SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

RED CROSS READY FOR 1935 CALL

Intensive Organization Plans Under Way.

The annual Red Cross Roll Call drive opens officially on Armistice Day, November 11, said Rev. John M. DeChant, chairman of the Roll Call for Prince William, in an interview yesterday. In addition to the district workers announced last week, Miss Bessie Cornwell will work in Coles, and Mrs. E. B. Roland of Haymarket in Gainesville district. Organization of the county for the drive is about complete.

The local class in First Aid, conducted by a Red Cross volunteer, is part of a nation-wide program. Challenged by the greatest annual accident death toll in the nation's history, 21,000 Red Cross volunteer instructors have been teaching water safety and first aid methods to 383,000 men, women and children during the past year.

This vast army of life saving examiners and first aid instructors, which 25 years ago numbered exactly 2,—one a swimming teacher and one doctor teaching first aid in a Pennsylvania mining section,—was spurred on in its humane task by the picture of 101,000 broken, mangled bodies, human victims of 1934's ignoble record, and the equally horrifying portrait of 300,000 others, victims of these same accidents, who are destined to go through life permanently crippled. Facing this record of wholesale slaughter, the Red Cross is developing a program which is expected to carry the lesson of accident prevention and emergency care into every home and school in the country. Mr. DeChant urged that Prince William residents give hearty support to this work by joining the Red Cross this month.

In the past ten days Mr. DeChant has spoken in seven schools all over the county. He found that every school child knows Miss Neel, the Red Cross nurse, and is acquainted with the fine work she is constantly doing. When he asked the children how many knew Miss Neel, every hand was raised and smiles covered every face. For the sake of the health of the more than 11,000 inhabitants of our county, we must support the work of the county nurse. Join!

HAYMARKET TOWN COUNCIL

The new council of the town of Haymarket is finding its work very interesting though the problems are sometimes perplexing and hard to solve.

At the last meeting Nov. 4 it was decided that parking restrictions should be more strictly enforced in the interests of public safety.

A building ordinance was passed requiring each person who contemplates erecting a building to obtain a permit from the town council. This action brings the corporation in line with the most approved practice in other towns.

Another ordinance was passed making it unlawful to hunt game of any kind on public property within the corporation limits and on private property without the consent of the owners.

As these by-laws are for the general good it is hoped that the citizens will give co-operation as will make it unnecessary to resort to penalties.

Believing that a law unenforced is worse than no law at all the council will insist upon these reasonable regulations.

FATHER RYAN GOES TO WARRENTON

Father John A. Ryan who has been at All Saints Parish for the past two years has been transferred to the church of St. John's The Evangelist at Warrenton to replace Father Winston who has been appointed Chaplain to the Visitation Convent of Monte Maria. Father Winston will also devote much of his time as editor of the "Catholic Virginia."

Manassas is sorry to lose this excellent priest and extends congratulations to Warrenton on its acquisition.

TURKEY AND OYSTER SUPPER

The ladies of the Gainesville M. E. Church are having a turkey and oyster supper in the creamery building, Gainesville, Va., Wednesday, Nov. 13, beginning at 4 o'clock.

SISTERS ENTERTAIN FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Mrs. Warren G. Keith of Rock Hill, S. C., and Miss Hilda Moser were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Janet Trusler, who is to be a winter bride.

After the guests were assembled, Mrs. Russell White rendered two vocal selections, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve" and "At Dawning," accompanied by Miss Virginia Speiden, who then played "Lohengrin's Wedding March."

To these strains, Miss Betty Lee Jenkins, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jenkins, slowly descended the stairs, attired in a miniature bridal gown of satin, with a long, owing veil and train. Miss Jenkins carried a white prayer book showered with satin ribbons and orange blossoms.

She then escorted Miss Trusler into an adjoining room and presented her with a treasure chest of gifts.

The resultant festivity was augmented by service from a tastefully arranged tea table, presided over by Mrs. R. B. Sprinkle and Mrs. C. Byron Jones.

Those present were Misses Lucy Arrington, Rena Bevans, Rose Ratcliffe, Virginia and Walsen Conner, Anna Bruce Whitmore, Marion Lynn, Virginia Speiden, Susan Ish Harrison, Christine Meetez, Evelyn Cooke, Nina Dalton, Susie Gibson, Virginia Frazier, Ellen Bisson, Janet and Virginia Newman, Betty Lee Jenkins, Mesdames William H. Brown, Jr., Higgs Lewis, Earl Hurst, Paul Arrington, Sedrick Saunders, E. D. Wissler, V. V. Gillum, C. C. Cushing, A. S. Boatwright, C. Byron Jones, John Lyons, T. H. Howard, Asa Jenkins, John H. Burke, W. E. Trusler, O. E. Newman, R. E. Newman, R. B. Sprinkle, L. Proffitt, Frank Brown, all of Manassas, and Mrs. J. Russell White of Springfield, Va.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS MAKE MERRY AT DUMFRIES

A large crowd turned out for the meeting of the Young Democratic Club held last Thursday night at the Odd Fellows Hall in Dumfries, and fifteen new members were enrolled.

A number of impromptu speeches were made by the various young and old Democrats present, the underlying thought of each being a plea for party loyalty and support of the Democratic nominees in the general election.

After all the business matters had been dispensed with, the meeting adjourned, and the members were invited to the banquet room of the hall, and served "hot dog" sandwiches and coffee, for which refreshments the club owes a vote of thanks to Mr. G. C. Russell.

All in all, it was a very pleasant Halloween evening spent with the genial folks of Dumfries, Quantico, Triangle and vicinity, and we are glad to welcome them into the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO MEET AT NOKESVILLE

The regular monthly meeting of the Manassas-Prince William County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the high school building at Nokesville, Thursday, November 14, at 8.

Mr. C. C. Cloe, president of the Chamber, announced today that the fall membership drive will start with this meeting. The goal has been set for 350 memberships. The Chamber now has 167 memberships. The public is invited to attend this meeting and the members are especially asked to attend and to support the drive for new memberships. Mr. Cloe also stated that the Chamber has been quite active in the affairs of the county for the past few months and that he hoped the people of the county would support the organization to the fullest extent.

SOCIAL AT LUTHERAN PARSONAGE

The Luther League of the Bethel Lutheran Congregation joined with the Sunday School of the same in a social at the parsonage on Friday evening, November 1.

A short program of songs and readings was rendered and some contests enjoyed.

A number of the younger folk came in Halloween garb. Miss Louise Viars was awarded the prize for the best costume by the judges.

The evening ended with refreshments of cake, candy and ice-cream, and fortunes handed out to the younger folk and fortunes handed out by Miss Irene Dellinger, as Gypsy.

VIRGINIA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

The Virginia Education Association will hold its next annual convention in Richmond, November 26-29. This convention usually brings to Richmond from 3,000 to 4,000 teachers from every part of the state. The membership of the organization includes all the white teachers and school officials in Virginia. The convention this year promises to be one of special interest and will probably attract a larger attendance than ever before. The various programs will consist of five general sessions and sixty or more department and section meetings. The discussions will range from every kind of school problem connected with school building and equipment to items of special methods of instruction in the classroom.

The various meetings will be held in the John Marshall High School and in the nearby hotels. On the programs of the general sessions there will be addresses from men and women of national reputation. The first general session will be held Wednesday evening, November 27, in the city auditorium and will consist of a musical program by 800 or more high school boys and girls in the Virginia schools in a band, a chorus, and an orchestra. A. J. Lancaster, of Portsmouth, will be in charge of this musical program.

LOCAL OFFICE IS COMMENDED

Postoffice inspectors who visited the local postoffice a few days ago gave the office the highest rating it has ever held.

Mr. Davies deserved the heartiest congratulations.

MUSIC CLUB AT CONVENTION

Junior Group's Journey to Strasburg Much Enjoyed.

On Saturday, Oct. 26, the Junior Music Study Club journeyed to Strasburg to attend the annual convention of the 4th district, Virginia Federation of Music Clubs. The district chairman, Mrs. J. M. Boles, of Strasburg, presided at the meeting, and the state president, Mrs. T. R. Steele, of Portsmouth, was in attendance and gave an interesting and inspiring address on the work of the National Federation.

The program for the day included a variety of musical numbers presented by clubs of the district. The Manassas club was represented on the program by Miss Jessie Mae Conner who gave two vocal selections. Miss Conner's voice and her rendition of the songs were highly complimented.

The club's entire membership being present, it was awarded the prize for best attendance. Mrs. Boles, in stating the prize, stated that such a demonstration of interest and co-operation was worth all her efforts as district chairman.

Those attending the convention were: Miss Virginia N. Speiden, counselor for the club; Edna Blakemore, president, and the following members: Jessie Mae Conner, Elizabeth Cross, Margaret Blakemore, Irene Dellinger, Margaret Goode, Helen Lee, Hilda Lee, Lucille Herndon, Nelda Coverston, Sidney Ann Runalduke, Mary Runalduke, Ruth Breeden, Thelma Breeden, Irma Ball, Mildred Roseberry and Cleveland Fisher. Miss Ruth Smith and Mr. J. J. Conner accompanied the group, kindly furnishing their cars to aid in transportation.

The convention next fall will be held in Leesburg.

U.D.C. ACTIVITIES ARE REPORTED

Manassas Chapter Is Entertained by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Knox.

Mrs. Guy Allen and Mrs. James Knox entertained the Manassas Chapter, in the home of Mrs. Allen, Nov. 6. The President, Miss Virginia Speiden presided. The attendance was large, and the meeting full of interest. Mrs. W. A. Newman, Custodian, reported four new children of the Confederacy papers had been filed. Mrs. Dowell reported the Junior Chapter had purchased a Confederate flag to be used in their recent meeting at the home of Dr. Chapter. An interesting account of director, Mrs. Hibbs, and was read and Mrs. Gillum, was sent by their by Mrs. Thornton. In their historical program the nine Congressmen of Virginia were impersonated by nine girls, giving the District they represented, and a brief sketch of their lives. The Senators were likewise impersonated, and life stories of Southern men in their nation today, were given followed by a sketch of the life of Maury. Miss Grace Metz has requested them to present this program to the High School students.

Miss Speiden, Mrs. Lonas, and Mrs. Byrd had recently been to see Senator Rust in regard to the Government taking over the Manassas Battlefield.

A letter from Mrs. Massey, President General U.D.C., was read, urging our Chapter President to attend the premiere of "So Red The Rose," soon to be given in Richmond.

Mrs. Hutchison, Chapter delegate to the State Convention in the "Magic City" of Roanoke, reported a most delightful Convention. All meetings were held in the Roanoke Hotel, except President's night which was held in the Patrick Henry.

Among other things Mrs. Hutchison told of Mrs. Flournoy's reporting to the Convention that during her four months of custodianship of Lee's Mausoleum at Lexington, 15,000 guests had been admitted—that it was not alone the beauty of Valentine's carving that drew people from all roads of life, and all parts of the world, but the beauty of Lee's character. She also called attention to the Lee coat of arms, "Looking to the Future."

Mrs. Hutchison told also, of the election by the Convention, of Mrs. E. H. Hibbs, for Division Historian, and the regret which her inability to accept occasioned.

Mrs. Maude Kincheloe reported a Food Sale to be held in Dr. Dowell's drug store Saturday of this week.

In the historical period Mrs. Newman read from the booklet "Forty Years with the Virginia Division U. D. C." which Mrs. Nottingham, in the name of the division, presented to the delegates at the Roanoke convention, reading as follows:

"Mrs. Charles B. Tate, of Pulaski, was the next president selected, and she conducted her second convention at Manassas in 1908. This was one of the most beautiful and inspiring conventions in the division's history. The hotel at Manassas was unfortunately destroyed by fire only a short time before the convention and the hospitality of the town was heavily taxed to entertain the numerous delegates. One family alone, that of Mr. Hutchison, entertained fourteen guests in his home. Mrs. R. S. Hynson, the capable president of the hostess chapter, served the midday lunches on the grounds of the meeting place which was a happy innovation. A visit to the Bull Run battlefield, the Confederate monument there and a tour of surrounding famous scenes were parts of a wonderful experience. A charming incident of this meeting was the presentation of Dr. Henry M. Clarkson, Poet Laureate of that section, who greeted the visitors in welcoming verse."

Miss Sallie Proffitt read a most excellent paper she prepared on "Robert Edward Lee—A Good Citizen."

Hostesses for December are Mrs. Hebe Jackson, Mrs. Giddings and Mrs. Luther Alpaugh. The president announced a roll call for this meeting, each member to respond by giving the name of the ancestor under whom she joined, and the name of his regiment.

A dainty salad course was served, and the social hour enjoyed.

There were few surprises in Tuesday's election. There always a few unexpected upsets in every election, when the returns over a wide area are considered, but Tuesday there were fewer unexpected variations in public sentiment than usual.

There was not a sufficient poll throughout the nation to get a real test of the continued popularity of the New Deal and both Democrats and Republicans claim to have benefited by the election. Republicans point with pride to the gains made in the New York State Assembly and the Democrats in turn cite New Jersey as an outstanding vindication.

Prince William Gives Normal Democratic Majorities.

The vote in Prince William was a substantial evidence of the old-time Democratic stability of the county. Even in the face of some Republican opposition of unquestioned integrity and personal popularity voters recognized the obligation placed upon them when participating in the primary and pretty generally voted for the Democratic nominee, regardless of whether the selection expressed their viewpoint in August.

The Prince William vote approximated 1400. With the exception of local contests for Supervisor, the election centered around the contest for Sheriff between John Kerlin, Democratic candidate for re-election, and William Adamson, of Bristow, who had announced as an independent. With a candidate of unquestioned integrity and bidding for "independent" support, the Republican effort was centered on this contest and a spirited campaign had been waged. However, party lines were pretty nearly maintained and Mr. Kerlin was elected by approximately three to one, the vote being 1035 to 360.

State Senator John W. Rust, Delegate Frank Moncure, Commonwealth's Attorney Thos. W. Lion, County Treasurer C. A. Sinclair, County Clerk George Tyler and Commissioner of Revenue Robert Weir were elected without opposition.

In Gainesville district, where Supervisor C. B. Roland had been nominated in August by a single vote, he was re-elected over Winter Owen, 183 to 63.

In Dumfries district Mrs. Janie Abel, Democrat, defeated J. F. Fick, 149 to 92. This contest had been watched with interest, as Mrs. Abel, prominent in county affairs, will be the first lady to become a Supervisor of Prince William County.

In Brentsville district Lester W. Huff defeated M. J. Shepherd, 176 to 147, this being the closest party contest in the county.

In Occoquan district Cleve Russell was elected Supervisor without opposition. Tom Sheppard and Hezekiah Reid were elected Justices of the Peace and E. P. Davis Overseer of the Poor.

In Coles district Rev. J. Murray Taylor, the present chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was re-elected without opposition. L. Cornwell was elected Overseer of the Poor.

In Manassas district C. E. Nash was elected Supervisor without opposition. A local contest for Constable resulted in 250 votes for William Wallace and 16 votes for Roy Doggett.

Among the outstanding features of the election elsewhere in the State was the defeat of State Senator George W. Layman, of New Castle, one of the most influential members of the State Senate, who was defeated by a Republican.

In Fairfax County, all Democratic candidates were returned to county office. The outstanding circumstance in this nearby area was the overwhelming defeat of the big school-bond issue proposed in a building program to be financed in part by the Federal Government.

Historic Fairfax Courthouse, long accredited as the social and Democratic nucleus of the county, went Republican in a local contest over the position of Commonwealth's Attorney. "Col. Richard Farr is a better man than Hoover," one of his friends remarked. "He carried the Courthouse and Hoover couldn't." However, his Democratic opponent, Judge Paul Brown, swept the county by a vote of 2408 to 810. This was the only contested county office, the other officers having been unopposed. The contest for Commonwealth's At-

WHO REMEMBERS? - - by O. E. Newman

When the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad Company had their water tank located where Brown and Hooff now have their lumber yard office and the water was pumped by an old colored man named "Caesar" who invented a circular platform and used his dog as tread power?

When a spur of the branch of the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad started at the corner of Railroad Avenue and Battle Street and ran across the present depot lot in a north west direction to the present town water tank and thence through the Portner property just west of the Centreville Road to Bull Run?

When there was a large fortification on the west side of Manassas which is now Prescott Avenue?

When the most dependable water supply of Manassas was from Miss Kate Hooe's well at the corner of old Centreville and Quarry Roads?

When the first drug store was located on the east side of Main Street, north of the present Manassas hotel with Dr. Locke and Dr. Alexander as proprietors and Clay Wheeler as clerk. Later Dr. Kincheol opened a drug store about the time Dr. Iden moved to town?

When entertainments were given in an old sumac mill opposite the present passenger depot? And on one occasion the Daughters of the Confederacy gave a play entitled "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" for the benefit of the Confederate cemetery? Some of the characters were Mr. Robert Waters, Miss Anna Weir, Mr. Joe Johnson, Miss Sarah Johnson and others.

When Hixon and Bradfield's wheel-right shop was located on the northeast corner of East and Center Streets in a building now used as a grocery store?

When a sumac mill was operated by John Gates at the northwest corner of Battle Street and Railroad Avenue. This mill employed three men.

When Bloom's Stone Quarry, two miles northwest of town was in operation employing fifteen to twenty men?

When there was good skating on the southwest corner of Center and West Streets where Hynson and Bradford's garage now stands?

When George Trimmer operated a sawmill on the west side of north Main Street where Mr. Sigman's house is now located? Four men were employed there.

When Mr. Tyson operated a grist mill on the east side of Main Street?

When George Black had a tannery on North Main Street opposite George Trimmer's mill?

When a foundry was operated by Newcomb and Hixon in the house where Mrs. Cooksey now resides?

When a spoke factory was in operation by John Prescott on the corner of Maple Avenue and Quarry Road, employing ten to twelve men including Mr. C. E. Fisher?

When a stove factory was operated by Mr. Bowman out on Centreville Road, working from eight to ten men?

When Mr. Bowers' brick yard was in operation on the Stone House Road which is now the Portner field opposite the residence of Rev. T. D. D. Clark?

When Mr. R. M. Waters was the owner of the Manassas Gazette? Those employed were R. M. Waters, Dennis Buckley and O. E. Newman, folding about four hundred papers.

When there were three hotels here? Eureka House which was a one and one-half story building was located on the southeast corner of Railroad Avenue and Main Street. It was also used as a ticket and telegraph office. Harvey Varns was the proprietor of the Manassas Hotel on the northwest corner of Main Street and Railroad Avenue. This hotel had twelve rooms.

When Merchant and Son owned a general store on the west side of South Main Street adjoining the freight depot lot? When New Orleans sugar arrived in hogheads and the contents were emptied, we boys, the yellow jackets and hornets raided them and finished the job. Iron, bones and sumac were used as part currency in trading. I have heard that when the firm did not do two hundred dollars worth of business, they considered it a dull day.

When we had our first baseball club—The Stonewall Club? B. D. Merchant was president, R. M. Waters, pitcher, Dennis Buckley, catcher and Buck Monroe. They challenged the Washington Club (The Star). You can imagine which side won as the score would possibly be 42-0 until the Star Club got tired. They presented the Stonewall Club with a nice gift—a baseball bat with a silver mounting. They also challenged the Catharpin Club with Dr. Brower, Pitcher, Saunders, catcher, and Lute Pattie, shortstop. These were well matched.

When our grocer, Tommy Burns sold a box of matches to a man who returned them next day saying that his wife could not get them to light? Burns then demonstrated by striking them on the seat of his pants. The customer replied that his wife could not be running after him every time she wanted to light a match.

When Railroad Avenue and Quarry Road were our main entrances from the East?

When our first school was taught by Miss Sarah Newcomb in the old Presbyterian Church on the corner lot in front of Mr. James Dorrell's residence? Miss Estella Green opened our first public school which was sponsored by the late Geo. C. Round. It was located in the back portion of the old Methodist Church now occupied by the United Brethren. We also had a night drawing school. My father, E. S. Newman, was instructor. I recall a few of the students. They were Charles Whittington, Mrs. Maggie Fewell, Mrs. Kenter, Misses Althea and Emily Bennett, Charles Brawner and others.

When all the colored population lived on Railroad Avenue between Main and Battle Streets? Among them were the Jacksons, Stokes, Lomax, Foster, Dyer and Mitchell families? There was an old colored fellow who visited our town Saturdays. After visiting our six saloons he would get quite happy—so much so that the fines imposed on him by Mayor Whiting soon built our town lock-up. On one occasion a prisoner, Foster, forced the door open and was sitting in the cell next morning waiting for the seargent to arrive and take him to his trial.

When there was a "Third Battle of Manassas"? There was a celebration of Cleveland's election in progress. A load of masked men, some in female attire, arrived by train from Alexandria. They made their headquarters at Cannon's Hotel where Mr. Pickett was proprietor. They paraded the streets of the town and by late night had become quite lively. A free for all fight followed which resulted in Mr. Mike Lynch, engineer, receiving orders from headquarters to return to Alexandria at once. That was the "Third Battle of Manassas." When B. D. Merchant, our general merchant, owned a pointer dog named Fleet which would escort his small children, Fewell, Bennie and Miller to and from home and store? It would have been just too bad if anyone had molested the children.

Here are the names of a few of the older citizens I recall: Maj. McLean, Frank Cannon; real estate business, William Fewell, William Keyes, Elias Conner, Hampton Brenton, Newton Woodyard, Harvey Varns, Geo. Hixon, Chas. Bennett, Louis Butler, Buck Merchant, E. S. Newman, R. M. Waters, C. L. Hynson, Rev. Leachman, Chas. Whittington, Dr. B. F. Iden, S. Burdge and A. B. Davis

BRENTSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Shoemaker spent last Sunday with Mrs. Shoemaker's mother, Mrs. Helman Keys. We are sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Cash Key's pet cow. Better luck next time.

The folks here in Brentsville and those visiting here will be more than glad to know that they have started to put gravel on the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Keys and family visited relatives and attended the funeral of Mrs. Keys' aunt, Mrs. Minnie Hall of Marshall, Va.

Miss Reb Rush left Brentsville to work in Washington, D. C.

The league held a call meeting at Mrs. Cash Keys' home last Thursday with a good attendance. Tea was served, everyone having a nice time. We are looking forward to more such meetings.

Mrs. Cash Keys and children were in Washington for Halloween. We are glad to hear that Mr. Jim Keys is better. We trust he'll be home soon.

The folks here seem to be going to the mountains quite often these days. Lets hope they will be having apple parties soon.

Our night school is coming to the front with Mrs. Stephens as teacher. Come out all you folks. We can all learn a lot more than we know now or have forgotten and can refresh our memories—also have some good times and meet old friends.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT BRENTSVILLE DISTRICT HIGH

On the evening of October 31 Brentsville District High School celebrated Halloween by giving a party.

The entertainment started at 8:00 o'clock and consisted of several songs, a Halloween talk by three old witches, a short play which was excellently acted by the fifth and sixth grades and a recitation which was almost perfectly spoken and acted. After the program was over the movies were shown and they were enjoyed by all. At the end of the movies the people who were present adjourned to the gymnasium to buy some refreshments, go fishing and have their fortunes told. After a short time the Halloween Queen was crowned while her six attendants, Margaret Dodd, Gayle Bowman, Vanda Good, Estelle Fearnough, Jean Leach and Winifred Swank were gathered about her. Miss Frances Owens acted very gracefully as queen and much applause was given her as she marched to her throne. Little Anna Hooker deserves much praise as the crown bearer and Ernest Hooker should have his share too for he served very nicely as the train

GOD'S PROMISE: So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.—Isaiah 55: 11.

THE LURE OF VIRGINIA

Some idea of the lure of Virginia—a state which combines exquisite natural beauty with an unparalleled historical background—is given in figures just released by the National Park Service. These statistics relate to visitors in the various recreational centers of the country. They are an astonishing revelation when the figures of Virginia are compared with those for parks in other states.

During the 12 months ended September 30, no fewer than 516,637 persons by actual count, visited the Shenandoah National Park. This was a greater number, by many thousands, than any other such area saw. The nearest competitor of the Virginia center was the great Smoky Park in North Carolina and Tennessee which is being linked to the Shenandoah by a boulevard. This park attracted 500,000 persons during the twelve month period.

World-famous parks like Grand Canyon, Mount Ranier, Sequoia, Yellowstone and Yosemite were left far behind in the matter of tourists. The last-mentioned of these led the group in attendance. During the year 372,317 visitors came to the Yosemite. Grand Canyon attracted a mere 206,018. And it must be remembered that these places have been the focal points for tourists for many years, long before the dream of a great Virginia park came true.

Similarly, the Colonial National Monument, embracing Jamestown, Williamsburg and Yorktown, was more popular during the same period than any other similar attraction. There are 55 such monuments in the country, cared for by the federal government. Visiting Colonial were 367,172 persons. That number compares with 252,609 registered at the Statue of Liberty, New York City.

The Shenandoah National Park was the most popular of all parks, despite the fact that it is not yet completed and offers poor accommodations for tourists. Suitable hotels, restaurants and amusement places undoubtedly will come after the state of Virginia gains a clear title to all the territory and turns it over in fee simple to the federal government. The lack of these accommodations suggests the importance of completing title formalities as quickly as possible, to the end that such developments may be undertaken.

Dave Hazen of the Portland Oregonian said recently, after a trip to Williamsburg and the Skyline Drive, that tourist travel was destined to be Virginia's greatest business. He predicted that the $73,000,000, which, it is estimated, was spent by visitors in 1934, will be doubled during the next two or three years and that, with the return of normal conditions, the amount tourists will leave in the state will be nearer $250,000,000.

The figures we have given here indicate that this prediction is based upon solid ground.—Richmond Times-Dispatch

RETURNING SANITY

From every point of view the turn for the better in what has been the fierce religious controversy in Germany is to be welcomed. Both Catholics and Protestants who have stood up valiantly for their faith and their rights within the community are now to be accorded at least a large measure of that liberty and self-direction which their churches long enjoyed and which they have been steadfastly demanding. They are not to be made a mere part of the political machinery of the Hitler regime. All the signs now point to a restoration, in the end, of the privileges of religion within the state.

Still more significant and gratifying is the fact that Hitler himself and his chief subordinates have apparently abandoned their attempt to erect a kind of neo-paganism upon the ruins of the Christian churches. An official statement made in behalf of Hitler this week announced that the government would favor the establishment and full recognition of a "positive Christianity." Whatever that phrase may mean, it cannot include worship of the ancient and primitive Teutonic divinities which a little while ago was all the rage in German official circles. The open and official repudiation of that lapse back into barbarism is a pleasing indication that a saner mind has come to the front and that saner counsels will prevail. It may take longer, but in the final outcome they must also prevail in modifying and repealing other policies of the Hitler government which have smacked of the Dark Ages.—New York Times.

ROESCH-BIEBER

"Larkinton" was again the scene of a pretty wedding when Mrs. Lucy Larkin Bieber, daughter of Mrs. William Peyton Larkin and the late William Peyton Larkin, and Mr. Robert Evans Roesch were united in marriage on Saturday, November 2, at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John M. DeChant in the presence of the family and a few close friends.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. George C. Dessler of New York and Mr. Dessler acted as best man for the groom.

The bride was becomingly attired in a grey suit with dubonnet accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Dessler wore green with rust accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The groom, a graduate of Cornell University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Roesch of Los Angeles, Calif.

The house was beautifully decorated with roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

After the ceremony a delicious wedding supper was served by the hostess, mother of the bride, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Rozier B. Larkin.

After a wedding trip through the New England states the couple will be at home in Harrisonburg, Va., where Mr. Roesch is divisional manager of the Virginia Public Service.

Bank loans on farm lands and city real estate, nine billion dollars; loans to individuals and business concerns, twelve billion dollars; investments in direct Federal government loans, eleven billion dollars; in obligations of various government recovery corporations, one billion dollars; investments in state and municipal bonds, over three billion dollars; in American corporate securities, six billion dollars.

This bank feels that American banking as a whole is fully measuring up to its duties in the public services it is rendering.

A NOVEL OF THE OLD SOUTH

By H. J. Eckenrode

The story of Buck Musgrave, Southern gentleman, who devoted himself, before the Civil War, to the serious pursuits of life, particularly horse-racing, cock-fighting and hard drinking. The searing changes which the War brought to this son of the Old South, and his changed outlook in the Reconstruction period are presented with dramatic force.

BURKE

The November meeting of the Burke Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mr. E. C. Miller is president, was held on Monday evening at the schoolhouse. An interesting feature of the program was a talk by Mrs. Elsie Davis, the County School Supervisor, on the new curriculum.

The oyster supper given by the Othniel Bible class on Saturday evening was well attended. The guests included nearly fifty from Washington, and a large number from different parts of Fairfax and Arlington Counties. The ladies of the Sunday school are most appreciative of the friendly support of all these friends and neighbors who helped to make the supper a success.

The Lee District Improvement Association, Mr. Herbert Haar, president, held a meeting at the Community Hall last Wednesday evening which was very well attended. Much interest was shown in the discussion of the bond issue, which was explained by Superintendent of Schools Woodson.

CATHARPIN

You know there are poundings and then there are poundings. There's one kind we do not appreciate—the kind that brouses up the "outward appearances" requiring arnica or listerine. But there's another kind we would not object to if we could only find some one willing to administer it. Such an one was the experience of the Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Sapp when a large number of friends from the Sudley neighborhood congregated at the parsonage on Wednesday of last week taking with them all and sundry such things as usually accompany "mobs" of this nature, all to be bestowed upon the returning pastor and his wife to help them start the "new year" with full and plenty even though they may have to starve later on.

We hear it said that city folks have long since forgotten how to "Pound the Minister," but we "country Jakes" have never learned how not to do it. Its a very pleasant feature of country life, this giving of one's abundance to his friends. Had a "news hawk" been at the parsonage that day he could have done none other than describe the scene as an opening up of an A & P or a Sanitary, or a Piggly Wiggly. Tables full, chairs full, floor full, pastor full—of appreciation; and the people themselves, well they were pleased to do it; so there!

THE CHALLENGE, a beautiful pageant, was rendered by the young people at Sudley last Sunday morning before a large and appreciative audience. The "cast" was composed of young people from both the Sudley and Cainesville churches and was well rendered; a very pleasant feature being the solo singing by Miss Pitzer of Washington with Miss Emaleen Sapp accompanist. The Rev. and Mrs. Sapp have been very diligent in their efforts to interest the young people in Christian work; their efforts being much appreciated by both the young people and their parents as well.

Sergeant W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres motored to Mulberry Fields, Md., where he spent last week-end with his friend, Col. W. Carland Fay.

On Monday last Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey attended the funeral rites of Mr. Alvey's cousin, Mr. L. J. Canter of Charlotte Hall, Md. Mr. Canter was a very prominent citizen of his city and county, being associated with the educational interests of that section for years to the extent that all schools were closed in his honor on day of the funeral.

Well, well teachers. Did you read that little story under the title "Teacher's Fetish" under The Time . . . The Place . . . The Story in the Washington Post on Monday morning? There surely is something wrong someplace, for whoever heard of a school teacher 103 years old? However, check up on your algebraic equations a little, since they do not seem inclined to "Let X equal my age" any longer. You may have to sign that Oath of Allegiance yet. Well, that's a pretty good one, but we are inclined to think that it applies only to a very small percentage of the "teacher clientel" of Virginia.

Route No. 621, leading from Hickory Grove via Catharpin and Pageland Lane to the Lee Highway, is being graded and widened to 30 ft. thruout, the grading almost finished to Catharpin as we write. The entire distance is to be resurfaced with a new found shale lately discovered near the Loudoun line and which is thought to be an excellent material for the purpose. With this route completed, this section of Gainesville District and Prince William county will have no complaint to offer in regard to her highways. Route 234, while not yet resurfaced, is always kept in good condition, and the route from McDonald's corner to Gainesville being in fair condition since its treatment of two years ago leaves us all sitting well and feeling that this great, big, bad, old world is not so vicious after all.

It is interesting to observe the convict gang with which most of the work is being done. We usually look upon these fellows as the lowest strata of civilization, and in a large percentage they are; but occasionally one may find among them a few who are worthy the saving power of any institution or individual interested in human uplift. While passing one of these men who was intrusted with the work of leveling up a grade, we noted his intelligent appearance. Curiosity getting the better of us, we engaged him in conversation, which developed the fact that he was a high school graduate of Bluefield, W. Va.

TENDS ZONE MEETING

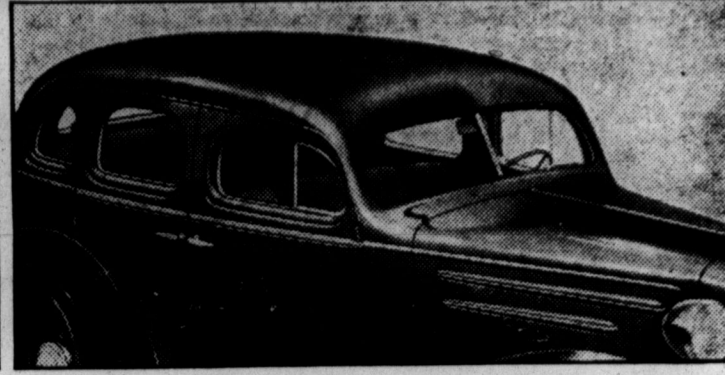

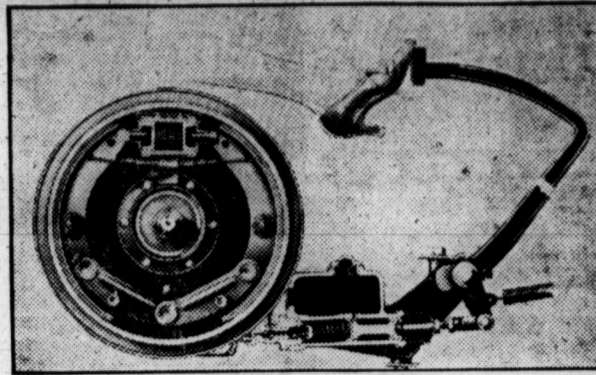

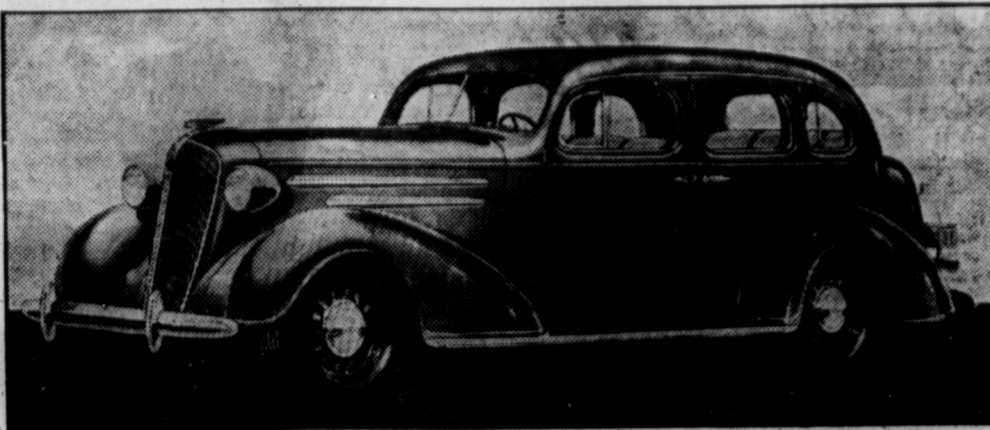

Mr. Martin, local Chevrolet dealer, has just returned from Baltimore where he attended one of the most successful Chevrolet conventions ever held. At this convention the new 1936 Chevrolet complete line was on display—Master, Standard, Truck. Approximately one thousand Chevrolet dealers and retail salesmen from all parts of the Baltimore area gathered to see and drive the new 1936 Chevrolet. This convention in Baltimore is being held simultaneously with conventions of similar nature in the forty-six Chevrolet zones in the country, bringing the story of the new 1936 Chevrolet line to ten thousand Chevrolet dealers and twenty-five thousand retail salesmen.

The convention was conducted by Mr. R. F. Hicks, regional manager at Buffalo and his staff, namely: Messrs. J. F. McMahon, C. S. Glock, R. O. Wissinger, R. P. Murphy and T. Eliason, with the assistance of Mr. Glen R. Weeks, Baltimore zone manager, and his staff: H. L. Beecroft, city sales manager; L. W. Kiefer, assistant zone manager; F. E. Gross, zone truck manager; L. W. Moore, city truck manager; R. O. Wissinger, manager retail sales; W. J. Kelley, business manager; G. J. Korta, car distributor; W. Gillogly, office manager.

"Chevrolet is off to the best start in its history," according to Mr. Martin, Chevrolet dealer. "Production has been under way for the past two weeks and by the time the new cars were announced on November 2, there were a sufficient stock in the field to enable every dealer to make prompt deliveries of any model desired. I can say they are the finest performing, as well as the most beautiful automobiles Chevrolet has ever built."

and was in his second year at college, when one night he and another student went to a dance, got drunk and in a fight cut some fellow up. Result—three years on the road. The fellow seems mighty sorry he made that "blunder". Says he is going right back to finish his course in chemistry and pharmacy as soon as his time is up, and never again will he repeat. So here's an opportunity to apply that old quotation you have all heard about, "so much bad in the best of us and so much good in the worst of us"—now you can finish it.

• 1936 Master De Luxe and Standard Chevrolets are Replete with New Features

New Master De Luxe and Standard Chevrolets for 1936 show marked advances in appearance and in engineering. Perfected hydraulic brakes, high-compression engines with full-length water jackets, and balanced carburetion are among the mechanical improvements. The solid steel Turret Top Fisher body is now used on the Standard as well as the Master De Luxe models.

torney had been occasioned by the voluntary retirement of Hon. Wilson M. Farr, Democrat and brother of Col. Richard Farr, Republican candidate.

In Arlington County the Democratic majorities were large, except in the case of the office of County Judge, a Republican, who was re-elected over his Democratic opponent, Walter Varney, by a majority of less than 200 in a total of over 7000. The only other Republican victory in Arlington was the election of Will Ames, a popular lumber dealer of that county, who defeated James Buchanan, Democrat, for the County Board by about the same plurality.

In Stafford County all office holders had opposition with the exception of N. N. Berry, Treasurer. The popular Clerk of the Court, veteran of many contests, was returned to office over J. C. Heflin by a vote of 916 to 574.

G. B. Wallace, present Democratic Commonwealth's Attorney, defeated L. R. R. Curtis, Republican, and former Commonwealth's Attorney, by a vote of 903 to 534. R. C. L. Moncure, Commissioner of Revenue, was re-elected over A. L. Snellings, 1,153 to 386. Sheriff W. E. Curtis, regarded as a Republican, but popular also among Democrats, defeated L. A. Briggs 975 to 544.

For Supervisor of Falmouth district J. V. Brooks defeated M. R. Reamy 149 to 86.

Two libraries were authorized for Quantico School, and a Wellbrook encyclopedia for the Nokesville High School.

C. Wade-Dalton was awarded the contract to install heat in one of the class rooms at Occoquan.

The Board decided to send the superintendent and representatives from the School Board to Richmond to attend the meeting of the trustees and superintendents which will be held there this month.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)
