DAVIS TALKS ON BUDGET FIGURES

Mayor Harry P. Davis was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club last week. His subject was a matter which will be presented to the Board of Supervisors at its regular meeting on February 28 — the annual budget.

Mr. Davis gave a very clear exposition of the figures which he and other members of the budget committee had worked out. This schedule of facts, he stated, was only tentative, awaiting adoption and a public hearing before the regular budget is worked out.

Dick Hynson wanted Ed to sing the Rosary but Ed kicked from under and was satisfied to join with Al and Frank Sigman in producing sound volume from the north wall which overcame the group on the southside.

Sheriff John Kerlin was an interested guest. Some county official, not a member of the club, appears to be listed as guest most every meeting. This adds to the general enjoyment of the evening.

After much anxiety over their whereabouts, Eli Swavelly, Ray Ratcliffe, Bob Hutchison and Jim Bradford strolled in very mysteriously about the time for dessert. O. D. was missing, unaccounted for. Looks like Al will pull a 90 percent mark in the dullest month of the year. What would the club do without him?

M. H. S. BOYS AND NOKESVILLE GIRLS COUNTY CHAMPIONS

The annual county tournament was held Saturday, the 18th, in the Manassas gymnasium. A large crowd attended; the games were all interesting.

The preliminaries were held from 10 to 1. The final game, between Occoquan and Nokesville girls, ended with Nokesville girls winning 28-15. The next game was between Manassas and Haymarket girls; it ended with a score 33-14 with Manassas winning. These games left Nokesville and Manassas to battle over the banner at night.

The boys preliminaries followed, first the Nokesville-M. H. S. game, with Manassas winning. Next came the Occoquan-Haymarket game, which left Haymarket to play at night. This game ended with a score 30-25.

The championship games started promptly at 8, when the Manassas and Nokesville girls started to play. This game was fast and peppy. Although the M. H. S. never let Nokesville get five points ahead, they just couldn't make the grade. This game ended in 29-28 and for the first time M. H. S. girls lost the county championship.

Lineup:
M. H. S. NOKESVILLE
Flaherty F May
Russell F Allen
Allison C Smith
White SC Godfrey
Ritter G Smith
Schooley G Kerlin
Substitutions — M. H. S., Gibson for White, White for Gibson, Kincheloe for Ritter, Gibson for Kincheloe.

The boys game that followed was slow and dull because the M. H. S. boys had too much margin. Professor Pullen played his whole second team and still won, 49-20.

CUT COSTS AT DISTRICT HOME

At the meeting held by the District Home Board on Tuesday, it was decided to reduce the costs of board and care from twenty-five dollars per month to twenty dollars per month. All members of the board were present. Chairman Triplett presided, and L. Ledman, secretary, kept the minutes. A number of visitors were present.

The Fire Department will make a final test of the new siren on Friday, Feb. 24, at 3 p.m.

HISTORIC HOMES TO BE LOCATED

At the request of R. F. Nelson, publicity director for Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, the list of historic homes of Prince William County is being revised. Mrs. E. H. Hibbs, with her committee composed of Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, Miss Maude Ewell, and Mr. Raymond Ratcliffe, is working to get a list of old homes of the county; the date each was built, by whom built, the name and address of present owners. This information will be used by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce for publicity purposes.

POLLARD SEES NO NEED FOR HASTE

Will Not Call Special Session on Prohibition Repeal.

Governor Pollard, upon being informed of the passage by Congress of the Prohibition Repeal Measure, stated that unless some unforeseen circumstance should arise, he would not call an extra session of the Virginia General Assembly.

Governor Pollard does not agree with some who believe the Federal Government should call the conventions in the various states. This is a procedure entirely in the hands of the States, the Governor says.

The Governor prefers a state-wide referendum on the question of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and believes that delegates should be selected without regard to political divisions. These should be selected from the State at large, and should be few in number so that the will of the people would be carried out.

It would be possible, the Governor said recently, for Virginia to be wet by a margin of 50,000 and yet assemble a convention elected from localities which would vote dry. Every safeguard should be taken so that the true will of the majority of the citizens of the State should find expression on such a question.

Calling attention to the fact that the legislatures of 41 states are in session now, the Governor does not see any necessity for action at this time by Virginia.

U. D. C. NOTICE

The United Daughters of the Confederacy will hold their regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. E. H. Marsteller Wednesday, March 1, at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, assistant hostess.

FIVE-POINT BEGINNERS FOR PRINCE WILLIAM'S SCHOOLS

In the year 1927 the Division Superintendents of Schools in Virginia passed a resolution calling upon the Medical Society of the state "to undertake the study to find the best means of preventing or correcting the bodily defects of school children, with the result that every child become at least a Five Pointer, be protected against diphtheria and small pox, and freed from remediable defects."

In 1930 a group composed of officials of the Medical Society of Virginia, the State Department of Education, the Pediatric Society of Virginia, the State Department of Health, a rural teacher, a rural physician and a rural mother met in Richmond to discuss what to do for the child who is doing poor work in school. It was decided that the most practical way to handle the problem was to have each child begin school as a Five Pointer. The procedure decided upon by this group was as follows:

1. A representative of the School or Community League consults the principal of the school regarding the program.
2. Survey forms are sent out in ample time to be returned before the close of the school session. These forms give name and age of the beginner, names and addresses of the parents and the name of the family physician.
3. Upon the completion of the survey the forms are classified according to family physicians and the committee members visit the physicians to make arrangements for the examination of the beginners.

The list accepted as being the line-up of the next Cabinet:

State—Cordell Hull of Tennessee.
Treasury—William H. Woodin of Pennsylvania and New York.
War—George H. Dern of Utah.
Justice—Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.
Postoffice—James A. Farley of New York.
Navy—Claude A. Swanson of Virginia.
Interior—Harold Ickes of Illinois.
Agriculture—Henry A. Wallace of Iowa.
Commerce—Daniel C. Roper of South Carolina.
Labor—Miss Frances Perkins of New York.

MRS. RATCLIFFE TO ENTERTAIN MUSIC AND LITERARY SECTION OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The Music and Literary Section of the Manassas Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe on Monday, February 27, at 2:30 p.m.

The sessions of this group have been of unusual interest to its members. "The life of the American people as portrayed in local color stories and songs" has been the theme for the year.

At the last meeting the subject concerned New England. Mrs. Herbert Carpenter, a native of that section, gave a very convincing and interesting talk on the life and traditions of the rural New Englander.

She was followed by Mrs. Fred Hynson, also from New England, who read in a delightful way Mary Wilkins Freeman's story, "The New England Nun." Music appropriate to the theme was sung by the members of the club.

The club has been fortunate in having members from the various sections of the country, who are able to present the background and characteristics of the people of their native states as no one else can.

FRANCES WILLARD MEMORIAL MEETING

On Sunday night, Feb. 12, the Nokesville W.C.T.U. rendered a program in honor of Frances Willard. After the devotional exercises Mrs. Mark read "Lead, Chieftain, Lead," a beautiful poem dedicated to Frances Willard.

The main feature of the program was an address on "The Dedication of Frances Willard's Statue in Congress" by Rev. G. W. Beahm. Some of the high points in his speech were as follows:

"One year before the Civil War closed each state was asked to put statues of her two most famous persons in the Hall of Fame and so Illinois presented the statue of a woman as her second most famous person. A woman's statue had never been presented to the Hall of Fame previous to the time that Illinois presented the statue of Frances Willard. This statue was offered knowing that they could never offer another. It was carved by a woman."

"Frances Willard was the organizer of the World's W.C.T.U. and its first president. She was one of the founders of the Prohibition Party. She led the fight for the home, her motto being 'For God and Home and Every Land.' By her gentleness and kindness she has come to be known as America's uncrowned queen."

Mrs. Walter Francis sang as a solo "The Line Shall Not Break Where I Stand." Miss Virginia Swank read a short article on Character Building. Mrs. Francis read an article entitled "Two and Two."

Rev. C. W. Mark gave a very instructive talk regarding the "Frances Willard Memorial Fund." He said that there are 10,500 unions in the United States and that each union is asked to contribute $2.00 per year to this memorial fund to carry on the work of the W.C.T.U. Virginia is one of the twelve states that has gone over $200 in contribution to this fund. Let's keep the good work going. An offering was lifted for this memorial fund.

M. C. HAZEN BETTER

J. C. Kincheloe returned this afternoon from a visit to M. C. Hazen, who is in a Washington Hospital. Mr. Hazen, although still suffering considerable pain, is much improved, and hopes to be able to take some part in the Inaugural Parade, in the organization of which he has been actively engaged for months past.

ECKENRODE IS CONGRATULATED

Work of Commission Highly Commended.

Among the many activities of the State commission on conservation and development to attract widespread approval is the work being engineered under direction of Dr. H. J. Eckenrode of compiling a photographic record of old Virginia houses. Dr. Eckenrode has been employed in this work for about two years. He has already secured 800 pictures of 450 different places, the photos being taken of the buildings both externally and internally. Many of these pictures are of structures hitherto absolutely unknown, exhibiting singular and unusual architectural lines, and which in a few years would have disappeared utterly. So far these photographs have been confined largely to eastern Virginia but, beginning with this coming summer, the work will be carried into the western section of the state.

Commenting on this work, and on the great value it will prove to posterity, Harold R. Shurtleff, director of the Research and Record Department of the Rockefeller restoration work now in progress at Williamsburg, after consultation with Walter Macomber, associated with the directing architects there, has just written William E. Carson, chairman of the commission on conservation and development, as follows:

"Although this letter is written by me as a purely personal expression of opinion and not as an associate of the architects who are in charge of the restoration of Williamsburg, I think you will be interested in knowing that Mr. Walter Macomber and I have had a chance to look over the work of photographing old Virginia houses that is being done under the supervision of Dr. Eckenrode. I think very highly of it."

"He has already obtained many photographs of interesting types of early Virginia houses that have been hitherto unknown except locally—in some cases the houses he has recorded are absolutely new to us and are exceedingly interesting—and whose architectural record might be lost to posterity for good if they had not thus been recorded."

"I am very much impressed not only with his selection of the type of old houses whose appearance should be preserved, but by the great thoroughness with which the work is being done."

"As you undoubtedly know a great deal of this type of Virginia architecture that is so interesting to students of colonial architecture and so attractive to tourists who come to Virginia is fast disappearing, so that any attempt that is being made by the Conservation Commission or its agencies to mitigate this loss in any way would, I should think, be of great advantage to the State."

MRS. DAISY BAKER ENTERS TAINS LODGE OFFICIALS

At the regular business meeting on Tuesday night the chapter showed the usual signs of activity. Mrs. Burke, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported the sum of $28.00 from a card party. Plans were made for some tables to be purchased for the second floor and other routine business.

"Deniah," the home of the worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, was the scene of a very enjoyable occasion on Thursday evening, when the officers and their programs, past matrons and patrons were invited together.

After instrumental music and a few contest games, about six tables of the new and interesting game of Gold-Digger was enjoyed by all.

The decorations were in keeping with the Valentine season and after a simple buffet luncheon was served, each separated with a warmer and stronger spirit of fraternalism. Mr. Baker with his usual hospitality mingled among the guests.

POLLARD PARTICIPATES IN GIFT TREE PLANTING

Gov. John Garland Pollard, in Fredericksburg for the George Washington birthday celebration, based on his motor trip back to Richmond to preside over the ceremonies held in the Fredericksburg-Spotsylvania National Battlefield Memorial Park in connection with the planting of a walnut tree presented by the Gettysburg National Park.

HON. HOWARD WORTH SMITH.

SMITH FIGHTS CONVICT LABOR

Urges Protection of Private Enterprise.

A fruitful drive on convict labor competition with private industry was conducted in the United States House of Representatives last week by Congressman Howard W. Smith, of Alexandria.

Using the parliamentary device of a point of order, Mr. Smith struck from the District of Columbia Appropriation Bill a provision for permitting the sale of convict-made goods from the Lorton Workhouse in his district to government agencies.

In discussing the measure off the floor, Mr. Smith said that a sufficient supply of convict-made goods could be manufactured at the Lorton Workhouse in a large measure government-owned, as the Walter Reed General Hospital.

By deleting the provision, such markets will remain open to private producers.

Brick and products of the Lorton prison's iron foundry also would have been permitted to compete with private-made goods on government contracts had Mr. Smith NOT moved to strike out the provision.

As the bill was passed by the House, it will be impossible for the products made at the prison to be sold to either private concerns or the government.

Mr. Smith pointed out it is the established policy of the federal government to keep prison labor out of the competitive market. The last two federal highway aid appropriations were limited by Congress to projects built exclusively by free labor.

Representative of the Congressional district that lies directly across Potomac River from the National Capital, Mr. Smith has shown particular interest in District of Columbia affairs since he entered Congress two years ago.

As a member of the District of Columbia Committee, he has watched all capital legislation closely and during debate on the District of Columbia Appropriation Bill last week he sat constantly at the long red conference table in an effort to safeguard the interests of the people of the district.

Besides getting rid of the convict labor provision, he brought about elimination of another part of the measure that would have prohibited the lowering of the tax rate in the district, and thus paved the way for actual lowering of district taxes.

He also sought to permit admission of children of government employees and Army and Navy people in the district's schools and opposed the placing of a special tax on intangible property for relief purposes. In opposing the special tax, Mr. Smith pointed out that many of the owners of intangible property are persons such as widows and orphans who are not in position to stand tax increases.

TO FORM GAME PROTECTIVE BODY

Supervisor Albert Fletcher was in the county this week. While here he suggested the formation of a game protective association in Prince William County.

If there is sufficient sentiment in favor of this idea, Mr. Fletcher will call a meeting and have Mr. Hart, executive secretary of the State Commission, come to Manassas for the purpose of explaining just how such an organization would function.

WATERFALL

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Gaines, Mrs. Howard Bell and Howard, Jr., visited relatives at Falls Church Sunday.

Mr. R. R. Smith and "Bob" were Alexandria and Washington visitors on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas and Shirley Mary Margaret and Billy of Ft. Myer Heights were guests at "Oakshade" over the week end.

Mrs. Charles Barnes of Washington is spending this week with her parents at "Hagley."

Mr. Barton Padgett of Washington was a guest at "Mt. Atlas" on Sunday.

Mr. Walter Pickett of Rosslyn visited relatives at Woolsey over the week end.

Mr. Charles Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simpson of Washington were Sunday guests at "Hagley."

Miss Margaret Shirley and Messrs. G. W. Shirley, R. R. Smith and R. B. Gosson attended the funeral of Ford Anderson at Warrenton on Feb. 10.

Mr. G. W. Shirley, who celebrated his 82nd birthday on Feb. 22, recalls that many of the boys and girls with whom he played and studied as a youngster, all past fourscore now, are still living in this and adjoining neighborhoods, and this thought brings cheer to him. The Misses Alice Anne and Henrietta Pickett are still living at the family homestead, the Sandford Pickett farm; their brother Dallas lives on an adjoining farm; another brother, Doderidge, lives in Washington. Mrs. Mary Pickett, who is well past fourscore and ten, spends her time at Woolsey, Haymarket and Rosslyn. "Jim" Utterback lives on his farm near Haymarket and where we reckon they still serve the delicious ham, of which we have heard from childhood days. Warren Peake, who is the last of his family, and who is spending this winter at the old Peake home, just over the mountains in Fauquier. And lastly, there is the little colored boy with whom he played "before de war" in old Haymarket, Alfred Brent, whose head is silvery now.

Surely these folks who have lived thru the sunlight and shadows of so many years, and who still face life so bravely and even gaily, are an inspiration and a challenge to us of another generation, and we can truly say with the poet,
"Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life for which the first was made;
Our times are in His hand
Who saith, A whole I planned.
Youth shows but half trust.
God see all, now be afraid."

DRESSING ROOM TRAVELS FOR SAK OF CLARA BOW

Clara Bow has instigated the revival of the portable dressing room on the Fox Films lot.

This feature, absent for many years, has been revived by the "Call Her Savage" unit due to extensive locations in and around Los Angeles county and within the 108 acres of Movietone City.

"Call Her Savage," Miss Bow's first screen appearance in more than a year, opens on Monday, Feb. 27, at the Dixie Theatre.

CROPP

There will be all-day services at Grace church the fourth Sunday beginning at 10:00 o'clock.

A study will be made of the book "Christ and the Coming Kingdom," which will include several talks in "The Kingdom Extension Work." All are cordially invited to come and participate.

The W. W. Club will meet at 7:15. More young people are invited to come.

The third Sunday night in March the young people of Morrisville will sponsor a program at Grace church. The bi-monthly meeting will be held at the Methodist church in Fredericksburg, March 9 at 8 o'clock.

Miss Christine Courtney attended the cabinet meeting which was held at Front Royal the 10th and 11th concerning the union.

The community was greatly saddened to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Sallie Skinner.

VISIT GRANDMOTHER - IN SCHOOL: Going to school on a lark for these 9 year old twins, Carl and Barbara Bark, of Syracuse, N. Y., because it means a visit with their grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Alexander, who is their teacher.

BYRNE-EBHARDT

Mr. Lynn Byrne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Byrne of Bull Run P. O., Va., and Miss Virgie V. Ebhardt, daughter of Mr. C. H. Ebhardt of Manassas, Va., were quietly married Feb. 18 by the Rev. A. H. Thompson, 1435 E. Capitol street, Washington, D. C.

They were accompanied by the bride's aunt and sister, Mrs. Frederica Spencer and Miss Katherine Ebhardt of Manassas, Va., and Mr. Hendrick, Mr. Kreis and Mrs. Charles Cartmill of Washington.

After the ceremony the party was delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cartmill, where the dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and a huge wedding cake adorned the center of the table, which was nervously cut by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrne will reside on Sudley farm which is now owned by Mr. Hendrick of Washington.

AMANDA M. E. GERIS

Amanda M. E. Geris, wife of Joseph Geris, a farmer living west of Wellington, died at Providence Hospital on Feb. 14 after an illness of less than twenty-four hours.

Funeral services took place at St. Joseph's, Linton Hall, on Thursday, Rev. Father Healy, of All Saints' Parish, officiating. Interment in Linton Hall cemetery.

Mrs. Geris, the daughter of Henry J. Schaeffer, and Phoebe Ann Pence, was born in Shenandoah County, Oct. 31, 1878.

She moved to the county with her parents to Prince William in the latter eighties, locating near Nokesville.

In 1903, she married Joseph Geris, a western farmer who came here in 1901.

There were nine children, all of whom are living, Mrs. Margaret Ward, of Washington, Charles E., Thomas L. Geris, Mrs. Agnes Breen, Mrs. Phoebe Chapura, George, Helen, Phillip L., Paul J., all living in the county.

Paul is a student at St. Joseph's. There are also two grandsons, Andrew Mitchell and Robert Ray Ward, the last named who was born Feb. 10, in Washington.

Mrs. Geris attended strictly to her home duties and was a kind dutiful wife and loving mother.

She leaves also to mourn her loss several brothers, five of whom live in Prince William, and a host of friends all over the county.

RUFUS DOUGLAS RUSSELL

Died at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Posey, on the 11th day of February, little Rufus Douglas Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus E. Russell, age one year and eleven days, after an illness of one week. His death was due to double pneumonia.

He leaves to mourn his death a mother and father, two grandmothers, grandfather, and several uncles and aunts.

His little body was laid to rest on Monday in the Russell family burying ground, Rev. Murray Taylor officiating.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure, Earth the lonely casket keeps, And the sunbeams love to linger around the grove, Where our dear little darling Douglas sleeps.

—by One Who Loved Him Dearly, Gertrude Russell.

FAIRFAX COUNTY TAXPAYERS LEAGUE

R. Colton Lewis, of Clifton Station, was elected chairman of the newly-formed taxpayers league of Fairfax County.

This was done at a meeting held in the courthouse at Fairfax on Tuesday night. This meeting was well attended by citizens from many sections of Fairfax County.

W. F. Carne, editor of The Fairfax Herald, was elected secretary.

The main business was the discussion of the Fairfax budget, proponents of both increases and decreases being present. Grave concern was expressed even by those who felt that drastic reductions were necessary.

F. S. McCandlish, Austin Wagstaff, Senator John W. Rust, Herbert Williams and other prominent citizens addressed the meeting. McCandlish and Williams have both been members of the Fairfax School Board since its formation ten years ago.

Another meeting will be held on March 8 at which time certain committees who are studying the budget will report their findings.

LANKFORD PAUSES IN PLEA TO PAY TRIBUTE TO SWANSON

Representative Lankford of Norfolk, Virginia's lone republican in Congress, paused in the midst of a preparedness plea yesterday in the House to pay tribute to the Old Dominion's Democratic Senior Senator and future Secretary of the Navy.

"I know of no better man for that position in the whole country," Lankford said of Swanson.

Better Breakfasts

WHAT makes a "better breakfast"? The answer is easy. It is that unexpected touch which gives it individuality—differentiates it from the other three hundred and sixty-four breakfasts of the year. This touch needn't be much—just a new taste, a new tang, a new color, an unusual combination.

Here is a "better breakfast," for instance, which gives a new taste, tomatoes—and a new tang, onions—to an old dish, scrambled eggs—adds a new color, red—to what usually is all yellow, and offers an unusual combination in this main dish. Here's the menu:

Granchault Hales
Caramelized Onions with Top Mils or Cream
Eggs Scrambled with Tomatoes
Whole Wheat Raisin Toast
Macaroni

All of these things are familiar and easy to make except the unusual main dish.

Red and Yellow

Eggs Scrambled with Tomatoes: Fry two teaspoons chopped onion in two tablespoons butter for a few minutes, add one cup of canned tomatoes, and simmer a short time. Beat four eggs slightly with a fork, add to tomatoes, and cook gently, stirring lightly until creamy. Season to taste, and serve plain or on toast. Serves four.

And if you want this breakfast to be "hot air" all the way through, be sure to use coffee that comes in the cans marked "vacuum packed." For all the flavor and aroma of coffee packed in vacuum is always there when you open the can.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

THE GIFT OF PEACE—
Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. — John 14:27.

"We should never despair. Our situation has before been unpromising and has changed for the better; so I trust, it will again. If new difficulties arise, we must only put forth new exertions, and proportion our efforts to the exigency of the times."

AUTOCRATIC POWER

During the next few weeks we shall no doubt hear a great deal about "autocratic power" in reference to the idea of authorizing Franklin D. Roosevelt to reorganize the federal departments along lines calculated to keep their expenditures within the ability of Uncle Sam to pay. For a long time we have been spending about twice as much as our income and Congress has very properly come to the conclusion that immediate economies must be effected.

In theory the executive departments provide the machinery by which a President runs the country according to the rules laid down by the people through their representatives in Congress. In fact, the executive departments constitute a huge, disorganized bureaucracy, pilfering the public treasury and lavishing it upon all sorts of governmental activities, not contemplated by those who so wisely established the framework of our governmental system. Together with the "independent agencies and commissions," which seem to have outgrown the regular establishments, the executive branch has gotten too big to support and too worthless to be perpetuated.

In a time of national distress, unknown even in war times, we have called Franklin D. Roosevelt to the leadership of the nation. We shall expect much, and we must give him leeway to choose working tools of his profession — namely, governmental bureaus organized and financed in accordance with the grim necessities of these unhappy days. Under a system of executive extravagance, greed and graft, as exists in Washington today, how can we expect to restore sound conditions and restore prosperity? He can not do a satisfactory job with old and rusted tools!

In delegating to Roosevelt the power to reorganize the federal departments, abolishing and consolidating various agencies as necessities may require, the Congress has evidenced sincerity of purpose, unexpected in a "Lame Duck" session, where folly was expected by many to hold fully away until March 4.

The bureau chiefs in Washington, who cry loud at the thought of autocratic power, ought to know what they are talking about because, as a group, they have long represented as nasty an aggregation of would-be petty monarchs as ever piled into a feeding trough. Their offices are little hierarchies where court-favorites hold mighty sway, and where the honest work of efficient subordinates is distributed as emoluments to those who "fit the organization."

Any citizen, in recent years entering the government service in Washington, with such an "antique" notion as that he should be as patriotic and devoted to his governmental work as if he were an enlisted fighter for the nation's honor, is bound to have had an unhappy awakening. He finds himself in the clutches of a system too debased to survive in the business world and he must knuckle under and accept the facts or resign.

The Washington bureaucrats have perfected huge lobby machinery. At the slightest suggestion of curtailment of activities which the American people scarcely know to exist, a veritable avalanche of telegrams pour into Congress in such high-keyed protest and heartfelt concern for the public welfare, that the author of such legislation becomes pictured before the public as a national menace, instead of a benefactor.

Every big remedy which has been devised to correct national difficulty has in recent years carried with it the establishment of a big governmental agency, with highly paid executives and an army of operatives, all pulling for sustenance from the federal treasury. At last the end has about been reached. It is almost universally recognized that the national budget must be balanced. After raising all of the revenue possible under a stable government, we must then trim our expenditures to fit the amount we have to spend. Unless we do this the good old United States, for which our forefathers braved the rigors of Valley Forge and for which they sacrificed so much blood and treasure, must disintegrate. We cannot go on spending twice as much as we make.

It is no new thing for Congress to ask a President to balance the budget. He has been doing it for years through the bond selling facilities of his Treasury Department. Now the country is merely asking a President to do his balancing in a more practical way.

SWAVELY NOTES

The school, as a body, attended the matinee performance of "Green Pastures" on Saturday.

The basketball game played here on Monday against Randolph-Macon Academy was won by Swavely by 61 to 35.

The basketball game in Washington on Tuesday against Gonzaga High School resulted in a victory for Gonzaga by 30 to 20.

This is the last game scheduled for the season.

The faculty reading club did not hold its usual meeting this week.

The annual midwinter dinner and dance will be given tomorrow evening.

TRIP CUT SHORT

Yesterday morning, Town Sergeant Marshall was attracted by the appearance of two small boys at a filling station on West Centre street.

He questioned them and it rapidly developed that they had taken French leave from home before their father, a Washington minister, had gotten up.

The lads were dressed very neatly and had some idea of traveling. They were apparently headed toward relatives in West Virginia.

At noon, Mr. Byrd took the lads home to dinner and later their parents drove out and got them. They were profuse in their appreciation and in their compliments as to the conduct of the local authorities.

GROUP TEACHERS MEETING

A group of Fairfax County teachers who are working under the unit plan to study the newly-proposed curriculum will be held in the auditorium of the Fairfax High School on Saturday.

4. The examinations are scheduled early in order to allow ample time for correction of defects before the next school session opens.

5. It is expected that a fee will be charged for these examinations.

6. The chairman of the Health Committee sends to the parents a letter setting forth the following facts:

1. A Five Point Child is one who has: 1. Good Vision; 2. Good Hearing; 3. Good Throat; 4. Good Teeth; 5. Correct weight for age and height.

2. When the doctor examines the child for these points, he may also give the required vaccination against smallpox and begin treatment for protection against diphtheria.

3. It has been proven that Five Point pupils make better progress in school, saving much time and trouble to the teachers and parents.

4. Five Point pupils do not often have to repeat grades, so save the State and county taxpayers many thousands of dollars each year.

5. Uncorrected physical defects in childhood are cause of much ill health in later life; your doctor can give you the best advice for preventing this.

6. This health examination should be made as early as possible in order that if defects are found the child may have necessary corrections made before entering school.

Heretofore the Public Health Nurse in our county has gathered the information from the schools, made off the doctor's lists and sent out the letters to the parents over the signature of the Division Superintendent of Schools. But it has been impossible for her to check on each one with the result that a great number of our children enter school each year without this examination or the protection against diphtheria, the parents only hurrying the child to the doctor just before school opens to comply with the law requiring vaccination against smallpox.

This year the leagues in some of our larger communities are interested in sponsoring the examination of beginners and we hope to have some schools with 100 percent five point beginners. If you have not sent to the teacher the required information as given above for your child who is to enter school next September, please do so at once. Your school may want to make its beginners five pointers before the close of this session. It will be much easier to have these examinations made while school is in session.

The more children who enter school physically fit the more healthy our schools, the fewer the failures and consequently the less the cost of education.

MASONS GATHER AT FREDERICKSBURG

Fredericksburg, Va., Feb. 18 (Special to Journal).

Samis Grotto, mystic prophets, will stage a demonstration in this city on the evening of March 7 in which all the uniformed bodies of the Temple will participate, it was announced here today.

Included will be the temple's band drum corps, drill team and dramatic cast. The program is to include a parade, music by the band and drum corps, intricate drills by the drill team and a play by members of the dramatic club. Most of the program will take place in the high school auditorium.

The parade, which will start from the local Masonic Temple at 7:30, will be led by Chief Robert Jordan, of the Richmond police force who is Monarch of Samis Grotto.

Chief Jordan and his special party are scheduled to arrive in the city at 4:30 to make arrangements for the reception of the main body which will number about 150 members and which will arrive in special busses and cars at 7 o'clock. Chief Jordan and his party of officials will be met here by local members of the order.

The parade will follow a line of march that will take the visitors through a number of principal streets and will end at the high school where a band concert and drill on the stage will follow. At the conclusion of the latter two features a dramatic production will be rendered by the cast.

One thousand tickets have been printed for the occasion and will be distributed to Masons of the Valley, Orange, Warrenton, Cecil, and Dahlgren, Quantico, Occoquan and Manassas. This complimentary concert and drill is given by Samis Grotto to under the auspices of the Abaca Grotto, Fredericksburg branch of this order which it is hoped will be instituted some time during the month of March. Applications for membership have been coming in at a surprising rate, it was said, and within the next year it is looked forward to having at least 100 members.

On the night of institution the grand secretary of the Grotto with his staff will visit Fredericksburg and institute Abaca Grotto.

Bus Stops Called By Loud Speakers

Bus driver announcing the next stop through this microphone which connects with loud speaker equipment.

Installation of loud speaker apparatus in buses for the announcement of street stops is an innovation recently developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories. This bus announcing equipment, according to J. H. Collins, special products development engineer of the laboratories, enables the combination driver and conductor of the modern bus to announce the next stop clearly to all passengers. The equipment is so arranged that the driver speaks into a microphone and the announcement is amplified so that all passengers know what the next stop will be.

Such a need, according to Mr. Collins, was most keenly felt on double-deck buses, where it was virtually impossible for passengers on the top deck to hear the street names as they were called off by the driver. Bus announcing equipment is now in use in several of the large cities.

This equipment is not limited entirely to bus use, according to Mr. Collins' article. The apparatus can be utilized for making announcements from one room or one floor to another. This equipment can also be used for addressing small groups.

A case against Henry C. Hughes for misdemeanor was not prossed.

The jury failed to agree in the matter of Edward Carrico indicted for storebreaking. The case was ordered continued.

Samuel Leonard was given six months and a fine of $100 for prohibition misdemeanor (J. W. Gough, foreman of jury).

The case of E. S. Wheaton against A. G. Roles and others was continued. Mr. and Mrs. John G. Dahlgren were given permission to adopt James Lee Twyman.

Weedon Moore was convicted by jury (J. F. Fick, foreman) of stealing goods from Roscoe Lewis and given five years. Upon motion to dismiss the verdict, the court reserves judgment.

R. B. Hynson was given a license to sell soft drinks.

French McPherson on trial today for killing Robert Ware in an election row last November was given a sentence of five years by a jury which was out only about an hour, o'clock.

LAYMAN RAPS POLLARD PLAN ON DRY LAW

Vigorous opposition to the method proposed by Governor Pollard for selecting delegates to a convention to act upon the repeal of the 18th Amendment was expressed yesterday by State Senator George W. Layman. He added that he is eager for the electorate to express itself on the wet-dry issue.

Senator Layman, who is the author of the State Enforcement Act, based his opposition chiefly on the grounds that to select a few delegates from the State at large will result in an overwhelming advantage to cities and densely populated sections of the country.

"As a matter of local government," said Senator Layman, "each legislative or senatorial sub-division should be permitted to elect a member of the convention."

"I want to get back to local self-government," he said, as he described his position, which is in direct opposition to that of the governor who is quoted as having asserted delegates to the convention should not be selected by political sub-divisions. "Let the localities determine it. That's local self-government."

Verdict being rendered just before 5 o'clock.

CLARA BOW TO BE HERE SOON

An event of importance to local theatregoers will be the opening on Monday, Feb. 27, at the Dixie Theatre of "Call Her Savage," Clara Bow's first Fox starring vehicle. The screen play was especially prepared for the famous red-head by Edwin Burke, and is an adaptation of Tiffany Thayer's much-discussed novel, "Call Her Savage."

Appropriately enough, three leading men will be seen opposite Clara. They are Gilbert Roland, as her half-breed sweetheart; Monroe Owsley, as her wealthy husband, and Anthony Jowitt, youthful admirer who has not the courage to attempt to tame her pagan nature.

Others in the cast include Willard Garman, f; Robertson and Estelle Taylor as her parents and Weldon Heyburn, as her mother's Indian wooer. John Francis Dillon directed.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

George Washington, that name is loved
By both great and lowly ones.
The very noblest and best
Of all Virginia's sons.
His birthday comes again today,
In love and honor set apart.
He was first in war, first in peace,
First also in a nation's heart.
George Washington, we all are proud
That you are our very own.
In all Virginia's history
You are the greatest one.
All people honor you today
So noble, brave and true.
And may Virginia's many sons
Take pattern after you.

Get Rid of That
SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of genuine Bayer Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so before gargling take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Bayer Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. You may use it freely, it does not hurt the heart.

NO TABLETS ARE GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN WITHOUT THIS CROSS

IT'S SIMPLY A LIE

Is what some will say. It's utterly impossible to grow ten tons of hay in one growing season on one acre of ground, be it kudzu or what. That plant is not found.

Well, J. H. Senger, suburbs of Parkville, says come and see him. Convince you he will. Three years of experience though on a small scale. Has made a plain track which others may trail.

One acre of kudzu will grow enough feed for two to six cows regardless of breed and when once established it simply stays there. Don't have to be planted like cowpeas each year.

Does not require fertilizer to cause it to grow. It is a perfect legume equal to any you know. Poor land is soon made to grow any crop and one year's attention makes kudzu sure stop.

J. H. Senger.

J. H. Senger is not writing this as a profiteer, but would like to see farmers all get started in something that would make farming profitable. Everything that eats grass, eat kudzu with a relish. Horses, cows, hogs and chicken, even the rabbits, harbor in my patch.

I want to send in the next couple of weeks for my plants for an acre, and will order some for you if you wish, and see me in time.

J. H. Senger,

Manassas, Va.

P. S. At Arlington, Va., kudzu grows five tons of hay to the acre. Any kudzu opponent should not visit there unless he is willing to be converted.

DIRECTOR MEETS OLD FRIEND
ON MONOGRAM FILM

An opportunity to repay a kindness of 20 years ago was afforded Harry Fraser, Monogram director, during the filming of "Honor of the Mounted," the sensational Tom Tyler western which will be shown at the Dixie Theatre next Saturday, Feb. 25.

Twenty years ago while Fraser was a stock company juvenile looking for a job in Denver, Colo., and it was Theodore Lorch, head of a large stock company which bore his name, who gave Fraser a chance to continue his histrionic career.

It was not until Fraser was selecting the cast of "Honor of the Mounted," however, that Lorch, whom Fraser had not seen in the meantime, walked into the office and permitted the director to repay the kindness of 20 years before. Lorch's performance as one of the villain's henchmen is one of the high-lights of the picture.

Lorch, with more than 20 years of stage and screen experience, has been an actor since the age of 18 years. He was responsible for the building of several theatres, and headed his own stock company for 14 years. It was while he was playing the title roles in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" in Denver that he taught Lon Chaney the art of make-up that the famous actor used in his screen portrayals.

Others in the western cast in addition to Tom Tyler, the star, are Celia Ryland, Stanley Blystone, Francis McDonald, Charles King, Arthur Millett and G. D. Wood. Fraser, author and director of "Honor of the Mounted," was also writer-director of seven of the series of eight "Bill and Andy" westerns.

SOME CHICKEN!

NO, this is not an appreciative comment on a pretty girl, but a comment on the fact that the packers of canned foods have evolved more forms in which to can this highly esteemed domestic bird than seems humanly possible. And, with the perfection which modern commercial canning has attained, these products, as the old English advertisements used to say, "must be tasted to be appreciated."

In the first place you can get whole cooked chickens in cans all prepared and ready to heat and serve. Then you can get boned or boneless chicken, deviled chicken, chicken salad, chicken chop suey, sandwich chicken, chicken tamales and even a product consisting of pure egg noodles in rich chicken broth, with bits of chicken in it, which makes an excellent luncheon dish.

More of the Flock

But this isn't all of the flock of chicken products by any means. Of course the variety of chicken soups is endless. There are chicken broth and chicken consommé and cream soups with such flavors as peas, celery, asparagus, spinach, tomatoes, okra, mushrooms, onions and potatoes, and a new discovery known as chicken pepper pot. There are also ready-made chicken entrées, including chicken à la king and chicken cutlet.

But this mere list of chicken products in cans does not begin to convey all that can be done with them. Properly combined with other ingredients they expand into a list of dishes that is practically endless—baked dishes, creamed dishes, pies, croquettes, en casseroles, chafing dishes, loaves, salads, sandwiches, mousses, molds and hash.

Cluck! Cluck! Cluck!

We knew that we'd be clucking before we got much further, but the things that can be done with these chicken products are something to cackle about! Here's an astonishing recipe:

Surprise Salad: Peel four tomatoes and scoop out centers, then fill with canned chicken salad to which mayonnaise has been added. Place each tomato on a leaf of lettuce, and, when ready to serve, put a teaspoon of mayonnaise on top of each. It's as simple as that!

And for chicken à la king you don't need any recipe. Just trim all crust from bread slices, and toast them a golden brown. Heat the chicken à la king in the can, and pour over the toast. Place on lettuce leaves, garnish with parsley, and there you are!

Chicken Croquettes: Grind the contents of a can of boned chicken fine, mix with a thick cream sauce, and let mixture cool. Flour hands and mold. Stand in ice box for an hour or more. Roll in beaten egg and then in fine bread crumbs, using one hand for eggs and the other for crumbs. Place in frying basket, and dip in hot fat. Lift and drain.

From the Old South

A succulence from the old South, where everyone knows they perform miracles with chickens, is this Virginia Chicken Pie "made according to old Mammy Jackson's favorite recipe." Here is the way she went about it:

Boil ten whole small white onions and one medium potato cut in small pieces together in salted water. Remove the pieces of potato when cooked, allowing the onions to boil until soft.

Melt two tablespoons bacon fat in saucepan, brown and add three tablespoons chopped raw onions. Brown well, and add two tablespoons flour, stirring until smooth and nice brown. Add two and a half cups of the water in which the onions and potato have been cooked, stirring until smooth and thickened slightly. Add Worcestershire sauce and additional salt and pepper to taste.

Remove the contents from a 6-ounce can of fresh-packed chicken, and, without cutting, arrange pieces in a baking dish with the potatoes, onions and one hard-boiled egg which has been cut in pieces. Sprinkle with parsley. Strain gravy over, and cover with pastry made as follows:

Sift one cup flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon salt into a bowl. Add four tablespoons shortening and mix thoroughly with finger tips. Add four tablespoons cold water, and mix just enough to hold together. Roll on slightly floured board and roll out very tightly and quite thin.

Cover pie, bringing pastry well over edge. Trim and put a strip about an inch wide around rim. Press edge with fork, and prick top well. Bake in hot oven—450°—about fifteen minutes.

This recipe will serve from four to six people (only four if they are connoisseurs in foods), and the complete cost is somewhat less than sixty cents!

WIVES OUT OF JOBS

THE Electric Range has thrown the modern housewife out of the most tedious job ever invented—the eternal business of getting meals in a "boiler house" kitchen.

You, too, can say farewell to long hours of kitchen drudgery. Modern Electric cooking will bring you new freedom. No more hours of oven watching... automatic time and temperature controls do this for you. No more blackened pots and pans to scour... clean electric heat eliminates soot. No more blackened stoves or burners to scrub... electric heat is clean as electric light. No more guessing at cooking temperatures... electric heat can be regulated to any degree desired. No more waiting... a snap of a switch brings full intensity of heat.

Add to these advantages the new low prices and economies of operation—1¢ a meal per person—and you have all that could be desired for care-free cookery. That is why more than a million women have already changed to modern, automatic electric ranges. Why don't you?

New Installation Policy

Installation charges in the past have been a barrier to some prospective electric range users.

NOW—our new Installation Policy enables all our customers—home owners and renters—to install an electric range in their homes.

WOODRUM ASKS FUNDS FOR PARK PURPOSES

Representative Woodrum has asked an appropriations sub-committee to include in the second deficiency bill an item of $80,000 for the Shenandoah National Park and $100,000 for national parks in general.

Both items were recommended by President Hoover in a special message to Congress last week.

The specific appropriation for Shenandoah—the first asked for that proposed park in Virginia—would provide the Government with means to take over the project during the coming fiscal year.

The general appropriation asked would be used for emergency construction and fighting forest fires. A portion of the sum would be allocated to the Shenandoah Park.

Woodrum is a member of the Appropriations Committee.

T. COLEMAN ANDREWS MAY QUIT VA. POST

T. Coleman Andrews announced yesterday that his resignation as auditor of public accounts is before Governor Pollard if the executive should believe his participation in the rate investigation ordered by the State Corporation Commission is "contrary to public policy."

He said he had written the Governor yesterday, reporting the tentative agreement of his accounting firm to take part in the rate inquiry which is being directed by Allen J. Saville, Richmond engineer.

His decision to offer his resignation, he said, was governed by two considerations, law and propriety. He made it clear, however, that he would continue with the power rate investigation, even though it should mean relinquishment of his office as auditor of public accounts.

REMOVED TO MARION

On Wednesday night Judge Walter T. McCarthy signed an order committing Louis B. Oliver, of Fairfax, to the State Hospital at Marion, Va., where he will be placed under mental observation.

The order is the direct of an assault committed with a shot gun last Sunday night by Oliver upon his estranged wife. Mrs. Oliver was seriously wounded and continues in a critical condition in a Washington Hospital. Louis Oliver is son of the late State Senator Walter T. Oliver, who at one time represented Prince William County in the upper branch of the General Assembly of Virginia.

A copy of The Manassas Journal, dated June 30, 1902, loaned to us by Mr. Worth Storke, of The Peoples National Bank, carries the names of many folks prominent in the life of our community today. The late W. H. W. Moran is editor and publisher.

Important clothiers advertising in this issue are Hibbs and Giddings, Hynson and Co., R. B. Sprinkle and Co., Tasker's Department Store, Criger and Rogers and Weir and Bros.

The National Bank of Manassas had the following officers and directors: H. F. Lynn, R. H. Lynn, Westwood Hutchison, W. W. Chamblin, C. A. Heineken, Thos. H. Lion, G. M. Ratcliffe, T. B. Putnam, C. L. Hynson, J. W. Prescott, J. E. Willard, and Robert Portner.

Hotels were the Manassas Hotel, formerly the Goodwin House, C. W. Payne, Prop., and the Howard House, John Roche, Prop. Both establishments offered a full line of whiskey to meet the requirements of their patrons.

George Baker is the undertaker. F. A. Cockrell runs the Graham Park Nurseries. W. M. Hottle furnishes monuments.

Millinery offerings are advertised by Mrs. R. J. Adamson and by Mrs. Merchant. The latter place is mentioned as being located on Center street next door to Sprinkle's, a firm which seems to have been managed by J. H. Burke.

Professional cards include the following attorneys: A. W. Sinclair, Cox and Meredith, John H. Nelson, J. B. T. Thornton, Thos. H. Lion, and Robert A. Hutchison. Dentists were Dr. James B. Hodgkins and Dr. T. Wolfe. The former seems pleased to refer the reader to The Journal and to a minister for references.

G. A. Hulfish, of Haymarket, advertises farm implements and R. H. Davis, of Bristow builder's supplies. Among a number of Washington advertisements was Orinoco Whiskey, apparently a popular commodity.

The front page carries half of its space in advertising, indicating the cause of so much trouble today among our esteemed advertisers who desire front page space. All early newspapers, however, finally discovered that the front page as an advertising medium lacked pulling power and lowered the reader interest in the whole sheet.

In the editorial column is a lengthy discussion of the advantages of Manassas as an ideal location for a normal school, which it is stated will be necessary to perform an opercommittee to arrange a public meeting were Chas. E. Nichols, J. B. T. Thornton, Geo. C. Round, J. G. Hammer and Westwood Hutchison. One of the speakers to be present is Hon. S. R. Donohoe, the State Senator.

Another article carries the handsome picture of a young man whom the reader is advised is Hon. C. E. Nichol, who will have no opposition for re-election as Circuit Judge. It is stated that he succeeded Judge James Keith, who became President of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

The prize-list of the Manassas Horse Show is referred to in a quotation from the Warrenton Virginian as "an exceedingly fine piece of work reflecting great credit upon the association and our esteemed contemporary, The Manassas Journal."

An ice cream festival was held Tuesday, June 24, 1902, in Mr. R. M. Waters's yard.

It is stated that Mr. H. W. Reid will sell at public auction the following Monday the entire equipment of the old hotel at Brentsville. W. N. Lipscomb and Co. advertises that it will pay cash for 100,000 railroad ties. Brown and Hoof specialize in lumber in car load lots. The Enterprise Bakery is run by L. J. Davis and the Portner Brownstone Company is offered by A. O. Portner, Jno. H. Nelson and Geo. F. Akers.

W. E. Wenrich advertises an attractive line of jewelry. W. C. Waggener, later so well known as a dealer in hardware, appears to be handling or at least just advertising furniture. Whittington and Co. sells hardware. J. K. Gulick deals in fertilizers. F. E. Phillips runs a barber shop which he has bought from A. Grossman.

Walter Shannon and S. S. Simpson are druggists. The Standard Oil Company, later to become such a valued newspaper advertiser of motor oils and gasoline, carries a little advertisement offering a fine harness oil. C. A. Heineken, of Haymarket, deals in fertilizer.

We did not have further time to look, but there may have also been some social news raising questions as to the antiquity of some of our esteemed friends of the gentler sex. No matter what old newspapers say, they are more beautiful and are younger today than they were thirty years ago. Any old photograph album will prove this conclusively.

MONTAGUE ILL IN HOSPITAL

Congressman Andrew Jackson Montague of Richmond was taken to a Washington hospital last night.

Physicians described the representative's condition as "serious" and said an examination would be made later this week to determine whether it mal school, which it is stated will be necessary to perform an oper-
