SCHOOL WINNERS AT CONTEST

Big Audience at County-Wide Event.

The final contests for the elementary schools of the county was held on May 4 at the Manassas High School. The crowd attending was larger than usual and the contestants were loudly applauded.

The fine exhibition given by the children was an evidence not only of the ability of the children but the careful and painstaking method in which they had been instructed under the supervision of Miss Ayres who is completing her first year in the county.

The spelling contest consumed a full half hour when the word which brought it to an end was found. It was not as hard as some they had already been spelling. The judges took a long time to bring in a complete report as there were so many very close decisions.

Finally when Professor Haydon read the list of winners and they took their places, the groups with their little banners and ribbons presented a very pretty sight.

Their names and the places won are as follows:

Reading

First grade: 1. Bernice Hooker, Nokesville; 2. Ann Dulaney, Haymarket; 3. June Abel, Quantico.

Second grade: 1. Betty Lovelace, Dumfries; 2. Glenn Slusher, Manassas; 3. Mary Celestine Green, Aden.

Third grade: Inez Jellison, Occoquan; Stanley Anderson, Forest Hill; Celestine McLearn, Nokesville.

Fourth grade: Laura Abel, Dumfries; Nancy Leachman, Manassas; Eugene Nolley, Nokesville.

Fifth grade: Betty McMichael, Nokesville; Mollie Leachman, Manassas; Louise Mills, Bethel.

Sixth grade: William Anderson, Quantico; Bettie Bean, Manassas; Mary P. Carter, Haymarket.

Spelling

Eloise Hendricks, Nokesville; Eunice Jellison, Occoquan (shipper was word missed).

The judges for the occasion were Fauquier County faculty members, Miss Ruby Lowman, of Warrenton; Miss Zanie Guthrie, of Remington; and Mrs. Marie T. Blanchard, of Bealeton.

M.H.S. BASEBALL TEAM WINS 3 OF 4

Play Undeclared Occoquan High Team on Home Field Friday.

The Manassas High School baseball team which has captured three of its last four games, will tackle the undefeated Occoquan High team here at Manassas on Friday afternoon. The visitors have won all four of their county league games and Manassas is all set to give them their first setback of the year. Sheppard, who has pitched two no-hit games this year, will pitch for the team from the lower end of the county.

The local team, which was handicapped earlier in the season by inexperience and poor weather for practice, has hit its true stride in its last four games, showing a great improvement in both hitting and fielding. They have scored 42 runs on 42 hits in these four games, for an average of better than ten runs per game.

The three victories in these four contests are credited in the pitching column to Captain Tommy Kite, who has come to the rescue of the team as a pitcher while Buck Albrite has been having trouble getting his arm in shape.

Johnny Waters owns the highest average, but must share the honors with Richard Bowers, who has played in more games.

The averages are as follows:

Player	AB	Runs	Hits	Ave
Waters	12	5	5	.417
Bowers	33	6	12	.364
Smith	29	6	9	.310
Kite	26	8	8	.308
Albrite	24	8	7	.292
Vetter	26	4	5	.192
Fogle	29	5	5	.172
Beavers	18	3	3	.167
Boatwright	12	3	2	.167
Vance	6	1	1	.167
Worley	4	0	0	.000

We deeply regret to announce the death of Major F. W. Patterson, former editor of this paper. He was a courteous affable gentleman and during his residence in this county made many warm friends who sincerely mourn his passing.

To his widow and other members of his family we offer our sympathy in their bereavement.

CLUB DISCUSSES SCHOOL AID

Report Given on Minstrel Show.

The Kiwanis Club spent part of its time last week lamenting the fact that Bob had broken his immaculate attendance record. A message of consolation was sent to him and the club members have been ringing his front door bell all the week.

The rest of the hour was spent, pro and con, and the subject of proposed federal aid for schools. There was a decided tendency against the idea which will again be debated later.

An invitation was read to join the Arlington Club in its semi-annual ladies night next week.

Ratliff reported $102 as the net result of the minstrel show and Fred Hynson stated that about $8 had been left over from ladies night receipts. The total sum was turned over to the underprivileged child fund.

MISS PATTIE ENTERTAINS JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The President Receives Token of Esteem.

The Junior Woman's Club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Lyon on Thursday, May 10, with the new president, Miss Esther Warren Pattie, presiding. The outgoing president, Miss Frances Bushong, presented Miss Pattie with a token, with which the meeting was opened.

Many business items were discussed and transacted, and Miss Rena Bevans gave a summary of the convention at Newport News, which she, Miss Sarah Lewis, and Miss Pattie attended. New and delightful ideas were brought back to the club as a consequence of the convention, as well as renewed enthusiasm.

The Girl Scout Troop was present and gave a very interesting program. Several of the girls outlined their studies and work in Scouting. These were given in well-prepared little talks, and pleasingly presented by the girls. Several songs were sung, and the manner in which their meetings are conducted was demonstrated. Nancy Leachman and Mary Mason Davis danced and sang. The troop expressed its gratitude to the Junior Woman's Club for its help in many things and also for being its sponsoring organization. The Juniors are extremely proud of the Scouts and feel that anything that they have done for them is well worth both time and money.

The dance, which the club gave on Friday, May 11, was an outstanding event, socially and financially, and the club is grateful to all who helped make this dance such a success.

FRATERNAL DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Baker, Mrs. Melza McDonald and Mr. J. N. Muddiman took the Norfolk steamer where they attended the annual convention of the Order Fraternal Americans and the Daughters of America.

They attended sessions and returned early this morning.

The state president of D. of A. is Mrs. Mabel Geifer, of Richmond. State officers from northern Virginia are associate vice councilor, Mrs. Margaret Day, of Kenmore (Fairfax); warden, Miss Bessie Blincoe, of Cherrysdale; inside sentinel, Mrs. Lula Danton, of Clarendon, and state judiciary, Miss Sophie Mann, of Cherrysdale.

Several hundred were in attendance and the usual banquet and sightseeing were enjoyed. Except for a rough voyage down, the local group had a fine time.

NOTE

An article on George A. Weedon, whose 94th birthday occurs tomorrow, has been omitted because there is not time this afternoon to get it in. It will be published next week.

ON CAPITOL HILL

A wild life conservation program year in rural sections by hunters and that will seek to assist the farmer in anglers.

producing an income from wild life in sub-marginal areas which no longer can be profitably farmed is the aim of a special House Committee on wild life conservation, according to Representative A. Willis Robertson of the 7th Virginia District.

Robertson was author of a resolution adopted by the House in January which resulted in the creation of a special committee to study various phases of wild life conservation. Since that time the committee has been holding regular hearings, taking up, one at a time, the various Government departments engaged in conservation work. These include the Department of Agriculture that is administering through its forest service 16,000,000 acres of Federal lands, and through its Bureau of Biological Survey the migratory bird situation; the Department of Commerce, which, through its Bureau of Fisheries, has jurisdiction of commercial and game fish and the sealeries industry, as well as the National Park and Reclamation Service of the Department of Interior.

The committee's program contemplates the purchase of millions of acres of submarginal land to be devoted to the production of fish and game and from which the present occupants will not be moved but given employment in connection with the game management.

It is planned to give those living in these game managed areas a 20 acre garden plot on which to raise their own food, but nothing for the market. Work would be provided, it is believed, for 150 days a year at a rate of not less than 30 cents an hour.

These submarginal lands would include marsh areas for migratory birds and mountain and other upland areas for other types of game birds and animals.

The committee is confident an abundant supply of wild life would mean millions of dollars spent every

No Bed of Roses

The life of a member of Congress is certainly not a "bed of roses," complains Representative Wilburn Cartwright, of Oklahoma.

Amid the pressure of legislation, Mr. Cartwright stopped long enough the other day to give the House his own impressions of the life of a member and to picture some of the troubles as though they did not know them already. He prefaced his remarks, however, with the statement that despite all the trials and tribulations, "a Congressman is never willing to give up his seat to another unless he is ready to retire."

Cartwright listed at the head of the troubles, the fact that a member is forced to be a walking petition and a living prayer for votes, and because of this he does not have an opportunity to do his best work on legislative matters.

Commodity Exchange Bill

Efforts are to be made in the closing days of the current session of Congress to rush through a Bill to regulate commodity exchanges as a sort of a companion to the stock exchange control bill.

The House probably will consider such a measure first, since Chairman Jones, of the Agriculture Committee, already has announced his intention of asking the Rules Committee to give it privileged status on the calendar.

The sentiment in the Senate for such a bill has been far less in evidence, however.

Outstanding among the arguments advanced for passage of a commodity control measure is the fear that closing of the stock exchange to wild speculation will shift gambling elements to the commodity markets. In fact, the House Agriculture Committee has said this transfer of speculation might mean "possibly dangerous results to producers of commodities."

"It is even conceivable," the committee declared, "that certain inter-

PROGRESS ON 4th ANNUAL DAIRY FESTIVAL REPORTED

Application forms and certificates of membership are now being prepared by Fred R. Hynson and the campaign for new members will be gotten under way at an early date.

Miss Sue Ayres, rural school supervisor, has written the pageant in which the pupils of the Prince William schools will participate under her direction.

E. G. Parrish of the floats committee has already received several float entries and reports that the prospect of having a creditable array of floats is very encouraging.

J. Jenkin Davies, publicity chairman, has obtained an offer of co-operation from Robert F. Nelson, director of publicity of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, and, as he so ably did last year, will again obtain national publicity thru the press services for the event.

MOTHER'S DAY AT LINTON HALL

Cadets Drill for Prizes in Afternoon.

Sunday, May 13, was a gala day at Linton Hall Military School, Bristow, Va. With the rest of the United States, Mother's Day was celebrated. Many mothers were at the school to keep the day with their young sons. The chapel services early in the morning were beautiful and the hymns sung by the cadet choir had been selected for the occasion with great care. Dame Nature, often times capricious, had favored the occasion with one of her choicest days, a mild west wind breaking the heat that might have been excessive.

The great event, however, was set for the afternoon, a dress parade, competitive drill between Companies A and B, guard mounting, band and awarding of prizes. The judges were Colonel Deems, Major Borden and Lieut. Carson, the commandant. Occupying the grandstand with these were the Cadet Battalion Adjutant, Leonard B. Doggett, and Cadet Lieut. Thomas Herb, officer of the day.

The two companies went through their various movements with a precision and skill that was worthy of the highest praise and elicited long applause from the very large audience that had gathered. The cadet captains of Companies A and B were John Reading and Francis Cromwell, respectively. Finally the decision for the best trained company was made in favor of Company B and the little captain went forward to receive the silver cup for his proud company. It must always be borne in mind that none of these lads are over thirteen years of age.

Then came the crucial test for the best trained cadet. Six were chosen from each company and marched forward to the grandstand. Here the commandant gave the commands. It took quite a drilling to reduce to one. Cadet Corporal Edward T. Brennan of Washington, D. C., was the victor and was happy to have the bronze medal pinned on his breast midst the loud cheering of the onlookers.

The badge for the highest scholarship was likewise carried off by Edward Brennan. Cadet Captain John Reading of Washington, D. C., was voted the most popular cadet in the school and received a bronze medal.

The Linton Hall band participated in many of the military movements. Their accomplishments on the brass and reed instruments are nothing short of marvelous. Finally with the band playing the Star Spangled Banner, officers and companies at salute, the audience standing in silent attention, the flag was lowered and Linton Hall had successfully closed one of her many activities.

ests not in sympathy with the agricultural program will, through short selling and undercover dealing in the speculative markets endeavor to defeat and destroy it."

The commodity control bill reported out by the House Committee proposes control by a separate commission, and fixed no marginal requirements. One of the provisions, however, would require that margin money be considered as trust funds and not to be used for margin unless deposited with a bank.

MOSBY IS THEME AT UDC MEETING

Local Chapter Guests of Mrs. Maude Kinchele.

Manassas Chapter U. D. C. was delightfully entertained for the May meeting at the hospitable home of Mrs. Maude Kinchele with Mrs. James Conner and Miss Mamie Conner assistant hostesses. The attendance was excellent and an interesting meeting followed.

After the reports of officers and committees were read and accepted the secretary read a letter from Mrs. Slater, president of Upperville Chapter, relative to the District Convention to be held in Upperville May 14 and 15 to which the following delegates were elected: Mesdames R. S. Hynson, Wm. Hill Brown, J. B. T. Thornton, T. J. Ashford and Mrs. Herbert Nash; Alternates Mesdames Humphrey Hibbs, Robert Hutchison, A. H. Cook, Austin Weedon and Mrs. M. M. Washington.

The registrar, Mrs. Lonas, stated that Mrs. Mary Wright's certificate of membership had been received. The names of Mrs. Alonza Metz and Mrs. Raymond Burhen were presented and accepted for membership. The excellent attendance and the number of applications for membership interest in U. D. C. work.

A letter from Judge John Barton Payne stated that it would give him much pleasure to attend the Memorial exercises June 3 if the time didn't conflict with other engagements.

The following judges were selected for the prize essays to be written by the 8th grade: Mesdames Johnson, Washington and Thornton.

Mrs. Hibbs stated that the Manassas Garden Club requested the co-operation of the Daughters in beautifying the approach to the Battlefield Park and invited them to attend a meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Lewis when Mr. John Rust would be present to confer with them in regard to this project.

Mrs. Andrews called attention to the lack of signs pointing the way to the Battlefield and the inconvenience to tourists caused by this neglect.

The first step towards securing a chapter house has been taken. The lot has been secured and the chairman of the building committee reports the building fund increasing. The business session completed, the historian presented Mrs. Middlethorpe, who delighted the audience with a paper on Gen. John S. Mosby's Partisan Warfare, mentioning some familiar names taking part. This interesting paper was much enjoyed.

A poem, "John S. Mosby," written by Dr. Randolph Lueker was well rendered by Miss Virginia Conner, niece of the hostess. The meeting adjourned and during which delicious ice cream, cake and bonbons were enjoyed by all.

OTHER OLD-TIME PREACHERS AND CHURCHES

Among the many old-field preachers of the past who labored earnestly in their respective fields was Rev. Tom Lyle, a new school Baptist preacher in Prince William and lower Fauquier. He preached anywhere at any time when called upon, carrying the gospel, according to his light to all corners of his limited world, where two or three were gathered together.

He never passed a collection plate for what is politely called, in this day, an "offering"—which is frequently a misnomer—but did his begging from door to door.

Another New School Baptist was Rev. Horace Newman, a well-known and popular preacher with quite an extensive field of labor. His education may have been limited, but he had the gift of oratory, and frequently surprised his congregation with flights of eloquence that would have done credit to Beecher or Talmadge. On one occasion at Antioch his subject was the "Atonement" which he expounded in a masterful manner, and closed his peroration by saying "I can imagine the angels unstrung their harps and laid them on the battlefields of Heaven while Jehovah was considering the momentous question of Atonement."

A widely-known Old School Baptist preacher of the 60's and earlier was Elder Bob Leachman. He was a man of strict integrity, quick and earnest in word and action; devoted to his work and beloved by everyone, whether of his faith or otherwise. He was thoroughly versed in the Scriptures, and preached "faith Without Works" and "foreordination" with convincing eloquence.

At the close of each sermon everybody in reach of his voice knew he was an Old School Baptist, and that if they were born to be hanged they would not be drowned.

He was arrested during the war and sent to the Old Capitol prison. Many other prominent citizens were imprisoned, from early in 1863, when Mosby began operating in Virginia to the close of the war.

While in prison his fellow prisoners requested the keeper of the prison to allow Elder Leachman to preach for them. Mr. Wood, the superintendent, was a very good man but quite boisterous, ill-mannered and profane. He went to interview the preacher and said to him, "Are you a preacher?" He replied "Yes, sir, that is what I profess to be." Mr. Wood said, "Well, damned if you look like one." Parson Leachman then said "You cannot always judge one correctly by his looks, as any one looking at you would take you to be a gentleman." This ended the interview, and Elder Leachman preached for them. This story was told me by my good friend of former days, Joseph N. Utterback, who was also a good Old School Baptist, and believed just as implicitly as did Elder Leachman that "What is to be will be, if it never comes to pass"; and would often say to me, as a closing argument, "If you don't believe what is to be will be, just prove to me that what is to be won't be." This always closed the debate in his favor.

One of Elder Leachman's appointments was at Broad Run Church, the old brick meeting house at Little Georgetown.

Just before service one Sunday in 1862 he was showing an excited group where a Yankee bullet had

Why Visit a Funeral Home?

As we extend this invitation for you to visit our funeral home, the thought arises that you may wonder what reason there is for your accepting it. Briefly, it is no longer customary to wait until need arises before visiting a funeral home. Almost everyone may be obligated to make arrangements for a relative, friend or neighbor. Foresighted people are making it a point to visit and know about the facilities of modern funeral homes, as one of their responsibilities. By doing this they avoid hurried decisions, made in emergencies, that might result in lasting regret. They secure information which helps make their final tribute to loved ones as considerate and beautiful as possible.

been shot through the pommel of his saddle; and after great felicitations on their part for the narrow escape, he said "Well, the saddle was hanging in the barn when this happened."

Thaddeus Herndon, a New School Baptist preacher, was pastor of Antioch Church for forty years, and was greatly honored and beloved by all who knew him. He was a large man physically and mentally, of fine physique and commanding presence. A full generation had grown up in the church under his guidance, a real shepherd as well as pastor, counsellor and guide.

So general was the confidence reposed in his character, common sense and righteous judgment in all matters, that what he commanded was the law as well as the gospel for old and young, being looked up to by all as an earnest expounder of the Scriptures and a real mentor in matters affecting the welfare of the people. He attracted to his church the substantial, prosperous citizens of that section, of whom I am tempted to jot down some notes just here. But I am writing of the days in the past of which few now living remember, and will leave later records for the work of younger men.

The old church building was an old stone structure, with thick walls, denoting permanence and strength, and symbolizing the character of its builders. There were two front doors—one for men and boys and the other for ladies and girls. There were cuspidors on the men's side in each pew, as men generally were tobacco chewers in those days, and this was a source of relief in sitting through long sermons.

Baptisms took place in a stream near the church—always by immersion.

The old Sudley church was the center of Methodism as far back as my memory goes. It had almost the appearance of a Mecca, as people from a distance without regard to church affiliations, gathered there, in spite of bad hills and rough roads. Such an atmosphere of fellowship pervaded this spot, that all were attracted to the services.

I do not recall the names of the old-time preachers, but judging by this same Christian spirit that abounds there still, their labors were not in vain.

Sudley suffered more than its share of the scourge of war, being the scene of the first Bull Run Battle.

Among the many attractive physical features at Sudley was a fine sulphur spring, and in my childhood's innocence—or ignorance—this was associated in my mind with the holy water used in St. Paul's Church at Haymarket, from the fact that Judge Tyler's family at Woodlawn sent there regularly each week to get the sulphur water for medicinal purposes. Judge Tyler's family were the custodians of the communion silver, and also provided the wine for the communion. Having heard vaguely of the miracle at Cana I naturally thought that in some miraculous way this sulphur water was converted into wine by the preacher. Sulphur also being associated in my mind with the fires of hell, I reasoned that if this sulphur could be changed to something pleasant, then hell could be changed to Heaven by the same miracle and sinners would be saved.

St. Paul's is the oldest church in Prince William County and in my earliest recollection Rev. John Towles was the rector. Services were held each alternate Sunday or monthly. Unaggressive, as always, the church moved along in the even tenor of its way, so quietly that someone said there was neither religion nor politics in the Episcopal Church. However it was pretty well known that politics, at least, gave some signs of life along in the 80's, but that is another story, and I am writing only of the days when the churches generally had not drifted so far away from the pristine purity; of the days when on entering St. Paul's those two old tablets met the eye; one on the right with the Ten Commandments and one on the left with the creed and Lord's prayer; and in my early days I felt certain that they were the original tablets handed down by Moses and written by the finger of God. In later years when I found those tables removed and relegated to the discard dump, I felt a deep sense of loss that remain with me to this day.

Miss Alice Maude Ewell, in her booklet of the celebration of St. Paul's Centennial in 1930 expresses my feelings and opinion perfectly on the subject of this innovation, saying how often things of real sentimental value, things that are bound up with our joys and sorrows, and part and parcel of our lives, are brushed aside by the cruel hand of progress. Looking on the gilded ornament during service does not arouse the sense of awe and spirit of worship effected by plain surroundings with a simple service.

In the old days when at the beginning of service "The Lord is in His Holy Temple" was read, the real Presence seemed to appear. And when the Te Deum was recited the responses were full and clear, with the shrill voice of Dr. Stuart heard above the rest.

The days that are in my memory just now are the days when Mrs. Shirley Carter presided at the old church organ, and with her two daughters, Anna and Jennie, composed the choir. When, after the first lesson, on occasions, the Second Canticle, the "Benedicite" would be sung: "O all ye works of the Lord bless ye the Lord praise Him and magnify Him forever," and then after the second lesson, the Jubilate Deo, rounded out a beautiful service; and to my untutored mind there has been nothing more inspiring since.

I am yet unconvinced that stained glass windows or pipe organs have, in any church, added to the depth of piety or right living. The sacred traditions and aims of the church have been brushed aside by the tyranny of fashion, and plunged the churches into an interminable maze of debt, from which it requires all the effort that otherwise might be devoted to the real and imperishable affairs of life, to extricate the church from the thraldom of debt.

"Lo! All our pomp of yesterday Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!" Lord God of hosts be with us yet! Lest we forget, lest we forget."

The trend now is again in the direction of the things and the ways of by-gone ages and it is to be hoped the churches will adopt the plans inaugurated by Henry Ford in rebuilding ancient villages, and of Rockefeller in restoring old Williamsburg to its old-time glory.

THE JOURNAL'S BIRTHDAY

With this issue the JOURNAL enters another volume of service sincerely dedicated to the interests of Prince William County.
 Much of its history may be new to the present operators but there is a background of loyalty which is a compliment to both its former editors and to the good people of this county. We have felt it in the dark days, worse than which few of us can remember and which we hope are now securely behind.
 It has been a pleasure to carry on the work among such ideally congenial surroundings and our thanks are again extended to the many who have worked with us to continue to make The Journal one of Virginia's outstanding weeklies.

BYRD UNOPPOSED

With the time limit for filing notice of candidacy for State-wide offices expiring last night, United States Senator Harry F. Byrd becomes the unopposed candidate of the Democratic party for a six-year term in the Senate. He was elected last year for the unexpired term of Secretary Claude A. Swanson. Last year Mr. Byrd had no Democratic opposition, and in November won over Henry A. Wise, Republican, by what is said to have been the largest majority ever received by a Senatorial candidate in Virginia. It is not likely that Senator Byrd will have Republican opposition in November. If any candidate offers it will be for the sake of the record only, and no real campaign is to be expected. In fact, there has been a strong feeling in Virginia that having won his election only last year, for the remainder of Secretary Swanson's term. Senator Byrd should now be permitted to serve a term in his own right before again being challenged either in primary or general election. It was certainly not contemplated that United States Senators should come up for re-election every year, or that they be required to devote their time to one campaign after another, at intervals so frequent as seriously to interfere with their Senatorial duties.
 While the lists have not closed for announcement of Congressional candidates, yet in one district after another announcement is being made that Virginia Congressmen will have no opposition this summer. Ironing out of some differences in the Fourth district, leaving Representative Drewry unopposed, is the latest of such announcements. It now seems probable that no members of Congress from Virginia will have opposition in the August primary. Few of them will have more than nominal opposition in November. — Roanoke World-News.

Commenting on the above, we congratulate the people of Virginia that we are so well represented in Washington. Seldom has a state delegation, as a whole, enjoyed so much popularity.

This is particularly true of our Congressman, Howard W. Smith, who stands very close to the people of his district. There are very few, if any, who do not know him personally.

THANKS!

Prof. Ellicott brought us a bouquet of exquisite lilies-of-the-valley. We certainly appreciate the beautiful fragrant flowers.

Editor, The Journal:
 Dear Mr. Editor:
 Independent Hill Council No. 34, O.F.A., held a very interesting meeting Saturday night, May 12. We have just taken six new members, and held one of the greatest minstrel shows ever held in this county (Manassas not excepted.) Our door receipts proved that, and we wish to thank all the good friends who gave us that performance, and congratulate them on their willing spirits and their several abilities, and future success.

Our Manassas friends who forgot to come can see this same minstrel at Woodbine Schoolhouse on Friday night, 8 p.m., May 25.

Fraternally yours,
 R. C. Linton, F.S.,
 Manassas, Va., R. 2.

LOCAL BASEBALL NEWS

With Coach Reeves putting the boys through intensive training and a squad of twenty-five boys from which to draw at any time, Manassas seems to have the best team yet. The standing to-date this season is two and two in games won and lost. There was no game last Sunday owing to an unfortunate misunderstanding with the team which was scheduled to play here. Manassas failed to keep its engagement with this team on April 29 due to unforeseen contingencies and the matter was not correctly understood by the manager of the other team.
 Misinformation published to the effect that Manassas would play Quantico on May 6 nearly caused a mixup. The Manassas team had actually scheduled a game with Aldie and did not authorize the statement that a game would be played with Quantico on that date. This misinformation is regretted.

This coming Saturday, May 19, at 3 p.m., Manassas will go to Occoquan where a game will be played with the local team there. Occoquan will return this engagement on May 27. On Sunday afternoon, May 20, 3 p.m., on Swavely Field, the strong Swanee Athletic Club will come out from Washington to cross bats with Manassas. A full Sunday schedule up to July 8 has been slated and will be announced from week to week in The Journal.

O. O. Holler, President
 Prince William Fish and Game Ass'n
 Manassas, Va.
 Dear Sir:

Have you called the attention of your members to the damage to wild life being inflicted by the crow at this season of the year during the breeding periods of our ground nesting game birds? This is the time of the year when the crow is constantly on the hunt for eggs and he is an adept at finding them.

Our farmers also have a case against the crow for pulling up their sprouting corn, requiring them to do much replanting and will be glad of the hunters' assistance in ridding them of this destructive predator. I am passing this along to you feeling if you will drop a postal card to each of your members (if you have not already done so) requesting them to kill all the crows they can, it will mean a substantial saving of our game birds which will be reflected in the increase of game to be found in the territory over which they will hunt this fall.

Very truly yours,
 M. D. HART,
 Executive Secretary.

Miss Roberta Smith of Atlanta, Ga., spent the past week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith.

We recently heard a good housewife "complaining" that flies were slow in making their appearance this year. Well, some people go a long way, sometimes, to find something to complain about.

Spring storms, with greater or less violence, mostly greater, have visited this section during the past several weeks and left in their wake considerable destruction. The one on Monday afternoon was probably the nearest approach to a cyclone of them all; but all of them left uprooted trees and many other evidences of their visits.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Pattie of Falls Church and Mrs. A. L. Webb of Washington were Mother's Day dinner guests of Mrs. Etta P. Lynn.

Mrs. W. K. Caldwell and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald attended the "May breakfast" given by the Woman's Club of Manassas on Wednesday of last week.

Dr. C. F. Brower left on Saturday to join Mrs. Brower in Roanoke, Va., where they are now enjoying a visit with their daughter and family, Mrs. Hollman Willis of that city.

Mrs. Sidney Lawler and young daughter, of Glen Alton, Md., spent a fortnight with her mother, Mrs. P. S. Buckley, at the Buckley home near Catharpin. Upon her return home, Mrs. Lawler was accompanied by her mother who is now sojourning for a time in the State north of the Potomac.

The Misses Frances and Anne Robertson were Friday night guests of the Misses Piercy and all attended the banquet tendered by the third-year class to the Seniors of the Haymarket High School. The banquet was held in Parish Hall.

Sudley neighborhood was distressed and grieved upon hearing of the death of Mr. William Henry Wilkins who was drowned on Friday afternoon, May 11, in Catharpin Run near Sudley Mill. The deceased had been in poor health for a long time suffering from an incurable malady and while seated on the shore fishing, was overcome by a sudden attack which rendered him unconscious and causing his fall into the stream where he met his untimely death. Mr.

Wilkins, son of Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins of Sudley, was 49 years of age; native born and had spent most of his life in the neighborhood of his birth where he was at all times highly respected by all who knew him. Being a lifelong sufferer, he was naturally deprived of many business affairs for which he was well qualified to enter. He leaves his mother and five sisters to mourn his loss. Was buried from Sudley Church where services were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. A. B. Sapp at 2 p.m. May 13. Interment in the family lot in adjoining cemetery. Among the friends from a distance attending the funeral were noted Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilkins, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilkins and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Richards, all of Alexandria; Mrs. Andrew Pringle, of Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brower, Jr., of Purcellville, Va., and Mr. L. K. Lynn, Jr., of Washington.

GIRL SCOUTS HONOR MOTHERS

Give Party on Saturday

One of the many pretty parties given in Manassas of late was a party given by the Girl Scouts on Saturday preceding Mother's Day in honor of their mothers.

The home economics dining room was the scene of the lovely affair. The dining room was unusually attractive with a profusion of spring flowers. The table was graced with a green bowl of yellow tulips amidst four burning yellow candles. Yellow and green were attractively carried out in placards and favors made by the Scouts.

After a program given by the Scouts, the following mothers were served a delicious salad course prepared by the Girl Scouts:

Mesdames Fred Hynson, Newman, W. L. Lloyd, Davies, Fred Dowell, Al Hooff, Dick Morris, Pickeral, R. M. Jenkins, Rexrode, Breeden, Ellis Cornwell, Edgar Parrish, Gilliam and Misses Marion Wells, Esther Warren, Pattie, Rena Bevans, Walser Conner, Mary Will Chandler and Ethel Robinson.

WOODBIDGE

May 11 was a gala day at Davis Beach, the occasion being a birthday party given by Mrs. T. P. Davis for little Robert Tyrrell, better known in the community as Bobby. Shortly after 12 o'clock noon Howell Barnes drove in with a bus load of little guests, the entire first and second grades of the Occoquan school accompanied by their teacher, Miss Brydie. The children were seated for lunch at tables decorated with gaily colored balloons that always have and always will delight the heart of a child. After a delightful lunch there were races for the boys and girls of each grade. The prize for the first grade girls was won by Estelle Bourne and Aubrey Curtis took the prize for boys. For the second grade girls Dorothy Corder took first place while Preston Arnold took the honors for the boys. In the standing broad jump Bobby Hammill carried away the boys prize and Nellie Davis took top honors for the girls. Each child received a balloon when he left and all went away with happy hearts and memories that will not be forgotten soon. Those present included Jean Sanford, Nancy Thompson, Virginia Lacey, Dorothy Corder, Virginia Speakes, Catherine Speakes, Jean Ritters, Dolly Mundy, Nellie Davis, Josephine Neal, Zonta Kincheloe, Doris Jean Woodyard, Viola Roy, Catherine Tyson, Estelle Bourne, Ida May Payne, Peggy Ann Davis, Donny Tyrrell, Lee Eike, Bobby Hammill, Preston Arnold, Ralph Ward, Ralph Gordon, Bobby Payne, Jimmy Lewis, Walter Haislip, Jr., Lyndon Kidwell, Aubrey Curtis, John Dawson and Irving Jellison. Mrs. Davis was assisted by Mrs. Wade Hammill, Mrs. Richard Payne, Mrs. Bartley Davis, Mrs. Harry Tyrrell, Miss L. Brydie and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allen.

WEEKLY LAUGHS FROM WOODBRIDGE

I was talking to Old Blackgum the other day and he says he has all his tobacco up in big 4 course bulks and not a single prop. It seems every one can't put up a bulk and make it stay without props but as Old Blackgum says "It is all I know how to do it."

I see Lynn is teaching Mrs. Capt. Jake to drive. Warning to motorists passing through Woodbridge—be ready to stop, climb a bank or anything else that may seem advisable. I bet Capt. Jake is feeling good. I see where he is going to stay in the P. O. all day and foot gasoline bills. Gas business should pick up for Harry.

A CORRECTION

In stating the obituary of W. P. Sutphin, late of Haymarket, last week, The Journal unfortunately inserted Mrs. instead of Mr. in front of his name and otherwise made it appear that it was Mrs. Sutphin and not Mr. Sutphin.

Such an error is hard to explain and The Journal apologizes to the family for the oversight.

OCCOQUAN LEADS IN COUNTY BASEBALL LEAGUE

The Occoquan boys added another victory to their list when they defeated the Nokesville team on Friday by a score of 7-4. The game was well contested until the 9th inning when the Occoquan team rallied for four runs making a nice margin. This was the second game of the season won in the 9th inning, the other one being the Fredericksburg game in which the boys scored seven runs before being retired to the side.

The team has six games to their credit, being undefeated this year. Several features of the games have been the excellent twirling by Shepard, who has two no-hit no-run games to his credit; the other features is the nice performance of the star third baseman, Reynolds.

On Friday, the 18th, the Occoquan team will motor to Manassas, where it will meet the Manassas High team in one of the final games of the season.

Drive it only 5 miles and you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car

WHY do you suppose Chevrolet keeps repeating, in all of its advertising, "Drive it only 5 miles"? Here's the reason: Chevrolet engineers have tried out all the various makes of cars in today's low-price field. And they have proved to their complete satisfaction, the same things that hundreds of thousands of Chevrolet owners are proving in their daily driving: How much more smoothly a car travels with genuine, fully-enclosed Knee-Action. How much more comfortably it handles, with shock-proof steering. How much more restfully you ride, in a Fisher Body car. How much more safely you drive, with cable-controlled brakes. And how much finer performance and better economy are secured from an overhead-valve Six! In other words, Chevrolet engineers know for sure that the Chevrolet ride simply can't be matched by any other in the low-price field. They know it—thousands of owners know it—and now we want you to know it too, before you make your final choice of a low-priced car. CHEVROLET MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT, MICH.
