A MONEY MAKER

This handsome Jersey is a constant figure in the Association reports. She is owned by that very progressive farmer, Whentley Johnson.

MR. J. W. SMITH

A GRANDFATHER

The genial fellow townsman, Mr. J. W. Smith, is a grandfather. Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Smith are the proud parents of a baby girl, Elaine Joy, born in Garfield Hospital, October 8.

The Journal extends warmest good wishes to the grandparents and parents and special felicitation to the young lady.

NOTICE

A meeting of the Democratic Committee is called for Tuesday, October 15, at 12 m., at the Prince William Court House in Manassas. The object of this meeting is the reorganization of the Board, and such other business as may come up at that time.

MISS REBECCA RICE
Regina V

WELCOME!

Prince William County again welcomes its thousands of guests to her progressive county seat—historic Manassas. We are glad to see you one and all.

We have a grand old county that expands its fields and forests from the mountains to the sea.

We are progressive, we have one of the most popular and efficient groups of county officials in the State, and we have peace and plenty in our boards.

We greet you with gladness and may you leave us with feelings of Friendship that will last.

Some Observations on Highway Improvements

Prince William County, Va., as most of its inhabitants know, presents one of the most unusual situations, topographically and geographically, to be found anywhere in the state.

The average traveller passing along Route 1, otherwise known as the Jefferson Davis Highway, which is in many places a scant rifle shot from the Potomac River, would hardly realize that in the same county one can travel continuously for nearly forty miles northward to reach either Fauquier or Loudoun County which together with Fairfax and Stafford go to make up the boundaries of old Prince William.

It is literally from the mountains to the ocean, for the Potomac River at this stage is very much tidewater.

It is strange that a county of such long drawn out boundaries should have comparatively little native material suitable for road building and yet it takes the trained eye of an engineer to find anything outside of the creek bottoms that will go to furnish a worth-while base, even for soil roads.

Except for the concrete stretches at either ends of the county, there were until just a short time past no roads fit to carry consistent travel, save the macadam road which runs from Manassas to Catlett along the Southern.

This was the problem which confronted the state engineers, when the entire road system was thrown under state control several years ago. For a time the two county control did not seem to bring the benefit of much advantage in construction and improvement.

However, yielding to the pressure of circumstances, the State Commission Jan. 1934 assigned E. D. Hubbard to take over Prince William and established office in the Peoples National Bank building on February 1 of that year.

Mr. Hubbard immediately began a study based on such map and patrol work as had been set up and such other materials and labor organization as was then available.

As one moves about he will observe units of the various patrolmen at work. It does not seem difficult to comprehend how these men function but a glance at a road map will readily show that they would soon be lost without definite organization and territory.

One of the most acute problems of the secondary road law is the fact that the finances of the two setups are kept entirely separate which means increased responsibility and accuracy. At the present time the highway engineer has eight patrolmen: four primary and four secondary. The secondary group is headed as follows: Patrol No. 1, C. F. Caton; Patrol No. 2, C. W. Vetter; Patrol No. 3, F. Gaines; Patrol No. 4, J. M. Keys. These men have assistant patrolmen to cover in all a little less than a hundred miles. Their outfits include sufficient machinery for surface repairs and treatment and for grading and soil.

BARBARA NELSON LYNN,
4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Lynn, jr., has been chosen crown bearer at the Piedmont Dairy Festival.

BUSINESS MAN PRAISES CHAMBER

C. C. Cloe Lauds Efforts Already Made by County Group.

The Manassas - Prince William County Chamber of Commerce is entering upon an extensive program for the improvement of the roads in Prince William County, according to C. C. Cloe, president of that organization, who stated recently that the roads committee, headed by Dr. Wade C. Payne of Haymarket has been at work for some time on Route No. 234, to get this important cross-country road relocated and hard surfaced. While there seems to be small chance of this construction work being started this year, it is expected that funds for this project will be available by next year. Route No. 234 is one of the most important roads in the county and the Chamber of Commerce, along with the citizens of the county, are exerting every effort to have this completed.

When asked what he thought of the possibilities of the Manassas-Prince William County Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Cloe stated that it was his firm belief that the opportunities for a Chamber of Commerce in this county were unlimited and that the business men of the county should not consider their membership fees as a contribution but rather as an investment in an enterprise that has as its main purpose the building up of bigger and better business, not only for its stockholders but for the entire community.

"Our publicity committee, of which H. Ewing Wall of Quantico is chairman, is now at work on a pamphlet describing the places of historical interest and giving information as to the fine dairy farms, the markets for dairy products, the wonderful transportation facilities, and the many other outstanding features of Prince William County," Mr. Cloe said, "and I believe we will be able, with this form of advertisement, to bring hundreds of visitors annually to Prince William County."

In bringing the interview to a close, Mr. Cloe said, "The people of this county took a great step forward when the Manassas - Prince William County Chamber of Commerce was organized and I think that every business man and civic-minded person in the entire county should support this organization in every possible way."

OCTOBER MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the high school building, Wednesday with a good attendance.

After the business meeting a brief report of the Fourth District meeting at Falls Church was given by the president.

Mr. Ray Hall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, gave a most enlightening talk on the objectives of that organization, which was enthusiastically received by the members present.

The year books were distributed at this meeting.

NOTICE

We had so many interesting news and feature items that it was necessary to continue or carry some of them over to next week.

Saturday, October 12th, is Columbus Day. All Banks in Virginia will be closed.

PAGEANT FEATURE LOVELY DANCES

Professional Touch to Grace Performance.

"Around the Clock with the Milkman"

by Mary Cabell Callaway

Setting: A day in the life of a milkman; His work, his pleasure and finally the fall of night.

Episode I: Dawn

(The Awakening of the World)
The pageant opens with the dance of dawn featured by a group of twenty girls dressed in long flowing pink costumes, and is played up by several three and four year old babies as little birds and how the mother bird feeds them and teaches them to fly.

The sun rises on the scene with seven chorus girls from the Callaway Studio costumed in solid gold dresses representing the sun and sunbeams. They do a very pretty interpretative dance, spreading sunshine over the world.

With the rising sun the farmers, consisting of twelve high school boys, lead from the fields the best of local dairy cattle. On the stage twelve milkmen and twelve dairymaids do a novelty dance with milk pails and stools. They are interrupted in their little flirtation by twenty little milk bottles. They are small children dressed in white cardboard milk bottle costumes. The milk bottles dance upon the scene and persuade the milk man to hustle them into a waiting milk truck, which is done, and they are driven at top speed to be delivered at various places.

Episode II: Morning

(The Delivery Route of the Milk Man)

The first stop of the milk man is at the private home. He runs up the steps and delivers the morning order of milk. The doors in the homes of many countries, in which characters in national costumes appear in dances and pantomims, open. These different countries are represented by a typical old maid in America, the Dutch girl from Holland, Italian girl and her partner in a tango-like dance, Hawaiian girl, Russian gypsy dancer, Spanish Senorita, French girl, Mexican boy, Puckian, Irish Miss, and Wee Scotch Lassie. As each country appears on the scene the strains of that national anthem is heard.

The milkman next stops at the very busy restaurants and drug stores. In the drug store scene a group of young, happy, carefree girls are seen coming out of the store eating ice cream cones, while crowds of business people are rushing in and out of the restaurant.

The milkman now hurries on to the military post where several children are dressed as U. S. Marines, doing a military tap dance on top of a large drum. The scene is played up with thrilling military music.

In the school scene, the time is recess and several small school children are seen gaily running out of the school with their lunch pails and

COMMERCIAL REPRESENTATIVE BOOSTS LOCAL BUSINESS

A. T. Stone, district representative for Lux products, visited the town again this week and his story is largely told in a page advertisement in this special issue.

Mr. Stone, who has represented Lever Brothers for more than three years, has his headquarters at Fredericksburg and from that point covers the twenty-six counties in northern Virginia.

He is an enthusiastic rooster for the Cambridge, Mass., products, and his progress with that company has been unusual.

He has visited scores of housekeepers locally and is a well-known figure in these parts.

Mr. Stone advises his local patrons to stock up with the four famous soaps in this special sale event while the special prices last.

FIRST AID CLASS ORGANIZING

A class in first aid sponsored by the Manassas Fire Department will start the middle of October. All those interested in taking this course will please see Mr. J. H. Stauff at an early date, as the class will be limited to thirty. The instructor will be Mr. L. F. Stroble of the Alexandria rescue squad. The cost will be one dollar per person plus sixty cents for manual.

New Steel Bridge at Woodyard's Ford.

This bridge and its approaches on the Prince William side cost $7222.97. It contains two 187' spans and will carry a safety load of ten tons.

Ground was broken March 1, 1935, and is now complete. Local labor exclusively was employed.

CATHARPIN

For the past few days Catharpin has been mighty busy. Cornfields, wheatfields, seeding and general routine have all been neglected while everybody listened in on the ball games. If there is anything that Catharpin loves to dwell upon it is baseball. She has such a background of baseball history that it tickles her fancy very much to have that history recalled; so she may be forgotten for taking a little time off to revive ancient memories.

Mr. B. Lynn Robertson of New York was a week-end visitor with his brother, W. Holmes Robertson, at Lawn Vale.
Mrs. W. S. Brower and Miss Virginia Hill were Warrenton shoppers on Saturday of last week.

The conference year has just closed and the Rev. Mr. Sapp left on Tuesday morning for the annual conference which is now sitting at Staunton, Va. His return to Sudley is both desired and expected.
Mrs. E. S. Clary of Lawrenceville, Va., is now on a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. W. Alvey, of this city.

As we write, Prince William and all adjacent counties in Northern Virginia engaged in dairying, are awaiting the culmination of their great annual event, the Dairy Festival. Prince William County and the little city of Manassas, in particular, have the privilege of being host to this delightful affair. If this column could do it, it would furnish just the right kind of weather to make any Dairy Festival glad it had the privilege of being born; and because it represents the most vital element in human life—MILK—it has all mankind bowing at its "feet."

Aside from what it particularly represents—milk—it has another value of great importance, which, perchance, may have escaped attention. Many will remember some years back when the horse show was a feature in country life which as looked upon as a general meeting place for all and singular the population of the district or county in which it was held. To this, at least once each year, people in general, without class distinction, race or creed, all arrayed in Sunday best and baskets filled to overflowing with the "fat of the land," all—old, young, big, little, rich, poor—took a day off to enjoy a day's recreation, which perhaps for many was the only time during the year so happily enjoyed. So in considering the needs of any community, the matter of recreation must never be forgotten; people must have an opportunity of meeting together on a common level, else how is the "one-half" to know how the "other half" lives?

There is one thing common to all mankind—pleasure. This he will have in one way or another. If he be neglected and left to his own unenvied recourse, he may go sadly astray; therefore most of him needs an amusement of the right type where he may come into contact with the "other half" where each may profit by what he may learn from the other. The horse show, which for a long time was depended upon to furnish the "entourage" for all, has now almost become extinct insofar as the general public is concerned. The auto has driven the horse completely from the highways so that interest in his welfare is now confined only to his ability to cultivate the land to raise provender to fill silos to feed the cows that give the milk. This, then, being true and the old way of general entertainment gone, what is to take its place?

Between the passing of the horse and the beginning of the Dairy festival—a decade or so—the public schools with their annual Field Days provided an event worthy of general public interest, but being educational and its school athletics of pole vaulting, foot-racing, etc., while of great interest to the youngsters, did not offer the appeal that the "oldsters" seemed to crave; so the community still needed an event with a general common denominator. This now seems to be supplied in great measure by the Dairy Festival.

As will be remembered, much of Bible history is built around agriculture—sheep, goats, cattle and grazing—with which most of the population was concerned; and to-day who will deny that agriculture is the one common denominator of mankind's existence? Therefore it seems that in order to interest all, the land must have first consideration. The Dairy Festival has so many potentialities that its continuance is a necessity; it gathers together the entire population, without let or hindrance, on a common pleasure ground provided for their benefit, and where they may be entertained and helped by the pageants and the "Milky Way," which together with its exhibits, social opportunities, instructive displays of all kinds of educational and business interests, its music and a thousand and one other things which, for a better term, we may class as "intangibles" which a great crowd on coming together, must impart to each other. So may we say to all concerned—officers, leaders, kings, queens, princesses, speakers, crowners, musician, etc., we thank all of you for your patriotic interest and labor. You have done well, may you keep it up.

Have you read the Clark and Arrington History of Prince William County? Every citizen who takes pride in local institutions should possess a copy of this charming book, which is on sale for 40 cents at the office of the Prince William County School Board, Manassas, Va., or will be sent postpaid for 50 cents.

CULPEPER COUNTY CO-OPERATIVE
An attractive and appropriate entry in the "Milky Way" parade is the float entered by Culpeper County. Graduated pyramids depict the rapid expansion of the dairy industry in Culpeper County from 1918 to 1935.
Culpeper is lending splendid co-operation in the festival by entering a dairy float and a large number of boys for the dairy contests, the Culpeper Fire Department and the Culpeper Municipal Band. Floats are also being entered by Dick Weaver of Culpeper. C. E. Griffith, E. Turpin Willis and Irvin Martin have been very active in arranging for the county's generous contribution toward the success of the festival.

No services will be held at St. John's this Sunday. The next regular service will be on Oct. 27.

Miss June Sabacky has been honored by her class at the Fairfax High School, having been chosen as one of the class officers.

Work on resurfacing the Manassas road was finished last night. There is now a fair macadam road which should hold up in the worst weather.

Mrs. Irene Wolitz was operated on for appendicitis at Emergency Hospital on Tuesday morning.

Miss Mary Wharton will entertain the Guild of St. John's on Monday evening at 7. Supper will be served on an outdoor grill for the benefit of St. John's Church. The faculty of the local school will be honor guests on that occasion.

Frost killed the gardens on Monday, the 7th, the earliest ever known in these parts.

THE DIVINE SHEPHERD

As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. — Ezekiel 34:12.

Left to right—Mr. Orville Holler, Mr. John Vanderbilt Wurdemann, Miss Margaret Carter, and Mr. Delmar Cosgrove. We believe that we have the only 100 per cent college operated shop in Virginia. All of our force are graduates of standard colleges and high schools.

System to your saving

System in your business cannot be attained unless you utilize the facilities of a safe and friendly bank.

When you carry your transactions through this Bank you can be assured of the best that sound banking can offer.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas

Saturday, October 12th, is Columbus Day. All Banks in Virginia will be closed.

Further Reports

—on banking show added indications of strength and stability.

OUR previous advertisement in this series described the fine progress in American Banking as reported by both state and national bank supervisory officials.

Another particularly significant item, recently issued by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at Washington, D. C., stated that the banks and trust companies which had borrowed money from it have repaid 75% of their loans. The R.F.C. was organized in 1932 to aid banks in meeting the abnormal demands of the times. Since that time about 7,400 banking institutions have received from it advances of $1,900,000,000 of which they have returned $1,400,000,000. This has been made possible through the strengthening of public confidence and stability.

This bank is an integral part of the nation's sound and serviceable banking structure.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR HORSE SHOW

The Warrenton Horse Show will open on Friday of this week and continue through Saturday. This will be the largest show ever held by the Horse Show Association.

There will be 700 entries, with exhibitors from Maryland, Washington, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey.

J. North Fletcher, secretary of the association, announces that every effort has been made to accommodate the vast throng expected and it is hopeful that there will be a large delegation from Prince William present on Saturday.

The first day of the horse show conflicts with the Dairy Festival but Saturday will be just as full of entertainment.

The Bethlehem Housekeepers Club will meet Wednesday, October 16, at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. F. A. Lewis, with Mrs. George C. Round, assistant hostess.

CAREER-FULLERTON
A very quiet but pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening at 4 o'clock when Miss Anne Marie Fullerton became the bride of Mr. Arthur Linwood Carter.
The marriage ceremony was performed by Elder W. M. Smoot at his home in Occoquan.
The bride, who is the only daughter of Mrs. W. H. Fullerton, of Chilton Station, was attired in a green suit with dark green accessories and had for her maid of honor Miss Martha Carter of Manassas who was dressed in rust with brown accessories. The groom had for his best man Mr. Fred Carter of Manassas.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of Elder W. M. Smoot where only the immediate bridal party was in attendance.
The bride was until recently employed in one of the large commercial houses in Washington, and the groom, some months ago, set up in business in Occoquan, where the young couple will make their home.

milk. In the nursery are tiny tots following the nurse into the nursery with their milk bottles.

Episode III: Afternoon (Rainbow Festival)

This scene shows the carefree hour of the day for the milkman. His work is done. He now meets in the late afternoon with pretty milk maids and they dance a rollicking folk dance to the strains of "Country Gardens." These milkmen and milkmaids are entertained by special novelties. Eight children appear on the stage and do an old-fashioned polka in charming period costumes. They are interrupted by rainbow fairies doing a fairy dance, and four girls dressed in colors, pink, green, blue and yellow, dance a novelty waltz clog. They are followed by the health group, who represent THE END OF THE RAINBOW IN PIEDMONT VIRGINIA, where is found health, happiness, youth and beauty.

HEALTH is a group of eight girls dressed in the dairy colors of green and yellow, and carry large white cardboard milk bottles on which is written "A quart a day keeps the doctor away." HAPPINESS is represented by the "blue bird of happiness." A young girl, dressed in blue bird costume, does a toe dance. YOUTH and BEAUTY are represented by sixty-eight girls dressed in pink, yellow, green and blue costumes, bringing out the colors of the perfect rainbow and each carrying garlands of flower. They dance a beautiful interpretative dance.

The last part of Episode III comes with all actors on the stage. They form a tableau around the central figure which is the life-size picture of a dairy cow. This scene carries out the scheme of a grass background which is formed by several school children dressed in green costumes.

Episode IV: Finale

The day of the milkman is done and night gently casts her shadows over the day. Night is represented by a girl in a beautiful gown of midnight blue and silver. The stars are six children dressed in blue costumes covered with silver stars. The hush of evening steals upon the grand scene while the melodious strains of the ever-popular, well-known "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" is heard by the Fredericksburg State Teachers College Glee Club.

The pageant is accompanied by Ray Francis and his music and Mrs. Shuman at the piano.

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL COMMUNITY LEAGUE

The regular meeting of the Manassas High School Community League will be held in the auditorium of the high school on Thursday, October 17, at 8 p.m.

All fathers and mothers and patrons of the school are especially urged to be present as there will be a reception to the teachers and an interesting program will be presented. It is hoped that there will be an exceptionally large turn-out to greet our teachers. We want to extend a hearty welcome to those who are with us this year for the first time and welcome back those who have been with us before. Everybody, who is interested in our schools and our children, should come!

A Report of the Prince William County Red Cross Public Health Nursing Service From Its Beginning in November, 1927 to July 1935.

There have been some changes in the work of the service in the eight years, the principal one being in the school program. But, although we have tried to comply with the outlines of the State Bureau, we are still said by that bureau to be majoring in school work. Our large number of visits to schools and school children is partly accounted for by our efforts to get defects corrected. 478 children have had throats corrected, and 203 have had eye operations or glasses fitted; but, except when special clinics were held and transportation furnished, the numbers must be multiplied several times to cover the trips into Washington to get these corrections made. In the first years of the service we were able to have a State Dentist for some months of the year, which credits the service with 1404 dental corrections.

In checking for five-point certificates or for symptoms of communicable disease, the nurse has made 1687 visits to schools and 18,514 inspections of children. 2920 visits have been made to communicable disease patients.

In the eight years of the service 29 crippled children have been taken to special clinics and 16 have been hospitalized for treatment. Four of those hospitalized have had tuberculosis of the bone. 93 adults and children have been hospitalized for treatment for other conditions, some of

We have averaged about ninety cases of positive tuberculosis under supervision, who, with their contacts and suspicious case, must be visited as often as possible. In the eight years approximately 3653 visits have been made to these cases to give advice or encouragement or to arrange for clinic or sanitarium care. 2137 cases have been examined in our State clinics and 28 have been cared for in free or county-provided beds in the State Sanatoria.

(To be continued next week)

Bethel 4-H Club will meet on Tuesday, October 15, at 12:45 o'clock, at the school building. Cake making is the topic for study.

REV. JOHN M. DeCHANT, Head of the 1935 Red Cross Roll Call.

MRS. W. L. LLOYD, President, Prince William County Chapter, American Red Cross.

RED CROSS WORK
A CREDIT TO THE COUNTY

Prince William can look back with gratification, even with pride upon its county Red Cross activities from the time the humane work was inaugurated in Manassas during the trying days of the World War, as a branch of the Piedmont Chapter at The Plains; throughout the eleven, or more, years when Chapter headquarters were located in Haymarket, and upon its social service work, its nursing and other peace activities since the chapter, in the fall of 1928, was transferred, on the agreement of its executive board, to the present headquarters in Manassas.

Urgent appeals from the Washington office for funds in such major disasters as the Japanese earthquake, the Mississippi flood; Florida and West Indies tornadoes, etc., (to the sufferers from which the Red Cross contributed several million dollars) have brought forth generous responses from the citizens of Prince William.

In fact, the list of these contributors includes the names of almost every man and woman in the county. Too much cannot be said of the zeal with which the volunteer chapter officials labored in the war days, nor of the Red Cross members, many of them busy housewives, who devoted hours, day and night, to knitting sweaters, socks, caps, etc., for the soldiers.

And such activities, continuing even to recent years, include the making and filling of Christmas bags for disabled veterans. Various clubs as well as individual members from every section of the county have labored to promote these good works.

It is pleasant to recall, in connection with the Christmas bags, that the Washington office, when thanking for the chapter's Christmas donations, said: "The bags were, without exception, the handsomest gifts of their kind that had been received."

And among the written acknowledgments of these gifts not a few veterans told the donors that the bags from Prince William were the only Christmas gifts they received.

Outstanding among the many achievements of the Prince William County Chapter was the establishment of the County Nursing Service, and its continued support and co-operation with county officials in keeping this valuable work going through recent years. The chapter through its nursing activities committee has stood behind the nurse and helped both personally in a volunteer capacity and with funds to carry on her ministrations of mercy.

Another of the activities of which the chapter is justly proud is that of the Civilian Home Service Committee, organized in December 1930, with Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson of Manassas as its chairman. It was this committee which made a survey of the county during the drought era and distributed drought relief funds, surplus cotton garments, etc. Most of these garments being made by volunteers under the direction of the production committee, Mrs. O. D. Waters heading up this splendid work. More recently the Civilian Home Service Committee has been directing its efforts and funds to the purchasing of shoes and clothing for needy children of school age and in relief to the aged and suffering by supplying food and garments, and other necessary comforts, found to be needed by Miss Sabina Neel, county nurse.

All of these and many more worthy causes are being carried out quietly and efficiently by the volunteer staff of your local Red Cross chapter, officially known as the Prince William County Chapter of the American Red Cross. It is your chapter, and your means of carrying out in an organized and humane manner that command of the Great Master that "ye do it into the least of these."

Funds for this work are obtained through membership enrollment at Roll Call time—which is from Armistice Day, November 11, to Thanksgiving Day, November 29. Enroll in your local chapter and boost this great work.

The Rev. John M. DeChant, pastor of the Manassas Presbyterian Church, has accepted the roll call chairmanship for Prince William County, and will have assisting him an able corps of outstanding citizens of the county.
