INDIANS ELECT SIX CAPTAINS

Lynn, Christensen, Jaffee and Sheehan Among Leaders Selected.

Wallace Lynn of Manassas, Va., was elected captain of the William and Mary basketball team for next year on June 10 at the annual meeting of the athletic committee, while Andrew Christensen of Hopewell was selected to head the 1933 baseball team, and Edward Meade, Babylon, Long Island, was named captain of track.

WALLACE LYNN.

Captains of the minor sports elected were: Harold T. Sheehan of Richmond, tennis; Motrimer Jaffee of New York City, golf; Judson Wheeler of Newport News, fencing, and William Casey of Charleston, Mass., swimming.

Wally Lynn, captain-elect of basketball, has been an outstanding star on the courts for three years and is expected to prove an ideal leader of the Indian hardwood combination. He plays a forward position. In campus activities he is well known and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Andy Christensen, baseball captain-elect, is the big gun of the Indian attack, plays center field and first base. He was recently elected president of the William and Mary student body. He is a member of Sigma Pi fraternity.

Ed Meade, track leader, is a member of the track, football, tennis and swimming teams and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Thomas "Happy" Halligan of Clifton Forge was elected captain of football earlier in the year to succeed Otis Douglas, 1931 grid leader.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

MEETING OF COUNTY FEDERATION OF LEAGUES

There will be a meeting of the County Federation of Leagues at the high school auditorium in Manassas on Monday, June 27, at 2. Representatives from all leagues of the county are urged to be present.

VETERANS TO VISIT MANASSAS

On Saturday, June 25, Confederate Veterans attending the National Reunion at Richmond will be reviewed in Washington by President Hoover and they will come to the Manassas Battlefield where they will be the guests of the three Prince William County Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

All members of the Manassas, Bull Run and the Eighth Virginia Regiment Chapters U. D. C., are urged to be present at this time to honor the venerable group which represent the mighty hosts of Lee. Refreshments will be served and everybody is cordially invited to be present.

Confederate Veterans are especially invited to be present. Shortness of time has prevented the committees in charge of arrangement from extending personal invitations, but it is hoped that all veterans who can do so will be present.

WATER CARNIVAL AT WOODBRIDGE

Club Boys and Girls Initiate New Activity.

The Occoquan 4-H Club staged a water and beach carnival at Dawson's Beach last night. Swimming was the main feature. The people of the community attended and all hands had a general good time.

The committee consisting of Miss Madeline Dawson and assistants worked hard to make the occasion an enjoyable one which will probably become an annual event hereafter.

CIVIL SERVICE ISSUES WARNING

Advises Newspapers of Employment Difficulties.

The United States Civil Service advised The Journal this morning that all newspapers should refuse to print advertising of schools that prepare students for Civil Service examinations. "A publication which prints such advertising at this time assists in defrauding the public," the Commission states and adds that "schools which sell such courses under present conditions accept money under false pretenses."

The situation in Washington at this time, the Commission warns, is such that it is practically impossible for anyone not now in government service or eligible to reinstatement to secure appointment. Vacancies must be filled by transfer or reinstatement when practicable and when examinations are held the applicants are usually hundreds of times in excess of the need.

"Money paid for Civil Service coaching courses at this time might almost as well be thrown to the four winds," the Commission warns. The situation applies to all branches and departments of the government service, as thousands of employees now being cut from the pay-rolls are vainly seeking reinstatement in other divisions.

BRIDGE FOR MRS. HOLT

Mrs. Eula Holt Merchant entertained at a bridge luncheon Wednesday for her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Holt of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with summer foliage and cut flowers and covers laid for eight guests in the dining room, where a delicious luncheon was served.

There were two tables. Mrs. Robert Smith made high score for one and Mrs. C. W. Dalton for the other. Mrs. Holt received the guest prize.

Guests included Mrs. Ralph Holt, honor guest; Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Bradford, Mrs. Joe Lyon, Mrs. C. W. Dalton, Mrs. Margaret Pringle Lewis and the hostess.

This was one of the most attractive social events in Manassas this season.

MEET TOMORROW

The Virginia Bankers Association will hold its annual convention tomorrow at Old Point Comfort. On account of the unusual conditions existing, the session will be of especial importance. Manassas is being represented by Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, cashier and vice-president of the Peoples National Bank.

CLUB GROUP ATTENDS CAMP

Visits National 4-H Assembly in Capital.

On Tuesday a group of 4-H workers and some of the club members enjoyed an unusual holiday. In the morning, the group, which included Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Free, Mrs. T. P. Davis, Mrs. C. Jellison, Mrs. Dewey Schaeffer, Mrs. Haislip, Mrs. Allen and Miss Sarah Pitts, first went to Mount Vernon where they joined the delegation from the National Camp of 4-H Clubs in Washington at which time a wreath was placed on Washington's tomb.

The balance of the day was spent at the Library of Congress, the Lincoln Memorial, and Haines' Point where a picnic supper was partaken of.

Then all went to the Sylvan Theatre on the Monument grounds where the National Bi-centennial Commission with the assistance of thirty organizations put on a wonderful program for the club boys and girls.

LOCAL BOYS RANK HIGH

Prince William Squad Leaders in Northern Virginia.

The following boys made up the group from Prince William: Howard Miller, Nokesville; John Pattie, Catharpin; Allen Ritter, Manassas; Claude Albrite, Manassas. These boys were delegates from the Nokesville and Manassas Chapters to the F. F. A. convention at V. P. I. last week. This organization is made up of boys all over the country. In Virginia there are nearly five thousand. Each year they meet at Blacksburg and hold their state convention. Judging work on livestock, crops and public speaking features the annual meet.

Howard Miller, representing northern Virginia, made second place in the state contest. Some interest was shown that Miller would win out as it was felt that he would make the best showing in the regional contest this fall at Atlanta. Miller is in line for state president of the F. F. A.'s.

John Pattie, of Manassas Chapter, won the high honor of "Planter's Degree" which is one of the coveted titles among the lads studying vocational agriculture. His average is the highest made in this line at the Manassas Chapter during the past four years.

The judging team for Prince William in dairy and dairy products made 1572 out of a possible 2,000. The work was consistent among all members. The grades varied over the state from less than 1300 to slightly over 1800.

The rally was a great success, nearly a thousand boys being in attendance. The rating of Manassas and Nokesville departments at present ranks as first in the twelve counties of northern Virginia.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

The American Legion headquarters until further notice will be over the Peoples Bank in the old county agent's office.

Seven applications have been received since the last meeting by Adjutant Pullen which will be acted on tonight.

Commander Parrish is contemplating attending the state convention at Alexandria to be held on July 31. The Poppy Day sale was pronounced a great success, a favorable sum being reported. The Post gave a vote of thanks to Mrs. Mary Lynch, chairman of the Poppy Day sale and to her valuable corps of assistants.

DISTINGUISHED ACTING SEEN IN DRAMA OF POST-WAR LIFE

Carrying on a tradition for emotional dramatics which reached a new high in "An American Tragedy," Paramount presents a sincere heart-touching talkie in "The Man I Killed" which opens at the Dixie Theatre next Friday, July 1.

A perfect admixture of every element that makes for sure-fire entertainment, "The Man I Killed" never once gives evidence of an over-abundance of any of them, the story is imaginative—but not too imaginative; the acting does not strain itself into a torture for the beholder; the tempo is swift, but no racy; the situations are not so starkly real as to be commonplace.

"The Man I Killed" brings a number of messages, and any one of them can be chosen by any member of the audience to conform to his mood. To some it is an indictment of warfare as a barbarism that must be rooted out by mankind. To others it is a glamorous love-story. To still others it is a shadow-projection of the inner workings of a remorseful man's soul. And there are many more facets, each of them fascinating, for the edification of those who behold this romantic-dramatic gem.

The story has to do with the events in the lives of three principal characters in a German town several years after the World War. There is a very brief prelude in which Phillips Holmes, a French soldier, engages in a hand-to-hand conflict with a German soldier and kills him. Examining some papers on the body, Holmes reads a letter which the dead man had written to his sweetheart but had not yet mailed. Holmes thus finds out the name of the bereft girl.

After this short glimpse of the war, the picture occupies itself with the events that take place several years afterward. Holmes, having brooded for months over the barbarism that made him the slayer of a man toward whom he held no malice, decides to visit the girl and ask forgiveness for what he feels is his "crime."

Nancy Carroll, the girl, meets him by chance at the dead soldier's residence. Learning his errand, she begs him not to carry the news to the violently partisan father, Lionel Barrymore, a provincial German doctor who hates all Frenchmen.

CATTLE KING OF CONGRESS

Another country boy took his seat in the House of Representatives when the present Congress convened. But not many country boys can boast of a ranch such as that of Richard N. Kleberg of the fourth congressional district of Texas, for it's twice the size of the State of Rhode Island. The story of this cattle king, who left the wide open spaces for a seat in the United States Capitol, is told in an article appearing in the magazine of The Washington Star next Sunday.

BENNETT GOWNS ON LOCAL SCREEN OFFER HINTS

A hint that any woman might well heed, both in the interests of economy and smart dressing, has its origin in a peek at the smart new costumes which Constance Bennett brought back with her from Paris to wear in "Lady With a Past," at the Dixie Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

By far the majority of her suits and dresses for daytime or sports wear are either brown or navy. Any hint of monotony is avoided by skillful use of contrasting shades in trimming, but the basic color scheme is limited to two hues.

This, Miss Bennett explains, makes possible economy in the matter of accessories and wraps. In addition she is always certain of complete harmony in every phase of her general appearance.

Over all her brown costumes Miss Bennett can wear a mink coat, while a fox collared navy cloth coat makes a suitable wrap for several different blue frocks and ensembles.

In addition to brown and navy, Miss Bennett's wardrobe shows Spanish tile, black and an odd shade of purplish blue. Her favorite colors for evening are black, white and the lighter blues.

The Greenwich Rebels took a practice game from a team composed of North Greenwich and Woodlawn players and several Nokesville high stars Saturday. Threatening skies prevented the Aldie team from showing up. The Rebels hit Woodrow Manuel, twirler for the opposition, hard in the first inning to take a good lead. After that, however, Manuel pitched air-tight ball until the ninth frame, when Elmo Gum and Sam Tunes put the finishing touches on the fray, by slapping out two homers. Until these two hefty blows, the Rebs were leading by only one marker.

The Greenwich boys journey to Triangle Saturday to try to hand those worthies another walloping.

MEETING OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF DAIRY HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Prince William Dairy Herd Improvement Association Friday evening, ways and means of taking care of new dairymen wishing to place their herds on test at the beginning of the new testing year on Sept. 1, were considered. During the past few months, it has been necessary to call on a tester from an adjacent county to take care of two of the herds and there is a possibility, especially since the demand for higher testing milk by Washington distributors, that there will be need for a second testing association in the county.

All members of the committee, consisting of J. F. Miller, C. F. M. Lewis, Wheatley Johnson, Elmer Hurst, S. C. Harley and C. C. Lynn, were present.

NOKESVILLE

I wish to speak for the entire community and say that we are justly proud of Howard Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, the young man who so ably represented this section of Virginia in the State Agricultural Oratorical contest at Blacksburg. In winning the second highest honors of the state, Howard not only covered himself with glory, but reflected honor on our community, our school, and this portion of Virginia which he represented. We offer our congratulations and appreciation, Howard, and our hopes for even greater oratorical conquests in your future.

Miss May Dunn of near Catlett, Va., and Mr. Lloyd Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Herring of near this town were quietly married recently at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Larrick. The young people are temporarily residing with their in-laws until they feather their own nest. Happy days, May and Lloyd!

A number of the Nokesville 4-H Club members visited the national 4-H club camp Tuesday on the monument grounds in Washington. They were accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Free, Miss Pitts and several ladies from other parts of the county.

MONTGOMERY STAR OF SOCIETY FILM

Comedy in the Continental manner will be seen at the Dixie Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday when Robert Montgomery's newest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "But the Flesh Is Weak," begins its run at that playhouse.

The new film, based on Ivor Novello's stage success, "The Truth Game," which had long runs in both London and New York, has been directed by Jack Conway, whose most recent successes were "Paid" and "Arsene Lupin."

Robert Montgomery, who appeared with such signal success in "Private Lives," "Shipmates," "The Man in Possession" and other films, was chosen to play the star role in "But the Flesh Is Weak." His performance in similar type roles is well known, and it was thought by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executives that the new screen play would be an excellent vehicle for his comedy talents.

Heather Thatcher, an English actress whose chief claim to fame in America is the fact that she wears a monocle, but who is one of the leading stage players of London, has a supporting role in "But the Flesh Is Weak."

Nora Gregor, another name unfamiliar to American screen fans, also appears on the program of the new screen play. Miss Gregor is one of Vienna's most famous actresses.

Blonde, blue-eyed and extremely beautiful, she is a universal favorite in that gay city and has been starred by Max Reinhardt. Miss Gregor has the romantic lead opposite Montgomery.

C. Aubrey Smith, who played in "Tarzan the Ape Man," "Bachelor Father" and other Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer films, plays the hero's father; Nils Asther, after a long absence from the screen, returns to play a Russian prince, and Edward Everett Horton, Frederick Kerr and other players of prominence appear in the new offering.

Highlights in the fast-moving story are said to be numerous. Montgomery's hilarious adventure in a balcony scene reminiscent of Romeo's exploits is said to be especially laughable. The ivy which gives him a foothold slips and slips. His stealing of the girl at the Derby; the poignant moment in the gambling casino, where his happiness goes crashing with the falling cards; his dramatic encounter with a Russian; a rival for his sweetheart's hand, all these enliven the quickly moving plot of the film.

ADEN

Quite a large crowd of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Garber on Saturday evening for a surprise birthday party. Of course all had a good time but we won't announce their ages.

Mr. J. S. Huff spent last week in Orange, Va., with his son, Mr. James Huff.

Mrs. C. M. Hively is visiting relatives near Harrisonburg, Va.

The program committee of the Community League sponsored a debate for the June meeting. The question, Resolved: That the adoption of the Byrd Road Law is a step forward in the county road program, was won by the affirmative side.

The United Brethren Sunday school is planning for a day of sport or a field day at the high school building at Nokesville next Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bell entertained quite a number of guests on Sunday. Mr. Joseph Hummer of Annandale, Va., spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vance of Washington, D. C., visited Mrs. Vance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reading, over the week end.

Mr. John Horton of Manassas is spending some time with his daughter, Mrs. Grover May.

Grain Sheaf Hay

Oat sheaves are very nearly equivalent in feeding value to a combination of equal parts by weight of threshed oats and oat straw. Oat sheaves alone are hardly a satisfactory dairy cow ration. The wheat sheaves will perhaps be a little more nutritious than the oats. Horses can be carried quite satisfactorily on either oat sheaves or wheat sheaves provided they are not at hard work.

Some extra grain for cows is needed while they are milking. A mixture of equal parts of barley, oats, wheat, wheat bran and oilmeal will prove very satisfactory.

Intestinal Trouble

Scours or diarrhea is merely the visible symptom of an intestinal irritation, either caused by food or parasites. Cows may contract a disease known as Johne's disease, or the trouble may be caused by faulty food. If you have much trouble, we suggest you see your veterinarian or write your state veterinarian. In the meantime, feed the cows one teaspoonful slaked lime, one tablespoonful whole flaxseed and a tablespoonful charcoal in ground oats once daily. A little sugar added will help also. Examine the hay for mold, or the pasture for fern, etc.—Idaho Farmer.

Feeding Minerals to Cows.

Tests at the United States dairy experiment station, at Beltsville, Md., indicate that if cows are allowed free access to a palatable bone meal, they will tend to adjust their consumption to meet their needs. Good producing cows fed a ration estimated to be deficient in phosphorus, ate generous quantities of bone meal at the experiment farm, while poor producers having a smaller demand for minerals ate very little.—Wallace's Farmer.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. R. O. Bibb wishes to thank their many friends for their kindness and floral tributes and the use of cars during their recent bereavement.

HOUSE-HEATING WITH NATURAL GAS

In co-operation with the Virginia Gas Distribution Corporation, we are offering a very attractive proposition which will permit the substitution of NATURAL GAS for coal in your heating furnace or boiler.

Such an installation converts your heating plant from coal to NATURAL GAS, making same wholly automatic in its operation, and is thoroughly practical in every way.

The necessary heating survey, recommendation, proper installation and guaranteed performance as service, is to be handled by the Gas Company.

We will be very glad to discuss this matter with you in detail.

May Check Spread of Coccidiosis in Flock.

Chronic coccidiosis in adult fowls cannot be distinguished by external symptoms from other wasting diseases, and only by the use of the microscope after death, says a writer in the Rural New-Worker. Unlike the acute form occurring in chickens, the cocc do not display the evidences of the infection, which are to be found in the intestinal contents or in scrapings from the intestinal walls.

Either in chronic coccidiosis or other diseases showing the loss of appetite, dirty plumage, gradual loss of flesh, paleness of comb and wattles and perhaps paralysis of the legs found in such disorders, all affected birds should be removed from the flock and watch kept for new cases. The quarters used should be placed in good sanitary condition and the old ruins discarded.

The parasites causing coccidiosis and other infections of like incurability infest ground that has been used for a considerable length of time by poultry flocks, and healthy birds must be kept from such ground if avoidance of infection is to be expected. Chronic coccidiosis spreads slowly in an adult flock and removal of sick birds with sanitary precautions to prevent infection of the healthy members should be observed.

Profit From Dead Hens

Dead hens make the largest item of flock depreciation, and this depreciation is the third largest item, next to feed and labor, or about one-fifth, of the total expense of the laying flock, says Prof. E. G. Misner of the New York State College of Agriculture, after a study of ninety-two New York state flocks in 1930.

The percentage of mortality varied from 3 to 73 per cent of the average number of laying birds. The mortality averaged 23 per cent, with no difference between large or small flocks. When hens are valued at $1 each at the beginning of the laying season and are worth 75 cents at the end of the year, a mortality of 10 per cent makes the depreciation 34 cents to the hen. If the mortality were 40 per cent, the depreciation to the bird would be 60 cents. Professor Misner warns poultrymen to give close attention to disease and parasite control.

Use Judgment in Mating

It is poor policy to mate up any fowls, least of all male birds, that have previously shown any signs of disease or weakness. It is unwise to mate up undersized females to oversized coarse males, or vice versa.

The mating seldom "nicks," and it is almost impossible to secure medium sized, normal healthy progeny. Born poultry breeders know by intuition just how many males a certain flock of females will need to get best results.

As a general rule, in flock matings, not more than eight or ten lightweight males are required to 100 females. With heavyweight varieties, ten males are about right, providing there is little fighting among males. Otherwise it were best to make smaller flock matings.

Birds Carry Diseases

Birds such as the English sparrows should be fenced out of poultry houses, says the Idaho Farmer. These pests travel far and wide and visit everybody's poultry yard in a community, and it possible, carry diseases from the insanitary yards of one poultryman to clean yards of another. Careful poultrymen also make it a point to keep promiscuous human visitors away from their poultry houses and runs, as they, too, readily carry troubles from one poultry yard to another. When visitors are allowed in the well-kept poultry yard they should be provided a box of litter or sawdust, thoroughly disinfected, into which to step before entering the premises.

Don't Cut Down on Feed

This is no time to cut down on the flock's feed even though egg prices are low. In fact, low egg prices make it all the more necessary that birds be fed generously and thus be kept at the height of their ability to produce. The laying flock should have a mash before it all the time during the summer months. In addition it should be given some grain. The only feeding change should be the cutting down and finally the elimination of the morning feeding of scratch grain.—Exchange.

Hens Averaged $4

Hens averaged this net profit over feed cost last year for Mrs. John Niblo, Muscotah, due to careful feeding, culling and breeding. A hatcheryman had an order for chicks from eggs of a profitable flock—he had to know the record of the flock. Mrs. Niblo had this information—she has kept records three years. Chicks from her flock satisfied the customer so well a second order was placed and other orders have followed. Quality gets the best price.—Kansas Farmer.

The DAIRY

SQUARE DEAL FOR HERD SIRE URGED

Safety and Profit Found in Proper Bull Pen.

Dairy bulls are not getting a square deal, figured from the standpoint of the owner's financial welfare. No herd sire should be pampered. Sentiment is wasted on a bull, according to Prof. H. A. Hopper of the New York State College of Agriculture. Neither should a bull be abused and kept under such conditions as thousands of them have to endure. This treatment saps their vitality, makes them useless as breeders, and converts sullen bulls almost certainly into man-killing monsters, he says.

Many bulls are kept through the winter and often throughout the year in close confinement under unsanitary conditions. Others are turned out with the herd in summer for exercise. These practices are bad, he says, because they either shorten the life of the sire and impair his usefulness or they endanger the lives of all persons who care for him. Proper care should provide two things; to keep the health and vigor, and to insure absolute safety.

Any bull worth keeping represents a considerable investment. He should be a good individual, have a record backing much better than that of any cow in the herd, and as an investment he may represent the combined value of two or three cows. Such an investment is worthy of a safe bull pen, to maintain health and vigor, and the safety of the owner. With such a pen a bull may be fed, watered, the stall cleaned, and cows bred without danger to the attendant.

Herd Refused to Drink Water That Was Impure

The water supply of the dairy herd is an often unsuspected source of trouble. The story has been vouched for of a farmer who could not make an apparently good herd of grade Holsteins milk even respectably well and this in spite of the fact that he was feeding well. When he turned the cows out to drink at the stock tank the cause was revealed. Although the cows ran for the tank and evidently were very thirsty they would take only a small drink and then turn away. The water looked as clear and nice as water can look, but it tasted terrible. The drainage from the barnyard had polluted the well so seriously that the cows would not drink, although the appearance was not harmed. That man had to drill 200 feet before he got a supply of water, but once the water was good the cows responded normally to good feeding. In other cases that have been reported, trouble was traced to the sediment that had been allowed to accumulate over a long period of time. One cannot be too certain that the water supply is all that it should be.

Soybean Oil Meal

The use of soybean oil meal should appeal as strongly to the dairyman who has to purchase protein feed as to any other producer of live stock. Its palatability and the superior quality of its protein are of equal importance to him as to the producer of beef, lamb, poultry and eggs. All proteins, which are composed of amino acids, do not have the same nutritional value and for that reason a protein concentrate composed of proteins from several different sources has a higher value as a supplement for carbohydrate grains than one carrying protein from a single source. However, where for any reason one supplementary protein carrier must be relied upon for balancing a ration, soybean oil meal ranks very high for that purpose because of the character of its content of amino acids.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Color Carries Vitamin

Recent studies made at the University of Porto Rico under the auspices of Columbia University, Rockefeller foundation, indicate that vitamin A in annatto seed is the richest source available. When this is used in coloring butter, it adds to the value of the butter as a food. When an annatto coloring is used, it overcomes objections commonly made, because of the fact that it does increase the vitamin content. Thus, as butter loses color in the summer months, a greater supply of this color can be added and thereby improve the butter.

"If the discovery proves to be true, as no doubt it will, it will add merit to butter throughout the months when cows are on dry feed," says W. F. Jensen, secretary American Association Creamery Butter Manufacturers.—Prairie Farmer.

Bull Pen Important

More than 600 Indiana dairymen have constructed bull pens according to plans furnished by Purdue University. Iron pipe, iron rods, heavy lumber, wooden poles and heavy woven wire have all been used successfully. Wooden posts, concrete posts and iron pipes have all been used as posts. At least 1,000 square feet is recommended as providing enough space for a bull pen. Such a pen is health insurance for the sire and life insurance for the owner.—Prairie Farmer.

"SIX CYLINDERS NO MORE—NO LESS,"

says America

Anything more and you sacrifice economy—anything less and you sacrifice smoothness.

BUYERS everywhere are comparing low-priced cars. Lifting hoods. Counting cylinders. And the result? An overwhelming verdict for the six, in preference to cars of fewer or more cylinders.

"SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less!" And America backs up that conviction by purchasing more six-cylinder Chevrolets since January 1st, than the combined total of all fours and eights under $1000.

With more than six cylinders, you sacrifice Chevrolet's famous economy of gas, oil and upkeep—the greatest economy in today's motor car market. With less than six cylinders, you sacrifice the built-in smoothness that makes driving really enjoyable.

But with a six—a Chevrolet Six—nothing is sacrificed. You get smoothness AND economy.

And power—60 horsepower. And speed—65 to 70 miles an hour, easily! And pick-up—from a standstill to 35 miles an hour in less than 7 seconds! You also get Free Wheeling; Syncromesh gear-shifting; big, spacious Fisher bodies.

So, when buying a new low-priced car, settle the question of cylinders RIGHT, and you can't go WRONG. Take America's word for it: "SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less!"

CATHARPIN

Virginia and Anne Piercy of Gainesville spent Friday and Saturday of last week at Lawn Vale as guests of Frances and Anne Robertson.

Mrs. Mildred Collins Skelton of Allentown, Pa., and a lady friend are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill this week.

Miss Katherine Pattie visited friends in Purcellville over last week end.

Miss Louise Dorsey of Berryville, Va., is a guest of the Robertson girls this week.

Misses Frances and Anne Robertson were hostesses to a very pleasant young people's party on Friday night of last week to which a number of their friends had been invited. Games, plays and refreshments constituted the evening's entertainment.

Barring weather conditions the regular annual Sunday School Day program will be given by the Sudley Sunday school at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning, the 26th, to which all are cordially welcome. The copious showers of the past two weeks which were so badly needed and appreciated sometimes interfere with our church arrangements on Sunday; however, we are all in hopes of a good day for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Brower, Jr., of Purcellville were visiting friends in the neighborhood last week.

Mrs. C. F. Brower and grandchildren, Betty and Francis, have returned home after a very pleasant sojourn of a week or more at Price, Md.

Several big truck loads of livestock were shipped out of the community last week to the Baltimore market. Prices, comparatively speaking, are very low when thinking in terms of war inflation but if we hark back about twenty years and view conditions as they existed before that all happened, we find prices then and now not very far apart; the greatest difference is found in the mental attitude of the people. We call it "depression" to-day when in reality it is only a return to normal. Twenty years ago we sold fat cattle for 6 and 7 cents; fat hogs for 4 1-2 cents, and wheat for 70 cents and all felt good about it. When we bought a binder the price was $120; to-day it is $250. The younger generation can not understand. They feel abused and stand ready to blame it all on the first thing that comes to mind: They call it politics and think a change in administration will fix it all up; or if the 18th amendment were repealed things would be all right; or if this, that or the other were changed all would be happy. The older element knows better. They know that if one breaks a leg or contracts typhoid fever he will simply have to lie in bed until he becomes normal; no matter how painful it may be or how little he is able to afford it. Some will be crippled for life and some will die no matter who is president, or what Doctor they have, or if all the amendments were repealed, or as many more added. The World War simply upset civilization the world over and we are now trying to get back to normal once more whatever that "normal" may be. More than likely a "new normal" may be set up to conform to conditions as they now exist; so the only thing to do is sit tight, do our duty as citizens and be patient. The "old" or a "new" normal will arrive in due time and we shall be satisfied.

MINNEVILLE

The weather continues very warm and dry. Seems very discouraging for farmers.

The death of Mrs. D. H. Carter, which occurred at her daughter's home in Washington, June 16, cast a gloom over her many friends in this neighborhood. She was well known and loved by all. Her many good qualities will remain in the hearts of her family and friends. Truly one can say gone but not forgotten. Besides her husband, five children survive: Mrs. Pauline Potter, Mrs. Alice Hostetter and Miss Clara Carter of Washington and Messrs. Carter and Phillip Carter of this neighborhood; one sister, and one brother of Washington. Her body was laid to rest in Oak Grove cemetery on Saturday beneath a mound of beautiful flowers. The community extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Miss Arcelia Dane has returned from a visit of one week to friends in Caroline county.

Mrs. Fannie Shackelford is visiting her brother, Bence Cole. His condition is no better.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Levi and little son, Billy, and Mrs. Geo. H. Levi of Berryville, Clarke county, visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clarke, over the week end.

Services were held Sunday as announced Saturday and Sunday last. There will also be services again the third Sunday and Saturday in July at the same hour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Clarke and son, Jack, and Mrs. P. E. Clarke and two daughters, Marguerite and Jean, of Washington and Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Kidwell and son, Singleton, of Aurora Hills, Va., were guests of their parents over the week end.

Little Miss Mary Jacquelyn Davis of North Carolina is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Edith Hereford.

CRAVEN-LOWE

A wedding of unusual interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bywaters in Manassas, Saturday evening, June 18.

Mr. John Craven and Miss Grace Lowe of Washington, both deaf, were united in marriage by Rev. Ryland of Manassas. It is thought to be the first wedding for a deaf couple ever held in Manassas.

The bride was attended by Miss Elsie Phelps of Washington as maid of honor while the best man was Mr. John Wurdemann of Manassas. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Bywaters, Mrs. Harrell, Mrs. Gorrell, Mrs. Ryland and Mr. Delmar Cosgrove, all of Manassas; Miss Betty Phelps, Messrs. Henry Holter and Howard Voorhees, all of Washington, and Mr. Butler of Winchester, Va.

The living room was beautifully decorated with flowers, and so was the lovely dining room where delicious refreshments were served by Mesdames Harrell and Bywaters.

A very enjoyable hour was spent before the happy hour finally left on a honeymoon trip to Detroit, Mich. They will return by way of Niagara Falls and make their home in Washington.

FIELD DAY

We most cordially invite you to come to the field day, July 2, at the Nokesville high school grounds. Proceeds for the benefit of Aden U. B. church building fund.

There will be two ball games and all kinds of refreshments and amusements.

ELLA F. BIBB

The funeral service for Mrs. Ella F. Bibb, wife of Robt. O. Bibb, who died Monday, June 13, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Reynolds of Braddock, Alexandria, Va., were held the following Wednesday from her late home in Manassas. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. M. Bell and Rev. Henry Lawson. The pall bearers were Messrs. R. M. Weir, Chas. Lawson, Grady Cooper, Frank Whitmore and Edward Cornwell. Interment was in Woodbine cemetery.

The funeral was largely attended, and the floral tributes were handsome and numerous. The Wimodausis Chapter, O. E. S., conducted the service at the grave.

Mrs. Bibb had been a patient sufferer for many months and has always lived a life that prepared her for the summons to her eternal home. She will be missed by the entire community, for to have known her was to love her. She is survived by her husband, Robt. O. Bibb, a son, Claude R. Bibb of Salisbury, N. C., a daughter, Mrs. W. P. Reynolds of Alexandria, Va., and a sister, Mrs. Dorsey Woodyard of Manassas.

FINE SCHOLASTIC RECORD

Mr. John Hopkins, of Manassas high, 1930, has just returned to his home near Greenwich after a most successful year at Duke University at Durham, N. C.

Mr. Hopkins has been an honor student in physics for the past three semesters. In recognition of this fact, he was invited recently to join Sigma Pi Sigma fraternity.

As a further distinction, Mr. Hopkins will be allowed to elect his entire course next fall and his class attendance will not be checked.

This student record is but a further example of the fine grade of students that the county sends out to the schools all over the country.

LOCAL MUSICIANS

A very much enjoyed feature of the recent dedication of the Manassas Landing Field was the fine performance of the Boys' Band from Linton Hall. They reflected great credit upon their school and the county.
