KIWANIS HEAR PATRIOTIC TALKS

Delightfully Entertained at Linton Hall.

When the program at Linton Hall was completed last Friday evening, the unanimous feeling was that one of the best meetings in recent months had been held.

In the first place, the meal was par excellence. Nothing more could have been done to make it more palatable.

When this feature had been dispensed with, two splendid addresses were made, both appropriate to Armistice Day. Judge Wheatley Johnson, of the Prince William County Juvenile Court, and a World War veteran, gave one talk and the other was by Rev. William Winston, of Warrenton. Their remarks were replete with real patriotic sentiment which was keenly appreciated by all the Kiwanians.

Tomorrow evening, Hutton Tiffany will boost his program average by another timely feature, the Red Cross. Mrs. Lloyd, who is, chairman of the Prince William Chapter, will likely address the club, as will others associated with her in this very valuable work.

On Tuesday night there will be a special picture shown at the Manassas High School, featuring the Orphans Home of the Juniors which is located at Tiffin, Ohio.

A widow and several children survive the deceased.

Editor, Manassas Journal.

Dear Sir:

I take this opportunity to thank the person who was small enough to be influenced to write my name on the election ballot for a representative.

I am just one of the 15 million who were beaten in our recent election. We took our defeat and are still in working order. I may, in the future, ask the people of the county to support me in an election. If I do my record is open for investigation in this community for the past 18 years. The rest of my life can be investigated in Roanoke county. If I should be defeated I will not get drunk. If I should win there will be no bombs exploded or crepe hung on doors of my foes as this takes us back to the "cave-man" age when they lived like barbarians. I will not "back with the dogs and run with the foxes."

I believe in taking a stand and sticking to it regardless of my scolding opponents. I am dry and my record can be established and I shall still endeavor to follow the dictation of my conscience and serve humanity to the best of my knowledge.

Respectfully,

M. J. SHEPHERD.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS

We ask our news correspondents and advertisers to please get their copy in a day earlier next week as The Journal will go to press Wednesday evening in order to permit the office to be closed Thanksgiving Day.

LARGE CLASS IS INITIATED

Order Fraternal Americans Meet in Alexandria.

On Monday night the Junior Order in Prince William, Loudoun, Fairfax, Arlington and Alexandria City to the number of 256 gathered at the Alexandria City High School where the drill team from Anacostia (Washington) put on one of the finest initiations staged in this section in recent years.

The class numbered 20, about half of which came from Loudoun. The ceremonial was featured with patriotic songs, and the character of Washington brought out in strong relief. It was a fitting close for the Junior Order in the Bicentennial year.

Brother Alton Money, of Vienna, deputy state president of District 4, presided.

A number of state and national officials were present, and some excellent addresses made.

PROGRAM BEFORE THE U. D. C.

The American history class of Manassas High School will present a Washington Bicentennial program at the high school next Tuesday, November 22, at 2:30 o'clock, before the United Daughters of the Confederacy. This program, which is to be one of the principal celebrations made by the school during the Bicentennial year, is presented to the U. D. C. at their request.

CHURCH OBSERVANCES TO MARK CLOSE OF BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

The George Washington Bicentennial Celebration will be brought to a close on Thanksgiving Day, November 24, in the same manner in which it began on February 22—with religious services in honor of George Washington in all the churches of America.

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission estimates that more than 75,000 churches will participate in separate Thanksgiving Bicentennial exercises. In many cities and towns, the Bicentennial Commission reports, churches of all denominations will hold joint commemorative Thanksgiving Day exercises in honor of the Father of his Country.

The reports from the religious societies of America indicate that every church of the land will participate in this closing tribute, either by holding separate Bicentennial exercises or by joining with the other churches of their community in a combined celebration.

The Bicentennial Celebration has been going on in all parts of the world for the past nine months. More than 700,000 separate committees, representing the schools and churches as well as civic, fraternal and patriotic societies, have been actively engaged in honoring the memory of George Washington on the Two Hundredth Anniversary of his Birth. Every state, city and town in the United States has participated. Besides, the Celebration has been carried out in all our territories and dependencies as well as in seventy-eight foreign countries.

The records of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission indicate that to date more than one million separate Bicentennial programs have been held in all parts of the world.

This unprecedented Celebration—the greatest tribute ever paid to a national hero—will come to an official close with observance of simplicity and respect. A united nation will show its reverence and admiration for its founder.

The United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission announces that it has prepared special booklets to assist organizations in arranging their Thanksgiving Day celebration programs. More than 25,000 of these booklets have already been distributed. In addition the Commission had prepared a book of sermons made up of contributions from the leading clergymen of the various denominations of America. These sermon books have been distributed primarily to churches in small cities and towns where facilities for research are not abundant.

SKYLAND DRIVE CLOSES NOV. 30

Motorists intending to travel over the Panorama-Skyland section of the new Skyline drive in the Shenandoah National Park were urged by the Interior Department to make the trip during the first favorable weather conditions, says a dispatch from Washington.

The last day on which that section of the new highway will be open will be November 30, and meanwhile it will be closed all days in which the weather conditions make mountain travel undesirable. The Interior Department's statement, in which the state of Virginia joined, said officials are prepared for a record number of visitors on Thanksgiving day if good weather conditions prevail.

More than 25,000 persons in 6,000 automobiles were estimated by the department to have passed over the new road since it was opened to the public on October 29.

"Thousands of letters," the statement said, "have been received by Federal and state officials praising the scenic beauty of the new highway and the skill of the landscape architects and engineers in its planning and execution."

"The scenic panoramas of high mountain peaks, forest-land slopes and vast stretches of historic Shenandoah Valley on one side and the Piedmont section of Virginia on the other are said to have exceeded even the most extravagant expectations."

BUSY WEEK FOR CLERK

The clerk's office has been quite busy in the past ten days. Most of the following were issued in that time. County hunting licenses, 661; state licenses, 115 and non-resident, 7.

Hunting over the county is reported fair. Several hunters have secured their daily bag limit on turkey already.

WE MUST STRENGTHEN OUR RED CROSS FORCES

Last year we observed our fiftieth anniversary. We heard the story of the Red Cross from the beginning; how Clara Barton's tenacious determination that the United States should have a Red Cross succeeded—our Government became signatory to the Geneva Red Cross treaty. Like her, all through the years, we have been steadfast. We have had our battles and our controversies to spur us on to greater endeavor and richer service.

The fundamental inspirational of our organization is service and I hope that competition in service will glow to white heat during our Roll Call campaign from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day. We shall emulate the fine example set by many thousands of volunteers during the drought relief work of 1930-32, South and North; in the relief of the unemployed; in the flour distribution, and now in clothing the needy from the cotton voted by Congress for distribution.

Our volunteers find no situation too difficult. With tact, firmness and intelligence of a high degree they reach the people whom the Red Cross is dedicated to serve. They are proud to engage in a noble cause. Our Roll Call workers will not fail to enroll the greatest membership of all the peace years.

We must succeed and increase the strength of our American Red Cross, which speaks first through its membership, second through its principles, and finally through its service accomplishments.

The world would indeed be a lonely place for the needy and disaster-stricken without a strong Red Cross.

JOHN BARTON PAYNE,
Chairman.

ARMISTICE DAY ABROAD IN 1931

Falls Church Lady Writes Vivid Account.

Mrs. John F. Bethune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. McGroarty, and wife of Mr. John F. Berthune of Falls Church, who was sent to Europe in January, 1931, as a representative of the United States Tariff Commission, recalls the Armistice celebration in Belgium in 1931. In the following article she vividly describes the ceremonial of an Armistice Day in that country:

Not with military splendor, or passionate elocution did Belgium celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the ending of the war, but with a symbolism as sacred as any religious rite. Speech-making there had been for days beforehand, throughout all the towns of all the nine provinces, as the torch of the Sacred Relay was welcomed in its passage, but the services at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier were impressive by the simplicity of their observance.

The day was cold and gloomy, but since an early hour a crowd had gathered along the Rue Royale, awaiting the passage of the cortege. The grenadiers led the column, followed by a guard of honor bearing the banners and standards of the garrison of Brussels. In the procession were representatives of F. I. D. A. C., the FEDERATION OF VETERANS, and other patriotic organizations. A group of men, each accompanied by a wife or sister or friend, roused special sympathy when one read the inscription on their banner, Les Aveugles, the blind. There were many of them. The destination was Congress Column, where, between the guarding lions at its base, lies he who is the symbol of all the sacrifice of Belgium, he gave all that he had to his country's need, even his name.

As they reached the tomb, the president of each organization advanced with a floral tribute, until soon, not only the tomb, but the whole base of the column was a mass of flowers. The burgo-master of Brussels, the president and ministers of the council, the officers of the Order of Leopold, generals of the Army, representatives of foreign embassies, all advanced in turn to pay their reverence. SIX THOUSAND GET EMPLOYMENT

Governor Pollard Regrets Right-of-Way Costs.

On Monday Governor Pollard announced that six thousand jobless men had been put to work with highway funds made available through loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. At the same time Governor Pollard called attention to the enormous cost of rights-of-way, a situation which is draining too large a per cent of the money that otherwise would furnish employment for a larger number of destitute citizens. Governor Pollard stated that costs of rights-of-way had been increased 26 per cent during the past year and urged legislation to remedy this situation.

The 6,000 men put to work on the highways with R. F. C. funds are in State. In all, 18,000 persons now are employed by the Highway Department.

Men who benefit by work-relief money are passed on by welfare workers in the various counties. They are certified as being really in need of employment. No man with a bank account or with any visible means of support is considered. It must be shown positively that he is in need of a job for his own keep or that of his family.

So far, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, through the Governor, has advanced the State of Virginia $1,100,000. Several applications are pending. The Governor has urged all the counties and cities which cannot care for their own unemployed to apply for these funds.

Repayment of the money to the Federal Government begins in 1935. To effect this the government will deduct a certain amount each year from such Federal aid to highways as may have been appropriated by Congress. The General Assembly must determine allocations of road money to the various sections in Virginia will be affected by these advances.

Early in December CHEVROLET will present A NEW CAR of such importance that no person interested in the purchase of a low-priced automobile can afford to disregard it . . .

AMERICA naturally expects big things of Chevrolet. For it is Chevrolet that first brought beauty and comfort to the low-price field . . . pioneered the six-cylinder engine . . . built the most economical cars, and the most dependable. And it is Chevrolet who has led the world in sales for 4 of the past 6 years.* So each year at this time America looks to the leader to learn what's new in the way of low-priced transportation.

And again America's confidence is fully justified. The new Chevrolet, to appear next month, advances standards in every phase of motoring. Again Chevrolet has broken boldly with the past wherever change means improvement in style, comfort, smoothness, performance, safety, economy, and dependability.

Chevrolet engineers have packed this latest of a long line of successful cars with thrill after thrill and advancement after advancement. Fisher body craftsmen have taken advantage of an even longer wheelbase to contribute coachwork which is unique in the low-price field—including dynamic new styling, and an invention which you will immediately recognize as one of the most fundamental comfort improvements of all time. And the experience gained in the production of more than 8,000,000 cars, together with the marked advantages that naturally accrue to the leader in sales, has made it possible to build the new Chevrolet at a price which takes account of today's incomes.

So keep an open mind on the question of an automobile purchase until you see Chevrolet's Great American Value for 1933. And watch for it next month! It will prove to you, beyond a doubt, that this is the time to buy a car, and this is the car to buy.

Promise Boys Rare Thrills

AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION readers are due for a rare adventure thrill in 1933, according to word just received from America's favorite boy's magazine. Boys will welcome the news that a modern Robinson Crusoe story, in which two boys and a man battle with savages and build a civilization with their bare hands, is on the way!

In this story the three heroes escape into the depths of the Amazon jungles; there they are stripped and left to die by hostile natives; and there, from the natural abundance of the jungle, they build their fortress. From advance notices, it's a story readers will never forget!

Other good things, we learn, are on the way in THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION for 1933. Adventures in all parts of the world; stories of school and college; helpful stories of the professions; sports interviews with famous coaches and players; vivid articles on travel and science.

We suggest THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION as an ideal present for that son, nephew, cousin and neighbor. It's a character-building, imagination-stirring present that renews itself every month in the year. An attractive gift card bearing your name will be sent to the boy if you request it. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. At the latter rate the magazine costs only a dollar a year. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

ADVENTURE - ROMANCE - COMEDY - THRILLS FEATURED IN BIG SHOW AMID BIG TREES

Bill Boyd, always popular athletic star of action romance has one of his best roles in "Carnival Boat" which will be the attraction at the Dixie Theatre next Friday, Nov. 25.

This RKO Pathe picture is the first romance of the logging camps since sound was combined with "motion" pictures.

Some of the most beautiful mountain and timberland scenery ever caught by the camera is the background of the absorbing action of this adventure-romance of the big trees. It was filmed in the High Sierras of California. Colorful scenes aboard a carnival boat offer entertaining contrast to the outdoors.

Boyd plays a young lumberman who fails to live up to the hopes of his father, a veteran of the timberlands. His love for a show-boat girl, played by Ginger Rogers, takes his mind off his duties in the logging camp. His father's attempts to make his "chip off the old block" get down to serious business causes a rift between them. When the father works overzealously to cover up his son's weakness and deliver their quota of timber, he nearly loses his life piloting a timber train down the mountain. But Bill sees the runaway train, risks his life to reach it and saves his father. The girl proves her worth and her love for Bill in a novel way for a happy ending.

The picture concludes with a crashing climax when the dynamiting of a log jam gives the star an opportunity to prove himself a hero.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

RULES FOR RIGHT LIVING—He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

ROOSEVELT ACCEPTS

As was generally expected, Governor Roosevelt has accepted the invitation of President Hoover to confer with him at the White House. In accepting Mr. Roosevelt has made it perfectly clear that responsibility in the present serious international debt situation rests entirely with the present administration and he very pointedly advised Mr. Hoover to also get in touch with the Democratic leaders in the coming session of Congress. Although Democratic by a small majority, the Congress which meets in December is not the Congress elected to serve with President Roosevelt. Without question President Hoover will have to deal with this winter's Congress directly and he cannot expect Mr. Roosevelt to unravel the tangle into which the present Administration has gotten with respect to foreign debt repudiation.

It is a very serious situation which confronts the nation. Due to policies of the Hoover Administration the debtor foreign nations are making a genuine gesture toward default. Now nothing that Mr. Hoover can do can be terminated before President Roosevelt takes office, and he very properly turns to the next President for advice.

However, one cannot help recalling that a few months ago Governor Roosevelt requested Mr. Hoover that he be permitted to attend a conference relative to the treaty which was being drawn up between United States and Canada on the proposition of building the St. Lawrence Canal. New York State was very deeply concerned in the project, but President Hoover declined Mr. Roosevelt's request in rather curt language. Now, apparently, Mr. Hoover is asking the President-elect to stop off between trains and tell him how to run the Office of President. No doubt Mr. Roosevelt could show him how in a few minutes. We wonder, however, if Mr. Hoover would have the courtesy to thank him.

THE NEWSPAPER'S PART

Frequently we are so closely associated with institutions or commodities that we do not appreciate their worth. This applies in general to newspapers. Every city, town and hamlet has its newspapers. Even sometimes a few houses and a store and garage at a "wide place in the road" constitute excuse enough for the starting of a newspaper and not infrequently that wide place in the road becomes a real town and when it does one may rest assured that the newspaper that seemed to have had no excuse for beginning life had a very important part to play in the community's unexpected development.

So it is all along the line of progress. No city ever gets very far without the sincere co-operation of newspapers. Yet no institution in a city ever gets less thanks or receives more abuse.

Probably no other one thing is a better index to a small town than its newspaper. Very often that is about all the stranger has to go by in making up his mind about a community. If the newspaper that falls into his hands is a bright looking sheet, full of news and has a prosperous air, the stranger is certain to judge that it was published in a live, progressive town.

Those who read their local newspapers and carelessly throw them aside, overlook the fact that they are not doing all for their town that they can. If those newspapers instead of being destroyed were placed in wrappers and mailed from time to time to friends and relatives at a distance, the good that could be accomplished would soon be reflected in the town's growth.

Chambers of Commerce are frequently blamed for getting out more boost literature to be sent abroad. Those who raise these complaints could do a great deal themselves by sending out the literature that comes into their own hands in the form of local periodicals. Best assured there is no business individual in a town more interested in the growth of his community than is the editor or publisher, for as the town grows he grows. —Northern Virginia Daily.

THE EGG BRINGS HOME THE BACON

While successive rises in prices of hogs, cattle, wheat and cotton enabled many farmers who took advantage of the situation to profit, these prices receded and failed to bring about a permanent improvement. However, the rise in the price of eggs has been well maintained. Starting in the spring this rise has been steady and has enabled all branches of the trade, from producers to retailers, to benefit.

Eggs are considered by many farmers as merely a sideline. The egg money goes to the good wife. But eggs which were down to an extreme low of a nickel a dozen to producers have from that point risen to around 25 cents, now bringing considerably more money to the farm home and this money will purchase much more dress goods, underwear and shoes than it did a year ago. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

MONEY

Is Your Best Friend

If you get into trouble, it will pay you out. If you get sick, it will pay the doctor's and druggist's bills. If you want to take a trip, it will pay your way. If you want to develop your business or take advantage of some good investment, you can do it at a moment's notice.

But the man without money can do none of these. Instead, whenever opportunity is offered or adversity befalls him, he is forcibly embarrassed.

Dial Installation Revives Memories

Bank President, Once Boy
Telephone Operator, Recalls
Early Days of Industry

Installation of a dial intercommunicating telephone system in the Associated Bank, Washington, D. C., recently revived pleasant recollections for Maurice Otterback, president of the bank.

Mr. Otterback in 1879 was employed as an operator by the National Capital Telephone Company, predecessor of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, which now serves the nation's capital. Besides Mr. Otterback, three other boys were operators. They were Burnet L. Nevius, later chief operator; Ben Steinmetz and the late E. E. Bawel.

The switchboard system of which Mr. Otterback was operator served about 100 telephones. These subscribers could talk only among themselves. There were no long distance lines connecting other cities, towns and rural communities as there are today, nor were world connections possible. In fact, it is doubtful if long distance telephone service then was even more than a dream. Today Washington is served by about 180,000 telephones with long distance lines leading to every section of the country and the world.

President Otterback from his dial system can now speak with the users of 32,300,000 telephones located in forty-five countries throughout the world.

A year or two after Mr. Otterback was employed by the telephone company girls replaced the boys as operators. One of the first young women to operate the switchboard in Washington was Miss Anna Prosperi, who holds the distinction of having been Washington's first woman telephone chief operator. She succeeded Mr. Nevius, who was the operator of the telephone system when it was placed in operation, December 1, 1878. Miss Prosperi is now Mrs. Otterback.

DUMFRIES

The Woman's Missionary Society of Dumfries M. E. church south, with the assistance of their pastor, Rev. A. H. Shumate, are having special "week of prayer" services each night this week in the church and homes. Commencing Sunday night, Nov. 20, Rev. A. H. Shumate will hold a revival for two weeks. The names of those assisting will be given from the pulpit during the meeting. The public is cordially invited to attend and help make these meetings a success. The Dumfries Community League sponsored a baby show and negro minstrel on Friday night, November 11.

Fifteen babies between the ages of one and six years were on display. They were divided into two groups—of one to three and three to six. The babies were judged as to health, social attitude and general appearance. The stage was arranged as a playroom with toys of all kinds and the children were judged as they responded in this environment.

The minstrel was interesting and well presented.

The proceeds of $45.80 will be used for the benefit of the school.

Neel, Red Cross nurse, spoke at Community League on Monday night, November 14. A health program was also given.

NOVEMBER MEETING OF W. C. T. U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. Bertha Embrey at the home of Miss Osborn, 339 West street, Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 3 p.m.

As this is the day before Thanksgiving the roll call will be answered with verses of Scripture of praise and thanksgiving.

Everyone is requested to bring a list of things she feels we should be thankful for. This year while so many are inclined to look on the dark side let us count our blessings and see what God has done. We hope for a good attendance. We are always glad to have our ministers and their wives with us at any and all our meetings.

"TOM BROWN OF CULVER" IS UNUSUAL FILM

Unique Story of Character Development Also Contains Thrilling Military Scenes.

Novelty rules this season's pictures and here is one of the most unusual of them all.

What is said to be one of the most interesting and novel screen plays of the current season has been booked for a showing at the Dixie Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, according to an announcement by Manager Hibbs.

The picture is "Tom Brown of Culver," the Universal production which presents Tom Brown and Slim Summerville in the leading roles, and was filmed partly at Universal City and partly at the famous Culver Military Academy in Indiana. The entire story is told against the background of this well-known institution, and is said to tell a most dramatic story of a boy whose father was erroneously credited with being a "hero of the World War."

A noteworthy feature of "Tom Brown of Culver" is the fact that not a girl appears in it—and yet, it is said, the story is not lacking in intense "heart interest." The list of players appearing with Brown, Warner and Summerville includes Richard Cromwell, Sidney Toler, Russell Hopton, Andy Devine, Kit Guard, Willard Robertson, Ben Alexander and other screen favorites. The picture was directed by William Wyler.

FACTORY-BUILT STEEL HOMES

Houses of steel made in huge factories and shipped to you in separate parts may soon be the order of the day. An article in the Magazine of next Sunday's Washington Star, November 20, will tell you of experimental metal houses now being built that are hailed as forerunners of the home of the future, and which may pave the way for a gigantic new industry employing millions of men. To build the home of tomorrow, according to this article, all you will need (provided you have the price and the lot) will be a few tools and a handful of trained helpers—the factory will do the rest.

VISITS OLD HOME

Louis B. Pearson, formerly of this county, and now one of the leading experts in the cheese and butter industry in the state of Pennsylvania, was a caller at the Journal office this week.

Mr. Pearson is home on a visit to his old home which will extend past Thanksgiving Day.

ONLY THE GAME FISH SWIM UP STREAM

It's easy to drift as the current flows; It's easy to move as the deep tide goes; But the answer comes when the breakers crash And strike the soul with a bitter lash, When the goal ahead is endless fight, Through a sunless day and a starless night, Where the far call breaks on the sleeper's dream, "Only the game fish swim up stream."

The spirit wanes where it knows no load; The soul turns soft down the Easy Road; There's enough in the thrill and throb, But life in the main is an uphill job; And it's better so, where the softer fame

Leaves too much fat on a weakened frame, Where the far call breaks on the sleeper's dream, "Only the game fish swim up stream."

When the clouds bank in and the soul turns blue— When fate holds fate, and you can't break through— When trouble sweeps like a tidal wave, And hope is a ghost by an open grave, You have reached the test in a frame of mind

Where only the quitters fall behind, Where the far call breaks on the sleeper's dream, "Only the game fish swim up stream."

—From the Onondago Sportsman.

SWAVELY FINALLY DOWNED, 40-7

Putting up a hard battle to the very end, Swaveley took a thorough battering from a galloping battery of Staunton warhorses at the S. M. A. stadium last Saturday. Earle, leading the S. M. A. backs in a fine exhibition of broken-field running, twisted and dogged his way through a game which finally ended with his team on the long end of a 40-7 score.

Stedem and Kohler bore the brunt of the Swaveley attack and defense as Mowrey, left half back, was retired from the field with an injury that put him completely out of the game. Kohler made the only scoring for Swaveley when he first ran through the enemy's line in the opening quarter and then kicked a successful goal.

Castree, right tackle, will probably take Mowrey's place in the backfield.

THE TEST TELLS

Whether your soil needs LIMING or not, you will be money ahead if you have it tested. It's the easy, accurate way to find out before you buy the LIMING material. If the soil does not need LIME, you'll have the cost of the material. If it does need LIME and you use it, you'll make money on the increased production.

How to Take a Sample.
1. Dig a V-shaped hole about 6 to 8 inches deep. Cut a thin slice down one side with a shovel, or
2. Drive a 1 1/4-inch pipe into the ground to plow-depth and remove the plug of dirt.
3. Take these samples in different parts of the field and mix them all together in a box.
4. Take or send about a pint of this mixed dirt to the County Agent's office (Manassas Post Office Building). He will test it, tell you if it needs lime and if so, how much.

NOKEVILLE FAIR SUCCESS

The Brentville District High School fair sponsored by the Advisory Board of the Vocational Agriculture Department, Nokesville, Va., was a good success as evidenced by the number of entries and the number of people present. The Future Farmers and the 4-H Club boys' exhibits of calves were of good quality and in good condition. The poultry department was very good. Many beautiful birds of high quality were exhibited. Some fine turkeys were also displayed. Small grain, garden, eggs, fruits, and other entries helped make it a success.

The 4-H department and the Women's department came in for much credit in helping the fair to be made possible. The advisory board of the department wishes to thank the people in the county who gave prizes to the fair and who also aided in any way to make the occasion successful.

CHEVROLET HOLDS STEADY INCREASE

Unusual Announcement from Headquarters.

That a radically new line of Chevrolet passenger cars would be introduced next month was made known officially in Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12 by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The new series will be the fifth annual Chevrolet model to employ a six cylinder engine, the first volume Chevrolet Six having been announced in November, 1928. Since that time, building sixes exclusively, the company manufactured nearly 3,000,000 units.

A longer wheelbase, extensive changes in body design, and a "price which takes account of today's incomes" are promised in the 1933 car. The extended wheelbase, coupled with many improvements in the body, in performance, economy, power, safety and other factors, indicate a model much improved over the present line, and set at rest rumors current in trade circles that the new Chevrolet would be a "stripped" model designed to meet the bare needs of transportation.

From an economic standpoint, the Chevrolet announcement has national significance in that the company leads all other manufacturers in the largest industry in the world. This is one of the major contributions made by any American company this year to national betterment in terms of employment and material consumption.

Nearly 50,000 of the new 1933 series, valued in excess of $20,000,000, will be required for dealers' announcement purposes alone, and the manufacture of at least that number is assured within the next few weeks, Mr. Knudsen said. This output will entail the consumption of more than 50,000 tons of iron and steel and the use of large quantities of the thirty other major commodities which go into the production of a new Chevrolet Six, Mr. Knudsen stated.

Aside from economic considerations, he said that Chevrolet was embarking on its 1933 program shortly, because the company felt it was good business and that satisfactory sales volume would reward any desirable product rightly priced and ably merchandised. Observance of this policy during the past three years brought Chevrolet a constantly increasing percentage of total available automobile business, and in 1932 placed it in the most favorable comparative position it has ever enjoyed in its 21-year history, he pointed out.

In this three-year period the company's plants although on curtailed schedules, never were closed for a continuous shutdown exceeding thirty days, and then only during the regular annual interval between closing out of old models and introduction of new ones.

Formal announcement of a new six prior to the actual showing of the car was made possible for Chevrolet this year, Mr. Knudsen explained, because an unexpected and sustained upswing in sales extending from August to October brought a depletion of field stocks much quicker than anticipated. The result is that outstanding stocks of 1932 cars in dealer's hands are less than three per cent of the best "clean up" the company has ever had. Used car stocks also are at the lowest numerical point since 1925, when the Chevrolet dealer organization was much smaller than today, Mr. Knudsen said.

While the Chevrolet executive did not indicate whether he expects the comparatively excellent market of early autumn to continue until the new Chevrolet is displayed, and into the new year, it is a matter of record that the company sold more than 800 new dealers in the last quarter, bringing the present total to more than 10,100, a mark previously paralleled only in 1929. Since no similar extensive addition of dealers has been made at any time in the past three years, the move, in view of Chevrolet's dealer policy, is interpreted as an assurance that the company anticipates sufficient volume in the future to enable its dealers to conduct profitable operations.

Highlights of the formal announcement of the new car follow:

"The new Chevrolet, to appear next month, advances standards in every phase of motoring. . . . Again, Chevrolet has broken boldly with the past wherever change means improvement in style, comfort, smoothness, performance, safety, economy and dependability.

"Fisher body craftsmen have taken advantage of an even longer wheelbase to contribute a new design which is unique in the low priced field, insuring dynamic new styling, and an increase in wheelbase which immediately increases the car's stability and safety."

"And the experience gained in the production of more than 7,000,000 cars, together with the marked advantages that naturally accrue to the leader in sales, has made it possible to build the new Chevrolet at a price which takes account of today's incomes."

PAY CULINARY TRIBUTE TO THANKSGIVING DAY

There is no greater Thanksgiving Day tribute than a delicious Roast Turkey Dinner with cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes and pumpkin pie.

This Thanksgiving can be an outstanding one for you and your family. Here is the meal that will make it outstanding—it is a Pilgrim turkey dinner adapted to the spirit of 1932.

Tomato or Oyster Cocktail
Roast Turkey with Chestnut or Sage Stuffing

Candied Sweet Potatoes or Mashed White Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts, Cauliflower, Broccoli, or Spinach
Cranberry Sauce, Celery, Ripe Olives, Radishes

Bread and Butter
Grapefruit Salad with Cheese Wafers
Pumpkin Pie with Quince Jelly
Coffee

Nuts and Mints
Sage Stuffing

1 cup butter or other fat.

1 cup chopped celery and leaves

2 medium-sized onions, chopped.

1/2 cup chopped parsley.

2 quarts soft stale bread crumbs.

salt, pepper.

1 to 2 tablespoons powdered sage.

Melt the fat in a skillet, add the celery, onion, and parsley and simmer for a few minutes. Add the bread crumbs, season with salt, pepper, and sage, and stir until well mixed and hot.

Chestnut Stuffing.

(For a Ten-Pound Turkey)

1 pound chestnuts.

1/2 cup turkey fat.

1/2 cup butter.

2 cups chopped celery leaves & stalks.

1/2 cup chopped onions.

Few sprigs parsley, chopped.

6 cups bread crumbs.

Salt and pepper.

Savory seasoning.

Cook the chestnuts in boiling water for about 20 minutes. Remove the shells and brown skins while the nuts are still hot. Try out the turkey fat and add the butter. Cook the chopped celery and onion in this for a few minutes. Add the parsley and bread crumbs and season to taste with salt, pepper, and savory seasoning. Stir until the mixture is thoroughly hot. Wipe the turkey dry inside, sprinkle with salt, and fill with the hot stuffing.

Roast Turkey.

Single the turkey, remove the feathers, clean thoroughly, and wipe dry. Sprinkle the inside with salt, fill with hot stuffing, and sew up the opening. Fold the wings back on the neck, and tie the ends of the legs together under the tail. Rub the surface of the turkey with butter, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and flour, and lay a piece of fat over the breast bone.

To roast a young turkey, put the bird on its back on a rack in an open roasting pan. Brown lightly in a hot oven (450 degrees F.), then reduce the heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and continue to cook the turkey until it is tender. Baste occasionally with the drippings. Allow about 15 minutes to the pound for roasting.

For an older turkey, cover the roasting pan as soon as the bird has browned, and cook at a moderate temperature until tender. Allow about 20 minutes to the pound.

To Carve a Turkey.

1. Have a very sharp, long-bladed carving knife.

2. Place the turkey on its back with its neck at your left. Insert the carving fork at the point of the breast bone, the tines straddling the ridge, and hold the bird firmly.

3. Cut through the skin separating the leg from the body. Pull back the leg, disjoint and remove it.

4. Separate the drumstick from the thigh by cutting through at the joint.

5. Slice the meat from the leg into several portions.

6. Remove the wing by cutting down through the joint close to the body.

7. Carve the breast meat in thin slices.

ence to the unknown hero. At 11 o'clock, the sound of trumpets announced the arrival of Royal family—the King, the Queen, Prince Leopold, Princess Astrid and Prince Charles descended the steps to render homage, while the King added a magnificent wreath inscribed with the names "Albert-Elizabeth" on a ribbon of the Belgian colors. The first boom of the cannon giving a salute of twenty-one guns, with the playing of the "Brabantonne," the national hymn, was the signal for the departure of royalty, and the dispersal of the crowd.

All day, a guard of honor composed of six men, stood motionless at the tomb, while a continuous line of citizens filed before it, some merely inclining, some showing their remembrance by a gift of flowers. At 6 o'clock, the ceremony took place which came from the hearts of the people and is unique to Belgium. It is called the Sacred Relay, and its purpose is to keep alive not only the fires of patriotism, but the memory of those who suffered so greatly in the last war.

A few days before each Armistice Day, from the borders of each of the nine provinces a torch, which has been lit with appropriate ceremonies, is borne by representatives of the "Anciens Combattants," (corresponding to our Legion) from town to town in each province, pausing where there is a monument to the dead, received reverently at one town and by it passed on to the next, until on Armistice Day, the torches representing each province meet at Brussels at the tomb of Belgium's unknown hero.

An account of the proceedings in the province of Namur is typical of those that took place in all the provinces. Nine torches, having been lighted at designated points along the frontier, were borne by veterans from commune to commune, stopping for brief ceremonies where monuments, sometimes simple, sometimes grand, recalled to memory the victims of the war. They converged upon Namur, where they were greeted by the Governor, communal ministers, and high ranking military officers. Accompanied by a military escort, they proceeded to the provincial monument at the foot of the Citadel, where they were surrounded by the flags of many patriotic organizations. A stirring address recalling the war sacrifices of Belgium, was made by the provincial director of the F. N. C. (Federation of National Combattants) and the exercises closed with playing of the Brabantonne. The Governor designated one torch to bear the colors of the province to Brussels, and the torch was taken to the Soldier's Home, where it was guarded through the night. Similar exercises were held throughout the country, and a guard of honor was placed before the torch in each town where it was necessary to spend the night.

On the evening of the 11th, another large and silent crowd had gathered at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. A rather free translation is given of an account of the ceremony carried next day by one of the Brussels papers. "The shades of night now enveloped the Place du Congrès; the Column loomed blacker than the shadows. The Flame of Remembrance, wavering, throwing its pale gleams on the six officers composing the guard of honor, their sabre blades flashed in the darkness. From the town below the roll of drums was heard. The sacred flame is surrounded by banners whose three colors are visible from time to time as they are stirred by the breeze. The roll of drums sounds more clearly. Is it perhaps a Reveille of the Dead, summoned to a last review? A glint of gold or silver flashes now and then as the light falls on the braided uniforms or the decorations covering the breasts of many of those present at the service. The sound draws nearer and now the notes of the bugle, and the tramp of marching feet announce the approach of the first group of torches. They are soon joined by the group arriving from the other direction, and to the strains of the "Brabantonne" the lights of the nine provinces take their places at the tomb that represents all the unknown dead of Belgium. With them is a torch from Paris, lighted at the flame that always burns at the tomb of France's Unknown Soldier at the Arc de Triomphe. To every section of every province of Belgium, the pure lights of remembrance have been borne. The band plays the Death of Asse, while the F. N. C. add their wreaths the many already surrounding the tomb. The watching crowd turns quietly to their homes."

One American, who had been much moved by the beauty of the thought behind this simple ceremony, wished that every country would follow the example of France in adopting "Taps" for their last tribute to a soldier's grave. It would have provided the appropriate ending to a day that had been devoted not to exalting the glory of war, but to recalling its sacrifices.

A REAL THANKSGIVING

THAT we have much cause for thankfulness this year is demonstrated by one point outside the realm of politics which President Hoover made in his acceptance speech last August.

"I should like to digress for one moment," he said, "for an observation on the past three years which should exhilarate the faith of all Americans—that is the profound growth of the sense of social responsibility which this depression has demonstrated. . . . Despite hardships, the devotion of our men and women to those in distress is demonstrated by the national averages of infant mortality, general mortality, and sickness, which are less today than in times of prosperity."

There's something real to be thankful for—that in spite of depression and unemployment the national health has improved—and a reason why we should celebrate a real Thanksgiving this year! The President's brief digression was no claim for any political party, but a hearty acknowledgment to you and me, to the men and women of all political parties, that the sense of responsibility for the welfare of our neighbor is not dead in this glorious land. That is something not only to be thankful for, but to feel a personal pride in, too. So let's have a real Thanksgiving celebration this year, and eat to the point of repletion, for once in a way. There will be Thank-giving dinners for everyone, if we know our American public, but the one we are going to suggest is for the average American family which is celebrating this Day of Thankfulness this year.

Make It Simple

Have a big dinner, by all means, but make it simple and inexpensive in order to have more to share with those for whom such dinners are an event, and to live up personally to the President's words of praise. It can be just as merry and appetizing as in other years, but keep in mind the matter of expense. Here's the sort of menu that we would suggest:

Tomato Bouillon with Okra
Roast Turkey or Chicken with Sage Stuffing
Browned Sweet Potato Balls
Asparagus Hollandaise
Thanksgiving Ice
Dressed Mixed Salad Greens
Cranberry and Raisin Pie
Nuts Coffee Pullled-Mints

If you keep your Thanksgiving dinner as simple as this, you'll have both plenty to eat and the further pleasure of having also plenty to share. Don't forget that there are many families which may have to do without Thanksgiving dinners if those who have more don't remember them. Here are the recipes for two of the dishes on this menu which you may not know how to make:

The Recipes

Tomato Bouillon with Okra: Combine the contents of a 12½ ounce can tomato juice with one can of bouillon, and the liquor from a one-pound can of asparagus, reserving the tips to be used in the asparagus Hollandaise. Add one cup water, the contents of a 9-ounce can of okra, thinly sliced, salt and pepper to taste, and a few drops of lemon juice. Heat thoroughly and serve in cups. Serves eight.

Thanksgiving Ice: Press the apricots from a No. 2 can through a sieve, and add one cup orange juice and four tablespoons lemon juice. Boil one-half cup sugar, three-fourths cup water and two tablespoons corn syrup for three or four minutes, and then dissolve in it two teaspoons gelatin soaked in four tablespoons cold water. Cool, add the fruit juices, stirring often, or in a rotary freezer. Serve with the turkey or chicken. Serves eight.

BRITISH BOB- BLES seem to have this situation "in hand" as one of the 2,000 members of the advance guard of British hunger marchers attempted a demonstration and riot in Hyde Park, London, recently. Several hundred rioters were injured and many more arrested.
