RED CROSS NAMES MRS. LLOYD HEAD

Progressive Leader Retained and Reports Show Gains.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Prince William County Chapter, American Red Cross, was held on Tuesday of this week in the Presbyterian Sunday school room, Manassas, with a splendid representation of chapter people.

Reports of standing committee chairmen brought out the many and varied enterprises in which the chapter has been engaged during the past year.

Outstanding among these was the work of the Junior Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Marshall Haydon, who reported that Junior Red Cross had been organized in practically every school in the county, with between five and six hundred members.

The Juniors present gave some very interesting reports of work done by them in the brief time they had been organized, listing among their achievements the making of scrap books and toys to be distributed by the county nurse to sick children; collecting and distributing food and clothing at Christmas time. One group at Manassas High School was planning a correspondence course with Juniors in France.

Rev. John M. DeChant, roll call chairman for 1935, gave a most interesting report on the membership drive. While the results financially were not all that had been hoped for or needed, the chapter was pleased to learn that the goal of 400 members set by the National Organization had been reached, and the total showed a decided increase over last year. It was also interesting to note that the increase in the number of $5.00 memberships, and the interest of local social and fraternal organizations, who expressed their approval of and interest in the chapter work by taking out memberships.

The report of Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, chairman of the civilian home service committee, was likewise of interest, and showed that the committee had done a most creditable piece of work during the past year in furnishing shoes to needy school children, and in assisting the nurse in supplying food and other things to sick folk. Mrs. Johnson spoke of the very generous donations made to this committee by local clubs and organizations, which added to her Red Cross funds made it possible to carry on.

HEAVY LOSSES FROM EXPLOSION

Cocke Pharmacy Rocked by Sharp Blast.

The business section of Manassas was thoroughly shaken by a giant explosion which took place in the drug store of Doctors Cocke and Cross just before 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon.

It is miraculous that someone was not injured. Gas of some description ignited and the floor in front of the fountain was ripped up. Mr. Bob Smith, who was standing at that point, is said to have been raised several inches by the force of the impact but is not known to have been given any injuries.

It is reported that one lady whose name is not given was slightly cut by flying glass and Dr. Cross was slightly cut in the face. There were more than a dozen people in the back of the drug store and the public were coming and going right along.

The front of the store including many valuable show cases, the expensive soda fountain and the machinery connected therewith were partially or totally wrecked.

Despite the intense bitter weather, business has gone on during the repairs and every effort is being made to restore surface conditions to a state of normalcy. The proprietors have the sympathy of the whole town in their serious losses, for until the exact cause of the explosion is definitely assigned it is not known whether they will recover any amount of any source whatever.

The insurance agents in town are said to have been doing a live business in explosion insurance.

MR. AND MRS. PARRISH IN RICHMOND

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Parrish attended the Virginia Ice Manufacturers Association in Richmond last Wednesday and Thursday at the Jefferson Hotel in Richmond.

BASKETBALL NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

A basketball game sponsored by the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department will be played between C.C.C. Camp No. 26 and Manassas at the high school gymnasium on Monday night, Feb. 3, at 8 p.m.

BURNS CAUSE DEATH OF LADY

Aged Resident Victim of Unfortunate Accident.

Shortly before noon on Monday, Mrs. Rebecca Prescott, age 83, and a lifelong resident of the county, was so horribly burned that death occurred early Tuesday morning at the Alexandria Hospital.

It is stated that Mrs. Prescott frequently warmed herself by the stove oven and the assumption is that she went to sleep and some part of her clothing came in contact with the stove. Apparently no one witnessed the accident and by the time help arrived she had suffered painful and fatal burns. The fire department responded quickly and gave such first aid as they could.

Mrs. Prescott was born in Prince William County on June 11, 1852, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Goodwin. She married John Prescott by whom there were two children, a son who died quite young, and a daughter, Mrs. Mamie Goode, and four grandchildren who lived with her at the time of her death.

Mrs. Prescott belonged to a well-known and prosperous family. Her husband at one time operated a spoke factory for many years which employed many men here.

Her unfortunate death has caused grief to her many relatives and friends. Those who survive her are her daughter, Mrs. Mamie Goode; one sister, Mrs. M. V. Conner and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Harvey Jonas, tomorrow afternoon, and interment will be in the Manassas cemetery.

MARTIN LYNCH KILLED BY TRAIN LAST NIGHT

Another note of sadness was added to the town this morning when news spread around of the tragic death of Martin Lynch, age 49, who was killed by a Southern Railroad train sometime after midnight.

Shortly before midnight he was in a lunch room awaiting returns on the basketball game.

Taking a can of coal oil and a small bag of groceries, he was evidently on his way home and for some unaccountable reason he must have stopped for the oil and the groceries were placed in an undisturbed fashion between the tracks.

It is reported that shortly after midnight a call for help came from the tracks and it is thought that he was hurt and no one responded to the call.

Early this morning when T. M. Reeves, crossing watchman, went to work, he noticed the mangled form a short ways up the track and immediately notified Sgt. Herring who in turn notified Dr. Marsteller who ordered the badly mangled remains to be removed to an undertaking establishment.

Mr. Lynch leaves two sisters, Mrs. Dolly Hixson of Culpeper and Mrs. Mary Neilan of Washington. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

For many years Mr. Lynch has been identified with Prince William County politics and took an active part in every campaign, running for several offices himself. He was a fluent talker with a splendid sense of humor and a veritable mimic.

His tragic passing will grieve the many whom he numbered as friends.

ADDITIONAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO JACKSON BANQUET

Contributions to the Jackson banquet were increased this week by donations from G. C. Russell of Agnewville and H. C. Dulaney of Thoroughfare.

The committee in charge is awaiting a substantial contribution from Dumfries district after which time the fund will be sent in, probably by the middle of next week.

NEW PRIEST ASSIGNED TO ALL SAINTS

Rev. John Kociela, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Norfolk, Va., has been transferred to All Saints Church here.

The appointment will become effective February 12.

WCTU'S DISCUSS NEW LEGISLATION

Manassas Union Meets With Miss Maggie Smith.

The January meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Miss Maggie Smith, Vice-President Mrs. Sadd presiding. Mrs. Harrell had charge of the devotional period.

"Temperance Education Day" was observed in connection with this meeting and some very informative articles were given from the Union Signal, the official organ of the W. C. T. U.

Miss Kincheloe told what the "Lillian Stevens Legislative Fund" is and how used. The National W. C. T. U. is a part of the National Temperance and Prohibition Council which meets annually in Washington to confer on a program in which all temperance organizations can unite. The expense for the participation of the National W. C. T. U. is borne by the "Lillian Stevens Fund." It also makes possible the maintenance of a qualified representative at legislative headquarters who keeps watch of all measure pertaining not only to Prohibition but to our entire program of service.

Mrs. Bywaters gave the plan that Senator Capper offers as a curb on liquor advertising. He says, "The press of the nation will determine the future of the liquor problem of the United States, and the people may determine if they will what attitude the press will take." In these words he made forceful and clear what may be accomplished through support of the Capper Bill introduced in the Senate on January 10, 1935, which is a bill for national prohibition of liquor advertising. This measure would prohibit liquor advertising by means of the radio.

The "Sheppard Amendments" was given by Mrs. Gorrell. These two amendments of different types were introduced in the Senate by Senator Sheppard in January 1935. The one resolution was for national constitutional prohibition. It embodied the original Eighteenth Amendment, with a few changes, which Senator Sheppard said in his judgment provided the best way of handling the liquor traffic.

The other resolution was an enabling amendment which would empower Congress to prohibit alcoholic liquors or not, as it should see fit. A significant ending to this article in the "Union Signal" is "the need of the deepening of the spiritual life of the nation and when that is attained there will be an overwhelming demand for the arraying of all the powers of the Government for the suppression of the liquor traffic."

Mrs. Walter Sadd gave the concluding article, "Liquor and our Nation's Capitol," which is a comment by our national W. C. T. U. president, Mrs. Ida Wire Smith, on the bill introduced in the House by Hon. H. S. Guyer on July 9, 1935, a measure to bring back Prohibition to our National Capital, and applies to the District of Columbia only, and is introduced in behalf of the defenseless citizens of Washington because they are powerless to defend themselves against the flood of liquor and the curse of intoxication which is overwhelming the Nation's Capital, made also for the protection of young em-

CERTIFICATES TO FIRST AIDERS

Class Trained under Supervision of Capt. Strobel.

Permission having been granted by the local Red Cross Chapter, the second class of first aiders, organized and sponsored by the local fire department under the competent instructions of Capt. L. P. Strobel of the Alexandria Rescue Squad, have received their cards of proficiency in this art as recognized first aiders.

Those receiving cards are as follows: Miss Emily Johnson, Mrs. J. L. Bushong, Mrs. Orma Davis, Mrs. William Lloyd, Miss Pauline Smith, Mrs. Beulah E. Stauff, Miss Sabina Neel, Miss Sarah Pitts, Mrs. Grace Hite, Mrs. Fred Hynson, Miss Veta Draper, Mr. Edwin Beachley, Mr. Clayton Libeau, Mr. Billy Jamison, Miss Abbye Lutes, Miss Sue Ayres, Mr. Earl Marsteller, Mr. Warren Hynson, Mr. T. W. Howard, Mr. R. J. Davis, Mr. Charles Mathias, Mr. John Roseberry, Mr. R. W. Cross, Mr. Douglas Dodson.

The last six named are members of the local fire department. These added to those who have already qualified in the fire department brings the total of first aid members up to nineteen. This is proof that the local fire lads are always willing to serve their community in more ways than one.

BEGINNERS PROGRAM FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

We are very anxious to do even better than last year for the children who will enter school for the first time in the fall. With the full cooperation of the parents and school leagues we should have a physical examination of every child with immunization against Smallpox and Diphtheria before school closes in the spring. This will allow vaccinations to heal before hot weather and will leave the summer for the correction of any physical defects the examination might show to be needed to put the child in condition for beginning school life.

We hope to get the enrollment blanks out through the schools early in February and ask that the parents return them promptly to the teachers. If there are children to enter school in the fall who have no children in school to report them, parents or friends should report them to the school or Public Health Nurse.

M. SABINA NEEL,

employees of the United States in the different branches of the Government who have come from the best homes of the country, the brightest and most promising young men and women for employment in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Guyer further says it is the business of the Congress of the United States which possesses absolute power to govern the District of Columbia to make Washington a model city not only for the United States but for the world and also the safest place for family homes, which is the foundation of our free institutions.

The W.C.T.U. meets regularly each fourth Wednesday. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. R. Bywaters Wednesday, February 26, at 3 p.m. Please remember date and bring your friends with you.

SILVER TEA

The Junior Woman's Club will entertain at a silver tea at the home of Mrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe on Saturday, February 15, from 3 to 5 p.m.

FARMERS DISCUSS A.A.A. COLLAPSE

Meetings at Catharpin and Haymarket to Aid Agriculture.

The first agricultural discussion meetings were held at Catharpin and Haymarket last week and farmers in each community contributed to the topic under consideration. C. R. McDonald led the round-table discussion at Catharpin, R. B. Gosson at Haymarket, M. S. Kerlin at Nokesville and W. M. Kline at Manassas.

Because of the unfavorable weather and condition of the roads, meetings were not held at Independent Hill and Bethel.

Charts showing the long-time trend of prices of farm and non-agricultural products, production and population trends, etc., were used. By means of graphs, prepared from Government statistics, several interesting facts as the widespread distress following marked changes in the general level of prices after the war with England in 1812, the War between the States, and the World War, were brought out.

It was shown that in periods of major price changes that prices received by farmers rise faster and fall faster and further than prices paid by farmers. In periods of rising prices and land values many were inclined to become over-optimistic and to increase their indebtedness to buy additional land and equipment. In the subsequent decline of prices and values, many as a result were unable to meet their maturing obligations. It was generally agreed by all groups that this was one of the major causes of the depression.

It was also shown that the disparity between prices received and paid by farmers is in very large measure due to industrial price policy and to differences between the economic organization of agriculture and industry. Many industries seek to maintain relative stability in the prices of their products. Shrinking demand is met promptly by shrinking production. Agriculture, on the other hand, tends to maintain production and absorbs almost the full impact of reduced demand by reduced prices. Despite the drought and agricultural adjustment programs, agricultural production in 1935 was 88 per cent as large as the average for the five-year pre-depression period of 1925 to 1929, and this was the smallest agricultural production during the entire depression period.

In marked contrast, manufacturers of products made from non-agricultural raw materials, had reduced production by 1932 to 45 per cent of the pre-depression average. With the fall of prices generally, prices received by manufacturers for their output fell somewhat, but nothing like the extent they would have fallen had manufacturing production been maintained. It has been suggested that the solution for these difficulties would be for industry to maintain production at low prices.

Many reasons were given by the men attending as causes of the farm depression, some of which were due to farmers themselves and some beyond their control.

The topic for this week's discussion is "Do Farmers Want the Federal Government to Help Them Deal With Farm Problems?"

FAIRFAX LADY TO ADDRESS GARDEN CLUB

The garden section of the Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. V. V. Gillum Monday at 2:30, February 3. The main speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. A. H. Chilcott of Fairfax. The subject will be "Planting a Formal Garden."

All members of the garden club of Manassas are invited to attend and also all interested in flowers.

The chairman, Mrs. Aylene Guthrie, requests a full attendance as this is to be a most interesting meeting.

AT SEED SHOW

Those who attended the annual convention and seed show of the Virginia Crop Improvement Association at Warrenton today were Messrs. C. C. Lynn, J. C. Kincheloe, Frank Cox and Judge Parrish.

Manassas Fire Dept. basketball team was victorious over its ancient rival, Warrenton A. C., on the latter's floor last night by a score of 31-25.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO HEAR SMITH

Annual Elections Will Feature Meeting.

A meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County, which should be of interest to every Democrat, young and old alike, is scheduled for Wednesday evening, February 12.

This meeting will be held at Haymarket in the auditorium of the new high school at 8 o'clock, and will afford the citizens of the county an opportunity to inspect this modern school building.

The public-spirited people of Haymarket who have invited the Young Democrats to hold this meeting there have promised an evening of delightful entertainment furnished by local talent.

The speaker of the evening will be Hon. Howard W. Smith, who always has an interesting and enlightening message for his constituents.

The principal purposes of this meeting are the election of officers of the Young Democratic Club for the year 1936, and the enlistment of new members.

The public is cordially invited to be present, and it is hoped that every true Democrat will take advantage of this opportunity to enjoy an evening's entertainment as the guests of the Young Democrats.

MUSIC LOVERS AID CHILDREN

Club Meeting Hears Progressive Reports.

The music-literature section of the Manassas Woman's Club held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Margaret Lewis' on Tuesday evening, January 28, with Mrs. Aylene Guthrie acting as assistant hostess. Despite the bitter cold weather, twelve members were present. After the regular business was disposed with, the program for the evening was handled by Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Cooksey and Miss Virginia Speiden.

Mrs. Lloyd gave a most interesting book report on "North to the Orient" by Anne Morrow Lindberg. After hearing little bits of this book, everyone present who had not read it, agreed that they must do so. Mrs. Cooksey gave a most enlightening report on current events, International, National and Local, bringing out especially under local news the fact that Virginia now had an art museum recently opened in Richmond. Miss Speiden, though substituting at the last minute for another member, gave a delightful report on current music and things happening in the musical world.

This section, working through Miss Speiden and Mr. Peters, principal of the high school, has purchased season tickets for fifteen school children to attend the National Symphony concerts in Washington. There are four of these concerts to be given. One was in January, two will be held in February and the final one in March. Miss Speiden and Mr. Peters select fifteen children to attend the first three concerts and the final selection of fifteen will be made from the first forty-five. It was reported that the children thoroughly enjoyed the concert on January 16.

The transportation committee to arrange for getting these children to and from Washington is asking for volunteers to drive their car and take five children each if possible. Anyone interested and willing to do this, should get in touch with Mrs. Mylander, chairman of this committee. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses and the meeting adjourned at a late hour.

DR. McDOWELL PRAISES NEARBY DAIRYMEN

The Jan. 10th issue of Hoard's Dairyman, a national dairy magazine published at Fort Atkinson, Wisc., carried a full-page illustrated story of the last Dairy Festival, written by Dr. J. C. McDowell of the U. S. Bureau of Dairying.

Following a complimentary description of the program, Dr. McDowell answers the question "Is the Festival Worth While?" as follows: "Certainly it has served to advertise Northern Virginia as a dairy district. In this district are to be found many dairy herds that are not excelled in any other dairy district in the country. Nowhere can you find more fertile dairy farms, better bred dairy cattle, a higher quality of dairy products, or more enterprising dairy farmers."

THE PASSING OF GEORGE V

The King of Great Britain and Emperor of India is dead. 500,000,000 of his subjects are his survivors. He was a good conscientious ruler. He was not a great warrior, neither a brilliant diplomat, but excelling in those homely virtues of domestic felicity and love for the English people. His Court was free from licentiousness, no stain has ever attached itself to him or his virtuous queen. They emulated their royal grandmother, the good queen Victoria who wielded the sceptre of the British Empire from the early age of 18 to the advanced age of 82, beloved by all. At the time of the Armistice in 1918, King George paid our country a noble tribute for the great service it had rendered England and her allies in the World War. No other European country was as thoughtful of our generosity. They were pre-occupied in collecting all the money from our national treasury to think of our 2,000,000 soldiers over there saving them from annihilation.

The King intimated in his Armistice speech that "blood is thicker than water" that we speak the same language, that our laws are derived from the same source, that we are cousins. The population of the entire world is a fraction under 2,000,000,000 and this little island of Great Britain is mistress of one-fourth of the vast multitude. May the sun never shine on the day that witnesses the clipping of the wings of that glorious bird of freedom, the American Eagle, or in overwhelming numbers still the roar of the British lion.
George Davis Duty Selemcan.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 26.

The Golden Text was "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth" (Isaiah 25:1).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God" (Mark 10:13-14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus loved little children because of their freedom from wrong and their receptiveness of right. While age is halting between two opinions or battling with false beliefs, youth makes easy and rapid strides towards Truth" (p. 236).

MRS. PATTERSON TO ENTERTAIN BETHEL CLUB

The Bethel Home Demonstration Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Patterson on Tuesday, February 4, at 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. Harold Yorkdale, president, announces that year books will be presented at this meeting.

The topic for study at this meeting is Rug Making; Mrs. Eva Fairbanks will demonstrate the making of hooked rugs and Mrs. Egbert Thompson will demonstrate the making of plaited rugs.

Following the demonstration there will be a social hour.
All members are urged to be present.

WEIR-DUNN

The marriage of Miss Mary Mosely Dunn and Mr. Robert Weir-Mitchell Weir was solemnized in St. John's Episcopal Church in Washington, Saturday afternoon, January 18.

The bride was dressed in navy blue lace and wore a corsage of tea roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Elizabeth Clark, the bride's only attendant, wore grey crepe with a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. J. Davies was best man. Dr. Oliver Hart, rector of the church, officiated. Relatives of the two families and a small group of friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. H. R. Dunn, of Front Royal, Va., is a graduate of Warren County High School and Commercial School and has a position with a law firm in Washington.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell Weir of Manassas and nephew of the late Dr. Weir Mitchell, the nerve specialist.

Mr. Weir is a graduate of William and Mary College and is assistant manager of the Old Dominion Loan Corporation of Alexandria.

The young couple will make their home in Washington.—Warren Sentinel.

NO MYSTERY HERE

THE above gauntleted, goggled, and apron-clad individual is not the "Masked Marvel." He's the bottle breaker at New York's famous Ritz-Carlton and he is about to save Uncle Sam fifty cents in liquor revenue by smashing an empty whiskey bottle with this ingenious bottle-breaking machine so that it will not fall into the hands of the wily bootlegger, who is using every conceivable device to secure bottles for his illicit traffic. Although there is little likelihood the glass will fly out of this machine, Vincent Eberhardt, assistant to the wine steward, takes the added precaution of the above uniform.

SCIENCE SAYS "NO"

It is a scornful negative with which science replies to a great many of our favorite superstitions and beliefs. Next Sunday, for instance, we shall be looking for the groundhog's shadow as an evidence of Winter's determination to endure.

It doesn't mean a thing, according to William Bridges, who writes illuminatingly on groundhogs, elephants and mice, ostriches and sand in "This Week" in The Star next Sunday, February 2.

SOUR STOMACH—GAS?

money I spent on it. I was able to return to my work. I slept like a top at night and had a fine appetite. Buy now!

Russell Charles Stalaker of 46 Kelly Addition, Charleston, W. Va., says: "Indigestion and sour stomach made me mighty uncomfortable. After eating I belched gas. I had lost many pounds in weight and never wanted to eat. I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and don't begrudge the money I spent on it. I was able to return to my work. I slept like a top at night and had a fine appetite. Buy now!"

A PRICELESS ICE-BOX

WHEN Secretary Seward bought Alaska from Russia, scoters called it his "$7,000,000 ice box." Today there are more than a hundred salmon canneries scattered along its rugged coast, and the value of this delectable fish caught and canned there each year is from three to five times as much as Alaska's purchase price.

But it is not with Secretary Seward's wisdom that we are concerned today, but with the wisdom of serving this "Alaskan gold" as often as possible. Not only is it one of the cheapest of all foods, but one of the most nourishing. In fact, it is called "Alaskan gold" not because of the wealth it brings, but because it is one of the richest foods in health-giving qualities. Take vitamin D, "the sunshine vitamin." Canned salmon is full of it. The element that helps to prevent goiter is iodine. Canned salmon contains plenty of that, too.

Take Your Choice

There are three varieties of red salmon and two lighter colored salmon. One variety of red is called Chinook, or King; a second Red, Blueback or Sockeye; and a third Medium Red, or Coho. The two varieties of lighter colored salmon are known as Pink, or Chum. All five are flavorful and rich in food value, but the pink salmon which cost a little less are the best buy for cooked dishes and the red find favor for festive dishes like salads.

And what a variety of dishes one can make with this fish — casseroles, creamed dishes, cutlets, hash, loafs, molds, omelets, puddings, puffs, rameskins, rarebits, rolls, salads, sandwiches,

V. P. S. OFFICIAL DIES AT HOME

One of the State's Prominent Citizens.

The death of Hon. Floyd King, better known as Senator, at his Alexandria home last week, removes from public life in this State one of the most vigorous and colorful figures among the younger Virginians.

His service as State Senator from 1908 to 1912 was perhaps the very beginning of his career. A native of the Capital City, he graduated from Washington and Lee University in the last class of the old century.

Very shortly after that he married Miss Sadie Johnson, of Louisa, and from that union survive the following children: Mrs. W. G. Matthews, of Clifton Forge; Miss Sarah King, Miss Elizabeth King, Mr. Winston King and William, all of whom reside at their home here; Floyd, Jr., of Newport News, and George, of Brems Bluff.

He was perhaps best known in this area as one of the outstanding figures in the Virginia Public Service Company, of which he was at one time president and a director at the time of his death.

By his service to the Democratic Party he was given both national and international prominence, all of which he justly earned.

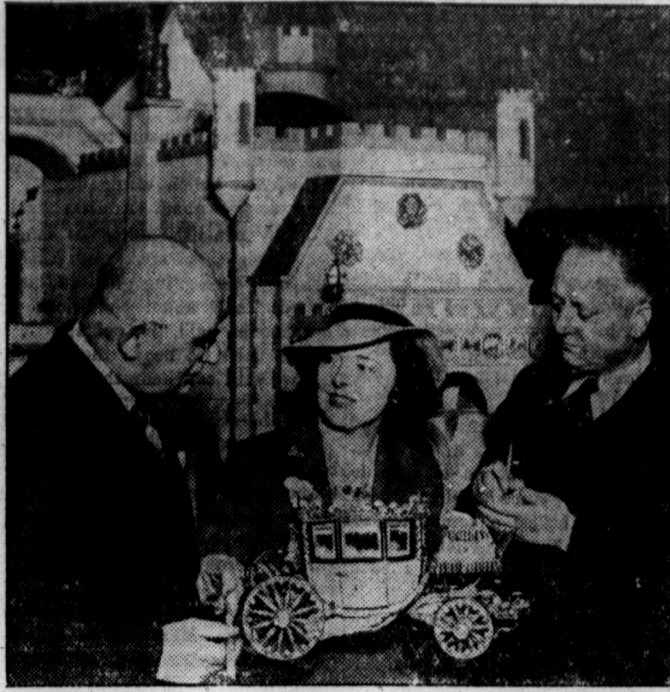

Although pressed by business affairs, Mr. King offered his services to worthy civic enterprises in any section of the state. He was a forceful speaker, distinguished in manner and bearing and much sought as an orator on important occasions. He was loved and admired for his genial manner and engaging personality.

Mr. King was a deacon of the Baptist Church in Clifton Forge and Alexandria, Va. For 25 years he taught one of the largest Men's Bible Classes in western Virginia. He was a member of the Westmoreland Club of Richmond, and of the University Club of Washington, D. C. He also was a trustee of Fork Union Military Academy, a former trustee of the State Teachers College, Harrisonburg, Va., and a member of the Virginia Executive Committee of the Y. M. C. A. In his long years of service to the state, he served as head and member of many civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations.

This paper extends heartiest sympathy to his bereaved widow and children.

Skill of Royal Coach Builder Lent to Aid Crippled Children

"TRULY A FAIRY COACH!"

This is the way Colleen Moore, motion picture actress, characterized the Napoleonic model that has served as the project of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild competitions since 1930 when officials of the General Motors-sponsored educational foundation offered to build a replica of it to fit her famous doll house, a veritable fairy palace valued at nearly $500,000, which is now on tour of the country for the benefit of the nation's crippled children. She is shown here discussing the plan with Walter Leuschner (left), formerly the head of a family-owned concern that began building state carriages for European monarchs during the reign of Frederick Wilhelm III of Prussia and designer of the coach that thousands of boys have reproduced for entry in the competitions, while Frank C. Riess, technical director of the Guild, makes notes.

PENDER

Mr. Sylvester Fox, who has been sick for some months, died Saturday night about 8 p.m. Funeral was preached in Pender Church by Rev. Welch Tuesday at 2 p.m., burial at Centreville.

Mrs. James Palmer is in Sibley Hospital suffering with ear trouble. Last report she was getting along very nicely.

The weather has been intensely cold for nearly a week but cold didn't prevent 47 from attending Sunday school at Pender Church and fifty out at services Sunday night.

Mrs. William Tinder and Mrs. W. Reeves were visitors at the Alders' last week.

Allene Adams is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Alder. Allene is only two and one-half years old.

Billy Cross, who has been feeling badly with a cold and sore throat, is now better and has returned to school after missing two days.

BURKE

On Sunday, January 19, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Goodwin confirmed a class of sixteen at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The Confederate State Chapter visited the Burke School on January 20 to mark the anniversary of the birth of two noted Americans, Robert Edward Lee and Thomas Jackson. Mrs. George C. White read a historical paper and Mrs. Albert Moon a very beautiful poem. The exercises were interesting and impressive.

Mr. Walter D. Moon died at his home on January 17 after a brief illness. He leaves a wide circle of friends and relatives who deeply regret his passing and mourn his loss.

Echoes of the interesting time enjoyed by those who attended the Jackson Day banquet at Herndon are still being heard. Among those who attended from this community were Mr. John T. Blincoe and his son Golden, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Bryce and Mrs. J. E. Staub.

Mrs. E. E. Clark and Miss Gwendolyn Clark were recent visitors to friends in this community.

The Burke School is sponsoring a bingo party on February 1. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the Parent-Teacher Association.

HOW BUSINESS MOGUL GOES COLLEGIATE SHOWN "IN OLD MAN RHYTHM"

Fatherly devotion is slyly and humorously treated in "Old Man Rhythm," modern film musical, "Old Man Rhythm."

Old man Roberts has sent his son to college. When a seductive red-headed campus temptress begins to chase his son with an eye to the Roberts fortune, however, this particular father displays his devotion in hilarious and astonishing action. He doesn't object to Johnny Roberts, Jr., being in love. But his son insists upon treating the "right girl" as a sister, even though she is deeply in love with him.

Sedate business man Roberts abandons his office and becomes a gay—if middle-aged—frosch at Fairfield College. There's just where he can meddle most successfully in his son's misguided romance.

The delightfully ridiculous escapades of old man Roberts and the ardent romancing of his son are timed to the rhythm of six lively melodies to provide quick-tempo entertainment.

"Old Man Rhythm" marks the return of Charles (Buddy) Rogers to the screen. Also in the cast are Barbara Kent, Grace Bradley, George Barbier, Dave Chasen, Betty Grable, and a score of youthful entertainers from the radio, stage, vaudeville and night-clubs.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children receive the daily Bible education, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

GOD OUR ROCK: He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment; a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He.—Deuteronomy 32:4.

LAST YEAR'S BIG MAN

There will be liberal agreement with Time Magazine's selection of Haile Selassie as the foremost world figure for last year. The Ethiopian emperor has steadily grown in stature with the progress of the war, showing intelligence, patriotism, courage and diplomacy that compel admiration in every country, perhaps, except Italy.

His greatest service to his country is the skill with which he has presented its cause to civilized mankind. He has cut through all shams, made Mussolini's lofty professions, ridiculous, matched his wits with the statesmen of the big powers and even on occasion made the League of Nations look like a schoolboy's debating society.

Ethiopia is really a barbarous, or at least a barbaric land. But it is plain that the Amharic tribe, constituting the ruling race in Ethiopia, to which the royal family belongs, calls for a different rating. It has little connection with the characteristic African races, being Semitic in blood, language and tradition. Selassie himself shows the race at its best.

Another thing that makes this dusky emperor appeal so strongly to the civilized world, in spite of his environment, is that he represents, perhaps more than any other living ruler, a sort of antique royalty. It stirs the imagination to find such a figure left in the world, quaint, ceremonious, dignified, cultured and absolute.

There is living drama in such a character. Shakespeare would have liked him. Hannibal, the brave African Semite of antiquity who carried his war into Italy, would salute him. Solomon, his reputed ancestor, while dismissing such genealogy, might admit a mental kinship.—Cumberland Times.

A CORRECTION

In the account of the January meeting of the Bethlehem Housekeeper's Club last week we wish to state that Mrs. R. L. Byrd was assistant hostess instead of Mrs. R. L. Lloyd.

Dear Journal:

You published a poem by a gentleman who calls himself "A Prince William Farmer." Maybe he knows poetry and maybe he doesn't. Does he know politics?

Any evening after supper you may hear rich wisdom in Ed Conner's store on Center street and there's no excuse for ignorance along these lines. I tried to write poetry but sort of failed. I said, "There's handsome Ed, of gladsome spread, Charlie Lynn with pessimistic grin, Billie Leachman with glaring 'eye,' but why go on?"

The gist of what I wanted to get at is this: We're Democrats or we ain't. If the President don't do to suit us down here in Prince William, why don't we appoint Ed a committee to go tell him so? His friend Harry Byrd will doubtless give him a note of introduction.

I was at the Jackson banquet. We all had a good time and raised our quota for the National Committee for the first time. Mr. Wharton and Judge Brown deserve much praise. I'm suggesting that those of us who are exasperated like the eloquent Colonel Bob, go to the Big Chief in Washington and find out what he will do to set himself right before we set up a wall.

Remember the mess we were in in March 1933!

PRINCE WILLIAMITE.

THE JACKSON DAY DINNER

At the Jackson Day Dinner we had a big turn-out.

We all enjoyed the dinner but those who got the gout.

Judge Brown was the man who so nicely did preside.

And all the great speakers were seated by his side.

The Judge bowed and smiled in his pious kind of way;

He's not used to introducing great speakers every day.

The first to speak was Thomas Lion, a loyal man and true;

He is ever optimistic when all the rest are blue.

Tom's a good old Democrat; his hat's always in the ring,

And when you are getting licked he'll say "Sing, boy, sing."

Bob Hutchison, with his high-falutin' talk and Supreme Court rules,

Was hard to understand by the folks from lower schools.

He made a brilliant talk and had plenty to say;

You must hand it to Bob, he's an orator of the day.

Then came Howard Smith of great fame and note;

Has a second Andrew Jackson by popular vote.

He backs the administration for causes just and sound,

But for bonus bills and other things he's not always bound.

(We had other speakers who wanted to have their say,

But we couldn't use Republican speakers on Andrew Jackson's day.)

There was Hawes Davies, Boatwright and Fred Hynson too,

But we didn't think any of this long-winded bunch would do.

They forgot about Andrew Jackson the speakers talked so long,

But when they spoke of Roosevelt they were going good and strong.

We all know about conditions when Hoover held the reins;

It was, then we heard the music and we still can hear the strains.

HOLD REGULAR MEETING

The Manassas Kiwanis Club celebrated founders week last Friday night at its regular meeting in a talk by Mr. Robert Hutchison. The secretary made a report on work of the various committees as outlined by the respective chairmen at the board meeting prior to the regular meeting of the club. More of these committees will report in the near future.

LIVE QUESTIONS FOR FARM MEETINGS

During the past week, groups of farmers have been meeting over the county to discuss and answer questions in connection with the county agricultural planning project. Those that have been held and those yet to be held are open to everyone who wishes to join in them. At these meetings, no speeches are made but statistics are used and views and opinions exchanged.

Future meetings by these discussion groups will take up these and other questions: Do Farmers Want the Federal Government to Help Them Deal with Farm Problems? Do Farmers Want High Tariffs on Farm Products? On Industrial Products? Will Crop Adjustment Be Necessary or Desirable in Years to Come? Farm Prices—How are They Made? The Farmer and the Consumer of Farm Products—What, if any, are Their Responsibilities to One Another? Should American Agriculture Seek Recovery of the World Markets or Arrange to Live at Home?

(QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING)

"What obligations do I have to my Bank?"

Your bank assumes important obligations when it accepts your money for deposit. In return it asks from you:

—Your confidence—for without the confidence of depositors no bank can operate successfully.

—Your support of its policy of making only sound loans of your money and that of other depositors.

—Your understanding and endorsement of the fundamental banking principle that in order to give you and the community a sound, well managed bank it must avoid operating losses in conducting its accounts. It does this through moderate service charges where circumstances require.

A bank is primarily a community enterprise. While good management and good service are essential it cannot operate successfully without the confidence and aid of its depositors.

NATIONAL BANK OF MANASSAS

The following meetings are scheduled for the coming week:

Nokesville High School, Saturday, Feb. 1, 1:30 p.m.

Manassas Post Office, Saturday, Feb. 1, 1:30 p.m.

Bethel, G. C. Russell's Store, Saturday, Feb. 1, 7:30 p.m.

Independent Hill, Monday, February 3, 7:30 p.m.

Catharpin, Tuesday, February 4, 7:00 p.m.

Haymarket, Wednesday, February 5, 7:30 p.m.

CARD PARTY BIG SUCCESS

The card party sponsored by the Catholic Woman's Club last evening was eminently successful, and much enjoyed by the large crowd in attendance.

The home of Mrs. L. E. Pope, where the party was held, was attractively decorated with beautiful flowers which were donated by the ladies of the club.

There were twenty-one tables of cards and a prize given to each table. The most outstanding prizes given during the evening were four lovely door prizes, consisting of three large hams and one large sack of flour. These were won by Mrs. H. E. Pickeral, Miss Mary Jamison of Alexandria, Mrs. E. L. Lomas and Harry Blakemore.

This is one of the largest affairs sponsored by the Catholic Woman's Club during the year, and is always quite a success.

GOVERNMENT TO SEEK TO

RECOVER REFUNDED TAXES

Officials of the Department of Agriculture said this week an attempt soon will be made to recover AAA taxes refunded to processors.

They said the department probably would proceed along one of two lines
—ask Congress to enact a retroactive tax or an excess profits levy.

The second measure would aim at regaining as "excess profits" the $180,000,000 in processing taxes refunded under the so-called "rice millers" decision.

A NOVEL OF THE OLD SOUTH

By H. J. Eckenrode

The story of Buck Musgrave, Southern gentleman, who devoted himself, before the Civil War, to the serious pursuits of life, particularly horse-racing, cock-fighting and hard drinking. The searing changes which the War brought to this son of the Old South, and his changed outlook in the Reconstruction period are presented with dramatic force.

KATHARINE HEPBURN
ROUTS SNOBBERY IN
"ALICE ADAMS" ROLE

Pretense and deception weave a tangled web in "Alice Adams," which stars Katharine Hepburn in the title role.

Based on the Booth Tarkington novel which won the Pulitzer Prize for 1922, the story is an unvarnished picture of the struggles and heartaches which a girl endures in her fight for love and social recognition in a small Midwestern town.

Not since Miss Hepburn won the Academy Award with her portrayal of the stage-struck girl in "Morning Glory" has she had a role which gave her such opportunities for unusual characterization, sensitiveness and understanding.

In the story, Alice Adams battles snobbery and social ostracism with pretense and deceit, only to find that these weapons are useless. It is only when she drops her mask of make-believe and turns the light of truth upon her enemies that she wins the love and recognition which she craves. Her faith and courage and her struggle upward to ultimate triumph make for a great and entertaining picture.

SCHOOL COMPLETED
(Published as a paid advertisement)

And so Gainesville District School is completed! And the surrounding residents would like to hear about it. Is it grand indeed! So grand, I hear, that the pupils must remove their shoes before entering the auditorium. Of course, this inconvenience will be obviated in the warm months of the year as the children can come barefoot, and thereby dispense with the long row of little shoes for teachers to tumble over.

The high school pupils are naturally disappointed because of their not having access to the new school, but you see it was only intended to be a kindergarten... the seats installed for six-year-olds, and blackboards the proper height for that age. I expect, to be a little ludicrous, we might turn to the toilets to find all the seats, except two, a convenient height for six to eight years.

When an authority was approached on the advisability of having the high school enjoy the new building, he said it would be altogether too much trouble to have all those seats returned for larger ones. O, well, in two or three years, when farmers are sufficiently propped by the government, they can easily add the high school.

The building at present is a symbol of injustice to tax payers because of the fact that, under existing arrangements, pupils beyond the fourth grade will never enter the new school. Therefore, they still have seven long years in the old school building that was so emphatically condemned. How about it?

H. CARPENTER TEMPLETON MAN STILL RANKS AS
"FOREST ENEMY NO. 1"

Man still ranks as "Forest Enemy No. 1." More than half the fires in national forests this year, reports the Forest Service, were caused by man. The number of these fires—as winter rains and snows ended dangerous fire weather conditions in all but a few sections of the country—was 5,777, as compared to 5,282 last year, and to an annual average of 4,691 over the 1931-34 period.

These fires were started by brush burners, by residents on land newly acquired by the Forest Service—many of whom still believe that an annual "burning-over" is good for the woods—and by campers, hunters, recreationists and tourists who have made greater use of national forest facilities this year than ever before.

How Calotabs Help Nature
To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

CATHARPIN

The first of the projected Discussion and Planning meetings for this section was held on Tuesday night, Jan. 21, with a very representative attendance considering the first time up and the very cold weather. County Agent Cox exhibited a number of charts and graphs showing trends in both animal and grain production together with many other things of interest to the farmer. The discussions were so interesting and helpful that meetings will be held every Tuesday night until further notice. In addition to the male attendants the ladies are invited to accompany their husbands.

The country is in such a wild state of restlessness and uncertainty in regard to so many things that the Agricultural Department has appealed to the people for their individual opinions of things which immediately concern them. This being the case, of course, they want to hear from Catharpin; so she is doing her level best to help Mr. Wallace out.

The questions upon which advice is sought are submitted by the Agricultural Department. The question for Tuesday night of this week was "Do Farmers Want the Federal Government to Help Them Deal with Farm Problems?" This question, no doubt, will be threshed out to a finish, but this letter having to "go to press" before the meeting is held, precludes a report this week; so the Government and this old, anxious world will have to bide time as best they can until Catharpin can tell them just what to do.

Miss Sallie McIntosh, who was removed to the Alexandria hospital last week, was found to be suffering from a fractured hip bone as the result of a fall some weeks ago. Her injury will necessitate a stay of a number of weeks in the hospital before being able to return home.

Mr. L. L. Lynn, our accommodating miller at Catharpin, has been on the sick list for several weeks suffering from a severe cold.

Messrs. L. J. McIntosh and Palmer Smith motored to Alexandria on Sunday last and visited their aunt, Miss Sallie McIntosh, who is a patient in the hospital of that city. They found her in good spirits and doing as well as could be expected.

The big event of the week on the Catharpin Stock Exchange was the great demand for Rosin Preferred. Due to the advent of so many stringed instruments taking up their abode in this section since the organization of the school orchestra at Haymarket, the demand for this particular commodity of commerce rose so rapidly and unexpectedly that the market was wholly unable to cope with the emergency. Not an ounce nor even a little lump could be found in any of the great Marts of Trade. Even households were called upon for aid, but none was forthcoming; so the fiddles are still screeching and squeaking pending the arrival of a supply of this very necessary companion of the bow.

Well, this is just another little incident or "straw" showing how things have changed. This column remembers, and perhaps some of you may also, when rosin was as much of a household necessity as sugar, salt and pepper since it was the "sealing wax" for all fruit jars and the forerunner of the self sealers as we know them today. At one time it was as serious a matter to be out of rosin as any of the condiments named, especially at preserving time. So now that it has found a new use, the Commercial Marts of Upper Prince William will have to "stock up" on this very important but long forgotten item of commerce which has so suddenly found a place for itself in this modern, progressive, up-to-date community.

Well, the talk all along the line as we go the press this morning is about the sudden cold snap after all had thought they were on the way to warmer weather. Never in our experience have we noted so vividly just how much interest people have in the Weather Bureau forecasts as during this "spell" of zero temperatures, and how they all talk about "what the radio says" along the same line. This interest, no doubt, is influenced by the fact that the school bus passes along on schedule time so that the "kiddies" must be ready regardless of the fact that some mornings when it is rainy and cold we should much prefer "tarrying yet a little while upon our downy pillows." Many jokes are passed, oft times, about our Weather Bureau, but we all like to read that upper North East corner of our dailies just to see what they have to say about it anyway.

There are two things that are most valuable in keeping us all on the move and on time—the school bus and Roland's milk truck. They invariably break in on us when least expected and remind us that we are so many "degrees" late, so we immediately get a hustle on to catch up. Nor are these the only happenings that go to enable us to call it a day. Just about the noon hour that old, faithful mail car comes along to deliver our papers that we may see just how near the Weather man and the radio can tell the truth, and to see just what the Press is doing with Edith Maxwell; and right here may we pause long enough to say that our "Mail girls," and in rough weather, our "Mail" man, have never missed a single delivery no matter what the weather man may have in store for them—a record certainly hard to beat. So, by and large, no matter what the weather, hot, cold, wet or dry, we have the milk truck and the bus to keep us awake, and the mail delivery to keep us informed as to the news of the day; so what more do we need until garden making?

SIGNED FOR ENTIRE
"OUR GANG" DIRECTOR
HOOT GIBSON SERIES

If patience is a virtue, Robert McGowan, who directed Hoot Gibson in "Frontier Justice," which opens next Friday, Feb. 7, at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas, deserves a halo.

Before McGowan joined Diversion Pictures, which is producing the present series of Hoot Gibson westerns, he directed more than 200 "Our Gang" Comedies.

"It's often been said that actors are just children," declared McGowan, but it isn't true that children are actors—at least, it's harder to make them do what you want before the camera than it is to get experienced grown-ups.

"In producing the 'Our Gang' series, we often spent a whole morning endeavoring to get one scene. The kids who played in this series are the best schooled troupers in Hollywood for their ages, but nevertheless it takes a tremendous amount of patience to get them to perform sometimes."

McGowan was chosen by Walter Futter, head of Diversion Pictures, to direct the present Hoot Gibson series, because of his long experience in developing rapid action in directing pictures. Although the "Our Gang" comedies took unusual patience to make, when they appeared on the screen, they moved with a speedy tempo—which is the essential, in making westerns, according to Futter.

WATERFALL

Most too cold to send out any news. Anyway there "ain't any." Maybe we haven't gotten far enough away from the fire to find out. But we do want to continue last week's remarks which were not finished because the post man was coming, about the one-room schools of our childhood. For many years it seems the teachers were all men, who were considered to be highly educated and efficient. But the writer remembers no grades. A child would be asked what reader he was in. When they could proudly answer, history, they were in the graduating class. A few could send their children to some distant town to higher schools, many could not, but these pupils could go back and review all the higher studies for as many years as they wished, which was often done. If lovely little ladies of today had then been the vogue as teachers, Dads wouldn't have gotten much winter's work done on the farm and how could one little girl have managed a dozen or more husky lovers. Will also add here, that salaries then would seem a pittance today. We remember spending a night at our teacher's home. He was making out his monthly report. His average was twenty-seven, instead of the required thirty. He seemed distressed, because his salary of twenty-five dollars would receive a cut for that month. According to the way they lived, that meant as much as one hundred today.

By and by we progressed with the times, until we thought we had all that was necessary in the way of an up-to-date two-room graded school. We do not envy those who get the breaks. But a school be it large or small is the life of any community and with apologies to Dickens, take the school out and its "deader than a door nail." That's what has happened to us. While we realize the move was best for all concerned, excepting the social side of the community, we died hard.

With the starting of the home economics class things have brightened up a bit. These classes were held at the little community building, supervised by Mrs. Morton, to whom much credit is due, for her untiring efforts in behalf of the underprivileged. Besides the great interest she manifested in the work, she sponsored many entertainments, even Christmas trees with a generous treat for the children.

The economics class has been discontinued for some time, and the building is now used for relief work, which is more remunerative.

Mr. Herman Smith has returned home after spending some time with his sister, Mrs. Charles Barnes, in Washington.

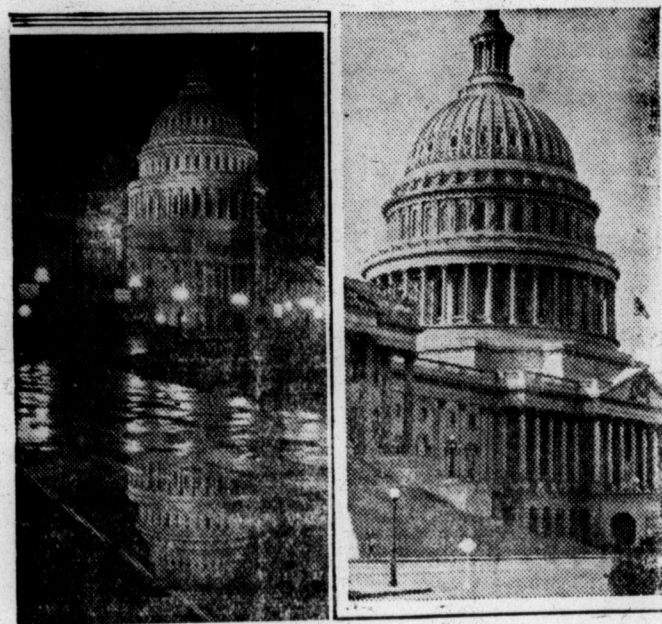

Philip Thornhill is missing school these days owing to an attack of laryngitis. Too cold anyway for little folks to go and come so far.

One thing the weather is doing in our favor, we are having time to read the good books we got for Christmas. Who said, we'd take the time anyway?

A word more, just to Maggie, when taking your daily siesta, and waving your palm leaf, think of the nice cool three-foot, icicles hanging from our eaves.

News has just come in that Mrs. R. R. Smith lost all her gorgeous window of flowers last night. They have been relegated to the cellar with the hope that some might resurrect in the spring. Glad to say we got by with one frozen waterpipe in the kitchen. We sure can sympathize with Sam McGee.

Entering the discussion over restoration of salary cuts to state employees, Senator Aubrey Weaver, of Front Royal, said he felt quite confident that state employees would get the full ten percent restoration under the governor's recommendations.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
STUDIES IN CONTRAST

Day and Night.

YOU photograph Junior in his sailor suit, his cowboy suit, dressed for a party and in overalls. You snap Uncle Henry digging in the garden and standing by the car, immaculately garbed to go somewhere. You take a picture of "Sis" in her bathing suit at the seashore and again in her costume for winter sports. You see the same face, but different togs, different activities. These are contrasts which you achieve almost unwittingly with your human subjects, but did it ever occur to you to try for such contrasts with your scenic views?

There is no end of opportunities which nature offers for pictorial studies in contrast. By returning to old scenes at different times and photographing them in the different robes in which they are clothed by the climatic changes of the seasons you will obtain some remarkably different pictures and at length have in your snapshot album a record of entrancing interest. Often such pictorial contrasts are progressive gems of Mother Nature's moods. And in taking pictures at different seasons and under different conditions we enlarge our repertoire of camera tricks—or rather it would be best to say, widen our field of camera knowledge, for really good pictures are rarely the result of tricks.

Perhaps the window from the downtown office exposes a view of a busy city street. Not very inspiring? Well, perhaps not in its everyday dress but haven't you admired its shimmering beauty on a rainy day when taxi tops, umbrellas, raincoats and asphalt were glistening in the rain? After dark offers other possibilities with the countless electric signs holding aloft their messages, or when some public building or monument is illumined by floodlights. Rain, snow, sleet—nature's changing moods often transform the drab and colorless into scenes of great charm. Such a simple thing as water glistening in the ruts of a country road may make the difference between a routine and an interesting picture of that same road. A picturesque bridge over a park lake may become much more appealing if pictorial comparison of this object is drawn in a different season. A rock-bound coast with the sea calm or in stormy mood reveals, in your album, the power that is at Neptune's command.

Consider the artistic possibilities embodied in a group of evergreens as they look in winter and again in summer; in flower-dotted meadows contrasted with the same scene in winter dress, or the beauty of a thundering waterfall and when muted with scintillating ice.

Look over your album. Pick out those prints which you believe would make good comparison and when the proper season arrives visit that familiar scene and photograph it a second time. You'll be surprised at the opportunities and the results. And don't forget, now is the time to picture the lovely contrasts that winter makes.

ry on to the extent which she had. The nursing activities committee gave a splendid report. Mrs. J. P. Lyon, chairman of this committee, spoke of plans being worked out for a series of meetings to be held in the county, as soon as weather and road conditions improve. Miss Sabina Neel, county nurse, in her report gave a most comprehensive and illuminating report of the work done by the nurses during the eight years the nursing service has been established. This narrative report was one of which the nursing service is justly proud, and makes one wonder what the county would do without this very effective and efficient service.

During the year classes in swimming and first-aid and life-saving have been conducted and the chapter plans to enlarge on this service also. A class of 39 persons was recently graduated and have received certificates according to an announcement of the chapter chairman, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd.

Following committee reports, those present were privileged to hear the address of Mrs. Dailey, nursing field representative of the National Red Cross. She spoke of the problems facing the chapters and gave some helpful suggestions for making the work done by local chapter more effective and better known.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Manassas; first vice-chairman, Rev. A. S. Gibson, Manassas; second vice-chairman, Miss Loretta McGill, Haymarket; secretary, Mrs. E. C. Spittler, Nokesville; treasurer, O. D. Waters, Manassas.

The following were elected members of the executive committee, to serve one year: Gainesville district, Mrs. C. B. Allen and Mrs. O. M. Douglas; Brentsville district, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd and Rev. J. Royal Cooke; Manassas district, Mr. G. R. Ratcliffe and Mrs. E. H. Marsteller (to succeed Mr. Eli Swavely); Coles district, W. Y. Elliott, Mr. R. B. Linton; Dumfries, Mrs. Janie Abel, Mr. H. O. Russell; Occoquan, Mrs. E. K. Garner, Mrs. Helen B. Janney.

The chapter takes this opportunity to express appreciation to all who worked so earnestly in making the 1935 roll call a success and asks the continued interest and support of all. A list of the workers in the Red Cross Roll Call drive and the number of subscribers each secured, by districts:

Brentsville — Mrs. T. E. H. Dickens, 9; Mrs. J. W. Ellis, 11; Rev. J. Royall Cooke, 4; Mrs. Benj. Brown, Jr., 5; Mrs. E. C. Spittler, 12. Total, 41.

Dumfries — Mrs. H. O. Russell, 33; Mrs. Janie Abel, 24; Mrs. F. Persons and Mrs. L. Lieberman, 39; Mrs. Ethel V. Anderson, 3. Total, 99.

Gainesville — Mrs. O. M. Douglas, 6; Mrs. Esther D. Terrill, 11. Total, 17.

Manassas — Miss Rose Ratcliffe, 26; Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, 14; Mrs. O. R. Hersch, 10; Miss Sally E. Lewis, 15; Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, 20; Mrs. Margaret Lewis, 12; Mrs. Stewart Pattie, 13; Mrs. M. L. Delaney, 22; Mrs. Guy Allen, 16; Mrs. J. L. Bushong, 8; Mrs. F. R. Hynson, 26. Total, 182.

Occoquan — Mrs. Helen B. Janney, 27; Mrs. Wallace Dawson, 18; Mrs. Janet R. Murphy, 3. Total, 48.

Reported to the chairman, 14; grand total, 401.

Several workers have not yet made complete reports so that the total will be slightly greater. The National Red Cross set a quota of four hundred memberships for Prince William County and it is a matter of great satisfaction that we have been able to reach that goal.

ENGLISH PIANIST AT CAPITOL SYMPHONY

This week-end brings to Washington two outstanding concerts in which distinguished artists will assist the National Symphony Orchestra in presenting music of the great composer, Johannes Brahms.

Symphonic and chamber music works of this master will have a place on the programs which the orchestra association has arranged as a special feature of its current season. With Myra Hess, the renowned English pianist, as soloist, the orchestra, conducted by Hans Kindler, will appear in the first of these concerts at 4 p.m. Sunday, February 2, in Constitution Hall.

The second concert, which will be at 8:30 p.m. Monday, February 3, in Memorial Continental Hall, adjacent to Constitution Hall, will be made up entirely of Brahms chamber music. The artists will be Miss Hess, pianist; Hans Kindler, cellist; George Wargo, violinist, and the musical art quartet.

Miss Hess is preeminent among woman pianists. Not only is her talent widely acclaimed, but her contribution to her art has also been recognized. King George V just before his death, made her a commander of the British Empire for her services in music. She has appeared in Washington several times. This time she comes to play one of the greatest works for piano and orchestra, the Brahms Concerto in B Flat Major.

Besides this feature the Sunday afternoon program will also include the Symphony No. 2 in D Major, and the Brahms "Tragic" Overture.

The opportunity to hear Hans Kindler as cellist on the Monday night program, is one which has been denied Washington music lovers for several years. Not since becoming conductor of the National Symphony has this artist, proclaimed one of the world's greatest cello virtuosos, played publicly in the Nation's Capital. Only rarely has he found time to give cello concerts at all.

He will play in the Sextet No. 2 in G Major, and in the Trio No. 3 in C Minor.

The musical art quartet No. 2 in A minor—now occupies a prominent position among string ensembles of the country. The four artists in the group—Sascha Jacobsen, first violinist; Paul Bernard, second violinist; Marie Roemaet-Rosanoff, cellist; and Louis Kievman, violinist—joined forces eight years ago. Since that time they have appeared regularly in principal cities through the United States.

WILL COMB WINCHESTER AREA FOR HISTORIC LORE

Field workers started a historical survey of Winchester and Frederick County, which is expected to engage their attention for some weeks. It is a WPA project, and history teachers and high school students have been asked to help those who are combing the area for authentic information about the history of the city and county.

Electricity

Electricity is as fine a thing
For human beings today.
Electricity, my, that's a king.
It lights up the house and our way.

Electricity lights the towns and streets,
It makes the motors run.
Very quickly it will heat.
To me it is hard to beat.

Electricity

Benjamin Franklin stood in the door,
Of an old shack and listened to the thunder roar,
He saw from a cloud the lightning flash,
And the key on the kitestring gave dash.

Then more flashes came from the key,
And then he wondered what it could be,
He touched the key and there found
That electricity had come all the way down.

Mindful of the value of appropriate music as a means of lending solace and dignity to the last rites, we have made every provision for this impressive feature of our service. Proper Study Light Needed for Child's Eye Safety

At left is shown the type of lighting under which many students strain their eyes and risk their health. At right is a lamp which has been scientifically approved for reading and study.

By Jean Prentice

FEW parents tolerate willful neglect of their children's home work. But how many parents take pains to provide the best study conditions for those same children? The answer is, comparatively few. Perhaps that is one reason why more than one-fourth of our young people suffer from defective vision.

Bad Conditions to Be Avoided

It is really asking too much of a child to expect satisfactory progress in school when the seeing conditions under which he or she studies are such as to cause eyestrain and nervous fatigue. Yet homes throughout the country afford nothing better than squat little table lamps, exposed lamp bulbs, or far less light than is absolutely necessary for good vision.

Shadows Make Vision Difficult

The illustration at upper left typifies the abuse to which the eyes of students are subjected in the vast majority of homes. The lamp is a common type. It fails to provide light sufficient in quantity for reading, writing, or studying. The shade is so designed that most of the light is directed beneath it, with very little falling on the copy book, where it is most needed. Sometimes this abuse is made worse by placing the lamp at the child's shadow, making vision even more difficult.

A lamp such as shown by the illustration at upper right provides from three to five times as much useful light as is given by an ordinary table desk lamp. Yet it uses only one 100-watt bulb.

Many Good Lamps Available

Designed by the Illuminating Engineering Society, and called the "I.E.S. Better Sight Lamp," its light is adequate for easy vision and eye comfort. A number of manufacturers make it, and stores everywhere offer it in a variety of styles and prices. The light given by this lamp is scientifically balanced and diffused, and there is no glare. Note that it is placed to the side opposite the writing hand, to prevent the casting of a shadow.

Most of our knowledge, and a good part of our success, comes to us through our eyes. By providing our children with the proper lighting for reading and study, we will be doing much to insure their welfare and happiness in later years.
