OCOQUAN BEATS MANASSAS

Ocoquan won their fourth consecutive game Friday, May 1, by defeating Manassas on their grounds by the score of 6 to 2. Ocoquan played an excellent brand of ball and nipped several Manassas rallies before they were well under way. The weather was excellent and the grounds were in fine condition.

Sheppard pitched nice ball for Ocoquan striking out 7 men and walking only two while Conner for Manassas struck out 5 men and walked 4 men. Ocoquan's outfielders cut off three men at the plate after they had made the catch for three double plays.

Summary—Two base hits: Pearson Wright, McCullum, Kite. Three base hits: Wright, Sacrifice hits: McCullum. Double plays: Rawson to Hinton, Riley to Hinton, Wright to Hinton.

GLENN NEFF

The community was indeed shocked by the sudden death of Glenn Edward Neff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Neff. Glenn was a good, quiet Christian boy and a life such as his lives on and on with his friends. Funeral service was held on Thursday at the Valley Church. Mr. Davis Nolly preached a very able sermon. Relatives and friends from a distance attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ernsviler and two daughters of Broadway; Mrs. James Strickler of Harrisonburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Runion and family of Herndon; Mrs. D. E. Neff and family of Timberville; Miss Ruth Roller of New Market; Mr. R. M. Bankert of Washington.

SAD DEATH

Wilbur Cross, a conductor on the Southern for many years, died at his home near Atheyville on Monday after a ten-day illness with typhoid pneumonia. Toward the last, all of the doctors in the community were in attendance but their untiring efforts were unavailing.

Mr. Cross leaves a large family of children, the youngest being quite little.

The funeral services were held this afternoon with Manassas Lodge in charge. A number of Scottish Rite Masons from Alexandria attended.

MANASSAS BEAT ROCKVILLE

Manassas came from behind on Tuesday, and defeated the strong Rockville, Md., team by a score, 8-7.

Everybody in the team deserves credit, Conner for coolness and accuracy under fire, Wilson Kite for using his batting eye, "Jakey" Holler for going in cold, and breaking up one of the two meanest situations in the game.

The team goes up against Ballston next week and a good delegation should accompany.

OCOQUAN

Southern Audience Hears Eloquent Resume of True Facts of History

The speech of Mayor Davis delivered before the Daughters of the Confederacy, April 30 is so wonderfully descriptive of past and present conditions of the South's great struggle, so full of the genuine feeling of the young men of the South, that those hearing it regarded as inspirational and we have been solicited on all sides to print it in full. We take sincerest pleasure in presenting it to our readers. (Editor's Note).

U. D. C. CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Fourth District, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held in Manassas last week was one of the largest and most thoroughly enjoyed held in several years.

At the opening exercises Rev. Westwood Hutchison, a gallant Confederate, presided. A fervent and beautiful address was made by Dr. Charles F. Russell of Herndon, another Confederate Veteran, introduced as "ninety years young." Several prominent State officers were present including Mrs. Bolling of Richmond, State president, Mrs. Berkeley Calfee, Miss Lucy Kurtz, and Mrs. Guthrie. On Thursday evening the delegates were welcomed by Mayor Davis whose eloquent speech is printed elsewhere in this paper.

The meeting was a typical gathering of Southern women whose noble work for their country has become a beautiful chapter in Cavalier history.

A most interesting speech was made by the Town Manager, Mr. Cooke, on the history and growth of Manassas which was enthusiastically received. Other features of the evening were amusing readings by Mr. Worth Stork, well known for his clever and popular recitals, and Miss Kitty Smith, also well known locally. Mr. John Rust spoke on the Battle Park and extended the delegates an invitation to visit the field so illustrious in Southern history. The musical recitals staged by Miss Virginia Speiden were much enjoyed.

The business session on Friday was graced by the presence of Dr. Russell and Col. Colvin, also a Veteran, both addressing the Daughters and praising the work of the Southern women. A delightful luncheon was served the guests at noon and at the close of the session the charming visitors were taken to the Battlefield.

Manassas is proud to have entertained such a representative body of Virginia gentlewomen.

MAYOR DAVIS PRAISES NOBLE WORK OF SOUTHERN WOMEN

Mr. Chairman:—
Delegates to the Convention, Daughters of the Confederacy, Friends and Fellow-Citizens:

It is with no small degree of pleasure that I extend to you a most cordial and hearty welcome to Manassas on this occasion.

I feel that the honor bestowed upon me by the Program Committee is very high and I hope that you will not only hear the words spoken, but that you may envision the deep sincerity, the true motives and the genuine hospitality which lies beneath the surface, and which our words can not fully express.

This occasion is one that stirs the blood and quickens the pulses, and our one desire is to make your visit here pleasant in its associations, hallowed in its memories and happy in its fellowship and so it is with outstretched hands that we bid you welcome.

National eminence is mounded upon lofty principles and praiseworthy deeds, and the people who reverence heroic ancestry may be trusted to read an upright posterity.

The best educational system is not enough for the protection of the people until it is joined to patriotism; then we have a national fiber that will resist every strain. We live in a world of haste and hurry; our time is taken up with all kinds of things and problems; it seems almost impossible to get the essential and fundamental concerns in their right proportion. But, we rejoice that you from your matters of responsibility have chosen to centralize your time and effort on the important matters that lie before us today.

In the great tasks of bettering humanity and solving humanity's problems, we are all in harmony. And so, your tasks and your purposes, if nothing else, would make you welcome guests to our little city of homes and loving people.

One of the finest things to be gotten out of life, is the enjoyment to be derived from association with real friends.

The older ones gets, the stronger is the realization of the need for real friends. But, life is fleeting and real friendships are not made in a day.

"He who has a thousand friends,
Has never one to spare,
And he who has one enemy,
Will meet him everywhere."

On an occasion of this kind, we should also consider again the duties which the living owe to the living, and the performance of which, makes life better and sweeter.

It was a beautiful custom of the old Romans to erect statues of their dead on high places so that the Roman young, as they said, "In looking upward might be lifted." And so, as we look upon the tablets erected to our dead, we are comforted and uplifted by a consideration of their lives.

The War Between the States, the Mexican War, the Spanish War, and, last of all, the World War, which claimed the lives of countless thousands of the bravest of sons of all Nations, all these have given to history, the heroes now remembered.

Indeed all the world has become a Westminster Abbey; even when we take into account the heroes of the battlefield. For, notwithstanding the ulterior wickedness of war, and all the criminal tyranny which is so often the primal cause of war, yet the soldier boys of every land always respond to the call of their country with the loftiest motives that have ever found place in heroic hearts.

Let us not forget that this Reunion is made sacred to us not only by the valor and sacrifice of our brothers, but sanctified by inheritance from our ancestors in their exemplary and heroic struggle for principles of political self government and religious liberty, the foundation stones of all free, equitable and orderly government.

We need to call on every veteran to

HEAVY VOTE EXPECTED

With the rush of poll tax payments on Saturday, it is estimated that over 2,600 persons are qualified to vote this year provided they are properly registered.

A number of young people qualified which is very gratifying.

TIME TO ADVERTISE

Ben Sweetland, New York advertising executive, says that business volume and profits move up and down with advertising volume. The concern that increases its advertising appropriation during periods of depression has an advantage over the firm which reduces advertising expenditure.

An analysis of 77 national advertisers showed that 52 increased their advertising budget during 1930. Their business suffered only 9.6 per cent decline in net profits. A dozen firms which reduced their advertising appropriations from 15 to 100 per cent suffered a decrease of 41.2 per cent in net profits in the same period.

After the 1921 depression a survey was made of 125 national advertisers. It was found that the 58 which increased advertising had a decline in profits of 12 per cent. The 67 which decreased advertising saw their profits drop 26 per cent. Following that depression, the firms which had advertised strongly showed a business gain of 41 per cent in three years, while the other group had a gain of only 5 per cent in the same time.

Of course, the type of advertising and the medium used are important. An official of a large manufacturing concern located in Iowa considers the daily newspaper the most satisfactory medium, even for national advertising. He says:

"We came around to newspaper advertising after a series of tests, involving the use of other mediums. We found newspapers preferable, because they enabled us to use the local dealer's name in the advertisement, because the local advertising had a stimulating effect on the salesman and because it made a deeper impression on the buyer."

Now is a good time to act upon the experience and advice of exponents of advertising who know what they are talking about.

ADDRESS OF MAYOR DAVIS

do his part in correcting the errors and falsehoods of prevailing history by writing his experiences and observations, in order that future historians may be informed of the causes of the War Between the States, and the spirit in which it was waged.

Near the close of the War, the Confederate authorities at Richmond issued a proclamation to the people of the South in which these two prophetic statements were made, anticipating our defeat:

"The Southern States would be held as conquered provinces by the despot government at Washington."

"Raiders will compel us to drink the cup of humiliation, even to the bitter dregs of having the history of our struggle written by New England historians."

Four years of military war was fought against almost incredible odds in numbers, equipment and resources, and now in sober retrospection, in prayerful introspection, in the words of another we can say:

"We thank God that at Appomattox we were with General Lee and not with General Grant."

Ten years of political war was fought to save our civilization after the Southland had been divided into military districts by sectional despotism of selfishness, greed, deception and hate.

The wisdom, endurance and loyalty of a people were never more sternly tested than during those deplorable years—selfish designing politicians were the malefactors of that period, as they are the menacing influence to law and order today.

Must not that be false which requires for its support so much imposture, so much tyranny?

Cicero said, "The first aim of history is that it should neither care to say anything that is false, nor fear to say anything that is true, for the establishment of truth is never wrong."

The great Napoleon in Italy said, "Respect for property, humanity and religion is our animating principle." This was his policy while invading the enemy's country and to read General Lee orders to his troops when invading Pennsylvania, one will be impressed with the same humane policy in our international war.

Again, Napoleon said, "Give the masses a toy and they will play with it and allow themselves to be led, provided always, the leader is adroit enough to hide his real aims."

This declaration was illustrated when the authorities at Washington—by simulation and dissimulation, led a large per cent of the people of the North into the war by appealing to improper motives.

The Southern Soldiers displayed an elevated patriotism worthy of our imitation. The world treasures no worthier names than those of the Southern Officers. Before the leaders there blazed the promise of military glory; upon them rested the eyes of the world.

Great is such an incentive. For the private, there was no such incentive; if he fell, he had the promise of nothing more than an unconfined burial.

He endured hunger, thirst, weary marches, faced death on the field of battle; bared his breast to lead and steel, for the sake of his beloved land alone. Duty and patriotism—these alone inspired him.

They were no insignia of rank; but in the book of the chronicles of the brave, it is recorded that they wore a hero's heart within.

And too, we must not forget the peerless women of the South, of the war days and of today—the noble mothers—the moral support of all Nations—the ones who taught and do teach their children the principles of liberty, justice and obedience to law. The principles that make Nations great, principles that make great soldiers, statesmen and heroes of all Nations.

The women of the South of 1861-65 must have their page in Confederate history, and if they do not, the history cannot be a complete or correct one, of the days when the Southland made history of which no son or daughter of the South need be ashamed. They were the inspiration of the Confederate soldier, on the battlefield, in camp, on the march, their love, loyalty and devotion taught the world a lesson of fidelity worth the learning. They were the potent factor in the Confederate Army holding out in the unequal struggle as long as it did.

They suffered as no other women on earth were ever called upon to suffer. They were subjected to insult by a brutal invader who ignored all rules of civilized warfare and humanity.

They suffered when mourning crepe hung from many doors, when the invaders torch wrought ruin to the homes, and when hearts were pierced by sorrow's sword—and this was true of all the women of the South, whether she came from a lowly cot on the hillside, or from the gilded halls of wealth in the vale. The Colonial mother in 1776 made the Colonial soldier what he was—invincible. The women of the South made the Confederate soldier the ideal soldier of the world.

No people on earth can claim greater statesmen, grander soldiers, nor braver women than the South. England had but one Florence Nightingale, but the South had thousands of women just as devoted and true.

When wars grim harvest was done, those women of the South did not halt in their work of mercy, love and charity, they organized themselves into bands and began collecting the remains of their heroic dead, placing them in cemeteries, marking each sacred grave, and the same gentle hands that soothed the soldiers fevered brows and bound up their wounds kept green the sod above the heroic graves, and when those mothers were called to rest from their labors, they bequeathed a sacred trust, they gave into the hands of the Daughters of the Confederacy, to take up where they left off, to keep green the sod above the graves of their sacred dead, and from the hill tops of Old Virginia to the farthest shores of the Sunny South, the Daughters of the Confederacy have kept that trust, and have proved themselves worthy daughters of peerless mothers.

When the Bugle of Time sounds taps for all who wore the Gray, you and your worthy daughters will still carry on, still tell the story of the Confederacy to posterity and ever will be heard the story of Jefferson Davis, the statesman, Robert E. Lee, the immortal, "Stonewall" Jackson, the invincible, Ashby, the cavalier, Forrest, the unconquered, Morgan, the dauntless, Pettigrew, the grand, Stuart the peerless, and the other heroic souls who carried the flag and led the Confederate soldier to victory on many bloody fields of battle.

A Tonic for Run-Down Purse

If your pocketbook is thin and run-down, or just suffering from that tired feeling, the chances are it's not getting the right food. For purses, like humans, soon waste away on the wrong diet.

There's no tonic in the world for overworked, delicate pocketbooks like an A & P diet. Try buying your food exclusively at an A & P store for a while and watch your purse start to perk up. Within a week it will be gaining weight, and by the end of the month it will be so fat you will probably have to start reducing it on some extra silk stockings or something. Millions of purses are healthier because their owners trade in A & P stores.

ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety due to simple design and careful construction

ONE OF the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its four-wheel brakes.

They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanical, internal expanding, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the band and drum and interfering with brake action.

Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, torque-tube drive, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.

You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.

HAYMARKET LOSES SLOW GAME TO NOKESVILLE

Nokesville team defeated the Haymarket boys by a score of 8 to 7 on Friday last. There were only three of the regular players on the Nokesville team, the rest being "picked up" from the remaining boys. At first the Haymarket team put up several second team boys. They played 7 innings and the score was then 3 to 2 for Nokesville. Then Haymarket put in the rest of its regulars—Herrell pitching—and played the balance of the game. The Nokesville team showed admirable sportsmanship in agreeing to play on account of their not having their regular team. On Friday, May 8, Haymarket will have her second try at Occoquan. It is hoped that after this week of practice Haymarket can again get back into shape and show the other teams something.

LESTER L. WRIGHT KILLED IN QUEEN'S BOULEVARD ACCIDENT

A crumpled mass of steel and wood is at the Jamaica station house, evidence of an automobile accident which cost the life of one man and may result in the death of another. The car ran into a 35-ton pile driver parked at 84th road and Queen Boulevard Briarwood last night.

Lester L. Wright, 24, a welder, of 126 115th Ave., South Ozone Park, driver of the car was thrown high into the air, landing on the car tracks several feet away. He died instantly.

Walter Laughton, 31, of Manhattan, a passenger, is dying in Mary Immaculate Hospital.

According to hospital authorities Laughton is still in a coma. He is suffering from a fractured skull, and cuts and bruises on the head and body.

The force of the impact wedged the automobile into the steel frame-work of the pile driver. For nearly 10 minutes police and bystanders labored to extricate Laughton from the wreckage.

The Arthur A. Johnson Corporation of Long Island, completing the Kew Gardens, Jamaica section of the subway along the boulevard, is listed as the owner of the pile driver.

Police says that four red lanterns marked the red obstruction.

The Jamaica station sent reserves to establish safety lines and regulate traffic which had become congested.

(Copied from a New York paper of May 2. Mr. Wright's body was brought home Sunday and the funeral took place Monday morning. Mr. Wright was a son of Isaac Wright, of Nokesville.)

Chevrolet

has struck a popular new note
in motor-car styling

Chevrolet's front-end assembly is a fine example of the latest trend in modern design.

Many factors have contributed to the remarkably wide-spread popularity of the new Chevrolet Six. Among these are smooth performance, low price, matchless economy, exceptional riding ease and driving comfort. But no feature has been more strikingly evident in the enthusiastic public reception of the car than its smart new style.

Fisher Body craftsmen, with their background of fine-car designing, have made this new Chevrolet an exceptionally attractive automobile. Study it from any angle and you find it extremely pleasing. Look at it from the front and you are impressed by the model ensemble of deep radiator, large headlamps and arched tie bar—all gleaming in rich chromium plate. Viewed from the side, the long hood, low-slung body lines, sweeping fenders and massive wire wheels strikingly suggest the car's fleetness and power. And the appeal of Chevrolet's beauty is made more pronounced by the fact that all models are available in a variety of colors.

An important factor in Chevrolet's smart appearance is the de luxe wire wheels with fancy and spokes and massive chrome-plated hub caps.

Interiors, too, are unusual in every way. The upholstery is carefully tailored. Seats are roomy, deeply cushioned and invitingly soft. And the interiors are tastefully appointed.

This emblem—Body by Fisher—is a symbol of superior body-craftsmanship—exclusive with Chevrolet in the low-price field.

In fact, the new Chevrolet Six is such a thoroughly fine-looking automobile that it has become a very popular choice with every type of buyer. You find it not only the smart personal car as well—a worthy companion to the expensive automobiles of the two- and three-car household.

RECONSTRUCTION OF TELEPHONE LINES

Announcement by Manager Roland

Reconstruction of the telephone lines serving Hamilton, Round Hill, Purcellville and vicinity, involving expenditures of $34,700 have just been authorized by the Board of Directors.

L. E. ROLAND
Manager for Alexandria District,
C & P Telephone Company.

of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia at its regular monthly meeting held in Richmond. Facilities for the establishment of the proposed telephone central office to serve the Purcellville area, announcement of the opening of which will be made later, are provided in this program, according to a statement made by L. E. Roland, manager of the company.

This project is included in an appropriation of $229,270 authorized for additions and betterments to the telephone system in the state, and is a part of the company's construction program, under which it is contemplated to expend more than $4,000,000 in Virginia this year. Projects authorized by the Board of Directors so far this year will involve expenditures of $2,328,162. These projects, together with others now being engineered, will provide continuous employment for the company's forces.

In the reconstruction of the Hamilton, Round Hill, Purcellville lines it will be necessary to erect 260 poles, place 39,000 feet of aerial cable, and string about 40 miles of open wire lines into the outlying sections of these areas according to Mr. Roland. In constructing the new telephone plant, the company's engineers have provided for a more liberal use of cable due to the presence of numerous ornamental shade trees in and near the towns of Hamilton and Purcellville. Where such trees are located, it would be extremely difficult to maintain open wire circuits. On the completion of the new work, 365 poles, 240 feet of aerial cable, and 180 miles of open wire lines will be removed from the streets and highways in and near the towns of Hamilton, Purcellville, and Round Hill.

Prince William County Bi-Centennial Organized

GENERAL CONTESTS ENDED SATURDAY

Educational Program and Field Day Successful as Usual

Manassas was quite a mecca for the boys and girls of the County as well as the School Board and the Faculty of Prince William County last week.

On Friday evening, under the direction of Miss Clarke, rural Supervisor, the winners in district contests assembled to compete. Except for the spelling event, all other classes of competition were at par or above. The spelling event was not represented by one district, and the winner was declared in barely fifteen minutes. The last word to be spelled was "courageous." (We hope this is spelled correctly.—Ed's Note.)

The reading and story telling lasted to a late hour before our good friend Prof. Emerich, of Loudoun, handed the list of winners to Prof. Haydon.

On Saturday morning, the School Board tendered its annual reception and luncheon to the County faculty.

The prettily arranged tables were placed in the high school gymnasium which looked like a sort of educational fairland. Some of the exhibits shown were truly wonderful and the teachers who superintended both the original production and the arrangement of the booths are deserving of a vote of thanks from the whole County.

After dinner, the boys and girls took over the day and thoroughly enjoyed the pleasure of friendly sport and competition. Only one accident upset an otherwise almost perfect day. In the girls 100-yard dash, there were seven entries—really too many for the track.

In less than 50 feet, both Miss Nina Flory of Nokesville, and Miss Mildred Mauck of Bethel, went down, the former cutting her hand, and the latter cutting her knee so badly that medical assistance in the town was necessary.

Both girls were game sports, however, and then accidents produced barely a rattle in the perfect day.

Haymarkets win over Manassas was the result of steady and dogged work, and the close margin shows that Manassas was not exactly asleep. Some of the other schools made very good showings with only a small group competing.

The results of the general contests are as follows:

THE MEETING AT RIPPON LODGE

Those who were so fortunate as to attend the meeting at Rippon Lodge on last Sunday afternoon will long remember that most pleasant occasion. It was indeed unique. The beauty and charm of the place, the warm welcome we received, and the addresses made, especially Mr. Ellis', in which he gave such a deeply interesting account of Rippon Lodge and the circumstances attending his becoming its owner, all these things have left an impression not to be forgotten. After receiving such an impetus the Prince William Bi-centennial plans should go forward to a successful conclusion.

We are glad that our end of the County including Hickory Grove and Haymarket, was so well represented.

A. M. EWELL

MAY MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's Club held its May meeting Wednesday in the club room in the High School Building with a large attendance. After the general routine of business Mrs. Swavely gracefully introduced the speaker, Miss Rose M. McDonald. Miss McDonald is Judge of the Juvenile Court of Clarke County, member of the State Board of Education, and Supervisor of rural schools of Clarke County. She is an interesting and fluent speaker and brought a worth while message to all who were fortunate enough to hear her. Her subject was citizenship. She emphasized importance of training for good citizenship especially stressing the value of education, saying that leisure with ignorance was a liability and leisure with education could be an asset. She urged that children be taught to be self-reliant, socially efficient, and have self-control. Three things should be considered in training for good citizenship environment, hereditary and will that children should be trained to select the best in their environment.

She expressed great surprise at the excellent work accomplished by the Woman's Club, also commended them for their many achievements.

She referred to the wide and excellent reputation of the Manassas Schools.

Among the guests of the club were Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, Dr. Eli Swavely, and Supt. Richard Haydon. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Robert Illingworth, Norvell Larkin, William P. Larkin, Harvey Kline, Howard Jamison, Wade Dalton and C. M. Larkin.

J. W. CROSS

The entire community was saddened by the sudden death of Mr. John Willett Cross on Monday, May 4, after a brief illness.

The deceased, who was fifty-three years of age, was the son of the late John Wesley and Sarah Emma Cross, and lifelong resident of Manassas and vicinity. He had been with the Southern Railway for thirty-six years and had been a conductor for over thirty years of that time.

He was married in his early manhood to Miss Sarah Emma King, and to this union were born thirteen children, twelve of whom survive and are at home—eight daughters: Virginia, Ruth, Clara, Irene, Elizabeth, Pauline, Betty and Mildred, and four sons: Willard, Bernard, Leonard, and Howard. Besides his immediate family, Mr. Cross is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Walter Rector and Miss Beatrice Cross, of Manassas, and Mrs. Walter Sampson, of Washington, and one brother, Mr. Pem Cross.

Mr. Cross had been a mason for many years, and was a member of Manassas Lodge No. 182, Scottish Rite, Alexandria, and of the Richmond.

While not united with any Church, the life he lived bore testimony of a strong Christian character. He was a faithful husband, kind and devoted father, and good neighbor. The large gathering at the funeral and the beautiful floral tributes gave evidence of the high esteem in which he was held.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church Thursday afternoon, the pastor Rev. E. D. Anderson, being assisted by the Rev. Timothy Hall. Interment was made in the Manassas Cemetery, with masonic services at the grave. The pallbearers were: Messrs. D. J. Arrington, G. R. Ratcliffe, C. E. Nash, G. E. Cooke, H. P. Davis and W. G. Merchant.

MERCHANTS WILL SPEND $2,000,000 ADVERTISING

New York, May 13.—At least $2,000,000 will be spent for newspaper advertising by retail merchants in connection with National Cotton Week, June 1 to 6, George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton-Textile Institute, Inc., announced today. Mr. Sloan based his estimate, which he said was conservative, on a survey of department stores, chain stores and mail order houses.

"Widespread stimulation of retail trade and business generally," he said, "is expected to result from this movement initiated by the cotton textile industry in cooperation with the Department of Commerce and the Department of Agriculture. Newspaper advertising will be one of the most effective methods to be used."

BENNETT SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

The Bennett Graded School Commencement will be given in the High School Auditorium Friday, May 22, at 8 p. m.

The change in the time is being made at the request of patrons who would be unable to attend the exercises at 5:30 in the afternoon.

DROUTH AID CLOSING QUARTERS

The Drouth Aid Relief is closing its quarters after this Saturday, May 16. In the future the Civilian Home Service Committee will carry on the charity work for the Chapter.

The Committee meets each fourth Wednesday in the office of the County Nurse.

HON. WADE ELLIS CHOSEN TO HEAD CELEBRATION

Charming Hospitality Extended at Rippon Lodge

On the historic lawn of Rippon Lodge last Sunday afternoon a large crowd of Prince William people responded to the cordial invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Ellis to consider plans for the bi-centennial of Prince William County.

Rippon Lodge is the oldest mansion in Prince William and was named for Rippon, England. It was in this house that plans for the bi-centennial are said to have been drawn, and the drawing board used by the draftsman, Richard Blackburn, is now owned by Mr. Ellis.

Rippon was often visited by the Fairfax family, Lawrence Washington and his wife, Lady Anne, the Masons and other noted families of that time. George Washington often sat on the lawn, drinking tea with other guests just where the crowd gathered last Sunday to celebrate Prince William County's bi-centennial and also to lend their aid in honoring George Washington's two hundred birth year.

The scene was impressive, historic significance and true to the type in its hospitality and stately grandeur. A delicious luncheon was served after which Mr. Wharton explained the plans for the meeting and requested that the act as temporary chairman.

Mr. Ellis responded to the wishes of his guests and gave a brief account of how he discovered the lodge through the interest and courtesy of a Mr. Ratcliffe, of Dumfries, whose family was among the early settlers of the County, coming from Dumfries, Scotland, in 1730.

Mr. Ellis' ancestors were of the Rippon family.

After this very interesting and informative session, Mr. Ellis appointed a committee consisting of:

Hibber, Prof. E. C. Haydon, Wall, W. H. Lamb, C. E. Nash, and J. Ledman.

This committee will be in the library to work out the details of organization while the plans are made by Hon. Wade Ellis, of New York, Hon. R. W. Mason, of Seneca Falls, and other guests from out of the County. Mr. Ellis is a member of the Executive Committee of the National Cotton Textile Institute, Inc., and is a member of the National Cotton Textile Institute, Inc., and is a member of the National Cotton Textile Institute, Inc.

The Executive Committee of the National Cotton Textile Institute, Inc., is composed of the following permanent members: General chairman, W. H. Lamb, of New York; Secretary, G. Raymond Ratcliffe, of Manassas; Treasurer, R. W. Mason, of Seneca Falls; Publicity, R. E. Wharton, of Manassas; History and Research, Fairfax Harrison, of Manassas; Legislation, Thos. B. Latta, of Manassas; Education, C. E. Nash, of Manassas; Radio, Walter Clarkson, of Manassas; Awards, Mrs. Annie G. Clark, of Manassas; Mrs. E. H. Marshall, of Manassas; Transportation, C. C. ## On smooth Steel Rails foods slide in and out of FRIGIDAIRE!

Push a heavy bowl of soup-stock into a Frigidaire—it doesn't stutter in its way to the back of the shelf—slipping over as it goes. And when you want it again it doesn't have to be coaxed to come out—it seems absolutely eager to obey your guiding hand...

This is because Frigidaire Food Shelves are made of smooth steel rails all running one way—from front to back.

Now, in themselves, easy-riding rails on food shelves are small things. But they are one of the many things that go to make Frigidaire Convenience, which (millions of women will tell you) is a Very Big Thing, indeed!

Easy-riding, one-way rails on all food shelves are one of the very real advantages of Frigidaire Advanced Refrigeration. There are many others. We invite you to come in and learn all about them.

NEW RADIO FEATURE STUNT

The first ship-to-shore radio broadcast ever attempted from mid-ocean will take place next Wednesday evening, May 20, at 7:45 Eastern Daylight Time, from the home-bound S. S. Leviathan, of the United States lines, when that ship is a thousand miles from Sandy Hook. A ship-to-shore wireless telephone will carry the voice of Robert L. ("Believe it or Not") Ripley to New York, where it will be broadcast over a regular radio hook-up of nine stations covering the Atlantic seaboard, from Maine to Georgia. This will inaugurate a new twice-a-week radio program sponsored by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Known all over the civilized world for his "Believe it or Not" cartoons, Mr. Ripley (who signs his drawings simply as "Rip") is returning from a two month trip in search of new "Queeroddities" and facts that are stranger than fiction. After searching through remote corners of Algiers, Tunis, Morocco, Egypt, the Balkans and the Holy Land, as well as Europe, artist Ripley will sail from Southampton, May 16. He plans to reveal in his mid-ocean talk, it is reported, some of the latest incredible unearthing on his trip which he has not yet been able to work into drawings.

Since the program is scheduled to begin May 20, and the Leviathan is not scheduled to dock in New York until May 22, special methods had to be adopted to get Mr. Ripley's voice through to waiting listeners.

Expect to Use Scaplane
Nor is the ship-to-shore broadcast the final solution to the problem of putting "Believe it or Not" on the air. The second program of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey featuring Mr. Ripley is scheduled to go on the air at 7:45 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, the same night as the ship docks—May 22, and it is probably going to be necessary to get Mr. Ripley to the National Broadcasting Studios on Fifth Avenue via seaplane from the Leviathan off Nantucket Lightship to the Battery, Manhattan. Otherwise he would have no time to rehearse a very difficult program scheduled for that evening.

Believe it or not, after that, Mr. Ripley is expected to settle down more or less peacefully in New York, working on his drawings, his talks, and his new book, and (much to the relief of radio engineers), he will take himself and his voice to the microphone every Wednesday and Friday, instead of having to have his voice telephoned to a "mike" a thousand miles away. The program is to be known as the "Believe it or Not" Esso Entertainment.

J. P. KERLIN,

Sheriff of Prince William County, Va.

THE new Case Model "CC," which we are now showing, is not just another general purpose tractor. It is something entirely new—in fact, it is the only standard tread plowing tractor whose rear wheels can be easily and quickly set out to fit any width of rows for planting and cultivating, from an 18 and 22-inch combination up to 48 inches and wider. It can be used either as a 3 or 4 wheel plowing tractor.

If there is a tractor easier to handle and care for, we haven't seen it.

Fast, irreversible steering gear makes steering exceptionally easy... independent differential brakes aid in quick handling between the rows and in pivoting on either rear wheel when turning short... low center of gravity results in more stability and prevents side slipping... power lift eliminates the use of levers at the end of rows... handy platform and comfortable seat enable the operator to stand or sit while running the tractor.

You must see this tractor to appreciate how new and unusual it really is. There is nothing like it anywhere.

PATRICIA REGINA

Students of the modern art of blending commerce with spectacle and romance in the interest of a good time and better business should study the technique of Winchester. That smart Shenandoah city knows its apples. With less than a decade of experience at the business, it has created and popularized an Apple Blossom Festival of such genuine charm and attractiveness that visitors by the tens of thousands come annually to witness the ceremonies and partake in the celebrations. Last week's observance of the festival was perhaps the most strikingly successful of the whole series—thanks to a rare collaboration of sun and blossom and to that person with an uncanny understanding of good publicity who conceived the idea of importing as queen of the realm of apple blossom land in 1931, a charming young lady from Winchester, one time capital of England and anciently the seat of the Saxon kings of Wessex.

Queen Shenandoah VIII (in private life Miss Patricia Dacre Morton, of Winchester, Eng.) dressed in white bridal satin with a high Medici collar and a four-yard white satin train, finished with Tudor roses (her home town's emblem) was crowned by our own Winchester's ruling celebrity—Rear Adm. Richard Evelyn Byrd—with a by-play of pageantry and ceremonial no whit less beautiful, even if a whit or two less martial, than that which attended the Saxon coronations from Egbert to Edward the Confessor. There was a make-believe Bishop of Winchester in ceremonial robes of scarlet, white and blue, trumpeters, choristers, priests, princesses, harlequins, varlets, dancers, merrymakers and 40,000 or more lige subjects.

"Surely no earthly potentate has ever been blessed with more loyal and devoted subjects," said Patricia Regina in her royal greeting "to all to whom these presents shall come." "Ever" is a far-reaching adverb. Admitting the possibility of a few exceptions in the long history of earthly potentates, it is our solemn conviction that this make-believe queen spoke sooth. It is the queens who reign for forty-eight hours over the hearts of their subjects and not the queens who rule for forty-eight years over their lives and chattels, that command the deepest loyalty and devotion. It may even be said, since all the world is a stage and the most exalted of its hereditary monarchs merely players on it for a little while that the lovely young lady from old Winchester on-the-Itchen who was queen for two days of the real of apple blossom land in Virginia, was as truly a queen as any queen that lived.—Norfolk Virginia Pilot.

HAYMARKET BESTS LEAGUE LEADERS

The Haymarket boys won a fast and thrilling game over Ocoquan today by a score of 6 to 4. Herrell, the winning pitcher, struck out only six men showing that he had wonderful backing. Garrison had Melton playing new positions, did exceedingly well. They took many daring chances without an error. Garrett was star hitter for the winners, getting four hits out of five times at bat. Senseney's triple caused much excitement. It would have been a homer but it hit a car and bounced back. Also he was lame, this being his first game for a week.

The Haymarket team is looking forward to a victory over Manassas Friday on the latter's home field.

An Important Correction

"It is not my habit to offer corrections of a statement of fact made by the President of the United States. I do it very reluctantly. I must nevertheless insist that when the President announced that 'the existing federal employment service is today finding places of employment for men and women at the rate of 1,300,000 per annum,' he was confusing the facts. It is the state and local agencies and not the federal government that have found these jobs."—From a radio speech by Senator Robert F. Wagner (Dem. N. Y.), April 25.

MANASSAS LOSES

Ballston scored five runs this afternoon in the first inning, after Manassas made three errors and won 6-2. Conner deserved a better fate as he held them down after that. Manassas got about same number of hits.

Manassas will play Haymarket tomorrow and Culpeper at Culpeper on Tuesday.

POULTRY

CHICKEN FLOCK
ON EVERY FARMNot Expensive Because of Excellent Food Produced.

The farm poultry flock is not expensive and because of the excellent food it produces, should be found on every farm.

"During a part of the year a flock of from 50 to 100 hens will forage for much of their food," says Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department at the North Carolina State college. "The chickens consume bugs and worms which are injurious to crops and clean up waste grain about the cow and horse barns. The flock needs to have a comfortable house which can be kept clean and plenty of mash and grain feed. Corn, oats, wheat and barley to feed the flock may be grown at home and made into a ration that is just as satisfactory as any commercial mixture. Formulas for preparing these rations may be had from the poultry department."

Doctor Kaupp says that every person should eat at least two eggs every day. This means that two cases of 30 dozen eggs each is needed for each person in the state each year. Twenty to twenty-five pounds of poultry should also be consumed by each person on the farm in a year.

To find out the potential market for poultry and eggs in a county, one should ascertain how many hens there are within its borders. These hens should average at least 100 eggs each. If each hen lays 100 eggs and each person consumes 500 eggs, it would mean that there should be five hens for each person to supply only the home needs. More hens than this should be kept, however, so that a surplus of eggs may be available for sale.

Then, too, says Doctor Kaupp, pullets must be raised each year to replace about one-half of the mature hens. Five eggs to set will be needed for each pullet in the breeding pens. If the farm flock is to be kept at 100 hens, this means that 250 eggs must be set. To do this without an incubator requires 15 setting hens. If the family consumes 200 pounds of poultry on the table, 25 hens and 50 fryers will supply this amount.

Balanced Rations for Laying Hens Favored

Feeding dry mash is generally considered one of the essential practices in balancing rations for laying hens. Most farmers neglect to supply sufficient hopper space. There should be at least one linear foot of feeding space for six hens or a trough eight feet long should be provided for 100 hens. This is based on the assumption that the hens can feed from each side of the trough. One of the simplest and most efficient feed hoppers is an open trough. The trough is one foot wide with sides eight inches high, the ends of the trough extending four inches higher than the sides. On the inner upper edges of the trough are nailed 1-inch cleats to prevent the feed from being wasted. One of the essential features of this hopper is a reel which partly closes the trough and prevents the birds from roosting on the hopper. This reel is easily constructed, using 4-inch square blocks for ends and nailing 1-inch strips in the center of each side. Pivots can be easily provided by using heavy screws or bolts at the ends so that it easily revolves.

Green Feed Problem

Alfalfa, red clover or soy bean hay of proper quality solves the green-feed problem. The way to feed the hay is to cut it into one-half-inch lengths with a clover-cutter and feed it in wire-netting feeders. The hay can be fed uncut in racks. If the proper quality of hay is unavailable, add 5 per cent by weight of the best quality alfalfa meal. Warm drinking water helps make winter eggs. Hens dislike cold water and drink it sparingly. When a layer fails to drink enough water, she eats less feed.

Use of Cockerels

In the general-purpose breeds, mate one male to every ten to twelve females; in the egg breeds, mate one male to every fifteen to twenty females. Fewer males are needed the larger the range. More cocks than cockerels are necessary for a given flock. Too many males are objectionable.

Some breeders aim to mate cocks with pullets and cockerels with hens. Cockerels and pullets may be mated together if early hatched, and well matured.

Using Cod Liver Oil

Cod liver oil is an important item in winter rations for poultry because it helps to maintain egg production, prevents lameness and helps them to lay strong-shelled eggs. It contains vitamins A and D which promote growth and maintain vitality and disease resistance. Cod liver oil is essential to hens that are closely housed during winter. Vitamin D in the oil is a substitute for direct sunlight. Therefore its use is most desirable during winter.

Facts and Figures on Your Telephone

By EDWIN F. HILL

Edwin F. Hill

The United States is fast becoming air conscious, and aviation companies realizing the importance of person-to-person communication in the interest of safety have become telephone conscious. The result is that the sales of aviation and radio equipment to the leading air transport companies last year were of outstanding interest, according to a statement made by Edgar S. Bloom, president of the Western Electric Company, in the annual report to the stockholders. Practically all of the large air lines in this country, he says, are now equipped with both plane and ground transmitters and receiving radio systems.

Sales of the Western Electric Company, the world's largest manufacturer of telephone equipment and supplies, for 1930 were $367,478,000. This was 12 per cent less than the record figure of 1929, but was considerably greater than the sales in 1928 or any previous year in the company's history, the report shows.

STOP

Borrowing Money
From Your Friends

In the first place, no one likes to lend money for which he has worked hard, and which he, perhaps, needs for his own use. Then again, it weakens your business and social prestige, and is about as injurious a habit as a young man can possibly cultivate.

Instead of borrowing, use a little judgment, and each month deposit with this safe bank a part of your income. It may come a bit hard at first, but you'll very soon see the wisdom and enjoy the benefit of it.

A DINNER A DOLLAR an A & P scholar

In times like these, when money isn't so plentiful as it might be, every woman is studying ways and means of stretching incomes to cover a multitude of things. Dinners and dollars are being examined more closely this year than ever before.

As a result, the old superstition that the best food must be high in price is wearing pretty thin. For, when a woman starts thinking hard about getting her money's worth, it isn't long before she's in an A & P store. And, once there, she simply can't believe that good food is expensive.

We admit we haven't as many frills and fadderals as lots of stores have. But frills come high in grocery stores, and we find we can sell better things to eat at lower prices without them. Our regular customers look at it just about the same way we do—and so will you, if you go into that A & P store near you and cast a cool, scholarly eye over the food there.

Dr. Roberts Rouses Public to Realize Sargon's Importance

So startling have been the results accomplished by Sargon, that scores of outstanding physicians have broken the rule of a lifetime and given it their unqualified endorsement. Dr. C. J. Roberts, M. D., of Philadelphia, graduate University of Pennsylvania and for 26 years medical examiner for the Pennsylvania Railroad, said: "After an investigation of the Sargon formula, for which I was expressly retained, I find that it is rich in those elements which help to bring revitalized vigor, strength and endurance to pale, tired-out, debilitated men and women. It enriches the blood of those suffering with simple anemia and is without a doubt a highly valuable formula that the entire public should know about."

"The Sargon Pills are an important part of the treatment."

The right way to use the new HUMIDOR PACK

1 Do not tear Cellophane. Look for the convenient flap at the top and back of package

2 Simply lift this flap and you will break the specially devised air-tight seal

3 Hold package as shown and with your thumbs push it part way out of Humidor Pack

4 To avoid tearing tin foil, slip first finger of each hand under Revenue stamp and break it

5 Help yourself to a fresh cigarette, then slide package back into its Humidor Pack

6 Close package. It guards Camels from dust and germs and provides sanitary protection

THE moment you open the new Camel Humidor Pack you begin to note the advantages of this new, scientific and sanitary method of wrapping Camel cigarettes.

At once you are greeted with the delightful aroma that comes from choicest Turkish and mellowest Domestic tobaccos in prime condition.

Your sense of touch also detects the freshness of Camels, for unlike moisture-robbed cigarettes Camels are pliable to the fingers.

But the real difference comes when you light a Camel and inhale its cool, fragrant smoke.

Cigarettes brought to you so perfectly conditioned deserve to be kept that way in your pocket.

The simplest way to insure this is to open the Camel Humidor Pack as shown above.

That will keep intact the mildness and freshness that is making the whole country say: "Now I'd walk two miles for a Camel because they're twice as good."

If you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack, switch over for just one day.

Then go back tomorrow if you can.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

(Ocoquan and Woodbridge)

My dear friend Edmund Herr Allen, bard of Newington, tells me that he is a consistent and persistent reader of Twin City Gossip. Said Ed to me the other day, George, are you acquainted with Arthur Sinclair Boatwright?"

Said I to Ed, "Yes and no—mostly yes."

"Well" said Ed "I had a letter the other day from Mr. Boatwright, and that letter was addressed to Mr. J. J. Allen."

"Yes, yes" said I to Ed, "Go on and tell me all about it, I am like Barkis 'Willing' yes willing to learn."

And I suppose I would have kept right on talking, but Ed managed to break in and shut me off for a while.

Said Ed, "What A. S. B. said in the letter was of very importance, what he did not say was a surprise."

Said I, "ditto, why punish me?"

Edmund Herr then, waxed warm and unloosened his sliver tongue and said an awful. "Why" said Ed, Arthur Sinclair may be Boatwright, but I'll be darned if he is always right. Now, stop and think, me known as Herr, and having been referred to as 'He Herr or Herr He-He, She, It or' and Ed came near swallowing one of his medicated tonics during his intemperate paroxysmal manifestations. "For instance," said Ed, "Mr. Boatwright addressed me as 'E. J.', the 'E' is all right, but that 'J'. Just think of me being a Jay. Lordy me, 'E' is a Jay." And Ed fainted. I tried to reason with Edmund Herr. Said I, "Possibly Arthur Sinclair put the 'J' in your name for 'Juxtaposition'—the Jexa-near to and Positio, position, the state of being placed near to each other, for, you know Ed both of you are candidates; it is true you are indifferent counties, but close enough to be political kinsmen." Ed agreed that political polygamy covered a multitude of political sins, but that 'J' was too much Jay and recalled three words that started with 'J': "Jackal, Jack-anapes and Jackass."

I used the oil of soft words on Ed to soothe his jocund feelings, and mentioned the fact that a legislative assembly was known as a Junta; also, the donkey commonly known as a Jackass was an emblem of democracy. Ed felt so well satisfied his spirits of joviality marked a tempo reaching to an extreme of three hundred and sixty degrees.

At this point I asked him to jine my candidates union and immediately he jined. Now, for the information of the many, many candidates I will use a few seconds in giving an outline of this candidacial union. This union was formed a few days ago under the laws of saponification, for the specific and unequivocal purpose for helping backward, bashful and astray candidates. A candidate turned loose in a political green field sans advice soon finds himself floundering in the mire of uncertainty and unable to think or act with a proper degree of freedom. If you are a candidate or contemplate becoming a candidate, I beg your immediate attention and ask you to jine our candidacial union, so as to improve your inborn sagacity and get a line of discriminative intelligence.

Some candidates, I find, appear very forward. They rush up to a poor fellow who has paid his capitation tax, and with forepaw extended, mouth wide open, slapper flowing grab at his hand and slap him on the back, call him by his name, inquire after the wife and kids, and assures him that he is one of his supporters.

There is another kind of candidate who appears very bashful. This poor fellow I have in mind just can't fall in line. He is nervous and ill at ease and seems to appear. I will if I can.

I figger that jining this union will help the candidates not only in Prince William but in Fairfax as well.

You see, Ed Allen and Arthur Boatwright are charter members. We respectfully request George Herrington, John Mackall, Tom Lyons, John Kerlin, Lindsey Dawson, John Rust and any new candidates that aspire to the seats of the political minded to jine up for results.

The best laid plans of mice and men—and where did they go?

It appears to me that Supt. Dawson will have to make his race all alone. I know he will feel lonesome, but let me suggest that he whistle. If Dawson has a running mate the opposition will have to choose between G. C. Russell and Lewis Edward Strother. Strother says that he will have to wait another week or two, for, in the spring time his mind naturally turns to love—the budding of the trees, cooing of the dove and the sweet smelling lilac forces him to look for a mate. We can all understand!

And now I want each candidate to commit these few words to memory: "Some folk grow under responsibility—others merely swell."

GEORGE DENT.

COUNTY AGENTS QUESTION BOX

WHY PLANT CERTIFIED SEED?

The main reason certified seed should be used is because it is good seed. It is recognized by most progressive livestock men that it pays to use purebred bulls, boars, rams, etc because of the better quality calves, pigs, and lambs obtained. A much smaller percentage of farmers, however, realize the value of good seed in producing larger yields of better quality crops. When the 1931 corn crop is cribbed, many farmers will find that their yield has been lowered due to poor stands brought about by planting diseased seed of poor germination and quality. It will be too late then to change the results. Now is the time to plan for this condition not to exist next fall. Much of the corn produced last year is of very poor quality due to the extremely dry weather during most of the growing season. Do not plant seed corn of doubtful quality or germination. Buy good seed. Certainly good seed corn is worth $5 per bushel. One bushel will plant at least six acres, which makes the seed cost less than 85c per acre. Compare this with the acre seed cost of most other general farm crops such as wheat, oats, rye, clover, etc.

Certified seed is not the only good seed on the market, but it is considered the best because it is of known origin and yielding ability, and because it has all of the other superior qualities such as germination, purity, etc., of other good seed. In addition to this, its disease content is known.

Can you answer this?

1. Does it pay to fertilize corn?

A PRAYER OF MERCY
FOR DUMB ANIMALSA Plea for Humane Treatment of Those that Cannot Speak for Themselves

In scanning the pages of a copy of "Our Dumb Animals"—the magazine that "speaks for those that cannot speak for themselves," we are glad to note that the matter of the cruelty of the steel trap is being so thoroughly agitated. What more pitiful sight than that of a beautiful "fur bearer" caught hopelessly in the relentless jaws of a trap; its eyes filled with pain, and begging for relief?

From this same magazine, we quote the following lines from a poem by Edwin Markham, entitled "The Fate of the Fur Folk":

"Ladies, do you think of this—
Up where tempests howl and hiss,
Where the folk of hill and cave
Scream with no one there to save?
Do you see them crunched and lone,
Steel teeth biting into bone?
Ladies, did you ever see
An otter gnawing to get free?
Gnawing what? His fettered leg,
For he has no friend to beg.
Do you see that tortured shape
Gnaw his leg off to escape?
Have you seen these creatures die
While the bleeding hours go by—
Do you, when at night you kneel,
See them in their traps of steel—
Not alone by pain accursed
But by hunger and by thirst?
Do you hear their dying cries?"

Last week, the following beautiful prayer was brought to our attention by one of our local "humane" friends, which we gladly copy herewith:

"A Prayer for Animals"
O merciful Father, hear our prayer for the sorrows of all animals, especially those that must labor for man's welfare or must surrender their lives to provide his food and clothing, and those that are lost, deserted or starving.

Guide us to realize their dependence upon our mercy and compassion to realize our responsibility for their protection.

Awaken our hearts, Father, of all the universe, to a deeper sympathy and understanding, so that knowing all life is one, created by the power of Thy divine love, we may never thru selfishness or thoughtfulness add to the suffering of any of Thy lesser creatures.

Have especial care we beseech Thee, for such as fall into the possession of brutal masters; for such as are beaten, over worked and underfed; for such as are made captive to languish behind cruel bars, yearning for their native hills, for such as must endure the terror and agony of the slaughterhouse and the vivisection laboratory. Their breath is Thine, and ye pray Thee to be with them when they yield it up to Thee.

These mercies we ask in the name of Christ Jesus, the Savior, who was born among the lowly kine and beasts of burden. Amen."

Let us remember the words of our Savior—"Blessed are the merciful"—and "Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father."—Front Royal Record.

Here's Something New—
A "Sandwich Luncheon"By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

If you are planning to entertain informally, you will enjoy serving the "Sandwich Luncheon" suggested below. Sandwiches are used both for the main and the dessert courses; and you will find that the entire meal is easily served, attractive in appearance, and truly good.

I am suggesting an appetizing Cream of Tomato Soup for the first course, to be followed by individual plates of assorted sandwiches and salads. This type of luncheon plate is decidedly in vogue at exclusive tea rooms; and you will find that cake and ice cream, served in the form of a sandwich, makes an unusual and attractive dessert.

This novel luncheon not only will appeal to your guests; but it is one of the easiest menus imaginable for the hostess who must serve without help, since all of the preparation may be finished well in advance of the arrival of the first guest. Just try this menu the next time you entertain:

Cream of Tomato Soup
Crisp Crackers
Individual Plates of Assorted
Salads and Sandwiches
Ice Cream Sandwiches with Butterscotch Sauce and Chopped Pecans
Coffee

Assorted Sandwiches and Salads:
On a luncheon plate place three small cup-shaped leaves of lettuce. In one, place Shrimp and Pineapple Salad; in the second Molded Egg Salad; and in the third, Cold Slaw. Also place on the plate several varieties of sandwiches such as Nut, Celery and Mayonnaise Sandwiches, Open Face Ham Sandwiches, and Sandwich Relish and Whole Wheat sandwiches. Garnish with slices of Dill Pickle and parsley.

Shrimp and Pineapple Salad:
1 1/2 cups cooked shrimp; 1/4 cups diced pineapple; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 dozen Stuffed Spanish Olives; paprika.
Remove black lines from shrimps and break in half. Combine with chilled pineapple cubes, salt and paprika. Place in lettuce cups and garnish with Stuffed Spanish Olives.

Molded Egg Salad: 6 hard cooked eggs, chopped or ground; 1 pint tomato, chopped; 5 Preserved Sweet Pickles, chopped; 3 tablespoons Salad Cream; 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix eggs, pimiento and pickles. Moisten with Salad Cream and add salt. Pack into small molds and let stand over night. Serve in small lettuce cups.

Nut, Celery, and Mayonnaise Sandwiches: Chop 1/2 cup walnuts and 1/2 cup celery, very fine. Add a little salt, moisten with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing, and spread between thin slices of buttered bread. Cut in small spade, heart, diamond, or club shapes, or in squares or ovals.

Open Face Ham Sandwiches: Chop 2 cups cold ham and mix lightly with horseradish dressing made by blending 4 tablespoons Mayonnaise with 1 teaspoon Evaporated Horseradish, soaked for ten minutes in 1 tablespoon cold water. Place on untoasted side of small squares of bread toasted on only one side. Garnish with a slice of Stuffed Spanish Olive in the center, or a border of pickle relish.

Ice Cream Sandwich with Butterscotch Sauce and Chopped Pecans: Place a layer of ice cream between the halves of cup cakes. Pour Butterscotch Sauce over the cakes and sprinkle with chopped pecans.

REPUBLICAN TARIFF

Discovery of three new kinds of sugar from the roots of dandelions, goldenrod, dahlias, chickory and artichokes is announced by the Bureau of Standards, and it is safe to guess that Senator Smoot will demand that a high tariff be put on each of them.

STANDARD
RATING SCALE
for Electric Refrigeration

- Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
- Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
- Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?
- Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration.)
- Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of food?
- Can the freezing of ice cubes and

- demerits be speeded up when the need arises?
- Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food.)
- Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frozen" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
- Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
- Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run.)
- How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator, even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours.)
- Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
- Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
- Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being rearranged?
- Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
- Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?
