MACKS ADD TWO WINNING BATTLES

Defeat Haymarket by 22-14
Score on Wednesday; Down
Swanee by 15-3.

The Macks brought their total of victories for the season to nine during the past week by adding two easy triumphs over Swanee A. C. of Washington and Haymarket A. C. They took the measure of the Swanee last Sunday by a 15-3 score, and overcame the Haymarket A. C. on Wednesday at Haymarket by 22-14.

The "Swanee lads" fell easy prey to the effective pitching of Buster Polen, who limited them to six hits over the course of the nine innings. It was not until the ninth inning that they were able to score. Then, as Polen eased up they pushed over three worthless tallies, which only served to prevent the humiliation of being shut out. Meanwhile, the Macks sluggers were picking away at the offerings of Staunt, Parker and Needham for a total of seventeen hits and fifteen runs. Included among their total were a home run by Bradshaw, a triple by Collins, and doubles by Reid, Saunders, Vetter and Polen.

On Wednesday the Macks journeyed off to Haymarket to play Haymarket in one end of a double-header, staged for the benefit of the local Community League. Manager Kyle Lynn nominated Billy Ward as the starting pitcher. He went along in fine fashion until the third inning, when he suddenly lost his effectiveness and Haymarket erased the three-run lead which the Macks had compiled. Lee Lewis went to the mound in the fourth for the Macks. He could not last the inning out, and was removed in favor of Buster Polen, whom Manager Lynn decided to send in to save the game.

After five innings the Macks found themselves on the short end of a 12-8 count. They could do nothing with Costello in the sixth, but in the seventh, after Polen had been thrown out, Woodard came through with a single. Reid was then called on to sacrifice, and laid down a perfect bunt to advance Woodard to scoring position and upset the opposition. Singles by Wurdemann, Vetter and Chapura, and a double by Bradshaw followed, the Manassas Maulers going into the lead, never to be headed again during the afternoon. From then on they added scores at their leisure. At the end of the fracas the score stood 22-14, Buster Polen having held the Haymarket team in check over the last five and two-thirds innings.

SUSAN HOOE IDEN

At her home in Washington, in her eighty-first year, Mrs. Wm. G. Iden passed away this morning. Mrs. Iden belongs to one of the oldest families in this section and is a sister-in-law of Dr. Iden of this town.

The funeral will be held Saturday next at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Trinity Episcopal church, Manassas, Rev. Gibson, rector of the church, officiating, assisted by Elder Pitman of Luray.

U. D. C. GUESTS OF MRS. SPITLER

Much Enjoyed Meeting at Nokesville.

The Daughters of the Confederacy for the July meeting were the guests of Mrs. Ernest Spitler and sister, Mrs. Alvin Compton, in the home of Mrs. Spitler, Nokesville.

The attendance as usual was excellent and Mrs. Spitler cordially and gracefully received her guests.

The president, Mrs. Hutchison, presiding. The usual opening exercises, prayer and a song after which the minutes and reports of standing committees were heard.

Mrs. Johnson stated that the books "Southern Literature" had been purchased. These books will be a valuable addition to the school library and the chapter is much gratified at being able to assist in securing them.

A float for the Dairy Festival was discussed and a decision whether the chapter will have one will be decided at the next meeting to be held the first Wednesday in August at the residence of Mrs. Robert Hutchison.

The business session completed, the historian presented Rebecca Monroe, who read her paper which received the U. D. C. prize, subject, The First Battle of Manassas. The paper showed study and an intelligent conception of her subject.

Mrs. C. M. Larkin read a poem, "The Confederate Flag," by Henry Linden Flash and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson completed the program with an interesting reading, The Right to Vote.

The exercises ended, the hostess assisted by her sisters served a delicious tea consisting of chicken salad, pickles, sandwiches and ice tea which was thoroughly enjoyed during the social hour.

FAIRFAX DELEGATE DIES SUDDENLY

On Tuesday night, Edmund H. Allen, delegate to the General Assembly from Fairfax County, died suddenly. He collapsed immediately following a speech at the County Chamber of Commerce at Fairfax.

His sudden death leaves a perplexing problem for Democratic leaders in the county. His name has been printed in the official ballots as Democratic nominee for the General Assembly, and it is stated these cannot be reprinted. In addition the Governor's call for a special election where vacancies occur will necessitate an election in Fairfax immediately after the August Primary.

It is stated that L. C. Painter, whose name also appears on the ballot, is not acceptable to regular Democrats who in all probability will ask regular party followers to write in the name of an acceptable candidate to be selected. The name of John Mackall, of McLean, is prominently mentioned in this connection. He has previously been a Democratic candidate for this office and is said to be recognized as a hundred percent Democrat.

James U. Kincheol, Fairfax County chairman, was in Manassas today and stated that a meeting of the Democratic Committee of his county has been called for next Saturday night to take necessary action resulting from Mr. Allen's death.

SEE WORLD FAIR

Rev. Royal A. Rice, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, at Fairfax, is in Chicago, with some fifteen or sixteen members of the boy scout troop from Fairfax.

Mr. Rice is giving the boys a splendid time as cards back home indicate. They will return early next week.

JOHNNY CAUGHT THE BALL BUT

Johnny Wurdemann suffered a blow on the head yesterday when he contacted with a truck load of coca cola bottles in chasing down a ball, but he caught the ball—and all the girls declared him a hero.

KIWANIS CLUB VISITS ADEN

Young People in Splendid Program.

The Kiwanis Club turned out almost 100 per cent last week to make a ten-mile journey to the burg of Aden where the girls of the community under Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Stultz and others had prepared a splendid repast.

O. R. Kesner, pastor of the Aden church, gave the blessing, "Bish" Gibson being absent in Richmond. Rat made a good "drum" major with his chicken leg. Incidentally, Rat ate off of every table before he finished.

Hazel Bowman played for two songs by her sister, Gayle, who is a charming little ingenue. Mr. Clifford Dove "strummed" his own music very nicely.

A one-act drama was presented by Louise May in the leading role as the girl in an American home "somewhere." She was supported by Evelyn Kerlin, Claude Smith and Philip Reading, all of whom performed quite capably.

The Kiwanians reluctantly departed, satisfied only with a promise of more at an early date.

"MORE TAXES," SAYS POLLARD

Additional tax levies probably would be the only alternative left Virginia if the federal government demands states match in whole or in part, funds advanced for emergency relief, Governor Pollard said Tuesday when shown statements by Relief Administrator, Harry L. Hopkins, indicating this would be done.

"Heretofore," the governor said, "we have been able to avoid that issue by pointing to the fact that in Virginia, the general assembly was not scheduled to convene until next winter. Now I have no alibi. Assemblymen themselves have called a special session, the date for which has been set for August 17. If the question is put up to us, we shall have to meet it. It seems now the only way to do it is by raising taxes."

It has been pointed out that under the Virginia constitution debts may be contracted without a vote of the people, only to meet casual deficits in revenue, through issuance of short term certificates to redeem a previous liability of the state, to suppress insurrection, repel invasion, or defend the state in time of war.

Governor Pollard went into office with a prime declaration for curtailment of expenses, and against increase in taxes.

"We have been awaiting a declaration of policy from the federal government," he said, "before determining just what we are to do. I anticipated the possibility of the need for a special session of the Virginia Assembly later on, but I was doubtful whether the matter would have developed sufficiently by August 17 to know whether it would be necessary. I hope we shall know the policy definitely before the session is called."

Relief administrator Hopkins told the relief executives who met with him in Washington Monday that some of the states were due for a "rude shock" unless they helped finance their relief programs. State Welfare Commissioner Arthur W. James, who was present at the conference, upon his return Tuesday said "if the administrator had Virginia in mind, it may be answered that this state already has done much in the way of relief."

V. S. S. MEETING WELL ATTENDED

The patrons meetings at Nokesville and Manassas held by the Virginia Seed Service were very well attended. District Manager John G. Seibel explained the workings of the V.S.S. by means of a chart which was very interesting and instructive.

Those who hold Refund certificates should send them in at this time, and require credit, which will be at the rate of 1 per cent.

A long step forward is being taken by this cooperative in uniting with others and establishing a large mill and mixing plant in Baltimore from which distribution will be made.

A board of directors for each point was elected consisting of prominent farmers and patrons of the V.S.S.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

A song by F. O. Fairburn and short talks by T. E. Counts, P. A. Lewis, W. M. Johnson and W. C. Sadd were interesting features of the occasion.

MEETING OF COUNTY COUNCIL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The committee on organization desires that all members of the County Council be present and all other workers that may be interested.

WHO'S WHO IN HOLLYWOOD

A granddaughter of an empress and a relative of George Washington are in the movies now, and they have lots of ritz company. The story of Hollywood's blue-blood colony, which takes its place among the famous filmfolk who came up from the ribbon counter or off the brake beams, is told in the Magazine of The Washington Star next Sunday, July 16.

CATHARPIN

This column visited Washington on Saturday last and on our way home stopped at a "Sanitary" located on the outskirts of the city and asked for two pounds of veal steak. After it was cut and laid on the computing scale the dial showed just a trifle over two pounds. When wrapped we asked "how much?" to which a very polite young clerk answered "eighty cents." We gave him a dollar bill, received our twenty cents in change and came home. What would you have done? It had been but a day or so before, that one of our livestock dealers told the writer of taking a load of calves to Washington market and being offered only 4½ cents concluded to go on to Baltimore, where, if our memory is correct, he received 5½ cents for his shipment.
Now you finish this narrative in your own way. What are your deductions?

Lieut. C. Paul McDonald, jr., a student at V.M.I. at Lexington, Va., and who is now stationed at Ft. Myer undergoing a siege of four weeks of cavalry training, has been a frequent visitor to the home of his grandparents at Oakwood during the past ten days.

Mr. E. S. Clary of Lawrenceville, Va., was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey at Catharpin where Mrs. Clary has been visiting during the past three weeks.
They returned to their home on Monday accompanied by two of their young nephews, Hampton and Robert Alvey.

Much activity is noted on the timber tract of Mr. W. Holmes Robertson near Catharpin where a saw mill has lately been located and timber of all sizes is being shipped to market including some very large pile timbers going to seaboard. What with the hum of the saw, the rattle-te-bang of the thresher, and the rumble and rattle of the big trucks along the highway one might easily think he was in some big metropolitan center. But, of course, Catharpin is used to big things.

Mrs. W. S. Brower and Mrs. Henry Grill motored to Washington and spent the week end with friends in that city.

Sudley's young people are always in the forefront of action. They are now arranging for a program to be given next Sunday night, July 16, at 7:30 p.m. in Sudley church entitled "Word Pictures From Life," by a group of young people from Washington; the program to consist of music, readings, etc., all of which are of a high order of Christian entertainment. The performers are personally known to a number of Sudley young people, hence the reason for their coming. Since this is purely a social arrangement among friends the committee in charge is very anxious that the visitors be greeted by a large audience, so kindly make your plans to attend and enjoy the evening. No admission fee.

The Misses Lida, Leda and Beulah Sowers of Stone House were Oakwood callers on Sunday afternoon
last. Of this trio Lida and Beulah are teachers and Leda the supply
secretary of the Sudley Sunday school. They are always thinking up ways to make things interesting.

The threshing season is about over and the wheat crop a great disappointment since both yield and quality are only about half of normal expectancy. The straw piles, however, which dot the landscape from horizon to horizon are, if anything, above normal in both quantity and quality which may, in a way overcome some of the losses sustained by reason of crop shortage since a number of the farmers are selling their straw. It is now no unusual sight to see great, huge trucks with platforms resembling the "landing field"
on some ocean "mother ship," passing along our narrow highways enroute to some straw stack, which, in days of yore, was left to picture to the mind a condition of farm prosperity and to indicate that the crop had been safely garnered. It now seems a change is due and the old straw stack, so familiar to past generations, now scarcely has time to get itself settled on its new location until the balers come along and ere one is aware, is loaded up, and towering high, seems to bid defiance to customs of old as it speeds along on its way to market. This, then, may be the "beginning of the end" of that old, pastoral sight so familiar to us
all—"The old straw stack."

We all know, however that things do pass away. When the road from Sudley mill used to be lined with teams and wagons from the mill as far back as Sudley church, all laden with wheat to be ground, and some waiting out all night to insure their turn next day—who, then, would have said that Sudley would ever pass out of service? But where are the old country mills today? Gone with the sickle and the grain cradle. But the old straw stack has remained until now, due in great measure, no doubt,
to the sentiment that the farmer has always regarded it a great infraction of the law of "farmology" to allow any straw to be removed from the farm; and as long as any one can remember, the old straw stack has been considered almost as indispen-sible both for shelter and fertility as the old barn itself. But things do change. Wheat is not "garnered" as it used to be but usually trucks deliver it at once from machine to mill

so why not let the straw have a "look in" upon the new dispensation of things? But what troubles us most is what will the children do? Who is it now that does not remember the pleasure of tobogganing down the shiny slopes of the old straw stack in the barnyard and piling up, pell mell, with other children with a hilarity known only to youth? O you old straw stack! you may be gone some day for a long time, not forgotten.

"KRAKATOA" IN ERUPTION
SUPERB SCREEN SPECTACLE

One of the greatest and most spectacular thrills ever caught by the camera and microphone will be presented at the Dixie Theatre next Monday when Educational Pictures offers the startling screen sensation
"Krakatoa," a "special" in three reels, with Graham McNamee describing the action.

Krakatoa, it might be explained, is the name of one of the world's most unusual and active submarine volcanoes, located in the Indian Ocean between Sumatra and Java. Being inaccessible except by Dutch Government steamers it is not as well known as Vesuvius, Mont Pelee or other volcanoes but Krakatoa is more deadly and spectacular than any known volcano on the surface of the earth.

J. H. Bekker, an intrepid cameraman in the service of the Dutch Government, waited for several months to secure the startling sight and sound record of Krakatoa's most spectacular outburst which is shown in all its terrific grandeur in this film.

Huge volumes of lava, molten
glass, steam and smoke are belched forth from a series of craters situated below the surface of the ocean.
Weird, fantastic shapes, thousands of feet high, give vivid testimony to the terrific force contained in this "Demon of the Indian Ocean."

This presentation marks the first time that an eruption has been recorded by both sight and sound during its greatest height and from a camera located within one hundred and fifty feet.

Krakatoa is one of but two volcanoes mentioned in Van Loon's Geography and the opportunity to witness, with comfort and safety this marvelous manifestation of nature in the raw, should not be missed.

"DIFFERENT" WESTERN

One of the greatest difficulties experienced by producers of Western movies is to get a story that is different, that gets away from formula. Tim McCoy, in his latest Columbia feature, "The Western Code," showing ing at the Dixie Theatre next Friday, July 21, has done that. The story deals with Tim's relentless pursuit of a band of desperate counterfeiters who hide their real activities under the mask of the usual Western bad man's cattle rustling, ranch stealing and fash shooting.

Only a STRAIGHT EIGHT can give Straight Eight PERFORMANCE!

The 4-door Sedan, $695. E. C. B. Pontiac. Body by Fisher. Special equipment extra.

PONTIAC—the Economy Straight Eight—is one of the outstanding successes of the year. It is showing the way to big-car comfort and Straight Eight performance at low price and with operating economy.

Pontiac is the Economy Straight Eight. Ask any Pontiac owner—and you'll find it is giving 15 miles or more to the gallon—and gives that not only for a few thousands of miles, but for many thousands after you'd expect it to show signs of wear.

One of Pontiac's outstanding features is Fisher Controlled Ventilation. Many say no car can be considered modern without it.

Try a demonstration. Let Pontiac itself convince you that it has no equal at or near its price—that it is the outstanding car of the year in every detail that goes to make a car modern and desirable.

Ask your dealer for a copy of the booklet, "What do you mean—Balanced Value?" It is free.

DAME FORTUNE SMILES "BOOTS" MALLORY

Fortune, which smiled sweetly on Boots Mallory when she was awarded the feminine lead in Fox Films' "Hello, Sister," continued to lavish favors upon her while the picture was still in its preparatory stages. Special equipment, on rush order, was made available to record the picture on the new "wide range" sound system, the latest gift of science to the talking screen. Miss Mallory was thus assured of the best voice recording possible, making hers the first performance to be recorded by the new device.

"Wide Range" is a development that, in the language of the laity, adds more than an octave on the low end of the piano keyboard and almost an octave above the high one. This, in the language of the technician, gives a constant frequency range from almost 50 cycles on the low end of the notes we commonly hear on the bass viol to around 10,000 cycles on the upper range—sound which comes from the oboe, flute and other instruments of the kind, as well as from the harmonics and overtones of the human voice.

Regarded as the most likely "find" of this screen season, the first recorded scenes of Miss Mallory using "wide range" revealed her voice to be much softer and of even more liquid quality than was heard in the screen tests by which she was awarded her Fox contract.

"Hello, Sister," featuring James Dunn, with ZaSu Pitts, Minna Gombell and Terrance Ray in featured support, is a romantic drama of New York life and love.

It will be the attraction at the Dixie Theatre next Wednesday.

RANGER CAN'T ESCAPE DUTY

Buck Jones in his latest Columbia outdoor thriller, "Hello Trouble," comes to the Dixie Theatre tomorrow. Buck is a Texas Ranger, who while performing his duty shoots his friend, Johnny Boyle, who used to be a Ranger, too, but who has fallen into bad company. This so unnerves Buck, playing Jeff Douglas, that he decides to quit ranging and find peace of mind at the Silver Circle Ranch in Arizona. But instead of finding the calm life that he hoped for, Jeff has to pull out of worse holes than ever before, to say nothing of saving others, including Janet Yenon, a pretty Eastern girl, with whom he finally falls in love.

The supporting cast is unusually able, including Lina Basquette, the former Ziegfeld Follies beauty, who plays opposite Buck, as Janet, and such headliners as Wallace MacDonald, Alan Roscoe, Morgan Galloway, Ruth Warren, Otto Hoffman, Lyle McKee, Ward Bond, Al Smith, Spec O'Donnell, Frank Rice and Russell Simpson.

HAYMARKET

A most pleasant social event of the past week end was a tea given by Mrs. A. W. Amphlett for her house guests, Miss Mary Price and Miss Bell Price of Alexandria, formerly of Haymarket, those present during the afternoon being their old friends and neighbors of this section. Refreshments of fruit punch, cake and other dainties were served by the hostess and enjoyed by her guests. We are glad to say there is a possibility that the Misses Price will eventually return to make their home here.

Mr. James Teel, who had for some time made his home with his son, Mr. Cleveland Teel, of this village, passed away very suddenly last Friday afternoon. Apparently in his usual health, he was setting out in the without pain. Funeral services were held at the home on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Council of the Baptist church, of which Mr. Teel was a member, officiating, interment being in the Gainesville Methodist churchyard.

Miss Janet Low has recently returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Luke of Warrenton.

Mrs. A. R. G. Bass and Mrs. Brownie Tulloss are visiting relatives in Staunton.

Mrs. Roswell H. Blair, with her sons, Thom, Carval and Arthur, is spending this week at Atlantic City.

HAYMARKET DAY
ATTRACTS CROWD

The most outstanding community event yet held in the county this year was the Haymarket Community League Field Meet at the Peters Field at Haymarket Wednesday. A large crowd was on hand to witness the morning events and others continued to arrive throughout the day.

The victors in the competitive contests of the forenoon were as follows: Potato race, W. C. Payne, Jr.; three-legged race, Billy Dogan and Marshall Garth; 50-yard dash for girls, Louise Beach; 50-yard dash for boys, 12 years of age and under, W. C. Payne, Jr.; 100 yards for boys 15 years and under, Thad Curry; 100 yards for men, 'Mac' Tyler; suit case race, Della Beach; fat ladies race, Mrs. Wade C. Payne; horseshoe pitching contest, John Foley and George Shumate.

After lunch there were two very interesting baseball games, first between Hickory Grove and Aldie, won by the former, 1-0, and the second, Haymarket and Manassas, won by the latter, 22-14.

Lunch and refreshments were served by the members of the Haymarket Community League at noon.

OWENS-CONNER

Miss Ruby U. Conner, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Conner of Marshall, Va., and Mr. Herman M. Owens, the son of Mrs. Robert E. Owens of the Plains, Va., were quietly married on Tuesday, July 4, at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. John E. Briggs of Washington.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of blue crepe with white accessories to match.

The young couple will make their home with the groom's mother at "Mountain End." We wish them a long and happy married life.

THE MAKING OF CHEESE AT HOME IS ADVOCATED

Surplus milk can be used to advantage for cheese making, advises Mr. H. L. Wilson, U. S. Department of Agriculture. At a recent demonstration on the making of American cheese at home, Mr. Wilson advised the use of surplus milk for cheese making. Little equipment and a relatively small amount of time are needed for making cheese in the home. At the present price of cream and including all materials that go into the cheese it can be made for less than 10 cents per pound. Surplus milk made into cheese may be stored for an indefinite length of time.

STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

—neither strong enough,
nor safe enough, nor quiet enough for the body of a quality car like
CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET Why is it that every 12-cylinder and 16-cylinder car in America has bodies of steel reinforced by hardwood? Why is it that every make of car selling for over $4000 uses bodies of exactly the same type? Why? For the same reason that Chevrolet uses it exclusively, and refuses to resort to anything else: Because every test and every experiment has definitely proved: STEEL ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH! Neither as strong, nor as safe, nor as quiet as a body of steel plus hardwood.

The trouble with steel alone is that it stands just so much shock and punishment. Steel alone is also inclined to rumble and rattle. Steel simply can't do a job all by itself, any more than wood alone can! BUT—when you put the two together—a heavy, staunch steel body over tough, solid hardwood—then the hardwood reinforces the steel—and vice versa! The two work together. And the result: the strongest, safest type of body, such as Fisher builds for Chevrolet.

Don't expect to find a steel plus hardwood body in any other low-priced car. Only Chevrolet has it! And don't expect to find, in any other low-priced car, sturdy, safe bow and airtight roof construction, such as Chevrolet gives you. Or that greatest body improvement in the last ten years: Fisher No Draft Ventilation. Or a Cushion-Balanced Engine Mounting (that kills annoying vibration). Also, don't expect to find, in any other low-priced car, such Chevrolet features as a Starterator! Or a six-cylinder engine as dependable—or as economical—as Chevrolet's! No other car has them—and that's why twice as many people choose Chevrolet as any other make of motor car.

An example of the results that can be obtained with Korean Lespedeza may be seen on the farm of Dr. E. H. Marsteller on the Page Land lane. From a seeding of seven pounds per acre in the spring of 1932, there is a perfect stand on the second field of this farm going in from the Lee highway.

No definite information has yet been received as to how Prince William wheat growers may participate in the benefits to be derived from the thirty cents per bushel processing tax on wheat. How the milk producers may benefit will be explained at a meeting at the Manassas Town Hall, this Friday evening, July 14, at 8 o'clock.

Silo Building Materials.

From reports received, a great deal of false propaganda has been scattered over the county in regard to the inability of certain types of silos to keep silage, particularly the monolithic or poured concrete type: Information obtained from different State Experiment Stations is best expressed in the following letter received from C. E. Wise, Jr., extension agricultural engineer, University of Maryland:

"From my experience with silos, I have found that practically all material properly used gives equally good results. I am aware that many silo salesmen have good results. I am aware that many silo salesmen have formed the habit of knocking the concrete silo and others say that silage will ruin the silo. However we have found this not to be true.

"The monolithic concrete silo properly constructed is a good silo as can be built. Any material in a silo needs some protection. A wood silo should be treated with linseed oil and tile, concrete block and concrete stave silos are best plastered. The monolithic concrete silo should be smooth inside and washed down with a mixture of cement and water or a mixture with iron filings added. More important than the material is the proper time and condition of filling the silo."

"BEST OF ENEMIES" OPENING HERE NEXT MONDAY

With Buddy Rogers and Marian Nixon in the leading roles, "Best of Enemies," the new Fox comedy romance, comes to the Dixie Theatre next Monday. It is described as a novel romance depicted against as up-to-the-minute a background as has ever been seen.

The story traces the development of a youthful love through the vagaries of events surrounding two youths. Differences between their families are brought out by things over which they have no control, and barriers are set in their way. The central background being the passage and the return of beer, the situations accompanying the romance are said to be highly amusing.

The story moves in locale from a city in the Middle West, inhabited by a great number of German-Americans who cannot give up habits of centuries, to Germany itself, where the young man of the romantic pair goes to study. The film has a distinctive musical accompaniment directed by Arthur Lange and dance sequences arranged by Sammy Lee.

OPEN-AIR AMUSEMENTS

Yes, that's it. The young people of the Aden U. B. church are planning another big event Saturday night, July 15, one even bigger than usual. Some very interesting speakers are going to be present. Hon. John W. Rust, Mrs. Nelle Hyde Holmes will be here, not with political speeches but just humorous ones and Mrs. Martin (the Dr's wife) will cure your troubles with her funny readings.

A group of Italians from Washington are planning to be here to furnish music (This we can't promise for sure). There will be plenty of amusements with two pretty good clowns and we don't want you to miss the side show.

Come rain or shine and there will be good things to eat. The young people appreciate the fine co-operation that has been given them in the things they have sponsored heretofore, and we will look forward to seeing you Saturday night.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Voters of Stafford and Prince William Counties:

I desire to take this means to formally announce my candidacy for renomination by the Democratic party in the August primary to the seat in the Virginia House of Delegates from Prince William and Stafford Counties, and to assure the people of the two counties that if nominated and re-elected, I will use my best endeavors for their interest and for the interest of the people of the state generally.

If again honored as the choice of the people of the district, I promise to conscientiously and faithfully discharge duties of the office and to support those measures which will relieve the people of the burden of taxation now falling upon them, when such measures are consistent with the best interests of the people generally.

SENATOR SMITH'S RADIO ADDRESS OF JULY 6

Salient Paragraphs Featuring Remarks

"Those who are privileged to exercise the right of franchise owe first to themselves the duty in casting their vote to do so with a view of advancing their own best interest. Take the Power Trust heads, they are not going to vote for me and they ought not to, because I propose to reduce their rates and see that the bear their just burden of taxation. Take the heads of the School Book Trust. They are not going to vote for me, because I have said on the floor of the Senate that they are robbing the poor under the guise of education in order that they may make money and live in luxury. Take the Tobacco Trust, who are said to be liberal contributors to campaign funds for the invisible machine. They are not going to vote for me, because they know that I know they are not bearing their just burden of state taxation, but how about the people who pay the telephone bills, light bills, the gas bills and the water bills? They should support me, because I advocate lower rates; the people who purchase the text books to educate their children should support me, because I am opposed to the frequent change of text books, and if elected will break up this system of graft. The producers and consumers of tobacco owe to themselves the duty to support me just as the owners of those monopolies owe it to themselves to oppose me.

"Peery has never appeared before the Senate, and asked it to give the State Corporation Commission, of which he was a member, any such rights as he now recommends, and if there was one duty that rested upon him, it was the duty to advise the General Assembly of the laws necessary to be enacted, in order that he might carry out the Public Trust that he held.

"The Water Companies, Gas Companies and Electric Companies are permitted by law to earn a fixed rate, and no more, upon the valuation of their property. The purpose of the law was to prevent the Water Companies, Gas Companies and Electric Companies from robbing the consumer, and the State Corporation Commission was charged with this responsibility, but here is what Mr. Peery's State Corporation Commission permitted.

"The Appalachian Electric Power Company, operating through southwest Virginia, closed its books one night and when they opened their books the next morning they had pumped into that corporation $66,418,192.80 worth of water, on which additional sum they are permitted to earn the amount fixed by law, just like they would have been permitted to do, had they pumped $66,000,000 of gold into that company.

"I wonder how long a suffering country is going to stand this kind of treatment? Are we helpless? Is there any way under heaven by which this down-trodden people can be rescued from this great octopus, that is hanging about the neck of the Government? One hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars or water for which we are paying, and then we are afraid to tax them or reduce their rates!

"The Power Trusts never forget anything. While they are changing water into gold they are not forgetting about politicians in school districts, in legislatures, in senatorial campaigns, in presidential campaigns, in gubernatorial campaigns. They have their men ready to write a Platform from Prohibition to Declaration of War, to suit any convention that wants to use it, if they can keep out of that convention platform anything that might hurt them.

"Look up at your electric lights, and thank Mr. Peery for the privilege of paying a high rate per kilowatt, while the citizens of Washington pay a low rate.

"I believe that George Peery is the type of man who feels that blood is thicker than water. I compliment him, when I say that he should and will stand by his brother-in-law, Harris Hart, former Superintendent of Public Instruction! now an officer of the B. F. Johnson Publishing Company, a publisher of school books.

"In this connection, I propose to submit to the Legislature a plan which will prevent the frequent, unnecessary and expensive change of text books used in our Public Schools.

"I look to the 9th District and quote the words of Congressman John W. Flannagan; and here is what he said in his speech reported in the Congressional Record of March 27, 1933:

"DON'T YOU THINK THE TAXPAYERS HAVE FED THE SCHOOL BOOK TRUSTS LONG ENOUGH?"

"Those are the words of the Congressman from the 9th District. Does

Mr. Peery, a candidate for governor from the 9th District, agree with Congressman John W. Flannagan? If so, he shied off the subject when he published his platform.

"I am opposed to the unreasonable and unnecessary change of text books. I will never be convinced of the justice or necessity for the wholesale change of text books that took place in 1930.

"To my mind, this is one of the most important issues that confront the masses of the people of the State of Virginia, and it is not a new matter with me. I have been fighting it in the State Senate for ten years.

"AT THE SESSION OF 1932 I introduced in the Senate of Virginia a resolution to investigate the State Board of Education, to ascertain why all of these books were changed at one time, and it developed at the hearing last December in the Senate Chamber, that instead of changing sixteen basal text books they had changed twenty-four, and if any sound reason was found for the wholesale changing of text books during the time of the severest depression that has confronted the people of this State since the Civil War, I don't know what it was.

"But it did develop that the B. F. Johnson Publishing Company, a Richmond concern, officered by the Honorable Harris Hart, former Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Virginia, received an order for $501,000.00 worth of text books.

"I again quote the words of Congressman John W. Flannagan from the 9th District:

"DON'T YOU THINK THE TAXPAYERS HAVE FED THE SCHOOL BOOK TRUSTS LONG ENOUGH?"

"I once again ask Mr. Peery why he omitted text books from his Platform. Does he lack the courage to answer this, too? To continue the present policies, to continue the unnecessary, frequent and unreasonable change of text books in our free schools, and I say this is wrong. The remedy is free text books.

Automobile License Tax.

"I find upon investigation that the same results may be accomplished in road building in the State of Virginia by fixing the tax on passenger cars at $5.00 per car, and if I am elected Governor of Virginia I will recommend such a tax to the Virginia Assembly.

"Any man, who on today's purchasing power of a dollar cannot construct and maintain our highways on a flat five-dollar license fee plus a 5c gas tax, ought not to be elected Governor, because he is out of tune with our people and their ability to pay taxes, and without the knowledge of the purchasing power of a dollar. Give us a dollar's worth of road for a dollar, and we won't need the excessive, burdensome automobile tax that Mr. Peery would exact from the people, as set forth in his Staunton speech Saturday, June 3. In Halifax County it is estimated that 40 per cent of the cars have no licenses and, therefore, can buy no gas; thus causing a large loss of revenue to the State from this source. The larger car uses more gas than the small car, and thus pays a larger road tax. Besides, many of these large, second-hand cars have been traded in and are now owned by the poor.

Eighteenth Amendment

"I believe that the Nation would be better off if there were no liquor in it. But there is, and it always will be here. Therefore, looking to Temperance, I believe in the legalized sale of liquor under proper and strict regulation without saloons.

"I have heretofore in my Platform issued a statement that I favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. I stand squarely behind President Roosevelt.

Modification of the Layman Act.

"I favor modification of the Layman Act, so as to permit the sale of non-intoxicating 3.2 beer. If it is not non-intoxicating, then the President of the United States is wrong, and the Congress of the United States is wrong.

"On June 23, I made demand upon the State Organization to call an EXTRA SESSION to deal with 3.2 Beer, in the following language: Once again I make demand upon the State Organization which is today in control of our Government to call an extra Session of the Legislature to convene during the month of July, prior to the Democratic Primary to be held on August 1. Let every man show his hand before the election instead of waiting until after the August Primary, to perform this duty that the Government owes to her people."

"By this time the issue had become so hot that the powers that be turned and fled from the foe, like the Yankees at the Battle of Bull Run. On the 28th day of June, five days after my last demand, the session was called, but not to convene until after the Primary, because it might influence the Governorship fight to hold it before the Primary. This I have said, and say again, was political cowardice and ravished the organization of what little leadership there was in the belated response to public duty and popular demand.

"The Call for an Extra Session makes no provision for what shall be done with the tax revenues received from the sale of beer, and the Organization hides behind the returns of the election to deal with this subject rather than have the extra session before the election.

"From Halifax on June 30, I wired the Invisible Machine at the Richmond Hotel, Richmond, Va., and much to my surprise the telegrams were delivered. I asked in that message that the Organization publish in the Press, for what purpose they propose to use the Beer revenue, and I asked if they were willing to use these funds to reinstate the School Teachers' salaries; but I have no reply, and neither have the people of Virginia.

"Does my opponent, Mr. Peery, agree with me, or does he lack the courage to take a stand in this matter, as he does in other issues? If he is not willing for this revenue to be used for the benefit of the Public Free School System of Virginia, then I ask him what does he propose to do with it?

My Proposal.

"Under the resolution adopted by Congress, the states have seven years in which to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. If the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed during my administration as Governor of Virginia I would deal with the liquor control as follows:

"I will call twenty-seven practical men and women, three from each Congressional Subdivision of the State, to confer with me at the Capitol for the purpose of working out a sound law for the control of ardent spirits, and I will hold these conferees in conference until a practical and logical plan is worked out. In selecting these conferees, I will not call into conference any man or woman who holds a political office. Neither will I knowingly call into conference any man or woman who is engaged or expects to become engaged in the liquor business. The liquor business has been a foot ball for politicians long enough, and in deciding upon my recommendations to the Legislature, I will accept the advice of the conferees, who shall consist of practical men and women from every walk of life, including the Ministry of the Gospel.

"I do not propose to be considered a dictator and ram down the throats of the people of Virginia a law that they do not want, and therefore I have decided upon this manner of dealing with hard liquors, if and when it should become my responsibility.

"I challenge Mr. Peery to draw a concrete plan for the lawful sale of beer and hard liquors, which he says in his Platform he wants to submit to the people, so that you may know what he is willing to permit you to pass on.

"What do you think you are going to vote for? He hasn't told you yet, and I predict he won't tell you. He evidently puts you on his lists of preferred suckers with the sop that he submits the question to the people, without telling you what the question is.

"He is not an advocate of the lawful sale of 3.2 non-intoxicating beer, but he will agree to it if he can't help himself.

"By his passiveness, he will continue to make Virginia the laughing stock of States, as she is today, on the non-intoxicating beer question, for which he and those promoting his candidacy are totally and wholly responsible.

"I now ask the people of Virginia, who was right when I began my fight for an extra session of the Legislature, in order that 3.2 non-intoxicating beer might be legally sold in Virginia? Was I right, or were Mr. Peery and those promoting his candidacy?

"Was I right, when I began my fight against the text book evil back in 1924, or were Mr. Peery's promoters right?

"Am I right on my position against the Power Trust, the Water Companies and the Gas Companies, that I thought Mr. Peery was properly regulating for the protection of the people through his position as a member of the State Corporation Commission, for which he was paid by the people; or is Mr. Peery right?

"Am I right in my demand for a flat $5.00 license tax on all passenger automobiles?

"Am I right in my demand that the gas tax shall not be increased?

"The answer to these questions must be determined by you in the sanctuary of your home. If I am right, you owe to yourself a duty to advance my candidacy; if I am wrong, you owe to yourself the duty to retard my candidacy. But in these closing words I thank GOD that I have the courage to tell you in plain language what I stand for. I have sufficient faith in human kind to rest my cause in you and accept your verdict with an abiding conviction that your answers to these questions shall be favorable to your own best interests."
