8th VA. DAUGHTERS AT DUNBLANE

Will Display Confederate Flag at all Future Meetings.

The members of the 8th Va. Reg't Chapter U. D. C. held their regular monthly on the first Thursday in August at "Dunblane," the hospitable home of Miss Alice Maud Ewell. Miss Ewell was assisted in entertaining by her house guest, Mrs. Douglas Lowe, and by her sisters, the Misses Mary and Mildred Ewell. "Miss Maud" is a well known figure among literary circles in Prince William County and elsewhere, and surely it was a memorable occasion for "the Daughters" to be entertained by so gracious a hostess, and with historic "Dunblane" as a fitting background.

The meeting was well attended and several guests were present; who added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Mrs. Parke Wilson presided capably in the absence of Miss Lucy Berkeley, our president, who had not then returned to "Evergreen." Our first vice president, Mrs. Alice Hutchison, was also absent; as she was visiting relatives in Conn. All routine business being quickly dispensed with, "the Daughters" voiced their pleasure in the "spic and span" appearance of the U. D. C. Hall at Hickory Grove, and accorded Mr. R. B. Gosson, who was present a rising vote of thanks for the promptness and efficiency with which he recently repaired and painted the building. Mrs. Sanford Oulick read an interesting article on Gen. Dick Ewell of Civil War fame and a relative of our hostess who told us some thrilling reminiscences of his being wounded at Ball Bluff and convalescing at "Dunblane."

Delicious refreshments were served and it is our conviction that ice cream tastes just as good on any hot day as it does on July 4.

As a fitting finale to a delightful afternoon, Miss Maud showed us about the charming old rooms, whose every "nook and cranny," or so it seemed to us, boasted some interesting antique either furniture, picture or crockery. And the impatient honk of the motor sounded, several times before we could be coaxed out of the old fashion garden where the long rays of the late afternoon sun shone impartially over boxwood, and sweet rocket and a breeze sighed gently thru the weeping willows along the little stream down in the corner.

An event of the afternoon, which aroused reverent memories in every one present was the appearance of the beautiful silk Confederate flag which occupied a prominent place in the room; and is the property of the Chapter. We decided to display it at all of our future meetings as an inspiration for our members and not keep it packed away.

For 'twill live in song and story

The folds are in the dust!

For its fame on brightest pages.

Penned by poets and by sages

Shall go sounding down the ages

Furl its folds the now we must

We finally reluctantly departed, deciding to meet the first Thursday in September at our hall at Hickory Grove.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL PLAY IN NOV.

The Junior Women will present their annual play in November, plans are now under way, and the drama promises to be an unusually interesting one, with a fine cast. Details of the play were studied at the monthly meeting of the Club, held at the home of Mrs. Jo. Lyon.

Plans for the dance, which will be held on the 14th of September, were also carefully made. A good orchestra will play for this dance, and a large number of people are expected to attend.

The meeting was opened in the usual order, and in her charming manner, by Miss Esther Warren Pattie. Many new interesting plans were discussed for fall and winter enterprises. Reports from the various committees showed unusual progress during the summer months. The playground work for children whose mothers are attending a class held by Miss Neal, is under way, and has proven itself a very interesting diversion for the members of the club who are holding this.

The meeting was adjourned and delightful refreshments were served by Misses Nana Wade-Dalton and Eleanor Gibson, the hostesses.

W. T. C. U. MEETING

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. T. R. Bywaters Wednesday, August 22, at 3 p. m. Every member is asked to be present if possible as this is the meeting for the election of the coming year.

SMITH VICTOR IN TOURNAMENT

Bull Run Grange Stages Wonderful Field Day.

Bull Run Grange held the largest Tournament and Field Day that they have ever had, last Friday, the 10th. There was a crowd assembled for the ball game and Horse Show in the morning, that increased in the afternoon for the second ball game and the tournament. First honors in the later were won by Knight of Old Dominion, (Mr. Thomas Smith, Haymarket) second, Knight of Rixeyville (Edward Chadwell, Rixeyville) Knight of Hickory Grove, (Thomas Cornette, Haymarket) was third, and Knight of Steppany, Harry Lynn, Haymarket, came in fourth.

In spite of threatening clouds, the event went off in a splendid manner with an appreciative crowd to applaud the riders.

Dr. Ferguson, of the State Grange gave an inspiring charge to the Knights, and Dr. Hummel of Blacksburg gave the Coronation address.

The Coronation Ball at night was a big success and had record attendance. It was a day that will be long remembered, and we hope that the public will look forward another year to an equally enjoyable day.

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR CONGRESS IN MANASSAS

Hon. John Locke Green of Arlington, Republican candidate for Congress, called by the Journal office last week.

Mr. Green expects to speak in Manassas soon. He says he intends to speak once or twice in each county.

He intends to outline in these speeches his opposition to Socialism, Tugwell, the AAA and the NRA. He believes the constitution in danger, the county going head over heels in debt, and only the Republican party can save it.

STATE BANKERS TO SPEED UP LOANS

Provisions of the Federal housing act can be put into effect in Virginia as soon as banks apply to Washington headquarters for order forms and credit statement blanks, and property owners apply for loans, it was emphasized yesterday by D. Robert Hunt, State director for the Emergency Council.

According to information received by Mr. Hunt in Washington, leading New York financial institutions are prepared to handle all loans sought from them, and "it is up to Southern banks to do their part in this modernization movement," Mr. Hunt said.

Meanwhile, the lending agencies in Virginia have been communicating with by Thomas C. Boushall, liaison officer between the Federal Housing Administration and Virginia financial institutions. Mr. Boushall urged Virginia Bankers to take advantage of this opportunity to help property owners to improve their property and to put building tradesmen to work.

Mr. Boushall will confer with Mr. Hunt. Meanwhile, Mr. Hunt is arranging for definite headquarters in Richmond.

The housing act sets aside $200,000,000 as a guarantee, up to 20 percent, of loans made by banks for modernization purposes. This guarantee is destined to put $100,000,000 into circulation, if property owners in sufficient numbers avail themselves of the opportunity to borrow money at a rate of 5 percent discounted, with repayments spread over a period of from one to three years, according to the size of the loan. These loans, made solely by banks and not by the Federal agency, are to be repaid monthly.

Types of property on which loans are available are family homes, apartments, office building, stores, farm buildings, factories and others, thus giving tremendous possibilities to the scope of the undertaking.

Banks of the nation have been sent copies of the FHA bulletin dealing with title one of the act, relating to modernization. The banks are to be apply direct to Washington for blanks and upon the receipt of the same will be ready to make loans.

"It is my intention to outline the housing act provisions to Virginia organizations, such as building trades groups, read estate associations and other bodies which have close contact with property owners," Mr. Hunt stated yesterday.

"A point which needs emphasis is that farmers, as well as city residents, are eligible to obtain these modernization loans from banks," he added.

Mr. Boushall yesterday announced an incomplete list of bankers in other Virginia cities who will spread the modernization gospel in those communities. The list includes:

Wayles R. Harrison, Danville; W. T. Macleod, Lynchburg; E. B. Brown, Roanoke; L. H. Zehner, Petersburg; E. N. Islin, Newport News, and A. E. Wharton, Norfolk.

Additional communities are being organized, Mr. Boushall stated.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AT M. E. PARSONAGE

On August the 9th, 1934, the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Manassas M. E. Church South was held at the Parsonage. This was the 29th wedding anniversary of the pastor, Mrs. Dr. Cocke of Atlanta, Ga., was the spokesman for the ladies. Her words were well chosen and expressive of good-will and christian fellowship.

To this the pastor responded with expressions of appreciations and a bit of romance. Refreshments were served. A huge cake of the Roosevelt type was brought in the word "Congratulations" artistically engraved in the icing across the top. The cake was cut and pronounced "very good" and a portion of it is still good the week following.

The kitchen presented another surprise. One of the tables was loaded with staple groceries—real old time poundings. About sixty persons were present. All spent a most enjoyable evening. Again we thank these good people for their kindness. These anniversaries seem to follow more rapidly as time rolls on, but the fine Christian fellowship as manifested on this occasion tends to keep the spirit young and buoyant.

We are glad to report also that the Young Peoples Division under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Blakemore presented a very beautiful Pageant on Sunday night, August 12, in the interest of a better Sabbath observance.

E. M. BOTELER

Manassas is saddened by the death of Mr. E. M. Boteler, who has lived for many years in the vicinity of this town, and has many friends. Mr. Boteler was a resident of Bristol last March.

Before coming to this community Mr. Boteler was a resident of Bristol, Virginia, where he was a member of the Baptist Church, Fauquier Co. He leaves a widow who, before her marriage, was Miss Myrtle Gibson, and two daughters, Misses Ruth and Kate.

The family have the sympathy of the community.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

On July 29 a beautiful birthday dinner was served in the cool spacious dining room of the Prince William Restaurant in honor of the proprietor's mother, Mrs. J. P. Smith of Culpeper in celebration of her 75th birthday anniversary.

The table was beautifully decorated with a large vase of snap-dragons and a large cake, beautifully decorated. Relatives and friends present included Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mr. John W. Smith of Washington, Mrs. Edith Kerns, Mr. Franklin Kerns and Miss Bevans.

ICKES GETS PARK DEEDS

William E. Carson, chairman of the State Conservation and Development Commission, presented signed deeds to the Shenandoah National Park area to Secretary Ickes of the Department of Interior in Washington.

Presentation of the deeds and muniments were made without formality. They go to the office of the attorney-general of the United States for checking before reaching the president. The document were signed in checking before reaching the President by Governor Peery, Mr. Carson and other State officials.

PARK TRANSFER IS COMPLETED

176,000 Acres of Shenandoah Project to Come Under National Park Control.

The State Conservation and Development Commission met in Richmond last week to give the final once-over to deeds transferring the Shenandoah National Park from the State to the Federal government.

Hon. Thomas Farrar, member of the commission, said members of the commission hoped that the transfer of the park's 176,000 acres would be made by nightfall. In order that this may be done, the deeds must be signed in final form by Governor Peery, who together with State Attorney-General A. P. Staples, will meet with the commission.

Some minor change in the tremendously long deeds was asked by Department of Interior attorneys recently after they had already been signed by the Governor and it is these changes which the commission proposes to scan today.

Eight identical deeds, any one of which will fill an entire record book, are to be recorded in the eight counties touched by the park. These are Albemarle, Augusta, Rockingham, Greene, Madison, Page, Warren and Rappahannock.

There are 2,800 parcels of land in the 176,000 acres to be given the government as a permanent playground for America people. A comparatively small number of these are located in Albemarle County.

A DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL AFFAIR

On Saturday last a "tea of the gay 90's" was given by Miss Madeline McCoy. The table decorations were yellow, white and green. Misses Virginia Conner and Frances Bushong assisted the charming young hostess in receiving her guests. Faithfully carried out the styles of the Nineties and were exceedingly lovely.

Miss McCoy wore an exquisite costume of black lace admirably suited to her blonde type.

The guests included: Mrs. Albert Roseberry, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Lynn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Remhardt Allen, Misses Elvira, Virginia and Walter Conner, Esther Warren Pattie, Charlotte Tiffany, Janet Trusler, Sue and Eleanor Gibson, Ann Bradford, Nancy Waters, Anna Bruce Whitmore, Rena Bevans, Mary Elizabeth Nelson, Frances Bushong, Sally Lewis, Helen Lloyd, Evelyn Cocke, Christine Metz, Hilda Moser, Nana Dalton, Marian Lynn, Meaker Burke, Olga Groff, Elsa Groff, Mary Muddiman, and Messrs Jack Ratcliffe, Wallace Tiffany, Judge William Hill Brown, Hawes and Jenkins Davies, Lt. Eames Powers, Carl and Connie Kincheloe, Jack Merchant, Ned Bradford Robert Weir, Ed. Dalton, John Roseberry, Frank Cox, Bill and Lee Lewis, Arthur Sinclair, Wilson and Thomas Kite, Maurice Smith, Robert Leith, John Henry Burke, Eddie Conner, Sedrick Saunders, Wickie Bradshaw and Darr and James Carr of Washington.

MARINES END ENCAMPMENT TOMORROW

Bathing suits will come in fine at the review to be put on at Pilgrim's Rest tomorrow when the Sixth Marine Corps Reserves will celebrate District of Columbia Day.

A number of the races are to feature bathing suits and the men will be suitably clad for the weather if it continues as it is this afternoon.

Commissioner Hasen has opened his portals to the county and a very large group will be present. In addition to the military police, Sheriff Kerlin and his deputies will be present to route the crowd and assist in parking the cars.

The Corps are already in camp having arrived yesterday after a two days march from Quantico through the battle field area. The program for the events was published last week.

CLUB PASSES QUIET EVENING

Fred Hynson is Orator of the Occasion.

New life awakened in the life of the Club last Friday night and they strung the yellow ribbon until Ray had to put on the brakes. The boys, surely missed their sponsors. Echoes of the Haymarket meeting were present but the Club regretfully postponed the acceptance of the latest invitation.

Fred had a fine evening. He recited a "pome," a joke and gave a sportorial. The last had some deep thought mixed in and Fred lightened it with the humor of his other offerings. In fact he enthused Bob so much that Bob had to get one of his immaculate shortfronts also.

The Club was in a receptive mood and Fred's program went over nicely, which made his score 1000 for the two evenings.

Mrs. Bob Smith was recognized by the chair in favor of the Piedmont Dairy Festival. This lady stood the Club up and gave them some marching orders which were accepted at once.

YOUNG PEOPLE SELECT OFFICERS

Organization Has Wide Membership.

The Young People from Warrenton, Catlett, Nokesville, Sudley, and Manassas met at Nokesville Aug. 10 to organize a Young Peoples Union, to bring the Young People closer together in the District.

Miss Virginia Henry told them of the purpose of the Union. Warrenton had charge of the worship program.

The Union was formed and the following officers were elected, Miss Margaret Turner of Warrenton, president; Mr. Jack Priceoff Catlett, vice-president; Miss Leda Sowers of Sudley, secretary; Miss Mildred Wood of Nokesville, treasurer; Mr. Layton Laws of Manassas Publicity Agent.

The Union retained the old name Farrington. The meeting's are to be held on the second Thursday night at 8:00 P. M. of the months. The next meeting will be held at Catlett Oct. 11. The officers of the Union are to meet at Nokesville Sept. 11. The meeting was closed by repeating the League Benediction.

JUNIORS PICNIC

Spliced in between a series of heavy rains the Junior picnic yesterday was regarded as much of a success by those attending. Over a hundred members of the Order Fraternal Americans and Daughters of America and their friends were on hand.

Deputy Baker organized his group early in the forenoon but found some already there at that. Others came, as late as one o'clock.

The beach is ideal and the little fellows especially had a great time in the average 18 inches depth they found at low tide.

The float was the constant scene of frolic in efforts to dislodge it from its moorings.

The slide was great but a near panic was caused when some tried to go down without proper preparation.

The approach of a heavy shower about 3:30 caused a slightly early exodus but all got home before any real rain came down.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC AT LINTON HALL

The Catholic Woman's Club are giving a picnic at Linton Hall Saturday afternoon, August 18, to the Sunday School children of All Saints Parish which includes all the children of the county.

The grounds at Linton Hall are especially arranged for a good time for a picnic, as there are all kinds of play sports, and every child should have lots of fun. Transportation will be at the rectory at 2 p. m. All children of the parish are invited and we hope each and every one will have a nice time.

There will be an all day meeting and homecoming with dinner on the ground at Asbury Methodist Church near Aden, Va., on Sunday, August 19, beginning at 9:45 with Sunday school. Extra speakers invited and extra music assured. Everybody welcome.

THE METHODISTS SING THEIR STORY

A prominent feature of the Ses-qui-Centennial to be held in Baltimore, October 10 to 14, is the Oratorio, entitled "The Evangel of the New World." From the Overture to the final chorus, the musical score expresses the vivid emotions evoked by the great revival which came across the Atlantic where its power saved the establishment and prevented a French revolution there.

In three parts, one is carried through the wilderness, to a prophetic vision of the present day world and its needs. In each part some great hymn of Wolsley is featured, conviction and penitence climaxing in the Lyric "Arise My Soul Arise." We hear the cries and hallelujahs of the camp-meeting, the preacher exhorting and the congregation passing from tears to cries of joy.

Professor Van Denman Thompson of DePau University has done a wonderfully fine piece of musical expression and Ethel Arnold Tilden has given a fine poetical utterance to the narrative. Dr. Forrest J. Pretty-man conceived the idea and one seems to hear the foot beats of the circuit riders on their long wilderness ride.
Frances Asbury alone traveled 250-000 miles monthly over these forest trails of the midwest. It is a great achievement for any denomination to have combined its history with music as is done in this "Evangel of the New World."

plant. All agreements for the erection of the new plant have been reached, including the paving of a strip of ground from Holabird avenue, which the mayor and the city council have agreed to pave and maintain as a city street.

Construction will proceed at once on the new project, according to a statement issued by M. E. Coyle, president of Chevrolet.

The new plant will have an annual capacity of approximately 80,000 cars and trucks and will be similar in type of operations to the nine assembly plants now owned by Chevrolet. It is proposed to erect a Fisher Body plant adjacent to the Chevrolet assembly plant where closed bodies will be built and conveyed to the assembly line in the main plant.

The proposed plants will employ approximately 1,500 men and will supplement the present facilities of the Tarrytown, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., Norwood, Ohio, and Atlanta, Ga., assembly plants.

The demand for Chevrolet cars and trucks in the densely populated areas along the Atlantic seaboard makes it necessary for the company to provide additional assembly facilities.

Plans are now being prepared by Albert Kahn, architect, who has designed many buildings for Chevrolet as well as the General Motors building at the Chicago Century of Progress exposition.

Sunday School will begin promptly at 9:45, and the morning Worship Service, with Conference Supt. Dr. U. P. Hovermale, Martinsburg, W. Va., bringing the message, will follow. On account of sickness, the pageant, Youth Bulldeth, to be given by the young people will have to be postponed until a later date. Other special numbers, however, will take the place of this for the morning service and you are assured of a program that will be mutually interesting and inspirational. Dr. James W. Wright, Pastor of First U. B. Church, Harrisonburg, Va., will be the speaker for the afternoon service, and Rev. J. W. Brill, Martinsburg, W. Va., will preach at night. A special invitation is extended for you to spend the day at Calvary Church.

The Revival Meeting, with Rev. J. W. Brill bringing the messages each evening except Saturday at eight o'clock, during this week and next, is now in progress at Calvary Church. Rev. Brill is a former pastor of this church, and you will want to again listen to his soul inspiring messages. A Daily Vacation Bible School, for the children of the community, is being held during the afternoons from 1:30 to 4. The parents are asked to co-operate in making it possible for the children to attend.

We look forward to the Home Coming Day at Asguy Aug. 19 with some pleasure. There will be two sermons by the pastor or by some minister the pastor will invite to preach for this occasion. Good music will be one feature of the service.

The exceptional popularity which Chevrolet has enjoyed for many years has naturally had its effect on Chevrolet prices. Large sales have enabled Chevrolet to maintain consistently low purchase prices, which were recently lowered even further. As a result Chevrolet now offers you the lowest priced six-cylinder automobile obtainable—a big, comfortable car with Fisher Body styling and refinement—safe, weatherproof, cable-controlled brakes—the smoothness and economy of a valve-in-head, six-cylinder engine—and typical Chevrolet dependability. In offering this car, and the Master models, at substantially lower prices, Chevrolet hopes to repay the motoring public in some measure, for consistently placing Chevrolet so high in public favor.

Just a line and verse in fond remembrance of my Darling boy, Harvey L. Cornwell.

Three Sad years have passed, dear Harvey
Since you were called away
It will always be in my memory.
That sad and dreary day.Oh my heart will always ache
With a dull and throbbing pain
In memory of the terrible night
When that awful sad message came.We must follow you dear, Harvey.
We, too, must cross the mystic sea
On the other side of the rolling tide
We will meet again with thee.

-A THOUGHT-

The world is full of sunshine
And of happiness and love;
The world itself is griefless
As is heaven up above.Man lets the shadows of his sins
Obscure the sunny rays;
Man hides the brightness of the world
With dreary, sordid days.
Man dims the world with sorrow
And with worry and distress;
Man manufactures trouble
And brews unhappiness.The world was made by God alone;
He also made the man,
And why He lets man ruin the world
I cannot understand.

GENERAL MOTORS PRIZES
BEING AWARDED

Judging of the miniature Napoleonic coaches submitted in the 1934 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild competition, in which $51,000 in university scholarships are offered as awards, is now being conducted in the General Motors Building at A Century of Progress Exposition.

The models, the work of youths of from 12 to 19 years of age, all of whom have been recommended by school authorities or recognized boys' activity leaders, are reproductions of a master coach designed by Walter Leuschner, formerly the head of a family-owned concern that began building carriages for European monarchs during the reign of Frederick Wilhelm III of Prussia.

The master model is a composite of the ornate vehicles used for the wedding and coronation of the Emperor Napoleon. Its successful reproduction requires the utmost skill in the various phases of craftsmanship, as shown by the fact that the replicas are judged from the standpoint of paintercraft, trimcraft, woodcraft and metalcraft, as well as fidelity to scale.

The builder of the 16 adjudged the best of those received from boys in the United States and the eight

JUDGE
A BANK BY ITS USEFULNESS!

The true measure of a bank's value is its usefulness. It must provide a range of service to meet the needs of customers and community; it must offer complete facilities for the convenience of depositors; it must be prepared to act as a source of reliable information on matters of business and finance; it must be in a position to extend credit for legitimate purposes; and, last but not least, it must provide absolute safety for depositors' funds at all times. 3,000 people in this territory (with total deposits of over $500,000.00) have judged this bank by its usefulness and selected it as their financial headquarters. INVESTIGATION OF
MYSTERIOUS ROBBERIES IN "GALLOPING REMEO"

Those who prefer stirring action, strong drama and gripping suspense get more than their fill of their favorite thrills next week at Dixie Theatre when Bob Steele, Monogram western star rides across the screen pictures.

The plot concerns the trials and tribulations of a young cowpuncher and his elderly pal, who leave the State of Nevada when their efforts on behalf of law-enforcement are misunderstood by the local authorities, only to land in hot water in California when they become involved in the investigation of a number of mysterious gold robberies in which the shipments have disappeared from locked strong boxes on the stage coach line.

As they delve into the mystery the investigation is complicated by a running battle with hold-up men, during which the coach plunges over a cliff, gun battles in the streets, arrests and escapes, and a thrilling cross-country chase, ending in the breaking up of a wagon, and a stirring rescue from a rushing river.

The ace western star is supported by an excellent cast, including Doris Hill, former Paramount star; George Hayes, Ed Brady, Frank Ball, Ernie Adams, Lefe McKee, Earl Dwire and George Nash. R. N. Bradbury is responsible for the smooth and even direction and continuity.

NOTICE

Several of our friends who have renewed recently are under the impression that the subscription price of the Journal has gone up. This is not true except for subscribers living hundreds of miles away where postal rates are much higher. We gave these an option of renewing for two years at the old price up to a very recent date.

The change in price affects less than 25 subscribers.

'CHANGE OF HEART'
DRAWN FROM LIFE

Many readers of Kathleen Norris' recent novel, "Manhattan Love Song," which next playing at the Dixie Theatre, as a Janet Gaynor-Charles Farrell screen feature, under the title of "Change of Heart," might suppose the noted writer was merely drawing on her imagination when she set the story down on paper.

On the contrary, this tale of four penniless college youngsters and their adventures in New York was taken to an unusual degree from real life, being largely based on the author's own experiences in the same situation.

"I especially enjoyed the writing of 'Manhattan Love Song,'" Mrs. Norris says, "because, just 25 years ago, my husband and I were married on nothing in 'the biggest city,' and of the others were our 'To this day, I feel that there is no adventure comparable to that of a young couple daring their fate that way."

In making "Change of Heart," which brings Miss Gaynor and Farrell together again on the screen after a separation of a year and a half, a notable supporting cast was selected that includes James Dunn and Ginger Rogers as the other two collegians, and Beryl Mercer, Irene Franklin, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Dore Leyton, Theodore Von Eltz and Fiske O'Hara. John Blystone directed the picture, under the personal supervision of Winfield Sheehan, and Sonja Levien and James Gleason wrote the screen play of Mrs. Norris' entertaining novel.

15th REUNION OF
BLUE RIDGE DIVISION

Out of the brush of the Blue Ridges, early in 1917, there came thousands of men—young, lank, bronzed, grim-lipped. The squirrel hunters of the hills, the clean-visioned boys from the rolling Virginias, the moonshiners, the pasty-faced lads from the small town pool-rooms, the youthful business men, the ignorant and the brave, the good and the bad—all were drawn into the maw of the world's unrest and made into soldiers—soldiers whose trim-uniformed bodies became in their discipline the very soul of organization the essence of mechanism, a part of the most powerful fighting machine the world has ever known.

And they called this khaki-ed conglomeration, "The 80th Division." It went to France, of course, and then to the lines. There it learned about war and death and hell and things like that. Then it came home—or a part of it came home. They couldn't find some of the bodies, and their owners stayed over there, somewhere.

The monster—War—went to sleep again for a time and the 80th ceased to exist, so far as certain official, important-looking documents in the files over at Washington were concerned. In other words, several thousand nonentities in a human machine were stripped of their uniforms and metamorphosed into men. But, after they had all become human beings again, these thousands found they could not forget they had once been soldiers. They could not forget the events that had made over their own worlds, and which they gather at some point in the Blue Ridge and fight the war over again, and make life a little more bearable, perhaps, than it would otherwise be.

So, now, in a way they carry on. They are still holding together in a form much less severe and binding than that in which they went to war, but teach year they gather at some point in the Blue Ridges and fight the war over again, and make life a little more bearable, perhaps, than it would otherwise be.

The Blue Ridge warriors are meeting for the fifteenth time since demobilization in reunion at Connaught Lake Park, Pa., August 16-19th. General Adelbert Cronkhite, who commanded the 80th Division during its training and service overseas will be one of the first arrivals. Col. H. G. Peyton, war commander of the 320th Infantry and National Commander of the 80th Division Veterans Association, is flying from Ft. Sam Houston, Texas to attend the reunion. In addition to the foregoing the officers of the Association are: Vice Commanders, Geo. J. Klier, Pittsburgh, Pa., H. A. McClaren, Summit, Va., Van Dyke Clark, Huntington, W.

Va.; Chaplain Rev. Edward A. Wallace, Manhattan Beach, N. Y.; Historian Russell L. Stultz, New Market, Va.; Judge Advocate H. W. Fitchett, Huntington, W. Va.; Recording Secretary Dan J. Packner, Pittsburgh, Pa.

It would take a string of cars a mile long to accommodate all who would ride with the Chief Executive when he makes a train trip. This presents many embarrassing and plaguing situations. How these problems are solved through expert planning and careful management is told in an article by John Russell Young, White House correspondent of The Washington Evening Star, who has made many such trips with several Presidents, in the Star's Magazine Section next Sunday, August 19.

LEGION OF DECENCY

Initiated by Catholics; Supported by Other Churches and Jewish Leaders, That America May Have Clean Movies.

(By Isaac McGill)

An aroused and vigilant hierarchy is exhorting the Catholics of America to enroll in the Legion of Decency by pledging themselves to stay away from theatres that show offensive films. Numerous Protestant groups are supporting this movement and several Jewish rabbis are urging their congregations to co-operate in the campaign for cleaning the screen.

Of this movement Edward Angly writes in the Literary Digest: "Scared by the specter of a boycott by Catholic customers that could easily extend around the earth, the moguls who make America's motion pictures have once more taken a vow to purify their products. The movie-makers, convinced of the strength and earnestness of this movement now begin to realize that leaders who have been keeping an eye on morals for 2,000 years are militantly demanding that the producers live up to the code they pretendiously.

Catholic newspapers in the United States now number 310 and their combined circulations exceed 7,000,000 copies. No industry dependent on popular patronage can flout, with impunity, the sentiment of a press of that size and influence, nor, for long, keep it fooled with evasions of a code."

The trouble, as the Church people see it, lies not with the code, but in the fact that the producers do not sincerely enforce it. So, now, the Catholic bishops of the United States, with the support of the Federal Council of Churches in America, and other non-Catholic organizations, are suggesting that people stay away from pictures which violate the code's first general principle that "No picture shall be produced which will lower the moral standards of those who see it."

Allowing that nearly every American boy and girl averages one visit a week to the pictures, and since 2,250,000 children attend Catholic parochial schools in the United States, and hundreds of thousands of students are in Catholic high schools and college, filmdom is, the week, reported to be ready (before the opening of the next school term) to again follow the ethical code drafted, in 1930, by Father Daniel A. Lord, S. J., of St. Louis, Missouri, editor of The Queen's Work, the official organ of the Sodality Union that embraces tens of thousands of Catholic women and girls in its membership.

The Federal Council of Churches plans a national distribution of the pledge-cards by which Protestants will promise to boycott objectionable films. Millions of Americans, pledging themselves individually, can rid the country of its greatest menace—the salacious motion pictures.

The Legion of Decency was officially introduced into the Diocese of Richmond on July 20 through a letter from the Vicar General, Monsignor Kaup, in which the pastors of the several churches in Virginia are requested to have each parishioner sign the individual pledge-card; promising to abstain from attending indecent and corrupt movies.

Last Sunday, in the course of his merits of clean, wholesome films for their pleasing and educational features, while forcibly warning parents against permitting children to attend movies that outrage decency, morals and religion; attack the sanctity of the home and ridicule obedience to lawful authority.

Conscientious Protestants, God-fearing Jews and practical Catholics are uniting in the protest against motion pictures of unsavory character. Right thinking mothers who make every sacrifice to give children a fine education will, it hoped, no longer stand idly by and allow a group of greedy film-producers to erase the beneficial effects of their efforts.

Edmund Lowe Mixes His Own

By Mabel Love

EDMUND LOWE, famous screen star, has a passion for doughnuts — probably acquired in the army. The photograph above shows him being introduced to a bran variety of this delicacy by attractive Ann Roth, mistress of ceremonies during one of his recent personal appearances before a moving picture audience.

Bran supplies the "bulk" every normal person needs in his diet if he is to keep his system in good running order; so perhaps Miss Roth had the star's health as well as his palate in view. At any rate he pronounced the doughnuts delicious, and here is the recipe for you to try in your own home:

Bran Doughnuts

1 cup bran
3/4 cup sour milk
1 egg
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup milk

Soak bran in milk. Beat eggs until light. Add sugar, nutmeg and bran and milk mixture. Sift dry ingredients and add half of it to first mixture. Stir in shortening. Add remaining flour. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut. Fry in deep fat at 375° F. Roll in sugar if desired. Provides 18 doughnuts. (Cut with 3-inch cutter).

Bran Honey Orange Squares are another tasty bran delicacy. Here's the recipe for these, too, just for good measure:

Bran Honey Orange Squares

1 tablespoon shortening
1/3 cup honey
1/3 cup flour
1 egg, well beaten
1/3 cup butter
1/2 cup marmalade
1/2 cup salted almonds, chopped

Cream shortening and honey. Add egg, marmalade and bran. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add nuts and stir into first mixture. Bake in greased tin (9 x 5 inches) in moderate oven (375° F.) for 25 minutes. Cut in squares. Roll in powdered sugar. Provides two dozen 1-inch squares.

Ice Cream for Everyone

HAVE you noticed the great big trucks with the name of some manufacturer of ice cream painted on their sides that now speed constantly along the roads all over our country? It's a far cry from them to the time when ice cream was usually a Sunday treat and the number of kinds generally available was limited to chocolate, vanilla and strawberry.

Today there are a great number of different ice creams you can make yourself to cool down your interior during these torrid months, and you can flavor them with all sorts of fruits such as apricots, bananas, blackberries, oranges, pineapple, peaches and raspberries, and with honey, nuts, mint and macaroons.

Here are some recipes for ice creams of these flavors, few of which can be obtained from ice cream manufacturers. We have made some of them quantity recipes in case you are giving a big party.

Apricots and Bananas
Apricot Mint Ice Cream: Make a puree of the apricots from a No. 2 can by pressing them through a sieve. Scald together three cups thin cream, three-fourths cup sugar and one bunch of crushed fresh mint leaves. Let cool, strain and add to the puree. Freeze as usual. Serves eight.

Blackberries and Oranges
Blackberry Ice Cream: Scald together the contents of a 6-ounce can evaporated milk, one-third cup sugar and two tablespoons water; then cool. Add two tablespoons lemon juice and one cup of canned blackberries, mashed and pressed through a coarse sieve. Freeze. Serves four.

Orange Ice Cream: Beat two eggs well, add seven-eighths cup sugar, two cups orange juice, one tablespoon grated orange rind and half a cup of lemon juice, and let stand until sugar is all dissolved. Add contents of three 6-ounce cans evaporated milk, color as desired with yellow coloring, and freeze. Serves eight.

To make this dish even more attractive, cut a golden yellow sponge cake into heart shapes, hollow out centers to form boxes or baskets, and fill with the orange ice. Sprinkle chopped candied orange peel on top.

Banana Ice Cream: Mix three cans condensed milk with one and a half cups water, and add one tablespoon vanilla. Add three cups mashed banana pulp, three cups beaten cream, and freeze in refrigerator trays (or in ice cream freezer), and serve with an ined animal cracker standing on top of each. Serves twenty-four.

CANNING EXPERT
GIVES DEMONSTRATION

On Friday afternoon, August 10, in the basement of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Helen B. Snyder, gave a demonstration in canning vegetables.

Mrs. Snyder, who was sent to us by Mrs. Beamer, Food Preservation Specialist of the Emergency Relief Administration, covered every step in the art of successful canning beginning with the cause of food spoilage. She discussed methods of canning, preparation of equipment, selection of food to be canned, pre-cooking and packing, sealing of jars, processing, and storage of canned foods.

Mrs. Snyder engaging personality delighted all who met her, and everyone felt that the meeting was most instructive and educational. There was a large attendance from Manassas and vicinity.

SAFETY HINTS FOR
SNAKE BITES

Practical knowledge of what to do in case of snake-bite is most valuable and should be particularly familiar to all campers, picnickers, and persons who spend much time in the country. Should there be delay in securing the services of a physician, advised Dr. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner, in a statement regarding this subject, prompt treatment should be given whenever may be present or even by the victim himself. The reptiles usually strike on the arms or legs and no time should be lost in tying a strong cord just above the bite between the fang wound and the heart. This prevents the blood carrying the venom all over the body. The cord should be released at five to ten minute intervals for a few seconds at a time in order to avoid congestion of the limb and the development of gangrene.

While the cord is still in place the skin should be cut directly over each puncture and the venom sucked out of the wound, or pumped out with a common breast pump.

Fear and undue haste to get somewhere for treatment may increase the heart action and so cause more rapid dissemination of the poison. Likewise, whiskey or alcohol in any form increases the rate of absorption by stimulating the blood circulation, and is particularly dangerous.

There are emergency measures to be taken in case a doctor is not at hand. People planning to spend some time where medical services are not available should provide themselves with a first-aid outfit which can be secured at a drug store. Antivenom has been used but most authorities now consider it of very doubtful value.

Chevrolet Motor Company was awarded the largest order for automotive equipment ever placed by North Carolina, calling for the delivery of 450 bus chassis for use in school districts throughout the state. Chevrolet was the low bidder. At the same joint session of the state division of purchase and the state school commission, at Raleigh, July 27, orders were awarded to various builders for 675 bus bodies, to cost $235,685. These bodies are to be mounted on Chevrolet chassis and on additional long wheelbase chassis, to be purchased later, mounting 17- and 19-foot bodies.

GOOD NEWS ABOUT MILK

YOU want good milk wherever you go this summer—and you can get it. That seems like a sweeping assertion, covering, as it does, every mountain and seaside resort, national park and rural retreat in the country, but we are making it on the authority of the American Medical Association.

An interesting development which is attracting the attention of many careful housewives is the work of the Committee on Foods of this Association which grants the Seal of Acceptance to the manufacturers of food products who apply for it, after a careful examination not only of the product itself but of the advertising claims on the packages that contain it and of all the advertising that refers to it.

This has attracted so much attention, in fact, that the American Medical Association has been publishing in its popular health magazine, Hygiene, a series of articles by Doris W. McCray under the title "A Housewife Looks at the Committee on Foods." Here are some of the things she had to say about evaporated milk.

A Welcome Test

"When the American Medical Association's Committee on Foods was instituted, the producers of evaporated milk had already organized and had done much work in the way of improving the product and winning popular acceptance, and they welcomed the opportunity of adding prestige to their various brands by compliance with the requirements for use of the Seal of Acceptance on packages and in advertising matter. The long list of accepted brands attests to this realization of the value of using the Seal."

She then described the meticulous examination to which both a product and all the advertising about it have to be subjected before being granted the Seal of Acceptance, and said:

"The Seal of Acceptance on a can of milk assures the purchaser that the Committee on Foods has carefully considered the foregoing points from the standpoint of public health and welfare and has accepted the brand of milk as being clean, safe and truthfully advertised."

Some Important Conclusions

She then told something about the activities of the Evaporated Milk Association which is composed of the majority of packers of evaporated milk, representing 90 per cent of the total production, and quoted some of its statements which have been accepted by the Committee on Foods in regard to the brands which it has examined and approved. The following are some of the most important statements:

"Evaporated milk is pure fresh cow's milk with approximately 40 per cent of the water removed by evaporation under reduced pressure. It is not a patented or proprietary food but a staple commodity." (The italics are ours.)

"Evaporated milk is sterile and therefore is the safest milk obtainable."

"Evaporated milk is equal to pasteurized milk in all important food values; it supplies those vitamins which milk can be depended on to supply and in practically equal quantity."

Easy to Digest

"Evaporated milk is more speedily digested than raw or pasteurized milk or milk boiled only a short time."

"The fact of evaporated milk, because of the homogenization process, is more finely dispersed than the fat of ordinary milk and therefore is more readily acted on by digestive enzymes."

"The curd of evaporated milk in the stomach has a softer and more finely grained texture or structure than that produced from raw or pasteurized milk; it resembles in physical structure the curd of human milk."

"Evaporated milk is considered by many pediatricians to be the best form of cow's milk for preparing infant feeding formulas."

"Evaporated milk is one of the most convenient and economical forms of milk for preparing infant feeding formulas."

"The uniform composition of evaporated milk is a tremendous help in infant diets, since the baby's delicate stomach is so easily disturbed."

Ideal for Infants

"The foregoing facts," she wrote, "thoroughly set forth the reasons why evaporated milk is recognized by pediatricians as an ideal food for infants. Much research work on the feeding of infants has furnished conclusive proof of the value of evaporated milk. The attending physician should diagnose the condition of the infant and prescribe the exact formula for feeding. Evaporated milk is also useful in the diet kitchen of a hospital."

The article contains many concrete suggestions about the use of evaporated milk which it is worth the while of any housewife to read."
