MANASSAS, VIRGINIA THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1932

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

CONVENTION WON BY MANASSAS MAN

Trusler Slate Carries by Big Majority.

Republican politics got to the near-boiling point on Monday, and the delegates of the Eighth district were treated to the first real contest in many years.

It only became public information recently that John B. Grayson, for many years district chairman, would not be a candidate for re-election, as he was an aspirant for the station held on the State Committee by Hon. Joseph L. Crupper of Rosslyn.

Arlington county put Clarence R. Ahalt, one of the county's leaders, in the field and he was at once assured the heavy vote of that county. In the meantime, W. E. Trusler, Republican leader in Prince William for many years, and the party's acknowledged head in this section, quietly let it be known to his friends that he would accept the honor if tendered. Beyond that nothing appeared on the surface until Monday morning.

of Manassas, who was named district chairman of the Republican party at Monday's convention.

As temporary chairman, Clarence Ahalt made a rattling good talk in the interests of his party in this district. The address of welcome was given by R. S. Braden, county manager of Arlington. To this Hon. John Barton Phillips responded.

Richard R. Farr, Fairfax county, was elected permanent chairman of the convention and F. Clinton Knight, postmaster of Alexandria, temporary and permanent secretary.

The first skirmish was apparently won by Arlington when the convention decisively voted down a nominating committee. Everything was ducks and pie during the pleasure session in which Arlington certainly qualified for its generosity and forethought.

When the nominations began in the afternoon, speeches were the order of the day and the candidates all had a chance. Then the voting. When Alexandria passed, the battle was seen to be over, as Arlington had been strongly banking on that delegation. Down the line, the Trusler flag gradually went higher, only Culpeper holding fast to Arlington. Except for a scattered handful, it was a clean sweep, and then Alexandria gracefully fell into line with an evenly divided vote.

The nominations for Congress were almost an exact duplication of this vote, Spaulding, the Arlington-Alexandria business man coming up with everything including the Alexandria vote. His old-time cronies, three of the Fairfax delegates, and Culpeper went over with John L. Green, a new recruit.

The evening session, held at the Washington-Lee high school, was a rally of large proportions. Father Curran of St. Charles gave the invocation and Hon. Phil Campbell presided, assisted by Mrs. Frances Harris. Speakers were Judge Theodore Risley, solicitor of the Department of Labor; Hon. John W. Philp, second assistant postmaster general, and Secretary Doak, a native Virginian and resident of Arlington county. Hon. Charles F. Scott, editor of The Republican made a brief speech.

The feature of the evening was the introduction of the new district chairman by Mr. Campbell. Mr. Trusler had come in late and many did not know who he was. Mr. Campbell's announcement was very heartily received and Mr. Trusler stood so that everyone had a chance to view their new leader.

DAIRY FESTIVAL MEETING AT TOWN HALL

The next dairy festival meeting will be held at the Manassas town hall on Wednesday evening, August 31, at 8 o'clock. September 30, the date of the second annual festival, is rapidly approaching and a great deal of work must be done during the next few weeks. The attention of the country will be focused upon Piedmont Virginia and only with the support of the people of Manassas and Prince William county can the festival be as successful as it deserves to be.

JUNIORS VISIT VIENNA COUNCIL

Large Class from Prince William Initiated.

The Junior Order in Prince William county received a decided impetus on Tuesday night, when District Deputy State President George D. Baker and over twenty members and initiates from three of the five Councils marched on Vienna where the summer meeting of District No. 4 was being held.

The initiates from Bull Run Council No. 15 included Clay W. Ball, James H. Boley, Eugene Davis, Walter Sadd, Robert L. Stephens, Claude A. Woodyard and from Aden Council, Mr. Bradshaw.

After the district meeting, Vienna drill team, headed by Howland Kenyon, put on the full ceremony which was keenly appreciated by all present.

State Secretary James R. Mansfield was present and announced a tri-district class initiation on the evening of November 14 at Alexandria. The ceremonial will be put on by the drill team of Betsy Ross Council of Washington, one of the crack teams of the east.

District Deputy Alton Money presided over the district meeting and Mr. Beard, councillor of Vienna No. 12, presided over the preliminary business meeting. Treasurer C. C. Carr announced a special collection of $5.07.

At the close of the meeting, District Deputy Baker made an address thanking the Vienna team for its courtesy and hospitality.

The host council served refreshments just at midnight, and the same were greatly enjoyed.

BULL RUN FIELD DAY

Event Successful in Spite of Bad Weather.

The annual field day and tournament sponsored by the Bull Run Grange at Haymarket on Thursday, August 18, was successful although rain fell throughout most of the day.

The program opened at 10 p.m. with a concert by the Quantico Marine band at the parish hall, following which the chief address of the day was made by Hon. Howard W. Smith, and citizenship diplomas awarded by Rev. W. L. Carpenter.

The successful riders in the tournament were:

First, Harry Lynn, Knight of Batchelors Hall; second, Carl Smith, Knight of Batavia; third, C. L. Wilkerson, Knight of Bull Run Grange, and fourth, Thomas Smith, Knight of the Old Dominion.

The queen and the three maids of honor were crowned by the winning knights at the tournament dance in the evening at the Masonic Hall. The charge to the knights was very ably delivered by Hawes T. Davies. The consolation prize, a bridge, was won by George Shumate, in the second competition.

Other riders in the tournament were Brevard Titter, Jack Lightner, Buddy Smith, Preston Smith, Ed Carter, Sanford Gulick, Horace Foley and Howard Melton.

BRIDGE BIDS NOT AWARDED

With Rhoades and Walters of Culpeper, low bidders on the bridge abutments at Putnam's Ford, the Board on Tuesday found it impossible to make an award because there are not sufficient funds available.

The Board ordered Messrs. Dawson and Roland to see Chief Engineer Shirley at once in order that the work might go ahead with some aid from his department.

Five tractors and graders belonging to the county have been loaned to Engineer Mahaffey for use on the secondary road system of this county.

The State was requested to place a culvert at a point where Landes and Collier join in Brentsville district. The pipe had previously been purchased but not put in place.

A number of accounts were audited and ordered paid.

COMMUNITY LEAGUES HOLD JOINT MEETING

Plans Formulated for New Year.

The officers of the High School and Bennett School Community Leagues called a joint meeting at the home of Mrs. C. C. Lynn, president of the High School League, Monday, August 22, at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of planning the annual luncheon to be given the Prince William county teachers at their institute September 7 and to make further plans for the year.

Mrs. Cocke, who was elected vice-president at the last meeting, resigned and Mrs. Stewart Gibson was elected at this meeting to take her place. Mrs. E. H. Hibbs was named chairman of the social committee for Bennett school.

Much interest was manifested at this meeting by a large number of members and it is hoped that more patrons and friends will join the leagues this year and help carry on this work which is so beneficial not only to the schools but to the community at large.

DEATH OF ESTEEMED LADY

Mrs. Sarah Keys, wife of Isiah Keys, died Aug. 18 at her home in Manassas after a lingering illness. The funeral services were conducted by her several pastors from the Baptist church.

TRANSPORTATION COMPANY EMPLOYEES HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

The employees of the McCoy Transportation Company held one of their regular meetings at Washington on Sunday at 11 o'clock in the office of the terminal there. Practically the entire employed force of the organization was present, including the employees of the Richmond, Baltimore and other terminals.

Mr. McCoy presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Miller, safety engineer of the Travelers Insurance Company, who spoke at length on the prevention of accidents, their cause and result.

Mr. Williams of the Richmond terminal addressed the meeting for several minutes on the value of co-operation between the employees and the special need of such co-operation at the present time. He stated that any old pilot could steer the ship when the water was high, but that it took a good pilot to steer straight in the channel when the water was low. He ended by calling on all the employees of the corporation to give their earnest thought and effort to the handling of freight efficiently; to the importance of courtesy and politeness in dealing with the shippers, and toward the ultimate aim of the development of the greater Motor Transportation Company serving this section of the country.

E. A. Blackard of the Manassas office was introduced and spoke on enthusiasm as a business asset and the importance of being on the alert at all times for new business and ways and means of securing new business. He introduced figures showing the increase in the amount of freight hauled by comparing different periods of time and showed that recent efforts along certain lines had produced results, which had shown up on the books in the office in gratifying percentages.

A number of other employees made short talks of an inspiring nature.

The McCoy Transportation Company have their general office and construction and repair shops in Manassas, and have grown until their payrolls are a decided asset to the business life of the town. Starting in the business just a few years ago with only two or three trucks, Mr. McCoy now operates a fleet of more than a score of heavy duty freight trucks on some of the most important routes in this section of the state.

FIRE OFFICIAL BANQUET GUEST

Fire Marshal Lauber Speaks at Celebration.

Manassas Kiwanians celebrated jointly with the Fire Department last Friday night in a banquet given at the Prince William Hotel in honor of the signal victory gained by the fire team at Alexandria on August 11.

Edwin Hill, Esq., president of the Washington Kiwanis Club, was present with E. T. Etz of his club and Calvin G. Lauber, fire marshal of the District of Columbia, who made the leading talk of the evening, titling his address, "Little Things That Start Big Fires."

Previous to his coming to the District, Mr. Lauber was for fourteen years field rating expert for the National Board of Underwriters, and in that capacity came into contact with every fire department of any size in the entire country and many of the small towns. During this time he gained valuable experience, much of which is unique because it contains bits of unusual methods of fire fighting used by the fire departments. Such things as using water to prevent doors from shutting off empty hose lines, single rays of light to detect smoke, etc.

In citing unusual causes of great fires, Mr. Lauber stressed careless smoking as the worst source of conflagration. This together with instantaneous ignition, he declared, is the greatest offender. Contrary to general impression, the speaker said that vegetable oils are much ahead as a contributing factor. Investigation shows that floors which have blazed after contact with heated steam pipes have generally been soaked with vegetable oils. The great Collingwood school fire was cited as a disastrous example of this.

"Hang your household mops where aid can circulate around them freely," he advised his audience. "Do not place them in a tightly-shut closet."

Branching momentarily from his chosen subject, Mr. Lauber told something of panic psychology in connection with fires that had not even occurred. "One of the greatest hazards we have," he said, "is the air ventilator in our theatres. The slightest smell of smoke is picked up by them and carried all over the room. We are now requiring in Washington that there be an instant cut-off for these fans just as there is an immediate method of flooding the entire floor with light."

Mr. Lauber highly commended the Kiwanis Club for its civic work and urged the firemen to come and visit him at Room 3 in the Municipal Building.

The tables were decorated with the prize cups just won by the fire squad and Captain Bruce Hynson introduced the team which made this fine record. He also called on each man of the entire department to rise and make himself known.

The evening was not complete without the usual joke and Bob Hutchinson, batting for O. D. stated that some of the hot jokes might be cited as a fire hazard.

President Al commended Ledman on his excellent program for the month, declaring that he was almost a candidate for a gold medal.

NEGRO KILLED AT MANASSAS

Late Saturday night a negro fell from a freight train in Manassas and was ground to pieces under the wheels. The body was mutilated beyond possible identification, but a companion who was also riding the freight, upon reaching Culpeper, notified the authorities that his buddy had fallen under the train. His name was given as John Ruth.

Hon. Howard W. Smith Makes An Interesting Address.

The Democratic Committee of Prince William county met at the court house Saturday, August 20, at 2 p.m., and transacted the business necessary to the organization for a successful campaign this fall.

The meeting was called to order by D. E. Earhart, chairman, and all districts were represented but Gainesville and Dumfries, from both of which there were, however, a number of representative Democrats present.

The objects of the meeting were explained by Mr. Hawes Davies, who recalled the hot fight the Democracy of Prince William county experienced four years ago when the Republican wave which swept across Arlington and Fairfax counties was stopped on the banks of historic Bull Run.

Hon. Howard W. Smith, Representative of the Eighth Congressional District in Congress, was present and made an interesting informal address, giving much valuable advice to the committee in the matter of organization and preparation for a successful campaign. He expressed no fears as to the outcome of the election, but stressed the importance of organized effort. He expressed great confidence in the method of conducting campaigns through the local committees and urged them to concentrate upon the project of getting every qualified Democratic voter to the polls on election day. Judge Smith stated that there was absolutely no question about the sections of the county normally Democratic and that he was confident that those regions, normally doubtful, would be found in the Democratic column this fall. Judge Smith paid a high compliment to the women of the party, expressing appreciation of the splendid work they had done and urging that they be actively at work from now until the November election.

Mr. Robert Hutchison and Mr. Thomas W. Lion also spoke, the latter emphasizing the importance of organizing the young Democrats, and the need of a general county rally as the date of the election approached.

All committeemen present complied with the regulations of the State Committee, and after a number of Democrats, not members of the committee, had been called upon for a statement of the political conditions prevailing in their respective communities, the meeting adjourned to meet Sept. 1, at 2:30, in the Prince William court house.

POULTRY CULLING DEMONSTRATIONS CONDUCTED BY PROF. A. L. DEAN OF V. P. I.

Poultry culling demonstrations were held on Tuesday and Wednesday at Charles Walters, Nokesville; P. A. Lewis's, Manassas; Charles Wilkerson's, Haymarket, and L. J. Pattie's, Catharpin. Diseases of poultry, feeding, housing, breeding and sanitation were discussed by Prof. Dean. Requests for building plans for brooder and laying houses and range shelters were received. A total of fifty-six poultry keepers from the communities visited turned out for the meetings.

EDUCATIONAL DAIRY EXHIBITS TO BE GIVEN PROMINENT PLACE AT DAIRY FESTIVAL

Arrangements have been made with the office of Exhibits of the United States Department of Agriculture for mechanical exhibits which will be placed in the windows of stores throughout the town.

An outstanding exhibit will be the "Tale of Two Bulls," which contains in the set-up an animated cartoon shown by a motion picture projector from the rear.

Other exhibits are entitled "Our Average Is Low," "Dairy Farm Success," "The Dairy Situation," "Dairy Farm Organization," etc.

Most of the exhibits will contain moveable figures and should be very much worth while from an educational standpoint.

"HUDDLE" BRINGS RAMON NOVARRO TO DIXIE SCREEN

Following his outstanding success in the role of the young officer in "Mata Hari," Ramon Novarro comes to the screen in an entirely new characterization in "Huddle," to be shown at the Dixie theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

He portrays the role of Tony Amatto, mill hand in a large steel plant, who wins a scholarship to Yale University. His efforts to adjust himself to a strange social environment by the right of brawn and athletic achievement are a stirring basis for the story.

Sam Wood, famous for "So This Is College" and his recent filming of the entire U. S. C. Notre Dame game, directed the production with one of the strongest supporting casts of the year.

Madge Evans, who scored a distinct hit as the feminine lead in "Lovers Courageous," plays opposite Novarro for the second time in her career. Her first appearance with him was in "Son of India," which started this popular young player on the way to success as a talking-picture leading woman.

Una Merkel, the girl with "that ole southern drawl," who made such a hit as the crying wife in "Private Lives," plays a Southern girl who stirs things up on the Yale campus.

As the fighting coach of the varsity football team, Ralph Graves is given an opportunity at one of the virile type of roles that are his specialty.

Campus "atmosphere" shows many actual Yale scenes filmed by technical experts from the university. Reproduction of the many famous buildings and quadrangles will warm the hearts of "old grads" and many thousands who have visited the institution.

GAINESVILLE

The Frank Lee Apiary near Gainesville has made a yield of about four tons of excellent quality of honey this season.

Mrs. M. H. Lee had as her guest on Tuesday last Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee and two daughters, Nancy and Ann Fairfax, of The Plains, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid, Mrs. D. Chamberlain, Mrs. Philip Triplett of Warrenton.

Miss Florence A. Triplett is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Lee, at the "Hermitage."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Fitzhugh and two children, Barbara Lee and Richard of Charlottesville, Va., spent several days last week with Mrs. Fitzhugh's mother, Mrs. R. H. Lee, at the "Hermitage."

MONEY MAKING MICROBES

Because a lot of straw got burned in a Western beet field, scientists have learned how micro-organisms will tell them hat crops can best be grown on laborers of mechanics.

PARK VILLE

Since our last report, Mr. Jack Breeden has completed the house he was building and is building another, and must build a couple more as soon as he can get to them.

Mr. Payne is building a fine and attractive house in the northern section, and Mr. C. Senger, the well driller, has built and moved into his house in the northern suburbs on a fine elevation, which he thinks justly entitles him to the privilege of looking down on the town proper and even down on Manassas. How is that for Parkville?

If all the towns and cities were doing that well, on a percentage basis, there soon would be no unemployed laborers of mechanics.

CATHARPIN

Mrs. J. S. Tribble and children of Tecumseh have lately returned from a week's visit with her sister near Gettysburg, Pa.

The Sudley wanderers who have been vacationing during the past several weeks have begun wending their weary ways homeward to rest up. Among them were noted this week Mrs. George H. Ayres and son, Wilkins, and her daughter, Asenath, of Stone House who have been enjoying the tossing billows of the Atlantic Ocean at Virginia Beach returned last week; also Mrs. C. F. Brower who has been sampling the good things to eat offered by the Fairway Inn at Pottsville has returned after a week's visit with her son, Chas. F. Brower, Jr., and family; also the mistress of the Gainesville parsonage, Mrs. K. D. Swecker, who with her sister has been enjoying the sandy shores of Virginia Beach for the past week has returned home; all reporting a wonderful time which we know they must have had.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon of Clarendon spent the week end at Oakwood before beginning a two weeks' engagement among the churches at and near Modest Town, Va., on Eastern Shore.

Mrs. Nellie S. Clary of Lawrenceville surprised and delighted her friends by a sudden "drop in" on last Friday. She returned home on Monday.

Lillian, Martha and Peggy, children of Mrs. Rita Robertson Brashear of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., have been spending some time with their uncle, Mr. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale.

If all reports were true the Gainesville, Haymarket and Catharpin neighborhoods would be so saturated with furniture polish that they would outshine moon and stars; but some reports are deceptive and these seem to be those. Agents of various things travel through the country selling this, that and the other, and some of them, like Aaron of Old, are very fluent talkers and can almost if not quite convince one against his will. Such an one selling furniture polish appeared last week and after a short and quick demonstration on the piano lid solicited an order for a dozen bottles saving that your neighbors, giving their names, had purchased variously from 3 to a dozen bottles each and that you could never afford to be without this "World's greatest wonder." Dinner was just ready to serve and partly to get rid of him before that great event, one bottle was purchased. Later someone called on the phone and wanted to know what we were going to do with so much furniture polish. Then things began to happen; consternation ran riot when we learned that we had purchased six bottles instead of one and a check-up revealed that but three bottles had been sold in the neighborhood, yet all had been reported as doing their best to rival Gainesville and Haymarket toward brightening up this section of the northern hemisphere; so for once in our lives we had something to happen to make us feel that someone thought us wealthy enough to buy a half-dozen bottles of something even if it was furniture polish, and to be placed in juxtaposition with Warrenton, Gainesville and Haymarket made us feel proud and to realize that life was still worth living, even tho' the aurora borealis still has a monopoly on the splendor of reflected light.

DAINTY INGENUE OF FILMS
ANXIOUS TO PLAY VAMPIRE

Thespians are like everybody else—they are never content with their lot. Cast them for the roles that they are suited for by appearance and temperament, and they immediately express a desire to do "something different." One of the most notable examples of this is Charles Chaplin, who despite the fact that he is considered the screen's greatest comedian, harbors a desire to play "Hamlet."

Another dissatisfied thespian is Miriam Seegar, who plays the feminine lead in "The Dawn Trail," the "western" starring Buck Jones showing at the Dixie theatre next Saturday, Aug. 27. The blonde, soft prettiness of Miriam Seegar stamps her as an ingenue. Yet, running true to form Miriam wants to play vamps, a woman with a dark and crimson colored past. She pictures herself in clinging gown, luring unwary males into all manner of scrapes, and waxes quite indignant when you give her an argument on the subject.

Needless to say, in "The Dawn Trail" Miriam has the kind of role that she is imminently well suited to play—that of a charming and sweet girl. She makes an ideal foil for the dashing cowboy, Buck Jones. Her pale, soft beauty and manner has put her in the class of ingenues—and there she must remain.

A SNAKE STORY

A good Methodist of Fisherville, Va., tells this for the fact. He was having prepared a fowl for dinner and a snake about 8 inches was between the skin with its head out about one and half inches. He regretted not preserving it in alcohol. It was such an unusual thing.

FIRST BLOOD FOR ROOSEVELT

Last Saturday Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for the Presidency of the United States, delivered his first formal address since his nomination and he poured hot shot into the enemy which will be felt throughout the campaign. Without question the Republicans are filled with consternation at the temerity of a man who will strike so straight from the shoulder and call a spade a spade, and if necessary, a liar a liar.

Roosevelt emerges from the first encounter a man fully up to the stature required of a man who seeks the highest office in the gift of the people of the United States. Eloquent, convincing and dignified, he nevertheless bluntly presents facts which cannot be disproven and which unquestionably reflect upon the personal honor of the Chief Executive.

In four sentences Governor Roosevelt sums up the history of the Hoover Administration as follows:

1. It encouraged speculation and overproduction through its false economic policies.
2. It attempted to minimize the crash and misled the public as to its gravity.
3. It erroneously charged the cause to other nations of the world.
4. It refused to recognize and correct the evils at home which had brought it forth, delayed relief and forgot to reform.

These are serious charges and we believe that the President will not have the courage to reply. His lieutenants, one by one, will have to step up and be shot full of holes. The first victim seems to be the Secretary of State.

The Value of Saving

—but everyone doesn't SAVE. Those who succeed do so by saving systematically — by having a definite plan — by putting something aside regularly. Try this method, if you have not already adopted it. Make a schedule of deposits and stick to it.

tary of State. Immediately following the Roosevelt speech the State Department indignantly denied that it had approved purchase of the foreign bonds, which in such enormous amounts are now regarded as worthless. Hon. Carter Glass, from a sick bed, has just shown that the State Department statement is not true and the Senate Committee, without a single dissenting vote, warned the State Department against continuance of its dangerous policy of approving purchase of the worthless foreign securities which have ruined so many American investors.

Commenting upon the Roosevelt speech and vainly shielding the Republican mendacity which he disclosed The Washington Post said editorially:

"Taken as a whole Governor Roosevelt's speech must be interpreted either as an outburst of sophomoric exaggeration superinduced by political excitement, or an indictment of the honor of Herbert Hoover."

We believe The Post has hit the nail on the head, but not as intended. With his great experience in public life, his fine mentality and forceful eloquence, Governor Roosevelt does not make "sophomoric" speeches. With calm deliberation and much restraint, he has told the American people the unvarnished truth and the "graduated" President would not dare meet this "sophomore" upon the debating platform.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH VIRGINIA?

What is the matter with Virginia? Why are Virginians so different from the average Americans? It is a question eugenicists should answer; it is a most important matter.

Virginians insist on going their own way and are altogether too proud and stuck up to be bearable, ridiculous creatures!

How unjustified are their claims to superiority is shown by the fact of the state's low tax rate, the absence of big bonded indebtedness. If that were not enough to make these stuck-ups the envy of all their neighbors, the silly things have burst out in a new direction.

The minute Virginia found out Mr. Hoover had signed the huge loan bill, the state declared that "Virginia would not borrow from the federal government—that Virginia could take care of her own and would." The city of Richmond immediately followed suit with a similar declaration.

It is Virginia's evident intention to make the rest of us look like 30 cents. Even at the Chicago convention the Virginia delegation insisted on being "different." When Senator Hull made his eloquent appeal to the delegates to go slow on one item of the platform, the Virginia delegates enthusiastically applauded the courage of the Tennessee senator. Greenville delegates to the convention sing the praises of the Virginia delegation long and loud. "They are the real thing; their good manners are equal to any strain. Long live Virginia!"—Greenville (Tenn.) Sun.

CONSERVING ASSETS

A careful study of history reveals that the men who have survived have been those with the greatest power of adjustment. They have adjusted to climate by the use of new kinds of clothing, fuel, heating or cooling devices. The failure of one food supply has brought the discovery or cultivation of new products. New and unforeseen dangers have been met by the invention of better methods of fighting or by swifter means of flight.

These changes have really occurred first in the mind where emergencies can be matched by the lightning processes of thought and because the mind had developed means of recording past experience and communicating this experience to new generations.

Here is revealed our greatest asset for the conquering of depression and the proper use of prosperity. In all our effort to conserve or possess, let mind power be our first concern. Mind is the only tool that becomes sharper with use. Mind and the will to use cannot be taken from us by any force. We, alone, determine whether it shall grow. Adversity can nurture it. Reverses exercise it. Changes stimulate it.

Wealth is properly measured in knowledge and the skill and will to use it.

Muscle did not build civilization. Machines have not fed and clothed, governed and protected, inspired and entertained people. Mind power discovered this country. Wisdom established its institutions. Thought planned its material progress. Will carried these plans to completion.

As individuals, and as a nation, we can only be declared bankrupt by our own acts. We alone can "sell short" our greatest assets.—Winchester Evening Star.

THE FRIENDLY MOON

On the 31st of August the moon will perform one of its many friendly services to the earth. In the afternoon of that day our lovely satellite will pass directly between us and the sun, causing an eclipse. Night will fall upon the earth in mid-afternoon. The moon is so much smaller than the earth that its shadow will not extend all over our sphere but will cut a path across our New England states and out into the Atlantic. In northern Virginia the sun will be only eighty per cent covered.

The occurrence of this striking phenomenon will be the occasion of the visitation of hundreds of scientists and tourists to the New England states to study and enjoy the spectacle of the temporary blotting out of the sun from the afternoon sky.

If any other of our planets are inhabited, such folks can never have the opportunity we have for the study of solar radiation because they have no moons large enough and so situated as to eclipse the sun, and thus give them the peculiar advantage that we have. For us the moon, at time of the eclipse, acts as a perfect lid to the sun, covering its disk perfectly for a few minutes, affording astronomers and other scientists an opportunity to photograph and study phenomena which at other times is obscured by the blinding glare of the sun.

Since all power, life, energy and material matter upon the earth is derived from the sun, it behooves us to learn all that we can about the great central orb that sustains the earth. It is therefore a very friendly service that will be performed by the moon on the 31st of this month.

The moon also serves mankind in many other useful ways. Is it not true that the tidal rivers and shore line of Virginia would be uninhabitable but for the sanitary work performed by the moon?

In view of these facts, is it a waste of time and impractical to learn all that we can about the friendly and majestic moon which encircles our earth every lunar month and presents such a vast landscape of mighty mountains and rugged scenery unapproached in grandeur by any geographic features of the earth.

EYES AND ECLIPSES

After every eclipse the oculists have a long list of serious cases of injured eyesight. Sometimes the sight can be restored to normal after a few months. Sometimes there is a permanent injury. The Harvard College Observatory and the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary have joined in giving out warnings to all those who view the coming eclipse, August 31.

"Without protection do not look at the bright disk of the sun, even when it has been partially covered by the moon.

"Protect both eyes. If you look with one eye only, at least cover the other eye with the hand, not merely by closing the eyelid.

"Look through a piece of smoked glass or a piece of blackened photo film. You can make good smoked glass by holding a piece of window glass in the yellow part of a candle flame, moving it about so that a uniform black coating of soot is deposited. Hold the smoky side away from your nose and face.

"When Bailey's beads appear on the edge of the moon, due to the last edge of the sun shining through valleys of the moon, totality begins, and during totality you need no protection. When they appear the second time, use protection again."

Long distance glasses should not be used without similar protection, said the scientists. The eclipse will be total only through a stretch of New England and Canada, but it will be of the country, and there the warnings apply with special force, because the protection of the smoked glass will be needed all the time.—Portsmouth Star.

Elevators Whisk Tourists 750 Feet Through Ground

Visitors to the immense Carlsbad, N. M., Caverns will no longer have a 750-foot climb. For the caverns now have elevator service comparable to the most modern city skyscraper.

Recently one elevator was installed in the huge caves to accommodate the thousands of visitors that flocked there annually but this proved inadequate and new engineers of the Otis Elevator Company are working day and night building a second elevator running from the depths of the cavern to be in operation on September first.

This elevator is the regular skyscraper self-leveling type. It has a capacity of 2000 pounds and operates at a speed of 700 feet per minute and will carry twelve passengers in addition to the operator.

With the exception of the Empire State Building elevators, those in the Carlsbad Caverns will be the longest single lift passenger elevators in the world.

QUICK MEAT DISHES

YOU certainly do not want to spend any unnecessary time stewing over a hot stove this summer. You want time to rest, read and relax, to hike, motor, swim, play golf or tennis or any of the other outdoor games that appeal to you. But all these outdoor occupations call for sustaining foods for you and your family. With this in mind, we have been making a study of meat dishes which contain good nourishment and which can be prepared in a minimum of time. Perhaps you will care to clip this out, and refer to it in order to simplify your summer cooking. Here they are.

First of all don't forget the canned whole hams which have become so popular. They are delicious, and last for an incredibly long time because the cans contain no bones and no surplus fat, but just lean meat which you can open and eat, or cook in any manner that appeals to you. Then remember the ready-made entrees ready to heat such as beef à la mode, chicken à la King, chicken curry, chop suey, Hungarian style goulash and Irish stew.

Serve This Cold

That's a good beginning, but summer is the time for those delicious jellied meat dishes which give you lots of nourishment without getting you too hot. If you have guests coming for the week end, for instance, here is a recipe which is easy to make, and which will provide a tempting dish for from ten to fifteen people.

Glossed Tongue: Soak three tablespoons gelatin in one-half cup cold water. Stew for twenty minutes the contents of a No. 2 can of tomatoes, one bay leaf, two sprigs of parsley, two cloves, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon peppercorns; then press through a sieve. Pour over gelatin, add two bouillon cubes, and stir until melted. Set aside for thirty minutes to settle. Add one slightly-beaten egg white, bring to boiling, and then strain through a cheese cloth. Pour a thin layer of the gelatin in a round mold and arrange in it slices of hard-cooked eggs, sliced olives, pickles, etc. When hardened, place in the mold the whole ox tongue from a 14-ounce can, and pour over the rest of the gelatin. Set in the ice box for several hours to harden. Unmold, and serve cut in slices. Listen for the applause.

Another Jellied Dish

Jellied Chicken Mold: Beat three egg yolks slightly, add three-fourths cup hot chicken broth, and cook in double boiler until it is smooth and coats the spoon. Add one-fourth teaspoon salt and paprika. Soften two teaspoons gelatin in two tablespoons cold chicken broth, dissolve in the hot mixture, and then cool. When just starting to thicken, add the finely-cut contents of a 6-ounce can of chicken and one-half cup chopped walnuts, and fold in one-half cup beaten cream. Pour into a wet mold and chill for several hours. Unmold and garnish with bits of parsley or cross and tiny red radishes, if in season. Serves six.

Quick and Hot

You must have some hot meat dishes in summer, too. Here are some which have the merit of being quickly prepared and particularly tasty.

Dried Beef with Cheese: Frizzle one and one-half cups dried beef in four tablespoons butter for five minutes. Add two cups tomatoes and one cup grated cheese, and stir till melted. Add two slightly-beaten eggs and one-fourth teaspoon kitchen bouquet, and stir till eggs thicken. Serve with baked potatoes. Serves eight.

Frizzled Chipped Beef and Corn: Heat two tablespoons butter or bacon fat in skillet, add the shredded contents of a 2½-ounce glass of chipped beef, and let frizzle several minutes. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of corn, and heat well. Serves six.

Tongue and Chicken Sandwich: Place a thin slice of canned ox tongue, then a spreading of mayonnaise, then a thin slice of breast of chicken between two slices of hot, buttered toast. Serve hot.

Chili Con Carne au Gratin: For this all you need is two 10½-ounce cans of chili con carne, one-fourth pound of grated cheese and one-half cup milk. Put layers of chili con carne and cheese in a buttered baking dish; pour over the milk. Bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven. Serves four.

from the fact that

A SIX IS MORE ECONOMICAL

Thousands of tests have proved... engineers have established... owner experience has confirmed THIS FACT: For lowest, all-round motoring costs: SIX CYLINDERS. No more—No less!

With more, you sacrifice the economy for which Chevrolet is so famous. With less, you sacrifice the kind of maintenance cost that Chevrolet gives you—the lowest available in today's low-price market!

SAVE WITH SIX CYLINDERS

Why not strike a happy balance between "too many" and "too few"? Do as the majority of low-priced car buyers have done ever since January, 1931: SAVE—with SIX CYLINDERS. The Chevrolet six-cylinder engine gives you wonderful mileage on gasoline—and oil! Because its smoothness is built-in—the body, chassis and engine are spared the repair costs that result from constant, inherent vibration!

STILL GOOD AFTER 15,000 MILES

And the Chevrolet Six stays young for—10,000, 15,000, 20,000 miles and more—carries on—smoothly, dependably, economically.

Moreover it has every modern feature you're entitled to: Free Wheeling, no car is up-to-date without it. And genuine Syncro-Mesh as originated by General Motors. And big, luxurious Fisher bodies. And four parallel mounted springs.

Remember that you can switch to a 1932 Chevrolet for very little money. In fact, you'll probably find it more economical to buy a new Chevrolet Six than to worry along with the old car.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HYMNAL CONTRACT KEEPS PLANT BUSY

A northern printing company has received the largest known single order of hymnals ever placed with a single concern. The order was placed by The Christian Science Publishing Society of Boston.

The order consists of 400,000 cloth-bound books and 10,000 de luxe full leather-bound books. The books will be distributed throughout the world. It is expected the distributions will begin about September 1.

The music plates for the 604-page hymnal were prepared by the F. H. Gilson Company of Boston, nationally known music composers. All of the type for the plates were set by hand.

E. W. Palmer, president of the plant, said some idea of the magnitude of the order could be obtained by the quantity of material and time necessary for the completion of the book. Five of the largest perfecting presses began work on printing the book June 15 and will run 20 hours each day until Aug. 25, at which time the printing is expected to be complete.

A total of 325 tons of paper will be used in the book, 40,240 yards of book cloth, 39,000 yards of head bands, seven tons of end paper material, 50 tons of cover board, and more than 210,000 yards of muslin reinforcement for the backs of the books.

Mr. Palmer said probably the most outstanding part of the manufacturing process will be the use of more than 500,000 sheets of 22-carat gold for the stamping on the cloth-bound edition and gilding the edges and stamping the de luxe edition. Mr. Palmer estimated the cost of the gold alone at $12,500.

Entertaining in Warm Weather
Is Easy With Simple Luncheons

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Home Food Institute

DURING summer we often have more leisure for entertaining than at other times, but because of work entailed by parties we may put them off until fall. This is really a mistake, for summer parties can be enjoyable and very informal. It is delightful to invite friends for luncheon and bridge but the luncheon should be decidedly simple. Two-course luncheons are becoming very popular—one substantial dish with perhaps a relish, hot rolls and dessert. Such meals are easily prepared, cause no flurry at serving time, and are enjoyed by hostess as well as guests. These menus for two-course luncheons may be helpful:

Lobster, Spanish Style*
Head Lettuce Salad or a Mixed Fruit Salad with Mayonnaise
Salad Dressing
Hot Rolls
Grape Jelly
Breads of Sponge Cake with Red Raspberries and Whipped Cream
Iced Tea
Baked Tomatoes
Fresh Corn and Kidney Beans*
Pineapple and Strawberry Salad with Drop Cookies
Grilled Bacon

(* Indicates that recipes are given below.)

Lobster, Spanish Style— Use 2 cans of lobster meat or 2 cups fresh cooked lobster meat, and cut it in 1/4 inch pieces. Fry together in a pan with 3 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion and one green pepper, sliced. When slightly brown add 1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup and 1 small can of mushrooms. Add a few drops Worcestershire Sauce and salt to taste. Place in a casserole in a moderate oven to heat through very thoroughly for about 20 minutes.

Fresh Corn and Kidney Beans— Mix 2 cups fresh corn, cut from the cob, 1 medium can Oven Baked Beans, 1 green pepper minced, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1 well beaten egg. Put in a greased baking dish. Top with a layer of grated cheese and a layer of fine buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven for about 45 minutes. Serve with Chili Sauce.

in 1932 Hydrofined Oil Replaces "STANDARD" MOTOR OIL

Essolube, the only hydrofined oil, is now available to every motorist at the price of ordinary motor oils.

This oil is a result of the great hydrogenation discovery. Hydrogenation of atmospheric nitrogen was the chemical secret that enabled Germany to produce unlimited quantities of explosives and thus to "carry on" years after the experts considered her continued struggle impossible.

Hydrofining, developed by the Standard Oil scientists, is an advanced process which makes the hydrogenation of motor oil commercially possible.

Hydrofining gives Essolube all the five essential qualities for complete lubrication.

The finest Paraffinic oils have three of these essential qualities. Naphthenic (Asphaltic) oils have two of them. Essolube, by hydrofining, combines all five qualities. There has been no commercial method before hydrofining that combined the good qualities of these two types of oil.

It is so superior to all other oils that we are not only proud to name it after its companion product in quality, Esso,

"more powerful than any gasoline," but we have replaced the widely known "Standard" Motor Oil with this new product.

Hydrofined Essolube sells at no extra cost.

It is on sale at all stations and dealers of the following companies: Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, Standard Oil Company, Incorporated in Kentucky, Colonial Beacon Oil Company, Inc.

SEEDMEN HOLD STATE CONVENTION AT CULPEPER

At the district convention of the Co-operative Virginia Seed Service held at Culpeper on Aug. 12, B. W. Middleton, of Fairfax county, was elected a director for a one-year term to fill the unexpired term of Harry S. Clapp, former director, now deceased. At a similar meeting held at Harrisonburg, John H. East of Churchville was elected for the Valley district. He represents eleven counties in the northern valley district known as District No. 1. The V. S. S. is an organization owned and controlled by 50,000 Virginia and North Carolina, who are appointed either by the director of extension or secretary of agriculture of the state they represent, constitute the V. S. S. board of directors. This board eleven men manage and direct all operations of the organization including the hiring of manager and financing.

The convention held at Culpeper was attended by eighty-six delegates from twelve counties in the northern Piedmont section of Virginia, known as District No. 2. There were forty-two communities represented at this convention, each community having one vote for the election of their director.

The V. S. S. is an organization set up in 1923 by some 200 Virginia farmers to obtain high quality seeds of known origin adapted to Virginia climatic, soil, and disease conditions. In the last nine years it has grown to an organization of 500,000 patron members and taken on the distribution and manufacture of most of the common supplies used by Virginia and North Carolina farmers such as feed-fertilizer, seeds and twine. It operates only in a wholesale capacity and distributes to farmers in their respective communities through the regular established dealers who handle the supplies on margins approved by the V. S. S. board of directors.

The organization now owns several of its own manufacturing plants and leases others. At these plants, which are scattered from Buffalo to Norfolk and Kansas to Baltimore it gathers together and manufactures the raw materials and buys the seeds which it cleans into the products needed by its patron members, who in turn purchase through their local distributors or co-operatives.

Each one of these advisory boards of directors which represent the farmers of some community had one vote at the convention at Culpeper in the election of the director representing their section of Virginia.

The principal speaker Friday was Dr. Carl C. Taylor of the University of North Carolina, who spoke on "Why Have Co-operatives." The theme of Dr. Taylor's talk was that farmers must help themselves to prosperity by working out their own problems through their own co-operative organizations, which they themselves must finance and control rather than through legislation. Dr. Taylor laid down these basic principles necessary for a successful co-operative:

1. Do that which is best and most economical for the producer and consumer.

2. One man one vote regardless of the amount of business done or the amount of money invested in the organization.

3. There ought to be, if possible, no cash dividends declared to the people who furnish the capital stock, but the dividends on the earnings above actual cost of operation should be returned on a basis of patronage. The man who uses his organization getting the most return and savings.

4. A co-operative must have volume to have low unit cost of production and distribution.

5. A co-operative must have open records and its policies should be known by the membership as well as the directors.

"There is a difference between the co-operative spirit and the competitive spirit. Competition is not a fundamental motive of the human heart. I think that some day we are going to discover that the most fundamental motive of the face of the earth is brotherhood. You will never run across any motive on the face of the earth that will last so long and permanently as family relations. The co-operative motive is a fundamental motive of the human heart. Competition is not. Competition is the very destruction of the fundamental law of the universe. The co-operative spirit is right. Sooner or later our economic system will tune in where they should." Dr. Taylor concluded in saying that the experience of the past is not the blue print for the future because that day is gone and gone forever."

Ransom H. Talbot, Asst. Agricultural Economist of V. P. I., discussed the factors effecting the economic distribution of farm supplies. Mr. Talbot made a rather exhaustive study of retail distribution systems in New York and Virginia. He found in this investigation that car door associations handle supplies on the average of about one-half the cost of warehouse associations due to the additional overhead costs of labor, warehouse facilities, financing and inventory losses. They found that the reason for failure of some organizations was that they did not recognize that certain commodities require more margin to handle than others. For example, it cost more to handle hardware than seed or fertilizer. The survey also showed that stores that had regular audits made of their books and accounts were in better shape and showed more income than those that did not audit their account or books. Virginia had a lower cost of distribution than New York distributors but Virginia distributors took a higher margin than New York distributors on the goods they sold.

L. G. Skeffington, manager of the Eastern Live Stock Marketing Association for nine states centered around Baltimore gave an illustrated talk on the need of farmers to co-operate in the marketing of their live stock and live stock products. He pointed out with statistical figures that over a period of several years those farmers marketing their live stock through co-operative associations were able to get a larger return year in and year out, than those farmers who just took the ups and downs of the market. He asserted that Virginia farmers do not take advantage of the information available as to when to sell hogs most advantageously.

J. S. Agnew, public director for the V. S. S., spoke on some of the problems of managing a two-state co-operative organization for patron members.

George T. Carr of Charlottesville spoke concerning the advantages he has gained in being a patron of his whole co-operative organization.

County Agent, T. T. Curtis, of Orange, enumerated the advantage farmers in his county had gained in purchasing supplies manufactured and seed selected by their wholesale co-operative through their local dealer.

J. L. Phillips, delegate from Linden, cited some superior results he had gained in using co-operatively manufactured supplies and also added that the fact that the V. S. S. used the state experiment stations as the last seeds and fertilizers, and changed the formulas as rapidly as experimental data showed better results could be obtained by formula changes.

John G. Seibel of Staunton discussed the organization of the V. S. S. was organized at that time to get better seeds. They either manufacture or control the manufacture of eight major commodities now. At the present there are 50,000 members. Eight years ago there were 200.

Other speakers were A. C. Marshall, Louisa; John T. Terrill, Lahore; B. W. Middleton, Herndon; Lock Turner, Flint Hill.

J. H. Quisenberry, Frederick Hall, district extension agent of V. P. I., was chairman of the meeting and George L. Oliver of Richmond was toastmaster at the banquet.

Members of the nominating committee were:

M. C. German, Greenwood; C. T. Rice, Oakton; C. E. Griffith, Brandy; C. E. Whisler, Louisa; J. Powers Pullen, Manassas, and G. M. James, Fairfax.

Those attending from Manassas were Prof. Pullen, P. C. Lewis, C. F. M. Lewis, Francis Lewis, R. L. Lewis, Jr., J. N. House, J. M. Bell, M. N. Swank and Walter Sadd.

WASHINGTON AND
THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Give me back the good old days,
When men lived not for greed.
The times we like to read about,
George Washington and the land he freed.

When little children went to bed
After their prayers were said,
And no vile creature came around
To steal them from their bed.

When gentlemen were men indeed,
And ladies they were true.
They worshiped God, together,
And loved the red, white and blue.

We love to think of Washington,
As he prayed at Valley Forge,
And although he was a righteous man,
He knew how to use his sword.

And here in Old Virginia,
Where Our Hero often trod,
Let us bind ourselves together,
For Our Country, and Our God.

And if we stand, together,
And all our strength be hurled,
Against the vile Kidnapper,
The Bootlegger and the Underworld.

We'll drive them to the prison cell,
And tightly close the door,
Or send them to the foreign land,
Where they have been before.

We thank Thee, Father, for Thyself,
And for Thy Loving Son,
And if it be Thy Holy Will,
Give to us another Washington.

APPOINTED REGISTRAR
FOR LOWER DUMFRIES

Mrs. C. N. Abel has been appointed local registrar of vital statistics for lower Dumfries district.

GETTING READY FOR LABOR DAY

The firemen of Manassas are going to advertise their town a little more by going into the big parade in the Capital on Labor Day.

This is an annual event attended by thousands from everywhere.

Some of the men will march, some will ride the fire truck, and some will attempt to stay on the trick auto that Frank Hibbs is rigging up.

DUMFRIES

Mrs. C. N. Abel entertained her brother-in-law, Mr. Harry Harper, from Detroit recently.

NOKESVILLE

Well, here we are, just to remind you that the Standard Community Association will hold its regular meeting the second Friday, September 9, instead of the first Tuesday.
We are preparing to give the teachers of the district a rousing welcome at that time.

It might interest you baseball bugs to know that the Greenwich Rebels will engage the Warrenton Warriors Saturday at Warrenton. The local boys are in good spirits after the drubbing they gave Woodlawn last week and will no doubt put up a stiff fight.
