HORNINGS TAKE RUBBER GAME

Take Advantage of Breaks and Errors to Defeat Macks in Deciding Game.

The Horning Jewelers, proteges of Horning's Pawnshop in Washington, came to Manassas last Sunday and took the third game of the series between themselves and the Macks into hock. When they finished their day's business, they found themselves on the long end of a 7-2 score.

When the game was over, the Macks found that they had again been thrown for a loss after two straight wins. But they had no one but themselves to blame for the defeat. They had lost the game through loose fielding and weak hitting. During the course of the game they had been guilty of four errors and had registered only eight hits.

Buster Polen pitched a good game, allowing twelve hits, but striking out seven and walking only one. Going to the hill for the third time within seven days, however, he found a little difficulty in getting under full steam, and the Jewelers succeeded in getting to him for hits with men on bases in the early innings. As the game progressed, he regained his strength and cunning, and in the sixth and seventh innings turned away the first two men to face him on strikes. But the damage had been done, and the Jewelers proceeded to win the game as Young held the Macks away from the plate effectively.

The box score of the game is as follows:

MANASSAS JUNIORS DEFEAT CLARENDON

A pitcher's dream was almost realized when the local Legion Juniors met the Clarendon Generals on Saturday, July 15.

"Bubbe" Simpson, accomplished young twirler of the Legion, carried the Generals to the early ninth hitless, when Daro, pinch hitting with out, singled to center field.

Fogle and Cline carried off slugging honors for the locals with a triple and single apiece, the former scoring two runs with his three-bagger.

Due to illness, Boatwright, catcher, and Vetter, second base, were on the bench. White and Bowers, however, covered the positions neatly.

MISS TRUSLER TO ACT AS COUNCILOR

Miss Janet Trusler departed Sunday, July 16, for Rock Creek Park to assume the duties as an official councilor at a summer camp for children. It is expected that the duties will continue throughout July and August, after which time Miss Trusler will conduct classes in expression and dramatic art, here and in Washington.

Attention is again called to the Battlefield Picnic ALL day tomorrow. Food and refreshments on grounds. All three candidates for governor are expected to speak. State Senator Rust will preside.

COMMENTS FROM MR. DEAL

The following extract from a speech made at Newport News by Mr. Deal last week:

"The people don't know how Peery stands on these vital questions; they have no way of knowing whether my honorable opponent even knows what is going on in the country, for up to this time he has stuck pretty closely to such grave matters as whether or not I received the machine's support in my campaigns for Congress.

"I submit that the outstanding issue in this campaign is whether the people want a standpat, reactionary machine running Virginia or a man whose face is to the future, who believes that Roosevelt's progressivism is the sole hope of the nation and who pledges himself to do all in his power to give to our President the wholehearted support of that State which is known as the mother of Presidents.

"Most of our local issues hinge directly upon this central question. You people of Newport News are interested at present in power rates. My honorable opponent has had ample opportunity, as a member of the State Corporation Commission, to see that the people got a square deal from the power trusts. But I suppose he feels that interfering with the custom of permitting them to earn 8 per cent on stock watered and re-watered would be unwarranted, just as the man who is running him for Governor feels that the President is going too far in interfering with lawful business.

"Peery's supporters are so alarmed at the swing away from their candidate that they are actually suggesting that the people nominate him for Governor and then hold a platform convention so he can be told how he stands on the issues I have raised in the campaign. The News Leader, Byrd-Peery organ, is now insisting that the people must be told how their leaders stand on the 'new deal,' saying they cannot be asked to follow in the dark. But that newspaper would have the people told by a platform, written after the primary. This amazing proposal is proof enough that even Peery's supporters, if they are intelligent and if they have the good of the State at heart, are growing disgusted with his placid assumption that running for Governor is a childish game in which serious matters should not be intruded."

EAGLES BACK FOR ANOTHER BATTLE

Team Which Snapped Previous Winning Streak Returns for Game This Sunday.

The Alexandria Fraternal Order of Eagles team is coming back again this Sunday to give the Macks hawks another shot at their shining plumage. When they were here before, they put an end to a winning streak which the Macks had established, just as the Horning Jewelers did on the past Sunday.

Now the Macks hope to use these same birds to start themselves a new winning streak. With a record of ten victories and four defeats for the season, the Macks can show no prolonged winning streaks, and for that reason they would like very much to clip the wings of the Eagles this Sunday and start themselves on the road to a real winning streak.

ENJOY PICNIC

The postal clerks association picnicked at Davis Beach today as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Allen. About fifty attended.

Hon. G. W. Herring was a prominent figure at the gathering.

BULL RUN

Bull Run. That magic name has inspired countless thousands who have never seen the spot where "Stonewall" earned his name.

If one would go to the little rise where Jackson stood and to which Bee excitedly ran in the confusion of battle, they might perhaps get a faint idea of that moment of history when almost the fate of nations was changed.

The day had gone distinctly against the Confederates, and word had already been passed back that the rebels were being defeated.

Calm in face of shot and shell, Jackson watched the enemy over the expanse which swept away to the northwest. The battery on his right was about to retreat, and asked permission. "How many rounds have you?" asked Jackson. "Two" was the reply. Counting seconds as it were, and with the enemy constantly gaining, Jackson said "Fire slowly, for when you have fired twice the Virginians will be with us."

As the smoke rose from the guns on the second volley, there was a crooning yell, which gradually surged up and down the tired gray line. For just at that moment, the ranks of the Virginians came into view over the rise just behind the great General and he knew the day was his.

The order to charge along the entire line was given and the Federal rout became one of the greatest and quickest changes from victory to overwhelming defeat that the world has ever seen.

Of all that brave battle line, how many remain to still pulse the wonder of that day? It is the saddest moment of all to realize that they have passed from the scene. We can only feel the thrill of pride that comes in the fact that the glory of the Anglo-Saxon race is never dimmed by the passage of time and that as the present-day exponents of that great family we have the same gage of battle thrust into hands, even if it be only an economic war and the plough share has replaced the saber.

May we join once again today in the sincere hope that our sons of the Southland will come forward to victory once again as they did on that bright day in July so long ago!

GEORGE WATSON

A wedding of great interest to people of the Haymarket and surrounding neighborhoods took place on Wednesday, July 12, when Miss Mary Watson of Hickory Grove became the bride of Mr. Robert George of the same place.

The marriage was solemnized in All Saints Episcopal church in Frederick, Md., Rev. Douglass Hooff officiating. The witnesses were the bride's two brothers, Messrs. James and Francis Watson, and her cousin, Miss Margaret Carter.

After the ceremony the party returned to the home of the bride's parents for a wedding supper at which members of both families were present.

Mr. and Mrs. George will make their home at Sunnyside near Hickory Grove.

They are planning a visit to the World's Fair in the late summer.

VEEDER-HUDSON

Mrs. J. R. Hudson of Albany, Ga., announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary, to Charles Deering Veeder of Greenwich, Prince William County, Va., and Warm Springs, Ga. Miss Hudson is a former student of Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., where her studies in physical education led her to take up the inspiring work of physiotherapy of the Warm Springs Foundation, at Warm Springs, Ga., founded by President Roosevelt, for the relief of infantile paralysis.

Mr. Veeder is the youngest son of the late Commodore Ten Eyck De Witt, United States Navy of Schenectady, N. Y., and the late Mrs. Veeder, who before her marriage was the daughter of Charles Green, of Savannah, Ga., and Prince William.

The groom is a brother of the late Lieutenant T. E. D. W. Veeder, Jr., U. S. Navy, the Misses Veeder of Washington, and Greenwich, Va., and Lieutenant William S. Veeder, U. S. Navy. He attended the Episcopal High School at Alexandria, Va., and of late has been co-editor of the Warm Springs Mirror.

The wedding took place July 15 at Warm Springs, in the presence of the two families and a few intimate friends.

HORSE SHOW TO DRAW CROWD

Programs for the Prince William County Horse Show are out calling for the usual two-day affair at Nokesville, Wednesday and Thursday, August 2 and 3.

The number of classes has been reduced somewhat but the racing card is equally as good as in the past. There are seven classes, halfbreeds, yearlings, handicap jump, hack or hunter for the first day, and green hunters, touch-and-out, and hunter trial for second day.

The racing purses are liberal considering the times, and entry fees all quite reasonable.

The officers of the organization are H. W. Herring, president; E. W. Hale, secretary; both of Nokesville. There are a number of prominent men of the county who are in the list of directors.

Mr. Hale announces that entries for each race must close at 10 a.m. on the day previous to race.

BIG POLITICAL RALLY AT BETHEL

Candidates Please Crowd With Frankness.

Last Friday night Bethel was the scene of a large and enthusiastic crowd of people from all parts of the county and Stafford County turned out en masse at a political rally sponsored by the Bethel Community League. The campaigns of the local candidates have, up to now, been very quiet, but this rally marked the beginning of what was to be an exceedingly interesting and hard-fought political battle. Mrs. Nelle Hyde Holmes is a candidate for the seat in the House of Delegates, of which Mr. George W. Herring also of Prince William is the present incumbent. It is interesting to note that while there have been in the past three women members of the House of Delegates, with a woman at the present representing Norfolk, Mrs. Holmes is the first woman to run for office in this part of the State.

Hon. Hawes T. Davies was chairman of the program and Mr. E. R. Conner introduced the speakers. Mr. Hawes lauded Mr. Conner for his many activities in Prince William and spoke appreciatively of Mr. Conner's wide popularity in the county. General Ed then, blushing, took the post of honor and introduced the lady candidate first, with many compliments.

Mrs. Holmes, speaking first on the program, delivered a very impressive and timely speech, the central theme of which was a $5 auto license fee and free text books.

Mr. Herring made a short extemporaneous talk in which he stated that he, too, was in accordance with the idea of free text books and reduction of automobile license tax. Senator Rust followed Mr. Herring with remarks about schools, text books and highway construction.

Conner at the close of the speeches supplied a touch of humor by reading a very clever poem, of his own composition, on the two candidates for the House of Delegates.

Miss Isobel Rainey of Manassas entertained the crowd with tap and acrobatic dancing, with Mrs. Kitty Parler at the piano.

CATHOLIC CLUB TO BE FORMED

At a meeting held yesterday in the rectory of All Saints' church, Manassas, the women of the parish decided to form an organization to be known as "The Catholic Woman's Club of Prince William County."

Every woman of the parish is eligible to membership. Until further plans are made the club will meet every third and fifth Sunday in the church rectory, immediately after the late mass.

MRS. SUSAN F. IDEN

The death of Mrs. Susan F. Iden of 3223 Sixth street N. W., Washington, D. C., which occurred on July 13, 1933, in the National Capital, marked the passing of one of the prominent members of pre-war-between-the-States social and political life of Virginia. She was ninety-one years of age. On May 29 last Mrs. Iden suffered a stroke from which she never recovered. Interment will be at her birthplace, Manassas, Va.

Mrs. Susan F. Iden, nee Hooe, was the daughter of John Hooe of Manassas, and as a young lady witnessed some of the harrowing experiences of the Civil War. General Beauregard used her home as his headquarters for a time. Twice she refueged with her family and a retinue of slaves to the southern part of Virginia to escape the invading armies of the North. She visited the field immediately after the Second Battle of Manassas before the dead had been buried. Her father's home was plundered and burned, and at the end of the War, like so many families of the South, she found herself "land poor."

Mrs. Iden is survived by her husband, William G. Iden, retired; and two sons, Frank H. Iden, a civil engineer in the employ of the District of Columbia, and V. Gilmore Iden, director of Public Relations for the American Iron and Steel Institute and the American Institute of Steel Construction, New York.

CATHARPIN

In one of our farm journals we noted that while the price received by the farmer for such as he had to sell had advanced two points, the 175 things he had to buy had advanced three points. This still leaves him in the rear or at the tail end of the procession; however he is an ambitious sort of individual and hopes some day he may catch up; but he never knew before just how many things he had to buy. If we had been making a guess we probably would have said a "thousand and one" instead of 175. That's the way one usually expresses himself when he does not know anything about it. However, we are wondering just what those 175 things are which the farmer has to buy. Can you name them?

Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Latham and family of Snow Hill attended the program services at Sudley Sunday night.

Hay harvest is well under way and no complaint to offer in regard to either quantity or quality. Feed stuffs are abundant.

Mrs. C. F. Brower spent several days with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Willis, in Clarendon last week.

The Rev. J. M. Bell of Manassas was a Sudley visitor on Sunday night last and took part in the program.

During one of our recent storms lightning struck and killed two valuable cows belonging to Mr. Harry Polen. The lightning now has a fatality list of three cows and one horse during the past month. It seems rather strange that these accidents are going in pairs rather than single-handed.

Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Bell Farm has been in Washington since last week under the care of a specialist for an ailment which has been troubling her for some time. While in the city she is a guest of her niece, Mrs. Gussie Lynn Webb.

Further activities in the lumber camp on the Robertson farm are now held in obedience on account of the illness of Mr. Laws Spencer who is confined to his room and in a very serious condition due to tonsil and other trouble. Mr. Spencer is interested in a number of activities such as threshing and lumber and much at present seems to be dependent upon his presence and management. It is sincerely hoped he may soon be able to be around again.

As per announcement in this column last week the program "Word Pictures From Life" was given in Sudley church on Sunday night and a large audience greeted its rendition. Here was a group of young people who, no doubt, had been trained in Epworth League work and who seemed inspired with the idea of using their talents along religious lines rather than secular, and who had prepared a program picturing life from the cradle to old age, and which is suitable to be given in any church and any time as an inspiring and worshipful program of service. It was well received by the audience and many were the thanks tendered the young people for services rendered. Miss Lora Bell of Manassas and Washington was the very efficient leader.

At first Sudley was somewhat perplexed to understand just why it was that a group of young people from Washington and elsewhere would want to come to the country, take entire charge of a worship program, invite the people to attend, render a service both inspirational and entertaining without mention of any kind of collection or remuneration.

Usually strangers coming into a neighborhood with an entertainment of any kind, come for a purpose which, laudible though it be, is usually not looked upon with 100 percent degree of favor. But this was different. These young people wanted to do something worth while and wanted to do it bad enough to furnish their own transportation which in this case amounted to not more than a few gallons of gasoline. What an example that is to set before the young people of the country? If all the gasoline used in the pursuit of pleasure were diverted into channels of that sort, what a wonderful change there would be in the attitude of our young people toward their church and home life? True, some have said that they, at least, should have their expenses paid. We grant it was well worth it; but may we ask who pays the expenses of the "joy riders" who burn gas by the millions of gallons? Well, there are "kicks" and there are other "kicks" which we may legitimately call pleasures; these young people who came to Sudley and who have gone to other churches on the same mission, found their pleasures consisted in doing the right thing and the good thing so that the mere matter of expenses was not to be considered. To our mind these young people have opened the door to a great field of opportunity where young people of talent may organize themselves into groups to do things worthwhile; things that elevate both themselves and those who hear them instead of wasting time and gas in the way it is usually done, and thus render some good service to people who appreciate their good works and love them for it.

DUMFRIES

The Woman's Missionary Society of Dumfries held an all day meeting Tuesday, July 11. Conference guest, Mrs. Nellie Clark, district secretary, and Mrs. Jacobs, Children's Superintendent, Mrs. Harlin, Supt. Supplies, all from Washington. Forest Hill and Bethel societies were represented in large numbers. Bethel had 18 present. Forest Hill had seven. A nice lunch was served to all by Dumfries Auxiliary. Dumfries society is planning a lawn party for Dumfries church on July 26 at the school lawn. Mrs. Nellie Holmes and Mr. G. Herrington will be present. A large crowd is hoped for.

Mrs. Cauffman of Washington has returned to her home after a visit to her daughter, Mrs. French Brawnier.

Rev. and Mrs. Shumate attended a Young People's Union meeting on Thursday night, July 13, at Remington, Va. Mr. Shumate was the speaker of the evening.

AFTER REPEAL—WHAT?

All indications point to the early doom of the eighteenth amendment, and the question as to how the administration plans to meet the many problems which will face the Nation after repeal are answered in an article in the magazine section of The Washington Star next Sunday, July 23.

DROWNED IN BROAD RUN

Carroll Robertson, a young farmer of the Brentsville vicinity, was found this morning in Broad Run, on the Compton farm. He had been missing since Tuesday night when he went fishing. The deceased is a nephew of Irvin Fox, who was buried here Tuesday. He is a son of Douglas Robertson and his widow is a daughter of Elmer Burke.

John Hively, Sunny Keys, Fred Shepherd, Wiley Garman, Philip Reading, William Partlow, James Earhart, Clifford Dove, George Jones, Junior Whetzel, Clifford Earhart and Geo. Smith.

The entertainment sponsored by the young people on Saturday night was quite a success. A nice sum was realized for the building fund. Some of the program had to be omitted for lack of time and other parts changed and such changes always cause disappointments which we always try to avoid, even our clowns failed us at the last minute, but we think our fine crowd present will realize the situation and come again, for we try to make it a policy not to advertise something and then fail in our efforts.

The Junior Order chicken supper has been postponed to July 28 (Friday).

JOSEPH LIPSCOMB SANFORD

Major J. L. Sanford, U.S.A., retired, died Sunday after an illness of some duration which had become severe the day previous. Heart disease was the immediate cause of his death. R. E. Cross, a young business man of Clifton and Manassas, and friend of the deceased, found him dead upon going to the home of Mrs. Lucy Payne in Clifton where Dr. Sanford had been a boarder since 1913.

Dr. Sanford was born in northern Prince William County in 1870. He matriculated at St. John's College and later took his doctor's degree in medicine at Georgetown.

At the outbreak of the Spanish War, he enlisted serving as a commissioned officer both in the Cuban campaign and later in the Philippine Islands. Although his health was poor, he again sought service when the World War broke out, being stationed at Hattiesburg, Miss.

A thorough gentleman at all times and a good neighbor, Dr. Sanford's passing is much regretted by the many folks in both counties who knew him and associated with him daily for many years.

The funeral took place at Arlington on Tuesday afternoon, the body being delivered to the military escort at the entrance of the reservation by Mr. Cross. Chaplain Diebert, of Fort Myer, conducted the services at the grave.

CARD OF THANKS

To all those dear friends who were so kind to us in our terrible bereavement we give our sincere thanks and appreciation. We also thank those who sent the beautiful flowers. Wife and children. Mother and Father.

SAVE THE PAY AS YOU GO PLAN AND THE COUNTY ROAD SYSTEM

One of the greatest single issues in the present campaign is a continuation of the Pay As You Go road construction, and the maintenance and construction of the farm to market roads included in the State Highway system by the so-called Byrd Road Plan.

In resolving in 1923 to avoid the example of other states, and to refuse to issue bonds in unlimited amounts for road construction, Virginia acted most wisely. Today we are one of the three states in the Union that actually reduced its public debt in the last five years, while other states added to their public debt to such an extent that today the interest and sinking fund charges consume thirty or forty cents out of every dollar of revenue. By reason of this wise policy the bonds of Virginia today sell on a higher basis than United States Bonds, and on a better basis than any State in the Union except one.

Mr. Deal says that he is opposed to every detail of the policies advocated by Senator Byrd. His program with respect to roads would not only destroy the Pay As You Go system, but would compel the turning back of the county roads to the counties. This would necessitate the re-assessment of more than $3,000,000.00 of county taxes which will be a direct burden on the farmers. Mr. Deal proposes to reduce the gasoline tax from five cents to three cents per gallon. This alone will reduce the road fund more than $4,000,000.00. Of this $4,000,000.00, twenty per cent is paid by the foreign tourists who use and destroy our roads, and his platform pledge, if enacted, will lose to the State of Virginia, $800,000.00 now being paid each year by foreign tourists.

All the candidates favor a reduction in the license tax, but Mr. Deal goes still further and desires to reduce the gasoline tax from five to three cents, although this is the fairest and most just tax that has ever been devised. To reduce the gasoline tax to this extent it would render it impossible for the State to maintain and construct the county road system. There would be no alternative except to re-impose the county road taxes and turn the roads back to the counties. Mr. Peery favors a substantial reduction in the license tax but he adheres to the present gasoline tax, as he believes this to be the fairest tax it is possible to impose providing a total revenue to road construction and maintenance.

The issue, therefore, is clearly drawn. A vote for Deal under his own announced platform means the end of the county road system. A vote for Peery means a continuation of the Pay As You Go Plan of road construction, and a continued improvement from State funds of the farm to market roads embraced in the 40,000 miles of road taken over by the State only a year ago. Not only have the farmers of Virginia saved $3,000,000.00 in taxes by transferring these roads to the State, but under State management the roads are greatly improved both in maintenance and construction, and as the primary system is completed you may expect a continued and progressive improvement of the farm to market roads as the years go on, which will bring back to the rural sections of Virginia a rural civilization, which is not possible without good roads in the sections off to the main trunk lines of highways.

4-H GROUP TO ATTEND
STATE SHORT COURSE

A delegation of 4-H club boys and girls will leave on Monday for Blacksburg where they will attend the fifteenth annual 4-H club short course, July 24-29. The group will travel by bus and will be accompanied by Mrs. N. N. Free, Nokesville, who will serve as chaperone and counselor for the girls.

For the girls section the theme for the week will be "Today's Girl Looks at the World." Each morning relative topics will be presented by able speakers. Following the lecture girls will meet for round-table discussion where they will draw their own conclusion on topics under consideration. Agricultural courses will also be open to girls as well as boys.

Contests in various homemaking projects will be held and state winners will be presented. Doris Bubb, Occoquan, will enter the correct dress contest. Mildred Wood and Hazel Owens, Nokesville, will enter the demonstration contest. Mildred Clark, Gainesville, will represent the county in the clothing judging contest.

Doris Bubb, Occoquan, has been given a part in Thursday evening's vespers program. She will talk on "The Will To Do."

Others attending the short course are: Miss Burnetta Brockett, Mrs. Janet Murphy, Miss Virginia Brockett, Miss Wilda Bourne, All Stars and former members of Occoquan 4-H Club; Miss Theresa Copen, Hayfield; Miss Sarah Pitts, home agent, who will serve as leader for one of the discussion groups.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible lessons, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—St. John 13:34.

TOO MUCH SMITH TO SUIT PEERY

The close collusion between Judge Peery's forces and the daily papers of the State is evidenced by the concentrated attack by both on former Representative Joseph T. Deal, of Norfolk, who has been becoming daily more vitriolic in his fight around Virginia.

Having assumed an attitude of indifference this change of front needs some explanation. The Peery management professes to treat Mr. Deal as a bad little boy who is around throwing mud indiscriminately. Why then the belated defense of things that are and the continuance of which is being fought for?

We see in this a fear that the votes turned away from Mr. Peery may later slide to Mr. Smith, especially if Mr. Deal should make a last minute withdrawal. Mr. Deal does have the support of perhaps ten percent of the potential vote, and this ten percent swinging to Smith would have the awesome aspect of the time-honored "band wagon movement."

Even if Mr. Deal does not retire from the race, the average thinking voter who does not actually desire to waste his or her vote would not cast it for Mr. Deal. We can see in the Peery attack on Deal only a desperate attempt to stave off a movement which has in it the possibilities of a landslide.

THE BALBO FLIGHT

The arrival of the great Italian air armada in Chicago last Sunday completes the greatest flight in the history of aviation. As millions lined the lake front, the twenty-four seaplanes, commanded by Gen. Italo Balbo, completed a 6,100-mile flight from Orbetello, Italy, begun on June 30.

Such an achievement raises a natural inquiry as to the justification of the stupendous effort and expenditures required, but the answer is readily obtainable. Fame has always spurred men to great accomplishments and supreme sacrifices. The present achievement brings world-wide notoriety to the brave men who made the flight. Thence there is the stimulation of national pride which Italy enjoys and which will be reflected in the morale of the nation. And last, but not least, is the remarkable commercial value of such a demonstration to the manufacturers of the machines and fuel which made the flight succeed.

We do not hesitate to mention editorially that the flight largely succeeded through the performance of a motor fuel produced by the Standard Oil Company.

All praise for the fuel, and honor to the men and their nation!

A STITCH IN TIME

The following remark was made this morning by a gentleman well versed in state and local school matters.

"It seems like a tragic inconsistency at a time when President Roosevelt is asking merchants and manufacturers to stabilize and increase wages for the State of Virginia to have allowed a condition to arise by which we are faced with a positive curtail of our school year and a reduction in the wage scale to the already underpaid school teachers."

We wonder what the answer is. The State of Virginia is hysterically anxious not to curtail its road funds and has imposed a tax which together with the Federal tax reaches as much as fifty per cent of the whole sale price of the gas. But the State of Virginia has appeared unwilling to provide any particular method of refinancing our school funds.

We hear a lot about taxes having been removed from the land but in turn the state makes it absolutely necessary for the local governing body to raise the tax level or let the schools suffer. This is an absurd condition that needs a remedy of some sort.

A SMITH! A SMITH!

In the closing days of the gubernatorial campaign we note two things. Joseph T. Deal, former member of Congress from the Second District, is becoming daily more vitriolic. He has at last drawn blood as evidenced by the resentful statements issuing from Judge Peery in the past few days.

We have likewise noted a change of attitude in the Peery forces toward Worth Smith. The "belittlin'" attitude which characterized the Peery press a few weeks ago has died out entirely. The chief anger felt at first toward Smith was that he dared upset the well-beaten order of things by becoming a candidate at all.

But, having tasted defeat in the matter of the call of the special session of the legislature, Judge Peery's friends are not able to fathom the rising tide of resentment toward Virginia's failure to fall in line with the Roosevelt policies and fear to draw more fire by ridiculing Smith, now a dominant factor in the State. The Smiths have a name in this old State as fighters and the present generation is no exception to the rule. Smith has made his platform one of constructive ideas based on what he knows the taxpayer can do, and the mass of the people are recognizing in him a counterpart of their national hero, Roosevelt.

For instance we quote merely one bold statement from him: "Any man who on today's purchasing power of the dollar can not construct and maintain our highways on a flat five-dollar license fee plus a five-cent gas tax ought not to be elected governor because he is out of tune with our people and their ability to pay taxes."

The main difference between the candidates is listed right here. Judge Peery tells us that he would "balance" our budget while Worth Smith proceeds to tell us just how it may be done.

The gas tax is not really falling off in proportion to other things, and Senator Smith is quite right in what he says.

If we want class legislation of the plainest type, we can find it readily in Mr. Peery's platform. He states that by "fairly sharing the burden" the State and locality must provide an adequate public school education for the children even if "in times of economic distress we discontinue or postpone some governmental activities."

What, may we ask, does Judge Peery expect to pare to bolster our fading school revenues, or through what new process does he propose to bring about this ideal condition by which the state and locality shall "fairly share the burden"? There is nothing constructive in anything that Judge Peery has said along these lines or even intimated that would give us even a clue as to how he expects to bring this about.

On the contrary he mildly states that he "advocates a continuance of the splendid government" of the past few years. We wonder if he is really willing to accept the garbled state of affairs that has sprung up since real difficulties have faced the present Governor? If he means the period back of 1930, we are not so adverse but this is the Virginia of 1933 and not the Virginia of 1928. No man can run the government during the next four years with his face toward the setting sun.

To paraphrase the words of President Roosevelt in his epochal remarks on March 4, 1933, we would say "Virginia needs action and needs it now."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Evandon G. W. Keys, beloved husband, father and friend, Van, as he was known to family and friends, was the last of the children of Magruder J. and Anne McCracken Keys. The first, his brother, Ferris, gave his life at the battle of Seven Pines. Born in Prince William County, he spent his life there, a good citizen, harming none, but with heart and home open to his loved ones and friends who were always welcome. He became a member of Belhaven church soon after it was organized, and for many years enjoyed its privileges and friendships. Three daughters and five sons and their children hold him in loving remembrance. After months of weakness and suffering, on May 3, 1933, he passed to eternal life. And in Dumfries cemetery, with brother, sisters, children and grandchildren, and many relatives and friends, his body rests to await the resurrection.

His two brothers-in-law dived in and tried in vain to rescue him until they were exhausted and Lester Malcolm dived in and brought him to the surface. VINA DELMAR'S TALENT AT BEST IN "PICK UP"

Comparison can be made to Vina Delmar's earlier success, "Bad Girl," with entire credit to "Pick Up," a B. P. Schulberg production. For "Pick Up," as played by Sylvia Sidney and George Raft, is in the same human, tender vein as "Bad Girl." It deals with youngsters of the same kind, groping for love, buffeted by fate, finding happiness out of tragedy.

The girl in "Pick Up" as portrayed in Sylvia Sidney's superb performance is a warm, living character whose story captures interest and holds it throughout. George Raft is an excellent co-star. The versatile player whose roles have been alike in their suave, menacing way, reveals himself in "Pick Up," a player of mood. As the crude, groping taxi driver who knows what he wants in women, but can't find room in his heart for a "pick up" girl, Raft gives a masterful characterization.

The love story of these two youngsters develops in a series of powerful scenes, culminating in a trial scene of gripping strength.

It is a fine, affecting film, played with genuine tenderness and emotion, directed with skill by Marion Gering, telling a true story as seen from the wise and tolerant viewpoint of Vina Delmar.

"Pick Up" will be at the Dixie Theatre next Monday.

VETERAN DRIVER GIVES TIPS ON SAFE TOURING

Goodyear Test Car Pilot With a Million Five Hundred Thousand Mile Record Shows Twelve Ways to Avoid Trouble.

With the arrival of vacation season, the curve of automobile travel and gasoline consumption has started a steady climb.

More drivers will be on the road and there are likely to be more traffic accidents but motorists can escape many mishaps if they follow the suggestions of J. H. Greenleaf, veteran test car driver for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., who, during the past 15 years, has driven more than 1,500,000 miles. Driver of one of the fleet of cars on which Goodyear tires are tested, Greenleaf has operated a car under every possible condition and has probably encountered as many difficult situations on the road as any driver in the world.

"Good brakes, properly adjusted, are the most important part of an automobile from a safety standpoint," Greenleaf declared. "Mechanically speaking, good treads on tires come next, but the most danger in traveling is caused by the human element.

"Every driver should indicate his intention of making a turn at least 100 feet before turning, as omission of this simple precaution helps cause accidents. More accidents, I believe, are caused by passing other cars on curves or near the tops of hills than from any other cause. Many accidents also result from drivers not getting enough rest and falling asleep at the steering wheel," he concluded.

Based on his years of experience, Greenleaf has formulated the following "rules for driving" which he follows religiously and which he recommends to motorists everywhere:

- 1—Have good brakes at all times.
- 2—Signal intention of making a turn 100 feet before making.
- 3—Never pass a car on a curve or near the top of a hill.
- 4—Stay on inside of center line on curves and hills.
- 5—Be alert at intersections. Slow up even if you have the right-of-way.
- 6—When approaching car has blinding lights, slow up and hug your side of road.
- 7—Allow yourself freedom of movement. It is taking a chance to drive with four in the front seat.
- 8—See that your tires have treads that will grip the road should you have to stop quickly or drive on wet, slippery pavements.
- 9—Never jam on brakes as one may lock and cause your car to turn over.
- 10—Get a good sleep before starting on a long drive. If you get "dopey" or sleepy while driving, stop and rest, if only for 15 minutes.
- 11—Always give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt.
- 12—To make good time drive steadily and not too fast.

U. D. C. MEETING AT WATERFALL

One of the most enjoyable annual meetings of the Eighth Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., takes place in July at Waterfall, or in its neighborhood. This last time it was held at Oak Shade, the hospitable home of Miss Margaret Shirley, and will long be one of the things remembered with pleasure.

The chapter was well represented. Our president, Miss Lucy Fontaine Buckley, presided, and all members who could attend were there. The chief subject under discussion was the proposed monument at Appomattox, and a vote against it was cast. This matter disposed of, all were glad to surrender themselves to the pleasure which reigned at Oak Shade. Miss Shirley knows how to make home attractive. Her sister, Mrs. Henry Thomas, who cannot often attend the meetings, was there with her children; also Mrs. William Wise, a member of the Leesburg Chapter, and her granddaughter, Miss Sylvia MacNiel. Other visitors included Mrs. Lanier Buckley and Mrs. DeWitt.

A most interesting relic of the War Between the States was presented through Mrs. Robert Conner; a billfold, in a wonderfully good state of preservation.

The beautiful decorations of wild flowers, Black-eyed Susans, and other favorites were admired by all, and delicious refreshments were served. The children played out of doors under the shade of the giant oaks, and thoroughly enjoyed it.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, August 3, at Edge Hill, home of the Misses Ewell.

Competitive events including two baseball games, horseshoe pitching and other contests, in addition to the jousting, will draw the usual large attendance of the annual grange field days from early in the forenoon throughout the day.

While living here she organized the Good Housekeeping club. She had been in poor health for a number of years, and her death was caused by a complication of diseases. She was buried in Catskill, N. Y.

In addition to her husband and daughter, she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. M. G. Lewis of Salem, Va., and two sons, Mr. H. Burr Button, of Rosedale, N. Y., and Mr. Romaine Button, of South River, N. J.

OCCOQUAN BEATS MANASSAS

The local Stonewall A. C. team went down to defeat last Sunday by a score of 14 to 5 in favor of Occoquan.

Hon. E. R. Conner,
Manassas, Va.

Dear Mr. Conner:

In order to bring about the fullest possible co-operation between our corporation and the present holders of mortgages on Virginia homes, we have decided to appoint in each County and City an "Honorary Advisory Committee."

This Committee, composed of citizens of highest standing, will not have anything whatever to do with passing upon loan applications, but will be expected (when so requested by us) to use their good offices in a conciliatory manner to persuade mortgage holders to co-operate in worthy cases.

While there will be no financial remuneration to members of these committees, there will be distinct honor and the invaluable satisfaction that accrues from rendering patriotic service in the winning of America's "War Against Depression."

On recommendation of responsible people in your locality in whom I have confidence, I decided to appoint you on the Honorary Advisory Committee for your County, provided that your appointment was not objectionable to your Congressman. I have submitted your name to your Congressman and your appointment is satisfactory to him. Accordingly, I am glad to tender you the appointment and I hope to receive your acceptance on the enclosed reply form in the enclosed addressed franked envelope.

The Committee as appointed, (subject of course to subsequent changes) is composed of the following:

John A. Hooker, Nokesville, Va.; C. C. Cloe, Quantico, Va.; E. R. Conner, Manassas, Va.; C. E. Allen, Gainesville, Va., and G. C. Russell, Woodbridge, Va.

With best wishes, and looking forward with real pleasure to receiving your valuable assistance in the great humanitarian task before us, I remain

Sincerely yours,
JOHN J. WICKER, Jr.,
Virginia State Manager.

COLORED CHILD KILLED

A sad accident occurred Wednesday about 5:50 p.m. when a truck driven by Devy Tucker, colored, was struck by Train No. 36 at the crossing near the Industrial School, killing Charles Johnson, age 4, and seriously injuring Tucker, the child's uncle.

It is believed that the truck crossed the track immediately behind a passing freight train, not seeing the passenger train rapidly approaching from the other direction. As the engine struck, Tucker jumped, escaping death, but being so dazed that he wandered homeward apparently without realizing what had happened. He was taken to Emergency Hospital in Washington for treatment.

The child is the son of Nell and Lucille Johnson and the grandson of Mary Tucker.

MARRIAGE RECORD

NEXT TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

Next Tuesday's Primary will prove definitely whether the election was "cut and dried," whether Mr. Deal has been a "stalking horse" for Mr. Peery and whether Worth Smith is considered sufficient of a capable business man to take hold of the reins of government.

We concede the fact that the official ring throughout the State, in the majority, is for Judge Peery but we do not concede that the "rank and file" voter is backing him. Reports indicate that the masses are backing Smith. Out of the past few years has come a road program, wonderful in conception but which has served in part only as a local asset. It seems strange that immense sums go only to the building of more and newer road systems while our public schools are further and further relegated to the background. This is the one thing about all others which gives us a "creaky" feeling that those who are responsible did not make their errors in the best interests of the Commonwealth.

We must feel and actually grope our way when the passage becomes dark, uncertain and rough. It does not suffice us to cry out in anger at a slip or tumble. It is thus with the Commonwealth. There are those among us who for temporary glory or even money would sell their birthrights along with ours in a moment of obsession. We are really reaching a point where we are to determine whether it is or not Virginia for Virginians. It is no small matter nor is it one to be looked at either in anger or complacency. We must act sternly, without reference to past friendships if we are to stem what may later be found a condition utterly intolerable but which we ourselves shall have brought about by lethargic indifference. It is that condition which fronts us in the selection of our next General Assembly and our next Governor.

The only man in the race who to our minds presents a safe, sane and amply progressive program for the next four years is W. Worth Smith, Jr., of Louisa.

HAYFIELD CLUB TAKES "EXPERIENCE" TOUR

We then saw Helen Czaps's garden and enjoyed a fine picnic lunch on the banks of a stream near her home. The next and last place of inspection was at Theresa Copen's garden. The tour was unusually enjoyable. 170 quarts of fruit was reported canned by the members at this meeting.

ANNUAL S. S. CONVENTION

We don't want the good people of Prince William County to forget the date of the annual Sunday school convention on Wednesday, August 2, at the Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren about 3-4 mile west of Manassas.

The program of this convention will be built around the one word "Increase." The worship services conducted by the Cannon Branch and Methodist Sunday schools, addresses by Rev. Minor C. Miller, state secretary, Rev. Larick, Rev. V. H. Council, Rev. Geo. Beahm, Mr. F. G. Sigman and round-table discussions led by Minor C. Miller will deal with "Increase in Spirituality." This is a timely emphasis. Increase is needed in all phases of Christian work. Some one has said "We must speedily have more religion or we will have vastly less." The time demands that the whole church rise up to her opportunity and go forward to new heights of attainment especially in this true in the Sunday school work.

The theme for the night session will be "Increase in Friendship." Mr. Robt. H. Cox, city sergeant of Alexandria, and young people's leader of the First Baptist church, Alexandria, will give a short address on "The Great Friendship."

Dr. A. L. Maiden, Ph.D., teacher in the Woodward School, Washington, will also give a short address on "Conditions for Friendship." Some special music sponsored by our home schools and several quartettes under the direction of Julia Culbreth Grey, director of music of the First Baptist church, Alexandria, will be given.

It is with utmost importance that your school be represented in this convention. Bring your lunch and enjoy the social hour, meet new friends with a cordial handshake and do all in your power to enable someone else to get the very best out of the convention.

Mrs. L. J. Bowman,
Sec'y S. S. Association.

LOUISE LAURA LEACHMAN

Mrs. Louise Laura Leachman, the wife of Mr. Charles C. Leachman, died at 1:41 a.m. Sunday morning, after a long illness, at her home on Center street.

She was the fourth daughter of Judge Aylette and Louise Sprinkle Nicol of Brentsville, Va., where her girlhood was spent. With her mother and family she came to Manassas 1891.

Twelve years ago she was married to Mr. Charles C. Leachman, the assistant treasurer of the county. All through her sickness she bore her sufferings with courage and strength ever giving the visitors whom she loved to have, a wealth of love for each.

Mrs. Leachman leaves two sisters, Mrs. D. E. Maphis, of Manassas, and Mrs. Ernest Smith, of Jacksonville, Fla. Her pallbearers were her stepsons and nephew, Messrs. Robt. Shirley, Berchell Leachman, Hunton Cox, Everette Rice and Aylette Wilson.

Se was a half sister of the late Judge C. E. Nicol of Alexandria, Va., and Mr. John Aylette Nicol of Washington, D. C. She leaves a host of nieces and nephews.

The funeral was from her home on Center street with Rev. Mr. Compton of the Methodist church officiating and assisted by the Rev. T. D. D. Clark, who sang as a solo "Face to Face With My Redeemer."

The interment was in the family burying ground of the Williams in Brentsville.

Mrs. Leachman's life was sweet and unselfish and her husband and children "rise up and call her "blessed."

Northern Virginia

On Tuesday next, August 1, the Democratic voters of Prince William County will gather at the polls to nominate a candidate for Governor and to select their representative in the General Assembly.

The campaign has been one of unusual interest. Hard times have aroused greater interest in public matters, particularly along lines of taxation and governmental expenditures. The outstanding exponent of government economy and reduced taxation has been Hon. W. Worth Smith, Jr., whose nomination next Tuesday is widely predicted. Senator Smith is a brother of our popular Representative in Congress, Hon. Howard Worth Smith, who has heartily endorsed his brother's candidacy.

The Smith platform has proven a vote getter. He stands for a flat $5 auto license, no increase in gas tax, stopping of the school-book grant, repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and reduction in Public Utility rates.

Voters in Virginia express themselves in large numbers as feeling that the "New Deal" has not yet arrived in Virginia. The election of President Roosevelt inaugurated the New Deal nationally, but they state that a turn-over in Virginia is necessary before a real "New Deal" can arrive here, and they welcome the candidacy of W. Worth Smith as an opportunity to displace the "Machine" rule in Virginia, while at the same time continuing true Democratic control.

In the candidacy of Mr. Peery they see nothing but the continuation of the policies which have dominated Virginia in the past. In the candidacy of Mr. Deal, they seem to see nothing of special interest. He is admittedly relegated to third place.

The contest for Delegate has been spirited. For the first time in the history of the county, a lady has offered for this important office and in the present instance she has evidenced her ability to fill the office which she seeks by conducting her campaign on a high plane and in a most intelligent and creditable manner.

Hon. Geo. Herring, the present Delegate, declares that no man who has been married thirty-five years is going to argue with a woman, but he is confident of re-election.

KIWANIS HEARS TALK ON FOREST SCIENCE

VINA DELMAR'S TALENT
AT BEST IN "PICK UP"

Comparison can be made to Vina Delmar's earlier success, "Bad Girl," with entire credit to "Pick Up," a B. P. Schulberg production. For "Pick Up," as played by Sylvia Sidney and George Raft, is in the same human, tender vein as "Bad Girl." It deals with youngsters of the same kind, groping for love, buffeted by fate, finding happiness out of tragedy.

The girl in "Pick Up" as portrayed in Sylvia Sidney's superb performance is a warm, living character whose story captures interest and holds it throughout. George Raft is an excellent co-star. The versatile player whose roles have been alike in their suave, menacing way, reveals himself in "Pick Up," a player of mood. As the crude, groping taxi driver who knows what he wants in women, but can't find room in his heart for a "pick up" girl, Raft gives a masterful characterization.

The love story of these two youngsters develops in a series of powerful scenes, culminating in a trial scene of gripping strength.

It is a fine, affecting film, played with genuine tenderness and emotion, directed with skill by Marion Gering, telling a true story as seen from the wise and tolerant viewpoint of Vina Delmar.

"Pick Up" will be at the Dixie Theatre next Monday.

VETERAN DRIVER GIVES TIPS ON SAFE TOURING

Goodyear Test Car Pilot With a Million Five Hundred Thousand Mile Record Shows Twelve Ways to Avoid Trouble.

With the arrival of vacation season, the curve of automobile travel and gasoline consumption has started a steady climb.

More drivers will be on the road and there are likely to be more traffic accidents but motorists can escape many mishaps if they follow the suggestions of J. H. Greenleaf, veteran test car driver for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., who, during the past 15 years, has driven more than 1,500,000 miles. Driver of one of the fleet of cars on which Goodyear tires are tested, Greenleaf has operated a car under every possible condition and has probably encountered as many difficult situations on the road as any driver in the world.

"Good brakes, properly adjusted, are the most important part of an automobile from a safety standpoint," Greenleaf declared. "Mechanically speaking, good trends on tires come next, but the most danger in traveling is caused by the human element."

"Every driver should indicate his intention of making a turn at least 100 feet before turning, as omission of this simple precaution helps cause accidents. More accidents, I believe, are caused by passing other cars on curves or near the tops of hills than from any other cause. Many accidents also result from drivers not getting enough rest and falling asleep at the steering wheel," he concluded.

Based on his years of experience, Greenleaf has formulated the following "rules for driving" which he follows religiously and which he recommends to motorists everywhere:

- 1—Have good brakes at all times.
- 2—Signal intention of making a turn 100 feet before making.
- 3—Never pass a car on a curve or near the top of a hill.
- 4—Stay on inside of center line on curves and hills.
- 5—Be alert at intersections. Slow up even if you have the right-of-way.
- 6—When approaching car has blinding lights, slow up and hug your side of road.
- 7—Allow yourself freedom of movement. It is taking a chance to drive with four in the front seat.
- 8—See that your tires have treads that will grip the road should you have to stop quickly or drive on wet, slippery pavements.
- 9—Never jam on brakes as one may lock and cause your car to turn over.
- 10—Get a good sleep before starting on a long drive. If you get "dopey" or sleepy while driving, stop and rest, if only for 15 minutes.
- 11—Always give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt.
- 12—To make good time drive steadily and not too fast.
