KIWANIANS URGE CHARITY PLAN

Fund Is Reported Exhausted.

The Kiwanis meeting last week developed a desire to make some money for the underprivileged children. Headed by Professor Swavely and Ray Ratcliffe, the group tentatively fixed on a fiddlers' contest, more of which will be heard at tomorrow's meeting.

Dr. Marsteller alarmed the club by showing them the completely depleted state of the fund for the underprivileged child work. He reminded them of the good work in the past and expressed a fervent hope that it would presently pick up.

Except for a saga by O. D. on birthdays and birthplaces, the meeting passed very quietly. Kiwanians are wondering what the next outbreak will bring.

OLD CHURCHES THEME TOPICS

Manassas U.D.C. Hear Entertaining Talks.

Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., were guests of Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton, Mrs. E. H. Hibbs and Mrs. Fred Dowell for the April meeting. The presiding officer, Mrs. Robert Hutchison, was greeted by a large attendance of Daughters and three visitors, Mrs. Wm. Cocke, Mrs. A. A. Hoeff and Miss Jones.

The general routine of business, reading of minutes, reports of standing committees, appeals for educational and benevolent work held the attention of the chapter.

Mrs. Hibbs gave a very interesting report of the convention held at Purcellville. She referred especially to the scholarly address of Dr. Dodd, dean of Chicago University.

A request from the State president, Miss Mann, that each chapter set out three dogwood trees met with the approval of those present and Mrs. Hutchison was requested to act as chairman of this committee.

The business session completed, the historian presented a very attractive program. Mrs. Knox read an interesting sketch of the life and work of Dr. John W. Gorry of Florida, inventor of the method of manufacturing artificial ice. Mrs. McDuff Green read a paper replete with interest, written by Mrs. J. Jenkin Davies. Subject, the old churches of Prince William dating back to 1752. The most interesting one to those present was the old Episcopal church in Brentsville, where many of the ancestors and relatives of the Manassas daughters worshipped. The next subject of interest was some of the old homes of the county by Mrs. Emily Marsteller. She gave an interesting description of one located above Haymarket which was not only of interest locally but historically. She made especial reference to a stately old tree in the yard called the Council Tree, under which tradition says General Lee, Jackson and Longstreet planned the Battle of Manassas. President Taft, too, much later camped under its protection. She also made reference to Melbourne, the old Marsteller home, being used as a hospital during the War of the sixties.

The program completed, the hostesses served a tempting salad course and delicious ice cream and cake.

Manassas Chapter is increasing numerically as well as in interest. It is one of the outstanding chapters in the State, and also boasts of a membership of over a hundred and several applications on file. It has members in several States and in the District of Columbia.

SMITH SEEKS BANK RELIEF

Urges State and Federal Government to Guarantee Deposits and Open Banks.

State Senator Worth Smith, who is a candidate for Governor, issued a statement Tuesday calling upon the State and Federal Government to guarantee deposits in closed banks and end the suffering occasioned by continued inability of certain banks to open up. He mentioned the American Bank and Trust Company in Richmond which has tied up the deposits of 52,000 citizens.

If a special session had been called, Senator stated, he would have urged that the State guarantee such deposits as are now tied up in this and other similarly situated banks. "No dividends should be paid upon the stock of such banks until a sufficient fund was set up out of earnings of the bank to protect the State," he said.

Calling attention to the many instances where the government has relieved distress without expecting to be repaid, Senator Smith cited the resources of this big Richmond bank as ample security for anything the government decided to do to relieve the distress of 52,000 depositors in a city of 200,000 population.

AUTO TAGS "GOING SLOWLY"

The sale of auto licenses in Prince William is dragging perceptibly. So far, Mr. Weir has issued only about fifteen per cent of the number which should go out.

The last day of grace is April 30, 1933. After that the road police have had strict orders to arrest all drivers using old tags.

FARM WAGES IN VIRGINIA

Farm wages have continued to decline and the average reported on April 1 is now lower than the pre-war rate. Wages by the month with board are reported to be $15.50, without board $22.50 and by the day with board 70 cents and without board $1.00, while the averages for the period 1910-14 by the month with board were $15.18, without board $21.52; by the day with board 82 cents, without board $1.06. Wages are lower in the southern and southeastern districts. The supply of farm labor is considerably above normal, while the demand is below normal due to the farmers' lack of cash with which to pay wages. Most farm work is being done by the farmer with the assistance of the members of his family. — Report of Henry M. Taylor, agricultural statistician, issued April 12.

SACRED CANTATA

The sacred cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary," will be given by the choir of St. George's church, Clarendon, under the direction of Rev. Henry J. Miller, at Trinity P. E. church, Manassas, next Sunday night, April 23, at 8 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to hear this program.

GOT HIS FEED BACK

Tuesday afternoon of last week, J. E. Barrett dropped a sack of cracked corn off just as he left the mill on South Main street.

B. C. Cornwell noticed it, and toted it to his shop. Friday morning he noted Mr. Barrett's lost ad and called him immediately.

A lost or found ad in The Journal costs little and renders so much service just as with all the classified ads.

CHICKEN DINNER

The ladies of the M. E. church south will serve a chicken dinner in the assembly room of the church Thursday, April 27, from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Public is cordially invited.

HART PRAISES SPORTS GROUP

Says Prince William Association Made Best Start.

Lowering clouds did not prevent some forty sportsmen and game officials from attending the second meeting of the Prince William Fish and Game Protective Association last night at the courthouse.

M. M. Ellis, president of the organization, presided and R. W. Adamson, secretary, officiated in his capacity. The only regular business disposed of was the presentation of a set of rules and by-laws which were referred to a committee, of which Harry P. Davis is chairman. Their report will be made at the meeting which will be held at the town hall next Wednesday evening, April 26.

M. D. Hart, executive secretary, State Fish and Game Department, District Supervisor Albert Fletcher and County Warden C. L. Reading were present.

Mr. Hart made a long and instructive talk on the work in the State, detailing matters of interest and importance. He explained that the work was self-sustaining, receiving its support from licenses and dog taxes.

Having visited the proposed location of a propagating pond on Annaburg (the Porter farm), Mr. Hart told just how the hatcheries and game breeding farms are operated.

Turning to Mr. Ellis, he stated during his talk, "I want to congratulate the organization here on the way it has started off. Nowhere in the State has any group met with such immediate response and in such numbers." (Secretary Adamson having reported ninety paid-up members and a number of applications.)

"The value of such an organization," said Mr. Hart, "lies in the fact that you are organized. Any time you want action, legislative or otherwise, you can present your wishes as a body. Any time we want something done up here, we can come to you as a group with an organized purpose."

Mr. Hart stressed the value of the educational phase of the organized work, showing how the individual member could be made a force in his own community.

President Ellis announces that at a later meeting an official from the United States Department of Agriculture would be present to talk on breeding and protective work.

SCHOOL PATROL HEADED BY LYNN

Manassas First to Have School Boy Patrol.

After a number of weeks of expectancy, the local school patrol was put into operation this morning at 8:30. The movement was sponsored by Prince William Post No. 158, American Legion, and the officers were in attendance this morning to see the plan put into actual working conditions.

Richard M. Ham, of the American Automobile Association, had charge of the outfitting, which gave each boy a rain coat and hat, a Sam Brown belt and an official badge.

The present make-up of the patrol is as follows: Captain, Nelson Lynn; lieutenants, Robert Adamson and Paul Sivak; privates, Harry Davis, Howard Cooksey, Douglas Morris, Paul Beavers, Howard Cane, Harris Collins, Benson Fogle, Maury Wells, and Carroll Fox.

The lads have no actual police powers but will work under supervision of Miss Osborne, principal, and Mr. Wallace, constable, to avoid traffic hazards which may arise at any time during the intermissions and while being transported to and from home.

The plan has been put into effect at McLean, Herndon, Fairfax, Leesburg, Purcellville but nowhere else in this county. In Washington there were nine deaths in the year prior to the time that the plan was adopted.

BENNETT LEAGUE

The regular monthly meeting of the Bennett Community League of Manassas will be held Tuesday, April 25, at 3 p.m. Everyone is requested to meet on the school grounds for the planting of a dogwood tree. After which there will be a business meeting in the school building.

CELEBRATES HER 99TH BIRTHDAY

Occoquan Resident Is Active and Reads Without Glasses.

Mrs. Susan Kirkwood Sander's grandchildren and great grandchildren had to take the place of her children when Susan Kirkwood Sander celebrated her 99th birthday. Mrs. Sander has outlived her eleven children, and has 1 son left.

Mrs. Sander lives with one of her grandchildren, Miss Myrtle D. Rousey, at Occoquan, Va. Her husband, John H. Sander, died 50 years ago in Baltimore. Mrs. Sander was a daughter of John and Ann Kirkwood and was born at her home in Baltimore, Md. She came to Occoquan over 30 years ago.

Mrs. Sander is an authority of family history. Her grandfather was a French nobleman, Monsignor Dupuy owning coffee and tobacco plantations at San Domingo, bringing his goods to Baltimore in his own ships to his warehouses of Light street wharf.

It is easier for her to understand modern children than modern times. "These times," she exclaimed, "throwing up her hands in mock horror, 'I do believe they will get me.' Her grandfather owned a pew in the old St. Paul church, Charles and Saratoga in Baltimore. She joined the church when she was 12 years old. She still gets around and does her kitchen work and sweeps the floor and reads the paper without glasses. She is known to the older people of Manassas as she resided there 15 or 20 years ago.

CATHARPIN

Mr. Sidney Lawler of Bel Alton, Md., was an Easter Sunday guest of her mother, Mrs. P. S. Buckley.

Messrs. James and Robert Riley of Catharpin spent the week end in Washington visiting friends and relatives over Easter Sunday.

Mrs. A. L. Webb of Washington took Easter dinner with her mother, Mrs. Etta P. Lynn, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Drake of Newport News are guests at Bell Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pat-tie this week. Mr. Drake reports business very poor in his city and that many are walking the streets hungry and ill clad with no immediate outlook for future employment.

Mrs. Marjorie Brower Willis and Mrs. Sally Coon Wempler of Clarendon, Va., and Schenectady, N. Y., were Lone Oak visitors on last Wednesday having come to help Mrs. Willis' father, Dr. C. F. Brower, cele-

District Deputy President George
D. Baker and District Deputy Muddi-man of Manassas were welcome guests at a meeting of the Catharpin lodge of O.F.A. on Saturday night last. Mr. Baker has visited this lodge on many former occasions and is always welcomed for his inspirational good spirit. Since its organization this lodge has been of great value to all and especially to those in line for its beneficiary assistance.

Easter Sunday came along, spent its force and passed off just as did many other Sundays since Christmas —wet as water could make them. No matter what plans one may have for the day they all have to be contingent upon the weather man and more especially are we in the country subservient to his whims; consequently whatever might have taken place at Sudley had to be postponed until Easter Sunday 1934 providing it does not again usher in the day with a wash-out.

The name Cat-harpin might imply that the inhabitants were always "harping" about "cats" and to be sincerely frank about it just now they are in a quandary and doing quite a bit of talking and wondering why the cats are all dying. The farmer needs the cats because he doesn't need rats and mice and when old Tabby with her nine lives begins to die by the wholesale he begins to assess their value and to mourn his loss. According to reports the feline members of the household have been passing away so rapidly that soon there shall be none left. Like the water in the well they are not missed until they have all disappeared and the mice have taken possession of the kitchen; then the howl.

A number of our citizens attended the races at Middleburg on Saturday last and report a large crowd in attendance. The "sport" horse has never lost his hold upon the horse fancier and it is doubtful if he ever will.

Considerable discussion has been heard recently anent the license fees charged for automobiles and the suggestion that they be reduced. It has long been felt the auto has to stand more than its legitimate share of the tax burden and that the license fee is excessive; at any rate it is not sufficiently adjusted to give the owner a right of "decision" but everything seems stacked against his own idea of economy. The time of license issue was changed from Jan. 1 to Apr.
1 presumably to compel a full year's payment. While this may seem good business in a way it does not take into consideration that the country roads are usually in such bad condition during the first quarter that many machines can not travel them and the owner sometimes does not take his license until Apr. 1 thus realizing a small saving. It certainly does seem that unless and until the State provides an all-year road these licenses should be obtainable quarterly so that the owner himself may have the right to decide just what suits his financial ability best without being compelled to pay for something he can not use. Even tho' an increase in the price of gas might be necessary yet the owner would still have the right of choice as to whether he wants to use it and how much.
Last week the hucksters were paying 8c for eggs and the old hen is the only producer now on the farm; so one is lost in trying to calculate just how long and how hard she would have to work in order to pay the high license fee, the 6c gas tax, State and county taxes, repairs and insurance. The auto has become the only mode of transportation since the exit of the horse and buggy and to tax it to death will work a hardship upon the people.

If this column were permitted it would like to pass along to the thriving little city of Manassas some complimentary remarks heard from strangers who were visiting us when, as a matter of duty and delight, we took them "for a ride" to see our community, which "ride" was never complete until the county seat was included. A number of such guests from other states have been quite profuse in their remarks about how nice and beautiful the town looks and especially along Grant avenue with its nicely-kept lawns, wide driveways separated by its strip of green, all in perfect order. Then out along the main business thoroughfare to Prescott avenue the beholder was delighted with the general fine appearance of streets, residences and lawns. We remarked that they should see the city a little later when flowers are blooming and trees in full leaf, to which they replied: "Well Manassas is certainly a beautiful town to live in." This is only a sample of such expressions that the writer has heard and is glad to pass them along because we are of the same opinion ourselves. Manassas citizens no doubt think of it as "theirs" but they must not forget that the citizens of Prince William County speak of it as "our county seat," so you must still take good care of it for us all to look at and enjoy when we visit you.

ANSWER THAT CRY!

IT'S your furnace calling to tell you that the coal pile needs replenishing at once. Pick up your phone and call Manassas 22 before you forget it, and order some of the good, clean coal such as your own home dealer always carries on hand for your convenience.

That is our service to you.

Patronize your own dealer in all lines, and keep the home dollar here to help pay taxes, educate our children and do the things that a dollar carried away from home will never do.

Hamburg Steak is Food for Stars When Made the Lyda Roberti Way

Lyda Roberti, in her kitchen, gives her own version of hamburg steak, in which seasoning plays the important role.

LYDA ROBERTI, the saucy blond star who sang and danced her way into American hearts in "Pardon My English" and other Broadway musical offerings, has talents galore. Besides possessing an engaging voice and dancing feet, she speaks four languages and boasts the very feminine accomplishment of being an excellent cook. In spite of the busy fullness of her days, she finds time to practice at this latter art and often cooks her own little suppers in her own little kitchen.

Like most continentals, she has a keen appreciation for fine foods and is very particular about seasoning. "Most women do not realize," she says, "how important are those little dashes of this and that. Eating tasteless food is not eating at all. We in Europe have long known, for instance, that sugar, which many people use only to sweeten, is a seasoning for meats. Used with salt and pepper it brings out the flavor and makes the steak oh, so good."

One of Miss Roberti's specialties to which her intimate friends are often treated at her home, is Hamburg a la Roberti—so christened by those same friends because she invented it and makes it more temptingly than anyone else on Broadway.

Hamburg Roberti

Mix one pound of hamburger with one teaspoonful each of sugar and salt, ½ teaspoonful of pepper, and make into flat, loosely mixed cakes. Cut rounds of bread two to three inches in diameter and toast on one side only. Spread the ground, seasoned beef on the other side and broil five minutes. Drop a bit of butter on each hamburger and serve tastefully garnished with sliced tomato or parsley.

COLBERT DRIVES TO GAIN FAME IN 'BAD' PARTS

Claudette Colbert had to go bad to go good.

What is to say that to make good, the dark-eyed screen beauty decided she'd have to get herself a role as a bad girl, instead of continuing in sweet and wholesome characterizations.

Miss Colbert is starred with Fredric March, winner of the 1932 award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for the best performance of the year, in "Tonight Is Ours," screen adaptation of a play by Noel Coward, who authored the sensationally successful "Private Lives." The picture comes to the Dixie Theatre next Monday.

Miss Colbert, French-born, American-raised star, went out to Hollywood a couple of years ago, after scoring a brilliant stage success. To her disgust, she was always cast in a more or less goody-goody role which, Claudette agreed, was all right once in a while, but to make a habit of them was another thing again.

She started a campaign to get out of the rut, and its results were successful. She won the role of Popoona, super-wicked wife of Nero, in Cecil B. DeMille's spectacle of pagan Rome, "The Sign of the Cross." She was so sensationally bad that she was delighted as were the critics.

"Tonight Is Ours" in her first role since "Sign of the Cross." Like other plays by Coward, it is a romantic, amusing story of clever people and their affair. Miss Colbert is cast as a girl who has fled the responsibilities of her position and fallen in love with March, a wealthy young Parisian. In gay, charming fashion, they chase about the French capital but their moments alone are moments of tender, if burning, passion. A strange trick of the fates almost upsets their lives, but a dramatic climax sets everything to rights.

POULTRY

INFERIOR EGG NOT SOUGHT BY BUYERS

High Quality Production Is Demanded.

(By H. H. ALP, Poultry Extension Specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.)

Fertile eggs caused by keeping roosters in the flocks during the warm summer months have been mainly responsible for bad egg losses which in 1930 cost poultrymen of the state an estimated $5,000,000. In addition to eliminating roosters, if farm flock owners would adopt a few practical and simple practices, much of the poor quality of Illinois eggs could be overcome and market demands for eggs from this state improved.

Eggs should be gathered twice daily or, better still, three times daily in hot weather. Frequent gathering helps prevent damage by heat or cold; it saves cracking and breaking of eggs and it reduces the proportion of dirty eggs.

Before being cased, eggs should be cooled, because egg cases, pads and fillers hold in any heat that already is in the eggs. The cases of eggs should be held in a cool place, a temperature of 32 to 60 degrees being best. On most farms the cellar is the best place available. It is satisfactory for short storage periods if it is free from strong odors and not too damp.

Eggs will keep better and will be easier to sell if they are kept clean. Changing the floor litter and nesting material before it is too badly spoiled helps to keep eggs clean. Dropping boards or, better still, wire-covered dropping boards also help. Crowded quarters are a common cause of dirty eggs. There should be 3½ to 4 square feet of floor space for each hen. A shortage of nests also causes broken and dirty eggs and may lead to the habits of egg eating and of laying eggs on the floor. There should be one nest for each five hens.

Feed Mixtures on Which Chickens Will Thrive

A good mash feed for chicks, when milk is the only drink, is mixed as follows: 150 pounds of ground yellow corn, 100 pounds of wheat bran, 100 pounds of oat flour, 75 pounds of wheat shorts or middlings and 50 pounds of high-grade meat scrap.

When the chicks do not have access to green leafy feed, five pounds of alfalfa leaf meal should be added to each 100 pounds of the mash, says the Dakota Farmer. If meat and bone scrap are not used, three pounds of bone meal should be included to each 100 pounds of mash. One pound of sifted table salt and one pint of high-grade cod-liver oil per 100 pounds of the mash should be mixed in. The cod-liver oil should be mixed with the bran first. Chick-size oyster shell, calcite or high-grade limestone should also be kept available.

Successful Pullet Raising

Eighty March pullets laid 1,150 eggs in 30 days from October 18 to November 16 for Anna Corrigan, Dakota county, Minnesota.

During that period she fed 300 pounds of commercial egg mash. Scratch feed was composed of two bushels barley and one and a quarter bushels wheat. With alfalfa leaves, oyster shells and three pints of cod-liver oil, feed cost $9.04 and income was $31.68, an average of 33 cents a dozen, or 3 cents above market price. This left a net return of $21.74 or 27 cents a pullet.—Capper's Farmer.

Mash and Milk

Mixing a part of the dry mash with milk until it is moistened to a crumbly state greatly increases the palatability of the poultry ration. Experiments at Ohio State university with chickens of the same breed kept under exactly the same conditions and fed the same rations, with the exception that a part of the ration was fed wet in one case and in the other case all of the ration was dry, showed an increase in production during the year of 24 eggs per bird.—Prairie Farmer.

Feather Picking

The taste of blood upon freshly-plucked quills is probably what keeps fowls picking at each other, after something has started them. Letting them get away from each other by turning the flock out of doors is the most certain method of stopping the practice. Tar may be daubed upon any bleeding point about the comb or head to discourage the attackers. Bleeding follows any injury that breaks the skin, it may be from accident or attacks.—Rural New Yorker.

Let Sun Shine In

On warm days the fronts of poultry houses should be thrown open so that the sunlight may get into the house and on the birds. It will help keep the flock strong and healthy in addition to keeping the house dry. Sunlight not only aids in improving the health of the flock, but also tends to increase laying and to improve the shell strength of eggs, states E. W. Henderson, Iowa State college. Soft-shelled eggs often result from insufficient sunlight.

Miniature Rooms By Talented New York Woman Give Vivid Forecast of "Interiors of Tomorrow"

DESIGNED and created by Eleanor McMillen, one of New York's foremost interior architects and designers, nine model rooms in miniature constitute one of the most striking exhibits ever shown.

During the depression, in order to keep her entire European trained staff at work, Mrs. McMillen conceived the idea of building the perfect miniature rooms. They are now touring the country being exhibited in the leading cities and earning thousands of dollars for the unemployed and other charities.

Miniature rooms created by Eleanor McMillen, New York's foremost interior decorator and architect's consultant, are being shown at St. Louis, Mo., under Junior League auspices. The exhibit has already made thousands for charity.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Manassas Journal

It is a long time since we have had a paper so good as this. It is a paper that is worth reading.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.—Proverbs 14:15.

HALF-YEAR AUTO TAGS

The proposal to divide the auto license period into half-year intervals is meeting with very favorable reaction among commentators in Virginia. Under existing requirements thousands of automobiles throughout the State will go out of service because of inability of the owners at this time to pay a year in advance for the privilege of operating the vehicle. We pay plenty for this privilege and it would be a matter of simple justice and sound economy to require this fee at intervals of six months, rather than for a year. The administrative costs might be increased, but the gain to the state in immediate revenue would certainly justify the leniency. It is even probable that the revenue from gas tax derived from operation of cars which otherwise will be retired from service, would more than pay for the extra expense of issuing tags every six months.

It could also be arranged so that those who desired could secure tags for both six months' periods at the same time.

TWO-CENT POSTAGE

The Ways and Means Committee of the House has approved a bill reducing postage on local letters from three to two cents. The measure has the approval of Postmaster James A. Farley, and it is believed that it will be speeded through Congress with the additional authority granted to President Roosevelt to modify other postal rates by executive order whenever conditions will permit. It has been ascertained that the three-cent rate on local first-class mail has resulted in heavy losses to the Post Office Department, especially in large cities where many business houses found that they could deliver their own bills and notices for much less than charged by the Postal Office.

MR. PEERY AND HIS PLATFORM

The platform enunciated by George C. Peery in announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the governorship is in some respects like those of Senator Smith and Mr. Deal, who also are seeking the nomination. All three declare for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The emphasis which Mr. Peery places upon his proposal to abolish the fee system of compensation of public officers renders his platform more interesting and significant than those of his competitors.

We may be mistaken in this, but we think Mr. Peery is the first candidate for nomination to the governorship of Virginia who has made abolition of the fee system of compensation a prominent feature of his platform. It is gratifying to see a strong contender for the governorship nomination recognize the importance of this question and more gratifying to have him come out in such forthright manner for the repeal of a system wholly iniquitous.

It is hoped that Mr. Peery, in the coming campaign, will emphasize so strongly his insistence upon his reform that the accompanying discussion will bring forth every essential fact connected therewith, thus turning a flood of light upon a festering sore on our body politic.—Petersburg Progress-Index.

UNPOPULAR MOVE

The proposal of Governor Pollard that the State's gasoline tax be raised from 5 to 7 cents and the automobile license tax be lowered, has not met with general approval. Undoubtedly license tags are entirely too high, and they should be lowered, but not at the expense of gasoline. This commodity is already carrying its full burden of governmental expense and in due time, when our highways have been completed, curtailed. The State tax of five cents and the Federal tax of one cent is, in our opinion, a full load for any one commodity to carry. We believe if Governor Pollard would look over the State's machinery, scan its multitudinous commissions and bureaus, he can find by means of consolidation or abolishment, that sufficient funds can be saved to meet the State's expense account without making gasoline and car owners the "goats."—The Southside Sentinel.

REMEMBER THE CHILDREN

Child Health Day, authorized by Congress and proclaimed annually by the President, seems of greater importance than usual this year. The only day so designated, May 1, should serve chiefly as the occasion for starting comprehensive programs of child welfare and educating the public to the particular needs of children in such times of distress as the present. In his proclamation the President said:

"I call upon all agencies, public and private, and all individuals having the interest of children at heart, to set aside that day for earnest consideration of the needs of the children in their communities and in their homes, and to inaugurate constructive activities to protect and promote the health and physical vigor of the youth of our Nation."

Children suffer many handicaps to health and education during a depression. Not only do many of them lack food, clothing and medical care but they suffer more than we realize in mental anxiety and senses of insecurity because of their parents' poverty. It is up to those in authority, to charitable and welfare groups, to good neighbors everywhere, to keep the children in mind and to do all that is possible to counteract the evils of depression in their lives. Food, clothing, open schools, recreation programs are all essential. — Woodstock Herald.

COUNTY PROGRAM FOR THE COLORED SCHOOL CHILDREN AND PATRONS

On Saturday, April 22, an all-day program will be given at the Industrial School in Manassas. Each colored school and the adult class in home hygiene at Occoquan will be represented on the program.

The program will emphasize health with Dr. Bagby, director of the Bureau of Child Health under the State Board of Health as principal speaker.

All school children, patrons and friends are urged to attend this meeting. Those coming from out-of-town will bring lunch and have it picnic style on the campus or in the dining room of the school according to the weather.

LARGE MEETING OF 4TH DISTRICT

Detailed Reports Given on All Activities.

Report of the Manassas delegates, Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Hibbs, of the meeting of the 4th District, U.D.C., April 6.

The annual convention of the 4th District, U. D. C., met in Purcellville Thursday with the newly-elected chairman, Mrs. Elmer T. Wolf, presiding. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Hazel, followed by an organ recital by Mrs. Louise Hawthorne.

Among the Virginia division officers present were Miss Mann, Mrs. Bolling, Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Magnus Thompson. Two Confederate soldiers, Col. Thompson and Captain Rose, were present and added much to the pleasure of the occasion. Col. Thompson gave some of his experiences during the war and Capt. Rose entertained the audience with Southern airs.

Mrs. Hackley, president of the hostess chapter, welcomed the Daughters. Mrs. Cary responded. Miss Mann expressed pleasure at being present and complimented the hostess chapter on the historical program given the previous evening.

The resolutions committee composed of following ladies, Mrs. Larick, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Rockwell, was appointed. Roll call of the chapters and Virginia division reports were next in order. Mrs. Bolling gave an urgent plea for the Mrs. Norman V. Randolph relief fund. Miss Mann stressed the importance of this relief fund and requested the Daughters to give it their first consideration.

Mrs. Sidney Cox, chairman of education, reported lack of funds, and unless every chapter donated $5, would be compelled to withdraw loans to students. The L. H. Rains fund she asked to be brought to the attention of the Daughters. Seventeen cents a member for 3 years was asked. Mrs. Cleve was not present. The committee on Southern literature is endeavoring to place books in the colleges especially State Teachers Colleges.

The chapters were urged to see that proper history is taught in our schools.

Report on Stratford: A dollar a Daughter is the request for the chapters. Mrs. Bolling, member of the board of the Robert E. Lee Foundation, reported Stratford had been paid for in full by a loan of $100,000 without interest by a Virginian. The U.D.C. had restored the birth chamber and hall. Mrs. Pope Yeateman had rebuilt chimneys and was now restoring the kitchen. The Garden Clubs of Virginia had spent a large amount on the garden.

A celebration will take place May 7 and an invitation is extended to all Daughters to be present. General Cheatman's service has been secured as caretaker.

The Jefferson Davis Historical Foundation Committee of which Mrs. Flournoy is chairman asked for 17c per member for 3 years. Reports of the chapters' activities were entertaining and inspiring.

An invitation was accepted to meet at Upperville next year.

Mrs. Thornton of Manassas was appointed chairman of the committee to hasten the erection of a marker on the Jefferson Davis highway at Woodbridge.

Miss Mann asked each chapter to plant three dogwood trees in memory of our Confederate dead.

In July the 100th birthday of Col. Moseby will be celebrated at Upperville and the local chapter will place a marker near the spot where Col. Moseby took command of his soldiers. All Daughters are invited to be present and dinner will be served at a cost of fifty cents each, the proceeds to go to the Stratford fund.

The point was raised by Mrs. Hibbs and Mrs. Cary that the Daughters of the Confederacy cannot, as a body, unite with any organization in any project other than that promoting the history and interest of Confederate veterans and ladies of the sixties or Southern history. So, in the matter of joining various garden clubs in planting dogwood and other memorial trees, the work done by Daughters must be done specifically to the memory of Southern soldiers.

Each district was requested to organize at least one new chapter.

IN MEMORIAM

ALBERT SPEIDEN

Whereas, God in His infinite mercy and wisdom called from this life to a wider field of service our beloved friend and co-worker, Albert Speiden, therefore be it Resolved:

First: That Albert Speiden was ever a faithful and loyal worker in the Department.

Second: That Albert Speiden by his pleasing personality and beautiful and loyal character had greatly endeared himself to the Members of the Department.

Third: That we realize we have lost a staunch and valuable supporter: that the community has lost a courageous man marked for his dignity, his friendliness, and his unfailing willingness to serve wherever duty called him.

Fourth: That realizing how keen and deep is the cut made by the severance of such a tie and how heavy is the burden of grief, we do extend our heartfelt sympathy to all members of the family and thus giving expression of our bereavement.

Fifth: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy spread on the minutes of the Department, and a copy published in The Manassas Journal.

These Are Dinners Men Like

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Meins Food Institute

HAVE you ever noticed men selecting meals in a cafeteria or heard them ordering in a restaurant? If not, try it sometime. For the most part, they choose well-balanced meals and they invariably select substantial, time-worn menus that women often hesitate to serve because they are not new and different. Men prefer the old stand-bys well cooked and attractively, but not fussily served. They like meat and vegetables, but it is especially interesting to note men's preferences in salads and desserts. Given a free hand, nine out of ten men will choose either cold slaw or Waldorf salad (apple, nut and celery). Mayonnaise or French Dressing combined with crumbled Roquefort cheese, served on head lettuce, is another favorite with men. When it comes to dessert, pie is popular with American men and ice cream is a close second. When cakes are considered, good old time desserts such as Jelly Roll are popular. Menus suggested here are of the type that men enjoy:

Vegetable Soup (ready-to-serve)	Crackers
Escalopine of Veal*	Buttered Spinach or Broccoli
Hot Rolls	Waldorf Salad
Ice Cream	Grape Jelly
	Macaroons
	Coffee
Swiss Steak*	Sweet Potato Balls
	Genuine Dill Pickles
	Cold Slaw
	Deep Dish Apple Pie
	Coffee
Ham Roll*	Chilled Tomato Juice
	Baked Potatoes
	Creamed Cabbage or Cauliflower
	Head Lettuce with Roquefort Cheese Dressing Old Fashioned Jelly Roll

(* Indicates recipes given below.

Escalopine of Veal — Cut 1 lb. veal cutlets (1/4 inch thick) into rounds, season with salt, pepper and scraped onion, and brown in skillet. Add one 21-oz. can Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce and 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce and simmer until veal is very tender. Heap Spaghetti on a hot platter and place veal over the top.

Swiss Steak — Add salt and pepper to 1/2 cup flour and pound into 1 1/2 to 2 lbs. round steak (cut thick). Brown in a skillet with 2 tablespoons fat; then add a few chopped fine, 1 1/2 cups of boiling water and 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup. Cover closely and simmer slowly until done. This may be cooked in a casserole in the oven or in a skillet on top of stove.

Ham Roll — Mix 1 lb. cured ham, raw, and 1/2 lb. fresh pork which have been ground together twice with 2 cups Rice Flakes, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, 1 egg, and 1/2 cup milk. Pat into a loaf, sprinkle with flour and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for about 1 1/4 hours, basting with a small amount of water during the baking.

"HUMANITY," NEW FOX
PICTURE WITH FINE
CAST, COMING SOON

With a cast including Boots Mallory, Wampas Baby Star, Ralph Morgan, Alexander Kirkland, Irene Ware, Noel Madison, Christian Rub and Ferike Boros, "Humanity," comes to the Dixie Theatre next Friday, April 28. John Francis Dillon, who directed Clara Bow in "Call Her Savage," transferred the story to the screen.

The story embraces the elements of romance and sacrifice as it depicts the adventures of a young doctor who is blind to the ideals of his physician father and who follows the lure of money because of his infatuation of a luxury-loving woman.

Kirkland and Miss Mallory divide the romantic interest and Morgan enacts the role of the father who, with the girl, attempts to guide aright the faltering footsteps of the boy.

Miss Mallory's previous success was "Handle With Care" in which she shared leading honors with James Dunn. Kirkland was widely acclaimed for his recent performance in "Strange Interlude," in which Morgan also played an important role.

Miss Ware who, like Miss Mallory, came from the New York stage, made her picture debut in "Chandu The Magician" and more recently appeared with Warner Baxter in "Six Hours to Live."

CHEVROLET TAKES FORWARD STEP

To Show Assembly at World Fair.

Installation of equipment for the assembly of automobiles at "A Century of Progress Exposition" at Chicago has already been started by the Chevrolet Motor Company, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, announced.

Complete installation will be effected well in advance of the scheduled opening of the 1933 World's Fair around June 1, Mr. Knudsen said, assuring visitors that they will be able to see an automobile built up from the bare frame to the completed car.

A balcony seven feet above the assembly line, and erected in circular form so that visitors may walk completely around the line and watch every operation in the building of a modern automobile has been provided, Mr. Knudsen said.

Machinery is identical with that used in Chevrolet's eight other assembly plants except that the conventional overhead conveyers will be replaced by floor type conveyers to bring parts to the desired place along the line. Machines will be finished in silver with green trim, and will be manned by about 150 workers in white uniforms.

Production of 25 or 30 cars a day is planned. Two body types—coaches and sedans—will be built on the Master Chevrolet wheelbase. Regular inspection posts will check every operation along the line, and the cars will be driven out under their own power, tested, put through final inspection and may be purchased on the spot and driven home by their new owner.

E. L. Wright has been named manager of the assembly plant by Mr. Knudsen and is to remain in that capacity for the duration of the World's Fair. Mr. Wright has been with Chevrolet eleven years and for eight years served as manager of the assembly plant Chevrolet formerly operated at Janesville, Wis.

Mr. Wright began the installation of equipment March 20 and expects to have the line completed and ready for testing by the end of April.

Chevrolet is the only company which will operate an automobile assembly line at the Fair, Mr. Knudsen said.

ALBEMARLE TO VOTE ON CHANGE

First County in Virginia to Consider Change in Governmental System.

On May 2, Albemarle County, Va., will vote on the question of adopting one of the optional plans of county government authorized by the last session of the General Assembly. Those advocating a change claim that the county government now is distributed among approximately 50 different offices, boards and agencies, involving 90 officials, selected for office in four different ways, resulting in inefficiency, extravagance and irresponsibility. Those who are upholding the present system maintain that the new form will destroy local control and place the people in a centralized power which will be far worse than any existing evils. The contest is being hotly pushed by both factions.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs. Susie Graham Powell, who entered into eternal rest two years ago today, April 20, 1931.

What is home without a mother?
All things this world may send,
But when we lost our dear mother,
We lost our dearest friend.

The hands that did so much for me,
How helplessly they lay;
God knows they worked continuously,
But they are gone today.

Softly at night the stars are shining,
On her sad and lonely grave.
Where lies my dear mother,
Whom I loved and could not save.

She has gone where the soul has rest
And the cares of life are done,
Where the ones that loved her best
Will meet her one by one.
—Her devoted daughter,
Grace.

Few Telephone Additions Reflected In W.E.Co. Sales

Last year when additions to plant in the Bell telephone system were the lowest in ten years, the Western Electric Company's sales were approximately half of the volume in 1931 and less than for any year since 1919 when sales were $94,631,000, according to the annual report of the company made to the stockholders by Edgar S. Bloom, president.

EDGAR S. BLOOM

Sales of the company in 1932 were $117,850,000. Of this amount $112,497,000 was for supplies furnished the associated Bell telephone companies, while the remaining $5,353,000 was sales to others.

The problems of the Western Electric Company in 1932 centered in the adjustments in personnel and hours of work. In curtailing its operations, Mr. Bloom reports that the company continued its policy of spreading the work by further reducing hours and thus provided employment for an average of 8,300 people who would otherwise have been laid off. In addition, he states, it was necessary to make further reductions in the force.

In spite of these measures, along with the reduction of inventories and drastic curtailment of expenses, the business operated at a loss for the first time since the depression year of 1908.

On July 1, 1932, the maximum working week was reduced from 5 to 4½ days with corresponding reduction in remuneration; but in many departments, the time actually worked has been less than 4½ days, the report shows. Vacations with pay were granted as usual to eligible employees, and in order to further spread employment, all employees were required to take one additional week without pay.

The company has for many years made provisions for loans to employees to meet emergencies and to assist in financing homes. Under the difficult conditions of the past year, these plans have been of substantial assistance to several hundred employees. At the end of the year the company was carrying on its books 109 home loans averaging $1,281, with $4,000 as the maximum. The loans made during 1932 were largely for the refinancing of mortgages. There were outstanding also 305 personal loans averaging $94 each with a maximum of $686. Together both groups of loans totaled $168,265.

On December 31st there were in the company's employ 17,695 men and 3,575 women, a total of 21,270, of whom over 12,500 had been in the service ten years or more.
