GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Large Gathering Fetes Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hale celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home in Nokesville, Va., on Nov. 14. About one hundred of their friends from various parts of the state and the District of Columbia helped make the occasion an unusually delightful social event.

The guests arrived during the afternoon and evening and were received by the bride and groom of a half century ago. They were assisted in receiving by their daughters-in-law, Mesdames Ernest E. and Joseph F. Hale; their niece, Mrs. Samuel Spitzer, Mrs. P. L. Trenis, all of Nokesville, and another daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dan Hale, of Washington, D. C.

The guests were invited to the dining room which was beautifully decorated in white and gold chrysanthemums with a lace adorned table in the center, bearing a huge pyramid bride's cake above which were suspended a miniature bride and groom under a wedding bell.

A two-course buffet supper was served. After the supper the guests were entertained by a special vocal selection "Love At Home." Rev. H. Lion, Rev. C. W. Mark and M. C. Hazen, Commissioner of the District of Columbia.

Many complimentary things were said concerning the bride and groom and some happy reminiscences were related by those present who had witnessed the ceremony of fifty years ago.

PUBLIC WORKS PLAN EXPLAINED

State Director Advises on Policies of Federal Board.

The Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, through the State Advisory Board in Richmond, has addressed a communication to The Manassas Journal which clears up considerable misunderstanding about Federal Public Works activities. The letter is printed in full:

"Mr. W. H. Lamb, Editor,

"Journal,

"Manassas, Va.

"Dear Mr. Lamb:

"The Federal Emergency Public Works Board for Virginia wants your aid in making its program successful in Virginia. While there will be no conflict whatever between Public and Civil Works Administration, from the date of the announcement of the Civil Works program applications ceased to come in to the Public Works offices in Richmond.

"The chief reason for this seems to be that the communities and counties of Virginia concluded from the publicity that the government was going to do their public works for them on a free basis and let them pay out federal money at any wage scale they wanted to use.

"The truth of the matter is that everyone (community or county) that is able to pay for public works must do so if they get federal funds. They will receive the easy terms and 30 per cent grant offered by the government, but the government must certainly isn't going to give them the money.

"Where sewers, street improvements, waterworks, etc., are really essential in towns too small or too heavily indebted already to finance these improvements, but which have applied for funds to the Public Works Administration, the Public Works Board for Virginia may be permitted to turn them over to Civil Works, after their engineers certify to the financial and other difficulties that stand in the way of making it impossible to do the projects on a self-liquidating basis. Therefore it is important that all projects of a public works nature be filed immediately with Public Works Board for Virginia, if the communities desire to have the work done and are able to pay any of the cost.

"Public Works Board is to be the agency that will determine whether projects are rightfully public or civil works, and if funds are desired for public works the thing to do is submit an application and let the government's engineers in Richmond consider the applications carefully and advise your community as to steps which it should take.

"As you know Public Works funds are rapidly being covered by applications for their use which are flooding into Washington from the forty-eight public works advisory boards in every state in the Union and indications point to all funds being taken up by January 1.

"Therefore I would strongly urge that in any editorials you may care to give to Public Works, you stress the importance of filing applications as soon as possible in order that your community may have a preferred place on the list.

"Four points which Public Works would like to see stressed editorially are covered in the attached notes. I hope that these notes will be of interest to you and will aid you in understanding the pressing problems before this Board.

"Very truly yours,

"R. F. NELSON."

DEDICATION OF U. D. C. BOULDER

Simple Ceremony Marks Memorial to Jefferson Davis.

The marker erected by the United Daughters of the Confederacy at Woodbridge to mark the name of the highway was unveiled on Monday afternoon.

The movement for this marker was begun when the Fourth Division met in Manassas three years ago. At this time Mrs. Berkeley Calfee was district chairman. Last spring the move was given impetus by the appointment of Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton as marker chairman. Mrs. Elmer Woolf, president of the Piedmont Chapter at Marshall, present district chairman, was quite laudatory in speaking of Mrs. Thornton's work.

The exercises were simple in their nature. Flanking the marker on four sides stood four boy scouts from Quantico. They held standards bearing the Confederate flag, the United States flag, the seal of Prince William County and the seal of the State of Virginia. They kept the standard. (Please turn to back page)

RECALLS RECORD OF G. A. SIMPSON

Death of Mrs. Maybelle Buckley Brings Interesting Account of Her Father.

We are indebted to Hon. C. J. Meetze, former Delegate to the General Assembly of Virginia from Prince William and Stafford County for the following interesting account of the late G. A. Simpson, father of Mrs. Maybelle Eugenia Buckley, whose death was announced in a recent issue of The Journal:

"To the Editor of the Manassas Journal, Manassas, Va.

"Dear Sir:

"In looking over your issue of Oct. 23rd, I read with regret the account of Mrs. Maybelle Eugenia Buckley's death, in which no mention was made of her illustrious father, G. A. Simpson, and the other members of the family.

"Mr. Simpson was for 20 years chairman of the board of supervisors of Prince William County; he was a soldier in the war between the states, serving under Gen. Robert E. Lee, as a member of Lee's Scouts, Couriers & Guides.

"Mr. Simpson moved with his family in 1911 to Berea in Stafford County, where he and his son Clayton entered into the mercantile business and farming, also postmaster.

"Mr. Simpson died February 1919 and was buried at Gainesville, in the Methodist burying ground.

"Mrs. Simpson preceded her husband, and passed away June 1909.

"Mr. and Mrs. Simpson had six children, Clayton, Sherwood, Ella, Lulu, Maybelle and Lucy. Sherwood and Ella died quite a few years before the family moved from Prince William.

"After the death of Mr. G. A. Simpson in 1919, Clayton and two of his sisters who lived with him, Miss Lulu and Lucy moved to Fredericksburg where Clayton entered into the garage and real estate business, which was very successful.

"Clayton passed away in spring of 1927, his sister Lulu in Oct., 1932.

"The passing of Mrs. Buckley leaves only one surviving member of the Simpson family, Miss Lucy M. Simpson who was the youngest of the children, who resides in her home "Ivy Motor Inn" just across from the post office in the city of Fredericksburg, Va.

"No family ever resided in Prince William County who had more friends than the Simpson family; they were quiet and unassuming honest people and all who knew them had only words of praise for them. The writer of this poorly expressed account of our former citizens knew these people for 45 years and never did he hear aught against them. "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches," and loving favor than silver and gold."

MR. HUNTON TIFFANY.

TIFFANY ON N. R. A CODE COMMITTEE

Local Business Man to Represent Northern Virginia.

Mr. Hunton Tiffany, manager of the Manassas Milling Company, has been honored by appointment to represent Piedmont Virginia on the National Code Committee of the milling industry.

The appointment not only confers a deserved honor upon a most capable and popular business executive but is the occasion of much gratification throughout northern Virginia in constituting a recognition of the Piedmont section of Virginia as an area worthy of national consideration in mapping out the federal program for regulation of the milling industry under the N. R. A.

Mr. Tiffany is a native of Fauquier County, coming to Manassas in 1930 to take charge of the Manassas Milling Company. He is a graduate of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute in civil engineering and an engineer of proven ability. He is a prominent personality in Prince William social and fraternal activities. The national recognition which he is receiving since employing his talents in the field of milling is a source of gratification to everyone in this area.

U. S. OFFERS SCHOOL FUNDS

Says Most Counties Need School Buildings.

With Uncle Sam offering to advance the school boards of Virginia any reasonable sum of money for school construction on long term loans, at a 4 per cent rate of interest and with a 30 per cent grant, Virginia is offered a splendid opportunity to bring its school buildings up to date without an undue strain on the credit of any community.

The need of such a building program in almost every county in Virginia is quite apparent. Federal educational reports show that using the average value of public school property for pupil enrollment as the basis for comparison, Virginia has an investment of only $120 per pupil as of 1930. In comparison with the other forty-eight states of the union, Virginia is forty-first from the top in school property investment, considering enrollment. There were only seven states that have a lower per pupil enrolled value of public school property and all of these are in the extreme south.

If Virginia were to attempt to put its school buildings in shape to compare favorably with the states immediately surrounding it, the sum it must spend to come up with North Carolina would be $4,000,000, with Maryland, $47,000,000 and with West Virginia, $40,000,000. The average value per pupil enrolled of school property in the United States is $242. Federal reports also show that the school debt in Virginia per pupil enrolled and in average daily attendance is the lowest in the United States, being $7.88 per pupil. The average for the nation is $114.08.

Virginia schools may borrow this money from the government or direct from the State Literary Fund and in either case the Federal Government will give them an outright grant of 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials.

U. S. APPROVES 19 PROJECTS

Three Thousand Men Will Go to Work.

Nineteen projects involving the expenditure of $7,603,464 in Virginia have just been approved by the Public Works Administration in Washington. The work will give employment to 3,461 men in this state, it is stated.

Virginia's quota of the Public Works money is $35,000,000, a sum so large that public officials are said to be actually urging towns, cities and counties to apply for funds under the grant.

The largest Virginia project is said to be a hydro-electric dam at Danville to cost $3,000,000 and the sewer project for Arlington County at $2,500,000. Other large items are: Essex County Schools $48,400, University of Virginia Art Museum $142,314, Fairfax County Jail $50,000, Culpeper Power Plant $160,000, Nelson County Schools $42,000, Franklin County Schools $7,545, Three Bridges in Pulaski County $31,530, Street and Sewerage in Alexandria $300,000, Alexandria High School $300,000, Dinwiddie Schools $15,000, Shenandoah County Schools $119,675, Pittsylvania County Schools $156,200, Lynchburg Waterworks $600,000, Amherst High School $6,000, Radford Schools $19,250, Goochland County Schools $50,000 and Fluvanna County Schools $55,000.

WORKERS BENT ON ANNUAL TASK

Inspiring Report from Red Cross.

Recent reports on the annual membership campaign put on by the Prince William County Chapter of the American Red Cross, show considerable progress, but continued effort on the part of Roll Call workers and co-operation of the citizens and charitably inclined persons of the county must be forthcoming if the goal of 500 members for this county is to be met by November 30.

Roll Call officials have been impressed this year with the type of persons enrolling. Many new memberships have been obtained, often voluntarily, from persons who have felt the pinch of want most from conditions due to the depression. While others who have not been affected are using conditions as an excuse for not renewing memberships. Are you one of these?

Cherry Hill, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Russell, again leads the county in percentage of persons enrolled, with Manassas, which is being canvassed by a local committee, following second.

Do your part, make your Thanksgiving offering a membership in the American Red Cross. $1.00 gives you an annual membership, $5.00 a contributing one. Join now—send your donation to your nearest Roll Call worker, or direct to Mrs. J. A. Delaney, Roll Call chairman, Manassas, Va.

PASTOR TALKS ON MOUNTAIN WORK

Rev. W. B. Everett Tells Kiwanians of His Endeavors.

Work in the Fauquier hills was discussed before the Kiwanis Club last Friday night by Rev. W. B. Everett, pastor of the Adah mission.

Mr. Everett, who is as good a farmer as he is a preacher, told of the early stages of his work. Mixed with humorous stories told in a very effective way was a word picture of advancement among rather primitive people who represent some of the purest English blood in this country.

The Adah Fair, now as much of an institution as the Piedmont Dairy Festival, was an inspiration of Mr. Everett who brought with him some of the marvelous handiwork of his people.

The speaker told of the close business management that was necessary in his work and of the inspired donations that helped him along. This sort of talk was keenly listened to by the club which has been the most active sponsor of this type of work in Prince William.

After the meeting adjourned members hung back to examine the specimens which were much admired. "Bob" Hutchison was so enthused that he remained and recited tales of the old Free State for a half hour afterwards.

SINGS LOVE DITTY WITH

A GIRL ON HIS CHEST

Bert Wheeler can perhaps claim to be the first man in the world to sing a popular song hit under a certain difficulty—a beautiful blonde difficulty.

He croons a love-lorn melody to Marjorie White, comedienne, while that effervescent lady sits on his chest as part of the fun in "Diplo-
Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday and Tuesday.

Wheeler and his screen pa, Robert Woolsey, are starred in the production, a tuneful, rollicking, utterly nonsensical burlesque on world problems.

An all-star cast and a score of

Subject: Riches

Text—Luke 12:15 "For a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth"

Life does not consist in abundance of things, said our saviour. Millions of Americans who have been in breathless pursuit of "things," that is, money and houses and lands and all the luxuries of modern living, may ridicule this theory of life. But Jesus spoke with the authority of certain knowledge.

There are few even in these depression-ridden days who have fewer "things" than Jesus had. He actually owned nothing save the clothes on his back. He confessed that "the foxes have holes, the birds of the heaven have nests; but the Son of Man hath not where to lay his head." He made no will; he had nothing to bequeath; yet his life was rich in experience and in influence beyond all our knowing. He who said: "Man shall not live by bread alone," gave to the world an example of spiritually abundant life that will never be equalled.

In these days when so many of us are worried over the earning of the bare necessities of living, it is a good spiritual exercise to ask what are riches. Dr. E. Stanley Jones in his latest book "Christ and Human Suffering" suggests a profitable line of thought. "Does our wealth consist in the abundance of our possessions or in the fewness of our wants?"

The teachings of Jesus constantly direct us to reduce our wants to the simplest terms. The seventy disciples were sent out on their preaching tour with the most meagre equipment (Luke 10:4). Having no baggage to look after, they could devote their entire time to their mission. Thus they were able to "return with joy, saying, Lord, even the demons are subject to us in thy name." So we could more easily route the demons of temptation if we spent more time in finding out God's Will and less time in accounting for our possessions. After Jesus had invited himself to dine with Zacchaeus, the rich publican, Zacchaeus said: "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted of any man, I restore four-fold." What a weight of worry and anxiety and discontent must have rolled off that man's shoulders. At last he was engaged in a soul-satisfying occupation, storing up riches in heaven.

"Things" require looks and vaults and storehouses. But even these are not sufficient to bar out the thief and the kidnapper. Moth and rust are the inexorable enemies of man's possessions. Just so the time and worry and the expense of upkeep that we lavish on our possessions dulls the spiritual quality of our lives and corrodes away the ability we have to live the abundant life that Jesus came to give. "The life is more than food, the body is more than raiment."
The fewness of our wants may be the measure of our richness toward God.
In his sight the abundance of the things which a man possesseth will never be the measure of abundant life.

ARMISTICE DAY CELE-

BRATION AT M. H. S.

Continuing its record of celebrating each Armistice day, the high school presented an Armistice Day program last Thursday morning, November 20.

A group of patriotic songs were given by the school together with recitations of the famous poems, "In Flanders Fields" by Scott Winfield and "America's Answer" by Louis Kincheloe. The recitations were preceded by the bringing in of the colors,
the American Flag and the School Service Flag by members of the Boy Scout troop, Henry Peters, Herwin
Ritter and George Talcott.

The address was made by Mr. H.
M. Love, the new director of agriculture. Mr. Love dwelt on what the celebration of Armistice Day should mean to us, not merely a celebration of the anniversary of the close of the Great War, but rather a help towards a better understanding among the peoples of the world, and through this a co-operation among the nations that would bring about world peace.

HOXIE A CELEBRITY

BEFORE FILM DAYS

Jack Hoxie, world's best-loved
Western star, whose latest Majestic Western, "Outlaw Justice," is scheduled to open at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas tomorrow, was a celebrity long before he ever set foot on a movie lot.

For twice in his career as a cowpuncher, Jack won the World's Championship Steer Bulldogging Contest at Pendleton, Ore., the highest achievement that can be attained by a cowboy anywhere in the world.

He attracted the attention of the cinema world, and the handsome debut in 1918, playing featured roles and, because of his marvelous horsemanship and unlimited daring, he was in great demand to double for various screen stars in scenes that called for dangerous deeds.

Hoxie quickly won his way to cinema fame and became the most popular of all Western screen stars.

We recognize Russia!
How do you spell "Bull-Shi-Vee-Ki?"

Brother Bullett goes over as Envoy. Suggest that Bullett change his name to "Bull-itt-skie" accent the BULL.

You remember that it was Master Bullitt that tried to persuade Woodrow Wilson to recognize the Bolsheviks at Versailles. Mr. Wilson simply turned the palms of his hands down.

I sent the following cable to Soviet Russia, using my very best Russian lingo: "Congratulaski fromski United-stateski stopski Senskis uski a boatski loadsky of yourski bestsky vodski stopski" signed "Georgeski Dentski" . . .

To appease the wrath of the little Nipponese we agreed to move our fleet from the Pacific . . . To recognize the Soviet Government and at the same time leave our floating Armada in Pacific waters would have been a thorn in the flesh of the tiny yellow man . . .

One Jap walks out and unloads the following: "Japan welcomes the resumption of diplomatic relations between two great powers . . . Another little slant eye pops up and says: 'This cannot affect Japan's position in the Orient. I believe the Japanese people will receive the news without alarm . . .'"

Let us hope that our gesture of friendship toward Japan in moving our fleet from the Pacific to the Atlantic will help keep us out of trouble . . . If our right eye offends our neighbor pluck it out . . .

France says, "Fine work. A lovely gesture of brotherly love . . ."

Berlin says: "Nothing but good should result from this agreement."

Great guns! Everybody seems to be well pleased . . . I notice that our dear Senator Bill Borah is well satisfied . . . I recall the strange sight that met Calvin Coolidge's eye one day when he was standing on the White House lawn looking south. Mr. Coolidge called a friend's attention to Senator Borah out riding and said Cal, "Strange to say Borah is going the same way the horse is . . ."

Our dear Senator Glass says that we are way ahead of Soviet Russia . . . The Senator is going to grow a full set of whiskers and change his name to Glasski . . .

Not this down for future reference; and let us hope that the echo will come back "All is well . . ."

Russia has an armed force of 18,000,000 men . . . France can say, "Ready, fire! to 6,900,000 . . . Italy can trot out 6,601,000 to die for Mussolini . . . Japan has 2,177,000, and old man John Bull 1,163,000.

The above represents land forces only . . .

Uncle Sam has a very small outfit, about 35 per cent or a little over one third of one per cent of her citizenry are ready to play the battle hymn of the Republic . . .

There has never been a time in the history of the world, during peace time, when so much money was being spent . . . The gods of war are holding a council. Let us hope that we may be able to keep our heads when other nations of the world are losing theirs and blaming it on their neighbors . . .

We just celebrated Armistice Day. We lived over the period of the "war to end war" . . . We closed our eyes when memory unfolded the scenes of that great conflict . . . We lived as if thru a dream—the battle was on—shells bursting in the air—the deafening roar of cannon—poison gas—death dropping from the sky—zooming planes passing far above us in a dense cloud of smoke . . . The dead were with us, the shrieks of the living could be heard above the battle's roar . . . The groans of the dying can still be heard in the stillness of the night . . . "O God help, help! Water, water—Where, where is mother! And then merciful death steps in and says, "My lad, I will ease your earthly pain . . ."

Let there be wars and rumors of war, but let the old USA mind her own business and keep out . . . Woodrow Wilson said that there was such a thing as a nation being too proud to fight . . . Not afraid, but jealous of its rights—of its honor and of its duty to its citizenry . . .

If Japan thinks she has a grievance with Russia because of certain conditions existing in the Orient that has a direct bearing on Japan, very well, load, aim, fire! But leave us out . . . We will shoot clay pigeons and use our surplus energy trying to change our depression from a hole in the ground to a monument of prosperity . . .

Speaking about depression: Where do we stand?

We know that two plus two gives us four . . . That is an exact science. Mathematics the oldest of the sciences and the safest . . . This depression and the handling of it has proven one thing: the nation's monetary system is not an exact science . . . It is not foolproof . . . If not properly handled it can become a stalemate . . .

All the world used to count 100 cents to a dollar, American money, marked USA . . . During the halcyon days of the forgettable past, the only thing that we thought was bounceable money was a "no fund" check . . . Now we are pushing forward Prof. Warren's commodity dollar, commonly called "Rubber Dollar" . . . The commodity dollar seems to be like Prof. Einstein's theory; just too hard for us to understand . . . We are off the gold standard, but buying gold in the open market and paying 70 per cent more for new-mined gold than our old standard of value of 100 cents to the dollar . . .

Our dollar is now worth about 60 cents on foreign markets . . . Some markets quote it at zero . . . The Dominion of Canada issued orders to all of its post offices, about 13,000, to refuse the American dollar . . . You can't buy a cent postage stamp in Canada with one of our dollars . . . Boo, Hoo!

For want of a nail the shoe was lost etc . . .

A drink of pure spring water quenches the thirst; a simon pure dollar makes us feel more secure . . . Our present dollar reminds me of the Irishman's flea; where the flea is he isn't . . .

One year ago Nov. 8 Mr. Roosevelt was elected president by an enormous majority . . . It was hardly necessary to count Mr. Hoover's vote . . . The whole nation was crying for a change, the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker . . . Space will not allow me to jot down Mr. Roosevelt from Nov. 8 to March 4 . . . Inauguration Day, and Franklin Delano Roosevelt is president in his own name and rights . . .

Action, Camera! Yap, yap, and off we go . . . No one can say we haven't had action . . . We have moved the mighty mountains of the past . . .

We have laid aside the rugged individualism of self-government, the rugged individualism of personal rights are gradually disappearing . . . The old America of Washington, of Jefferson, of Madison, of Monroe, and Jackson, the old America that was baptised in the blood of our forefathers to the tune of "My Country 'tis of the Sweet Land of Liberty." Yes, we are folding it up piece by piece and laying it away in moth balls . . .

Senator Carter Glass says that he is 'gin it all . . . The Senator further whispers that the Blue Eagle is a Black Buzzard . . . He is not in favor of the way our money is being ginged . . . But we wanted action and we sure are getting exactly what we asked for . . .

All banks closed to start with . . . A dark day . . . Then a breathing spell . . . Off the gold standard . . . Another breathing spell . . . National Recovery Act, and a great effort by manufacturers and dealers to stock up before NRA could effect 'em . . . Business rolled and the boom could have been heard if it had not been for the low wages . . . NRA and Johnsons fight and fight . . . The Farm Act . . . The Pig Act . . . The CCC Act . . . Why at one time there were exactly 37 professors seated around President Roosevelt's consulting table . . .

No, Mr. Woodin was not a prof . . . He was simply a hard-headed business man that got tired of nodding his head, and when he started to move it from left to right Mr. Early wrote his resignation . . . You will soon see Mr. Raskob at the head of our Treasury . . .

Jack Garner . . . You say you don't know who he is? Well, he is the man Let's see he is the man that was known as Pork Barrell Garner ere the New Deal . . . Jack Garner says: "You may call Roosevelt 'Rooseveltski,' but dern if I want to be called 'Garlicski' . . ."

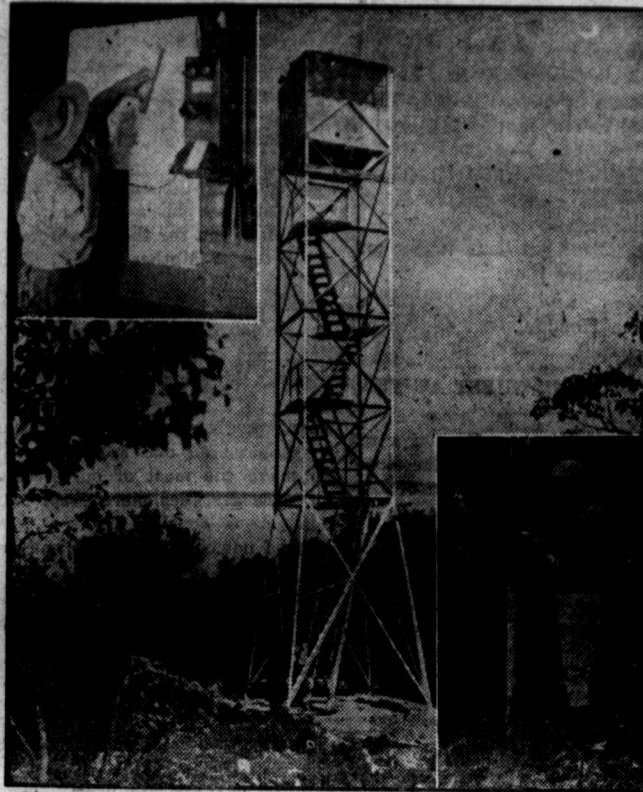

MRS. SIGMAN VISITS HER SON

Mrs. Frank G. Sigman has just returned from a three weeks' visit to her son, Carl T. Sigman, in Long Island City, N. Y. He with his wife and J. Floyd Yewell, a water-color artist of note, had had commissions from a number of magazines like Home and Field, Arts and Decorations, and McCall's to spend several months in Denmark and Sweden to secure material for several magazine articles. They had most interesting experiences. Mr. Frank G. Sigman also spent a week in New York and returned with Mrs. Sigman.

HISTORIC HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

On Monday of this week "Prospect Hill" near Warrenton, one of the fine old homes of northern Virginia, was completely destroyed by fire, said to have been occasioned by an oil burner. The home, owned by William E. Doeller, of Washington and Warrenton, was built by Chief Justice Marshall. The loss is placed at $200,000. Little nine-year-old Billy Doeller had a narrow escape, reaching safety by means of an improvised rope made of sheets.

Telephone Communication Aids Forest Fire Control

Forest fire protection. Upper left, forest ranger receiving report by telephone, checks location on his look-out map. Below, a ranger back in the woods telephones report of local conditions.

Fire losses in national forests this year are the smallest on record, being about sixty per cent in burned area below the losses of September of last year.

Forest fire control conditions are in a large measure responsible for this condition, according to Roy Headley, assistant forester and chief of operations. The thousands of workmen of the Citizens Conservation Corps, occupying hundreds of camps, who have been on hand to fight fires, augmented by increased communication lines, have played an important part in this very credible showing, he says.

C. C. C. Forces Aid
The Citizens Conservation Corps men have responded quickly and energetically to the calls to fight fires, according to Mr. Headley, who states that new truck trails, horse trails, and telephone lines constructed by the C. C. C. forces have increased the opportunities to have men and equipment reach fires before the flames had gained sufficient headway to be real disasters.

"Telephone communication," Mr. Headley says, "plays an extremely important part in national forest fire control. Part of the equipment of every fire lookout perched high in his tower or cabin in the 148 national forests of the United States is a telephone. Just as important as the field glass and the instruments for locating the fire on the map, is the instrument for transmitting the report instantly to the ranger at his station and the fire dispatcher at the forest headquarters. The U. S. Forest Service places telephone communication along with roads, truck trails, horse trails, and firebreaks among the first requirements in forest protection."

New Telephone Lines

At the close of the fiscal year 1932 the national forests were equipped with 41,734 miles of telephone lines, according to Mr. Headley. During the year, he states, 2,032 miles of new telephone lines were constructed, and more recently plans have been made to provide 7,216 additional miles of line, which will be erected by the emergency conservation corps workers. All together the forestry department is planning to add 12,000 miles of new telephone lines to its system.

In addition to its use in fighting fires, the telephone system in the national forests is to regulate part of the forest equipment for general administration as well as emergency uses, according to Mr. Headley. Many temporary lines have been laid to serve as communication systems in fighting fires. The forest service department maintains a large number of portable telephones which are always available for hurried installations in the locality of fires, road construction jobs and for use of emergency camps in the forests.

PIEDMONT RECOGNIZED

For a number of years the Piedmont Section of Virginia has been forging to the front as a distinctive area of agricultural and commercial importance. The annual Dairy Festival has done much to fix national attention to this distinctive region.

No circumstance has occurred, however, to reflect greater credit upon Piedmont Virginia than the appointment this week of Mr. Hunton Tiffany, of Manassas, to represent Piedmont Virginia on the N. R. A. Code Committee of the Milling Industry.

Without a representative of the caliber to deserve this recognition, Piedmont Virginia must have remained unrepresented. Consequently our town, and the whole area, is honored in the selection of Mr. Tiffany to represent this important region in the milling problems to be solved by the national government under the N. R. A. program. Milling is very closely related to the farmer's most intimate problems. It will, therefore, be particularly gratifying to our farmers that they will have a friend and neighbor on the national committee now drafting the N. R. A. Code for the milling industry.

SPEAKING OF CONFUSION

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, an organization devoted to capitalistic interests and officered by outstanding representatives of private and corporate wealth, issued a statement on Saturday in which is characterized the "experimental" financial policy of President Roosevelt as a breeder of "widespread confusion and disquiet." The Chamber demanded an immediate announcement of an early return of the country to the gold standard, "with complete recession from theoretical or arbitrary ideas of 'price-index' fixation of the value of gold."

Last year an army of unemployed men marched to Washington and in the shadow of the National Capitol demanding relief from starvation, and there have been several other attempts to stage similar marches. Thousands of Middle Western farmers, representing the most conservative element of our population, are now on strike against starvation prices for their products, and are picketing the roads of several states to prevent the movement of food products into the cities. There are still twelve million unemployed people in the United States.

The most acute relief problem in the entire history of organized society will confront our charitable agencies this winter. Strikes and rumors of strikes are heard in every industry. Bread lines have achieved the status of an institution in America. Riots have broken out in many cities. Sound business covers before the specter of bankruptcy. Last week a little girl was found digging in garbage cans in Richmond for food to keep life in a family of four. Revolt against existing conditions is merely a smothered flame in the hearts of millions of Americans.

These conditions have been brought about as a result of long adherence to the policies that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States advocates and now demands that this country return to. When it speaks of "widespread confusion and disquiet" as resulting from Mr. Roosevelt's "experiments," the Chamber ought to come down to earth and look around at the things that are a thousand times worse than mere "confusion and disquiet" that have been brought upon the people of this country by the greed and dishonesty of the capitalists for whom it speaks. The most confused and disquieted people in America just now are the representatives of organized wealth, who are terrified at the thought of losing some of their ill-gotten gains.—Northern Virginia Daily.

HARSH PRACTICE

By this time everybody has heard the story of the farmer's encounter with the skinflint of a deacon who had come to tear up the mortgage and give the farmer his farm. The poor man pleaded with the deacon, "You are a hard man, indeed, to give me a farm on a cold winter's night like this. A hard man, and may your children be cursed for your cruel, merciless heart!" But it was futile. The cruel deacon was obdurate. The deacon burned the farmer's mortgage before his very eyes.

The point is this is that it reminds us somewhat of Mr. J. H. Thomas' threat to give Ireland back to the Irish. If they don't stop this nonsense of leaving our oath to the King they'll wake up some fine morning and find themselves independent. And how will they like that? The Irish are a humorous race most of the time, but when they are discussing their relations with England humor often fails them. Therefore, one rather expects them to reply to Jimmie's enraged offer of freedom.

"Make us independent, will ye? Just try it once!"—Baltimore Sun.

LOVE TO DR. BENJAMIN F. IDEN
 Written on contemplating on his death.

I loved you when the clover blooms were bright and new in May,
 All the world was still it seemed to hear what we might say.

Underneath the apple tree with its blossoms white and pure,
 In each others arms we made our vows to part no more.

And I loved you when that morning I went to be your bride,
 Oh how proud I felt my darling to be walking by your side.

I loved you still and more when I heard my babe's first cry,
 For I saw you for the first time with a tender Mother's eye.

Now I longed to sooth your troubles as you before you had mine.
 I felt then so much older . . . just the way of woman kind.

Then we grew in soul together and labored on our way,
 To make the most of our lives and ease destinies more grey.

I asked not once for riches and never thought of fame,
 I had those dear when I looked at you and heard you call my name.

Time could not dull my love for you nor make me feel despair,
 Though bent in frame and ill in health I knew that you were there.

But you have left me dearest one for that far distant shore . . .
 My love is with you there to abide though you come back no more . . .
 by his wife, Mrs. B. F. Iden.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF MANASSAS
 Member
 Federal Reserve System

SOUND BANKING requires that self-liquidating loans be made to borrowers and that depositors maintain profitable accounts with the bank. It is freely admitted that a profitable bank is the only safe bank over a period of time.

Whenever we have insisted upon further information about a borrower's condition, more collateral, or that a loan be reduced, you may rest assured that we were doing only what any good business man would have done were he lending his own money directly to the borrower. The money we lend belongs to our depositors, and the bank in lending their money must have due regard for its depositors' interests.

When we have insisted that more adequate balances be maintained on an account or that service charges be made, you may rest assured that we have done so simply because of our obligation to our Depositors and Stockholders to do what a good business man would have done were he conducting his own affairs under similar circumstances.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends who lent us a helping hand in the sad hour of illness and death of our dear wife and mother, also for the flowers that were given before and after.

DEPRESSION . . .

The robe of sorrow and of gloom,
Around my tortured soul doth loom.
I am a prisoner of fate,
A dweller in the vale of fate.

My chains are shyness lack of zeal,
The angry gleam of fortune's heel,
With sorrow that may never end,
I flee the world of scornful men.

I see the shade and not the sun,
For night for me must ne'er be done,
I have no lover or no friend,
My life in loneliness must end.

As shadows come when eve is near,
So doth my soul in dark appear,
But still I always hope to say,
My faith is like the shining day.

Facts And Figures On Your Telephone

By EDWIN F. HILL

Use of the telephone in radio broadcasting hook-ups has increased to such an extent that there are now 88,000 miles of telephone wire being utilized by the eleven networks connecting 194 radio broadcasting stations.

Chain broadcast, familiar to millions of people on the North American continent and throughout the world is now little more than ten years old, the first hook-up having been made January 4, 1923, when stations WEAH then owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and WNAC of the Shepherd's Stores in Boston were connected by telephone lines so that both might broadcast simultaneously the program which was being given in the WEAH studios.

So successful was the broadcast on this joint hook-up that on June 7, four stations were connected by telephone wire to broadcast a program for the National Electric Light Association. The late President Coolidge delivered his opening message to Congress December 6, 1923, over a hook-up of six stations connecting Washington, New York, Providence, St. Louis, Kansas City and Dallas.

To serve the broadcasting transmission of the various stations throughout the country, the Bell system has established control points at Washington, Boston, New York, Charlotte, N. C., Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The telephone circuits are lined up and tested at these points and switched to meet the varying requirements of the networks.

Beer and a Bite

"It's beer—it's beer
It's beer that makes you feel so queer . . ."

Do you remember the old song? But that was beer, and beer and more beer—with seldels of it sliding over the bar in quick succession. There is, however, another occasion when beer is apt to make you feel so queer, and that is when you eat it with the wrong sort of food. Beer and chocolate eclairs, for example, were never intended to be life-long friends, and such foods as fudge nut sandwiches go far better with coffee.

Bottles and Cans
But there are foods which have suddenly come back to life since beer began to flow, and taste more delicious than they have tasted for some thirteen years. Many of these foods come in cans, so when you stock your cellar with beer, stock your pantry with foods which will furnish that bite to go with a glass of beer—for lunch, for an evening's conversation, or at bedtime.

Here are some suggestions of canned foods which click with the foamy brew: sausage with sauerkraut, ham loaf, corned beef, cheese, sardines, various sandwich spreads, cheese crackers and pretzels.

FORESTRY INVESTIGATIONS

Mr. J. B. Pyke, forestry conservation inspector from Charlottesville with Mr. R. A. St. George from the Department Forest insect laboratory, accompanied by the agent visited the dead and infested pine area on the Nynphen Corporation tract near Sunset Hills, on which several million feet of splendid pine timber have been killed by the inroads of the Southern Pine Bark Beetle. For some time efforts have been made to check the spread of this insect. The wood lots of a number of farmers in that vicinity have already been killed. It is to be hoped that something may come from these investigations that will benefit our people.

FARM DEBT COMMITTEE

Mr. C. Nelson Beck, secretary of the Virginia Farm Debt Committee, recently appointed by Governor Pollard, was in Fairfax Monday looking over the situation as to the need of a county committee in this county.

As described in a previous notice this committee will have no legal status, but the committee which will be appointed will have the authority to bring the borrower and lender together in an effort to adjust their difficulties with justice and satisfaction to both, if such a thing is possible. We feel that with such an arbitration committee that much good may be accomplished to our harassed farmers.

PLAYS AT CLIFTON

Two one-act plays, "Not Quite Such a Goose" and "Longhorns," were presented by the pupils of the Clifton High School last night in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

The cast of the first play included Harry Buckley, Zona Lee Pumphrey, Ruth Chesley, Lillian Weaver and George Mock, and the cast of the second, Robert Buckley, Tommie Kinche-roe, Roger Buckley, Jesse Fairfax, Riggles and Redwood Simpson. The boys and girls glee clubs of the school furnished music between the plays.

ALL AUTOS MUST BE INSPECTED

Eight days remain in which to get your automobile inspected. Motor vehicle inspectors are urging everyone to avoid that last minute rush and warn that excuses after expiration of the time limit are likely to become a matter for magistrates and police judges to consider.

THE COLORED 4-H CLUB

The Colored 4-H Club will meet Monday, Nov. 27, at Brown Public School from 3:15 to 5 if possible. I would like for all the members to be present as I want to give you some instructions on sewing.

C. WILLIS,
Vice-president.

DUCKS TAKE NOTICE

A new Ducking Club has been organized at Woodbridge, Va., by Mr. Oscar Maconaughey and Charles Dewey. This club expects to do their hunting in Belmont Bay, which they did not know the location of until Powell Davis told them last week. Both of these sports being new in the art of duck shooting and low in finances had to call on their friends for advice and equipment. They only had the habit and one box of shell between the two of them.

Mr. Maconaughey painted a sign for Mr. Dawson for the use of an outboard motor. Dewey sweeps out Fats Davis' garage for gas and oil. Maconaughey promised to split Carl Eike's wood for the use of his thirteen decoys. Maconaughey borrowed a gun from Carlton Burdette and Dewey borrowed one from Bruce Arnold, a white boat from Mrs. Smith, an oar from Blair Maconaughey. They got brush for their blind from Mr. Twiford, that he had left over. Maconaughey expects to use his daddy's coat the week he works on the road. They were short of duck weights and strong so they tied three decoys together.

When Mr. Clarke told them not to shoot any swans as they were protected, Mr. Maconaughey asked how we can tell a swan from a duck. Dewey has no license so he carries an armful of pine brush that he gets under in case the warden comes. They haven't got any boots so they set a couple of buckets in the bottom of the blind to put their feet in. All their friends are promised plenty of ducks. We all wish them luck.

SPOUSE-RILEY

Mr. William Henry Harrison Sprouse, of Rectortown, and Miss Elsie Frances Riley, of Thoroughfare, were married at the Lutheran parsonage in Manassas on Monday by the Rev. Luther F. Miller. The couple will make their home near Rectortown, where the groom owns a farm.

"SILVER" JEALOUS OF BUCK'S NEW FAVORITE

Silver, Buck Jones' trick horse, worked himself up into a jealous rage recently during the filming of the Columbia picture, "The California Trail," opening next Friday, Dec. 1, at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas. For Buck has stretched himself and purchased a six-year-old Palomino horse (which means his body is salmon colored and his mane and tail pearl-white) and rode him for the first time in this adventurous production of the early days of California. His name is "Pal."

But Silver needn't worry that Buck is going to let Pal displace him in his affections. Buck wouldn't part with Silver for $100,000 cold cash, he has said many times, because the two have practically grown up together in the movie business.

In the cast of this gay caballero film are Helen Mack, Luis Alberni, George Humbert, Evelyn Sherman, George Stevens, Allan Garcia, and many others. Lambert Hillyer, the director, wrote the screen play for "The California Trail" from a story by Jack Natteford.

BETHLEHEM G. H. CLUB

Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club held its November meeting with Mrs. Broadus hostess, Mrs. McDonald assistant hostess.

$5.00 voted for Red Cross work. Mrs. Wheatley Johnson had presented the garden prize, two little girls from Woodbine receiving it. What they had raised and canned amounted to $100.00. They are being taught to feed themselves. "It is a fine work Miss Pitts is doing for the county."

The county nurse, Miss Neel, was also complimented for her work. A good many children had been fitted out for school, no suffering at present. Civic Relief reported Prince William County stood ahead in the success of the work. The ladies were praised on their ability to carry on the work by those in authority.

The club was greatly entertained by an impromptu description of the impressions received by Mrs. R. L. Sadd and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson during their visit to Chicago World's Fair.

CATHARPIN

The hunting season just opening has ushered into our midst many visitors from the city and elsewhere with guns, dogs, hunting paraphernalia and all sorts of equipment designed to make life miserable for poor "Bunny" and "Bob and Betty" and the report of gunfire ringing in our ears during all hours of the day might remind us of an infantry engagement did we not know that the shooter was engaged in sport and not war. However we imagine that the poor denizens of "Field and Forest" look upon the invasion as war in all its pristine savagery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dorsey and sons and Miss Anna Moore of Berryville, Va., spent the day at Lawn Vale as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Sunday last.

The people of Catharpin neighborhood are all ready for Thanksgiving and many fine flocks of turkeys are in readiness for this annual event. The biggest trouble however is to find something out of the ordinary to be thankful for. Of course we are glad we are still alive and have plenty to eat and fuel to keep us warm, but these commonplace blessings are so many that we forget to enumerate them and finally lose sight of the fact that they still belong on the thankful list. But some one says:

"What have we to be thankful for? We can't sell anything; prices are so bad, it isn't worth while to produce it; so what's the use?" Well that's one way of looking at it, of course, and just now seemingly a forgivable way, but may it not be an ungrateful way? We must remember that sunshine is beautiful and we could not live without it yet if we had it all the time we would dry up and blow away. Likewise the rain; it is needed and life depends upon it, yet if we had it all the time we would wash away and drown. When we had the "Sunshine of Prosperity" a few years back we became profligate, extravagant, forgot God and the church, voted liquor back with a vengeance so that Sodom and Gomorrah are but mere pikers by contrast. Prosperity is good but too much is just too much; so we now, perhaps, are having more than is good for us on the other side of the equation but we need it to bring us back to our senses and to help us balance the account. Extravagance never has and never will pay. If a man commits a crime he trades liberty for jail, provided of course that the jail sentence has not been remitted. So may it not just be possible that this Thanksgiving should be welcomed as a "Day of Atonement"? as a day to review our past extravagance, indiscretions, riotous living and profligacy and to be thankful that we are still alive? We feel sure we can all find something to be thankful for if we but look for it.

Mr. W. Holmes Robertson has been suffering severely for the past several weeks from asthma, being confined to his home most of the time but is now much improved and able to be around again.

Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm is at present confined to her room suffering from an attack of tonsillitis.

On Sunday morning last, Sudley, as per announcement, was privileged to hear one of the best expositions of "Man's Debt to God" that Sudley has heard for many a day; the speaker being Mr. W. E. Fruman of Washington, D. C., an employee in the government service and a church and Sunday school worker of experience and distinction. He seemed just the right man to tell the people the right thing at the right time and in the right way to make it stick. He said:

"Every individual owes an income tax to God for the privilege of living." Of course, when he mentioned "income tax" he had to explain just what that meant since none of us had ever heard of it before, but finally he got us to understand that "the tithe" was our income tax and ought to be paid. He might have carried the analogy a little farther and told us we were just like some of the big bankers in trying to evade payment, but he didn't, thus sparing our sensitive souls much embarrassment. It certainly does me good sometimes to be told the truth about things. We found we were owing "debts" never before dreamed of and that they have been drawing "interest" all these years. Well folks those of you who were kind to yourselves on this rather cool, unpleasant day and thought you would rest comfortably at home certainly missed a lot. Indeed you did.

COUNTY INSTITUTE

We want all the people who are interested in Sunday school work to attend the Institute on Friday night, Dec. 8, conducted by Rev. Minor C. Miller. The one held at Cannon Branch last month was quite a success, but we look forward to having more schools represented at our next institute. Watch for place of meeting next week.

BUCKLAND

Mrs. Belle Carter, of Centerville, was a recent guest at "Ingleside."

Mrs. Gordon Lunceford spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. P. H. Lee and sons, Phillip and Bland, left the past week to spend the winter in Charlottesville. Mr. Lee visited them there on Sunday.

Miss Mary Ella Graham and little Miss Marion Lee of Washington were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graham.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Willie Mayhugh has been quite sick with bronchitis.

Mrs. E. B. Carter is visiting her son, Mr. John Carter, at Haymarket. Miss Audrey Moore is spending a few days this week at her home here.

Measles have been quite prevalent in our vicinity for the past several weeks. The latest victim being Stanley Fowler.

Mrs. William Murdie and daughter, Winifred, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Reid of Greenwich.

Mr. Obce Lunceford, who is a member of the C. C. C., stationed at Bastam, Va., is expected to spend Thanksgiving at his home here.

The special music rendered at the regular services at Harrison Memorial Church on Sunday was greatly enjoyed by all present.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in East Falls Church, on Sunday, November 26.

The golden text is: "I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible" (Jeremiah 15: 21).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Ephesians 6:11, 12).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgement, if virtue and truth build a strong defence" (p. 234).

WINS GIRL HIMSELF IN
"THE CALIFORNIA TRAIL"

Although Buck Jones finished second best to John Boles for the affection of Nancy Carroll in Columbia's "Child of Manhattan," we assure Jones fans that Buck is not the kind to let such a thing happen twice in succession. "The California Trail," at the Dixie Theatre next Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2, bears out our statement. He wins the girl for himself and helps out a lot of poor folk in his role of a dashing caballero (a la Fairbanks) in so doing.

"The California Trail" features Helen Mack in the principal feminine role. Luis Alberni, Charles Stevens, Carmen La Roux, Evelyn Sherman and George Humbert appear in support.

Drinks For The Holidays

It is practically certain that next month we shall be legally drinking anything alcoholic that we want and can afford, but merely because we are going to regain that privilege there is no reason why we should plunge up to our necks in alcoholic drinks. In fact there is every reason why we should not abuse the privilege, especially since there are so many good drinks we can enjoy without any alcoholic content.

For the benefit of hostesses who expect to give parties for young people during the coming holidays, and of those who prefer not to drink alcohol themselves, however they voted about the Eighteenth Amendment, here are some royal, thirst-quenching drinks which look and taste as good as any drinks can. These are, for instance, these delicious

Pineapple Drinks

Eastern Punch: Chop one-half cup raisins and one-quarter tablespoon preserved ginger, add two cups water and boil ten minutes, then strain. Add one-half cup sugar, and cool. Add one-half cup lemon juice, the contents of a No. 2 can of Hawaiian pineapple juice and one pint bottle of charged water, and pour over a block of ice. This makes one and a half quarts, or fills twelve punch glasses.

Fruit Flip: Boil seven-eighths cup sugar, one cup orange juice and one orange rind cut in thin strips for five minutes, then cool. Add one and one-half cups strong cold tea, two tablespoons lemon juice and the contents of a No. 2 can of Hawaiian pineapple juice. Serve over cubes of frozen ginger ale or ice. This makes one quart, or fills eight punch glasses.

Pink Lady: Boil one-fourth cup sugar in one-half cup water for about three minutes, and cool. Add one-half cup bottled raspberry syrup, two tablespoons lemon juice, the contents of a No. 2 can of Hawaiian pineapple juice and one pint bottle charged water.

Holiday Punches

Hot Rum Punch: Combine six cups cider, one-half cup honey, one cup canned pineapple syrup, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon ginger and the rind of one lemon. The last ingredient should be thinly pared, using only the yellow part. Simmer fifteen minutes, strain into a punch bowl and add six tablespoons rum extract. Float several small pickled crabapples in the punch. This makes twelve small cups.

The New Year Egg-Nog: Beat four egg yolks until thick, add one-half cup sugar and one-third cup brandy extract. Add two cups evaporated milk and two cups water, combined, and then fold in four stiffly-beaten egg whites. Sprinkle nutmeg on top. Have cold. Makes twelve small cups.

New Year's Eve Punch: Mash two bananas and add two cups canned pineapple syrup, one cup evaporated milk, two tablespoons fresh lime juice, one-half cup orange juice and one-half cup crushed pineapple. Shake well with crushed ice. This makes five tall glasses or ten cups.

Hot Christmas Punches

Holiday Stein: Mix one gallon sweet cider, one and one-half pounds brown sugar, a six-inch stick cinnamon, one tablespoon whole cloves, one juice whole mace, one-half teaspoon salt and two tablespoons crystallized ginger, and simmer ten minutes. Strain. Add the contents of two 10-ounce cans grapefruit juice and one-half cup orange juice, and reheat but do not boil. Serve steaming hot in earthenware steins or mugs. Makes four quarts.

Spiced Hot Punch: Boil for five minutes one quart water, a three-inch piece cinnamon, one teaspoon whole cloves and one teaspoon allspice, and then strain. Add honey to taste. Add two cups syrup from canned pineapple, and reheat. Beat eggs well, allowing one-half egg to each glass to be served. Divide the eggs among the glasses, and pour the hot punch in, stirring well. Serve at once. This makes approximately one and a quarter to one and a half quarts.

ards dipped at "present" during the whole ceremony.

Hon. H. Thornton Davies, of Manassas, was the speaker of the occasion. His brief history of the life of Davis was well rounded out and received the heartiest applause of all. Group singing was done by the Occoquan High Glee Club, under Miss Blough. The songs included "America," "Virginia, My Home," and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground."

Honored guests besides the District Chairman included Miss Jennie Murray, Mrs. Mattie Moffett, Mrs. Mark Glascock and Mrs. James Frost, all of the Piedmont Chapter, Marshall; Miss Bell, president of the Stafford Rangers; Mrs. Lambert, of the same chapter, and many other members both from the local chapter and visiting chapters.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. C. A. Langston, of Truro Parish, and Rev. A. S. Gibson, of Dettingen Parish. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, president of the local chapter. Hon. Harry Shirley, state highway commissioner, and Mrs. Nottingham, state president of the Virginia Division, U. D. C., were both unavoidably detained.

These highway markers are being erected along the route of the Jefferson Davis Highway to emphasize the fact that this is not the Washington-Richmond Highway but the Jefferson Davis Highway, as approved by an act of the General Assembly.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS

At a meeting of the Democratic County Committee held at the courthouse of Prince William County, Va., on Saturday, November 18.

A roll call developed that twenty-one members out of a possible thirty were present.

This meeting being called by the chairman for the purposes of acting on the petitions presented to Honorable Howard W. Smith in the matter of the Postmastership at Haymarket, this county.

After considerable discussion it was decided that the five members of this committee representing Gainesville District go into executive session and decide this matter between themselves.

The application of Mr. J. Ray Akers for government employment was favorably acted upon, and the secretary was ordered to furnish him a copy of the resolution passed.

The application of Mr. William Wallace for government employment was favorably acted upon, and the secretary was ordered to furnish him a copy of the resolution passed.

The application of Mr. Roy W. Britton for government employment was favorably acted upon, and the secretary was ordered to furnish him a copy of the resolution passed.

The application of Mr. J. Ray Akers for government employment was favorably acted upon, and the secretary was ordered to furnish him a copy of the resolution passed.

At this point in the meeting the Gainesville District committee returned and reported that a majority of the committee favored allowing the recommendation made to their representatives in Congress at a formal meeting, endorsing Carey Smith as Postmaster at Haymarket to stand as heretofore adopted.

Upon a motion the meeting adjourned.

A Year for Real Thanks

If there ever was a year when we should utter devout thanksgivings, it is this year when we are emerging from the shadow of the valley of depression, and it looks as if everyone will soon have a job again, and everyone will therefore eat. And, speaking of eating, there is no better way to celebrate Thanksgiving than with a bang-up dinner that will make you feel fit to pop.

Whatever have been your experiences since that fatal fall of 1929 which seemed also the fall of everything else, this is one day in the year when everyone can devote his or her whole time to eating, so we are going to suggest a dinner to fit the occasion. Never mind the decorations this year, if you're still short of funds, but put all your money into food.

Here's the Menu

Fruit Cocktail in Orange (or Apple) Cases
Cream of Carrot Soup
Roast Turkey with Stuffing and Fried Apple Rings
Roast Turkey with Molded Cranberry Sauce
Whipped Potatoes
Baked Hubbard Squash
Hot Rolls
Home-Made Preserves
Pumpkin and Apple Layer Pie
Coffee
Dates Stuffed with Pears

And here are the recipes for the dishes in this menu with which you may not be familiar:

Fruit Cocktail in Orange (or Apple) Cases: Cut one banana in cubes, and put it together with the drained contents of one No. 2 can of grapefruit and of one 1-pound can of sliced peaches in eight orange cases, having the peaches swirled around on the top. To make the orange cases, four oranges are required. Remove all the pulp from the cases, and keep them in ice water until needed. Hallowed out red or yellow apples can be used instead. After the fruit is arranged, pour over the chilled syrups from the cans of grapefruit and peaches, mixed with one tablespoon of fresh lime juice and one tablespoon of honey. Serves eight.

Decorative and Delicious

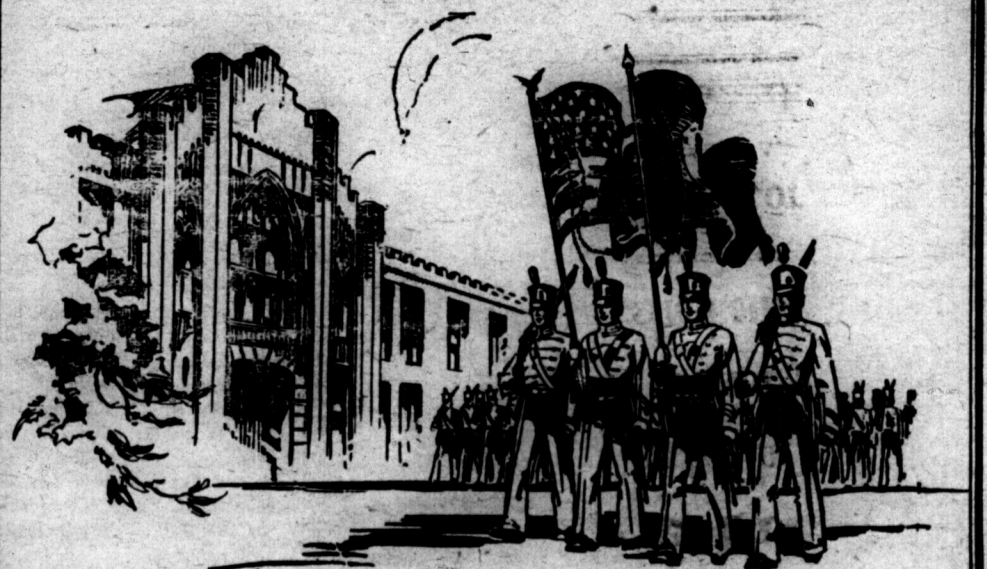

Cream of Carrot Soup: Make a white sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, three cups milk and two cups of strained home-made or canned chicken broth. Press three cups of sliced carrots, or the contents of two 8-ounce cans of diced carrots, through a sieve, and add with their liquor. Add one-half cup cream, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve hot in cups, and on top of each one float a small round cracker on which is placed a rosette of whipped cream dusted with paprika. Serves eight.

Pumpkin and Apple Layer Pie: Mix together one-half cup sugar, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, three-fourths teaspoon ginger and one-half teaspoon salt. Add to one cup of home-cooked or canned pumpkin. Add two well-beaten eggs and one cup scalded milk. Pour into a pie tin lined with pie paste, bake at 450 degrees for ten minutes and then lower the heat to 325 degrees until set, or until a knife, inserted, comes out clean. Cool. Meanwhile soften one and one-half teaspoons gelatin in two tablespoons cold water. Dissolve over hot water and add to one and one-half cups home-cooked or canned apple sauce, with three tablespoons orange marmalade and a few grains of cinnamon. Chill. When it begins to set, spread over the pumpkin pie and chill again. Cover with whipped cream. Serves eight.

An Extra Dessert

And here's an extra dessert to be served where cider can be obtained. It is cool and sweet and satisfying, and takes very little trouble to make.

Cider Frappé: Boil one-half cup sugar and one-fourth cup water to a syrup. Soften one teaspoon gelatin in a little cider, and dissolve in the hot syrup. Cool, add two tablespoons lemon juice and three cups cider, and freeze to a stiff mush. If frozen in refrigerator trays, stir several times or beat with Dover beater. Serves eight.

YOUTH MARCHES ONWARD at Virginia's Historic Schools

THE universities, colleges and preparatory schools of Virginia are rich in historic traditions and splendidly equipped with modern educational facilities. They provide a thorough training for young Americans in cultural, commercial and engineering vocations.

To many of these institutions, electricity is supplied by the Virginia Public Service Company. Among them, the great University of Virginia, founded by Thomas Jefferson, standing on a beautiful campus at Charlottesville; the Virginia Military Institute, widely known as the "West Point of the South," located at Lexington side by side with Washington and Lee University of memorable historic background. Numerous other colleges and preparatory schools, rich in tradition and noted in achievement, dot the sacred soil traversed by the far-flung lines of the Company.

Through scientific research and experiment by college-trained men notable progress has been made in developing electrical equipment to make industrial and farm labor more productive, household economy more convenient, and life more comfortable. Instantly available at the snap of the switch, power from the lines of modern utility systems now provides the indispensable advantages of electric service at a cost that is nominal in comparison with the benefits obtained.

The Virginia Public Service Company, a utility manned and directed by Virginians, has steadily pursued a policy of developing its system so that these advantages might be brought within the reach of an increasing number of consumers. The company now serves more than 375 communities in Virginia and West Virginia.
