STATE U. D. C. PRESIDENT HERE

Interesting Reports Made to Chapter.

The December meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was one of unusual interest. The attendance of Daughters was excellent, also many visitors were present, six chapters being represented.

Mrs. Severn Nottingham, president of the Virginia Division, and Mrs. Frank Cary, State historian, were the guests of honor.

Mrs. Smith reported that the Red and White ball given for the benefit of the museum to be erected in the near future, on the Manassas Battlefield, was not only a success financially, but also a very beautiful affair.

Assistant Secretary R. Walton Moore and Senator John Rust sent their regrets at not being able to attend.

Mrs. Dogan and Mrs. Chas. Lynn, grandmother and mother of the little lady of four summers who led the grand march which opened the ball, were presented to the chapter.

Mrs. M. M. Washington gave a very interesting report of the fortieth annual U. D. C. convention recently held in Baltimore and which was attended by ninety Virginia Daughters. Miss Mann of Petersburg, known to many in Manassas, was elected secretary.

Mrs. Marsteller told of her correspondence with Mr. Shirley relative to the preservation of the historic Council Tree under which Lee, Longstreet and Hill planned the second Battle of Manassas. Mr. Shirley expressed his willingness to protect this historic tree and it was suggested that Messrs. Eckingrode and son be communicated with relative to placing a marker there.

The use of Muzzey's History in the schools was discussed and it was ascertained officially that nothing could be done until the contract was ended and then a change would be made.

The business session completed, the historian, Mrs. Hibbs, presented Mrs. Marsteller who read effectively a beautiful tribute to Jefferson Davis.

Mrs. Frank Cary was next introduced. She urged the chapters to preserve Confederate history, stressing the importance of local history and advised that each member of the chapter make a scrap book and preserve invaluable history. She also referred to Virginia having won the Raines prize and said with the assistance of the chapters she hoped to secure it again this year.

Mrs. Severn Nottingham, State president, was presented to the chapter. She expressed herself as being honored and pleased to be the guest of Manassas Chapter. She emphasized the principal objectives to be considered this year, Stratford, the Raines fund and the Jefferson Davis Foundation fund and urged that these be contributed to at once. She stressed the importance of publicity as a means of valuable educational information and urged the chapters to co-operate with Mrs. W. H. Lamb, member of the special publicity committee for the 4th district. Mrs. Nottingham praised the work of her publicity committee very highly.

A request was also made that each chapter send a dollar for the expense of painting a portrait of Dr. Lyon G. Tyler. The preservation of true history is the first object of the United Daughters of the Confederacy now that the veterans in gray are so rapidly passing away.

Mrs. Nottingham's address was well given and met with much applause.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed while the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The chapter will be the guests of Mesdames Jackson and Giddings for the January meeting.

FAMILY REUNION

The home of Mrs. Mary F. Steele near Hoadly was the scene of a pleasant surprise party on Sunday afternoon, December 10, in the form of a family reunion.

Mrs. Steele, a lifelong resident of Prince William County, celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday.

Among those present were her two sons, John Steele of Canova and Edward Steele of Clifton; her daughters, Mrs. Charles McDougal and family of Washington, D. C., Mrs. M. A. Hensley and family of Hoadly and other friends and relatives.

Mrs. Grace Deavers of Alexandria was unable to be present.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS MRS. GILES

Christmas Assembly Dec. 27.

Mrs. L. J. Giles of Clifton Forge, state president of the Federation of Woman's Clubs of Virginia, was the guest speaker at the December meeting of the Manassas Woman's Club on Wednesday afternoon at the high school. She chose as her subject "Youth today—Adults tomorrow." Dividing her topic into two parts she spoke first of the informal education, the part given to children of preschool age by parents, and pointed out the importance of proper guidance and good example for these tender years. She spoke of the importance of children being taught to control their emotions, that they might develop their good habits and suppress those of harmful nature.

Taking up then the formal education, or the part played by our public schools and institutions of higher learning, Mrs. Giles told of the present situation in the state of Virginia in regard to funds to carry on during the coming year.

Rev. A. S. Gibson also spoke to the club on the importance of the sale of the Christmas Seal, being put on in Prince William County and asked that club members not only buy but urge their friends to buy as there are a number of sanatorium cases now, waiting for the aid given by this fund. He spoke of the great amount of good done during the past year, especially in the hospitalization of children.

Reports of committees were interesting, and all reported having accomplished some work along their particular line of endeavor, during the past month.

Mrs. C. W. Dalton, general chairman of the Christmas assembly, announced that plans for this gala occasion were progressing nicely. An eight-piece orchestra has been engaged, decorations in keeping with the holiday season are being arranged for, and invitations are to be issued this week. This promises to be a most outstanding event, socially and it is hoped that the "younger set" of Manassas will keep in mind the date, Wednesday, December 27, 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Officers of the club will act as a reception committee.

Hospitality for January, Mrs. W. F. Cooke, Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton, Mrs. Noel Gill, Mrs. Hawes Davies, Mrs. A. S. Gibson, Mrs. J. A. Delaney.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY IS LENGTHENED

Board Adds Week to Christmas Vacation.

At the meeting of the school board last week, it was decided to close the schools on December 21 and not to reopen until January 8.

Mrs. Piercy was appointed a committee to ascertain the wishes of the Gainesville people for improvements to the schools under the civil works administration.

The use of the public funds under a supplementary application was authorized and a committee composed of Chairman D. J. Arrington, W. L. Lloyd and Supt. R. C. Haydon was appointed.

In view of applications to change the bus route at Hickory Grove, the Board promised to make a study of this next summer but could make no changes right now.

A forty-dollar library was authorized for Manassas High School.

BASKETBALL TEAMS LOSE OPENING GAMES

M. H. S. boys and girls basketball teams lost the opening games of the season against Lee-Jackson at Alexandria. Both teams went down fighting before two more experienced teams, the girls losing 13-11 and the boys 30-9.

This, however, does not tell the whole story. After trailing the first quarter the Manassas girls rallied and outplayed the Lee-Jackson girls during the last three quarters. The team took command of the floor play and proceeded to take the ball down the floor at will. Frances Allison and Margaret White played especially well in the center with Mildred Moore at guard. Moore's opponent, who played spectacularly in the first half, only succeeded in making one goal during the last half.

The M. H. S. boys were not able to penetrate the strong Lee-Jackson defense and were not able to get near the scoring line thus they were forced to take long shots. Albrite, in spite of his sprained back, was the star of the evening with Ashby White and Frank Compton playing good basketball.

HOME FOR CENTENARY CELEBRATION OF HIS CHURCH

When Father Ryan, the popular young priest at the Catholic Church in Manassas, dutifully drove his mother home to New York several days ago, he did not know that he was running into the centenary celebration of his old home church at Flushing, N. Y.

When it was noised around that he was at home the town made a dash for him and he says that the round of feasting and hospitality extended kept him busy for a week.

Father says they all had a dandy good time but if it happened more than once every hundred years he'd never catch up with his sleep.

FIRST AID SQUAD, MANASSAS FIRE DEPARTMENT

We must ask our correspondents and advertisers next week to get in as much matter as possible before Wednesday evening.

There are certain classes of items which we publish with pleasure and which are consistently brought in so late that it causes no little trouble to get them set up and printed.

To begin the New Year right, we are asking for this co-operation to start right here in the Christmas-rush season.

WALTER NEIL MERCHANT

All Manassas was deeply grieved on Tuesday to learn of the sudden death of its oldest inhabitant, Walter Merchant, who came here from Dumfries in the latter 70's.

Born of sturdy Scotch ancestry, whose forebears landed in the upper portion of the Northern Neck before the Revolution, Mr. Merchant enjoyed a rugged health which appears to have been interrupted rarely and his last illness was of very brief duration.

He was born at Dumfries on February 25, 1851. His tales of the War Between the States were very realistic. As a boy, he recalled when the old bell in the deserted courthouse fell to the pavement and broke.

As an amateur ventriloquist, "Watt" Merchant made many a youngster laugh at his tricks. His utter cheerfulness was infectious to a great degree.

In 1874, he married Roberta Bolling Weir, daughter of Robert Weir, of his community. This union was blessed by eleven children, three of whom have been dead for some years. These are Bolling Merchant, his oldest son; Mrs. Lula Groff and Walter Merchant, his namesake. Had he lived until next fall, he would have seen his sixtieth wedding anniversary.

Besides his widow, he is survived by the following children: Mrs. A. L. Nalls and Mrs. S. B. Lillard, of Alexandria; Mrs. G. E. Dombhart, of Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. M. H. White, of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Frank Smart of Washington, and Messrs. H. D. and W. T. Merchant of Manassas, and M. B. Merchant of Burke. Also the following brothers and sisters: Tilden Merchant, of Purcellville, and Walker Merchant and Mrs. R. J. Adamson, of Manassas. There are a large number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Episcopal Church this afternoon, the Rev. A. Stuart Gibson officiating. The pallbearers were Hawes Davies, W. S. Athey, R. M. Weir, G. G. Allen, Wilson Merchant and Rixey Embrey. Interment followed at the local cemetery. Business in the town was practically suspended during the services.

Truly to use the words of one of the citizens, "He is a man that the town will miss very greatly." An old-time gentleman, an observer of the Golden Rule in all things, Walter Merchant gave the town an example of gentleness and good fellowship that will long be remembered.

The Journal extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved widow and family.

XMAS VESPER SERVICE DEC. 17

Swavely School to Give Unusual Program.

Swavely School most cordially invites the people of Manassas and vicinity to attend their Christmas vesper service on Sunday, Dec. 17, 6:30 p.m., in Trinity Episcopal Church. Faculty and students alike join in this invitation to their many friends, and have agreed on the 5:30 hour instead of the customary 6:30 hour, in the hope that the change will accommodate a still larger circle of friends than usual.

The authorities have sought to arrange a service altogether worshipful, both in form and content. It consists of scriptural text, prophetic and narrative, interspersed with hymns suggested by phraseology of that text, and prayers; all presented in such a manner that everyone present can participate in the service throughout. The chaplain, the Rev. Stuart Gibson, will preside, with Master Frank Kaltner as his altar boy; Headmaster Swavely and Prof. Gill as readers; Mrs. Stuart Gibson at the organ, and an octette, consisting of Messrs. Stoops, Horton, Hurley and Brennan, baritone; Coward and F. Leinbach, tenors; Hays and H. J. Leinbach, basses, to lead the singing and furnish the special musical numbers.

As a setting for the service, special decorations and lighting effects have been planned. The whole service, in pamphlet form, will be put in the hand of everyone present. No pains have been spared to make this service truly worshipful and inspiring.

FIRST AID SQUAD COMPLETES WORK

Manassas Firemen Observe Occasion with Feast.

Manassas firemen added another chapter to their already full history of achievements in recent years when they gathered in the Masonic Temple last Thursday evening to receive certificates upon the successful completion of a first-aid class.

The ladies of the Eastern Star had prepared a delicious turkey dinner which was served by members of the Order. Attractive Christmas decorations were placed along the tables. Music was furnished by another member, Mrs. Bob Smith.

President George Cooke announced that the arrangements committee under Fireman Jack Stauff had invited the Mayor, Hon. Harry P. Davis, Town Manager William F. Cooke, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, vice-president of the county Red Cross; Doctors Wade Payne and E. H. Marsteller (others in county not being able to attend), Red Cross Nurse, Miss Sabina Neel; Mrs. Mamie Delaney and Mrs. Fred Gue. The honor guests were Captain L. P. Strobel, of the Alexandria Fire Department, and R. H. Roseberry, a member of the same organization.

The address of welcome was given by Doctor Cooke after the close of the meal. In this he explained how the class came to Manassas through efforts of Arthur Vetter and co-operation of Fire Chief Duncan. In the name of the squad, the speaker invited the public to take advantage of the training which the squad had just completed on November 27.

He also stated that classes would continue right along, meetings to be held once a month.

In response to hearty applause, Captain Strobel told something of the history of first-aid work, bringing it down to the present day. He dealt with the dangers attending inexperience and how necessary it was to know when speed and fast work were needed. The speaker drew a realistic picture of how artificial respiratory work was brought into action.

Mayor Davis was thoroughly genial in commendation of the boys. Although he claimed to be a layman, it was easy to note that his conclusions were quite accurate by looks which the boys exchanged. He renewed his hope of greater co-operation for the department than ever before.

Bill Cooke claimed he was "too full for utterance" but took time while on his feet to stress the great value of the work and to emphasize the self-sacrifice of the firemen students. He urged the first-aid class to spread its influence and training.

"Bish" Gibson claimed he was "just battling for his superior officer" who was unable to attend. Bish also had some very nice things to say.

Doctor Payne gave some side views of his first-aid work in France during the recent World War, and claimed that the entire county should get in and help out with the movement begun here in Manassas.

Brief remarks were made by Miss Neel and other visitors present.

The concluding event was the presentation of the certificates which was done by Doctor Marsteller. On behalf of the town, Doctor Marsteller declared that the entire community felt deeply grateful to the newest attainment of the fire department.

Those receiving the cards were John T. Broadus, George B. Cooke, Warren Coleman, M. M. Ellis, C. W. Fitzwater, Shelton Holmes, Bruce Hynson, Wilson Kite, A. C. MacMillan, Julian Rector, Sedrick Saunders, John T. Stauff, Floyd Vetter and Arthur Vetter.

On motion of Mayor Davis a rising vote of thanks was given to Captain Strobel for his devoted efforts in training the class.

After the singing of Auld Lang Syne, the entire body accepted the kind invitation of Franklin Hibbs, manager of the Dixie, and departed thence to put a pleasant touch to an already enjoyable evening.

"I WILL BUILD MY CHURCH"

By Rev. O. R. Kesner

Text: "I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. Matt. 16:18.

These words of Jesus have echoed and re-echoed, during the centuries since they were uttered by the Great Teacher, and have inspired Christians everywhere to a more complete evaluation of the possibilities of Christianity. With a foundation less secure than implicit FAITH in Jesus Christ as the son of the Divine God, certainly the Church could not prevail. May we forget trivial differences, and remember that the church so founded, is to the Family of God in this generation, what Noah's Ark was to the Family of God in that generation.

The architect of the Church is God. Jesus Christ, with the blue prints in His hand, came to the earth as the Master Builder. Thank God that we can all have a place in the Church. When God's calendar had reached the appointed time, the Master Builder came forth to build and establish His Church. The touch of Divine Love was upon Him everywhere as He tenderly ministered to the hungry multitudes. From every walk in life they came, and never could it be said He was not sufficient. "But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name." John 1:12. However, in those days, the power of God was withheld because of lack of faith, and this is no less true in the progress of the Church today. Because of love for earthly treasures, a living faith in God has been severed.

Again we view the work of this Master Builder. This time we see Him on Mount Calvary. Has the work been completed in such a brief period of time? We believe not. He must go to the depths to complete the foundation of such a great superstructure. The greatest enemy of God and man must be conquered, and had he not come to save men's souls? Satan's work is to drag to the lowest depths all that is spiritual, moral and physical of humanity; and to leave them there. When Christ said "I will build my Church," He meant to redeem mankind from all the curse of Satan. In order to do that, it was not enough to teach us how to live, but He must precede us in death as well. Instead of defeat the Cross meant a glorious victory for Christ, and Life Eternal for all believers.

But the work of building Church had not ceased, rather it and is still gaining momentum. Never have the forces of the Enemy been at rest when the Spirit of God is leading men into active service. Jesus never promised freedom from the attack of Satan, but that, the Comforter, in the person of the Holy Spirit should give believers power to conquer every foe.

What is the influence of the Church of Jesus Christ in the world today? That the great work of the Master Builder will continue to point lost souls to the light that never becomes dim, should cause every heart to rejoice. Until He comes again, the Church Triumphant must march onward—ever onward to victory; for "Upon this rock," saith the Lord, "I shall build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

NOTES TAKEN FROM AN- NUAL REPORT OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

1. Personal Report Summary. During the project year just closing the home demonstration agent spent 217 1-2 days at field work; in that time 9938 miles were traveled in making 725 home visits and holding 416 meetings which were attended by 64235 people. Sixty-two and one-half days were spent in the office in writing 1590 individual and 16 circular letters; in preparing 124 news articles for publication; and in receiving 795 office and 904 telephone calls. Eight hundred sixty-nine bulletins were given out.

2. Program of Work. Eleven 4-H clubs and six home demonstration groups have carried out the program of work as planned under the supervision of the extension division for the year 1932-33. The 194 boys and girls working under the supervision of the home demonstration agent in the 11 4-H clubs represent all sections of the county. One hundred seventy-one women were served directly and 325 women were served indirectly through the home demonstration program. Two hundred forty-five school children were served hot lunches in seven of the one-room schools during the months of January, February and March.

The women's program of work for 1933 was a live-at-home program. Four of the home demonstration groups put major emphasis on food preparation with minor work in vegetable gardening and house furnishings. Dumfries and Aden groups carried out the program in house furnishings, Dumfries in landscape gardening, and Aden in vegetable gardening and food preservation.

Reports from 86 women give an index to the work done in the foods project. All 86 report planning balanced meals; 68 are balancing school lunches; 37 are following better methods of child feeding; 28 women have improved their own health through foods study and application. Sixty-five raise practically all food at home and 13 have materially increased their vegetable gardening during the year.

The year-round garden campaign was chosen as a county-wide piece of work to tie up the foods and garden projects and to further emphasize the live-at-home program. Sixty women, representing most of the communities of the county, worked in that campaign. Reports were received from 35 of these women and they tell of an abundance of vegetables supplied from these gardens during growing season. These reports together with reports from home demonstration women tell of the following fruits and vegetables stored for winter use: 17060 containers-canned; 272 pounds dried; 2970 heads of cabbage and 396 squashes and pumpkins stored; 627 bushels of Irish and 247 bushels of sweet potatoes, and 162½ bushels of other vegetables stored for winter use. A number of these gardens will provide green vegetables throughout the winter months.

Cheesemaking demonstrations were provided for Catharpin, Haymarket and Aden communities. No reports have come in from Haymarket and Catharpin communities. Aden community reports the homemaking of cheese a satisfactory and profitable undertaking. More than 100 pounds have been made by the women of that community. In a number of the homes cheese is being made regularly and it is being introduced into other homes through those who are now making it.

The house furnishings project was studied by each of the home demonstration groups except Bethel. Through this project the women have studied methods of home beautification through the homemaking of rugs and making quilted spreads, repairing and reupholstering furniture, re-seating chairs. The following articles are reported having been made or repaired by the women working in this project: 53 chairs and stools re-seated; 56 pieces of furniture repaired or refinished; 55 rugs and mats made; 32 slip covers made for furniture; 42 pieces of household linen made and 60 other articles made or made over.

The improvement of home grounds was studied in Dumfries, Bethel, Greenwich and Haymarket communities. Through the yard and garden contest, and the plant exchange Bethel-Woodbridge community possibly got more constructive help from this study than any other community. The progress they have made with the improvement of home grounds is conspicuous to visitors in that community.

The home demonstration agent and some of the home demonstration committee women have assisted with the relief work through the vegetable gardening project. Those who received R. F. C. seeds were given timely information and suggestions through letters which were sent out from the agent's office. Garden meetings were held in Haymarket, Aden, Woodbine communities to which these gardeners were invited to come. Food preservation meetings were held in Hickory Grove, Aden, Buckhall, and Woodbine communities at which demonstrations were given in the canning and drying of vegetables. In Woodbine - Purcell - Independent Hill, and Haymarket-Gainesville communities special garden committees assisted with helps to individuals.

It has been impossible for visits to be made to all of the gardens. Reports have been received from 44 gardens. These gardeners have made the following report: average number of vegetables grown 11 1-3; largest number of vegetables grown 22; a total of 274 1-2 bushels of vegetables were stored; 21 1-2 bushels dried, and 5698 quarts canned.

The 160 girls working in the clothing project in ten 4-H clubs have made a study of clothing problems, of health as related to clothing, they have planned and taken a definite part in the buying of their own clothing and many have assisted with the family buying. They have kept records of clothing costs and have taken a definite responsibility in the care and mending of their clothing. Through careful planning and remodeling these girls have kept down clothing costs while appearing well-dressed. The following articles of clothing were made by the 4-H club girls who worked in the clothing project: 191 dresses; 122 undergarments; 132 garments made over; 14 hats remodelled.

Thirty-four boys and girls worked with the club garden project under the supervision of the home demonstration agent. A large per cent of these gardens are in Woodbine community. Some of these gardeners conducted their projects on a partnership basis while others had individual projects. In both cases the club members have helped materially with the family food supply. Vegetables raised in the club gardens of Woodbine community alone were valued at $575.50; a profit of $731.35 was realized on the thirty-four gardens of the county.

Thirteen boys and girls worked with poultry projects under the supervision of the home demonstration agent. Eight members completed their projects and reported a profit of $366.60.

All 4-H club girls of Prince William County were asked to fall in line with the state-wide live-at-home program by canning their own share of the family food supply. A county goal of 60 quarts for each girl was set. The girls fell in line in a fine spirit to do this and 71 girls helped substantially with the family canning. Thirty-five girls canned 60 or more quarts of fruits and vegetables. A total of 4226 quarts were canned and 4994 quarts were assisted with by the 4-H club girls of Prince William County.

Seven on-erom school served hot lunches to 245 school children during the months of December, January, February and March. The 4-H clubs of Woodbine, Hayfield and Woodlawn served the lunches in their schools.

At the close of the lunch-serving period a comparison was made between the schools serving lunches and those not serving them. Reports from the teachers showed better attendance, better school work, fewer colds, and better general health in the schools where lunches were served.

Community cannings were held in Hayfield, Woodbine, Purcell, Woodlawn, and Buckhall communities, where vegetables were put up for lunches during the coming winter. In Catharpin, Brentsville and Hickory Grove communities the canning was done individually. Many of these communities will can meat collectively which will be used with the vegetables for school lunches.

Altogether plans have been made for serving lunches to 532 school children during the winter months.

Twenty 4-H club girls and two club leaders attended 4-H club short courses which provided excellent educational and recreational opportunities at very small cost.

One 4-H club girl had the honor and privilege of attending national 4-H camp as one of two girls from Virginia.

Although club enrollments have not shown increase during the past two years the quality of club projects and the accomplishments of club members have been very satisfactory.

LOCAL AID FOR SCHOOLS

Dr. William H. Stauffer, State tax economist, in his report to Governor Pollard on State and local school aids, has pointed to two highly significant matters as far as the future public school educational policies of the State are concerned.

First, he has prepared a plan whereby the responsibility of the localities as far as teachers' salaries are concerned is fixed at three-fourths of a mill on the full value of locally taxable wealth, thus allowing the state's contribution to vary with the basic needs of individual counties.

Second, he has in his selection of $720 as a teacher's salary optimum named a minimum salary that is commensurate with a standard of living which is higher than that now obtaining for the average rural teacher and which is therefore sure to attract a higher degree of professional ability.

In the first point, the economist calls attention to the vital point in public education in Virginia; namely, whether or not the prime responsibility for school teachers' salaries rests with the State or with the localities. In recent years there has been a tendency for the State's contribution to be the fixed amount, with the localities appropriating additional sums when the local school board or board of supervisors believed local demand for education required and would produce additional money.

If the State is prepared either now or later to take over the entire cost of instruction in the county schools, then Dr. Stauffer's plan has no meaning. But if there is to continue a division of responsibility in payment of teachers' salaries, then he points to a basic principle, that which says the locality must first do what it is definitely and determinably able to do, thereafter depending upon the central government to lend its aid in reaching a minimum program for the entire State.

The suggestion of Dr. Sidney B. Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, that the State's contribution be fixed at $560 per teacher, although a greater aid to public school situation throughout the State, does not meet the issue of the Stauffer plan. Dr. Hall is aware of the difference and is in hearty accord with the Stauffer plan insofar as it would insure to the schools a more definite basis of revenue and at the same time provide a higher standard of teacher competence.

It may be that present economic conditions will make impossible the adoption of either of the plans suggested on Tuesday to the Governor and the budget advisory committee. There are practical political matters to consider, for each plan calls for an additional $3,000,000 State outlay beyond the sum actually granted by the State in the present session.

But the issue has definitely been stated; namely, to whom should local citizens look for the basic school appropriation—to the localities in which the children are living or to the central government in Richmond? This newspaper believes, as does Governor Pollard, that the localities should have a reawakened consciousness of their responsibility to meet the basic school needs. The teacher, as every one knows, is this basic need. She must be paid enough to insure her tenure for a full eight months and she must be paid enough to make the choice of her profession a worthy aim. And it is the duty of every locality to say it will tax itself by the same rate as all localities, thus letting the presence of locally taxable wealth taxed with this rate determine what the State will be asked to do by way of supplement to meet a State-wide minimum educational program.

This may not be politically expedient; but is just, logical and equitable. Until the State is ready to assume the entire cost of instruction, this is the only reasonable attitude for the localities to take. And if prevailing economic conditions do not permit the establishment of this principle and the superstructure upon it, then any deferment should be temporary and the Commonwealth should look forward to adopting them at the soonest possible moment. —Times-Dispatch.

WHEN THE PEOPLE HOARD THEIR DOLLARS

One of the many peculiar phases of the recent financial and commercial depression was what might be called the rejection by the people of the subsidiary coin.

That is to say, when the money panic came the average person held on as long as possible to his whole dollars, whether paper or silver. As a consequence the demand for halves, quarters, dimes and nickels fell off amazingly.

When the depression began there was about $3,000,000 of subsidiary coin in the United States treasury, but during the next seven months this amount was increased to 24,500,000, or at the rate of $3,000,000 per month. However, notwithstanding the Presidential campaign and the doleful predictions made by partisans on every side as to what would happen unless their particular candidates were elected, the demand for "small change" began to make itself felt once more in Washington, and since then fully $10,000,000 of the amount, accumulated has found its way back into its legitimate channels, a fact that indicates the return of public confidence.

The people are once more "breaking their dollars." They are beginning, in other words, to see that there was no cause for the "panic"—no cause for the "depression"—no reality to their fear beyond that which they themselves gave to it. Nothing has changed but the human sense of things. Belief brought on the panic. Understanding is destroying its effects. —Christian Science Monitor.

Announcing

NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The New Ford V-8 for 1934 is now on display at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See this car today and drive it at the first opportunity.

OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V-8

BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New water-line thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.

NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot. Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.

DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvers, new hub caps. Interiors are attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests, new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

FENDERS IN COLOR. On De Luxe cars fenders are in color to harmonize with body colors—wheel colors optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT results from increased spring flexibility. The spring leaves are newly designed for quieter and easier action. Shock absorbers are improved. Seat cushions are deeper, with new, softer springs. New type, individual bucket seats provide increased comfort for front-seat passengers in the Tudor Sedan. Adding to comfort is the new driving ease of the 15-to-1 steering gear ratio.

PRICES REMAIN LOW—Tudor Sedan, $535. Coupe, $515. Fordor Sedan, $585. De Luxe Tudor, $575. De Luxe Fordor, $625. De Luxe Coupe (5 windows), $555. De Luxe Coupe (3 windows), $555. FACTS not CLAIMS

emphasize Essolene's position of Leadership

Leadership of a product, like the leadership of an organization, is a matter of performance, not promises, of facts, not claims. Despite the exaggerated gasoline advertising which seems to be the fashion, Essolene, from the time it was introduced, has had but a single message.

Essolene has guaranteed smoother performance—and has asked the public to be the judge. Today, in every part of the vast territory where it is sold, Essolene is making new sales records. This is a fact, not a claim. Thousands have voluntarily written in to commend the mileage, power and economy of this motor fuel. This is a fact, not a claim.

Thanks to the common sense of the American motorist on whose judgment we relied, it never was and it never will be necessary to exaggerate the merits of a product whose qualities are so outstanding as those of Essolene.

Corn-Hog Adjustment Program.

All who wish to take advantage of the Corn-Hog plan will be given the opportunity when the necessary forms come from Washington around January 1.

According to information received, no farmer with an average production of less than ten acres of corn and three litters of pigs a year is eligible to sign the contract but he can sign up for corn alone if he produces more than ten acres of corn and less than three litters of pigs. He can sign for hogs alone if he produces more than three litters of hogs but less than ten acres of corn. However, if he has ten or more acres of corn and three or more litters of pigs he must sign for both corn and hogs if he signs for either.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace explains the reason for combining hogs and corn in the adjustment program as follows: "We have a corn production problem because we continue to raise enough corn to feed the present excess of hogs. Therefore, when we cut down on hogs, we must also make at least a corresponding reduction in corn acreage. If this is not done, the corn no longer required for hog feeding will become available for other uses and will have a tendency to depress corn prices. Relatively low corn prices then will encourage heavier production of other livestock. What we want is a balanced production of meat animals and feed crops, not merely a shift which does not reduce farm output. A reduction in corn acreage will help establish and maintain this balance."

State Dairymen's Convention.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Virginia State Dairymen's Association and the Virginia Dairy Products Association will be held in Richmond, January 24 to 26. The discussions will center around the general theme of the Agricultural Adjustment Act with particular emphasis on its relation to the dairy industry. The Virginia Dairy Products Association will hold a one-day session, January 24, the Virginia State Dairymen's Association will hold a one-day session on January 26 and the two groups will meet together on January 25.

Concerning Shipment of Cattle.

Quoting from a letter received from a buyer of dairy cows: "I have just had a buyer down from New Jersey. He came to buy thirty-six cows. After five days we only succeeded in buying twelve. This is the trouble. New Jersey requires that all cattle must be tested for T.B. within a year before they can be shipped into that State, in addition to the usual test at time of shipment. In getting around over the county in small herds, I find that people have not tested since the area test. As a result of this I am sending back for the second time in three months buyers with money in their pockets because we cannot find cows that will check on test. Cattle tested now will be eligible for shipment in sixty days from now by testing again at that time."

(Practically all States require cattle shipped in to be negative to test for Bang's (abortion) disease and New York requires that they must be from herds of cattle certified free from Bang's disease.)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientists, E. Falls Church, on Sunday, December 17.

The golden text is "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made" (John 1:1,3).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty. Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever" (Psalms 104: 1, 5).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them (p. 295)."

Ordered To Report!

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Gosh, what a thrill! Here are my orders to join the Second Byrd Antarctic Expedition. The youngest member of the crew.

I'm going to the South Pole! To Little America—if Little America is still there, deep under the snow where it was left by the Admiral and his men in January, 1931.

Maybe I'd better tell you who I am and what this is all about. I am 22 years old. Just graduated from Harvard last June. My father is Captain Arthur Abelle, U. S. N. retired. He is now stationed at the Boston Navy Yard in charge of the Massachusetts Naval School Ship, the U. S. S. Naugatuck. One of my grandfathers, George Sanford, has been in the oil business for more than 50 years.

It would seem, therefore, that I come by two things naturally—love of sea adventure and my interest in automotive lubrication problems. I am going as fuel engineer of the Expedition and, believe me, it's going to be a big job. We are carrying every type of automotive engine—in monoplane, biplane, auto-gyro, snow-mobile, tractor, oil-driven steamship, outboard motor boat, auxiliary sailing vessel and a motor boat cruiser. There are engines of every type on this amazing Expedition, air-cooled, water-cooled, engines for self-contained electrical generator units, even a Diesel engine.

Our leader, Rear-Admiral Byrd, tells me we shall do ten times as much flying as any polar expedition ever did before. And he promises to make me an expert aviator during our stay at the bottom of the world. What a thrill! I have been less than 30 minutes in the air and now I am going up against the most dangerous and most difficult conditions that ever confronted a rookie flyer. For the past two months I have been studying the rudiments of fuel and oil engineering at one of the big oil plants in Bayonne, N. J.

For many long months, once we leave our base in New Zealand, we shan't see a tree, a blade of grass, or any living thing except a few penguins, seals, gulls, killer whales and our own men and dogs, not forgetting Snow Shoes, our six-toed kitten. There is no wild life at the South Pole such as there is around the North Pole—no polar bears, walrus—practically nothing.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, our famous leader, has spent the past two years preparing and gathering supplies for our journey—14,000 separate items! He has applied modern efficiency to exploration to an extent that permits us now to say that no other Polar Expedition ever set out with such an array of equipment. There are 55 of us besides Admiral Byrd.

I am reporting today to our big 10,000-ton flagship, the Jacob K. Sigsbee, over at the Water Pier No. 9 in Bayonne, where we shall take on immense supplies of oil, gas, line and fuel oil. Then off for Norfolk for the big farewell radio party and more equipment.

Admiral Byrd is taking me with him for a very interesting reason. He is one of the greatest aviation enthusiasts in the world and he believes that the rapid development of American aviation depends largely upon the youth of the country. Therefore he is taking me along as a representative of the millions of young people of the United States. In order to deal more directly with the young aviators of the future, he has asked me to help organize the "Little America Aviation and Exploration Club." This we are now doing and I invite everybody in the country who is of high school age or over, and who is interested in aviation, exploration or adventure, to join it. There are no dues, no membership fees, no obligations whatever.

Admiral Byrd and I held an election and I was elected president of the Club. We shall establish executive headquarters for the club at Little America in the bleak and icy Antarctic. For the duration of the Expedition, however, we shall have headquarters in the United States, where I invite you to write me immediately.

To everyone who sends me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, at the Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, at the Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York City, our American Headquarters, I will send a membership card in the club. Later I will send to each member a practical working map of the Polar regions we expect to visit so that you will be able to trace every step of our adventures by following these weekly letters I shall be addressing to the club. Send in your membership application. We are going to have a lot of fun together for the next two years.

THE DOUBLE-BARRED

The season for the sale of the tuberculosis Xmas seal has come again, and it should be of much interest to call to mind the origin of the double-barred cross, the insignia of the international anti-tuberculosis campaign. This double-barred cross has come to stand definitely for disease eradication and health in the public mind.

The use of the double-barred cross as an emblem of tuberculosis warfare by medical science has an interesting origin. The International Conference on Tuberculosis held in Berlin in 1909 decided to adopt the ancient Lorraine cross as the emblem of the fight against the White Plague. This cross dated back to the 9th century when it was the emblem of the eastern branch of the Christian Church. From the 11th to the 14th centuries the crusaders familiarized Europe with it. Godfrey, Duke of Lorraine, a leader of one of the first crusaders, saw the cross in Jerusalem and adopted it as his standard when he was elected Christian ruler of the Holy City in 1099. On his return to France it became the emblem of the house of Lorraine.

Many will remember that during the World War one of the divisions of the American Expeditionary Forces used the Lorraine cross for its shoulder insignia. The Masonic order has also used the double-barred cross in various ways for centuries.

So today, as the crusaders of old, carried this banner, a crusade is still being carried on under the same banner in order that tuberculosis, the great White Plague may be eradicated. Xmas seal money is spent for clinics, nursing, sanatoria, preventive, and health education services. 10,000 boys and girls in our country alone die from tuberculosis each year, a most deplorable fact since it is preventable and curable.

It is very satisfactory to find out that four cases receiving sanatorium aid from the fund raised in this county last year were young boys, all under twelve years of age. This early treatment of such cases is to be especially commended. In another instance the father of a family of six children, living in most congested quarters, received help so that he could be kept in a state sanatorium until a free bed could be procured, thus removing the danger of personal contact from these children. Twenty-seven X-rays were paid for, in cases where it was impossible for any member of the family to assume the expense, and milk was furnished families where there were children with tuberculosis infections.

There are several urgent cases in the county now that should receive immediate attention. It is hoped that everyone will buy as many seals as possible in order that these less fortunate ones may receive the necessary help.

"EYES OF LOVE" WELL PERFORMED

Senior Class at Manassas Stages Annual Event.

Everything about the "Eyes of Love" last Friday evening was created to awake interest. The young folks certainly carried out their parts nicely.

As announcer, Miss Catherine Luck was gowned as charmingly as could have been on a professional stage, and her announcements were right to the point.

The intermission went to Charmie Sinclair, soloist par excellent, and the Leachman sisters, Nancy and Mollie, who sang and danced, and also Worth Storke, the talented monologist. All of them were encored. Mrs. Beatrice Leachman played for their songs.

The title role went to Miss Marsh who had a very difficult part to carry out. This she did with grace and realism. Eula Shaw was so pretty and vivacious that her characterization in the program seemed hardly fair.

The old judge, enacted by James Payne, had many long speeches and carried through the whole play. Mr. Payne did very well. As his wife, Nora Kesner filled her place with ease that goes with one who is gifted in acting.

Jane Lynn had the part of the ingenue. Her role called for pep and action. At times she ran off with the attention meant for others of the cast. Henry Peters, playing opposite to her, was one of the best choices for his role. To maintain a stolid countenance when humor is afloat is not easy. When tragedy was on hand, Henry was amply emphatic.

John DeBell, as the hero, memorized his lines well, and rose to the heights of being hero like an old-time gentleman.

Hervin Ritter, as an ex-convict, had the greatest strain placed upon his acting than almost anyone in the whole play. His scenes required the widest variation of emotions. Needless to say that he also had many difficult lines to remember.

Carolina, the darky servant, was well portrayed by Evelyn Frame. Evelyn was called on to make many exits and entrances and to carry out many cues, all of which she did without a slip.

It was all very pleasing and very happily done.

—about Cigarettes

Not so long ago practically all cigarettes were made by hand

Now, Chesterfields are made by high-speed machines that turn out 750 cigarettes a minute, and the cigarettes are practically not touched by hand.

BY the use of long steel ovens—drying machines of the most modern type—and by aging the leaf tobacco for 30 months—like wine is aged—Chesterfield tobacco is milder and tastes better.

Only pure cigarette paper—the best made—is used for Chesterfield.

And to make sure that everything that goes into Chesterfield is just right, expert chemists test all materials that are used in any way in the manufacture.

Chesterfields are made and packed in clean, up-to-date factories, where the air is changed every 4½ minutes. The moisture-proof package, wrapped in Du Pont's No. 300 Cellophane—the best made—reaches you just as if you went by the factory door.

In a letter to us, an eminent scientist says:

"Chesterfield Cigarettes are just as pure as the water you drink."

EXACT WORDING OF BANKING REGULATION

The recent Federal regulation which requires banks to make nominal charges for various services which in the good old days could be supplied gratis has been the subject of much discussion among those who have not found it convenient to go to their bank and have the item explained. The service charge is not burdensome on small checking accounts and reads as follows:

"On balances averaging less than $50 there shall be allowed 5 debit items. If the number of debit items during any month exceeds 5 items, then such account for the month shall be subject to a service charge of 50 cents, plus 3 cents for each additional debit item in excess of 5 such items."

"STAGE MOTHER" TO OPEN WITH NOTABLE CAST

Alice Brady plays a leading role in "Stage Mother," theatrical drama adapted from an original story by Bradford Ropes and filmed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to be shown at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday and Thursday.

She will be remembered for her sensational personal hit in "Whangdoodle. Franchot Tone is seen as Ladies Meet," and it is said that sheher young lover and is said to give outdoes all of her previous portray- another brilliant performance as in als in the new picture. Her role is that of a domineering "stage mother" who forces her child to success on the stage through difficulties that create powerful human interest.

An exceptionally strong cast has been assembled to appear with Miss Brady. Maureen O'Sullivan plays the young daughter struggling for theatrical fame under her mother's dramatic role and is said to carry the part with as much success as any of his famous stage antics.
