PASTOR SUGGESTS SKYLAND SHRINE

Cites Views in Letter to Hon. Wilbur Hall.

The Rev. Dr. J. J. Scherer, president of the Lutheran Synod of Virginia of the United Lutheran Churches in America, and among the most deeply beloved and consecrated ministers of the South, has suggested to the State Commission on Conservation and Development that a holy shrine be erected at some suitable point along Skyline Drive, the shrine to be interdenominational in character and dedicated to the God of the Christians, "our God."

The proposal was made in a letter addressed by Dr. Scherer to Chairman Wilbur C. Hall, which communication will be laid before the commission at its next meeting. Dr. Scherer pledges the Lutheran Synod of Virginia to make the first contribution towards the undertaking he suggests. His letter to Chairman Hall, embodying so graphically his own thoughts on the subject, reads as follows:

"Dear Mr. Hall: On several trips over the Skyline Drive recently, the urge to stop and worship God the Creator of all the glorious beauty seen was almost overpowering. Truly this is 'holy ground.' God seems so near.

"It occurred to me that certainly here was the place for a Shrine wherein we weary mortals might pause to receive strength and to give thanks to Him who grants us such blessings and to worship, whatever our creed or religion, our God.

"If the idea appeals to you may I suggest that your Commission authorize a committee to raise funds and with the approval of the Commission and under its direction, erect along this Heavenly Way an outdoor Shrine, dedicated to the God of our fathers, our God.

"The Lutheran Synod of Virginia, of which body I have the honor to be President, will be glad to make the first contribution toward an undertaking which will give so much spiritual help to our folks and to the strangers within our gates.

"With kindest personal regards, I am
Sincerely yours,
J. J. SCHERER, Jr."

SIXTEEN YEAR OLD MINISTER TO PREACH FIRST SERMON

On Sunday evening, August 25, the pulpit of the Buckhall United Brethren Church was occupied by Raymond Davis, a member of the congregation. His sermon was on the subject "The Neglect of Salvation." The church was filled to capacity having a large number of friends and relatives as well as the ordinary congregation of the church present. Others having parts in divine service were Rev. Jesse Bell, Rev. Dorothea Randall and Rev. Olin R. Kesner.

This is the first sermon of the young man who is just sixteen years old. He is a senior in Manassas High School and plans to continue his preparation for the ministry in the Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa., and the Bonebrake Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio.

In the course of the sermon Mr. Davis quoted from Hebrews 2:3 "For how shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation," using this as his text. He stated that not only are the people who have not confessed Jesus Christ unsaved but those as well who neglect their religious opportunities, claiming membership in the church. He also said that only a small percentage of the church members who had their names on the rolls would be saved primarily because of neglect. The congregation had many comments to make on the truths of the sermon. They all hope for another opportunity to hear the young minister in the future. (Written by a member of the congregation)

BLIGHT NOW IS KILLING LOCUST TREES OF STATE

The locust trees which grow plentifully in the mountains west of Danville are all dying from a disease similar to that which years ago singled out the mountain chestnuts for attack and which within a few years destroyed an industry and left stark timber as evidence of destruction.

In the higher reaches of the Blue Ridge the full green of late summer is tinged with the tan of dying trees. Millions of locusts are withering and will be dead by the time spring comes again. The disease appears to miss all the other trees but is proving deadly in its onslaught on the locusts.

There will be a special meeting of all committees of the Dairy Festival Association, Wednesday night, September 4, at 8:15 p.m., in the Town Hall.

At this time detailed arrangements and plans will be made for the Fifth Annual Dairy Festival.

STATE POLICE ARE ACTIVE

Arrests for Drunken Driving Increase.

A striking increase in state police activity, particularly in arrests for drunken driving, reckless driving, manslaughter and hit-and-run cases, was revealed in figures for the first six months of 1935 made public this week by John Q. Rhodes, Jr., director of the motor vehicles division of Virginia.

Mr. Rhodes' report, which compares activity during the first half of 1935 with the corresponding period in 1934, shows a marked tightening up of traffic law enforcement all over the state. "We have been able to increase police activity and improve enforcement partly because we have had fewer strikes and other disturbances in the state this year," Mr. Rhodes said. "In the main, however, the increased activity is due to your increased efforts to combat crime and reckless driving and to cut down the deadly toll of motor vehicle accidents in Virginia."

The figures showed that 3,079 arrests were made the first half of 1935 compared with 1,734 for the same time in 1934. Arrests for driving while drunk increased from 278 to 612. Other increases in arrests were: Manslaughter, 27 to 59; car theft, 95 to 116; transporting, 49 to 133; hit-and-run, 36 to 95; reckless driving, 246 to 443 and improper licenses, 137 to 195.

Two hundred and thirty-two stolen cars were recovered, as against 146 in the 1934 period. A total of 4,107 convictions for law violations were secured, as compared with 3,350; fines, increased from $48,441 to $78,987, while jail sentences jumped from a total of 3,009 months to 5,136.

DAUGHTER OF STUART MAY CONTEST HIS WILL

It is stated that Mary Stuart, daughter of the late Henry Carter Stuart, former governor of Virginia, may contest her father's will on the grounds that he was unduly influenced by nephews in drawing the document.

Miss Stuart, in the instrument filed in the Russell County Circuit Court, is said to have stated that the $2000 bequeathed to her "is small and insignificant when compared to what she would have and would take under the law of descents as his child."

Former Governor Stuart was the nephew of General J. E. B. Stuart, famous Confederate Cavalry Commander and was reputed to be the largest cattle owner east of the Mississippi. The estate is reported to be valued at $942,310, with incumbrances at the time of Governor Stuart's death of $609,131.

DAIRY FESTIVAL DATE SET FOR OCTOBER 11

Macs to Play White Star in League Game Sunday and Middleburg in Holiday Special Monday

Macs Upset by Middleburg Last Sunday in Game Marked by Numerous Disputes.

Local fans will have an opportunity to see the Macs perform twice in as many days this week, with White Star appearing here Sunday in a league game, and Middleburg Monday in a holiday special. Though the White Star has an unimpressive record in league competition they have greatly increased their strength since the last time they were met and the locals are not taking the Sunday game lightly.

The game on Monday with Middleburg promises to be an epic struggle, in view of the intense rivalry existing between the two teams. Manager Lynn was in telephone conversation with Jim Tennant Tuesday night and he is very anxious to have another chance at the boys from Middleburg, in view of his defeat at their hands last Sunday. All the Manassas fans were greatly disappointed at last Sunday's game, particularly with Umpire Katzman, and it is expected that a record crowd will be on hand Monday.

Play will be called on Swavely field at 3 p.m.

In a wild and turbulent game that threatened several times in the early innings to turn into a free-for-all, Middleburg snapped the Macs' winning streak Sunday, winning by a score of 7 to 5. It was the fourth consecutive defeat for the Macs on the Middleburg diamond, and the loss forced them to share first honors with the Ballston nine.

Tennant was wild and generally ineffective during the three and a fraction innings he was on the mound before being banished by Umpire Katzman. Dreifus took his place in the box and pitched in brilliant fashion during the remainder of the game, granting but two hits and fanning seven.

Middleburg lost no time in getting to Tennant, scoring three times in the opening inning on a pair of hits, a fielders' choice and a sacrifice. They added two more in the second on a pair of walks and a triple by James. Trouble flared up in the next frame which Risler opened with a walk. On Hartman's drive to left he came all the way home and was called safe at the plate on a close play. After considerable wrangling, play was resumed. On an attempted sacrifice, Hartman was caught between home and third. Waddell reached first on Blackwell's error but was forced at second by Mankins. Furr fanned to end the inning.

In the following inning Tennant kicked so strenuously against one of Katzman's decisions that he was ordered to the showers. Dreifus replaced him in the box and after pitching a single to Hartman, held the Middleburg team in check for the remainder of the game.

The Macs picked up single runs in the second, third and fifth innings and then rallied in the ninth to push across two more. With one out James dropped Lynn's fly but Vetter popped to Mankins. Sheedy singled to center to send Lynn to third and the latter scored as Frame bobbled Woodard's grounder. Dreifus beat a high bouncer to Furr to fill the bases and Wurdemann, batting for Kite, was hit by a pitched ball to force across another run. Saunders, however, rolled out to Frame to end the game.

The members of your department again wish to take this means of thanking our friends through the columns of the Manassas Journal for their unstinted and whole-hearted support given us in all of our undertakings.

NO NEW CASES OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

The State Department of Health in Richmond announced Wednesday morning that for the first time since July 1 there had been no new cases to report for the day preceding. State Health Commissioner I. C. Rigin stated, however, that this does not mean that there will be no more reports, but that it certainly does indicate that "poliomyelitis is on its last legs."

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF PR. WM. FARMS REPORTED

At a meeting held by the Piedmont Dairy Festival Association on Monday evening the decision was reached to proceed with the Dairy Festival at a postponed date, this date being October 11.

Owing to lack of certainty, work on the Dairy Festival has slackened considerably since the first of August, but with renewed effort, President Hynson and his associates are attacking the job to make it another success.

WORKS PROGRESS ALLOTMENTS

Announcements of Projects Approved for Virginia.

Federal funds totalling $316,135 were allotted this week by President Roosevelt on 79 Works Progress Administration projects in Virginia, to which, it is stated, an additional $109,857 will be added in local contributions.

It was stated by State Director William A. Smith, in making the announcement of this allotment, that while a large sum has been earmarked for Virginia projects, so far only $132,000 of actual cash has been spent in Virginia on Works Progress Administration (WPA) projects.

"We have," Director Smith stated, "unofficial notification that between $600,000 and $700,000 in projects for Virginia have been approved by the President. Some times a lapse of several weeks follows approval of a project and the time that the money actually becomes available."

It was also announced that Virginia would receive a share of the twenty million dollar appropriation for special projects for the women. Virginia's share of this fund is said to be something like half a million dollars.

Some of the projects included in the announcement this week are the following in northern Virginia:

Prince William County: Manassas—Constructing four-room addition to school building. Federal funds, $3,898; sponsor's contribution, $11,078. Arlington County: Alexandria—Constructing gravel road; treating surface of streets, Federal funds, $6,721; sponsor's contribution, $2,144. Excavating for and laying sanitary sewer system. Federal funds, $19,993; sponsor's contribution, $4,948.

Culpeper County: Culpeper—Grading and leveling six acres addition to Fairview Cemetery. Federal funds, $3,328; sponsor's contribution, $600. Construction of sidewalk, widening street and macadam surfacing. Federal funds, $1,308; sponsor's contribution, $658. Installing new sewer line to connect with main city sewer. Federal funds, $647; sponsor's contribution, $261. New sewer line to connect outside sewer to disposal plant and prevent dumping in Mountain Run. Federal funds, $2,574; sponsor's contribution, $760. Building cement wall around filtration plant. Federal funds, $523; sponsor's contribution, $214.

PLANS FOR JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB DANCE

At a call meeting last night, the Junior Woman's Club made plans for a dance to be given Friday, September 13, at the high school gymnasium. Miss Walser Conner was made chairman of the dance and appointed the following committees: orchestra, Mary Lynch; publicity, Sally Lewis; Meaker Hurst; invitations, Marion Lynn, Eleanor Gibson; hall arrangement, Janet Trusler, Rose Ratcliffe.

Notwithstanding the fact that Friday the 13th is considered an unlucky day, a large crowd is expected to attend the dance, it being the first dance within the town limits since the first of June, also the last dance the younger set will have a chance to attend before returning to school.

The Junior Woman's Club has a reputation for giving successful dances, and it is thought the coming dance will be one of the best of the year.

County increased during the five-year period 1930-35 from 818 to 1,383, a gain of 69 per cent.

Postponement Occasioned by Later Opening of Prince William Schools.

Committees Intensify Activity to Secure Outstanding Attractions.

With the date, October 11, finally decided upon for the Fifth Annual Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival at Manassas, all committees have intensified their activities to insure that the huge event this year will be the best that has been held, a circumstance which will require the expenditure of plenty of brains and energy, as each event has been widely considered to have surpassed the one previously held.

Not only northern Virginia, but the country at large has evidenced great interest in this unique event, and the announcement this week that the date could be positively set, is welcomed by all who are promoting this event which has become the one big thing, really worth while community celebration of the year.

Participating, as in previous years are the counties of Arlington, Culpeper, Fauquier, Fairfax, Loudoun, Madison, Orange, Rappahannock, Stafford, Spotsylvania, Prince William, and the cities of Alexandria and Fredericksburg, as well as the District of Columbia.

The Piedmont Dairy Festival Association is "an organization for the promotion of increased consumption of Dairy Products, Education as to the food value of milk and herd improvement." As the dairy industry is the outstanding activity of Piedmont Virginia, the event has an exceptional popular appeal, as has been evidenced by the splendid attendance and co-operation in the years past.

NOKESVILLE

We are glad to have in our midst Sunday the Rev. Newton Miller who lived here before moving to the Valley. His sermon Sunday was very helpful and gave plenty food for thought.

Mrs. C. C. Herring, who has been on the sick list, is improving slowly. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Herring and daughter, Violet, spent the Sunday with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Herring.

The many friends of Mrs. Stanley Hooe will be glad to know she is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Herring were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herring.

The Truth Seekers Class of the Nokesville Brethren Church meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Herring Sunday night. After the singing the Rev. Newton Miller held the devotional service which was very helpful to every one. Each and everyone enjoyed the evening to the utmost, departing with the hopes of many more happy years for Mr. and Mrs. Herring who are well advanced in years.

Mrs. Homer Swank spent Monday with her daughter, Mrs. Horace Smith.

Mr. Ernest Hale, Jr., of Washington, D. C., was a week-end visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hale.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By Dr. James T. Marshall

THE SIN OF NOT WORRYING

We have heard hundreds of sermons on the sin of worrying. It is time that something should be said about the sin of not worrying. The fact is that most people do not worry enough.

We persist in misinterpreting the teaching of our Lord on the subject of Divine Providence. Our translation of Matthew 6:31 is misleading, for Jesus does not say "Take no thought saying what shall we eat"; but "be not therefore anxious," etc. He offers no consolation to the indolent and improvident, although He does caution us against fussy and nervous anxiety concerning our material needs and bids us trust in the care of the loving Father.

We never intended that such trust should relieve us of doing our own part. In one of His parables a steward is commended because he wisely made provision against the day when he would be without employment. At another time He asked "Which of you intending to build a tower sitteth not down first and counteth the cost whether he have sufficient to finish it?" In similar vein Paul writes "If any man provideth not for his own, he hath denied the faith and is worse than an infidel."

The well-meant efforts of our government to relieve poverty are having at least one baneful result in raising up a large class of people who are refusing to work and demanding their support as a right, adopting as their slogan, "Feed us or shoot us." Fortunately this evil is being clearly recognized and an honest effort is now being made to substitute employment for charity.

We seriously misunderstand Christianity if we think that it offers us a smooth and easy course in life. Its purpose is the making of men and the development of strength of character and this can come only through our accepting our personal duties and responsibilities.

We would all do well to wake up and worry a little more. Worry more about your own sins and blunders; about the political corruption which is blighting our government; about the reversion to barbarism which is manifest today in Germany and Italy with its consequent menace of another world war; and about the general lowering of moral standards in all lands, and the growing indifference to the claims of God and the spiritual world.

These evil conditions will not be remedied as long as our chief concern is our personal ease and comfort and our dearest desire is to be "carried to the skies on flowery beds of ease." If we want a better world we will be wise to worry more.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mind" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 25.

The golden text was "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ" (1 Corinthians 2:16).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever. Amen" (1 Peter 4:11).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The

CATHARPIN

"The hardest hour" writes Admiral Byrd anent his lonely vigil in the South Polar regions, "was just after supper." Said he didn't know why unless it was "because, in civilization, that's the happiest hour of the day; the day's cares were behind, and one slips into the peace of the home." Well, that might be the way of it down there in "Little" America, but up here in "Big" America our experience has been different; we have always found the hardest hour was just before breakfast, because that's the sleepiest hour, and the day's work is right there waiting on you; and instead of "slipping into the peace of the home" we more often slip into a peck of trouble if we are late in reporting for breakfast. So there's another instance where "great men" do not always see alike.

Mr. John W. Polen and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Akers, all of Washington, are spending this week in Chicago visiting their cousin, Mrs. A. L. Webb, of that city. Of course, we do not wish to intrude upon the rights and privileges of the Washington papers by publishing this, but these people, altho living most of the time in the Capital City, still belong to Catharpin, so we claim the right to say what we please about them. Mrs. Etta P. Lynn is still in the "Windy City" and we can visualize the bunch having a big time together.

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson, of Lawn Vale, and daughters, Frances and Ann, and Miss Anne Piercy, of Gainesville, were Delaplane visitors on Sunday last.

Farmers are now in distress due to ensilage prospects. The dry weather has curtailed the crop in some places more than 50 per cent and unless rain shall soon fall and that abundantly, many silos will be far short of their accustomed tonnage.

Anent the quarantine against infantile paralysis, we are now advised that all schools, public meetings, etc., may not be opened until Sept. 26. This naturally will interfere very greatly with the closing business affairs of the present conference year since no meetings can be held until the last Sunday of the conference year Sept. 29. This being the situation, we trust every member will communicate with his or her steward and do the necessary thing to successfully close the year's obligation. May we ask your immediate attention?

When the quarantine now in effect was first proclaimed, it was pretty hot weather and many gave that as an excuse for not attending church, so it was thought that a vacation would do us all good and give us a little rest. Vacations, of course, are mighty nice things when needed but a big nuisance if they are not. We believe this one is advisable on the theory that "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure" but it is no small thing to interrupt the natural order of things in either the business or religious world. Sudley, to some extent, after a four-week suspension, is beginning to realize it as we hear the expression "I'll be glad when it comes." "When do you think it will start," etc., all of which denotes a good, church spirit.

But as to the various excuses one hears, especially those used as an alibi for church attendance, sometimes reminds us of that little "jingle" which perhaps you know and goes like this—

As a rule a man's a fool!
When it's hot he wants it cool.
When it's cool he wants it hot,
Always wanting what is not.

We have heard excuses of many kinds but as a rule, they all seem to hinge on the eather, so we are just wondering what can be done about this awful influence against church attendance. We see by the papers that the Senate and House, after an expenditure of a million or so, have their offices, assembly halls, corridors, etc., all air-conditioned so that during these very hot days they can sit in comfort, sleep and doze along without the expenditure of a single drop of sweat. Now wouldn't it be fine if our law-makers, after enjoying it themselves, could step out in the country and take some of that five billion and air-condition things so that people could get out to church once in a while? Well, jokes aside, but did you ever stop to think just how much of this world's realize that our excuses are made to show "why we can't do it?" and never "hy we can?" If non-performance is the "go-getter" of success, then stick to it; but if non-performance will not succeed, then we had better reverse our engine and try to find an excuse that will boost us into action. These are business principles and what is true of business is also true in religion.

All enterprises of whatsoever nature, are a success only as they are attended to and managed. No business will run itself; it has to be worked at. No excuse can ever run a store, plow a field, build a ship or navigate the air; excuses usually show weakness, lack of ambition, an absence of spirit and the presence of indifference. So let us all loosen up a bit and see "how much" and not "how little" we can do to make this old world a fine place in which to live.

"Deserette", the home of Mrs. Judson Hoffman, was the scene of a very happy gathering on Sunday, August 18, when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee Hoffman entertained a small number of the boys and girls of their neighborhood in honor of the birthday of their son, Master Judson Hoffman, who with his brother, Burgess, had just returned from a lengthy visit with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mills of Washington.

Miss Ethel Hoffman and her guest, Miss Fay Schaeffer, were supper guests of Misses Harriet and Bertha Pattie Thursday evening.

WEST WANTS NOVELTY;
NEW MEN FURNISH IT
FOR "GOIN' TO TOWN"

Mae West chose Paul Cavanagh to be her leading man in her new Paramount film, "Goin' to Town," to be shown at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday, because she likes "new men," and she thinks the public does too.

"I like new men," explains the curvaceous star. "I don't want a man that the audience sees every time they enter a theatre. They want something different too."

Cavanagh has had a long career in motion pictures. He originally went to Hollywood under contract to Paramount after a short time on the stage in England. He has been a soldier, lawyer, sailor and farm hand.

In "Goin' to Town" he plays the man Mae West loves. He loves her, too, but he's afraid to admit it and runs off to Buenos Aires.

Mae West, who has inherited the money of a cattle king, follows him to Buenos Aires taking her racing stable as an excuse.

How Cavanagh is brought to a realization of his love and how he rescues Miss West from the fortune hunters and snobs who surround her, is shown in the climax of "Goin' to Town."

But she can't win him, she learns, until she has acquired some of the society airs he so admires. Without hedging she marries an impoverished young socialite because he will give her an entree to the elite.

A NATION'S GREATNESS: Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people. — Proverbs 14:34.

TRUE BUILDING

In Matthew we are told about a foolish man, "which built his house upon the sand; and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it."

Each day with our every thought and act, we are building our house.

A millionaire had a poor friend, who was an architect. One day he called the architect to him and said, "I want you to build a house for me. Use the best material that money can buy. Do not bother me with any details. You draw the plans, buy the material and come to me only when you need money."

The architect gladly accepted the contract. He started work at once, but a tempting thought came. "Here is a great chance to make money." This thought took such complete possession of him that he lost sight of the perfect house which he was going to build.

He bought the cheapest material he could find. When the poorly built house was almost completed, one of his workmen said, "This house will fall and kill somebody," but the architect did not care. He was making money!

He presented the bills to the millionaire as for the most expensive material. The millionaire unquestioningly wrote a check for the amount.

Finally, the architect went to the millionaire and said, "Your house is completed and ready for your occupancy."

The millionaire replied, "My dear friend, I have always wanted to see you living in your ideal home. Although you little suspected it, you were building this house for yourself and it is a great pleasure to me to present this beautiful house to you as a gift. I hope to see you spend many happy years in it."

Whom had the architect cheated?

As we build our mental homes, it is well for us to remember that we are the ones who live in them. Are our foundations going to be sand; greed, dishonesty, selfishness, the solid rock of love, truth, generosity, unselfishness, kindness, purity and activity? Do we want to live in a shack or a mansion? — Christian Science Monitor

UNSIGNED COMMUNICATIONS

We receive many unsigned communications, some of which are quite worthy of publication, if we had knowledge of the authorship. The writer's name need not be published, but we must know the source of all matter which we include in our columns. We ask our correspondents to please note this necessary requirement.

To the Editor of The Manassas Journal, Manassas, Va.
My dear Editor:

I am sending a partial list of the names of men in this District who are in need of work. The most of these names are familiar to the citizens of this community. The list is large enough for one to be able to select one or more who would be suitable for the work to be done. These men will be glad to accept any bona fide job at twenty cents an hour and there are in this list many who would be glad to get a regular job at half the above sum if the job was within reasonable distance of their homes.

This list is being published in protest to use of convicts on our secondary roads when there is a surplus of good men, in range of this work, idle. We believe that these convicts, used to the damage of free labor, should be colonized on some of the waste land in Virginia and be allowed to take care of themselves. I am asking the State Highway Commission to remove them and give this work to free men and help us to keep the men who are in this way now free from becoming convicts through our stupidity.

Very truly yours,
C. B. ROLAND.

FRANKLIN ELLIOTT SAFFER

On Tuesday, August 27, Franklin Elliott Saffer, age 80 years, died at his home near Manassas after a brief illness. His passing was the occasion of widespread regret as his genial personality and splendid horsemanship were so frequently encountered on the streets and roadways of this community.

Mr. Saffer was born in Fairfax County October 30, 1855, and was the son of the late John Washington Saffer and his wife, Lucy Taylor Saffer. He leaves, in addition to his wife, Mrs. Laura A. Saffer, eight children, seven daughters and one son. The daughters are Mrs. Keith Heflin, Catlett; Miss Sadie A. Saffer, Leesburg; Mrs. Lillian Cullen, New York; Mrs. Lucy Davis, Washington; Mrs. Elinor Lathrop, Boston; Mrs. Auwilda Connell, Washington; Mrs. Nannie Adams, Washington. His son is Mr. Robert Saffer, of Manassas.

Funeral services were held today at the M. E. Church in Manassas, where Mr. Saffer was a member, and burial was in the Manassas cemetery. Rev. Compton is officiating. An immense throng attended as a silent tribute to his esteem in the community.

Mr. Saffer had lived so many years in this community and had spent so much time viewing and investigating the local points involved in the interesting history of Prince William County, that he was recognized as an authority on the subject and frequently consulted by government historians. As a boy of ten years at the close of the War between the States he treasured many personal recollections of the stirring events of that historic period.

His many friends will recall that he impersonated Stonewall Jackson in the Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival last year, when his superb horsemanship was the occasion of much attention.

APPOINTMENT OF JUDGE WITHHELD

Appointment of a new federal judge for Eastern Virginia probably will await the reconvening of Congress next January, observers predict.

Although the President could make a recess appointment and pay for the office would begin immediately, it was regarded as improbable that he would do so in the case of the new Virginia judge. His appointee will be subject to confirmation by the Senate and custom indicates that the matter will be deferred.

POLITICS, LOVE AND MYSTERY IN "GLASS KEY"

George Raft is the star of Dashiell Hammett's "The Glass Key," which comes next Wednesday to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas. This enthralling murder mystery by the author of "The Thin Man" presents the popular star as a hard-fisted battler who defies the lordlings of the underworld to aid his friends. It is the first time Raft has played a role of this type since his triumph in "Scarface."

In the well-rounded supporting cast of "The Glass Key," are Edward Arnold, Claire Dodd, Rosalind Cull, Ray Milland and Guinn Williams.

The story revolves about Edward Arnold, the shrewd but honest political boss of a big city. When the son of the man whom he supports for Senate is murdered, Arnold's underworld enemies attempt to pin the crime on him.

Raft, who is Arnold's trusted aide, pretends to join his enemies in the fight on the big boss. But he is trapped by them, held prisoner and subjected to torture, without learning the secret of the murder.

It is only in the gripping climactic scenes that Raft stumbles on the solution and pins the crime on the man who could be least suspected.

EDWARD DOWNS

With a saddened heart the writer will try to report the untimely death of Edward Downs, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Downs, of New Baltimore, which occurred at the home of his parents, on Saturday, August 24, from diabetes and pneumonia.

Edward was a bright and promising young boy and his sad and tragic death was keenly felt by all who knew him.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday at 3 p.m. from Broad Run Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. Barnett Grimsley, and his remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Georgetown cemetery.

The large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends present at the funeral and the beautiful floral tributes which more than covered his grave bore mute testimony of the love and high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Edward was a member and regular attendant of Broad Run Baptist Sunday school, and his classmates acted as pall bearers.

Surviving are his parents, one brother, Gordon, and a host of other relatives and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our father and husband, Joseph L. Breeden, who departed this life one year ago today, August 29, 1934.

One year ago today recalls sad memories,

Of a dear one laid to rest,
And those who still remember
Are those who loved him best.

A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a vacant chair
This world can never fill.

Night and day we watched and prayed,
And tried to do our best,
But God took our dear Daddy,
Where he could find eternal rest.

No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that's borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.

The world may change from year to year

Our life from day to day,
But the love and memory of you
Shall never pass away.

—By his loving wife and children.

BIOGRAPHY OF JACKIE COOPER

One of a mere handful of motion picture stars who were actually born in Hollywood—and this local boy made good in a big way! Only ten years old, he is already a star in his own right. His latest picture is Paramount's "Lone Cowboy," suggested by Will James' famous book. It comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Friday, Sept. 6.

Though his mother, a former vaudeville star, worked in one of the studios, and his uncle, Norman Taurog, is a Paramount director, Jackie got his first break and his later chances on his own ability, not on "drag."

His first part was in 1925 in Lloyd Hamilton comedies. Hal Roach saw him and was charmed by his tow-colored hair, blue eyes, and appealing manners. They won Jackie the role of the "good little body boy" in the "Our Gang" comedy series. Then came roles in the "Fox Movietone Follies" and "Sunny Side Up."

Improving Eye-Sight
Life's Work!

M. Milton Talkin, M. D. who believes the art of fitting glasses important enough to justify a physician's undivided attention to this one field of practice.

IN MANASSAS,
THURSDAY, SEPT. 5,
PRINCE WILLIAM HOTEL

To do one thing and do it well is the paramount object and basis of success of Dr. M. Milton Talkin. And that is the reason for his strict application to this one field of practice. It was discovered by him that a large number of so-called optical corrections are not fully corrected. A "trivial" error that contributes to distressing symptoms of head and nerves. Therein lies the value of Dr. Talkin's technical training and meticulous care in his optical examinations. He does not overlook "trivial" errors. He corrects them.

The following cases exemplify illustrate the value of his work:

There is the case of a little girl whose vision was impaired from birth, struggling with all the strength of her frail body to keep abreast of her studies in school. Try as she would she was slipping backward. What a mortification to her spirit—how sad and disappointed she and her parents were. At length a notice appeared in a local paper of Dr. Talkin's eye work. The child was brought to his headquarters, the optical error was corrected and the child went home. Soon she received her glasses. Objects were no longer dim. As every object looked brighter so her life became brighter. She forged right ahead of her class and is well on her way to success and happiness.

A well-known dentist of Southwest Virginia probably owes his sight and perhaps his life to the timely warning of Dr. M. Milton Talkin. He called for an eye examination, saying: "Dr. Talkin, I want you to examine my eyes but I want your findings to be strictly confidential." The fact is the dentist had to earn his living and he feared that were it known publicly that his vision is badly impaired he might lose his following. Dr. Talkin found that not his eyes but that an organ elsewhere in the body was responsible for his poor vision. Instead of fitting glasses he was advised to go to his family physician. The trouble was proven, right treatment taken and today he is well on his way to health and sight.

A couple well on toward four score were sad. Time laid heavy upon them for neither one was able to see well enough to read. Their children married and moved to distant parts. The couple could neither read letters received from their loved ones nor the news of the day. In fact they could scarcely recognize neighbors when they called. Only by voice could they tell who called. They tried to get glasses all to no purpose. They were told of Dr. M. Milton Talkin's splendid achievement in finding and correcting optical impairment and they called to importune his aid. In but a few minutes Dr. Talkin found the trouble and corrected it for each. Today they are both enjoying a new lease on clear vision. The mist of their eyes and the mist of their lives have departed and they spend much of their time in exchanging letters with their dear ones and keeping posted on the news of the day.

There are cases of despondent, maimed and the sick who along with their acquired trouble had the misfortune of impaired eyesight. Dr. M. Milton Talkin has infused a new spirit of cheer through the improvement wrought in their eyesight. They can read—they can hope—it means so much to them.

People come from afar to see him and get his advice. And why not? Is not one's eyesight valuable? A man might walk with a wooden leg, grasp it with a mechanical hand but one can never see with an artificial eye. The poet had well said: "The eye is the window of the soul."

McCOY PORTRAYS "MOUNTIE"
ROLE IN "FIGHTING SHADOWS"

"Get your man!"

Those are orders that might mean death, but they're orders that the members of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police have been carrying out for years. The danger these scarlet-coated troopers encounter in the performance of their duties is dramatized in Tim McCoy's latest Columbia picture, "Fighting Shadows," which is due at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas tomorrow.

As Tim O'Hara, a brawny "Mountie," McCoy is assigned to investigate the machinations of a ruthless band of fur-raiders who are terrorizing trappers of the Indian River country. The last time Tim was in that territory he had run into difficulties with Brad Harrison, the brother of Martha, the girl he loves. Brad still believes the trooper stole a certain silver fox, and is his worst enemy.

When Tim arrives on the scene to see justice done, he is hampered by Harrison. Determinedly overcoming the obstacles presented by the dangerous mission, the "Mountie" follows the culprits until he apprehends them and solves the mystery that has surrounded the case.

EARLY THEATER DAYS
IN WASHINGTON

Recent years have brought great changes to the legitimate stage. The movies, the talkies and radio have all had their effect in the gradual transformation of plays and players. John Claggett Proctor, noted historian of the District of Columbia, turns back the pages of time and recalls the actors and actresses who passed before the footlights, and the famous old houses they played in years ago in the Nation's Capital. Mr. Proctor's story, a full-page illustrated feature, appears in The Washington Star next Sunday, September 1.

NEW DEAL DRAWS KIWANIAN'S FIRE

Manassas Attorney Addresses Club.

The Kiwanis Club treated itself to a discourse by one of its own members at its last meeting when T. E. Didlake made good on his promise of several weeks ago to speak on "Current Events."

Apropos of the approaching end of the first session of the 74th Congress, Ted sailed into the New Deal, declaring that he was a standpatter and had been against said Deal from the very start.

Ted further accused the National Administration of saddling Virginia with a sum already ten times greater than the sum of proposed Virginia road bond issue of 1923.

Going back into song and story, Ted gave Robin Hood credit with being the first New Dealer and expressed some sympathy for Huey in being robbed of his "Soak the Rich" scheme.

Several of the club seemed willing to have Ted keep it up all the evening and there were echoes from all sides. Only Ed Conner, doughty farmer and business man, rose to defend the said Deal in a few quiet words in which he claimed that with all the attacks made on the New Deal he had witnessed evidence of good that it had already accomplished.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By
O. J. Schuster

POLITICS ARE A VERY VITAL part of the world around us. Good people often are so disgusted with what they call the "rottenness of politics" that they refuse to have anything to do with them. If politics are bad it is because so many good people are bad citizens. Properly understood, politics are all those activities of citizens designed to secure clean and efficient government for themselves. The good citizen does not withdraw from these activities. He need not seek any office, but he gets into politics with all the powers of his mind and heart, determined to do all he can to put honest capable men in office. We get just about the kind of government that we deserve. High class government will be ours when we have earned it.

MR. DOOLEY, America's noted humorist of 30 years ago, observed that a great many people just voted the party ticket into which they had been born. It saved them from all thinking for themselves. In a mood of irony and sarcasm Dooley wrote: "A man makes up his mind how he's goin' to vote about the toime his father was born, and niver changes."

WHEN GROVER CLEVELAND ran for the presidency in 1892 a story was current that a certain pious gentleman attended a political meeting at which a United States Senator spoke so enthusiastically and effectively in support of the democratic candidate that this good man was moved to go up to the Senator and congratulate him, saying to him: "That was splendid, Senator. I think Cleveland is a fine man and would make a good president. I would really like to vote for him myself."

The Senator thanked him and replied: "Then of course you will vote for Cleveland."

"Oh, Senator, I couldn't do that. I am a Republican."

BUT THOSE DAYS when the herd of voters followed party leaders, much as a whole flock of sheep follow a single bell wether, have gone and will probably never return. The more thoughtful independent voter is replacing the mere follower. In the elections of the past ten years there has been so much switching from one party to another, and so much scratching of ballots, that the shrewdest politicians have made such bad guesses as to the results that they greatly regretted having tried to play the prophet. Millions of citizens voted for a Republican governor and a Democrat president, or vice versa, and so gave one party the presidency and the other party the governorship. The majority of our 48 states can no longer be classed as either Republican or Democratic. They are doubtful, uncertain, because more and more voters refuse to allow any party to do their thinking for them, more and more vote independently.

THE MOST DECISIVE MOVEMENT against mere party politics is represented by Nebraska whose new one-house legislature will be responsible to the whole population of that state and not to any political party. The members of that unicameral body will be elected on a nonpartisan ballot, no party connection being printed or in any way indicated on the ticket. In other states many officers elected in their April elections are likewise chosen by a nonpartisan vote. WE LIVE IN A CHANGING WORLD, and governments must change in order to properly serve new needs, new ideals. Like all birth, the birth of new ideas or new forms of government is a painful experience, but the very suffering the trial brings increases our attachment to the new born child.

OPEN TO VISITORS TOURISTS' WEEK

The vestry has authorized Rev. W. L. Ribble, the rector, to have the old historic Falls Church kept open during tourists' two weeks visitation sponsored by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. Much favorable comment is heard on the neat appearance of the two-acre church yard, the care of which is under supervision of Gen. Rufus H. Lane, retired, a member of the vestry. There are over one hundred marked graves in the church yard and probably as many more unmarked. The oldest tombstone is that of John Carolin who died October 27, 1805.

Among those buried here who were once prominent in this section are: Rev. George S. Somerville, former rector, died 1908;

Dr. Louis Edward Gott died 1916; Dr. James B. Hodgkin, Col. Mottrom Dulany Ball died 1887;

Major John H. Chichester died 1889; Dr. U. H. Dulaney died 1881; Capt. Nicholas Darne died 1840, and Capt. Henry Fairfax who died in command of the Fairfax Volunteers at Saltillo, Mexico, in 1847.

The original church at this place was built of wood in 1734. The present brick church was built in 1768. George Washington and Geo. Wm. Fairfax were the church wardens who took the initiative in advertising for bids to carry out the plans of the vestry.

4-H BOYS JUDGE CATTLE AT HALE, KENILWORTH FARMS

County 4-H dairy club members met Wednesday for dairy judging practice in preparation for the state contest at the Virginia State Fair in October. The winning county team will represent Virginia in the National dairy judging contest at the National Dairy Show at St. Louis on October 12.

Holsteins and Guernseys were judged at the farm of J. F. Hale near Nokesville during the forenoon while Guernseys were judged at Kenilworth Farm at McLean in the afternoon. R. P. Keithly, State dairy club agent, met with the boys.

2,000 CASES DROPPED OFF VA. RELIEF ROLLS

More than 2,000 cases were dropped off Virginia relief rolls during June as a result of an intensive re-employment campaign staged during the month by the VERA.

The total number of jobs secured was 3,863. Of these 2,896 were seasonal or temporary and 721 were permanent. The employment was sufficiently permanent in 2,082 cases to permit that many families to be dropped entirely from the relief rolls and to make their way unassisted.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

By
F. D. Cox

New Wheat Sign-Up to Start Soon.

The requirements on seeding have been modified so that wheat contract signers may plant for the 1936 harvest a maximum of 95 per cent of their base acreage. For example, a farmer who harvested an average of 20 acres of wheat in 1930, 1931 and 1932 may seed 19 acres this fall.

This increase over the earlier announcement is made to assure domestic consumers of continued ample wheat supplies, and in addition is expected to benefit farmers by placing this country in a strengthened position in the world export market. This is considered especially important in view of smaller world supplies of wheat. Because of the sharp decrease in the 1935 crop estimate, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration considered that a larger volume of production in 1936 would be desirable insurance to both farmers and consumers against the contingency of another year of bad wheat weather.

Regarding the world wheat situation, reports prepared by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics indicate that the world wheat surplus was considered reduced during the 1934-35 crop year. Present prospects indicate that the world surplus may be further reduced during the 1935-36 crop year. With a further reduction in the world surplus, chances for exports of wheat from the United States during the 1936-37 season are somewhat brighter.

GROWS LARGE TOMATO

Mr. Ben Lloyd, thrifty farmer and truck grower, living just outside of town, came into the Journal office on Saturday with a splendid specimen of a ponderosa tomato weighing just a little less than two pounds.

This is one of the largest tomatoes which we have seen in recent years.

Welding
... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco ...

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish. When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.

It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.
