EARHART AGAIN MADE CHAIRMAN

Judge Smith Addresses Committee at Reorganization Meeting.

The county Democratic Executive Committee met on Monday afternoon with an enthusiastic attendance. The committee reorganized with D. E. Earhart as chairman and D. J. Arrington, as secretary, J. E. Nelson, assistant secretary, and Marian White, treasurer.

An earnest address was made by the Representative from this district, Hon. Howard W. Smith, who appealed for energetic and co-operative work at every precinct.

The following resolutions offered by Hon. Thomas H. Lion were passed unanimously:

"Whereas a majority of the District Committee of the Democratic County Committee for Prince William, Va., for Gainesville District, have endorsed R. Cary Smith for appointment as postmaster at Haymarket, said District and County; and

"Whereas said R. Cary Smith is one of those who have been certified as eligible for said appointment by the Civil Service Commission;

"Therefore the County Committee for said county assembled, do this 16th day of October, 1933, approve said endorsement and doth recommend to Hon. Howard W. Smith, Representative of this Congressional district, said R. Cary Smith for appointment as postmaster at Haymarket in the room and stead of Winter Owens, resigned, the committee having been advised that Mrs. Esther D. Terrell not being on the eligible list of applicants."

"The County Democratic Committee in meeting assembled this 16th day of October, 1933, do hereby commend candidacy of Hon. Geo. C. Peery for Governor, Hon. Harry F. Byrd for U. S. Senate, and other party nominees of the State for election at the Nov., 1933, election and do urge all good citizens to support said nominees for said offices and doth further commend and endorse the record of Hon. Howard W. Smith as our Representative in Congress."

"Whereas the District Democratic Committee has endorsed for appointment A. B. Rogers of Occoquan as postmaster for Occoquan, Va., and

"Whereas the present incumbent C. S. Pierce is also a Government employee in another capacity and of a defunct political faith than the dominant party;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the Democratic Committee for Prince William County, Va., do hereby confirm the District Committee endorsement and do hereby commend to Hon. Howard W. Smith, Representative of the 8th Congressional District of Virginia, the said nominee, A. B. Rogers, as postmaster for Occoquan, Va."

Volunteers were called for at each precinct and the list is being rapidly completed.

The sense of the meeting was to provide the usual Democratic majorities that are recorded year after year. Discussion went on to a much later period than usual.

PROF. LEINBACH DRILLS CLUB

Kiwanis Have Delightful Sing.

Everybody wondered at Kiwanis last Friday night why Ray Ratcliffe failed to stir up the music class. After supper Ray introduced his guest, Professor Leinbach, of Swavely School, and Professor took charge of the musical educations of the several members for the next half hour.

It was fine and many did not realize there was so much harmony and rhythm stored up in so many sedate and tired business men. They actually learned a new song while the going was good.

Ballots are in and the report got around that OD was being actively nominated for president for 1934. Nothing verified as yet but the worst will be known on Friday night.

Today is the opening session of the annual meeting of the Capital District at Lynchburg. A movement is on foot to subdivide the area, creating a new district on the south side of the Potomac in conjunction with Washington.

The delegates who are in attendance are: R. A. Hutchison and Hunton Tiffany.

CLINIC RESULTS SHOW HELP NEEDS

Costs Are Shown to Be Moderate.

There were ninety-one examinations in the State Tuberculin and X-ray clinic held in Manassas last week, sixty-one of whom were children.

Fifty-three children were given the tuberculin test, fifteen giving a positive reaction. There were five little colored children whose father had died of tuberculosis during the summer and two others who had had a relative to die in the home last spring. One older boy is in such an advanced stage that he should go into a sanatorium at once—at least one other should have a month. It requires only fourteen dollars ($14.00) to maintain a colored child in the state sanatorium but the county tuberculosis funds are exhausted. Several others should have preventive treatment and all positive contact cases should have clothing and milk.

"HENRY'S WEDDING" TO BE STAGED NOVEMBER 3 AND 4

"Henry's Wedding," the big three-act comedy of married life and old-time 1890 styles, is to be staged on November 3-4 in Manassas High auditorium and under the sponsorship of the Junior Woman's Club. Without question this is one of the outstanding community productions of the year and promises to be a hit from start to finish.

"Henry's Wedding" is a story of a bachelor bridegroom of 55 getting married for the first time to a widow of 49 who has been married three times. The story deals with the trials and tribulations of the bachelor bridegroom attempting matrimony for the first time when his young nephew, Jack, does not want him to get married because it will cut him out of $100,000 bequest in his grandfather's will. After many funny and ridiculous situations both the nephew and Uncle Henry are able to get married.

The high spot of the production is the Beau and Belles of Grandma's time portrayed by prominent business men in the town who will show exactly how the shiek and flapper of 1890 dressed and danced. This specialty will all be costumed in the famous old styles of 1890 when the people drank pink lemonade at picnics and rode in buggies drawn by horses.

Another outstanding feature is the colored brethren and sisters of the Mystic Shrine composed of approximately 40 of the cities most prominent singers singing old-time negro minstrel and spiritualistic songs. In addition to this there are a number of high school choruses which round out the production as a big success.

ALL READY AT NOKESVILLE

The Brentsville District Fair will open its exhibits tomorrow at noon, closing at midnight.

Professor Harry Love and his co-operators report exhibits better than normal. The premium is unusually good, donors being more liberal than usual.

There are ample provisions made for parking space and the entertainment of guests.

METHODIST BAZAAR

The ladies of the Methodist church will hold their annual bazaar Nov. 23.

MRS. J. A. DELANEY HEADS ROLL CALL

Support Urged by Local Chairman.

Memberships for 1934 are sought by the American Red Cross, which extends to every person an invitation to join during the period of Roll Call, November 11 to 30. Through pulpit and press, on the air and by personal contact, the opportunity to share in the work of organized relief will be offered to millions of men and women throughout the country between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving.

In making the announcement of Roll Call plans, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, chairman of the Prince William County Chapter, called for county-wide co-operation in attaining the goal of 500 members.

"The annual canvass, like most Red Cross activities, is a volunteer responsibility," said Mrs. Lloyd. "Roll Call workers are themselves members who are giving in addition a great deal of time and personal effort to the campaign. When they call, please be ready for them so that a second call will be unnecessary and the canvass may be short and thorough. It is inevitable that some persons will be missed. These we urge to bring or send their membership dues to chapter headquarters of their own accord—to volunteer their support in true Red Cross spirit."

"We are placing in strategic positions various reminders that Roll Call time is at hand—the poster with its symbolic figure pleading for the relief of those in need; the window card with its massing of Red Cross colors, 'The American Red Cross Carries On.' Every new member receives a Red Cross button. From the windows of our homes will be proudly displayed a sticker to which they are entitled, bearing a large red cross and the words 'Every Member of This Family Has Joined!'"

Mrs. Lloyd points out that all except 50 cents of each membership fee goes for local Red Cross activities. Memberships are designated as follows: Annual, $1; contributing, $5; sustaining, $10 and supporting, $25.

"Never in more than 52 years of service by the American Red Cross have human needs been more acute, the Red Cross job heavier or the call for memberships more urgent. I know that the people of Prince William County will respond generously."

Mrs. J. A. Delaney of Manassas has been appointed Roll Call chairman for Prince William County and will be assisted by an able corps of volunteer workers to be announced later.

VA. U. D. C. HONORS MRS. S. M. NOTTINGHAM

Mrs. Severn M. Nottingham, of Orange, was elected president of the Virginia Division, U. D. C., at the convention held in Richmond last week.

Other officers elected were as follows: first vice-president, Mrs. William M. Forrest, University, Va.; second vice-president, Mrs. M. G. Willis, Fredericksburg; third vice-president, Miss Bessie Hester, Clarksville; recording secretary, Miss Claudia Hagy, Wytheville; corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. S. Boxley, Orange; treasurer, Mrs. Howard E. Monroe, Lynchburg; historian, Mrs. B. Ferguson Cary, Front Royal; registrar, Mrs. O. S. J. Williams, Richmond; recorder of crosses, Mrs. Harvey T. Lewis, Hampton; custodian, Miss Nelson Maxwell, Harrisonburg.

The feature of the convention was "Historical Evening," held Thursday night at the Jefferson Hotel.

The auditorium was packed to capacity, even in the galleries, when the forty-piece orchestra began to play the processional, to which marched the important personages of the organization. After they were seated, the president, Miss Mann, mounted the platform, accompanied by Gen. Atkinson, commander in chief of the Confederate Veterans, who received a great ovation. The United States flag, carried by two Richmond Howitzers, to the tune of the National Anthem, was placed on the rostrum, followed by the Virginia flag, borne by two of the Richmond Grays to the tune of "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginia," and last, but not least, the Confederate flag, borne by two Richmond Blues, to the tune of "Dixie." Then the crowd went wild. The applause was deafening.

Violators of the NRA will get 6 months in jail and $500 fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Through a misunderstanding notice was given last week that the semi-annual testing and inspection of automobiles in this State would run between Oct. 15 and November 15 as last year. The correct period will be from Nov. 1 to Dec. 1.

FOREST CAMP AT CANOVA

Conservation Corps Locates a Unit in Prince William.

Last Sunday afternoon the advance guard of the C. C. C. boys arrived in Manassas preparatory to establishing a camp in Prince William County. By the middle of the week around eighty officers and men were on the ground and active work was under way in establishing a permanent camp. Capt. May is in charge of the men and Chief Forest Warden J. M. Russell is in charge of the forestry work.

Materials are in transit for the erection of a fire lookout station and it is stated that 183,000 feet of lumber will be used in the erection of barracks and permanent improvements.

The men will be employed in clearing out the old logging roads which once traversed the forests of southern Prince William. More than a dozen large saw mills are said to have operated in these woods years ago and the opening of these old logging roads will make the region more accessible and will provide more adequate fire protection.

It is stated that while in the county the Conservation Corps will open up necessary fire lines in any timber property in the county without cost to the owners, only the written permission being required. Such openings of course must be consistent with practical fire control requirements.

Considerable purchases of local supplies have already been made in the county and it is believed that establishment of the camp will prove beneficial in many ways.

JUNIOR CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. LYON

The regular meeting of the Junior Woman's Club was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. P. Lyon with Christine Larkin and Sallie Lewis as hostesses. Frances Bushong presided in her usual charming manner.

One of the outstanding projects of the year was the 100 percent support that the club gave to the organization of a "Motor Corp." The plan of this project is for each member of the club to give Miss Neel, the Red Cross nurse, her untiring aid in transporting children to and from Washington to the clinic.

The club members completed plans and final arrangements for a play to be put on in the high school auditorium on November 3 and 4.

After the business was completed the members enjoyed a delightful social hour.

NOT ALL UNANIMOUS

Town and county managers in Virginia appear to be having their ups and downs. Arlington County is at present successfully employing Roy Braden, former manager of Hopewell at a salary of $6300, much higher than the average county salary. Henrico County is following up, having recently voted for a county manager.

The towns seem to be working slightly differently. Orange after trying it out for a year and half turned down the plan by a scant handful of votes while Culpeper, which took on the brother of their former town manager, is getting vitriolic.

About a week ago a petition was circulated listing four complaints; excessive water bills, salary out of proportion with services rendered, general discourtesy and unfriendliness for the position.

Reports indicate that the trouble has had its origin in water rates that are stated to be out of reason.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO HEAR LEGISLATORS

The next meeting of the Fairfax County Young Democratic Club will be held Tuesday evening, October 24, at 8 p.m. in the Fairfax courthouse. Senator Harry F. Byrd and Hon. Howard W. Smith have accepted invitations to address the Club.

PRESIDENT ENTER- TAINS CHAPTER

Mrs. E. H. Hibbs Highly Praised for Her Historical Work.

The Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was delightfully entertained at the home of the president, Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, on Tuesday, October 10.

Reports from the officers and committees were heard and approved.

A letter was read from Eppa Hunton IV who recently presented to the chapter a copy of the autobiography of his grandfather, General Hunton. Several pictures of Prince William veterans were presented to the chapter by Mrs. Maud Kincheloe. For a number of years the chapter has been collecting pictures which are to be framed and hung in the courthouse.

Mrs. Laura Nash and her committee, including Mrs. Maud Kincheloe, were complimented for the success of the rummage sale which realized $25.55. This sum was added to the building fund and the chapter is looking forward to having a hall some time in the near future. This project was started by Mrs. Albert Speiden and Mrs. A. O. Weedon offered to serve as chairman of this committee as a memorial to her sister.

Mrs. Mildred Harrell Beall was accepted as an applicant for membership.

Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton announced that in the near future the Jefferson Davis highway marker, given by the fourth district convention, would be unveiled at Woodbridge. She has prepared an interesting program and the public is invited.

Delegates were elected to the convention in Baltimore.

Mrs. Hutchison gave an interesting account of the state convention in Richmond. She was present to present the flag from this chapter and to place a flower for Mrs. Speiden in the wreath which was sent to Mrs. Randolph's grave. She was also able to attend the receptions at the Governor's mansion and the Elk's Club, the chapter presidents' evening and many other features of the convention.

Manassas Chapter was lauded for its excellent report this year for which much credit is due the historian, Mrs. E. H. Hibbs.

During the historical home, Miss Isabelle Hutchison read the life of Dr. Ephriam McDowell by Caldwell McBryde, the brother of Dr. A. S. McBryde of Manassas.

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson has recently written the history of Liberia which will be published soon.

Among the guests were Mrs. Ralph Andrews and Mrs. M. J. Sheppard. During the social hour tea and wafers were served by the hostess.

JEFFERSON DAVIS MARKER

All plans for the erection of a small monumental boulder on Jefferson Davis highway in the triangle at intersection of Routes 1 and 9 in Woodbridge are about completed. This little memorial marker is erected by the 4th District of the Virginia Division U. D. C. and will be unveiled and dedicated in the near future. The 4th District comprises the counties of Arlington, Fauquier, Loudoun, Green, Page, Prince William, Fairfax, Culpeper, Spotsylvania, Shenandoah, Stafford, Clark, Orange, Frederick and Warren.

DRIVER ESCAPES

On Sunday afternoon near Warrenton, Dr. Wade Payne, of Haymarket, had his car wrecked when another car stopped without warning and then sped on again.

In his efforts to avoid hitting this car, Dr. Payne was rammed by a car driven by a C. H. Williams, of Washington. One of his passengers, a Mrs. Elizabeth Mangum, was seriously hurt.

HOT LATIN TYPES OVER-PLAYED, SHE SAYS

The Hollywood idea that "fiery Latins" should interpret their roles with much "hot-cha" and hip-wiggling is all wrong, declares Miss Maris, playing "the other woman" opposite Mary Pickford in "Secrets" coming to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday.

The "fiery Latin" should be "fiery" without being obviously so, says Miss Maris, who is half Spanish and half French. She was born in Argentina, educated in Europe, and won popularity in America.

In the role of a Spanish Californian who tries her blandishments on Leslie Howard, the romantic male interest in the picture, Miss Maris gives what she claims to be the first true representation of the "fiery Latin" type, properly interpreting the sinuosity and hot pepper siren stuff.

Miss Maris was a featured actress in European pictures before she came to Hollywood as an unknown four years ago and started her career all over again. Educated in Buenos Aires, France and England, and speaking fluent English, French, German, Italian and Spanish, she arrived in Hollywood on New Year's eve, 1928.

Not knowing a soul in the film capital, she daily made the rounds of the studios without receiving encouragement. Eventually, however, she obtained a small part in "Under the Texas Moon," and overnight found her services in demand.

Her first important role in Hollywood was in "Romance of The Rio Grande." Subsequently she played the leading feminine roles in "The Arizona Kid" and other pictures.

Although Miss Maris plays sophisticated roles, she smokes only in pictures, and she says she never has been in love, but often wonders what it is like!

MASSANUTTEN DRIVE IS SURVEYED

Work began this week on the surveying of a new road, destined perhaps to be the Massanutten Mountains what the Skyline Drive is to the Shenandoah National Park. The part now being surveyed is only a matter of about eight miles long, but eventually will stretch the entire length of the Massanutten Mountains in George Washington National Forest, paralleling the Valley Pike, extending from within seven miles of Strasburg, through Powells Fort, by Shenandoah in Page County, and ending at Massanetta Springs, five miles east of Harrisonburg. The present survey extends from Powells Fort, through a wilderness of trees and brush, over almost level forest rising to a hill only at the completion at Massanutten Gap, back of Kauffman's Mountain place, six miles west of Luray on the road between Luray and New Market. It is under the direction of the National Forestry Service. Whether the road after it is survey will be built by C. C. C. labor, which has already completed so many trails, or as an emergency relief measure will be decided later. Members of the Chamber of Commerce in Luray said that for some time the Forestry Service had had in mind the building of a horseback trail along the crest of the Massanutten whose scenery, less grand than that of the Blue Ridge, rivals it in beauty of verdure and breadth of vision. They did not know a road was in contemplation. However with other business trades they will be asked to join in a movement to build the road the entire length.

Food Market Advice

By ANN PAGE

NEXT week there will be a variety of meat choices suitable to all budget levels, from legs of lamb to plate and navel beef. As legs of lamb grow heavier have chops cut from the join end. This reduces the amount of left over roast lamb to be used. Plate and navel beef is good—either fresh or corned—and is suitable for boiling or, rather, simmering under the boiling point.

There is a great variety of dishes to be obtained from chopped beef. It may be broiled or pan-broiled in a large flat cake; pan-broiled, fried or braised shaped into balls; or made into a meat loaf. A meat loaf or plain chopped beef may be shaped in a roll and baked, or, it may be combined with egg and bread crumbs moistened with milk or tomato sauce. Many people like to combine chopped beef with chopped veal, half and half, or chopped veal and pork using one-third of each by weight. For serving cold, the addition of real helps it to slice without crumbling.

Cabbage is fine and plentiful. When serving it with corned beef, it should be cooked only a short time to keep it green and white and delicately flavored. Cauliflower is also plentiful. Although its service is more attractive when it is cooked whole, it cooks more quickly and evenly when broken into flowerettes. This is the more suitable method to use when it is to be scalloped. If evaporated milk is used for the cream sauce, the Quaker Maid Kitchen suggests using the water in which the cauliflower has been cooked, to dilute it, rather than plain water. This is true for vegetables cooked with little water also, though some plain water may be added to make up the required quantity.

Only the flowers and stems of broccoli or cauliflower, are served as a vegetable. The leaves, however, can be used to make the base of a cream soup. If a cream soup for lunch, in addition to a dinner vegetable, is gotten from one purchase, it seems more economical.

Mushrooms are beginning to be plentiful—and how they dress up the otherwise simple meal! Meat loaf with mushroom sauce, creamed chicken with mushrooms, sauteed mushrooms with chopped meat or beefsteak, and for luncheon—cream of mushroom soup, are just a few of the possibilities.

Lettuce is more plentiful and of better quality than it has been in six months. Fine quality and low price offer a double inducement to have at least one salad daily. When root vegetables are used, a salad is especially desirable. Serve plain lettuce with French dressing or the variations of salad dressing, as Russian and Thousand Island dressings. Celery as a salad and salad ingredient is also choice and reasonable.

Spinach is back in quantity. The quality is good and the price low. If spinach is free from sand or grit, not overcooked, and well-seasoned, it is an especially good vegetable.

Grapefruit are plentiful and very reasonable; oranges are slightly more per dozen than they have been. There are plenty of lemons and limes at prices below the summer level. Concord grapes and Bartlett pears are coming to the end of their season, but late fall varieties of grapes and pears will be available to replace them. Honeydew melons are still plentiful and of good quality. Both eating and cooking varieties of apples are abundant and inexpensive.

Potatoes are such an indispensable part of our meals that it is good to know that both white and sweet varieties are plentiful and cheap.

Oysters are in season. As winter approaches fish filets and steaks of cod, halibut and salmon are usually very desirable purchases. Other varieties of both fresh and salt water fish depend on how weather conditions have affected the catches.

CRAWFORD LOSES COURT APPEAL

Will Be Returned to Virginia for Trial.

George Crawford, colored, who is wanted in Virginia for the murder of Mrs. Agnes Hsley and her maid, Nina Buckner, lost his appeal to the Supreme Court and will be returned to Virginia for trial.

The case is one which attracted nationwide attention and caused the impeachment of Federal Judge James A. Lowell, of Boston, whose attitude in ordering the release of the colored convict was widely regarded as insulting to the Commonwealth of Virginia.

In his statement Judge Lowell alleged that no negro could be legally convicted of a crime in Virginia because, according to his statement, negroes were not called for jury service here. As a matter of fact it is well known that colored persons are not barred from jury service in Virginia, and only recently Judge Coleman of the Fredericksburg Judicial Court fined a grand-juror for refusing to serve with a colored juror.

Resenting implications against fair justice in Virginia, Representative Howard W. Smith instituted impeachment proceedings in Congress against Federal Judge Lowell. The subcommittee will report at the winter session of Congress and the failure of Crawford to obtain a review by the Supreme Court places the Boston Judge in an unfavorable situation, according to informed observers.

In the meantime Crawford will be brought to Virginia and lodged in Alexandria for safe-keeping until his trial in the Loudoun County Court at Leesburg.

ROMANTIC FUN KEEPS STRAND FILM BUBBLING

Edmund Lowe, Wynne Gibson, Edward Arnold, Johnny Hines, Marjorie White, Alan Dinehart and Fuzzy Knight head the star-packed cast of Paramount's brilliant new production, "Her Bodyguard," which opens next Wednesday at the Dixie theatre in Manassas. The film, a B. P. Schulberg production, was directed by William Beaudine.

"Her Bodyguard" is a rich, racy story of a handsome hawkshaw engaged as personal bodyguard to a beautiful Broadway actress. The action takes place in those gay spots which have made the Great White Way the by-word for excitement—nightclubs, backstage, gay cocktail parties, roadhouse.

The plot is highly diverting, one of the most novel this reviewer has seen in an age, and it is worked out briskly and smoothly, highlighted by scores of well-timed dramatic and humorous episodes.

Edmund Lowe, perfectly cast as the handsome personal bodyguard, does his job so well that he makes his charge safe from everybody... except himself. Wynne Gibson does nobly as the actress, and gives a Mae Westian feeling to the film's popular song hit, "Where Have I Heard That Melody?"

Edward Arnold as the gallivanting millionaire, Johnny Hines as the stewed press agent, Marjorie White as the dumb chorine, Alan Dinehart as the harassed producer, Fuzzy Knight as a poverty-stricken songwriter—all give superb performances.

Mrs. Frank A. Walke, of Norfolk, deserves public thanks for initiating, and the other Daughters of the Confederacy for supporting the success protest against the use of a picture of General Robert E. Lee on the label of a new brand of beer. In view of General Lee's known antagonism to all forms of alcoholic beverages nothing could have been more inappropriate than to have the familiar picture of "Marse Robert" on Traveller adorning the containers of even so mild a drink as 3.2. The brewers have acted very decently in the matter and have destroyed millions of labels prepared for their bottles.

It is proper to add that if the brewer had not voluntarily withdrawn the label, a suit in equity could at once have stopped the sale in this state of the beer that carried the picture of the great Southern commander. Virginia long had a statute prohibiting the unauthorized use of the picture of a living person for advertising purposes. Thirty years ago, a distiller put out a brand of whiskey that was brazenly named after General Lee and was marked with his picture. This so outraged public sentiment that the General Assembly of 1904 broadened the terms of the statute and made it unlawful to use the picture of any dead person in advertising without the consent of his heirs. This little-known law, which is section 5782 of the code of Virginia, would certainly have been invoked if General Lee's likeness had appeared on beer bottles.—Richmond News-Leader.

A DIRTY TRICK

Last Sunday night Admiral Byrd participated in a farewell radio program arranged in his honor in the City of Norfolk. Many distinguished personages, from the President of the United States down, joined in messages of farewell to the intrepid explorer as he departed for the bottom of the world to continue

The wise man realizes that both spending and saving are important transactions and he cultivates the habit of putting his money in a good bank and checking out merely enough to cover his necessities. Thus he builds up for his own future and for the happiness of those who depend upon him.

his studies of the last unknown continent.

Scarcely had the Admiral begun his farewell address when an interruption occurred and the announcer, stating that circumstances beyond his control had interrupted, was forced to conclude the program. Later investigation revealed that a wire leading from the radio control room at the Norfolk Navy Yard had been maliciously cut. The Explorer, unaware of the severance of his connection with his world-wide audience, continued his address for seven minutes.

In a few weeks the brave men who are risking all in the cause of scientific exploration will be far from the reach of the nasty jealousies that burn in the populous centers of civilization. Not even the fearful germs of disease can thrive in the vast, lifeless region they are going to open to the knowledge of men. Such an incident as the cutting of their farewell message cannot but strengthen the men to endure their hardships the more complacently in the light of the extent of the meanness existing in the world of physical comfort which they have left behind.—News-Observer.

THE SOUTHERN'S BACKGROUND

At today's annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Railway it would be interesting if an illuminated outline map of that great system were presented, and then, after the manner of the movies, were dissolved into the original component units. What a story would be told by such a map—what a story of early hopes and defeats, of bankruptcies and dreams, of pioneer effort and of wise consolidation!

In Virginia alone, the Southern trackage represents six major railroads, with numerous extensions and lesser lines. Into the Southern have been consolidated the old Orange and Alexandria, the Piedmont, the Lynchburg and Durham, the Atlantic and Danville, the Richmond and Danville, and the West Point railroad, to say nothing of smaller units.

It is a singular fact that this one system contains today more of the old "strategic railways," in the German phrase, than are included in any other great line that passes through Virginia. In the Peninsula campaign of 1862, the West Point railroad was McClellan's line of supply. His main base was at the White House and his advanced bases were at Savage Station and at a point, now no longer marked, near Fair Oaks. When the Confederate advance reached Dispatch Station, on the Chickahominy, McClellan had to abandon his line of communications and make for James River.

In the same way, the Orange and Alexandria was the line of Federal advance in 1861, during the Cedar Mountain campaign, again in the autumn of 1863, and in the initial stages of the great campaign of 1864. Grant used this line until his movement into the Wilderness forced him to shift his base from Culpeper to Port Royal, on the Rappahannock. Nearly every station on the road, from Manassas to Rapidan, had its history of struggle.

The Richmond and Danville was one of the main supply lines of the Confederates during the Richmond campaign of 1864-65, and it grew in importance after the capture of the Weldon railroad, north of Stony Creek, by the Army of the Potomac. Then, as now, the Richmond and Danville crossed the old Southville. Supplies shipped from western Carolina via Danville often were transported to Burkeville and then were shifted to the Southside and carried directly to Lee's lines at Petersburg. Burkeville was thus one of the most strategic points in Virginia for the last nine months of the war.

Not less interesting is the history of the line from Danville to Greensboro, N. C. As early as 1863, General Lee saw that an advance by the enemy into eastern Carolina would endanger the coastal line of communication with the South by way of Weldon, and he urged government aid in the completion of the road from Greensboro to the terminus of the D. & D. at Danville. Not until the early summer of 1864 was this, the Piedmont road, finally completed. Thereafter, its uneven track was the jugular vein of the Army of Northern Virginia. When that line failed, as it often did, Lee's troops were brought close to starvation. Other parts of the Southern railway have a background almost as dramatic. The history of the South is largely written on the rails of the Southern.—Richmond News Leader.

C. A. S. HOPKINS

In my humble way I wish to express to the relatives and friends of Charles Hopkins, who passed from our midst a short time ago, my deepest sympathy.

When I came to Manassas thirty-eight years ago, Mr. Hopkins was conducting a small candy business, which was located in a frame building on Center street. As time passed his business grew as rapidly that he built a large candy factory situated in the building that is now known as the Manassas Milling Company.

Charles Hopkins was one of the most active business men ever in Manassas. As a citizen he was upright and honorable, standing for the betterment and improvement of the town. He was a very reserved man and only a few persons knew his good qualities. However, those who were his friends hold him in the highest esteem.

Mr. Hopkins was a member of the Trinity Episcopal church and served on the vestry for a number of years. In his passing the town loses another one of her most valuable citizens, whose character, fairness and Christianity will merit him the highest rewards of Heaven.

May we often walk in the pathway like him

In the evening twilight when our eyes are dim.

May we follow the foot steps of a Christian man

One that's in heaven, One that we'll meet again.

—By a friend who knew him well.

Reappointment of Edwin F. Hill, of the Washington, D. C. club as Kiwanis International publicity chairman of the nearly 1,900 clubs in the United States and Canada has just been announced by Joshua L. Johns, International president.

Mr. Hill who is now governor of the Capital district, which comprises forty-nine clubs in Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia is a native of Orange County, Va. He is well known throughout this area. As an evidence of his interest in Kiwanis activities, for the first nine months of this year, Governor Hill has attended about 130 Kiwanis club meetings. Last year while president of the Washington Kiwanis club and district chairman of Kiwanis education, he attended 125 meetings.

In 1931 he worked out an itinerary and, accompanied by three other members of his club, attended ten regular Kiwanis meetings in five consecutive days. As a result of this feat, Mr. Hill chartered the "Two-A-Day" section of the Washington Kiwanis club, an organization unique in Kiwanis International. Members who attend two regular club meetings from start to close the same day are eligible for membership.

Prior to his affiliation with the Washington club and the Capital district, Governor Hill was a member of the Charleston, W. Va., Kiwanis club, where he was chairman of publicity and later chairman of publicity for the West Virginia district.

In 1927, Mr. Hill was appointed publicity chairman of the Washington club and during the same year, chairman of publicity for the Capital district. He was reappointed to this position in 1929. He was elected lieutenant governor of the Capital district for 1930, and later in that year was named a member of the International publicity committee.

Mr. Hill is information director of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies and has been located at Washington in this capacity since May 1, 1925. From July 1, 1912, to the time of his transfer to Washington, he was located at Charleston, W. Va., as division plant superintendent and later as information manager. His service with the Bell system dates back to February 10, 1900, when he was first employed at Portsmouth, Va. Subsequently he was employed by the telephone company in various cities throughout the southern states.

FROM A FRIEND

"I am a friend of the old Journal," writes Mr. A. M. Sullivan, of Baltimore. "It seems like a letter from home." Thanks, Mr. Sullivan. We reciprocate in good wishes.

A CORRECTION

My dear Editor: I have noticed in the various accounts of the celebration at Manassas, Va., recently the fact of the model of old, historic Falls Episcopal church being in the procession and with the statement that this church dates from 1774. The date is incorrect. The present Falls Episcopal Church was erected in 1768 to replace the first church built in 1734. I shall appreciate your inserting this correction in your paper and I thank you for your courtesy.

Very sincerely yours,
Clarence Stuart McClellan, Jr.,
(Rector, the Falls Church,

NORTHERN NECK ASSURED OF PARK

Governor Pollard Officially Approves Purchase of 1226 Acres Near Stratford.

Addition of another park to the State Park System was assured Monday when Governor Pollard announced that he had given official approval to a plan under which the State Commission on Conservation and Development will purchase a tract of 1,226 acres in the Northern Neck.

The park site was viewed by the Governor last Saturday. It is situated in Westmoreland County and lies between Wakefield and Stratford, the birthplaces respectively of George Washington and Robert E. Lee.

Fifteen thousand dollars will be paid by the State for the tract. The money will come out of the $50,000 appropriation for park purchasing which is carried by the Tucker bill which passed the General Assembly on the final day of the recent special session.

Fronting on the Potomac River, the site is described as one of the State's most beautiful sections. The Governor said Monday one of its most distinctive features is a mile long beach of white sand.

The state is also considering acquisition of a 2,000 acre park site in the counties of Mecklenburg, Halifax and Charlotte. The tract is at the confluence of the Dan and Staunton Rivers, and marks the final link in a chain of State parks.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

by Geo. Dent

Egbert Thompson's little girl returning from Twin City High School the other day, told Dad that "Johnny Jones' examination papers were so good that teacher keeps 'em on her desk to show visitors . . ."

Asked about her own, she had to confess that they weren't so good. "But why aren't yours as good as Johnny's?" asked Daddy Thompson. "You have the same opportunities." "I know, Daddy, but Johnny Jones comes from a very bright family . . . Egbert, are you listening?"

A few days ago Doc Malcolm was helping his wife to pick out a coat, and at the same time had his eyes skinned, a scotchman's pop, for his money's worth . . . Mrs. Malcolm had made up her mind. The Doc said just a minute I want to ask the salesman one more question: "Can you wear this coat out in the rain without hurting it?"

"Mr., did you ever see a raccoon carrying an umbrella?" The salesman sold the coat . . .

A few days ago Carl Lynn hurt his arm, so he walked over to Dr. Hornbaker's and the doc rubbed some liniment on the injured member. Carl complained to the Doc that it made his arm SMART. The doctor promptly poured out a generous handful and started rubbing Carl's head . . .

There was a certain young lady in Manassas the other day hunting for her evening gown, and complaining: "I just can't find it anywhere."

Her little brother rushed to her rescue: "Sister, I just saw a moth fly out of your clothes closet . . ."

In Fairfax County: Whoopee socks and a ribbon around the neck; Fully dressed, sister, by heck!

The other day, a well-known divine in Twin City preached his farewell sermon, and the choir sang: "Make a Joyful Noise . . ." Did the parson go out the back door?

A friend of mine told me that he asked your famous townsman, Ed Conner, "What is the best thing to do when faced by an infuriated bull?" Ed's reply: "About 15 miles per hour . . ."

I think he was right . . . Governor Pollard in his Connortary did not define the five "QUESTS" Guy Fling, Ellis Davis and Manly Southworth, please take notice:

Love is a QUEST; proposal a REQUEST; the giving of a daughter in marriage a BEQUEST; and marrying itself the CONQUEST; the divorce is the INQUEST . . . Call the undertaker . . .

Francis Barton Morgan received his laundry the other day, and as usual, the collar was still soiled . . . The colored boy returned with the collar to his mother and told her: "Mr. Morgan says, ef, ef, ef youalls sends his collar back dirty agen he's gwain to cum over an' punch yo'all's head . . ."

The old colored woman said: "Gimny dad collar boy." She looked at the collar and saw it was size 13½. "Dat's Aw'right boy, let him come."

Mrs. Brunt went over to see Mrs. Fred Lynn the other day and asked her if she could borrow her rug-beater. And now just listen to what the young Mrs. Fred Lynn told her: "I am sorry, Mrs. Brunt, but he doesn't get home till 5 o'clock . . . Fred, do yo'all's ever get tired?"

A tourist stopped in Dumfries the other day and was told by the town constable, yo'all's can't park here . . . The tourist told him that he had a flat tire; ran over a bottle about a block up.

The constable asked him why he couldn't see a bottle and drive around it. "Goodness," said the tourist. "The fool had it in his hip pocket."

One of the pretty young teachers, teaching the art of reading and writing to the coming citizens of Twin City, was asked the other day if she would marry a man for his money. (All of you old bachelors listen) "Not exactly, but I would want my husband to have a lovely disposition, and if he didn't have money he'd very likely be worried and ill-natured."

Bill Smith took his 4-year-old little girl to a photographer, the other day, to have her picture taken. The photographer seated the little Miss on a comfy bench and went back to his camera: "Watch and see the dicky-bird," said the photographer.

"You just pay attention to your exposure so that you do not ruin the plate." Piped little Miss Smith . . . And grown-up folks still think that children should be seen and not heard . . .

When Dorothy got married the neighbors said that her father was the lucky man . . . Page the father of three old maids . . .

A teacher asked a Twin City tot the other day: "Are you a boy or a girl?" She promptly replied: "Boy." Her mother looked surprised, whereupon the little Miss replied: "When a person asks you a silly question, it's all right to give a silly answer."

For the first time in 20 years Louis Edward Strother was heard to complain: "I've done with women, for the last year I have been trying to persuade that girl to marry me, and it was only last night that she finally turned me down. Women are a snare and a delusion."

Why do you think she said 'NO' definitely last night? Because she knew I'd spent all my money on her and am now a ruined man . . . "Cheer up old fellow," said his friend. "It's hard luck, but remember there's as good fish in the sea as ever came out of it . . ."

"That's true," agreed Louis Edward, "but what's the good of that when you've used all your bait?" Louis Edward, don't give up, get another bait and try again . . .

It is a fine thing that the ancestors of so many folks came over in the Mayflower. The immigration laws are a bit stricter now . . .

I understand the Nobel Peace prize will go to RENO this year, acct. of that city doing so much towards promoting peace in the married world . . .

Our cook got married the other day and I asked her if her husband was a good provider: "Yessum, he's a good providah awright, but I'se allus skeered dat niggah's gwine ter get caught at it."

This same cook had a sister by the name of Mandy that was doing the laundry, and I had heard that she was going to be married that week, so I paid her an extra dollar, and asked her if she had made all arrangements for her coming marriage: "Well, not quite all sur, I'se got to buy a trooso, an' rent a house, and get my husband a job, an' buy him a good suit of clothes, an' get two more places for regular washing work to do; an' get him a easy chair, and build a place for his dorg, buy a pig, an' he say ef de nite is dark enuff he will furnish de chickens. Ef dem thin's awils ready by Satudy nite dat will be de time I'll takes mu husband" . . .

Mr. Editor, ring down the curtain.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Plan for Applying the Agricultural Adjustment Act to the 1934 and 1935 Corn and Hog Crops.
 The Secretary of Agriculture, Henry A. Wallace, and the Administrator, George N. Peek, of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, with the approval of the President, announce the following plan of co-operation between the Government and the corn and hog growers of the United States to bring supply and demand into better balance, and to approach as rapidly as possible the parity in growers' income intended by the Act:

Benefits in consideration of co-operation will be paid as follows:
 (a) Rental of 30 cents per bushel on the preceding three-year average production per acre of the contracted acreage providing the grower agrees to reduce his acreage not less than 20 per cent of the average acreage grown during the past three years.

(b) Adjustment payments of $5 ($2 on acceptance of contract, $1 on September 1, 1934, and $2 on February 1, 1935) per head on 75 per cent of the average number of hogs farrowed on contracting producers farm and sold by same during the past two years, providing he reduces his number of litters 25 per cent and his number of hogs sold 25 per cent.

On the basis of the information already available through the Department of Agriculture, each State will be allotted for the purpose of determining payments.

(a) That number of acres of corn which represents its proportion of the total number of acres to be withdrawn from corn production for the United States. County allotments will be determined on the same basis in relationship to the State. Within the county, allotments to individual farmers who have signed contracts, will be made by the County Corn-Hog Production Control Association, and these allotments will be published in the county press.

(b) That number of sows to farrow, litters farrowed, and numbers to be marketed, which will be proportionate to the corresponding totals for the United States. County allotments will be determined on the same basis as the State. Individual allotments will be made by the Corn-Hog Production Control Association, and publication will be made in the same manner as on corn.

Corn and/or hog production in any county, who by signing the agreement become eligible to receive adjustment payments in consideration of co-operation, will organize when details of the plan are fully developed:

(a) A County Corn-Hog Production Control Association which will choose its own directors and officers. Any salaries or expenses which the association is authorized by its directors to incur will be withheld pro rata from the adjustment payments to be made within the county. Extension service agencies will be used wherever available to assist in the educational and organizational work. These may be supplemented by temporary emergency workers appointed to serve in counties where additional help is required.

The adjustment payments will be made as follows:

(a) Two-thirds of the rental payments on corn acreage will be paid as soon after acceptance of the contract by the Secretary as possible. The remainder, minus local administrative cost, will be paid upon evidence of fulfillment of contract after August 1, 1934. The grower who fails to carry out his contract and the terms of his lease forfeits his final payment and must also surrender the initial payment.

(b) $2 per head on the 75 per cent of the contract producer's average hog production for the base period will be paid as soon as possible after acceptance of the contract by the Secretary. A second payment of $1 will be made September 1, 1934, on certification by the County Corn-Hog Production Control Association that he has reduced the number of litters by 25 per cent. A third payment of $2 on February 1, 1935, on the average production for the base period upon certification by the County Corn-Hog Production Control Association that the co-operator has fulfilled his contract by reducing the number of litters farrowed and of marketable hogs produced on his farm by 25 per cent. The contract signer is also to agree not to increase the average number of hogs bought and fed for market. The grower who fails to carry out his contract will forfeit final payments and also surrender previous payments.

Collect a processing tax on corn and hogs, commencing with the next marketing year for the particular commodity, the amount of each tax to be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture. The next marketing year for both corn and hogs commences in November this year. The competitive condition of corn and hogs in the domestic market will be protected against imports and domestic supplies of competing products.

The Federal Surplus Relief Corporation will purchase for distribution through the Emergency Relief Administration a percentage of the surplus supplies of hogs produced in 1933 and marketed in 1933 and 1934.

In reducing existing surplus, every effort will be made to expand foreign markets.

Land leased by the Government and taken out of corn production may be used for pasture, meadow, soil-improvement and erosion-prevention crops, subject to the regulations of the Secretary.

The broad economic purposes of this plan are to bring about a balance between production and effective demand, and in the public interest to increase the buying power of agriculture. This increased buying power will result from distribution of benefit payments to corn and hog farmers, and through the increased prices resulting from production control.

"SILENT MEN" LAST WORD IN THRILLERS

Miracles on horseback, a fine cast and a strong, exciting plot feature "Silent Men," the new Tim McCoy-Columbia western romance which opens at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas tomorrow.

"Silent Men" follows the standard of compelling plot and perfect casting upon which all the McCoy pictures are mounted by Columbia. McCoy flings himself in and out of the saddle, beats a couple of villains to the raw and gets himself involved in one of the wildest and most thrilling battles of the screen in a story that never reveals its sure-fire ending.

This fine picture takes an age-old problem of the range, the working-over of cattle-brands by rustlers, and twists a new exciting turn on the story. McCoy plays a cowhand Richards, who is trying to make his way in strange country after having escaped from a prison into which he had been framed.

One of the rustlers he is out to arrest, knew Richards in jail and constantly threatens him with exposure to his friends if he won't relent. Richards finds he can trust no one; the entire town seems to be a maze of double-crossing, involving even the cattlemen's attorney, the Sheriff, the two brothers of the girl he loves, and even his employer.

Almost single-handed Richards has to solve the theft of cattle from his employer, the mysterious murder of an innocent cowhand, and fight aside the fusillade of bullets the villain besieges him with when Richards attempts to rescue his boss from sure death in a flaming, kerosene-soaked cabin.

FORD MAKES NEW RECORDS

Three Ford cars — two V-8s and a 1931 "four"—won the first three places in the famous Laredo-Monterey road race sponsored by the Mexican Automobile Association, an affiliate of the American Automobile Association, according to official reports of the race just received.

The two V-8s established the fastest time on record for the course. The third Ford won the same position in the class B event of the original road races which formally opened the new Pan-American highway between Laredo and Monterey three years ago.

The race was won by Eddy Byers, a veteran figure in Texas and Oklahoma road race circles, in a Ford V-8, with an average speed for the 138.6 mile race of 78.25 miles per hour. Byers staged a thrilling finish to win over Jimmie Davis, also driving a Ford V-8, who placed second one minute and 14 seconds behind the winner. Jim Hall, of Houston, Texas, was third in a Ford Model A. Davis' average speed was 77.5 miles per hour, Hall's 73.1 miles per hour.

Speed Wagner, a product of the eastern dirt tracks and a veteran of several years professional racing, was the only other driver to finish in the money, driving a Rockne Roadster to take fourth place. Other entrants including three Chevrolets, a Ford Model A, an Essex, a Chrysler and a motorcycle were disqualified or failed to finish.

Davis took second place after suffering a blowout, 20 miles out from Laredo. Four minutes were required to make the tire change. Despite this Davis and his V-8 battered all previous speed records for the course.

The performance of the three Fords in winning three first three places in the Mexican classic recalls the Ford victory in the stock car event at the Elgin National Road Races a month ago, when seven Ford V-8s took the first seven places in the famous event, Fred Frame, Indianapolis racing driver, in the winning Ford V-8 averaging 80.22 miles per hour for the 203-mile grind.

How Often Do You Attend Your Church?

PREVENT FIRES

THESE SIMPLE SUGGESTIONS, IF FOLLOWED BY EVERYONE IN THE FAMILY, WILL MAKE YOUR HOME SAFE FROM FIRE

- PUT lighted matches and smokes out before you throw them away. Keep matches where small children cannot reach them. Never smoke in the garage barn, or attic, nor in bed.
- REMOVE rubbish, waste papers and all unnecessary combustible materials. Provide metal ash and trash cans. Burn rubbish in a safety covered brick or metal incinerator. Watch the fire.
- EXAMINE all stoves, furnaces, and smoke pipes to make sure they are safe and well away from woodwork or other burnable materials. Have needed repairs made at once.
- VALUE the advice of your fire chief who says that many fires are caused by dirty or defective chimneys. Have the chimney cleaned regularly, and have all defects repaired.
- ESCAPE the danger of flammable liquor fires and explosions by keeping no gasoline in the house. Do dry cleaning with safe liquids or send the work to the cleaner. Never start fires with kerosene.
- NOTIFY the electric company of electrical trouble and the gas company of gas leaks. Replace "blown" fuses with new ones—not pennies. Avoid homemade wiring jobs. Don't look for gas leaks with a match.
- TEACH everyone in the family to be careful of fire, to watch stoves, fireplaces, electric irons and all other possible fire causes, and every day to remove old rags, papers and other rubbish.
- FIREPROOF your home as far as possible by fire-safe roofing, fire stopping in hollow walls and partitions to stop the spread of flames, and a non-combustible basement ceiling.
- INQUIRE of your fire chief, when buying a fire extinguisher, to be sure of getting the right kind. Don't hesitate to ask your firemen whenever you have questions on fire prevention.
- REMEMBER always where the nearest fire alarm box is and how to send a neighbor's phone rather than one in the burning building.
- EXPLAIN to everyone in the house what to do in case of fire, how to put out fire in clothing by wrapping in a rug or blanket, what to do when grease catches fire in the kitchen.
- SAVE life and property from needless destruction by fire by keeping the principles of fire prevention always in mind and never taking a chance with fire.

DOG FIELD TRIALS SHOW GOOD FORM

Annual Meet near Manassas.

The annual meet of the Northern Virginia Field Trials was held at Manassas on Monday and Tuesday. The number of entries did not appear to be as plentiful and the annual banquet was omitted but otherwise the affair was normally successful, despite a heavy rain early on the second day.

Field Marshal C. Bernard Cross, of Centreville, laid off the course which ran across the Parrish Farm and along west of the Seminole Trail as far east as Centreville. President Harry B. Mitchell, of Herndon, kept tally on all doings of the meet. The judges were Judge Thos. P. Baldwin of Bethesda, Md., and Hon. Matt Trimble of South Kensington, Md.

The all-age stakes went to Cranberry Ward (John C. Ward, of Leesburg) with Energen Bar (Jesse Burgess, of Fredericksburg) a fair second and Shenvallee Sport (Lloyd Stevens, of Quantico) a good third.

The derby furnished plenty of excitement, with Hawk's Mayflower (Charles Forrier, of Harrisonburg, Pa.) winner; Ginger Rock (G. D. Richardson, Dahlgren, Va.) made second and Huff's White Bob (D. E. Huffer, Bethesda, Md.) third.

If you want to have a part in this good work, be ready for the sale of tuberculosis seals before Christmas.

The little boy in the picture contracted tuberculosis from his father and spent some months in the hospital with tuberculosis of the shoulder.

T. B. seal sale fund made it possible for him to have the care of this kind neighbor while his mother left home to find work to support her children. The shoulder healed and he is now able to attend school but he and his brothers and sisters should have clothing and milk, especially during the winter months.

Giants' Coin Goes for Cars

Murry Kester, Ford dealer, with Johnny Vargas, infielder, and Hal Schumacher, pitcher.

Thirteen members of the New York Giants team stopped concentrating upon the World Series long enough to purchase automobiles with some of the cash that each player knew he had coming. Murry Kester, Manhattan Ford dealer, was the lucky salesman in the transactions. The deals were concluded just before the Giants left for Washington and before the outcome of the series was settled. At that time, each player knew he had at least a loser's share, or approximately $3,000, in the bag, but that each would draw a winner's share, or approximately $4,000, was still a speculation.

Bill Terry, Giants' manager, and Carl Hubbell, pitching ace, were among the chieftains who purchased Ford V-8's. The others were Lester Bell, Byrne Jaman, "Lefty" O'Doul, Homer Peel, Joe Moore, Glenn Spencer, Melvin Ott, Eugie Cruz, Roy Parmelee, "Lefty" Clark and Fred Fitzsimmons.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at First Church of Christ, Scientist, of East Falls Church, on Sunday, October 22. The golden text is "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yes, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them" (Revelations 14:13).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away" (Revelation 21:3, 4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death" (p. 487).
