KIWANIS CLUB ACTIVITIES

Two meetings of the Kiwanis Club have taken place since the last issue of The Journal.

On Friday last through the agency of Town Manager Coker, ex-Governor Cary Hardee, of Florida, and now prominent in banking circles of the Capitol, was the guest speaker.

Governor Hardee is a typical old-fashioned Southerner with pretty rigid ideas of Americanism. It being Constitution Week he chose this as his subject and gave an extemporaneous address that was replete with sound judgment.

The details of the talk can hardly be listed here but it was interesting to note the careful attention which he was given and the earnest applause and evident satisfaction that registered both during the course of his remarks.

Last night the club journeyed to old Sudley church where Charley McDonald and the Ladies Aid, to say Prince William County.

Threat of Bad Weather Fails to Lessen Enthusiasm.

With every detail carefully arranged, the Fourth Annual Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival will be held here tomorrow, and officials in charge expect the largest crowd of visitors in the festival's history.

The Festival will be officially opened this evening with a Ball in the high school gymnasium. Tomorrow morning will witness the crowning of Miss Sheila Sultan as Queen of the Festival. Coronation exercises begin at 11 a.m. and Miss Sultan will be crowned Regina IV by Governor George C. Peery. In addition to Governor Peery the Festival will be witnessed by a host of other notables. Among these will be Major Harvey Miller, U.S.M.C., who will be in command of the 6th Reserve Marine Brigade. This organization will serve as Guard of Honor to the Queen and Her Court and will consist of a provisional war strength company of four platoons.

The 6th Reserve Marine Brigade Band will furnish the accompaniment for the pageant to be presented Friday immediately after the coronation, and will be under the direction of First Lieut. Leon Brusloff, U. S. M. C. R. Other prominent guests invited include former Governor John C. Pollard, of Virginia, Secretary of Navy Swanson, Judge Howard W. Smith, Representative in Congress from this district, and a host of others. At 8 a.m. Friday morning a caravan of 200 cars will leave Union Station in Washington to bring the official Washington delegation to the Festival.

Like a series of masterpieces from the brushes of old masters will be the scenes from the pageant, which was written and directed by Miss Sue Ayres, Rural School Supervisor. The pageant is designed to depict the value of milk to the growing child and will be presented in four episodes. The pageant stage is nestled behind the towers and parapets of the old German castle on the estate and furnishes an ideal setting. The school children of Prince William County will portray the various characters.

Miss Sultan, Queen of the Festival, will have as her Maids of Honor, Miss Emma Henry Tompkins of Washington and Miss Dorothy Rust of Alexandria. Princesses will come from the participating counties, and the following have been chosen to represent their counties in the celebration: Princess-at-large, Miss Ruth Hooker; Princess Arlington, Miss Audrey Marcey; Princess Culpeper, Miss Mary Boswell Inskeep; Princess Fauquier, Miss Virginia Jones; Princess Fairfax, Miss Mary Blake; Princess Loudoun, Miss Elizabeth Rust; Princess Madison, Miss Beulah Thrift; Princess Orange, Miss Adra Browning; Princess Prince William, Miss Sarah Elizabeth Lewis; Princess Rappahannock, Miss Nancy Fletcher; Princess Spotsylvania, Miss Mary Lorraine Littlefield.

Officials are anticipating a great success and all northern Virginia will be represented. The officers of the Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival are: Mr. R. S. Hynson, president; Dr. Norbert Melnick, vice-president; Mr. B. W. Middleton, second vice-president; Mr. Dan S. Hollenga, third vice-president; Mr. W. Hill Brown, Jr., secretary, and Mr. R. L. Byrd, treasurer; Mr. Frank Cox, managing director, and Mrs. R. H. Smith, assistant director.

Sixty floats have been entered in the Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival parade and more are expected at the last moment. Several cups will be awarded to winners in the various classes. Outstanding among the floats will be those entered by counties, civic and agricultural organizations designed to further the purposes for which the association was set up in 1930, namely, education as to the food value of milk and dairy herd improvement.

More than 2,000 northern Virginia school children will be in the line of march. The school division will be led by the Alexandria High School, and the Washington-Lee Cadets. A cup will be awarded to the school having the best appearance in the parade. In the school division will be the Boys' Independent Band of Washington comprised of boys of high school age. A WORD OF THANKS

(contributed)

When the time comes for extending credit to those responsible for the success of the fourth annual Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival the schools and school officials of Prince William County should not be overlooked. The schools form the most important unit in the whole celebration and without their cooperation the festival could hardly survive. School Superintendent Richard C. Haydon has worked untiringly and Miss Sue Ayres, Rural School Supervisor, has been, and is spending every available minute on the pageant which she wrote and which she will direct. The county school busses will be running all day Friday transporting the school children from all over the county to the festival, and Superintendent Haydon very kindly let the festival authorities use one of the large school busses for the Princesses float.

Let Chevrolet tell its own story of riding and driving comfort

Make the ownership test

The best way to get the truth about the new Chevrolet is to make the Ownership Test. Drive this car over the same routes, in the same way you drive your present automobile, and let the results you can see and feel tell their own story. A ride will prove that Knee-Action makes bad roads good, and good roads better. A ride will prove that shock-proof steering, Syncro-Mesh gear-shifting, a remarkably flexible 80-horse-power engine, and cable-controlled brakes make a big difference in safety and driving ease. A ride will show you why so many thousands have found it impossible to return to ordinary driving after an experience like this.

Trick stunts, as such, may be okay.
But none of them serve to portray
How fuels behave when once they are Put to the test in your own car.

That's why the wise old owl agrees.
There's nothing to these monkey-shines:
What you should have are first-hand facts
From which to judge how fuel acts.

Seeing is believing! Test Essolene in your own car...

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

By word we help one another and a light is kindled in each heart.—Psalm 119: 105

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

THE SAINTS' ASSURANCE:
O fear the Lord, ye his saints:
for there is no want to them that fear him. The young lions do lack and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing.—
Psalm 34: 9, 10.

A HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Having reached a period of excitement and exhaustion concerning the Dairy Festival that opens this evening, the JOURNAL is hardly able to express itself in just mere words.

Little beginnings have big endings and that is why we have published a little something of the history of the PIEDMONT VIRGINIA DAIRY FESTIVAL. The story needs no comment. The sequel will be enacted tomorrow.

We hope that this will prove yet even more conclusively the fitness and the need of this unique venture which has already meant so much to Piedmont Virginia and more particularly to Prince William County.

It is not necessary to add that a hearty welcome will await any of our friends and visitors at such hours as our office may be open.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

Unless there are anniversaries on the occasion of which we pause in wonder at the miracles of old time, even as those of the Jewish faith who gather and listen to the rabbis as they read out the "Hear Ye, O Israel!", unless each succeeding generation takes upon itself to teach its youth of the sacrifice of those who have gone before and of the wonderful lessons of faith and earnest labor, then gradually must those examples fade from the sight and ken of man.

The inspiration, which made it possible for that group of colonial patriots to weld a nation out of a mismatched ensemble of colonial governments from whom had been lifted the scourge of war but without previous precedent upon which they might embark in governmental problems, was truly divine in its source.

All the basic principles of self government are embodied in a document which has been a model for all those other nations which have since attempted a Democratic form of government. The three great branches—legislative, judicial and executive—are dealt with wisely and sufficiently.

The conception of this type of government was to arrive as nearly as possible at securing for the people at all times the passage of their will for all things pertaining to this great government. The only flaw in this well nigh perfect structure is the latent possibility of construction as to the powers of the several states as compared with those of the federal government.

Against this bulwark of civilization there has arisen a condition today which is viewed with great dismay by some as a "bureaucracy" that will feed upon the vitals of the government when encouraged to do so in a period of world wide unrest in which any method of possible relief is received with approbation.

Against this we have that group of progressive legislators who tell us that we are not actually getting away from the Constitution but are going right back to the foundation principles and trying to build anew, in a new day and under new conditions. They tell us that not a "jot nor a tittle" of the Constitution will be affected but that the nation of the future will actually be strengthened.

There must have been scenes of great stress in that time when it was feared that there was not enough balance of power to be had by which the union could be effected. Doubtless then, when autocracy could have been easily restored by ruthless hands, there were "passages-at-arms" and accusations were made with little or no consideration.

But by persuasion and by the fact that these men had already established the balance of confidence, so sadly lacking in our country in recent years, the victory was ultimately won. There has not yet been a period in our history but that confidence in our leaders was a positive necessity to success. There has never been a time when we were not faced with greed and treachery, even in our high councils. But the fact remains that we are English people, determined on free government since the days of Runemede, and in this dominant principle we may hang our hopes for the safety of this fair land.

MANASSAS, VIRGINIAMRS. WASHINGTON ENTER-TAINS BETHLEHEM CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 19, members of the Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club were cordially greeted by Mrs. M. M. Washington and Mrs. Nannie K. Middlethorn at "The Grove," the ancestral home of Mrs. Washington.

The chalet was first exchanged after which the meeting was formally opened by repeating the Lord's prayer in unison. Reading of minutes and roll call followed. A very amusing article entitled "Two Chances" was read by Mrs. Emily Round in response to her name from roll call.

From the relief office came a request for discarded clothing stating that the need is very great at this particular time and season.

Mrs. Eleanor Johnson and Mrs. Washington, committee on education, reported that two books by Mr. Douglas Freeman, a gift from the Ladies Memorial Association, had been added to the library; also a delightful book "So Red The Rose" and "Archives of the Year" had been purchased from library fund.

Mrs. Broadus gave report for flower committee.

An impromptu program was presented by Mrs. R. L. Sadd. Those taking part were Miss Florence Kincheloe, Mrs. M. M. Washington, Mrs. J. T. Broadus and Mrs. R. A. Hutchison.

The next meeting of the club in October will be held at the home of Mrs. Percival Lewis and Mrs. Emily Round.

Mrs. Washington and Mrs. Broadus will present a Halloween program at this time.

House guests of Mrs. Washington were Mrs. R. B. Atkinson and Mrs. W. T. Chapman of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Frank Rusk of Kensington, Md. Other club members present were Mesdames P. A. Lewis, W. M. Johnson, W. M. Pierson, R. L. Byrd, H. M. Jackson, M. E. Hart, and Maud Kincheloe.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served delicious home-made ice cream and cake.

CASH BUYERS OF COUNTRY PRODUCE

DEPOSITS INSURED
BY
The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
WASHINGTON, D. C.
$5000 MAXIMUM INSURANCE
FOR EACH DEPOSITOR $5000

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas has received from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at Washington the official signs which will hang at all receiving windows as visible evidence that the depositors of this institution are insured.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas is one of more than 14,000 licensed banks in the country which are receiving these signs. Insured banks are able to offer protection to their depositors up to $5,000. Statistical studies have shown that this maximum fully protects more than 97 per cent of all the depositors in insured banks.

The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are insured. Heretofore, although 90 per cent of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no easy means of identifying them.

"If, by any unforeseen circumstance, an insured bank should suspend, the Insurance Corporation would begin paying off the depositors just as soon as a receiver was appointed for the closed institution. The depositors would receive their money in a few days instead of waiting months or years as was the case in the former method of liquidation. This is not only a benefit to the depositors, but it saves the community from a terrific economic and social blow. When the depositors receive their insured accounts they assign their claims to the Insurance Corporation. Thereafter liquidation proceeds on a business-like basis with the maximum chance of the Corporation and other creditors being paid in full."

THE TEST OF A PUDDING

The old proverb says, "The test of a pudding is in the eating." So the test of a flour is in the using. Does it make good bread, biscuits, pastry,—that's the test!

White Rose Flour satisfies all the tests. Its price, too, is based entirely on its quality.

SHOULD PREPARE

FOR CROP LOANS

Dairy and livestock farmers of this section of the state are urged by J. K. Doughton, general agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Baltimore, to plant their "credit seeds" early, just as they plant their crops early.

Mr. Doughton said that the Warrenton Production Credit Association is now prepared to handle all applications for production credit loans in short order, but at the same time the association can render much more satisfactory service if prospective borrowers will establish their credit ahead of the date on which they will need their loans.

"Production Credit Associations of the Baltimore district, (including Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Puerto Rico) have already loaned out more than $3,000,000," Mr. Doughton said, "in the comparatively short period of seven months. The first loan was not closed until the first part of last February. Judging by the reception generally given these associations to date, their future lending activities will be even greater than they have been."

Mr. Doughton pointed out that the Warrenton Production Credit Association Credit Association, located at Warrenton, Va., is in position to make short-term and intermediate-term loans for almost any farming purpose. He said that loans by this association may be made for practically anything, the nature of such loans being so diversified that they parallel the farmer's needs from the time a farmer begins preparing his products to the time they are marketed.

The Warrenton association serves the counties of Fauquier, Fairfax, Loudoun, Prince William, Culpeper, Rappahannock and Arlington. Mr. J.

Alfred Austin is secretary-treasurer. The correspondent for Prince William County is Mr. William Hill Brown, Jr., attorney with office in Manassas.

CATHARPIN

EUREKA! Knowest thou what that means? It means we have found the trouble that has been bothering us so long. The printing press needed greasing and when that was done our letter of last week came thru 100 per cent perfect; that is, it was all there just as it was "writ." Now save in the community where the gas if we can only get our orthography, phraseology and syntax working right, things will move along in fine shape. Well, we shall do the best we know, so that's that. Mrs. W. N. Thomas, wife and sister of Waynesburg, Pa., were Oak-wood visitors several days last week. Mr. Thomas is one of the officials of the gas company which supplies Manassas, hence is not without honor all there just as it was "writ." Now save in the community where the gas runs short on a cold, wintry day. On Saturday last the above visitors, plus their host and hostess, drove to Fredericksburg on a sight-seeing expedition where we were greeted by the N P S. Now the N P S was a new and delightful experience. On first thought this combination might be confused with some of Franklin's alphabetical experiences, but not so, for this one actually worked. All being strange ers and anxious to see some of the many interesting and historic places, we determined to find a guide. Upon entering the city a large sign reading greeted us. Entering the office and making our wants known, a guide was assigned us and for two hours we had a most delightful trip thru the city and over the adjacent Battle Fields, seeing and hearing things of untold interest to all. Upon our return we naturally wanted to reward our guide for his gentlemanly and interesting services, but here is just what happened; he informed us that compensation by any means, fees, tips, or charges of any kind were not allowed under any circumstances; but that the National Park Service was putting this activity on as an experiment and if it is appreciated by the public, it may be extended to all parks in the country. Upon relating the above facts to our visitors, they were amazed, and to be candid about it we too were surprised. The visitors left the little city with hearts and minds full of appreciation and delight with the treatment received and things seen and heard. There is no question but that many Pennsylvanians will hear the story of this trip to Fredericksburg, Va., and will want to visit a place where courtesy and hospitality takes the place of wanton gain.

Thursday, October 25, is the date set for the Sudley bazaar which will open at noon of that day and serve both dinner and supper. Last year the bazaar part of it was omitted but this year it will appear in all its pristine glory. If this column is not mistaken, this will be the 13th annual event of this kind at Sudley. In former years it was the common expectation to net over $200.00 but of late this has fallen down around the $100 mark, but this year, with all the alphabetical projects to assist, it should go well beyond the low figure. Please remember the date. More anon.

Miss Hallie Dorsey and Miss Edith Morrison of Berryville, Va., have been house guests at Lawn Vale during the past fortnight.

We have often noticed that when school starts and the leaves begin to oxidize, that fall is just around the corner; but there are other signs which remind one of the approaching season and that is the new styled fall hats, for when they begin to appear, we all have to sit up and take notice. Sudley had quite a display of them last Sunday and from now on we are destined to witness some very beautiful creations of the milliner's art.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson returned Friday Friday after an extended visit to relatives in Atlanta, Ga., and to Sapaloe Island located about eight miles off coast from Brunswick, Ga. They are very profuse in their description of this tropical island estate, its bananas and other fruits, its climate, etc., which they very much enjoyed.

"I Got My BEST CROP with Agrico" —says E. R. Gaines, of Culpeper

These growers proved Agrico's extra crop-producing power on their own farms

WE COME TO YOU, not with our own statements about Agrico for Grain—but with records and actual facts from growers right here in Virginia. It is on this basis, on the actual results these farmers got in increased returns per dollar invested in fertilizer, that we urge you yourself to try Agrico this Fall. Here's what Mr. E. R. Gaines, of Culpeper, says about Agrico:

10 Bu. More Wheat in Poor Season

"Agrico produced the best crop I've ever grown. My first experience with Agrico for Grain was surprising and profitable. For two or three years I had been using the average fertilizer used in this section, at first 16%, then 2-8-2, then I tried 4-16-4. None of these gave me the yield I expected from them. I talked to Mr. R. E. Miller, the A. A. C. Agent, at Culpeper, and he suggested Agrico 2-12-4, so I tried it last Fall.

"Due to a very severe Winter my wheat did not look at all promising and even in the Spring I expected a very poor yield. But when the wheat started to head I thought I had the best crop of wheat I had ever grown—and that's exactly what it was.

"Mr. H. C. Tysinger, Banco, Va., the Miller to whom I sold this wheat said it was good enough for seed. Before I used Agrico my average crop was 15 bu. per acre. This year (a poor season) I grew 25 bu. per acre on the same land."—(Signed) E. R. Gaines.

What Virginia Growers Say About Agrico

He checked his neighbors' yields. "I have used Agrico for Grain for 8 years and get such good results that I'm glad to recommend it to all farmers. This past year, I used it on my entire crop. Last Winter was severe, and as I only sowed 1½ bu. of seed per acre, I didn't expect a very good yield. When I threshed I was delighted, for I averaged 23 bu. an acre—when one of my neighbors got only 11.1 bu. and another got 18.8 bu. per acre, or 4 bu. less than my yield. On 17 acres, the 4 extra bu. per acre paid over two-thirds of my fertilizer bill. I'm glad of the opportunity to recommend Agrico to all farmers for use under their wheat."—(Signed) J. W. Garber.

J. W. GARBER
Mr. Jackson, Va.

Tested Agrico side by side with other brands of the same analysis. "Agrico has again made a fine crop of wheat for me! My wheat has turned out so much better than nearby crops that all my surplus sold at a premium of 2½ a bu. above the prevailing market price, giving me $125 additional profit. Before I harvested my wheat, 30 or 60 people stopped by my home which is not on a main highway and inquired what kind of fertilizer I used. By actual tests alongside of the same analysis of another brand of fertilizer on my farm, Agrico has clearly proved its extra crop-producing power, and that is why I'm so positive of its extra plant foods."—(Signed) A. C. Starnes.

A. C. STARNES
Gate City, Va.

Good yields in a poor wheat county. "Our part of Virginia is best for Apples, other fruits and grass, but wheat yields are far below the average. Ten bushels per acre is considered a fair crop. I thought that was too low and decided that maybe a change of fertilizer would help, if I could get the right kind. Two years ago, Mr. R. E. Miller, the A. A. C. Agent at Culpeper, persuaded me to try Agrico on my wheat and the yield jumped from ten to twenty-five bushels per acre. This year, because of a very poor season, my yield dropped to 19 bu., but I am well satisfied. Agrico has proved itself, as far as I'm concerned. Agrico did so well on wheat that this Spring I sowed Agrico 3-10-6 on corn. I'll let you know how it turns out."—(Signed) R. Lee Taylor.

Spotsylvania, Va.

Try Agrico on Your Wheat This Fall

Certainly what Agrico for Grain has done for others, it can do for you, too. It may cost a few cents more an acre than 16% or some other brand of complete goods—but, based on results, it's by all odds the most economical fertilizer you can buy.

Remember, in addition to the usual amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash carried in ordinary fertilizers, Agrico also contains extra plant foods that give it extra crop-producing power. Give Agrico a trial on your farm this season—let your crop show you the kind of fertilizer it really is. Why not see the nearest A.A.C. Dealer listed below—tell him that this year you want Agrico for Grain.

MRS. NATHAN F. WELLS

Mrs. Nathan F. Wells died very suddenly at her home in Nokesville on Friday, Sept. 14. She was sick only a few hours and her death came as a shock to her family and friends.

Born January 21, fifty-one years ago, near Blacksburg, Va., her maiden name being Florence Harwood Cary, she early gave her heart to Christ and joined the church when only 12 years of age. She has always been a faithful worker in the church. Services were held in church of the Brethren of which she was a member. She leaves her husband, Mr. Nathan F. Wells of Nokesville, a daughter, Pauline Willard Wells, also of Nokesville; two sons, Milton Cary Wells of Shenandoah, and Wilbur Francis Wells of Washington; 1 granddaughter, Josephine Waff Wells of Shenandoah, also a host of friends.

Her character was a very beautiful one, modest, unassuming, gentle, forbearing loving, forgetful of self when by so doing she could minister to others. Her memory will long be cherished with sorrow but also with chastened joy; with sorrow because we shall see her face no more; with joy that she, being delivered from the burden of the flesh is in joy and felicity.

ONE GALLON could hoist the Washington Monument 6½ inches

99 Million Foot-Pounds*
Per Gallon

90,000 tons of Maryland marble! That's what the U. S. Department of the Interior says the Washington Monument weighs. Stupendous it is—but a single gallon of the new powerful Sinclair H-C could lift it 6½ inches, provided the potential energy in this motor fuel could be fully utilized*.

We give you these figures to impress on your mind the power in the new H-C. Try this motor fuel for 30 days in your own car. Prove to your own satisfaction its knockless hill-climbing power—its swift, gliding pick-up—and, above all, its surprising mileage. Ask any Sinclair dealer for the new H-C. It costs no more than regular gasoline.

Ask the Sinclair dealer for a folder which fully explains how one gallon of the new H-C could hoist the Washington Monument 6½ inches.

*Foot-Pound: The amount of work required to lift one pound one foot. Due to friction and other losses no machine yet built can convert into useful work all the potential energy in any gasoline. Friction alone steals many millions of foot-pounds of work from every gallon of gasoline you buy. To keep friction loss in your engine at a minimum be sure to use either Sinclair Opeline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil.

MANASSAS DEFEATS MIDDLEBURG IN THE OPENING GAME OF INTERSECTIONAL SERIES

Reeves Stars at Bat As Dreifus Limits Opponents to Five Hits to Score 4 to 1 Victory.

Before a record crowd exceeding even that of the final Ballston game, Manassas took to opening game from Middleburg Sunday of a post-season series for the championship of the Northern Virginia League. The game developed into a pitchers battle between Dreifus and Furr, each being credited with ten strikeouts. Errors of omission on the part of his teammates, rather than his own shortcomings, proved a big factor in Furr's defeat. His fast underhand delivery effectively handcuffed the Mac left-handed hitters. Reeves, however, came through with hits at opportune times to drive across the runs that spelled defeat for the visitors and eventually blast Furr from the slab. With three hits in four tries, he drove across three runs and personally toted across the fourth on Dreifus' line single to right during the Mac's big rally in the sixth inning. His single down the first base line in this inning with the bases loaded accounted for a pair of the tallies, erased a one-run deficit and sent the locals into a lead they maintained until the end. And his double over Burwell's head in the eighth scored Bradshaw, raised the Macs total to four and sent Furr to the showers. Burwell replaced Furr at this point and quelled the rally without further scoring.

Poor base running and missed signals proved costly to the Macs cause. Saunders was picked off first, Wurdemann off third and two runners were caught flat footed at the plate when, on attempted squeeze plays, the batter missed the signal and failed to bunt. But the play that refused to work for the Macs produced Middleburg's sole run. Burwell, the first batter to face Dreifus in the fourth, was hit by a pitched ball. On an attempted sacrifice, he was forced at second by James on a close play, Dreifus to Bradshaw but Hartmann came through with a double down the left field line to send James to third. Luck then scored James on a perfectly executed squeeze play, James being within a stride of the plate as the ball was hit. Mankins fled out to Saunders to end the inning. Middleburg threatened in the following inning filling the bases with only one way on hits by Furr and Frame and a walk to Downs, the only pass issued by Dreifus. On an attempted sacrifice, Burwell popped to Dreifus and Furr was doubled at third to end the visitors' last threat. Reeves and Dreifus accounted for five of the eight hits credited to the locals while Furr with two hits in three trips to the plate led the visitors at the bat.

Dreifus finished strongly, not allowing a hit in the last four innings and fanned Hartman, Luck and Mankins in the ninth to end the game.

FORAGE ALLOWED ON 1935 WHEAT ACREAGE

Forage crops may be planted in 1935 on wheat acreage taken by contract out of production, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration announces. This is a continuation of a policy in force this season, and is coupled with an increase in 1935 wheat plantings from the 85 percent of the three-year base acreage, in force this year, to 90 percent for next year.

Together the authorizations are expected to result in a 775,000,000 bushel wheat harvest in 1935 and an adequate reserve in livestock feed supplies, if weather conditions are at all favorable. Forage supplies have been greatly diminished by the drought.

By these rulings, wheat farmers holding contracts may plant one-third of the acreage held out of production this year back into wheat for 1935, and the other two-thirds may again be used for growing livestock feed. The Wheat Administration Ruling No. 40, covering forage crops, provides that contracted acreage:

1. May be seeded to pasture or hay crops for use as such or for seed production.
2. May be planted to emergency forage crops to be used only for hay, pasture or roughage and not for seed.
3. May be summer fallowed, planted to forest trees, or left unplanted provided there is little danger of erosion damage and that noxious weeds are controlled.
4. May not be used for the production of basic commodities: wheat, corn, barley, grain sorghums, flax, rye, cotton, tobacco, rice, sugar beets, sugar cane, and peanuts (except those as may be used as emergency forage); nor for production for sale of any special crop such as truck crops, potatoes or small fruits. Small grains may be used as nurse crops provided they are pastured or harvested before maturity.
5. Must be average land ordinarily seeded to wheat on the farm.

BAILEY
Wellington Gordon Bailey of Nokesville, Va., departed this life Sept. 4, 1934, at the age of 82 years 11 months and 7 days.

He more than lived his fourscore years,
He filled so well his place,
Sometimes in joy sometimes in tears,
He won through loving grace.

A long and toilsome life is closed,
But he doth toil no more;
Through Christ he conquered all his foes,
His sorrows all are o'er.

And it is sad from his to part,
To know he is not here;
We think of him with broken heart,
We miss him everywhere.

But father hath his labor ceased,
Today he is at rest;
From every care he is released,
His soul for ever blest.

If we could speak to father dear,
And he to us reply;
I think the message we would hear,
Our every tear would dry.

His suffering here was very great,
His body racked with pain.
But his is now a better state,
His rest will surely remain.

He longed to go to be at rest,
For he was tired of this;
And now he dwells among the blest,
In everlasting bliss.

Then children dear and other friends,
Just trust your loving Lord;
On Him you ever can depend,
For He will surely reward.

And this the best we all can do,
Is trust our Lord each day;
And on the way of life pursue,
The Lord will lead the way.

To Father's Land that blissful place,
Where all will be sublime;
And through our Savior's loving grace,
We'll reach that blissful clime.

We all may in this glory share,
Where none shall ever part;
No grief can ever enter there,
To cause a broken heart.

If to our loving Lord we cling,
He'll take us by and by,
And all His loved ones He will bring,
Where none shall ever die.

Dedicated to the family and friends of W. G. Bailey, by J. W. Brill.

MUST VACATE PARK LANDS

Hardships Will Not Be Permitted.

Families residing within the bounds of the Shenandoah National Park will be notified this week to vacate the park lands not later than November 1, William E. Carson, chairman of the State Conservation and Development Commission, announced in Front Royal.

The only exceptions to this ruling, the chairman of the Conservation and Development Commission said, would be in the case of those residents who have signed agreements for subsistence homesteads under the plans formulated by the Federal government. These will be allowed to remain in the park area until the homesteads are ready for occupancy.

Mr. Carson said that strictest considerations of humanity would be observed in evacuating the area and that no inhabitant need suffer any undue hardships under the plans now being worked out by the Federal authorities with the co-operation of the Conservation and Development Commission.

Plans for the evacuation and rehabilitation of the park residents were discussed at a conference in Luray on Tuesday between Mr. Carson and W. H. Stoneburner of the Commission; J. R. Lassiter, engineer in charge of Shenandoah National Park, and Frank C. Hanrahan, manager, and L. Ferdinand Zerkel, assistant manager of the Shenandoah National Park Project, Division of Subsistence Homesteads.

The plans for taking care of those families who are unable to care for themselves includes the establishment of subsistence homesteads where each family will be provided enough land to make a good living on. Relief funds will be available, where necessary, to start the family on the way to self-support.

The homestead projects will be supervised by Federal welfare and industrial workers and the mountaineers will be taught the art of living and providing for themselves. The children will be given school facilities and the conditions of life will be far better than they were in the isolated mountain hollows. The plan contemplates the purchase of the homes by the families at a low price and on a twenty-year basis.

There are 480 families now living in the park area. Of these, 340 have indicated an interest in the subsistence project, thirty-three refuse to move or be homesteaded, and the remainder are either non-committal or have failed to respond to inquiries. A large number of the families were owners before the titles passed to the state under condemnation proceedings. Others are renters or squatters on land that belonged to others.

Houses in the park area will be salvaged by the Federal Division of Subsistence Homesteads and the materials used for the construction of outbuildings on the homestead projects. The locations for the projects have not been selected but a number of sites are being considered by the Federal authorities and a decision is expected shortly.

MANASSAS, VIRGINIA

Editor of The Manassas Journal:

I have always opposed any cut in our highway funds. The diversion of the gas tax or the auto license tax for any other purpose is wrong. Our last legislature put thru some very short sighted legislation and it is hoped that the next one will correct it. Therefore I am sending you an address that was delivered before the Highway Users Association by C. S. Mullen of the State Highway Commission, which I hope you will print for the benefit of the people of Prince William County that they may know where this kind of legislation is leading to.

Very truly yours,

C. B. ROLAND.

VIRGINIA'S HIGHWAY SITUATION

By C. S. Mullen

Chief Engineer, Dept. of Highways

This is a subject in which the highway user should take a vital interest, and it is the purpose of this address to lay before you certain facts which deserve your attention.

In the May issue of "Better Roads," there is an editorial relative to conditions in Michigan which is highly applicable to Virginia, and two paragraphs are quoted here:

"There is nothing so popular as a move to reduce taxes. But while taxpayers noisily approve, they should know just what reductions mean, and it is up to their public officials to inform them. This is particularly true of taxes for highway purposes.

"Agencies charged with the construction and maintenance of public highways in Michigan are faced with the problem of reconciling the demands of highway users for road improvements and services, with those of the taxpayer, who just as assiduously seeks a decrease in the local tax. The reduction has already been far greater than can be made up by so-called economies. It has already meant a loss in the quality of transportation service afforded."

Early in June, there was an editorial comment in one of the Roanoke papers relative to a suggestion that the gas tax be reduced. This editorial says, in part:

"Certainly if Virginia is not to use that tax for road building, it should be reduced. The many diversions authorized by the last legislature listed by the State Highway Department at a total of $4,215,248.44, leave for construction of the primary highway system during the year beginning July 1, only $95,621.56—a sum less than has been provided by the State of Virginia for road building in any year since the passage of the Withers-Lassiter act of 1908. All present work except by convicts is being paid for by the Federal government. It does not come out of the gasoline tax.

"On the other hand, if the pay-as-you-go system is to be rescued from its present broken down condition, and road building by the State resumed, it will be necessary to maintain both the gasoline and license taxes. A pay-as-you-go system requires that one must pay. So long as the primary highway system of Southwest Virginia is only 40 per cent complete, a reduction in tax, leaving the primary road system, laid out in 1918, incomplete in some of its most traveled units, can hardly be defended from the standpoint of those who sell the gasoline, from the standpoint of those who use the roads, or from the standpoint of those who pay the taxes."

It is assumed you all are aware that the Department of Highways is at the present time administering two distinct highway systems. The first is the Primary, or State Highway System, established by act of the General Assembly in 1918, embracing at that time approximately 3,700 miles, which by subsequent additions have been enlarged to 9,000 miles. These roads were selected because of their statewide, rather than local importance, and it may be safely assumed that they serve at least 80 per cent of the traffic requirements in the State.

The other system, known as the Secondary System, was established by the General Assembly in 1932, and consists of all public roads not included in the Primary System, with the exception of the roads in Arlington, Henrico, and Warwick Counties. The act creating the Secondary System was passed as a tax reduction measure and had the effect of eliminating local taxes in an amount in excess of $3,000,000, but at the same time throwing this additional burden on the State.

The pay-as-you-go plan of highway financing was established for the specific purpose of providing funds for the proper maintenance and a reasonable annual construction program for the Primary System, and it did this very satisfactorily until the close of the fiscal year of 1931-32. What has happened since that time is most clearly shown by reference to the allocation sheets which are published annually by the Department of Highways.

Highway funds are now derived entirely from the gas tax and automobile licenses and fees, although at one time there was an additional direct appropriation of $1,800,000 there was brought into the State which was several years ago withdrawn and given to other State departments.

Virginia's Highway Situation

By C. S. Mullen

Referring to the allocation sheets, for the year ending June 30, 1932 there was, including Federal Aid, a construction allocation of $11,000,000.00 for new projects. This was about the maximum construction allocation provided under the pay-as-you-go system. After this, diversions from the State Primary System funds marked an increasing falling off of funds available for new construction projects. For the year ending June 30, 1933, the construction fund amounted to $8,800,000. For the year ending June 30, 1934, this had been reduced to $2,400,000.00, and the allocation for the year ending June 30, 1935, shows the very pitiful sum of $95,621.56, with the sheet carrying a note that in order to work the 2,000 convicts who are allotted to the Primary System, there will be an overdraft of $2,669,378.44. In other words the Primary construction allocation for 1934-35 is a minus quantity of two and a half million dollars.

This condition is the direct result of the demand which has been growing for several years for tax reduction and diversion of highway funds.

An analysis of the 1934-35 allocation sheet shows first an estimated total of $16,560,000.00 to be derived as follows:

Income from gas tax	$12,000,000.00
Income from title fees	160,000.00
Income from license fees	4,000,000.00
Income from bus lines	400,000.00

Total Income ----- $16,560,000.00

Then follows an itemized statement of deductions, 27 in number, which reduce the total income to $12,344,751.56, which is distributed as follows:

Administration and Engineering	$ 349,130.00
Maintenance and Construction—Secondary System	5,952,192.25
Maintenance — State Primary System	5,000,000.00
Maintenance — City Streets	700,000.00
Rights of Way	247,807.75
Total	$12,249,130.00

Total Income Less Above Deductions ----- $12,344,751.56

Distributed as above ----- 12,249,130.00

Balance Available for Construction of Primary System ----- 12,249,130.00

Of these items $3,000,000.00 to the Secondary System, $700,000.00 to City Streets and $3,000,000.00 to Primary Maintenance are direct diversions from the Primary construction fund.

If the State Primary System was completed, this condition of affairs might be viewed with less concern. But this is far from being true. At the close of last year, a careful survey was made of the Primary System and an estimate prepared for the cost of construction necessary to replace inadequate bridges, modernize obsolete types of highways, provide multiple lane roads where required by traffic and construct those roads which have as yet received nothing except maintenance. This estimate was prepared from the standpoint of what in the judgment of the Department of Highways will be required in the next ten years. The amount of the estimate is $162,000,000.00, or an annual construction fund for the next ten years of $16,200,000.00.

These figures may appear large, and undoubtedly some of you may question the advisability of such expenditures. To those who raise such a question, an analysis made by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce of the annual value of the out-of-state traffic alone should remove your doubts as to the propriety of large expenditures for highways. Taking the figures from the Highway Department's 1933 traffic census, it is shown that an average of 13,294 foreign-license cars entered the State daily. Allowing the very conservative estimate of 3 persons per car, and of $5.00 per person, there was brought into the State

NEWMAN HONORED BY ASSOCIATES

Former Postmaster Given Surprise Party.

Mr. Robert E. Newman was pleasantly surprised when the local post office corp and their wives paid a surprise visit to his home last Thursday evening.

Reading a poem appropriate to the occasion, Mrs. Mary Pope presented him with a handsome tapestry lounge chair, the gift of his former staff. Dancing followed the serving of delicious refreshments.

The guest list included Acting Postmaster Mr. Hawes Davies, Jr., Mrs. Mary Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Haydon, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wallace, Mr. William Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newman, Mr. Tom Bettis, Misses Virginia and Janet Newman and Miss Miriam Gregory.

The following poem was read at the festivities:

We've gathered here this evening to pay a debt we owe;
A debt that has been standing since twelve years ago.
We haven't any money, but we're rich in friendliness,
And the friendship that we give to you is of the very best.

There is an interest on this debt, and that we now will pay.
By giving you this present to remember us each day—
A chair in which to rest at ease, to read and meditate;
May each sitting bring you happiness, at early hours or late.

This gift is wrapped with wishes for your future happiness,
And tied with bindings of esteem as strong as iron, I guess.
We want you to remember us by it in years to come
And know it for the token of your benevolence has won.

We hope you now will realize just where you stand with us.
The nice things that we think of you are too numerous to discuss.
Even though you bossed us and made us toe the mark,
We'll each one keep a warm spot, for you, within our heart.

From the Editor of The American Boy

During the coming year, the boys of America will get a half-fare rate to adventure and fun! THE AMERICAN BOY — YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's leading magazine for boys, formerly $2.00 a year, now costs $1.00. A three-year subscription, previously $3.50, costs only $2.00.

Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor of THE AMERICAN BOY, brings boys the hearty assurance that the new prices will in no way affect the editorial contents of the magazine. It will be as large, as beautifully printed, as full of high-spirited adventure as ever.

"THE AMERICAN BOY's leadership has been no accident," Mr. Ellis states. "We publish the magazine on the firm belief that boys deserve a magazine as good as any publication for grown-ups. So we use the best illustrators obtainable—well-known artists who work for the biggest magazines. We send our staff writers all over the country digging up the interesting facts of science, interviewing world-famous explorers, talking to coaches and athletes.

"We encourage and assist our writers to go everywhere for material—to Haiti, Africa, the South Seas, China—and bring back adventure for American boys. We hire experts on hobbies and boy problems to advise boys and young men. These steps account for our position as the quality magazine for boys, and we shall continue to take them."

Twelve issues of fun and excitement for $1.00. Three years for $2.00! Spread the news among your friends — and send your own subscription direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

every twenty-four hours during 1933, $200,000.00, or $72,784,650.00 for the year.

This address has perhaps dealt too largely with figures and in closing, this suggestion is made—forget the figures if you wish, but remember the fact:

Construction on the Primary System with State funds has practically ceased. It cannot be properly resumed until adequate funds are again made available.

CATHARPIN

Three of the L. J. Pattie children, Gordon, Wayne and Cynthia, were taken to Washington last week where they were operated on for tonsils and adenoids. All home and doing well.

Mrs. Etta P. Lynn spent a few days in Washington last week return home Saturday.

A letter just received from the Emergency Relief Administration in regard to drought cattle contracted for by many farmers is rather discouraging, at least in regard to the pasture part of it. We quote as follows: "While every effort is being made to expedite the movement of cattle from the west, we can not be certain that prompt shipment is to be made. In fact, we are not in a position to definitely state that further shipments for pasture will be made." End of quote. They also express "regrets" that "these complications have arisen" but state that "every effort will be made to secure sufficient further shipments to comply with contracts already signed." We give the above for whatever information it may be to those interested.

Variety Store Developments

The growth and popularity of Variety Stores has been phenomenal in the last 10 years, and has probably been the greatest influence in keeping down the high cost of living. The values offered are available at low prices due to the great Buying Power of central purchasing offices.

The use of modern fixtures as glass counter displays, sanitary candy cases, elaborate display stands, candy scales that show weight to the fraction of an ounce to the customer and many other improvements make the displays so attractive that the merchandise will often sell itself.

Bright attractive windows, well lighted store rooms, prompt courteous service, complete stock of staple, everyday needs, together with the above mentioned facts, have made variety stores the most popular stores of the day.

The many years experience with large businesses and connection with the great buying organizations enables Mr. L. S. Rohr, President and General Manager of L. S. Rohr, Inc., to operate up to date 5c to $1.00 Stores.

The Manassas Store, the third of the company, was opened August 31 this year. The first store was opened in Front Royal, January 1932, and the second at Leesburg March 1933.

The L. S. Rohr, Inc., Stores are members of The Consolidated Merchants Syndicate, an organization maintaining group buying offices for over 1000 of this type of stores exclusively. Therefore, we can offer values equal to the largest stores in the country.

Edgar E. Rohr, son of L. S. Rohr, has been assisted and trained to become a manager and his success as manager of Manassas store is assured with the loyal co-operation of local salesladies employed, and liberal patronage extended by people of Manassas and vicinity since the opening last month.

To the Dairy Festival we extend our heartiest congratulations and Best Wishes.

VIRGINIA

CONDITIONS IMPROVING DAILY EVERY SIXTH CUP SAYS LOCAL A&P HEAD

S. W. Zink, Director of the Southern Division.

MR. S. W. ZINK
Director

S. W. Zink, director of the Southern Division in charge of the Washington A&P Stores, made the following statement in an interview today:

Day by day and week by week conditions in this section are improving. Reaching so many thousands of people through our many stores we have an opportunity to feel and note the difference that the drive for national recovery is making. There is a greater spirit of confidence and more readiness on the part of people to buy for future needs as well as present use.

Here are values that will not be met with for a long time to come and our customers are going to be quick to appreciate them and stock up on the staples that will keep and see them through the fall and winter. Many of these prices are amazingly low. A few months from now they are going to look lower still, and everyone who takes advantage of them will be thankful that she did.

Our organization, too, is on its toes for this series of sales. Every man is determined to give his utmost in courteous service to his customers so that their visit may be both profitable and pleasant. I am confident that our good customers will avail themselves of this opportunity to make worth-while savings.

IS FILLED WITH A&P COFFEE

More than half of the coffee grown in the world is drunk by Americans. Coffee is America's national drink, and every sixth cup of it is filled with A & P coffees. A & P's three famous coffees—Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar—are the three most popular coffees in the world, out-selling any other nine coffees.

Down in Colombia and Brazil, the two big coffee producing countries of South America, A & P maintains thirty coffee purchasing offices. When the coffee crop is brought into these centers by the planters, A & P buyers are there to look it over and select the "choice of the crop."

After the green beans are carefully selected by their experts, they are shipped aboard the fastest vessels to the United States—vessels especially equipped to handle coffee cargoes. On its arrival in this country the coffee is forwarded to one of A & P's roasting plants, there to be blended and roasted and rushed to A & P Stores where it is received a few hours after it has left the roasting ovens.

COOPERATION KEY-NOTE OF HAPPY A&P ORGANIZATION

The greatest wealth of any organization is the loyalty of its employees. Loyalty is something which cannot be purchased at any price, but instead must come voluntarily from the employees themselves. There is but one method of acquiring this priceless possession and that is through fair dealing and human kindness.

The consideration, co-operation and close contact the officers of the company have always maintained with the employees are the chief reasons for its happy family of more than 90,000 members.

Since the inception of the company by the deceased founder, George H. Hartford, and continuing through the administration of its present affairs by his two sons, George L. and John A. Hartford, there has always existed the belief in the minds of these men that a man or woman happy in his or her work is happy at home.

Happiness throughout the 74 years of A & P's existence is the foundation upon which has been built the success of individual employee and company.

A&P SPENDS MILLIONS IN THIS BIG TERRITORY

Millions of people look to the A & P Stores as the best place to buy, but they seldom think of the other side of the picture—of A & P as one of the greatest buyers of food in the country.

When A & P takes its basket to market it must hire trains and fleets of trucks to haul its purchases from farm and factory to warehouse and store. In the Southern Division alone A & P's total purchases from the 18 States and the District of Columbia, in which its 3800 stores are located, amounted to more than $230,000,000 last year. That's over $600,000 a day that A & P turns back into this territory for products grown here and goods made here. So the money you pay out for food in your A & P Store goes back, in a very large part, to your own community, State, or section. By States the 1932 purchases were:

New York	$76,227,000
New Jersey	25,103,000
Pennsylvania	38,993,000
Delaware	1,252,000
Maryland	9,202,000
District of Columbia	665,000
Virginia	11,169,000
West Virginia	1,351,000
North Carolina	22,184,000
South Carolina	2,774,000
Georgia	6,511,000
Florida	8,988,000
Alabama	1,360,000
Louisiana	3,969,000
Mississippi	1,041,000
Tennessee	4,228,000
Texas	13,103,000
Arkansas	312,000
Oklahoma	2,010,000

FOR CHOICEST TEA COME TO THE GREAT A & P

One tea drinker in every seven in this country depends on A & P for "the cup that cheers." Back of A & P teas are 74 years of experience in blending. Tea is the only one of the many hundreds of items in the A & P Stores that are identified with the company's name. The words "Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company" indicate how important an item tea has always been in A & P Stores since they were founded in 1859.

PRICE APPEAL SECONDARY TO QUALITY IN A&P FRESH MEATS

There is no substitution for quality, particularly when buying fresh meats. It has been an iron clad policy of A & P since it entered the fresh meat business some years ago, to handle some of the finest grades of beef, lamb, veal, pork and poultry that the market offers. In fact, to insure this very important point, A & P maintains its own staff of buyers in the heart of the largest producing sections in the United States so that first choice may be had of those meats selected for its customers.

Consistent with the company's fair plan of merchandising, A & P asks only a small profit from the millions of pounds of the quality products it supplies its trade each year.

A "TRAIN" 1,500 MILES LONG

If all the railway cars used in a year in the transportation of groceries to A & P Stores were placed end to end they would make a train more than 1,500 miles long.

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AID TO HEALTH

Some of the Nation's healthiest individuals are those who exist solely on fresh fruits and vegetables. It is said that every mineral required by the human anatomy for healthful living may be found in either the various fruits or vegetables.

This phase of A & P's business is even larger than its fresh meat sales. A trained corps of experts is strategically situated in every growing section of the United States to purchase the best crops as they reach maturity. Shipment is then made to A & P's Produce Warehouses throughout the country from where redistribution is made to the stores. Not all requirements are bought in this manner, as a large part of the daily requirements are secured from the commission merchants in the cities where A & P Stores are situated.

While retail prices are always kept as low as wholesale costs will permit—quality is the first and most important consideration for A & P's customers.

200,000,000 POUNDS A&P BUTTER SOLD ANNUALLY

It takes a lot of butter to spread the billions of slices of bread that are cut from the more than five hundred million loaves sold in A & P Stores every year.

A & P is the largest dealer in butter in the world. No other organization maintains such a rigid system of inspection to maintain its high standard of quality. And A & P standards exceed even those of the Government. A & P demands of its buyers that they secure butter scoring 90 or more. Even this is considered low, as most A & P butter scores 92 and much of its as high as 93, for which A & P pays a premium above the regular market price.

Due to A & P's efficient methods of purchasing and distributing, butter is in the refrigerator of every store in an amazingly short time after it is churned. The uniform quality of the product sold in A & P Stores has made it the most popular butter in America.

Next to coffee, tea is our favorite drink. And the popularity of tea is increasing every year. One reason is that tea is so economical. With 250 cups to the pound the price per cup becomes so low as to be almost negligible.

Under the brand names of Nectar and Mayfair you will find a number of varieties of the choicest teas and tea balls in a blend to exactly suit your taste.

ALWAYS HARVEST TIME FOR A & P

It is always harvest time for A & P. Every month in the year somewhere a food crop is ripening, somewhere vegetables are maturing. And, when the crop is ready for market,

A & P buyers are on hand to purchase from the cream of the crop.

A&P MENU SHEET A REAL HELP IN PLANNING MEALS

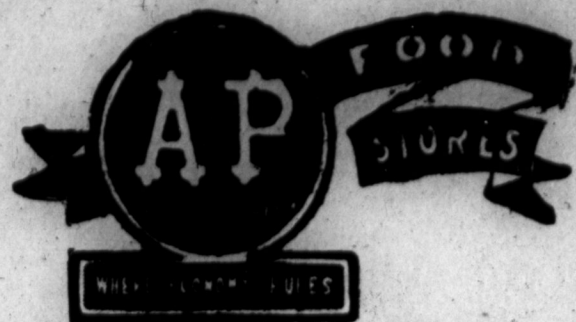

An excellent weekly menu and recipe service is maintained by most stores of the A & P in the Southern Division. These suggestions offer the answer to the ever perplexing problem of "what shall we have for dinner?"

The sheets are arranged to include menus for four people with budgets ranging from $5 to $6 a week, to $16 to $18 a week.

If you want to know how to make a "lemon mousse" or an old-fashioned "beef stew" this unique service by A & P tells you how.

THE STORY OF THE PAGEANT

DAIRY FESTIVAL PAGEANT

Act I

SETTING: Forest scene, many greens and grass carpet on stage. Glee Club singing "An Autumn Lullaby."

Dance of leaves by two groups of children. Queen of fairies steps lightly out and calls forth her other fairies. Fairies dance lightly out (Blue Danube). Fairies in semi-circle around queen (centre). They wonder what is the occasion which has brought them together. Queen explains that a Dairy Festival is going on in Piedmont Virginia, and asks if they understand the significance of this celebration.

Fairies shake their heads. Queen tells them that there are some underprivileged children who do not enjoy sunshine and fresh air and consequently have little or no recreation.

Fairies all shocked. Why, they thought that children grew up in beautiful gardens, playing with flowers and birds and butterflies. Here is one little fairy sights something in background, off stage (she could stand on tip-toe and stare into distance). Fairies understand and move in two divided groups (R&L), WELL downstage. Centre of stage CLEAR.

A gorgeous butterfly flutters in (R), pursued by several sturdy, rosy-cheeked little boys, with huge green butterfly nets. DANCE: boys and butterfly. Butterfly, successfully eluding capture, finally flutters off stage, boys still in eager pursuit. Fairies applaud.

Enter L, group of girls in plum colored dresses, wearing red wreaths and carrying large hoops. Enter R, simultaneously, group of girls in beige dresses carrying long garland of large yellow flowers with dark brown and gold. Girls with long garland on outside of first mentioned group. They circle around on the outside, while those inside circle do dance with hoops; simple steps and fleecion of body, the idea being to lasso each other. March off stage in couples.

Queen nods approval; moves back to centre. Fairies gather round her. ALL children should be as these they have just seen. But these underprivileged children have NO PLAY-GROUND but some dark street. Moreover, they have not cleanly habits; they wash seldom; they never clean their teeth; and their clothes are torn and soiled.

Fairies are SO shocked. The children they know take baths every day and clean their teeth night and morning.

These same children do not eat fresh fruits and vegetables nor do they drink milk.

Fairies horrified. Milk is the most nourishing food for children. They should drink it at every meal and pour it over their cereals and berries.

Now they are to see the other side of the picture. Queen claps her hands and in come brownie reporters. They have been in the homes and schools of these children and report that everywhere they suffer from lack of light, fresh air, play and proper nourishment. (Head brownie can make pantomime report to queen, fairies expressing distress, while

Brownies do a frisky dance. Dance ceases. Head brownie whispers in queen's ear. She, with wand, waves brownies over to right of stage; with second motion of wand, she waves fairies to left of stage. Both groups WELL downstage, R&L.

Enter and pass in procession, R. to L., (while Glee Club sings "Lazy Bones"), doctors, dentists, nurses, red cross and school nurses; teachers, mothers and a string of pale, puny children, cowering and fearful. Doctors and nurses expostulating with teachers and mothers, who make despairing gestures. (Pantomime between fairies and brownies. Fairies express horror and distress, while brownies' attitude is "I told you so.") Procession passes. Singing ends.

Queen resumes position in stage centre and gathers brownies and fairies round her for consultation. They must find a way to help this situation. Dance of fairies and brownies. Fairy and brownie couples.

Fairy, head on one side, thinks; has an idea; smiles; whispers it to brownie. He ponders over it; shakes head; it won't do. Some actions repeated, this time with brownie the one to think of a way. Dance over, but no solution found.

Enter L, boy scout, disconsolate. Brownies know him well and cluster around him. He is sad because he has not yet done his good deed for that day; all the others have done theirs, and soon it will be too late, for the evening shadows are already falling.

He is told that it would be a very good deed to help bring health and happiness to the underprivileged children. Scout's face brightens. He will be glad to do so. He will call a meeting of the scouts at the place most familiar to them all—that's Dairyland.

Scout leads off queen (R), followed by some fairies. Brownies exeunt in leaps. Rest of fairies dance (Blue Danube) and then scatter in all directions.

ACT II

Scene I

Setting: Dairyland. Same background as Act I.

Enter R & L dairymaids dressed in light blue dresses and white frilled bonnets, carrying white milking stools. R & L downstage, they move, setting down stools (so that there is a semi-circle of white stools in background). Maids, downstage, join arms and dance; many turnings of head BECAUSE here-lines (a few) are recited, representing conversation between maids relative to the increase in milk drinking among children and the consequent decrease in colds and cases for the dentist.

Enter dairymen R & L, one (or every alternate one) with crate of milk bottles, which they deposit in background. Join arms and saunter downstage to maids. Both groups act in dance "Where are you going, my pretty maid?" At end, maids run off R laughingly, each carrying away her stool. Dairymen pause, nonplussed. Then decide to run after them, taking off also crates. They exeunt L, to meet maids at back of tower. Shouts of laughter heard as they come together.

Meantime two boys and two girls in uniform enter R, to Scout March. They, after pretended cooking, unroll blanket and fall asleep.

Enter leader with queen and attendants. He shows sleeping scouts, while queen follows and whispers in each one's ears. Queen and fairies flit off L. Scouts awaken with start as leader blows whistle, and all scouts appear from all entrances (talking and laughing). Leader raises hand; they get quiet, and form a horseshoe. Awakened scouts tell of their dream of the underprivileged children and express desire to aid them.

Scout leader then puts proposition before group: that every day for a year each scout bring a child there and they would have an open air playground, for the leader knows someone who will take charge. Group agrees and applauds. Sing Scout Song. Then march off L. to Scout March.

Scene II

Setting: Open air playground. Benches on each side rear. Same background as Act I.

March: Parade of Wooden Soldiers. Enter L, scout leader with director dressed in uniform. Enter R, scouts leading children (Song by Glee Club "Here We Come Hand in Hand"). Director blows whistle. Several groups, including group with soccer ball R, and second group with basketball L, and two groups with some kind of relays. Several tennis players and bathers. Centre, smaller children play singing games. Director always in thick of activities.

When first group is half through, enter R, dairymen with milk, several dairymaids. As soon as each group finishes, it moves to R, (dairymen half way downstage R); dairymaids serve them with milk and they retire to benches (song by Glee Club "Old Black Joe"). When all are resting and drinking, enter dancers and do Milk Bottle Dance. Children ecstatic. (Glee Club sings "Auld Lang Syne").

Then exeunt L director and children, R, scouts, dairymen, Milk Bottles (Parade of Wooden Soldiers). Fairies (who have been watching from behind trees, peeping forth occasionally) come on stage and dance about joyfully, pleased with it all. (Dance Blue Danube).

ACT III

Setting: Same as for Act II, Scene II.

To march, enter R doctors, nurses, etc.; L playground director, children, scouts. Group themselves for grand finale.

Queen and fairies on elevated stage watching dances of the children who have improved in health. Two dances (Wedding of the Painted Doll; Doll Dance). Doctors and nurses step forward to applaud.

Queen, marches down steps with the fairies while Glee Club takes place on steps in form of tree as in beginning. Entire ensemble sing Old Prince William, with Piedmont, Prince William and Virginia flags on stage.

For he today no chance has had His one good deed to do, and night All hope will soon have put to flight. This is the fairies' chance, and they To him suggest how bests he may His pledge fulfill, ere day has fled, By interest in the poor, ill-fed, And underprivileged children's weal. The means the fairies will reveal. And so he hastens on his way, And summons at the close of day Both girls and boys, the whole Scout Band,

To meet at once in Dairyland.

Act II—Scene I (Dairyland) Our scene in Dairyland is laid, Where many a pretty dairymaid Is going a-milking, blithe and gay: They pause to dance along the way, And converse hold, we listening near, May hear their words borne to our ear.

"Our work is right smartly increasing of late, The children are drinking more milk, my dear Kate; Good sense they are shewing at length. It strengthens their bodies, and makes them robust, 'Gainst those horrible colds we regard with disgust. It gives them resistance and strength."

"What you say is a fact, my dear Betty, 'tis true, But I smile as I think how the dentists will rue The feeding of milk to the child. For clearly 'tis proven a great aid to be In forming good teeth, and this, you can see, Another health-aid may be styled."

Of course, fair maids, as sweet as these, Are bound the dairymen to please, And here they come to join the play: The maidens, teasing, run away: Yet this is but a lure, this plain; List how they laugh when caught again.

Meanwhile the Scouts are gathering all, Obedient to their leader's call. Their supper o'er, they soon retire To sleep around the dying fire.

Lo, now the Fairy Queen draws near, And whispers in each slumbering ear, They soon awake as from a dream, Filled with the desire to form a scheme.

The underprivileged child to aid. Before them now a plan is laid. By their good leader, all agree: That plan in action we shall see, When Time in his imagined flight New day and scene has brought to light.

Scene 2—An Open Air Playground Now here we see, in sunlight fair, A playground in the open air; Healthful and safe for all, and free; The children hail its games with glee. And then, this blessing to enhance, We see the dairymen advance With milk, strength-giving, to supply The tired, weary, thirsty, and dry. This was the fairies' plan, and see, They now appear and dance with glee.

Act 3—Grand Finale Since our last act some time has sped, And now the plan is established, And all who in the plan had part, Or who had tried their healing art On children sickly, ailing, weak, Approval of the plan to show: And to our hearers, ere they go, May we commend, as well we can, Fresh air and milk, as Nature's plan.

Are bound the dairymen to please, And here they come to join the play: The maidens, teasing, run away: Yet this is but a lure, this plain; List how they laugh when caught again.

Meanwhile the Scouts are gathering all, Obedient to their leader's call. Their supper o'er, they soon retire To sleep around the dying fire.

Lo, now the Fairy Queen draws near, And whispers in each slumbering ear, They soon awake as from a dream, Filled with the desire to form a scheme.

The underprivileged child to aid. Before them now a plan is laid. By their good leader, all agree: That plan in action we shall see, When Time in his imagined flight New day and scene has brought to light.

Scene 2—An Open Air Playground Now here we see, in sunlight fair, A playground in the open air; Healthful and safe for all, and free; The children hail its games with glee. And then, this blessing to enhance, We see the dairymen advance With milk, strength-giving, to supply The tired, weary, thirsty, and dry. This was the fairies' plan, and see, They now appear and dance with glee.

Act 3—Grand Finale Since our last act some time has sped, And now the plan is established, And all who in the plan had part, Or who had tried their healing art On children sickly, ailing, weak, Approval of the plan to show: And to our hearers, ere they go, May we commend, as well we can, Fresh air and milk, as Nature's plan.

A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE DAIRY FESTIVAL

The Piedmont Dairy Festival has established itself as an outstanding occasion for three consecutive years; and this, the Fourth Annual Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival, is in no wise lacking in grandeur and purpose. It unquestionably is enjoying the natural progress through honesty of purpose and experience of conduct.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my deep gratitude to the officers of the Association; to the Committees which have been active in every branch of the Association; to the dairymen who are connected with the Association; and to individuals who have given of their time and substance for its advancement.

It is these groups, not one but all, working in close harmony and co-operation, that have made this, the Fourth Annual Festival, an outstanding one.

The Association is truly fortunate as the recipient of the efforts of the groups mentioned above.

Sincerely yours,
R. S. HYNSON, President
Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival Ass'n.

HISTORY OF THE DAIRY FESTIVAL

In the spring of 1930 a little meeting was held in the Town Hall one night which was attended by less than a dozen of the business men. It was here that the ideas gathered by Town Manager Cocke and County Agent Cox, who had just returned from the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival, proposing the possibilities of an affair unique in its conception and without precedence in its operation.

The thought expressed at that little meeting took shape very slowly. Several other meetings were called and finally early in 1931 enough impetus was given the project to actually create an Association of which R. S. Hynson, the present president, was unanimously elected head.

The following were elected as a board of directors for the first year: J. F. Hale, John M. Kline, C. C. Lynn, E. R. Conner, E. H. Hibbs, J. L. Bushong, Hunton Tiffany, E. W. Thomasson, W. L. Lloyd, J. M. Russell, L. J. Pattie, J. F. McInteer. The members of the first committee on ways and means were Harry P. Davis, E. R. Conner, A. S. Boatwright, Chas. R. McDonald, and Albert Roseberry, and shortly after the formation of the association Frank D. Cox, county agent, laid before them plans which he had drawn for the first festival. Mr. Cox was later chosen managing director, and has capably served in this position for each succeeding festival.

Owing to unavoidable circumstances, fall time was allowed to approach and lack of preparation made it necessary to extend the date of the Festival to the last day in October, a cold, rainy Saturday. To Prince William County went the honor of having the first Queen, Miss Mary Elizabeth Nelson, whose people have been figures in the history of Prince William County for generations. Honorable Wm. Tyler Page, then clerk of the U. S. House of Representatives, was chosen to crown the queen which he very graciously consented to do.

Equally as much enthusiasm was aroused during that autumn as at any time since, and certainly the attendance of school children and 4-H clubs has not been exceeded in either of the succeeding festivals, despite the gloomy weather which terminated in a rain before the parade could end.

Everyone unselfishly took some part in the arrangements and all had the satisfaction of knowing that Manassas had done something really foresightedness of the dairy farm-articles appeared in national magazines and in newspapers, commenting from every possible angle on the foresightedness of the dairy farmers in this region in promoting their leading industry.

It should not be forgotten at the same time that without the co-operation of the surrounding counties this affair could certainly not have been made worthwhile nor could it have been followed up.

In the winter and spring months have been in a sad condition. This year a new proposition will be instituted in the matter of a Cattle Judging Contest which is being arranged for the agricultural students.

As we approach the occasion of the Fourth Festival which is tomorrow we have an added satisfaction in the fact that the District of Columbia has crossed the Potomac and joined hands with the dirt farmers who are trying to celebrate their chief branch of farming.

The mainspring of this movement is naturally our fellow citizen, Hon. Melvin C. Hazen, who has already brought great honor to this county in his exalted position as head of the Board of Commissioners in the District of Columbia. No one other person in this entire celebration is entitled to a greater share of praise and thanks than Mel. Hazen. Incidentally, we have recognized the presence of the District of Columbia in naming for Regina IV Miss Sheila Sultan, daughter of Col. Daniel Sultan, Engineer Commissioner of the District.

Reference should be made to the patient work of those behind the scenes whose steady application and patient study of each day's problems has made it possible to present into line a greater aggregation entertaining features for a larger list of potential features and future growth.

May the 1934 Festival impress deeply upon the minds of those who visit us the fact that hospitable Virginia is proud of its citizenry, its products, and its history! We want those visitors who come from the outside to feel that this is home for them and we hope that some of them will take that idea into their minds and come to live with us permanently. While you are here the keys of the Town are yours and may you enjoy yourself to the fullest!
