COMMITTEE REPORT FAVORS EIGHTH DISTRICT PRESERVATION

Wright-Hall Bill Would Preserve Unity of Northern Virginia.

GARDNER BOOTHE DEFENDS EIGHTH DISTRICT

Proponents of the Wright-Hall Bill (preserving the Eighth Congressional District) had a thrill of joy yesterday evening when after the committee hearings, the committee voted by 7-5 to report the measure in preference to the Early-Watts Bill (also known as the Stringbean Bill).

Legislation has been almost paralyzed while the contending forces have battled to get the upper hand. The climax of the situation so far came when Ashton Dovell, chairman of the House Committee, called the meeting to order and Senator Russell Cather, of Winchester, arose to defend the Early Bill.

Referring to Accomac and Northampton counties, Senator Cather said, "These counties must go somewhere. Travel and interests are associated with Norfolk (Second District) but there is no objection on our part to allowing them to remain in the First."

Senator Cather alluded to the Hoover debate in 1928, and showed that the revised Seventh District under the Wright-Hall Bill would have gone Democratic by less than 500. Mr. Cather charged the authors of the Wright-Hall Bill with "dismal ignorance" of the political complexion of the Valley. He concluded by stating that his delegation would "accept any reasonable plan and co-operate to that end."

"The creation of nine Democratic Districts has been in my mind all along," said Mr. Cather, "and when I vote it will still be there."

Mr. Moore, of Lexington, then arose to defend the Stringbean Bill, stating that a Senator was called on to attend to a whole state, and why could not a Congressman cover more ground. He cited the fewness of changes under this bill, and openly defended any gerrymandering plan.

Mr. Samuel Rogers, of Petersburg, appeared rather friendly to the Early Bill and proudly referred to the fact that the Fourth District stood by her guns in the landslide of 1928. He stated that he was in favor of a bill which would "leave the old Fourth untouched as a compliment" to her patriotism in that instance.

Delegate Stuart Maffett, of Augusta, was based on his entire plea on gerrymandering.

At this juncture, Hon. Gardner Boothe, of Alexandria, chairman of the Eighth District Democratic Committee, took the floor and presented his brief in the defense of the Wright-Hall Bill. He stressed the unique situation and condition of the Eighth District with respect to the National Government. Next he cited Section 55 of the Virginia Constitution to the effect that "The General Assembly shall by law apportion the State into districts corresponding to the number of representatives to which it may be entitled in the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States; which districts shall be composed of contiguous and compact territory containing, as near as practicable, an equal number of inhabitants."

Referring further to the make-up of Congressional Districts Mr. Boothe declared:

"It is submitted that in the solution of this question the following elements are of paramount importance: "First. The duty to be performed by the Members of Congress as governed by the proximity of his district to the National Capital or by the number of Federal activities in his district, and other considerations. "Second. The community of interests and similarity of pursuits and industry in the district. "Third. The homogeneity of the people of the district, and the convenience of communication between the different sections of the district. "The Eighth District lies contiguous to the National Capital. Until 1849 Alexandria City and Arlington county, now comprising practically 30 per cent of the population of the district, were a part of the District of Columbia. Due to the proximity of Washington, the business, trade, and social activities of the people trend in that direction. Likewise the convenience of northern Virginia to Washington has resulted in the establishment of many Federal activities in this area, which have been of vast and growing benefit."

Defending the Wright Bill, Mr. Boothe added:

"The only material changes occur in the Seventh, Eighth and Tenth

JUNIOR CLUB BENEFIT

The Junior Club will give a benefit bridge party at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, Feb. 16, in the reception room of the Swavely School, instead of in the dining room of the Prince William Hotel as was formerly stated.

Districts, and the effect of these changes is to create a Piedmont District of the Eighth, and a Valley District of the Seventh, preserving the homogeneity of interests, industries, inhabitants and pursuits with a due regard to the element of practical equality of population.

"We believe that this submits the fairest, most equitable, and most comprehensive plan of redistricting yet proposed, taking into due consideration all of the practical elements involved."

"It may be found practical to shift a county here or there in the plan, but we do not believe that on the whole the general plan can be successfully attacked from any standpoint."

"So far as the Eighth District is concerned, there has been no reason or argument advanced as to why it should be dismembered. Its homogeneity, community of interests of its people, and the vital need that the area has for representation in Washington, are generally conceded. The only argument against it has been that it was deficient in population. We respectfully submit that it should be increased by addition rather than subtraction. As to what the additions should be is for the Legislature to determine. We believe that the suggestions contained in the Wright Bill are most feasible."

Mr. Boothe presented figures to show that if the area next to Washington maintained the growth of population of the last two decades that in another ten years the territory contiguous to Washington would have 30,000 more people in it.

Bearing on this point, Mr. Boothe stated that no District in the State placed heavier demands on its Congressman.

In concluding, Mr. Boothe asserted: "We are asking nothing but a square deal. A fair and equitable general redistricting involves a State wide view and consideration, and a solution that is fair to all sections. The changes under this plan are confined exclusively to a little corner of the northern and eastern section of the State, affecting less than one-sixth of the total area of the Commonwealth."

"The Second District now has a population of approximately 303,000, which is 34,000 more than the average. The Early Bill proposes to increase the population of this already overpopulated district to 317,000, a proposal that we do not believe even the authors of the Bill will attempt to justify. The proposal in the Early Bill to add the counties of Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William, Stafford, King George, and the City of Alexandria to the First District, with the centralized population at Newport News approximately 240 miles from the upper end of the district, and increase the population of that district to over its proper quota, cannot be justified on any ground, and we do not believe that the authors of the Early Bill have the temerity to attempt to do so."

Mr. Boothe then yielded the floor to former State Senator F. L. Ball, of Arlington county, who greeted his former colleagues with a few pleasantries that greatly relieved the tension. Incidentally Mr. Ball was given quite a hand when he rose.

The "fish" story was so pointed that even the most ardent backers of the Early Bill burst into laughter. He repeatedly referred to the "right" bill.

Coming back at Mr. Maffett, Mr. Ball humorously referred to the incorporation of the Valley, in which he showed that they themselves had just about followed out the suggestions contained in the Wright Bill.

"The Democratic Party has lost more votes by mistakes than by any other. Put through the Early Bill and you will create more Republicans in northern Virginia than you have in the Valley. Why, I haven't seen a Republican in six months. If there are any, they must be in the Valley."

NUMBERING SYSTEM FOR MANASSAS

Gas Company Supplies Numbers Free.

The historic town of Manassas took a step in metropolitan development today when representatives of the Gas Company began attaching numbers to the doorways of the business and residential properties in the town.

Center and Main streets are the axes from which the numbering is done. The number increases a hundred each block north and south and east and west from the intersection of these two streets. For example the Journal office has now attained the dignity of No. 113 West Center Street. The odd numbers are on the north side of streets running east and west and on the east side of streets running north and south.

The Gas Company was given permission to do this numbering with the understanding that the numerals would be furnished by them, and the designation of properties in this way is already proving to be of advantage to everybody.

MRS. SPEIDEN

ENTERTAINS U. D. C.

Mrs. Speiden, Mrs. Weedon and Miss Speiden delightfully entertained the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., in Mrs. Speiden's home on the afternoon of Feb. 3, twenty-two members being present.

The chapter's president, Mrs. Ashford, presided. Reports of the last meeting were read and approved. The chapter voted a letter of thanks to be sent to Miss Osborne, principal of the Manassas high school, for her cooperation and that of her faculty and student body in the Daughters' celebration of General Lee's birthday.

The ways and means committee will meet at an early date to make arrangements for some phase of money making so that the chapter may contribute to the various calls received from the General Society, U. D. C.

Letters were read from the Stratford committee, urging all Daughters to give towards the mortgage still standing against "Stratford,"

VALENTINE DANCE BY FIRE DEPT.

Opportunity to Help the Boys on Feb. 12.

The Manassas Volunteer Fire Department will give a Valentine Benefit Dance in the high school gymnasium on Friday evening, Feb. 12, from 9 to 1:30. The music will be exceptionally good and the subscription price has been made within the reach of all who would combine their pleasure with a boost for the volunteer fire department.

A committee and chaperones will be in attendance and no effort has been spared to make the event a very attractive and enjoyable one and the fire department, relying chiefly on such affairs for finances, is hoping, and certainly deserves, that the attendance will be up to expectations.

No one is restrained at any time from making a cash donation to this worthy cause, but mostly everyone forgets the fire department until the time of need, when the call is always very urgent and a prompt response not only appreciated, but expected, and frequently demanded. Since the boys who protect us from fire have no sources of revenue from the official funds of the Town or County, it is only fair that they should have plenty of support on the few occasions when they ask for consideration. Consequently it is anticipated that the Valentine Dance will be well attended not only by those who enjoy the pastime, but by those who like to see others have a good time, and who like to help the Firemen.

the slogan being "A Dollar a Daughter." Any persons interested in contributing to this fund may send their contributions to Mrs. C. M. Larkin.

A committee acting with Mrs. Speiden as chairman will investigate conditions relative to a permanent home for the Manassas chapter, where its meetings may be held and its relics kept.

Following the business session, a paper on Judah P. Benjamin was read by Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, immediately after which the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The chapter will hold its March meeting in the home of Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, at 2:30 o'clock.

SPECIAL SPEAKER

AT WOMAN'S CLUB

All Members Urged to Be Present.

The February meeting of the Manassas Woman's Club will be held at the high school building Wednesday, February 10, at 2:30 p.m. A splendid speaker has been obtained and all members are urged to be present.

Miss M. L. Williamson, who will speak, was a member of President Hoover's Commission to investigate Communism in the United States. She is also a member of the National Defense Council. An invitation has been extended to everyone to attend.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Larkin, secretary, Monday, Feb. 8, at 2 p.m. All members of the board are earnestly requested to be present, as the budget for the year 1932 and 33 will be made up for presentation at the next regular meeting of the club.

CELEBRATE GOLD-EN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Powell Receive Congratulations.

On January 22 Mr. and Mrs. Adoniram Judson Powell, who live in the historic Henry House on the Manassas Battlefield, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, receiving many congratulations. Both are natives of Prince William county, Mr. Powell having been born 78 years ago near Antioch Church, at the foot of the Bull Run Mountains.

MR. AND MRS. A. J. POWELL

Mrs. Powell was born near Bradley, and does not begin to look the 68 years that she claims. Mr. Powell is the son of the late Burr Powell, a gallant Confederate soldier who served with Mosby and who was with that daring band of patriots who captured General Stoughton at Fairfax in the midst of his own army.

Mr. Powell is custodian of the Manassas Battlefield and as such possesses rare qualifications for the position, having been an eye witness of the great battle which was fought there, and having lived all of his life in the community. His great knowledge of local history has been manifested on many occasions as he has so genially and efficiently guided distinguished visitors over the battlefield.

MEN'S SOCIAL CLUB

The last meeting of the Men's Social Club of Manassas was the best attended in recent times. Judge Wheatley Johnson of the Juvenile Court was the guest of the club. Certain phases of the charitable work of the club were thoroughly discussed and Judge Johnson gave the legal side of these charitable cases.

An article by former president Welton P. Farrow, "Is Man Free?", was read by the president. It contained references to happenings which occurred while Mr. Farrow was a resident of Manassas. These happenings were used to illustrate the article which had appeared in "The Homiletic Review." Discussion of the article followed and greetings were ordered sent to Mr. Farrow.

Music by the Kline brothers enlivened the evening. The committee appointed to be in charge of the next meeting consists of Dennis Baker, Ferris Gue, R. T. Wharton, W. F. Cocks and F. G. Sigman. The continued illness of Dennis Baker will no doubt prevent him from doing his part. The meeting takes place next Thursday, the 11th.

BI-CENTENNIAL

BALL FEB. 5

Colonial Costumes and Modern Apparel Will Mingle in Brilliant Event.

Under auspices of the Community League of the Bennett School in Manassas a Bi-centennial Ball will be held on Friday night, February 5, which promises to be one of the most delightful social events of the season, as well as an historical observance which will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

All that can be making plans to appear in Colonial costumes, and this will insure a brilliant affair, but the committee in charge has called attention to the fact that no one need feel at all reluctant to come and enjoy the evening to the fullest extent, if it is not convenient to arrange an old-time costume, for there will be many there in their 1932 regalia. In fact one of the charming features of the evening will be the contrasting beauties of the present day and those of 1732.

Throughout the United States the idea of Colonial balls in commemoration of Washington's Bi-centennial has proven very popular, many of these events having been arranged. The Manassas affair is one of the first to be held, but will be followed by one at Gadsby's Tavern in Alexandria on Feb. 22, and also one on this date at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington. On January 22 a historic ball was held at Berryville, Va., which was attended by descendants of the founders of Clarke county in authentic historic costumes which are heirlooms in Clarke county homes. On January 29 a "Mount Vernon Tea Party" was held at Washington and Lee University at Lexington. Owing to the military aspect of this occasion many French and British officers' uniforms were worn.

Regardless of the weather tomorrow night a big attendance is anticipated at Manassas and those present are promised an evening of such delight as to form a cherished memory hereafter.

"WEST OF BROADWAY" HAS ENTERTAINING PLOT TWIST

"Mademoiselle from Armentieres." Singing doughboys . . . marching feet . . . hurrahs . . . heartaches . . . John Gilbert in A. E. F. uniform . . . shades of "The Big Parade!"

Such were the thrilling reactions to the opening of "West of Broadway," John Gilbert's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle which opens Wednesday, February 10, at the Dixie Theatre.

Returning from the war, broken in health, Jerry finds the girl he is engaged to awaiting his arrival home only to break the truth.

Before we go tumbling into the limbo of another hell
Let's take inventory . . .
Let's turn back the hands of time,
And do it right let's close our eyes,
Eyes closed and ears plugged—
Now, let's put our throats to work . . .
And while the convolutions of our gray matter deepens Let's question the little folks of our brain . . .
They are playing in the gullies known as convolutions . . .
By pushing the button of reminiscence
We can interrogate the past . . .
We must remember that history repeats itself . . .
We must also remember that we are in the flesh . . .
"Life is real, life is earnest."
It is impossible for us to cast aside certain psychological effects . . .
Spirit and matter have a habit of mixing
Certain training and environments—
Show a deep etching upon our souls;
As the light behind the movie film
Projects a picture on yonder screen.
We retrospect and see the period before the world war . . .
We dream of peace and brotherly love towards all mankind,
We build great hospitals and give alms
And reach the golden rule . . .
Magnificent churches dot our country side;
In cities — Great CATHEDRALS rear their spires towards the vaulted skies.
And from thousands of pulpits—
From millions of tongues,
We hear, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."
The Urban Population —
Has respect for God and Man . . .
The rural folks echoes:
The "Short and simple annals of the poor."
With praise to God the Father and Son . . .
At its mother knee
The Listening Babe is taught:
"Now lay me down to sleep,
And safely tucked in bed —
With a kiss and thank GOD.
While the older child repeats,
"Our Father who art in heaven."
All is well, Peace, sweet peace,
As the MORNING STAR steps aside, And disappears into the pageantry of the MILKY WAY
Just as old SOL —
The great orb of day
Sends forth his warm, Bright effulgent rays
Over a landscape painted by the ARTIST OF DIVINE LOVE . . .
The decalogue was studied;
And the law of Moses was the law of Gentile and Jew . . .
"Thou shalt not kill!"
Had a literal meaning . . .
And "Thou shalt not steal."
Protected a man's possession . . .
The commandment of "VIRTUE" Was engraved upon the hearts of man and woman . . .
When assailed by temptation
And we yielded to sin
We were branded as an outcast,
And bore the marks of outraged society . . .
When the echo of a shot was heard
And nation after nation began to arm
And munitions of war were made ready,
The goose step was pushed to double duty —
The order to march was given
And nations armed to the teeth Were set against nations armed to the teeth . . .
Words of hate for the foe were whispered
And loudly the echo rang —
"Hate, Damned hate!" The victrola spirit of HELL was loosed!
The very soul of patriotism tread
the wine press of hate!
Mighty guns belched forth death—
Poison gas vitiated the very air And caused the demons of the underworld to curse mankind . . .
MURDER! MURDER! MURDER!
Boiled in the seasoned caldron of war's hate . . .
As the trained soldiers were mowed down
New recruits were hastily trained — Cannon fodder was needed
And the propaganda of hate were fed
As military commands were given.
School boys were ordered from their studies —
The farmer lad from the plowshares; Theological, medical and scientific peace time studies were laid aside . . .
Spirit and flesh were boiled to the bone — Civilization was stripped until the marrow shown;
Theimps of hell grew larger
And hatred stood as a giant — Naked, — Stripped of civilization . . .
Growling as an untamed beast
The primordial forest echoed war's hate,
And throttled the tongue that spoke peace,

Nurtured the thot that inspired HELL;

Sharpened the sword of malice and taught a generation to spill the blood of his fellow man . . .
Now the great war is unpolished history —
A decade has been wafted by Like a comet on its course . . .
The molds of peace and rugged honesty
That were scarred and battered Once more appears—as the lily
From the pond of muck and slime.
Civilization goes forward handicapped by wars teachings . . .
The orgy of murder and untamed corruption —
Loose moral and hell bent ideas
Are plainly visible in our present social structure . . .
Our cry for the repeal of the 18th amendment
Are simply the aftermath of war's effect . . .
Teachings thrown into reverse Undermine the moral fibre of polite society
And causes a decadence
With resultant disintegration . . .
To repeal the 18th amendment means defeat for law and order,
And our complete surrender to hood-lumism . . .
To let down the bars of the marriage vow
Simply means that the hounds of vice Are snapping at the heels of morality,
And a partial surrender shakes the foundation of home . . .
A Cure — the incantations of black magic —
The breaking down of civilization—a thought tragic . . .
And yet, when moral degeneracy enters —
The canker worm of vice shows its head,
The underworld takes charge
And history repeats itself . . .
Stop! before the handwriting shows upon the wall!
"Mene, Mene Tekel—"!
A Kingdom has fallen!
Babylon is no more—
Rome Collapsed . . .
Egypt disintegrated . . .
Let us take warning
And build our bulwarks of defense.
Let law and order take a firm stand
And refuse to bow to hoodlumism, vice and corruption . . .
Let us abide by our constitution
The very foundation of our greatness . . .
Have faith in our laws,
We may still be able to get back on an even keel . . .
Let us renew our faith in the God of our forefathers
Before the foundation of our government totters . . .
"Can one go upon hot coals,
And his feet not burned?"

GOLDEN WEDDING AN-NIVERSARY AT CATHARPIN

All of the family of Mr. and Mrs.
I. I. Anderson gathered on Sunday, January 31, to celebrate their golden anniversary. One son, C. L. Anderson, and his family were prevented from attending through illness. Two sons and two daughters and their families and a host of friends were present to make merry and to wish their genial neighbors many happy returns of the day.
Mrs. Anderson delighted her guests with an old-time Virginia dinner and an abundance of good things of which all hands partook heartily.

NOKESVILLE

The Brentsville District Standard Community Association met Tuesday night in the high school for their regular monthly meeting.

The leading citizens of the District were present. Brentsville had an especially good representation.

During a long business session various committees made reports of work completed or being done. A plan was devised for raising the necessary funds to complete the gymnasium. This building has been erected through the earnest efforts of the citizens of the community and the cooperation and support of all are necessary to complete it.

The association rendered an especial mark of appreciation to Mr. G.
E. Snook, for his long and faithful services on the gym, in the form of a rising vote of thanks.

The installation of a home economics department in the school was discussed at length. The Mesdames M. J. Shepherd, J. F. Hale and John Harpine were appointed as a committee to interview the Board of Supervisors concerning this project.

Business being over, the children from the Brentsville graded school gave some splendid recitations and a very interesting little playlet portraying the making of the first flag.

Afterwards the meeting was adjourned. All present had a profitable and enjoyable evening.

The first basketball game will be played in the new gym Thursday night. At the request of the alumni, this contest will be between the team of the alumni and the present high school team. This promises to be an interesting fray. You will probably see Perry Swank, Ray Swank, Harry Miller, "Tater" Wilkins and other former stars in action. Everybody has helped to build this gym and we are going to expect everybody to come and "get their money back"
Thursday night and following nights.
Mrs. C. B. Fitzwater spent the week end in Washington with her brother, Mr. William Allen.

The Messrs. M. J. Shepherd, E. C.
Spitler, D. E. Earhart and F. M.
Swartz attended a mass meeting in Warrenton Monday night, to protest the outrageous bill which has been presented in the Legislature whereby truck license would be doubled and tripled. Unless concerted action is taken by the people, "Big Business" will again triumph in this unfair legislation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Mr.
and Mrs. J. F. Hale, Mr. and Mrs.
T. B. Flickinger attended the banquet of the Virginia and Maryland Milk Producers Association at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington Feb 1.
The folks report that the chief speaker was Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and the principal entertainment was furnished by a colored quartette from Charlottesville. Evidently there was some notable "chinning."

The Andersons are an old-time Prince William family and are well known throughout the county.

The Journal also takes this occasion to congratulate them and wish them continue happiness.

LOAD YOUR GUN OUTSIDE

On Tuesday Mrs. Nannie Powers of Warren county was instantly killed when her husband slipped and fell as he was going out to shoot a hawk.
Five small children are left motherless.

STIRRING DRAMA OF MOTHER
LOVE OPENS AT DIXIE THEATRE

Heralded as one of the outstanding talking pictures of the year, "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization of the Edward Knoblock stage success, "The Lullaby," will open Thursday, Feb. 11, at the Dixie Theatre for two days.

The story is one of tremendous emotional sweep, depicting the melodramatic career of a woman who sinks to the lowest depths for the sake of her child. The picture is said to be marked with the same stirring qualities and stark drama which characterized "Stella Dallas" and "Madame X," the nature of the plot leaving room for an adroit blending of romance and the extremes of comedy and tragedy.

The central role of Madelon, the French girl who is deserted by her lover and subsequently becomes the victim of a series of amazing circumstances, is played by Helen Hayes, the New York stage star, who makes her first screen appearance in this production. The role gives Miss Hayes every opportunity for a display of her remarkable talents as an actress, for she is seen first as an attractive young girl, and then, as the progress of the story continues over a period of years, appears as an old, disillusioned and haggard woman.

Prominent roles are played by Lewis Stone, as the Count who raises the status of Madelon from that of a washwoman to mistress of a luxurious home, only to result in her being sent to prison later; and by Neil Hamilton, as the American artist with whom Madelon elopes but with whom she has only a short-lived happiness. Most of the comedy material is in the hands of Cliff Edwards and Marie Prevost as a newly-married couple who enjoy fighting almost as much as loving. The supporting cast also includes Robert Young, Jean Hersholt, Karen Morley, Charles
Winninger, Alan Hale, Halliwell
Hobbes, Lennox Pawle and Russ Powell.

BUCKLAND

Miss Loretta N. Chapman, the evangelist of Washington, will preach at Buckland Mission Church the first Sunday, Feb. 7, at 7:30 p.m. At 7:15 p.m. the children will sing. Mr. Jerry Breeden will have charge of the song service. There will be special music. The public is cordially invited to bring the children out.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

GOD'S WORD STANDS:

The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.—Isaiah 40: 8.

THE TOWN BUDGET

Attention is called to the Town's tentative budget which is published elsewhere in detail in this issue.

This proposed budget provides for a reduction of twenty-five cents, sixteen and two-thirds per cent, in the Town's tax levy for the ensuing year; which, with the reduction in the tax levy made last year, gives a total reduction of fifty cents on the One Hundred Dollars within a two-year period.

In addition to the reduction in the tax levy the Council has also made a substantial cut in the schedule of rates for electric current.

As both of these cuts had been prepared for submission to the Council prior to the presentation of the citizens' petition on January 25, it would seem that the Council is facing the depression problem in a practical and effective manner.

THE WAR CLOUD

At present the outlook for peaceful settlement of the Oriental situation does not look very promising, but at its worst interpretation there seems to be no call for alarm on the part of citizens of the United States.

Japan apparently has decided that she should dominate the Chinese problem and displace the international arrangement that has been in effect. As in most wars there is an economic background to the affair. The bayonet has long been a valued accessory to international banking, and after all Japan is doing no more than many "civilized" nations have done at some period of their development.

Except that human life has little valuation in the oriental mind, there are certain phases of the present situation that might cause Americans to look back with no particular gratification at some difficulties we once had with Mexico in which we took by might rather than by right a vast expanse of territory, and we might also recall that there is a period in our history when a majority group of our States declined to be bound by the solemn obligations resting upon all who ratified our Constitution.

It is said also that Great Britain has not been unwilling at times to punish economic boycott with military reprisals. So, after all, none of the "civilized" nations should be so horrified that an Oriental power, in the fact of great temptation, should forget its solemn obligations under international treaties.

Just as the Caucasian nations are only now beginning to appreciate the sanctity of the contract, so must Japan finally learn this fact. Whether she gets the necessary chastisement for her infraction now or later is a matter for the great nations involved to determine, but certainly in the long run Japan is embarking upon a dangerous line of action.

HOOVER'S SAD PLIGHT

Consider the plight of President Hoover whose fortune, according to Representative Wood of Indiana, has dwindled to about $1,000,000. Mr. Wood says: "He has made a lot of money, but he has given it away." The Indiana congressman went on then to say that according to the best obtainable information the President was now worth about one-tenth the amount he possessed before the depression and that the depletion was due largely to charity donations.—Charlottesville Daily Progress.

If charitable donations have been the sole cause of the shrinkage which is said to have taken place in Mr. Hoover's fortunes, then he must have been an exceptionally astute investor. Whatever his holdings are, and we confess to ignorance as to their exact nature but prayerfully trust that they include neither Latin American bonds nor Latin American oil, for the sake of his pocketbook and his peace of mind and soul, it is probable that they are not so secure as to have escaped unscathed from general business conditions.

His charities, however, have been extensive, as we pointed out when it was announced that the members of the British royal family were refusing to accept the entire amounts to which their exalted positions entitle them.

But, like any man who has ever occupied the White House, he has a peculiar advantage in finding remunerative employment after his services to the nation are ended, which, incidentally, will probably be in a shorter time than he likes to think. On leaving office he will be flooded with offers to become the head of large companies, to prepare syndicated articles at absurdly high rates, and, in other words, will be presented with various attractive ways in which to make money. No, even if Herbert loses that remaining million, the soup kitchens will hardly have an opportunity to render him personal service.—Petersburg Progress.

INTERESTING W. C. T. U. SPEAKER AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On last Thursday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church a most interesting meeting was held when Miss Lenadell Wiggins of Pennsylvania was the principal speaker.

The meeting opened with a devotional program conducted by Rev. Atkins after which Mrs. Emily Round introduced the speaker of the evening.

Miss Wiggins has a pleasing personality and she was wide awake and well posted on the topics of the day. She told of some of the benefits of Prohibition and how much better this country is with such a law, (even though it is poorly enforced), than it was before we had the Prohibition law. Miss Wiggins has traveled the United States from east to west and she knows facts about conditions. She said so often when a thing is told and the person is asked where he got his information, he will reply, "They say" but they never can tell who "they" are. What we want to know is not what "they say," but the real facts of the matter. She told of a school that had a graduating class of 120 and after the commencement "they say" the whole class went out and became intoxicated. Upon investigation it was found that 25 did go to a road house and get intoxicated but not the whole class. "They say" that more young people are drinking than ever before, but the facts show that such is not the case. Where "they" may know of six or a dozen young people who drink, just think of the hundreds who do not drink. What this country needs is to know the facts and this can come about by teaching and educating the people and especially the young, the danger of alcohol and the great benefits to the country and humanity through the prohibition of alcoholic drinks. Miss Wiggins said, we may not see the results of all this work, yet we can make it better for those who come after us. When the little seedlings of a tree are put into the ground we will not live to see the great forest of trees which will grow from them, but we are planting for others. Miss Wiggins urged the women to join the W. C. T. U. and by their influence help forward the cause of Prohibition.

Mr. Murphy gave echoes from the Anti-Saloon League meeting in Washington and the splendid Prohibition speeches he heard.

Rev. W. A. Hall closed the meeting with the benediction.

The people present expressed their appreciation of the speaker and regretted that more did not hear her.

CATHARPIN

Rev. and Mrs. L. B. Atkins of Manassas and Wilbur Atkins and wife of Washington were callers at Oakwood on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. I. Anderson celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last Sunday. Mr. Anderson is a well-known resident of the Catharpin neighborhood of many years' standing and many barns and other buildings throughout the county stand as mute monuments to his handicraft as a builder. Their many friends extend congratulations and wish them many happy returns of the day.

A recent letter from Mr. F. H. Sanders now visiting his daughter, Mrs.

Clary of Lawrenceville, seems to teem with pleasanties. Always affable, he has become acquainted with a neighboring physician who takes him on long journeys to the country and elsewhere much to his enjoyment. Oftentimes the imagination has to picture what history fails to record; and in this case, knowing Mr. Sanders as we do, and the number of applicable jokes he always has in store, we can imagine the Doctor enjoys the experience as much as his passenger.

Rev. and Mrs. K. D. Swecker were callers to West Virginia last Friday to attend the obsequies of a relative of the family at that point; consequently no services were held at Sudley on Sunday. Mr. Swecker is a very able preacher and is meeting with great favor on the part of his congregation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club met at the home of Mrs. J. W. Alvey on the 28th and much business of importance transacted. This being the annual election of officers the following were reelected to their several positions as follows: president, Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald; vice-president, Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson; secretary, Mrs. W. S. Brower; and treasurer, Mrs. L. L. Lynn. Delicious refreshments being served by the hostesses, the meeting adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn are receiving the congratulations of their many friends due to the fact that a young daughter whose arrival is officially dated January 31 has come to grace their home. Father, mother, daughter and grandmother doing nicely.

Physicians declare Jerry has only six months to live and urge him to go to his ranch in Arizona. He refuses, avowed to make his last six months a gay existence. Trying to forget his former fiancé, he drinks to excess. After a wild orgy he marries Dot, a chance acquaintance of the night.

In the morning he awakens to the tragic reality. He tries to buy Dot off, but she refuses, insisting she loves him. Thinking Dot is only after the money she will inherit when he dies, Jerry goes to the Arizona ranch, determined to cheat her by living.

ahead of him. He is misguided by her honest intention of keeping him sober and winning his love.

Just when she believes he is willing to accept her as his wife, Dot finds herself paid off with a check for $25,000 in return for a divorce agreement. Blinded by this blow, she returns to New York. It is only after Dot has gone that Jerry realizes how much he needs her, and he follows her to New York determined to win her forgiveness.

When she consistently refuses to see him, Jerry bursts into her apartment one night and finds a wild party in progress. He gets into a fight with Dot's "gentleman" friend and the police are summoned to quell the disturbance.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, T. I. Sullivan, who departed this life two years ago today, Jan. 30, 1930.

Dear papa, if only the friends whom your memory keep

Would bring just a rose to the place where you sleep,

You would slumber there through all the golden hours

Of time and eternity beneath a wilderness of flowers.

If a word were spoken by everyone you befriended,

In the span of your life and the words were blended,

It would make a eulogy too sincere to impeach,

Too eloquent for words too reverent for speech.

Dear papa, in silence you suffered, in patience you bore

Until God called you home to suffer no more.

Your devoted daughter,

Mrs. John M. Oleyar.

"THE RAINBOW TRAIL"
FILMED IN VASTNESS
OF GRAND CANYON

While many persons have lived in the hopes of some day making a trip to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and have saved many hard-earned dollars with which to realize their dreams, George O'Brien and a large company of motion picture players recently paid a three weeks' visit to this wonder spot of the world and were paid well for making the trip.

For this scenic wonderland with its towering cliffs, its yawning chasms and brilliant colorings serves as the setting for the Fox production, "The Rainbow Trail," the picturization of Zane Grey's famous novel of that name which opens Monday, Feb. 8, at the Dixie Theatre.

The members of the company descended the abandoned Hermit Trail by pack train. There were many times when some of the company were on the verge of turning back, particularly at those points in the eighteen inch trail where the edge drops away a sheer fifteen hundred feet.

Strange to say, however, the faint hearted travelers were all men. Little Cecilia Parker, who plays opposite O'Brien, Minna Gombell, Ruth Donnelly, Lasker Winters, the script girl and hairdresser forgot that they were of the "weaker sex."

From their base at the foot of the trail the company penetrated into the most unexplored and beautiful regions of the Canyon for their settings. The vistas they saw and captured for the screen are said to be such as a whole year's residence in the scenic wonderland would not give to most visitors.

In one scene, it is reported, the camera shoots through a narrow chasm, a thousand feet from top to bottom to pick up, ten miles away, a cathedral-like spire standing out sharply from the mile high north rim. Again and again, such scenes are repeated, scenes of overwhelming grandeur that could not be found in any other portion of the globe, and in very few parts of the Canyon itself. And to add realism to the scenic effect the microphone has captured the mighty thunder of the roaring Colorado, echoing and reechoing from innumerable cliffs.

All in all, it was unanimously voted by the company the most wonderful location trip of their experience, if not the greatest in the history of the talking screen.

COMMITTEE REPORT FAVORS EIGHTH

Pleading for fair play, Mr. Ball stated further:

"Where is the courage of the Democratic party if it must lay aside principle and stand in fear and trembling of the mere possibility of a Republican victory?"

"Up in Arlington we fight Republicans every day and enjoy it. If we can't win on our record and principles, we don't deserve to win. Democracy has lost more votes by our own errors than from any other reason. If you make them think in those counties you are flaunting their interests, you'll create Republicans. We should demonstrate fair play here, where we have dictatorial power."

"In the Wright Bill," stated Mr. Ball, (emphasizing a remark already made by Mr. Boothe), "there is a combination of interests not shown in the Early Bill. Three is added to the Eighth District, the counties of Rappahannock, Madison, Greene and Albemarle, and the City of Charlottesville from the Seventh, and the county of Fluvanna from the Tenth, thereby creating a straight Piedmont District."

"It combines the remainder of the Seventh with the remainder of the Tenth District, thereby creating a Valley District."

Repeated attempts were made to genially heckle Mr. Ball while he was addressing the Committee but he came back swiftly each time. In one instance, referring to the great men of other Districts, he said, "Lee and Washington were both born in the First District and moved over into the Eighth."

Senator Norris, of Lancaster county, said that he had but one criticism to make of Mr. Ball's talk and that was that he should have substituted the name of the First District instead of the Eighth in his "fish" story.

Proceeding, Mr. Norris declared that there were more governmental activities in the First, Third and Eighth Districts than any of the others. Referring to the grerymanding policies of the proponents of the Early Bill he said, "There is no use of making the Seventh a rock-ribbed Democratic District and make the First a rock-ribbed Republican District."

Former Delegate George A. Bowles of Goochland and now Insurance Commissioner, took a few minutes to excoriate the Wright Bill.

Delegate Battle, of Charlottesville, departed into personalities and referred rather audaciously to the efforts of Congressman Smith in behalf of the Government Clerks. He stressed the lack of homogeneity between Arlington and Albemarle.

"With all due respect to the present Congressman from the Eighth District," he said, "we don't want him to administer over the affairs of Albemarle. When the people of the Seventh District wanted a man to redeem it in the Democracy of Virginia, they came to Albemarle, and we are proud of our Congressman even if he does spend part of the year in inactivity while the Congressman from the Eighth works over in Washington."

Referring to former Congressman Garber's alleged efforts to assist in promoting the Wright Bill, Mr. Battle suddenly pointed his finger in the direction of Mr. Garber and shouted, "There he sits now, watching your deliberations."

Murmurs of protest arose all over the floor from both friends and opponents of the Early Bill to the effect that Mr. Garber had a perfect right to attend a public hearing on matter of such serious legislation.

The Committee of the Senate immediately but the House Committee immediately reassembled after the session ended and in a few minutes, the Wright Bill was out by a vote of 7 to 5. Some disappointment was voiced that Delegate Davis, of Halifax, believed to be favorable to the Wright Bill would not vote.

The Senate Committee is not expected to act favorably on the Wright Bill and the scene early next week will be quite intense. In all probability a vote will be reached by the end of the week. As it is a matter which will stay put for a half century, it is natural that the entire State is tremendously interested.
