SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

THIRD APPEAL TO SENATOR SMITH

Hon. W. C. Bibb, of Louisa, Makes Radio Address of Great Interest.

Discusses Use of Public Funds for Education.

Ladies and Gentlemen of the radio audience:

I have read in the press the demand made upon State Senator, W. Worth Smith, Jr., on the part of farmers that he become a candidate for Governor of Virginia.

It was my pleasure to hear over the radio a speech delivered by the Honorable James O. Heflin from the industrial city of Hopewell, and I heard over the radio the demand of Mr. John G. May, Attorney-at-law of the City of Richmond, calling upon Senator Smith to announce his candidacy for Governor.

In order that a prophet may not be without honor in his own country I now call upon him to delay no longer and respond to the demand for him that is prevalent throughout the State of Virginia.

May I be privileged on this occasion to suggest to my audience that one of the most valuable by-products of our era of depression is the coincident birth of a compelling force, which has driven an unconcerned public to become actively interested in governmental affairs. This might be termed a providential recompense.

There are numerous problems affecting the future peace, happiness and prosperity of our people, which demand attention. Our educational problem is one of them, and is of paramount importance. The future of our state is dependent upon its sustained merit in its field of service. While prosperity lasted the public seemed to have an unlimited patience, but this public is now impatient for the prompt inauguration of relief measures, and they will not be denied. This aroused interest argues well for the future. It is indeed a "good omen" and should be encouraged for it is a guarantee of good government for the future.

The limited time at my disposal prevents any exhaustive analysis of our Educational Problems, but I have time to emphasize some fundamental principles which should control its operation.

The fair and equitable distribution of public educational funds demands that they be allocated according to the just claim of certain units in the present system. These units are The Primary Unit, The High School Unit, and the College or University Unit. They must be served in accordance with their relative importance.

I contend that these funds should be used:

First — To provide each boy and girl in the State of Virginia with an equal opportunity to have an adequate primary education.

Second — Any surplus should be used exclusively for the operation of our High Schools; and Third — Any surplus remaining, after the foregoing obligations have been fully and intelligently discharged, should be used to maintain and operate, or help maintain and operate our colleges and universities. May I state that this method is not followed in our State at this time? You will discover upon investigation that our institutions of higher learning are being supported, or partly supported at the expense of our primary and secondary systems. The super-structure is being adorned while the foundation crumbles. Many of our primary schools will have to close their doors this year at the end of seven months, some may run eight months, a few longer. Do you hear any predictions that our colleges and universities face any disaster?

I am fully conscious of the importance of our colleges and universities to our State and to the nation, and have no desire to see them treated unjustly, but when they are maintained at the expense of the primary system, they must necessarily yield, for higher learning or advanced education is primarily a matter of individual effort. When the state undertakes to supply this branch it is providing or rendering a super-service.

The ideal system would be one with sufficient funds to operate each unit to its full capacity, but where such funds are inadequate they must be used to supply those units having first claim. We have approximately 475,000 children enrolled each year in the primary grades; 72,000 in high schools — the college and university (Please turn to page 8)

REV. HUTCHISON BACK FROM HOSPITAL

Rev. Westwood Hutchison is home again on the road to rapid recovery.

It is interesting to note on Lee's birthday that this gallant Confederate soldier, Rev. Westwood Hutchison, was a body guard and courier of Gen. Lee.

The Journal joins a host of Mr. Hutchison's friends in congratulating him on his recovery.

FIFTY ADDITIONAL MEMBERS NEEDED

The local Red Cross Chapter has recently received a letter from the president of the American Red Cross, Judge John Barton Payne, stating that the enrollment for this year was the smallest of the last six years and requesting each chapter to try to enroll fifty additional members. Anyone who has not thus far been solicited or who has decided that they would like to become a member of the local chapter is earnestly urged to get in touch with their local solicitor or with Mrs. Mamie Lynch Delaney, Manassas, Va.

MANASSAS CLUB OPENS SEASON

The boys and girls teams of Manassas Athletic Club opened their series of home games Tuesday night when they entertained Warrenton A. C. at the high school gymnasium.

Their record to date promises a successful season, having won two of the three games played. The scores were M. A. C. 35, Gallaudet 18; M. A. C. 51, Nokesville 20; M. A. C. 25, Warrenton A. C. 34.

The boys have as their visiting team Saturday night Leesburg A. C., said to be one of the fastest quints in northern Virginia.

It is hoped that the public will try to give a little more support to the Athletic Club by attending the games than they have in the past. We feel sure that such help would help the team a great deal.

The home schedule for the next week is as follows: Jan. 21, Leesburg A. C.; Jan. 24, Aldie A. C.; Jan. 25, United Typewriters of Washington, D. C.

Let's turn out and give the Athletic Club a helping hand.

WORKING ON BUDGET

On Tuesday, Professor R. C. Haydon, division superintendent of schools, journeyed to Richmond for a conference with State Superintendent Sydney B. Hall regarding the 1933-34 budget.

Professor Haydon had no release to make at this time, other than to state that the whole matter was one of some speculation as yet.

Prince William County is one of the model rural counties in the state school system, and if anything can be done to "beat Old Man Depression" Professor Haydon is the man.

CAFETERIA LUNCHEONS

Every day next week except Saturday the ladies of the Guild of Trinity Episcopal church will serve luncheon cafeteria style in the Parish Hall. The chairman for each day is as follows:

Monday, Jan. 23, Mrs. Robert Smith.

Tuesday, Jan. 24, Mrs. Bevan's.

Wednesday, Jan. 25, Mrs. J. P. Lyon.

Thursday, Jan. 26, Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe.

Friday, Jan. 27, Mrs. C. W. Dalton.

A very attractive menu has been planned by the committee giving wide selection in choice of eatables.

THREE PULPIT CHANGES FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. W. Y. Craig, pastor of Fairfax Baptist church, will preach in the Baptist church of Manassas, Rev. C. P. Ryland, pastor.

Rev. U. S. Knox, pastor of the Columbia Baptist church of Falls Church, will preach in the Baptist church at Fairfax, W. Y. Craig, pastor.

Rev. C. P. Ryland, pastor of the Manassas Baptist church, will preach in the Columbia Baptist church at Falls Church, Rev. U. S. Knox, pastor.

BENNETT COMMUNITY LEAGUE

Regular meeting of the Bennett Community League will be held Tuesday, Jan. 24, at 3 p.m.

ROBERT EDWARD LEE

Today is the one hundred and twenty-sixth anniversary of the birth of Robert Edward Lee, Commander-in-chief of the Confederate hosts which battled for right against might in the days of '61 to '65 and who, although forced into surrender at Appomattox, actually gained one of the greatest of victories in the hearts of men, and definitely established, by their amazing struggle against overwhelming odds, the fact that a contract is a sacred obligation.

The Constitution, which bound the States into a Union, was certainly a sacred obligation. The North, however, refused to be bound by its provisions and upon being advised by the Supreme Court that this solemn contract must be respected by all States, insisted upon breaking the compact and elected Abraham Lincoln upon this dishonorable platform of repudiation of our Constitution.

The contract was broken by the North. Virginia and many other States had definitely reserved the right to withdraw, so the Southern States withdrew, establishing the Confederate States of America. It was not a Rebellion, nor a Civil War. It was a War between the States. The South fought to maintain a national government it had a right to establish. The North fought to preserve a government it had destroyed by its own perfidy.

The North won. The South surrendered upon definite terms of capitulation. The North violated even these terms to such an extent that General Lee subsequently stated that had he known what was to follow, he and his men would have died with their swords in hand at Appomattox.

All true Southerners should bow today in reverent memory of Robert Edward Lee and in recognition of what his sterling manhood has meant to all the world. We should recognize that the hanging of any picture of Abraham Lincoln in the South is an insult to our valiant Confederate veterans, who desecrated no churches, violated no solemn obligations and whose commanders posted no orders so brutal and obscene that they cannot be printed in school books.

Because we do not have enough of the idealism and manhood which actuated Robert Edward Lee and his compatriots of the Confederacy, the world is in very bad shape today. Selfishness, greed, graft and brutal disregard for the rights of men have so disarranged the economic structure that at a time of overproduction of food, millions are facing starvation. Less than 5 per cent of our population now owns more than 85 per cent of our wealth. Ours has lately been a government of classes, without regard for the welfare of the masses. The movement which has culminated in the present chaotic condition began with the election of 1860. Let us hope that it has been definitely checked by the election of 1932 and that the basic rights of individual men and women, so valiantly championed by Robert Edward Lee, will again become paramount in the hearts and minds of those now being commissioned to take charge of the government of the United States.

ANNIVERSARY OF PROHIBITION

Mr. C. J. Meetze Speaks at Meeting of W.C.T.U.

The 13th anniversary of the Prohibition law was observed on Jan. 16 in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church.

Rev. W. M. Compton, pastor of the church, had charge of the devotional period and read selections from Isaiah, Deut., Ecclesiasticus and Joshua.

In his remarks following the scripture reading he left no doubt in the minds of his hearers as to his stand on the great subject of Prohibition. He believes that should there be a return of legalized beer it will not represent the will of the great majority of our people, and if beer comes back the saloon will spring up over night.

Rev. C. P. Ryland of the Baptist church offered a most comprehensive prayer.

"Lead on, O King Eternal" was sung. Also a number of temperance songs had a place on the program.

Mrs. T. R. Bywaters read "Where there's drink there is danger," and "The fight before Christmas" was read by Mrs. Bell.

Mr. C. J. Meetze, the speaker of the evening, was presented by the presiding officer, Mrs. Embrey.

A large and appreciative audience of the representative men and women of Manassas and community gave the speaker close attention as he presented his subject, "Advance and Retreat."

He based his remarks on the great victory of Gideon and his reduced army as found in the book of Judges, Chapters 6 and 7.

INAUGURAL COMMITTEE 1933

General Offices

Washington Building

Telephone District 4200

January 9, 1933.

Mr. Melvin C. Hazen,

Surveyor's Office of D. C.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hazen:

It gives much pleasure to tell you of your selection as Chairman of the Committee on Public Order for the Inauguration of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and John Nance Garner as President and Vice-President, March 4, 1933.

We hope that you will honor the Committee by serving in this capacity.

Sincerely yours,

CARY T. GRAYSON,

Chairman.

Mr. Melvin C. Hazen is well known in Manassas. He is very popular in Prince William as a farmer and sportsman. His friends are well pleased with his appointment.

ORMOND STONE KILLED BY AUTO

Retired Professor Fatally Injured at Centreville.

On Tuesday evening at 5:40 o'clock Professor Ormond Stone, of Centreville, was struck by an automobile while walking along the Lee Highway near his home. The machine, driven by John L. Howard, of Clarendon, an employee of the C. & P. Telephone Company, was proceeding at fairly normal pace.

A hearing was held this forenoon before Trial Justice Paul E. Brown, of Fairfax courthouse. Doctor Ford Swetnam, Deputy Motor Vehicle Commissioner Bullock, Sheriff Eppa Kirby, Mr. John Howard and the other occupants of the machine which killed Professor Stone testified. Mr. Hugh Marsh, assistant to Mr. Farr, conducted the inquiry while Mr. Miller, attorney for the C. & P. Telephone Company, represented the latter.

Mr. Marsh quizzed the witnesses thoroughly and finally moved the warrant be dismissed in which Judge Brown immediately acquiesced, thereby completely exonerating Mr. Howard.

Only a small number of persons were present other than the witnesses and attorneys.

Professor Ormond Stone was 86 years of age and a native of Illinois. He had occupied a position as professor of astronomy and director of the observatory at the University of Virginia until his retirement some years ago under the Carnegie Foundation pension provisions. He occupied a position of esteem and prominence among scientists, having headed several important astronomical expeditions. In 1869 he was in charge of an expedition to Iowa to observe a total eclipse of the sun and again in 1878 he headed a similar expedition to Colorado and again in 1900 he directed observations of a total eclipse in South Carolina. He had made important observations of variable stars and nebulae and had contributed to the knowledge of the satellites of the planet Saturn. He founded and for many years edited a scientific magazine, "Annals of Mathematics."

From 1870 to 1875 Professor Stone held the position of assistant director of the U. S. Naval Observatory and from 1875 to 1882 he was director of the Cincinnati Observatory.

Professor Stone was twice married, first to Miss Flagler, upon whose farm he made his home. In later life he married Miss Florence Brennan who died about a year ago and both of whom are buried in the Episcopal cemetery at Centreville, where Professor Stone was buried today. His brother, the late Melville Stone, was the founder and headed the Associated Press for many years.

The late F. B. Stone, whose sweet poems have been published from time to time in The Manassas Journal, was the second wife of Professor Stone.

In addition to his two sisters-in-law, the Misses Elizabeth and Grace Brennan, who had continued to live at Centreville after the death of their sister, Florence, Professor Stone is survived by his brother's widow and daughter, Mrs. Malcolm Goodrich, both of whom attended the obsequies.

JANUARY MEETING OF W.C.T.U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Miss Maggie Smith Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 3 p.m. We hope all members will be present.

HEARING ON HOG REGULATION

Arguments For and Against Proposal.

On Monday, Jan. 23, the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County will meet and consider adoption of an ordinance regulating commercial hog farms in Prince William County. The proposed ordinance is published on page 6 of this issue of The Journal.

Public interest in the matter has become so wide spread that The Journal is departing from its original intention of taking no part in the discussion to the extent of merely offering some explanations and to state some facts which have been brought to our attention.

First—just as a matter of history—in Arlington and Fairfax where restrictive ordinances have been adopted, the health departments in each case took a firm stand in favor of such ordinances. So far, in this county, we have heard nothing from the health authorities.

There was a strong fight against the hog ordinance in Fairfax County but it came from the more thickly populated section and very naturally from the hog owners and their friends.

The matter is made a community one, just as in similar cases, and this particular ordinance is very much like the one now in effect in Fairfax County. The theory has been advanced here, and with some degree of reason, that if an ordinance be passed that it be changed so that the supervisor in each district be left the final judge of such matters unless county petitions be presented to the Board on the permit then immediately under consideration.

If the ordinance is not passed there should be no immediate rift in the county as one prominent citizen of this community foresees. As a matter of fact the average hard-pressed farmer, whether he can buy and stock up with fifty or a hundred hogs or not, can be impressed by the fact that even this chance, which may ultimately be his, is now being taken away from him.

Restrictions of any sort are odious to many and at least one prominent citizen of the western section of the county has stated to us that such ordinances would destroy the hog business just as much so as the dairy business has been affected by tightening restrictions.

We have endeavored to get as many statements as possible either for or against the ordinance. Persons who should take a hand in it seem to regard it as a "hot potato" and sheer away from it. As far as the ordinance is now worded, we find general opposition, even among those who are favorable to it. Here are some of the suggestions:

To raise the number of hogs allowed under the ordinance from fifty to one hundred, it is maintained that few farmers would ever raise this many, or keep that number at any time.

Others would deal with the lines of travel along which city garbage would be delivered. It appears that the railroads will be the carriers for a long time to come. In the lower section of the county where the three main lines of commerce come into close proximity, and where there are large estates owned and improved by men of means, the bulk of friendly sentiment to the ordinance exists. This is easily explained by the fact that this is where the problem is now impending.

Proponents of the ordinance claim that the unrestricted raising of hogs will prove a failure to the promoters anyway if they are allowed to go ahead. They further claim that the feeding of impregnated garbage is a health menace to both man and beast, and further that the hog herders will not even take proper steps to protect their own property.

It is also stated that the District of Columbia is shut off on the Maryland side and that is why they are anxious to dump on Virginia.

The main forte of the opponents to the ordinance is the poverty of the farmers and the cheap feed by which a greater profit could be obtained.

Other suggestions of changes in the ordinance is the distance from the highway. Both sides agree here that it should be left more or less to the supervisor of the district affected. It can very properly be said that it is a matter of the relative importance of the highway on which the hog farm is located. Some have even gone so far as to advocate a restriction of two miles along the U. S. highways.

CATHARPIN

The second quarterly conference of the Sudley circuit will be held at Gainesville on Saturday, January 28, at 10:30 a.m. Preaching on Sunday, the 29th, at 2 p.m. All meetings will be in the Gainesville church and conducted by the new presiding elder, Dr. J. Howard Wells. Don't forget the date and its needs.

Mrs. J. W. Alvey of Catharpin was an Oakwood visitor on Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald were Sudley representatives at the Kingdom Extension conference in Alexandria last week at which meeting Bishop Darlington was the principal speaker. This was the largest district meeting we have yet attended due to the amalgamation of the Alexandria and Washington districts which increases the number of delegates about one-half. The meeting was very interesting and profitable.

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Brower are spending the week in Purcellville, Va., visiting at the home of their son, C. F., Jr., and family.

Some of our progressive farmers have begun their spring plowing and ere long the wiggly waggly corn rows will claim our attention. In spite of advice to the contrary we hear of no one who contemplates any curtailment in acreage.

Mrs. Etta P. Lynn is now sojourning in Washington as a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Augustus Lynn Webb, where she expects to remain for several weeks.

Waterfall came out into the open last week and gave us some well written notes seasoned with one of Lowell Thomas' good jokes which caused us to enjoy a real smile. We enjoy hearing from our friends especially during these shut-in periods when no one but the mail man can get to us.

A hog is a hog but still we eat him for all that. Whether or not there is or are more vitamin D or X or C in Washington garbage than there are in Prince William raised corn and slop deponent sayeth not;
all we know is that it takes proteins, minerals, fats, etc., to make pork, whether it is wrapped in a cabbage leaf or is contained in the offals from a political banquet table. If the hog does not object why should we? He seems to have a chemical laboratory which purifies, separates and salvages elements which otherwise would be garbage indeed. As this column understands it, garbage from the hotels is just the stuff that suppers are made of at home after we have had a big dinner; the only difference is in the way it is handled.
The housewife carefully puts the "remains" away for future use while the waiter dumps it all in what they call a "garbage can." A hog is not a bit particular about how you hash it up just so he gets all he wants. If Pr. William farmers can profit in any way by the use of this offal let him do it with as little obstruction as possible. By referring to the great number of advertisements lately published in The Journal listing people's farms, homes, lots, etc., for sale to force tax payments one would naturally come to the conclusion, as Ed Conner has already stated, that he should be allowed to raise most any thing that would save the home to his wife and children. All officers are compelled, however, to see that things are legally and properly pursued particularly as it pertains to health, sanitation, etc., and we feel sure our board of supervisors will do all in their power to promote both the health of the community and the welfare of our citizens in their effort to make the best of things during these strenuous times.

CENTREVILLE

The Episcopal church will hold services throughout the winter.

The Methodist Sunday school attendance has been greatly increased this winter.

The Junior League were very happy last week to learn they were a banner league when they received their banner.

The teachers are busy reclassifying the library books and preparing for the arrival of a large order of new books.

The Senior League meets Thursday night for its regular meeting.

The following are on the honor roll
for this month:

Grade I — Roy Hawes Rose.

Grade II — Mary Ann Hawes, Theresa Ellison, Mildred Beahm, Wilson Crouch and Earl O'Bannon.

Grade III — Dorothy Day and Joe Blevins.

Grade IV — Ruby Payne and Sarah Chinault.

Grade V — Kathleen Robertson, Helen Breeden and Warren Weatherholtz.

Grade VI — Earl Brown, Virgie
Carrico, Ruby Weatherholtz and Lorraine Crouch.

Grade VII — Thelma Breeden.

Second honor roll:

Grade I — Alline Belcher.

Grade II — Esther Jean Belcher.

Grade IV — William Harrison.

Grade VI — Tray Weatherholtz.

Dresses."

GREENWICH GROUP
TO STUDY FOODS

The Greenwich Home Demonstration Group will meet Thursday, January 26, at 1:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. N. K. Middlethorpe. The demonstration on "Wholesome Fruit Dishes" will be given by the leaders,
Mrs. W. L. Lloyd and Miss Katie Boley. All women of Greenwich community are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

4-H CLUB COUNCIL TO MEET

The 4-H Club Council, which is composed of officers and leaders of the 4-H clubs of the county, will have its first meeting of the year on Saturday, January 28, at 1:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the assembly room of the post office building, Manassas.

The county plan of work including plans for contest day, achievement day, state and district short courses, will be discussed and decided upon.
Therefore it is very necessary that all 4-H club officers be present.

The executive committee of the 4-H club council is asked to meet in the home demonstration agent's office at 10:30 o'clock on Saturday, Jan.
28. This committee is composed of Doris Bubb, Occoquan, president of the county council; vice-presidents:
Hazel Bowman, Nokesville; Jane Lynn, Manassas; Dorothy Davis, Occoquan; secretary, Geraldine Shepherd, Nokesville; reporter, Wilda Bourne, Occoquan, and Mrs. John Barrett, Manassas.

"RACKETY" HAS OPENING
HERE NEXT MONDAY

"Rackety Rax," reported to be a roaringly funny football riot, opens at the Dixie Theatre next Monday.
Victor McLaglen, Greta Nissen and Nell O'Day have the principal roles.
The Fox comedy depicts the hilarious adventures of a group of sport racketeers who muscle their way into college football with results that are unexpected and disastrous.

Broadway show girls, night club
habitués and the co-eds of Canarsie College all provide plenty of interest. Marjorie Beebe has the role of a ferocious racketeer's wife who writhes with anger whenever she sees her husband's "sweetie," a role played by the platinum blonde beauty, Greta Nissen. Esther Howard is cast as "Sister Carrie," an evangelist who serves tea and cakes to the clubwom-en but at heart is just a racketeer's gigolette.

Others in the cast are Arthur Pierson, Allan Dinehart, Allen Jenkins, Vincent Barnett, Ivan Linow and Stanley Fields. The direction is by Alfred Werker, and the adaptation is from the highly successful book by Joel Sayre.

ANOTHER TRY AT MOUNT EVEREST

Once more an expedition is girding for one of the last great adventures left in the world, and this year will begin the jaunt to conquer the snowy crown of Mount Everest, in the Himalayas. The story of the men and maps being prepared for this perilous climb, and the plans for an attempt to fly over earth's highest peak, will be told in the Magazine of

ANNOUNCES AN IMPROVED

LINE OF SIX-CYLINDER

TRUCKS SELLING AT

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

■ Again Chevrolet leads the way to economical transportation! Chevrolet announces a greatly improved line of Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks—featuring a new engine. A new rear axle. A new frame. Many progressive changes in design and construction. And selling at new, greatly reduced prices that only the world's largest builder of cars and trucks could achieve. These reductions apply on every one of the 28 body-types and place Chevrolet trucks in the most attractive price-position in their history.

All 1½-ton models are now powered by a remarkable new Six-Cylinder Special Truck Engine. This is basically the same reliable power plant of last year—but Chevrolet has made it even smoother, more powerful, and more economical by the addition of 33 new improvements and refinements.

Chevrolet has also introduced an entirely new type of rear axle. It's bigger. It's more rugged. And it's capable of handling heavier loads. All because Chevrolet has given it the outstanding mechanical advantages of a four-pinion differential and a straddle-mounted pinion with bearing support on both sides.

In addition, the Chevrolet 131-inch truck now has a much stronger frame, with deeper, heavier side members. The 1½-ton models have a sturdier universal joint, as well as larger brakes, improved springs, and a new 15-gallon fuel tank.

Nothing that Chevrolet has ever done before in trucks can equal the importance of this announcement: *A stronger, more powerful, more durable six-cylinder line. Even more economical than last year. And selling at prices as low as $440. That's value. That leadership. That's news which no buyer of a low-priced truck can afford to disregard.

This is Chevrolet Truck Demonstration Week. And special arrangements have been made to give all truck-users a road demonstration of the improved Chevrolet six-cylinder truck. Take advantage of this opportunity to see and try the world's most economical haulage unit.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD STARS IN EXCITING DESERT MELODRAMA

Against the romantic background of a seaport on the north African coast and the neighboring Sahara, Tallulah Bankhead, Gary Cooper and Charles Laughton enact a dramatic story of love and jealousy in "Devil and the Deep," the new film which opens next Wednesday at the Dixie Theater.

Miss Bankhead is seen in her latest film as Pauline Sturm, beautiful wife of the commander of a British submarine stationed on the Mediterranean. This man, genial and likeable to his friends, is really obsessed to the point of insanity with a conviction that his wife is unfaithful to him. His suspicions finally drive her into a love affair with a young lieutenant in her husband's command, and, faced with the proof of his suspicions, Sturm goes entirely insane. The method of his revenge carries the film into a melodramatic climax aboard a sinking submarine.

Miss Bankhead as Pauline, Cooper as the lieutenant, and Laughton as the crazed husband give performances of rare distinction, and help to make the film one of the most dramatic and exciting pictures in many moons.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
 Bible Thought and Prayer
 If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

GOD BE MAGNIFIED: Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually. Let God be magnified.—Psalm 70: 4.

TECHNOCRACY

Just now many people are asking one another for a definition of Technocracy. The word is catchy and its application timely. A few days ago a national authority discussed Technocracy over the radio and many highly-trained minds carefully weighed the utterances with result that the impression rapidly has gained root throughout the country that this new panacea for depression is nothing but a sugar coated and thinly disguised brand of communism.

Technocracy aims to analyze the resources of the world and the rate of consumption and in some way, not stated, to regulate world affairs so there will be no more depressions. Science rather than politics would be the controlling force and it is believed that under the plan a "technocrat" would be a pretty big boy. Property and political rights of the individual as now guaranteed under our Constitution would largely disappear.

Communism has had hard sledding in America. Obviously more contempt for our governmental institutions must be cultivated before substantial progress along these lines can be made. Technocracy is the intermediate suggestion. The American people may not swallow it but they may become sufficiently poisoned by the technocratic onslaught so that in the near future the attack upon our system of government may be renewed with better prospect of success.

THE REVIVAL OF RELIGION

One of the most interesting developments of the year just ended is the increase in the attendance on church services, and in church membership. The Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America points to this as evidence of a revival of the spirit of religion. This seems a very hopeful sign of the times. We went through a period, after the War, when it looked as if religion had lost its hold upon the people. From the beginning of our Nation, we have always been a profoundly religious people. Religion was the basis of our earliest colonial settlements. Our greatest leaders in the early days did not hesitate to proclaim publicly and to practice their belief in the guiding power of a Divine Providence. The picture of Washington on his knees at Valley Forge, when the cause of the Revolutionists seemed hopeless, had always been one of the most inspiring incidents in American history.

The tenets of every religion make it a consolation in time of suffering and need. There should be no feeling of shame on the part of the man or woman who, having neglected his religion and its call to duty when material things were going well with him, now feels the urge to come back and join again the ranks of the believers, seeking spiritual consolation for a bruised soul. That is what religion is for. That is where its great service to mankind is rendered.

We have heard men say that they were afraid of being sneered at if they turned back to the church now, after staying away from it through the fat years. We do not believe that anyone who has felt the spiritual illumination that comes from mere contact with the inspiring source of faith and hope that is in the Church can ever feel other than kindly toward others who, like himself, have felt the need to refresh their spirits and renew their faith.

"Here bring your wounded hearts; here tell your anguish. Earth has no sorrows that Heaven cannot heal."

We believe, as firmly as we believe anything, that the regeneration of our national morale impaired by the disappointments and disillusion of these late hard years, will come about the more surely and the more swiftly, if, as we are told, our people are really turning back to the religion of their fathers.—The Northampton Times.

HOME BANKS PREFERRED

A New York correspondent for the hinterlands says there is nothing to this talk of big city banks establishing branch banks through the United States, as is done in Canada. Even if Congress provided the permissive legislation for national banks, he says, there would be no danger of big New York institutions spreading chains through the country. The reason is that Main Street does not like Wall Street.

Main Street has less prejudice against Chicago than it has against New York. Wherefore, the correspondent thinks, Chicago is going to gain importance as a financial center, to the disadvantage of the eastern metropolis. Which may well be true.

We should then have two big centers instead of one, financing the outlying parts. But this would continue to be almost wholly through local banks. The people in the smaller cities don't want to put their money into big city banks; they prefer to have it in their home banks.—Portsmouth Star.

HUEY LONG SPEAKS THE TRUTH

"We do not intend in this country, where there is too much to eat, to have people starving. We do not intend that we shall have people naked, because we have too much cotton and wool to wear. We do not intend that the people are going to be without homes when there are too many houses, and the building and loan associations are broke because they cannot get anyone to live in the houses. Yet there are people sleeping on park benches and sleeping along the highways and by-ways today for no other reason on the face of God's earth but that we have let 5 per cent of the people of this country own 85 per cent of the wealth, and control the other 15 per cent."

"We expect to decentralize the bank authority and control in this country when we come back here after the 4th of March to take it out of the hands of Morgan & Co., to take it out of the hands of the imperialistic financial manipulators, and to put control back among the people of this country."

"Gentlemen may call it Bolshevism, they may call it communism, they may call it anything else they want to; we are going forward on a program to carry out the promises of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the next President of the United States. We are set here now to see that a little handful of men shall not own more than the rest of the 120,000,000 people of this country all combined own. We are set to see that this little 1 per cent, or one-half of 1 per cent, and I expect they have it down to about a quarter of 1 per cent now—do not have more to say about the United States than the balance of the people of this country."—Quotation from speech of Senator Huey Long of Louisiana in the United States Senate last Tuesday.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

To some of the large landholders who have come into our midst, expended thousands of dollars, added to our taxable values, we feel much credit is due, and not a criticism of them because they have means and seen fit to select our county for a permanent location.

It is poor advertising, and we hope and believe that this spirit is not prevalent.

ATTEND MEETING AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

JUDGE JOHNSON ON TRIAL JUSTICES

In your issue of Jan. 6, you have an editorial on the subject of the trial justice system for this County, which supplies very interesting information regarding the system and the call for it but it seems to me that it ignores the pertinent fact that the comparison should be not between the trial justice system and an ideal system of justice but between that system and the method that we now have of conducting our lower courts. In the first place, I think that any one who will take the trouble to poll the Prince William Bar will find that in this county, at least, the call for a trial justice has not come from the lawyers, because it would be more convenient for them to try all cases at the county seat, but that the majority of the lawyers here oppose the scheme. And after all, they are human, and any method of quickening trials will without doubt reduce attorney's fees.

The main reason, as I see it, for the trial justice is that it does away with paying your judge directly by fees. Whatever defense there may be for the fee system as a method of paying officers, there is absolutely no way in which anyone can argue that a judge should be paid or not according to the way in which he decides a case. And that is exactly the situation in a good many cases that come to trial in the magistrate's courts. And as a system of justice has been built up which offers in its methods direct invitations to fraud on the part of the magistrates. To the glory of the justices of this County, it may be said that under this system, there has been no scandal and very few complaints. But with the increase in the number of laws and consequently the number of cases in the lower courts, we have most of the magistrates who do not want to H. Miller F Gibson both with cases and try only one, Hazel Miller F Lynch or two in a month and who cannot, Brady C Kincheloe afford to keep up with the change in Downs SC White the laws and so up to date. But the Peek G Ritter cases have to be tried and we have Lowery G Flaherty seen grow up a few magistrates who give practically their whole time to man for Brady, Brown for Downs, this and depend upon it for a living. Brockman for Peek, Coleman for Long. So in effect, we have several very Manassas, Russell for Gibson of one man, whom everyone knows for Bushong, Gibson for Ritter, Bush and who is under bond to furnish on for Flaherty, Bevans for Kincheloe justice, we have fourteen justices and loe, Russell for White, Jasper for four mayors in this county, all of Lynch.

In your editorial, you point out that the trial justice need not sit at the county seat but that all of them so far do so. It seems to me, with the length of this county and the traffic conditions that we have, that the trial justice should sit at least two days in each week at some point in the lower end of the county. You also point out that all appointees so far have been lawyers and you make the statement that in six months time they become as efficient as an old-time magistrate. If we have such magistrates in this County, why not have six months, by asking the Circuit Judge to appoint him. And in this connection, with modern roads and telephone service, this magistrate does not have to reside either in or near the county seat.

We think that there is no doubt that the trial justice will reduce the time that men accused of misdemeanors spend in jail, awaiting trial, that it will reduce court costs and attorney's fees, that it will decide minor cases much quicker than the present system, and that it will cause fewer appeals to the circuit court.

No one argues that the trial justice system is perfect at present but to most of us, it seems that it offers to the average man a more impartial justice at a lessened cost.

Respectfully submitted,
 W. M. JOHNSON.

SWAVELY NOTES

The basketball game last Saturday against the Episcopal High School of Alexandria resulted in a victory for Swavely by 32 to 26.

Tomorrow (Friday) the basketball team will go to Washington for a game with the St. Albans School team.

Last evening the faculty reading club held its first meeting for the purpose of reorganization. The subject chosen for consideration during the coming session was "Short Stories." Mrs. Sigman returned home from New York on Sunday last.

Editor, Manassas Journal.
 Gentleman:

I noticed an article in last week's Journal opposing the hog industry in Prince William County. This was signed (A Subscriber). Several substantial citizens of this county have commented on this article and wanted to know just what interest this particular party has in Prince William County, how much taxes he pays if any and wondered what his motive was and thought perhaps it was some outside influence rather than his love for old Prince William. Those who pay taxes to keep our schools going, build our roads and help take care of the unfortunate should not be ashamed to sign his or her name to anything they want published.

This subscriber says only where garbage can be hauled by rail and handled by machinery can there be any profit from feeding hogs. That's what is wrong now. The average farmer wants too much machinery, he wants more mules and wagons. At this present time the man that tills the soil and earns his bread by the sweat of his brow is the one that is hardest hit and not the man who has a salary and knows just what his income is. The farmers must be helped now. If not Prince William will be like Spotsylvania and other counties that have one-fourth of their land on the delinquent list. If raising hogs is not an honorable and legitimate business let Mr. (Subscriber) suggest one that is better or more profitable and I will take my hat off to him and say lets kick the hogs out.

ED CONNER.

M. H. S. TEAMS DEFEATED BY FAST HERNDON TEAMS

Friday, the 13th, was surely unlucky for the Manassas High School basketball season, when the well-trained Herndon teams came to Manassas and carried away the laurels. Herndon's teams were quick, their plays were well timed and their shots showed marked accuracy.

From the first of the girls game, it was a cinch for the visiting team. But the girls from Manassas showed good sportsmanship in the way they took their defeat. The score at the end of this game was 36-8.

BOYS 4-H CLUB WORK IN PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY SHOWS PROFIT FOR 1932

One hundred and three members were enrolled in 4-H clubs and carried swine, dairy, beef, garden, corn or poultry projects. Of this number, eighty-four submitted complete records and reported a total income of $4,263.27 and a total net profit of $1,927.53. Prizes and awards totaled $102.50.

The local club meetings were attended for group instruction and the county club council meetings, contests and recreational and achievement day programs participated in.

Fourteen boys attended the District 4-H Short Course at Jamestown and one the State Short Course at Blacksburg.

The number of members according to years enrolled was as follows: first year, 26; second year, 43; third year, 18; fourth year, 8; fifth year, 4; sixth year and over, 3.

Two corn, thirty garden, twenty-seven poultry, forty-seven dairy cattle, one beef, and nine pig projects were carried by the 4-H club members, a few of the boys having more than one farm project.

Another objection which even the heartiest advocates of the ordinance admit is reasonable is the number of signers. In thinly populated sections it is easily seen that one or two personal enemies could forever prevent a man from starting a hog farm. It is suggested that the number of signers be reduced from three-fourths to two-thirds or even less, down to a bare majority.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by F. D. Cox

Hogish Hog Costs Must to Make Pork.

Keep a hog from making a hog of himself and he will turn feed into pork more economically.

This is the seemingly paradoxical conclusion the United States Department of Agriculture reaches after experiments at its Beltsville, Md., farm. Three lots of pigs were used in the test. One lot got 4 pounds of feed daily for each 100 pounds of live weight. Another lot got 3 pounds and the third lot 2 pounds. The feed was corn, tankage, alfalfa meal, and mineral mixture. The pigs weighed approximately 68 pounds each when the test began and they are slaughtered at 200 pounds.

The pigs on the 4-pound basis reached the 200-pound goal first. It took them only 119 days to do it, but they required more feed than the others. Those on the 3-pound ration took 128 days. The lot which got only 2 pounds of feed daily for 100 pounds live weight took 166 days, but made the most economical gains. The three groups used 559 pounds, 458 pounds, and 395 pounds of feed respectively per pig to reach the slaughter weights.

The tests showed that 100 pounds of feed produced 24, 29, and 32 pounds of pork when fed at the 4, 3, and 2 pound levels. In other words, the most restricted ration produced a third more pork on an equal amount of feed, but in a 40 per cent longer feeding period than the full-fed lot. The leanest pork was produced on the lowest feeding level.

State Dairymen's Convention, Jan. 26 and 27.

Some agitation has appeared among dairymen over the state regarding the payment of indemnities for cattle that react positively to the Bang's abortion test. This subject will be discussed at Fredericksburg and it will be to the interest of every dairy cattle breeder to be present at his breed association's meeting when this important item is considered, as there is no cattle disease that causes as great loss to dairymen as Bang's disease.

All annual meetings of the Virginia dairy breed associations will be held Friday, January 27, in Fredericksburg. The convention will be in session on both Thursday and Friday, January 26 and 27.

THE NEWSPAPER MAN

Bit of a priest and bit of a sailor,
Bit of a doctor and bit of a tailor;
Bit of a lawyer, and bit of a detective,
Bit of a judge, for his work is corrective;
Cheering the living and soothing the dying,
Risking all things, even dare-devil flying;
True to his paper and true to his clan—
Just look him over, the newspaper man.

Sleep! there are times that he'll do with a little,
Work till his nerves and his temper are brittle;
Fire cannot daunt him, nor long hours disturb him,
Gold cannot buy him and threats cannot curb him;
Highbrow or lowbrow, your own speech he'll hand you,
He'll go wherever another man can—
That is the way of the newspaper man.

Surgeon, if urgent the need be, you'll find him,
Ready to help, nor will dizziness blind him;
He'll give the ether and never once falter,
Say the last rites like a priest at the altar;
Gentle and kind with the weak and the weary,
Which is proved now and then when his keen eye grows teary;
Facing all things in life's curious plan—
That is the way of the newspaper man.

One night a week may be rest from his labor,
One night at home to be father and neighbor;
Just a few hours for his own bit of leisure,
All the rest's gazing at other men's pleasure,
All the rest's toiling, and yet he rejoices,
All the world is, and that men do, he voices—
Who knows a calling more glorious than
The day-by-day work of the newspaper man?

AN ORDINANCE

At a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County, Virginia, held in the Court House of Manassas, Virginia, January 3, 1933. A quorum being present, upon motion duly made, seconded and carried by the affirmative vote of the Board, the following ordinance was proposed and ordered to be published in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 2743 of the Code of Virginia, 1930:

Be it ordained and enacted by this Board under and pursuant to the powers invested in it by the provisions of Sec. 2743 of the Code of Virginia, 1930, that the following rules, regulations and requirements be, and the same are now ordained and enacted, regulating and controlling the operation of Hog Farms and Commercial Raising of Hogs in the County of Prince William.

1. The hog farm is hereby declared to be any building, shed, pen or other enclosure or any farm-lot or any premises or any portion of any premises upon which more than fifty (50) swine over three months old are fed for commercial purposes upon garbage.

2. No hog farm as so defined shall be located, operated, conducted or maintained within three-fourths of a mile of any residence, place of business, public school, or other public building without the operator thereof having first obtained the written consent of at least 75 per cent of the property owners within said three-quarters of a mile zone, which said consent shall be first filed with the Board of Supervisors and an order obtained permitting such location, operation and maintenance.

3. No hog farm as so defined shall be located, operated or maintained within one mile of any public highway, without the consent of this board, first had and obtained after a public hearing.

4. If garbage is used, in whole or part, as a feed supply for any swine, the same shall be hauled in water-tight containers, adequately covered so as to prevent the wastage.

5. Any violation of this ordinance will constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail, not exceeding thirty days, or by both, in the discretion of the Justice, Court or jury, trying the case and each day's violation thereof shall constitute a separate offence.

The Clerk of this board be, and he hereby is directed to cause a copy of this ordinance to be published in two consecutive weekly issues of The Manassas Journal, a newspaper published in this county, and hearing upon this ordinance is set for the 23rd day of January, 1933, provided, however, this proposal shall have no force and effect until and after final hearing by this board and such ordinance adopted shall have been published for two successive weeks.

OUTLOOK CONFERENCE ATTENDED BY COUNTY FARM AND HOME AGENTS

County Farm and Home Agents from eighty-three counties of the state met in Blacksburg January 9-13 to study farm and home outlook problems and to get helps from state and federal experts in meeting these situations.

Dr. C. B. Smith, assistant director of extension work in the U. S., in speaking of the future of 4-H club work, told of 4,500,000 boys and girls who have adopted better farm and home practices through 4-H club work since the beginning of this work in 1914. Dr. Mary Rhokahr, bureau of home economics, in speaking on the Road Ahead for farm homes, quoted a mid-western woman who said, "There may not be much to live on but we have much to live for." Miss Lois Dowdle, woman's editor of Southern Ruralist-Progressive Farmer, outlined plans and methods of curb marketing. Misses Dowdle and Rhokahr emphasized the importance of the Live-at-Home program; planning ahead; keeping of household accounts.

From these and other country wide reports the following conclusions may be drawn: the farm flock, the home garden, home canning have not decreased in value when contributing to the family food supply; that well balanced meals have not decreased in health value; that home sewing remains profitable; that the home must regain its place as a social center; that the training of boys and girls is the best investment that can be made; that the duties of home making are more challenging than ever before.

MARSHALL'S HIT WITH DIET- RICH BRINGS NEW ROLE

Herbert Marshall, suave player of Broadway and London stage fame, who won immediate screen popularity as Marlene Dietrich's scientist-husband in "Blonde Venus," makes another important film appearance in the leading male role in Ernest Lubitsch's "Trouble in Paradise," which, with Miriam Hopkins, Kay Francis, Charlie Ruggles and Edward Everett Horton in the cast, comes to the Dixie Theatre next Friday, January 27.

Marshall played in several silent pictures, and with Jeanne Eagels in "The Letter," and Claudette Colbert in "Secrets of a Secretary."

In "Trouble in Paradise," from the play by Laszlo Aladar, he appears in the role of a supercrook with the manners of a prince, who preys smoothly upon European society. When he ultimately meets Miriam Hopkins, his feminine counterpart, they team up, professionally and matrimonially.

The two double their individual success, and move with easy good humor from one capital to another until they arrive in Paris. There they choose Kay Francis, lovely French Widow with a bank balance nearly equal to the war debt, as a victim. But Marshall, fascinated by the proposed victim, learns nearer and nearer the point of respectability, and an amusing climax develops when the two women who love him get together to settle matters.

The film is handled by Lubitsch with an entirely new technique, said to mark another milestone in the development of motion pictures.

BETHEL HOME DEMON- STRATION CLUB

A committee met at the home of Mrs. Jellison to arrange a program for the coming year. A plan of work was arranged which included a fall flower show and a yard contest. The list of prizes will be given later. Anyone desiring to enter this contest or take part in the flower show kindly notify Mrs. Jellison or Mrs. Collins.

DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION AT FREDERICKSBURG

The dairymen of Virginia will hold their annual State convention at Fredericksburg next Thursday and Friday, Jan. 26 and 27.

A good representation of dairymen from Prince William County have attended the convention each year when it was held at more distant points and, since this year's convention will be at a nearby city, a greater number than usual will probably attend.

enrollment is not available at this time, but necessarily it would not exceed 7,500 according to my present information. These figures illustrate the relative importance of the different units — their importance is fixed by the numbers served.

Mr. Alan Burton Clarke of The Times-Dispatch states in an article appearing in the issue of January 14, last, that during a five-year period, ending in 1932, the states contribution to the total fund used by elementary and secondary schools was 24.12 per cent, while it contributed 34.29 per cent to the total funds of colleges during the same period. This confirms my statement that our institutions of higher learning are receiving a greater proportionate part of available state funds than the primary and secondary systems.

I wish to take occasion to thank The Times-Dispatch for the valued service it has and is rendering the public of Virginia in connection with its educational system.

During last December, at the request of Senator W. Worth Smith, Jr., I appeared before the Senate Committee in connection with an investigation requested by Senator Smith to inquire into the last general school book adoption which took place in 1931. I am unable to give you the details of the different matters revealed, but I have no doubt that you mothers and fathers who have been required to purchase new school books for your children fully realize the burden this adoption placed upon the school population of Virginia. All informed persons know that the solution of our school book problem is "Free School Books." It appears that free books can be supplied at a cost equal to 1.6 per cent of the present school revenues — this being so, it would seem we have a fair chance to solve this problem. This is the solution advocated by Senator Smith — "free textbooks furnished by the state under proper supervision and control of the General Assembly." There is no man of outstanding ability in Virginia today who is more actively interested in the proper solution of our education problem than Senator W. Worth Smith, Jr., of the 28th Senatorial District. An insistent demand is being made that he immediately announce his candidacy for Governor. As the policies and measures he advocates are in the interest of the average citizen I hope he will decide to announce himself immediately. In keeping with the spirit of a new Virginia, and a people who are at last awake and interested in men and measures, nothing would please me better than to see our people make their own selection of a people's candidate for Governor, rather than wait for those who might wish to dictate, to discover a candidate for them. Senator Smith comes from my town of Louisa, Va., and was associated with me in the practice of law for several years. Knowing him as I do I unhesitatingly give him my unqualified endorsement and recommend him to you as a man of sound business judgment with a wide experience and entirely practical ideas, and possessed with the courage of conviction.

I am convinced that free textbooks are essential to maximum school efficiency — they are after all one of the essential costs of an efficient school system and should be supplied by taxation. Free textbooks will bring about substantial savings in the costs per pupil and the costs per book. We can have them in Virginia if we will. Already there are several free school book areas in the state — Richmond, Roanoke, Norfolk, Harrisonburg and several other places.

Twenty-three states have mandatory laws requiring free textbooks. Twenty-two states have permissive laws authorizing them. It is in the interest of efficiency that I advocate free school books.

One interesting development which took place at the School Book Investigation was a protest by Mr. Kemper Yancey, of Harrisonburg, Va. I understand that this gentleman was formerly a full back on the University of Virginia football team. He was objecting to certain appropriations in the University and College Budgets. As I recall, it appears that $27,000.00 was appropriated for athletic directors of our Universities and Colleges. A striking comparison with regard to this appropriation is that the College of William and Mary received $11,000.00, while the University of Virginia received only $6,000.00 and V. M. I. $5,000.00. As for my part strike it all from the budget. I do not wish to be taxed for football coaches for any university or college. The tax at the gate is sufficient for me, and yet some wonder where we can economize.

It is also a well-known fact that Virginia is, and has been for many years, over-burdened with State Normal Schools as a result of political log rolling and trading. We have been educating more teachers than we can possibly use and our Normal Schools have been supplying the demands of adjoining states. It has been suggested that these states save so much money by using our Normal Schools as their source of supply that they can afford to pay better salaries than we do, and they thus induce our best teachers to leave Virginia. And yet we continue to operate them all, irrespective of costs or our real necessity.

It is well that the people of Virginia are beginning to realize that they have some individual responsibility in connection with the operation of our government. We have a good government and I am proud of our accomplishments, but there is room for improvement. There are savings which can be effected. There are changes which can be made looking to efficiency and service — a more uniform service. Such a development would lighten our burdens and bring satisfaction and contentment and is well worth striving for.

I lend my voice to the demand that Senator Smith become a candidate for Governor of Virginia.

The W.C.T.U., he said, needs no defense. Each woman is found "standing in her place." We need the Bible and prayer as our weapons. "God and one is a majority." We are in a fight today between righteousness and wickedness. We are here tonight because of our faith and assurance in the result. He did not believe the repeal of the 18th Amendment would get by any President and predicted that our children's children would see the 18th Amendment still in the Constitution. The rich would profit by its defeat; the poor would suffer.

Alcohol was advertised as a remover of stains from clothing. It "removes" it has no equal. Someone has said a quart of buttermilk contained as much alcohol as a quart of beer. Mr. Meitze advocated the licensing of the buttermilk and let the beer go. In that case the farmer and all down the line would be benefited and not injured. Trouble with the liquor traffic is not a new thing, as the speaker reminded us that 160 years ago our first President had to put down a whiskey rebellion. Prohibitory laws confront us on every side, health laws, speed laws — made also removes the clothing. As a great for the protection of the public, and if broken bring disaster in their wake. Space and lack of ability prevent a fuller account of this excellent address.

The resolution read by Mrs. Harrell that we ask our Senators and Congressmen to vote against the repeal or any weakening of the Prohibition laws was unanimously endorsed by those present.

Most of the ministers of the town were present and gave words of encouragement and pledged 100 per cent support to the W.C.T.U.

The Thrifty Housewife

Knows the economy of WHITE ROSE, the "all-purpose" flour. She knows that through scientific methods the quality of WHITE ROSE has been improved until it is now as good as any flour she can buy. She knows, too, that the price of WHITE ROSE is lower than it has been for many years.

Why waste costly ingredients on a so-called "cheap" flour, and get as a result an inferior finished product?

WHITE ROSE is "The Flower of Flours."

To pay more is extravagance — to pay less is foolish economy.
