Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Kerr's Dyspeptone to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas in the stomach, accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of exces sive acids in the stomach, creating so-called acid indigestion. Acid stomachs are dangerous because excessive acid irritates the stomach's delicate lining, often leading to gastritus and serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, forming this distressing gas which distends the stomach, hampering the normal functioning of vital organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to negle this serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effects on stomach acids Two teaspoons, full of Kerr's Dyspep-tone right, after eating will drive the gas and blost out of the body, sweet en the stomach, neutralize and prevent the formation of excess Dyspeptone is harmless to the stom ach, inexpensive to take and is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. It is cold under a money-back guarantee. Write today for a bottle of Kerr's Dyspeptone, enclosing One Dollar with your letter. Kerr Laboratories, Reading, Pa.

LOXOXOXOXOXOXOXOXOXOXOXOX SANTA CLAUS SPEAKING By William Hersch

GOOD evening, Children! Through the "mike" I'll just say this before I hike: " No monkey-business goes tonight-Run off to bed; turn out the light; Don't snoop around or try to see What chance you have detecting me.

I'm pretty slick at ketching kids Who only half-way close their lids; Why, I don't even hesitate Where smarty children stay up late! Don't pull that drink-of-water stuff-You can't fool me-that's just a bluff!

> Best way to do-I've always found-In all my years of going 'round, Is just play square with Santa Claus, For he has certain rules and laws Which make it necessary - Yes, That you cut out your snoopiness!

> How sweet it is, when children do The things old Santa asks them to. They never have a sigh or tear If they believe in him each year. Say, sometimes, children who are good Get more than what they thought they would!

SCOTCH ECONOMY

"A farmer rather than subscribe o the paper, sent his boy to borrow neighbor's. The lad knocked over a stand of bees. His father, hurry ing to help him, ran into a barbedwire fence, gashing his leg and ruining a new pair of overalls, Hearing the noise, his wife ran out, upsetting a four-gallon churn of cream into. a basket of kittens, drowning the litter. At the same time she dropped and broke a new set of store teeth. During the excitement the daughter eloped with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed up a line of washing, hung out to dry. All to save two dollars, the price of a subscription."

GOOD IDEA TO CUT OUT POORER HENS

Why Keep Non-Producers in the Flock?

It is economical management to go over the flock frequently for the pur-pose of removing the bens which show signs of having ceased production. The feed consumed might be put to more profitable use if fed to the young stock in order that the birds going on the market may be well finished and the pullets properly developed and in the best of shape to produce heavily during the winter months, when new laid eggs command a profitable price When culling, each hen must be examined carefully. The head furnishes valuable indications in picking the high layers. The long, crow-headed, individual, or the bird with the flesh of the face in wrinkles and the eyebrows overhanging, is seldom a good producer. The high producer has a comb which is bright red, with a soft waxy texture, as opposed to a dull, dried, and withered appearance. The face is clean cut rather than beefy; the eye is bright and prominent rather than dull and small.

The abdomen of the producer is soft and pliable. The keel is forced down. away, from the pelvic arch, and the pelvic bones, sometimes callad the "lay" bones, are thin and wide apart. A shrunken abdomen with pelvic bones covered with fat, indicates slow production, or none at all.

A laving fowl uses up the surplus fat in the body and, in the case of the hirds of the yellow-skinned varieties. the rate at which the fat is used can be determined by the fading of the yellow pigment from the vent, eye ring, ear lobes, beak and shanks in the order named. At this season these parts on the heavy producer are usual. ly bleached white. When a bird ceases production, the yellow pigment returns rapidly in the same order as it left The best layers generally molt in Octoher or November, when they shed their feathers much more rapidly and grow them in more quickly than the early molter.

yourself in ten different ways. Write The reconstruction work was con-ducted on information obtained Winchester, Va. through research which enabled the 30-1-* architect to design it similar to the one built by Augustine Washington, as regards both internal and external appearance, finish and arrangements. Only in recent years have highways been good enough to make access to Wakefield easy, and it was only after the Association began its restoration work that any attention was paid to the old graveyard, where there are a number of the Washington family buried, but their identities have been lost. The place has been appropriately marked and restored as far as possible by the Park Service. When restoration has been com pleted and the shrine turned over to the government a book containing the names of the many contributors to the work will be placed in Wakefield.

of Greta Garbo and Clark Gable in "Susan Lenox, Her Fall and Rise," which opens Dec. 31, at the Dixie Theatre.

It was a happy and wise decision that made the Metro-Goldwyn, Mayer officials cast this engaging newcomer opposite the famous Swedish 'star Gable is right at the top of the ladder in the estimation of fans and his work in the Garbo picture would seem to assure his early bid for stardom." Garbo is magnificent as the heroine of the David Graham Philips story which Robert Z. Leonard directed. The famous novel was adapted for the screen by Wanda Tuchock with dialogue written by Zelda Sears and Leon Gordon. Modernized as it is, the dramatic regeneration theme makes ideal material for Garbo. In the opinion of this reviewer she accomplishes the greatest individual characterization of all her talkie efforts.

Leonard's fine direction keeps the picture moving at a rapid tempo, reaching a gripping climax after a most novel cross-section showing the disintegration of the girl who climbed from obscurity to power due to her consuming love for the man who first lead her astray.

The supporting cast is noteworthy, including such performers as Jean Hersholt, John Miljan, Alan Hale, Hale Hamilton, Hilda Vaughn, Russell Simpson, Cecil Cunningham and Ian Keith.

One building is located near Dixon, Cat., in a flat and barren area with scarcely any habitation for miles around. The location of the other station is within sound of the Pacific at Point Reyes, Cal., a desolate spot where sand dunes are the chief feature of the landscape. Scheduled for opening next year, telephone service to Hawaii will be the first extension of voice communication directly westward from this country. These island possessions al-

The Hawaiian Islands, well out in the Pacific Ocean, will be the present western terminus of calls from this country. Extension of radio telephone service from the United States to the Orient is entirely practicable, but de pends upon the development of trans mitting and receiving equipment in the countries of the Far East. San Francisco has been selected as the location for the telephone contro center. The switchboard and ass ciated apparatus through which all calls between North America and the Hawaiian Islands will pass, will be installed in the San Francisco tele phone and telegraph company's long listance building on Grant Avenue, This switching center will occupy the same position in the prop transpacific service that the trans atlantic.South American and ship-to shore service does in the Walker Street building in New York. The transmitting and receiving tele

COUNTY GOVERNMENT State. In pla ace of the present method with very important exceptions. The the Governor to withhold certain quents tax lists. number, form and general arrangement of departments is the same. Likewise the board of county supervisors has full powers in determining policies covering the financial and participate directly in the work of the various departments. For the purpose of actually carrying on this gineer; anact to empower the board ty and conferring upon him the trial work, the board appoints a county manager and places upon him full authority and full responsibility for the conduct of the several departments or divisions of the work. In this case, the manager appoints the department heads and subordinate officers, directs and supervises their work, and coordinates the work of the various administrative agencies into an effective operating unit. He prepares and submits for the approval of the board a complete working program for the county and is charged with full responsibility for results. The difference between the county manager form and the county executive form is said to be one largely of degree. The county manager form provides for a clearer and more definite distinction between policy determination, which is the function of the board of supervisors, and policy execution, which is the function of the manager and his subordinates. The manager is thus equipped with larger independent powers. Likewise his individual responsibility is greatly increased. The Commission estimates that the adoption and proper administration of either of these optional forms will result in a saving in county governmental costs of between ten and fifteen per cent.

The foregoing optional forms provide for the abolition of the fee system as a method of compensating public officers, except certain parttime officers, having a regular occupation aside from the governmental srevice. Any county adopting either of these two optional forms thereby places all of its full time officers upon a salary basis.

The Commission on County Government recommends that the Auditor of Public Accounts be made a member of the State Fee Commission; it recommends the passage of a general law providing for the creation of administrative areas composed of t woor more adjoining counties, or

CAMELS are never parched or toasted

THERE is of course a sound reason why the Camel Humidor Pack can deliver to Camel smokers a cigarette that is genuinely fresh.

Camels are made fresh to start with, fresh with natural moisture - blended of the choicest, delicately mild, full-mellow, sun-ripened tobaccos that money can buy.

The full natural goodness of these fine tobaccos is safeguarded at every step in their handling - they are never parched or toasted-the Reynolds method of scientifically applying heat guarantees against that. That's why we can say with every assurance that Camels are truly fresh. They're made fresh - not parched or toasted - and then they're kept fresh in the Camel Humidor Pack.

The delights of a genuinely fresh cigarette are so rare and desirable that Camel popularity continues to mount daily to new highs.

Test these delights for yourself-see what true freshness means in cool, slow-burning, delicate mildness-switch to Camels for just one day, then leave them-if you can.
