PRINCE WILLIAM LEADS JUNIORS

Professor Haydon Made Officer in League Group.

The Senior and Junior Leagues of this district met at Purcellville yesterday for their second session.

The delegates from the High School Senior League were Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Hawes Davies, Mrs. Hibbs, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Sue Ayres. Delegates from the Bennett School Senior League were Mrs. Pickeral, Mrs. Jack Leachman, Mrs. Diddle, Mrs. Parsh, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Haydon. Delegates from the High School Junior League were Miss Pauline Smith, Jane Lynn, Evelyn Frame, Martha Carter, John DeBell and James Payne. Delegates from the Bennett School Junior League were Lucy Johnson, Hilda Goverstone, Catherine Monroe and Althea Hoff.

Professor W. T. Sanger, president of the Medical College of Virginia, was the main speaker. He gave a very encouraging and progressive talk. With six leagues represented, Prince William had the largest attendance of any county. The following high schools furnished parts in the program as follows: Haymarket cheer leaders (Meredith Amphlett and Elizabeth Harver); Dumfries, Faith Circus; Bennett School of Manassas, Rhythm Band; Occoquan, the presiding officer of the day.

Various reports were given showing the work accomplished during the past year and the program set up for the coming session.

The senior leagues met at the same time. Their most important session was developed in establishing objectives for next year, some of the most important of which are sanitation, child health (special emphasis on water supplies), library improvement, beautification of school grounds, more sympathetic understanding between teacher and parents with the special aim of having one active member of each local league for each child in school.

Mr. R. C. Haydon was elected vice-president of the next session.

The whole day was spent very enjoyably and the leagues were delightfully entertained by the Purcellville group.

WHEAT CONTRACTS REOPENED

Wheat adjustment contracts will be reopened in this county from April 27 to May 5, Mr. Charles R. McDonald, president of the county wheat production control association, announced today.

No campaign will be put on to get new signers. Wheat growers interested in the contract can get more detailed information at the county agent's office in the Post Office building at Manassas, Va., between the dates set for signing.

The contract is reopened to three groups of wheat producers as follows:

1. Those who filed out an application blank last fall but did not complete a contract. By signing the contract now, they can get full benefit payments for 1933, 1934, and 1935.

2. Those who want to fill out their application blanks and contracts now. They will get the last installment of the 1933 benefit payment and then all of the 1934 and 1935 payments.

3. Those who had wheat in only 1932 and 1933. They are entitled to grow 85 percent of their 1932 acreage for harvest in 1934, but their benefit payments are reduced.

Figures on acreages and yields turned in by the new signers will be made public by publication or by posting, and will then be adjusted to correspond with the summary of the contracts signed last fall. New signers will become members of the existing county control association.

SONG RECITAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist Church of Manassas, colored, will hold a song recital this Friday, April 27, beginning at 8 p.m. Miss Lee Bettle Mansfield, mezzo-soprano soloist of Washington, D. C., will be the star feature of the evening. Her singing has attracted very wide attention and it is anticipated that a large attendance will honor her appearance in Manassas.

DON'T FAIL TO ATTEND

Miss Nancy Byrd Turner will give Southern readings at the high school tonight.

GLEE CLUB TO PRESENT "MOTHER GOOSE ISLAND"

Due to an unforeseen arrangement the Bennett Glee Club will present the operetta, "Mother Goose Island," Wednesday evening, May 2, instead of Thursday evening, May 3. Remember the hour: 8 o'clock. Place: Manassas High School auditorium.

Come and meet Mother Goose and her family with Miss Bright, a teacher, and her pupils.

Between acts two groups of young girls will dance and sing and the second grade rhythm band will make their initial appearance in Manassas in their new uniforms.

WILL CELEBRATE LADIES NIGHT

Annual Kiwanis Event Next Week.

The Kiwanis rested on their laurels last week and all was quiet on Center street.

An invitation was received to attend the interclub meeting at Fredericksburg next Tuesday evening, the same night as the Lee-Jackson celebration near Chancellorsville. A number will attend.

Some argument was indulged in as to taking the minstrel show to other points but action was withheld.

Just to show his versatility, Rev. Leinbach laid down his baton and gave the boys a useful and interesting discussion on religion and materialism.

Plans are advancing for the ladies night on May 3.

This is international week and some sort of observance of this fact may be expected.

WYNETTE BARNARD DIES IN VIRGINIA

Mrs. Fred Scholl received a telegram Friday from the M. E. Barnard family, residing at Manassas, Va., bearing the unwelcome news of the death of their youngest daughter, Wynette, who passed away at a sanatorium.

Wynette Barnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Barnard, was born in Williamsburg November 8, 1908. She attended the Williamsburg schools, and finished the course in the high school, later going to Des Moines to take a business course. While attending school in Des Moines her health failed, but under special treatment she appeared to be recovering her former good health. Two years ago the family moved to Virginia, purchasing a farm forty miles from Washington. It was soon after moving to the new home that the daughter went into a decline; she was removed to a sanatorium located on a mountain range, and here the patient appeared to be recovering; but the frail body lacked the resistance to rebuild its shattered health, and here, far removed from the land of her nativity, she passed to her reward.

She was a member of St. Paul's M. E. Church in Williamsburg and after taking up her residence in Manassas, Va., continued her interest in the church, taking an active part in the local Sunday school and choir. Through this activity in her customary manner she made many warm friendships.

She is survived by her parents, three sisters and three brothers.

The news of the death of Wynette Barnard touched Williamsburg with deep regret. She was a lovely young woman, popular with all classes, and her mental brightness marked her as a favorite in the community that loved her so well.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist Church at Manassas April 24, at 2:30 p.m., and interment was made in the Manassas cemetery.

To the bereaved parents, brothers and sisters, the tenderest condolences are extended. — Williamsburg Journal-Tribune.

DEDICATION OF MEMORIAL VASES

On Sunday, April 22, two altar vases were dedicated by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson at Trinity Episcopal Church in memory of Margaret Maudie Law, who was a former member of Trinity Sunday school. The vases were given by the Sunday school in her memory.

Funds for the memorial were raised during the superintendency of Mr. F. R. Hynson and the final dedication arranged by Mr. O. D. Waters, the present superintendent of the Sunday school.

ON CAPITOL HILL

Fights for Improvements.

Representatives Howard W. Smith, Democrat of Virginia, made a valiant but unsuccessful fight before the House for inclusion of items in the 1935 District Appropriation Bill for funds to complete the wall around the District reformatory at Lorton, Va., improvement of the Farmers' Market in southwest Washington, and an engineering survey looking toward replacement of the old Chain Bridge.

The House, however, refused to make any increases in the original amount called for in the Bill, and in fact trimmed more than $1,000,000 off the annual Federal contribution to the expenses of the District Government. A score of more amendments offered by both Republicans and Democrats were voted down in rapid succession.

The measure is now in the Senate where more liberal treatment of the District is expected. Indications are that many of the items denied by the House will be added by the Senate, including all three of the amendments offered by Mr. Smith.

Especially desirous is Mr. Smith of having Congress appropriate funds for completion of the wall around the Lorton reformatory and improvement of the Farmers' Market. He called particular attention to the fact that the residents of Virginia did not care to have escaped prisoners from Lorton running all over their property.

Small Memorial Contribution. Only $33.33 have been donated to the special commission created to supervise the affairs of the Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania Battlefields Memorial.

Despite the small contribution, A. E. DeMaray, associate director of the National Park Service, suggested that the fund be continued under the administration of his organization, in the hope that States and territories and others authorized to make donations, might be encouraged to make contributions later as the development of the park goes forward.

Mr. DeMaray pointed out that the work of developing the park is proceeding with an allotment of $935,580 from the Public Works Administration. These funds, he said, are being used in the construction of roads, trails and other facilities for public use.

House Leadership. Quite a furor was created at the Capitol this week over published reports of a possible shakeup in the House Democratic leadership after the fall congressional elections.

Speaker Rainey and Majority Leader Byrns were said to be on the skids because of the sometimes rebellious attitude of the top-heavy Democratic majority in the House. Representative John McDuffie, of Alabama, was mentioned as the new Speaker and Representative Clifton Woodrum, of Virginia, as the new Majority Leader. The next House will be organized in January less than two months after the November elections, but Rainey and Byrns are confident they will return in their respective positions of leadership.

The reports of their displacement naturally caused them some concern, and both hastened to the White House early in the week to learn from President Roosevelt himself whether there was any truth to the rumors. The result of this White House conference seemed to satisfy both of them.

Rainey, upon his return, told newspapermen:

"The President told Mr. Byrns and me that he wants us to stay right where we are. He said he was not going to relieve us of any job."

Rainey and Byrns, however, were quite upset by the reports, especially since both of them are convinced they have made excellent leaders.

For instance, the Speaker said:

"I think the House has made a pretty good report. We have passed 22 administration measures, all without anything but committee amendments. The Independent Offices Bill, passed over the President's veto—and the bonus are the only things we have passed not in line with the Administration's wishes."

Byrns attributed the report solely to a newspaper reporter's imagination.

"The man who wrote that story hit me below the belt," he declared. "It was the second time in my political career that I have been struck below the belt, and both times by the same man."

"There is absolutely no foundation for the report. If there has been any faulty leadership it was on the Senate side and not in the House."

Nevertheless, there has been much discussion in political circles over Speaker Rainey's insistence on silver legislation at this Congress contrary to the President's desires.

LOCAL GROUP WILL SING MANASSAS TO PLAY SEVERAL GAMES

National Music Week, beginning annually on the first Sunday in May, will be celebrated locally by several programs and musical events. The first of interest will be a sacred music concert to be held on Sunday afternoon, May 6. At this time prizes will be awarded for the hymn contest which is being held in the schools, and the Manassas octette will make its initial appearance. The place and hour of this performance will be announced later.

Don't forget to turn on your radio Saturday, April 28, at 2:45 p.m. and hear the state chorus sing Brahms' Requiem. The Manassas octette will participate in this event and much interest has been aroused among music lovers of Manassas as well as all over the State.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Nancy and Betty Parrish celebrated their eighth birthday Monday, April 23, with a party at their home on Bennett street. They had as their guests Nancy Lee and Betty Gore Diddle, Frances and Elizabeth Miller, Jocelyn Gillum, Elizabeth Davies, Althea Hoff, Barbara Beane, Kitty Jean Blakemore, Fanelle Pickeral, Betty Blakemore, Edith Johnson, Anna Marie Hibbs, Florence Johnson, Lelia Montague and Fred Dowell, Jack Leachman, Lenore Marshall, also their teacher, Miss Virginia Polen, their grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Parrish, and uncle Curtis Parrish.

Decorations were pink, green and yellow, with attractive favors. The birthday cake was of unusual design, bringing much delight to the youngsters. Delicious refreshments were served and the children enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

A CORRECTION

In Mrs. Leachman's note of appreciation last week a correction should be made in the name printed "Mrs. Frank Peters" which should have read Mrs. Franz Peters, of Haymarket, who made the lovely costumes of the Wolf and Spider.

PRESCHOOL NOTICE

Enrollment of children beginning school in September, 1934, is about complete. The leagues of the various schools are interested in getting these children lined up before the close of school for their physical examination, so that there will be plenty of time for the correction of any defects that may be found, and for vaccinations to heal before the very hot weather. Will the parents of any children not enrolled, please send the name to the teacher of the school or to the County Nurse as soon as possible.

OLD RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

Charles D. Fately Was Ill Only Few Hours.

Mr. Charles D. Fately, stationary engineer of the Bull Run Power Company since its organization, died very suddenly on Tuesday. He had been feeling a little badly during the morning but at noon became so much worse that his fellow employees took him home where he died at 5 p.m.

Mr. Fately came here from Shenandoah County nearly thirty years ago when the old stove factory was operated at the east end of the town. He has always been an expert with stationary machinery.

He was a quiet and useful citizen of this community, and his passing will be regretted by the many friends which he made in his long residence of this town. He was a life-long member of the Junior Order, whose membership attended his funeral in a body and took part in the ceremonies.

Beside his widow, he leaves four children, Mrs. Cary Longbeam of Baltimore, Mrs. Ralph Saunders, C. D., jr., of Toledo, Ohio, and Thomas of Alexandria.

The funeral was conducted this afternoon at the Manassas Baptist Church, Rev. C. P. Ryland officiating, assisted by Rev. John DeChant of the Presbyterian Church.

PASSES CENTURY MARK

Mrs. Susan Kirkwood Sander's grandchildren and great grandchildren had to take the place of her children, when she celebrated her passing of the century mark today. Out of her eleven children she had only one son left, John A. Sander.

Mrs. Sander lives with her granddaughter, Miss Myrtle D. Roussey at Occoquan, Va. Mrs. Sander was a daughter of John and Ann Kirkwood of Baltimore, Md. Her husband, John H. Sanders, died 50 years ago in Baltimore.

Monsignor Duprey, a French nobleman, her grandfather, owned coffee and tobacco plantations in San Domingo, bringing his goods to Baltimore in his own ships to his warehouses on Light street wharf.

Mrs. Sander is an authority on her family history. Her grandfather was a French nobleman, Monsignor Duprey. It is not easy for her to understand modern children. These modern times, these times she exclaimed, throwing up her hands in mock horror. I do believe they will get it yet. Her grandfather was a member of old St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at Paul and Saratoga streets in Baltimore. He had a pew. She joined the church when she was twelve years old. She still gets around. Sweeps the floors, washes dishes and reads papers without glasses. She is always glad to see visitors. Come and see her.

BENEFIT OPERETTA WELL ATTENDED

The operetta, "Little Red Riding Hood," given under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Leachman, was a success in every way. The children showed exceptional training and ability and the auditorium was filled to capacity by a large and appreciative audience. All the proceeds were turned over to Bennett League.

EDITH REBECCA GOUGH

Edith Rebecca Gough, age 61, died Monday, April 23, at her home in Nokesville. Mrs. Gough was a life-long resident of this community. She leaves a husband, Richard M. Gough, and ten children, Henry, Evelyn, Correll, Porter, Randall, Lucy, Clarence, Susie, Amelia, and Viola, and a number of friends.

She was buried in the Woodlawn cemetery.

FIRE TO MARK MEETING PLACE

Lee-Jackson Celebration to Be Widely Attended.

In remembrance of the last bivouac together of Generals Robert E. Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson, at the place where they bade each other final farewell on Chancellorsville battlefield, a fire of logs will blaze on the spot the night of May 1 and tribute will be paid to the memory of the Confederate leaders in ceremonies under the auspices of Fredericksburg Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, according to an announcement made this week by Mrs. W. W. Butzner, president of Fredericksburg Chapter, U.D.C. Assistance will be given the chapter in arranging for the ceremonies at the Bivouac stone, ten miles from Fredericksburg, by the office of the Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania National Military Park.

Dr. Douglas Freeman, of Richmond, widely known authority on history, and prominent editor and speaker, will deliver the principal address. Appropriate musical numbers are part of the program, which will begin at 8 p.m.

The site chosen for the ceremonies is at the junction of the Orange Plank road and the Furnace road, about a mile from the Chancellorsville house. In the angle between the roads Lee and Jackson met the night of May 1, 1863, when the Confederate army was confronted by General Joseph E. Hooker's Federal army, and was threatened both in front and rear. Seated before a small fire the Confederate leaders received news from Gen. J. E. B. Stuart that Hooker's right wing was exposed and out of a conference grew Jackson's strategic march around Hooker's army next day and the assault on Hooker's lines, which swept the enemy before him and cost Jackson his life.

The ceremonies are planned to commemorate the last meeting of Lee and Jackson. The plan of having a fire at the spot where the two generals last saw each other, in the heart of the forest around Chancellorsville, is attracting wide interest. Invitations have been sent to all chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and a large attendance is expected.

The Bivouac is about ten miles from Fredericksburg and is on the Furnace road, which diverges from State Highway No. 37 about seven miles west of Fredericksburg.

SCHOOL CONTESTS SET FOR FRIDAY

Miss Ayres Conducting Eliminations by Districts.

The Journal announces with pleasure the fact that Miss Sue Ayres, rural supervisor, already has under way the preliminary contest among the elementary schools by which the contestants will be eliminated to districts for the final contest to be held Friday night, May 4, at the Manassas High School.

The contest as usual will be on reading, story telling and concluding with a spelling match. These contests were eliminated last year to two conditions which made the same necessary. These contests are always looked forward to by both the parents and children, and have become a fixed institution of great interest.

OLD-TIME PREACHERS AND CHURCHES

John Trone, of Buckland, and Burry Dulin, of Greenwich, Va. They were called "Old-time Preachers" because they were ready and anxious at all times to carry the gospel from place to place in filling the pulpits of their many churches. Men of great energy and enthusiasm in the spread of the gospel, of strict integrity, devoting their lives to the cause of religion, self-sacrificing, exemplifying the gospel of Christ in their daily living.

Parson Trone was a Methodist and Parson Dulin a Baptist; and everybody knew it; they didn't "hide their light under a bushel." They were so zealous of their respective doctrines, as to be almost intolerant of each other's sectarianism, less from bigotry than from whole-souled devotion of the cause. They were devoted and intimate friends, but never touched upon Baptism in their social chats, except in jest; never discussed it, but joked about it quite often.

As far in the past as my memory serves me—just a few years previous to the Civil War—Parson Trone's family of son and daughters had grown to manhood and womanhood, several of whom were married, and one of whom played a very important part in the infancy of my own life, of which I may have something to say at another time. (DV)

Parson Trone was also a blacksmith by trade, and worked at it daily, with the same earnestness in which he served his church. He neglected neither the souls of his people nor the shoes of their horses, but conducted his affairs, both secular and religious, with that same indomitable spirit that characterized his life in all matters. He was self educated and he made a good job of it, being well versed in both the secular and religious literature of the times. He was never uncertain in his opinions, and expounded the Scriptures, according to his doctrine, with a directness and power of logic, and with a command of language that bordered on inspiration; and did not cloud his thoughts; and when he had finished, all knew just what he had said and what he meant.

These few words about Parson Trone will fit almost exactly the character of his friend, Parson Dulin, also. They were two of a kind but as separate as the poles in Baptism.

Parson Dulin, self-educated, was a carpenter by trade, and labored as faithfully in that field as in the other, building with his own hands, meeting houses, during the week with the same earnestness, as when he lifted his voice in singing praises and carrying forward the gospel on Sunday. His enthusiasm was so contagious that help responded readily to his call.

During the summer he held frequent "bush meetings," which always drew large crowds; notably one that was held each year just east of Gainesville, where great throngs were in daily attendance. Anyone who attended and caught the inspiration, can easily imagine now, in passing that grove that Brother Dulin's voice is still making music with the forest leaves of each recurring season. Lose all their guilty stains."

And how bravely he seemed to be thinking of the end of his earthly life in closing the hymn with:

"Then in a nobler, sweeter song I'll sing Thy power to love
When this poor lisping, stammering tongue
Lies silent in the grave."

He was so much in earnest in carrying or sending the gospel to the heathen, that it is said in one of his prayers, he was so overcome by the theme, he asked that the gospel might be carried to "where the eye of God had never reached and the foot of man had never trod." This was not true, but any one could almost imagine such a flight of fancy when hearing him sing his favorite missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" and his voice in the closing verse would ring out in clear tones:

"Waft, waft ye winds His story
And you ye waters roll
Till like a sea of glory
It spreads from pole to pole."

Even today, in visiting that spot, hallowed by the "Spirits of just men made perfect" one can imagine the angels still chanting the glad evangel above the tree tops of that grove.

My first acquaintance with Parson Dulin was in the spring of 1863, when our family took refuge in Greenwich following the burning of Haymarket.

He preached wherever he could find a preaching place, and if he couldn't find one he made one.

Immediately after the war he began with his own hands to build Oak Dale Church. He preached there, as well as in other places, to the end of his days.

On my first visit to Parson Trone's shop he was working at the anvil with his sleeves rolled up, and the sparks flying. I said "Mr. Trone, why don't you roll your sleeves down to keep the sparks from burning you?" and he said "My lad, if my shirt gets burnt it leaves a hole, if my arm gets burnt it heals up."

He was taken off to prison at one time by the invading troops, as were many other citizens about that time, and suffered many other indignities common to those war days. He was a man of great courage and would brook no insult, even from a Yankee soldier; and one day as he came in from a squirrel hunt with his gun he found a number of soldiers at his gate, and one of them said "Old man give me that gun." Parson Trone said "I'd sooner give you the contents of it." Then the soldier said "I'd sooner come over there and give you a good beating," and he replied "Lay on McDuff, and damned be he who first cries hold, enough, mind you this is not my language, it's a quotation," he said.

On one occasion when he came over to Haymarket to preach in our little schoolhouse, some one handed him a text requesting him to preach from it, and he said "As a huntsman I like to load my own gun, but I'll do the best I can."

At one time, when he and Brother Dulin were chatting and passing a few jokes, the latter said "Brother Trone, I had the pleasure of baptizing and receiving into my church one of your members, who said he was tired of the lying classroom." Brother Trone said "Well I am glad to hear that; I think a lying Methodist should make a first class Baptist." Brother Dulin was a good sport, and laughed heartily, accepting the defeat.

All who knew these two men—their descendants, relatives and friends—must feel that no grander heritage could be theirs than the exemplary lives of these two old-time preachers.

WILL ROGERS IS FUNNIER THAN EVER IN NEW FILM, "MR. SKITCH"

The delightful persons of Anne Cameron's Saturday Evening Post story, "Green Dice," comes to life on the screen, with Will Rogers as "Mr. Skitch," the character name and title of the new Fox production, which opens next Monday at the Theatre in Manassas.

For outright entertainment, and good, healthy laughs, "Mr. Skitch" tops anything Rogers has done. It is hilarious entertainment. Always at his best in a modern, typical and timely picture, ("Mr. Skitch" is all of that), Rogers has the type of role that lets him loose with sallies of wit, the kind that have made him a national favorite as a humorist.

The story concerns a Missouri family that have lost all their savings in a bank failure. Forced out of their home, and their belongings taken away from them, they set out in a dilapidated car and make their way westward. Hoping to start anew in some other community, they migrate from one auto camp to another. The father of the family finally secures a job as waiter in a gambling casino. On the strength of a dollar tip, he splurges, and wins $3,000 at roulette. The family starts off for home in style. They suddenly discover that the money was lost at the tourist camp. Their search for the money proves unsuccessful, and they are once again penniless. They meet a newly-married couple, whose acquaintance they've made at the auto camp. Because of the bride's ability to impersonate famous movie stars, they decide to go to Hollywood to capitalize on her talents. This last sequence brings the film to an uproarious conclusion.

In support of Will Rogers, ZaSu Pitts, who is a star comedienne in her own right, heads the cast, and gives a flawless performance. Rochelle Hudson and Charles Starrett supply the romantic interest, and should be highly praised for their splendid portrayals. Other members of the cast who acquit themselves with distinction are Florence Desmond, Harry Green and Eugene Pallette.

WILLIAM THOMAS GRIFFITH

William Thomas Griffith departed from this life on April 10 at his home near Bealeton. He had been a semi-invalid since May, 1933, when he had a stroke of paralysis. Everything was done for him that kind loving hands could do but God's will be done.

He was born Aug. 10, 1860 and in 1883 he married Annie Eliza Smith of the Jollett section in Page County, Va., from which union there were seven children, four boys and three girls. And in 1901 God saw that it was best to take the mother and wife from the family circle from which time the father had to raise his children the best he could until 1903 he married his second wife, Mrs. Fenton Eppard, of the same section, a widow with five children which he hope to provide for.

This woman proved to be a good stepmother to his children but on Dec. 10, 1915, God in his wise judgment saw it best to take her from their midst. And on Aug. 31, 1922 he married his third wife, Mrs. Fannie Cove of Madison County, who survives him. There were no children born from his last two unions.

He is survived by the following children, F. I. Griffith of Stanley, Va.; Mrs. Hester Gordon of Woodbridge, Mrs. Gertrude Ramey of Springfield, Ind., J. L. and D. A. Griffith of Buckingham County, N. C., Griffith of Mt. Sidney, Va., and Mrs. Frances Martin of Washington, D. C. He also raised three of his grandchildren, Harry and Carl Griffith, of Bealeton, and Mrs. Milton Edwards of Washington. He was a kind loving father, all of his boys stuck to him and worked for him until his death. He also left 44 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren.

He is gone but not forgotten Beyond all earthly ties But God in his wisdom saw best To call him to his heavenly home beyond the skies.

His chair is vacant in our home Which never can be filled But a shining angel did appear And a beautiful voice said "Come."

His kind loving voice We will hear no more But we can prepare to meet him On that happy "Golden Shore."

Oh! how sweet it will be

When free from sorrow and pain We shall meet to part no more With our dear father again. by his daughter-in-law, Lottie M. Griffith.

BUCKLAND

Mrs. P. H. Lee and sons, Phillip and Bland, and Miss Edith Yates, who have spent the winter months at Charlottesville, returned to their home last week to spend the summer. Miss Belle Carter's condition remains about the same.

Mrs. M. C. Calvert is spending some time with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Calvert, in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Burgess and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dorns and children, all of New Baltimore, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwell Glascock.

Miss Mary Ella Graham, accompanied by her niece, little Miss Marion Lee, of Washington, spent the week-end at her home here.

We are sorry to report that Mr. P. H. Lee is still a patient at the University Hospital at Charlottesville, and latest reports from him say that he has not improved.

Miss Lora Glascock, who has spent the winter with her brother, Mr. Clyde Glascock, in Texas, is expected home now shortly.

Mr. Ben Yates had the misfortune to dislocate his arm while playing ball on Sunday.

 BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

THE ONE GREAT FRIEND:
 A man that hath friends must show himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.—Proverbs 18: 24.

THE LORTON WALL

Representative Howard W. Smith has been making a strenuous and much appreciated effort to secure the necessary legislation to complete the wall around the Lorton Reformatory. It is the duty of the Federal Government to properly enclose and police its various penal institutions so that citizens of the surrounding country may not be subjected to the apprehensions and real dangers which attend the escape of convicts. Completion of the project at this time would also furnish employment to many people who need it and it is hoped the insistence of Judge Smith will find the proper reaction in the Congress.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

In order to qualify for the Democratic Primary next August and in the general election next November, all voters should pay their poll tax by May 6.

It is early to predict what may come up for consideration of the electorate, but it is wise to be prepared. When your friends needs your help, it is certainly unfortunate to be unable to do your bit, merely because of a carelessness which has been of no benefit to anybody. Most voters who fail to qualify in time, finally do pay the tax for other reasons, so, if eventually, why not now. The most honorable badge of good citizenship is a record of continuous and thoughtful participation in all elections. Our ancestors made great sacrifices to secure this benefit and we ought to have sufficient pride to exercise the right of suffrage.

GARDEN PLANNING IS GOOD BUSINESS

It is difficult to grasp the thought that on any farm where foodstuffs supposedly grow in abundance there should ever be a shortage of the right things to eat. Nevertheless it is true in Lancaster County as well as in practically all parts of this country that while there may be plenty of fruits and vegetables during the growing season, many farm families do not make sufficient provisions for the winter.

Agricultural extension workers have long realized that with good planning this state of affairs can easily be avoided. In the southern sections where large cotton crops sometime crowd the kitchen garden out entirely, there has been a "live-at-home" campaign in almost every State for several years.

The depression has shown the great value of planned preparations for year-round living. Farm families with very little cash have managed to have abundant supplies of home-grown foods where a garden budget was used. Many farm households have not only filled their own cellars and pantries with stored and canned products, but have contributed generously to relief supplies.

Various names are given to the central "live-at-home" idea. In Oregon it is called "home-made living"; in Kansas, a "food production plan"; in Delaware the slogan is "Farm first for food and feed"; in West Virginia, "Adventures in good living"; in Texas, "Filling the farm pantry and smokehouse." Under one name or another most State extension workers are vigorously recommending a balanced family food plan and sending to anyone in the State scientifically prepared plans for raising all the foods a family will need for the whole year. These plans of course take into consideration local conditions as well as the make-up of each family.

In general they suggest that each household of five should keep two cows freshening at different times, about 50 hens, a planned half-acre garden sufficient to provide both fresh vegetables and a surplus for canning and a half acre orchard.—Rappahannock Record.

Editor the Manassas Journal,
 Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

I am very much interested as well as in sympathy with your article, "Be Kind to Animals," in last week's Journal, for I know that it plays a most important part in a child's education. I do hope that you will give this subject much publicity and in this way educate the public as well as the children—in many instances it is the older people that set the example of being cruel to animals, and the children are not to blame. Personally, I do not believe a child that is fond of animals and kind to them will develop the criminal instinct in later years.

(The following lines have been very helpful to me in teaching children to be kind to dumb animals:

 "Take not in sport that life you cannot give,
 For all things have an equal right to live."

A lover of animals,
 MRS. J. WALTER BROWN,

CHEVROLET ANNOUNCES NEW MODELS

Chevrolet today announces "the world's lowest price six-cylinder car" with the introduction of the new improved 1934 Standard Six models, supplementing the Master Chevrolet models previously presented.

Two closed and two open car models comprise the new improved Standard line. They are the sport roadster, $490; phaeton, $520; coupe, $510, and two-door sedan, $520. The new cars, says the Chevrolet Motor Company's announcement, thus list under any other six on the market, and $85 to $95 under corresponding models of the Master Chevrolets.

The new cars are replete with major improvements designed to achieve better performances, riding qualities, comfort, and appearance. Both chassis and body have been completely redesigned in keeping with the latest advance in engineering and styling.

Roadability, and especially stability, have been enhanced through the adoption of a wider chassis frame and more widely spaced leaf springs front and rear, in conjunction with a longer front axle and increased tread of the front wheels. These chassis improvements have permitted the use of big, roomy bodies having maximum width and ample leg room.

In the power plant, smoothness, economy and flexibility have been improved through a thorough revision of the inlet and exhaust systems, with higher compression, and a refined valve and tappet mechanism, including a redesigned camshaft.

The new models share with the Master series such appearance features as sleek, flowing lines, deep fenders hugging the tires, long hood with horizontal louvers, and steeply inclined radiator grille. Numerous interior refinements similarly enhance the style and finish of the passenger compartments.

The exterior has been generally redesigned to add to style and utility. Deep front fenders, extending far over the tires, conceal unsightly chassis parts, with only a shallow "valley" remaining between fenders and hood. Front fenders are formed to extend to the center of the car body, the radiator, eliminating the separate radiator splash guard. Fender skirts have been given sharp, graceful contours, making them appear to sit closely to the tires. Edges of the fenders have turned in flanges for extra stiffness.

The re-styled front-end ensemble includes new designs for the hood and radiator grille. The hood is unusually long, and has three horizontal louvers. Front fenders, radiator and head lamps are supported as a unit on a stabilized mounting of improved design, insulated from the frame by a single centrally located rubber cushion. Running boards blend smoothly into the fenders, and are finished with a longer rubber mat, extending farther toward the rear.

A most pleasing appearance has been gained in the instrument panel. It is wide at the center, the lower edge sweeping upward toward the ends in a graceful curve. The instrument group is enclosed in an embossed elliptical head, flanked by depressed panels. The steering wheel is 17 inches in diameter. Closed car models are equipped with improved Fisher no-draft ventilation, and with a reversed cow ventilation, opening toward the rear, similar to the arrangements of the Master models.

Among the special structural features of the newly styled closed bodies are increased strength resulting from a new design of cowl braces and the bolted roof rail structure, and numerous improvements in the doors, which are equipped with an adjustable diagonal brace, shorter and sturdier hinges, improved dovetail and striker plates, and new half-round lock bolts. Other improvements have been effected in the windshield sealing, the door locks, and the stream-lined outside door hinges. The closed cars are wired for radio.

The two open models, phaeton and sport roadster, are innovations in the domestic line on this chassis model.

IN RE: GAINESVILLE DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL:
On motion of J. Murray Taylor, and seconded by J. W. Merchant, it was ordered before this Board takes any further action on the Gainesville District High School proposition, that Mr. T. E. Didlake will be notified.

Unanimous Vote:
IN RE: GRANT FOR HAYMARKET SCHOOL BUILDING:

Whereas, at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County, Virginia, held on the 23rd day of January, 1934, a resolution was passed by the Board, approving the application of the County School Board of said County to the Emergency Administration of Public Works for a grant in the sum of $12,000.00, being 30% of $40,000.00, the estimated cost of the labor and material necessary to construct a public school building at Haymarket, in Gainesville Magisterial District, and agreeing that, if the grant should be allowed and the project entered into, the said Board of Supervisors would lay adequate levies against said District to repay a contemplated loan from the State Literary Fund in the sum of $28,000.00 to provide for the residue of the cost of said school building, during the life of such loan; and

Whereas, at a meeting of the said Board of Supervisors, held on the 27th day of March, 1934, the action taken by the Board at its said meeting of January 23, 1934, was taken up for reconsideration and action thereon postponed until this, the next regular meeting of the Board; and

Whereas, the said Board of Supervisors has since ascertained that a levy against the property in said district, even at the maximum rate of 25c on each $100.00 of such property, would be inadequate to repay, within the time prescribed by law, the said loan and the interest accruing thereon; and

Whereas, there has developed a great deal of opposition on the part of certain of the citizens and tax payers of said district to the erection of said school building;

Be it, therefore, resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Prince William County, assembled on this the 24th day of April, 1934, all of the members of the Board being present, that the action taken by said Board at its said meeting on the 23rd day of January, 1934, and also at its said meeting on the 27th day of March, 1934, be, and the same is hereby rescinded, set aside and annulled in toto, with the suggestion to the citizens and taxpayers of said Gainesville District that have recourse to a bond issue election to determine whether said school building be erected, if they are so advised.

IN RE: RESIDENT ENGINEER MEETING WITH BOARD:

E. D. Hubbard, Resident Engineer, of the State Highway Department, met with the Board from eleven o'clock until noon, the following roads were discussed: Davis Ford Road from Buckhall to G. C. Russell's store; Cross County Road from Manassas to Dumfries; Old Weaver Road near Dumfries, on petition of certain citizens. The one trouble seemed to be, the Engineers for this County seemed to be moved before they become familiar with roads and soil.

STRATFORD TO OPEN SHORTLY

The official opening of the Stratford Store at Stratford Hall, Westmoreland County, Va., birthplace of General Robert E. Lee, will take place Saturday, May 5. It will be an all-day festival and will serve as a prelude to the Fourth Annual Spring Celebration to be held on the afternoon of Sunday, May 6.

General B. F. Cheatham, U. S. Army (retired), resident superintendent at Stratford, has assisted Mrs. Cazenove Lee, chairman of the Store Committee of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, Inc., and her committee members in arranging one of the most interesting, unique and original programs ever devised in the Old Dominion. As a matter of fact, it is not on record that any similar program of activities has ever before been devised in Virginia, showing unusual features and exhibits, and striking and significant displays of "Wares" to be sold for a patriotic cause and which link the present day with Queen Anne's England.

"Who, for example, ever heard of 'Smoked Turkeys'?" Mrs. William Cabell Bruce is responsible for the suggestion and revival of this ancient and little known old English delicacy. She contributed the recipe to the Stratford Store last spring, through General Cheatham. "Smoked Turkeys" are prepared very like the regular Stratford Home. The General has been experimenting with these turkeys for several months and has evolved a most unusual and delectable product. All the Stratford products, including these turkeys, hams, bacon, sausage, preserves, jams, pickles, fresh eggs and water-round meal will all be on display in the Stratford kitchen as well as in the store. Printed recipes for the hams and turkeys are sold with the articles.

At the Plantation Fair which will be in progress throughout the day a competitive display of saleable articles will be shown which are to be contributed by the thirty-one States under the Lee Foundation. These articles will represent certain "goods" for which each State is especially famous, such as candied orange peel and orange marmalade from Florida; pralines from New Orleans, peaches from Georgia, pine cone baskets from North Carolina, textiles and hand-craft objects, etc. If a State arranges an exhibit sufficiently attractive and saleable it will be rewarded by receiving the privilege of having a permanent niche in The Stratford Store every day in the year.

The idea is to lend a festival air to the occasion and the suggestion of olden times on a colonial plantation. A group of negro musicians dressed as plantation servants of the early 18th century will wander about the grounds adjacent to the historic mansion, playing their instruments and singing folk ballads and old familiar songs. In the Stratford kitchen an old negro Mammy will preside, preparing hoe cake, to be served with tea and preserves to the visitors.

On the grounds of the mansion a nursery exhibit will be displayed comprising the laurel, holly and dogwood for which Stratford has been famous for two hundred years, together with ivy and box. Here "Uncle Wes" will preside. Uncle West is an old colored servant who was born and brought up at Stratford. His parents and grandparents before him and their ancestors who "belonged to the Lees" lived and worked there for over two centuries. His paternal ancestor "West" is mentioned in Philip Ludwell Lee's inventory. Last October "Uncle Wes" was officially introduced to Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of the President, during her three day visit to Stratford.

The Home-Industries exhibit, particularly sponsored by General Cheatham, will be shown in the grounds. It will comprise rope-making, the whittling of cedar articles and other articles which will eventually be made at Stratford such as cornshuck mats, hearth brooms, split bottom chairs and baskets, and irons and fire tools, "chimney furniture," water-ground meal and blankets made from Stratford wool.

The Stratford exhibits, to be shown in the mansion, comprise the architect's plans and drawings for the renovation and restoration of this old colonial home; fragments of pottery and glass found in the excavations of the gardens, including the piece of Queensware in the 1778 inventory of Philip Ludwell Lee which was the basis of selection for the Stratford Hall Plates and, an exhibit in the dining room, will be the table set with the beautiful plates and an attractive arrangement of 18th century linen, silver, china and flowers.

Assisting Mrs. Lee in the direction and management of the selling end of the store business will be the sales chairmen from the various States under the Foundation.

THE car that flashed down a Florida beach to the world's land speed record was powered by the V-type engine. The V-type engine knifed an Italian plane through the air at the record-breaking speed of more than 420 miles per hour. On the St. Clair River, the V-type engine swept a speed-boat to the world's record of 124.8 miles per hour. And that's the type of engine that powers the Ford V-8 for 1934. It's the only V-8 engine in a car selling for less than $2,545.

A cash payment of thirty cents per pound, with the grower to receive the benefit of any advance in the market, was made by the association for the first wool received from Prince William County Wednesday.

Wheat Adjustment Payments and Inspection

If wheat prices do not reach parity during the term of the contract, which includes wheat seeded last fall and that to be seeded in the fall of this year, cooperators will receive five more adjustment payments. These include the second installment of the payment for 1933, two payments for 1934, and two for 1935. Inspection of farms for which a wheat adjustment contract has been signed will be completed before harvest.

Average Conditions Set Corn Appraisal

An estimate of the probable yield of contracted corn acreage under average conditions, rather than any record yield, will be the guide in appraising the land that will be rented to the government this year under the terms of the corn-hog adjustment contract.

Administrative rulings provide that the community committeemen shall determine what in their best judgment would be the yield of corn on the contracted area in 1934 under weather and other conditions affecting yield, similar to the average of the past 10 years.

In each individual case, the committeemen will take into account the present fertility of the land, the prevalence of insect pests and plant diseases, the yield of various crops, including corn, which may have been grown on the field during the past five years, the type of soil, drainage, erosion and other characteristics of the field, and any other knowledge bearing on the probable productivity of the field in 1934.

Committeemen making the yield appraisal also will be guided by the 5-year and 10-year average yield for the county and for the State. Further, the contract regulations specify that in no event shall the yield of any field be estimated as greater than 65 bushels per acre.

It is emphasized that farmers should keep in mind the basis for appraisal of the contracted acreage and to understand that record yields in the past do not constitute that basis. Unless farmers keep this in mind, there may be disappointments and misunderstandings when the appraisal committee has finished its work.

It is recognized, of course, that individual appraisals of contracted land will vary on either side of these averages, depending upon the extent to which the retired acres differ from the average land in the county. Some contract signers are taking better-than-average land out of production; other producers are laying off their less valuable land.

ADEN

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Berryman most delightfully entertained the Sunbeam Class at their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday night, April 24. Mrs. Bowman acting as a substitute had charge of the program using the theme, "The Living Christ"—A, "The Resurrection"; B, "The Ascension and Enthronement"; C, "The Christ Lives Today." The program consisted mostly of music and much interest was manifested. Thirty were present, which proves that our young people are not afraid of a "downpour" of rain.

A number from here are planning to attend the school contest which is being held on Thursday afternoon at the B. D. H. S.

The Christian Endeavor will give a program Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The theme will be "Qualities That Make for Success." Special music will be given by the Misses Foster and Garman girls of Nokesville and also from members of our Christian Endeavor. Rev. Kesner and Rev. Lawson will thoroughly discuss the subject. Come and be with us.

The many friends of Mrs. Geo. Shaffer are sorry to know her condition has not improved and at this writing she is quite ill.

Mrs. S. S. Stultz is slowly improving and is able to be around in her home.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL SERIES

The Occoquan High School team won their first game of the county series last Friday when they defeated the strong Manassas High School team by a score of 8 to 3 which was played on the diamond at the District Work House at Occoquan. The features of the game was the twirling of Ralph Shepard and the hitting of Wash Reynolds who slammed a homer in the eighth with two mates aboard.

THOS. J. MURDIE

On the passing of Thos. J. Murdie, one of the most highly respected citizens of Prince William County, a gloom was cast over the community in which he resided.

Born in Almer, Ontario, Canada, Jan. 29, 1850. United in marriage in Soudon, Canada, Jan. 15, 1878, to Miss Eliza Brown of his native city. She with a son and daughter mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father.

In 1870 Mr. Murdie bought land in Lapeer County, Mich., when that state was a vast forest, experienced pioneer life, developed a splendid farm and home, where they lived until failing health required a milder climate.

Leaving friends of earlier years and adjusting the different conditions in a new home is not so easy for a person as years advance.

In 1914 the family settled in the present home.

Mr. Murdie had a quiet way which endeared him to all. Friends always received a warm welcome and an invitation to have a bite to eat at a well laden table and come again soon.

Life to him was home, duty and devotion to his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdie and family quietly observed their golden wedding Jan. 15, 1929, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. R. C. Strother, when they received many tokens of esteem and friendship.

Failing health each year kept Mr. Murdie near the home he loved and enjoyed. After an illness of about five weeks, endured with patience, he peacefully entered the great silence April 10, 1934.

Mr. Murdie is survived by a sister and brother living in Michigan. On account of advanced age they were unable to make a long journey.

Rev. Sapp, pastor of M. E. Church, Gainesville, conducted funeral services which closed by singing "Rock of Ages." Interment in Gainesville cemetery.

The warfare has passed. Life's battle are like a swift fleeting meteor; a flash of lightning, a break of the wave. We pass from life to rest in the grave.

EVERY woman praises the brilliant beauty and modern styling of the new de luxe General Electric refrigerators. Here are the aristocrats of all refrigerators—the most attractive we have ever presented. And, within those snowy white walls is the famous General Electric mechanism.

Be sure to see the new G-E models before you select a refrigerator for your home. They are now on display at our show rooms. Here you can look at both types of household refrigerators—the sealed-in-steel life-time Monitor Top that requires no attention, not even oiling—and the G-E conventional flat-top type with new styling and performance capacity to be found in no other popular-priced refrigerator.

REX BELL SCORES AS ACTOR IN "FIGHTING TEXANS" NEW TYPE OF WESTERN MELODRAMA

"Fighting Texans" featuring Rex Bell comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Friday, May 4. Here is one cowboy hero who can act as well as he can ride. Not even his dare-devil race for life, which gives a punch finish to the picture, could dim the fact that he played his comedy scenes with all the finesse of a veteran stage performer. Added to which, he varied his usual western costume by appearing part time in "city" clothes, and made a dashing figure in them.

Bell's role is that of a live-wire salesman, who is sent to Burnett, Tex., to represent oil interests. After making a slow start, due to opposition from his predecessor's friends, he fairly cleans up the town. Both Randy and the investors get a jolt when the news leaks out that the well he's been plugging is dry. Left to hold the bag, Randy is mobbed. A bullet aimed at him goes wild and hits the town sheriff instead. Randy gets blamed for the shooting, but makes a spectacular escape, and eventually clears up the trouble and marries the right girl.

Rex Bell gives the best performance of his career in "Fighting Texans," while both Luana Walters and Betty Mack, the two women in the case, inject both charm and romance into their roles. Gordon DeMain scores as the heavy, and Lafe McKee, Al Bridge, George Hayes and George Nash contribute clever characterizations. The feature was well directed by Armand Schaefer.

SHOCK-PROOF STEERING

CHEVROLET When you pay the price of a Knee-Action car, you naturally want genuine Knee-Action and all that goes with it. You want the new gliding ride at its best. You want the huskiest, sturdiest front-end you can buy. And, of course, you want shock-proof steering. You pay for them all—but you get them all, in the low-price field, only from Chevrolet. The reason is simple. Fully-enclosed Knee-Action wheels are costly to build—so costly that only Chevrolet, world's largest builder of cars, can afford to make the necessary huge investment in new machinery—and still keep prices among the lowest of the low. Only Chevrolet has the resources and the assured volume of sales that permit this extra production cost. Chevrolet does it because Chevrolet believes that, to KEEP ON SELLING THE MOST CARS, YOU MUST KEEP ON BUILDING THE BEST.

LOSERS TO LEE-JACKSON

The Manassas High School lost to Lee-Jackson on local field yesterday afternoon, although outhitting the visitors two to one. Bowers and Shaw were the mainstays at the bat with Vetter leading the folding. Inability of the local pitchers to settle down was the chief cause of defeat.
