MRS. HOLMES ANNOUNCES

First Woman to Run for Office in This County.

A bit of interesting news that gives a new fillip to politics in our community is the announcement in this issue of Mrs. Nelle Hyde Holmes' candidacy for the House of Delegates, subject to the August primary, to represent Prince William and Stafford Counties. Mrs. Holmes is the wife of Stanley S. Holmes, well-known young business man also of this community.

Marking the beginning of a new era is the ever-increasing trend of feminine interest in national affairs, and confidence in the capabilities of women is exemplified in the appointment of a woman by the President to one of the most important posts in his Cabinet.

Mrs. Holmes is a native of Prince William County, having been born near Bristow, and with the exception of a few months has been a continuous resident of this county. She was an honor graduate of Manassas High School in 1922, and shortly afterward was employed by the Manassas Milling Corporation for a period of six years, first in a secretarial and later a promotional capacity, in charge of advertising and sales.

While young enough to put her customary pep and enthusiastic effort into anything she undertakes, Mrs. Holmes' varied experience and responsibility will, on the other hand, enable her to weigh with clear thinking, and decide with judgment anything that may affect the interests of her potential constituents.

HAYMARKET HIGH WINS FLAG AWARD

Della Beach Winner of Silver Medal Given by Prince William Post No. 158.

Haymarket High School was awarded a large American flag, the prize offered by Prince William Post No. 158 of the American Legion, given to the high school handing in the best paper to the judges in the American Flag contest.

Miss Della Beach, whose paper represented Haymarket High School, was awarded a handsome silver medal as the individual paper that ranked highest in the opinion of the judges.

In presenting the flag and medal, Commander Carpenter explained the American Legion's interest in education in part by the following words: "Proper education builds character and ideals which are the first requisites of good citizenship. The American Legion is deeply and vitally interested in the making of loyal Americans and is very conscious of the fact that the schools of our country must bear the burden of starting our young people on the right road. It is the ambition of the American Legion, whenever possible, to co-operate in any way to advance the work of our schools and to bring about the appreciation of our citizens for the sincerity of purpose which our teachers give to their work. Their pay in that of finest of all satisfactions—consciousness of a task well performed. In addition to that, however, our people can help repay them in part by united co-operation in advancing their objectives."

The papers offered by Miss Jane Lynn of Manassas, Miss Nellie Hinton of Occoquan, and Miss Hazel H. Owens of Nokesville received honorable mention.

BARLEY GROWERS TO MEET

All farmers interested in the growing of barley are urged to attend the barley field meeting at Clover Hill, the farm of Johnson Bros., on the Blands Ford road, just outside of Manassas, Saturday afternoon, June 3, at 2 o'clock.

Tests with about twenty-five different varieties of barley are being carried on there to determine varieties best adapted and most resistant to smut and disease in this section.

J. W. Taylor, of the Department of Agriculture, will be present to explain the work and demonstrate the actual results to be seen from the barley now standing in the field.

W.C.T.U. GOLD AND SILVER OFFERINGS DUE BY JUNE 3

Those who have received the envelopes for their old gold and silver offerings to the W.C.T.U. fund, please send them to the president by the third of June if possible.

THE BIG DRIVE

The local post, American Legion, will sponsor a war picture at the Dixie Theatre, on June 12 and 13, afternoon and evening, at popular prices, which gives an authentic view of "The Big Drive," not before available to the public. This official government film comes from the secret archives of the warring nations, on both sides. The boys of the local post, American Legion, have shown much enterprise in bringing this great picture to Manassas and they deserve a big attendance. Further announcement and advertisement of the great picture will appear in The Journal next week.

STATE GAME MAN TO VISIT COUNTY

To Address Meeting at Nokesville.

M. M. Ellis, president of the Prince William Game Association, is in receipt of a letter from Judge William Snow, of Alexandria, member of the State Game Commission, that he expects to be able to attend the meeting of the local sports group at Nokesville on June 13.

Judge Snow is known all over northern Virginia as a real bona fide sportsman, and if he attends he will be able to give a good talk on the conservation work now being done in the State.

Mr. Ellis is anxious to have a good turnout, and urges everyone interested to attend whether he be a member or not. Prince William has the largest group of members of any northern Virginia county.

COMMENCEMENT AT MANASSAS

Class Night

The graduates of Manassas High started their activities last week with a lovely party at Miss Eugenia's.

On Thursday evening, the auditorium stage was turned into an impromptu barn floor, with plenty of hay, and the grads dressed like farmers and farmerettes.

There was an unusual number of cunning stunts, principally that of Robert Leith and Meaker Burke who subbed for Miss Lula Metz and Miss Eugenia in the hereafter, and told what their class mates will be doing. It was a fitting close to an excellent program.

Burton and Arthur put on a nice cross between a clog and a tap dance, with all the trimmings, and then the same two with Martin Wetherall to aid, sang "Happy Days." Arthur was the orchestra.

The rest of the program involved the usual class history, class will, class poem, class gift, etc. The evening closed with the singing of the school and class songs.

Alumni Banquet

On Saturday evening the pre-finished grads assembled on the event of the sailing of the good ship Alumni which was anchored in the west end of the Grace church basement.

The alumni first elected the following officers for next year: William Lloyd, president; Lucy Arrington, vice-president; Ned Bradshaw, treasurer; Marion Wells, secretary. (Marion got into action right away, keeping the notes of the meeting on a piece of paste board box.)

After this the grads marched in while Mrs. Bob Smith played a lively march.

Then everybody proceeded to anchor down with a fine meal put up by the Methodist ladies. Incidentally, the absence of Rev. Joe Gulick, of '05, was regrettably noted and OD said the blessing.

This made it necessary also for friend Wheatley Johnson to call in feminine aid in order to give his accustomed class yell.

About three and three quarter bells, Hawes Davies pulled up the big black anchor after Captain Holt Merchant had directed Skipper Virginia Conner to start the cruise. Barnacle Bill (Charmie Sinclair) and the would-be charmer, (Stewart Pattie) sang and acted a duet. Both looked real cute.

The cruise to no-where brought several surprises. Captain Merchant pretty near went round the class before he could get a transverse section of a boat inscribed on the handy blackboard.

Everyone shuddered and roared when three dainty little ladies (Meaker Burke, Nancy Lynn and Nina Dalton) untied regular sailor's knots with their teeth and one hand. They all finished in a dead heat.

With eyes tightly bound the crew (Ned Bradford and Hawes Davies) escorted three unfortunate castaways to the edge of the ship and made them walk the plank. (Walser Conner, Louise Hibbs, Elizabeth Hibbs.) The jump they made into the briny deep was quite tense.

Walser Conner was responsible for the derelicts (Class of '33) being taken aboard for after her pretty appeal to the Alumni, Ann Bradford advised their acceptance in another sweet little address.

When the Skipper brought the ship home, the anchor was ruled worthless and handed over to Walser.

With a 15-second pause of silence for the departed alumni, a human chain was formed which is one of the touching customs of these occasions and the group dispersed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached on Sunday evening at Grace M. E. Church, the Rev. J. J. Rives, of Emory Church, M. E. South, of Washington officiating.

The sermon was of unusual interest. Dr. Rives stressed the importance of the spiritual and intellectual life of man, and emphasized the fact that it is through education alone that we can enter into the rich cultural and artistic life of the world.

Graduation

On Monday evening came the final clause in the chapter of graduation—the presentation of the diplomas.

With the stage well filled with a splendid representation of young manhood and womanhood of Prince William, an adoring throng of relatives and sweethearts gathered to see the crowning glory of high school life. Rev. A. S. Gibson, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, gave the invocation. This was followed shortly by Walser Conner, the class president, who greeted the audience.

With Miss Waters at the piano, the student body sang.

Burton Lyons read a well-known poem (The House by the Side of the Road).

Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, an active worker in the local school league, spoke on the value of school and community league work, citing figures as shown in the local league.

With Miss Spiden at the piano, Mrs. Robert Logan sang a solo.

An address then followed by Dr. Augustus Thomas, of the World Education Federation. It was really one of the best talks ever presented to a class of young folks in these parts. Skill, the value of education, training, the nature of the times were some of the highwater marks in his talk which was directed right at the members of the class and there was little of it which they did not take in.

The speaker stressed the fact that our system of public education first envisioned by the great Virginian, Thomas Jefferson, is along with religion, our only lasting safeguard against crime and social corruption. (Please turn to page 8)

JUDGE SMITH TO SPEAK

The memorial exercises will be held in the auditorium of the high school, Saturday, June 3, at 3 p.m. Hon. Howard Worth Smith will make the address.

FLOWER AWARDS AT HAYMARKET

The second annual flower show of the garden section of the Woman's Club at Haymarket was held on Monday afternoon, May 29, in the club room at Haymarket. In spite of the adverse weather conditions, there was a large number of beautiful exhibits. The judges were Miss Isabel Boswell of The Plains, Miss Jennie Ewell of Hickory Grove and Mrs. Grayson Tyler of Haymarket.

The following ribbons were awarded:

Mrs. Charles Gillis, 2 blue ribbons on roses, 2 white ribbons on iris; Mrs. Roland, 3 blue on white rose, delphinium and foxglove; Mrs. Newton Kerr, 5 white on pansies, foxglove, table decoration, roses, snapdragons; Mrs. John Carter, 2 blue and 1 white; Mrs. Albert Rust, 1 blue on peonies; Miss Nancy Rust, 1 blue on ragged robins; Miss Janet Low, 1 blue on climbing American beauty rose; Miss Anita Shumate, 1 white ribbon; Mrs. Wade C. Payne, 2 blue on lilies and pinks, 1 white on sweet William; Miss Edith Melton, 1 blue on iris, 1 white on iris.

Mrs. W. M. Jordan, climbing meteor rose; Mrs. Howard Butler, 3 blues on sweet William, miscellaneous collection and basket of iris; Mrs. Green, basket of iris; wild flower collection, blue—Miss Sara McDermont, white—Miss Maphie Welsh; Rev. W. F. Carpenter, 1 blue on bowl of peonies, 1 white on climbing roses; Mrs. Peters, 1 blue on white rose; Miss Peters, 1 blue on sweetheart roses; Mrs. Harrell, one white.

Mrs. Hall and Miss Williamson, 9 blue on named and unnamed variety iris, white peony, pink peonies, table decoration, talisman rose, oriental poppy, 4 white on garden pinks, delphinium, and named and unnamed iris.

A ribbon was given for the best single flower in the show and was awarded a white peony entered by Mrs. Hall and Miss Williamson.

Refreshments were served on the lawn during the afternoon, to the large number of guests who came to see this lovely collection.

Thanks are given to Mrs. Charles Gillis, chairman of the garden section.

MUSICALE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs. Leachman Is Assisted by Miss Ratcliffe.

A musicale will be given at the Manassas High School tonight at 8 p.m. by the pupils of Mrs. Beatrice L. Leachman, assisted by Miss Rose Ratcliffe. Those taking part in the program also include Billy Hale, Genevieve Garman, Jane Law, Frances Hale, Celestine McLearn, Dorcas Leachman, Jack Leachman, Molly Leachman, Billy Hedrick, Virginia Boley, Marian Cooper, Thelma Moore, Virginia Bradshaw, Edna Armstrong and Jeanne Janney.

W.C.T.U. MEETS WITH MRS. LEDMAN

A Mother's Day program was carried out at the May meeting of the W.C.T.U. at the home of Mrs. Ledman.

Prov. 33 was the appropriate chapter read, and roll call was responded to by many beautiful sentiments honoring our mothers.

"Mother Best," "The Road That Leads Back Home," "The Life of a Good Mother," "The Quiet Hour," "You Are The Best Mother" were among the articles read. Songs and solos were all suited to the Mother's Day program.

The June meeting will be held with Mrs. C. J. Meetze at her home on West street.

HON. GEO. W. HERRING ANNOUNCES

Hon. Geo. W. Herring of Woodbridge, present delegate for Prince William and Stafford, announces his candidacy to succeed himself. Mr. Herring has a number of friends in both counties who will do their best to re-elect him.

STRIKES AT POWER TRUSTS

Smith Builds Speech Around This Factor.

In his speech Tuesday at the Owl's picnic near Richmond, W. W. Smith made his main attack on Judge Peery's alleged sympathetic attitude toward the trusts.

Stock watering is illustrated in these remarks, taken verbatim from his speech:

"The Appalachian Electric Power Company closed its books one night and when they opened their books the next morning they had pumped into that corporation $66,418,192.80 worth of water, on which additional $66,418,192.80 they are permitted to earn the amount fixed by law just like they would have been permitted to do had they pumped $66,000,000.00 dollars of gold into that company."

"Here is what Senator Norris, from Nebraska, had to say on this subject:

"Mr. President, what do you imagine is the total of the write-ups? How much water, how much air, have these financial jugglers changed into gold upon which they are taxing the American consumers of electricity? How much do you think, sir, it amounts to up to date, with the investigation probably not more than half finished? Here is the grand total of the sums I have just read: $925,985,795.26."

"Just try to comprehend what that means. With the investigation only partially finished the Federal Trade Commission have disclosed write-ups in round numbers to the amount of $925,000,000.00, upon which the poor people, the common people, must pay a profit for all time—not for a day, not for a year, but, unless some change is made by the proper authorities, it must be paid forever. Our people are thus burdened down with $925,000,000.00 of water upon which we will make them pay through all their long tedious lives an income that will keep in luxury these financial vultures who are thus trespassing upon the rights of their fellow men. Who is going to stand for it? Where is there a representative of the Government of the United States who will say that we should permit this to go on? Yet, when we tax them they have influence enough to control the Congress of the United States to take the tax off of themselves and have it put on the poor devil who is already overburdened."

"As I showed yesterday in the beginning, all this investigation would have stopped if President Hoover had his way. He is opposed to it all. His own budget would have cut the Federal Trade Commission off without a dollar to continue this work in behalf of the people. I wonder how long a suffering country is going to stand that kind of treatment? Are we helpless? Is there any way under heaven by which this downtrodden people can be rescued from this great octopus that is hanging about the neck of the Government of the United States? Nine hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars of air for which we are paying, and then we are afraid to tax them."

"On Page 19 of the Congressional Record he said this:

"They never forget anything. While they are changing water into gold they are not forgetting about politicians in school districts, in legislatures, in senatorial campaigns, in presidential campaigns. They have their men ready to write a platform from prohibition to declaration of war to suit any convention that wants to use it if they can keep out of that convention platform anything that might hurt them."

FIRE DEPARTMENT VS. LEGION

American Legion Post No. 158 and the Manassas Fire Department will lay baseball on the Swavely diamond on June 14. From the amount of practicing going on, a good game is in prospect. The fire department boys are practicing every Monday and Wednesday at 6 p.m.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 22, 1933

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself.

The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery.

There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users. We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience. We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

ON SALE FRIDAY, JUNE 2nd
A CHALLENGE TO ALL GASOLINES!

Essolene

Only the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey dares challenge with a new motor fuel that

Guarantees
SMOOTHER PERFORMANCE

AT REGULAR GASOLINE PRICE

IN ANNOUNCING ESSOLENE, on sale June 2nd, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey issues this challenge and makes this guarantee of smoother performance with a full understanding of the importance of such a statement by this company • The public is accustomed to fantastic and exaggerated claims in gasoline advertising. It has heard of so many "Super" gasolines—seen so many words piled upon words about "anti-knock" properties, "mileage," "quick-starting," etc., that all such descriptions have, quite properly, come to mean nothing • As leader of the industry the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey recognizes a double responsibility to the public • First, the responsibility of more than half a century's standing of pioneering in improvements and new developments, at however great expense • Second, that of putting out over its name no product until that product has proved its worth, and the validity of every statement made about it • Such is the position we take about Essolene. We stand squarely behind it as a great motor fuel improvement • Automobile engines have improved rapidly in the last few years. Gasoline improvement has not kept pace. Essolene was developed with present motor problems and future motor trends in mind. The result is a fuel in advance of the times, basically superior to all regular priced and, with few exceptions, all premium priced gasolines • Try Essolene. Get it at any Esso Station. Compare it, in any car, with the performance of any gasoline you have ever used. Essolene will speak for itself. You can supply the superlatives.

CLIFTON

Rev. Donovan, pastor of the Episcopal church at Fairfax, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Clifton High School last Sunday night in the Baptist church. Commencement exercises will be held Friday night in the Baptist church.

Funeral services for Mr. Samuel H. Detwiler were conducted by Rev. H. J. Beagin at his home last Thursday. Mr. Detwiler will be greatly missed by his many friends both and young in this community where he has lived for so many years.

Mrs. Hattie Stall of Washington is visiting Mrs. Nannie Detwiler.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Locknane of Washington were the guests on Decoration Day of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ayre.

Mr. and Mrs. John Collins of Washington and little daughter, Betty Lou, were the guests last Sunday of Mrs. Annie Ford.

Miss Edna Ayres of Accotink, Va., is visiting her sister, Miss Viola Ayres, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Kincheloe.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hefflin, Mrs. Cora Cassaday and Mrs. Suddath of Washington were Clifton visitors last week.

Mrs. Eva Davis, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis of Washington, were Clifton visitors last Thursday.

Mrs. Wallace Woodyard of Washington was the overnight guest of Mrs. Nannie Detwiler last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Davis and daughter, Hortense, entertained the school faculty at bridge on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Croson and Mrs. S. M. Moody of Maryland were guests of Mrs. C. L. Cross on Friday of last week.

There are eighteen pupils in the 1933 graduating class of Clifton High School. Miss Ellen Rebecca Myers is valedictorian and Miss Ruth Louise Koontz salutatorian.

Miss Virginia N. Speiden will present her pupils in a recital at the Baptist church in Clifton on Thursday, June 8, at 8 p.m. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.

WILLIAM HOWARD JEFFRIES

Mr. William Howard Jeffries, a resident of this city for a period of 10 or 12 years, died Friday afternoon, May 19, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Lawson, after an illness of three weeks. Although he had been in bad health for several years it was not until April 24 that he was confined to his bed.

Mr. Jeffries was born in this county on January 1, 1880 and, until about 12 years ago, made his home at Haymarket and Catharpin, Va. He moved to this city and accepted a position as town sergeant, working steadily until his health caused him to resign several years ago.

He will be greatly missed by his many friends and will be remembered by all who knew him as a true and honest citizen. He is survived by his wife and three children, Mrs. F. C. Gordon, of Clarendon, Va.; Mrs. C. E. Lawson, of Manassas, and Albert Jeffries, of Clarendon, and one sister, Mrs. John Gill of Alexandria, Va.

MOTION PICTURES TO BE GIVEN BY BULL RUN GRANGE

A program of agricultural motion pictures is being arranged by the Bull Run Grange for Friday evening, June 9, at 8 o'clock, at the Haymarket parish hall. The films to be shown are as follows:

"Sheep Production," made at Buckland Hall."

"Lamb and Mutton for Home Use," showing the dressing and preparing of lamb and mutton for use on the farm.

"She's Wild," cowboys on the range with "Broncho Busting," roping and tying and other exhibitions of horsemanship.

"A Tale of Two Bulls," an animated cartoon dealing with advantages of using better sires.

"The Corn Belt Derby," showing the evolution of corn husking in the United States, including an interstate husking contest.

"Bees—How They Live and Work," showing how the bees gather nectar and transform it into honey.

"The Barnyard Underworld."

DUMFRIES

Miss Clark made a splendid talk to the graduating class of Dumfries School Thursday night, May 26.

The school presented Miss Clark with two beautiful and useful gifts for her new home after June. We shall miss her in school work but wish her much happiness.

Miss Weatherman and Miss Scott left Saturday via Richmond for their home. Miss Via left Saturday also for her home in Philpat, Va.

The children are shouting with glee over the prospect of a summer vacation. The old swimming holes have been hunted out and great is the joy.

The rain kept many from visiting the old cemetery Tuesday.

Mrs. Netta Speake continues to improve slowly. Mrs. E. Davis is still with her.

Invitations have been received in town for the early wedding of Mr. Leon Waters. We wish Leon success in this venture.

Mrs. M. L. Garrison had visitors from Washington over Sunday.

The young people of the church group are planning on an open air meeting with picnic supper on the rocks soon.

Mrs. Arthur Lovelace was in town this week.

Sgt. and Mrs. Carlton Cole entertained guests from the Post and State Teachers College, Fredericksburg, Sunday.

Services at the Methodist church Sunday night. Woman's Missionary Society to meet on First Tuesday night at Mrs. Edith Brawner's.

Mr. Paul Keys has opened a grocery store in connection with his gas station.

Mr. J. B. Florance has opened their open-air store.

ODD FLOWERING PLANT

The cyclamen is one of the very best flowering plants we have for house culture. It will do well with only a minimum amount of care. Being almost an aquatic, it must have water—not only a little, but a great deal. If the soil in which you have your cyclamen growing is permitted to become dry for a half day, the growth of the plant will be materially checked, and it may take six months to recover from the effects.

Next in importance to water is the matter of shade. Growing as it does in its natural state in low, marshy places the cyclamen is used to a great deal of shade. Remember, therefore, that while it demands light, it abhors strong sunlight. The cyclamen is not particular as to temperature. You can be sure of succeeding with it in any room in which a geranium will thrive. The ideal temperature for a cyclamen is 50 to 60 degrees. If it gets much above 60 the flowers will become what florists call "soft," meaning that the stems are losing their stability and the flowers, instead of being erect, are beginning to droop.

The cyclamen requires a specially prepared soil—one composed of good garden loam, sand and peat, with a dash of brick clay, suits it best. One piece of charcoal will prove beneficial if placed in the bottom of the pot. This prevents in a measure any acidity of the soil and also perfects the drainage.

The cyclamen has two phases of life. The first is a period of development and the second a period of rest. After your plant ceases to produce, gradually cease to water it. About May 1 set the pot in a dry, dark place and forget it. About Sept. 1 bring the pot to the light. Remove dead leaves, and set in a light place. Begin watering it regularly, never permitting water to lie on the leaves, or about the crown of the plant. If you do this, it will start the "rot." Always pour the water over the soil.

JUNE MEETING OF BRENTSVILLE COMMUNITY LEAGUE

The Women's Committee will have charge of the program. This committee is sponsoring the beginners program for Nokesville School this year and have the work well under way. Five-point certificates will be given those children to enter school next fall who have had their examination and been found to come up to the five-point standard.

Dr. H. C. Martin and Supt. R. C. Haydon will address the league on the value of health to the school child. Mrs. Martin will give a reading and Mrs. Ernest Spitzer will have charge of the music. A good attendance is expected.

"STATE FAIR" HAS LEADING FILM STARS

More than 100,000 people, among them eight of the screen's leading stars, appear in Fox Film's "State Fair," coming on Monday and Tuesday to the Dixie Theatre.

The stars of the mammoth production are Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory. Miss Gaynor, Rogers, Foster and Miss Dresser are seen as members of a Midwest farm family enjoying their annual outing at the state fair. Ayres plays a newspaper reporter who covers the fair for his paper, Miss Eilers portrays a carnival trapeze performer, Craven characterizes a country storekeeper and Jory appears as a harker.

Henry King, who directed "State Fair," asserts that every man, woman and child who sees the picture will recognize a friend in it.

"The characters of 'State Fair' are the most human I've ever seen in a picture," declared King. "And that goes without reservations. They are the sort of people we meet and talk with every day.

"Furthermore, there is at least one in the group that every person will understand particularly well. It may be the pretty farm girl played by Janet Gaynor, the farmer portrayed by Will Rogers or the carnival girl that Sally Eilers characterizes. Or perhaps it will be the newspaper reporter Lew Ayres plays, the matron played by Louise Dresser, or the country storekeeper portrayed by Frank Craven. Somewhere along the line, every person who sees the picture will recognize an especially kindred spirit.

"It is characterization of this type," continued the director, "that makes a story an ideal screen vehicle."

"State Fair," the screen version of Phil Stong's Literary Guild prize novel, comes to the Dixie Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

By word is a thing made my best, and a light to my path.—Psalm 119:105

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

MORE THAN CONQUERORS—All things work together for good to them that love God. If God be for us, who can be against us? Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.—Romans 8:28, 31, 35, 37.

WHAT SHALL IT BE?

In nearly every county of the Old Dominion today there are high and low tax groups. The low tax groups do not predominate as a whole, yet where fear of their voting power is held in respect one usually finds that the high tax group, if in control of county affairs, has found some method of controlling taxes, in so far as local taxation is concerned.

This proposition existed over the entire United States before the last national election and it was because the powers that were lost fear of the low tax group that Franklin D. Roosevelt is today applying the New Deal. This was not the only reason, of course, but it was directly in line with other policies that made the entire mass unintelligible.

The surge has rolled into Virginia and it may be held an accountable factor in the approaching Primary. Search out, if you will, the high tax group and discover which candidate it is backing, and likewise the low tax group and find out which candidate it is backing, and the gift of vision may come to the voters.

In the last few months of President Hoover's administration, when he himself was admitting defeat, the leaders saw the deluge approaching and deserted. Feebly struggling, certain expletives were applied in frantic hope of averting disaster but it was all too late.

What has been happening in Virginia? Has our tax bill (speaking generally, and not locally) been cut in a way that is practicable or bids to be a permanent set up? Has our legislature from time to time tacitly acceded to the "high tax group" in control and let the underdog "chew raw beef"?

This is a line of thought that we advise the freeholders of Virginia to consider.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY
QUARTERLY MEETING

The spring meeting of the Holy Name Society of Northern Section of Virginia was held Sunday, May 28, at the Manassas High School auditorium at 2 p.m.

This was the first meeting ever held in Manassas and a large attendance of men from Alexandria, Clarendon, Mt. Ida, Leesburg, Fredericksburg, Quantico, Falls Church.

Honorable Pat McCarran, senator from Nevada, gave a stirring address on democracy and the government, especially putting stress on the critical hour the government was passing through at this time. He stated, every Catholic should stand squarely behind the President and give him and the government every possible support.

An address was also given by Mrs. Kathryn O'Loughlin McCarthy, Congresswoman, 6th District, Kansas, who spoke of her personal experiences of official note, also telling of her conversion to the faith as a young girl.

Honorable S. P. Seiffert, mayor of Roanoke, was introduced by Hon. Harry Davis, mayor of Manassas. Mr. Seiffert spoke of his friendship with Rev. T. C. Healy, the present pastor of All Saints church at Manassas, stating Father Healy was assistant pastor at Roanoke for 7 years prior to coming to Manassas.

Rev. John Affleck, O. P., associate editor of the Holy Name Journal of New York, N. Y., gave an impressive talk on Catholicity, and the importance of all members staying bonded together at this time during the national distress, and aid in every way to bring us out peacefully.

Among the speakers were also J. C. McCarran, past archdiocesan president; Mr. A. E. Aiello of Ballinon, archdiocesan president; Mr. J. P. Halligan, reader of the House of Representatives; Mr. Wm. Neale, president of the Washington Holy Name Society; Mr. Daily Walsh, president of the Virginia section, who stressed the thought of the junior membership.

Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Eloise Compton and Mr. Charles Armistead Sinclair and the boys' band of Linton Hall, Bristow, Va., and were greatly appreciated. This band comprised of twenty-five members who are thoroughly trained by Capt. Schaeffer of the Marine Corps and the Benedictine Sisters.

Refreshments were delightfully served by the ladies of All Saints church. Benediction was sung at All Saints Catholic church at 5 o'clock.

IMPRESSIVE TRAGEDY AT DIXIE

"A Bill of Divorcement," which comes to Dixie next Wednesday and Thursday, is another milestone in a season of exceptional pictures.

There is only one other role in the picture that matters at all, and it is beautifully played by that very charming lady, Billie Burke. To be sure, hers was a somewhat thankless task, that of a wife and mother so distraught, so crushed by circumstance, that she is a helpless soul, wavering always before an uncertain fate. In the hands of a less capable actress it might be unimpressive. Done by Miss Burke, it keys the whole beautiful tragedy.

Getting back to Barrymore, his vivid portrait of the lunatic who returns, semisane, to his home after seventeen or eighteen years is equal to the very best traditions of the uncertain, he itant walk, alone, marks his characterization among the notable portraits of the year. The delicacy of the mental balance—one moment on the verge of insanity, the next on the verge of sanity—yes, it always is on the borderline—is the work of a fine artist. There is nothing of the swashbuckler we have seen so often in this etching. It is the soul, the pitiful soul, of a man whose mind is on the brink of eternal darkness, clinging to life one moment with childish tears, the next with a madman's frenzy.

Again the triumph of the screen. No stage performance could have caught half the subtlety of this haunting portrait.

Against such terrific histrionic odds as these described, Katharine Hepburn, in her first picture, shares equally the honors with Barrymore. Which is saying considerable. Count this young lady as very definitely "in the films." She has a rugged incertitude that is momentarily masculine in its graceful strength, yet in the passing of a few tiny celluloid frames she becomes as soft, as sympathetic, as appealing as a lovely woman can be. She is so real, so genuine—well, darn it all, what's her next picture? We want a front seat! The transition of her character from the self-sufficient young woman about to set out for Canada with her fiancé, to have dozens and dozens of babies, to the broken thing who discover her blood, like that of her father, is stained with hereditary insanity, is most poignant.

The bride is a graduate of Farmville State Teachers College and has been teaching in Prince William County. The bridegroom is well known to the radio fans as the "Singing Virginian."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will make their home at Gainesville.

GRADUATE RECITAL

A graduate recital was given in the parish hall, Manassas, Thursday evening, June 1, by Miss Meaker Burke, assisted by Miss Bernice Anderson, Mr. William Kirby and Mr. Lawrence James, under auspices of the Warren School of Music. The diplomas were presented by Rev. T. D. D. Clark.

JUNIORS LOST FIRST GAME

The American Legion Junior baseball team took their first beating of the season Saturday, May 27, when they were downed by the Alexandria High School and a mixed team of juniors by the score of 7-2. The local boys played a good game but was outclassed in age and weight by the visitors.

The Legion juniors will meet Nokesville junior team Saturday, June 3, at the high school diamond, 1 p.m. All baseball fans should be present and give their support to the little boys that love the game.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown us during the recent illness and death of our mother.

Harry C. Carter and Family.

SWAVELY NOTES

The baccalaureate service was held on Sunday evening last, the sermon being preached by Mr. Swavely.

Mrs. Swavely entertained the members of the Faculty Reading Club at a delightful supper on Sunday evening.

Final examinations ended today and school work is now finished for the year.

Tomorrow evening the Senior class will hold its usual dinner to be followed by a dance in the gymnasium. The commencement exercises—the final function of the school year—will take place in the gymnasium on Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

The movements of most of the faculty are at present uncertain, but some will be remaining here at least for a while. Mr. Leinbach will join Mrs. Leinbach in Quakertown, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Gill are leaving for Canada.

WESTERN FEATURE IS TREAT FOR KIDS

Youngsters of Manassas will have a chance to cheer when Hoot Gibson's newest starring picture, "The Cowboy Counsellor," will open at the Dixie Theatre next Friday and Saturday, June 9 and 10.

Featured in one of the leading roles is Bobby Nelson, one of the screen's most promising boy actors. Only twelve years old, Bobby has made great his debut. Given the part of "Bobby Avery" by director George Melford, little Bobby went about his work with all the assurance of an experienced troupier.

About him revolves much of the drama of the story. To him, his older brother Luke, who is unjustly accused of staging a hold up, he is the boy who brings Hoot Gibson, a roaming book agent into the case as attorney for the defense. Even though Hoot knows absolutely nothing about law, he is so influenced by the boy's pleadings for help, that he outsmarts the slickest crook, the cleverest attorneys and the most hardboiled judge in order to prove that Luke Avery is the victim of a frameup and by his resourcefulness and daring is able to bring the real culprit to the bar of justice.

v.
Mary Reid Savage

IN CHANCERY

The object of this suit is to obtain for the complainant, John N. Savage, from the defendant, Mary Reid Savage, a divorce a vinculo matrimonii on the ground of desertion and abandonment without just cause or excuse for more than three years prior to the institution of this suit.

And an affidavit having been made according to law and filed in this office that the defendant, Mary Reid

Savage, is not a resident of the State of Virginia, and an application having been made for an order of publication against the said defendant.

It is therefore ordered that the said Mary Reid Savage do appear here within ten days after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published once a week, for four consecutive weeks, in The Manassas Journal, a newspaper published and circulated in the County of Prince William; a copy thereof sent by the clerk of this Court, by registered mail, to the said Mary Reid Savage at New York City, General Delivery, the address given in the aforesaid affidavit, and a copy posted at the front door of the court house of the said county on or before the 19th day of June, 1933, that being the next rule day after this order is entered.

FARM LOAN NOTICE

Mr. C. R. C. Johnson of Manassas has just been appointed local correspondent for Prince William County by Mr. Geo. H. Stevenson, the Farm Loan Commissioner's agent in charge of operations for the Baltimore Land Bank District under Part 3 of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act of 1933.

All farmers in this county, who require the type of refinancing authorized under Part 3 of this Act, should, where possible, call in person upon Mr. Johnson, who is ready to discuss their individual financial problems and to take applications for loans.

Referring to the need for prompt attention to the farmer's pressing financial requirements, Mr. Stevenson has let it be known that he is making every effort to perfect an organization capable of handling all business promptly and efficiently; that in this connection he hopes that all local interests, farmers, bankers and business men, will give full co-operation to his local correspondent who shares in the responsibility of making this great credit service of fundamental help to the farmers in the 2nd Land Bank District.

It is pointed out that many farmers because of their involved financial situation will require assistance from both the Federal Land Bank and Agent, and in order that this may be accomplished with the least possible inconvenience to the prospective borrower, the agent has selected the secretary-treasurer of the Local National Farm Loan Association for his local correspondent. Attention is also called to the fact that the Federal Land Bank and the office of the Commissioner's Agent are both housed in the Land Bank building, in ensuring the closest co-operation in the administration of the farm credit laws under which they operate.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Voters of Stafford and Prince William Counties:

I desire to take this means to formally announce my candidacy for renomination by the Democratic party in the August primary to the seat in the Virginia House of Delegates from Prince William and Stafford Counties, and to assure the people of the two counties that if nominated and re-elected, I will use my best endeavors for their interest and for the interest of the people of the state generally.

If again honored as the choice of the people of the district, I promise to conscientiously and faithfully discharge duties of the office and to support those measures which will relieve the people of the burden of taxation now falling upon them, when such measures are consistent with the best interests of the people generally.

In announcing my candidacy I wish to express my thanks to those who supported me during the last election and to assure all the voters of the district that I will appreciate their support at the coming election.

Faithfully,
GEORGE W. HERRING.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Democratic Voters of the Legislative District of Prince William and Stafford Counties:

I am declaring myself a candidate for nomination for member of the legislature from this district, subject to the primary on August 1, and respectfully solicit your favorable consideration and support.

I shall publish details of my platform later and shall attempt to see as many of the voters in person as time will permit.

Respectfully,
NELLE HYDE HOLMES.

NEW MOTOR FUEL ON SALE TOMORROW

The introduction of the new motor fuel Essolene to the public at Esso stations on June 2 is one of the major steps in a new marketing program which is involving the expenditure of several million dollars and giving employment to many workers, according to Mr. John Z. Walker, local manager of the business of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The program involves the re-identification of some 30,000 outlets as Esso stations, located from Maine through Louisiana.

Concerning Essolene, Mr. J. Z. Walker says, "I naturally am enthusiastic about all of our products, but in Essolene I am positive we have a highly unusual motor fuel. The tests indicate that it is the best regular-priced fuel on the market. The anti-knock quality is higher than in any regular gasoline and, among other things, Essolene actually reduces gummy deposits in an old engine. We've given the slogan 'Guarantees Smoother Performance' to Essolene, and we're sure motorists will find that's so."

A red-and-white color scheme distinguishes the Esso stations. All the pumps are being re-painted to conform to this plan, and new signs are being erected. All of this work gives employment to many men and, in the opinion of Mr. J. Z. Walker, is an indication of his company's attitude toward the future.

CATHARPIN

The past week has given us a gentle reminder that summer is here and the ice man is about to come into his own. That old refrigerator, cooler, ice box, or whatever you call it, has been resurrected and cleared of all the old sacks of "what-nots" which had taken all winter to accumulate and which are now gracefully dumped over the back fence as useless. Wonderful how we men do things, isn't it?

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lawler of Bel Alton, Md., were week-end guests of Mrs. P. S. Buckley last week.

Mr. B. Lynn Robertson of New York was a guest of his brother, W. Holmes Robertson at Lawn Vale last Sunday.

The community is now all astir over the turkey hatches. Some are good, some not so good and some just—well you know how. At any rate the "aggregate" advises that about the usual number, per annum, have discarded the shell and taken up their several abodes thruout the neighborhood in coops, goods boxes, fence corners and such ready for the summer's campaign; so Thanksgiving and Christmas are staring us in the face even before summer has gotten off to a really good start.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Triple and children and Mr. Maddox of Tecumseh were Oakwood callers on Sunday last.

Mrs. George Carey, daughter of Mrs. P. S. Buckley, was taken to the Warrenton hospital last week where she is undergoing treatment for high blood pressure and other ailments. Her condition is reported as somewhat improved on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brower of Price, Md., passed through the village on Sunday on their way to Lynchburg, returning and spending Monday night with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Brower at Lone Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Merchant and family of Ivacota, Va., spent Sunday with Mrs. Merchant's parents at Marble Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Bell Farm attended the commencement exercises of the 1933 class of the Manassas High School of which class their son, John, was a member. John is the third one of this family to graduate from the Manassas school being preceded by his sisters, Mary and Claudia; and now Harriet is in the near "offing" preparing to make the fourth. Mr. and Mrs. Pattie are certainly doing their full parental duty in giving their children a good start along the pathway of life.

Last week behaved itself just as all good weeks should consequently the farmers got their corn planted. Old Lady Nature is a good old soul when she wants to be, but like the rest of us she gets her lines crossed occasionally and things do not fit up to our ideas just as we would have them, but since we are not running that part of it we have decided to let her handle the situation according to her own notions just like Franklin is handling the government and trust to the future for favorable breaks.

Two huge trucks visited Lawn Vale last week and left with about 8 tons of straw each. The sight was rather unusual for this section since the loads almost completely filled the narrow lanes from side to side and had some difficulty negotiating some of our "turns." These huge vehicles of modern commerce could handle the "curves" all right but when they approached the "turns" it was a case of STOP, LOOK AND WONDER; however they got safely to the cement highway but the fact is forced upon us that our roadways will have to undergo a considerable change in a number of ways if we are to be visited by these modern wonders of transportation.

Last week just to remind us of "ye olden times" Mr. J. W. Alvey had shipped in two loads of cattle and one afternoon we were awakened from our reverie by the lowing of many beasts and upon looking out were as much surprised to see a big drove of cattle as we would have been had it been a horse and buggy. You will remember that the "horse and buggy" and the "droves" left this country about one and the same time and when either appears we hardly know just what to do with it. However, Mr. Alvey has plenty of pasture and will take good care of his "guests" until ready for the market.

The following item under the caption "Parity After Prohibition" is taken, verbatim, from the Breeder's Gazette and passed along for just what it might be worth. To quote, "At Emil Levensen's creamery in Linn Co., Iowa, you can exchange two pints of cream for one pint of beer. Talk about equality for agriculture! At today's prices of butterfat it would take 300 pounds of 3.2 milk to buy one bottle (12 ounces) of 3.2 beer. Or to reduce it to simpler terms, at 16 ounces the pound, you would need 480 ounces, or 40 bottles of 3.2 milk to buy one bottle of 3.2 beer. What kind of parity is that—40 bottles of milk for one bottle of Old Heidelberg?" (End of quote). If we were to advise we would say better forget "parity" and drink the milk.

11. The Strayer Scholarship prize, A Year's Tuition in Strayers' Business College, won in part in district competitive examination by Burton Lyons, who tied with Gloria Godfrey of Haymarket. The prize was then divided.

Rev. Mr. Gibson, at the request of the faculty, made special mention of the fine co-operative spirit shown by the senior class. In special he referred to the excellent work done by the high school league officers: the president and vice-president, Keith Lyons and John Pattie, and the secretaries, Burton Lyons and Miss Nancy Lynn; also to the enterprise and leadership of Miss Meaker Burke, editor of the school paper. Through Miss Burke's efforts the "Yellow Jacket" was almost entirely financed; finally the speaker emphasized the valuable work of the senior boys whose aid in assisting with the drills and athletic games, enabled the school to carry out with much success this year the extensive physical education program called for by the state.

This was followed by the presentation of the diplomas by the div. supt., Prof. R. C. Haydon. Each recipient of the coveted prize was greeted heartily by applause. College Preparatory—Edith Jasper, Nancy Lynn, Elective—Murray Bradshaw, Carroll Gilroy, James Knox, Robert Leith, Burton Lyons, Keith Lyons, Charles Miller, Edward Smith, Martin Wetherall, Meaker Burke, Walser Conner, Reba Crawford, Marion Lynn, Claudia Thomasson. Commercial—Margaret Adams, Nina Dalton, Eleanor Evans, Martha Foster, Eleanor Gibson, Elizabeth Hibbs, Louise Hibbs, Lorraine Perkins, Florence Raymond, Esther Rollins. Agricultural—Arthur Carter, Wilson Kite, John Pattie. Certificates for the intensive one-year stenographic course received by Misses Rena Bevens, Ann Bradford, Frances Bushong and Louise Dodge and Mr. Arthur Carter. Misses Eleanor Evans, Martha Foster and Lorraine Perkins in addition to the full commercial course have completed a semester's work in secretarial studies.

Finally the evening came to a close by a brief prayer of benediction by Rev. C. P. Ryland, minister of the Baptist church.

MAGAZINE CLINIC

KIWANIS STUNT

A Kiwanis Magazine Clinic held under the direction of Edwin F. Hill, governor of the Capital District, Kiwanis International, and a group of Washington Kiwanians, featured the meeting of the Manassas Club, Friday night, May 26.

William N. Freeman and other members of the Washington club assisted Mr. Hill in the operation of the "clinic." Mr. Freeman described the general articles in the current Kiwanis Magazine, laying particular stress on one concerning vocational guidance, which, he said, was a subject of much interest to him.

Dr. Edwin H. Etz referred to the editorials and Roe Fulkerson's "Personal Page" as each carrying a pertinent message and being most readable. Dr. David L. Maxwell commented on an article, "The Depression and Our Health." Statistical information in this article, he said, showed the good health results that might come from present economic conditions as well as the possible dangerous after effects in future years. George P. Mangan described the activities of Kiwanis in the various districts, which, he said, give the members of the nearly 1,900 clubs in this country and Canada the opportunity to know what others are accomplishing in community service.

Club activities, a resume of diversified service to the underprivileged, vocational guidance, boys and girls work and other objectives were pointed out by Lewis T. Breuninger. Charles A. Ferguson stressed the importance of community service in respect to having cities and towns present a good appearance as a means of encouraging visitors to "come often and linger longer." This subject, the speaker said, was splendidly covered by Mr. Fred C. W. Parker, Kiwanis International secretary in the May issue of the magazine. Mr. Ferguson said that it would be to the advantage of every good citizen to read this article.

George A. Small, styled as the "one-man band" gave several selections on the guitar and harmonica.

Visitors in addition to those on those on the program included George H. Winslow, chairman, interclub relations committee; George C. Shaffer, Frank T. Mitchell, George A. Baker and Sam T. Schwartz, Washington Club, and John F. Webster, president, Harold A. Whittle, Henry J. Klinge, Stephen E. Childs, Earl W. English, Joseph W. Keith and Ernest B. Seerign, Arlington County Club.

When Kiwanis was first organized in Detroit, January 21, 1915, Mr. Hill said the publication of a magazine was discussed, but at that time there was only one club and since the membership knew what each was doing, there was no need for such a publication. Soon after the organization began to expand, however, it became necessary, he stated, to publish a magazine. Such a publication made its initial appearance in February 1917, and was first called "The Kiwanis Club." The purpose of the magazine, according to Mr. Hill, was "dedicated to tying together the associated Kiwanis clubs for the practicing of the Golden Rule in all of its aspects between members and between the clubs in their community."

In August 1918 the name of the magazine was changed to "The Kiwanis Hornet," and later during the same year to "The Kiwanis Torch." Roe Fulkerson, now editorial writer of the Kiwanis magazine and a member of the Washington club, Mr. Hill said, was the editor-in-chief of the first publication. Since the latter part of 1918, when the name was changed to its present one, this publication has been issued under the supervision of the Kiwanis International office at Chicago.

Address by Mrs. Shumate
Mrs. Shumate closed the program with these remarks:

"Class of '33, teachers and friends. This privilege and pleasure may not be mine again so under 'Presenting Certificates' I am going to say a good many things I'll not have an opportunity to say again.

"The time given to school interest has always been a pleasure to me. I regret that I shall no longer be identified in this great work. I want to thank the teachers of 1933 and those present of other years for their patience and kind consideration. They have often been called on to wait for things they deemed very necessary to their work. This they did with credit always.

"I want to thank the school children of all ages for the respect they have always shown, and to say to them 'Altho I am not school trustee their sore heads and cut fingers will still have my interest and attention.'

"I want to thank Miss Clark for the helpful service she has rendered Prince William County boys and girls and to wish her God speed on her journey into a new life. May there be many happy successful years ahead for her and hers.

"I want to especially thank the class of '33 and any others who had a part in the lovely gift I received last night. It will ever bring pleasant memories. I appreciate it: the thought even more than the gift.

"I want to thank the teachers for their faithfulness. Their work has been outstanding in the county. Much has been done beside class room work, which speaks for itself in the different rooms. I want you to know a few of the accomplishment of this session. Enrollment 142, fivepointers 97, honor roll students 46, number never absent or tardy, 16. Money raised for school purposes $125.00, amount spent $40 for stage, $35.00 for cement walk. New pictures and bookshelves added in each room, shrubbery on the grounds, tennis court started, 72 auditorium chairs (by board), many small items. This shows interest.

"We want to thank the patrons and league officers and workers who have ever been loyal in responding to any request made by the teachers. The above report was possible only through their help and co-operation.

"I am proud of our Dumfries school building. I have reason to be. I want to commend it to your care and protection. I want to say that I am glad to report the year of 1932-33 closed with only one broken light. To me that shows our boys are beginning to appreciate county property in which they share. Community pride is developing. Our schools are teaching it. (The glass was replaced by those in fault.)

"I have started a move to have the grounds drained and beautified as our big objective for next year. The County School Board passed a resolution to start this work. See that this is done. Take the matter up in your league, set aside a sum to be raised either in money or work, bring it before your school board through your trustee and I am sure it will go across. We always get what we help to work for.

"I want to commend to you your new trustee, Mrs. Floy McInteer. I only ask for her the consideration and good will that has been given me. I have the greatest respect for Mrs. McInteer's ability. I know her vision and judgment will be large enough to reach from Quantico to the far ends of our county. This is necessary in successful school work.

"Now I come to the part that always fills me with pride, presenting certificates to our boys and girls who have earned the right, through diligent study and work to go out from our school 7th grade graduates, ready to turn a new page in their life's history and to write ahead success or failure. I hope for this class that every scholar here has a vision for the years ahead and will set forth fully determined to go through high school and better prepare themselves for whatever life holds in store.

"I read with interest the study they made in civics this year. The wonderful vision they had of a new Dumfries. How they took the little old town, remodeled, rebuilt and added to until they had a great city, seething with life and useful activity. It made me think of their own lives and to hope that a vision like that may stir them into building for themselves just such an improved outlook with their own individual lives.

"From a class of 26, we have 21 receiving certificates. We realize every boy and girl here has made special efforts to earn these certificates. Our teachers do not promote until promotion has been earned. I do want to mention a few names who have been outstanding. This class won both medals presented by the American Legion Buck Keys Post No. 28. Miss Ruby Abel, also the president of her class and honor student, won this distinction and honor. Pete Katsarelis, our little dark-eyed dark-skinned boy, who entered our schools a few years ago, unable to speak our language. I am proud of Pete. The highest points in American citizenship are needed to win these medals. He had them. John Slovenski, the boy who gets to school even when the Thornton bus can't make it. It takes the stuff John has to make a success in life. The truant officer had to help Crestor Bourne but he gets his tonight. I am proud of the whole class. Time makes it necessary to close. I wish a joyous and successful future to all."

'KEEP AWAY FROM TRAPS

At a time like the present, countless schemes are being concocted for separating unwary investors from their money. Some of the schemes are old and some are new—some are rank speculations and some are outright swindles. All of them appeal to the victim's desire to make easy money, but their real purpose is to make easy money for the promoters.

It's a time for being extremely cautious before letting go of any money. This bank's officers are ready to counsel with you and help you avoid traps sprung by the wily "get-rich-quick" salesman.
