BETHLEHEM CLUB OPENS FETE

George Washington, Celebration
at High School.

Last Saturday members of the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers Club gathered at the high school to celebrate the Bicentennial. The main feature of the meeting was the presentation of a cherry tree by Mrs. R. A. Hutchison on behalf of the club and an acceptance of the same on behalf of the school by Miss Ann Bradford.

The program opened with a short sketch of Washington by Mrs. Broadus, who was also presiding officer. The boyhood of Washington was described by Mrs. Hodge, emphasizing his attainments, both scholastic and sports. The serious side of his life was also dwelt on, showing the Christian training given by his mother.

Mrs. M. M. Washington spoke of Washington's farm life, and greatly interested everyone with a picture of Washington, formerly the possession of her father-in-law.

Mrs. Hutchison's remarks in presenting the tree follow:

"Principal of the Manassas high school, faculty, patrons and friends of the high school. First I wish to express my thorough enjoyment of this program in honor of the Father of our country, given by his sons and daughters, students of this school. 'Truly great is the man whose memory is kept green and beautiful through the length of two centuries, and not by his own country only, but by practically all the world.'

"I rejoice that all over America living memorials are being erected as a tribute to his memory, instead of inanimate ones of marble, copper, bronze and stone.

"If George Washington used a hatchet, he used a spade more frequently. He loved trees and 10,000,000 trees are being planted in this year of grace 1932, as an evergreen tribute to his memory.

"The Bethlehem Club is most happy to have a part in this planting, happy to pay this tribute to George Washington, and happy to pay a tribute to the Manassas high school in planting it here. It gives the Bethlehem Club much pleasure to present the Japanese cherry tree to the Manassas high school, with the hope that it will be a living memorial."

When the tree was planted, each member of the club threw in a shovel of earth and the gathering sang the following to the tune of "America":
Joy for the sturdy trees,
Fanned by each fragrant breeze,
Lovely they stand:
The song birds o'er them trill,
They shade each tinkling rill,
They crown each swelling hill,
Lowly or grand.
Plant them by stream and way,
Plant where the children play
And toilers rest;
In every verdant vale
On every sunny swale—
Whether to grow or fail,
God knows best.

Select the strong, the fair,
Plant them with earnest care,
No toil is vain.
Plant in a fitter place,
Where, like a lovely face,
Let in some sweeter grace,
Change may prove gain.

God will His blessings send,
All things on Him depend,
His loving care
Clings to each leaf and flower
Like ivy to its tower,
His presence and His power
Are everywhere.

After Miss Osbourne, principal, expressed the thanks of the school, a prayer and benediction were offered by Rev. A. S. Gibson, rector of Trinity Church.

Following the ceremony, a pleasant social hour was spent with Mrs. Jackson and Miss Kinchele as joint hostesses.

M. H. S. DEFEATS UPPERVILLE

On February 12 Manassas high school went to Upperville and won a comparatively easy game, defeating the Upperville five by 21-11.

Smith led the victors by making 11 points. Vetter and Leith played their usually good game. Leith was captain of the Manassas high basketball team.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Mrs. E. Swavely, chairman of the music section of the Manassas Woman's Club, announces a meeting to be held in the reception room at Swavely Monday, February 29, at 2:30 p.m.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY AT MANASSAS

"Out of Court" is the title of the four-act play that will be presented by the Senior class of the high school at the auditorium on Monday night, February 29.

This is a bright, snappy play with not a dull line in it. The action is quick and the story one which will hold the attention of the audience throughout the play. The cast is made up entirely of school talent. The proceeds will be used to lay a cement walk from the street to the high school building.

Doors will be open at 7:30 o'clock and the performance will start promptly at 8:15.

Patrons and friends of the school and the public are all invited to come out and encourage their youthful actors and help a good cause.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. I. I. Anderson Receive Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. I. I. Anderson of Catharpin celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on January 31, receiving congratulations from many relatives and friends. Among more than twenty-five guests who assembled to honor the happy couple were four of the five children, one being unable to attend on account of illness. Several grandchildren were also there.

MR. AND MRS. I. I. ANDERSON

Mr. Anderson will be 80 years old at his next birthday and Mrs. Anderson 69. Both have been lifelong residents of Prince William county. Mrs. Anderson, who was Miss Georgia Matthews, having been born on the property where they now live.

The children are Mrs. Estelle Franklin of Clifton, Mrs. Ben Matthews of Stone House, Mr. Lester Anderson of Catharpin, Mr. Lyndon Anderson and Mr. Berkeley Anderson of Washington.

The assembled guests brought many gifts, including a substantial sum in gold. After a prayer and song service, a bountiful dinner was served and the day was greatly enjoyed by all.

PHARMACISTS TO MEET IN ALEXANDRIA

Walter S. Nicklen, vice-president of the Virginia Pharmaceutical Association, announces to the local press that the second annual meeting will be held in Alexandria on April 13, at the George Mason Hotel. The session will include sight-seeing trips and other pleasant diversion, including dinners, etc.

ATTENDS STATE SESSIONS

Rev. A. S. Gibson and Miss Susie Gibson have returned from a visit to Richmond and Fredericksburg. While in Richmond, Mr. Gibson, who is local chairman for the Virginia T. B. Association and a member of the State Board of Directors, attended meetings of both.

On Monday, they viewed the festivities and ceremonies in Fredericksburg, returning to Manassas on Tuesday evening.

WEDDING SATURDAY

The bridal party from Manassas will leave Washington tomorrow night at 6 p.m. to attend the wedding of Mr. Paul Arrington and Miss Kitty Smith, which will take place in Portsmouth Saturday at 4 p.m. In addition to the family a large crowd of friends from Prince William will go.

AN EPITOME OF THE NEW SECONDARY ROAD PLAN

No more road levies after July 1, but this shall not affect levies for 1932 which shall be used first to pay off road indebtedness incurred prior to that time. Any balance shall go into the county and district funds to be used for other purposes.

The provisions of this act shall not prevent counties adjacent to cities of the first class from laying levies to meet suburban conditions.

Sinking fund levies may be laid as usual but no new indebtedness shall be incurred by reason of bond issues, etc.

No incorporated town is prevented from laying street levies as heretofore and in addition to that any town of over 3,500 population (by the last census) may have the additional privilege of having certain streets within its bounds designated by the Highway Commissioner to be included under the benefits of this act when such street is necessary for efficient through traffic, or in leading traffic to or from the main highways.

Not less than $1,000,000 is to be diverted from the regular highway fund and placed in the fund for secondary road construction.

The gas tax shall be apportioned in exactly the same manner as in 1931.

MANASSAS SHOWS UP WELL

The double-header with Herndon on Friday night was an even break. The girls' game was not close at any time, the faster playing and more experienced Herndon girls keeping the ball in Manassas territory most of the time. Little Miss Mary Lynch at left forward brought in five of the nine points. For Herndon, the forwards, Misses Hilda Peck and Higdon, of Florin, simply mopped up things, scoring twenty-six points between them. Toward the last, Herndon had all of its regulars out of the line-up. Little Jean Bready and Sarah Ellen Dawson showed up well in the "green squad." Manassas appeared to have a number of chances at the basket but lack of accuracy and overanxiety to shoot simply held the score down by easily fifty per cent.

The boys' game was very fast and a little rough around the edges, a large number of fouls being called, a majority of these being on Herndon. The floor had recently been used for dancing and this put both teams on edge, particularly the visitors.

Leith, Vetter and Gilroy did the scoring for Manassas while the Blevins boys put up a fine game for Herndon. Tate played a much better game than the scoring would indicate. Both Peck and C. Blevins used their foul shots to advantage while Manassas missed at least five shots. Herndon's downfall was partly due to their lack of accuracy as a number of fine shots went for naught. Tate and C. Blevins both shot beautiful goals from the floor as did Vetter for Manassas. Manassas was forced to keep its regular team in all the way, Bradshaw and Wilson Kite going in for Leith and Tommy Kite during a short part of the game. Herndon used but one substitute, Holmes for C. Blevins toward the close.

Road maps shall be prepared and two copies furnished the clerk of each county. Public hearings will be held before the county system is declared established, and this may be changed whenever the Highway Commissioner so decides.

All machinery and equipment may be turned over to the State after inventory and paid for in two years, or the county may dispose of it as it sees fit.

The same power of eminent domain is vested in the Highway Commissioner with respect to the secondary roads as is now exercised with respect to the primary road system.

The establishment of new roads and the abandonment of old roads may still be carried on by the local boards of supervisors.

Any county upon application to the court of 15 per cent of the voters in 1928 election (not less than 250) may hold an election to decide whether it desires to go into the State system. Such an election must be held prior to September 1, and anyone who voted in the 1930 elections or who qualifies himself this year 30 days prior to such special election, may vote in this election.

GLEE CLUB TO GIVE PROGRAM

An interesting program of entertainment will be provided at the Brentsville District high school on Tuesday evening, March 1, at 8:00 o'clock by the Glee Club of the Manassas Industrial School. The people of the district and county are cordially invited by the committee of the Brentsville District Community Association which is arranging for the entertainment.

There will be no charge for admission.

MR. RATCLIFFE TO RETURN HOME IN A FEW DAYS

Mr. G. R. Ratcliffe, who has been in the Garfield Hospital for several weeks, has sufficiently recovered to come home in a few days.

During Mr. Ratcliffe's illness several hundred people called at the hospital to inquire about him.

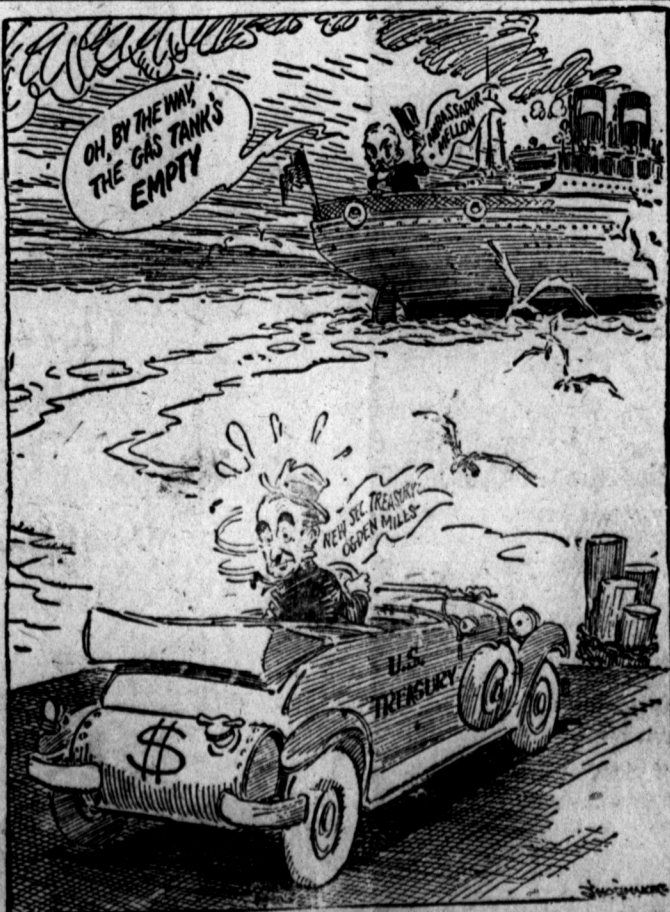

Mr. Ratcliffe is very popular and his friends are delighted at his recovery from a serious operation.

U. D. C.

The Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will meet on Wednesday, March 2, at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. E. H. Marsteller. All members are urged to be present.

At the half, Herndon crawled up to within four points of Manassas and the scoring held that ratio almost to the end, when three goals took the heart out of Herndon's attack.

Mr. Kline acted as referee, and Heglar as timekeeper.

Parting Remarks

MANASSAS WELL REPRESENTED

Fifteen members of the local fire department journeyed to old Alexandria on Monday to take part in the greatest demonstration ever put on in our sister city. The boys made a good showing and got a hand all the way down the line. The Baltimore contingent was quite enthusiastic when they passed, and the big town folks are good critics.

Following is a list of those who rode on the truck:

President Albert Speiden; Chief T. W. Howard; Assistant Chief R. B. Hynson; A. MacMillan, Franklin Hibbs, R. J. Davis, Joseph Corum, Sedric Saunders, Wilson Kite, Sherman Holmes, Douglas Dodson, Warren Coleman, Julian Rector, Jesse Crosby, Mason Mayhugh and G. F. King.

J. M. FRANKLIN DIES AT CLIFTON

Coroner Gives Verdict of Suicide.

Early this morning about 3:30 Mr. James M. Franklin, age 52, of Clifton Station, was instantly killed by the discharge of a shot gun. Earlier in the night, it is stated, he had seriously wounded two young men, Eugene Edwards and Robert Turley, both of whom are in the Alexandria Hospital.

The remains were brought to Manassas, where Dr. Ransome, coroner of Fairfax county, held an inquest and pronounced the tragedy a case of suicide.

Burial will take place in Leesburg on Sunday.

MANASSAS MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION MEETS

The regular meeting of the Manassas Memorial Association was held Wednesday, February 24, at the home of Mrs. A. O. Weedon.

The meeting was opened with the president, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, in the chair. A representative crowd was present.

After the reading of the minutes, the treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Compton, gave her report, stating that all obligations of the association for the past year have been paid.

It was decided to offer a prize again this year to the third year history class of the Manassas high school for the best essay on "The Causes of the War between the States."

Mrs. R. S. Hynson was appointed to confer with the teachers, urging them to have as many as possible compete for this prize.

Mrs. Albert Speiden was requested to look into the matter of placing iron crosses on the Confederate graves here.

The meeting was then turned into a discussion of plans for the annual Jefferson Davis memorial service on June 3.

The following committees were appointed:

Program—Mrs. C. M. Larkin, chairman, Mrs. C. A. Sinclair, sr., and Mrs. Ayleene Guthrie.

Flags—Mrs. Norvelle Larkin, chairman, Miss Isabelle Hutchison, Mrs. R. S. Hynson, and Mrs. E. H. Hibbs.

Music—Mrs. W. A. Newnam, chairman, and Mrs. R. L. Byrd.

Decoration—Mrs. Stewart McBryde, chairman, Mrs. W. F. Dowell, and Mrs. Benjamin Brown.

Memorial—Mrs. Albert Speiden.

It was decided to hold the services at the cemetery. The program in full will be published at a later date.

The meeting adjourned to meet again in May.

COUNTY 4-H CLUB COUNCIL TO MEET

The first meeting of the County 4-H Club Council for the year will be held on Saturday, March 5, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Parish Hall of the Episcopal church. All leaders and officers of the 4-H clubs throughout the county are urged to be present to assist with the plan of work for the year.

Mr. Gordon Eleon, assistant boys club agent for the state, will be present to address the group.

FACULTY CHANGES IN COUNTY

Miss Helen Sowers of Wellington resigned on Feb. 1 and Miss Julia Hill Sower of Hume, Va., has taken her place.

Mrs. India Flinn Coleman appointed to take Miss Kittle Smith's place at Bennett school.

School board meets on Wednesday, March 2.

BUDGET PLANS FAIL TO AGREE

Each Member of Board's Committee Files Separate Exhibit.

More than a hundred interested taxpayers were disappointed on Tuesday when a detailed discussion of the tentative budget was not held. In introducing his budget, Supervisor Lynn offered with a motion to dispense with all district road levies for 1932-33. Mr. Earhart spoke against this motion and Mr. Roland made the suggestion that "each district should pay its own expenses." The motion was tabled.

Chairman Earhart, the other member of the committee, introduced his version of the budget. Both are being published in The Journal.

Dr. Marsteller made an effort to have a discussion of the salaries of certain of the county officers, but the Board seemed it advisable to hear any statements for or against the budget at a special meeting in March preceding the regular meeting.

Prior to this, Mr. Lynn introduced a motion to accept the Byrd plan of centralizing road construction in all counties to the state. In opposing this motion, Mr. Roland explained that he had not only not had time to study the plan which was not before the Board but that the centralizing of power at Richmond was an unwise move.

Four thousand dollars was ordered transferred from county fund to Gainesville district.

The clerk reported the December gas tax receipts as $1968.07.

By a vote of 4-2, the Board passed a resolution memorializing the General Assembly not to impose any undue taxation on trucks and other modern methods of transportation.

The Industrial Commission notified the Board that a representative will meet the Board here on Monday relative to carrying out the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation law.

Dr. B. L. Hume was appointed physician to the poor for Brentsville district.

REPUBLICANS SHOW EARLY ACTIVITY

W. E. Trusler, member of the State Executive Committee of the Republican Party, reports two meetings over the week end. On Saturday, he and John Grayson, district chairman for the Eighth District, journeyed to a meeting of the State Committee at Roanoke to fix the time of the state convention at which seven delegates at large to the national convention will be named.

On Tuesday, the District meeting was held at Alexandria. Purcellville came in strong and demanded the district convention at that point, which request was granted. (Rumors of a chicken dinner are reported to have had something to do with the decision.—Ed. note.)

The District convention will be held on March 9 and the State convention at Roanoke on April 2. The National convention will be held in Chicago on June 14.

NOKESVILLE

Mrs. Ernest Hale, who was operated on last Saturday morning for appendicitis at Sibley Hospital in Washington, is doing nicely and will be home in a few days.
Miss Faith Shepherd was successfully operated on for appendicitis at the Warrenton Hospital last Monday. She is convalescing rapidly and expects to be home Thursday.

Mrs. Clem Southard of Catlett, who was taken to the Warrenton Hospital last Wednesday night, underwent an operation for appendicitis. She is recovering rapidly and satisfactorily.

Mrs. B. L. Hume of Nokesville, who left here for Charlotte, N. C., a month ago to be with her mother, who is critically ill, will probably remain a month longer on account of the continued illness of her mother.

Mrs. Paul Sanger and son, who have been visiting Mrs. E. C. Owens, returned to Connecticut last week with Mr. Quinter Miller.

Mr. Will Wright, who has been home for the past ten days with the grippe, will be able to go back to work soon.

We apologize to Miss Hazel Cornwell of the seventh grade and Miss Hazel Baker of the sixth grade, whose names should have been on the honor roll, but were omitted by mistake.

Our girls again saved the day (or the night rather) for Brentsville District last Saturday night, when they toppled the strong Oakton team 1815. The action was fast and furious most of the time. Louise May and Elizabeth Allen kept hitting the basket in spectacular fashion. Our defensive faction also smothered the offensive drives of the invaders. A good game this.

Our boys didn't fare so well against Oakton's state championship team. The Oakton quint showed a flashy brand of basketball. During the first period they scored easily and often, the score standing at 23-5 at the half. In the final half the game was nip-and-tuck. Brentsville basketballers scoring 9 points and Oakton 8. McClure of Oakton was the strength for the visitors. His unusual work at center enabled his team to score several times from the toss-up.

The alumni team of Brentsville District and Lee-Jackson high held the spotlight through the last part of the evening. The boys shuffled the dogs around in right keen fashion. Case, the mountain of strength for the Lee-Jackson outfit, led his cohorts to victory. This boy showed some real form. The final score was 26-14.

Hear ye! Hear ye! The folks of this community will receive a treat Tuesday night, March 1, when the Brentsville District Standard Community Association meets. The Glee Club from the Industrial Institution at Manassas will be on hand to furnish the entertainment. You can't afford to miss this. Business affecting everybody in the district will be discussed. Let's have 100 percent attendance. The Methodist Sunday school held its class social at Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Payne's on February 18. The following were present: Dorothy McMichael, Janet Trenis, Emory Grey, Theresa Payne, Goldie Knicely, Herrell Shaffer, Rufus Britton, Lapoint Trenis, Elizabeth Allen, Elizabeth Shumaker, Christine Hedrick, Herbert Crummett, Marie Harpine, Beulah Hanlin, Harry Miller, William Allen, Stuart McMichael, Frances Payne, Willard Wilkins, Stanley Harpine, Charles Herring and Rev. Mr. Larrick. After the class discussion, games were played and delicious refreshments were served.

IMITATION MOTHER-LOVE FAILS

Paramount, the company that discovered Kay Francis for movie fans, and gave her the opportunities which she so graciously converted into fame in one film success after another, "does right by our Kay" again in "The False Madonna," a picture of great romantic and dramatic interest, which opens at the Dixie Theatre next Friday.

For Paramount has here cast the provocative Miss Francis in a role that evokes all of her most praiseworthy capabilities in the art of make-believe.

As Tina, the decoy of a gang of international "confidence" crooks, she gives a most satisfying performance. And for those who like to see things turn out that way—it is a pleasure to behold the completeness of the regeneration of this woman, from a scheming crook to a lovable, wholesome foster-mother of an orphaned youth.

William Boyd, as the head of a gang of conspirators, learns of a 17-year-old youth, John Breeden, who is about to come into a large fortune. One of the contingencies of the golden wind-fall is that Breeden's mother makes her appearance. She had left him in his infancy.

Since there were only two or three people who really knew what Breeden's mother actually looked like, Boyd's mother is to have Kay pose as the lost mother. Thus as "The False Madonna," she presents herself at the lad's home and is received cordially by the frail youth. Her beauty, kindness and warm attention win the heart of the boy. His response awakens in the heretofore stony-hearted Kay a genuine sympathy and love for the fragile child.

She meets Conway Tearle, the family lawyer, and falls in love with him. Meanwhile Boyd has begun to become insistent in his demands that she rob young Breeden and turn the funds over to him.

This brings the action to a series of exciting events and to its satisfactorily romantic conclusion.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

GOD'S PLEASANT SURPRISES:—Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him.—1 Corinthians 2: 9.

"A GOOD NEIGHBOR"

In the course of one of his recent speeches on unemployment, the Prince of Wales said, among other things, "there is no central machinery that can provide a substitute for the good neighbor." The prince applied his assertion more directly to the value of the neighbor to the jobless man, but our interest in the statement lies another way.

Who, it may be asked, is our neighbor? Aside from the Biblical sense of the word, it is certainly true of our urban centers that neighborliness and the neighbor have well-nigh disappeared. The automobile, the movies and the apartment house have all three contributed to a virtual disappearance of the neighbor. It is possible even in relatively small cities to live for years next door to persons whom one seldom sees and never meets. Only in the suburbs is there a vestige of neighborliness remaining. We are no longer dependent upon proximity for our acquaintanceships and associates, and except in communities where the residents and their homes antedate the immediately modern period, few people nowadays have, in any true sense, real neighbors.

In apartment houses, it is social immunity rather than social contact that is sought and indifference to what goes on across the hall or on the floor above—so long as there is no noise—is the typical characteristic of the apartment dweller.

American urban life has virtually destroyed that strong neighborhood life which still exists in Europe and was one of the virtues of the early American village. It is extremely doubtful whether the friend who is twenty miles away is worth more than some person living within the block; but we prefer the former if for no other reason than that the thought of going somewhere lends value to the association.

We are a strange people, keeping our contacts in half a hundred places and scorning to limit our associations to the community in which we live.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

AMERICAN GARDENS

Gardens and gardening are receiving more attention in this country than ever before. There are garden clubs and garden contests in many communities to stimulate interest in surrounding individual homes with flowers and shrubbery, but there is also a new interest in community gardening.

J. C. Wister, a landscape architect, tells American cities that they are much in need of lovely public gardens not only for municipal beautification but to attract tourists. He points out that many European cities and some in America have found their flower plantings a major attraction for visitors. Thus the gardens are a basis for local pleasure and pride and also of profit.

Interest in garden may be interpreted as a sign of growing up. This nation has passed the pioneer stage of tearing down and building with such speed that there is no time for beauty. It is now ready to do the more leisurely things which make for happiness and contentment.—Exchange.

(COMMUNICATED)

"Early to bed and early to rise, but you all go broke if you don't advertise."

The above comes from an Exchange. The sender heard it over the radio and the author of the slogan is said to have been the Prince of Wales.

RULES OF CIVILITY

The following Rules of Civility are said to have been written by George Washington in his copybook during the year 1745. They were probably dictated by his teacher, Rev. James Marye, a Frenchman, whose school Washington attended in Fredericksburg. The rules have been traced to a French manual written about 1494. During the nine-month Bicentennial season it would be well for all Americans to dedicate themselves to these rules, which evidently influenced the life of our beloved Washington:

"Every action in company ought to be with some sign of respect to those present."

"Be no flatterer, neither play with anyone that delights not to be played with."

"Read no letters, books or papers in company; but when there is a necessity for doing it, you may ask leave. Come not near books or writings of anyone so as to read them unless desired nor give your opinion of them unasked; also, look not nigh when another is writing a letter."

"Sleep not when others speak; sit not when others stand; speak not when you should hold your peace."

"Show not yourself glad at the misfortune of another, though he were your enemy."

"Undertake not what you cannot perform, but be careful to keep your promise."

"Let your discourse with men of business be short and comprehensive."

"Mock not nor jest at anything of importance; make no jests that are sharpbiting, and if you deliver anything witty and pleasant, abstain from laughing there at yourself."

"Wherein you reprove another be unblamable yourself; for example is far more prevalent than precepts."

"Use no reproachful language against anyone, neither curse nor revile."

"Be not hasty to believe flying reports to the disparagement of any."

"Associate yourself with men of good quality if you esteem your own reputation; for it is better to be alone than in bad company."

"Be not angry at table, whatever happens, and, if you have reason to be so, show it not; put on a cheerful countenance, especially if there be strangers, for good humor makes one dish of meat a feast."

"Let your recreations be manifold, not sinful."

"Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience."

EXPRESS THANKS

The committee, in behalf of the Volunteer Fire Department, wishes to take this opportunity to thank those who helped to make their Valentine Benefit Dance a success.

FLORENCE I. MANUEL

Mrs. Florence Irene Manuel died on Saturday at Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, following an operation on Wednesday.

Mrs. Manuel was the daughter of the late Luther and Lillie Heflin and was born in Fauquier county on June 27, 1899.

Monday afternoon a host of relatives and friends gathered at Belle Haven church to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Murray Taylor, pastor of the church, and she was laid to rest in the cemetery near the grave of a former husband.

The deceased is survived by a husband, Mr. Redmon Manuel, one sister, Mrs. Sadie Norman, and one brother, Mr. Judson Heflin, and a host of other relatives and friends.

The pall-bearers were Michael Oleyar, Samuel Kinchelee, Cleve Wright, Willie Smith, Hampton Groves and Lewis Waple.

JULIA A. TOWNSEND

Departed this life on the evening of Feb. 13, Mrs. Julia A. Townsend, wife of the late Robert Alexander Townsend, of Fairfax county.

Although she had been in declining health for some years and had been confined to her room for several weeks yet the end came suddenly and as quite a shock. She had passed the limit of the four score, being on the day of her death 83 years 11 months and 13 days.

Mrs. Townsend was born near Greenwich and spent most of her life in that community. A few years after the death of her husband whom she had tenderly cared for during his last illness she came to make her home with her cousins, the Ellis brothers at "The Mill."

For many years Mrs. Townsend had been a consistent member of the Greenwich church and was ever ready to respond to every call from her church and was faithful in all the walks of life.

Funeral services were held from Greenwich church on Monday afternoon, Feb. 15, at 2:30 p.m. by her rector, Rev. J. R. Cooke, and she was tenderly laid to rest in the church yard adjacent beside the grave of her husband who preceded her nearly thirty-one years ago.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. John and Raymond Ellis, Douglas and Frank Cockerell, Robert A. Florence and Bernard Cross.

The beautiful floral offerings attributed to the high esteem in which she was held.

Surviving are three nephews, Mr. Robert A. Florence of Gainesville, Mr. Ackie Florence of Norfolk and Mr. William Florence of Shepherdstown; a number of relatives and a host of friends in this community.

MARY STOVER KEYSER

The entire community in which she lived was much saddened by the death on Saturday evening, February 13, of one of its oldest and best known residents, Mrs. Mary Stover Keyser, wife of the late Eugene Keyser of "Belted Fields," Thoroughfare.

The funeral took place from St. Paul's Church, Haymarket, on Tuesday, Feb. 16, the ritual being read by the rector, Rev. W. F. Carpenter, at the conclusion of which she was laid to rest in the churchyard.

Mrs. Keyser had almost reached her 90th year. Her long and useful life was full of good deeds. Her remarkable, optimistic personality and the warmth and sincerity of her greeting won for her a host of friends. She was a devoted member of St. Paul's Church, Haymarket, and for many years one of its most active workers. As long as her strength permitted she was always present at the Sunday morning service. The church will hardly seem the same without Mrs. Keyser.

Her surviving children are: Miss Ella Keyser and Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly of Thoroughfare, Mrs. Walter P. Tittre of Rochester, N. Y., Edgar Keyser of Harrisburg, Pa., and Lt. Col. R. S. Keyser, now stationed in Washington, and five grandchildren.

MARRIAGE RECORD

Feb. 22—Freeman Botts Gaines and Audrey Ethel Bell, both of Haymarket.

Where the plans for dairy buildings drawn up by Mr. Gordon for the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association for use in Virginia and Maryland do not fit in with certain conditions such as remodeling of old barns, he will be glad to look over the situation and give as much time as is needed in drawing up special plans and furnishing blueprints. He will come to the county again in March and those wishing help along this line will be taken care of by notifying the county agent.

NOTED ORIENTALS AT DIXIE THEATRE

Those two outstanding Orientals, Anna May Wong and Sessue Hayakawa, are very much worthwhile at the Dixie Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, where they are featured with Warner Oland, the original Fu Manchu, in a new episode of the fascinating Sax Rohmer series, filmed by Paramount as "Daughter of the Dragon."

For those who like romance seasoned with puzzles, thrills and action evolved from lurking mystery, this production talks right out and says big things to any movie audience.

Miss Wong is an oriental actress of obvious personable points, who surrenders to her dying father's wish, and drops a glamorous point of vantage in London's theatrical firmament to project a program of vengeance. With all his fiendish application of chemistry and psychology Fu Manchu was not a more resolute menace than the pretty daughter proves to be. Loved by an exalted gentleman of her own race, loving an English nobleman, she allows her heart dictates no chance to defeat the accomplishment of her oath.

The scene of action spins from Limehouse, London's gay white way, and murky Thames River, to luxurious estates of the titled. There are plenty of secret panels and passageways, ominous shadows, and a climax that will grasp your heart tighter than baby hands can take hold of a proffered finger or doo-dad.

Director Lloyd Corrigan also shares credit for the adaptation of this satisfying mystery thriller with Monte M. Katterjohn.

Supporting roles of note are enacted by Holmes Herbert, Frances Dade, Bramwell Fletcher, Nella Walker, Nicholas Soussanin and Lawrence Grant.

The recording is good, and this picture, more than any other of recent release, will demonstrate to you that mystery thrill pictures have developed their own talkie technique.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Beulah Blakey, who departed this life one year ago today, Feb. 26, 1931.

One year has passed, dear mother,
Since you were called away.
How well do we remember
That sad and weary day!

You suffered hours, yes, hours of pain
To wait for cure but in vain,
Till God alone knew what was best.
He called you home to give you rest.

Forget you? No, we never will.
We loved you then, we love you still.
Your memory is as fresh today
As in the hour you passed away.

God alone knows how we miss you.

Never shall your memory fade.
Loving thoughts shall always wander
To the spot where you were laid.

What is home without a mother?
All gifts this world may send,
But when we lost our dear mother
We lost our dearest friend.

From this world of pain and sorrow
To the land of peace and rest
God has taken you, dearest mother,
Where you will find eternal rest.
Her devoted daughters,
Bessie and Sophronia.

NEW DELCO ANNOUNCED

F. R. Hynson Says New Equipment Advances Rural Electrification.

A new Delco-Light plant, which opens the way to electrical service for thousands of farms, was announced by Hynson and Bradford, dealers for Delco-Light products in Prince William, Fauquier and Fairfax counties. Mr. Hynson, whose headquarters are at Manassas, says that the new Delco-Light is the most advanced step taken in rural electrification since the invention of the first individual power and light plant nearly sixteen years ago.

The new equipment, which is manufactured by the Delco Appliance Corporation, subsidiary of General Motors, at Rochester, N. Y., in appearance is vastly different from any other plant in the field. It is more compact, more pleasing from the artistic standpoint and improved from every standpoint. Mechanically, all the best features of former plants have been retained, with improvements made where tests showed them advisable. Bearings are built extra heavy and the lubrication has been designed to keep a constant oil flow to all moving parts.

Months of experiments in the Delco Appliance Laboratories in Rochester and in actual operation in the field have added many refinements to the new plant. In the laboratories, artificial weather, ranging from below zero to summer heat, has tried the performance of the new plant. Then, to be sure of satisfactory operation under various climatic conditions, experimental plants were installed in New York, North Carolina, Louisiana, Colorado, Missouri and Minnesota. Nearly 375,000 Delco-Light plants have been put in service since the

CRAWFORD-GABLE ROMANTIC TEAM

The romantic team of Joan Crawford and Clark Gable in a dramatic story of a factory girl who becomes the toast of Park Avenue makes an engrossing talkie of "Possessed," which will come to the Dixie Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The picture was adapted from the Edgar Selwyn stage hit, "The Mirage," and was directed by Clarence Brown, who last filmed the Norma Shearer success, "A Free Soul."

Miss Crawford's role as the girl who turns down the man she loves, in order to leave him free to become the governor of his state, gives her every opportunity for a display of her dramatic prowess.

Her transformation from a plain factory worker to a member of the changes. The story also entails a number of spectacular scenic back-grounds.

The star sings a new song in this picture, "How Long Will It Last?" which title in itself gives away much of the plot.

Gable is seen as the candidate for governor. Wallace Ford, popular New York stage leading man, makes his screen debut in this picture as Gable's rival for the affections of the heroine.

NOSEY NORA

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
(WNU Service)

NORA had always been what the family vulgarly called "nosey." She always wondered what the people at tables round about her were eating and what shoppers had in their numerous bundles. She even surmised at sight of trunks and suitcases just what their contents might be.

Nora didn't mind being kidded about her curiosity.

"It's a perfectly harmless amusement," she always said. "And I get heaps of fun out of it."

"You should be a detective instead of an editor," some of her friends told her.

So in order to be nearer her editorial chair Nora took a small apartment in an old house down town.

There were two rooms on the second floor with a large dressing room connecting them and Nora had scarcely decided on them when she fell to wondering if there was anything in the cupboards that lined the wall above the ample wardrobes. They were so high that she figured she would have to climb on a table top if she were to make use of them. Soon after she had settled in her new quarters she climbed up on her small kitchen table to pull open the old mahogany door.

"Humph!" she commented, "there's not much here. The former tenant took everything along—fine place to put away winter curtains and coats and hats. What ho! I believe I've discovered something." She strained on tiptoe and dislodged a panel of wood that had made the cupboard a few inches more shallow than its mates. Nora was getting excited. She dislodged the panel and exclaimed with surprise.

The little compartment so carefully concealed was filled with papers and a diary. Nora sat down on the edge of the table, her feet swinging animatedly, her eyes swiftly scanning the pages of the diary.

"Well, of all things!" she exploded, "this is some poor struggling writer's farewell to a career and oh! how broken hearted he is." She reread portions, "With the sealing up of this panel I am hiding away all that makes life wonderful—my soul and all the best of me is here—the rest is going into a world of business and a hunt for the filthy lucre that enables one to live and marry. I am doing it for Amy—I regret she could not give me a longer trial at writing. I know I should have won out. However, there seems to be penalties attached to loving so—good-by—fair dreams." A tear splashed down on the diary and Nora dabbed her nose with her handkerchief. She jumped up swiftly and hauled down a lot of the manuscripts packed in the cupboard.

For a long time Nora read the stories. When she had finished about a dozen she went down to the housekeeper and made inquiry as to the previous tenants in her room. She got much information. Sufficient anyway to make her fling herself into her coat and hat and take the subway up to Seventy-second street.

It was about seven in the evening as she made her way to a most respectable boarding house and asked if Mr. Tom Webber still lived there.

"Is he in at present?" asked Nora, and being told to have a seat in the reception room she waited.

She glanced up when a sort of miserable looking young man came questioning toward her. She told him straight off that she wished to talk with him about some stories and diary that she had found in her studio.

The light that swept suddenly over Webber's face brought a swift lump to Nora's throat. He was transformed from his misery into radiant life and interest. He sat down close beside Nora.

"Mr. Webber," said Nora severely, "you are a very wicked and very weak young man."

Webber had not expected anything like this and he looked his surprise.

"Worse!" continued Nora. "You have deliberately tried to strangle a brain child—to cast it off for the sake of some woman. You should be thoroughly ashamed of yourself—to have knuckled down to a paltry money-making position when you have a wonderful gift."

Webber gasped, then laughed the first hearty laugh he had felt since leaving his old studio. "There must be lots to tell me," he said swiftly and eagerly. "won't you come out to some quiet place with me for dinner? I'm so fed up with this conventional boarding house with its three square meals a day that I feel I will burst—if I don't get out."

Nora laughed in complete sympathy and wondered how a fine manly man like Tom Webber had ever let himself be stepped on by some female. "Love," she thought, "is a funny thing."

"A good idea," Nora said, "so get your hat. I can hardly wait to tell you how good your stories are."

Webber snatched both her hands in his and gave them a squeeze that hurt before dashing upstairs three at a time for his hat.

"You will be a very large, red feather in my editorial cap," she told him later. "I am annoyed that you never tried my magazine—with any of your stories."

"I didn't dare aspire so high—I thought you only took good names," he said modestly.

"Only good stories," said Nora, and when she saw the look in Webber's eyes, that was all for her, she knew that for once her nosiness had led her into real romance.

FARM POULTRY

MOST VITAL POINT IS PROPER MATING

Careful Selection of Male Big Proposition.

Correct mating of poultry for greatest profits during the coming year is a difficult problem and one that is usually conducted as a "hit-or-miss" proposition.

N. W. Williams, poultryman in charge of North Carolina state college flocks, says mating poultry is a hard job for the experienced poultryman, and that the inexperienced man generally gives it no consideration at all. However, it is one of the most important jobs to be undertaken at the beginning of the new poultry year.

First, the grower must know what he wants. If he wants egg production, he must mate birds that have been producing eggs. If he wants show birds, he must use those that have the standard conformations.

To mate birds for egg production, the poultryman ought to understand what body factors indicate high egg production, says Williams. Select those of standard weight that are vigorous, broad, deep and with large body capacity. Such birds will lay more eggs and the chicks will be stronger than those from birds which do not have such desirable characteristics. If the hens lack some of these good qualities but are good layers, use a male bird which will correct the deficiency in the chicks. No bird should be used in the breeding pens which has a tendency to be weak constitutionally.

Immature Pullets Show

Poor Laying Qualities

Pullet culling proved its value in a Wyoming country poultry farm demonstration conducted by the county agricultural extension association, D. C. Henderson, poultry extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, said.

From a flock of 800 white leghorn pullets a year ago 133 were separated from the others because they were immature. A careful record of the production of the two groups was then kept for five months. In November the cull birds had 6.6 per cent egg production while the properly developed pullets laid at the rate of 46 per cent. In December the percentages were 22 and 51 respectively. In January 24 and 41. In February 34 and 47, and in March 46.5 and 68. Averages for five months are 26.6 and 50 per cent, showing the well-developed pullets nearly doubled the production of immature birds.

Housing Suggestions

It is necessary to comfortably house the chickens during the winter months in order to make the maximum profits.

Comfortable housing provides for: 1. Four square feet of floor space for each bird of the heavy breeds and three square feet of floor space for the light breeds.

2. Light in every part of the house.

3. A dry floor all the time.

4. An open front through which sunshine may get into the house.

5. Ventilation system that will furnish fresh air without a draft and will remove the moisture from the inside of the poultry house.

6. A warm house and the conservation of body heat during the cold months.

Brooding Baby Chicks

A laying house is used for brooding baby chicks on the John Schaff farm, Macomb county, Michigan. Last fall Mr. Schaff started with 1,000 laying hens in two Michigan shed type houses. By March 1 the flock had been culled to 600, all were put into one house and the other house, 80 feet long and 20 feet wide, was cleaned, disinfected thoroughly and used for brooding 2,800 chicks.

The chicks were kept two weeks in battery brooders, then were put into the laying house. Six electric brooders were hung from the ceiling of the laying house.—Capper's Farmer.

Beets for Hens

Beets and other garden vegetables are valuable additions to the ration of hens and may be fed without weighing them out. Beets, carrots and cabbages are all good succulent foods, apples may also be given in moderation, sweet ones being best. These vegetables are usually fed at noon, giving the flock what it will clean up in an hour or two. Hens accustomed to them, however, will not eat too much if they are before the flock through the day.

Flock Profits Vary

Of 214 Ohio farmers who kept records on the Leghorn flocks during the past year, sixteen of the group lost money; 66 made from 1 cent to $1 per bird; 101 made from $1 to $2 per bird; 23 made from $2 to $3 per bird, and eight made more than $3 per bird. This wide divergence in profits indicates the possibilities when good feeding, good housing and good management are given the flock, is the assertion made by a writer in the Prairie Farmer.

The Board will meet in the court house of Prince William county on Monday, March 28, at 10 a.m. to hear anyone who is opposed to or in favor of the adoption of either of the above proposed budgets. The regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 29.

FOR more than ten years the Hebrew university on Mount Scopus, in Palestine, has been struggling for its existence, and how, especially, it needs help. The depression throughout the world has cost the institution much of the support it would receive in normal times. SUNSET: PARIS

From the high tower of a cathedral I watch the time-worn city And its river. Now in the glamorous hour of sunset The sky is one vast canvas.— In the east There is a marvelous bank of clouds More richly hued than one of Corot's pictures. The pointed roofs and spires of Paris Are sharply hued in ebony Against the orange west.— All this is doubled in the shining water.— Slowly the night Empties the streets of sunset gold.— Day fades To a sheet of silver On the Seine.
