SHALL WE KEEP THE COUNTY NURSE?

Mr. Editor: In view of the effort now being made on the part of some to reduce tax expenditures by cutting out the money paid to the social service workers of the county, including the county nurse, it is a great pity that the children of the county themselves could not realize the threat to the future of many of them that this small saving of cutting out the health work would mean. If they could realize it, their outcry would be great indeed! The saving to the average taxpayer in doing away with this county health work would be so small—in the large majority of cases only a few cents per year—that the battle over this matter would be comic, if it were not so full of tragic possibilities for the children, and indeed for their elders too, for all may take contagious diseases.

In the days before we had the county nurse there was a constant succession during the school year of epidemics of all kinds—measles, mumps, influenza, and sometimes diphtheria and scarlet fever—for the schools unless carefully watched by trained health workers are often hotbeds of contagion. These epidemics constantly kept out one group of children after another during most of the school year, thus causing many of them to repeat their classes and so to add to the school expenditures. For the parents also, these epidemics often meant large doctor's bills; in many cases weakened lungs or throats or feeble eyesight for the children, and sometimes even their death.

Now, since the advent of the county nurse who, trained for the work, keeps a close watch on the whole situation, these disastrous and very expensive epidemics are fast becoming a thing of the past. Also this same county nurse looks after any children throughout the county enfeebled or crippled (often by these same epidemics) whose parents are unable to care for them. She sees that they are helped, and in many cases cured, by obtaining for them free hospital or surgical treatment—treatment that the parents are unable to pay for, and the actual cost of which would be hundreds of times the trifling tax they pay towards the salary of the county nurse.

Taxes are in many cases high, but saving in them could be made in other and wiser ways than in the very small sum paid by the individual taxpayer to the county nurse. The expenses of county government, for instance, could and should be made much less by using the same group of county officials that we now have over a wider area, that is by combining counties. Another great saving might be effected by having fewer and larger schools. These are some of the ways in which many hundreds of dollars might be saved to the taxpayers. So why not consider them instead of the suicidal policy of doing away with the public health work of such vital importance to us all, and the keeping of which costs the individual taxpayer so little and often repays him a hundred fold.

E. H. OSBOURN.

SILVER TEA AT METHODIST CHURCH

The young ladies of Miss Myer's class at the Methodist church, South, under the direction of Mrs. Pruett, transformed the basement room into a delightful parlor on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Hite poured tea, assisted by Mrs. Ellis. The receiving list included other members of Miss Myer's class. A silver offering given by those attending amounted to quite a few dollars.

GARDEN AND CANNING CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Through the foods and gardening projects the women of Prince William county are emphasizing well-balanced meals throughout the year at the least possible cost. Records show that in no way can food costs be cut quite so much as by the ample home supply of vegetables and fruits throughout the year. In order to direct the attention of all the women of the county to gardening and help them to check on the efficiency of their gardening and the adequacy of their canning a county-wide campaign is being launched. This campaign is to be known as "the more living from your garden and pantry shelves campaign."

Requirements for the campaign are:

1. A minimum of 17 vegetables planted—6 fall vegetables, 3 of which are leafy; 2 root and 1 fruit.
  2. Can 10 quarts of tomatoes, 15 quarts of other vegetables and 15 quarts of fruits for each member of her family.
  3. Make a simple canning budget based on the size of her family.
  4. Keep a simple record and report at the close of the campaign.
- Enrollments for the campaign are being made through home demonstration committees. Those wishing to enroll or to know more about the campaign may communicate with the following women: Mrs. Otis Latham, Haymarket; Miss Katie Boley, Greenwich; Mrs. J. O. Bittle, Nokesville; Mrs. T. Powell Davis, Woodlawn; or Mrs. Eastman Keys, Dumfries.

FRIGIDAIRE ANNOUNCES PRICE REDUCTIONS

The spotlight of the electric refrigeration industry rests upon Frigidaire, following its recent announcement of sweeping price reductions ranging down to as low as $130 f. o. b. Dayton, according to Hynson & Bradford, local dealers.

"For the first time in the history of electric refrigeration it is possible to buy a household refrigerator of known value, backed by General Motors at such low prices," they said.

"Already we have received scores of inquiries from people who were amazed to learn that a genuine Frigidaire with all its known value, dependability and superiorities can be had at present prices. This is possible only because the company, the largest manufacturer of electric refrigerating equipment in the world, has considered manufacturing economies resulting from a greatly increased volume of business."

According to word received from Dayton, the Frigidaire plants have already been placed upon a larger production schedule, necessitated by the greatly increased volume of business which immediately followed the sensational price reductions.

"Any person who will stop at our store to see the present Frigidaire models and judge them on both a price and value standard will immediately recognize the reasons why the recent price reductions caused such universal interest and how Frigidaire through tremendous manufacturing volume and quantity buying of materials can make such remarkable prices possible," said F. R. Hynson today.

ILL AT HOSPITAL

Mr. Franklin Beavers, assistant at the Shell Gas Station, was taken suddenly ill on Thursday last, and after a hurried trip to a Washington hospital, with Mr. J. S. Woodard acting as the Good Samaritan, he was found to be in serious condition with appendicitis.

At present he is said to be resting comfortably after his operation.

MOUNT VERNON—GEORGE WASHINGTON'S SHRINE

This Shrine to the GREAT WASHINGTON was made possible by the PATRIOTIC WOMEN OF AMERICA . . .

Where rolls the Potomack
And hears no sound —
Stands Mt. Vernon on sacred ground
The home of the great Washington.

A building whose four walls
Have housed the patriots of a nation
A beautiful garden — a living inspiration,
A shrine to the memory of Washington . . .

With bared head we stand in silence
Beneath the roof of Mt. Vernon
A fleeting feeling — a glimpse of Washington
A sacred moment of the past . . .

We walk in the garden alone
And sweet memories of the ages fill the air:
Behold, The Spirit of Washington is there!

And he walks and talks with time . . .
Down by the river's edge the tide
Ripples upon the shore
With its rhythmic sound — "Evermore"

And rolls to foam at our feet . . .
Beneath the shade of the aged trees
As the sun slowly sinks in the west
Is the spirit of Washington at rest,
Free from the toils of yester-years . . .

Before his tomb in reverence we stand
And breathe a silent prayer
The father of our country is sleeping there,
He rests from the burdens of ages past . . .

His spirit has wended its way
To the God who gave him life
Away from all earthly strife
His memory is enshrined at Mt. Vernon . . .

—By Geo. Dent.

EASTER MINSTREL

On Monday evening, the Manassas High School Glee Club, directed by Miss Virginia Speiden, local director of music for the schools, put on the annual minstrel show given by high school pupils.

Miss Nancy Weir Waters, Miss Speiden and Mrs. Robert Smith officiated at the piano.

The opening scene was the usual blackface line-up with a clever repertoire of jokes (maybe some didn't think they were so clever). This was followed by the "olio" (Yeh, and we don't know what it means, either—Ed. note). The banjo, guitar and cakewalk with a finale of group singing occupied the stage for some time while considerable, mysterious hammering went on behind the scenes.

The curtain revealed an "old Southern setting with Uncle Joe" (and wasn't he cute?), the old-fashioned Southern girl (and she was mighty sweet-looking, too), the Kentucky Colonel (did you get those whiskers?), the wayward darkey, the old folks at home, pickaninies (we hope this is spelled correct. One guess is as good as another), darktown ladies, (and goodness knows what else, for we were sitting over on the side and might have missed something—Ed. notes, ad lib). (And we insist those loud programs were OK, even if we did print 'em). Anyway, it was all put over mighty well and Miss Speiden (not overlooking Mr. Boyles, the professional expert) deserves a big bunch of congratulations, for there is nothing easy about an amateur theatrical.

GAS WORK PROGRESSING

Representatives of the Virginia Gas Distribution Corporation report the following progress up to the close of work yesterday afternoon:

18,000 linear feet of street mains already laid, with a balance of about 8,000 yet to be laid.

The company has been employing seventy men, most of whom are local men.

Twenty contracts have already been signed for actual installation.

POST OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED

American Legion Boys to Hold Forth Again.

Manassas was treated to a real little military show on Friday night when the band and members of Alexandria Post, with Clyde Lanham at the head, "all the king's horses and all the king's men" marched down town and then "they marched up again" while Manassas stood by as interested spectators.

The courthouse was the subsequent scene of the first organization meeting and Edgar Parrish tuned in as first commander of Post 158, American Legion.

Other officers elected: Howard Jamison, vice commander; Doc Pickrel, second vice commander; J. P. Pullen, post adjutant; Cleveland Fitzwater, financial secretary, and M. A. Lynch, sergeant-at-arms.

The same fireworks will be shot all over again this Friday night when the real installation of officers will be held.

Department Adjutant Glenn, who was unable to be here last week, has notified the boys that he will be here to officiate. Forty-two members have signed on Adjutant Pullen's roster.

COW TESTER TO BE RELIEVED

Fauquier Gets Two Herds from Local Association.

The officers and executive committee of the Prince William Dairy Herd Improvement Association met recently at the County Agent's office with W. P. Sadler, testing supervisor for Virginia, to discuss business pertaining to the association.

It was decided that two herds would be turned over to S. M. Bean, tester for the Fauquier Association, temporarily to relieve the local tester, the twenty-seven herds in the association now requiring twenty-eight testers for testing.

CHEVROLET URGES SAFETY SERVICE

National Campaign Begins March 18.

A special service campaign of interest to the more than 4,000,000 Chevrolet owners in the United States is to be launched on a national scale by Chevrolet dealers beginning March 28, M. D. Douglas, general parts and service manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced in Detroit.

Designed to improve the operation and appearance of cars now in owners' hands, the campaign will have the further effect of adding to the safety of the highways by insuring against any possible mechanical defects in those cars serviced during the campaign, Mr. Douglas pointed out.

Some vital operation, ranging from brake adjustments to wheel alignment and complete tightening of every part of the chassis, is to be offered by the dealers at sizable reductions from the flat rate charge, for a period of one week only during the campaign. Ten such "featured services, all having to do with appearance and performance, are in the campaign, which extends over a period of ten weeks.

Mr. Douglas pointed out that the special rates during the campaign will induce many people, who otherwise might not have their car serviced, to check at least vital points pertaining to performance before they get out on the highways during the heavy motor-ing season.

NOTICE

The public is cordially invited to inspect the new post office Tuesday night, March 29, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

R. E. Newman, Postmaster.

BUDGET HEARING SET FOR MONDAY

Affairs of County in Undecided State.

On Monday morning as announced the Board of Supervisors will meet in special session to hear those who desire to speak on the proposed budget.

Prince William county presents the unique spectacle of having two budgets under consideration, one presented by Chairman Earhart and one by Mr. C. C. Lynn, member from Manassas district, for about fourteen thousand dollars more.

It is very questionable as to whether the Board will actually adopt either budget for since its tentative presentation, the General Assembly passed the Byrd road plan by which the State will absorb all roads under a secondary system.

While this plan was passed almost unanimously in the Assembly it is by no means unanimous among the respective peoples of the various counties. While it does away with all road levies, it simultaneously creates an enormous central road system in which the people will have no final voice. The idea appears to be a good one, and is being generally accepted by a large majority of the counties.

It is very doubtful whether a vote will be had in Prince William as it will necessitate a close canvass to secure the eight hundred or more signatures necessary before the Court will order an election. This being the case, the road levy will be wiped out. If it is, then the pressure brought to bear on the Board to lighten taxes will not be so great and the slack will probably be taken up to allow certain expenditures on which the Board would otherwise turn "thumbs down."

The current of popular expression has been rather hard to decipher and it is generally accepted that whatever the Board does will not meet with any degree of serious opposition.

One thing which has just reached the county today is notification from State Superintendent Hall that Prince William county will get nothing from the equalization fund. This is a sad blow to the school interests as their budget already before the Board is based on the hope of getting $6,100 from this fund. The loss was carried to some extent by the special last-minute appropriation of $400,000 to be divided on a basis of school population. This will give Prince William about $2,200, and thus reduce the loss in the equalization fund to approximately $4,000.

Only one communication has come to The Journal apropos of the budget and that is printed in another column.

NAVAL MAN IS KIWANIS GUEST

Lieut. Bibby, U. S. N., Gives Excellent Talk.

Lieut. L. W. Bibby was the guest of honor of the Kiwanis Club on Friday night. At this time, Lieutenant Bibby, who is in charge of the diving unit of the U. S. Navy, gave a highly technical and extremely interesting history of diving, from its earliest stages, showing some of the equipment used by divers. While the subject is an extensive one, the speaker dealt with it in such a manner that even in the short space of time in which he spoke much information was brought forth to an audience which knew very little concerning diving.

After the talk, Lieut. Bibby was questioned by several members of the club as to further details.

Professor J. P. Pullen had his basketball charges present as guests of the club, and the young men were in luck to be present on this occasion.

The meeting was held in the Parish Hall where dinner was served by the Trinity Guild.

ALLEGHANY SPRINGS

We had the pleasure of having Mrs. L. L. Payne of Nokesville, Va., or shall we just call her Nettie, with us for Sunday school Sunday. It seemed like old times to have her with us again. We persuaded her to teach the Bible class for us.

You, people of Nokesville, have a good teacher that we hope will sometime come to live among us again. Oh, for more teachers of the same kind.

CATHARPIN

Since last week the grapevine telephone has been disseminating news of haps and mishaps of every description. The old tree from which the ever-faithful vine was suspended having been blown down during the storm put things out of commission for about ten days but it is now doing business at the old stand, tho' supported by fence posts, limbs of trees and sometimes like "Tell On His Native Mountain" is "laid flat along" on the ground, yet it is working and telling things and from it we learn that considerable sickness, mostly grip and colds, is now prevalent thruout the neighborhood; Mrs. Edmonia Pattie Davis being a sufferer from sore throat and flu for some days; also Mrs. C. F. Caton was and still is afflicted with the same trouble, and others already reported are on the mend; so the old vine brings good news as well as bad. From the same source it was learned that Lynnhaven, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn was the Mecca to which Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tribble, of Tecumseh, found their way last week; also Mr. and Mrs. H. Elmer Metz and Miss Lulu Metz of Manassas found the same trail, all having a delightful little visit with the Lynn family. The vine also informed us that Mrs. Jennie McIntosh and son, Luther, were calling at the Palmer Smith home on Sunday, and that Bell Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie, had as their Sunday guests their daughters, Mrs. Mary P. Briggs and Miss Claudia Pattie of Washington. Yes, it just tells you lots of things; it said that Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres were dinner guests at Oakwood Sunday, and also callers at the Pattie home. It also emitted the exciting information that several turkey hens in the neighborhood had begun laying and a great turkey egg marathon is now on to see who can produce the greatest number. Great excitement, that. There, something snapped; a limb must have fallen across the vine; at any rate, it ceased working so farewell.

WESTERN AT DIXIE THEATRE

FEATURES WAR BACKGROUND

The boys who went over to France during the late war not only got a fairly comprehensive knowledge of European geography, manners and customs, but incidentally learned a few brand new things about their own country. East met West in the trenches and learned to know of each other's habits and country. Then too, boys from the same section of the States who had never met before were thrown into close contact and because of their common interest, developed into staunch "buddies."

An interesting example of such a friendship is depicted in "Men Without Law," a "western" starring the popular Buck Jones, scheduled to come to the Dixie Theatre on Saturday. The chance meeting of Buck Healy and Manuel Del Rey who hail from the same section of the country gives them a common basis for a friendship. They become loyal "buddies" are particularly thrilling.

The outcome of this friendship is a series of thrilling adventures, all depicted in the film.

The war background makes this Buck Jones feature unusual. However, Buck still performs the riding stunts that have made him famous and his daredevil jumps and falls in this film ship. They become loyal "buddies" are particularly thrilling.

Rating of County in number of sire replacements in State in Purebred Dairy Sires Replacement Contest

Contest	First	Second
(Agent awarded trip to St. Louis National Dairy Show in 1930 by State Dairyman's Association)

15 purebred bulls obtained without cost by dairymen in 1930 and 1931, upon recommendation of agent.

32 purebred dairy sires placed in 1930 and 17 in 1931. Prince William led State in increase in purebred dairy sires in 1930 and was second by narrow margin in 1931. Again worked closely with County Dairy Herd Improvement Association and Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association membership, 27 herds with a total of 734 cows now on test. Emergency feeding meetings held following drought and assistance given in planning rations to include maximum amount of wheat. Seven herds made an average increase of more than 50 pounds butterfat per cow and 8 herds more than 1000 pounds of milk per cow in 1930. Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival held under direction of agent. Main purposes of festival were to build up a better demand for surplus stock, promote increased use of dairy products and herd improvement. 46 dairy club members enrolled in 1930 and 44 in 1931. Dairy judging teams trained.

22 poultry culling demonstrations given during the two years with approximately 300 poultry keepers attending. Housing and feeding discussed by poultry specialist at 17 of these meetings. 5 county poultry meetings held at County Seat in 1931, discussions beginning with hatching and continuing through housing and feeding of layers. Approximately fifty diseased flocks visited and treatment recommended or birds sent to Veterinary Department at Blacksburg for diagnosis.

Nine soil fertility meetings held in 1930 and eight in 1931. Quick maturing crops recommended in 1931 to meet hay shortage. Korean lespedeza pushed as soil improver for unlimed soil, lime tests made, use of limestone in direct contact with alfalfa and sweet clover seed and inoculation recommended, pasture improvement demonstrations in different communities gotten under way, 'Soil Robber' mock trail held, field meetings at successful demonstrations and tour of farmers to Arlington Experimental Station held.

County Corn Show held in 1930 with 51 entries. Use of Abruzzi variety of rye and substitution of barley for part of wheat acreage recommended. Sources of good seed corn located by special committee in 1931 and information given out through circular letters. Seed forwarded to Department of Agriculture for testing. Use of adapted clover seed pushed. Because of prevalence of wheat smut, intensive wheat treating campaign held in late summer of 1931. Eight treating demonstrations given and a number of men not attending meetings assisted. Dusting machine loaned to farmers. Arrangements made for 1932 Corn and Grain Show. 12 sheep stomach worm treating demonstrations held. Treating information mailed to sheepmen at regular intervals. 700 pounds wool marketed through Fauquier-Prince William pool.

Plans furnished and personal assistance given by Extension Agricultural Engineer in the building of eight modern dairy barns. Plans furnished for building 16 poultry houses. Some help given by Extension engineer in remodeling of dairy barns. Study of dairy electrical refrigeration systems in use in county made. Drainage surveys made for two farms and Manassas Airport and five hydraulic ram surveys made by Extension engineer. Circular letters mailed and newspapers article run to call attention to services available along this line.

First two weeks of January spent in arranging for County Corn and Grain Show, held January 15. According to men attending and exhibiting, it was the most successful show ever held in county from standpoint of interest shown and number and quality of exhibits. Approximately 150 men visited the show and 60 attended the dinner and program at noon at which Dr. L. H. Bean discussed the agricultural outlook and W. H. Daughtry spoke on the importance of using good seed. Annual meeting of membership of Piedmont Dairy Festival Association held in January. Some work done toward the 1932 festival and assurance of support of additional counties obtained.

Four Soil Improvement meetings held in February with total attendance of 105 farmers, 52 soil samples brought to office and tested for lime and phosphate requirements.

Annual meeting of County 4-H Club Council made up of officers of community clubs, held in February, 7 boys groups reorganized.

Farm and home grounds given first scoring in contest sponsored by Civic Committee of Brentsville District.

Record of miscellaneous activities, too numerous to include, on file at office and available to public. Calls for information or assistance from the agent or extension specialist have steadily increased during the three years the present agent has been in the county. Extension specialists were used 46 days in 1930 and 84 days in 1931.

NOKESVILLE

The Brentsville District school children carried us back to the days of the powdered wig, knee breeches, hoop-skirts and the Old Virginia Reel last Friday night at the high school. With them we lived over again the high points in the life of Washington.

The program was unique, with excellent arrangements. First the tots of the primary grades portrayed the great American's childhood. The astonishing part of their performance was the way in which little Miss Elizabeth Payne played the role of Washington's mother. Her expression and clearness of voice were remarkable.

After Earl McWhorter, who had the honor of being little George, had hacked down the cherry tree with his new hatchet, to the great amusement of the audience, he was gently rebuked by his father and commended for his truthfulness.

We heard George, now a youth in the person of Phillip Grey, confessing to his mother how he had killed her favorite horse. Altho hurt by this act, his mother, wee Elizabeth, forgave him and his companions, at the same time giving some wise motherly advice.

The children of the higher grades then presented Washington as the young man. Here we witnessed a crisis in our hero's life. Tho' bitterly disappointed at giving up his ambition for the sea, he yielded to his mother's wishes and remained at home. Time proved the wisdom of his obedience.

A little later we attended a colonial ball with our general. Here we bowed to the ladies and the ladies courted to us. When the band struck up "Turkey in the Straw" we saw the dignified Washington and many other prominent colonial figures tripping lightly through the "Old Virginia Reel." Even the "no-account" negro, Billy Hale, got music in his bones and stepped about right lively before the distinguished guests, to the great chagrin of his mistress, Margaret Dodd.

The high school students gave us the more serious aspects of this great man's life. Here we had assembled the many colonial leaders. We witnessed Francis Wells as the kind, grave Washington, taking the oath of office as President of the United States, administered by Elvan Fountain. At this climax in his life the entire school sang the Bicentennial song. Following this the gathering sang "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Those present were much impressed with the splendid characterization and wonderful array of costumes. The children and faculty of the school deserve much praise and commendation. We are justly proud of the bit that our school did to celebrate the Bicentennial of the Father of our Country.

As I was unable to attend the oratorical contest, held recently, the affair was reported to me by one present. In the report several of the names of contestants were unintentionally omitted. I am now glad to say that Miss Virginia Swank and Mr. Wiley Garman were also among those who spoke eloquently on the constitution. Far be it from us to slight anyone who participate in this splendid work.

We had a busy time in our gym last Tuesday night, past, when three teams from Manassas high visited us. The fast-stepping Manassas boys gave the local boys a drubbing, but the Brentsvillettes retaliated by taking a one-sided game from the fair visitors by a count of 18-2. The agricultural outfits then locked horns in a close game. At the final whistle their horns were still locked, the score being tied.

Mr. M. G. Early, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this town, has been seriously ill during the past week. His condition is reported slightly improved.

FOREIGN INTRIGUE AND LOVE STORY IN TWELVETREES FILM

April 1 has been set for the date of Helen Twelvetrees' new RKO Pathe picture, "A Woman of Experience."

The story is about a Viennese woman of uncertain reputation, known as Elsa, who is engaged by the government to get some information from an officer, Von Lichstein. Her one chance is to pretend to be in love with him. Complications arise when she really falls in love with young Karl Runyi. Realizing that her unfortunate past, as well as her present disagreeable duty, make her unfit to be the wife of a man with such high ideals of womanhood, she writes Karl a note, telling him of another love.

In the meantime, she has tried to rap Von Lichstein as he is about to escape. Too quick for her, he seizes the gun she has drawn and shoots her. Karl comes to her when she is ill, still wanting to marry her. His mother tells Elsa she will reveal the story of her past to Karl if she persists in seeing him. But when Elsa replies she has only six months to live the mother gives her consent to the marriage.

The starring role is utterly different from the other roles Miss Twelvetrees has had to portray. "Elsa" is a more complex character than "Millie" or "Frankie" in "Her Man" and gives Miss Twelvetrees an opportunity to demonstrate her fine histrionic ability.

The producers of "A Woman of Experience" have done their best to give Miss Twelvetrees excellent support. The story is taken from the play "The Registered Woman" by John Farrow, who wrote the screen version himself. Ralph Murphy wrote the additional dialogue. Harry Joe Brown, associate producer to Charles Rogers, directed the picture. Photography was by Hal Mohr, president of the American Association of Cinematographers. Danny Hall was art director.

The members of the cast are William Bakewell, Lew Cody, Zasu Pitts, H. B. Warner, C. Henry Gordon, Franklin Pangborn, Nance O'Neil, George Fawcett, Bertha Mann, William Tooker, Alfred Hickman, Edward Earle, and Max Waisman.

ADEN

The devotional program at the U. B. Sabbath school the past Sunday put on by the Arnold family with the help of several others, was well rendered. The duet by Miss Evelyn Kerlin and Mr. James Arnold is worthy of special mention.

The young people will hold their class meeting at the hall on Friday night. This will be parents' night and it is hoped that the parents will respond to the invitation given them. A program consisting of recitations, special selections of music and a two-act play entitled "Old Mr. Patricular" will be given. Misses Evelyn Kerlin, Hazel Bowman and Mrs. Lula Wright will be in charge of the social features.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Swank of Washington spent Sunday at their respective homes here.

Mr. S. G. Whetzel spent several days the past week in Richmond on business.

Mrs. Jacob Miller and daughter, Mrs. Shirley, was Sunday guests of Mrs. Jane Hedrick.

Sunday, March 20, was a very delightful day at the Stultz home when the birthdays of Vada Lee Stultz and L. J. Bowman were celebrated. Vada Lee was 10 on Saturday, the 19th, and Mr. Bowman 35 plus (!) on Sunday, the 20th. Vada Lee was very much surprised as some unexpected guests came, who were Misses Winifred Swank, Gertrude Shirkey, Francis Hale, Gayle Bowman, Mae Diehl, Mary Francis Flory and other friends. What did the dinner consist of? Ask the girls.

The inclement weather a few weeks ago was the cause of someone from Silver Springs, Md., having to spend the night in our vicinity making it necessary for a special bus to run to meet trains but we know they must be satisfied with the hospitality since they returned so soon.

BACK TO THE FARM

Since misfortune hit the towns farmers are more contented in their adversity. For eight years after the war the farmers had to take prosperity on faith, because they never saw any of it. What is more irritating than to read of irresponsible town laborers getting increased wages while one's own time and care bring less than before?

Now a balance has been struck; the farmer realizes the sorry plight of the out-of-work who has no hold on the land, who loses his job without notice and is left without a grubstake between himself and hunger.

In a quiet way the farmers are already doing quite a sizeable relief work. Their out-of-work boys and girls have moved home in large numbers to wait for better times in an area where, as long as seeds spout and buildings hang together, the bell rings for meals three times a day, a roof fends off rain and a wood lot provides fuel.

The extent of the recent migration from town to country must be enormous. Industrial cities have lost heavily in population, some of them as much as 25 per cent. Starvation has not overtaken the departed, since vital statistics show that the death rate is down. Those who have left the towns must be on the farms; there is no other refuge enough to accommodate such throngs with so little confusion.

A gnarled veteran of the soil told me it seemed like old times to have the children back. "Sure I make them work, but it isn't the work I'm thinking of. There's somebody to talk to now. You know a farm can be a dreadful lonely place sometimes with so much machinery and just two old folks on it. I haven't had a hired man to swear at since 1912."—Arthur Pound in Atlantic Monthly.

Comes Only by Saving

The difference between the rich man and the poor man is, generally, that the one saved his money and invested it wisely, while the other SPENT all he made.

No matter how much you earn, you will never be wealthy or independent if you spend it all. Spare time and spare money are the poor man's capital, and his ultimate success depends upon the returns from the capital.

DANCE TEAM RICH IN HUMAN DRAMA
James Dunn and Sally Eilers Reach Greater Heights in New Film.

While all the world may love a lover, it doesn't follow that all the world loves a dancer—or two dancers. Thus James Dunn and Sally Eilers encounter plenty of obstacles and hard knocks before they finally win their way to Broadway success for their terpsichorean effort. And with the crown of success upon their heads they discover that their troubles are only beginning, for like so many of our celebrities they find it more difficult to hold on to fame than to achieve it.

Such is the theme of "Dance Team," the Fox production which opens Monday at the Dixie Theatre and which in the opinion of this reviewer is one of the finest pictures of the 1931-32 season. Dunn and Miss Eilers not only repeat but exceed their sterling work in "Bad Girl." They again prove that they are the most human and natural stars of the present day screen. Dunn's role of the ambitious, egotistical and determined youngster is admirably suited to him and Miss Eilers' performance as his more level-headed and understanding partner stamps her as a truly great actress, and will add many to her long list of admirers.

A third member of the cast of "Bad Girl," Minna Gombell, is also in the picture, and as may always be expected, Miss Gombell gives a good accounting of herself. Other members of the cast deserving of praise are Ralph Morgan, Edward Crandall, Nora Lane, Harry Berensford, Claire Maynard and Charles Williams.

HUSHED HEAT is the result of years of combustion research in Williams laboratories, by the very engineers who pioneered oil heat for the home. It brings almost soundless operation to the acknowledged greater efficiency of the projected-flame type of oil burner.

Retaining all the time-proved Oil-O-Matic features, Williams engineers have created a new burner, embodying HUSHED HEAT. It burns low cost fuel oil—a richer fuel than the costlier light distillates commonly used. This saves you hundreds of dollars on future fuel bills.
