BELOVED RESIDENT PASSES

A shadow of deep sorrow was cast over our community with the passing of one of our most beloved residents. On Monday, March 26, Mrs. G. H. Pence slept away into the Great Beyond.

She was a woman of sterling Christian character. A faithful, earnest member of the Methodist Church. For years she has been a teacher of intermediate boys in the Sunday school, always untiring in her efforts as a leader of "her boys."

At home she was a faithful wife, devoted mother, beloved daughter and sister, always forgetful of self in her service to her family.

Mrs. Pence was a daughter of J. N. Muddiman and the late Laura Hixson Muddiman and was born May 16, 1894.

Surviving are her husband, G. H. Pence, and four-year-old daughter, Janet Harrison; her father, J. N. Muddiman; one sister, Mrs. W. J. Smith, and the following brothers also survive: Aubrey A. Clyde F. and Arthur G. Muddiman.

Byron F. Hixson, Daniel P. Muddiman, uncles of the deceased, and an aunt, Mrs. Lula Kooztz, together with a large number of nieces and nephews, also survive.

Funeral services were held from Grace M. E. Church, Manassas, Wednesday, March 28, at 2:30, the Rev. W. M. Compton, her pastor, officiating. The active pallbearers were members of her former class. They were Messrs. John Hottle, Sedrick Saunders, Charmie Sinclair, Alvin Compton, Woodrow Vetter and Earl Hurst.

A large group of members of the Daughters of America in Fairfax and Prince William Counties were present. Under the leadership of Mrs. C. H. Lane, of Vienna, they took charge of the services both at the church and the grave.

There was a glorious profusion of flowers. One of the touching testimonials was the group of flower boys (the young crusaders), all of whom were in the class she taught until just a few weeks ago.

She will be sadly missed in her home and church by a devoted family and a host of friends.

CAPT. FASS ADDRESSES

Capt. Fass of the C. C. C. Camp made a very interesting talk on Conservation to the high school students yesterday.

A FINE SPIRIT

The merchants of Manassas are joining with the churches in a splendid spirit of co-operation for the observance of Good Friday. Services commemorating the death of Christ will be held in several churches. The business places of the town will be closed during the hour of worship, from 2 to 3 o'clock on Good Friday afternoon. The Ministerial Association is sponsor for the movement and takes this occasion to express its gratitude to the merchants for their willing co-operation. Attend your church on Good Friday.

EASTER PROGRAM FOR HOME CLUB

Entertained by Mrs. Boteler and Mrs. Hutchison.

The Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club was delightfully entertained on Wednesday afternoon, March 21, by Mrs. E. M. Boteler and Mrs. Robt. Hutchison at the home of the former on West street.

Seventeen members answered to roll call. The absence of Mrs. W. S. Athey and Mrs. C. E. L. Hodge because of illness was noted with regret. Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson was also detained at home because of an injury to her foot.

A very entertaining Easter program was the chief feature of the afternoon. Mrs. John W. Lyons read an essay of her own composition on Easter, also a very beautiful poem entitled "There Is No Death" written by John L. McCreery. Miss Florence Kincheloe, chairman of music committee, presented Mrs. Hatcher, who, in her usual pleasing voice, delighted the assembly with an appropriate selection. Mrs. John T. Broadus as piano accompanist also in a rendition was received with much applause.

The club went on record as being willing and ready to lend financial aid toward lunches to be served to undernourished children at Bennett School during the month of April.

Mrs. M. E. Hart was appointed to arrange a "Household Hints" program for April meeting. Each member is requested to contribute something toward the success of this topic. Following the singing of the club song "Auld Lang Syne" delectable refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. B. F. Knox, Mrs. P. H. Lynch, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, Miss Nina Hayes, Mrs. Hatcher, Mrs. John Broadus, Mrs. E. A. Wood, Mrs. W. N. Compton and Miss Annie Walker of Culpeper, a house guest.

W.C.T.U. MEETING

Fourteen members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. T. R. Bywaters on March 28. This is known as "Union Signal Day." "The Union Signal" is the official organ of the national W.C.T.U. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is organized in fifty (50) nations of the world with a total membership of more than half a million, and the "Union Signal" goes to most of these nations. Its informative value was brought out by a dialogue given by Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. Gorrell at the March meeting. It brings authentic current history concerning temperance. Our national legislative representative, Dr. Isora Scott, has a letter each week on the happenings in Congress. There are also articles on Christian Citizenship, social morality, child welfare, etc.

We were pleased to have two of our Clifton members with us, Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Detwiler which added to the interest of the meeting. It was with sorrow we recorded the loss of two of our valued members, Mrs. Williamson of Warrenton and Mrs. Meta Pence of Manassas.

"There is no death! Altho we grieve When beautiful familiar forms That we have learned to love, are torn From our embracing arms, They are not dead! They have but passed Beyond the mists that blind us here. Into the new and larger life Of a serenely sphere."

NEW BRIDGE OVER RAPIDAN

Bids have been awarded to a North Carolina firm for the construction of a new bridge at historic Germanna Ford.

ON CAPITOL HILL

Direct from the Press Gallery.

Although administration leaders had predicted Congress would adjourn about May 1, the existing heavy legislative program is expected to keep Members in Washington until June 1, at least.

A dozen or more major Bills to be enacted into law before President Roosevelt will consent to adjournment. Outstanding among these is the tariff measure, which already has precipitated a fight in the House. The House, however, should conclude consideration of this Bill by the end of the week, but the length of time to be consumed by the Senate on this subject is still a matter of conjecture.

Speaker Rainey of the House, and Majority Leader Robinson of the Senate, both believe Congress can clean up the pending legislative program and adjourn by May 15. This view, however, is shared by only a few others, who believe Congress will not be able to complete its legislative job before June 1.

The principal measures now awaiting legislative approval are:

Cotton Crop Bill—Early vote in the Senate anticipated. The measure already has been approved by the House. It would use the Federal taxing power in restricting the 1934-1935 cotton crop to 10,000,000 bales.

Tariff—A vote is expected in the House by the end of the week on the proposal to give the President authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff agreements without ratification by the Senate.

Silver—A drive to enact silver legislation has been started by a bloc of 24 Members in the Senate. The Dies Bill permitting use of silver in paying for exported farm products has already passed the House, Senate hearings are expected.

Labor—Hearing on the Wagner labor disputes bill are expected to be completed this week.

War Debts—The President has indicated his intention of sending a war debts message to Congress.

Unemployment Insurance—The President has endorsed the Wagner-

Lewis Bill.

Credit—Legislation providing working capital for small industries has been recommended by the President.

Farmers Ask Improvements

A score or more Maryland and Virginia farmers, aided by Representative Howard W. Smith, Democrat of Virginia, appeared recently before a House Subcommittee on appropriations and urged inclusion in the 1935 District Appropriation Bill of funds to complete construction of the so-called Farmers' Market in Southwest Washington.

The market was established several years ago as a place for consumers of Washington to make purchases of foodstuffs direct from the producers. It was intended to replace the section allocated to the farmers in the old Center Market which was razed to make way for the Federal Government's building program on the South side of Pennsylvania Avenue between 6th and 15th Streets.

The market, however, has never been completed to the satisfaction of the farmers. It lacks important sanitary and drainage facilities as well as stands for the proper display of market products.

The subcommittee was told the market could be placed in suitable condition for about $100,000.

Farm Incomes Helped

Chester C. Davis, of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, in a report to Congress to increase farm income in the period between May, 1933 and February, 1934 inclusive.

According to Davis, the total farm incomes from crops in 1933, amounted to $3,271,000 as compared with $2,113,000 in 1932, an increase of 25 percent.

"Part of this recovery," he said, "undoubtedly was due to the adjustment program getting underway."

Davis' figures include rental and benefit payments to farmers for acreage reduction, funds for which were collected by the Government in processing taxes on the respective commodities involved.

A HARD-RIDING STRAIGHT SHOOTING ROMEO

One of the few western stars with an authentic western background is young Bob Steele, Monogram western player, whose latest picture, "Galloping Romeo" is to be the feature attraction at the Pitts' Dixie Theatre for a run of two days starting Friday, March 30.

Born on his father's ranch near Pendleton, Oregon, Steele learned to rope, ride, and gained the skill in horsemanship, running cattle branding, and other essentials of western stardom that have stood him in such good stead throughout his entire screen career.

Entering films at the age of 12 years in an outdoor picture directed by his father, R. N. Bradbury, director of his present stellar feature, Steele has climbed steadily to eminence as a western star. With the aid of talking pictures, Steele was placed under contract to FBO (now RKO). His role in his latest picture is that of a hard-riding, straight-shooting cowboy, who undertakes to solve the mysterious disappearance of gold shipments from a stage coach. His efforts involve him in running battles with rustlers and hold-up men and culminate at last, after various escapades in the successful solution of the mystery.

IMPROVING THE HALL

Last night five of the Juniors, Messrs. I. R. Wolverton, J. H. Boley, Ashby Marsh, Grover Evans and Henry Robinson erected another girder at the Junior Hall and took out the other strut which was interfering with initiations.

These members donated their services and the material was given by District Deputy G. D. Baker.

BRIDGE PARTY

Last week Miss Ann Bradford gave a very pretty bridge party. The guests were Misses Frances Bushong, Evelyn Cooke, Marion Lynn, Helen Lloyd, Esther Warren Pattie, Rena Bevans, Walser Conner, Charlotte Tiffany. No scores were kept.

HARRY CORNWELL

Harry B. Cornwell, of near Canova, died Saturday and was buried the following day in the family burying ground. Rev. J. Murray Taylor officiated.

MRS. BEATRICE LEACH- MAN TO GIVE OPERETTA

The popular operetta, "Little Red Riding Hood," will be staged April 18 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium for the benefit of Bennett League. The cast will consist of some of Manassas's most popular little actresses and actors.

Mrs. Leachman, who is a patron of the Bennett School and a member of the Bennett League, is well known as a capable musician and civic worker.

ASSOCIATION TO OFFER PRIZES

Memorial Group Reports on Work Accomplished.

The Ladies Memorial Association met on Monday afternoon, March 19, with Mrs. C. M. Larkin at the home of Mrs. T. J. Ashford. The meeting was called to order by the president. Minutes were read and accepted.

The treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Compton, reported that obligations had been met, also that the state appropriation had been received and placed in bank to credit of the association. Most of this appropriation is to be used for marking graves of Confederate soldiers in local cemetery. Committee in charge of this work is Mrs. E. H. Hibbs, Mrs. Beulah Larkin, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, Mrs. Robt. Hutchison, and Miss Florence Kincheloe.

A cash prize was offered again this year to third-year history class of Manassas High School for best essay on subject, "Dixie After the War." It is expected that the majority of the class will compete for this prize.

Plans for Memorial Day exercises June 3 were discussed. Mrs. R. L. Byrd was appointed to secure speaker for the occasion.

After adjournment of business session, a social hour was enjoyed. The warmth of hospitality was greatly enhanced by tea and wafers daintily served by the gracious hostesses, Mrs. Larkin and Mrs. Ashford.

KIWANIS MINSTREL IS UNDER WAY

Principals Working Hard and Often.

The Kiwanis meeting last week was lost, in the shuffle of getting ready for the Minstrel next month.

Professor Leinbach came over and Doc Swavely had already unearthed a crate of tamborines and knucks which suffered more or less from enthusiasm. One tam was busted probably where Al smacked Dick over the head accidentally. Dick doesn't want to sit with him in the performance now. Somebody passed the busted tam around to Mons and then Al tried to lay it on him.

The thing was so new that most all hands wanted to practice all night. President Odle wants Doc Carruthers program tried out and more may be learned of it later.

Mr. Elmer Hurst is donating 50 half pints milk for this coming week through the Kiwanis Club for the benefit of the undernourished children of the Bennett School.

COW INCREASE ADDS TO DAIRY PROBLEMS

Regional Conferences with Farm Leaders Planned by A. A. A.

This is one of the basic facts which must be faced by farm leaders and officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in working out a solution of the dairy problem.

There are more than 26 million milk cows on farms of the Nation this year, according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture. This represents an increase of nearly 18 per cent from the total of 21,219 reported for 1928.

Tentative plans for milk production control will be presented by the Administration at a series of regional conferences to be held in the near future at central points in leading dairy producing sections of the country. All angles of the dairy situation and outlook as well as the proposals for adjustments, will be discussed with farm and dairy interests in an effort to formulate a practical and generally acceptable program.

The "cow population" has grown steadily in recent years, 1934 showing an increase of more than 3 per cent over the 1933 total. And the percentage increase in milk cows has been much greater than the increase in human population during the same period.

With consumption of milk and dairy products holding to a relatively constant level during these years, the great increase in potential milk producing units points to a production problem which administration officials and many dairymen feel must be faced. Even though most of the milk and milk products has been finding its way to some market, the returns to farmers have been at dangerously low levels.

The goal of the proposed production adjustment plan would be to bring about better returns to producers of all dairy products by bringing production more nearly into line with the effective demand. Such a program would be supplemented and supported by milk marketing agreements, drawn in accord with the recently adopted policy which places emphasis upon prices paid to producers.

MISS SAUNDERS MEETS RELIEF DIRECTORS

The Federal Emergency Relief Directors from surrounding counties met with Miss Ann Saunders, FERA field worker, at the Stratford Hotel in Fredericksburg on Tuesday, Mar. 27, to discuss the new program for the FERA. Mrs. Marion Lewis, relief aide from Prince William County, attended this meeting.

A garden program for Prince William County, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Pattie Briggs, is being worked out in the county. Mrs. Briggs will be connected with the office of the relief aide. Beneficiaries will be restricted to new families from relief lists.

All relief cases will be closed and reinvestigated, and granted sufficient work to earn a minimum stipend in the works division of the new FERA program.

Rural rehabilitation on a work relief basis is being worked out. Farms and equipment will be provided by the Government to a given number of families in each district. All aid will be repaid by work on the farms, and each family will be expected to make this farm self-sustaining.

A RESOLUTION
Whereas we the Independent Hill Sunday School

In the providence of God have been called upon to give up by the hand of death one of our beloved pupils, and one in which we had great hopes in the future.

His devotion to the school, interest in Bible studies, and splendid way he had of singing the beautiful hymns of Zion, endeared himself very much to all of us.

To Him who is too wise to err, too good to be unkind, we submit our broken wills to His. Believing somewhere in the future, we shall understand the mysteries which is now too deep for us.

We all loved Carl Ashby Wine. But God loved him best. So He took him to his self. To wait the general resurrection of all of those who are saved by grace.

Carl cannot come back to us, but we can go to him.

We hereby express our deepest grief for his departure from us.

And a copy of this be placed on the Sunday School record, also a copy sent to his parents.

Safe in the arms of Jesus,
Safe on his gentle breast,
There by his love over shaded Sweetly shall his soul ever rest.

Done by Order of Sunday School,
Minnie Rines, Clerk.

Manassas?

A SERMONETTE

By Rev. Luther Miller

I Cor. 15:20 "But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."

The message of Easter. A message of VICTORY and HOPE! Christ lives! Christ has conquered death and sin. Because Christ lives we, too, shall live and arise from the grave.

There were Christians in Corinth who could not understand "how are the dead arisen up?" and with what body do they come?" and not understanding they denied the resurrection. Paul answering makes the resurrection of Christ, vital in the creed of the church. He reasons "If the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised, and if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain (empty words) and your faith is also vain (useless)." He adds "Ye are yet in your sins." Christ not risen, faith is fruitless.

But Paul assured these doubters with the positive statement that "Christ is risen from the dead." That's the joyful message of Easter. The Christ, slain for our sins, whose dead body was sealed in the tomb, has reanimated that body and arisen from the dead. There is victory over death and sin. Paul is certain of the resurrection of Christ. It is uncertain whether Paul ever saw Christ in the flesh but it is certain he saw him alive on the road to Damascus. It changed his life. It and the cross of Christ were central in his theology.

The resurrection of Christ is one of the best attested facts of history. The gospels and epistles are authentic and they record that He showed Himself alive to his followers, either singly or in groups, indeed at one time to as many as 500 most of whom were living and known when Paul was writing. The testimony of the resurrection of Christ is more than an assertion of victory it is also a pledge and promise of our resurrection, and an anchor for our hope. Paul says "If we have only hoped in Christ in this life we are of all men most pitiable."

He became "the first fruits of them that slept." In Revelation He is called "the first begotten of the dead." This 15th (Resurrection) chapter has brought comfort to millions as it is read over our dead. It robs death of its terrors and snatches victory from the grave. It is the Christians hope not only of immortal life but of a resurrected body raised, incorruptible, glorious, powerful and spiritual, fitted for abode in the many mansions in our Father's house, in eternal fellowship with Christ.

"KNEE-ACTION" IS UNUSUAL

Chevrolet's "knee-action" with its consequent contribution to positive steering control is credited with saving the life of H. B. Moore, Indianapolis manufacturer.

In a letter to Chevrolet Motor Company, Mr. Moore, who is president of the H. B. Moore Company in the Indiana capital, makes this statement:

"I wish to say that 'knee-action' saved my life.

"On March 6 on State Road No. 40 near Brownstown, Ill., I was going 70 miles per hour in my new 1934 Chevrolet coupe, when suddenly a truck pulled out on the highway, completing blocking it. To keep from hitting the truck head-on, I had to take the ditch, hitting a ten-inch drain tile, breaking a left rear wheel and blowing out a tire, then made a perfect horseshoe turn on a farm-house lawn and back across the ditch, coming to a stop on the highway right side up, thanks to 'knee-action'.

"A local boy who witnessed the accident, came up to me and said, 'Mister, do you know what saved your life?' I asked him what he meant, and he frankly replied 'knee-action'. I readily agreed after he explained why.

"I had entire and complete control of my car, otherwise I would not be alive today."

CATHARPIN

Last Sunday, for the first time since Christmas Eve, services were held in Sudley church. This may sound heathenish and indicate a lack of interest, but it is doubtful if during Sudley's 125 years experience that she ever encountered a season in which so many things happened at one and the same time to mitigate against her usual activity. Sickness, severe and continued weather conditions lasting from Christmas to April; zero temperatures so often we failed to count them; together with all and sundry other things seemingly conspired to make country church life unpleasant. But since all things come to an end some time, we presume that spring will soon be here and services, both church and Sunday school, may now be expected regularly.

If Mr. C. E. Jordan of Cristobal, Canal Zone, keeps on he may soon be in a class with us and gain a worldwide reputation as a columnist and sentimentalist. It certainly does one good to read the fine quotations he gave and to reflect upon the realities of literature. Such things always make us better. Now we have another thought: May we suggest, that while he is basking so pleasantly down there in Panama where they never get cold, that he use the versatility of that youthful mind of his and write a few letters describing life as he finds it so far away from his "Native Heath"? We feel sure his Prince William confreres, who are now suffering the icy blasts from the North Pole, would be warmed, comforted and delighted to know something of the land to the south of us of which we so often hear but know so little about. Eh! Charlie; how about it?

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Collins, Mrs. J. M. Allison and son Paul were Marble Hill visitors on Saturday last.

Miss Harriet Pattie was a Sunday visitor at Rock Hill, the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Akers.

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club met in regular monthly session at the home of Mrs. W. S. Brower where each member was an Ambassador-Extraordinary- Plenipotentiary to show her prowess as a quilter and with full power to negotiate any and all "new dishes" which the "cuisine" might afford. (We got that word "cuisine" from down on the Panama Canal.) Needless to say the event was an all-day affair with a good dinner "betwixt and between." These Catharpanites are becoming quite proficient with needle, thread and thimble and a quilting bee with dinner attachment is almost too alluring to be turned down.

Well, we promised to quit talking about the weather but a bad resolution is better broken than kept, so in order to be in the fashion and to engage in the only topic of conversation one hears nowadays, we've just got to join the crowd. We have often wondered what would happen if people, by any hook or crook, might be forbidden to mention anything about the weather when they meet? When two people come together the very first thing they do is to enter upon a discussion about the weather and tell each other just how nice the day is, or how rough it is, or how wet it is, or how dry it is; to which each heartily agrees. Come to think of it, perhaps the weather is the only thing in the great, wide world upon which they could agree. If they talk religion, politics, government or the best way to raise potatoes, beans or broccoli, they are sure to kick up a dispute and perhaps walk away mad each convinced the other is a fool; and so it goes. So we, perhaps, should be mighty thankful that we have a topic upon which we can all agree, and without a doubt that is the reason we all do so much talking about the atmospheric temperamentalities.

Anent the foregoing deliverance we note the papers all over the country are saying that last week's weather was the worst they have ever known "since the Weather Bureau began to function," and straightaway proceed to tell just when that was—in 1872-1884-1901, etc., etc.—but Catharpin can do better than that. Her "Weather Bureau" records show that the last "spell" was the worst since Columbus discovered America; at any rate, that is as far back as any one can remember. The "office" records do not go beyond 1492. With a record like that can you blame us for breaking our resolution so that we could tell it?

INDIGESTION, GAS, BILIOUS

George E. Gill of R. F. D. 2, Philadelphia, W. Va., says: "My digestive organs caused me trouble, I would become distressed with gas after meals, felt bilious, tired, and constipated. Dr. Fere's Golden Medical Discovery corrected this perfectly, increased my appetite and I was enjoying real health again. Sold by druggists. New size, tablets 50 cts.; liquid $1.00. "My new Studebaker cost me $400 less!"

FINEST OF ALL STUDEBAKERS

Marvelously streamlined skyway style bodies of steel reinforced by steel . . . quadripole suspension that cradles the action of all wheels, not just the front wheels . . . high-powered, sensationally economical engines . . . uncanny "mechanical brains" that leave you little to do but steer . . . stamina derived from years of triumphs in stock car and Indianapolis Speedway racing . . . better cars than the Studebakers which sold for $180 to $700 more last year.

"YES, I'm a confirmed Studebaker owner," says Mr. J. H. Pettit. "This new 1934 Dictator is my third. And you're certainly right when you say it's a finer Dictator than the best you've built in previous years.

"I'm glad to tell you that this Dictator more than comes up to all my expectations.

"It is comfortable and easy to handle. Its skyway style makes it beautiful to look at—and it's very economical on gasoline, averaging approximately 19 miles per gallon for me.

"I paid practically $400 less for this 1934 Dictator than my 1932 Studebaker cost. And I feel I've got everything anyone could want in a car."

You'll feel the same way when you become the owner of a new 1934 Studebaker. Go for a thrilling, convincing trial drive today.

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1934

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

Treasures of wickedness profit nothing; but righteousness delivereth from death. — Proverbs 10:2.

SPECIAL WORSHIP ON GOOD FRIDAY

At the instigation of Rev. DeChant and Rev. Kesner, the merchants of Manassas will close their places of business for one hour, from 2 to 3, on Good Friday to give their employees and themselves an opportunity to attend worship on this most sacred day. Students of Bible history know that our Lord was nailed to the Cross at 9 a.m. on Friday and hung there until 3 in the afternoon of the same day.

What a beautiful gesture of loving respect for Him who laid down His life for others is conveyed by this unanimous act of our town on a busy week-day. No wonder the Southland is serene and progressive in the midst of riot and upheaval. Men stop in this part of our nation to praise God and as long as they do, like Mt. Zion, they shall not be moved.

POLITICS AND RECOVERY

By an overwhelming vote of 63 to 27 the Senate has overridden the President's veto and added millions of dollars to veteran compensation and to salaries of federal employees.

The question uppermost in the public mind is whether Roosevelt's leadership is on the decline. The answer, however, is to be found in the political situation of the various Congressmen and Senators. This is election year and the special groups benefitted by this legislation exert powerful pressure. Of the Democratic Senators up for re-election this summer, only six stood by the President. In both the House and Senate the Virginia delegation stood firmly with the Roosevelt leadership.

Politics makes strange bedfellows. In the apparent fear of undesirable reaction at the polls, all but twenty-seven Democratic Senators voted with the Republicans and not a single Republican voted to sustain the President.

Now comes the serious task of raising the money to pay for these benefits. Nearly everyone would like to see such increases, if the public treasury can stand the drain, but it is also widely recognized that the old way of appropriating without reference to where the money will come from is becoming increasingly unpopular.

THE TRAIN IS COMING BACK

Under the above title, Walter P. McGuire, editor of the Southside Virginia News, Petersburg, Virginia, says:

Having blazed the permanent way across the continent — laid itself down for seemingly endless miles the level land, bridged every little creek and spreading swamp and roaring river, climbed over the mountains or blasted its way through them, the railroad made itself perhaps the largest single instrument in national development, servant of individuals and great industries — a great American institution.

He then points out how privileged competition, tar subsidized and unregulated, has crippled and nearly destroyed highly taxed and over-regulated railroads.

Out of this testing period, the railroads are emerging into a new era brought about by imagination and courage on the part of their managements. The Union Pacific, for example, is pioneering what is undoubtedly the world's fastest long distance land travel method. Its aluminum train with every modern convenience has a speed of 110 miles an hour.

Editor McGuire is right. The train is coming back — and with a vengeance. — Waynesboro Virginian.

ACE CAST SUPPORTS MARION DAVIES IN NEW MUSICAL HIT

More than a baker's dozen of moviedom's most tuneful and funniest leading citizens will be seen with Marion Davies in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, "Going Hollywood," when it comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday.

At the top of the unbeatable cast stands Miss Davies, one of the screen's loveliest comedienne who has scored successive triumphs in "Blondie of the Follies," "Peg O' My Heart" and more than a score of other picture romances.

In "Going Hollywood," Miss Davies plays the role of a lovelorn girl who falls in love with a radio crooner's voice, pursues him across the country to Hollywood, where, quite accidentally, she achieves fame as a film star.

The whimsical story is from the witty pen of Donald Ogden Stewart, noted author, humorist and actor,
who has written such famous stage plays as "Perfect Behavior," "The Crazy Fool," "Father William" and "Rebound."

Throughout the film story is woven a musical romance which includes a series of six song numbers composed for Miss Davies by Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed, two of the musical worlds most successful young song writers and co-authors of the national song hits, "The Wedding of the Painted Doll" and "The Woman in the Shoe."

Dance numbers and group ensembles illustrating the song hits have been created by Albertina Rasch, premier dancing instructor and whose originality of dance medium has been copied and followed by other dance supervisors.

Bing Crosby, radio's topmost crooner of love ballads, supports Miss Davies as the crooner whose mellow voice entrances her in "Going Hollywood," and who eventually is captured by her persistent love-pursuit.

4-H CLUB NOTES

Dumfries 4-H Club is emphasizing the Health H in community as well as in project activities. In the group of twenty-three members, there are few who do not meet the 5 point standard. All girls are working in the Food for Health project.

During the months of December, January and February, the girls of Dumfries 4-H Club served lunch to the children of the school. Through the serving of soups and milk the children of that school have made remarkable gains in weight.

Girls of Dumfries Club are planning a luncheon which will be served to the guests of the school on Patron's Day which will be held early in the spring.

Proceeds from a candy sale which is being held on March 24 will be used to help defray expenses of members attending short courses.

The girls of Dumfries Club are improving a club room which has been established in a vacant room in the school building.

Greenwich 4-H Club will hold its April meeting on Monday, April 2, at 1:30 o'clock. A program is being arranged by Gordon Ellis and Ida Fetzer. An egg hunt has been planned as a recreation feature.

Woodbine 4-H Club will meet Tuesday, April 3, at 10:30 o'clock, in the club room.

Haymarket 4-H Club will meet
Wednesday, March 4, at 11:15 o'clock.
Egg Dishes will be the topic for study. Mrs. John Sweeney will have charge of the demonstration.

Thursday, April 5, at 10:30 o'clock.

Bethel 4-H Club will meet Thursday, March 5, at 1:00 o'clock at the

Don't forget April 6. The Centreville Dramatic Club will present a will be given after the play. Music

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Korean Lespedeza Korean lespedeza is one of the most valuable leguminous crops because of its wide soil adaptation and because it will grow on very thin and acid soils.

Korean lespedeza when present in pastures greatly increases the amount of pasture produced because of its ability to continue growth during hot weather. It is also quite drought resistant. There are few instances where the addition of Korean lespedeza seed to the pasture mixture will not prove profitable.

Probably there is no soil in Prince William County so poor and worn that Korean lespedeza will not grow and maintain itself on it. To be convinced of this, one has only to visit a section where the crop is well established and observe its growth on abandoned fields, waste places and even gullies.

While Korean lespedeza is an annual plant, its habit of reseeding itself makes it as permanent as the perennial grasses and in most cases even more so.

The seed of Korean lespedeza can easily be saved on the farm by the seed pan method or the regular thresher or a clover huller may be used.

At the weekly meeting of the "Leisure Hour Class" Monday the main accomplishment was the perfection of chocolate and lemon pies.

There was a decided improvement in the pastry, which was found to be tender and flakey. Both White Rose and a western flour were used. The girls tried two different methods of making pastry, with equal success.

The hot-water method, which is preferred by some of the housekeepers of this community, and the cream pastry, recommended by Mrs. S. E. Bevan, shared equal honors as perfect foundation for both kinds of pie.

The class was quite interested in the discovery that a more successful meringue was obtained when cream of tartar was used. The smooth, tender texture of the meringue containing cream of tartar proved to be decidedly better than the meringue made without it.

The Leisure Hour Class hopes that their little discoveries in their study of the arts of cookery may be of some benefit to those who read about them.

ALONG THE WAY

(By Inno McGill)

CLEAN BOOKS LEAGUE

The statement by a Justice of the New York Supreme Court, that "Our country has become the literary cesspool of the world," should arouse parents to this menace which has been allowed to wax strong upon the youth of our land. The crusade of the Clean Books League merits the hearty support of all who have at heart the moral good of the Nation.

HONEST PRAISE

Governor John G. Winant, Republican Chief Executive of New Hampshire, strongly urged support of the present Democratic Administration in a recent address to college students, when he said: "The present N. R. A. is an honest effort to plan production and consumption under a set of rules that recognizes human standards. . . . In the main, the idea of the President's plan is to preserve a reasonable economic order and protect human beings. President Roosevelt has served only one-fourth of a Presidential term. Destructive criticism at this time is not in the interest of the welfare of our people. Discontent could now paralyze the Federal Government. The problems that Roosevelt is contending with are more serious than was the war."

THE STRANGER WITHIN OUR GATE

The exercise of hospitality, as described in earlier records of our race, had primarily to do with strangers and the poor, and was extended largely by those in Holy Orders. In some Oriental countries, its obligations are still regarded as sacred. But, long before our generation, the primitive ideals of hospitality lost their hold, and made place for the secular charity organizations of our day while hospitality, for the purpose of sparing hardships, is now styled philanthropy.

We have given the term "stranger" a new interpretation, so that it no longer means the person we do not know, but any one not of our household. The real stranger seeks shelter and food in a public hostelry, while the stranger we call our friend is invited to take up his abode with us. And now, as always, the host who is suspected of dispensing his courtesies in the hope of reward, becomes an object of contempt.

Hospitality is a habit easy to neglect, for at the outset we are pleased on finding how well we can get on alone; and, once in the rut of that isolation, inertia (another name, in this instance, for laziness) keeps us there indefinitely.

The charge that real disinterested hospitality no longer exists, as in the past, is not without foundation, and too often its fine feature—informality—is lost to the guest who is not admitted to the sacred intimacies of a home table.

Genuine hospitality can make a crust of bread palatable if offered with a sincerity that causes the guest to feel welcome.

A prominent Washington woman, notable as a dinner-giver, was once heard to regret that nearly every one seemed to feel compelled to repay her civilities in her own coin. "It reduces society to the sordid level of a market," she said, and frankly added: "It is easy for me to do this sort of a thing, but not for many of the friends I like to draw about me. Yet most of them fancy they must entertain me on a grand scale, or not at all. Why can't they unbend, and let me drop in upon them, now and then, for a chop and a boiled potato?"

EASTER

By Inno McGill

The glad Eastertide comes early this year and, because of the unusual weather conditions now prevailing, it may come to Virginia blanketed in snow. Not for eleven years has this feast fallen, as now, on April first and, then, records show, thermometers in this region registered above zero. Observed always on the Sunday following the full moon of the vernal equinox, Easter cannot be earlier than March 22, nor later than April 25.

But, early or late, all Nature proclaims the Resurrection hour. Everything in Nature's Kingdom unites with the Spiritual Kingdom of the Church in celebrating this feast of feasts; the greatest solemnity of the Christian year; the festival commemorating the resurrection from the dead of our Crucified Lord.

Christ is risen! His resurrection puts the seal upon man's redemption. It proves that the Crucified One was truly God as He had said. There can be no Easter without a Good Friday since Christ trod the painful road to Calvary and went down through the gates of death to the glory of the resurrection. The bitterness of the chalice; the sting of the lash; the pain of the thorns; the torment of thirst; the anguish of mockery and insult—all fell upon the Crucified Christ. The human mind cannot imagine a greater evil than the murder of the God-Man, yet out of that greatest of all evils has come the greatest of all good.

The heart of Christ Crucified is man's hope and salvation. Transfixed by the Resurrection with the splendor of Heaven, He becomes throughout the ages the divine Saviour of the world.

HICKORY GROVE MEETING

The women of Hickory Grove community are invited to meet at the U. D. C. Hall, Hickory Grove, at 1:30 o'clock on Friday, April 6, to discuss the organization of a Home Demonstration group.

ADULT EDUCATION

The difference between adult education and other education is not entirely or mainly a difference of ages of those studying. The main difference is due to the motive back of it. Fear is not an adult motive. If fear of the displeasure of parents is the motive; or fear of losing one's position, or fear of not securing advancement or an increase of salary or a credit or a diploma or a degree; then the motive is not an adult one.

Adult education should be characterized by an entire absence of fear or compulsion. No negative motive but a positive one should mark it. A desire for the fulfillment of one's human nature and of one's individual nature is what moves the student in an adult school.

But if this desire is simply a wish, it is about as effective as sitting on a stump and wishing for a job or a salary or a wife or a million dollars. There are not many self-starters in the world and even self-starters must have sufficient gasoline to keep going.

The adult schools which are starting up all over the country are serving many purposes. Educational all of them are but tending to serve many sides of man's complex nature. In the large centers of population, if a half-dozen or so desire a certain phase of education, they find they can have it; whether it is tap-dancing or the philosophy of Spinoza. In a small community many such desires must be abandoned for the more practical subjects.

In Manassas French, stenography and typing, and advanced bookkeeping had to be passed up; but courses in practical English, algebra, geometry, economics and spelling are being supplied. This does not mean that the latter are more desirable, but circumstances did not allow them to be had. Incidentally, the Manassas High School is doing much to help its graduates and others who desire help.

In a country community where there are no trolley cars nor taxicabs to help transportation, and no splendid equipment; but where instead the side roads are beds of mud and necessary equipment must be improvised, real earnestness must be shown by the student, else he will fail as badly as if he only wished for knowledge.

Another condition that militates against the small adult school in the country is the lack of uniformity of preparation in the various students. To illustrate, if some of the students have an eighth grade background, and others ninth, tenth, or eleventh then some in the group may feel that in English or mathematics, let us say, the class is advancing too fast and others that it is going too slowly. The class is between discouragement and disappointment. At that a tolerant spirit among the students bridges even such difficulties.

Little discussion groups around a table likely bring most nearly ideal results. What can be more helpful in these times than to base discussions on even an elementary text in economics and thinking out from that to see how the principles discussed are met or evaded these days. It gives a new and wider outlook. To know that principles of economics are based finally on a clearer knowledge of human nature, whether selfish or altruistic, is an advance.

It has been predicted that adult education is to be an established procedure throughout the country. Big movements often start from small sources. Who indeed in these days thinks he is beyond learning more? Or who thinks he is too old to learn? Or who is embarrassed to confess that he has yielded to the desire to learn?—(communicated.)

"HOLD THAT GIRL" FOX FILM, IS FAST AND MERRY

Love-making and wise-cracking at a fast and merry pace, James Dunn and Claire Trevor appear together again in Fox Film's latest release "Hold That Girl" which opens at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday. The smart repartee of the two screen sweethearts in this brisk and breezy comedy romance kept the large audience constantly laughing.

A smart, young Irish detective falls in love with a girl reporter while they are both working on the same assignment. The course of love is very uneven and they run into constant disputes over their conflicting assignments. On various occasions the young detective has the girl arrested on false charges, because of her constant interference with his work. She arouses his jealousy by accepting dates with another suitor, who, unknown to her, is a gangster. On a jewel robbery assignment, upon which both are working, the girl slips into a car, and is the witness to the jeweler's murder. She is discovered and brought to the gang's hangout, where she learns that her gentleman crook is the leader of the mob. He tries to save her from the same fate with which the jeweler met, but the mob insists upon doing away with her because she is a reporter and knows too much for safety. Meanwhile, the young detective has trailed the car, and arrives on the scene in time to save his sweetheart and to apprehend the gangsters.

REDUCTION IN SIZE LIMIT OF GAME FISH

At a meeting of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries held in Richmond, Va., March 26, a proposal to abolish the size limit on trout was considered and after hearing both sides, it was decided to make no change this season insofar as trout fishing was concerned. The bass season was extended to December 31 west of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The size limit on redeye or rock bass was changed from 4 to 6 inches and a daily bag limit of 30 was fixed for bream, 30 for crappie and 50 for other species of perch.
