W. C. T. U. MEETS AT MANASSAS

Interesting Program at All-Day Session.

An all-day institute of the W. C. T. U. was held July 13 in the Methodist church, Rev. O. L. Gochenour conducting the devotional period, and welcoming the delegation from Lincoln and Hamilton.

"America" was sung, Miss Kinchloe pianist.

Mrs. Emley Round, county president, introduced our state president, Mrs. Howard Hoge, who responded in her usual happy manner and presided most graciously over the sessions of the day.

Ministers present were Rev. W. A. Hall of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Luther Miller of the Lutheran church, Rev. Chas. Mark of Nokesville Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Stickle, Remington M. E. church, Rev. J. Halpenny of Grace M. E. church, Rev. Mr. Strone of the Orthodox Friends church, and Rev. Mr. Beahm of the Church of the Brethren, Nokesville, Va. These were recognized and gave greetings.

A number of papers written by state directors were read. L. T. L. work by Mrs. Walter Page, University, Va., was read by Mrs. Broadbush. Great emphasis was laid on the importance of work among children.

Mrs. Mark talked on membership plans, and told of the splendid work done in the L. T. L. at Nokesville by Mrs. Free.

The paper of State Director Mrs. M. H. Day on Temperance Sunday school work was read by Miss Willett Myers. Temperance day in our Sunday schools is supposed to be observed, and its importance was stressed. Mrs. Laura Hoge of Hamilton, state director of international relations for peace, ably presented that subject. Noon tide is the hour observed by the W. C. T. U. for prayer. Rev. Mr. Mark led.

Mrs. Saunders read "From a Treasurer's Viewpoint" giving many helpful points, one of which was paying our dues at the beginning of the W. C. T. U. year, and with the same sense of obligation that we pay our other debts.

Mrs. Gorrell read the paper on "evangelistic work" by State Director Mrs. Amy Weech, urging the forming of prayer groups and the important place prayer has in our W. C. T. U. work. It is significant, by way of contrast, that all W. C. T. U. meetings from international to local can, and do recognize the leadership of Almighty God in this righteous cause of dethroning King Alcohol.

A very impressive part of the program was the tying of the white ribbon on the arm of little Marian Francis, five-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sadd. A very beautiful and touching prayer was offered by Mrs. Hoge on behalf of this little white ribbon recruit. At the close of this service, "When He Cometh to Make Up His Jewels" was sung.

A demonstration called "The Paper That Was Found in the Road" representing "The Union Signal," the official organ of the National W. C. T. U. was very effectively demonstrated by Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Embrey, Mrs. Bywaters and little Roberta and June Sadd.

Benediction by Rev. Mr. Halpenny and adjournment for lunch.

Afternoon session opened with "Song of Allegiance" and "This Is My Father's World." Prayer by Mr. J. J. Murphy.

Mrs. Halpenny read a paper on "Crusade Goals," telling what is required of each state to reach these goals.

Mrs. Harrell read "Christian Citizenship" by State Director Mrs. Samuel Hay, emphasizing the importance of the citizen's responsibility in upholding the law.

The two outstanding addresses were those of Rev. Mr. Miller on "Holding the Front Line" and Rev. Howard Hoge on "Meeting Wet Propaganda." It would take the "pen of a ready writer" and more space than is available to reproduce these timely talks. Close attention was given these two speakers. A point brought out by the first speaker was: a general always knows his men, also knows something of the strength of the enemy, that he may be prepared for a flank movement.

The second speaker said we should be informed, and carry with us the antidote of truth that we be not infected by wet propaganda.

The duet, "The Line Shall Not Break Where I Stand," was impressively sung by Mrs. Harrell and Mrs.

SPENDS WEEK END AT IRVINGTON

Mr. G. R. Ratcliffe, with his nephew, Mr. Leon Waters, and several of their friends from Culpeper, went on a fishing trip to Irvington, Va., and did some very successful fishing.

HORSE SHOW HAS MANY ENTRIES

Secretary Reports Wide-Spread Interest.

REPRESENTATIVE SMITH GIVES CUP

Secretary E. W. Hale of the Prince William Horse Show reports a good many entries of some of the finest horses in this state, also of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Washington City and other neighboring states.

A business meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. H. W. Herring as to final arrangements to be made. Messrs. M. C. Hazen, J. Carl Kinchloe, Wm. Leachman, H. W. Herring, Geo. Herring, E. E. Hale, Frank Cox, and G. C. Brenton attended.

The grounds are being completed next week. An excellent half-mile race track has been finished.

There are a number of very fine thoroughbred horses stabling on the ground at present. There will be four races daily including a steeplechase each day. Hon. Howard W. Smith has contributed a handsome cup for one of the races to be run.

A grandstand has been completed which will make it pleasant for every one.

CHEVROLET TRUCK SALES FOR JUNE

Chevrolet dealers reported the sale of 43,397 new cars and trucks in June, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, announced in Detroit, Mich.

The figure exceeded by 10,000 units domestic production for the month and was within ten per cent of the reported sales for May, Mr. Knudsen said.

He cited figures by ten-day periods to show the effect of the new federal tax on sales for the month. In the first ten days, dealers reported 12,486 sold; in the second ten days, 18,544 units, and in the last ten days, when the new tax was in effect, 12,367 units. Normally the last period of the month is the largest, Mr. Knudsen said.

All sections of the country showed a favorable comparison in the last ten days with the first ten days of the month.

O. F. A. PICNIC

The Order of Fraternal Americans picnic, to be held August 5 at Wide-water Beach, promises to be a delightful event, according to all indications. District Deputy George Baker has requested that all councils meet at Manassas at 9 a. m. so that the trip can be made in a unit.

REVIVAL MEETING

The revival meeting will begin at the Oakdale Baptist church, Greenwich, Va., the third Sunday in August. The pastor, Rev. Barnett Grimsley, will be assisted by Rev. Gerald H. Payne of Portsmouth, Va.

HUGE AIRSHIP PASSES OVER MANASSAS

On Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock, a giant airship, believed to be the U. S. S. Akron, passed over Manassas headed northeast. Many early risers enjoyed the sight as the majestic balloon passed over at a low elevation.

Bywaters.

Mrs. Hoge urged the members to wear the white ribbon badge which tells its own story. She told an incident where she was addressing a group of children, and asked them if they knew the meaning of the knot of white ribbon she wore. One small boy's hand was raised and he said, "It means you don't drink whiskey." Another hand went up and another boy said, "You don't want anybody else to drink whiskey."

Visitors were present from Remington, Nokesville, Sudley and Clifton. Literature was distributed and an offering taken for state work.

Prayer and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Beahm.

FARMERS' DIN- NER TOMORROW

Annual Event Puts Kiwanis Club into Closer Touch with Agriculturists.

Frank Sigman turned the tables on the poet laureate, Ed Conner, and read a knock-out poem. (Right in front of Ed's own poetic offspring, too). The club members did not know that Frank was a poet, and now he's in for more trouble.

Ed and Prof. Pullen are putting on the finishing touches for the farmers' dinner tomorrow evening. It promises to be a big time for everybody.

By lapsing into history, Bob Hutchinson tried to persuade the club that every cloud had a silver lining and that everything was just fine around the corner.

Miss Virginia Conner was introduced the club by Prof. Pullen. She gave her usual entertaining repertoire of humor.

SCOUT CAMPING TRI-

The boy scouts of Manassas with Scoutmaster R. O. Bibb spent last week camping at Libeau's Park.

There are twenty-one boys in the troop and nineteen present at camp. Since all of the boys have completed the "tenderfoot" test, Mr. Bibb spent some of the time giving the "second class" test.

Mr. A. A. Hoeff surprised the troop with plenty of cake and ice cream, and the Kiwanis Club gave them a feast of watermelon. All of the parents were grateful with the eats.

With the kindness of Mr. Raymond Davis's loan of his bungalow the boys report having a good time at boating, swimming, fishing, hiking and plenty of good things to eat.

ANNUAL GATHERING OF THE CLAN

Family Reunion to Be Held at Warrenton, Fauquier County, Va., August 6.

The Lake family of Virginia will hold its sixteenth annual reunion on the green of the Presbyterian church at Warrenton, Va., Saturday, August 6, at 11 o'clock a. m.

The reunion will be held under the auspices of the lineal descendants of John Lake, who in 1754 settled near Atoka, Va., and called it "Lakeland." The Lakes are of English extraction, and the early settlers to America, emigrated from Cowe, Isle of Wight, England, November 25, 1633, three hundred years ago, and settled in the Province of Maryland, which is populated by those people today. They took active part in the Clayborn rebellion, Revolutionary War, War between the States, principally in the southern cause. Those who migrated to Virginia in 1754 were John Lake, William Lake, Vincent Lake. From these migrators, their descendants have been active in settling and populating the following western states: Ohio, Missouri, Oklahoma, Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Arkansas, Texas, and California. From these states a large delegation is expected to attend the reunion.

General H. Oden Lake, president of the clan, will preside and has announced an interesting program, commencing at 11 o'clock a. m. and continuing through the day. A large home delegation of descendants and friends of the family are expected on the historical spot and its beautiful surroundings where trod the forefathers of this extensive Virginia family. Lineal posterity will celebrate, feast and commemorate the good deeds of those that have long gone before.

MRS. C. T. GUINN

Notice has been received of the death of Mrs. C. T. Guinn, wife of the clerk of the court of Culpeper county. Mrs. Guinn was a lovable woman still on the sunny side of middle life and her death came as a shock to her relatives and friends in Manassas and Herndon. She had a large circle of friends and her husband is one of the well-known and popular officials in this area.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Guinn belong to old Culpeper families.

PICNIC AT LINTON HALL

On Saturday, Aug. 20, a picnic will be held at Linton Hall at Bristow, for benefit of All Saint's church. Chicken dinner will be served from noon until 2 p. m. There will be sports and many features and a good time is anticipated. In case of rain there are ample indoor accommodations.

WILL ADDRESS CONVENTION

Hon. G. W. Herring will speak before the Virginia Lumber Dealers at Virginia Beach tomorrow afternoon. His subject will be "Building Contract Payments Law."

LEGION PREPARES FOR CONVENTION

Enrollment Reaches Ten Thousand. Quota for Year Exceeded.

Preparations are being made for the entertainment of 2,500 delegates and guests at the annual convention of the Virginia department of the American Legion which opens in Alexandria on July 31 and will continue through August 3. Every post in the State is expected to be represented at the convention, according to W. Glenn Elliott, adjutant.

Business sessions of the convention, during which the soldiers' bonus will be one of the chief topics of discussion, will get under way Monday morning, August 1. A parade with more than 5,000 persons in the line of march will be held in the afternoon.

In addition to the Legionnaires the marchers will include units from near-by military posts, visitors from the District of Columbia and Maryland, several bands, drum corps and C. M. T. C. units.

The department commander's banquet will be held on Monday night, following which the delegates will be guests on a boat trip to the Marine base at Quantico.

The national membership quota has been exceeded in the campaign which ended last midnight, Mr. Elliott said, adding that the deadline for receiving memberships for the current year is fixed by constitution at fifteen days before the opening of the States convention.

Early returns showed an enrollment of 9,969, nearly 600 in excess of the national quota at 9,374, and unofficial returns, reported but not certified, indicated the budget quota would be reached. The budget quota, 10,175, indicates the number necessary to insure operating expenses for the year, since annual dues are the legion's only source of revenue.

A goal of 15,000 has been set by the department for enrollment by the end of the year.

Enrollment to date is still short of the 11,357 enrolled at the close of the last legion year.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT RELAXES ENFORCEMENT

Announces That Only Large Offenders Will Be Prosecuted.

The Federal Government has announced a change of policy in the matter of prohibition enforcement in Virginia which has been the subject of wide-spread comment within the past few days. Hereafter, according to a statement issued by the District Attorney Paul Kear of Richmond, the Federal Government will only prosecute the large offenders, leaving the small cases to the State courts. The District Attorney says:

"Only where sales are made in such numbers and under such circumstances as practically to amount to the operation of a barroom should, in my opinion, the offenders be prosecuted in the Federal Court. In cases where the agents make purchases on several occasions from homes or other places not run as public bars, the offense should be tried in the State court, if possible, and padlock proceedings be instituted in the Federal Court."

The announcement follows a general shake-up in the Federal prohibition department in Virginia and is widely taken as an indication that Federal enforcement here is about to be greatly relaxed, since open barrooms and saloons are not in evidence here as in other sections of the country. In effect, the announcement seems to practically leave prohibition enforcement where it was before the enactment of the Eighteenth Amendment—in the hands of State Law.

POSTAL CLERKS ENJOY PICNIC

The postal clerks and their families residing in Manassas enjoyed a day's outing yesterday at Davis Beach, where they were guests of Mr. G. G. Allen, who has an attractive cottage there.

About a hundred were in attendance and all returned with reports of a good time. Some swam too much; all probably ate too much, but today they were happily getting back to normalcy.

Miss Hattie Kromeister, Chesterfield county, secretary, read the minutes.

During the morning the instruction in agronomy, agricultural engineering, dairying, was continued for the boys. Various phases of these subjects were demonstrated by members of the V. P. I. faculty.

The girls heard Dr. Rolvix Harlan, head of the department of sociology and social ethics at the University of Richmond, speak upon the topic: "As Men See Us." Dr. M'Lodge Moffett, dean of Radford State Teachers College, spoke about "Being Alive to Life's Laws." Then the girls were divided into groups for purposes of discussing various subjects.

Leaders of these discussion groups included Miss Sylvia Slocum, Miss Cymbel Taylor, Miss Janet Cameron, Miss Mary B. Settle, Miss Celia Swecker, Miss Anna Keyser, Miss Chilton Tyburn and Miss Clara Austin.

The adult leaders met yesterday morning to hear Dr. Carl C. Taylor discuss qualifications for leadership. Miss Mary Frame, president, presided.

The typical day for 4-H club members was followed. The first call was sounded at 6:15. This was followed by assembly at 6:45. Morning devotional service was held on the lawn in front of the dining hall at 6:50. Breakfast was at 7. From 8:15 to noon classes and team demonstrations were held. Following dinner at 12:30 came an hour rest period, which was followed by the daily club assembly held in the Lyric Theatre.

From 3:30 to 5:30 games, stunts and other recreational activities were engaged in. Supper came at 6. Vespers at 6:30 took place on the lawn in front of the first academic building. The ministers attending the rural ministers school and the Masons attending the Royal Arch school joined in this service. From 7 until dark games were played on the drill field. The colorful dresses amid the beautiful setting of the campus made a vivid sight. After dark the 700 boys and girls went into the War Memorial Hall where an evening program of stunts worked up by different county groups were provided for the entertainment of the club members.

WHARTON GROVE

Descendants of the Bagby, Pollard and Woodward families, who settled in Virginia when it was a colony of the English crown, will hold a three days' reunion at Wharton Grove, Lancaster county, Va., on July 29, 30 and 31. As these families are now widely scattered, a large out-of-state attendance is expected in addition to those who still make the Old Dominion their home.

Friday will be the opening day and will be devoted to registration, getting better acquainted, sight-seeing, and boating and fishing on the Rappahannock river. On Saturday, among other items on the interesting program that has been prepared, will be addresses in the afternoon by Mrs. Mary Bagby Rudd of Richmond on the Bagby family, and by Governor John Garland Pollard on the Pollard family.

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning, a special service will be held at historic Christ Church, Lancaster, generally known as the "King Carter church," one of the few remaining places of worship that have come down almost unchanged from colonial days. Sunday afternoon the address at Wharton Grove will be on the Woodward family and Rev. Edmund L. Woodward, M. D., of Shrine Mont, Orkney Springs, Va., will be the speaker.

Prominent among the purposes of the reunion is the assembling and preservation of as complete genealogical information as possible, especially for the period antedating the Revolutionary war. The destruction of the public records of many of the Tidewater Virginia counties has made this a difficult task, but it is hoped that by collecting and tabulating all available information it may be found possible to supply many of the missing links. Dr. Woodward has been specializing in Woodward genealogy and will welcome all information as to any branches of the Woodward family that may be sent to him at Orkney Springs.

Other interesting features have been provided for the entertainment of the visitors, and a detailed program may be had upon request to John Garland Pollard, jr., Executive Mansion, Richmond. Personal invitations to the reunion will not be necessary, and any members of these families and their friends will receive a hearty welcome.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear son, Norman G. Seelman, who so suddenly departed this life on July 20, 1930.

Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts,
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;

Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.

Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Brother and Sister.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

WHAT DOES GOD REQUIRE?—And now, O Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul.—Deuteronomy 10:12.

FIRST MANASSAS

Seventy-one years ago today one of the greatest battles in the history of the world was fought for the possession of Manassas Junction. Greater forces have engaged in mortal combat, but never were greater issues involved, nor more brilliant military leadership.

The War between the States had begun. There was no "rebellion." A previous generation of patriots had entered into a compact between sovereign states to form a central government for mutual benefit and protection. A contract, sacredly binding the various states into a republic, had been duly ratified. The Constitution of the United States, a most honorable pledge, set forth the conditions upon which the various states would form a national federation. Many states, including Virginia, ratified the Constitution with the distinct reservation that whenever the compact should prove disadvantageous to their welfare, they could withdraw. Without this understanding it would have been impossible to have formed the United States.

Two great political parties sprang up in this country. They were the new world representatives of the age-old contest between the privilege of the classes and the welfare of the masses. They were then known as the Federalists and the Republicans. This latter name was the property of democracy until it was discarded in favor of the term Democrat. When it gradually became apparent that the name Republican did not fit the ideals of a Democrat, the name was cast aside, later to be adopted by that coalition of Abolitionists and Federalists which sought to perpetuate their waning power by the sword and the enfranchisement of the negro.

Under the Constitution the Federalist - Abolitionist design could not be carried out. So the northern states repudiated their solemn contract. They openly violated the Constitution, and upon the theory that a contract is binding upon all parties concerned, the South withdrew. The solemn pledge which bound the States into a Union had been declared a "scrap of paper" by the North and upon the issue of the sanctity of the contract, the War between the States was fought.

First Manassas was an achievement of the forces of honor against dishonor and of right against might. And First Manassas immortalized the power of a man, who with sublime faith in God stood unconquerable in the hell of battle, his iron will constituting a "Stone-wall" which turned the tide of battle from defeat to victory and illuminated a character which stands unique among the great chieftains of the Anglo-Saxon race.

GOING AFTER BUSINESS

An intensive sales drive recently conducted by a large cereal manufacturing concern has resulted in the "largest day's business in the last quarter century."

Encouraged by the success, the company is now commencing a huge advertising campaign which will be featured in newspapers, magazines and other publications.

A few other bold drives like this should be of considerable benefit to the whole country. While not solving directly the important international problems on which world welfare appears to depend, they might very well give domestic affairs the forward push which would hasten the successful tackling of those world problems.—Portsmouth Star.

SYLVIA SIDNEY SEEN IN LEADING FEMININE ROLE

Sylvia Sidney, the New York-born and raised actress who distinguished herself in films so auspiciously in "An American Tragedy" and "Ladies of the Big House," comes to the Dixie Theatre in her newest part, that of the confidence crook's girl friend in "The Miracle Man," on Monday and Tuesday next.

This is the part which brought immortal fame to Betty Compson in the original silent screen version of the same play in 1919. In that production, Thomas Meighan was the smooth crook, and Lon Chaney was "The Frog"—a fake paralytic.

In the new, modernized version with Miss Sidney, Chester Morris is the crook, and John Wray is the fakir.

STOPBorrowing Money From Your Friends

In the first place, no one likes to lend money for which he has worked hard, and which he, perhaps, needs for his own use. Then again, it weakens your business and social prestige, and is about as injurious a habit as a young man can possibly cultivate.

Instead of borrowing, use a little judgment, and each month deposit with this safe bank a part of your income. It may come a bit hard at first, but you'll very soon see the wisdom and enjoy the benefit of it.

Legumes to Reduce Cost

Facing another lean year in farm returns for 1932, farmers are advised by John Slipher, state extension specialist, to place greater dependence on legume hay to produce their portion feed for live stock feeding. Alfalfa surpasses red clover for western Ohio conditions in larger yield per acre, and also it is 40 per cent richer in protein and minerals. Instead of the common corn wheat-clover rotation he suggests two years of alfalfa following corn and wheat.—Ohio Farmer.

GAMBLERS GIVE TECHNICAL AID IN NEW BAXTER DRAMA

Professional gamblers were called in to give technical advice and show the 60 or more players how to bet their chips in the various games of chance introduced in "Man About Town," the Fox picture bringing Warner Baxter to the screen as the owner of a high-class gambling house. The setting for the film is Washington, giving intimate glimpses of the romance and intrigue of international affairs.

MAGAZINE STORY PROVIDES PLOT FOR "THE MAN FROM NEW MEXICO" WITH TYLER

"Fang Branded," Frederick Ryter's sensational story furnishes the plot for "The Man from New Mexico," starring Tom Tyler, which comes to the Dixie Theatre next Saturday.

In "The Man from New Mexico," Tom Tyler is given a part which permits a rare display of his many capabilities as a Western star. Critics have declared that his latest picture combines the wonderful settings and cast of "Two-Fisted Justice" with the rip-roaring action of his speedy "Gallop Thru."

Supporting Tyler are such players as Caryl Lincoln, former Wampas baby star and well-known Western leading lady, Jack Richardson, prominent delineator of villain roles, who appears for the first time in his 20 years of pictures in a sympathetic and romantic role, Robert Walker, another veteran of 20 years on the stage and screen, Lewis Sargent, former juvenile star, and Blackie Whiteford, William Nolte and Lee Tinn.

HE-MAN ROLE ONLY LURE
IN CAST OF "CORSAIR"
FOR FRED KOHLER

When a life of screen villainy calls on Fred Kohler he loads a pack mule with provisions and treks off into the California mountains to fish and hunt for six months at a time.

All the gold in the Hollywood banks could not lure him back until he has his fill of roughing it. Then, as abruptly as he departed, this 220 pounds of iron topped by the great, leonine head, reappears to end the anxiety of producers who have been searching for him.

One thing alone can throttle his urge which periodically drives him off to the solitude of the wilds—a film role which holds promise of equal excitement and adventure. Which accounts for the fact that Fred Kohler appears in the cast of Roland West's new film, "Corsair," starring Chester Morris, which comes to the Dixie Theatre on Friday, July 29. Kohler was all set for another disappearance when producer West approached him with a contract. Argument was useless, West discovered, but he persuaded the actor to take along a copy of the Walton Green novel from which the film play was adapted.

ROBERT COOGAN ENACTS
ROLE OF CRIPPLED BOY

Robert Coogan, younger brother of Jackie Coogan, who has become almost, if not fully as well-known as Jackie through his work in "Skippy" and "Sooky," his first two pictures, will be seen in his third film effort next Monday and Tuesday, with the arrival of "The Miracle Man" on the Dixie Theatre's screen. He plays the part of the crippled boy.

In this 1932 revival of the renowned screenland classic which, many recall, introduced to the silver-sheet three who since attained fame, Lon Chaney, Thomas Meighan and Betty Compson, Paramount carries on the tradition for popularity which greeted the original photoplay.

The production has received painstaking attention on all production points. And the cast, this time, is a cast of those who have already made good—including young Mr. Coogan, Sylvia Sidney, Chester Morris, Irving Pichel, John Wray and Hobart Bosworth.

Hello, folks!

Your correspondent has been hunting big game in Africa for the past two weeks. (Don't believe everything you see in the papers).

Somebody ought to gently rebuke our good people for the poor turnout at our last community league meeting, but I don't know who we could find to do the job. Those present enjoyed a very interesting program given by the local 4-H club, consisting of club songs, pledge, presentation of colors, recitations and practical demonstrations.

Oh well, there'll not be any Fourth of July to celebrate in August. We'll have a big crowd out then. Our president is sponsoring the program and between you and me, I think he is going to spring a surprise on us.

Miss Elizabeth Harley has returned from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Philadelphia and Atlantic City. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Carolyn Weaver and Mr. S. G. Markley, both of Philadelphia.

Miss Harley and Mr. Markley spent Thursday and Friday in Richmond and Suffolk. On their return, they picked up Mrs. Wrenn, who had been visiting relatives in the Shenandoah Valley at Luray.

The Greenwich Rebels came out of their slump Saturday to trim the strong Bethel team, from Fauquier, in snappy fashion. The Reds tramped on Sopher, visiting twirler, for two runs in the first inning.

The Bethel batsmen blasted the shut-out hopes of the locals in the eighth inning by shoving over their first and final run. Several times, during the game, however, the visitors had the bases loaded, but N. Hopkins pitched himself out of the tight places each time. The final count was 4-1.

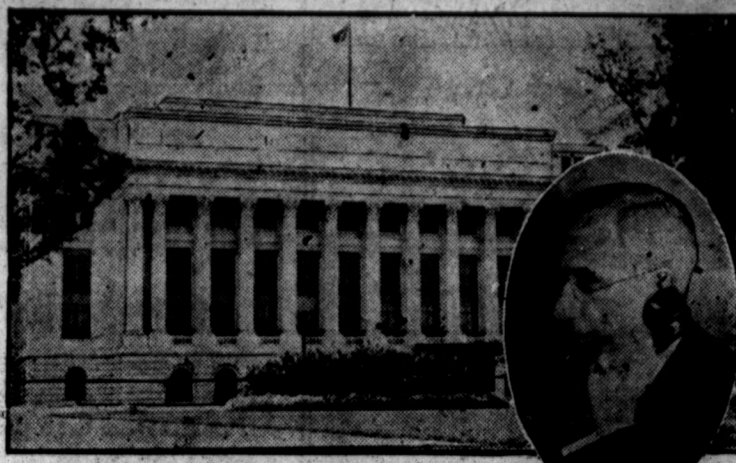

"White" Taylor, star centerfielder, made the lone four-base sock of the day.

Telephone Likened To Plow By Agricultural Secretary

New administrative building of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, and Secretary Hyde (insert) using the telephone which he says "has become almost as much a farm tool as the plow."

Aid to agriculture as a means of increasing business was proposed by John Adams to the Continental Congress in 1776. George Washington, in his first annual message to Congress suggested aid to agriculture. In his last annual message, made in 1796, he remarked that "as nations advance in population, the cultivation of soil becomes more and more an object of public patronage."

Aid to the farmer in this day and age, according to Secretary of Agriculture, Arthur M. Hyde, is dependent on diversified activities of scientists and experts in many lines of endeavor in serving the 125,000,000 people of the United States. An important factor in present-day agricultural problems is communication.

Telephone communication in the Department of Agriculture at Washington is essential. Here the 5,000 assistant secretaries, directors of the various bureaus, scientists, experts and assistants are served by a large private branch exchange switchboard with which there are connected more than 1,500 telephones. Trunk lines connect this system with city central offices and the lines with other government departments.

Telephone service today is as necessary to the farmer as it is to the city man. Mr. Hyde says, "Nearly a full generation of farmers have used the telephone. It has become almost as much a farm tool as the plow. Only the older farmers and those living in poorly developed areas realize the changes in farm life which the telephone has wrought; immediate access to market news; time saved and added convenience in purchasing supplies and repairs; increase in safety in summoning medical assistance or other help in an emergency; time saved in arranging for farm activities, whether work or play. Above all, the telephone has gone far in banishing the isolation that once handicapped rural life."

The Department of Agriculture is one of the ten major executive departments of the Federal Government. It was created by Congress with the signing of the bill by President Lincoln, May 15, 1862. For the first few years of its existence, the Department of Agriculture was a branch of the Patent Office. It is now recognized as one of the leading and most necessary departments of the Government.

selves to the beautiful broilers and hens which he had raised, Mr. Brower at last ran this advertisement to the public:

"Notice to Chicken Thieves."

In order to save you the trouble of making any unprofitable calls in the future, I desire to notify you that I am completely cleaned out of chickens. The last raid Tuesday night took every feather I had left from a previous raid. So it will be unnecessary to call again.

(Signed) FRANK W. BROWER.

FOR A RED HOT SUMMER

FOR a red hot summer, tomato cocktails are a red cool drink. But there are lots of drinks of many other colors that also come out of cans. There are all the fruit juices, for instance—grapefruit, orange, pineapple, cider, grape juice—and sauerkraut and the syrups from canned fruits which are used in many combinations.

So here are a bevy of beverages from cans which will slake your summer thirst, save your time and energy, and taste all the better to you because they're so easy to concoct. Tomato juice is delicious, of course, just as it comes from the can, but let's start with a couple of good recipes for serving it in combination with other ingredients.

Sparkling Tomato Beverage: Add the juice of one lemon, one tablespoon sugar and salt to taste to the contents of two 10-ounce cans of tomato juice, and have very cold. Add one-half pint, ice cold, of your favorite carbonated water, and serve at once in small glass cups. This makes six cups.

Tomato Cocktail: Mix together two and one-half cups (twenty ounces) tomato juice, two teaspoons malt vinegar, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ten drops tabasco sauce and two teaspoons lemon juice. Chill, and serve in cocktail glasses. Serves six.

Early Morning Drink

Tomato juice "as is" is an excellent morning drink. If you want to fess it up a little for an extra special thirst, try this:

Tomato and Ginger Ale Pick-Me-Up: Add one tablespoon sugar, the juice of one lemon and a few grains of salt to the contents of one 9½-ounce can of tomato juice, and chill over night. Also chill one-half pint ginger ale over night. In the morning combine the two, and serve at once. This makes four small glasses.

Or if you prefer a sweeter morning drink with more fruit in it, try this:

Morning Punch: Combine two cups orange juice, two-thirds cup syrup from canned pineapple (all from a No. 2 can) and one-fourth cup raspberry syrup (all from an 8-ounce can) and four tablespoons lemon juice. Chill over night. Serves six.

Tasty Iced Tea

For lunch and for the afternoon iced tea is a welcome thirst quencher, and there are several ways to vary it to make it an especial treat. Here are two.

Tropical Iced Tea: Dissolve three tablespoons confectioner's sugar in the contents of a No. 2 can of unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, and tint a delicate shade of green with vegetable coloring. Pour into ice cube refrigerator pans, drop a maraschino cherry in each compartment, and let freeze. Make iced tea as usual, sweetening to taste while still hot. Chill. Serve in tall glasses with one or two pineapple ice cubes and a wedge of lemon. One recipe will make ten to twelve cubes.

Fruit Flip: Boil seven-eighths cup sugar, one cup orange juice and one orange rind cut in thin strips for five minutes, then cool. Add one and one-half cups strong cold tea, two tablespoons lemon juice and the contents of a No. 2 can of unsweetened pineapple juice. Serve over cubes of frozen ginger ale or ice. This makes one quart, or fills eight punch glasses.

Beer and Punch

Don't wait all summer for the Senate to legislate about beer, but keep yourself cool in the meantime with this:

Fruit Beer: Dissolve one-third cup confectioner's sugar in one and one-half cups fruit syrup consisting of the syrup from a No. 2 can of peach halves and the syrup from a No. 2 can of grapefruit, and three tablespoons lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. Beat one egg white stiff, and pour the fruit combination over, beating constantly. Pour on two pints ice cold ginger ale, and serve at once over cracked ice. This makes eight tall or sixteen punch glasses. The left-over peach halves and grapefruit, by the way, make excellent ingredients for a summer salad.

And here's a summer punch made with cider, a summer product, which will prove very grateful to your insides—or make them grateful to you, whichever way you want to put it.

Cider Punch: Boil together one quart water, one cup sugar and one-third cup finely chopped candied ginger till a thin syrup. Cool. Add one-half cup lemon juice, one quart cider, and the syrup from one No. 2 can of sliced Hawaiian pineapple, and serve very cold. This makes a lot of punch, but that will be what you want.
