

Virginia Seeks Practical Aid For Farmers

POLLARD ACTS PROMPTLY ON
BYRD DROUGHT RELIEF
SUGGESTIONS

Promptly upon receipt of recommendations from the Virginia drought relief committee, which held an all-day session at the state capitol this week, Governor John Garland Pollard began energetically to work for a full and speedy accomplishment of the program presented. The executive began by arranging conferences with Henry G. Shirley, highway commissioner, and with county officers to discuss the anticipation of county road funds for winter construction. County gas tax funds alone will total about $3,000,000.

If, acting upon the suggestion of the Virginia drought relief committee, Congress in December can vote an advance of $7,500,000, Virginia will have this amount in addition to the $3,000,000 in county funds for the relief of unemployment during the bitter winter season.

Governor Pollard is busy perfecting plans to present to the national drought relief committee at its conference with state chairman November 14, the Virginia plan to ask Congress for $5,000,000 in highway construction advances in addition to the prompt advance of the $2,500,000 allotted the state for 1931-32.

Governor Pollard is also in close and full cooperation with the Red Cross Relief program, organized under the direction of Robert H. Angel, of Roanoke, of the relief committee.

Text of Principal Proposals
The text of the principal recommendations conveyed in the report of the state drought committee to the governor follow:

"That the United States government, in accordance with precedents already established in other sections of the country, furnish credit to farmers who are normally good credit risks, but who on account of losses occasioned by the drought, cannot get production credit. Such credit should be furnished at a low rate of interest and without the imposition of unnecessary red tape which would defeat in many instances the purpose of the loan. Such credit should only be extended to farmers who farmed this year and who agree to a balanced system of farming next year.

"That the federal government during the emergency contribute more largely than in the past towards the salaries of county farm and home agents. The local extension agents have rendered a service of great value in this emergency, and the drought committee is convinced that such agents should be employed in every county, but without increasing the burden upon the localities.

Urge Much Public Work

"To even partially relieve the unemployment existing presents a most difficult problem. Every individual and every industry should employ every possible person. We urge that counties, cities and the state prepare to do as much public work as possible and to anticipate so far as can be done the revenue to be received later in the year 1931. One hundred counties in Virginia will receive approximately $3,000,000 from the state as their share of the gasoline tax. This sum could be anticipated to advantage and employment furnished on county roads during the winter months.

"We believe that the best means to relieve unemployment is to embark upon the largest possible program of road work. This work should not be confined to a few costly projects when machinery is largely utilized, but should be distributed generally over the state and on cheaper types of construction, and on such types of road as will use human labor to the greatest possible extent.

Direct to the President
"We specifically recommend that you as governor of Virginia request the president of the United States and our representatives in Congress to report a bill appropriating a generous additional sum from the federal government, and with the elimination of the existing restrictions, applying this road fund to the improvement to the greatest number of people. We strongly favor the plan suggested by you to request the Congress of the United States to make available a drought relief appropriation for roads of $5,000,000 to each designated drought state and that $5,000,000 be deducted from the normal appropriations made for roads from such states over a period of ten years.

"We specifically recommend that as soon as possible the Virginia state highway department make decision as to the incorporation of the new roads under the Porter-Rhodes act. That work on such roads be started just as soon as possible, so as to afford the widest possible employment.

"We further recommend that you use every effort you can by communication with the president and our representatives in Congress, to amend the Federal aid road law as to make available immediately the Federal aid now available on July 1, 1931, and known as the 1932 fiscal year road fund.

Red Cross and Pulp Wood
"We recommend that the local Red Cross chapters and other local charitable institutions make provision at once for cooperation with the National Red Cross, and take care of those who cannot obtain work and require the necessities of existence.

"The inability of many sections of the state to sell pulp wood has occasioned real hardship and distress. We recommend that you communicate with each of the normal purchasers of such pulp wood stating the conditions and asking that pulp wood be purchased, or at least advances made so far as possible to use such material.

"The sale of the pulp wood in many counties of Virginia would do much to relieve conditions and would enable the citizens of those communities to take care of themselves during the winter months with little and perhaps no aid from other sources.

Renew Suggestions as to Wheat
"We renew our recommendation to the Federal authorities that the wheat in the hands of the farm board, estimated at 60,000,000 bushels, be made available for feed and sold to the farmers in need of feed for live stock, at reasonable cost, and, if necessary, on credit. We further recommend that the Federal government undertake to purchase for cash large quantities of feed and fertilizers and other necessities of the farmers' existence.

"That during the period of this emergency such materials be furnished at cost of handling to the farmers, and be paid for in cash by those able to pay cash, and on credit to those unable to pay, with due safeguards. The cost of such feeds and fertilizers, if made available in this way, could be greatly reduced to the farmers without disturbing to any extent the existing machinery of distribution, and very substantial relief thereby given. We realize that the machinery is already established to distribute such fertilizer and feeds and we have no desire to disturb such machinery, but believe the existing organization can be continued and still enable reduced costs."

THE LASH OF THE SERPENT'S TAIL

(Editorial)

The plan to vilify Howard Smith to the last ditch seems to be dying a hard death. The last plot is a scheme to throw discredit on his sweeping victory last August.

It appears from such information as we can gather that an ex-jail bird who is credited with one or more stretches at the Lorton reformatory has gathered much glory to himself by producing an alleged official ballot which he claims was marked and given to him at the polls.

The county clerk to whom he took his story was a leader in the fight against Judge Smith. The ballot, if it were a ballot, was attached to its misnamed affidavit, and a special grand jury summoned to go over the matter. A "not a true bill" was returned but we understand that the said clerk is still going ahead, groping at some straw which may yet turn up.

If there were any real truth to this story there would have been more developments both in that county and in others. It would have been accompanied by other irregularities, too unvarnished to disguise. If the stoolpigeon in the case were not a jailbird, he would have answered the charge openly printed throughout the Eighth District, or rather his more astute mentors would have done so for him.

Tactics of this sort did not hurt Howard Smith in the Primary, and there is much less chance of harm now, because even those who opposed him are almost uniformly standing behind the party nominee.

U. D. C. MEETING

The regular meeting of the U. D. C. will be held on Nov. 5, at 2 o'clock at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Newman.

Please note change of hour from 3 to 2.

SUPERVISORS HOLD
LONG SESSIONRoad to Chancellorsville
Advocated

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session on Tuesday, with all members present.

Mr. C. C. Lynn, the new member from Manassas District sat for the first time. He was appointed on Friday to succeed the late James R. Larkin, chairman of the Board for a number of years. Suitable resolutions of regret at the death of Mr. Larkin were unanimously adopted by the Board.

There being a tie vote in the matter of selecting a new chairman, the matter was left over to another meeting. On motion of Mr. Merchant, with second by C. C. Lynn, Mr. Dawson, member from Occoquan District, was selected as temporary chairman.

An effort to reduce taxes 10 per cent was lost because it was found that such a motion would be unlawful. A similar resolution to cut the county pay roll was lost, 4-2.

The entire Board constituted itself a committee to attend the hearings of the State Highway Commission at Orange on November 11. Rolfe Robertson was appointed a special committee to confer with Wade Massie, a member of the State Commission, on Wednesday, October 29.

A motion was passed requesting the State Commission to apply any residue of the mileage not assigned to the road to the Loudoun County Line to a road leading from Chappell Springs via Sower, Bristersburg and Morrisville to Chancellorsville and Richmond, thus connecting two of the greatest battlefields of the War Between the States. The motion was voted against by Supervisor Robertson.

A number of accounts were audited and ordered paid but no other business of special importance was transacted.

MRS. J. P. LYON, Secretary

Having been appointed Chairman of the Drought Relief Committee I have a few suggestions to make to the farmers of Prince William County.

First, Do not sacrifice your live stock. Keep all you can possibly feed through the winter.

Second, If you have no hay or fodder, use straw for long feed, and cotton seed for grain; as cotton seed meal is the cheapest grain you can feed cattle. Third, Raise all your good heifer calves as there is always a good demand for good cows.

Fourth, Do not keep any scrub calves, keep the well-marked holstein and guernseys. Buyers from Pennsylvania, New York and other states prefer buying cows from Virginia, as this climate is such that our cattle do well shipped to most any part of the United States. About 25 or 30 thousand dollars worth of cows have been shipped from Prince William County this year and perhaps as many more if the good ones were to be had.

I have just unloaded four cars feed consisting of alfalfa, oats and C. S. Meal which I distribute among farmers at actual cost. Alfalfa hay costing from $25.00 to $28.00 per ton; oats 45 cents per bushel; C. S. meal $30.35 per ton. This I think is not so high for this season. The R. R. freight reduction will be continued until December 1 so I would advise all who need to carry them through the winter to see our County Agent or myself.

E. R. CONNER,

County Chairman of the Drought Relief Committee.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:
Whereas in elections in the last year or so some parties theretofore voting the Democratic ticket, failed to vote for the Democratic candidates; and Whereas it is the unanimous sense of this Committee that these parties should vote as heretofore:

Therefore, be it resolved that all such parties be and they are hereby urged to go to the polls on the 4th of November, 1930, and vote for the Democratic candidates as heretofore.

N EARLY a billion gallons a day—more than is the cities of Detroit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Washington—will be the capacity of tunnel now nearing completion.

The tunnel will replace the present water intake system which supplies the Ford plants with 500,000,000 gallons a day. At the same time the company is remodeling its power house to greatly increase the power output. Both improvements, costing several million dollars, are being made to enlarge the production facilities of the Ford plant.

Sixty Feet Under Ground

In constructing the waterway, the largest of its kind ever undertaken by a single business concern, the engineers are burrowing sixty feet under ground for a distance of two and a fifth miles. They have gone under main highways, railroads, street car tracks, bridges, a cemetery and a creek.

One of the most difficult tasks was that of tunneling under Baby Creek at a point which is crossed by a railroad bridge and where also a large sewer is under construction by the city of Detroit. The piles that provide the foundation for the bridge and those driven by the company constructing the sewer formed a network on each side of the creek. It was the task of the Ford engineers to burrow under the creek, sewer and bridge, going between the piles without striking or weakening them.

Boring of the tunnel is accomplished by means of a shield—a large steel cylinder fourteen feet long and twenty-one feet in outside diameter with a solid steel shell or skin two and a fourth inches thick. This shield has a bulkhead which is made fast near the front end. There are four openings through which the mud streams, like toothpaste from a tube, as the shield is shoved forward by twenty powerful hydraulic jacks.

When the shield has been pushed forward sufficiently concrete blocks two and a half feet wide and five feet long, each weighing 3,420 pounds, are

World War Revelations

What the war correspondents could not tell because of a red tape gag and a censor's blue pencil is revealed for the first time by a writer who was on the ground and saw American and French generals squabbling for the glory and credit of hard-earned victory, in an exclusive story appearing in the Magazine Section of the Washington Star next Sunday. In "Solving the Riddle of the Yanks' Last World War Battle" Thomas M. Johnson gives his first hand, uncensored observations of this great, decisive conflict.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

The Fruit of Righteousness
—The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.
—Jas. 3:17, 18.

PRAYER:

"God's grace alone inspires our hearts. Each other's load to share."

GET OUT THE VOTE

Commenting on the passage of a resolution by the Democratic Committee at its meeting last week, special attention is directed to the exact wording of the resolution. It constitutes a final amnesty to the dissatisfaction that arose two years ago and was continued to a lesser degree last autumn.

There will be unquestionably a heavy Democratic majority in the Eighth District next Tuesday but there should be no let up in Democratic vigilance, and a large vote will be one of confidence. Both Judge Smith and the Party which he heads in this District deserve this consideration.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

FRESH peaches in mid-winter, to garnish our cereals and for dessert, sounds like a dream, but for the first time in history fruit has been successfully treated by a quick-freezing process which makes it available for the winter table in all its original flavor and freshness. The peaches that will be enjoyed this winter promise to be the first of a long line of new and delicious food products for the family menu.

Two or three lumps of sugar added to the vinegar will give a piquant and appealing flavor to practically all pickles.

SWAVELY NOTES

The football game on Saturday against the Episcopal High School was very encouraging, though not a win for us. Except for two costly fumbles at the beginning, our team had the better of the play all through and held their opponents from any further scoring, while they themselves scored a touchdown.

The faculty and their wives, and several Manassas supporters of the team motored to the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes of Chillicothe, Ohio, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Swavely.

Mrs. Gendell Reeves and little son left on Sunday for a visit to Mrs. Reeves' parents in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Cline has returned from a visit to her mother in Warrenton.

Lewis and John Carey received a visit on Sunday from their mother and brother of Ocean City, N. J.

With very great regret we record the death of John and Henry McAvoy's father from a motor accident on Friday last.

At 7:30 on Saturday evening, in the gymnasium there will be an entertainment consisting of songs, legends and dances by an Indian troupe, and illustrative of Indian life. This entertainment is open to the public.

It will be followed by an informal dance for the members of the school and their guests.

The football team of Shenandoah Valley Academy, Winchester, will be here on Saturday afternoon for a game with our team.

On Monday evening the faculty and their wives enjoyed a private showing of the moving pictures taken by "Bill" Mitchell of the Commencement Exercises last June.

By EDWIN F. HILL

Out-of-town telephone calls are on the increase. President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in a recent statement to the stockholders, says that the number of long distance messages has continued greater than a year ago, the gain during the second quarter of 1930 being slightly larger than that of the first quarter. Telephone users in this country are now making more than 3,325,000 out-of-town calls daily which is an increase of 253,000 over the number made each day a year ago. This increase in telephone calls is an indication that the service is good and that given adequate facilities people will avail themselves of the opportunity to talk to their business and social acquaintances both at home and abroad.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says: "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement, without forming a habit of ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

A Sudden Freeze—and Trouble

A SUDDEN drop in temperature—frozen radiator—car in the garage for repairs! That story will be told over and over again for the many thoughtless motorists who neglect to put their cars in proper condition for winter driving.

Automobile authorities, the United States Weather Bureau and the United States Bureau of Standards have come to the assistance of the motorist in an effort to reduce the enormous damages done the automobiles of the country during winter freezes.

Warnings are now being issued detailing the necessary steps toward preparing cars for freezing temperatures, the Weather Bureau announcing approximate dates when the first freezes may be expected, the Bureau of Standards fixing the essential qualities of the perfect anti-freeze solution, and automobile experts giving specific directions as to the proper care of the automobile cooling system.

It is pointed out that there must be a thorough cleansing of the cooling system and a tightening up of all parts before even the best of anti-freeze solutions will function properly and give adequate protection.

As to the choice of an anti-freeze, the Bureau of Standards, after long research, advises that the solution should meet these tests: (1) must give complete protection, (2) should not boil, (3) must do no damage to the cooling system, (4) should not heat the motor, (5) should not affect the paint or varnish of the car, (6) should be odorless, (7) must be inflammable, (8) should not become viscous at low temperatures nor compose at high temperatures. It should not deteriorate.

THE CLOSE OF DAY

Now sinks the setting sun beneath the hill,
The rippling waves as in gentle murmurs flow;
All beauteous nature's fill'd serenely still,
And parting sunbeams with luxurious glow.

Soft balmy zephyrs fan the waving trees,
Whose leaves still glitter with the sun's last rays;
Cool, mild, and fragrant is the summer breeze;
Sweet warblers carol evening hymns of praise.

Bright glowing tints bedeck the azure sky,
The last remains of the departing day;
But they, fast fading, soon disperse and fly,
To brighten other realms far away.

The night dews gently fall, the shades increase,
And glittering stars high heavens blue arch adorn;
The feather choir retires to rest in peace.
To wait the coming of the glorious morn.

Fair Cynthia too appears, the queen of night,
Tinging the waves with soft and silvery beams;
Swift o'er the ocean glide the shallops light,
Reflecting shadows in the glittering streams.

Sweep melancholy steals o'er my soul,
Raises my heart in praise to God above;
The Eternal Author of th' amazing whole,
Father of light! Exhaustless source of love.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our "dear grandmother" and mother, Joan D. Messersmith, who departed this life one year ago, to-day, Nov. 2, 1929.

Dearest grandmother how we miss her,
Since from earth she passed away,
And our hearts are aching sadly,
As we think of her to-day.

She suffered hours, yes hours of pain,
To wait for cure but all in vain,
So God alone knew what was best
He called her home to give her rest.

Gone from us forever,
The face we loved so well;
And oh, how we do miss you, grandmother,
No one can ever tell.

The golden gate flew open,
A gentle voice said, "Come,"
And with farewell unspoken,
She calmly entered home.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days,
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
Oh what a beautiful memory she left behind.

Her loving daughter and grandchildren,
Margaret A. Bausermann and family.

U. D. C. Places Marker at Birthplace Of Dan Emmet

Den I wish I was in Dixie,
Hooray! Hooray!
In Dixie Land I'll take my stand
To lib and die in Dixie.

Daniel Decatur Emmet, who wrote the song in 1859, didn't die in Dixie, but quietly and inconspicuously here in Mount Vernon.

Few of the descendants of the "boys in gray," who once stepped livelier when bandmen behind the Stars and Bars hit that Dixie refrain, know of a small monument in the cemetery here. Its inscription reads:

EMMET

Whose song "Dixie Land" inspired the courage and devotion of the Southern people and now thrills the hearts of a reunited nation. This week, however, the Ohio division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy took steps to place a marker at his birthplace, a small brown cottage sheltered by a huge tree at Mount Vernon corner.

When Emmet was born there vacant lots were plentiful in Mount Vernon. But today the commercial district of Mount Vernon threatens to crowd out the cottage.

On a Mount Vernon interlude in the autumn of 1859 he gave a performance at a music hall. Jerry Bryant, a Mount Vernon acquaintance asked him to write a "hooray song" of the plantation type with a catchy tune for the Monday night performance.

Emmet, who little realized how catchy that tune would be, wasn't enthusiastic about his job at first. He didn't believe he could do it when he started to write it that next morning, for rain was pattering on the roof of the little brown cottage.

Outside, the landscape looked dismal. It was "one frosty morning" to Emmet and he yearned for warmer climates. Often he had heard stage hands who shifted scenery for the country's first colored musical troupe he organized in 1843 grumble at the cold and say, "I wish I was in Dixie Land." And when this flashed into Emmet's mind he picked up his violin and started to build his song around the words.

More than a year later, after the tattered Stars and Stripes tumbled from Fort Sumter, the Confederacy made a marching song out of Emmet's tune and with an altered version, written by Albert Pike, sailed into battle singing it.

HAYMARKET

Rev. W. F. Carpenter has returned from a visit to friends in North Carolina.

Dr. Wade C. Payne attended the Medical convention in session at Norfolk last week.

Saturday being All Saints Day there will be service at St. Paul's Church at 10 a. m., with the usual service in Sunday morning.

"Mull Park," the home of the late C. A. Heineken, has recently been bought by Mr. C. A. Kelley of Pittsburgh, Penna., who it is understood will make it his residence during the summer months. The home is one of the oldest in this Community, the original owner being Edward Tyler, of an old Prince William family. It was bought by Heineken about sixty years ago, and since his death has been managed by his daughter, Miss Mary Parker Heineken.

The ladies of St. Paul's Church Guild will hold their annual Bazaar and Supper at the Parish Hall next Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The menu will include roast turkey, Old Virginia ham, salads, and pie. The booths will be very attractive with their display of needlework, fancy articles and candy. While a "Fat woman" with one hundred pockets in her dress will be a novel attraction for children.

LITTLE GIRL, 10, EATS SO MUCH MOTHER AMAZED

"My 10-year old daughter had no appetite. Then we gave her Vinol and now she eats so much we are amazed."—Mrs. W. Joosten.

Vinol supplies the body important with cod liver peptone. This is just mineral elements of iron, calcium what thin, nervous children or adults need, and the QUICK results are surprising. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Vinol tastes delicious!

TALKING HONEY

By ARTHUR BRADY
(No. 3)

It takes the bees as long to make the honey comb as it does to fill it with honey. So the modern house-keeper uses a machine called a honey extractor, removes the honey from the combs and sends the "empties" back to the bees to be filled again. Thus a great saving is made in the bees' time just when they are busiest.

A honey extractor is a sort of metal tank about as large as a barrel, with a screened framework inside made to whirl-around at the rate of 280 revolutions per minute. Honey for extracting comes in large combs about 8x18 inches. When the bees have filled and capped the combs the beekeeper pares off the capping with a sharp knife and places the combs in the "baskets" inside the extractor, which is then put in motion, and the honeyscombs go whirling like a regular honey "merry go-round," and in a few minutes all the honey has been whirled out of one side and is dripping down inside the extractor. When one side of the comb is cleared of and the process repeated until the honey the "baskets" are reversed, other side is emptied. The combs are now ready for the bees to fill again, while the honey is drawn off into a tank and strained, through cheese-cloth or wire, and is ready for use.

Not all beekeepers extract their honey alike. In my next talk I will have more to say about extracting honey.

Dear Mr. Lamb:

I will thank you to refer the following to your Information Department: Your Twin-City correspondent has brought to me a problem I find myself unable to solve, viz: whether I am a he-Herr man or a Herr-he. I have very carefully considered this subject and I find myself unable to decide. Will you please refer this problem to your Twin-City correspondent with the request that he further investigate and report. For a number of years I have been a Rebekah as well as a daughter of the King. I am an Eastern Star and in early life I did wear a dress, and yet I have always prided myself with the belief that I was a real Herr-he. Now I am puzzled. Your correspondent referred to the Scottish Rite banquet held in the Temple and to the fact that this he-Herr was present. I still believe that I was there both by right of being a Scotchman and also a Herr-he. I am very sure that this Class was mas-

Never Ending Search

For better ways to cut food prices

As food merchant to a nation, A&P bears a responsibility greater than that demanded of a mere trader in food. Selling food to great numbers of families involves the well-being of millions of people. Reducing the nation's food bill calls for more than the slashing of grocery prices.

It calls for everlasting watchfulness for better methods of food growing and producing, of shipping of handling and storing, of marketing and retailing food—command of every invention and every means known to man for assisting the flow of food from its sources to the store counter.

Because A&P assumes the entire task of bringing food from producer to consumer, its responsibility to the public is greater than if it performed but a small part. Its search for better methods must be never-ending. Its way of lowering the cost of food to the consumer must be the best.

A&P makes food prices low by the best methods of Today. A&P will keep food prices low by the best methods of Tomorrow.

Brentsville District Association will meet at the school auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 3, at 8 p. m. All members and friends are urged to be present as this is the regular election of officers for the coming year and many school questions will also be taken up among them ways of helping to build the new Gymnasium. The nomination committee will meet Thursday before at the home of Mr. Ewing McMichael at 2 p. m.

There will be a Halloween party and minstrel show at the school building Friday, the 31, beginning at 8 o'clock. A small admittance will be charged. This is going to be lots of fun as some of our popular Faculty are included in the cast. There will be a good program. Come and help our teachers and young folks make it a howling success.

Mrs. Allen Bodine is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Jonas.

Miss Pitt, our home demonstration agent and Miss Tuttle of Blacksburg were around Saturday scoring the rooms of the girls who entered the room contest this spring. We understand some good work was accomplished about 8 girls in the county completing the work. Miss Pitt certainly deserves credit for the good 4-H club work done in the district.

We are having a gentle rain this morning long may it continue as the drought is extremely serious around here.

Occoquan Wins over Nokesville

The third soccer game of the season was played on Friday, October 24 on the Occoquan High School field between the Nokesville and Occoquan High Schools.

The game started out hard and fast with neither side scoring for the first few minutes. Then the Occoquan boys rolled one between the goals for the first score. The hard fighting continued by both teams, but by the good passwork of the forward line and the able defense of the backfield men, the Occoquan team kept the ball within their goal area most of the time.

The game ended with Occoquan eleven shutting out the Nokesville team, and when the whistle blew the final score was 3-2 in favor of the Occoquan team.

Both teams showed for Occoquan, while Swank, and Fountain were outstanding for Nokesville.

The next game will be played on Friday, Oct. 31, on the Manassas field between the Occoquan and Manassas High Schools.

BRENTSVILLE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Wednesday afternoon, October 22, the B. D. H. S. girls had as their visitors the Haymarket girls. An interesting game of basketball was played between the teams representing the two schools with the results of a score of 18-6 in favor of the Nokesville girls.

The B. D. H. S. boys motored to Occoquan Thursday, October 23, to play a game of soccer. This game was the best that either team has played. Both sides showed the best of sportsmanship. The game ended with a score of 3-2 in favor of Occoquan. The Nokesville boys are looking forward to other games with Occoquan because they know they will have to work hard for what they get.

Friday evening, October 31, at 8 o'clock there will be a Halloween party given by B. D. H. S. boys and girls in the High School Auditorium. There will be plenty of good entertainment and good things to eat. Want to have some fun? Come!
