

VIRGINIA VOTES FOR REPEAL 2 TO 1

Also Favors Liquor Control.

By a decisive vote Tuesday Virginia became the thirty-second State to ratify Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. As only 36 States are necessary to end the "Noble Experiment," the action of Virginia is taken as hastening the end. Virginia has the most drastic State dry law of any state, according to competent observers, and the action Tuesday is viewed as one of the most complete reversals of majority public sentiment that has ever occurred in the Old Dominion.

Outstanding features of Tuesday's election were the big majorities for Repeal in the large cities and the stand for prohibition made in the southwest section of the State. In Richmond every precinct was for Repeal and the average margin was 4 to 1. The so-called "Dry" strength was chiefly centered in the Ninth District and those counties which were overwhelmingly dry in 1914. Some of the counties listed in early returns as against Repeal were Augusta, Highland, Rockingham, Floyd, Roanoke, Appomattox, Buckingham, Sussex, South Hampton, Isle of Wight, Nansemond and Accomac.

The vote for a plan of liquor control ran only slightly behind the Repeal vote. In nearby counties the vote was as follows on early and incomplete returns:

	For Repeal	Against Repeal
Culpeper	761	364
Arlington	1910	786
Fairfax	1519	601
Prince William	824	239
Loudoun	1549	653
Madison	444	305
Stafford	332	183
Fauquier	950	226

Incomplete returns indicate that thirty-four of Virginia's hundred counties opposed Repeal. The only cities, however, that failed to endorse Repeal were Danville and Radford. It is believed the final returns will give a majority in excess of 50,000 for Repeal and around 40,000 for a liquor control plan.

WCTU OBSERVE GOLDEN YEAR

The fiftieth anniversary of the W.C.T.U. of Virginia Sept. 25-28 was held in First Baptist church, Richmond. Mrs. Howard Hoge, the president, said she was proud to be one of "Virginia's dry state" and asserted that while some had facetiously remarked it was doubted whether thirty people could be found who were willing to have their names used as candidates against repeal. There were 179 applicants against repeal to 126 for repeal.

There were many good speakers. Governor Pollard declared when he was a boy he joined the Band of Hope. It is his desire that public opinion be educated to the temperance cause. Tuesday from 5 to 6 o'clock, reception to the convention by Governor and Mrs. Pollard. Tuesday evening a pageant, Working With God Through Fifty Years, was given in five episodes showing the work of the W.C.T.U. from 1883 to 1933.

Address, World Peace, by Judge J. Hoge Ricks; Allied Youth, Mr. T. D. Sutton; Anti-Saloon League, Rev. Ed J. Richardson; Prohibition Emergency Movement, Col. Wm. R. Phelps. Dr. F. W. Burnham, Seventh Street Christian Church, where 50 years ago the W.C.T.U. was organized. Woman's Investment in Prohibition, Mrs. Lem Gilreath, national W.C.T.U., A Visit to Crusaders Memorial, a drinking fountain of white granite erected in Byrd Park in honor of the Old Crusaders of Hillsboro, Ohio, 1873, by the Richmond Union. Thursday evening, address by Mrs. Mary Harris Armour of Georgia, "Sic Semper Tyrannis." The reason for such conditions that are in our land today was because a few wilful men had control of the country and kept us out of the League of Nations and World Court. Some wilful men have control today and are taking the Eighteenth Amendment out of the Constitution. If the Christian people would vote dry we would have no trouble but some are only church members and have not the spirit of God in their hearts.

The W.C.T.U. women are not discouraged for we are depending on God and if the Eighteenth Amendment goes a greater law will take its place and that right soon.

THOUSANDS ATTEND THE DAIRY FESTIVAL

AN APPRECIATION

To the working committees of the Third Annual Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival and to all who contributed to make the event possible is due the credit for the success of the occasion. Each member had his or her part planned carefully to the last detail and all worked together in perfect harmony.

The chairmen and members of the committees—parade, pageant, queen and her court, reception, publicity, reception, marshals of parade, public school participation, entertainment, transportation, finance, seating, traffic and parking, program, emergency service, fire department participation, vocational agriculture, vocational home economics, 4-H club, floats, milk sales, bands, dances, grounds, dairy exhibits, judging, American Legion, grange, official cars, decorating and lighting, aeronautics, stage arrangements, and dairy breed associations—who gave their time unselfishly and untiringly, deserve the gratitude of all in the Piedmont dairy area.

Pageant and Parade Interest Crowds of Visitors Last Saturday.

Before thousands of admiring spectators, who had gathered to witness the pageantry on the Annaburg estate last Saturday, Senator Harry Flood Byrd crowned Miss Mary Stevens Jones, Queen, Regina III, of the Piedmont Dairy Festival while Rev. A. S. Gibson, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church of Manassas, clad in the red cap and robes of an archbishop read the ritual which harkens back to the days of the Anglo-Saxon.

Immediately before the appearance of the Queen, her escort, a company of the famous Richmond Blues under command of Captain Buford Rose, marched upon the dais which had been erected in a sylvan bower before the battlemented wall rising in bold relief against a beautifully clear sky in true mediaeval style. The prelude to the entry of the military was sung by the Glee Club from the Fredericksburg State Teachers College.

The Queen's chamberlain was enacted by Professor Noel Gill, of Swasey College, who made the announcements. Immediately preceding the queen came the several princesses from the counties comprising the Piedmont Dairy area. They were dressed in green and carried chrysanthemums. The train bearers (Carolyn Eller and Mary Chapman Goldsborough) bore the long train of white satin while little Gloria Taylor tripped along with the crown on a satin cushion.

After the Queen had been escorted to her throne across the green, the pageant entitled "Along the Milky Way," began. This dealt with the story of the cow and milk production from the most ancient times, roughly about four thousand years. The story was introduced by a little boy. The story was put on as a monologue description by a mother to her little son who wanted to know about milk.

Each of the episodes was introduced by an interpretative dance by Miss Ellen Blison, a senior student at Manassas High School and an expert toe dancer. Her costumes were really beautiful especially the blue and silver one. The last one featured the spirit of the NRA.

From the Goddess Hathor, to the most modern times, including the pastoral David of Jewish times, the history of milk production was graphically produced.

Mrs. Catherine Smith Arrington, the reader, sat at a raised seat and used a "mike" which was broadcast through the loudspeakers which flanked either side of the main platform.

The prairie schooner created a sensation. This represented the period of the movement toward the west in America.

In the midst of fairies and butterflies, Boy Scouts who exemplify health as set by the standards of old Daniel Boone, who was present himself with his Shawnee friends, Health (Mary Lynch) appeared at the leaf-covered doors at the end of the stairway through which all of the other notables in the coronation had preceded. Her maids were dressed in brown autumn colors and carried autumn flowers.

This was followed by a Dutch dance in costume which included clog shoes, and performed by a group of young ladies. This got quite a hand.

One of the most picturesque scenes was the international display of Uncle Sam and his neighbor nations. Each was dressed in his own national colors and carried a flag. The band played the national anthem of each country as the representative appeared.

At the conclusion, the whole was reviewed briefly and the questioner (Allen Greene) was crowned Lord of the Cows, as in ancient Egyptian times.

The pageant was directed by our friend, Mrs. Beatrix Clark, who came back from her home in southside Virginia to help out the pageant.

In the afternoon, all the glory of the parade flashed up Center street between 3 and 4 o'clock for it was a long, long parade. Marshals E. R. Conner and M. C. Hansen preceded the auspicious event in their usual capable style.

Several floats not announced last week appeared in the parade. They were the Meadow Dairy, Bull Run (Please turn to back page)

CAREFUL DRIVER CAN
DOUBLE TIRE MILEAGE

The motorist who uses moderation in starting and stopping and who seldom exceeds forty miles per hour will get at least twice as much mileage from his tires as the "cowboy" type of driver. These facts were revealed by Atlas tire engineers following a series of novel tests, made in conjunction with engineers of the Standard Old Company of New Jersey, to determine accurately the effects of various factors on tire mileage. The Atlas engineers measured thirty cars and found that the ten hardest drivers averaged 10,773 miles, the ten medium drivers 14,958 and the ten best drivers 20,231 miles, from a set of tires.

In another series of tests the engineers found that tire mileage is affected by differences in road surfaces, in average temperatures, in the presence or absence of hills and the portion of open road or city driving. The Atlas tests revealed that the driver in Detroit stands a good chance of getting 67 per cent greater mileage than the driver in Pittsburgh. In a test of 107 cars in Detroit and 121 in Pittsburgh it was found that the average tire mileage was 18,794 for Detroit, against 11,272 for Pittsburgh. The same model cars and the same make tires were used in both cities. Other averages for a set of tires found in the same tests were: Chicago 17,240; Dallas 16,911; New York 15,687; St. Louis 14,887; Boston 14,132; New Orleans 13,169; San Francisco 12,471 and Philadelphia 12,334.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

PEACE WITH ALL MEN: Following peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.—Hebrews 12: 14.

THE VIRGINIA VOTE

Virginia's vote on the question of Repeal has been awaited with great interest. Our State has been a pioneer in the field of Prohibition legislation. Way back in 1886 the State enacted a local option law which was at the time regarded as a great prohibition victory. Again in 1904 the Mann Law increased the restrictions placed upon the issuance of liquor licenses. In 1908 the Byrd Law was enacted which abolished the legal sale of liquor in all communities of less than 500 inhabitants. All this legislation was before the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment.

From the years 1914 until the General Assembly ratified the Eighteenth Amendment in 1918 the State steadily increased the rigidity of its liquor regulations. In 1916 the Mapp Act was passed restricting the sale to one quart a month. When the National Prohibition Law went into effect, Jan. 16, 1920, and the Volstead Act became law in Virginia, our State continued its own prohibition enforcement and finally in 1924 the General Assembly passed the Layman Act which is considered the most drastic State prohibition law in the United States.

On account of these outstanding facts the vote on Tuesday was the more remarkable. In response to the insistent demand of Hon. Worth Smith, of Louisa County, recent candidate for Governor, Governor Pollard reluctantly called a special session of the General Assembly last month to authorize Tuesday's election and to legalize beer in conformity with the new Federal law.

The vote Tuesday makes it mandatory for the General Assembly to pass a liquor control law this winter. The Governor has appointed a competent commission to recommend legislation. The concluding chapter of this interesting struggle will be written this winter, when in all probability national Repeal will have become effective before Virginia passes its prospective Control Bill.

HENRY'S WEDDING

The above is the title of a play to be given by the Young Woman's Club of Manassas in the early part of November. Active practice work has already begun on the play.

GARDEN SECTION HOLDS MEETING

The Garden Section of the Manassas Woman's Club were delightfully entertained on Monday of this week at the home of Mrs. Cyril Wade-Dalton, Mrs. Noel Gill assisting as hostess for the occasion.

After the transaction of the usual business, a very lively few minutes were devoted to an "auction" of plants, bulbs, etc., which the club had on hand.

A very interesting article on "Putting our Garden to Sleep for the Winter" was read by Mrs. Ralph Andrews.

Members and guests were then invited to the dining room where a demonstration of flower arrangement in a shadow box was given by Mrs. Eli Swavely. This proved both interesting and instructive, some very lovely effects being obtained with the use of various types of flowers, containers, lights and objects of art.

This method of displaying exhibits seems to be a well-known one in the North and is extensively used in New York and other large flower shows, for displaying still life pictures and specially arranged exhibits.

A special committee was appointed to work on a plan to have these exhibits from time to time in some local shop window.

Members of this section were also asked to contribute from their gardens plants or shrubs to help beautify the grounds at the District Home, and Friday, October 13, was designated as District Home Day. Mrs. Guthrie is particularly anxious to have lilac and barberry bushes at this time and will be at home from 2 to 5 p.m. to receive them.

November meeting to be held with Mrs. A. A. Hooff.

WINS AT STATE FAIR

Philip Reading, Aden, was third highest individual judge in the dairy cattle judging contest at the State Fair at Richmond Tuesday. Philip was also third in judging Jerseys for which he received the bronze medal. For his excellent rating with Holsteins he received a leather-bound volume of the History of the Holstein breed. Other members of the team were Billy Hale, Nokesville; Joyce Garman, Nokesville; Egbert Thompson, jr., Woodbridge, and Stanley Harpine, Nokesville.

The team ranked second in the judging of Holsteins. A judging prize of $10.00 was won by Reading and $4.00 by Billy Hale.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS MISS CUMMINGS

The Woman's Club of Haymarket held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 3, in the club room.

Miss H. N. Cummings from Alexandria was the speaker for the afternoon and gave a most interesting and instructive lecture on the danger of communism.

She gave an account of it, since its entry into this country in 1904 and warned the women of this age that it was their duty to watch the youth of the country and overbalance with good the insidious teaching of the "Reds."

The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Jack Piercy and Mrs. J. Newton Kerr, who served tea.

Mrs. Watson, the chairman of the program committee, will arrange for a study of our government and its enemies during the winter.

JOURNAL EMPLOYEES THANKED

Mr. Delmar Cosgrove, Mr. John Wurdemann, Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Mr. Cosgrove and Mr. Wurdemann:

Please accept the thanks of the Dairy Festival for the work you did on the programs.

We want you to understand that we appreciate what you did under the difficult circumstances which you worked.

Assuring you of our appreciation, I am

Sincerely yours,
MRS. ROBERT H. SMITH,
Assistant Managing Director.

C&P EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO

A unique demonstration of telephone communication at the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago, operated by the United Airlines and Western Electric Company to show the effectiveness of radio-telephone equipment in modern air transportation, has interested innumerable people. A multi-motored Boeing passenger plane around which cat-walks have been built to enable visitors to make inspection at close range, is on exhibition, according to the Bell Laboratories Record.

A description of the plane's operation coming from a sound record through a public address system employing eight loud speakers, distributed from advantageous points throughout the plane reaches the ears of visitors.

SWAVELY NOTES

Mrs. Fisher of Washington was the guest of Mrs. Swavely for the Dairy Festival.

Mr. Flintoff spent the week-end at his home in Richmond and Mr. Leinbach in Quakertown, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves and Miss Ball went to Annapolis on Saturday for the football game.

Mr. I. Zerbe of Washington was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Swavely.

Mr. Swavely entertained the faculty and the students at supper in the garden on Sunday while Mrs. Swavely entertained the faculty wives indoors.

The opening game of the football season will take place tomorrow (Friday) against the Roosevelt High School team of Washington.

Considerable interest is still being displayed in golf and tennis.

Our thanks are again due to the "Coke Pharmacy" for its generous distribution of the football schedules. Patrons of the game will have the opportunity of seeing seven football games played here this season.

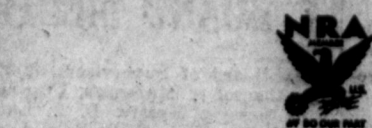

James Carr and Bill Gichner visited the school during the Dairy Festival.

MR. AND MRS. SADD SURPRISED

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sadd were delightfully surprised at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, when a large number of friends came in to help them celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary.

Refreshments were served and the happy couple received many substantial reminders of the high esteem in which they are held.

Among the features of enjoyment staged by the admiring friends of the couple was a mock wedding. On the assumption that the knot tied so long ago might need a few more twists, Hon. C. J. Meetze, assisted by Mr. George Baker and Mr. Milton Hottle, put on a mock wedding which contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

Miss Pitts saved the Kiwanis from being pushed clear off the map by the Dairy Festival last week.

Meeting the club on Thursday night, our charming home demonstrator gave the club some of the highlights of her work, explaining that she could not go into as great detail as time was too short.

Following her talk, she was given an encore by a number of the interested Kiwanians who asked several questions.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING CLUB

The Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club met in its usual session at Willowmoor, the home of Miss Mary Covington, with Mrs. Hart as assistant hostess. There were 20 present including the guests, Mrs. Dogan, Mrs. Robert Lynn and Mrs. C. C. Lynn.

The business proceeded in its usual order: the reports from the various committees; among the most important matters was Mrs. Johnson's report in regard to the great need of shoes and suitable clothes for rural children who should be in school. A check of $10.00 was given to Mrs. Johnson to aid in this cause. Cooperation was the keynote of this meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served by the gracious hostesses. The club gladly accepted the invitation to meet with Mrs. Percival Lewis in her pleasant home in the country.

CATHARPIN

Mr. S. B. Sanders of Washington is sojourning among friends in the Catharpin neighborhood this week.
Mrs. C. F. Brower went to Clarendon on Sunday to be with her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Willis, a few days before the Willis take their departure for South America about the middle of the month.

Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon of Clarendon is an Oakwood visitor where she will remain until next week when she will go to Cape Charles, Va., to assist in training school work for a week or ten days in that city.

Mr. W. Holmes Robertson left on Wednesday of last week for Georgia
where he is investigating the cattle market in that state.

The Rev. and Mrs. K. D. Swecker left on Tuesday to attend the annual conference of the M. E. church, South, at Roanoke, Va. Mr. Swecker has just closed his second year on the Sudley charge and his return is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm has as week-end guests Mr.
and Mrs. Frank A. Briggs of Painted Post, N. Y., Arthur Briggs and Catharine Lynch of Elmira, N. Y., and Raymond Briggs and Joseph Morse, Marines, of Washington. The New York guests will spend several days sight-seeing in Washington before their return to the Empire State.

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson and her cousin, Miss Edith Morrison, were luncheon guests of the Whitmores in Manassas during the festival last Saturday.

Mrs. Mary P. Briggs and daughter, Patricia, are spending several days among friends in Washington
this week.

Miss Delsa Brown of Manassas
was a guest of her friend and school-mate, Miss Harriet Pattie, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Miller near Stone House where they helped to celebrate the birthday of their daughter-in-law,
Mrs. John F. Pattie.

Well the Third Annual Piedmont
Dairy Festival has passed into history and the last word discernible as it passed over the Western horizon was
"SUCCESS." The festival is now beginning to "cure out." It has now had the experience of three successful years and the projectors as well as the people are beginning to know what to expect and how to appreciate what they see and hear.

There is much in that. We heard many eulogizing the pageant and pronounced it fully as fine as Winchester's Apple Blossom program, which, of course, is saying a great deal and is mighty complimentary to Manassas. The whole trend of everything, from the crowning of the queen to the "curbstone sinner" waiting for the parade, had a satisfied air about it which showed contentment, complacency, satisfaction and pleasure. By comparison it is the consensus of opinion that this year's program was smoother, more definite and had every indication that the projectors themselves had the confidence born of past experience which enabled them to visualize a "certainty" rather than an "experiment."

This also means much. All in all we wonder sometimes how it is possible for a few people to bring to a successful conclusion a project of this nature when the units composing it are so widely scattered and so little opportunity to rehearse. This, however, can be explained when it is known that the three "episodes" were from the three splendidly organized high schools where the children had expert training and supervision in the parts they were to take.

The Dairy Festival is fast becoming a fixture; it needs only a little more time and experience to mature it out. Its value is as yet but little understood. It will soon become the one "vehicle" through which the different projects and activities may be "advertised" to the people at large.
It will be the event of the year at which all will plan to be present, thus affording the one best opportunity of showing the people just what is going on. We all know the power contained in a newspaper cartoon and the quick, fixed vision it imparts to the mind; so each single unit in the parade is just that. The high school classes, the 4-H clubs, the floats, the bands, Boy Scouts and all the rest
give the beholder a more comprehensive idea than any written language could possibly convey; thus the value of this opportunity to "show the people" must not be underestimated.

While waiting for the parade, people were milling up and down the avenue seeking the softest curbstone
upon which to sit and read the Washington Daily describing the "25,000"
who were there watching and waiting for the "big feature." This getting together and looking around afforded a splendid opportunity to see and meet people. The crowd was jolly and ready to look at anything that came along. All at once some one cried out "Look there." Of course

we all looked and there was a man wobbling along taking up the whole of the area-way allocated to pedestrians and bumping along from side to side and would have fallen but for the wall of people. When last seen he was meandering up street in the direction of the lockup just as the chief marshals of the day, Messrs.
E. R. Conner and Melvin Hazen, were in sight on their prancing steeds when the "three-two" man was forgotten.

There was one thing, however, that seems to have been forgotten. It was heralded far and wide that a "talking cow" would put in her appearance and that she would represent her race at the great Manassas Festival while her only counterpart in all the world would be performing a similar duty at the great Century of Progress fair at Chicago. Now if they had advertised her as a "kicking" cow it would have called down upon her head noly such epithets as are used when she sends the pail hurtling thru the air and the milker
is well "splattered" by its contents;
but a "talking cow," that's different.
We all expected to see her royal highness coming down the avenue taking up about as much room as Percival Lewis' "big barn" and telling us all about the "Milky Way" which she passed through while jumping over the moon. However, it was not all lost since George Cocke had two small editions of her august personage standing in his show windows nodding gracefully to all passers-by which appeared our wrath to the extent that we shall not make any further fuss about it.

The general opinion among the assembled guests was that the festival was a complete success from start to finish. The many remarks heard as one passed along betokened approval and satisfaction. A number remarked that the program "was just long enough to be entertaining without being tedious." The queen and princesses were charming to behold; the announcing superb and action on the platform perfectly "synchronized" so that all seemed a perfect machine. So we feel sure that all will agree that the Third Annual Dairy Festival was the best yet presented and fully justifies all expenditure and trouble incurred to produce it. May its shadow never grow less!

FIELD TRIALS HERE OCT. 16

The Northern Virginia Amateur Field Trial Association will hold its ninth annual trials starting Oct. 16. This will be a two day meet. Headquarters will be at the Prince William Hotel, Manassas, and the first brace of dogs will be put down on the Parrish farm about 4 miles north of Manassas, at 8 a.m. on the Bull Run Bottoms. The all-age stake will be run first day and the derby the second day. The running will be towards Centreville, Va., and north of Centreville. The midday lunch will be served by the ladies of the Southern Methodist church at Centreville, Va., each day.

The trials last year was called off on account of the hot dry weather but this year conditions are excellent for holding field trials. Courses have plenty of cover and it is reported that birds are very plentiful.

This club has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Thos. P. Baldwin of Bethesda, Md., and Mr. Matthew Trimble of Kensington, Md., to occupy the judicial saddles which no doubt the participants and gallery is always glad to see them officiate in this capacity as everyone knows that they are competent and fearless in their judgment and when their awards are handed down you can rest assured that it is as near right as you can possibly get them.

The dogs will be housed in the spacious barns of W. B. Bullock a few squares from the Prince William Hotel and Mr. Bullock being an ardent sportsman excellent arrangements will be made for their comfort and care.

The club extends to the people of this county an urgent invitation to attend these trials, and we believe it to be a worthy cause to patronize and support such a project as the Field Trial Clubs of Virginia have done more for the protection and propagation of wild life in the state than any other project. We trust that you will give us your support.

Immediately after the installation, which will be done by Betsy Ross Council, of Fairfax County, a date will be set for the immediate organization of the new council and committees named to draft the by-laws for the special operation of this council.

The ceremony will be held in Conner's Hall as previously announced.

On October 19 the annual convention of the Odd Fellows of Northern Virginia will be held at Culpeper, where elaborate plans are being made for an entertaining and inspiring program.

Those in the line of march not previously published were the Manassas Fire Department, the Manassas Boy Scouts, the Culpeper 4-H clubs and a

The two dances on Friday and Saturday night put the finishing touches to the exquisite social side of the festival.

In another column appears a word of thanks from Manager Cox and a list of the prize awards in the parade.

One Great Leader Says of Another—

"Essolene leads the field, because Essolene is made by the Industry's Leader"

"Next to baseball I know motor fuel best. I've sold it for years. I sell it now—all winter long—down in Memphis, after the season's over."

"And let me tell you, folks, it takes a leader to deliver the goods—in baseball or in motor fuel. That's why you can depend on Essolene—the largest oil organization in the world is behind it. When the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey says—'Essolene guarantees smoother performance' that certainly means you'll get smoother performance."

"I use nothing but Essolene and Esolube Motor Oil in my car."

"You'll get quick starting, smooth pick-up, mileage and economy with Essolene that you never could get in the old-fashioned gasolines. Take my word for it."

—about Cigarettes

Of all the ways in which tobacco is used the cigarette is the mildest form

YOU know, ever since the Indians found out the pleasure of smoking tobacco, there have been many ways of enjoying it.

But of all the ways in which tobacco is used, the cigarette is the mildest form.

Another thing—cigarettes are about the most convenient smoke. All you have to do is strike a match.

Everything that money can buy and everything that science knows about is used to make Chesterfields.

The right home-grown tobaccos—seasoned with just enough aromatic Turkish—are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way.

Then the cigarettes are made right—firm, well-filled. Chesterfield uses the right kind of pure cigarette paper.

There are other good cigarettes, of course, but Chesterfield is the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better. Chesterfields satisfy—we ask you to try them.
