MANASSAS, VIRGINIA THURSDAY, JULY 5, 1934

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

LEAGUE ASSISTS NEW DEPARTMENT

Ocoquan Group Makes Liberal Donation.

The Board met Tuesday with all members present, this being the regular July meeting.

Wood contracts were let as follows: Buckhall, F. C. Carter; Brentsville, F. O. Fairburn; Manley, Warner Griffin; Antioch, William Stuart; Woodbine, Community League; Neabsco, Owen Thomas; Hayfield, Miss Bertha Woolfenden; Aden, Woodlawn, Bristow and Kettle Run, A. D. Arrington; McCrae, North Fork, Hickory Grove and Thornton, E. M. McCull.

The remaining vacancies on the teaching staff were filled.

The local fire department was given permission to use the athletic field for their annual carnival.

The contract for weatherstripping the Bennett school was let.

A forty dollar library at Bristow was authorized.

The Board was advised that the Ocoquan League had appropriated the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars toward the purchase of equipment for the new commercial department, and thereupon immediately authorized the purchase of such equipment.

An appropriation of fifty dollars was made for the new motion picture machine just purchased by the Brentsville District High School.

WINNERS NAMED ON CONTEST DAY

Spirited Competition Among 4-H Members.

County Club Contest Day was observed June 29 at Ocoquan School. Every 4-H Club member in the county was represented in contests. First place winners in these contests in the 14 year or older. Group will represent the county in state contests.

Keen interest was shown in the health contest. Miss Neal who was in charge of that contest reports the group as a whole scoring low on posture and feet. She attributes poorly constructed shoes to a large extent responsible for the foot and posture condition.

Those winning places in contests are: health (above 14) Marie Copen, Hayfield, first; Charlotte Thompson, Ocoquan, second; Minnie Rimes, Hayfield; Wilda Bourne, Ocoquan, Roberta Breen, Bethel, third.

Health (below 14) Rennie Dean, Greenwich, first; Minnie Allison, Dumfries, second; Evelyn Beery, Ocoquan, Mary Hampton, Manassas, third.

Judging (over 14) Dorothy Linton, Hayfield, first; Dorothy Hayford, Haymarket, second; Mildred Ward, Nokesville, third.

Judging (under 14) Barbara Ward, Greenwich, first; Joan Leach, Greenwich, second; Ruth Ellis, Haymarket, third.

Club Book: Lucy Johnson, Manassas, first; Rennie Dean, Greenwich, second; Helen Nelson, Nokesville, third.

Correct Dress: Church (over 14) Mildred Clark, Haymarket, first; Margaret Goode, Manassas, second; Dorothy Linton, Hayfield, third.

Church (under 14) Ellen Thompson, Ocoquan, first; June Brawner, Dumfries, second; Gertrude Shirkey, Nokesville, third.

Sport (over 14) Mildred Ward, Nokesville, third.

Sport (under 14) Martha Grymes, Hayfield, first; Ellen Thompson, Ocoquan, second; Jean Leach, Greenwich, third.

Both Holstein and Guernsey classes were judged by the boys at the farm of Egbert Thompson.

Egbert Thompson, Jr., led in both the Holstein and Guernsey classes with practically a perfect score. He was followed by Eddie Russell, Richard Hayford, Johnnie Hooker, Marvin Wright and Elmer Hedrick. Several others showed up well in the contest.

Nokesville's Club song, written by Johnnie Harper and Billy Harpne, was selected as the county 4-H Club song for 1934.

Following the contests the group went to Dawson's Beach where a picnic lunch and swimming were heartily enjoyed by about 200 club boys and girls, their leaders and friends.

The 4-H Club members wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Lindsay Dawson who so generously gave them the use of his beach for the day.

CELEBRATION AT MANASSAS BATTLE PARK

The annual exercise commemorating the First Battle of Manassas will be held at the Henry House on Saturday, July 21.

The principal speakers will be Governor Charles H. Brough, of Arkansas, and Colonel C. Seymour Bullock, of South Bend, Indiana. Both of these gentlemen are fine orators and can be expected to do full justice to their subjects.

In view of the wide spread interest in the development of the Manassas Battlefield as a State-Federal Military Park, there will probably be a large gathering to take part in celebrating the anniversary of the first major battle of the War between the States.

JERSEY BREEDER DAY ANNOUNCED

Program to be Held Next Wednesday at Beltsville, Md.

10:00 a. m.—Arrive at the Beltsville Farm.

10:00 to 12:00—"Jersey Herd Improvement Through Sound Breeding." (An illustrated lecture on dairy cattle breeding) Mr. Fohrman.

12:00 to 12:30—Lunch

12:30 to 1:00—Business session.

1:00 to 1:30—Bull Management Methods and Inspection of Combine Milk (A supervised tour of inspection)

1:30 to 1:45—"The Physiology and Development of the Cows Udder" (An illustrated lecture) Mr. Sweet

2:15 to 3:15—"Good Roughages, the Basis of Economical Dairy Cattle Feeding" Mr. Woodward

Also—Inspection of pasture experimental plots.

3:15 to 3:30—Visit to North Farm to inspect Jersey herd.

An invitation has been extended to all Prince William County dairymen to attend and it is expected that a good delegation will take advantage of the opportunity to go in a body.

Wheatley M. Johnson, Manassas, is president of the Jersey Club.

STATE HOLSTEIN FIELD DAY

Annual Event to be Held on Lewis Farm, July 19.

The Virginia Holstein-Friesian Breeders annual Field Day Program will be held this year on July 19 at the farm of Percival A. Lewis on the Stone House Road just opposite the Manassas airport.

Several hundred dairymen from over the state are expected and arrangements are now being made by local committees to entertain the out of county visitors.

While those attending the all-day meeting are asked to bring basket lunches, the Prince William County Dairy Herd Improvement Association is very generously furnishing an ample supply of ice cream, lemonade, and bottled milk for the large group expected.

Arrangements are being made by the officials of the Virginia Holstein Breeders Association to have several speakers appear on the program.

This is one of the most important dairy meetings of the year and will attract the attention of the Holstein world to the excellent herds of Prince William County.

LIGHTNING STRIKES MILL

Last Saturday afternoon a bolt of lightning struck the roof of the Manassas Milling Company. Little harm was done, however, as the metallic sprinkler system extending throughout the building apparently carried the bolt safely to the ground.

FOURTH OF JULY PARTY

Dr. C. D. Stewart, who has a summer cottage at Lake Jackson, was host last night to a large number of the youngsters in the community.

There was a profuse and brilliant display of fire works and refreshments and eats galore. Doctor did a good job and his guests thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

MRS. PHILIPS TO ENTERTAIN DUMFRIES WOMEN

The Dumfries Home Demonstration Group will meet at the home of Mrs. B. F. Philips on Thursday, July 12, at 1:30 o'clock. The topic for demonstration is "Frozen Desserts".

The women of the community are cordially invited to attend.

Manassas High School Economic Girls Patronize Local Stores and Make Their Own Clothing

Group in Evening Dress,

The Manassas High School Home Economics pupils not only are learning to make their own clothing, efficiently and attractively, but they also patronize their local stores, as indicated in the interesting pictures herewith presented.

The average cost of the garments was as follows: aprons 30 cents, school and morning dresses 65 cents, pajamas 85 cents, party and afternoon dresses $1.35 to $2.35. The girls who made acceptable and attractive garments in this department were Mary Senseny, Dorothy Evans, Mildred Parrish, Helen Gilroy, Lorraine Crosby, Dorothy Gilroy, Mary Jane Morris, Sarah Vetter, Mildred Cooke, Elizabeth Partlow, Flora Hattie, Vesta Kesner, Elva Varner, Mildred Moore, Betty Hatcher, Helen Lyons, Rebecca Monroe, Louise Kincheloe and Agnes Beavers.

Those receiving prizes in the Home

Arts Class were Gladys Mauch, who received recognition for having proven her ability as the best all-round pupil in the various phases of home making, and Hazel Jacobs for the best all-round home project.

The following points were considered in scoring and evaluating the projects.

1. Pupil interest shown.
2. Pupil initiative shown.
3. Pupil information gained.
4. Value to pupil.
5. Value to family.
6. Did project establish apparently permanent habits of thing and acting?

Hazel's story of her project is as follows:

Gardening and Preserving Food for a Family of Six

My garden provided a variety of sixteen vegetables during the summer. (Please turn to page 8)

REV. C. P. RYLAND

The funeral of Rev. C. P. Ryland aged 64, who died in a Washington hospital on Saturday, took place from the Manassas Baptist Church on Monday, the body being shipped to Emporia where his wife was buried a year or so ago.

Reverend U. S. Knox, Falls Church, spoke as did Mr. John S. Sauers, both of whom were closely associated with the deceased.

Rev. S. Y. Craig, of the Fairfax Baptist Church, gave the prayer and the benediction was pronounced by Leamon Ledman, clerk of the local church and a moderator of the Association.

A pretty sight was presented by the girls of the Junior B. Y. P. U. who carried the floral offerings. Mr. Ryland founded the branch during his ministry here.

Surviving Mr. Ryland are his son, Dr. C. P. Ryland of Birmingham, N. Y., one grandchild, two brothers and a sister, all of South Hill, Va.

During his rather brief service here the beloved pastor had endeared himself to the entire town as well as all members of his own congregation. Prior to his pastorate here, Mr. Ryland held charges at Emporia, Windsor, Buchanan, Richmond and Clarendon in Virginia; Washington, D. C. and Roxboro in North Carolina. None however seemed to hold more delight for him than his work in Manassas.

STARLIGHT CABIN BALL

On Saturday evening, July 21, a Starlight Cabin Ball will be held at Lake Jackson, sponsored by Mrs. William Laird Dunlop, Jr., of Washington, a prominent social hostess of that city.

LEAGUE GAME

Manassas A. C. will play a league game Sunday, July 8, with White Star Market on Swavely Field at 3 p. m.

NOKESVILLE WOMEN TO MEET

The Nokesville Home Demonstration Group will meet Wednesday, July 11, at 7:30 p. m. at the Seminary building. The program will be recreational and will be conducted by Mrs. Ernest Spitzer and Mrs. J. F. Hale.

LAWRENCE ROLAND

Newly elected president of Rotary Club of Alexandria.

President Roland outlined a plan of activities for the club during the year.

STORY OF ROSE HEARD BY CLUB

Bethlehem Ladies Present Interesting Studies.

Mrs. Annie E. Spies was the gracious hostess to the Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club at her home on Battle Street, Thursday afternoon, June 28.

Owing to conflicting dates the attendance was small. However, under the splendid leadership of Mrs. R. L. Sadd the meeting swung into action and in every way proved a success.

A strong protest against shifting dates and places of meeting was heard and it is sincerely hoped that any variance in the Club Year Book will not be necessary in the future.

Tentative plans for annual picnic are under way. The third Wednesday in August is the day and the following committees have been named to complete the plans:

Transportation: Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson and Mrs. T. J. Broadbuss; Luncheon: Mrs. Maud Kincheloe, Mrs. Annie Spies and Mrs. John Lyons.

Mrs. Lucy D. Washington presented an interesting program on the much loved "Rose." It is said in an article sent in by Mrs. Pierson, who could not be present, that the rose is as old as history. It is also written that a noted German archeologist found the dried remains of rose gardens buried with Egyptian mummies, and they are identified as being some of the varieties which are still found in our gardens. Mrs. Washington then read an article on the "Wild Rose" and in conclusion a poem, "Roses are Beauty" was read by Mrs. Wheatley Johnson.

The reception room was artistically decorated of cut flowers. The president's table was adorned with a mass of the familiar but charming little flower, the daisy, representing the choice of the club also the duo colors of yellow and white.

At 4:30 o'clock business became history when the hostess in her usual pleasing manner delighted her guests by serving a two course plate dinner. The group of members present were Mrs. Lucy D. Washington, Mrs. R. L. Sadd, Mrs. Manie Hart, Mrs. Maud Kincheloe, Mrs. John W. Lyons, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. Smiley Round, Mrs. Wheatley Johnson, Miss Florence Kincheloe and Mrs. Hubbard, a guest. The social hour was one of pleasure and will long be remembered.

In July the Club will be the guest of Mrs. Lucy Washington and Mrs. Nannie K. Middlethorn at the home of the former near Greenwich.

Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison will arrange for this meeting a patriotic program assisted in music by Miss Florence Kincheloe.

GREENWICH WOMEN PRESENT PROGRAM

The women of the Greenwich Home Demonstration Group will present a program for the School League at the meeting on Thursday evening, July 12. An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment will be the parade of the beauty contestants. Special music will be provided and delightful refreshments will be on sale following the program.

C. H. Wine spent the 4th at his old home in Stafford.

Rev. J. Murray Taylor has been appointed a notary public by Governor Peery.

KIWANIS FEASTED BY ADEN LADIES

Many Unique Features on Program.

The Kiwanis Club stepped out of its bailiwick last Friday and journeyed down to the hospitable realms known as Aden.

There beneath the spreading oak-nut trees the girls fed them until they didn't want to quit and come home.

Ray Ratcliffe tried to sing and eat at one time which was a poor combination so he stopped both and went to a church meeting, with Joe Lyon as chauffeur.

Huntton Tiffany believes in freedom of speech so he called to several of the boys, including Mr. Bowman and the brothers Kerlin. The judges decided that Fred knew so much about lightning bugs that they give him first prize, with Ed Conner, the political wizard making a close second and Bob Hutchinson, consolation prize. Waiving the code, Huntton decided to give Will Kerlin some encouragement for his mighty effort. (Don't forget to call, Will)

Then the mystery girl waited in and curtsied for the crowd. She did the job so well that the boys used up the girl calling game and even Fred Hynson didn't know his wife.

A number of the Aden folks came in and had dinner with the boys and helped have a good time. It was well worth the trip and the boys are looking forward to another inivation.

MANASSAS A. C. SWAMPS HERNDON

Heavy Hitting Features MAC's Second League Win.

Manassas journeyed to Herndon Sunday and had no difficulty in ringing up their second straight League win. A total of 22 runs, including home run and 4 doubles, rattled off the local's bats. Aided by seven alien errors, they piled up the impressive total of 19 runs while their opponents were able to garner but 3 over the nine inning stretch.

The Herndon diamond is the kind you read about—in the funny papers. And, it may be added, the umpiring was in keeping with the playing field. The outfield, from left to right, goes into a marvelous wide sweeping out-drop, leaving the center fielder in doubt and the right fielder, for all practical purposes, out of the game. Lynn essayed the part of Alpine goat in the right field gully for the locals. And he caught a fly. A feat which we think under the circumstances entitled him to recognition of some sort.

Woodard lost no time in serving notice on the Herndon pitchers that they were in for a nasty afternoon. He looped Deaver's first pitch into right field close to the foul line and completed the circuit of the bases when the ball played rabbit and carefully hid itself in the shrubbery back of first base. Lynn followed with a single to center and the stampede was on. Five runs were across before temporarily brought the uprising under control by tossing out Woodward, up for the second time, for the third out. But not long. They continued their assault in the second, warmly greeting Murphy, who sought to come to Deaver's rescue and raised the total to ten before the inning was over. They added a pair of tallies in the third, four more in the fourth, and then just to be interested, they chalked up an additional pair of runs in the eighth and thereby upped the total to 19 where it mercifully stood the remainder of the afternoon.

Herndon, after threatening in the first and second, broke into the run column in the third, scoring twice on two hits coupled with a walk and a pair of errors. A single run in the day. A brilliant running catch of Tanker's looper to short by Saunders in this inning enabled Dreifus to escape without further damage.

Bradshaw hurled the last two innings for Manassas. In the ninth, after giving up a hit to Murphy, he retired the side on strikes, disposing of the last two batters with six. (Please turn to back page)

IN MEMORIAM

-Duvall-

In memory of our dear sister and daughter, Katie Keys Duvall, who was called to home March 14, 1934 after an illness of only a few days. She was laid to rest in Dumfries cemetery beside an infant son and other loved ones who have gone before. Katie leaves a mother, Mrs. E. G. W. Keys of Joplin, two sisters, Mrs. Annie Shumate and Vanetta M. Cato of Dumfries, five brothers O. L. Keys of Alexandria, Va., Paul R. Keys of Chicago, James of Philadelphia, Elvan of Dumfries, Frances of Joplin, Va., (the home place) many nieces and nephews beside a host of friends and other relatives. Her kind and sunny disposition endeared her to all.

God was lonely without you, Katie dear,
In his home of gold and blue
So He gathered you tenderly in his arms
And flew to Heaven with you.

But He knew just how we'd miss you
And so from your heart He drew

A tiny speck of your silvery love
And sprinkled it with dew.

Then He hung it in the Heaven's
A guiding Star at night
And Katie darling, we see it there
We love to watch its light.

For we know your heart is with us
And ours is with you, too
Loving you always sister, daughter dear

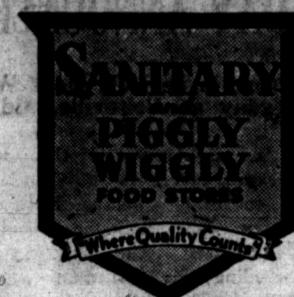

Through a sky of midnight blue.
Your mother and sisters

PANAMA
(Sec. 4)

The finishing of the Canal in 1914 was the ending of a struggle that had lasted thirty-one years. The French had started it first in 1883, fought with it twenty years and failed. Yet had we not profited by their experiments and failure, we also might have failed.

Three of America's greatest figures put their united efforts into the struggle—Roosevelt, Goethals and Gorgas.

Diplomacy, engineering and sanitation had to join hands in the project which would have been impossible of accomplishment had the utmost keenness in any one sphere been lacking.

Here was an isthmus that seemed perversely placed to hinder Man's natural course. With the slightest separation of the two continents there could have been a saving of 7,800 miles—or 32 sailing days in a voyage from New York to an Francisco.

That desire for some inter-oceanic communication dates back to Columbus and his quests for a state that would lead to India. Indeed it dates back to the occupation of Constantinople by the Turks, and the need of the Western Nations to find some route to supplant the land route to the East, which was hereby closed by them.

It was Balboa who first crossed from the Atlantic Slope of Central America to the Pacific Slope, and saw the great ocean, which he called the "South Sea". With an insatiable desire to explore, he sacrificed many lives in an effort to carry out his schemes; and then he came to an untimely death, being beheaded for some alleged intrigue, and it was his successor, Pedro Arias de Aola, who built the city of Panama in 1517.

In 1847 the crying demand for transportation across the Isthmus led to the building of a railroad by the Panama Railroad Company, from Aspinwall (Colon) to Panama, a distance of about 48 miles.

The loss of life was so great in building this railroad that tradition says there was a death for each cross-tie on the road.

The French failed in two attempts to construct a canal; but in 1902 the Congress of the U. S. passed an act by which the purchase of the strip of land ten miles wide, known as the Canal Zone was consummated. An international commission of engineers was appointed to survey and decide whether the Canal at sea level, or a lock canal. All of the foreign engineers favored a sea level canal, and some of our engineers joined in that idea. So a majority report was made in favor of the sea level plan; but a minority report so strongly favored the lock system, as to decide Congress in favor of the latter, and the work began in earnest, and in March 1909 the excavation work broke all records, as 4,000,000 cubic yards of material were taken out in one month. The Gatun dam alone contains twenty-one million cubic yards of earth and rock.

It had been estimated that the work would be finished in 1915, but so efficiently was it carried on that the canal was completed and the water turned in and ships began to pass through in 1914—six months ahead of time.

The irony of fate then began its work, the "World War" following closely on the heels of this great achievement, causing a general break-down of the world's moral, social and economic control.

Yet, in spite of the fates, we have this wonderful engineering work to-day functioning in a manner that meets the highest hopes of it projectors and builders. With the ships of all nations using this water on equal terms with world wide, that causes to fade into insignificance many of the great achievements of the past.

One of the outstanding advantages to our Country, from a military or naval point of view, was clearly demonstrated recently, when Admiral Sellers, after completing the naval maneuvers in the Pacific, rushed the entire fleet of 113 war ships through the Canal in less than 48 hours. They were all anchored safely in Colon harbor, without a hitch or accident within that time. This armada of 44,000 men moved into Colon harbor and anchored more quietly than an auto could be parked in one of the streets of Manassas.

This exhibition of Uncle's naval powers is so inspiring as to cause the heart to throb with pride and increased love of Country; yet, as Kepling reminds us:

"Lo! all our pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre.
God of the nations share us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget."

But in spite of all this, the real typical soldier, realizing the potential carnage of this array, will still say:

"I see all this and yet am slave
When banners flaunt and bugles blow
Content to fill a soldier's grave
For reasons I shall never know."

R. F. D. NEWS

On June 24 a good game of ball was played between Hoadley and Woodlawn. The score being 7 to 8 in favor of Woodlawn.

Sunday a game was played between Aden and Woodlawn, score 4 to 6 in favor of Aden. The boys played a good game. Quite a good crowd attended the ball game. We hope to have some more good games in the near future, one on Sunday, July 15 as Woodlawn boys are expecting to go to Bristerburg to have a game there.

DRASTIC PRICE REDUCTIONS UP TO $50 BRING CHEVROLET

to the record low price of

AND UP, F. O. B. FLINT, MICH.

CHEVROLET When Chevrolet announced price reductions several weeks ago, something important happened . . . something of vital concern to every buyer of a low-priced car: Chevrolet stepped into the most favorable price position it has enjoyed in a long time!

Reductions amounting to as much as $50—the most substantial price cuts announced in the low-price field this year—dropped Chevrolet's base price to a new low figure of $465. Just compare this price—compare any Chevrolet price—with those of other cars. Then compare what you get for what you pay! There'll be no question in your mind which car to buy, once you do.

Chevrolet offers patented Knee-Action—and others do not! Chevrolet alone has a Fisher body! And the same thing applies to cable-controlled brakes, Y-K frame, shock-proof steering, and 80-horsepower, valve-in-head, six-cylinder engine. Chevrolet gives you far more features—far finer quality—a far better name for dependability. Yet the price of the Chevrolet Standard is lower than that of any other six or, of course, any eight in the world.

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

THE RICHEST FRUITAGE:

The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance! against such there is no law.—Galatians 5.22, 23.

THE ANGRY SECRETARY

The action of the Secretary of Agriculture in hurling papers into the face of the deputy marshal who served a summons on him to appear in court has placed him in an unenviable light before the country. His later statement that he was too sleepy to know just what happened will be taken with a "grain of salt," particularly by opponents.

A government official, more than any other citizen, should show respect for the law and the late amusing circumstance will not increase the national respect for this official.

There is no doubt that the Secretary desires to elude court appeal in his administration of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Our court processes are admittedly too slow. Not only one crop, but the crop of the following growing season might languish in the fields before the processes of court procedure could be perfected. But the Constitutional protection afforded our citizens is a very valuable possession and might be more precious than results obtained by ignoring court procedure.

We have too much disregard of the Constitution. Both major political parties have sinned previously in this direction. It is true that we are going through a mighty revolution. It is a bloodless one, but nevertheless a revolution. Wealth is being re-allocated. Financial power is being transferred from Wall Street to Washington. The masses are being recognized above the classes. However, if these mighty changes are to be permanent and really beneficial, the Constitutional rights of the citizens must be respected. If not, the nation will eventually degenerate into a struggle between anarchy and despotism and the ideals of our forefathers will have perished.

HOW TO KEEP COOL

We wish we could tell you how to keep cool. We do, however, have a few suggestions to offer. We cannot change the outside temperature, but our mental attitude has much to do with our comfort during these days. Our first suggestion is to avoid every one who mentions the weather, which means practically everyone. Do not mention the subject yourself. If you must talk about the weather, you might refer to cold spells we had last winter, or contemplate the nice snow we expect next January. A fine subject for discussion is Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition. Think what a frost-bite the Admiral gets when he pokes his nose out of his ice-covered hut. There are many other cool or positively cold subjects we might think about or mention to some one.

Another good idea is to keep busy. It is very bad to be unemployed these days, unless we are in the water. Idleness is said to be the devil's opportunity at any time. We should be doubly sure to keep our minds occupied in these times. If we think about ourselves, we are lost.

To summarize: Keep busy, think clean, cool thoughts, and don't mention the well, the lack of a cold, zero temperature.

McCUIN-PORTCH

Mr. Ralph Henry McCuin of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel McCuin of Haymarket, Va., and Miss Catherine Portch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Portch of Ballston, Va., were married at Cherrydale, Va., on June 29 by Rev. King.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tooryson accompanied the couple to the wedding. The bride and groom will be at their apt. 321, McKinley St., Cherrydale, Va. The sister of the groom, Mrs. Clinton Sutphin of Warrenton, Miss Katherine McCuin of Haymarket gave a shower in their honor. They received many useful and beautiful gifts and were wished a long and happy life.

TABLET HONORS JEREMIAH MOORE

Marks Grave of Revolutionary Hero.

The ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the memorial to Rev. Jeremiah Moore, under the auspices of Fairfax County Chapter, D. A. R. in the family burial ground at Moorefield, in Vienna, Sunday afternoon last were attended by a large throng. Assistant Secretary of State R. Walton Moore, a great grandson of the man whose memory was being honored, was the speaker. Mr. Moore told of the travels of Rev. Jeremiah Moore, through all the eastern section of what is now the United States, of his suffering for his faith, of his establishing the first Baptist church in Washington and also of a church in Alexandria, near the jail, where he was confined for preaching without a license. In the Revolution Mr. Moore saw service in the American army and was an ardent patriot. The tablet was unveiled by Carlos Drake, a descendant of Reverend Moore. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Katherine Walters of the U. D. C. The ceremonies were brought to a close with the sounding of "taps" by James Scott of Dr. Jessie Scott of Vienna. Descendants of Mr. Moore, attending the exercises besides Hon. R. Walton Moore and his sisters and nieces of Fairfax were Mrs. Clifford K. Berryman, Mrs. Charles G. Abbott, Dr. William Cabell Moore and former Assistant Commissioner of Patents Millard Moore of Washington.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, Jack Ratcliffe and Miss Virginia Conner were week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Hornbaker of Occoquan on their launch "Avolante II."

Miss Ann Bradford and Miss Evelyn Cocke were joint hostesses at a scavenger hunt on Saturday night, June 30. The hunt started from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bradford, where later in the evening the guests returned for refreshments.

Miss Mary Louise Taylor of Falls Church, Miss Marie Drane and Miss Jane Walter of Washington were guests of Miss Ann Bradford over the week-end.

Hon. Melvin C. Hazen, chairman of the District Board of Commissioners and J. Carl Kinchele, of Manassas, are planning a brief trip to Canada, leaving over the week-end.

The Garden section of the Woman's Club will hold no meeting this month. Mr. James Whetzel of Bristow was a welcome visitor at the Journal office on Saturday.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Lineawear on Tuesday afternoon, July 10, at 2:30 o'clock.

Our old friend, Zeno Spindle, of Bristow was a caller at the Journal office on Monday.

J. Stewart Evans, of the Buckhall community, a subscriber to the Journal for well over forty years, and reaching back to the days when it was known as the Manassas Gazette, was an esteemed visitor at the Journal office.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Y. Hill, who reside near Canova, are the proud parents of a son, David Carter, born Sunday morning. Master Hill weighs 8 lbs.

The Missionary Society of the Baptist Church will meet at the Church on Tuesday, July 10, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. James Luck will have charge of the program. Subject, "Americas Real Heroes."

Come and help in this meeting.

MAY-HISER

On the evening of June 26 at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry May of Cattlet, Va., Ruth Lee May and Paul Daniel Hiser were united in holy matrimony by Rev. Guy West of Bridgewater, Va. The ceremony took place on the lawn in the presence of a number of friends from Washington, D. C., and her home community. Mrs. Spitzer sang a solo, "I Love You Truly." Miss Nina Gorden played "The Wedding March" on the organ.

Miss Kathleen Williamson of Washington, D. C., was bride's maid. Mr. Irving Armstrong, uncle of the bride also of Washington, was best man. Ethel May, the bride's little sister strewed rose pedals in front of the bride as she marched out on her father's arm. She looked very lovely gowned in white with corsage of bride roses.

Refreshments were served on the lawn after the ceremony. The bride is a graduate of Warrenton High School and has worked in Washington, D. C., for the past two years where she has won many friends.

Mrs. Hiser was given a lovely miscellaneous shower in Washington and received many lovely and useful gifts also received many lovely gifts from her friends in her home community.

The groom is from Washington, D. C., but now employed in Staunton, Va., where he had a lovely home ready for his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hiser left that night for Staunton to begin their life's journey. We wish this young couple much happiness all through life.

F. F. A. BOYS HOLD FIRST SUMMER MEETING

The Manassas Agricultural High School Class held their first summer meeting Friday, June 29, for the purpose of making further plans for a trip to the World Fair late in the summer.

The route to be taken has not been planned definitely yet but it is generally supposed that it will include Niagara Falls, Southern Canals and a number of important points in the Northern United States. The trip will cover approximately 3500 miles according to present plans submitted by the F. F. A. Instructor, Mr. Harry M. Love.

The bus to be selected will accommodate a minimum of thirty boys. Most of their number will be F. F. A. boys from the Nokesville and Manassas Chapters. The deficit will be made up by a few Scouts and other carefully selected boys of this locality.

Another meeting is scheduled for the 20th of July to make final plans for the trip. All members are urged to be present.

After the scheduled business had been discussed in a very informal but satisfactory manner, refreshment were served. Ice cream and cake were devoured unsparingly by all and thoroughly enjoyed.

The pleasant evening was made possible by the thoughtful donation of Richard Vetter. The meeting adjourned about 10:00 p. m. and all departed looking forward to a pleasurable and worthwhile trip.

FISHING TRIP

Sgt. W. C. Wester, Sgt. George Morgan, Otis Breeden and W. F. Hibbs, Jr., enjoyed a week-end fishing trip at Irvington, taking a string of about 300—all report having had a pleasant time, the catch being really more than they could bring home—they actually got tired of catching them!

WILL PROTEST TO GOV. PEERY

W. C. T. U. Charges Irregularities in Liquor Sales

The executive committee of the Alexandria-Arlington County Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. T. E. Gilbert, Fort Myer Heights, Tuesday, June 26. A delicious salad luncheon was served on the shaded lawn to over twenty committee members and guests representing seven different unions.

An interesting talk on present conditions was given by Rev. Ryland T. Dodge (Alexandria). The regular business session followed with the recently elected president, Mrs. Martha N. Brookings of Seminary Hill in the chair.

A newspaper article was read giving a report of the fictitious names that have been accepted as signatures for sales of liquor in the state liquor stores of Alexandria, among them were such names as George Washington, I. Repeal, John Doe, etc. It was felt that such a practice was a direct violation of the purpose of the law, designed by our legislature to prevent sales to minors and habitual drunkards. The meeting voted to make a formal protest regarding this situation to Governor Peery, Commonwealth's Attorney Bryan, and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board at Richmond, and to call upon the Board to dismiss from its service any employee, who knowingly sells liquor to an individual signing the customer's slip with a fictitious name.

The following committee is in charge of the protest: Mrs. Martha N. Brookings, Mrs. Ryland T. Dodge, and Mrs. Alice Straus of Alexandria, Mrs. Ethel Gregory, East Falls Church, Mrs. Frances Mabry, Ballston, and Miss Marion Merrill, Cherrydale.

DOES HONESTY PAY?

(This article won second place in the recent Kiwanis contest)

Dear J. W.,

I am a young man your same age and will graduate from high school this Spring. I have read your letter many times and I find the same thing that confronts you has also troubled me. In my earlier life I worked in a store off and on for about three years, and I have also had some experience at garages, filling stations, and farm work. While working at these occupations I have seen the same things you mention in your article, and I believe they are true to a great extent.

When, as a boy, saw these things that I had been taught were wrong, in public school, in Sunday school and by my mother, I would often go to her, tell her what I had seen, and show her how I could make money fast and dishonestly. Since every one else seemed to be doing it why shouldn't I? From what I have told you, it may seem that I had better get an answer to the same question! And I have one—more than one in fact. Through a number of years of thinking, and the help of my mother, teachers and friends, I have answers that fit my question, and I hope they will fit yours too.

First, you say you want to study law and your mother disapproves of it. Well don't you find that most of the time, it is better to take advice from our parents and people that lived before us? They are older, have a better understanding of life and of nature. I also believe that lawyers are like you and me, and that there is some good and some bad in each of us. Some times no matter how hard we try, it seems that the bad qualities will come out as well as the finer ones, but none of us are perfect. If we look for the bad qualities all the time instead of the good ones, we will find more bad than good. Isn't that so? Do not get the idea that all lawyers are dishonest for they are not. As I have said before there seems to be good and bad in every thing, but this profession does offer many chances for dishonesty, so I think the advice your mother gave you is good.

Second, you say you are not certain that there is a heaven, but surely you must believe there is a supreme power some where or some kind of a hereafter. Even the Indians as uncivilized as they were believed in a Happy Hunting Ground. The people from every country since the dawn of history have had some idea about the hereafter or religion. The very fact that you question dishonesty shows that you have some faith in a life to come. To me that question is answered before you ask it—leaving all doubt aside.

Again you say you want a practical reason. Well one practical reason is this: You cannot be dishonest. You have an heritage from honest parents, so you will have heredity to fight. You have lived honestly for eighteen years and among honest people so you will have environment and habit to fight. Therefore you cannot have a dishonest person living within you—your conscience wouldn't let him stay there.

You speak of a person's having a keen time going to a possible hell. There are a few examples in this country today that I would like to mention. Do you think that right now Al Capone and Dillinger are having a keen time? Or Bishop Cannon—who is in a work or a profession that one would consider free of dishonest people. But don't forget that there is good and bad in every one. Do you think he is having a good time?

Do not understand me to say that dishonesty can't make money. It will make money, make it fast, but it will not pay in the long run. Remember the old saying, "Easy come, easy go," and anyway we are not always evaluated by dollars and cents but by what we really are. You may make money enough to be comfortable almost all or all your life, but the longer the blow waits the harder it hits. So I think this is another practical reason.

You should not be dishonest because in the Bible the 16th chapter of St. Matthew and a part of the 26th verse we find: "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" I know that you will not say this is not practical. You seem to be a little mixed there and think that a spiritual reason has nothing to do with the practical side of life. Then why is it that in our schools all over the State we have some form of spiritual worship? In our school the first thing in the morning, one of the students reads a part from the Bible and we all repeat the Lord's Prayer. In all colleges that I know they have some form of spiritual worship and most of them require the majority of students to attend church on Sunday. Have you ever stopped to think why your parents keep on seeking, trying, and struggling even if they do seem unhappy? They must have some high ideal they prize; therefore, if you think deeply about this you may be able to use it as a practical reason too.

Now I believe that if you get all I have written into your mind well, weigh it evenly and for it is worth, you will be able to see that dishonesty does not pay at least not in the long run. If you cannot find one good practical reason in this letter you will have to go to some older person who has chosen the right path, and has been over the same way we expect to go, and is much better qualified to answer the question than I am. I do not intend this to be a written sermon, lecture, or speech. I have read your views on dishonesty; these are mine.

Very truly yours,
Henry Florence,
Gainesville, Va.

CATHARPIN

The Misses Frances and Anne Robertson of Lawn Vale gave a very delightful party to number of invited guests on Friday night of last week which was greatly enjoyed by all present. Games, plays, and refreshments constituted the evening's entertainment.

A number of Catharpin folks attended the "Beauty Contest" at Haymarket on Saturday night, last, where another Reigning Beauty was added to Prince William's list of famous femininity. Catharpin did talk about holding one of her own but the fact that they are all so strikingly pretty it was feared that a decision could not be reached without endangering the peace and harmony of the neighborhood so the project was dropped, at least for the time being. Now if someone would only advertise a beauty contest for the men we feel sure we could furnish a few.

The past two weeks have been record breakers in several ways. The heat wave was very intense for awhile, reaching 120 degrees in the open un which was fatal to livestock and hard on the laborer. It is reported that J. W. Alvey and Mr. Bruce Whitmore, each lost a valuable horse due to the intense heat while working. Then on Saturday, last, a hard rain and windstorm paid its respects by uprooting trees and leveling wheat shocks and washing cornfields. The rain part of it was badly needed and in a measure "liquidated" the damage otherwise perpetrated.

The C. P. McDonald family of Norton, Va., who have been spending their vacation at Oakwood during the past three weeks returned to their home on Sunday.

Mr. A. M. Allison, Catharpin's dependable blacksmith, who has been on the sick list for some time suffered a slight stroke last week from which he is slowly recovering but unable to attend to his shop work. This works a hardship both to himself and to those in need of his services.

Mr. Allison has been the mainstay of this community for a number of years and his shop, on wet days, was the "Mecca" to which all repaired, some leading as many as four horses to be shod, and upon arrival would have to wait their turn just as did people in the old Sudley Mill days, waiting for their "grist". But the old-time blacksmith shop is rapidly becoming a thing of the past along with so many others that one is perplexed to keep track of them all. Whether the passing of these old institutions is for better or worse I will have to let you be the judge, but certainly during the passing process people are off time disadvantaged.

"Procrastination is the thief of time". This quotation was written in longhand by the teacher at the top line of our copy books and we filled the page with a repetition of this sentence which improved our penmanship as well as impressed its sentiment upon our minds; but whether or not we profited by it is another question, but we recently had an experience which very forcibly impressed its truth upon us. Our reaper was taken from the shed to begin cutting wheat when it was found that it had been put away with a broken rod which incapacitated it for use until welded. It was taken immediately to the blacksmith shop at Catharpin but the shop was closed on account of sickness. Gainesville was next thought of but inquiry developed the fact that Mr. Peason was working on the highway and would not be in the shop until Thursday. Since that date was three days away a trip was hastily made to the Lewis shops in Manassas where the weld was soon made and the binder enabled to "ply its trade" after a half day's travel and delay. We are often told, talked, instructed, requested, coaxed and demanded that these things be attended to before machinery is put away for the winter, —but—yes—well I guess some of you will know something about it.

But the passing of the country blacksmith shop seems inevitable, and just what is to take its place is as yet undetermined. That every community needs a repair shop is undisputed, but so much of that the blacksmith used to do is removed to the manufacturing establishments that there is but little left—not enough, really for him to make a living. He used to build buggies, wagons, harrows, cultivators and many other too numerous to mention which are now turned out in "mass production" by the big factories, except, of course the buggies, which Henry put out of commission with his old model "T." But the fact remains that repair work on the farm is getting harder and harder each year and "Rube" will soon have to do it himself or buy a new machine.

WILL ROGERS IN "DAVID HARUM" OPENS HERE SOON

Fox Film's latest release, "David Harum," starring Will Rogers, will make its appearance on the screen of the Dixie Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, July 9-10. Because of the nation's friendly interest in the humorist-philosopher-star, letters pour into his home regularly, suggesting a particular story or theme or character for his next picture. More suggestions urging him to play "David Harum" were received than all others combined. It was virtually in response to the command of the theatre-going public that Fox Film produced this story.

Its typical American theme deals with a shrewd horse trader. Because of the coldness with which he barter, and his uncanny method of outwitting people in business dealings, his reputation is none too good in the small town in which he lives. A young man who has come to work in the bank owned by the horse trader, learns that his employer really has a soft heart, and that his hardness is only for those who deal unfairly. The young man has fallen in love with a wealthy girl, but hesitates to propose marriage because of his poor financial standing. The horse trader, who is interested in the boy, tries to help the romance along but gets nowhere. When the girl comes to him and requests him to enter her horse in a forthcoming race he advises the boy to place all his savings on the horse. The hilarious method by which the horse trader brings the horse home a winner is said to bring the film to a happy and amusing conclusion.

The large cast in support of Will Rogers displays an array of impressive names that include Louise Dresser, Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Stepin Fetchit, Noah Berry, Roger Imhof, Frank Melton, Charles Middleton, Sarah Padden and Lillian Stuart.

James Cruze directed from Walter Wood's screen play, which was adapted from the novel by Edward Noyes Westcott.

THE WORLD AROUND US

by O. J. Schuster

AN ELEVATOR TRIP of 15 miles above the earth's surface should be a thrilling experience. Two experienced and daring American aviators will attempt it within the next few days. Scientists have become intensely interested in the stratosphere and hope that this venture will bring additional information regarding it. Inquiring minds are asking: "What is the stratosphere anyway? Isn't it just a part of the blanket of air wrapped around the earth?" From the surface of the earth of the upper limits of the atmosphere is probably about 500 miles but one-half of it is below 3 1/4 miles above sea level, and three-fourths is below 7 miles.

Were these two balloonists to make their ascent in an open cabin and without special provision for supplying themselves with air of the proper composition and temperature they would suffer intensely at a height of 3 or 4 miles. At higher points blood would begin to ooze from their bodies because of the pressure within their bodies outward and the lack of pressure of the air around them to balance the outward pressure. If they could rise from sea level to a height of 15 miles in a few minutes their bodies would literally explode.

Assuming that the temperature at the surface of the earth is 60 degrees at the time starting it would be 59 degrees at a height of 300 feet, 58 degrees at 600 feet, and continue to fall about 1 degree for each additional 300 feet of ascent. A mile above the surface it would be about 17 degrees colder than at the surface; at 2 miles about 35 degrees lower; at 7 miles something like 120 degrees colder than at the surface, or around 60 degrees below zero. But at 7 miles or a little higher they enter the layer of air that is called the stratosphere and the temperature no longer continues to fall as it did in the earlier part of the trip. In fact it changes very little if at all, even tho the ascent continues to the 15-mile level or even if it were to continue thru the stratosphere which is believed to extend to about 30 miles above sea level. Above that level the air again changes, forming a deep layer whose nature is such that radio waves cannot pass thru it but are reflected back to the surface of the earth, bounding up and down with the speed of light until they have encircled the earth. But for this fact it would not be possible to broadcast around the earth. And because this upper layer of air keeps the radio waves from escaping into outer space it is often called the "Roof of the World." Some scientists describe this upper layer as a mighty river or torrent of electricity extending from about 30 miles above sea level to more than 100 miles. They also believe that in it the temperature actually rises as higher and higher altitudes are reached and that it may reach as high as 60 degrees.

Of course balloonist can ever hope to rise to an altitude of 30 miles and in that way actually determine the nature of that upper layer. Very different methods must be employed. But men have attained a height of more than 12 miles and the two Americans may succeed in reaching 15 miles. If they do succeed their instruments will record the changes of temperature, air pressure, the nature and intensity of radiation, including the cosmic rays, and much other information that can probably be turned to practical use in weather prediction, industry, and knowledge of the universe in which we live—the world around us.

CREDIT GROUP IMPROVES SERVICE

"The Warrenton Production Credit Association is intended to become a permanent organization in order that farmers in the counties of Fauquier, Loudoun, Fairfax, Culpeper, Prince William and Rappahannock may always have available, during the remainder of this year and throughout all of next year as well as through the years to come, a regular and dependable source to which they may go to obtain loans for their farm-production financing requirements."

In these words, Mr. Austin, secretary-treasurer of the Warrenton association, explained the fundamental purpose of the newly established organization.

Mr. Austin said that despite the fact that the Warrenton Production Credit Association has been in operation for only a few months, it nevertheless has closed loans amounting to thousands of dollars. "Naturally any new organization cannot begin to roll smoothly," he said, "until it has had an opportunity to learn the best and most satisfactory methods of operation from actual experience. I do not say this as an excuse or as an apology, but simply to show that we are continually bettering our organization and are not bound to any dogmatic rules that experience has taught are not workable."

Any farmer who lives in any of the above mentioned counties is eligible to apply for a loan from the Warrenton Production Credit Association. But, according to Mr. Austin, no loan will be made if it is not soundly and adequately secured. Mr. Austin has his offices in Warrenton, Virginia, and he states that he welcomes any questions that may be asked him, either verbally or written, about the association. He also said that the county agricultural agents are well informed on this subject and can give informational assistance to those interested in finding out more.

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL HOME ECONOMICS PUPILS PATRONIZE LOCAL STORES

Here are some of the garments made by this clothing class this year. The material in practically every instance was purchased from local stores. Much thought was given to the selection of cotton fabric that was fashionable, appropriate, inexpensive and durable.

CENTREVILLE

Little Miss Jean Cross, daughter of Mr. and Ben Cross, has gone to the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago.

Regular services at St. John's will be held this Sunday, Rev. H. J. Leinbach officiating for Mr. Gibson who is still indisposed.

Many old Centrevillians used the Fourth as a home coming day.

Work on the new school is progressing nicely. Mr. DeBell, school trustee, is hopeful that it will be ready for use in September.

4-H CLUB NOTES

The Century of Progress Fun Fair provided by Hayfield 4-H Club on June 30 was both interesting and attractive—and we hope profitable. Features were planned and gotten up by the members with the very able assistance of Mrs. Chas. Linton and Mrs. Ed. Herring.

Jamestown 4-H Club camp will be open to Prince William Club members the week of August 12-18.

July Club meeting's will be devoted to work on family carrying plans and the study of methods of canning fruits, fruit juices and tomatoes; the first meeting in each club being devoted to the Canning Plan and Canning Fruits and Fruit Juices.

Philip Reading, Nokesville 4-H Club member and reporter for the county 4-H Club council, will give a talk, "On Business With My Father," on the National 4-H Club Radio program Saturday, July 7, 12:30-1:30 o'clock.

STORM RELIEVES HEAT

Rain and hail which struck Prince William at 4:30 this afternoon appears to have relieved a drought and heat spell of enough duration to have quite monotonous and somewhat depressing.

There was quite a bit of heavy hail reported, some an inch in diameter but no harm to crops seems to have quite monotonous and somewhat depressing.

VIRGINIA PUPIL WINS CONTEST

Winner Chosen in Competition with Seven States.

Roy James, an agricultural pupil of Herndon High School won the essay contest sponsored by the State Board of Education of Virginia through the co-operation of the Chilean Nitrate Educational Bureau. The subject of the essay was "The Importance of Rare Elements in natural Fertilizer Materials and their Influence on Crop Production."

The state of Virginia is divided into four districts and awards were offered for the best essay in each district. The winners of the districts competed for the state prize. The winners of the seven southern states entered the southern regional contest. Roy's essay was adjudged the best in Northern Virginia and the best in the state. The competition being so close in three of the southern states that three winners were selected and each will receive an award of $50. In this essay contest Roy James has received $15. for district prize, $25. for state prize and $50. for the southern regional prize making a total of $90.

NOW . . .

YOUR DEPOSITS IN THIS BANK ARE INSURED 100% UP TO $5,000.00.

This increased insurance protection is the result of a Congressional amendment to the Banking Act of 1933, which doubles the Deposit Insurance limits previously in effect and extends the Temporary Insurance Fund Provisions to July 1, 1935. This extension if time was deemed advisable to enable FDIC to complete plans for the PERMANENT system of Insured Deposits to become effective July 1, 1935.

NOW — effective July 1, 1934 — deposits in this bank are insured up to $5,000.00 for any one depositor. Let this additional insurance protection stand guard over YOUR funds.

For SERVICE plus SAFETY, make this bank your financial headquarters. Come in often—you are always welcome.

A WORD OF EXPLANATION

to good folks of Manassas and Prince William County:

District Grocery Stores, Incorporated, is NOT a group of chain stores. It is composed of over 250 members, organized solely for the purpose of Co-operative buying, distributing and advertising. Each and every store, whether it be located in Manassas, Va., or Rockville, Md., is owned and operated by local men and women, citizens of YOUR community. Every dollar taken in exchange for merchandise remains in the community (as far as possible) for the benefit of its citizens. HOME-OWNED IS HOME MINDED!
