

PROPOSAL FOR PUBLIC WORKS

Carson May Be Chosen to Administer Act.
Shenandoah Boulevard Project Is Presented for Consideration.

Many projects are under consideration under Virginia's participation in President Roosevelt's big Public Works program, and there is much speculation as to who will be selected to administer the work in Virginia. The name of Hon. W. E. Carson, chairman of the Virginia Conservation Commission, is being most prominently mentioned.

Governor Pollard had before him the first batch of suggested proposals for construction under the new federal works act which may make available to Virginia projects as much as $60,000,000.

Among the first to come in was one submitted by Representative S. Otis Bland, of the former First Congressional District, who suggested the construction of a road from Stratford to Deltaville.

Others included a boulevard from the national capital to the Shenandoah National Park, submitted by Hugh E. Naylor, Front Royal, of the John Marshall Highway Association; a Norfolk-Portsmouth tunnel, suggested by H. W. Davis of the Norfolk committee of 100; a bridge across York River from Yorktown to Gloucester Point, suggested by Maj. Raymond B. Bottom, of Newport News; sewage disposal plants for communities bordering on Hampton roads, suggested by J. J. Baecher of the Hampton roads co-operative committee on stream pollution, and prevention of soil and coastal erosion, construction of 4-H club camps, and rural electrification, suggested by John R. Hutcheson, director of extension at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The governor has all of these, and others, under consideration. He pointed out that he is ready to act for Virginia, but nothing can be done until the federal organization is complete.

Regular meeting of the Civilian Home Service Committee will be held in the office of the county nurse on Wednesday, June 28, at 2:30 p.m.

As this will be the last meeting until September, a good attendance is desired.

INTERCLUB GOLF MEET IS STAGED

Kiwians Also Get Sidelines Congressional Activities.

Herbert E. Dameron, secretary to Senator Harry Floor Byrd, was the guest speaker on Ed Conner's program at last week's Kiwanis meeting.

Mr. Dameron gave a colorful picture of the troubles of a Congressional secretary and the many and unusual demands made upon one. He added a mixture of pathos to a strain of humor and altogether gave his audience a very entertaining talk.

Miss Dorothea E. Jennings sang two solos, accompanied by Miss Connell at the piano.

Prior to the meeting, a number of Washington and Alexandria boys braved a summer rain to play a good game of golf. The green fee was turned in over to the underprivileged child fund.

The winners of prizes were C. H. Pardee, with a low of 78, with Martin Wiegand following closely behind with a 79. Dr. O. U. Singer made third with an 81.

Alexandria was represented by Randall Cotton and Nelson Snyder while Ed Hill's crowd from Washington included also E. S. Pardee, F. T. Mitchell, George H. Winslow, George C. Shaffer, P. J. Harmon, C. D. German, Z. D. Blackstone, Harry Hahn, S. H. Talkes, (also Talkes, junior), C. W. Pimper, J. S. Bennett, Vergil O. Barnard, and A. W. Howard.

This Friday evening the club will go to Nokesville.

Others included a boulevard from the national capital to the Shenandoah National Park, submitted by Hugh E. Naylor, Front Royal, of the John Marshall Highway Association; a Norfolk-Portsmouth tunnel, suggested by H. W. Davis of the Norfolk committee of 100; a bridge across York River from Yorktown to Gloucester Point, suggested by Maj. Raymond B. Bottom, of Newport News; sewage disposal plants for communities bordering on Hampton roads, suggested by J. J. Baecher of the Hampton roads co-operative committee on stream pollution, and prevention of soil and coastal erosion, construction of 4-H club camps, and rural electrification, suggested by John R. Hutcheson, director of extension at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

WATERS-HOLLADAY

The marriage of Miss Helen Fauntleroy Holladay, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Holladay, of Orange, Va., to Mr. Leon Ratcliffe Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander Waters, of Culpeper, Va., was solemnized at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 14 in the Orange Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by Dr. G. G. Sydnor, of Charles Town, W. Va., assisted by Dr. Chas. R. Stribley, of Orange.

The church was beautifully decorated with Madonna lilies and cathedral candles against a background of hemlocks and ferns. The wedding music was played by Mr. James G. Sydnor, who played the Lohengrin march as the processional, and used Mendelssohn's march as the recessional. Just before the bride entered, Miss Patty Garrett, of Richmond, sang "Until" and "Because."

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of ivory satin with train, and the tulle veil which she wore fell from a cap caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and baby's breath. She also carried a handkerchief, over a hundred years old, which had been given by her great aunt to her mother, the mother having been named for this aunt, and the bride for her mother.

Mrs. E. Jackson Eggborn, jr., of Culpeper, was matron of honor and Miss Aubrey Price Holladay was her sister's maid of honor. They wore gowns of white mousseline de sole, with sashes and shoes of green and yellow. Bridesmaids were Misses Helen Hawkins, of Baltimore, Md., cousin of the bride; Rose Ratcliffe, of Manassas, cousin of the bridegroom; Katherine Stahlman, of Charleston, W. Va., and Mary McIntosh, of Orange. Their frocks were of white Swiss organdie, with accessories of green and yellow, and they carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Mr. Waters had as his best man, Mr. E. Jackson Eggborn, jr., of Culpeper, and the groomsmen were Messrs. Clifton Yowell, of Culpeper; Sam Lewis, of New York; Henry Thompson Holladay, jr., of Orange, brother of the bride; Jack Ratcliffe, of Manassas, cousin of the bridegroom. The ushers were Messrs. Porter Holladay, of Farmville, and Lewis Holladay, jr., of Orange, brother of the bride; Charles Neal Goldsborough, of Culpeper, and Dick Griffith, of Brandy.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Waters left for a northward trip.

SEVENTH VICTORY LOCAL GAME BODY FOR BALL TEAM OFFERS PRIZE

Strong Alexandria Eagles-Come Here This Sunday.

The Macks rung up their seventh victory of the season here last Sunday when they took the measure of the Virginia Athletic Club of Alexandria by the overwhelming score of 17-5. Buster Polen held the opposition to six hits during his eight innings on the mound, striking out eight men and allowing not a single walk. The Alexandria team was unable to score until the eighth inning, when they pushed over a run following an excusable error by Reid at shortstop on a hard-hit ball. The visitors reached Billy Ward for two hits and a walk, and, aided by an error and a couple of helpful outs, were able to get four tallies across the counting block. But these meant nothing in the final results.

Polen not only pitched well but also wielded a heavy stick, getting himself a home run, triple and single in three official times at bat. Woodward, Reid and Bradshaw also came in on the attack, dividing nine hits evenly between them.

The outstanding fielding bit of the game was contributed by Vetter, when he went behind second in the second inning to take a grounder which eluded Reid and made a perfect throw to first to get his man on a close decision. Saunders also made a nice play when he took a drive from McMennamin's bat near the right field foul line in the fourth inning. He robbed the batter of at least a double and postponed the making of the first hit of the game by the Alexandria boys off Polen.

Wurdemann kept up his record of making more runs than hits when he brought over two runs while getting only one hit. Bradshaw ran wild on the bases in the eighth inning, first stealing second, and then when a long fly had advanced him to the far corner, he took advantage of a slow windup by the Alexandria pitcher to steal home standing up.

This Sunday the Macks are going to tackle the Alexandria Eagles, one of the strongest outfits in northern Virginia, on the local field. Manager Adamson says that he expects the Eagles to be the strongest opposition that the local team has faced this year with the possible exception of the 'Horning Jewelers, who are supposed to have the strongest amateur team in Washington. The Jewelers split with the Charlottesville Cardinals in a doubleheader played in Charlottesville last Sunday.

The box score is as follows:

Working for Better Sportsmanship.

The Prince William County Fish and Game Protective Association was the guest of its vice-president, Mr. E. C. Spitzer, at the Nokesville High School auditorium on the night of June 13.

This was a very interesting meeting and quite a few made the trip from Manassas. The question as to what the prize would be for the largest small mouth bass caught this season by a member of the association, was decided upon; and consists of a rod, reel and line.

Those members wishing to enter their catches should have the fish weighed on reliable scales, measured as to their length and placed on piece of paper and outline drawn of same. This chart with other record must be mailed or delivered to Robert W. Adamson, secretary, at Manassas.

The season for bass fishing began on June 15 and despite the condition of the water a number of fish were caught and some have been recorded in competition for the prize. Mr. Jasper Whetzel so far holds the record catch with Mr. Franklin Hibbs and R. W. Adamson runners-up in this order. Under the fish and game laws of Virginia no bass may be taken from the waters under ten inches, however there have been some reports on violations in this respect. If your judgment relative to measurement is bad, then include a ruler or tape line in your tackle box; this violation will not be tolerated; it's not sportsmanship. We have been informed that by the game warden that the Bureau of Game and Inland Fisheries will pay a reward of $50.00 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone dynamiting the streams of this state and the law pertaining to giging will be rigidly enforced. Do not forget to get your fishing license by July 1 and carry it with you at all times.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Little Doris Hammersley, aged five, the pet of the entire village of Accotink, was instantly ground to death this morning when she ran across the Richmond highway at Anderson's garage, on an errand to the grocery.

State Highway Officer J. W. Clarke, who lives in Accotink, was on the scene of the accident in a few minutes and summoned Drs. Caton, of Accotink, and Ransome, of Falls Church, the latter being coroner for Fairfax County.

It appears from evidence gathered that the child ran from behind a government truck directly in the path of a truck owned by D. G. Arnetti, of Lake City, S. C., and driven by James G. Hough, of Charlotte, N. C.

The inquest declared the matter an accident, and Hough was released.

GRADUATES AT PITTSBURGH

Leo Kasehagen, 3rd, of Charleston, W. Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kasehagen of this city, was among those who received a degree of Master of Science at the commencement exercises at Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, Pa., this week.

Mr. Kasehagen was also awarded a fellowship leading to the Doctor of Science degree. He graduated from Carnegie Tech in 1930, receiving the Bachelor of Science degree.

He was an honor graduate also of Central High School in 1926.

"Jim" Kasehagen, as he is familiarly known by the people of Manassas, was a former resident here.

PRINCE WILLIAM GIRL AT-TENDS NATIONAL CAMP

Who attended the 4-H club camp in Washington, June 15-21. Wilda was selected for this unusual opportunity because of the fine contribution she has made to club work in Prince William County. One other girl and two boys share with Wilda the privilege of representing Virginia at the seventh annual 4-H club camp.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM AT CANNON BRANCH

A special Children's Day program will be given at Cannon Branch church on Sunday night, June 25, at 8 p.m. Come and enjoy this beautiful service, "An Open Door," composed of prayer, recitations, dialogues, readings and songs. You will appreciate the splendid numbers, and will be given the opportunity to show your appreciation by giving to a missionary offering that will be lifted. Your presence will inspire these young folks to do their best. Come and bring your friends.

ASSIGNED TO RESPONSIBLE TASK

Assigned to Command of Forest Camp No. 6, at Sugar Grove, Va. Sgt. Brewer is a native of Stafford County.

QUANTICO TEAM WINS RIFLE HONORS

The best rifle shots of the Marine Corps, from all points, many far-fung outposts, entered the match, which was shot under almost ideal conditions over the standard range, at 200, 300, 600 and 1,000 yards. The shooting was close, with the nearest contenders but 19 points below the Quantico team, and others trailing by but a few points more.

The score of the Quantico team was: Lieut. Scheyer, 281; Corp. Easley, 285; Pvt. McMahl, 283; Pvt. Chaney, 282. Total, 1132. Sergeant Harker was team captain and coach. The nearest contenders among the other teams were: Boston 1113; Hati 1108; Cuba, 1103.

ROAD PROJECT MAY PASS HERE

Mr. E. R. Conner attended a group meeting yesterday in Fairfax at which time the following facts were made public:

Virginia's share of the $400,000,000 Federal highway public construction fund will be about $7,450,000, it was revealed. Maryland will get approximately $3,000,000.

It has been suggested that the money be used to build by-passes around Washington and Baltimore, and in carrying out the plan it is proposed to erect a new bridge over the Potomac River, north of Glen Echo, near Cabin John.

From the terminus of this bridge on the Virginia side it is proposed to construct a highway, making use of short spurs of county road now in existence, almost direct to Manassas. From Manassas it would be necessary to build an airline road to Culpeper, where the highway would form a junction with improved State roads leading to the Shenandoah Valley, Charlottesville and Richmond, all gateways to the South.

While the plan originated with the American Association of State Highway Officials and the Federal Bureau of Roads, there is no idea of coercing the states into using the Federal money for the by-pass plan. The states are free to pick the projects on which the money is to be expended, subject to approval of the Federal Bureau of Highways.

CLUB CONTESTS ON JUNE 30

The annual 4-H club contests, in which club members of the county will compete, will be held at Manassas on Friday, June 30. The County Club Council, comprised of officers and leaders of the various 4-H club organizations of the county, will hold its summer meeting and check up on the progress made by the clubs so far this year. Plans for participation in the State Short Course at Blacksburg, the District Short Course and Camp at Jamestown, the Piedmont Dairy Festival, and the fall Achievement Day exercises at Manassas will be taken up by this group. The project for 1934 will be selected for the girls group.

Since participation and attendance at the contest day will have a large part in the determining of the banner club for the year, it is expected that a high percentage of the young people enrolled in the clubs will be at Manassas on June 30.

The program for the day is as follows:

9:45 a.m. County 4-H Club Council meeting.

11:30 a.m. Seed corn selection and judging contest; judging of project for 1934—girls; judging project record books; judging 4-H club books; poultry culling and selection contest.

12:15 p.m. Lunch.

1:00 p.m. Health contest; judging of clothing; dairy cattle judging contest; correct dress contest (home, school or sport, church); dress review. (Winners to represent county in State contests).

CAR OWNERS MUST OBTAIN PERMIT SOON

New State Law Requiring Operators License Effective July 1.

All car owners by July 1 next must have the motor vehicle operator's license under the new State law. This license must be carried at all times while operating a motor vehicle. The present licenses being issued expires June 30, 1934, unless suspended or revoked for violators of the motor vehicle laws.

The majority of residents already have obtained the necessary license. However, those who fail to get the license by July 1 will have to undergo an examination and pay a fee for the license and under the law cannot drive their car until the license is obtained.

MARRIAGE RECORD

June 21 — Masly Lamar Curry and Mary Roberts Marston.

June 10 — James Pendleton Robinson, Cub Run, and Ruth Virginia Davis, Wellington.

June 17 — Albert U. Hines, Brooklyn, Md., and Denise Louise Nickens, Nokesville.

WILL CONDUCT FIRE SCHOOLS

Training Schools to Be Zoned.

The executive committees of the Virginia State Firemen's Association and the Fire Chiefs' Association of Virginia at a recent meeting in Harrisonburg approved plans for conducting fire training schools on a zone basis throughout the State, similar to method by which the police schools were so successfully held last year, it was announced last Saturday by the League of Virginia Municipalities. Plans for the schools were submitted by Harold I. Baumes, director of personnel training, for the consideration of the firemen at the meeting which was presided over by Frank H. Wheeler, president of the Virginia State Firemen's Association. The schools will be conducted by the Virginia State Firemen's Association and the Fire Chiefs' Association of Virginia in conjunction with the League of Virginia Municipalities and Mr. B. H. Van Oot of the State Division of Trade and Industrial Education.

Fire training schools will be conducted in twenty zones by expert firemen carefully chosen by the fire chiefs in each zone. These twenty-zone instructors will receive an intensive course of training at an instructors' school to be held in Richmond during the week of August 27. The services of Mr. C. E. Rakestraw of the Federal Board of Vocational Training have been secured to direct the school. He will be assisted by local fire chiefs, representative of various national organizations.
