CAPITAL CLUB WOMAN SPEAKS

Miss Sigman Gives Resume of Her Organization.

Miss Mary Sigman, one of the executive officers of the Zonta Club, of Washington, was a charming honor guest of the Manassas Kiwanis Club last week.

Except for an exchange of arms by Bob Hutchison and Win Athey, matters passed off without further incident. Bob delivered a little rebuttal on the speeches given previously in favor of government ownership, and Win gave a two-minute reply.

Today, Bob and Al Hooff and President Dick, the club sponsors, Mrs. Bob Smith and Mrs. Stewart Pattie, Ray Ratcliffe, Fred Hynson and others journeyed to visit the Washington Club.

SECOND ANNUAL POPPY DAY

Saturday, May 20, is to be the Second Annual Poppy Day sponsored by Prince William Post No. 158. A very active committee have arranged to carry on an intensive program for the sale of the American Legion Poppy. This is one of the few ways in which the local Post secures its funds to carry on its community projects. It is the hope of the Post that the necessary funds may be secured this year to equip the Junior Baseball Team and to provide the funds to carry on a regular schedule for these young boys in the community.

The committee has secured Mesdames Howard Jamison, L. Frank Pattie, Edgar Parrish, and J. L. Hynson to take charge of a junior group consisting of the Misses M. C. Pattie, Althea Hooff, Elizabeth Davies, Jane Lynn, Mary Cocke, Lucy Gibson, Louise Kincheloe, Mildred Parrish, and D. D. Lynch who will sell the poppies to the community.

A similar group has been organized in Nokesville and Haymarket.

M. H. S. SENIORS ENTERTAINED

Attractive Party Given by Miss Nina Dalton on Saturday Night for Classmates.

The members of the graduating class of Manassas High School were delightfully entertained Saturday night at a party and dance given by Miss Nina Dalton, assisted by her mother, at their home on Battle street. This was the second in the series of entertainments to be given for and in honor of the class of 1933. The class was the guests two weeks ago of Miss Nancy Lynn, when she served a breakfast for the members of her class at the Lynn home, Ben Lomond, on the Stone House road.

Miss Dalton entertained her guests with games until the serving of refreshments, which consisted of homemade ice cream, cake, candy, mints and a fruit punch. After the serving of refreshments, the floors were cleared for dancing, which continued until midnight. Among those present were the following members of the class of '33: Misses Louise Metz, Walser Conner, Elizabeth Hibbs, Nancy Lynn, Meaker Burke, Esther Rollins and Florence Raymore, James Knox, Arthur Carter, Keith Lyons, Edward Smith, Murray Bradshaw, Burton Lyons, Martin Wetherall, Wilson Kite and Robert Leith. Misses Lulu Metz, Nancy Waters and Veta Draper of the high school faculty attended. FLAG CONTEST WINNERS

The winning papers of the American Flag contest, consisting of one paper from each of the four county high schools, have been forwarded to the State Headquarters of the American Legion at Richmond for the final decision of the judges.

Commander Carpenter, who has taken a very active part in putting the material before the boys and girls of the high schools, is very much pleased with the amount of interest shown. Superintendent Haydon reported that nearly 800 boys and girls took the examinations. At Occoquan High School 110 students took the examination, which represents 100 per cent of the enrollment. It is the hope of Prince William Post that the selection of the best paper will be known before the close of the school year in order that the winning student shall have proper recognition for his effort.

Burkhardt, director young people's work, International Council of Religious Education; Rev. M. E. Sadler, president, Virginia Council of Religious Education, and Rev. W. Talliferro Thompson, professor of religious education, Union Theological Seminary.

MUSSEL SHOALS BILL SIGNED

Norris Amendment Will Permit Investigation.

President Roosevelt has signed the bill creating the Tennessee Valley Authority. The great Mussel Shoals project has last overcome the powerful lobby that has worked so energetically against government operation of the big generators built during the World War as a part of the national defense program.

In connection with the Roosevelt Reforestation and Flood Control project, the great Tennessee Valley will become one of the vital industrial centers of the world, where factory workers will enjoy wholesome living conditions away from the crowded environment which now surrounds the manufacturing institutions. Plans will be worked out to develop the Tennessee Valley in an orderly and economical fashion and the mighty power resources of the project will pay the bill.

Great opposition developed against enactment of the present law, but in the end the Administration carried the measure by overwhelming force, and secured authority from Congress to have an investigation of irregularities that have gone on during the past in the leasing of government power to private companies in Alabama. The Secretary of the Interior has declined to state the nature of these irregularities, but is believed that there will be disclosures which will reveal why certain interests have fought the Tennessee Valley Authority so bitterly.

A most delightful program was presented by the pupils of the Temple School on Tuesday evening, May 16, under the direction of Mrs. M. M. Ellis.

The auditorium was artistically lighted and decorated with ferns and flowers making a pleasing picture.

All the numbers received enthusiastic applause, especially those by the rhythm orchestra, and the song cycle, Spring. The children individually and as a group were much complimented by their splendid performance. Their poise, so unusual in young pupils, gave evidence of the careful training and ability of their instructors.

A number of out-of-town guests were present, among them a musician who gave a favorable criticism of the work.

Manassas should be proud that it has a school that can produce such gratifying results.

Henry Ford
 Dearborn, Mich.

May 9, 1933

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years—1929 to 1932—we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward—through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method—new political and financial machinery—to pull us out the way we are going—forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only—the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

FIRST FILM "BIT" BRINGS RADIO STARR BIG ROLE

Kate Smith's first starring motion picture, "Hello, Everybody," a story written especially for her by Fannie Hurst, has been booked for the Dixie Theatre, where it will open next Monday.

The "Songbird of the South," one of radio's first ladies, was signed for the picture after audiences throughout the country, who applauded her work in "The Big Broadcast," in which she made an appearance with 14 other radio stars, set up a clamor for more of her. Attentive theatre managers throughout the country, their ears cocked to patron's demands, communicated the intelligence to Hollywood, and Hollywood was quick to act.

Miss Smith is the central character in a simple, touching story. As leader of a group of farmers whose property is threatened by a power company which insists on destroying their lands to make way for a great water project she abandons her own homestead to go East and make a name for herself on the radio, in an effort to raise funds with which to battle the case in court.

Sam Coslow and Arthur Johnston wrote four new songs especially for Miss Smith's use in the picture. They are "Moon Song," "Pickaninnies' Heaven," "Out in the Great Open Spaces," and "Twenty Million People."

IN MEMORIAM

Whereas Our Heavenly Father has called to a higher service our beloved brother, Albert Speiden, we pause to pay this, our tribute to his value, as a citizen, as a friend and as a valuable member of our Board of Deacons.

He was always ready to lend a helping hand to every move for the advancement of the church he loved so well.

His service was given so joyously to his fellowmen. We, the Board of Deacons, will miss our brother, will miss his magnetic presence and will miss his good judgment and advice when we come to consider the affairs of our church.

Therefore, be it resolved: That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in the loss of a loving husband and an indulgent father. That a copy of this resolution be read upon the minutes of the Church Record, a copy be sent to his family and a copy published in The Manassas Journal.

Respectfully submitted,
THE BOARD OF DEACONS,
Manassas Baptist Church.

WAGES IN NORTH LOWER THAN IN SOUTH

A charge that hosiery mill wages in the Reading and rural Pennsylvania areas are lower than in southern communities where hose manufacturing is a principal industry is made by E. F. Callaghan, a representative of the American Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers, in a statement issued at Philadelphia and a report of which was received.

The declaration by the union representative was called forth by the published statement attributed last week to Henry Janseen, head of the Textile Machine Works and an official of the Berkshire Knitting mills, at Reading, who was reported as saying that proposed federal legislation for a shorter work week, would not, in his opinion, protect northern manufacturers from severe competition in the south.—Exchange.

Take a look at the price-tag on a Chevrolet—and you'll probably look at it again, to make sure.

$445? Yes—you were right the first time. $445! It seems almost too good to be true! A car as big and substantial and solidly built as this new Chevrolet! A Fisher Body car, too—with No Draft Ventilation and every other comfort and convenience that goes with the Fisher name. And a billion-mile-proved six—that performs better and stands up better and wears better than any other low-priced car you ever saw! All for one of the lowest motor car prices in the world.

CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICH.
Prices range from $445 to $565, f. o. b. Flint, Mich. Special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and easy G.M.A.C. terms. A General Motors Value.

SAVE WITH A NEW CHEVROLET

"A Fisher body! Fisher Ventilation! Safety plate glass. A valve-in-head six! And look at the price: $445!"

"Well, well! No wonder business is so good with Chevrolet!"

PEACE WITH ALL MEN.—
Following peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.—
Hebrews 12:14.

INTERNATIONAL GOOD-WILL

In a direct message to fifty-four nations Tuesday, President Roosevelt placed squarely before the world the essential agreement necessary to restore international confidence and economic recovery.

No message like this one has ever been addressed directly to the heads of all recognized nations and the results are bound to be felt.

The masses of humanity throughout the world will never forget the sincere effort now being made in their behalf by the great humanitarian in the White House, and they will fervently pray that the "New Deal" may spread its benign mantle across both oceans and into the heart of international discord.

AGRICULTURAL RELIEF

The complexity of national farm relief is so great that the average farmer scarcely knows where to turn for advice. So many agencies have been established, some to be discontinued and others still carrying on, that many would appreciate a word as to how farm relief may be sought.

We are indebted to the Peoples National Bank of Manassas for the following information, sent them by the Office of Information of the Department of Agriculture:

The Farm Relief Bill has three sections or titles:
1. Agricultural Adjustment, which deals with control of crop production and marketing. The local county agent can advise on this section of the law.
2. Agricultural Credits. This section deals with farm mar-

3. Monetary Control. The important section chiefly concerns Treasury Department regulation of the amount and value of money in circulation.

"I'LL CALL YOU UP"

A husband bids his wife goodbye as he leaves in the morning. "I'll call you up," he says reassuringly. A guest leaves after a pleasant week-end. "I'll call you up," she tells her hostess. An executive sits at his desk handling varied business matters, large and small. "I'll call you up," he answers many times a day.

"I'll call you up" is a phrase that has become part of our language and part of our modern security. Beneath the surface meaning of the words is something more than a casual promise to maintain contact. It is a phrase of confidence and a phrase of friendship. Implied in it is a nearness to everything and everybody.

The familiar gesture of lifting the telephone receiver holds boundless possibilities. It may avert a danger, end an anxiety, solve a dilemma, insure an order. Or it may be for some trivial pleasant purpose—a jest to be shared, a greeting to be spoken, a direction to be given.

Over the telephone speed the thoughts and ideas that change destiny, bring new hope to the faltering and greater achievement and any other walk of life if ment to the ambitious. Over the telephone come the "Yes" and "No," the "I'll be there" and the "Come at once" that signify decision and create action.

Think what this world would be like if you could not telephone so easily to so many people. No friend nor place is far away when you can say—"I'll call you up!"

This little editorial, copied from the "C. & P. Call," is full of human interest. Just what would we do in business, social, we could not "call you up"? Rural life has been changed for the farm women by the telephone. Isolated by hourly demands that keep them at home and surrounded weeks in the year by bad roads, they gossip shop and relieve their anxiety about the children at school or the old man in town on business and late for milking time by "calling up." And when they do have a moment to relax, just don't they "listen in"? And having heard, they verify by "calling up."

MERCHANTS, BE CAREFUL

When easy money ceased flowing some months back and even the most gullible had no funds to give the gushing oil stock salesman as he rotated from one community to another, gentlemen of this ilk began to look around for more suckers.

One proposition that has been used and re-used, sometimes by bona-fide promoters who always help themselves to a generous portion of the profits, is the special sale whoopee.

The average crossroads merchant is not educated to high pressure salesmanship any more than he is to advertising. He is an easy prospect to either a legitimate promoter or a straight faker who rushes in a lot of shoddy stock and unloads it on the merchant's reliable trade. This chap is the same class with the advertising promoter who tricks an unsuspecting rural newspaper man into allowing him to get up special "write-up" pages, wherein the most ridiculous promises are made and a wealth of ill will left to the unfortunate editor after the spoils have been reaped and the vulture flown.

It's simply something new that will wear itself out. Advertising and selling is legitimate and there is but one real way to do it.

Money handed to an outside promoter is worse than spending it with a mail-order house; for the mail-order house may be held while in the other case the unfortunate local merchant may be left holding the bag.

Advertising, like every other profitable aid to business, should be studied and projected along the most successful lines. And like every other valuable promotion, is best exploited along stable, reliable lines.—Exchange.

WHY SHOULD I WEAR A POPPY?

Why should I wear a poppy, What does it mean to me, What care I for a little red flower That grew far over the sea?

Ah! But my heart shall answer, Throbbing with memory, Those gave their all who are lying Neath the poppies over the sea.

Those gave their all who are lying In hospital beds, busily Fashioning bright red poppies Like those poppies from over the sea.

Why should I wear a poppy? Ah! Poor unworthy me, How may I ever deserve to wear A poppy from over the sea? —Alma H. Walker.

TO MARK GRAVE OF DANIEL COLVIN

Mrs. William Lamb, of Manassas, accompanied by her brother, Mr. Wharton, visited friends in Culpeper the first of the week. Mrs. Lamb, who is a lineal descendant of Daniel Colvin, Revolutionary soldier of Culpeper County and a genealogist of note, has been invited to give a sketch of the life and services of her ancestor on the occasion of the marking of his grave by the Culpeper Minute Men Chapter, D. A. R., which will take place in the early summer. This grave is in a family burying ground on the farm which was the home of Daniel Colvin and is still owned by a descendant, "Bud" Colvin, who is well known in this county. W. D. Colvin, Confederate veteran of this county, is a great-grandson of Daniel Colvin. Among other Curpeper descendants are Mrs. Susan Guinn, C. T. Guinn, clerk of the circuit court, Herndon Guinn, and many others.—The Virginia Star.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE MANASSAS MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

At a regular meeting of the Manassas Ministerial Association Thursday, May 18, 1933, resolutions were read and adopted as follows:

Whereas, the spirit of Rev. W. A. Hall, our dear friend and comrade in the ministry, has slipped away into the bright morning land of peace and rest, and

Whereas, upon this dispensation of Providence our hearts go out in sympathy to his widow and son, the members of his congregation, and his many friends, and

Whereas, we desire to express our high esteem and affection for him as a good man, a true friend, and a sincere, Christian gentleman.

Now, therefore, be it resolved: That to Mrs. Hall and son we express our deepest sympathy and affection in this their hour of trial and bereavement.

That we shall ever regard with appreciation the pleasure and privilege it has been to be associated with Brother Hall in the ministry of the Gospel in Manassas.

That we desire to place on record our high estimate of his kindly and loving friendship, his manly devotion to duty, and his Christian service in this community. Even as the mountains stand round about Jerusalem so this faithful minister stood watching and waiting for the appearance of that One at whose second coming the earth and the sea shall give up their dead, and the corruptible bodies of those who sleep in Him shall be changed and made like unto His own glorious body, and while we, his frail brethren, know only in part, we have faith to believe that when Christ shall appear, this gentle sweet spirited minister, our brother, shall stand to receive everlasting life at the hands of the Master. Even so, Lord, may it be.

"Is not e'en death gain to those Whose life to God was given? Gladly to earth their eyes they close To open them in heaven.

Their toils are past, their work is done, And they are fully blest, They fought the fight, the victory won, And entered into rest."

STUART GIBSON, C. P. RYLAND, W. M. COMPTON, Committee.

BADLY CUT

Joseph Papa, five-year-old son of Mike Papa, of East Center street, was cut so badly on Tuesday afternoon that it was necessary for Dr. Williams to take four stitches in his mouth and chin.

The lad, his brother Frank, and another youngster were playing in the rear of his home when a piece of glass thrown by Frank from a shed roof struck Frank in the left corner of his mouth.

"THE CONQUERORS" MAKES FAMOUS MEN LIVE AGAIN

Bringing back to perpetuity the words that once thrilled the civilized world, RKO-Radio has reproduced the actual voice of Woodrow Wilson for the living public.

To do this the studio technicians are re-recording a phonograph record made by the great war-time president several years before his death, and inserted it in the spectacular modification "The Conquerors."

On the screen the great man is shown in a motion picture study made on the occasion of his last public appearance. His lips move, and from them issue the academic phrases which changed the political structure of the world.

This novel bringing back to life of a voice long stilled by death, the same voice that talked to the assembled nations at Versailles and pleaded for "peace without victory," is utilized in a dramatic sequence of "The Conquerors."

The film co-stars Richard Dix and Ann Harding in a drama embracing four significant epochs in American history, and the lost Wilson voice vitalizes a stirring phase of postwar unrest.

The problem of reproducing Woodrow Wilson's own words, one that had baffled Director William, when Elizabeth McGaffney, head of the studio research department, suggested telegraphing the Victor Talking Machine Co. at Camden, N. J., as to whether the war-time President had made phonograph records.

The reply revealed that the Victor concern had two excellent doubleface records of Woodrow Wilson's political addresses, made when he successfully ran for re-election in 1916. Record number 35262-A in his "Address to the Farmers," 35252-B in his "Democratic Principles," 35253-A is his speech on "The Tariff." 35253-B is his address on "Labor."

A portion of one of these was 'processed' into "The Conquerors," the sensitive condenser microphone picking up certain parts of Wilson's speech and transferring it to sound film.

IF Baby Chicks Could Talk

They would express a preference for a balanced mash — a mash containing finely-ground alfalfa leaves so full of necessary vitamins; they would want pure cod liver oil to make their bones strong and prevent rickets; and semi-solid buttermilk to aid digestion and stimulate the appetite. They would prefer flake oatmeal as pure as that you serve on your own table, and above all, they would want all the ingredients to be fresh and wholesome — not a stale mixture shipped in from somewhere out West.

Since your Baby Chicks can't talk, let us suggest that

be kept before them at all times, and they will spend their time turning your investment into dividends, rather than in analyzing their feed.

CATHARPIN

Well as we "go to press" on this Monday morning the weather is fine and clear and the radio man says we may have some fair sailing for a bit; just how long it is going to last you will have to calculate for yourself when you read this.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Pattie of Falls Church and Mrs. Gussie Lynn Webb of Washington took Mother's Day dinner with Mrs. Etta P. Lynn on Sunday. It might not be out of place to state that Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn and "family" also partook of the same being accessories both before, after and especially during the fact and were thus qualified by both relationship and otherwise to participate in all its "fulness."

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Brower, jr., of Purcellville together with their twins, "Bob and Bill," called upon their many friends in the Catharpin neighborhood on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hoffman of Clarendon were visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity on Saturday of last week.

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club met with Mrs. L. L. Lynn on Friday of last week and spent the day quilting. When the noon hour arrived the guests were treated to a roast beef dinner. Now if any one should ask you, you might just tell them that if any hostess wanted to do something that would be appreciated more than anything else why, just give them roast beef and gravy. As a rule, we, of the "country cousin type," are so fed up on chicken, turkey, pork in all its ramifications and even guinea that when one gets a chance to regale himself on roast beef he is apt to disgrace his whole connection; so in order to save the reputation of your fellow members and some of the rest of us as well, just sell his chancier highness once in a while and buy roast beef.

A number of Catharpin's young high school students joined their teacher, Mrs. Mead and class on Saturday for a sight-seeing trip to Washington where they visited many places of interest. These trips are always wonderfully informative and delightful.

Dr. and Mrs. Hagner and Mr. Stokes of Washington were visitors at Lawn Vale, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson, on Sunday.

What is generally conceded to be one of the finest and sweetest little affairs ever put on at Sudley was the impromptu program given by Miss Lida Sowers and her Sunday school class of girls and boys on Mother's Day. The teacher and class brought huge baskets of irises which together with other flowers were assembled into beautiful clusters ready for presentation. During the assembly march, these children were seated upon the platform while the mothers were seated immediately in front facing them. This of itself had a beautiful tableau effect composed as it was of mothers, children and flowers; what more could one ask? After various remarks incident to such occasions the children arose and presented each mother with a beautiful floral tribute of the day. After all mothers present had received this token of love and affection, representatives of all other mothers in the neighborhood were called for and flowers sent to them. The whole program occupied probably not more than 15 minutes yet we doubt if there is anything else in all the world that could excite so much filial love, respect and veneration as just such scenes as this. The whole was followed by a very forceful and impressive discourse by the pastor on Parenthood and Its Responsibilities.
