LADIES NIGHT AT KIWANIS

Large Crowd Enjoys Many Features.

Despite a heavy downpour which had set in in rather dismal fashion earlier in the evening, a large crowd of KIWANIS, members of their families and friends gathered at the high school last Friday evening to celebrate Ladies Night.

Chairman of the entertainment committee, F. R. Hynson, explained that the date had been set forward and that had cramped the style of the committee to some extent. Those present could not see that any deficiency had been created for the program was extremely good.

Immediately following a splendid supper which had been served by the ladies of the Bennett and High School Leagues, President Dick called on Ted Didlake to give a word of greeting to the guests which that worthy did in true cavalier style.

The club's sponsor, Mrs. Stuart Pattie, sang two solo numbers very sweetly, with Mrs. Beatrice Leachman at the piano.

Things had been going on behind the stage curtains for some time and now Frank Sigman explained the mystery. The youngsters from the Junior Class of Occoquan High whom he had with him as supper guests were to put on a pastoral scene of serio-comedy intent, dealing with seeming discontent in a farm home and how it was cured. It was mighty nicely done and the players deserved the hand they received after it was over.

Fred next called on Mrs. Eloise Trimmer to give a production with a few of her pupils. This included Fanelle Pickler, Nancy and Betty Parrish, Mary Mason Davis and Wilhelmna Lewis in "Rhythm in My Nursery Rhymes" and "Top Hat," and Lucy Morris and Shirley Hynson in a tap number. To say that the dancers gave a good exhibition is putting it briefly. The applause told better how it was received.

Carl Kinchee then sprang a surprise on the crowd by bringing out Brooke Johns, former Ziegfeld star, radio performer, and known to the theatre going public all over America. Brooke gave several delightful banjo numbers and also recited a recitation of a portion of the professional ratings of the club members.

Fred could not let the group disperse without some form of intellectual torture. The incidents might be a bit hard to describe but it is reported that the brainy winners were greatly embarrassed at the very unusual prizes, both of which were do- (See KIWANIS, back page)

BEAUTIFUL TEA FOR COLLEGE GIRLS

Mrs. Vallantyne Patterson entertained at a beautifully appointed tea Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 7 o'clock, given in honor of Misses Lucy Gibson of Converse College, Mary Lynch of Mt. Holyoke and Mary Cooke of Hollins College, who returned home last week for their spring vacation.

The color scheme was quite attractive in pastel shades with yellow predominating. Snap dragons, hydrangeas and special cut flowers were used for the decorations. The tea tables were graciously presided over by Mrs. Patterson assisted by Miss Margaret Lynch.

The guests included Miss Hope Wells of Boston, Mass., Maud Larkin, Frances Larkin, and Elizabeth Birkett of Fairfax, Mary Lynch, Mary Cooke, Lucy Gibson; Messrs. Billy Jamison, Paul Cooksey, Nelson Lynn, Robert Adamson, Bobby Jenkins, Charlie Bauserman, Cleveland Fisher, Lloyd Compton, Sinclair Boatwright, Kenneth Lyons, Noel Richie of Fairfax, and Warren Hynson. Other guests were Misses Eugenia Osbourn and Emily Johnson, Mesdames W. F. Cooke, A. Stuart Gibson, Chloe Hodge, Susie Humphreys, Fred Hynson, Mamie Lynch Delaney and Mrs. Patrick Lynch.

MANASSAS TO HAVE SEWING MACHINE CLINIC

M. M. Johns, agricultural engineering department, V. P. I., extension division, will hold a sewing machine clinic in the Assembly Room, Post Office building, Manassas, on Friday, April 10, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

A limited number of machines can be accepted for overhauling. Those who wish to enter machines should notify the home demonstration agent right away.

Mr. Johns will give a lecture at 11 o'clock on The Care of the Machine. The public is invited to attend.

The week of March 30 to April 3 is observed as Conservation Week in the schools of Virginia.

Conservation of trees and wild flowers, preservation of bird life, prevention of soil erosion and stream pollution are the topics brought to the attention of the pupils.

This program is sponsored by the Garden Club of America, the Garden Club of America, the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs and the Virginia State Federation of Women's Clubs, and has the endorsement of the State Board of Education.

FARMERS GET "REHAB" MONEY

Loans for New Crops Begin to Flow, County Supervisor Percival A. Lewis Says.

Rehabilitation loan activities of the Resettlement Administration, which have shown a marked increase each week since the first advances for spring plantings were made some three months ago, shot to new heights Tuesday when thirty-six (36) new loans were made for the month of March.

"These loans are being made for seed, fertilizer, livestock, equipment, and other supplies needed for making a crop, to farm families in Fairfax and Prince William Counties, deemed eligible for Rehabilitation-in-place," said Percival A. Lewis, Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor for these counties in making the above announcement.

Each farm family granted a Rehabilitation-in-place loan voluntarily agrees to follow approved farm and home management plans worked out by the aid of the County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisors in co-operation with the County Farm Agent. Plans for food and feed, including a garden, to meet the needs of the family are stipulated, as well as money crops, the supervisor said.

"We feel that every rehabilitation loan made opens the gate of opportunity to some stranded farmer, who, denied such credit, would be deprived of a chance to get on his feet again. However, we must be assured before advancing a loan that the family has suitable land, that sound farm plans are provided and that the loan and supervision extended will provide an opportunity for the family to keep off relief and reimburse the Government for the loan extended.

Responsibility for the selection of families is placed in the hands of voluntary County Advisory Committees, who have a practical knowledge of local conditions, and are better able than anyone else to make the selection. In passing upon the qualifications, not only need, but character and willingness to work are considered. Usually the Rehabilitation client has no tangible asset but if it is considered that he will spend well to supervision, he is accepted on the basis that the farm and home plan supervision, that can be given him, plus his willingness to work will justify his selection.

If they make good, Rehabilitation-in-place clients who are now tenants may become eligible for homes of their own, as worthy tenants are among those who will be considered for farmsteads under Rural Resettlement, another phase of the Resettlement Administration program.

BETHROTHAL ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland D. Neale of Bealeton, Fauquier County, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, to Mr. Allen W. Moger of Lexington, Va., son of Mrs. Martha E. and the late Mr. L. D. Moger. The wedding will take place this summer.

Miss Neale was graduated from Westhampton College in the University of Richmond in 1933. Since that time she has been teaching at Bennett School, Manassas. Mr. Moger, who has been assistant professor of history in Washington and Lee University for seven years, was graduated from Randolph-Macon College in Ashland in 1927, and has done graduate work at Johns Hopkins University and Columbia University. He also taught for one year at the Virginia Episcopal School.

GRAND JURY FOR APRIL TERM

The following have been chosen for special grand jury next week: B. W. Brunt, W. J. Green, Jr., C. G. Paris, John N. House, W. R. Free, Jr., E. R. Conner and Andrew S. Robertson.

THEY SAVE OUR HOMES

By Inna McGill

The people of Prince William have reason to be proud of the Manassas Fire Department and, mingled with this pride, is the gratitude cherished for the heroic work of its men.

Without monetary recompense, often at the risk of life, or health, in all weathers and at all hours night and day, these men respond to that terrifying call—"Fire!" Voluntarily they hasten forth to rescue a home and its treasures from destruction; to extinguish any fire within reach, and even, it may be, to save the lives of their fellowmen.

Their excellent service is not limited to property in the town. These men answer calls from all our rural districts and have answered several in the neighboring counties. Yet, in face of these facts, their department lacks the equipment it should have for calls in the country over muddy roads. For such they need the "Light Apparatus."

Let us secure this for them. Then—

We shall lighten their labor;
We shall lessen fire-hazards in Manassas when distant fires call the men from town, as the heavier apparatus will be left there.

We shall be procuring that which will aid the men who aid us when our country homes, churches, schools, etc., are threatened with destruction by fire.

The county is indebted to the town of Manassas for the purchase of the heavy apparatus now in use. The fire department equipped and maintained it for three years when it was turned over to the town fitted, practically, to combat any type of fire save those out in the country. Now every voter and resident tax-payer in the county must welcome this chance to furnish the volunteers of the Manassas Fire Department with the equipment they need.

Naturally, we look to the entire Board of Supervisors to sanction the purchase of the light-weight, fire-fighting apparatus, as all the supervisors, save one, reside in the country where fires are to be most dreaded. And each of them has a home to protect.

NOTE:

In the last published reference to the "Lighter Fire Apparatus" its cost was given as $2,500. That did not include the price of the hose; the suction hose pump and the booster tank. These furnish the means by which water can be obtained from wells, cisterns and brooks. With these necessary equipments the outfit will cost around $3,800. The hose alone (of which nearly 1,000 ft. are required) costs about $1.00 per foot. But, at most, this is a reasonable outlay as time allowance is granted on the payment, and in view of the purposes to which the apparatus will be devoted.

REP. WOODRUM TO CONDUCT QUIZ

Congressman To Answer Questions at Next Meeting of Young Democrats.

The town of Occoquan has extended an invitation to the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County, and to all residents of the county to be their guests next Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium. This is the first opportunity that the club has had this year to meet with the people of Occoquan and vicinity, and everyone is looking forward to an enthusiastic crowd and a very pleasant evening with their friends and acquaintances.

The outstanding event of the evening will be an address by Hon. Clifford A. Woodrum, Congressman from Roanoke, who holds the important position of Chairman of the Independent Offices Sub-committee of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives. For many years Congressman Woodrum has been regarded as one of the ablest speakers of the House, and his services are always in demand by the Democratic campaign committee. He is thoroughly conversant with the Roosevelt Administration, and his talk will be based on the activities and policies of the New Deal.

Congressman Woodrum has stated that he will welcome any questions that the audience might care to ask, and will endeavor to answer each and every one of them. It is hoped that everyone will come out to hear this excellent speaker at this meeting, as it is believed that it will not be possible to obtain his services again this year.

Hon. Frank P. Moncure, member of the Legislature, representing Prince William and Stafford Counties, is expected to address the meeting, and Hon. J. Reece Duncan, chairman of the 8th District Clubs, has accepted an invitation to make a short talk.

Good news is coming in from every direction about the success of the membership drive being conducted by the club. Already the membership has passed the 150 mark, and there is every indication that the quota of 300 which was originally set will be reached and passed within the next few weeks.

The club is anxious to have the public know that there is no admission fee of any kind, and they do not obligate themselves to join the club by attending these meetings. Of course the club is glad to sign up as active members anyone between the ages of 18 and 45, and as honorary members those over 45 years. The dues are 50 cents a year.

The ladies of the community will serve refreshments and a delightful program of music and entertainment is being planned.

Don't forget to pay your poll taxes before May 3, if you want to vote in the Primary and general election!

REPUBLICANS START ACTION

Promise to Furnish a Lively Campaign.

In response to a call issued by District Chairman W. E. Trusler, the town hall last Saturday afternoon was filled with a representative group of citizens who are desirous of promoting the interests of the Republican party in Prince William County.

The meeting was quite serious in its aspect and did not present a gathering of prospective postmasters at all, but rather earnest-thinking people who evidenced the same type of sincerity that was brought out in the keynote speech which was given to the convention by Mr. J. H. Rexrode of Manassas.

M. Trusler opened the meeting and in a short time Rev. E. E. Blough was elected chairman with J. T. Fick of Quantico, secretary of the convention.

Caustic resolutions were adopted, criticizing the National Administration or what the local group termed the "New Deal" administration for its departure from the province of good management and good business.

The main other business of the convention which was transacted was the naming of delegates to the state and district conventions, the latter of which is being held in Culpeper today and the other to be held in Roanoke Saturday a week.

The delegates so named are as follows: W. E. Trusler, J. T. Fick, F. H. Snook, T. R. Hurst, A. H. Roseberry, C. G. Paris, Winter Owens and J. H. Rexrode. Alternates, C. N. Dodson, Warner Lewis, William Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Edwin Beachley, Stuart McMichael and M. J. Hottle.

While the senior Republicans are indulging in their activities the young Republicans headed by Stuart McMichael, Oran Kline and Earl Hurst are calling a meeting of their fellows in Manassas on Tuesday, an advertisement of which meeting is being carried in this week's Journal.

According to Mr. Hurst, one of the local leaders, this club is out to really do something this year as expressed in his words addressed to an officer of the Young Democratic Club last week in which he said, "We are going to give you fellows a run for your money this year."

FORESTERS VISIT MANASSAS

On Wednesday a group of prominent foresters of the National Park Service visited Prince William County and were pleasant callers at the Journal office. In the party were Mr. Fred H. Arnold, forester of the State Park division; Associate Foresters Wilbur L. Shanklin and G. A. Shultz and Assistant Forester Wilbur L. Savage who is in charge of the forestry work on the Manassas, Fredericksburg, Petersburg, Richmond and Yorktown Battle Parks.

POPPY DAY APRIL 25

At the regular meeting of the American Legion, Post 158, which was held last Thursday evening, Mar. 26, it was decided that "Poppy Day" would be held Saturday, April 25.

This is a day which is set aside by the American Legion Posts throughout the country for the sale of poppies, for the benefit of the various posts.

A list of young girls from whom poppies may be bought will be named at a later date.

GARDEN CLUB TO BEAUTIFY ROAD

Mrs. Marsteller Hostess at Interesting Meeting.

The Manassas Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. E. H. Marsteller on Tuesday afternoon, March 31, with the president, Mrs. Robt. Hutchison, presiding. A most delightful and instructive talk was given by Mrs. F. E. Carter, past president of the Alexandria Garden Club, who called our attention to the fact that the first garden club in America was organized in Cambridge, Mass., in 1879.

Mrs. Carter has completed a course in flower arrangement, and the proper method of conducting a flower show, which is given at the Garden Institute, V. P. I., at Blacksburg, Va., so her remarks were most helpful at this time when the Manassas Garden Club is planning its own flower show to be held some time in May, the exact date to be largely determined by the season, and announced later.

JAMES EDWIN NELSON

The entire town of Manassas was greatly saddened last Friday upon hearing the news that "Jim" Nelson had died very suddenly in a Washington hospital where he had been taken only the day before. It was known that he was quite ill but the seriousness of his condition was not realized until blood transfusions were found necessary.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at the Manassas Primitive Baptist Church with Elder R. H. Pittman officiating, assisted by Rev. T. D. D. Clark. Interment was in the family lot in Manassas cemetery. The active pallbearers were C. C. Cloe, Triangle; I. E. Cannon, Alexandria; Charles J. Weedon, Washington, and George Weedon, Fredericksburg; A. S. Boatwright and R. L. Byrd. Honorary pallbearers were Walter Shannon and W. P. Foley of Washington, Murray Metz of Duley, Md., Thomas H. Lion, C. E. Nash, C. C. Cushing, J. L. Luxford, D. J. Arrington, W. S. Athey and Robert Flaherty.

James Edwin Nelson, son of Edwin and Bettie Weedon Nelson, was born at "Grinstead," Prince William County in 1868. When he was a very small boy the family moved to Brentsville where he received his early education, under Prof. Bauder and later attended a business college in Washington.

When the new court house was set up at Manassas the family, in 1893, moved there where Mr. Nelson was deputy clerk under his father, who was clerk of the court for many years.

Mr. Nelson was at one time connected with the Peoples National Bank and also conducted private business in Washington from which he retired in 1931, and had since made his home here.

Other activities included his services in the Democratic party, being secretary of the county executive committee at the time of his death. He was also a prominent booster in the recently reorganized county chamber of commerce.

He leaves to survive him one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson Weedon, and one brother, C. Paul Nelson of Manassas and Huntington, W. Va.

The many beautiful floral tributes and the host of relatives and friends both from Manassas and other points gave full evidence of the love and esteem in which "Captain Jim" was held.

He had been a good citizen and a capable business man, one whom the town will sorely miss. To his immediate relatives, the Journal joins the community in extending sincere condolences.

RICHMOND BUS IN EFFECT

According to unofficial advice from the bus company, the line through Manassas to Richmond is already operating and schedules will be published very shortly.

For a short time there will be only one bus and from then on, the schedule will be much improved.

CLEAN-UP PLAN GAINS MOMENTUM

Entire County to Co-operate.

Plans are going forward for the "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up campaign" sponsored by the Manassas-Prince William County Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the civic committee of the Woman's Club, which begins on Monday, April 13.

Letters have been written to all district chairmen throughout the county with regards to their co-operating in this campaign and in the next few days advertising material should be distributed by the Chamber of Commerce in order to bring this big event more to the attention of everyone.

Prof. R. C. Haydon, superintendent of schools in the county, is writing every teacher asking their co-operation in bringing this matter to the attention of the children and enlisting their co-operation. They in turn will take the word back home, and in this way much good should be accomplished.

The home demonstration clubs throughout the county are also going to participate in this campaign through their "Home Repair Campaign" which begins this week and runs for several months. They will feature "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up Week," and Miss Pitts has some interesting plans in mind leading up to that time.

Mr. W. F. Cocke, town manager, has promised that if enough trash has been collected and set out he will have the town truck make an extra collection about the middle of the week. It is hoped that everyone will take advantage of this opportunity to get rid of a lot of unsightly rubbish. There are several very unsightly alleys and lots right in town that should be given a surprise by being made spick and span. This would add much to the appearance of the town for this rubbish can easily be seen by anyone passing through.

During the week preceding the clean-up campaign week, make a mental inventory of just what you will do to be a part of this big movement which is rolling along, gathering momentum every day.

U.D.C. GROUP TO MARK LIBERIA

The Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ernest Spitzer, Mrs. Alvin Compton assistant hostess. Mrs. L. L. Lonas presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Miss Virginia Speiden. Mrs. Charles Lynn and Mrs. M. G. Sheppard were guests of the chapter.

Three names were presented for membership, Mrs. Dennis Baker, Miss Irma Ball, and Mrs. M. G. Sheppard. Mrs. W. A. Newman, Mrs. Byrd and Mrs. Knox were appointed a committee to assist a committee from the Memorial Society in arranging the program for June 3. Mrs. C. M. Larkin, president of the Memorial Society, announced the order had been placed for the marker for Liberia. Mrs. W. A. Newman, who was unable to be present, asked Mrs. E. H. Hibbs to take charge of the historical period.

The topic was Florida, the third state to secede. Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson gave a delightful talk on the early history of Florida, and read a most interesting sketch of Gen. E. Kirby Smith, one of Florida's noted sons, who was wounded in 1861 at the Battle of Bull Run. The sketch was taken from the Confederate War Journal, 1893, N. Y., and Lexington, Ky., and loaned by Mrs. Hibbs.

Mrs. Johnson also read from the same Journal a sketch of another noted Florida man, Stephen H. Mallory, who out of "Trees still in the forest" so quickly had the Southern battlefields ready for use.

After adjournment a delicious salad course was served by the hostesses.

THE PEACEMAKERS

"Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God." (Matt. 5:9). This beatitude fits well with the story of Palm Sunday, for He who rode into the city of Jerusalem on that day was the Prince of Peace. The so-called "triumphal entry" was in fact a very modest affair, lacking all the gaudy glory and pomp of a Roman military triumph, yet it heralded the founding of an empire which was destined to cover the whole world and to outlast the ages.

The children of God are peacemakers by virtue of their lineage. They are warriors against evil, but their armor is the shield of faith and the sword of the Spirit and "the banner over them is love."

The Christian by reason of His allegiance to Jesus is committed to the program of "peace on earth and good will to men." It requires a good deal of mental contortion to reconcile the teachings of our Lord with war. Our country is officially pledged to the adoption of peaceful methods of settling international difficulties. In his inaugural address in 1933 President Roosevelt gave noble expression to the longing for peace which is in the hearts of people of all lands, and added these words, "The furtherance of durable peace for our generation in every part of the world is the only goal worthy of our best efforts."

I believe that the heart of the American people is right on this question. Nobody wants war unless it be a few conscienceless profiteers, yet all stand in dread of it.

No thoughtful person can fail to be disturbed by the confused conditions in Europe and the Orient today created by the action of the Japanese in China and of the Italians in Ethiopia. In spite of these apparent discouragements, however, the cause of world peace is making progress. A generation ago nobody even raised the question the moral right to kill our fellow men on the battle field, the church gave its blessing to the armies and the slaughter went on in the name of the Lord. Today the moral right of war is challenged by our best thinkers, and religious organizations have set themselves solidly behind the programs of peace.

In the last analysis this problem is going to be settled by the youth of the land. They are doing some good thinking of their own and have come to see that wars are not fought for idealistic purposes, but are instigated by commercial greed. Young men are now asking why they should be ordered to sacrifice their lives in the interest of the munition makers and money changers.

Sixteen per cent of our college students, according to a recent poll, say they will refuse to fight under any circumstances, while eighty-two per cent say they will never cross our borders to invade another nation's territory.

These young men are true patriots, loyal alike to their country and to the Christ who said "Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 29.

The golden text was "The word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (I Peter 1:25).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus to those Jews who believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31-32).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Reason, rightly directed, serves to correct the errors of corporeal sense; but sin, sickness, and death will seem real (even as the experiences of the sleeping dream seem real) until the Science of man's eternal harmony breaks their illusion with the unbroken reality of scientific being" (p. 494).

CATHARPIN

The second quarterly conference of the Sudley circuit was held at the parsonage on Saturday, March 28, with the new presiding elder, Dr. E. C. Beery, in the chair. Dr. Beery is of the younger type and very progressive in his tendencies and a mighty hard worker. It is quite evident that things are going to be moved up all along the lines of church activity throughout his district. A new and novel regulation in the matter of holding the quarterly conferences has been announced. In the future, instead of single unit meetings, a number of church conferences will be combined and in addition to the regular business usually transacted, speakers from other places will be introduced who will discuss various lines of church work, all of which should be very instructive and interesting to all the congregations concerned. The third quarterly conference will be held in Sudley church on Monday night, June 29, and will be composed of the official members and delegates from the various churches of the Warrenton, Manassas and Sudley circuits who will have the pleasure of enjoying a special program prepared for that occasion. By this method Dr. Beery hopes to create a "Church Consciousness" among all the congregations for a fuller, broader and deeper co-ordination of church activity. Light refreshments will be served.

Robert, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey, fell from a horse one day last week and broke his left arm above the wrist. Like all youngsters, however, the break will soon heal and be forgotten but a little troublesome while it is going on.

Mrs. W. S. Brower of Lone Oak spent last week-end among friends and relatives in the Capital City.

Mrs. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald of Oakwood paid their respects to some of the shopping centers along Pennsylvania avenue last week bringing home some things you might have seen had you been at church on Sunday.

This column visited the Senate Chamber one day last week and heard the Florida Canal discussed pro and con; also heard the defeat of the motion to reconsider. Of course we were interested in looking at "Hattie" and "Rose." They were sitting together as far in the rear as there were seats and when the time came voted to reconsider. Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, one of Florida's Senators, shed some tears when his pet project was defeated. Clark, Vandenberg and others made some very heavy addresses but no one, apparently, paid any attention except the galleries. Our own Carter Glass was very busy, out of his seat, talking to some other Senator, both of whom seemed to be enjoying life as much as poor, old Senator Fletcher was distressed. "John Nance" had called some one to the chair while he sallied forth around the Chamber talking first to this one and then to that one, really looked handsome in his long-tailed cut-a-way. "Hattie" and "Rose" looked just about as you might expect them to look had they been attending a sewing bee. They, like many of the men, did not seem to realize that the Senate was in session; they chatted, smiled and once in a while broke into a broad grin which might have been a laugh had one been close enough to hear. After they amused themselves a bit, they retired to the cloak room and did not return until time was called to vote when they returned long enough to vote "I" then left, this time probably for good. In passing we looked in on Speaker Byrnes, but he did not recognize us so just came home feeling well entertained. We first went to the Supreme Court but found Chief Justice Hughes had forgotten to tell us that court would not convene until the next week, so we shouldered up our disappointment and went to the Capitol with the above results.

Sunday was a beautiful day; just such a day as every one had been longing for weeks, and just such a day as spring is capable of bringing forth when she is in a good humor. The day itself and the fact that Dr. E. C. Beery, the new presiding elder, was to preach was excuse sufficient to almost fill the auditorium with an as appreciative a congregation as any preacher could wish. And the sermon; well, it was just as beautiful, just as strong and just as effective as any one we have ever heard; just the kind to make one sit up and take stock of himself. Dr. Beery is one of strongest preachers in the conference, a fine orator and a hard worker at all times. Don't ever miss him.

Sudley was favored on Sunday by the presence of a number of friends of other days who ventured forth to enjoy the day and the services. Among them were noted Mrs. Roberts Lynn of Raleigh, N. C., who is at present sojourning among her kith and kin in the Manassas neighborhood; also Mr. C. L. Rector of Haymarket, who likes to visit Sudley once in a while to see that things are going along all right. It is always a pleasure to Sudley to greet her old friends.

The Board of Supervisors will meet on Wednesday, April 8, to adopt the county budget for the coming year. As perhaps, many know, the matter of a light fire equipment for county use has been under discussion for several years due to the fact that the heavy corporation equipment can not be handled over muddy roads much as the department would be glad to do it possible. The corporation is well protected by reason of its fine equipment, adequately manned and ready for service upon a moment's notice either at home or elsewhere; but it has now been demonstrated that a light equipment is the logical solution for all county calls and it is believed by those having had experience, that it would be to the best interests of all concerned if such could be installed. So far not many citizens have shown much interest either way consequently not much has been done. The Board is quite willing to hear from the people, so this column is calling your attention once more for whatever action you may choose to take. One thing we feel sure of is that the question will come up each year until something is definitely decided. At any rate it would be a satisfaction to the Board if they could but know your wishes.

Now that winter has departed and the promise of good weather is at hand, the church school will open at Sudley next Sunday morning at the usual hour 10:00 a.m. to which all are cordially invited; big, little, old, young—just everybody. The school will be reorganized for the summer's work. The worker's council, officers and teachers will please report at 9:30 for conference and regulation. We are indulging the hope that a fine season's work is just ahead.

Well, all you good people who live on good roads please take notice that you need no longer look down upon us in sorrow and pity because our roads have been bad. Before this greets the eye of the reader (unless it rains) the highway from Loudoun line via Hickory Grove to Catharpin will be finished and surfaced to that noble city; thus State route No. 621 is destined to be rated among the elite of good roads in Prince William County. Now, then, if you want to know just how we feel about it, just hark back to the time when your good road was opened and give us a rating of 16 to 1 and you will then have some idea of how much we are enjoying the new experience.

Our Debt to Mars.

The legacy of the month of April is a debt of 60 billion dollars. It to the citizens of the United States challenges the imagination, but there it is in the records—records which show that five of the Nation's major wars began in April. The wars ended, but the pensions which they begot seem to go on forever. The 60 billion dollars is their total cost.

The story is told in all its interesting and dramatic detail in the feature section of The Sunday Star, April 5.

"TENERIFFE"

The stone house standing high upon a hill,
Looks down thru age-old trees upon a mill,
That stands besides a deep, wide, shinstream.

The dormer windows of the old house gleam in the sunshine
Where children love to play in winter on a chilly day,
Its spacious rooms and halls and porches wide,
And broad fields spreading out on every side
In which the owner takes much pride.

One day when the old years time was drawing to an end
The house was filled with laughter and good cheer,
By many a relative and friend,
Who came from far and near.

The golden glow of candle light
That shone upon a banquet spread;
The gleam of silver and fragrant roses red,
A gracious host and hostess their many friends to greet
The happy hum of voices and patter of youthful feet.

A little old lady with sparkling eye,
And a manner that seemed half merrily, half shy,
Stood before the grand old fireplace and said:
"It was here, near fifty years ago,
that I was wed."

And when the sun sank low that New Year's eve

All bade their host and hostess a fond farewell
And took reluctant leave
Hoping to visit them some other day,
And spend the hours in the same old happy way.

—Margaret Lunsford.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Virginia General Assembly in its biennial session inevitably shows a strong disposition to regulate any and all things. It has become increasingly evident in recent years that the people of Virginia might find it profitable to regulate the General Assembly. The first move in this direction would be to elect representatives who, in the main, are equipped with ability well above the average that now characterizes the Legislature.

The august body, which Senator Gordon B. Ambler of Richmond was eventually exasperated into describing as a "monkey house," convened early in January. Week in and week out the Legislators fumbled and puttered along, seemingly more interested in Richmond's varied diversions and Walter Johnson's feat of tossing a silver dollar across the Rappahannock River than in making Virginia a better place in which to live. All important business of the Assembly was pushed virtually into the closing hours to the accomplishment of much dramatic gesturing. This permitted a rather theatrical filibuster by Senator Robert O. Norris against a bill providing for realignment in the allocation of ABC profits and threatened to block a few measures of some consequence listed behind it on the calendar. It is generally agreed that so far as progressive legislation is concerned the 1936 General Assembly was singularly unproductive.—which, perhaps, was just as well.—Charlottesville Daily Progress

SCENES ON AND NEAR THE POTOMAC TRAIL

My heart is in Virginia
Near the shores of the Potomack,
I see a winding highway
That seems to draw me back.

A golden summer sunset,
Transforms the waters blue,
To changing shades of gold
And azure blue, so blue.

The dusk of evening deepens,
The moon comes shining through,
And I hear the waters lapping,
Against the shores. Don't you?

As they ripple in the moonlight
We think of friends left back,
And long to be with them
Near the old Potomack.

Dear Editor:

I read an article in your paper on March 12, 1936, on "Hawks As Vermin Killers." The article referred to Goshawks and large owls. The most of biologists study such specimens in summer when there are abundance of mammals and insects for them to feed on. Anyone that knows both specimens know that in winter they live on game birds and rabbits. Too many men that know hawks only in summer do not know their activities in winter. The crow is a great bird to destroy mammals and insects; but we have nothing that destroys more young birds and their eggs than the crow.

I would like to quote an article from the "Hunting and Fishing" Magazine of March 1936 on Goshawks and Owls.

"Editor, Hunting and Fishing: 'Several of my friends have told me that they think bounties for the killing of goshawks in this state should be withdrawn. They assert that the goshawk does not do as much harm as is generally believed and that many harmless hawks have been killed by gunners who could not distinguish between them and the goshawks. What is your opinion?' H. R. Burkhardt, Collegeville, Pa.

"Examining the stomachs of 881 goshawks, 13 authorities reported the following contents: mammals in 233; poultry or game in 447; insects, 2; miscellaneous, 8, and empty 168. This indicates that the goshawk does a large amount of harm to smaller birds and animals. The goshawk and the great horned owl are the two worst small game predators." Editor, R. O. BIBB.

SHOWER FOR MRS. TRIMMER

A very pretty surprise kitchen shower was given in honor of Mrs. Eloise Compton Trimmer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Compton was seated in the living room when to her surprise the door was opened and little Wilhelmina Lewis entered pulling a small white covered wagon loaded with lovely useful gifts.

Many entertaining games were played after which delicious ice cream and cakes were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Trimmer, Dr. and Mrs.

Roger Cross, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gregory, Mrs. Wetherall, Mrs. Mary Pope, Mrs. Frank Browning, Mrs. H. E. Pickeral, Mrs. G. G. (QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING)

"How do Banks figure checking accounts charges?"

Extensive studies by banking experts over a period of years, especially by the Bank Management Commission of the American Bankers Association, have shown what it costs the average bank—for overhead, stationery, checkbooks, salaries, safekeeping of funds, etc.—to handle each check and deposit item. These studies have also revealed how much interest is earned by an average bank on each dollar of its loanable funds when invested at current rates.

With such information as this at hand banks are able to ascertain which of their accounts earn enough to pay their cost of handling. On accounts, whose earnings do not cover their handling costs, a moderate service charge is ordinarily made. Consequently, these accounts pay their own way and are welcome at the bank because they conform to sound banking principles.

ANGELINE KANE HEFLIN

The community and family of Mrs. Angeline Kane Heflin of Catlett, Va., were indeed saddened by her sudden passing last Friday, March 20, as a result of a severe case of pneumonia.

Mrs. Heflin, though 79 years of age, performed active services both in her home and church until the last, and her inspirational guidance will certainly be missed by all who knew and loved her.

Funeral services were held Sunday, March 22, at the Presbyterian Church near Catlett, where Mrs. Heflin had been a member for a number of years.

She is survived by three children: Mrs. H. B. Godfrey, Gainesville, Va.; Messrs. Guy and Reuben Heflin, Catlett, Va.; also thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, and many other relatives and friends.

HOMEMAKERS MEETING DATE CHANGED

1936 SOIL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

So much has been published about the soil conservation act that we feel it unnecessary to outline it further. The farmers want to know what is expected of them and what they can expect in return. It is about like the darkey who was offered a job in a very vague way and asked the boss the question, "Say boss wadd do I get for dis?"

The program is outlined under three sections.

Section I Soil Depleting Crops: Soil depletion crops which include all the grain crops, Irish and sweet potatoes, all truck crops, and all annual grasses such as Sudan grass and millets, and summer legumes such as soy beans and cow peas if harvested for hay or seed.

Section II Soil Conserving Crops: Annual winter legumes including vetch, winter peas, and crimson clover, Lespedeza when pastured or cut for hay with or without grain nurse crops.

Summer legumes such as soy beans and cow peas if not harvested for seed.

Annual grasses such as Sudan grass and millet, if not harvested for hay or seed.

Perennial grasses, including blue grass, red top, orchard, Bermuda and mixtures of these with or without grain nurse crops, when such nurse crops are pastured or clipped green.

Winter cover crops, including rye, or other small grains and turned down as green manure or if harvested and followed by summer legumes.

Crop land planted to forest trees since January 1, 1934.

Section III Soil Building Crops: Annual winter legumes, vetch, winter peas and crimson clover turned under as a green manure crop.

Biennial legumes, including all the clovers excepting crimson, perennial legumes, alfalfa, white clover and Lespedeza sericea.

Annual varieties of Lespedeza with or without small grain nurse crops if the nurse crops are pastured or clipped green.

Summer legumes, including soy beans and cow peas when turned under as a green manure crop.

Winter cover crops including rye, barley, oats, and small grain mixtures if turned under as green manure and followed by an approved soil conserving crop.

Forest trees, planted on crop land in 1936.

Section IV Neutral: Not to be counted in establishing bases.

Vineyards, tree fruits or nut trees. Idle crop land, unless the land was left idle in 1935 due to unusual weather conditions.

Cultivated fallow land including clean cultivated orchards and vineyard.

Wasteland, roads, lots, yards, etc. Woodland, other than that planted at owner's expense since 1933.

Save this data as it will help you to understand what is meant by soil depleting, soil conserving and soil building crops.

Next week we expect to be able to tell you what you will get for all this.

LULU RETZER

Mrs. Lulu Retzer, wife of the late W. W. Retzer, formerly of this county, now of Clarendon, Va., was buried at Woodbine cemetery Thursday, March 26. Four children survive her: Wyona L. Ruth E., Geo. W., Bertram M.; also one brother, Mr. B. M. Bridwell of Falls Church, Va., and six sisters to mourn her loss.

The deceased was born near Brentsville and was educated there and taught school for several years in this county where she leaves many friends.

NEW FEED HELPS MILK PRODUCTION AND COW HEALTH

The cow to be a money-maker at her best must be fresh and refreshed within 52 weeks of the year, according to Van Pelt, dairy authority of the Purina Mills. When the cow is allowed longer than 12 months for the completed cycle of her yearly work, she automatically sinks to a lower level of profit making, Van Pelt claims. To make a cow's year the most efficient, with the greatest returns on the energy expended, the dairyman must take into account the natural characteristics of the cow herself and play them up to the fullest advantage.

Danger at Freshening Period

"There is no time that a cow is more susceptible to costly cow troubles," says Van Pelt, "than at the time immediately following freshening. This particular period easily can be termed a period of susceptibility. Susceptible because she hasn't the strength and the vitality to build up resistance. It is in this particular period when the cow finds herself an easy victim to the disease carrier in the herd, whether it be tuberculosis, Bang's disease, mastitis, or any of those troubles that are so malignant in their influence in the dairy herd."

"A cow in calving shrinks herself 130 to 150 pounds. This includes the calf, the placenta, and the water expelled. Following this loss at calving time, finds a slight fill-up or return in weight but for the next three days of 12 to 15 pounds. Then, unless the dairyman guards against it by proper methods, he finds a still further shrink of 70 to as high as 90 pounds through the next three months."

Special Feed Required

"In the past dairymen have been inclined to think of holding up on the feed immediately following freshening because they didn't feel that the cow's digestive tract should be overtaxed. But science now makes it possible to start feeding immediately after freshening. Years of experimenting at the Purina Research Farm have resulted in the development of a special feed that is light, easy to digest, cooling in its nature, laxative and building in tissue and bone. With this new feed for the cow two months before freshening and one month after freshening, the dairyman need not be afraid of overtaxing the cow, because it has been developed especially to fit the cow's digestive and body condition during those periods."

In explaining the result, Van Pelt says, "Everything that the cow lost isn't gained but a refill takes place that guards against any drastic shrink that carries with it so much of the cow's vitality. The results show in a stronger herd, greater foundation, and over a year's time stepped-up milk production. There are fewer replacements to contend with, better quality of udders, greater percentage of conception at breeding time and greater return of net profit in dollars and cents."

RESEARCH FULFILLS COW'S MILK NEEDS

Experimental Farm Lets Dairy Herd Determine What's Needed for Production.

Quite frequently the housewife is heard to say, "This milk is mostly water." Strange to say, the cow that gave the milk will agree with her. As a matter of fact, water is the principal ingredient in milk. As W. R. Arends, well-known dairy authority, points out, "The cow needs about 5 times as much water every day as she produces milk. That means a 4 gallon cow should drink about 20 gallons of water daily. Of course, in the winter a cow's water requirements may be a trifle less."

Other important materials in milk are the milk sugars, butterfat, minerals and proteins. According to Arends, the place where dairymen can give their cows the most help in making milk is in a true balance of proteins.

"Some dairymen," says Arends, "feel that protein is protein and that by simply mixing a lot of some protein carrier with grain, the cow gets all she needs in milk making. This is far from the truth, for the proteins in milk are complicated. It takes a combination of different protein feeds to supply all of the elements needed for best milk making."

"Linseed oil meal, cottonseed meal, gluten feed, soybean meal and alfalfa meal are all excellent sources of protein, but anyone of them alone doesn't give a cow all the proteins needed to milk at her best. It takes a carefully blended combination of such feeds to give the cow what she needs in milk-making proteins. Certain high protein concentrates, such as cottonseed meal, are very forcing, and when fed to excess, may cause unlimited cow troubles."

Arends says that a good part of the research work at the Purina Research Farm has been given over to finding out just how much of one and how little of another ingredient is needed to do the best job of making milk at the lowest cost to the dairyman. "Taking nothing for granted and letting the cows themselves determine what's best for milk at the lowest cost, the Purina Research Farm has been able to develop dairy concentrates that are far more profitable for dairymen than those of a few years back. Today a cow can get exactly what she needs without any waste of feed and the dairyman can make more money giving her that kind of feed."

FOREST FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Fire Crew at Centreville Prevents Serious Damage.

Shortly before dark Sunday evening a brush fire developed on the old Colchester road, also known as the Union Mill road.

It is stated that the fire originated in a fox hunt. Some hundred acres were burned over most of which is said to have been brush land and cut over timber, so that the damage was not very great.

The heavily wooded land along Bull Run was threatened in a similar manner about four years ago, but this time the fire was larger and took the fire squad most of the night.

The men reporting for duty were G. Russell Mentzer, George D. Harrison, Randolph Barbee, W. W. Buckley and Carl H. Nichols.

By the time the men arrived on the scene which was some two miles from where they lived, the flames had spread over a wide area and the dense cloud of smoke gave the surrounding country quite a fright. The prompt action of the men prevented a serious fire over a good part of the land between the Lee highway and Clifton Station.

Fairfax County owes its high position for fire fighting among the counties of the state to such efficient services.

A brush fire of similar nature was reported in the Colvin Run district this week but no special damage was done.

BRAHMS WINS OVER TSCHAIKOVSKY

This is one result of a spirited election conducted by National Symphony Orchestra followers to select works for the orchestra's annual request program next Sunday afternoon in Constitution Hall. Hans Kindler, conductor, announced the winning selections today.

While the hundreds of voters listed favorites in several groups, including the overture, the symphony, the orchestral suite, and a miscellaneous group. Interest centered in the vote for a "request" symphony. There the race was between Tchaikovsky's "Pathétique" Symphony, and the Brahms' No. 1. The Tchaikovsky work, always a concert favorite was actually leading the field until the last day of voting. A final tally, however, gave the Brahms Symphony, which the National Symphony played for the first time this season, a total of 664 votes, to 648 for the "Pathétique."

The concert goes cast the largest numbers of votes for Brahms' Symphony No. 1, the "Egmont" Overture by Beethoven, and for an orchestral suite, "Circles of Washington," by the Washington composer, R. Deane Shure. These works and other favorites, including excerpts from Moussorgsky's opera "Boris Godounov" (arranged by Hans Kidler), the first movement from Tchaikovsky's "Pathétique" Symphony, and the intermezzo from Wolf-Ferrari's opera "Jewels of the Madonna," will be played Sunday, when the National Symphony makes its final appearance of the season.

Mr. Shure's "Circles of Washington" proved a heavy vote puller. It received 588 votes to 364 for the second choice in the suite group. The "Egmont" Overture was easily the favorite in the overtures, although large blocks of votes were divided among a half dozen others, including an elegiac overture, "Chatterton" by Edward Potter, of Washington. The "Boris Godounov" excerpts, which the symphony played with great success during this season, received 270 votes to 188 for Debussy's "Afternoon of a Faun," the second choice.

So eager were some symphony patrons to place their favorite numbers on the orchestra's request program that they solicited votes in their offices. This occurred in several government departments, from which came envelopes containing scores of ballots. Some voters not content with having listed their favorite work in the blank for first choice, wrote the name of the same selection as their second choice. In the counting "first choice" received two points, and "second choice" one point.

Before playing this final concert in Constitution Hall, Dr. Kindler and the orchestra have a busy week of out-of-town engagements. Tuesday they play the final concert of a series of six in Baltimore. This will also be a request program.

Thursday the symphony travels South on a concert trip through North and South Carolina. There will be a concert Thursday at Duke University, Durham, N. C. The next two days will be spent at a music festival at Columbia, S. C. The orchestra will return to Washington by special train to be here for its concert Sunday in Constitution Hall.

BRENTSVILLE

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Crabtree, after which the body was laid to rest in the family burying ground here.

Mrs. Keys lived like in two days of being a month after her son Lee's death, which was a very sad and sudden death. Lee was known through the community and had many friends. He is greatly missed from our midst. Though you are gone, dear friend, But not forgotten or never will thy memory fade.

We are more than glad to see this pretty weather again. Hope we can soon begin to make gardens.

A very attractive part of the entertainment given in connection with their card party by the Woman's Club was a tap dance by two small girls, Kathleen Cato and Audrey Cline. These little ladies can make the boards talk. We see in them future high school entertainers.

The club members spent a delightful day Tuesday, the 24th, at the home of Mrs. Janie Abel, weaving baskets.

Virginia Dare Rebecca Lodge is having a very successful term with Mrs. J. L. Cato in the noble grand's chair. This lodge is making preparation to entertain their president of the Rebecca Assembly at their next meeting the first Monday night in April.

H. D. CLUBS LAUNCH HOME REPAIR CAMPAIGN

The Home Demonstration Clubs of the county have launched a house repair campaign in which they wish to interest every rural home owner and homemaker in the county. This campaign has been planned as an extension of the Sanitation Campaign of 1935, and is directly related to the Paint-up, Clean-up, Plant-up, Fix-up campaign sponsored by the County Chamber of Commerce.

In the house repair campaign consideration is being given to repair jobs both on the inside and outside, painting, cleaning, planting, and sanitation needs. Home demonstration club members have started the survey in their own homes and will give information to any one needing it on details and plans for the campaign work.

The World Moves On!

It wasn't many years ago that dairies used large, open tubs such as the above to hold your milk, and "Uncle Abner" delivered it to you in unsanitary open vessels.

The glass milk bottle is untouched by human hands from the udder to the delivery wagon. Machines hold the milk above all and day the bottles automatically.

Today the sterile, sparkling glass bottle protects the purity of your milk and the health of your family. You can see the quality of the milk and the amount of cream in the glass bottle. Sterilization makes the glass bottle chemically clean and no germs can lodge in their non-porous walls. They are the best and safest containers for milk.

Cleanliness in your milk supply starts with beautiful barns like these, and ends with the milk in your home in sanitary glass bottles.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Miss Lillian Mooney of Washington, D. C., was a week-end visitor of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mooney of Occoquan.

Miss Sarah Bubb spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Doris Bubb, at teachers college, Harrisonburg, Va. Mrs. T. Powell Davis of Woodbridge entertained the Occo-wood bridge club Monday, the 30th.

The card party for the benefit of flood sufferers which was held at Occoquan High School was very well attended. We especially thank our many friends from Dumfries and Quantico who came to help the good cause.

This town is sprucing up, cleaning up and painting up in anticipation of the large influx of summer visitors expected from now on. It is surprising what a change a little work in cleaning up and putting on a few daubs of paint makes in a small town like Occoquan.

The Wednesday night services being held at Pohick will be discontinued after April 1. The services will be held on Friday night, April 10, instead of the 8th. Baptismal services will be held at 4 o'clock the afternoon of April 11. It is hoped all who have children not baptized will bring them at that time. Also, grown-ups who desire to be baptized. Come to a B. B. supper at Bethel M. E. Church (near Occoquan), Saturday, April 4, from 5:30 until all are served.

BURKE

Mrs. Effie Moon entertained the Othniel Bible Class last Thursday. Rehearsals are being held for the play to be given the first week in April in the Community Hall.

Miss Hazel Davis attended the Home Coming week in Harrisonburg, Va.

Mrs. Mary Marshall has returned to her home after a visit of several weeks with her mother, Mrs. John Clark, in Little Washington, Va.

Mrs. Malcolm B. Merchant and Mr. Robert Merchant were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. B. Byron Hollenbeck at their home in Chevy Chase, D. C.

Mr. John T. Blincoe, who has been quite ill, is now able to be out.

NOKESVILLE

On Wednesday, April 8, talking movies will be held in the school auditorium. The movie at 2 p.m. is "The Viking" and the one at 8 p.m. is "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." Everyone is welcome.

An Easter program will be given by various Sunday schools in the school auditorium on April 7 after the regular meeting of the Community League.

The Seniors are producing a play called "Here Comes Charlie" which will be given on April 17.

BUCKHALL 4-H CLUB TO HAVE COMMUNITY PROGRAM

The Buckhall 4-H Club will give a program for the Community League at their regular meeting which will be held on Thursday, April 9, at 8 o'clock. The evening's program will include the presentation of the gift to the school by the 4-H club.

Patrons and friends of the community are cordially invited to attend.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN SIX GROUPS

Annual Convention Selects Clarendon as One.

The annual convention of the Virginia Council of Religious Education will be held in six sections this year. Identical programs will be given at each place and this will enable a large number of Sunday school and church workers to attend the meetings with very little expense in time and money. The cities in which the meetings will be held, with dates, are as follows:

April 19 and 20 at Charlottesville; April 20 and 21 at Wytheville (Wythe County); April 21 to 22 at Buchanan (Botetourt County); April 22 and 23 at Woodstock; April 23 at Bacon's Castle (Surry County); April 24 at Clarendon (Arlington County).

The program has been built around the general theme, "The Church Presses On." Citizens who are interested in the church as a character building agency will recognize this as a very timely theme. Civic organizations are calling attention to the increase in crime and are looking to the church to aid them in "pressing on" in the solution of many of the problems existing today. To this end, the Virginia Council has been promoting the week-day religious education movement—a co-operative union of all denominations in one community to give the children more effective religious instruction on week-days. This convention will give much attention to this movement.

We have been very fortunate in securing outstanding leaders for these meetings. Prof. H. Augustine Smith, of Boston, will be with us again. He is world famous in the field of worship for the church school and in the fine arts of religion. Those who have heard Prof. Smith are very enthusiastic about his return to Virginia.

Dr. Harry C. Munro, of Chicago, of Adult Education for the International Council of Religious Education, will be with us also. Dr. Munro is the best informed man in this field in America. He will be able to acquaint church leaders with the plans and program of the nation-wide movement for adult religious education and with ways and means for making it effective in local churches.

Dr. Roy A. Burkhardt, of Columbus, Ohio, returns to us again. He is the most popular speaker we have ever had in our conventions. To young and old alike, he brings inspiration, information, and courage. Many who have heard him have expressed their joy that they will be able to hear him again in these conventions.

These out-of-state leaders will be assisted by many of our own state leaders and we invite all citizens of our state to enjoy this convention by attending the meeting nearest them.

"UNION SIGNAL DAY" OBSERVED

"Union Signal Day" was observed at the March meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held at the home of Mrs. Bywaters. A number of renewals to this excellent paper were received, also to the "Young Crusader."

Of the Union Signal it is said "It is the only national publication devoted exclusively to gathering scientific data, facts and figures, news matter and reviews of material from all the world, dealing with the spiritual, psychological well being of God's children and which strives to develop civic activity looking toward laws for their protection, and for the opportunity of life free from public greed and exploiting interests."

The Union Signal circles the globe, taking its message to more than fifty countries of the world—a message of temperance and righteousness which if heeded would revolutionize the world.

We were glad to have with us at this meeting several teachers from the Christian College of Manassas. Miss Bodel told of her work as president of the W.C.T.U. at Endicott, N. Y., where they have a membership of 170.

Mrs. Allen, who is a public speaker on scientific temperance instruction using chart illustrations, told of the W.C.T.U. work at Wilmer, Ky. Our W.C.T.U. bespeaks for Mrs. Allen, a hearing in the Manassas schools.

The meeting closed with the Aaronic benediction, to meet in April with Miss Maggie Smith.
