SENATOR BYRD SHOWS BIG LEAD

Official Canvass Shows Unusual Figures.

The official canvass made last week of the vote cast in the recent statewide election for United States Senator shows Senator Byrd's majority over Henry A. Wise to be approximately 75,000, which is in excess of the majorities given Trinkle over Anderson for governor in 1921, Byrd over Hoge for governor in 1925, and Pollard over Brown in 1929.

All of the old congressional districts and all of the State's twenty-four cities returned official majorities for the Democratic nominee, who was likewise the choice of 97 out of the 100 counties, piling up a total vote of 119,377, while his Republican opponent, Henry A. Wise, of Northampton, received a total of 44,648, a majority for Byrd of 74,729.

The Senator was given all but 53 votes in his home county of Clarke and won with a substantial majority in the home county of Major Wise. In his voting precinct Senator Byrd lost only two votes out of 92 cast. He captured Major Wise's own precinct with a 6-vote lead.

The Clarke county vote was 561 for Byrd and 53 for Wise. The Northampton vote was 486 for Byrd and 166 for Wise.

Major Wise won Floyd County in the sixth district, and Carroll and Grayson in the fifth. All three are Republican strongholds.

In the old ninth district, which usually records a heavy Republican vote, the Democratic senator received a majority of 13,038, the vote being 23,143 for Byrd and 10,105 for Wise. Byrd carried every county in the entire district.

In his own district, the old seventh, the senator's majority was 7,391, the vote being 13,145 for Byrd and 6,024 for Wise.

In the old first district, in which Major Wise resides, Byrd was given 9,120 and Wise 2,798—a majority of 6,322.

With the single exception of the counties of Floyd, Carroll and Grayson, all three rock-ribbed Republican strongholds, the sweeping Byrd victory covered and comprised the entire State.

MRS. HOGE SAYS NO SURRENDER

W.C.T.U. Leader Speaks at Manassas.

In her address at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening, Mrs. Howard M. Hoge, president of the Virginia Woman's Christian Temperance Union, said that John Barleycorn had not been dead as some had erroneously thought in 1920, but that he had been put in prison by the Christian people of the land.

The liquor traffic has always been against everything the church stands for. While many of the good people slept the enemy sowed "tares."

The organized liquor traffic, aided and abetted by those who desired liquor more accessible and by some who were deceived by the false propaganda into believing the impossible—that making liquor easy to obtain would decrease drinking—have succeeded in unloosing for a time at least this prisoner.

Wonderful prophecies have been made: There are to be no more bootleggers. The unemployment situation is to disappear and taxes are to be reduced.

In face of these promises we can but wonder about the present agitation over how to eliminate the bootlegger in the discussions of the commission consideration. Though jobs were promised to millions of people if repeal were voted, we face the fact that in pre-prohibition days less than half a million persons were employed in whole liquor business and this included bar tenders. The promise to reduce taxes to the rich may be realized but it will be by blood money. Bread will be taken from the poor and shoes from their feet to pay the revenue by which these taxes are to be lessened. The Red Cross will have increased work.

Only one dollar out of six spent for liquor goes to Uncle Sam in revenue. We have lost a battle but we are in a war against the drunk habit and the liquor traffic.

Laws may be repealed but the effect of alcohol cannot be repealed. The W.C.T.U. stands for no retreat, no surrender and no compromise.

VISIT BATTLEFIELD

Twenty-eight members of the 29th Division, National Guards from the District of Columbia, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania "tack walked" to the battlefields of Bull Run last Saturday.

They headquartered at the Prince William Hotel and were under the command of Lieut. Col. Charles H. Mason, historian of the general staff at the Army War College and Staff Officer Colonel John A. Hutchins, of Richmond.

This was the quarterly meeting.

CAMP LIFE TALK BY ARMY DOCTOR

Local CCC Officials Visit Kiwanis.

Ed Conner called in the Army to help him out last week for his Kiwanis program. Captain T. H. May and Doctor (Captain) Mitchell told of CCC work.

Captain May spoke but briefly retiring in favor of his colleague. Doctor Mitchell gave a very entertaining picture of health work in these camps all over the United States. He showed in a simple way how disciplinary training was working wonders among these civilians who are almost entirely from the cities. The local contingent is from New York State, many being from the celebrated East Side of the great metropolis.

Doctor Mitchell gave so many interesting stories that the club is hoping he will return soon for another talk. The picture that he drew was certainly an encouraging one.

Town Manager Cooke got back on his old hobby, the crosscountry road and urged the individual members of the club to press the importance of this highway upon the State Commission.

SENIOR PLAY AT MANASSAS

"Eyes of Love," to be presented by the Senior Class of Manassas High School on Friday evening, December 8, is a three-act comedy-drama whose every scene is filled with either humor or pathos. It is a rather unusual story which holds the attention of the audience at all times. The characters are varied and offer splendid opportunities to amateur actors.

The heroine is Gayla, a daughter of Judge Berry, and will be played by Helen Marsh while the role of Judge Berry is taken by James Payne. Royal Mantion, the lover of Gayla, is played by John DeBell and the part of the hero, Jim Ranklin, is taken by Herwin Ritter. Other characters are as follows: Mrs. Berry, Nora Kesner; Reeta, the two-faced friend, Eula Shaw; Burl Wade, Reeta's brother, William Trusler; Lora, a lively housemaid, Jane Lynn; Clark, a busy butler, Henry Peters; Carolina, an old-time, honest-to-goodness "mammy" in the Berry household, Evelyn Frama.

Special between-act features will be presented. Mrs. William Leachman will have charge of the music and songs and C. A. Sinclair, jr., will delight the audience with several popular songs. Miss Catherine Luck, president of the Senior class, will announce the program.

Curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock.

RETURNS FROM RICHMOND

Mrs. William Lloyd has returned from Richmond, where she went as a delegate to the annual meeting of the Co-operative Education Association. Mrs. Lloyd represented the leagues of Manassas High School and the Bennett Graded School, both organizations receiving banners for outstanding accomplishments during the past year.

Following the association meeting Mrs. Lloyd attended a conference called by Mrs. Pollard to discuss plans for the reemployment of women under the new Civil Works Administration.

CARDS FOR MISS KISSANE

Mrs. Reinbert Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Sigman, gave a bridge party Saturday night in honor of her guest, Miss Katherine Kissane of New York City. The prizes were exceptionally pretty and the decorations of collinsia and bitter sweet most tastefully arranged.

MARRIED IN ROCKVILLE

Dec. 6—Douglas O. Dodson, of Manassas, and Mae Florence, of Dumfries.

ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE ON REPEAL

I enjoin upon all citizens of the United States and upon others resident within the jurisdiction thereof, to co-operate with the Government in its endeavor to restore greater respect for law and order, by confining such purchases of alcoholic beverages as they may make solely to those dealers or agencies which have been duly licensed by State or Federal license.

Observance of this request, which I make personally to every individual and every family in our nation, will result in the consumption of alcoholic beverages which have passed Federal inspection, in the break-up and eventual destruction of the notoriously evil illicit liquor traffic, and in the payment of reasonable taxes for the support of Government and thereby in the superseding of other forms of taxation.

I call specific attention to the authority given by the Twenty-first Amendment to the Government to prohibit transportation or importation of intoxicating liquors into any State in violation of the laws of such State.

I ask wholehearted co-operation of all our citizens to the end that this return of individual freedom shall not be accompanied by the repugnant conditions that obtained prior to the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment and those that have existed since its adoption. Failure to do this honestly and courageously will be a living reproach to us all.

I ask especially that no State shall by law or otherwise authorize the return of the saloon either in its old form or in some modern guise.

The policy of the Government will be to see to it that the social and political evils that have existed in the pre-prohibition era shall not be revived nor permitted again to exist. We must remove forever from our midst the menace of the bootlegger and such others as would profit at the expense of good government, law and order.

I trust in the good sense of the American people that they will not bring upon themselves the curse of excessive use of intoxicating liquors, to the detriment of health, morals and social integrity.

The objective we seek through a national policy is the education of every citizen towards a greater temperance throughout the nation.—Quotation from the President's Proclamation of Nov. 5 on Repeal of the 18th Amendment.

NAME FOR CCC CAMP

The owners of the land on which the new Civilian Conservation Corps is located at Canova have offered a cash prize for an attractive name for the camp.

Communications should be addressed to Captain T. H. May, the commanding officer, Manassas, RFD. On the outside, write plainly "CAMP NAME CONTEST."

A committee will be named later and the letters turned over to them. Letters must all be in on or before December 23.

BRANNAN-EICKE

Miss Delia Margaret Eicke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eicke of "Oakcrest," Woodbridge, Va., and Mr. William Stephen Brannan, of Washington, D. C., were married at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Alexandria, Va., at 10 o'clock on November 25, with a nuptial mass celebrated by the Rev. Dr. Louis Motry of the Catholic University. The altar was decorated with golden yellow chrysanthemums and feathery ferns. The couple were honored with several vocal selections by the Rev. Fr. Franklin, pastor of St. Mary's, and by the presence in the sanctuary of the Rev. Fr. John Affleck, now secretary of the Holy Name Society in New York City, a close friend of the bride, whom she had assisted in social work for several years, and also the Rev. Fr. Nuttal of the Dominican House of Studies at the Catholic University. Joseph Brannan, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James Eicke. She had chosen a lovely gold-colored crepe wedding gown, simply fashioned on princess lines with long close fitting sleeves. Her small turban was of brown velvet with a veil of maline just shading her eyes. She wore brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Her traveling coat was of two shades of brown with a large badge collar.

Miss Mary Eicke, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sapphire blue crepe gown made on clinging lines, a smart velvet turban with tiny maline veil and grey accessories. Her corsage was of pink Killarney roses. The bride's mother wore a becoming gown of French blue crepe with black hat and accessories.

An informal reception followed the ceremony after which the couple left on a motor trip South. They will be at home after December 3 in Washington, D. C. Mr. Brannan is a graduate of the National Law University and is attached to the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Dr. C. P. Ryland, of the Baptist Church, was taken very ill last night and is at a Washington hospital. His son, Dr. C. P. Ryland, an eminent physician of Binghamton, N. Y., is with him.

RETURNS FROM CHICAGO

Mr. Hunton Tiffany has returned from a meeting of National Millers Association in Chicago. Mr. Tiffany is a member of the National Committee.

WOMEN REGISTER FOR C.W.A. WORK

In compliance with a request made by Miss Ella Agnew, who has been appointed State director in charge of Reemployment for Women, the local Reemployment Service Committee is endeavoring to register all unemployed women in Prince William County, both professional and non-professional, in the hope that some plan of project may be set up whereby these women may be given employment.

In order to avert a threatened rush to register for such work on the part of numbers of women who do not have to support themselves or their families, it was made plain that preference would be given to women who previously have supported themselves.

To obtain jobs under the Civil Works program, they must be either single unemployed women, or women under the necessity of supporting a family.

It was pointed out that the Government is undertaking a "reemployment" program rather than to draw a new group into the labor department at this time.

Mr. H. A. Delaney of Thoroughfare has been employed as secretary of the Prince William County Reemployment Committee and will be in Manassas at the Town Hall on Tuesdays and Thursdays between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. to register and interview all persons, both men and women, who wish to register for work under C. W. A. He can be reached at other times at C. B. Roland's in Haymarket.

RELIEF FOR ALL NEEDY TEACHERS

Plans for the immediate employment of needy, unemployed teachers in Virginia have been completed through the co-operation of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, the State Emergency Relief Administration, and the State Department of Education. The administration of this program will be handled by the regularly constituted school authorities and the local Emergency Relief authorities, according to a statement made by Dr. Sidney B. Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. All needy, unemployed teachers who wish to obtain teaching positions should consult their local division superintendents at once. The superintendents will furnish complete information and the necessary application forms.

The program for the employment of needy, unemployed teachers, as approved by the State Emergency Relief Administration, will in no way interfere with, or supplant any phase of public school education now in operation. The plan embraces the following phases of educational work relief:

1. Rural elementary schools (closed schools and over-crowded classes).
 2. Adult education of elementary grade (illiteracy).
 3. Vocational education for adults.
 4. Vocational Rehabilitation.
 5. General education (adults).
- Dr. Hall further stated that there are about 2500 unemployed individuals in Virginia who are capable of teaching some of the courses outlined under the five phases of the Educational Work Relief Program.

It is hoped that, through the co-operation of school authorities throughout the state, many unemployed teachers will obtain work relief.

BANKS ADOPT UNIFORM CODE

Northern Virginia Group Is First to Adopt N. R. A.

Clearing House Association No. 3 of the Virginia Bankers Association has adopted "Uniform Practice Rules," effective December 2, which constitute a fair practice code, having for its primary object the mutual protection of depositors and stockholders.

The counties of this group include Prince William, Fauquier, Culpeper, Loudoun, Rappahannock, Arlington, Madison, Greene, Shenandoah, Page, Highland, Augusta, Frederick, Warren and Rockingham, and they are the first large group of bankers in the State to take this action.

The public has become aware of the fact that the new government legislation guaranteeing deposits place additional burdens upon the banks and that these institutions, to be sound, must be profitable. The new code, thereafter, fixes charges for handling all classes of business not properly compensating the banks through cash balances. Federal regulation since the banking holiday have required checking accounts to pay their own way, and that no accounts can be carried at the expense of profitable deposits unless a service charge is required.

On accounts with an average daily balance of less than $50 a flat charge of 50 cents is made with an allowance of 5 free checks. A charge of three cents per item is made for all checks issued in excess of the free allowance.

On daily balances over $50, the flat base payment of 50 cents does not apply, the charge being 3 cents per item above the free allowance.

If the charge for excess checks is less than 15 cents per month, it may be waived in the discretion of the bank. The code also permits a bank to analyze any account and make such charges as may be deemed proper, provided the assessment is not less than the above schedule. In figuring out the cost of handling an account debits and credits are figured at 3 cents each, except in the case of payroll and other accounts where a large number of checks are necessitated the cost may be figured as low as one cent. Collection items are figured at 15 cents and checks returned on account of insufficient funds, 25 cents.

Past due notes: A charge of fifty cents plus 10 cents for each additional day.

Uniform fees are also authorized for trust services of various kinds, corporate services, custody and storage of collateral transfer of bonds, dividend disbursements and other special services.

The banking hours are fixed at 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Reports from many communities throughout the area of Northern Virginia and the Valley, which is included in Regional Clearing House Association No. 3, indicate that the banking public is accepting these regulations in the spirit of their intent—that of protecting both the stockholders and the depositors.

A SERMONETTE

By Rev. A. S. Gibson

Text: St. Matthew 22: 17-21.

17. Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?

18. But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19. Show me the tribute money.
And they brought unto him a penny.

20. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21. They say unto him, Caesar's.
Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

Our Lord Jesus Christ differed from all other men in his ability to tell the truth—not merely the truth
for the time being, true for the occasion and the men to whom his words were addressed, but the everlasting truth, true not only at the time, but Eternity. As we look at his words recorded in the Gospel, we find that they are true, and true in this unique way of which we now speak.

The incident recorded in the passage of Scriptures we have taken as our text would not seem to lend itself to this special form of truth. The Jews, that is, the Pharisees and Saducees had made a conspiracy to entangle Him in His talk. They had enlisted the help of the acutest minds
in the legal profession of their day,
and were thoroughly satisfied that the question they were about to ask was one He could not answer without antagonizing one party or another.
On the one side, if He said it was unlawful to give tribute to Caesar, the Roman authorities and those loyal to them, would call Him to account. On the other, if He had said it was lawful, He would antagonize his friends
among the Jews who were listening joyfully to his preaching. This would seem to be a case when it would be almost impossible to speak Eternal Truth.

But see what our Lord does. He says to these men, "Bring me the tribute money." When they have produced a Roman dinarius, the coin
which is referred to in our English translation of the Bible as a penny, He asks them this question, "Whose image and superscription is this?"
They say unto Him, "Caesar's." Then said He unto them, "Render, therefore, unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things which are God's."

Those words were true as spoken to the men who were striving to entangle Him but they are also eternally true, and applicable to us today.
Not only so, but they are eternally true and will continue applicable to all situations in all time.

Render, therefore, unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's—the words
refer to the payment of Roman taxes,
and these are, of course, not applicable to us today. But we must pay our taxes and our honest debts and administer, as far as we can, the funds which come into our hands to meet our obligations, not only to man but to God. The Roman dinarius bore the image of Caesar and his name imprinted so they stood out, and even the fervent heat of the furnace could not erase them without destroying the coin. It was the coin of the realm and, as such, was acceptable for taxes and the payment of debts.

Now let us suppose that these words were said in regard to us, as men and women, "Whose image and superscription is this?" We turn to the Book of Genesis and read, "In the image of God created He him, male and female created He them." Most of us recognize our kinship to God.
All of us have our times when we look to Him for help. There are a few with peculiar quirks in their tempers who insist that they cannot know anything about God, but they are in a very small minority. God speaks in our hearts and in our souls, and man stands upon his feet and looks about him and gazes at the Heavens, recognizing in his heart and soul that he is different from the rest of the animal creation because he bears within him the Spiritual likeness to God. I do not mean to say that man is physically like God, but that he bears in his soul the imprint, the "image and superscription" of the Spiritual Being of God Himself.

This being true, what shall men's reactions be in regard to his relationship with Almighty God? He should worship Him, serve Him, and love Him. And because it is in the nature of man to seek companionship of his fellows, and to imbibe from association with others, a spiritual strength and power, he should not fail to attend the services of the Church. He should not neglect, as St. Paul says,
"the assembling of yourselves together," because in the united prayers of the people there is a special Spiritual power. We are told by St.
Luke, in the Acts of the Apostles,
"When the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place." And because they were all together, with one accord, there came a special outpouring of God's Holy Spirit.

In our individual relationship with God, our neighbors, and in our individual souls, if the question should be asked us, to whom do you belong? To whom do you owe allegiance? From whence do you come, and whither do you go? Whose mark do you bear upon your forehead? Whose image and superscription is this? Will not this answer come welling from the depths of your soul? It is the image of Almighty God written upon the heart of man. Render, therefore, unto God the things that are God's.

UNIVERSAL BIBLE SUNDAY

Governor Jno. Garland Pollard commends to the churches of Virginia the observance on next Sunday, December 10, of Universal Bible Sunday.

Thousands of churches in America and many abroad will stress on Universal Bible Sunday the place and importance of the Bible in the life of church-going Christians and in the promotion of missionary work. Universal Bible Sunday originated about fifteen years ago and is directed by the American Bible Society, an international organization circulating the Scriptures annually in 200 languages and in more than forty countries.

In urging the observance of Universal Bible Sunday Governor Pollard says: "I have been a Bible teacher for many years, and I am more and more impressed as the days go by with the value of the Bible to the world. I wish to acknowledge my own personal debt of gratitude for the great help and inspiration I have received from study of the Bible."

WARNER BAXTER AND MYRNA
LOY HEAD "PENTHOUSE" CAST

Waxter Baxter and Myrna Loy are the featured players in Arthur Somers Roche "Penthouse," which opens next Monday at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas.

It is a Cosmopolitan production, filmed at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, and based upon the novel from the pen of Arthur Somers Roche, published serially in Cosmopolitan Magazine.

As a scion of an aristocratic New York family, and a society lawyer who chooses to defend notorious racketeers, Warner Baxter is said to give one of the finest performances of his long motion picture career.

As Gertie Waxter, a beautiful night club girl, Myrna Loy is reported by preview critics to have far surpassed any of her triumphs in previous picture productions.

With exotic roles now a part of her brilliant past, in "Penthouse" she has taken command of one of the strongest and most lovable characterizations of her career and her romantic scenes with Warner Baxter will long be remembered.

W. S. Van Dyke, an ace director for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was in charge of the production. He is remembered for his exceptional supervision of "White Shadows in the South Seas" and "Trader Horn."

Mae Clarke, Broadway stage favorite and who has appeared in such screen successes as "Turn Back the Clock" and "Fast Workers," fills a featured role as Mimi, the gorgeous night club hostess.

Phillips Holmes heads the supporting cast as Siddall, the young man-about-town who is accused of the murder of Mimi, a former sweetheart, and whose life is saved through the efforts of his friend, Warner Baxter, who conducts a secret investigation of the crime and proves that Mimi's death was the climax of an underworld frame-up.

A SAD LOSS

Little Miss Virginia Muddiman is receiving the sympathy of everyone in her sad loss earlier in the week.

Within a few days almost of receiving full credit in her typewriting course, a malady of some sort caused the loss of an index finger.

For one so young, she is bearing up very bravely. Such a reverse is an unfortunate break which would upset almost any one but Virginia is getting ready to tackle life at some new angle.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

One of the major curses of southern civilization is the low wage scale.

Low wages impoverishes the working class and makes a very weak link in our chain of efforts to get back on our feet. When we press down upon the brow of labor a wage scale that forces the offspring of the worker to go to the garbage can to help fill an empty stomach things are only too tolerable.

In 1932 our State Highway Department had men working ten hours a day for $1.50. Men were painting for the State Highway and being paid a pittance. 15 cents per hour. At this time the head of the highway department was drawing a salary of $1,000 per month and riding around in a state-owned car. At this time the Federal Government stepped in, because of Federal Aid, and set a wage of 20 cents per hour. The horny handed sons of toil truly carries the burdens of the world upon his shoulders.

A short while ago the Southern Division of the United States Chamber of Commerce unanimously urged the NRA to fix the southern scale of wages at least 30 per cent below the scale for the north and east. Here is the reason the Chamber gave for the differential in wages between the north and south: "Living costs are lower and distribution costs higher in the south."

The militant head of the NRA Gen. Hugh Johnson delivered an address in Atlanta in reply to the chamber's desires and declared categorically that "That the south will not get its 30 per cent differential."

This is an average differential of 16 per cent in favor of the south in forty-six industrial codes. Here is what Dr. Wilson Gee, the Social Sciences, has to say: "There seems to be no really valid basis for the current impression that a person can live up to a given standard more cheaply in the south than in other parts of the country. The prices of the principal articles of food in cities of the same size indicate that there is substantially no differential in this regard for the two regions."

"The rates for electricity and gas are actually higher in the south. Fuel costs, of course, are higher in the North and West than in the South, due to the milder climate of the latter, but in this particular it is believed that the greater expenditures for ice in the Southern latitudes is a compensating factor of much significance. Rents are only around 7 per cent more expensive in the North and West, and the tenant in that part of the country, as a rule, secures a better constructed house in which to live."

"The prevailing impression to the effect that living is cheaper in the South is so clearly a questionable one, that no such an opinion can be advanced and verified, in fact the preponderant evidence is against such a contention. There isn't anything to justify a lower differential wage for the South."

What the South needs is not a differential in favor of lowering the wage scale, but a differential raising the standard of living from a mere existence to a level with our Northern and Western neighbors.

Our Senator Rux put up a howl a few days ago about the high wages we would have to pay for the privilege of using CWA money. Did Bro. Rux ever try to feed, cloth and educate his family on $12.50 per week? Did he ever have less than that much and little hands uplifted begging for more?

A man with a family to support told me the other day that his total income was $4.50 per week. A living wage is not sufficient, we must have enough to live on and at the same time fit ourselves and our dependents for citizenship and independence in our old age.

In spite of all our boasted civilization the south is 30 years behind our northern neighbors. Our schools are in one degree of being a failure. The backbone of our future advancement is the little Red Schoolhouse. We can't go forward one at a time; we must forward march en masse. In prosperity, in civilization we are our brother's keeper. We have been blaming our large negro population for our backward showing. It is high time such foolish notions were laid aside and facts looked squarely in the face. We are still making mistakes, we are still dropping and who is to blame?

Have you read the Clark and Arrington History of Prince William County? Every citizen who takes pride in local institutions should possess a copy of this charming book, which is on sale for 40 cents at the office of the Prince William County School Board, Manassas, Va., or will be sent postpaid for 50 cents.

ARTIFICIAL MOUTH HEARD
BY ARTIFICIAL EAR

Speech from an artificial mouth, heard by an artificial ear is being utilized by scientists and engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories in testing telephones. The artificial mouth and ear, which make possible the careful inspection of new and repaired telephone apparatus such as transmitters and receivers is described in the current Bell Laboratories Record.

Use of the electrical mouth, according to E. W. Holman, member of the transmission instruments engineering staff of the telephone laboratories, shows that this artificial voice is more practical in testing telephone transmitters than if the human voice were utilized. Speaking voices, Mr. Holman says, would give results under conditions similar to actual use, but this method has certain limitations for laboratory and shop tests. Some of the difficulties are overcome through the use of voice substitutes, which are satisfactory for testing the maintenance and uniformity of telephone instruments of the same type, but which are limited for use in engineering design problems.

In designing the artificial mouth as a voice substitute, Mr. Holman says, it was necessary to reproduce in this equipment the important range of frequencies found in human speech and acoustic outputs normally encountered in speech. Also, it was found necessary to have the mechanical apparatus reproducible and constant in operation.

To obtain the correct sound field distribution around the artificial mouth necessitated that the sound radiate from a small opening about the size of the human mouth. Measurements were made on several types of sound sources which indicated that the distortion of the sound field due to the introduction of a telephone transmitter was about the same for any source having an opening approximately equivalent to the size of the human mouth.

With this information as a basis a loud speaker such as is used in the reproduction of sound pictures was selected for the artificial mouth unit. This was connected with an amplifier, which was also designed for the reproduction of sound pictures, and as a result, an artificial voice was produced that gave satisfactory results, according to Mr. Holman. Experience, he says, discloses that in the use of the artificial voice it is perfectly practical to replace the human voice in most types of telephone laboratory measurements and that it is adaptable to routine shop and manufacturing tests.

Use of the artificial ear provides uniformity of operating characteristics. This equipment is described by F. L. Crutchfield of the laboratories staff. Any two telephone receivers, whether connected across the room or across the continent must convey the message clearly and distinctly.

The artificial ear, Mr. Crutchfield says, is being utilized in the manufacturing and repair shops to see that every part of this telephone equipment meets the proper specifications and that the inspection procedure has been developed so that the operating characteristics of telephone instruments will be the same. The artificial ear was designed to subject the equipment at the time it was being tested to the same characteristics that would be used by the telephone subscribers.

Both the artificial mouth and ear, it is felt by telephone scientists, will have far-reaching effects in improving the transmission of the human voice by telephone.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

THE PEACE OF GOD: The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.—Philippians 4:7.

THE BANKING CODE

Our local banks on December 2 adopted a code of uniform practices, fashioned along lines recommended by the National Recovery Administration and made necessary by the new government regulations of banking which are designed to prevent any more financial disasters like those which caused the banking holiday last March. Our banks were not involved like those of northern and western states, but they are required to subscribe to the same regulations now demanded throughout the nation.

The various service charges authorized are just and necessary to sound banking. They do not constitute an appreciable burden upon depositors and since they serve to guarantee that the institution is safe and sound, are worth many times the nominal amount charged.

The banking holiday occasioned a much better appreciation of the value of banking facilities. Personal and business enterprise was paralyzed when the banks of the nation closed their doors for only a few days. That such a situation may not happen again, the public will not begrudge the banks these reasonable charges for their valuable services.

DON'T BARGAIN FOR BOOZE

Comparatively few Americans, we venture to say, will warm to the news that the United States intend to shape the quota system of liquor importation in such a way they will buy most heavily from those nations that will make the largest concessions to American goods at their own ports.

There are some possibilities in this form of tariff trading, but they are possibilities that do not fit in with the ideal of discouraging the consumption of hard liquor. It is well enough to bargain with France, with Germany or with Italy concerning the volume of light wines that can be admitted, but when it comes to cognac and Scotch whisky, we want to be exceedingly careful that our desire to sell American goods shall not dispose us to encourage Americans to drink more hard liquor, domestic or imported.—Richmond News Leader.

Foresight

Banking rules are necessary to protect your deposits. The habit of systematic saving is necessary to protect your opportunities for success.

A steadily increasing balance at this friendly bank will do a great deal for you and for your bank. We can grow by mutual co-operation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, E. Falls Church, Va., on Sunday, December 10.

The golden text is "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." (Deuteronomy 33:27).

Among the citations, which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul; discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee" (Proverbs 2:10, 11).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (p. 387).

BAD WRECK AT CHERRY HILL

Wednesday morning a serious railroad wreck occurred at Cherry Hill, in Prince William County, when two trainmen were killed and a number of persons injured on the R. F. and P. It is stated that just as a landslide wrecked a freight train, it was in turn hit by a fast passenger train, hurling cars in all directions. There were no local folks among the dead and injured.

PRAYER AGAINST HUNTERS

To St. Francis
Little brown brother of the Umbrian hills,
Child-like and pure, you surely are the one
To hear a plea of pity for the ill
Man visits on all helpless things that run
Or creep and fly beneath the stars and sun.

Guard them, I pray, from human lust and greed—
The beautiful, the saucy and the shy—
And teach mankind to know wild creatures' need
Of confidence when human feet go by,
A heart that almost bursts the walls of flesh,
The frozen terror in a small bright eye,
Are plea enough for their immunity.

MEDICAL ADVICE

If you want to
... keep the bowel action regular and comfortable
... make constipated spells as rare as colds
... avoid danger of bowel strain
—use a liquid laxative

Can constipation be overcome? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" declare thousands who have followed their advice and know. You are not apt to cure your constipation with salts, pills and tablets, or any habit-forming cathartic. But you can overcome this condition just by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

Why Hospitals use a liquid laxative
The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Will not irritate kidneys.

The right liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement, with no discomfort at the time, or afterward.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it!

In buying any laxative, read the label. If it contains a doubtful drug, don't take it. If you don't know what is in it, don't chance it. The contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is stated plainly on the label; fresh herbs, pure pepsin, active senna.

Its very taste tells you syrup pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. Drugstores have it, ready for use, in big bottles.

MANASSAS MOTOR CO., Inc.
MANASSAS, VA.RURAL IRISH STORY AT DIXIE

Janet Gaynor, a lovable, irresponsible little pet of the country-side is incensed over the fact that her father, Walter Connolly, is marrying her sister, Margaret Lindsay, to Warner Baxter. Janet realizes her father is bringing about the match solely for the sake of the money which Baxter possesses. The father, improvident, lovable, thinks nothing of what he is about to do. Margaret is in love with Harvey Stephens.
When Janet realizes the situation
she determines to use every method to keep Baxter from proposing to her sister. When she fails in her purpose and Margaret accepts Baxter, Janet determines to do everything in her power to keep the marriage from taking place.

In the ensuing weeks we see Margaret beginning to fall seriously in love with Baxter. In the meantime Stephens is beginning to take a decided interest in Janet. Without knowing it herself Janet is subconsciously in love with Baxter. When every other means to prevent the marriage fails, Janet determines to tell Baxter the true state of affairs.

At the night of the grand ball at which the announcement of the engagement is to be made (this to placate the father's creditors) Janet throws a monkey wrench into the machinery by telling Baxter that he is being married for his money. She honestly believes that she is doing it for Margaret's sake and to keep her father from performing a dishonorable act although that lovable old soul has no sense of anything wrong
in what is taking place.

Janet, much to her dismay, finds out that Margaret is actually in love with Baxter and by her actions Janet has alienated her sister whom she passionately loves. Baxter accepts the situation gracefully and begins to take an interest in Janet since this is about the first literal truth he has listened to since he first met the family.

A few days later the father is killed, giving his life in a heroic effort to save a servant. Shortly after, the creditors close in. The estate is sold.
Janet goes to Dublin to find work in her uncle's pharmacy. Margaret never forgives her. After a year Baxter seeks her out.

What Are You
Doing to Boost
Manassas?*CATHARPIN

Well, Thanksgiving found a number of Catharpin sons and daughters on the homeward trek accompanied by the "in-laws" and all the little "outlaws" to enjoy another feast of turkey around the hospitable table
of father and mother and from reports it seems about as many turkeys graced home tables as were sold on the market since very few comparatively could be marketed for this Thanksgiving holiday. Prices like all other farm products were very low so we just ate them ourselves.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Willis and son of Clarendon, Va., dined on the festive bird at Lone Oak on Thursday.

Mrs. Gussie Lynn Webb of Washington spent Thanksgiving with her mother and of course dined on turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Patton of Maryland were calling on friends in the neighborhood one day last week.

Mrs. Chas. F. Caton of Pageland
Lane was a Washington visitor Thanksgiving spending a few days
among friends in the Capital City.

Bob, Bill and Buddy, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Brower of Purcellville, Va., spent a few days
among friends at Catharpin last week.

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson and daughters, Frances and Anne, were Christmas shoppers in Washington
recently.

Mrs. W. S. Brower spent several days in Washington last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Prower, jr., of Purcellville, Va., were visitors at the Brower home, Lone Oak, on Sunday.

Mr. W. W. Pugh and Mr. and Mrs.
Banner of Maryland were guests of friends in the neighborhood over Sunday, attending services at Sudley in the morning where they met and renewed old-time acquaintances to the pleasure of all concerned. It will be remembered that the Pughs were residents of the Catharpin community for many years before moving to Maryland and these return visits are of interest to many old-time friends.

Butchering is now the order of the day and, like turkeys, hogs are so low on the market that people are salting down more than usual so that we shall not starve even though our creditors may have to wait a long time for what we owe them. It is a pity we could not put away a few of our beef cattle in the same way and make some of Jiggs' corned beef but, like cheese, that commodity has become a lost art on the farm so we shall continue to sell our finest beef cattle on the market for $3.75 as usual until Providence or something else
comes to our rescue.

This erstwhile quiet community
was awakened from its slumbers
early Friday morning by the ringing of many phones calling for help to fight forest fires which had broken out in the Groveton section. It seems the fire had broken out on Thursday afternoon and after a hard fight was under control but some time during the night it again took fire necessitating the call for aid.
Many responded and by noon had everything under control fortunately without loss of buildings. Owing to the continued dry spell both forest and field are receptive to the spark and a fire spreads so rapidly that it is very hard to control. Just how it all happened is unknown other than the surmise that some one of the many hunters may have inadvertently dropped the match that started the trouble. People, as a rule, are mighty lenient in regard to hunting privileges — allowing strangers as well as natives freer range during the hunting season to enjoy the sport unmolested; but sometimes it is very doubtful whether or not it pays the land owner to longer grant such privileges. In fact, he does not now "grant" it because the hunter never "asks" but just "takes" the liberty of trespass. When nothing happens all is well; but if timber lands are left in ashes, fields burned over and his game destroyed or driven from its usual habitation.
That's different. The hunter seems to regard himself as a privileged character to go and come at will over any and all lands regardless of the owner's pleasure or displeasure. Land owners do not want to be arbitrary
but they certainly do not feel comfortable during a dry season when the hunters are around.

KITCHEN LORE

by
JANE ROGERS

SOME day an enterprising culinary expert will devote an entire book to money saving recipes—by that I mean ways to transform left-overs into tasty dishes, inexpensive cuts of meat into masterpieces that will satisfy the most exacting epicure and so on.

Such a book is certainly needed for the housewife is ever searching for ways to please the family palate and at the same time lighten the strain on the family pocket-book.

One distinct contribution during recent years has been the discovery of how to turn the less expensive meat cuts into tasty main dishes for the evening meal.

The trick lies in seasoning. Continental chefs have long known the value of sugar as a seasoning for meats but it was not until recently that sugar began to assume an important place in American culinary lore. It helps to blend the other seasonings and point up the flavor of the dish as a whole.

Here is a recipe which calls for sugar and which can be made easily and economically from veal and a cup of left over boiled ham.

Veal and Ham Pie

2 pounds lean veal 1 teaspoon salt
1 cup lean boiled 1 tablespoon vinegar
ham 1 teaspoon sugar
2 hard cooked eggs 1 teaspoon dried
1/2 onion parsley

Simmer veal in water to which seasonings and onion have been added. When tender, cut the meat in inch cubes. Put in deep baking dish together with the ham cut in small slices or cubes; the eggs, sliced; and the liquid in which the veal was cooked, reduced to one cup. Cover with pie crust. Bake in moderate oven and serve hot or cold.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

The Corn and Hog Program.

In many respects the corn-hog program resembles the wheat program. Allotments of corn acreage and hog numbers will be made in much the same way as was done with wheat.

The minimum reduction desired in corn acreage in 1934 is 20 per cent. The period upon which acreage reduction will be figured is the preceding three-year period or 1931, 1932 and 1933. The co-operating farmer will be compensated at the rate of 30¢ a bushel of the average production of the leased acres during the three-year base period. For example, a rental of $12 an acre would be received for 40 bushel corn land kept out of production.

The minimum reduction desired in hog numbers is 25 per cent of the number farrowed during the preceding two-year base period. In return for a 25 percent reduction in the number of hogs farrowed and sent to market, the co-operating producer will receive a total adjustment payment of $5.00 per head on the remaining 75 per cent. Of this $5.00 per head, the producer will receive $2.00 when his contract is signed and approved, $1.00 on or about Sept. 1, 1934, and the remainder on or about Feb. 1, 1935. To qualify for these payments the contracting grower must agree not to increase the average number of hogs bought and fed for market during the two-year base period.

May Try to Repeal Oleo Act.

A real menace to the dairy industry is seen in the proposal of certain interests to ask Congress, when it convenes in January, for repeal of the oleomargarine act. If such a move should be successful, it might mean the end of legislation recently enacted to protect the butter industry from substitutes and imitations, Virginia Representatives and Senators should be written at once and asked to take a positive stand against this threat to the dairy industry.
