SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

20TH AMENDMENT NOW RATIFIED

Constitutional Amendment Ends Lame Duck Sessions.

The action of the Missouri legislature on Monday of this week ends the long fight which has been waged for ratification of the Twentieth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Thirty-six states, the necessary number, have now ratified the amendment which does away with "Lame Duck" sessions of Congress. Hereafter the newly-chosen Congress will take office in the January immediately following the November elections. Presidents of the United States, after this year, will be inaugurated January 20 and Congress will convene January 3.

The fight, which was led by Senator George Norris, of Nebraska, progressed slowly at first, but as each "Lame Duck" session of Congress demonstrated the futility of permitting legislators to continue in office many months after repudiation by their constituents, the movement gained momentum. The present "Lame Duck" session having proven the most outrageous and worthless session of Congress, State Legislatures quickened their action, with result that several were running a race to have the honor of being the deciding State. Virginia, the Mother of States, has the honor of being the first to ratify the Twentieth Amendment to the United States Constitution, and now Missouri completes the necessary number of States to make the Amendment the Law.

PEERY BEGINS POWER PROBE

Corporation Commission to Investigate Electric Rates.

George C. Peery, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, has announced that Allen J. Saville, Richmond, consulting engineer, has been employed to conduct an investigation of electric power rates in Virginia.

The commission is conducting the investigation. Mr. Peery said, to determine whether or not power rates "are generally in line with present prices."

He said the investigation will begin immediately and will continue for about one year at a cost of approximately $50,000, the major part of which will be paid by the three largest power companies in the state. He pointed out that the commission has no more than $13,000 available for such purposes.

The commission's inquiry will not involve inventory or appraisal of utilities properties, but will include a comparison of Virginia rates with those in adjacent and similar territory.

An investigation will be made into the operation and management of the Appalachian Electric Power Company, the Virginia Public Service Company, and the Virginia Electric and Power Company.

LEE - JACKSON DAY OBSERVED

A very interesting program in commemoration of the birthdays of Lee and Jackson was presented in the Grace M. E. church, south, on Thursday evening, Jan. 19, before an appreciative audience. The exercises were under the auspices of the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., and consisted of music, readings and excellent address on Lee by the Rev. W. M. Compton.

The program was as follows: Opening hymn, "How Firm a Foundation" (Lee's favorite), audience. Invocation, Rev. C. P. Ryland. U. D. C. Ritual, led by Rev. A. S. Gibson.

Reading, "An Old Suit of Glory," Mrs. Lonas.

Piano solo, "The Sunny South," Cleveland Fisher.

Reading, essay on "Stonewall Jackson," Miss Virginia Conner.

Solo, "Stonewall Jackson's Prayer," Mrs. Logan.

Address, Rev. W. M. Compton. "Dixie," audience.

Benediction, Rev. A. S. Gibson.

A SECOND EXTENSION COURSE

Dr. McLean is planning a second extension course, beginning February 6 at 6:45 p.m. in the parish hall in Manassas. The course will be "Shakespeare's Tragedies," or, if it should be preferred, some other selected subject. Those interested should communicate with Miss Ruth P. Smith, Manassas.

JUDGE PEERY TO ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY

Judge George C. Peery, chairman of the State Corporation Commission, is quoted as saying yesterday:

"It is true that I have definitely decided to run, but there will be a formal statement of my candidacy later. I feel I must clear up my work on the Corporation Commission before I can formulate any statement which would be adequate for a platform."

HYNSON HEADS LOCAL DAIRYMEN

Also Made Director in Two-State Association.

The annual meeting of the Prince William membership of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association opened at 1:30 o'clock with W. M. Johnson presiding as temporary chairman. R. S. Hynson was elected president of the local organization with J. A. Hooker and S. C. Harley as vice-presidents and F. D. Cox as secretary-treasurer.

Mr. R. S. Hynson was reelected by the group as director from Prince William County on the Board of Directors of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association.

It was decided that meetings of the producers would be held quarterly in the county, two meetings during the year to be held at Manassas and two at Nokesville, for the purpose of bringing market information and the latest developments in the association to the producer members.

The matter of asking for indemnity from the State for Bang's abortion disease reactors was brought up and the group voted to ask C. C. Lynn to support a resolution at the State Dairymen's convention asking for a state appropriation for this purpose.

Mr. John McGill, manager of the association, spoke at length on the market situation and gave a brief report of the business of the association for the past year. He stated that although the work of conducting the necessary business had increased, that because of the employees being more efficient because of a longer time of service with the association, that it had not been necessary to employ additional help to handle the work. Also that a cut in salary had been made for all employees receiving in excess of $1,000.

Mr. McGill said that the amount paid to dairymen temporarily off the market had been greater than during past years. During the past year, members have responded to calls for smaller shipments, only one out of ten failing to cut production and delivery when requested.

Mr. McGill stated that the decrease in milk sales did not become serious until September of 1932, this stage being reached nearly two weeks after the demand fell off in the other larger cities of the country. This drop in demand was attributed to the cuts in salary of federal employees along with decreases in number of workers employed by many governmental departments.

It is hoped that the test troubles are over as dealers are apparently well pleased with the milk now being shipped.

The favorable price received for milk here in comparison with other markets was brought out. The number of cows added by new shippers was less last year than the number owned by dairymen going off the market but old shippers increased their herds by more than 700 cows. The reduction in price of milk since 1924 has amounted to 6c per gallon.

Mr. McGill said that reduction in price would come through overproduction.

The cost of operation is now less than one-half cents per gallon but it is the opinion of the directors of the association that it will not be wise to cut the one cent charge since this would prevent paying the refund to shippers that have been in the association for many years. Refunds last year were made on the basis of 1926 shipments.

A special invitation was extended to the men to bring the women members of their families to the annual banquet at the Mayflower Hotel on February 6.

BANKERS MEET AT BERRYVILLE

Northern Virginia Group Hold Interesting Session.

Group 3 of the Virginia Bankers Association met January 19 at Berryville. An unusually good program was arranged which included an address by Thomas McAdams of Richmond and after the banquet a patriotic address by William Mosely Brown, former candidate for Governor of Virginia. Many of those present who in former times had disagreed with Doctor Brown politically were enthusiastic in their praise of his forceful address on Robert E. Lee, whose birthday was being celebrated at this meeting.

Among those attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, of Manassas.

MARYLAND FIGHTS GARBAGE DISPOSAL

Legislature Asked to Protect Prince Georges County.

On Tuesday evening Hon. Oliver Metzgerott, member of the Maryland House of Delegates, introduced a bill to prevent garbage from any metropolitan city from passing through Prince Georges County or its disposal in that county. The measure is said to have substantial support on account of the health menace and odoriferous nature of garbage transported in large quantities.

Washington, unlike many metropolitan cities apparently would dump its refuse upon Maryland or Virginia regardless of health and property interests involved, and this measure, it is stated, is calculated to protect Prince Georges County from such a situation.

GLASS BANK BILL PASSES SENATE

Measure Expected to Die in House.

The Glass Banking bill against which Senator Huey Long, waged such a spectacular filibuster, passed the Senate yesterday by a vote of 54 to 9. The Branch Bank feature, the chief objection of Senator Long's, was retained in the bill.

Foes of the bill predict that it will die in the House as this, the last of Lame Duck sessions, ends March 4. Many vital changes are made in national banking procedure by this bill.

BULL RUN BANKERS MEET AT MIDDLEBURG

The Bull Run Bankers Association met at Middleburg on Tuesday night. Mr. T. N. Dudley, of Middleburg, presided. All local banks were represented. There was no formal program, but the questions discussed brought to light many valuable facts touching the local and national financial situation.

SADLER ENDORSES DAIRY FESTIVAL

Northern Virginia Preeminent in Dairy Industry.

The Piedmont Dairy Festival is an annual dramatization of the preeminence of this territory in the dairy industry of Virginia and the East. The eleven counties included in the Piedmont Dairy Festival territory, have been provided by nature with all things necessary for the economical production of milk—fertile soil, good climate, plentiful water supply, ample grazing and a wide variety of feed crops. Comprising less than one-tenth of the total land area of Virginia, this territory contains 17 per cent of the total cows milked and nearly 20 per cent of the total milk produced in the state.

A high degree of skill in the use of the natural facilities is shown by men in the dairy business in this territory. The best evidence of this fact is seen in the 1930 census, when the average annual production for all milk cows in this area was 5680 pounds, compared with 3974 pounds, the average annual production for all cows in Virginia. The average production per cow year in 1931 of cows on test in dairy herd improvement associations in festival territory was 7436 pounds of milk. Additional evidence of the skill and foresight of our dairymen is seen in the fact that records are kept through dairy herd improvement associations on more than 10 per cent of all the cows milked. In fact, over half the total number of cows on test in Virginia dairy herd improvement associations are in these counties.

Dairymen in this area face problems not unlike those dairymen face everywhere. The market for fluid milk is over-supplied. The lack of profits in other kinds of farming has turned the attention of non-dairymen to the dairy business. This last factor carries the danger of still further increasing the over-supply of fluid milk, with consequent lowered prices which, in the end, will leave the dairymen just entering the business no better off than he was before.

The energy and foresight of Piedmont Virginia dairymen will enable them to meet these problems. They have a tried and proven system of marketing fluid milk in Washington, a program for increasing the use of milk in city, town and country, and a goal for still greater efficiency in production. All these factors have a part in the Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival. Here truly is exemplified the kind of co-operation and business judgment sure to win through to better times.

TWO COUNTIES JOIN SCHOOLS

Nansemond and Southampton to Have One Superintendant.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Sidney Hall, announced yesterday that two counties of Virginia would consolidate their school administrations under one division superintendent. A meeting of the State Board of Education to be held shortly in Petersburg will, it is stated, confirm consolidation, which is believed to mark the beginning of further consolidations among counties not able under present conditions to finance their existing school machinery.

FREDERICKSBURG HAS IDEAL GARBAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM

Adopted Plan Which Protects Health and Property Values of Suburban Areas.

A recent issue of the Municipal Review contains a description of the system of garbage disposal put into effect by the City of Fredericksburg, Va., which is attracting nation-wide attention on account of the effective, sanitary and economical methods used.

In deference to the health and property values of suburban areas, the city, after a careful study, decided upon incineration as the only safe method. They found that even by scalding the covered cans and exercise of every precaution the disposal of raw garbage was attended by disagreeable odors and increased danger of spread of epidemic disease.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Bell
Farm were dinner guests of the Cald-wells at Six Acres on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Onley of Washington were Oakwood visitors on Sunday last. The Onleys who until recently were living in Clarendon are now located on Maryland avenue in the city.

Sudley again postponed services on Sunday last due to bad road conditions and the prevalence of so much sickness throught the neighborhood. It seems as fast as one member of a family gets better another one is ready to take up the burden; in some cases whose families are afflicted at the same time. Fortunately no fatalities have yet occurred and it is our hope that the community may be spared this ordeal. It is during seasons of this nature that one can not help the thought that our public schools and nurses are rendering a service whose value is hard to estimate. The children are being taught health and sanitary regulations and the prevention and care of diseases to the extent that epidemics can not reach the malignant stage such as history records of other years when no attention was paid to such things.
It is times like the present that we all realize the true value of our County Nurse and the health rules and regulations as are constantly kept before the children by their teachers.
Were it not for this care and instruction we tremble for what might happen. In our retrenchment and the necessary curtailment of expenses during these strenuous times we should be careful not to cross the "dead line" of health. It were better to keep the children well than to teach them the "fourth dimension."

Mr. and Mrs. F. Miller of New York City paid Oakwood a visit last Sunday on their way home from Florida where they had been sojourning for several months in the "Land of Flowers." The Millers were old-time friends of the Oakwoodians and needless to say were gladly welcomed.
Mr. Miller stated that less than one-third of the offices in the great Empire State Building were rented and that thousands of other offices in the city were empty and that other thousands had tenants who were unable to pay the rents; so there you are.
Pr. William is not the only place hard up.

One evening last week, about 7:30 p.m. while passing through the city of Gainesville we noticed the big livestock trucks of Roland Bros. drawn up near the scales, silhouetted against the darkness, with headlights a-gleam ready to move. Upon inquiry it was learned that they were just ready to start for Baltimore with cattle. This, of course, was no new thing to the Rolands but it was to us.
There were the scales and yards where in years past thousands and thousands of cattle, sheep, hogs, etc., had been brought together for shipment by rail but now being used as a general loading point where

Stock and truck are want to meet
To chase the night with autos fleet
And get to market long before
Some other fellows cease to shone.

Thus again are we reminded of "how things do change." We wonder if any one no farther back than 20 years ago could have visualized the transition of livestock from train to truck and that but three hours would

REPORTS BY RED
CROSS CHAIRMEN

Reports made by the chairmen of the standing committees of the Prince William County Chapter of the American Red Cross at its annual meeting held here Saturday, January 21, revealed that the chapter had been exceedingly active during the past year, especially in helping needy and distressed families and in working with school and preschool children. Outstanding reports submitted were those for the Production, Civilian Home Service and the Nursing Committees.

The production committee, of which Mrs. O. D. Waters is chairman, has engaged itself in the preparation for distribution of the 850 yards of cotton material which the government sent out last fall. In this work the committee has been assisted by more than ninety workers throughout the county, and has prepared for distribution by the Civilian Home Service Committee of more than one hundred and fifty garments, which is in addition to the ready-made garments which have been procured from the government.

More approximately ninety families have received aid through the Civilian Home Service Committee, which works in co-operation with numerous civic organizations, and which is headed by Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, chairman. Most of the aid has been in the form of clothing and shoes for school children, with a few cases where emergency food orders were distributed. At present the committee is actively engaged in serving as an advisory board to the Prince William County Emergency Committee, the local organization for administering Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds.

Outstanding work was done among the school and preschool children by the nursing committee, of which Dr.
E. H. Marsteller is chairman. 366 school children and 221 preschool were examined by Miss Sabina Neel, nurse, assisted by the county physicians. With the aid of the Kiwanis Club, one hundred children received examination and treatment at the things are taking place these days

"panorama" of modern life.

Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital in Washington. During the year Miss Neel made more than fourteen home visits and aided in the staging of four tubercular and seven dental clinics in the county.

The roll call committee, Mrs.
Mamie Lynch Delaney, chairman, on incomplete reports, has enrolled slightly less than four hundred members. The little town of Cherry Hill, through Mrs. H. O. Russell, district chairman, again reports 100 per cent enrollment, with a membership of 82.
As has been true of the country as a whole, the local chapter has fallen short in its expected enrollment, and, at the request of Judge John Barton
Payne, national chairman of the Red Cross, a special continuation of the enrollment period to include the month of January has been made.
Mrs. Delaney says that she expects in this time to exceed the goal prescribed by the national organization for the special roll call.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Mrs.
W. L. Lloyd, Greenwich, chairman;
Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, Manassas,
vice-chairman; Miss Loretta McGill, Haymarket, treasurer, and Mrs. E. C.
Spitler, Nokesville, secretary. These officers, with the following, elected to serve from each of the six magisterial districts of the county, will comprise the executive board:

Mrs. C. B. Allen, Haymarket, and Mrs. O. M. Douglas, Thoroughfare, for Gainesville district; G. Raymond Ratliffe and Eli Swavely for Manassas district; Rev. J. R. Cooke and W.
L. Lloyd, Greenwich, Brentsville district; R. C. Linton, Independent Hill, and W. Y. Ellicott, Woodbine, for Coles district; Mrs. Jane Abel, Dumfries, and H. O. Russell, Cherry Hill, for Dumfries district, and Mrs. T.
Powell Davis, Occoquan, and Mrs.
Eva Kidwell Garner, Bethel, for Occoquan district.

ODDEST ACCIDENTS OF 1932

On the front pages of newspapers during the past year appeared many strange accounts of queer mishaps and narrow escapes in the never-ending story of the capricious whims of Old Man Accident. One man drowned in a puddle of wine, a golfer nearly strangled himself, a football star got a dislocated shoulder when his brother kicked him in his sleep—these are only a few of the many odd incidents reviewed in an article appearing in the Magazine of The Washington Star next Sunday, January 29.

1. To borrow $5,000 from the Literary Fund of Virginia to make the improvement at the Occoquan School to be charged against and paid by the Dumfries District School Fund in order that that District might partially take care of the expense of housing its high school pupils now attending the School at Occoquan.

2. To borrow $500 from the Literary Fund of Virginia against the Woodbine School in Coles District, chargeable to and to be paid back by the Coles District School Fund.

3. To borrow $1,000 from the Literary Fund of Virginia to make the improvement at the Manassas High School, the amount to be chargeable to and payable from the Manassas District School Fund.

The Board authorized the Superintendent to appear before the County Board of Supervisors at its regular meeting January 24 and to request the approval for the above Literary Loans.

A NEW YEAR POEM

I stand on the threshold
Of another new year.
Behind are the worry,
The sorrow, and fear.
Before me is nothing
But a kid and a book.
He smiles while he hands
It to me, as I look
At three hundred and sixty-
Five pages, all white
He gives me a pencil
With which I must write,
Each day in that book,
Something good, or bad,
Something cheerful and nice,
Or dreary and sad.
God help me to fill
This book wisely and well.
It may be my last one
God only can tell.
May I write in a hand
Unfaltering, and clear.
What I'll not be ashamed of,
At the end of the year
So I take up my task, Unpleasant tho' it be,
I shall try to complete it,
To be a credit to me
And tho' I blot the paper
With many a tear.
I hope God will forgive me,
At the end of the year.
—Jennie Gheen.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of GodBIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

A GREAT CONTRAST: For evil doers shall be cut off; but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth.—Psalm 37: 9.

REGRETS

There was a fairly representative gathering of citizens at the special session of the Board of Supervisors held on Monday, the exact minutes of which are printed elsewhere in this issue.

Without comment, the best thing that we can do is to draw the veil.

The citizens of this county have a right to expect their public officials to conduct themselves as gentlemen in public and to exercise no partiality in the treatment accorded anyone.

Those who should have upheld the dignity of our county allowed open insult without rebuke and without effort at redress to be directed to reputable citizens who would normally look for decency at a public hearing.

The events that took place in the courthouse on Monday were such as few could have foreseen or even imagined.

A BRIGHTER NOTE

Farmers of Virginia, along with farmers of other sections, have been complaining bitterly during the last several years. And farmers of Virginia, along with those of other sections, have had cause for complaint. It will do no harm, however, to dwell a little on the brighter side of the picture. Comparisons are not always odious, and the following facts are worth calling attention to. Perhaps few know, though many will be interested in knowing, that Virginia, in 1932, was:

Virginia's estimated rank in agriculture among other States during 1932 is as follows:

First in production of early potatoes, shipments of sweet potatoes.

First in lowest ratio of taxes to value of farms.

First in cords of pulpwood cut on farms.

Second in lowest percentage of farms mortgaged.

Third in shipments of apples.

Fourth in production of tobacco.

Fourth in production of peanuts.

Fifth in value of forest products cut.

Fifth in production of apples.

Sixth in production of turkeys.

Seventh in value of vegetables grown for sale.

Seventh in production of sweet potatoes.

Nineteenth in number of chickens on farms.

Twenty-first in value of sales through co-operative organizations.

These facts are given by the University of Virginia News Letter on authority of the United States department of agriculture and bureau of the census. They do not mean that Virginia farmers have no cause for complaint, but they do furnish a refreshing contrast to the discouraging facts which are presented to our attention so often. — Lynchburg News.

SWAVELY NOTES

"Bill" Zollinger of Canton, Ohio, was a week-end visitor at the school. The faculty reading club met as usual last evening, and Mr. Swavely dealt with "The Origin and Development of the Short Story."

Mid-year examinations are being held at the school this week.

On Saturday the basketball team will go to Front Royal for a game with Randolph-Macon Academy.

A number of friends from Washington spent the day with Mrs. Swavely yesterday.

INTERESTING ARTICLES READ
AT W. C. T. U. MEETING

The rain did not dampen the ardor of 12 White Ribboners who met at the home of Miss Maggie Smith on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 25. A fine program was carried out.

A letter was read from State Senator Swanson thanking our Union for resolutions sent to him, asking his support toward any dry measure and to use his influence against repeal or any weakening of the Prohibition law.

A letter was also read from the director of publicity, Mrs. Leftwich, urging us to give publicity to temperance work. This brought forth expressions of appreciation of the editors of The Manassas Journal for their courtesy in giving the W.C.T.U. space in their columns.

Much valuable information is gained from the "Union Signal," the official organ of the National W.C.T.U. From its columns we quote "that our young people resent and deny the assertion that more young people are drinking now than before Prohibition."

The result of a 10,000-mile trip made recently through the United States and Canada by Dr. McLennan, a Presbyterian minister of Pasadena, is that millions of young people banded together in church organizations are playing an important part in supporting the dry movement.

An able young Jew also made a survey of several hundred Jewish students, and found that nearly all were total abstainers. He denounced as a lie the statement that "young people everywhere are drinking."

Miss Glick read from the "Young Crusader" what their attitude is.

"If the Prohibition law were repealed as discussed, by two motorists" was read by Mrs. Halpenny.

It was conceded that no mechanical safety devices that have been invented on the modern machine is sufficient to prevent accidents caused by even slightly intoxicated drivers.

One of our honorary and highly honored members, Rev. J. Halpenny, was present at this meeting, and made the statement that he had signed the total abstinence pledge 21 years ago, a record to be proud of.

Meeting closed with Aaronic benediction to meet in February with Mrs. Broadus.

HELD IN ACCIDENT

A press dispatch from Fredericksburg states that M. J. Weber, who lives in the vicinity of Manassas, has been held under bond for a hearing in connection with the death of James Hill, who was struck fatally by an automobile near Stafford Courthouse. It was stated that Mr. Weber was not definitely identified as the driver of the car.

GRAND JURY CHOSEN

The following have been named for the grand jury at the term opening on February 6. Frank Gue, C. C. Furr, W. O. Bushev, William Adamson, Luther Alpaugh, J. A. Hooker, E. P. Davis, R. H. Barnes.

RICHMOND HAS LARGE BANKS

Two Richmond banks are listed among the 200 largest banks in the United States. They are the First and Merchants National Bank with deposits of $41,366,354 and the State-Planters Bank and Trust Company with deposits of $29,784,254.

WATERFALL

Well, here we are again, and isn't this wonderful January weather? The farmers in our section are busily engaged in plowing and just recently we heard some frogs "singing" or is that the right word? Anyway, we like to hear them. They seem to speak of mayn things and one of them is Spring!

We had services at Antioch Sunday at 3 p.m. Bro. Council and Bro. John Rollins, who accompanied him from Haymarket, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Gossom for dinner. Irvin and Virginia were guests too and after attending church returned to their home in Washington.

Pauline Thornhill, who has been helping "Uncle Sam" count "noses" for the past two years, has completed her job, and is enjoying a vacation at "Mt. Atlas," where Phil says she makes him "toe the mark."

We are congratulating Nonie, Jr., on his promotion to supervisor of the road relief work for Prince William County.

Freeman Gaines now is in charge of the relief road force, up our way, and they are working on the Antioch to Haymarket section, and Billy Garrett, our faithful mailman, says that road needs it plenty too.

Old "Aunt" Emmeline Scott died on Sunday at her son's, Charlie, home in Loudoun County, and was buried on Tuesday afternoon at Olive Branch. Aunt Emmeline, who was "most a hundred," was a faithful old darkey of the "old school" and had many friends, both among the white and colored race.

Herman Shirley writes from Panama that the tourist season is on there and that many persons are seeking the warm sun of the tropics. He says too that "Old Ironsides" recently passed thru the locks and is now on her way up the coast to California.

Gen. Lee's birthday last week brought to our mind vivid recollections of a visit made to Arlington in October. It was the first trip we had made there since the mansion has been restored to its "before the war" glory, and we were intensely interested in every nook and cranny of the stately old mansion with its lovely old furniture. But were these things really used by the Lees, was the question uppermost in our mind. Did Gen. Lee really drift off to sleep in that gorgeous four poster bed, under that exquisite white counterpane? Did Mrs. Lee play soft dreamy chords at eventide, on the quaint old harpsichord in the drawing room, and did the Lee youngsters curl up in the huge wing chair, before the cozy fire place, to read fairy tales?

Imagine our delight when we opened our January copy of "Holland," to find an excellent article on Arlington House by Edward Francis Rines, which answered all of these questions and more. Mr. Rines says "Naturally most of the items used in the restoration work are necessarily replicas since the original pieces have now found homes elsewhere — at Mt. Vernon, at Stratford, at the National Museum at Washington — while others have been hopelessly lost. Also some pieces are in the hands of the Lee heirs, who are unwilling to part with them. But, wherever possible the design of the original piece known to have been in the house at the time it was occupied by the Custises and the Lees has been followed."

It is surely a soul stirring experience to visit Arlington now. To pause before the beautiful tomb of the unknown soldier, with the sentries keeping their ceaseless vigil and it is well worth the trip to drive over the magnificent Memorial Bridge, as we did, on that misty October morning, and stand on the mighty pillared parapet of the Lincoln Memorial; just to get the view straight across the bridge and up the slope to the beautiful Doric front of the stately Arlington House. We listened intently as we drove away, thinking we might hear from the wooded heights of Ft. Myer; just beyond the high sweet notes of some bugler sounding "Taps" and how appropriate an ending, we thought; as the sun has set forever on those days in old Virginia.

RESIDENCE SAVED

The residence of Misses Rixey and Coles was seriously threatened by fire yesterday morning about 7 when a prompt response by the local fire department averted a much greater disaster.

Mr. Hibbs came over in first aid for the fire but soon discovered that it was out of control.

Amount of damage is not stated and same is in hands of adjusters. The fire came from the kitchen and the cause can only be guessed at. A fire had been started a little earlier in the morning, and it is thought that either the stove became overheated or else that the soot exploded in the chimney, throwing burning matter to the floor.

"BLONDE VENUS" IS NEW TRIUMPH FOR DIETRICH

Marlene Dietrich in "Blonde Venus," which opens its two days' run at the Dixie Theatre next Wednesday, emerges triumphant in a role marked by recurrent flashes of pure acting genius. The star of "Shanghai Express," "Morocco," "Dishonored," "The Blue Angel" again proves her claim to outstanding distinction in the motion picture realm.

"Blonde Venus," like Miss Dietrich's four previous pictures, is filled with the inspiration of Josef von Sternberg, who has here taken a gripping and human character and theme and woven them into magic panorama of human love and hate. This picture gives Dietrich two important assets, a real down-to-earth story and a character to portray that is worthy of her talent.

Wife, mother, exotic night club entertainer, hunted woman, international stage success—the character follows each in turn through a kaleidoscopic series of adventurous happenings. Working to support her sick husband and little child, Dietrich, billed as the "Blonde Venus," is a sensation in a Harlem night club. She meets Cary Grant, whose generous offers of help introduce him to her friendship, and later to her love. Enraged, her husband tears her child from her and orders her into the streets. She steals the child and flees, pursued from city to city by the police and her husband who wants the child.

Finally, unable to fight longer, she surrenders the child, and goes abroad. She achieves success, and in a dramatic climax is reunited with her child and her old lover.

Herbert Marshall, as the husband, and Cary Grant, as the lover, give Dietrich excellent support. Little Dickie Moore has the role of the child. Without Dietrich "Blonde Venus" would be a picture to regret missing; with Dietrich's marvelous performance, it's one of the screen achievements you must see.

New York Speakeasies. Exposed in Film; Owners Pose for Pictures.

A composite view of more than 100 New York speakeasies is the background for "Night After Night," screen adaptation of Louis Bromfield's "Single Night," which has been booked for the Dixie Theatre next Friday, Feb. 3.

The film features George Raft, sensational young player of "Scarface," "Dancers in the Dark," and "Madame Racketeer" fame; Constance Cummings, Wynne Gibson, Mae West and Alison Skipworth.

Locale of the story is an old brownstone house which has been converted into a luxurious speakeasy. Interiors of more than 100 of Manhattan's "speaks" were photographed for scenic designers building the setting. All of the photos were taken with full consent of the owners, many of whom posed behind their bars. They range from converted homes to small "dives."

Best features of the swankiest "joints" were incorporated in the "Night After Night" setting.

The film is the story of the queer romance between Raft, proprietor of the speakeasy, who nourishes social ambitions, and Miss Cummings, Park Avenue socialite, who was born in the house during its better days. Her constant visits to the scene of her birth bring her into contact with the proprietor, and a series of startling developments throw them together in a strange fashion. Archie Mayo directed the picture.

Fisher Body Borrows Idea From Hollywood to 'Shoot' New Ventilation System in Action

The special "rig" below was devised by Fisher Body Corporation to make possible a pictorial record of the New Fisher No Draft Ventilation System in action. Cameramen standing on the platform 10 feet from the side of the car took pictures with the car in motion at 30, 40, and 50 miles an hour. The stunt was especially valuable as showing the system's effectiveness in the removal of tobacco smoke, which has always been a source of annoyance to non-smokers in cars of conventional type.

The three frames at the left are excerpts from a motion picture taken from the special camera rig, and they show clearly how smoke is drawn from the car by the Fisher Ventilation System. How rapid the smoke removal is, may be judged by the fact that these three frames were actually adjacent to each other in the film. A large mouthful of cigar smoke snatched out of the car in a fraction of a second! Efforts to capture the same action with a still camera were less successful. Besides assuring comfort for smokers and non-smokers alike, the Fisher Ventilation System promotes safety for all occupants of the car, since it enables the driver to prevent the clouding of windows and windshield which in ordinary cars impairs driving vision in cold weather.

FRESHER THAN FRESH

NONSENSE, you say? There isn't any such thing as being "fresher than fresh." But there is! The explanation lies in the lack of real freshness in most city market vegetables. So time honored and real is this lack that a large metropolitan newspaper recently printed this illuminating "household hint":

For Fresher Vegetables—When you know your "fresh" vegetables are stale, let them stand in cold water for several hours before peeling or cutting them. This, in part, replaces the moisture they have lost and makes the fiber tender again.

"In part!" Very much "in part" we should say! Think of getting your vitamins and nutritive qualities out of the cold water faucet! It takes a fasting Gandhi to do that!

On the Other Hand

Did you ever wish for a well-cultivated vegetable garden right outside your kitchen door? Peas and corn, tomatoes and beans, and everything good that grows? The reason you delight in the thought of that kitchen garden is that your vegetables, gathered in the morning and brought right straight to your kitchen table, and immediately cooked, have that wonderful fresh-from-the-garden flavor. Ripened in the fresh air and sunlight, and not a particle of their natural moisture lost, these are truly fresh vegetables that do not need to be immersed in water to be "in part" restored to tenderness.

A Wish Come True

Well, you can have just such a garden right in your own pantry all winter long, and you won't have to grub out weeds, either: you only have to supply your pantry with quality canned vegetables; then open the cans and use the contents as you need them.

All their delicious freshness and natural flavor is saved for you by the process of commercial canning. The modern canner is built close to the fields where the vegetables grow. Hence within a few hours after gathering the vegetables are in the canner's kitchen, inspected, washed, prepared, put in cans and cooked.

It is all done so quickly that the vegetables don't have time to wither and grow stale. Every bit of their freshness and flavor is locked up in the can, preserved unchanged until the can is opened, and awaiting your convenience, no matter how long you keep it.

No Exposure to Air

Now if your garden was a thousand miles away, as it must be for most people during the winter months, you would have your vegetables gathered before they were fully ripened, and they would be hauled that thousand miles by truck or refrigerator car, and every hour during the three to seven days in transit your vegetables would lose a little more of their natural moisture, and they would reach you withered, stale, with their original flavor and most of their vitamin content lost; no longer would they be fresh vegetables. And that is the sort of market vegetables to which the "household note" quoted above refers.

Lots of people think that canned vegetables are cooked in one large vessel and then put in cans and sealed. On the contrary, the vegetables, after washing and preliminary scalding or "blanching," are put in cans, sealed, and then the sealed cans are put in large steam retorts and cooked. Therefore, the contents of your can of peas were individually cooked in the can, sealed so that the contents were not exposed to the air during cooking.

Vitamins Are Preserved

And here is another advantage of commercial canning over home cooking. There are different kinds of vitamins in different kinds of vegetables, and each kind has its particular work to do. These vitamins are easily lost when vegetables are cooked in open vessels, exposed to the air. When, however, the cooking is done in the little tin cans, hermetically sealed, excluding the air completely, almost none of the vitamins are lost.

For this reason many doctors now recognize that canned vegetables are actually more health-giving than so-called fresh vegetables, because they were cooked when absolutely fresh from the fields, and in their cooking they retain more of their valuable contents than when cooked on your kitchen range.

Byrd; assistant financial secretary, Eugene Davis; conductor, J. H. Boley; warden, A. A. Muddiman; inside sentinel, Ashby Marsh; outside sentinel, J. Staton Woodard; junior past councilor, H. M. Robinson; treasurer, B. C. Cornwell.

The lodge expressed great approval of the work done under the leadership of Junior Past, H. M. Robinson.

A committee, with District Deputy George Baker as chairman, was named to confer with all of the councils within the county relative to the formation of a county council of the Daughters of America this spring. This committee will report at its earliest convenience.

At the next meeting on February 14, the council will install its officers. The council may also entertain at this meeting a plan to provide a fund for its older members who have become helpless and indigent.
