MAY BREAKFAST PLANS COMPLETE

Many Out-of-Town Guests Expected.

Plans for the May breakfast to be given by the Manassas Woman's Club, on Wednesday, May 9, in the dining room of Swavely School, are rapidly being completed, and indications are that this will be among one of the most delightful and unique social functions sponsored by this wide-awake organization.

Mrs. Robert Smith, retiring president, will preside, and introduce the incoming officers, of both the senior group and the junior organization.

Mrs. Josephine J. Doggett, from National Federation of Woman's Clubs headquarters in Washington, D. C., will be the guest speaker. She will speak on "The Federation and What It Means to Smaller Groups." Mrs. Doggett is a charming and entertaining speaker, and the club feels most fortunate to be able to present her at this time.

Musical features, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Logan, and the music section, include piano selections by Mrs. Beatrice Leachman; music by the Manassas octette, which recently sang in the music festival at Charlottesville; songs by the winning class in the hymn contest, being held in public schools.

Unusual and beautiful floral decorations are being arranged by the Garden section, under the supervision of Mrs. Margart Lewis, chairman of committee on decorations.

Members of the Haymarket and Fredericksburg Woman's Clubs have been invited, and a large attendance is expected. Requests are also being received for reservations from a number of outstanding club women of Washington and surrounding communities.

Members of Manassas Club are requested to make reservations at once so that the committee may be in a position to allocate space to as many of these out-of-town guests as may be conveniently accommodated.

Committee on arrangements are: Mrs. C. G. Lynn, Mrs. Bettie Leachman, Mrs. Eli Swavely.

MISS EUGENIA WILL RETIRE

R. Worth Peters Will Become Principal in 1935-36.

On request of Miss Eugenia Osbourn, for many years principal of Manassas High, that she be relieved of the active duties of principal after the next session, and that the Board appoint an associate principal for session 1934-35 who will succeed her at principal in 1935-36, the Board appointed R. Worth Peters, present principal of the Occoquan High School, as associate principal for the next session with the understanding that he will succeed Miss Osbourn after the next term.

The Board also decided that when Miss Osbourn retires as principal she will be made permanent librarian for the Manassas High School.

The Board expressed gratification at the fact that Miss Osbourn is willing after so many years of faithful service to continue in some capacity in the future that will render her help and advice available as a furtherance of her influence and inspiration in the community in which she has labored so long.

The superintendent reported prices on coal from several companies showing a tendency toward an increase in prices.

In view of this the Board authorized purchase of coal and other items which may be affected by price advance.

A committee from North Fork School (colored) at Thoroughfare in the interest of a new building and a new location. The widening of the John Marshall Highway has eliminated the playground. The building is old and dilapidated. The league offered $400 which they will give on a new building.

The Board appointed the superintendent and Mrs. Piercy a committee to report at next meeting.

The next meeting of the Board will be on June 13, one week later than the regular time in order to meet after the close of the present school term.

Don't forget the Junior Woman's Club "Spring Dance" to be given in Conner's Hall on May 11. The club is taking every possible step to make this dance a success. We need your support.

BULL RUN GRANGE HAS LARGE CLASS

Recent Initiation Sets Record for Local Group.

Bull Run Grange held the largest initiation last Friday, the 27th of April, that they have yet had at one time. Thirteen new members being taken in.

The initiation team from Middletown came and took charge of the affair starting with a drill that was put on with snap and finish, and then proceeding with the initiation that was carried out most impressively and with all the beauty that marks such occasions.

Middletown has a degree team that is worthy of the highest praise and we are warm in our appreciation of their kind offices the other night.

The members of Bull Run Grange served a delicious supper, and the hall was decorated with pine and red bud and spring flowers to make a fitting setting for such a gathering. In all, it was a night that will linger long in the memory of all that were present and surely will be an inspiration to those new members who were so happily received. There are others who have signified their intention of joining soon and we feel assured that this is to be a banner year for Bull Run Grange.

Rev. Mr. Carpenter, the master, urged all the members and their friends to be sure and attend rural church Sunday services which will be held in St. Paul's Church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that all Grangers will be on hand, and as many others as can come are urged to do so.

MANASSAS A. C. DEFEATS QUANTICO

Manassas A. C. travelled to Quantico to play the Quantico Indians and returned home with the bacon, the score being 3 to 2. Newton was wild but settled down in pinches. He allowed 8 hits and passed 5 men. M. A. C. made 3 runs in the lucky 7th inning when Newton doubled after there were 2 outs, followed by successive singles by Lynn, Vetter and Saunders.

Lynn made the outstanding play of the afternoon when he made a one-handed catch while running.

The Quantico Indians are coming to Manassas Sunday for a return game to be played at Swavely Field at 3 p.m.

GREENWICH H. D. GROUP TO HAVE SPECIAL MEETING

REPEAT PLAY "HERE COMES CHARLIE"

The popular play, "Here Comes Charlie," will be given next Wednesday night, in the Manassas High School auditorium by the Occoquan High School Senior Class under the sponsorship of the "Yellow Jacket."

This play was so well received at Occoquan that it was considered worthy of being repeated. A large crowd is expected to see it.

TUBERCULOSIS IS CURABLE

(State Health Department Clinic)

It is a well-known fact that 80 per cent, or eight out of every ten, cases of tuberculosis are cured who are properly treated in the early stage of the disease. The majority of cases, unfortunately, do not seek medical aid until they have reached an advanced stage.

Tuberculosis, as a rule, does not cause pain or suffering in the early stage. For this reason, it is sometimes very difficult to convince those found in this stage that they have tuberculosis, and this delays treatment until it is too late. To find it early they must consult their physician as soon as they feel the least bit badly.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease, which accounts for its running in families. One careless patient often gives it to the children and young people who live in the same home, or to a less extent to those with whom they associate outside the home. These people may break down with the disease long after being in contact with the patient. For this reason, anyone who has been around (especially during childhood, adolescence, or early adult life) a person who died with lung trouble, should be examined once a year as a precaution, and at any other time he feels badly in any way.

A clinic will be conducted by a specialist of the State Department of Health for this purpose in the Courthouse at Manassas on Monday, May 21. This clinic will be under the auspices of the County Board of Health and in co-operation with the physicians of the county.

If any treatment is found necessary, it must be done by the family physician, whose care and advice they must depend on for their health and happiness anyway. For this reason, it is necessary for those wishing an examination, which is free of cost to all, to consult their family doctor or visiting nurse and make an appointment. Those who do not have a written request from their doctor, or have not made arrangements with the nurse, will necessarily be turned away.

Children under fifteen years of age are not examined at this clinic unless especially referred by a doctor. It has long been recognized that tuberculosis in children cannot be found without a special examination in which the tuberculin test and the x-ray are used.

Graded school contests tomorrow night at Manassas High.

Due to Philip's outstanding project work during the past few years, we are selecting him for this honor and wish to congratulate him for the recognition he has won."

Following the regular business session of the community association, vespers services were held by the club on the athletic field under the leadership of Geraldine Shepherd. A spectacular feature of the evening's program was the 4-H Candle Lighting ceremony.

all men of every race, class or type, irrespective of any mediocrity of shortcoming of any kind. This is distinctly different from the world's way of doing things. There clan-niness and partisanship prevail.
But in the Christian way of approach to our fellowmen we are to recognize the inherent worth of all men, and respect them as such, including them in our thought and plan and prayer.

We are accustomed to pay respect to some men, usually those who have risen to prominence in the world of affairs. We make much of the President, or of the Governor, or of those in temporal authority. Or we pay special tribute to an Einstein, or an Edison, or to others who in science and even religion have taken a position of prominence. And quite merry wars are waged in our social centers by those who have nothing to do and do it so thoroughly as to who shall head the list of the "upper crust." Now, as to those who have led in service of their fellowmen, let there be no abatement of our honor to them. They deserve it. It is right that we should so respect them for their service. But the injunction of our text implies that every person of every class shall be held in high esteem. And until we do so, we have not caught the full spirit of the Christian order. We therefore consider today the theme.

HONOR ALL MEN

I. We observe in the first place that the example of our God and of His Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, lead us to the observance of this injunction. In all His dealing with His creation, the care for the less worthy is evident. It was His care for the sinner that shaped the history of the development of mankind, until in the fulness of time He sent His only-begotten Son to be to us a Savior. We are taught that He sends His rain and His sunshine upon the unjust as unreservedly as upon the just; and in view of His mercy and goodness we are enjoined to be perfect as our Father in heaven is perfect. It is very apparent to any thoughtful man that God is not a respecter of persons, and that the lowliest are the objects of His loving thought and care as are the inheritors of high estate. Truly all men, irrespective of worldly place or achievement are equally dear and respected in His sight, and if we would be like Him we do well to "honor all men."

So also is it Christlike to honor all men. One must indeed be devoid of all sympathy for needy human kind, not to thrill with the stories of the Jesus who was so much interested in every class of men, but especially those who were of the ordinary or less than ordinary type. He was not the Savior for Jews only, nor interested in Jews only. He came to save ALL men, and to declare to ALL men the riches of His grace.
He therefore was concerned very much about sinners. It was particularly such he sought out, and you will remember that it was laid to his charge that he fellowshiped with publicans and sinners. We may also see His concern when we remember how He risked His reputation and personal safety to go to the defense and protection of the woman who was taken in the very act of adultery. Surely, if Christ saw something worthy of respect in characters such as these—in these on the very fringe of the social order—we must needs cultivate the vision that can see something worthy in them likewise. If being a Christian is to be like Him, then this injunction of the text is quite in order.

II. And now let us look into the reason for such an attitude. What is there in a man, no matter what his station in life, that requires our respect?

(a) In every man there is a mind.
To some people this may not seem of such importance. Yet, if one appreciates the real purpose of the mind, one can see why man is to be respected. For the mind is given us primarily, not to make a living, but to make a life. It is that within man by which he can go in quest of the truth, and to the degree that he finds it and heeds it, makes it possible for a man to think God's thoughts after Him. Let this function of the man operate and develop to the fullest possible extent, and there are no ends to which man can not attain. All the marvellous blessings and enrichment of life which have accrued to us of this age and generation are our warrant to see lying dormant in even the lowest order of men that which is worthy of the highest reverence and respect.

(b) In every man there is an immortal soul. No matter how indifferent a man may be to the spiritual and eternal things of life, or to what degree he debases himself, he still has this something eternal and God-like in him; he can not escape the fact that he is created in the image of God. He may be filled with hatred toward all men, yet within him lie fountains of love and kindness that await discovery and development. He may be selfish to the extreme, yet somewhere in his heart there is the possibility to sacrifice and suffer if need be. He may be vile, unspeakably vile and vicious, yet washed in the blood of Jesus Christ, he will be clean and pure and altogether lovely. Certainly in his nature and powers man is essentially divine, however undivine he may be in the use of them. It is because of this inherent capacity for God that we must honor every human being. For, alongside of this capacity and gift, what is to be compared with it in value? The biggest thing in any man's life is this divine quality. All other attainments are of small importance in comparison. Hence we needs must honor men, no matter what race or clan, what order or type.

III. It seems that in this age and day this lesson and its truth as indicated in our text need special emphasis. We are so apt to be driven by race and clan or group interests into the pathways of selfishness. Like the Pharisee and the publican of old, we draw our cloaks about us and go on to other business, more important in our sight, letting men lie in the gutters of life to perish or suffer.
The outcast and the wastrel; the outlawed and the prodigal—honor them as worthy of your utmost to help them find salvation instead of despising them.

Honor the common man. Of him the poet Gray sang the song of appreciation in his famous Elegy. Abraham Lincoln said, "God must have loved the common people, for He made so many of them." After all, the major portion of our steady progress is dependent upon the common man. It is of him Milton sang in his ode on Blindness, "They also serve who only stand and wait." Honor such.

Honor the child. Thank God for the new science of paidology. We are just beginning to see the importance of the child, and yet years ago Jesus took such into His arms and said, "Of such is the kingdom of God." How many wretched lives went into wreckage in the past because there was no proper effort or influence exercised upon the child that later grew into perverted manhood and womanhood! And what a lot of such wreckage could have been saved if folks had learned to honor all men!

Honor the serving class. We are so apt to look down upon those who perform the menial tasks of life with disdain. What real worthwhile difference can a few paltry dollars or a few acres of ground or a few years of intellectual pollishing make in those things which are really significant in man when he stands before the judgment seat?

In the same manner we could continue by way of illustration. To put it into a few words, there is too much of that spirit of self-esteem and self-seeking in the world today. Such a spirit is not well pleasing unto God nor is it worthy of the Christ whose name we bear. The genuine and proper humility which is Christian-like, and by which He can be served has learned to "honor all men."

"GUN JUSTICE" MAY-
NARD'S NEWEST WESTERN
COMING NEXT WEEK

Theatre goers will offered an unusual set of thrills at the showing of "Gun Justice," the fifth of a series of Ken Maynard western pictures released by Universal which has just been booked for the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12, according to an announcement by Manager Hibbs.

In the picture, Maynard finds himself pitted against not only one group of outlaws, but two, who are trying to get possession of a rich, strategically situated ranch willed to Maynard so they can drive cattle through a pass. The story is thrown against an amazingly beautiful background of rugged western scenery, for which the company was transported to Kernville, California for the filming.

Supporting him are the beautiful Cecilia Parker, Hooper Atchley, veteran stage and screen actor, Walter Miller, the "bad man" of the Universal serial, "Gordon of Ghost City," Jack Rockwell, Jack Richardson, Sheldon Lewis and Francis Ford.
Alan James, credited with many western successes, directed. The story is by Robert Quigley, noted western writer.

WILL GIVE PAGEANT

The pupils of Jerusalem Baptist Sunday school (Fairfax Station) are preparing a pageant "Faithful Stewards" to be given at 11 a.m. during the morning session of the spring convention of the Sunday schools of Centreville district.

Mrs. Ruth Pyles, district secretary, has released a very interesting program which will begin at about 10 o'clock this Sunday morning. It is the first all-day session which the district has held for several years. A basket luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. Drinks will be furnished by the host school (Jerusalem Baptist).

IN APPRECIATION

To all our neighbors and friends who were so kind and helpful to us in our recent loss, we wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation.

Mrs. C. D. Pately and children.

CATHARPIN

If the fruit in this section succeeds in making even a halfway decent display of itself this season there will be no thanks extended to old Jack Frost and his icicles for the old rascal certainly put forth his every effort to kill it; but in spite of all he could do it now seems that the cherries and some apples have escaped. Peaches, however, seem to have lost out. But if he now quits and the PWA will grant us a ten million dollar loan we think we shall be able to pull thru providing blackberries are plentiful.

About two weeks ago, little Rita, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson and Catharpin Lynn, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Lynn, developed infantile paralysis and for the past two weeks have been in a very serious and critical condition but at present writing both are showing improvement and all concerned are hopeful of an early recovery. Little Caroline has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Robertson, during the past winter and both children took the disease at the same time. Where they got it no one knows but the children as well as the parents have the sympathy of the whole neighborhood and their full recovery is devoutly wished.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon, after a fortnight at Oakwood, returned to Washington and will later visit their son, Dr. R. H. McCutcheon, at Mt. Alto, Pa.

Last Sunday was a beautiful day and the Sudley Sunday school looked like prosperous times again after the winter's shutdown; classes were filled to overflowing, teachers in good spirit, and in fact it looked as tho' the Sunday school had gotten clear round that old "corner" we have been hearing so much about; at any rate everybody got down to real business and enjoyed it all. The Bible class is full of enthusiasm and new members are being added weekly.

A new schedule governing services at Gainesville and Sudley has been worked out by the pastor, Rev. A. B. Sapp, and beginning the first Sunday in May and continuing regularly thereafter there will be preaching at Gainesville each Sunday morning at 10 a.m. and at Sudley at 11 a.m. Thus each appointment will have morning services each Sunday. The new plan is expected to equalize opportunity and looks like a good one.

A fair crowd attended the Spencer sale at Sudley mill on Saturday last and as usual some things sold pretty well and others not so well. Horses seem to have the call just now especially the "draft" variety. For the past few years farmers and others had begun to look upon the tractor and truck as the panacea for most of their "drawbar" ills, but for some reason or other old Tom and Bill and Nell and Fan seem to be coming back again, and, bless 'em, let them come.

Mr. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres visited Mulberry Fields, Md., last Saturday and returned with a fine thoroughbred (well, some kind of a cow) which he purchased from his friend, Col. W. Garand Fay. Six Acres has always been noted for the richness of its milk and the prospect now is that it shall be richer still.

A number of Catharpin folks attended the recital by Mrs. Nancy Byrd Turner in high school auditorium, Manassas, on Friday night last and enjoyed it very much.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn at Ben Lomond on Friday evening.

Mrs. Harry F. Lynn, of Richmond, is a Lawn Vale visitor during the illness of her little daughter, Caroline.

Garden making is supposed to be the order of the day around these parts just now but very little has been done along that line. Potatoes, however, which were planted on the 17th of March are a credit to old St. Patrick because most of them are up and those not yet ready to enjoy the sunlight have sent word that they are on the way. Some gardens are yet unplowed but those fortunate enough to have their onions and curly mustard in the ground have declared, upon oath, that some of them are growing. That anything should grow during his kind weather seems so much of a miracle that statements to that effect have to be either witnessed or sworn to.

This column had a letter from Mr. C. E. Jordan of Cristobal, Canal Zone, in which he stated that he was going to give a few reminiscences of the preachers and churches of his boyhood memory and after that he would accept our suggestion and tell us something about Panama. We are writing him, giving in detail just how much people have enjoyed his recent letters via The Journal and the comments one hears about them. His first installment about "Preachers and Churches" has started the older people to oiling up some of the old, rusty wheels of memory and to recall many things long since forgotten and which make mighty interesting history for the younger generations. It is just such memories as a man like Jordan can produce, that will give the "Latter Day Saints" much profitable and useful information as well as a very pleasant acquaintance with the past. He says that we "are to blame for getting him started." Well, we are mighty glad of it and what's more we are going to keep him going, too.

We are now living in what is generally known as the "Machine Age" and both eulogy and condemnation are being heaped upon it. The machine is being described by some as the "Great Emancipator" and by others as the "Enemy of Civilization." However we shall not enter upon a discussion of either extreme but content ourselves by suggesting a few improvements which we feel sure would be a great benefit to humanity. For instance, we would like to suggest that the typewriter manufacturers invent some kind of a fool-proof attachment that would compel the thing to spell correctly. We find ours sometimes, in spite of all we can do, will slip upon us and make us appear foolish when all the world knows we can spell anything. And while we are in a suggestive mood we should like to include linotype machines. As wonderful as they are we find they are afflicted with the same disease. We have frequently noticed that they too fool us sometimes by getting the wrong letter in the right place or omit something sometimes. But since man, himself, is not perfect, we can hardly expect his inventions to be, so we shall all have to "watch our step" as best we can until they get them all "streamlined," then "trade our old ones in."

ADEN

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Herring had as recent guests Mrs. Claude Jones of College Park, Ga., Mrs. Ella Hooe and little daughter, Marie, of Nokesville, Miss Lelia Herring, Mr. R. Robbin and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Robbin of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. James McMichael and little daughter spent a few weeks at the home of Mrs. McMichael's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kerlin. They have now gone to their temporary home near Catlett.

Mr. Horace Smith, a victim of that popular disease, measles, has recovered sufficiently to come to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith.

Mrs. George Shaffer is quite indisposed at this time.

Mrs. Hasting Herring, who has been quite sick, is able to sit up and somewhat improved.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Manassas Journal

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

GOD'S PLEASANT SURPRISES: Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.—1 Corinthians 2: 9.

TRADE AT HOME

Labor troubles in Washington cause little or no concern in Manassas. In our community we are able to secure the necessities and most of the luxuries of life, so that in such times we reap the benefit of the home trading idea to a marked degree.

Such strikes as those going on in Washington at this time ought, however, to cause some folks who do too little trading at home, to stop and think. Is it not true that they have these local facilities because of a community spirit they may be neglecting? Others more loyal to Prince William County should not alone carry on while the catalog buyers and Washington traders send out money which should go to the support of our schools and roads. We should all stick together and develop our local resources. Then when bad times come upon our metropolitan neighbors, we have only to feel sorry. There will be no other cause for concern because our local merchants, with the patronage of the whole community, can carry a line of goods sufficient for all requirements. Trade at home and be a real community builder!

SATISFACTION, NOT STAGNATION

Is the apparent satisfaction of Virginians with their representatives in Congress to be taken as a sign of political stagnation? An old maxim of legislation says that special cases make poor laws. So it might be argued that to favor or oppose men because of single votes on particular bills, is a less desirable standard of measurement than a consideration of their character and general record over the years. It was nevertheless a source of satisfaction to Virginians generally that the entire delegation from this state stood by the President in the matter of his recent veto of the Independent Offices appropriation bill. Virginia was the only one of the states to have that unanimous record.

So far, only two members of Congress have made definite announcement of candidacy for reelection—John W. Flannagan, of the Ninth, nominated by Democratic convention, and Andrew Jackson, Montague, of the Third. It is presumed that all nine members of the House from Virginia, now serving as Congressmen-at-large, will be candidates in the districts determined by act of the recent Legislature.

The smashing victory of United States Senator Byrd over Henry A. Wise, Republican, last November, for the unexpired term of Secretary Swanson, seems to indicate that Mr. Byrd will be unopposed either in his own party or by a Republican for a Senate term in his own right. There is a feeling that having won his election, Mr. Byrd is entitled to a full Senate term before crossing lances at the polls, and giving account of his record. Any opposition he might have would be but a nominal gesture. No Democrat seeks to oppose him. No Republican will allow his name to be used save as a matter of party regularity.

Nor does it seem likely that former Governor Montague will have opposition. Dave E. Satterfield, who managed Governor Peery's campaign, and who was formerly Commonwealth's attorney of Richmond, and Ashton Dovell, of Williamsburg, Democratic floor leader of the House of Delegates, have both been reported to have Congressional aspirations. But it does not appear that either desires to enter the lists against one who has been a member of the House since 1913. Only five members have been there longer than Congressman Montague.

In the First District, there have been rumors that S. Otis Bland may be opposed by State Senator W. A. Wright, of Tappahannock, but Senator Wright has authorized no such assumption. And in the Fourth district there have been rumors that Congressman Drewry might have opposition. He was afraid any change in the lines of the former Fourth district might help to bring that about. But so far no opposition has appeared. His apprehension as to the dangers of Congressional redistricting seems to have been exaggerated.

After looking over the field, The Richmond Times-Dispatch says that for the other Virginia Congressmen, there is no serious talk of opposition. It might be argued that the lack of any Congressional primary, coupled with either no Republican opposition, or only nominal opposition for the sake of the record, is a sign of political stagnation. Rather it seems to be a sign of satisfaction with the Virginia delegation, and in the main, with the work it has been doing. — Roanoke World-News.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of our dear son and brother, Marye Wilson Russell, who departed this life two months ago today, May 1, 1934. Age sixteen years eleven months and twenty-four days.

He has gone through the gate to another land,
Led by the Master's hand.
Where everyone is kind and good
Where everything is understood.

So we are trying to believe that the One above
Has taken him home as an act of love.
But oh, the blow was hard, the shock severe,
To part from one we loved so dear.
By his loving Mother and Father,
Sister and Brother.

TRANSPLANTING DOGWOOD

The dogwood, with its masses of early spring flowers, its dark-red autumn foliage and its bright-red berries, is probably our most ornamental native tree. It may be used either in mass planting or a isolated specimens, and is especially suitable for highway beautification where electric wires make the use of a low growing tree necessary. Dogwood thrives throughout the state and on a variety of soils. Its selection by the General Assembly as Virginia's State Flower was both natural and fortunate.

While dogwood is often transplanted to home grounds, many have experienced difficulty in moving the trees successfully, especially where they have attempted to bring large trees from woods or field. The best method for handling such specimens is to make preparations a year in advance by digging a trench all round the tree at a distance of two feet or more. The purpose of this is to cut the long spreading roots and encourage the formation of short branching ones. After the roots have been cut, the soil should be replaced until time for transplanting. The tree is then moved with the mass of earth and roots intact. When handled in this manner, little top pruning is necessary and growth is scarcely checked.

Most people, however, desire a simpler and less expensive method. For this, smaller trees are necessary; the smaller the tree the easier it is to move. If moved with a ball of soil in place about the roots, success is assured. In most cases, however, this is impractical and to insure success the following precautions should be observed—

- (1) Dig the trees carefully so as to avoid damage to the roots. If any are broken, trim off the damaged ends with a sharp knife.
- (2) Plant the tree at the same depth it stood in its original location. If it needs support, tie it to a stake driven in the ground.

(4) Spread the roots in as near their natural position as possible and pack fresh top soil tightly about them. Do not use fertilizers next to the roots.

(5) Mulch transplanted trees with coarse manure, straw, lawn clippings or any suitable material, and water occasionally but thoroughly during dry weather.

Although slight color variations are often found in the woods, the deep pink varieties are available only in nurseries, where they are propagated by budding. It is reported that the pink forms thrive best in an acid soil and gradually lose their color if grown in a soil which is rich in lime.

MUCH RESEARCH REQUIRED OF DETECTIVE STORY AUTHORS

The life of a detective story writer is not all beer and skittles, as it is supposed to be. Ask S. S. Dine if you want confirmation of that statement. One doesn't merely sit down and pound out story after story, with twisting plots and diabolic characters, without some preparation and some investigation.

To write detective stories he will tell you one must have, first, a knowledge of the methods used by sleuths, as well as criminals. This requires personal contact.

COUNTY AGENTS' COLUMN

Corn-Hog Contract Signers May Buy Extra Feeder Pigs.

A limited purchase of extra feeder pigs in 1934, in excess of the average number purchased in the 1932-33 period, may be made by a contracting producer from other contract signers, a recent ruling by the A.A.A. on the corn-hog contract states. Formerly he was limited to the average number purchased by him during the last two years.

The ruling was made to accommodate the producer who does not have enough pigs in 1934 to fill his marketable hog allotment.

To qualify for such purchase, a contract signer must file a request with his county allotment committee, stating the number of pigs to be bought, from whom, and why. This request must be signed by a member of the community committee and approved by the county committee before purchase can be made.

Pigs bought under these terms must also have been farrowed on farms located in the same county as the land under contract and by sows owned by persons who have executed corn contracts as producers and who have no feeder pig bases. The purchaser, however, can buy only enough pigs to bring his total to the number which he is permitted by his contract to produce from his own sows.

For example, if Farmer A is allowed to produce from his own sows in 1934, a total of 100 pigs for market, but on account of disease or other causes, only 80 pigs are actually produced for market, then Farmer A, with the consent of his local corn-hog committeemen, might buy not more than 20 extra feeder pigs from other contract signers; that is, Farmer A might buy a total of not more than 20 feeder pigs in excess of any feeder pig allotment he possess under the terms of the contract.

In case a contract signer owned, owns, or will own no interest in any 1934 hog litters, he may purchase, in 1934, with the consent of the number of local corn-hog officials, a number of feeder pigs not to exceed 75 per cent of the number of hogs produced for market from 1932 litters or 1933 litters, whichever is higher. In cases where the contract signer has no hog base or feeder pig base or has not obtained a transfer of hog base from a retiring producer under the terms of the contract or Administrative Rulings, he may purchase up to ten feeder pigs in 1934.

WOODBIDGE

A good crowd of friends and relatives were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Davis at Davis' Beach last Sunday.

Jack Lambert has recently moved to Woodbridge.

Mr. Charlie Arrington is in the Alexandria Hospital after an operation for appendicitis. The last report, he is doing well.

Mr. Reading, the game morgan, has kept Mr. C. C. Whitmer quite busy serving warrants on people without dog tags.

Uncle Nick has gotten some new kind of tobacco that won't fill the cans gotten around here. He says it is the finest tobacco ever grown around here but he cannot keep it in bulk straight. It is always moving and causes his bulk to fall down.

WEEKLY LAUGHS FROM WOODBRIDGE

If any of you good people of Woodbridge enjoy looking at the unusual just get up about 5:30 some morning and watch Harry Tyrrell run to the school house and back in nothing but shoes and shorts, to reduce his weight in order to play ball. It's worth looking at.

I see Carl Eike has gone in the painting business. He came down the road the other morning with so many ladders on his old model T. He looked like a volunteer hook and ladder company. Now you have to hand it to him. He has taken all the business away from the rest of our local painters. When Ike throws the hooks into you, you are hooked. With the painting business shot Reuben is loafing and Robert E. with his better half has gone to trucking with Blair and his life time boss. Anybody wanting anything in the vegetable line from celery to watermelons can get it from them. Put your order in early. Bob says if the girls can raise a good crop he and Blair can certainly sell it. Bob will drive that high powered car of his and Blair can be his jumper. Well the girls are both healthy and strong looking so I am sure they can do their part. But I want to know who is going to pull the plow.

Woodbridge seems to have gone rock garden mad. But so many big rocks are being used that a lot of people are thinking that maybe they are not rock gardens but graveyards.
