LIQUOR BOARD SEEKS ADVICE

Asks Co-operation of Newspapers in Campaign of Education.

On April 3 the Virginia Liquor Control Board called a conference of representatives of daily and weekly newspapers to enlist co-operation of the press in making the liquor control system a success.

Chairman S. Heth Tyler, of Norfolk, was present and stated that the Board was making good progress. He stressed the fact that so far politicians had not attempted to bring pressure for special favors and he asked for suggestions and criticisms.

It was stated that no trouble was anticipated in the matter of securing adequate supplies as soon as the difficult problems of personnel, location of stores and warehouses were solved. The announcement was made that a director would be appointed at once to investigate applications for retail wine and beer licenses and to investigate the location of dispensaries.

The question was asked the Board as to the policy in the matter of granting licenses in localities which voted dry last October and it was stated that while no definite policy had yet been fixed, the Board would not be inclined to grant licenses where the prevailing sentiment was not favorable.

In response to make detailed inquiries the Board stated that most cases would have to be settled on the merits of the individual case. As to mail orders, the answer was that the Board had been advised on its tour of other States to establish a mail order system, but not until the local dispensaries had been put into operation.

CONSERVATION PROGRAM AT MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL

On Wednesday, March 28, a very interesting program was given at the high school on "Conservation," on the great importance of the conservation of our forest trees, our wild flowers, birds, fish and surface soils. The program was presented by the biology class under the direction of Miss Veta Draper.

The members of the class recited poems and gave talks on the conservation of our resources. Captain Phos, of the Forest Conservation Camp, at the invitation of the class, gave a very interesting talk on the conservation of our trees.

Rev. Mr. DeChant sang a solo, "The Wild Flowers of the Virginia." Specimens were shown of some of the plants now in danger of extinction, which the State is especially asking the people to protect, such as dogwood (the state flower), holly, laurel, running pine and the lovely little arbutus. The program was closed by a very pleasing piano duet by Miriam Blough and Cleveland Fisher. A beautiful poster in water colors was also prepared by Miss Eleanor Hottle, of the second year class.

The object of the State of Virginia in asking its schools to present such programs is to teach the great importance of the conservation of our resources not only for our own but for succeeding generations.

MR. STROTHER T. STEPHENS

MR. STEPHENS PASSES DISTRICT BAR EXAMINATIONS

Mr. Strother T. Stephens has successfully passed the District Bar Examinations. He is 29 years old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stephens, lifelong residents of this county. His early education was received at the Bennett School. He graduated from the Manassas High School in 1927.

After completing his high school work he obtained a position with the District Government in the Surveyor's office, where he has been for the past six years. Showing his energy and desire for further study he matriculated for the night course at the National University School of Law and after working hours attended classes. He was awarded an L.L.B. degree by this university in 1933.

Mr. Stephens has a host of friends in and around Manassas who wish him all success and are confident that he will advance rapidly in his profession.

EASTER BALL A BIG SUCCESS

Large Crowd Attend Annual Festivity.

The annual assembly dance last Monday night was a brilliant social and financial success. The decorations of soft tinted lanterns and evergreens were unusually effective. There was a very large attendance and excellent music.

The receiving line consisted of the officers of the Woman's Club and the president of the Junior Woman's Club. The proceeds will be used for the hospitalization of children. These Easter dances, sponsored by the Woman's Club, have become a social feature of Manassas.

On Friday and Saturday evenings of next week, the Manassas Kiwanis Club will give a Minstrel Show entirely for the benefit of the Underprivileged Child Fund.

This work is a county-wide proposition and consequently, this minstrel should have county-wide support. G. R. Ratcliffe is chairman of the ticket sale and he will be glad to send tickets to anyone who can aid him in disposing them.

The advanced ticket sale will aid in a large measure to determine the financial success of the affair.

Dairy Farmers Meet

Members of Congress have been keeping a close check this week on meetings in Washington between dairy farmers and representatives of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. These sessions marked the beginning of the first of a series of regional conferences designed to place the Agriculture Adjustment Administration's new milk program before producers for their approval.

Until these meetings are concluded, there will be no action on the program for the rehabilitation of the badly demoralized dairy industry.

The dairy industry at present is in a morass of overproduction and ruinous prices in which it has floundered for the last two years. The recovery program is aimed to aid some 4,500,000 farm families as well as millions of consumers.

Under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration Act, seven commodities are listed as basic. For six of these, corn, cotton, tobacco, wheat, hogs and rice, production adjustment programs are being placed in effect. But milk, the seventh basic commodity, is still in a chaotic state.

Dairy products are selling at prices 40 percent below pre-war levels in relation to present conditions, while the gross income of the farmer has been slashed in half during the depression year. Yet, studies by economists of the Department of Agriculture show that the price paid for milk by the consumer remains about the same. The distributor, however, has grown fat with profits, made chiefly from milk products.

SCHOOL STAGES BENEFIT DANCE

Mary Lynch Named General Chairman.

The Athletic Association of the High School, under the sponsorship of the High School Alumni Association, is planning a dance which is to be given on Friday night, April 20, in the high school gymnasium. The dance is being given as a benefit, and the proceeds will be used for the purpose of purchasing new baseball suits for the school team.

Active preparations have been placed in the hands of Miss Mary Lynch, who is serving as general chairman in charge of all arrangements for the affair. She is being very ably assisted by a large group of students who are active in the athletic association, together with all of the members of the baseball team, who will have charge of the sale of tickets.

This move on the part of the students of the school comes as a manifestation of their unusual interest in athletics in the school, and is receiving the whole-hearted praise and support of those outside of the school who retain their attachment and interest in what goes on at the school. This genuine interest in the undertaking serves as a worthy guarantee for its success.

An advance sale of tickets will begin the first of this coming week and everyone in Manassas will be afforded an opportunity of contributing to the cause by subscribing to the dance.

The dance will be preceded by a banquet, which is to be staged in the high school auditorium for the basketball squads, both boys and girls. This feature is being prepared by the Patrons' League and will be the occasion for the presentation of awards to the group of boys and girls who won letters in basketball during the past season. Several prominent speakers are going to be present.

CLUB ENTERTAINS NOTED VISITORS

Congressman Smith and Commissioner Hazen Attend Kiwanis.

The Kiwanis Club took another strike at the Minstrel Show last week with Commissioner Hazen, of the District of Columbia, and Hon. Howard Worth Smith as an audience for the occasion. Music was very much in the air.

Prior to the exhibition, the eminent guests gave some interesting remarks. Mr. Hazen ruined his self-claimed reputation as a poor speaker by running in a lot of good stories and some excellent remarks on the growth of Washington and its government.

Congressman Smith followed (after Ed had introduced both) with a splendid defense of the President's Recovery Program. He stated that all that was needed was courage, faith and a little sacrifice on the part of those who must aid in the earlier stages of the work.

He declared that the progress which had already been noted over the country generally was ample evidence for such support as the President was asking.

The talk was truly inspiring and brought forth applause on several occasions.

During the evening it was announced that children at Bennett School where the Kiwanis Club has been furnishing hot lunches since Christmas had shown an average net gain in weight of about four pounds. C. C. Lynn, chairman of the fund, stated that the work was pledged to continue through April.

Ladies night was set again for the first meeting night in May.

The sum of ten dollars was appropriated for a contest among the high school children of the county, to be divided into three prizes. R. C. Haydon, as chairman of the vocational guidance committee, will direct this contest.

THE WASHINGTON DISTRICT CONFERENCE

We are expecting over 200. The ladies of the church will serve both dinner and supper in the basement of the church to members of the conference and visitors at a nominal cost.

The public is cordially invited to attend the sessions of the conference as well as the worship and preaching. Dr. Forney Hutchinson, pastor of Mt. Vernon Place, Washington, the man who one time declined the office of a Bishop, will preach at one 11 o'clock service.

However, the boys are doing rather well, although the weather has not been very good for baseball practice.

A SERMONETTE

By Rev. W. F. Carpenter

Luke XVII:21 "The kingdom of God is within you."

To properly appraise things that are external and those that are internal constitutes one of the major problems of human existence. In most instances human judgment overesti-mates the importance of the external, the seen and the material with a corresponding lack of appreciation for the inward, the invisible and the spiritual. The consequence of such a mistake are greatly aggravated by the fact that they operate far beyond the immediate occasion due to the fact that the invisible realities are endless in existence and power.

Jesus was always seeking to aid weak and erring humanity and this statement about the kingdom of God indicates one such effort. The occasion was a question from the Pharisees as to when the kingdom of God would come, indicating that they were confusing God's kingdom with earthly kingdoms which put so much store by outward display. But let us not condemn those Pharisees too severely. Let us recognize the fact that God's kingdom is so manifold in nature and operation that it is impossible for the human mind to completely understand.

From the teaching of Jesus it is clear that the kingdom of God should influence human life from center to circumference, and that it does not become a real power in human personality until it operates at the center or in the heart which is the fountain of thought and action as well as the region of the most intense and enduring experiences. But is this not also true of other mighty though in-tangible factors in human life? Take the realm of music as an example.
Its kingdom does not consist chiefly of organs, pianos, violins and other musical instruments. Listen to Mandel's Messiah rendered by human voices in a great choir and if the melodies get beyond your ears and enter your soul you are conscious of being thrilled and uplifted. Then you discover that the real kingdom of music with its power and blessing is within you.

The failure to see this truth today about the kingdom of God is making many people miserable—needlessly miserable. Because they do not see God's kingdom protecting them from sickness and loss of loved ones; because it does not provide in abundant food and clothing they have lost faith in its existence and its power to bless. Because they fail to see that the kingdom of God is operating chiefly in another sphere, and that its blessings are righteousness, peace and joy rather than material or outward things, they yield to doubt and despair. Because the visible things of earth seem neglected or because the forms are mutilated all seems lost to those who do not know that the kingdom of God is within.
Consequently, being without peace and joy they do not conduct themselves as citizens of God's kingdom.
Being unhappy they express bitterness and exhale a sorrow that is not godly. Thus they miss the joy of breathing sweetness into the daily existence of others.

Let us pray that they may learn a lesson from the sweetest flowers.

'Neath loss and death my soul lies crushed
And song of joy is long since hushed.
Yet flowers crushed their fragrance yield
And scatter pleasure in the field.

To flowers crushed a grateful sense Sends forth its praise without pretense.

So my heart crushed upon life's street
May bring true joy to all I meet.

IN RE: GAINESVILLE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING:

Upon the following recorded vote the following resolution was adopted: The Board of Supervisors having passed a resolution on the 4th Tuesday in January approving a loan for Gainesville District for the purpose of erecting a new high school building at Haymarket, in said District, the Board this day, after a hearing on the tentative budget for the fiscal year 1934-35, hereby re-affirm its position with reference to the said proposed loan. The Board, however, deems it unwise to lay a levy in said district for the tax year 1934, for the purposes of said proposed loan, as such loan has not yet been contracted.

The Board hereby goes on record as being willing to lay a levy in said District for the purpose of paying principal and interest of such loan, when same is contracted by the School Board, at the next regular levy period, and further agrees that if any obligation for either interest or principal becomes due on said loan before said levy is available that the Board will assist the School Board in making the necessary financial arrangements to take care of said obligation.

AYES: C. B. Roland, D. E. Earhart, J. W. Merchant. Not Voting: C. C. Lynn, J. L. Dawson. Absent: J. Murray Taylor.

Upon motion of D. E. CERRY FOR ALL—ALL FOR CERRY

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

NONE LIKE GOD: Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee!—Psalm 71:19.

THE EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

An impressive Easter custom which is rapidly growing in popularity in this country is the sunrise service Easter morning. Multitudes gather in the darkness on the hilltop or other convenient place and amid the hush of silent prayer and meditation await the coming of the dawn. As the sun peeps from behind the curtains of the night, the silence is broken by vocal prayer and the singing of hymns, followed by an Easter message from one of the clergy.

This open-air worship seems to establish a new contact between man and the universe and to lend a peculiar significance to the dawn of the new day. From New England to California and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes the custom is growing in popularity and is rapidly becoming an accepted part of the Easter celebration.

Its inception, perhaps, can be traced back to the Moravian celebrations at Bethlehem, Pa., and at Winston-Salem, N. C. At these places, pious folk and slight-seers gather on Saturday afternoon and remain in worship until Easter Eve. Soon after midnight, the trambine choir marches through the town to summon the faithful who have not already gathered at the church. Toward daybreak, the watch moves from the church and at the first gleam of the rising sun, the Bishop calls from the church tower "The Lord is risen!" and the thousands in the church yard below respond in jubilant voice, "The Lord is risen indeed!" This call and this response has been the usual Easter salutation since the days of the Emperor Constantine. — Blue Ridge Herald.

A MILKMAN'S MEDITATIONS

Faint heart seldom wins fair lady or brings home the bacon.

You may be a better man than folks think you are, but you've somehow got to prove it.

Don't spend all the money you've got—you might grow old.

You win respect as you are able to command it.

If you're an American citizen, support her laws—don't bite the hand that's feeding you.

WOODBIDGE

Today we are having fine spring weather and with the depression over everyone is feeling like they are, or will soon be out of the red. It is fine to be alive these days.

Visiting was on the increase over Easter both to and from Woodbridge.

Mr. Walter Smith has recently returned from the hospital where he underwent an operation of having his foot amputated. He is now reported to be doing nicely.

Mr. Izzie West, who has been under the doctor's care for several months, is very much better.

Work has started on the home for Mr. John Patterson on the Richmond Highway at Woodbridge.

You know I am very much like Will Rogers. All either of us know is what we see in the paper and what we hear. The difference between us is Will's funning. Well, I hear that the local undertaker asks the young lady in the bank every morning how she is feeling. Now to me she looks pretty healthy. I guess the undertaker believes the game is never over until the last out is made.

NOTICE

To the ladies of this County:

Billy Tyrrell, who lives in one of the suburbs of Woodbridge was allowed out one night not long ago without his mother and some young lady took advantage of him and took his class ring away from him. The value of the ring is nothing they only cost about 10 bucks but because it is his class ring he wants it to show to his grandchildren when he is an old man. Now, girls, think how it would make you feel if some one took advantage of your brother like that. Now will the young lady, who ever she may be, please return Billy's ring to him, it will make him feel a lot better, and not only that I hate to see Billy having the hooks thrown into him that way.

I see young George Seelman working over in Occoquan. The N. R. A. must have got him so there wasn't anything he could do to help himself. I am getting so I don't think much of that N. R. A. The first thing you know I am going to have to go to work.

CREAM OF BRITISH THEATRICAL TALENT APPEARS IN "THE INVISIBLE MAN"

The cream of Britain's histrionic crop together with the most currently outstanding actors in Hollywood lend realism to the fantastic H. G. Wells drama, "The Invisible Man," which comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday.

Faced with the problem of translating the English author's startling novel into screen entertainment, James Whale, who directed "Frankenstein," "Journey's End" and other exceedingly tense screen dramas, spent over six months assembling the protagonists in this picture which has already caused the most talk and excitement of any film in recent years.

Claude Rains, who makes his screen debut in the uncanny character of the super scientist, was brought from triumphs in New York with the Theatre Guild to portray the most unusual and difficult part of Wells' tale. Fresh from successes in "The Man Who Reclaimed his Head" and "Too True to Be Good," Rains brought to the film a rich background of stage experience in London and New York.

William Harrigan was selected for the intensely dramatic role of "Dr. Kemp" because of his sensational rise to fame in powerful roles of "Criminal at Large" and "Moon in the Yellow River." Gloria Stuart's remarkable impression during her meteoric screen career won her the feminine lead with the difficult assignment of playing the sweetheart of an unseen man.

ALONG THE WAY

(By Inno McGill)

The Ministerial Association of this town is to be commended for the good movement successfully inaugurated last week that led to the suspension of all business interests in Manassas on Good Friday afternoon from two to three o'clock in solemn observance of the hour that marked the death of Man's Redeemer on the Cross.

This act of veneration for the Man of Sorrows; the lonely Christ, at the hour that found Him dying an ignominious death for our salvation, is a touching evidence of Christian impulse in the work-a-day life of man. It is acts of this kind that make the Eternal Galilean better known and better loved.

EASTER IN SONG AND PRAYER

The glory of Easter was enhanced this year by the sunshine and mild weather that came as a benediction after bleak days of rain. In all the local churches the glad Alleluia proclaimed the Resurrection.

The interior of All Saints' Church was made beautiful with Easter blooms and lighter tapers for the celebration of High Mass; the music of which was well rendered by a group of young girls under the capable direction of Mrs. W. L. Compton. It was the first occasion upon which these girls had rendered a High Mass. The solo, "Et Incarnatus Est," was sweetly sung by Loraine Crosby.

SILVER SUNRISE SERVICE

Persons of every sect to the number of about 20,000 participate in the soul-inspiring Sunrise Service now held annually in California at break of dawn, Easter Sunday, at the base of Mount Rubidoux, whose Indian name signifies "Peace."

Atop the rugged mountain is the rough-hewn "Serra Cross" dedicated to Fray Junipero Serra, founder of the historic Franciscan Missions in California who arrived in San Diego, July 1, 1769, which day has since been acclaimed the birthday of California.

This "Serra Cross" was erected by Protestants in honor of the devoted Catholic priest who, for sixteen years, labored and endured all manner of hardships and suffering in establishing his missions for the conversion of the Indians.

All night long searchlights gild the "Serra Cross" and chimes are rung from midnight until dawn, guiding the pilgrims to the rock-rimmed sanctuary, until sunlight finally filters across the mountain range. As light suffuses the cross, the clear notes of a trumpet ring out announcing that "Christ, the Lord, is Risen Today." Then follow services of prayer, song and a sermon.

ABOVE ZERO

Last week when reference was made in this column to Easter of eleven years ago it was stated that "records show thermometers in this region then registered 15° above zero." Imagine that last line, as it appeared in print, without the number of degrees—simply reading "above zero." Indignation at that blunder caused one to picture that particular Easter with thermometers registering as high as 110° above zero. But who can scold the man who frankly admits that the error is his, since he reads proof and failed to notice the mistake? Then, again, the publishers of this paper are a good-natured group and, who can cherish resentment because of any blunder, in face of a genial smile?

NEW YORK OF HORSE-CAR ERA REPRODUCED FOR SCENES IN "YOU CAN'T BUY EVERYTHING"

Thirty-five years is not such a long time when the age of the universe is considered. But at least for one Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, thirty-five years was the root for as much worry and investigation and labor as if it had been thirty-five hundred years.

The anxiety arose during the production of May Robson's newest picture, "You Can't Buy Everything," in which she portrays the character of a miserly financial wizard.

For the setting of this picture, which opens next Monday at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas, the leaves of the calendar were flipped back thirty-five years, to the dawn of the Twentieth Century—and there the worries began.

Because the time setting lay at the border-line between the archaic and modern eras, and because so many hundreds of thousands of theatre patrons still have very vivid memories of those days, as much if not more attention was devoted to the picture's authenticity as to a costume laid in a setting of three hundred years ago.

In a wintry New York street scene, research experts were constantly on guard to see that no buildings were to be shown reaching to heights beyond the heights of the buildings of the period; that no automobiles should go chugging through the street; that the vehicular traffic should consist solely of sleighs and bobbeds; that the streets were lighted by gas and not electricity; that the old-fashioned, swinging-door saloon should occupy almost every corner, and that a real wooden Indian should stand guard outside the tobacco shop.

WOODLAWN SCHOOL FOR ADULTS

The school for adults at Woodlawn School had a very interesting session Friday evening. Fifteen students and a dozen visitors were present. We had an old-fashioned spelling bee won by Mr. Herbert Crummett. A debate, "Resolved, That one should marry for love and not for money," was very ably handled. The negative side was surprisingly well argued. I'm sure the audience was left in doubt as to the proper course, although the decision was two to one in favor of the affirmative.

The class is studying English, spelling and arithmetic, the last more especially as applied to the trades.

ON CAPITOL HILL

Agricultural Prices

Representative Clarence Cannon, Democrat of Missouri, who has made a thorough analysis of the farm situation, is of the opinion that farm prices, which reached the lowest level of the depression in 1933, are now definitely moving upward.

Unfortunately, however, Cannon says, industrial prices, already far above farm prices, are moving upward just as rapidly and maintaining the lead they have held for the last fifteen years.

The solution of this condition, according to Cannon, is to accelerate the advance of farm prices until the wide gap between them is closed and the parity of 1914 reestablished. To this problem, he said, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is bending every energy.

Cannon called attention to the fact that Former President Hoover, in his first message to Congress back in 1929, announced to the American people that farm prices were so low, that the condition of agriculture was so desperate, legislation should be enacted to restore agricultural values, increase farm prices and thereby insure continued national prosperity.

"In all the archives of the American Congress," Cannon declared, "there is no document so significant, so eloquent in its tragic explanation of the causes leading up to the devastating depression which shortly after overwhelmed the nation, so revealing in its exposition of the ruthless exploitation of the American farmers, as this solemn and momentous message from the President to Congress, transmitted on April 16, 1929."

"On that date wheat was selling at $1.38 a bushel, and the President stated in his message that he considers $1.38 so inadequate and so unfair to the farmers who produced the wheat that for the first time in the history of the republic, the situation warrants the calling of an extra session of Congress for the purpose of passing laws to raise the price."

The only low-priced car with fully-enclosed Knee-Action Wheels and what a difference that makes in performance and dependability

Simple as a Shock Absorber!

Chevrolet's "fully-enclosed" Knee-Action is in reality a gigantic "shock absorber," built solidly on to Chevrolet's big, heavy frame, with the front wheel anchored to the "shock absorber" arm. The result: When the front wheel comes in contact with a bump or hole, it rises or falls to absorb the shock.

In a Chevrolet, you not only get the gliding ride at its best, you also get several other Knee-Action advantages not found in any other low-priced car! The reason: Chevrolet's Knee-Action is of a very special kind. The patents on it are held exclusively by General Motors. In this construction, the coil spring, which is the heart of the mechanism, is safely and solidly enclosed in a heavy steel housing to keep out dirt and flying stones. What's more, the design of this type is such that the steering mechanism is completely divorced from the spring action, the result being a new and welcome type of shock-proof steering.

Compare Chevrolet's low delivered prices and easy G.M.A.C. terms. A General Motors Value

Admittedly these "fully-enclosed" Knee-Action wheels are more expensive to produce than other types. But Chevrolet feels that the extra satisfaction thus assured for Chevrolet owners is well worth the extra manufacturing cost. And this same attitude is responsible for the presence of many other "fine-car" features in the new Chevrolet: the large, roomy Fisher body. The new Y-K frame. The cable-controlled brakes. In fact, everything about this automobile reflects Chevrolet's well-known policy: to build the most cars, by building the best cars of low price!
