VISITING IN MANASSAS

H. C. Speake of Dumfries has been visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe.

Hon. Edmund Herr Allen, of Newington, called the office of this paper today to release to the public his official announcement as a candidate for renomination as a member of the House of Delegates at the Democratic primary to be held August 8, 1933.

Mr. Allen was elected two years ago by a substantial majority over two opponents. He was fortunate in being selected for two of the most important committees in the Assembly by Floor Leader Ashton Dovel, the Roads Committee and the Social and Moral Welfare Committee.

He has been a consistent supporter of the Democratic party and was campaign manager for Fairfax County in the dramatic struggle of 1928.

No suggestion of any opposition in Fairfax County has yet been heard as it generally is the custom to allow a member to have his second term unopposed.

CLUB COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

The 4-H Club Council met on Saturday, January 28, to plan activities and elect officers for the year. After the business meeting the group divided into sections to study parliamentary practices and the duties of the various offices. These group discussions were led by: Mrs. Walter Sanders, president and vice-presidents; Mr. Wm. Lloyd, secretaries and reporters; Miss Beatrix Clark, song and cheer leaders; Miss R. Belle Burke, club leaders.

A set of standards was drawn up. All clubs meeting the standard requirements will be put on standard roll at the end of the year. The plan of work as outlined for the 4-H clubs follows:

June 30 was set for County 4-H contest day; October 28 will be County 4-H Achievement day.

The following officers were elected: president, Joyce Garman, Nokesville; vice-presidents: Wilda Bourne, Occoquan; Mildred Roseberry, Manassas; Marie Copen, Hayfield; secretary, Hilda Lyon, Manassas; song leader, Elizabeth Allen, Nokesville; cheer leader, Leslie Bourne, Occoquan; reporter, Mildred Wood, Nokesville.

The aim of the club council is to have this the most successful in the history of 4-H club work in the county.

NOLTING HEADS GAME COMMISSION

Louisa County Appointment Gives Satisfaction.

Carl Nolting, one of the best known sportsmen of Virginia, has been named by Governor Pollard chairman of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, to succeed Major A. Willis Robertson, who soon will relinquish his post to become a member of the House of Representatives from this state.

The ad interim appointment will extend to July 1, 1937, the time at which Major Robertson's term would have expired. Mr. Nolting, a prominent farmer of Louisa County and a brother of Frederick E. Nolting of Richmond, has been a member of the commission for the past three years.

It was recently announced that the new chairman would open a home in Richmond and will give all his time to the work he now heads.

Mr. Nolting, through his many activities as farmer, sportsman, member of the House of Delegates for the term of 1908-10, civic leader in Louisa County and member of the Commission of Fisheries for six years, is known to thousands of Virginians. His appointment was regarded as well deserved.

PRINCE WILLIAM HERDS RANK HIGH

J. F. Miller and Harley and Kline Among Leaders.

Among the sixteen Virginia herds producing more than 400 pounds of butterfat and leading the 1932 dairy herd honor roll were those of Harley and Kline, Manassas, and J. F. Miller, Nokesville. Sixteen herds produced 400 pounds or more of butterfat in State Dairy Herd Improvement Associations and 174 herds produced an average of 300 pounds or more.

Harley and Kline and J. F. Miller have had their herds on test in the Prince William County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for six and five years respectively and have during that time brought their herds up to this high level of production.

Ellis. This committee will study the same and report to the Board of Supervisors.

An appropriation of $15 was approved for a library at Bennett School.

An appropriation of $10 was approved for purchase of shades at Summit School (colored).

U. D. C. MEETING

Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., met the afternoon of February 1 at the home of Mrs. J. L. Bushong, with Mrs. Robt. Hutchison, president, presiding.

Following the routine business, a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Richard Hynson who as chairman arranged a most attractive celebration of General Lee's birthday. The chapter also is indebted to Mrs. Stuart McBryde for effectively decorating the hall in which the exercises were held.

The chapter's treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, was instructed to pay all annual obligations of the chapter, which include subscriptions to the Janet Rudolph Relief fund.

The committee appointed to select the subject of the prize essay for which members of the eighth grade in the public schools compete, will make their arrangements at the early day. This is known as the Sinclair Memorial Prize. The high school students will compete for the State U. D. C. essay whose prize is $25.00 in gold.

Members of the chapter and other interested citizens are invited to hear the special programme which the high school students will render Monday in honor of General J. E. B. Stuart's one hundredth birthday, at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting was largely attended. Following the disposal of business, a paper on Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury was read by Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, who with Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson as assistant hostesses will entertain the chapter on the afternoon of March 1 in her home on Centre street.

Delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Bushong and Mrs. Robert Smith.

GROUND DOG DAY

The ground hog saw his shadow today and according to tradition we are in for six weeks more of winter.

As a weather prophet Mr. Ground Hog enjoys as good a reputation as anybody who undertakes to tell us when it will rain or shine, so we may as well order some more coal and prepare for snow.

Miss Beatrix Clark and Mrs. Grace Hite are leaving tomorrow to attend a group meeting at Richmond. This is in connection with the study of the proposed curriculum revision.

CHEROKEE MAN DI- RECTOR OF VIRGINIA'S BUDGET SYSTEM

J. H. Bradford, of Centre, Key Man in Safe Government.

Virginia's elastic budget control system, backed up by executive power and described as the Old Dominion's fiscal safety valve, is being directed by J. H. Bradford, who was born and reared in Cherokee County. He is a brother to State Senator Thomas W. Bradford, of Centre. His family has long been prominent in business, fraternal and political circles of this state.

Mr. Bradford was an appointee of the Virginia governor who preceded Governor Byrd. The latter made him one of his official family and he aided the governor in planning and introducing the state's sane and safe system of financing. He was retained by Governor Pollard, as director of the budget.

Recently Mr. Bradford said just as the system rounded the state into the new calendar year, it is certain assurance against a deficit at the end of the biennium in 1934, unless the state meets with some financial calamity beyond all expectations.

With the system that brings daily treasury statements and monthly department, institution and agency expense accounts to the governor and his fiscal officers, they are constantly able to detect the trend of the state's financial condition.

It has been through this information that Governor Pollard has been able to wield so effectively the unique power of cutting appropriation to meet falling revenues, given by the 1932 assembly. By this means he has kept the budget balanced, while neighboring states, as well as the federal government, have been piling up tremendous deficits, fiscal officers observed.

Mr. Bradford constantly studies the state's financial reports, based on the reports of departments, institutions and agencies, and the comptroller and the treasurer.

The governor describes his services as among the most important in the state government. He is informed of the whereabouts of every cent of the state's money. This information, he imparts, to the chief executive, who is charged with the enforcement of the budget law.

Despite the falling revenue of the past several years, the system has stood up as a financial safeguard against red ink on the state's ledgers.

It was largely through the director's close study of the situation that the governor knew when it became necessary to institute general fund appropriation reductions amounting to two and a quarter-million dollars to offset the falling revenue. From the same source the governor was informed that it was necessary to withhold a million and a half dollars in conditional appropriation made by the 1930 session of the general assembly. It was from budget office reports that the decision was made to assess $15,000 rent upon semi-state agencies and through the office $50,000 was brought into the state coffers by its study of convict labor in the penitentiary, lime grinding plants and on penal farms.

It is on this agency that the governor is relying in his determination to wind up his administration without a deficit in state funds.

The system was established by an act of 1918. It was strengthened by the reorganization of the state government in 1928, and it was given even sharper teeth by the assembly of 1932.

—The Gadsden Times (Alabama).
Ed. note—Virginia's Director of the Budget, J. H. Bradford, is a brother of J. E. Bradford, prominent business man and member of the Town Council of Manassas.

MEETING OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The executive committee of the Woman's Club will meet with Mrs. Robert Smith on Monday, Feb. 6, at 1:30. Please note change of time.

SENATOR BYRD

In all probability Hon. Harry Flood Byrd will be called to represent Virginia in the United States Senate to fill a vacancy created by the appointment of one of our present Senators to the Roosevelt Cabinet.

Senator Glass is expected to become Secretary of the Treasury. If he should not be willing to accept the invitation of the President-elect, there is little doubt that Senator Swanson would then become Secretary of the Navy. In either event Ex-Governor Byrd will unquestionably be appointed to the Senate.

We need Harry Byrd in the Senate. The reorganization ideas which he put into effect in Virginia have become a matter of national concern and his guiding hand in the impending reorganization of the Federal Government will be a great asset to the overtaxed American public.

TOWN COUNCIL GETS PETITIONS

Citizens Ask for Various Tax Reductions.

On Monday of this week a group of citizens headed by Mr. E. R. Conner and Mr. R. L. Sadd appeared before the Town Council of Manassas and presented petitions requesting various tax reductions.

Mr. Conner presented a petition carrying about fifty signatures asking for a cut in salaries of town employees and absorption of the Federal tax on electric power, so that the Town, rather than the individual consumer of electricity, would pay the tax.

Mr. Sadd presented a petition signed by about sixty-five citizens asking the Town to discontinue the local automobile tax and to return to the taxpayers the fees collected for 1933 auto tags.

Both petitions were referred to the finance committee which is now preparing the next annual budget, and it is stated that the requests will receive careful consideration in the light of all other reductions which are being made to meet the emergency created by reduced incomes during the depression.

CATHARPIN

Mr. E. H. Tolley and daughter of Clifton Forge, brother and niece of Mrs. B. A. Collins, were Marble Hill visitors last week.

Mr. E. N. Pattie who for the past month or so has been engaged in the mercantile business in Washington spent the week end at his home in Catharpin.

The Sudley and Catharpin neighborhoods are very much on the sick list. Mrs. Fred H. Collins who has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia for several weeks is reported as doing well and it is thought the crisis has been reached. Mrs. C. C. Lynn of Ben Lomond who has already been confined to her room for several weeks is improving; Mr. S. A. Moss was taken suddenly ill last week from flu and at the present writing is under the care of a nurse and quite poorly; Mrs. W. H. Degan, after a three weeks' siege, is able to be around again; Mrs. P. B. Senesey who has been confined to her room for some time is now reported better. In the immediate Catharpin community some are convalescing, some just so so and some hoping they may escape. Mr. and Mrs. George Davis and children have all "had it" but are now on the mend; and so it goes. Wherever you may call there is one or more afflicted with flu but few families escaping.

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club met at Oakwood on Thursday last for their regular monthly meeting. The program for the day was quilting which was carried out to the satisfaction of all concerned. This being the first meeting for the new year the club's Christmas gifts to each other were presented which gifts consisted of things beautiful, useful and ornamental; all being happily received and appreciated. Of course they had their "eats" and if this reporter is any judge of such matters they all knew what to do about it.

The second quarterly conference of the Sudley circuit was held at Gainesville on Saturday, the 28th. Preaching by the elder, the Rev. J. Howard Wells, on Sunday following. Owing to bad road and weather conditions the conference was not largely attended as usual.

MIDLAND

Mrs. Cora Strickler, the wife of Mr. Fred Strickler of Midland, passed away on January 13 at the Warrenton hospital. She was before her marriage Miss Cora Edmonds of Nokesville.

Surviving besides her husband: Robert, Jr., and Herbert; two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Walls of Bristow and Mrs. S. V. Claggett of Ijamsville; also her mother, Mrs. M. J. Edmonds, besides her nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

Funeral services at Old School Baptist church at Opal where she was laid to rest in Midland cemetery.

BRISTOW

The weather has changed as it was so warm, it had looks more like "spring." Then January.

Miss Evelyn Walls, Mr. Mark Long of Nokesville and Mr. W. M. Walls attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Fred Strickler, at Midland Sunday a week ago.

FUN BEGINS WHEN WEDDING ENDS

Most motion pictures end with a wedding—but Marie Dressler, aided and abetted by Polly Moran, reverse the usual order and start in with a wedding in "Prosperity," opening next Monday at the Dixie Theatre.

That is, they get everything ready for a wedding—and then there's an hilarious fight which puts the kibosh on the ceremony and sends the bride and groom scuttling away to the mayor's office to be married in peace and quiet in a nice noisy city hall.

"Prosperity" shows the popular comedienne as mothers-in-law who try to regulate the lives of their married children and battle vigorously between themselves in the process. The locale is a small town and the hilarious complications come fast and furious in the action of the comedy romance.

Anita Page and Norman Foster are seen as the married children with Jackie Lyn, Jerry Tucker, Charles Giblyn, Frank Darien and Henry Armetta completing the cast, under the direction of Sam Wood, who produced "Huddle."

Among the comedy highlights are the Christmas Eve battle of three rival Santa Clauses—two of them being Marie and Polly disguised by whiskers—a riotous episode in which Miss Dressler runs a grocery store and keeps a militant eye on Miss Moran, a customer addicted to helping herself to the pickle barrel, a backyard argument from which Polly emerges covered with glory and a little bit of mud to boot, and a sequence taking place in a movie theatre in which Miss Dressler steps on everybody's feet in an effort to satisfy the repeated demands of her grandchildren.

The versatile Miss Dressler also contributes some exceptional character work in the dramatic scenes in

NOKESVILLE A. C. VS. CHESTNUT FARMS DAIRY

The Nokesville Athletic Club will put the best local basketball material available on the floor Friday night when they meet the Chestnut Farms Dairy basketball team of Washington, D. C., in the high school gymnasium.

The Georgetown boys have a large, experienced team built entirely of ex-high school and college stars while the local five will depend upon speed and accuracy for their share of the honors. The game should be an exciting contest until the last minute of play so don't forget the date Friday, Feb. 3, at 7:45 p.m.

In the preliminary contest the B. D. H. S. girls, undefeated so far this season, are expecting to meet some strong opposition in the Calverton High School sextet.

which she plans the stirring sacrifice that precipitates a touching denouement to the riot of laughs.

Let's Have Sandwiches!

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

MOTHERS everywhere find sandwiches extremely practical for the children's school lunch, whether the lunch is carried or eaten at home. They do not find it easy, however, to plan the variety necessary to prevent monotony. This is especially true where sandwiches must be carried the winter through; yet it is essential to keep the lunch interesting. All variation in sandwiches need not be in fillings; the breadstuffs also should be changed frequently. Rye, whole-wheat, and raisin bread; and rolls, white and graham, will do much to make sandwiches different. When served at home, fillings should often be hot—such as creamed eggs, or fish—as this is an excellent method of assuring your child a good portion of his day's milk requirement. Here are suggestions for sandwiches for the packed lunch and others for the home lunch. All are excellent and easily prepared:

Hard Cooked Egg and Ketchup Sandwiches—Combine 6 hard cooked, chopped eggs with enough Tomato Ketchup to moisten, and 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, salt and pepper to season and a few drops onion juice. Spread between slices of buttered bread. For the packed lunch, wrap each sandwich in waxed paper.

Peanut Butter, Bacon and Pickle Sandwiches—Fry 4 slices bacon until crisp, chop finely and add to ¼ cup Peanut Butter and 3 tablespoons India Relish. Spread between slices of buttered bread, using in each sandwich lettuce, if available. These may be either plain or toasted.

Salmon Piquant Sandwiches—Combine the drained contents of 1-16 oz. can of salmon, 1 tablespoon Evaporated Horseradish (soaked for 5 minutes in 2 teaspoons cold water), 4 tablespoons Mayonnaise Salad Dressing and ½ teaspoon salt. Spread between buttered slices of white bread with a leaf of crisp lettuce. This is also delicious when toasted.

Peanut Butter and Chili Sauce Sandwiches—Blend ¼ cup Peanut Butter and 4 tablespoons Chili Sauce, and spread between thin slices of buttered whole wheat bread.

Creamed Tuna Fish Sandwiches—Open 1 can (1 cup) tuna fish and steam over-hot water until heated. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add 2 tablespoons flour and ¼ teaspoon salt, then gradually add 1½ cups milk. Cook until thick, then add 3 tablespoons Preserved Sweet Gherkins, chopped, and a dash of Worcestershire Sauce. Spread a slice of buttered toast with a layer of the fish. Cover with the sauce; add a second slice of toast and more fish and sauce. Garnish with paprika and slices of pickle, if desired.

Boston Bean Sandwich—Drain 1 medium can Oven-Baked Beans (Boston Style) and mash until entirely free from lumps. Add ½ teaspoon salt and 4 chopped Preserved Sweet Gherkins. Add just enough Mayonnaise Salad Dressing to make a smooth filling and spread between buttered slices of Boston brown bread or whole wheat bread. Lettuce may be used if desired.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children read a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

THE REWARD: Verily, there is a reward for the righteousness: verily, he is a God that judgeth in the earth.—Psalm 58: 11.

INTEREST IN TOWN MANAGEMENT

On Monday of this week attendance at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was unusually large. Ordinarily no one but those officially responsible for the solution of the difficult problems of municipal conduct is present at these important meetings. In the present instance the attending delegations were seeking certain reductions in local taxation and whatever should be the final outcome of their petitions, there is no doubt that their presence at council meetings was very much appreciated and welcomed.

Manassas holds a high place among Virginia municipalities. In comparison with other Virginia cities, it is a well managed town. Its utilities are conducted upon a profitable basis and the best ideas of scientific management are in effect.

We are proud of our town and the high place it maintains among Virginia cities. Our mayor, Hon. Harry Davis, has recently succeeded the mayor of Richmond as president of the Virginia League of Municipalities. The chairman of the finance committee, Mr. J. E. Bradford, is the brother of J. H. Bradford, who is director of the budget of the State of Virginia, and like his brother, he is a genius for budget balancing. The Virginia Plan of State Financing, which has recently been studied by President-elect Roosevelt with view of adapting it to Federal financing, has been perfected through the untiring efforts of Director of the Budget, Bradford, of Virginia.

We may well be proud of the creditable showing of Manassas in municipal administration.

All citizens of the town are desirous of every possible reduction in local taxation and we believe the Town Council will make every effort to keep the cost of town administration within limitations imposed by the necessities of these days of reduced incomes, but at the same time it is hoped that our town will continue to maintain its dignified position among Virginia municipalities and most of us are glad to dig down pretty deeply to maintain the prestige of Manassas, a town which is known throughout the civilized world for its historical associations.

THE VIRGINIA PLAN

Uncle Sam could profit by a serious consideration of the Virginia plan of balancing the budget. Here in our Commonwealth a budget of estimated expenses is made up after the general plan used by the federal government, but at this point the similarity ends. Uncle Sam, after estimating possible revenues for the coming year, proceeds to pass appropriations covering the estimated income, and proceeds to spend the money regardless of whether the money actually comes in or not, and in recent year it mostly has not. In Virginia the Governor is empowered with authority to scale down the state expenditures whenever the revenues fall below the current income. During the past year our Governor has made two substantial slashes in departmental appropriations as revenues declined. The federal government has only tried to meet the situation created by reduced revenue by increasing taxation.

Recent dispatches from the Little White House at Warm Springs, Ga., indicate that President-elect Roosevelt has been making a study of the Virginia Plan. Certainly it would be a move in the right direction if the President of the United States were authorized to cut expenses of the executive departments to available revenue, regardless of the amount of appropriations by Congress. It will only be by some such practical and drastic method that eventual disaster to the national credit can be avoided. We certainly cannot go on indefinitely spending twice as much as our available income.

THE FOREST FIRE SITUATION

One of the outstanding facts brought to light by the recent hearings on the removal of the State Forester was the undeniable evidence that in the matter of forest fire protection, our State Forest Service did not make a satisfactory record. It is true that the preceding season had been a very difficult one on account of the unprecedented drought which swept Virginia, but nevertheless, the tables presented by the State Forester himself showed a very inadequate understanding of the prime importance of maintaining an effective fire fighting organization.

It is not surprising, therefore, to note that losses by forest fire fell off 43 per cent in 1932. The reason was so much more favorable for fire fighting that the reduction of losses should have been much less. Virginia lost by fire last year 86,231 acres of valuable forest. By the fact that there were nearly as many fires during the year, the lessening of acreage may truly be attributed to the improved season, with vastly more rainfall, rather than to any increase of efficiency in the fire fighting organization.

As usual the carelessness of smokers was found responsible for the greatest losses. This is a matter which should impress all smoking citizens, ladies and gentlemen. No one with the proper regard for civic welfare will throw a lighted cigarette out of an auto where it may fall into combustible material and start a serious fire. Careless brush burning came next in cause of losses. This is a matter easier to handle as the law provided adequate punishment for carelessness along this line and arrests should always follow substantial evidence of careless burning. Incendiary fires were also too abundant. The penitentiary is the only proper boarding place for anyone who maliciously sets a forest fire.

There is no question that we have had insufficient forest fire protection in the past and it is hoped that this situation will improve under the reorganization of the Virginia Forest Service under way at the present time. But this fact does not relieve the individual citizen from responsibility in accidentally setting forest fires. Smokers particularly, and this seems to include many others besides the men folks, should always exercise proper care in disposal of burning cigarettes.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

... THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tiny baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

ROUGH
ROUGH IN YOUR STOMACH

It's easy to say they're all alike—and easy to prove they are NOT. Dissolve a genuine Bayer Aspirin tablet in water, pour it off, feed the fine powder that coats the glass. Do this with some other tablet; see what coarse particles are left! They feel as sharp as sand, even to your finger. How must they affect those delicate membranes which line your throat—your stomach? For immediate relief from headaches, colds, sore throat, neuralgia or neuritis, lumbago, rheumatism, there's nothing like Bayer Aspirin. It cannot depress the heart.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

As you say, "She may be empty, but I'll tell the world she's clean!" But when the sheet is printed and is out upon the mail,

On its way to the subscribers I have never seen it fail—

In the center of the front page, in a most conspicuous place,

Some typographical error fairly kicks you in the face.

For the typographical error is a slippery thing and sly,

You can hunt 'till you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by,

Till the forms are off the press it is strange how still it keeps,

It shirks down into a corner and it never stirs or peeps.

That typographical error too small for human eyes,

Till the ink is on the paper, when it grows to mountain size,

And you see that blasted error, far as you could throw a dog,

Looming up in all its splendor, like lighthouse in a fog!

That glaring blunder juts out like an ulcerated tooth,

Where it dodged the eagle vision of the napping comma sleuth.

"HE LEARNED ABOUT WOMEN" IS HILARIOUS COMBINATION OF FARCE AND HIGH COMEDY

"He Learned About Women," a new comedy featuring Stuart Erwin, Alison Skipworth and Susan Fleming, begins its local engagement next Friday, February 10. The film is good, old-fashioned farce, but it is also a smart comedy, in which the two veterans, Alison Skipworth and Grant Mitchell, get the most sport out of tossing back and forth a series of lines that are deliciously funny.

George Kendall, III, (Stuart Erwin) is an extremely studious young man who speaks many languages and can compute the temperature on Mars, but doesn't know one fact of life from another. When George falls heir to the Kendall fortune of fifty million dollars, he realizes that he doesn't even know enough about life to give his money away intelligently. Whereupon, he sets out to find local color.

He finds it first in a park, where an auction of the unemployed is in progress. Joan Allen (Susan Fleming), a stenographer, goes on the block, and because he doesn't like the attitude of the men who are bidding for her, George bids $50 a week and gets her. Then Joan, still certain that George cannot possibly be as innocent as he looks, persuades him to bid also for Madame Vivienne Polidor (Alison Skipworth), an old-time actress who asserts on the auction block that she is willing to do anything.

George takes the two women home. His house is so big, he says, there's no reason why they shouldn't live with him. For a time, they are puzzled and suspicious, but as soon as they learn that he is the Kendall heir, Polidor gets a big idea. She convinces George that he can overcome his inferiority complex by amateur dramatics. She picks a torrid love scene, matches him with Joan, and counts on the situation to result in a proposal of marriage.

In the meantime, Appleby (Grant Mitchell), an ex-husband of Polidor, hears of her association with George Kendall, and, aided and abetted by a crooked theatrical manager, Eddie Clifford, (Gordon Westcott) also gets a big idea. They will persuade George to open a soup kitchen. Using the success of that for a come-on, they'll nick him for enough money to open soup kitchens all the way across the country, and then beat it.

Both plans seem on the verge of success. And then, as is the way of ingenues who get tangled up in schemes of this kind, Joan falls in love with George. And Polidor finds that she's not as hardboiled as she thought, either.

Scene after scene moves at a furiously hilarious pace to the slap-stick fight all over the stage and empty auditorium of a deserted theater, which brings the picture to a close.

The film, moreover, is important for one virtue above all others: It complements the work of "Madame Racketeer" and "Night After Night" in establishing Alison Skipworth as one of the most delectable comedienesses on the screen.

THE ATHLETE'S SCRAP BOOK

by Frank Lynn

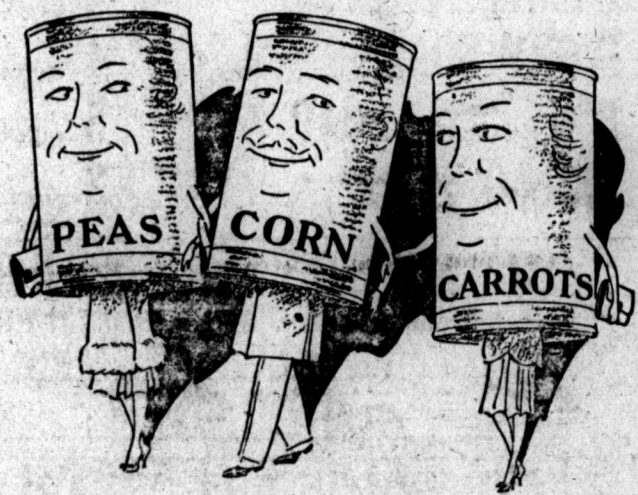

H. Leussing

A. Corcoran

IN 1873 A. Corcoran, of Chicago, pushed up one dumbbell weighing 12 pounds, 14,000 times, with one hand from shoulder to full arm length above the shoulder. In 1880 H. Leussing, of Cincinnati, with his hands alone lifted 1,384 pounds. In 1927, Babe Ruth, playing in 151 games, slammed out 60 home runs. Only by rigid adherence to rules of diet can any athlete hope to achieve new records. Science has allied itself on the side of the record breakers, and is teaching what foods will guard and promote health. One of its most recent findings is that canned pineapple, eaten daily, contains more known health value than any other fruit.

Babe Ruth

Corn Combinations

YOU want something warming this wintry weather in order to keep your blood heated to resist the cold. A good warming vegetable is corn, and there's no better way to eat it than heated, luscious and creamy, just as it comes from the can. But you don't want to eat the same thing every day, and fortunately corn can be combined with a number of other vegetables. Here are a couple of combinations which are both inexpensive and good.

This is Irish

Carrots and Corn O'Brien: Melt two tablespoons butter in a skillet, add one-half a green pepper, shredded, and half the contents of a No. 1 flat can of whole kernel corn. Sauté five minutes. Add the drained contents of an 8-ounce can of diced carrots and one tablespoon chopped pimiento, and season with salt and pepper to taste. Continue cooking until a golden brown. Serves four, and costs less than a quarter. Save the liquor from the carrots and the other half of the can of corn to use in soups.

Here's a Rarebit

Corn and Pea Rarebit on Toast: Make a cheese sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one and one-half cups milk and one cup grated cheese. Drain the contents of an 8-ounce can of whole kernel corn and of an 11-ounce can of peas, and sauté a few minutes in two tablespoons butter, then add to the cheese sauce. Season with salt and pepper and serve on toast. Serves six to eight. Save the liquors from the vegetables for soups.

A $1.50 Dinner for 6

TIMES are improving, but it would be hard to improve at the price on the following dinner for six people. We still want to get as much good food for as low a price as possible, and this dinner will cost, in most places, only twenty-five cents per person. It has the advantage, too, of including fish and so affording variety, for most people forget to eat fish more than once a week. Here's the menu:

Creamed Salmon, Peas and Cucumber 35¢
Baked Stuffed Potatoes 15¢
Broccoli 35¢
Orange and Onion Salad 18¢
Bread and Butter 10¢
Peach Pudding 27¢
Coffee with Cream 10¢

Most of these foods are easy to cook, but you will need these recipes for the main dish and the dessert.

Creamed Salmon, Peas and Cucumber: Make a white sauce of four tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, two cups milk and salt and pepper. Add the contents of an 8-ounce can of peas, the salmon, flaked, from half a tall can, and half a cucumber, diced. Heat and serve.

Peach Pudding: Pour the sliced peaches from a No. 1 can into a baking dish, and sprinkle with one-half teaspoon cinnamon. Rub together one-half cup flour, one-half cup sugar, and one-third cup butter, and spread on top. Bake in a hot—450°—oven for about thirty minutes. Cool. Serve with two-thirds cup light cream.

25 DEER TO BE FREED IN SHENANDOAH CO.

All Shenandoah County and surrounding territory is planning to make a gala event of the liberation of 25 deer in this vicinity soon.

School children particularly have been invited, and are planning to attend in large numbers.

The deer will be brought from Pennsylvania and will be turned loose to roam in the 500,000 George Washington National Forest, which covers a large section of the Allegheny Mountain Range, of which the Shenandoah mountains are a part.

The trapping of the deer is now in progress in Pennsylvania, and shortly they will be shipped to Virginia.
