks, the Prince William County schools will open Monday, January 12.

REVIEW PERIOD NOT AFFECTED

Prince William Students Will Have Full Allowance of Time to Prepare for Examinations

The county school board met Wednesday with all members present.

The most important action taken by the Board was in regard to the review period preceding the examinations which close the first semester. The first week of January has been lost, but to compensate for this, the closing of the first semester was moved up to January 30. This means that the loss will be carried over into the first report period of the next semester, and that students will not have the time curtailed in which they have to review for their mid-winter examinations.

A motion was passed given joint ownership and control of the old Brentsville courthouse to the Board of Supervisors which was so generous in assisting in the restoration work last year.

Plans are to have the new well at Occoquan in use by time of school opening on Monday. Mr. C. H. Wine is putting in the finishing touches to the work.

A request from the University of Maryland was granted for students from that institution to come over under the supervision of one of their own professors and do practice teaching and observation work in the agricultural departments here and in Nokesville. Professor Pullen will have joint supervision of such work.

A number of school patrons were present in the interest of their respective localities.

APPLICATIONS SHOULD BE MADE EARLY

Applications of Virginia farmers for Federal loans for the purchase of seed, fertilizer and other necessities should be made promptly, in the opinion of Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the State Drought Relief Committee, since in Mr. Byrd's opinion the $45,000,000 provided by the national government for the farmers of the United States for drought relief is insufficient.

EX-SLAVE BURIED WITH HONORS

Epps Barnes, colored, aged about eighty-eight, died at his home at Independent Hill in the closing hours of 1930 after an illness of several years.

The old fellow was very popular. During his long confinement many people would call on him to cheer him up. His wife, who survives him, is equally well known and well liked.

Back in the days "Befo' de war," Uncle Eps is stated to have been domiciled with the Copen family, well known in the annals of Prince William. The family plot in which he was buried was a part of the old estate.

He leaves eight sons and one daughter.

The funeral which took place on New Year's Day was one of the county's biggest in recent months, and there was a profusion of beautiful flowers.

Elder A. J. Garland, of Clarendon, performed the rites at Uncle Eps' home, and many who attended came from without the county.

Prince William misses its old timers who have lived right and tried to lead their sons and daughters in the same path.

2,000 IDLE MEN TO HAVE WORK

The State Highway Commission estimates that 2,000 idle men can be given work on the highways of the State by February 15. These men will be put to work by the contractors who are awarded the contracts for the $3,000,000 worth of road construction to be carried out by the commission in the near future as a result of the $1,500,000 loan of the Federal government for emergency road work for unemployment relief.

TAX REDUCTION

The Town Council of Manassas, at its regular meeting will consider a 25 cents reduction of the local tax levy. Other towns are expected to follow the example.

ILLNESS OF HARRY HUNDLEY

Mr. Harry Hundley, who was operated on at Charlottesville on December 30, is critically ill, but his many friends are hoping for an early recovery.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED FOR 1931

Kiwanis Club Renews Its Activities for the Coming Year

The Kiwanis Club of Manassas began another year with its session on Friday evening. Dr. Johnson assured his audience that the work of the club would carry on with equal intensity in 1931 as in 1930.

The following committees have been announced by President Johnson:

Public affairs, W. F. Coker, chairman; Hinton Tiffany, Charles C. Lynn and Arthur S. Boatwright. Vocational guidance—Richard C. Haydon, chairman; R. S. Hynson; E. Swavely, O. D. Waters. Finance—M. M. Ellis, chairman; J. E. Bradford. Program and efficiency—F. R. Hynson.

Agriculture—W. L. Lloyd, chairman; J. Powers Pullen, W. S. Covington; Housing—Rev. George Hasel, chairman; Rev. A. Sturt Gibson and D. J. Arrington. Publicity—Major F. W. Patterson and Frank G. Sigman. Reception—O. D. Waters, chairman; E. R. Conner and Rev. George Hasel. Membership—A. A. Hooft, chairman; W. E. Trusler and F. G. Sigman. Good will and grievance—E. Swavely, chairman; T. E. Dillake and G. Raymond Ratcliffe. Kiwanis education—T. E. Dillake, chairman; Rev. A. Sturt and Eli Swavely. Music—G. Raymond Ratcliffe, chairman; Major F. W. Patterson and W. S. Athey. Interclub relations—Robert A. Hutchison, chairman; M. M. Ellis and G. Raymond Ratcliffe. Business standards—W. H. Leachman, chairman; Hinton Tiffany and L. Ledman. Attendance—W. E. Athey, chairman; E. R. Conner and Rev. George Hasel. Classification—J. E. Bradford and board of directors. Red Cross members of Civilian Home Service Committee—Robert A. Hutchison and R. S. Hynson. Children's Christmas—Arthur S. Boatwright, chairman; F. R. Hynson, Robert A. Hutchison and Eli Swavely.

One of the leading incidents of the evening was the presentation of a silver pitcher to the retiring president.

The presentation was made on behalf of the club by one of its former presidents, Fred R. Hynson.

Part of his remarks are quoted briefly as follows:

"President Bob, For another whole year this Club will have inflicted upon it, the same old name, PRESIDENT Bob; when addressing the chair. We have changed Presidents but not his name, and it does seem that we should have selected a more common name, like Jim, John, or Bill or perhaps Tom Dick, or Harry, but this Club stands for uncommon things and since our new President has so many names, it will not be hard for us to take our choice when addressing the chair."

and whether Kiwanis has made him or he Kiwanis I will leave to you, yet in my humble opinion he is the one outstanding man who has invested in Kiwanis—and has, I am sure, received in return for this investment priceless dividends, the proper compensation he so rightly deserves.

What do on hamely fare we dine
Wear hoddan gray and all o' that,
Give fools their silks, and knaves their wine;
A man's a Man for all o' that.

Therefore in behalf of the members of the Manassas Kiwanis Club it gives me unusual pleasure to present to you, Bob Hutchison, this token of our esteem friendship, in appreciation of your untiring devotion to the club and your unselfish leadership for 1930.

Gold buttons to each of the past presidents were presented by O. D. Waters, the silver tongued orator of the club, and he did not shrink from his duty.

Those receiving a beautiful emblems are G. R. Ratcliffe, Eli Swavely, F. R. Hynson, T. E. Dillake and R. A. Hutchison.

CHURCH WORKER DIES SUDDENLY

George B. MacDonald III only
Since New Year

At midnight Tuesday, George B. MacDonald, aged 54, husband of Melza Isabel (Rudasill) died of pneumonia after a very brief illness which resulted from a heavy cold contracted during the Christmas season.

He kept at work in spite of his condition until it was necessary to call in Dr. McBryde, but pneumonia had already set in, and Mr. MacDonald weakened rapidly.

He leaves but one child, Miss Frances McDonald. Also surviving him besides his widow are his father, Joseph, and his brothers and sisters who live on a farm near here. They are William and the Misses Gertrude and Claude.

The deceased was a native of Front Royal coming to this county shortly before the World War. He farmed and had a large orchard near Brentsville. While there he was a very active worker in the Presbyterian church, becoming an Elder. His activities in Sunday School work are a matter of record.

After coming to Manassas, he assisted in the operation of the old Farmers' Exchange, later going into the business which he was conducting at the time of his death.

He was a faithful member of the local council of Juniors and the members of the order will have charge of the ceremonies at the grave. J. M. Muddiman, president of Bull Run Council will preside.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. at the Presbyterian Church, with Rev. J. Royal Cooke, of Greenwich, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. A. S. Gibson and Rev. W. A. Hall.

PROSPECTS FOR MANASSAS SCHOOL BAND BRIGHT

Questionnaire cards returned from the Band survey are more than sufficient to assure Manassas of securing the Trial Rental Plan, the plan by which the ability of boys and girls is determined before parents decide definitely to enroll them in the School Band.

Points of outstanding interest are that by the School Band Plan, not only does the school have a regular Bands and the community profit there by, but every boy and girl is enabled to secure a complete and thorough music education at a small fraction of the cost of what it would be if attempted by any one parent alone.

The Parent and Student Band Meeting, which will be held directly after school opens, will be most interesting. One of each of the band instruments will be demonstrated and played at the meeting so that parents and students may hear how each one sounds.

It is not necessary that a boy or girl be able to play an instrument or have any previous knowledge of music. A competent instructor will teach and direct the band.

All points will be thoroughly discussed at this meeting and a careful explanation will be made of how boys and girls may have the advantage of this musical education and band membership without working any financial hardship on the parents.

Many boys and girls intend to use their music as a means of securing university scholarship, as a means of earning funds to pay for college education, or as a means of securing special consideration in the big industries for better positions.

It is requested by the school, that any band questionnaire cards that have not yet been turned in to the teachers, be handed in without further delay.

All parents and music lovers are cordially invited to interest themselves in this project.

GOVERNMENT DECLINES TO CONSIDER LONGER TIME ON LOANS

County Chairman E. R. Conner, of Manassas, is in receipt of the following response to the valuable suggestions which he made recently and which were published last week's Journal. Acting with that administrative celerity for which he is noted, State Chairman Harry Flood Byrd immediately presented Mr. Conner's suggestions to the Federal Government, which has jurisdiction in the matter, and received the reply quoted below:

Winchester, Va.
January 5, 1931.

Mr. E. R. Conner,
Manassas, Virginia.

My dear Mr. Conner:
I enclose you copy of letter received from Mr. C. W. Warburton, Secretary of the Federal Drought Relief Committee with respect to your suggestions.

I thank you for making these suggestions which I think will be most helpful.

With best wishes, I am

Cordially yours,

HARRY F. BYRD.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Washington, D. C.
December 30, 1930.

Hon. Harry F. Byrd,
Winchester, Va.

Dear Mr. Byrd:
Receipt is acknowledgment of your letter of December 29 enclosing letter from Mr. E. R. Conner, Chairman of the Drought Relief Committee of Prince William County, Manassas, Virginia, in which he makes suggestions regarding the administration of the seed loan funds recently authorized by Congress.

As this authorization provides that the security to be taken is a lien on the crop to be grown in 1931, we cannot follow the first of Mr. Conner's suggestions that the loans be made for a period of from two to five years. I may say, however, that we have not hesitated to grant extensions of time for repayment of all or part of individual loans where payment out of the first crop would work material hardship on the borrower and his family. In instances where the crop on which we held a mortgage failed wholly or in part, we have granted extensions for one year, and further extensions where the individual circumstances seemed to justify.

The rate of interest charged on these loans has been 5 per cent and that is the rate we plan to charge in 1931. While it is slightly more than the Government pays on its own borrowings, the rate is very much less than farmers are accustomed to pay for production credit, and the margin over the rate paid by the Government will not be sufficient to pay administrative cost of making the loans and collections. The administration costs of making the loans is comparatively little but as you no doubt know, it usually costs more to get money back than it does to put it out. Then too, there is always a considerable element of loss in these thin credit loans.

The authorization states in the purposes for which loans may be made, and a penalty clause in the resolution is likely to insure the borrower's confining his expenditures to those purposes. Furthermore, we expect to advance money in installments, requiring a statement from each borrower as to how the first instalment has been spent before a second is advanced to him.

Loans to the individual borrower will be on the basis of actual requirements for the acreage of crops he proposes to grow, including feed for the workstock required to prepare, plant, and cultivate this acreage. The acreage on which loans will be made will be approximately the normal acreage planted by the borrower as indicated by his crop report for 1929 and 1930 which constitutes a part of his application. We expect to incorporate in each application an agreement that the borrower will plant a garden for home use, and that he will plant a sufficient acreage of feed crops to provide for his livestock. This will simply be conforming to the usual practice in northern Virginia, but in the tobacco section of southern Virginia and generally

MR. HUNT TELLS EXPERIENCE ON HIS ADVENTURES

With Frazier Hunt, leading journalistic figure and war correspondent in the role of host, the "Chevrolet Chronicles" continue into the new year with Lieut. John L. Barkley, Congressional Medal of Honor Man, featured over WMAL on Saturday, January 10, at 7:30 p. m.

No one individual in America has a broader or more colorful background, compassing the whole world and all its great figures than Mr. Hunt. Twenty years ago in Mexico he went through the original Mexican Revolution. As a war correspondent he served with the American troops in France. For months during the bitterest and bloodiest days of the Russian Revolution he was the only correspondent in Soviet Russia, where he was arrested as a spy and narrowly escaped death.

Mr. Hunt has interviewed and known personally almost all of the world figures of the past two decades—Gandhi of India, Sun Yet Sun of China, Lenin of Russia, Michael Collins of Ireland, Presidents Obregon and Calles of Mexico, Prince of Wales, Mustapha Kemal of Turkey, Alphonso XIII, former President Coolidge, and a hundred and one others.

In making his debut as host for the "Chevrolet Chronicles," Mr. Hunt will interview Lieut. Barkley, member of the Intelligence unit of the late war, on the latter's experience in capturing an enemy's machine gun, turning it on them and then routing them twice.

Telephone Service Improved By Nitrogen Filled Cables

Nitrogen gas which has been used so effectively in the scientific and industrial worlds is now being put to a new use. Research engineers have discovered that telephone cables can be maintained with fewer interruptions to service when filled with gas. Cables must be airtight and a constant pressure of gas is an indication that no leaks exist.

Telephone cables are made of small copper wires insulated with paper, and covered with a lead sheathing as protection against the elements. Where splices are made in the cables, the joints are wiped with hot metal, making them airtight as an insurance against dampness.

Where leaks do occur in cables filled with gas, the reduced pressure will cause an alarm bell installed in the central office to ring. The wire chief, attracted by the alarm, upon reaching the gauge operated in connection with the testing equipment, can detect the fault quickly. With the aid of the cable maintenance forces, he can in many cases clear up the trouble before telephone service is affected.

Gas pressure, according to telephone engineers, is maintained at about fifteen pounds to the square inch at sixty degrees temperature. When the cable is manufactured, the ends are sealed and gas is forced into each length through a cut-off valve. The cable is tested at the time of splicing and is given a final pressure test before it is placed in service. As the cable is installed, pressure testing valves are connected at intervals of about one mile along the route for maintenance purposes.

Frank Courtney, section cableman, injecting gas into a Washington Richmond cable. His helper, W. M. Long, is making the contact.

Nitrogen gas is particularly suited for this use, since it is perfectly harmless and does not readily unite with other elements to form harmful chemical combinations.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

Woodbridge and Ocequan

Good morning, folks. This is station TCVA broadcasting over the Manassas Journal network. We have blown the foam off the holiday season and now stand face to face with the real things of life.

Twin City has its problems, as well as all other large centers of population. I understand that the sons of rest have been put to their wits end in finding a suitable meeting place during the cold weather. As soon as they locate a comfortable fire, a few boxes and nail kegs handy, a piece or two of soft wood for whittling, and the meeting is called to order, some noney, busy body orders the doors flung open for fresh air. In a large city like Twin City, squash center should not be disturbed. There are important questions to be discussed. Gossip of the back fence variety, tasty and racy.

Like Mrs. Mulligan meeting Mrs. Flannigan:

Mrs. Mulligan, "Good morning, Mrs. Flannigan and how you be?"

Mrs. Flannigan, "I be very well, Mrs. Mulligan and how is you, not that I care a darn how you be, but it helps along with the conversation."

The holiday season has brought out a fine crop of candidates. In age they run the gamut of years from two score and one to three score and ten. Some have a thick well matted covering of hair to protect their grey matter from the sharp jabs of the thoughtless who think different from them. Others are thinly haired and plainly show a dome without protection, except for the bone like cranium that is apparently as hard as diamond.

B. W. Brunt has announced himself a candidate for the presidency in 1932. He has put himself forward as the leader of the "weaker and wiser" party that claim to have a snapping turtle grip on the great American body politic. Good luck Bro. Brunt, remember, if you succeed in landing into the seat of the mighty, that I am very anxious to slip into a cabinet position—Secretary of the Navy will suit me. O me, I always did want to own a battleship for a pleasure yacht.

As yet we haven't heard from Gov. Roosevelt, Edmund Herr Allen, Harry Byrd, Geo. Herring, or Guilford Money. If these gentlemen all together, or one at a time decide that they want the white house rent free for four years, I am afraid Brunt will have to get stronger as well as wiser. So much for natural politics.

Folks, are you listening! Just stay tuned in for a while longer. Now that is good. We are now going to talk for a few minutes about county politics. Let me see. What in the world have I done with that list of political aspirants? Get out of my way! Ah, I have found it! The Roll Call:

Uncle Nick (J. J. Nicholson) says, "By the horned toads of Zannabar, I am a candidate for sheriff of the grand old county of Prince William. He further orates that he is a Jeffersonian Democrat—rocked in the dug-out of Democracy, and is in favor of water for a yearly bath." Judge Saunders, of Twin City, says, Uncle Nick has his vote and support, Jeffersonian democracy appeals strongly to him, whatever it is.

Our next candidate for the high office of sheriff, ditto county, is our good old friend Chief Justice of the Peace Tom Sheppard. Now Tom is strictly a man of business, full of pep and has the bearing of our late lamented Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, William Howard Taft. Tom orates and disseminates for the voters to assimilate a platform of lengthy parts. Against corn and rye in the liquid state; heartily in favor of water for quenching the thirst and bathing once in a while. Believes in peace and straight shooting. A little bombastic at times. Smokes a cheap grade of tobacco, but believes that the high sheriff of Prince William county should be a gentleman of high ideals and rosy complexion. He claims to be a democrat. Who puts principle above party and is a firm believer in the Golden Rule.

At last but not least is the present incumbent John Kerlin, high sheriff and minister plenipotentiary of the grand old county of Prince William. I understand John is standing with his back against a wall—undecided. He loves Uncle Nick and Tom. My boy don't give up the ship while the waves are high with a little side-stepping and diplomatic aggravation I still think you can get your constituents to cultivate a taste for more and better water.

This brings the sheriff list up to date.

We will now take up the Supervisors' situation and give the candidates the once over:

J. Lindsey Dawson, present incumbent and chairman of the Board, independent and full of pep. Lindsey says that he has weathered the political storms for many years. He orates that a supervisor is not particularly concerned about liquid refreshments, further states that water and buttermilk with a nip of fresh air slightly salted from the broad bosom of Ocequan Bay should be sufficient for a member of the Board.

Number two aspirant: Grover Cleveland Russell. My my but that name conjures thoughts of the dark and dreary ages. But, what is in a name? "A rose etc." "GC" has already started in to giving that glad handshake. He dropped in to see me the other day and in his exuberant excitement he shook hands three times and said, delighted each time. The old scout is plainly nervous and somewhat embarrassed, although not new at the game.

Number three aspirationest: Hezekiah Reid. I am unable at this broadcast to give you more than a running word portrait of Hezekiah. Quote: Second chronicles, 15th verse—"Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceive you, nor persuade you on this matter."

Number four is one of our friendly sort of fellows. William Henry Carlick, and will work wherever you put him. Loves home, mule, hound dog, watermelons and his fellow man. Orates that country tobacco gives a man strength of body and mind. Peter Custer Wigglesworth says that he dearly loves them, all and hopes that he can vote for each and every candidate.

As other candidates pip and hatch we will be glad to have their names. GEORGE DENT.

EXPRESSIONS OF APPRECIATION

I take this method of expressing my sincere gratefulness to the many loyal friends—white and colored—who have been so thoughtful and kind to me throughout my prolonged illness. May the good Lord reward you with an abundance of blessings. Benlah Blakey.

A DILEMMA

John W. Brookfield, Jr., local attorney, who was voted $1,000 for legal services by Truro parish, Pohick Church, only to have the $1,000 taken away from him by a fine of that amount assessed under an ancient blue law for failure to attend church services, now has another problem on his hands in connection with the affair.

John is wondering what mention he will have to make of the matter when he comes to making out his income tax papers. If he has to include as part of his income for 1930 the $1,000 fee which he failed to receive, he will be the loser all around. Monday Brookfield said he intended to take the matter up with the church at an early date and expected to get them to agree to pay the difference if there is any increase in his income tax because of the fee and fine.

We will be pleased to SERVE YOU.
Again we express our deep appreciation of the enormous increase in the volume of our business, and especially do we value the patronage of

TRUST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS—

The Lord bless thee, and keep thee. The Lord make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee. The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace—Numbers 5:24-26.

PRAYER—Father, as we enter another year, do Thou go with us. Give us Thy Spirit, that we may reflect and lift up the living Christ in all we say and do.

OPPORTUNITIES

The following sermonette by Rev. Gunn is so typical of every effort in life that we reprint it from an exchange for the benefit of our readers.

"A great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries."—I Cor. xvi:9.

The adversaries are always there—beside the open door. That's life. We are always coming at a door standing open, inviting us to enter; but always there are adversaries at hand to dispute our entrance. Shall we go in? Or shall we stay out? There's the test of the stuff that's in us.

Many of us waste years waiting for life to open a door where there are no adversaries. But life never does that. Life never offers a worthwhile opportunity that carries no pain, no obstacles to be overcome. Always there are as many reasons against doing a thing as there are reasons for doing it.

If life presents to you an open door, and you are afraid to enter it, you can find a thousand alibis. And these alibis will rationalize any selfishness or stupidity or cowardice. The fearful and cowardly can always make "safe and sane" terms of surrender with the adversaries that confront them at the door of opportunity.

On the other hand, if you determine to go in that door in spite of the adversaries, your courage will support your action with plausible reasons. People may boo you and say your reasons are but a fool's fantasies, because your courage makes their cowardice seem contemptible. Nevertheless, let your courage lead on, and presently you will see those adversaries beating a retreat. There is no opposition that can stand before a man armed with a cold, courageous determination.

More adversaries! What are they to turn one back? What challenge would there be to undertake a thing that offered no obstacles? To a man who has the right stuff in him, obstacles become an incentive and stimulus to go ahead. He is not much of a man who allows himself to be frightened back from a venture simply because he sees difficulties in the way.

You might as well count yourself out, if your idea is to play safe and take no risks. If you wait for an open door where your entrance will be undisputed by any adversary, you will be a disappointment to yourself and to the world.

THE NEW YEAR

In bidding poor old 1930 goodbye there should be some consolation in the reflection that few of us thought, fifteen months ago, that we could possibly stand so long a period of dread depression and unrelieved pessimism.

In welcoming the new year the thought occurs that the only thing which keeps us in this slough of despond is a habit of thought. These things run in cycles. We go up, and we go down. Is it not entirely possible that this old depression really ceased to exist several months ago?

The opinion of our most learned business leaders is that, and they are convinced that, with a single exception, every obstacle in the path of a return of material prosperity has been removed. That single obstacle is the state of mind of the average citizen. He has had it dinned into his mind that "times are hard." His banker believes as he does. He hesitates to apply for a loan to improve his property, or to enlarge his business. If he did apply, his banker would hesitate to make the loan, even though the credit of the firm or individual be excellent.

This habit of caution was commendable in the days when the market was falling and when banks and business firms had to trim every corner in order to remain solvent. But the time for such caution, we believe, has passed. Values are at rock-bottom. Almost any buy is a good buy. The industry which has survived the past year and a half must look naturally to expansion. Credit for the expansion of such a proven industry should not be lacking.

The new year demands a closer application to business, an increase in personal efficiency—but above all, COURAGE. The times offer all of us an excuse to throw ourselves back in the shafts, to sulk and to say that this is no time to waste one's energy and industry. But exactly how far will this balking carry us?

It is significant that the national weeklies are featuring in their editorials the old New Year's greeting "God rest ye, merry gentlemen; let nothing you dismay!" Those last four words are well worth adopting as a 1931 motto. "Let nothing you dismay!"

Why not tackle the new year with real spirit, with an absence of caution and misgivings? We have had enough of timidity, of penny-pinching, of retrenchment. Let us welcome 1931 with a real good spirit, as if the new year boded good instead of evil.

Lesson for Our Farmers

There are no idle farms and no vacant houses in Colquitt county, down in south Georgia. That county stands conspicuously in Dixieland as an example of what diversification of crops can do for a rundown community.

A few years ago neglected cotton farms and poorly kept barns and farm houses dominated the picture, but now there is a panorama of healthy crops, including feed and food both for live stock and farm families. And the whole county is dotted with neatly painted houses and barns.

Cattle, hogs and chickens roam pastures and fields that have green carpets of grass. Cotton still grows, but it no longer is the king of crops. It is planted for a money crop alone and is by no means the chief source of cash income.

Five years ago Colquitt county farmers found themselves in dire circumstances. Nearly all of them owed money. Their farms were mortgaged to the hilt, and debt stalked in every home. All agreed that something must be done to bring relief.

So the bankers, who held most of the mortgages, called a meeting of their farmer-debtors. A plan under which the bankers would agree to carry notes for one or perhaps two or three years more was outlined.

The farmers saw the feasibility of the plan and to a majority an agreement to adopt. The plan, based on a one-horse farm of thirty acres, is as follows:

Corn, velvet beans and runner peanuts, three acres.
Oats, followed by peavine hay, three acres.

Sweet potatoes, sugar cane, sorghum cane, two acres.
Tobacco, Spanish peanuts, watermelons, pimento peppers and specialized crops, eight acres.
Cotton, five acres.

Permanent pastures on waste lands or wet ground not suited to cultivation, three to five acres.
Two or three milk cows, two brood sows and fifty purebred hens.

That was the beginning of diversified farming in south Georgia, and Colquitt county farmers have lived up to their agreement.

The establishment in Moutre, Ga., of a large packing plant has played a large part in providing a market for hogs and beef cattle, not only for Colquitt county but for other counties in south Georgia and Alabama.

Not all farmers of south Georgia are out of debt now, but most of them in Colquitt county that state, are reported to be materially relieved, and those who are not will be within a short time, it is said.

—Portsmouth Star.

BUT WHAT CAN IT ACCOMPLISH?

The Southern Planter, of which former Governor Westmoreland Davis is owner, puts up the strongest argument at its command why it believes the General Assembly should be called into immediate session "to consider relief for agriculture in its present emergency." Its arguments are replete with generalities, but suggests nothing that we can see that the legislature could do except to "consider" the situation. It argues speciously but vaguely and the only effect it will have, we fear, is to make its farmer readers feel that there is something their government can do that it is failing to do to help them out of their difficulties. The Southern Planter is only adding to the uncertainty and unrest and fails utterly to offer a constructive idea that might in the remotest way help agriculture in its dilemma.

When Lieutenant-Governor Price came out favoring an extra session of the General Assembly "to do something" for the farmer it did not arouse any interest favorable to it. There was a reason for this state of the public mind and the same reason exists today. There is no way the legislature can help to relieve the situation except to appropriate money for loans to farmers or for public works. But unfortunately long before a business smash or a disastrous drought was thought of the budget for the biennium had been made up, the rate of taxation fixed and so there is no hope of raising more funds without increasing taxes which would only add to instead of decrease the people's burdens. True, the state might borrow, but the amount would be limited and that also necessitates the levying of additional taxes. Under the constitution red tape forbids the issuance of long term bonds which would be the only economical way to raise a large sum at low cost.

Governor Pollard, we think, stated the situation correctly at the time he declined to call the lawmakers to convene in extra session. There has been no change since then that would justify him reversing himself. Since then the federal government has come to the rescue in a small way and if the necessity arises will supplement these appropriations as it should. Our problem is larger than one state or several states. It is national and beyond the scope of individual state governments.

After all it makes no matter whence the relief funds come from—state or federal treasury, the people of all the states will pay the bill. Why put Virginia to the expense of thousands of dollars to spend a month "considering" our plight and fretting out ways and means to relieve it when there is nothing to relieve it with except by an increase in taxes when what the people demand is a revision downward in the rates already in force? We have had too much expert tinkering with our taxation and governmental system, and the longer we keep the less apt we are to have thrust upon us some new experiments and theories always stored generously in the backs of the heads of our legislators.

PRINCE WILLIAM 4-H DAIRY CLUB MEMBERS ENTER UNIVERSITY DAIRY JUDGING CONTEST

A number of the Prince William Dairy Club members are taking a part in a unique dairy cattle judging contest which is sponsored by a national dairy publication. A series of five contest pages are published in successive issues, beginning December 10, 1930. In each issue pictures of four dairy animals are shown from all angles. Judging cards are furnished the members which will be retained until the end of the contest when they will be graded according to the placings of five leading dairy cattle judges. While desirable, it is not necessary that boys in the contest be subscribers for the magazine as reprints of the contest pages are mailed directly to the members or furnished by the county agricultural agent. $400.00 in cash prizes is offered to those who come nearest to placing pictures as they are placed by leading dairy cattle judges. Several of the members, judging contests, are looking forward hopefully toward participating in the liberal awards.

... SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

By GRACE VIAL GRAY

What tastes better than Hot Biscuits and Honey, whether it be morning, noon or night? These appetizing-looking biscuits were "made in a jiffy" with self-rising flour.

HOT BISCUITS AND HONEY

"Eat natural sweets," say the doctors and dietitians. They are more healthful and less injurious to the teeth and digestion than rich, heavy sweets, and by natural sweets we mean dates, figs, raisins and honey—nature's own preserves.

And with honey, of course, the natural complement in hot biscuits! Piling hot biscuits, plenty of sweet butter and pure, unadulterated honey—what could be a more perfect combination for that high Sunday evening supper or to serve at an informal gathering?

The biscuits need not cause you any anxiety if you are not a thoroughly experienced housewife. A great deal of the uncertainty can be removed from biscuit making by the use of self-rising flour, that is, soft wheat flour, which has already been added at the mill the right amounts of pure mono-calcium phosphate and bicarbonate of soda, which is really baking powder, and salt for seasoning. To use, the flour is sifted only once and the mixture should be handled as little and as lightly as possible.

Here is the recipe which is as simple as it is economical:

Hot Biscuits.
2 cups self-rising flour
1/2 cup milk
2 tbsp. fat (whole or fresh buttermilk)

Sift and measure the flour. Add the shortening and cut or rub it into the flour. Then add the milk a little at a time to make a soft dough. Roll until about one-third inch thick and cut with a biscuit cutter. Place on a baking sheet and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) about ten minutes. Serve at once with butter and honey.

MAN CAN'T SLEEP, GETS

NERVOUS, HATES PEOPLE

"I could not sleep and got so nervous I hated everybody. Since taking Vinol, I can sleep 10 hours and feel full of pep all day."—Julius Bender. For 30 years doctors have prescribed Vinol because it contains important mineral elements of iron, calcium and cod liver peptone. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Nervous, worn-out people are surprised how QUICK Vinol gives new life and pep! Tastes delicious.

What wages home-making

Every woman knows that by doing her own housework she saves real money for her family. But she saves more on some tasks than she does on others. Making a silk dress, for instance, saves more than baking bread.

But even a woman hasn't time to do all the baking and making a household demands. Some things must be bought ready made—some jobs done by others.

Incomes go furthest when wives spend their time on the tasks which save the most money.

The work of shopping is the most valuable service a housewife performs. More money is saved in wise buying than in any other home-making occupation. The woman who goes to market and personally selects the food she buys, saves more than in any other home job.

A penny saved is a penny earned
—and marketing in ASP stores
is a highly paid household task

GIFTS FOR ORPHANAGE

Mt. Carmel Baptist Church had a very unique service on fourth Sunday in December in the interest of the orphan children at Salem under the care of Virginia Baptists. After the sermon by the pastor, the members of the Sunday School were asked to make an offering equal to the number of years they were old. The result was very satisfactory, as quite a sum was raised. At the close of the service the pastor was made happy by many useful presents from members of the church and friends. 32-3

GOVERNMENT READY TO ADMINISTER FUND FOR DROUGHT RELIEF

Plans are being made by the Department of Agriculture for the administration of $45,000,000 authorized by Congress for drought and storm relief. C. W. Warburton, Director of Extension Work of the Department, stated orally December 20.

Replies to letters to State directors of agricultural extension work asking information concerning localities where need is sufficient to warrant loans already are being received by the Department, Mr. Warburton said.

The drought relief measure which was signed by the President December 20, and hence law, authorizes an appropriation of $45,000,000 but does not appropriate the funds. The House Committee on Appropriations will hold hearings during the holiday recess to determine how much of the $45,000,000 authorized should be appropriated for immediate use.

Applications Being Prepared
The chairman of that Committee, Representative Wood (Rep.) of Lafayette, Ind., stated orally December 20 that the Department of Agriculture had advised him the first of the year will be time enough for an appropriation, pending which the Department is making preliminary plans for allocations.

Preparation of the forms for applications for loans has been started, personnel is being located to handle the making of loans and locations are being considered for regional offices through which lending and collecting activities will be carried on, Mr. Warburton said.

After the appropriation has been made available by Congress and information has been received in the Department showing where the need is sufficient to warrant loans, the funds will be allotted tentatively to the drought states in proportion to the need, Mr. Warburton said. However, an ample reserve fund will be maintained so that, if the needs of any section are found to have been underestimated, there will be money available to provide additional relief, he said. The allotments will not be permanent, but will be subject to constant revision in accordance with needs.

The allotments will be based on information received from the State directors of extension work, who will obtain their data from county agents, and on the data contained in the crop reports of the Department, according to Mr. Warburton.

Four Regional Offices

Tentative plans call for the establishment of four regional offices to handle the loan activities. G. L. Hoffman, Chief of the Farmers' Seed Loan Office of the Department, stated orally. These, he said, would be at St. Louis, Mo., for the work in Missouri; Kentucky, Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois, and Indiana; at Memphis, Tenn., for Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, and Louisiana; Grand Forks, N. Dak., for Montana, North Dakota, Wyoming, Washington, and possibly Minnesota; and Washington, D. C., for Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, and any other nearby states which may qualify as requiring the loans. Other States may be added to this list, he said.

While the form of the loan applications has not yet been completed, Mr. Hoffman said, the application blanks will be very similar to those used in prior years for similar purposes. The application blanks cannot be printed before the appropriation is made available by Congress, he said, but arrangements are at such a stage that he believes loans actually will be made within two weeks after the passage of the appropriation.

Applications for loans will be presented to community and county committees, Mr. Hoffman said, many of the local drought committees formed last summer handling this work. These committees will see that information is provided on the reliability of the applicant for the loan, his capacity to repay the amount, his lack of available credit elsewhere, and other factors.

The application will then go to the regional office, where the regional director of the loan work will decide, on the basis of the information provided, whether the loan should be made. If approval is given the application, the regional director will write the check for the amount to be lent, and send it to the farmer.

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

Chevrolet wins first place
for the fourth time

First place at the National Automobile Shows—a position granted on the basis of annual sales volume—is again awarded to Chevrolet.

This is the fourth consecutive time that Chevrolet has achieved this honor. And the reason lies in the exceptional value which Chevrolet cars consistently provide.

This year, in its bigger and better Six, Chevrolet is offering an outstanding example of the value which has brought it such record success.

In fact, no previous Chevrolet car has ever represented such a high degree of quality and advancement, and sold at such low prices as today's Chevrolet Six.
