MANY VOTERS HEAR DEBATES

Candidates Have About Closed Canvasses.

The meeting held at Dumfries on Tuesday night was attended by quite a crowd of the Democratic voters in that area, this being the most generally attended meeting in southern Prince William.

At one held at Joplin last week gotten up on very short notice, only a part of the candidates were there and naturally they spoke under a handicap in the absence of their opponents.

In the remarks made by the Senatorial candidates Tuesday night little was brought out which has not been already been dwelt on in the columns of this paper. The most dramatic attack was made by Mr. Reid who asserted that Mr. Rust had failed to vote on fifty-three bills, although present when the votes were taken.

In reply to attacks made at the Manassas meeting, Mr. Herring cited the legislative record to show that the amendment giving the A. B. C. funds to the cities and counties was his amendment and not that offered by three delegates, as had been stated by Mr. Moncure. Mr. Herring further assured his hearers that about $6,000 will be paid over to Prince William County in the very near future.

The support offered to Mr. Herring by Mr. Moncure's first cousin, "Pickle Dick," and which had formed the source of two outbursts by Mr. Moncure at previous meetings, was dwelt on in respect to the Movie Censor Bureau by Mr. Herring who showed that the State received approximately $65,000 through the operations of this Board over and above the cost of such operations.

The campaign in Prince William is about over. It is highly probable, unless some very unforeseen situations develop, that nothing further will be offered to the voters to influence their attitude. The two present representatives in the legislature from this county will both have a majority over their opponents. The last time Senator Rust ran quite a few hundred votes ahead of Mr. Herring, while it is thought this time that Mr. Herring has a good chance of exceeding Mr. Rust's majority by a substantial vote.

It will not be practical to make any other estimate than to say that at least 1600 will take part in the August Primary and possibly a hundred or so more than that.

On the occasion of the meeting last Thursday evening all of the candidates, including the two supervisor candidates from Manassas District, appeared before some 400 voters who were in attendance.

The speeches were all of a somewhat milder nature than at Brentsville although Mr. Rust maintained his previous attitude toward Mr. Reid while that gentleman directed his reply mainly on Mr. Rust's alleged failure to vote on many important measures.

Mr. Reid again questioned Mr. Rust's position on the sales tax stating that Mr. Rust had only recently voiced the sentiment that he was against the measure which could mean that he might vote for it some other time. Mr. Rust denied ever having been friendly to the measure, apparently ignoring the suggestions that he might at some other time vote for the measure.

Mr. Herring dwelt on his legislative record and offered evidences of his work. Mr. Moncure largely extolled the memory of some of his former associates in the town and offered explanation as to why "Dick" Moncure is not supporting him.

The candidates for sheriff made brief and courteous addresses. Mr. E. R. Conner was called for by the audience and rousing cheered. Mr. Conner at one time was widely mentioned as a candidate for the Senate.

The meeting at Stafford Saturday night will not affect this county except as regards the Assembly. It is predicted that this occasion will furnish enough liveliness to make up for the fact that it is the only one being held in Stafford.

COURT PROCEEDINGS

R. Jackson Ratcliffe was appointed registrar for Manassas precinct for Manassas precinct vice G. R. Ratcliffe, resigned.

BETHLEHEM LADIES PRESENT PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

Mrs. Lucy D. Washington and Mrs. Nannie K. Middlethorn were hostesses to the Bethlehem Club on July 17. Mrs. Middlethorn could not be present because of serious injury recently suffered in an automobile accident.

Mrs. P. A. Lewis is serving the club as corresponding secretary in the absence of Mrs. Middlethorn.

Special feature of the afternoon was a patriotic program arranged by Mrs. R. A. Hutchison. The opening number was the salute to the Stars and Stripes led by Mrs. Hutchison. Other numbers were readings and music in which Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. Katie Lewis Burke, Mrs. John Broadbush, Mrs. Thomas Broadbush and Mrs. Hutchison participated.

The social hour was pleasantly spent while Mrs. Washington served refreshments.

ANNUAL REPORT OF COUNTY NURSE

Miss Neel Expresses Appreciation of Aid Received.

The annual report of the County Nurse contains some valuable information. Her travels this year have taken her more than half way around the world; think of it, 14,737 miles. Some of this mileage is accounted for in 570 tuberculosis visits, 180 to communicable diseases, 181 to maternity cases, 523 to infants and preschool, 798 to school children and 602 to adults. Besides she has made 244 visits to physicians. Then the 67 school children hospitalized, in most cases, were taken by the nurse; and 77 school children who had defects corrected were provided with transportation. The nurse also found time to attend 73 meetings during the year.

Our committee meetings, on the whole during the year, have been interesting and fairly well attended. We have lost one valuable member but several interested members have been appointed.

We have been glad to have Miss Myra Senseney with us during the year under the F.E.R.A. and hope that she may be continued.

We have been able to contact most of the beginners this year and have been encouraged at the number who had already had their examination, and with the increase in the number of mothers who have availed themselves of the opportunity to have their smaller children immunized against diphtheria. A threatened epidemic of diphtheria during the school year necessitated giving anti-toxin to about forty children in Haymarket school.

The Woman's Club at Haymarket took care of some dental cases this year. Bristow and Dumfries achieved one hundred percent correction through their dental work. The Manassas Woman's Club and Kiwanis Club made donations to the Episcopal Hospital, Washington. The Nokesville Home Demonstration Group sent a generous treat of homemade cakes to the staff of the dispensary and hospital, who have been so kindly interested in our county children. The Manassas Kiwanis and Young Woman's Club and the Haymarket Woman's Club have contributed to the buying of glasses, and the Young Woman's Club has paid a bill for a child at the Children's Hospital in Washington.

Some outstanding cases have improved and responded to care, one of which was a little boy hospitalized last summer with a tuberculous hip, who broke down again in the winter. We were not able to hospitalize him but succeeded in getting the county to increase the widowed mother's allowance so that she could stay at home and care for him. The Relief Office furnished a full straw tick which the mother supported with a board to make his cot firm. Extra clothes and bedding were furnished by the Red Cross and milk for all the children by the Tuberculosis Association. This child improved steadily.

The work of Miss Pitts and the 4-H Clubs is worthy of attention. The Home Demonstration Groups have done much in the way of sanitary toilets and screening of homes.

EXHIBIT AT DUMFRIES

First and second places on tots dresses in the exhibit made at the recent meeting of Dumfries Home Demonstration group were won by Mrs. Wilber Brawner. Second place in the small childrens class was won by Anne Hamilton.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

By the courtesy of the owners of The Manassas Journal, and through its columns, after consulting the town's Health Officer, Dr. Stewart McBryde, and the mayor, Hon. Harry P. Davis, the members of the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department wish to announce to our friends and the public at large—

That we have postponed our Annual Fireman's Carnival, which was to have been held on July 27, through August 3, as advertised in The Journal, and elsewhere, until future notice.

We feel that our friends will appreciate the fact, this move is prompted as a precautionary measure, due to the epidemic of Polionyelitis, commonly known as Infantile Paralysis, which is now spreading over our State and has within the past few days come to the borders of our County and Town.

We emphatically urge all of our friends to take necessary precautions against the spreading of this disease, by following a few simple rules as laid down by the Health Officers of our county and town, Doctors E. H. Marsteller and Stewart McBryde. The most important of these are as follows:

- 1st. Traveling and visiting, accompanied by CHILDREN should be limited to actual necessity.
- 2nd. Avoid congregating in large numbers, in public places.
- 3rd. Avoid congested areas, such as picnics, public swimming pools, motion-picture houses, tent-shows and the like.
- 4th. As this is a disease that affects children in 90 per cent of its cases, it is hoped that parents will use good judgment and common sense in the daily habits and course of action of their CHILDREN under 15 years of age.

Please read your Journal for definite dates of your Fireman's Carnival to be published later.

BOARD CLOSES MEETING PLACES

The meeting of the County Board of Health of Prince William County was called in Manassas, 25th day of July, 1935. There were present: J. L. Dawson, chairman; Dr. Wade C. Payne, secretary, and Dr. E. H. Marsteller.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Dawson and the following resolutions were passed in order to take all precaution to protect the citizens of the county against Infantile Paralysis:

"First, All public swimming pools and bathing beaches shall be closed."

"Second, All public dance halls shall be closed."

"Third, All motion picture theatres and shows of all kinds shall be closed."

"Fourth, All schools and Sunday schools shall be closed."

We also strongly advise that the citizens of the county keep away from places where there are public gatherings, such as: baseball games, picnics, public speaking, etc.

We also urge all hotels, restaurants, soda fountains and public eating places to take every precaution in sterilizing dishes, glasses, etc.

The above action was taken in the interest of the citizens of the county and we sincerely hope the citizens will observe the resolutions and suggestions to preserve their own welfare.

Chairman,

WADE C. PAYNE,

Secretary,

COUNTY COUNCIL PROMOTES WORK

The Prince William County Council of Religious Education held its annual convention in the U. B. Church at Aden last Sunday. There were three sessions and each one was filled with valuable material. The first session was opened with an address of welcome by the pastor, Rev. Olin Kesner. The vice-president, Mr. Frank G. Sigman, responded and recounted the work done during the past year. He deplored the passing of the president, R. L. Sadd, and told that he had large plans to help the Sunday schools of the county.

At the three sessions Miss Florence Hostetter of the State Council gave inspirational talks. Among the other speakers were Rev. Alvin Kline, who brought back a report from a state meeting in the western part of the state; Rev. O. R. Hersch, whose subject was "How the Christian Religion Aids in Character Building." It was a masterly effort.

Rev. C. B. Jones gave an object lesson and spoke out of his wide experiences with men. His theme was "The Output." Rev. Compton's son gave a well-thought-out talk in the few minutes allowed him.

The resolution committee discussed a wide range of efforts in connection with Sunday school work. A special committee was appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of the president, Mr. R. L. Sadd. The report of the nominating committee was adopted as a whole. The new officers for the coming year are: President, Mr. Frank G. Sigman; vice-president, Rev. John M. DeChant, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. J. Bowman.

The music of the convention was a notable matter. Throughout the whole session there were duets, quartets, sextets and choir work as a whole. The Foster sisters, Dunn Loring sextet and the County Young People's Choir all sang sweetly and entertainingly. The evening session with the exception of the third talk by Miss Hostetter was entirely musical.

Many have said that this convention was the best ever held in the county. Much praise is due Mrs. Bowman for her planning of the program.

MORRIS MITCHELL

Late yesterday afternoon Morris Mitchell, an employee of Mr. R. S. Hynson, went canoeing on Lake Jackson above the dam. At a late hour in the afternoon the canoe in which he left was found empty. Sheriff Kerlin rendered assistance in an effort to recover the body. Authorities advising that the use of dynamite was impractical under the conditions, dragging was resorted to, but as we go to press, without results. An inquest and the funeral arrangements await recovery of the remains.

BYRD RECOVERING AT SUMMER HOME

Chaffing under an enforced vacation, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd occupied his time this week at his summer home in Southwest Harbor, Me., compiling records of his last expedition to Antarctica.

TOURNAMENT TO FEATURE FIELD DAY

The annual field day celebration under the auspices of the Bull Run Grange will be held on Peters' field at Haymarket, August 9, beginning at 10 a.m.

During the morning there will be games and races and also a horse show. The judges for this are Hon. Melvin C. Hazen and Hon. John Waller. An attractive prize will be given for each of these features.

At 12 o'clock a band concert will be held on the field.

The outstanding feature of the day will be the tournament at 1:30. A five-dollar prize will be awarded the winner.

Later in the afternoon a baseball game will be played between the Warrenton Wonders and Haymarket.

As this is one of the outstanding events of the year in Prince William County a large crowd is expected to be in attendance.

KIWANIANS HEAR OF INFANT MALADY

Health Doctor Lectures on Infantile Paralysis.

Week before last on special invitation of the ladies at Haymarket, the club took dinner there at the Parish Hall. Prof. Swavely gave a dissertation on the work done by the Kiwanis Club International and some of the things which the local club had done. Introductions were made both of members of the club and citizens of the community who were in attendance.

One of the ladies rendered a series of delightful piano solos and that relieved the club of having to do much singing on a hot night besides adding much pleasure to their visit.

Mr. A. W. Amphlett closed the evening by offering a toast to Senator Glass as a "real American."

The past week was depressing in its outlook. Although Dr. McBryde's talk was educational and very enjoyable, the tenor of his advice was such to practically put a quietus on gatherings in the town as a whole and that of children in particular.

Dr. McBryde gave a splendid talk dealing with the history of infantile paralysis and some of its vagaries.

He attributed the spread of the disease to the usual methods of contact and stated that 85 per cent of those affected were not past ten years of age.

Another peculiarity of the disease he stated was rarely more than one in a family ever contracted it.

Due to interruption in the place of meeting and other confusion incident to the weather, it had been entirely overlooked that some of the gentlemen were to bring ladies, but a few had remembered and there were several charming representatives of the feminine sex present.

The club was honored also at this meeting by the presence of Billy Coe and Ben Pitts of the Fredericksburg club, who had also brought Marshall King, a non-member, along with them.

SUNSET SERENADES ON TIDAL BASIN

Music lovers in Prince William will find that an unusual opportunity is being offered to attend the sunset concerts which are being presented by the National Symphony Orchestra on Sunday and Wednesday evenings at the Water Gate near the Memorial.

The unusual natural beauty of the scene and the rare offerings of music form a setting and present a novel experience which is adjudged very charming and delightful.

EIGHTH DISTRICT GRADUATE NURSES MEET

The Eighth District Graduate Nurses Association will meet on Saturday, July 27, for a picnic lunch and swim party in connection with their quarterly meeting, at the Gunston Manor cottage of Mrs. R. A. Bowman.

Members and guests from Warrenton, Winchester, Leesburg, Culpeper, Fredericksburg, Manassas, Fairfax, Arlington and Alexandria will meet at historic Pohick Church, on the Richmond Highway, at 2 p.m. The caravan will move on from there to Gunston Manor in charge of Mrs. Aylene Guthrie, president.

Each member to bring a box lunch and swim suit.

ARMY OFFICER TALKS ON BATTLE

Glories of Bull Run Recited at Picnic.

In spite of the extreme heat of Saturday a large crowd gathered in the picnic grove near the scene of Stonewall Jackson's splendid victory of July 21, 1861.

Senator John W. Rust, president of the Battle Park Association, presided over the meeting and introduced the guest speakers for the day who were Thomas Settle, of the National Park and Planning Commission, and Major John K. Shawvan, U. S. Signal Corps Reserve.

Mr. Settle gave an interesting discussion of park work in the National Park area while Major Shawvan directed his energies toward a detailed discussion of the great battle.

The map of the various phases of the fight had been posted on a tree on the edge of the grove and Major Shawvan had a number of copies of the same which he distributed.

In connection with this work Major Shawvan stated that he had spent about three years at various times studying the detailed changes in the battle line and had prepared his own maps as a result of this personal study and use of United States War Department records, many of which he stated were verified by officers who returned to the scene in 1868 while many of the original evidences of the fight were still on hand.

Major Shawvan showed how Beauregard had prepared to receive McDowell on the latter's expected turn toward the South from Centreville which trap he claimed that aged General evaded by striking far to the North in a hope to double up the entire line along the west bank of the stream.

Major Shawvan recited quite vividly the changes which took place in the various fortunes of the battle as it surged back and forth across the Henry Farm until a late hour in the day when the contingent, under Gen. Kirby-Smith, was seen coming up from the west and a general charge began the memorable rout.

He added a fact little known to many and that is that after the retreat started, a Confederate battery made its way across Balls' Ford and up to the Warrenton Pike where it took up a position without orders and waited for the head of the Federal line to reach Cub Run at which time it placed shells on the head of the column, blocking the bridge and accentuating the panic.

Major Shawvan was highly complimentary of the military genius of Jackson and his associates and received quite an ovation at the conclusion of his talk.

In connection with the battle field promotion work at this time, Major Shawvan was quoted as expressing the opinion that the park be kept in pri-

RELIEF WORK IS REORGANIZED

Fredericksburg Selected as District Headquarters.

The headquarters of the Work Progress Administration for the Sixth district, which includes this section of Virginia, has been established at Fredericksburg. Eighteen counties and the cities of Alexandria, Fredericksburg and Charlottesville will be administered from this office, and it is stated that about sixty employees will be placed in the new office, largely by transfer from various area offices. The director of the new district has not yet been selected.

Speaking alphabetically the WPA will absorb the VERA groups and until then the various areas. In other words the Works Progress Administration will gradually take over the functions of the Virginia Emergency Relief Administration. The new centralized district office at Fredericksburg will include departments of Project Promotion, Labor Control, Coordination of WPA with other Federal projects, Finance Department, Office Management and Social Service.

In reference to the status of the present area offices at Manassas, Charlottesville, Fredericksburg and Henrico, press dispatches indicate that they will continue to function under administrative authority of the new district office. The other district offices set up in the state are located at Richmond, Norfolk, Roanoke, Bristol and Staunton.

Mrs. Thompson has been leader of the Occoquan 4-H Club for the past four years. During that time she has not averaged missing one project meeting a year and not one leaders meeting, club contest program, or achievement program. She has taken an active part in developing the 4-H Club Council and the County Leaders organization. She is serving her second term as president of the leaders organization. To attend county meetings Mrs. Thompson travels twenty-three miles.

Mrs. Thompson's superior work is reflected in the accomplishments of Occoquan 4-H Club. Reports at a recent council meeting showed Occoquan 4-H Club up on goals of the year. Four first places in the 1935 County Club contest were earned by members of Occoquan 4-H Club. Two members of that club have represented Virginia at National 4-H Club camp within the past three years.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

by Dr. James T. Marshall

CREED OR DEED?

"Whoever believeth." (John 3:16). Why is salvation based on belief? Most of us have little interest on our neighbor's creeds. What concerns us is their conduct. Yet the Scriptures present unbelief as the sin which shuts the door.

In the first place we must understand what is meant by believing. Faith, in the Scriptural sense, never means signing a creed. It is always confidence in a person, and that is quite a different thing. Believing in the Lord Jesus Christ is not believing things about Him but giving Him our personal confidence and resigning ourselves to His leadership. Jesus framed no theological system and put no doctrinal barriers between Himself and a suppliant. When He called the sons of Zebedee from their fishing boats He simply said, "Follow Me." This is all He said when He called Matthew to leave the receipt of customs.

Christianity is a way of life, and all down through the centuries troubled souls have found peace and courage by responding to the same divine call, "Follow Me."

In the second place we must remember that faith is the principle which lies at the foundation of all our dealings with our fellow men. There is therefore nothing arbitrary in making faith the basis of the spiritual life.

There is no human institution which can be kept alive when the element of confidence is absent. The only alternative is physical force and force always fails in the long run. When faith is absent governments collapse, banks close their doors and family ties are broken. When you purchase a watch you go to a jeweler in whom you feel confidence, and you part with your money because you believe you are getting gold and not brass. He lets you take the watch because he believes the money you are giving him is good. This is the way of faith. There is another way in which the watch can be transferred. A bandit may demand it at the point of a gun. This is the way of force.

The way of faith is the only way the Heavenly Father could use in dealing with the highest interests of His children. We should be grateful that He honors our personality, respects our intelligence, endeavors to win us with love and leaves us free to make our own decision.

Faith is holding out the hand to take the blessings which Heaven offers. "Whoever will let him take the water of life freely."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Life" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 21.

The golden text was "How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings . . . and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life" (Psalms 36:7-9).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The fear of the Lord tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil" (Proverbs 19:23).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality" (p. 487).

CATHARPIN

Well do you know the hardest thing we have to do is to keep our reportorial staff on the job these hot days? Last week, due to the eccentricities of the thermometer, they all struck for shorter hours, higher wages and cooler weather. Being unable to grant either, we just retired to the shade of the old oak trees and let them sweat it out. They are all right now since they could not join the A. F. of L. so they are back on the job—same hours and wages, but furnish their own electric fans.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brower, Jr., and Mrs. Walton, of Purcellville, Va., were guests of friends and relatives in the community last week.

Mrs. Etta P. Lynn, of Catharpin, left on Friday of last week for a month's visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Webb, of Chicago. Mrs. Webb is head of one of the Government departments which was transferred to that city from Washington some time ago and her mother has often been imported to make the trip which is now being enjoyed to the fullest.

Mrs. R. A. Collins, of Marble Hill, is now on a visit among relatives in Hampton, Va., where she will remain for several weeks taking a good rest from her labors of the past harvest season. During her absence, her daughters, Mrs. Shelton, Mrs. Caton and Mrs. Allison are doing the "re-tort courteous" by keeping the "Home Fires Burning" while the mother is away. You know during this kind of weather when the thermometer is in the nineties, it is very necessary that the "embers" shall not die out upon the hearth lest the crickets take a chill and pass away.

Mrs. L. P. Pattie, of Belle Farm, is at home after a week's sojourn in the Capital City where she has been taking treatment from a specialist, and is feeling much better. While it is necessary to return every few days for further attention, it is felt she is now on the road to recovery. During her absence, her young daughters, Harriet and Bertha, have also kept the "Home Fires Burning" during harvest, canning and threshing, and did a good job of it. There is nothing like good, responsible children on the job when parents have to be absent.

The community was much distressed last week when it was learned that Mrs. Cordelia Swart, of Sudley, had the misfortune of breaking her left wrist and was necessarily under the doctor's care until nature could mend the injury. Mrs. Cordie is one of the Catharpin girls and like her sisters, Mrs. Sue Swart and Mrs. J. D. Wheeler, has always been in the forefront of usefulness in the community, whether church, school, State, sick-room or just what have you? Miss "Cordie," as every one calls her, is getting along nicely and her many friends shall be glad when she is able to be among them again.

On account of the very hot day very few from this neighborhood attended the Henry House Rally on Saturday as many of them desired to do. The rumored improvement of this notable Battlefield Park has interested many and its accomplishment is a matter much desired by the people in general. 73 years have now passed into history since the notable events of the great battles of Bull Run had taken place, yet there is very little to show that anything of importance ever happened at that point. The whole countryside is interested in its development and hopes it may be accomplished now before the money runs out.

Harvesting is now about over for the prolific year of 1935 and all have reason to be thankful for the abundant yields now stored away for future use. The present drought, which had almost reached the point where it must not tarry longer if gardens obtained, was broken on Sunday when copious showers came to the relief of cukes, cornfields, tomatoes, beans, etcetera, so that every thing is now just about unanimous. Taking it all in all, the season has been a happy one. Farmers have the prospect of having enough money to pay their taxes and fertilizer bills with possibly enough left to get themselves a pair of winter socks; at any rate, the barns are full and wheat in the mill so starvation is postponed for at least another year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn and daughter, Elizabeth, spent Sunday with Mrs. Lynn's mother, Mrs. Metz, in Manassas.

Now that things seem to be perking up a bit on the farm, many of our youngsters are beginning to notice the fashion plates particularly with reference to that part of it where the handkerchief is on display in the upper left-hand coat pocket. We wonder if any one ever noticed that feature. The trouble is that so many do not seem to know just how much of that important article of attire should be on display. We have seen just a tiny-tip-o-the-corner protruding above the pocket, and again we have seen half the handkerchief flopping about in the breezes. We see it on display in the pictures of Senators, Congressmen, prize fighters, racers, and even golf players; so why not the farmer? So when the farmer comes to town with his red bandanna showing profusely over his heart you can just set it down that he is perking up and feeling that the depression is over insofar as he is concerned; so the only thing now undecided is just how much of the handkerchief should show in order to show a man's good taste? We can not answer though we have always heard that there was a medium 'tixt the extremes of anything, so we leave the matter for those interested to investigate for themselves. We are only calling attention to the "inequality" of the thing.

McCARROLL TAUGHT RIVAL OF LONDOS

Frank McCarroll, who fills the role of villain Duke Craven in the new Rex Russell Western, "Blazing Guns," due at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Friday, August 2, and incidentally puts up one of the greatest fights ever screened, with the star; is a veteran of the mat game who has met and defeated most of the top-notch wrestlers in his day. He was equally distinguished as a rodeo champion, who had no equal at bulldogging steers, and responsible for the development of Everett Marshall, today the outstanding challenger of Jim Londos for the latter's title of world's heavyweight wrestling champion.

It was while traveling with a rodeo show that McCarroll chanced to make Marshall's acquaintance, at La Junta, Colo., where the latter owns a ranch of over 6000 acres. McCarroll sized up young Marshall's magnificent physical proportions with an expert's eyes, was much impressed thereby, and persuaded him that he had a future on the mat. Under the veteran's tuition Marshall soon became master of every hold in the game, and has since attained international fame in his chosen profession.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

SUMMER VISITORS

The state-wide committee preparing for the autumn travel season under the sponsorship of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce has not had to wait until October for a heavy flow of visitors. A tide of tourists has been rising steadily since early spring. The problem is one of entertaining present rather than attracting newcomers.

The motor vehicle division reports the heaviest out-of-state traffic in years are calling for information about the Old Dominion at the recently-organized Washington office of the Conservation and Development Commission. Tourist agencies are bringing in bus loads from as far west as Kansas.

Communities which now are prepared need no new warning. They realize the importance of giving their guests what may reasonably be expected in the way of lodging and food, but unfortunately there are many beautiful towns through which the flood of travel flow without a pause. It will continue thus to flow disdainfully through; it will never stop for long until those otherwise attractive places raise the standards of their public hospitality.

A pleased visitor may send a dozen friends along his route this fall. Clumsy entertainment can wreck the season of any town next autumn, next spring, any year, every year. — Richmond News-Leader.

LAKES AND BIRDS

One of the pleasant things about the increasing rainfall in sections of the country that have seemed to be drying up the last few years is the revival of wild life. St. Paul reports that the Minnesota lakes are echoing again with the call of waterfowl not seen there for a decade. The state conservation commissioner says many kinds of ducks and other water-loving birds are nesting within 20 minutes' drive of the Twin Cities. The rising levels of several thousand small lakes have brought a great resurgence of life.

So it is wherever there are lakes holding their own, or rising, instead of drying up. So it is also in what are ordinarily called swamps and marshes. About all this sort of thing the American public has been learning lessons of many kinds, concerning not merely wild life but the broader phases of human life. We are no longer trying to drain and dry up all the wet hollows, to turn them into productive farm and garden land or merely to get rid of "eyesores." We have learned what such a process does to our water supply, rainfall, climate and general conditions that minister to life—vegetable, animal and human.

We have reversed the old exploiting process and are repioneering now in a new way, working with nature and not against her. For the new conservation our posterity will thank us. — Exchange.

SPENDING

The National Retail Drygoods Association estimates that the nation's stores will spend about $15,000,000 for modernization this year. The estimate is based on a study of stores with annual sales ranging from a few thousand dollars up to $15,000,000. It is probably moderate. Anybody can see stores in his neighborhood making improvements, just as anybody can see people making improvements in their home and manufacturers making improvements in their factories and utility companies making improvements in their equipment.

Evidently business men expect to do more business next year. It is an altogether reasonable expectation, in view of business trends and expert forecasts. And the improvement work done makes more business itself.

It is probably a good time to recall the old proverb: "Get your spindle and distaff ready, and God will spend the flax." — Exchange.

STATE FINANCES ARE IMPROVING

Financial Status Credit to State.

The Times-Herald, of Newport News, under date of July 17, carried an editorial entitled "Sound State Finance," in which it commented on a reduction of the state debt during the worst years of the national depression. The editorial reads as follows:

"There is a note of stability and confidence for the Old Dominion in the comment on State finances just issued by State Treasurer A. B. Gathright. As the situation is summed up by the Associated Press:

"The Virginia State debt has fallen from $25,687,181.63 to $22,205,196.20 between 1929 and 1935, it was said today at the offices of A. B. Gathright, State treasurer.

"Total debt of the counties dropped $803,085 between 1931 and 1932, fell off $857,946 between 1930 and 1931 and between 1929 and 1930 dropped $2,028,463. The total debt of the counties, however, is believed to have increased the past year due to construction of schools through the PWA."

The results noted occurred at a time when debt of other States and their localities were mounting apace due to the stresses of the times. Tax increases have been common in the period covered and in spite of these in many instances debt has increased. It is notable that Virginia has gotten along without appreciable increase in taxes, though there were some increased levies on various types of business in the Peery program for schools. It must be admitted, too, that Virginia has a wasteful system of county government for the most part, and the figure might be better. This, however, is the fault of the localities rather than the State itself.

Virginia's excellent State finances are traceable to competent and experienced fiscal officers and advisers and conservative administration which is now bearing its goodly fruit. The peninsula takes especial pride in the achievement since two of its sons have played so large a part in State finances. Senator Saxon W. Holt, a veteran of the General Assembly and a member of the budget committee for years past, has consistently stood for a balanced budget and taxes as low as were compatible with the efficiency of State institutions. Delegate Ashton Dovell of Williamsburg in later years has been a legislator of the same school. Nor should we forget in the symposium of commendation to recognize the signal service of Governor Pollard in this respect. It was unpopular and difficult to trim expenditures as he did to income in the depression years but the job was done, to the signal benefit of Virginia's financial standing.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By O. J. Schuster

BIG, BAD MUSSOLINI, THE IMPERIAL RACKETEER! With "righteous indignation" the noble statesmen of England, France and other nations are denouncing Italy's dictator for his attack on the helpless people of Abyssinia in East Africa. It's a "hold-up," they say, by a powerful gang that want land, treasure, and natural resources of the natives. It shocks these high-minded statesmen.

BUT THE ITALIAN DICTATOR replies by telling these "shocked" statesmen to examine the record of imperialistic exploitation made by their own nations during the past century, even in recent years. He reminds the British of how they sent their army and navy to India and by the use of force and chicanery possessed themselves of the wealth of a people who could not protect their rights. A small British army, equipped with superior weapons, virtually enslaved 325,000,000 Hindoos, and during the past 200 years English gentlemen have amassed great wealth by exploiting India.

MUSSOLINI ASKS these Britishers who criticize his policies to remember how England violated her treaty with China, used her superior military forces to compel China to cede islands and valuable mainland to the British, open up her ports to shipments of opium by English merchants, and pay the British government a big cash indemnity in addition. The Chinese rulers did not want their people to become addicted to the opium vice, but "business is business" and opium producers must have buyers or there can be no profits. It's not very kind of Mussolini to remind England thus frankly of her own racketeering imperialism. To bring England face to face with her own repeated violation of treaties makes it difficult for her to hold other nations to a strict adherence of her treaty agreements.

ITALY'S AGGRESSIVE COURSE against the Abyssinians—they are a branch of the white race—is naturally distasteful to freedom-loving Americans. It wouldn't become us, however, to protest too strongly against Italy's course for our own record is not free from the same aggressive action. We grabbed the Philippine Islands and our military forces ruthlessly mowed down masses of defenseless natives. A newspaper correspondent of one of the leading New York dailies interviewed Ex-President Grover Cleveland in 1899 regarding our military exploits in those islands. Having in mind, no doubt, how our machine guns were turned on a few thousand Filipinos, men, women and children who had taken refuge in an extinct volcanic crater, the man who was described by the poet Lowell as "the best representative of the higher type of Americanism that we have seen since Lincoln was snatched from us," uttered this bitter sarcasm:

"It is a matter of surprise to me that the refusal of certain natives of our new possessions to acquiesce . . . should in the least disturb our expansionists. The remedy is obvious and simple. The misguided inhabitants should be slaughtered. The killing of Filipinos has been a feature of expansion and our imperialistic enthusiasm should not be checked by the prospective necessity of destroying a few thousand Filipinos. This should only be regarded as a mere incident in its progress.

"Of course some unprepared souls would then be lost before we had the opportunity of Christianizing them, but surely those of our clergymen who have done so much to encourage expansion could manage that difficulty."

Holding thus true to the fundamental principles of democracy, Cleveland vividly portrayed realities in the world around him during the Spanish-American War. Today we recognize that his vision was clear and accurate.

If your car fails to start because of dirty breaker points, and your tool kit lacks a fine file or emery cloth, a safety-match box will serve the purpose. Hold the box so as to bring the abrasive strip to bear on the breaker points and you will find that you can do a professional cleaning job in short order.

To free a sticking valve caused by carbon and gummy deposits forming on the stem, heat the engine almost to the boiling point by covering the front of the radiator. Remove the spark plug from the cylinder containing the stuck valve. Pour about ¼ pint of denatured alcohol into the combustion chamber. Replace the spark plug as soon as possible to retain the alcohol fumes, and let the engine stand for from 15 to 30 minutes. When the engine is again started, the gummy deposits and carbon will be blown out through the exhaust.

WHISTLE 'EM UP

Whistling to attract attention is nothing new as every small boy knows, but engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories have recently perfected a whistle with which linemen who maintain open wire long distance lines may call the testboard for instructions regarding troubles to be cleared and to report when interruptions have been overcome.

Knowing that inexpensive equipment of small weight was essential to overcome the crank method of magnet signaling formerly used on the old-style test sets, the telephone engineers devised the thousand cycle interrupted ringing tone, which could be produced with a small whistle of the closed-end type. To obtain the interruptions, a reed was mounted within the whistle and so arranged that it cuts off the air supply and thus interrupts the thousand cycle tone at the required frequency.

Voice frequency range has come into extensive use in the last few years in telephone transmission, particularly on the longer lines which require telephone repeaters at intermediate points. The voice frequency systems use one thousand cycle current interrupted nominally twenty times a second. At central offices this thousand cycle interrupted current is obtained from motor generator sets equipped with speed regulators to insure the proper frequency of interruption necessary on long distance telephone circuits.

To ring the testboard with this whistle the lineman merely connects his test set to the proper telephone circuit and blows his whistle in front of the transmitter. The sound of the whistle is then converted by the transmitter into an electrical current which flows along the line and operates the ringer in the terminating office of the circuit.

The whistle is three-quarters of an inch in diameter and four and one-half inches long. It is light in weight and may be carried in the lineman's pocket or in a carrying case which may be slipped on the strap of the telephone set. In addition to its use by linemen, this whistle calling method affords a means for test room attendants at intermediate telephone repeater stations to ring on circuits employing this type of signaling. At a number of telephone stations where there is no thousand cycle ringing supply, the whistle affords a most convenient and inexpensive method of ringing.

NEXT SUNDAY'S WASHINGTON STAR

J. Russell Young, for 16 years White House correspondent for The Evening and The Sunday Star, has written an intimate article on President Roosevelt's hobby—the sea.

"I must go down to the sea again," the President says every once in a while—and away he goes. A good sailor, a true fisherman, President Roosevelt lives up to the traditions of the White House. Several of his predecessors were also anglers and sailors.

"Russ" Young, who traveled with Woodrow Wilson, Warren Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover, tells many an interesting anecdote featuring fishing trips with Hoover, Coolidge, Harding and now Roosevelt. Woodrow Wilson was not a member of the Isaac Walton League. All this interesting, and mayhap historical, data will be found in The Sunday Star of July 28, on the front page of the magazine section, with exclusive pictures.

MOTOR VEHICLES GAIN IN REVENUE

Virginia motor vehicle carriers had total gross receipts of $4,401,630.14 in 1934, an increase of $813,001.99 over 1933, R. E. Steele, tax assessor for the State Corporation Commission, reported this week.

Mr. Steele attributed the increase in receipts reported for taxation more to the activities of the new valuation and assessment service of the commission than to an actual increase in business.

He assessed an additional tax of $9,311.08 against the carriers, as opposed to last year's tax of $7,643.19. This revenue, based on a levy of .2 of 1 per cent in addition to the 2 per cent road tax paid by the carriers, does not go into the general fund, but into a special fund to support the new valuation service.

"WHY I'M STILL IN WESTERNS THO' I SAID I WAS THRU"

"There comes a time in every actor's life when he feels he's being 'typed,'" said George O'Brien on the set of "The Cowboy Millionaire," the Fox release produced by Sol. Lesser. "I felt I was sinking in a rut," continued O'Brien, "and after playing in one Western after another, I realized that if I did not strike out, I would never play in any other type of film."

"I wanted to play 'the man on the flying trapeze,' 'the man who wears a dinner jacket habitually,' in fact, anything other than what I was doing. When I was given the part of a 'well-dressed man' in 'Ever Since Eve,' I was elated. 'When the picture was finished, the newspaper reviewers liked it; my friends liked it—but I didn't! I missed the realism, the sincerity and the fine character always associated with the Westerner. I missed the horses and the association with the cowboys with whom I had worked for years. That's the reason I'm back in outdoor pictures.'"

George O'Brien expressed the great pleasure he derived from his part in "The Cowboy Millionaire," coming to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday. He is presented as a rough-and-tumble cowboy who had to contend with a clever crook in the world's largest city, in which he is ably assisted by Evalyn Bostock and Edgar Kennedy.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

FOR SHERIFF

To the Democratic Voters of Prince William County:

Subject to the primary to be held the 6th of August, I respectfully announce my candidacy for Sheriff of said County.

In doing so I can only pledge the same impartial and efficient discharge of my duties as heretofore.

My present deputies will continue with me.

My duties may prevent me from seeing each of you before the election, but you all know me, and under these conditions I sincerely solicit your support, which you have so generously heretofore given me.

I now thank you for past aid as well as your help which I feel confident I will receive in this election.

J. P. KERLIN

FOR SHERIFF AND DEPUTY

To the voters of Prince William County:

Owing to the fact that so many erroneous reports have been circulated as to who may, or may not, be my deputy if elected, I deem it my duty to announce same at this time to prevent the voters from being victimized by false propaganda.

I hereby beg to announce Mr. Andrew S. Robertson, of Wellington, as my deputy, for the entire county, and both of us pledge ourselves to faithfully perform the duties of this important office in a fair and impartial manner.

Mr. Robertson has been a lifelong resident of this county and has served his people in many important capacities. He was elected supervisor of Manassas Magisterial District in 1919 and after qualifying for this office he received the appointment as postmaster at Wellington, which necessitated his resigning as supervisor.

He was elected in 1923 as Justice of the Peace in his district and served several years with credit and honor, he also served a number of years on the County Democratic Committee.

Mr. Robertson has served for 15 years on the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Manassas, and is recognized not only by his fellow-directors, but by the general public as a successful and far-sighted business man whose character and moral standing are above reproach.

Respectfully,
T. M. RUSSELL.

Russell, candidate for the office of Sheriff of Prince William County, and urged by a number of qualified voters of this county to join with Mr. Russell as Deputy Sheriff, and share with him the responsibilities of this important office, I hereby announce my candidacy as Deputy for Mr. Russell and trust we may receive your generous support at the primary to be held throughout the county on August 6, 1935, for which we shall both feel ever grateful.

Respectfully,
ANDREW S. ROBERTSON.

A CARD Notice of Candidacy

To the voters and citizens of Manassas Magisterial District, Prince William County, Virginia:

At the behest and solicitation of a goodly number of the citizens of my District, I was persuaded to become a candidate for the nomination to the office of Supervisor for Manassas Magisterial District, subject to the Democratic Primary of August 6, 1935, and I have filed my declaration to that effect with the County Chairman.

I retired from the mercantile business, as most of you know, a few years ago, and I have held public office with similar duties, having served as a member of the Town Council of Manassas, Va., for eight years, and as a member of the School Board for about the same period of time. My experience in management of my own affairs, and my record during the occupancy of the two offices above-mentioned is an open book, and familiar to most of the older members of this community. I refer you to this record without comment.

If I am favored with the nomination, I pledge you my best effort towards an honest discharge of all the duties the office imposes, without favoritism, and void of any partiality to any person, or persons. Therefore, I courteously solicit your support at the coming Primary, and tender my thanks in advance for same.

Respectfully yours,
C. E. NASH.

C. C. LYNN.

I am herewith announcing my candidacy for nomination for the office of SUPERVISOR for the said District subject to the Democratic Primary to be held August 6, 1935.

You are my neighbors and it would give me the greatest pleasure to be able to serve you in the position which I now seek.

You may be rest assured that I shall exert my utmost at all times to represent the best interests of this District and County on the honorable Board of Supervisors.

IT PAYS

"Is It Worth While to Put Work and Money Into Making the Farm Home Attractive and Comfortable?"

Dear Miss Pitts:

The subject among all the questions submitted in the Farm Housing Letter Contest, which most appealed to me is the one listed above.

Farmers and their wives have to get so much of their pleasure as well as their profits out of their immediate surroundings that I do not believe the value of home improvements on the farm can be overestimated.

Perhaps no one else has been impressed with the same thought but it is my opinion that nothing will bring much gratifying returns for the same outlay as that spent to enhance the beauty and comfort of the farm home. How often we hear someone say that they are at their wit's end to find ways of keeping their children interested in their homes when as a matter of fact if they really used their wits the solution, with a few exceptions, would prove quite simple.

How many of them have created an interest in, and love of home, in their children by sharing with them, plans for repainting or remodeling furniture, rooms, even the house itself? My own experience has proven, to my satisfaction at least, that anything that the children have a part in creating serves to redouble their interest and affection for it. My boys have taken great pride in showing their friends a four-acre lawn and flower beds, the care of which they are responsible for. My small daughter takes great pleasure in "showing off" her room which she helped to paint.

Dissatisfaction, I am sure, is the mother of Progress, else we should never have had the conveniences and comforts which are ours through the genius of the Whitneys, Bells, Edisons, Hudsons, and McCormicks of the world. The dissatisfaction of our children with our worn-out and outmoded farm machinery, our heavy rugs and ornate furniture instead of the improved service and simple lines and beauty of more modern house and farm furnishings serve to spur us on to greater effort in procuring them.

Last but by no means least the renewed interest serves to weld the family circle more closely together and we have again, what was rapidly becoming as extinct as the Do-Do, a home shared by all members of the family working for a common end. Who can assess the value of such riches?

Sincerely,

ANNE PEYTON ROBERTSON,
Haymarket, Virginia,
Prince William County.

500 INDIANS USED IN FILMING THRILLING BELL PRODUCTION

An entire tribe of redskins from the Mojave Indian reservation in Arizona was employed in the thrilling battle scenes between white settlers and Indians in Rex Bell's current master thrill film, "Fighting Pioneers," which will be featured on the screen of the Dixie Theatre in Manassas tomorrow and Saturday. Besides the Mojave tribe, numbering over 500 braves, Director Harry Fraser employed three professional Indian screen players in the more important roles. They were Guate Mozin, Aztec; Standing Bear, Comanche, and Thunder Cloud, Cherokee.

Jobs for Scholarship Winners As First Two Receive Degrees

Called to Detroit for a conference with officials of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, Albert W. Fischer, 22 years old, of Waukegan, Ill., and Raymond S. Doerr, 23, of Battle Creek, Mich., $5,000 scholarship winners in the initial coach-building competition sponsored by the educational foundation and the first of their select group to finish college, find that jobs await them upon graduation.

Both receive degrees this month. Fischer, who has been attending the University of Illinois, will join the research division of General Motors. He is seated at the left next to Guild President William A. Fisher. Secretary William S. McLean stands behind him with the other youth, who will begin work at the General Motors proving ground after obtaining his diploma from the University of Michigan.

ROCHELLE AND WILL STARTED IN SAME HOME TOWN

Any four leaf clovers, swastikas or other good luck charms that come the way of Rochelle Hudson may be had for the asking. She says she will take Will Rogers for her lucky omen.

Miss Hudson, only recently old enough to vote, has just signed a new contract with Fox Film after a year of rapid progress. Her latest role is with Rogers in "Judge Priest," which comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday.

Her partiality to the comedian, she explains, is the result of the frequent crossing of their paths and the success she has had in these instances.

First, both the diminutive brunette and Rogers are natives of Claremore, Okla.

Her first film role of any importance and the one that won her a contract with Fox a year ago, was with him in "Dr. Bull."

And her new contract, just signed, is a reward for fine work in the comedian-philosopher's latest vehicle, "Judge Priest." The latest is adapted from Irvin S. Cobb's stories.

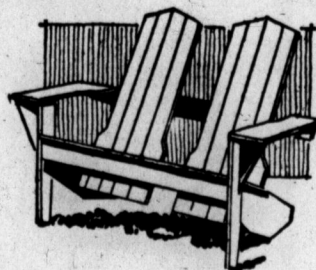

We have a client desiring an old Colonial Estate. 10-room house on about fifty acres. Improvements not necessary. Stone, Brick or good Frame. Electricity must be available. Priced about $10,000.00. We would also be glad to list any other properties you might desire to sell.

13 MILLION FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

Great Road Building Program Announced.

The State Highway Commission this week announced plans and allocations for the greatest single-year road building program in its history. More than thirteen million dollars will be spent under the allocations for road building and grade crossing eliminations, in the approximate ratio of two-thirds for road construction and one-third for grade crossing elimination. It is estimated that the project will give employment to fifteen thousand persons, of whom around 5000 must come from the relief rolls.

Allowing an additional half million for the purchase of rights-of-ways and $200,000 for engineering and overhead, the grand total will exceed $14,000,000. The State matches the Federal Aid dollar for dollar and it is estimated that the program will create a million and a half deficit in the State budget.

Hearings will be held in the different districts, that for Culpeper District, which includes the counties of this section, having been called at the Fredericksburg High School auditorium on Thursday, August 1, from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m.

The allocations for Culpeper District are as follows:

Emergency Relief Funds,
Primary	$ 90,270.00
Emergency Relief Funds,
Secondary	221,909.00
Municipalities	101,303.00
Federal Aid	532,404.00
Convict Camps	300,000.00

$1,245,882.00

In the Secondary ERF allocation are the following interesting items:

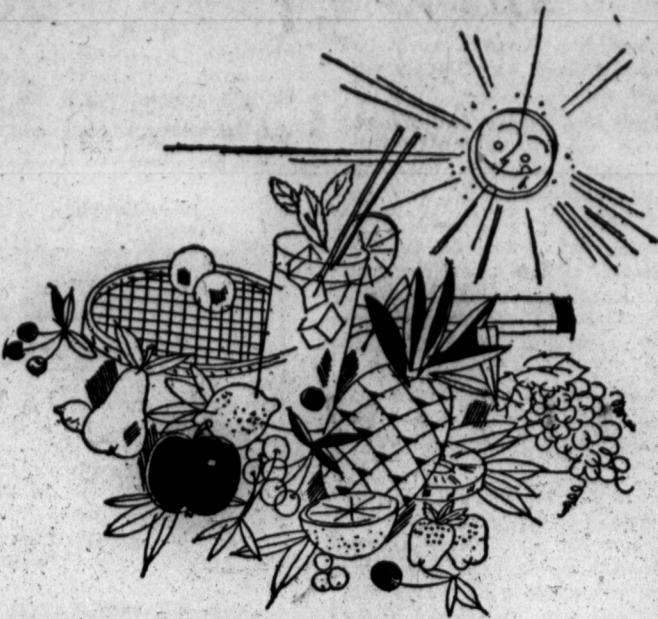

Prince William — Manassas toward Lake Jackson, $22,579; Fairfax, narrow bridge at Pinott Run, $1,130; Difficult Run Bridge, $30,000.

In the State Secondary System nearby counties receive the following consideration:

Fairfax, $9,362; Prince William, $10,533; Culpeper, $8,884; Loudoun, $7,660; Fauquier, $11,810; Rappahannock, $6,490; Orange, $8,511.

Nearby municipal allotments include Manassas, $2500; Warrenton, $2950; Leesburg, $3,350; Culpeper, $4,850; Orange, $2,850; Alexandria, $49,450; Falls Church, $4,150.

For That Royal Thirst

*This world is so full of a number of things
That I think we should all be as thirsty as kings!
But we've lots of drinks—fizzes and rickies and slings
And cordials and punches to give our thirsts wings!*

A ROYAL thirst is the kind that develops on a hot, dusty day after a long hike, a prolonged set of tennis, a ten-inning game of baseball, or something like that. On that principle many of us who are far from being royalists can develop many a royal thirst these torrid summer days.

However, as the above parody points out, we have many more means of alleviating these thirsts nowadays than even the mightiest monarchs of the past.

Fine Fizzes

Four Fruit Fizz: Have the juice from a No. 3 can of fresh prunes, one cup canned pineapple syrup, one cup orange juice, one-fourth cup lemon juice and two bottles charged water ice cold. Mix together and serve over cracked ice. This makes sixteen punch glasses.

Loganberry Fizz: Boil two and a half cups water and three-fourths cup sugar three minutes, cool and add one-half cup lemon juice and a cup of canned loganberries. Ice well, and, just before serving add one pint bottle ginger ale. Makes six glasses.

Cooling Cordials

Sour Cherry Cordial: Simmer one cup of sugar and one cup of water to make a syrup, add two cups tea, one cup orange juice and one-half cup lime juice. Press the red pitted cherries from a No. 2 can through a sieve or run through a food chopper. Add both the cherry pulp and juice. Just before serving, add one quart ginger ale. This makes about three quarts.

Tomato and Cucumber Cordial: Slice a medium cucumber thin with the peeling left on. Simmer together for thirty minutes, three cups strained tomato juice, two cups water, one clove garlic, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar and a few grains of pepper. Strain and cool the juice. Serve ice cold in cocktail cups. Serves eight.

Summer Punches

Lime Punch: Dissolve one cup sugar in one quart tea infusion while the tea is hot. When cold, add one 8-ounce bottle lime juice, the syrup from a No. 2½ can apricots and the syrup from a No. 2½ can grapes (reserving the fruits for salads, cocktails, etc.). Just before pouring ice cold into thermos bottles to serve wherever you want outdoors, add three ice cold pint bottles charged water. This makes twelve large glasses, or about twenty-four punch cups.

Prune Punch: Mix together the juice from a No. 3 can fresh prunes, one-half cup bottled lime juice and two cups water. Pour over ice and serve in punch glasses. Makes ten glasses.

vate hands until such markers as the local public wishes to see placed are actually erected after which time it might be turned over to Federal authorities.

After a delicious picnic luncheon the exercises were resumed in the mid-afternoon. Mr. Roy Knox, of Falls Church, sang several solos and the crowd joined in on some of the old southern tunes. Miss Virginia Speiden officiated at the organ. W. A. Fravel, of Falls Church, an official of the Battle Park Association, gave a brief address.

The main talk of the afternoon was given by Mr. Gilbert Wilkerson, commander of the Sons of Veterans Camp in Washington who gave an inspiring address on memorializing Southern ideals, decrying the fact that American histories have dealt so unfairly with the War Between the States.

The Confederate Veterans were represented by Robert Wilson of Company D, First Maryland Cavalry, aged 87. It is needless to state that he was quite the cynosure of all eyes.

Mrs. Mary Snyder, custodian of the flags, Arlington Chapter, U. D. C., sold a number of flags to raise funds for the battlefield museum.

Except for the extreme heat of the day which is very much to be expected at this time of the year, the exercises were a complete success in every way.

STATE'S EX-SERVICE MEN'S CCC QUOTA FILLS SLOWLY

With only 8.7 per cent of the Virginia quota of ex-service men for Civilian Conservation Corps enlistment filled, officials at the veterans' facility near Roanoke have begun to report to various recruiting stations in the State, it was learned this week.

The quota is 322, and the enlistment period may be six months or more. More than the quota were contracted from July 1 to July 15, it was said. On Monday letters asking the ex-service men to report to recruiting stations were mailed.

It was said that the quota was enlarged not only to take care of replacements but also because the number of positions open to veterans was increased throughout the country.

..It's an Eight and the only V-Type 8 under $2300

EVERYBODY knows that the big advantage of eight cylinders is s-m-o-o-t-h performance. Ford owners get this advantage, and they also get the economy, ruggedness and compactness of a V-type engine.

A V-type engine costs more to build—but less to run. A dual down-draft carburetor takes the gasoline used by a four and splits it into eight small charges. That's one economy.

Then, Ford uses aluminum cylinder heads for premium performance on regular gasoline. That means further economy.

Also, this year, Ford moved the engine 8½ inches forward, so that all passengers now ride in the "Comfort Zone"—on a 123-inch springbase. Back seat passengers get a "front seat ride."

Go to your Ford dealer's and see this car. Note that Safety Glass all 'round and 6.00 x 16-inch air-balloon tires are standard equipment. Then, drive a Ford V-8. Once you have felt what a V-type, 85-horsepower engine will do, you will never be content with anything less.
