CLUB INFLUENCE THEME OF TALK

State President Addresses Manassas Ladies.

Mrs. Fred Alexander, president of the Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs in Virginia, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Club held in the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon, April 8.

Mrs. Alexander's theme comprised "Is this a woman's world or a man's world?" This subject was clearly outlined, drawing many helpful points for both sides and finally bringing out the enormous influence of woman club activities in broadening the field for women and making them better helpmates now than any time in history.

The committee women gave their annual reports which shows excellent work in the club. Many charities were benefited, civic interest extensively taken, music and literary study made and garden club activities renewed.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers selected for the new year. These were unanimously endorsed by the club. They are as follows: Mrs. William Lloyd, president; Mrs. C. C. Lynn, first vice-president; Mrs. William Trusler, second vice-president; Mrs. Wade-Dalton, recording secretary; Mrs. R. C. Haydon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harvey Steele, treasurer; delegates for the state conference to be held at Fredericksburg, May 13 and 14 and 15: Mrs. W. L. Lloyd; alternate, Mrs. C. C. Lynn.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Alfred Mylander, Mrs. H. E. Pickeral, Mrs. Edgar Parrish, Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe and Miss Virginia Speiden.

SHOOTING AT DUMFRIES

Shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday morning shots were heard to issue from buildings on the land of Mr. John Clark, of Dumfries.

Those preparing to leave for work in Quantico are said to have credited the reports as arising from backfire of a starting automobile.

Almost immediately, however, one of the tenants in the building is said to have called for someone to come in at once, saying that some kind of shooting had been done.

Those who entered the quarters that were occupied by Private W. D. Boone and his wife are quoted as saying that Mrs. Boone was lying stretched out with a bullet in her side. Private Boone was described in the same report as lying on the bed, dead, a rifle shot having pierced his heart and entering the floor underneath the bed.

At the request of the military police the civil authorities have left the investigation to them, as Mr. Boone was an enlisted man.

Nothing in the current report indicates that there were any observers of the crime other than the principals involved. Dr. Phillips is assisting the military authorities.

GARDEN CLUB SEEKS TO IMPROVE CENTREVILLE ROAD

The Manassas Garden Club of which Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison is president, has taken for its conservation project, which is part of the federation program, the road between Manassas and Centreville.

This road is one of the prettiest drives in northern Virginia and the Garden Club is expressing the ardent wish that the property owners along the road will co-operate with them in preserving shade trees helping to get rid of unsightly signs and to take part in a general clean-up.

In this way they will aid in making this stretch of road inviting to the many visitors who will come to Manassas, particularly during this summer when the 75th anniversary of Manassas will be observed.

At this time the Garden Club is also announcing the fact that they have chosen lilac as the garden flower.

This is a part of the general Good Friday observance as established by the ministerial association.

BOARD RESTORES TEACHERS PAY

1937 Wage Level Wipes Out "Depression" Cuts.

The County School Board met yesterday with all members present.

A large volume of routine business was transacted, most prominent of which was the election of teachers in service.

The Board made a dynamic decision in creating a ten per cent restoration in the salary for all teachers which will bring the wage level to approximately what it was before the "depression."

The general repair program for the vacation period was adopted. The board contemplates another extremely important step in calling a special meeting for April 20 at which time they will consider proposals for refunding all school bonds at a lower rate of interest.

Mrs. Floy McIntere, Mr. F. M. Lynn and Mr. Alvin Barnes were named a committee to act in the acquisition of land adjacent to the Occoquan High School for the purpose of enlarging the school grounds. This act is proposed in co-operation with the school leagues of Occoquan and Quantico.

The board also created the office of principal of the Manassas schools, appointing Prof. R. Worth Peters for that position. In this co-ordination of the two schools, Mr. Peters will have an assistant at Bennett who will be appointed later.

SENIOR PLAY AT OCCOQUAN HIGH

The senior class of Occoquan High School will present a play, "The Yellow Shadow," in the school auditorium in the very near future. From yellow shadows, kidnappers, lunatics, to gillyloo birds the fast moving murder-mystery promises to hold interest to the last moment. The action centers around the murder of a newspaper reporter, who is trying to get the lowdown on Chinese smuggling headquarters at a supposedly isolated estate in the mountains of Washington state. At the same time, the heiress to the estate comes with friends to live in the house.

The cast includes Margaret Sheppard, Thomas H. Selecman, Madeline Dawson, Dorothy Bradley, Margaret Burdett, Noel Vaughan, George Cooper, Carlton Post, Virginia Persons, and Clinton Abel. The play is under the direction of Miss Mae Thomasson.

CONSERVATION SOIL PROGRAM

County Agent Announces Substitute for AAA Payments.

Soil Conservation Program
Goal—The object of the 1936 Soil Conservation Program is to conserve and improve soil fertility, halt wasteful exploitation of soil resources, and establish a balanced agriculture.

Organization—The program is to be conducted by farmers through Community, County and State Committees, with the help of the Extension Service and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Bases—A base of all soil depleting established from the 1935 crop his-crops for each farm in 1936 will be tory with such adjustments as may be necessary to make bases fair and equitable between growers.

Forms—The first step for farmers who want to participate, will be to fill out, with the help of a committee-man, a work sheet on 1935 crop history of the farm. To make this easier, it is recommended that a sketch be made of the farm indicating acreage and use of each field in 1935. Later, applications for grants and statements of performance will be executed. There will be no contracts.

Payments—Two classes of payments will be made: (1) a SOIL CONSERVING payment for devoting a part of the base acreage of soil depleting crops to soil conserving or soil building crops or practices of an average of approximately $9.00 an acre in Virginia, varying according to the productivity of land by counties and individual farms; (2) a SOIL BUILDING payment for the planting of such soil building crops and the use of such soil building practices as may be recommended by the State Committee and approved by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Maximum Soil Conserving Payment—Payment for diverting land from soil depleting to soil conserving or building crops will be made on up to 15 per cent of the land in soil depleting crops in 1935.

Maximum Soil Building Payment—The maximum for this payment shall not exceed an amount equal to $1.00 for each acre in soil conserving and soil building crops on the farm in 1936, except that in no case will such maximum be less than $10 on any farm.

Minimum Performances—No payment will be made unless the total acreage in soil building and soil depleting crop base, with one exception which will be explained at the community meetings late.

Time of Payments—One payment will be made direct to each farmer as soon as possible after actual performance has been determined.

The new program gives the farmer much leeway in his farming practices. Only certain minimum and maximum conditions are set forth. The farmer is free to plan his farming operations in line with these conditions, if he so desires, and receive grants for the soil improvement he carries out.

The 1936 Soil Conservation Program should enable the individual farmer to maintain or improve the fertility and productivity of his soil which he has long desired but could not afford to do because of the necessity of making both ends meet.

UNUSUAL WILL PLACES SHAFT AT MANASSAS

By the terms of a will of the most unusual nature a Fauquier citizen has stipulated that a substantial granite monument ten feet in height be erected in the cemetery at Manassas "to the memory of those who have been disappointed and suffered in this life."

Under terms of this will which has just been filed with the Clerk of the Court at Warrenton, it is stated that $10,000 of the estate of the late John Lillian Jeffries, of Fauquier County, must be set aside for the erection of such a monument at Manassas where he is buried. The widow and son of the deceased will inherit the residue of the estate.

Mr. Jeffries was a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute and owned property in upper Fauquier County and in Manassas, according to press reports.

PARENT-TEACHERS WILL NOT MEET

The Parent-Teacher Association of Manassas High School will not meet April 16 as scheduled. Date of the next meeting will be announced later.

For Good Friday and Easter services, please read your church columns.

A PROCLAMATION

Dedicating the Annual Spring Clean-up, Paint-up campaign to a Town Beautiful, should be an inspiration and goal of constructive citizenship.

Few activities offer such wide opportunities for an effective practice of citizenship in unselfish service to one's town without expectation of personal benefit. This is the essence of Citizenship—Therefore, I, Harry P. Davis, Mayor of Manassas, do proclaim the week of April 13, 1936, as Spring Clean-up, Paint-up week.

HARRY P. DAVIS, Mayor.

LOVE AT TWILIGHT

In the evening just at twilight,
As the glow fades from the sky,
And when the ghostly shadows fall,
There's trusting love for you and I.

Tho' it seems that you may wander,
If in life, again you fall,
Remember love is still awaiting,
In the twilight, hear my call.

Twilight, twilight, lovely twilight,
Love's trysting hour comes from your sky,
And tear dim eyes are filled with sorrow,

As twilight bids the night good-bye.
By Miss Othello E. Jones,
Fredericksburg, Va.

COLORED SCHOOL CELEBRATE HEALTH DAY

The Summitt and Neabco Schools held their health program Sunday, April 5.

A health program consisting of health songs, poems and yells was rendered by the girls and boys of the Summitt and Neabco schools.

The service was attended by a large crowd of patrons and visiting friends.

The speaker for the occasion was Miss Neel, the county nurse. Miss Neel gave many helpful suggestions to care for the body in order to grow strong and keep fit. In company with Miss Neel was Mrs. Maloney. We were proud to have her with us.

Miss Adeline Penn, who has done so much for the Neabco girls and boys, was present. She gave a wholesome talk to the parents and presented the five-point certificates to the girls and boys of the Summitt School.

Those receiving certificate were Alvera Elizabeth Boswell, Geraldine Boswell, Mammie Othella Brent, Mary Alice Carter, Louise Dangerfield, Kenneth Williams, Minyard Howard Williams, Albert Harper.

The patrons and teachers considered it a high honor to have these friends with us, and we take this mean to express our gratitude.

Teachers, Mrs. Corene Hughes Washington and Miss Jessie J. Alexander.

CATHARPIN

A goodly number of patrons from this section enjoyed the play given by the Haymarket High School Dramatic Club in the auditorium of that institution on Friday night of last week and which was attended by a capacity house. The play, to put it in the language of a number of ladies sitting near, was "just too sweet for anything." Well, it was all of that and more. The cast was perfect, costumes elegant and the whole a perfect performance by each individual player all of whom showed more than ordinary talent. It really was a pleasure to see them in action; but, to tell the truth, we were not surprised. Haymarket has long since been in the habit of putting on good things, things that had "class" to them, and knowing the director of all these activities, we feel that everything undertaken must always be right. This column wishes to extend congratulations to all concerned for a well-modulated and beautiful performance which was the delight of all present.

It certainly was a pleasure to see the new auditorium and the general fine appearance of everything connected with it. The stage is large and can accommodate any kind of meeting or play desired. The new curtains are beautiful and give to all a classy appearance beyond the ordinary. Upper Prince William now has a hall of which any community might well be proud.

The Sudley Church school opened last Sunday with fairly good attendance, organized and elected teachers for the various departments. The teachers will make a canvass this week and enroll all children in the neighborhood ready for specific grading next Sunday.

Miss Louie Strother of Delaplane, Va., was a week-end guest of Miss Anne Piercy of near Gainesville, after attending the play at Haymarket of Friday night.

Miss Virginia Hill was a Capital City shopper on Saturday last.

Col. W. Garland Fay of Mulberry Fields was a welcome guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres one day last week. Col. Fay was on his way back from the West where he spent the winter and will be at home on his large estate in Maryland during the coming summer.

Miss Anne Piercy of Gainesville, Miss Louie Strother of Delaplane,

Mr. Wade C. Payne and Mr. Billy Wright of Haymarket and Mr. Billy Dogan of Washington were Saturday evening guests of Miss Ann Robertson of Lawn Vale last week.

Mrs. P. S. Buckley and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lawler, and their daughter, Covelle, were recent visitors at the old Buckley home, now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Carey of near Catharpin.

Mrs. C. F. Brower is back home again after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Willis, of Clarendon, Va.

House cleaning now seems to be the order of the day around this part of the country and things naturally topsy turvey, mixed up and twisted all out of shape and completely unrecognizable even to those familiar with the surroundings as they formerly existed. If there ever was a time when a fellow felt like hiking off to the mountains or to the briny deep for a vacation, that time certainly is during house cleaning at home. Facing loans and elephants in the mountain fastnesses or whales, and sharks in the mighty deep would be mere child's play in comparison to this thing of shifting about from pillar to post, never able to find a collar button or glove or any of the "gadgets" of a man's paraphernalia so necessary to his beauty when he wants to dress up and look handsome. With all the patents and inventions now going the rounds, one can but wonder why somebody does not invent something to stop this "kiloj" business and give us something of a pleasant and jolly experience instead of the rough and tumble, dusty-go-hungry proposition which we gentlemen have to contend with every so often thruout each fiscal year. One thing we feel sure of is that if it could be reduced to a pleasant, happy experience, there would be more clean houses thruout the country. Well, be that as it may, we sort of like the experience after all. One thing is sure, things smell sweeter for a short time after it is over and this is compensation for all the trials and tribulations endured during the process of renovation and rejuvenation; so we shall just balance the account, call it square and let it go.

JOHN MARSHALL

Mr. John Marshall died Monday in the Fauquier Hospital, aged eighty-five. Funeral services and interment at Greenwich March 31.

Mr. Marshall was a brother of the late Mr. William C. Marshall, of Warrenton, and the son of the late John Marshall and Mrs. Anne Eliza Blackwell Marshall. He was a great-grandson of Chief Justice Marshall, and was the last of the family to be born at Oak Hill. He was also the last survivor of his immediate family.

Mr. Marshall was in business in New York for a large part of his active life, but for some years had made his home at Greenwich with his cousin, Mrs. M. M. Washington.—Fauquier Democrat.

FINE PROGRAM AT MIDDLEBURG CUP RACE

The program announced for the annual Spring race meet of the Middleburg Racing Association, to be run April 11 and 15, lists twelve events. Two of these will be over hurdles, four over brush, four over timber and two on the flat.

The races will be run over the beautiful Glenwood race course on the estate of D. C. Sands, M. F. H., Middleburg Hunt. This course is said to be the most beautiful one in America. It is arranged so every jump can be seen and from the unique grandstand built on a hillside in a natural setting of stone and trees the thoroughbreds can be followed as they race around the entire course. The feature of the meet this year is the sixteenth annual running of the Middleburg Hunt Cup race for four-year-olds and upwards. This is the second race on the first day's program. The first race is the Sunnybank, a one and a quarter mile hurdle race. Other races listed for Saturday include: The William Skinner Memorial, a 2 1-2 mile brush race; the Rose Hill, a three mile timber race; the Loudoun Plate, a two mile brush race and the Three Oaks, a one mile turf race.

F.F.A.'S TO SHOW MOVIE

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

EASTER'S MESSAGE: "I am the resurrection and the life."—St. John 11:25.

THE VOICE OF EASTER

The season of the Resurrection comes to us at a time when all nature is waking from the cold barrenness of winter. It brings the life-giving sunshine and the dawn of the season of renewed life. It gives impulse to a thousand joyous hopes.

In spite of the condition of the world of men, nature rises to bestow her bounty and to cheer the hearts of men, if they will receive her message.

If men would stop in their madness and greed, and accept the principles laid down nearly twenty centuries ago by Him who gave His life as a ransom for many, their problems would be solved and their needs met.

There would be no more knifing jealousies, nor destructive envies let loose to rob individuals and nations of growth and health. There would be no more nagging words of discouragement to weary workers, nor scorn of the downfallen.

On Easter days, centuries gone by, Christians greeted one another with these words, "He is risen."

Why not greet one another with those vitalizing words today?

NOW IT'S UP TO YOU

A clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign for Prince William County will be officially started now in a few days. Have you planned what part you will take in it? Much preliminary work has been done, and lots of actual cleaning and beautifying has been started to usher in this week.

Have you ever stopped to think of the many things you will be doing by taking part in this campaign in some way? You are not only satisfying yourself by improving your own premises, but you are exhibiting a civic spirit and in lots of cases you will be actually benefitting someone in a material way, by giving employment or making purchases of paint or other necessities.

In the Manassas High School on Tuesday of this week an assembly was held principally to initiate the campaign. Many worth-while things have been planned by the school children to carry out the idea of cleaning, fixing, etc.

The Manassas schools are certainly setting a good example and it is to be hoped that the schools in other parts of the county are doing likewise and that all adults will become as enthused over this project as are the children.

S. S. WORKERS JOIN HANDS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Virginia Council of Religious Education has just published an attractive six-page leaflet announcing the program and plans for the 44th State Sunday school convention. The leaflet carries pictures of a number of the leaders and gives information about registration and the program.

The convention will be held in six sections with almost identical programs. Sunday school workers from central Virginia will meet at Charlottesville April 19 and 20. The convention for Tidewater Virginia will be held at Bacon's Castle Baptist Church, in Surry County, on April 23. The convention for the northern area of the Shenandoah Valley will meet at Woodstock, April 22 and 23, and the convention for northern Virginia will meet at Clarendon, April 24.

The council has never offered a stronger program to the Sunday school people of Virginia. Those who will participate in the program from a distance are Prof. H. Augustine Smith, of Boston; Dr. Harry Munro, Chicago; and Dr. Roy A. Burkhardt, Columbus, Ohio. Members of the State Council staff and executive committee and denominational leaders from Virginia will also participate on the program.

The theme of the convention is "The Church Presses On." Major attention will be given to week-day religious education. The program will also interpret the movement, "Christian Youth Building a New World," and the new movement for adult education. It will also include a discussion of the united Protestant movement to reach the unchurched in America.

The meeting here will be at the Clarendon M. E. Church. The registration fee is only fifty cents for delegates. The pageant will be given on the evening of April 24.

(QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING)

"Do Bank Examiners examine your Bank?"

Yes, bank examiners visit our bank periodically and go over our records.

These government officials are representatives of the State or Federal banking authorities. Every incorporated bank in the United States chartered to conduct a banking business is examined. They are visited without advance warning and the examiners have immediate access to all of the bank's cash, securities, books and records. They report at considerable length on the bank's assets, liabilities, methods, policies, loans, investments and other factors which determine its soundness. On the basis of the reports of these examiners banking authorities are able to make any suggestions or recommendations they feel are necessary or desirable.

Bank examinations are an added safeguard for depositors' money—in addition to the competent management and sound banking practices of the bank.

Radio Telephone Connection Saves Fishing Trawler Crew

Radio telephone equipment, a development of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, installed aboard the Gertrude M. Fauci, a fishing vessel operating from Boston, was undoubtedly the means of saving the crew of this boat recently. The vessel sprung a bad leak off Nova Scotia and her master, Captain Patrick McHugh, called the shore station of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company at Green Harbor over the radio telephone, reporting his vessel's position and asking for immediate assistance.

Albert F. Coleman, marine technical operator at Green Harbor, saw from his chart that none of the other vessels of the fleet of fishing boats owned and operated by Charles M. Fauci, all of which are equipped with marine telephones, were in that vicinity, so he immediately had a general SOS sent out from Coast Guard headquarters. Within a few hours after the SOS was broadcast, the trawler Lemberg of Halifax was standing by ready to take off the crew of the Fauci. Captain McHugh placed a final telephone call on Green Harbor reporting the arrival of the Lemberg and that he and his men were about to abandon the ship, which was in immediate danger of sinking. During that last conversation Captain McHugh was standing in two feet of salt water and the batteries, which operated the telephone equipment, were partly submerged, but his words still came clearly over some 400 miles of the icy Atlantic to the fishing company's office.

Radio telephone apparatus was first made available to vessels off the New England coast during the latter part of 1932, according to the Bell Laboratories Record. Previous to the present incident, the telephone has taken an important part in a number of rescues, where without this service both men and vessels would undoubtedly have been lost.

Poultry Expert Tells How to Get Early Fall Layers

"The quicker chicks make the jump from the seventh week of age to the laying house, providing they are fully grown and fully developed, the sooner they'll start making money in the nests," says C. S. Johnson, manager of the Purina Poultry Department. "To do this job of growing large type, well developed birds in the shortest possible time requires as close attention to their care and feeding during the growing period as during the first six weeks of their lives."

"Letting chicks shift for themselves after the sixth week by feeding grain and occasional table scraps happens all too frequently, and that's the reason for the oft-proved statement that the poultryman either makes or breaks himself by the way he cares for his pullets from the sixth to the twentieth week. The sorry part is that the poultry raiser doesn't realize the mistake until it's too late—when he finds himself without eggs in the fall, when prices are at their highest."

Coasters are costly
"The cost of letting up in the care of young pullets as compared to good management and feeding to keep them coming as fast as possible has been made a matter of special study at the Purina Research Farm. It may seem cheaper after giving chicks a good start, to turn them out and let them rustle for their food, but when they "coast" right on through those fall months of high egg prices and don't develop enough to come into production until after the first of the year, the owner loses that good egg money he should be getting."

To Get Extra Egg Money
"The average egg produced from September to January is worth two eggs produced during the other seven months," according to Johnson. "The poultry raiser who hits this period of high egg prices—September through January—with big pullets at 50 per cent production or better has by March 1st paid the feed cost for the entire laying year, paid a profit above all costs, and has his birds making money for the remainder of the year, almost regardless of egg prices."

$43.66 Extra Profit Per 100 Birds
Building pullets that are ready for early laying is a job for feed because pullets are made of feed. They must be supplied with the materials that will develop body frames, tissues, muscles and egg producing organs. It takes a balanced growing feed to do this. According to Purina Experiment Farm records, pullets raised on a balanced growing ration produced $43.66 extra profit per hundred birds over pullets on grain alone.

SYMBOLIC CHERRY TREES

Behind the physical beauty of the Japanese cherry blossoms, which usher Springtime into Washington is an idea that ranks as man's most beautiful conception—friendship. The trees symbolize Japan's desire for amity with the United States. In the expression of that desire, Mrs. William Howard Taft was a central figure. The role she played is narrated in its wealth of interesting detail in the feature section of The Star, Saturday, April 11.

ELIZABETH KINGSTON

It is with deep regret that Mr. J. H. Kingston announces the passing of his sister, Miss Elizabeth Kingston, April 1. Interment took place April 3 in Union cemetery, Quakertown, Pa. Her patient, beautiful Christian character in her home and immediate circle of friends will leave an influence abiding.

ADVANTAGES OF FARM LIFE

Even if it weren't worth a very great deal to be in any vocation which you really like, I wonder if you've ever had pointed out these inherent advantages of rural life as listed by Dr. O. E. Baker of the U. S. Department of Agriculture:—

1. A farmer has more and better food to eat than have most people in cities.

2. He has better health and lives longer.

3. He accumulates more property than the average city resident.

4. He is more likely to enjoy his work than are most city people.

5. He is likely to enjoy a better family life.

Dr. Baker's statements are all backed by the actual facts. He says that young people who reach the age of 17 are likely to live three to five longer in the country than in the city. Also from the money standpoint, though you may not believe it, the states with the highest average or per capita wealth are all dominantly agricultural states.

There are other decided advantages that should not be overlooked:—

1. Fundamentally, the country is more beautiful than the city. The artistic and esthetic value of the rural panorama—tree and plant and bird and insect and ever changing sky—is incalculable.

2. The country is more conducive to clear thinking and to leisurely living than city. Life in the city is always geared to high speed.

3. The country offers wider opportunities for recreation than the city, if the advantages are utilized. If, however, any girl or boy is so minded that social advantages can never mean anything but those that must be purchased, such as movies, flashy parties, or commercialized sports, he or she will probably never be satisfied on a farm—Alexander Nunn, in The Progressive Farmer.

Beware The Cough
From a common cold
That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results. Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

THE EASTER FLORAL BALL

By Inno McGill

(In The Fauquier Democrat)

Easter week was the time selected by the Floral Blossom Club for the ball given annually in honor of some young flower. One of the finest of these gatherings was that in honor of Miss Rose Bud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aster.

Flowers from far and near, flowers of the high-climbing type, and those of the lowlier kind were pleased to accept invitations to this ball for they were all fond of little Rose Bud. Her parents had great wealth. Much of it had been made through the China Aster firm. Therefore, it was understood that Miss Aster's coming-out party would be a grand affair.

The reception took place in the open under a bower of Dogwood, richly ornamented with clusters of Sunflowers. The entertainment was in the afternoon that the Four O'Clocks could attend. The head of this distinguished family was known as the Marvel of Peru.

At the end of the grounds, where Tinker Bell might like to dwell, refreshments were served from a mound of Ivy, under a canopy of Mistletoe and Thistle erected by young Hollyhock and Hawthorn. Lady Fern and Mrs. Primrose presided at the Apple Blossom table. The Misses Daisy dispensed Honeysuckle, Cherry Blossoms and Sweet Peas. These dainty refreshments were served in Golden Buttercups.

There were two dancing pavilions; one of Cedar, the other of Cypress, and both polished with a mixture of Cowslip and Gentian. The sweet music by the Heather-Bell orchestra included selections from the Evening Primrose, Hyacinth Waltzes and the Opera of Narcissus.

Among those present, the Lords and Ladies were conspicuous for their London Pride, but their snobbishness only enhanced the natural charms of our American Beauties. These popular flowers had Phlox of partners for every dance. No Wall Flowers were to be seen at the gathering. The Violet sisters, always attractive, were particularly so on this occasion. Their cousins, the Pinks, were beautiful under the excitement of the dance.

There were folk-dances by Miss Heliotrope, Miss Hibiscus and the Crocus brothers. Mrs. Primrose sang a charming ballad entitled "Heartsease." Miss Wild Daisy and Miss Maidenhair gave duets from Canterbury Bell, Rhododendron and the Passion Flower. The Amaryllis and the Daffodil children were graceful in their fancy dances.

The Easter Lily Reel, said to be the most beautiful performance of the day, was enacted by Mr. Dandelion with Miss Mari Gold; Mr. Periwinkle with Miss Poly Anthus; Mr. G. Ranium with Miss Rose Mary and Mr. Lark Spur with Miss An Emone. Throughout this dance, each of the floral maidens carried an Easter Lily in her hand.

At a signal from Mr. Tyme, while the reel was in progress, young Dandelion dropped a Fox Glove. Then followed a merry scramble in which all the guests took part. By an established custom, the flower securing the Fox Glove was proclaimed the belle of the ball. The music of the Heather Bells could scarcely be heard for the merry laughter of the flowers. And their joy knew no bounds when the Fox Glove landed in the lap of Black-Eyed-Susan. At once, this popular flower announced she was to be married the following day. None of her chums knew the lucky fellow's name, and all were inclined to doubt the announcement.

At the moment, however, by some singular chance, Sweet William found a Lady's Slipper. Holding it high above his head, he declared its owner to be his Cinderella. To this day, it is not known whether that Lady's Slipper fell off by accident, or was lost accidentally on purpose. Several things were lost in the scramble. Flowering Almond, Flax, Fir, and even the Flytrap flower were later found on the floor.

One guest lost a ring set with Ox Eye and Snakesfoot; another lost a Snowdrop from her breastpin. However, Sweet William was not long in finding that the owner of the Lady's Slipper was none other than Black-Eyed Susan, the pretty flower that had promised to be his bride. Turning to her, Ragged Robin said, "Yew take the Palm." Then, gallantly, he led her to the dark, red Car Nation, donated as an Easter prize to the flower securing the Fox Glove.

The beautiful car made several trips around the grounds that each guest might test its comforts and its speed. Then, Mr. Tyme called halt to the dance; reminding the guests that Nightshade was falling and bidding them be in their homes ere the Moon Plant would bloom. Lady Columbine invited all to be present the following day at the wedding of Black-Eyed Susan and Sweet William. Then the Heather Bells played the Eye of Daie March, and the Easter Floral Ball became a happy memory.

THE WEDDING

The canopy was of Bride Roses. That wedding are to this day remembered by all who had the good fortune to attend. Each floral family contributed to the decorations. The result can better be imagined than described. Every flower that blooms and some of the richest foliage that grows were included among the guests. The air was filled with sweetest fragrance. Some of the guests were distinguished for their quality, or worth; others for their beauty.

The canopy was of Bride Roses. Entwined with these buds were Lilacs, Heliotrope, Hepatica and Blue Violets. Supporting the canopy were columns of Buttercups; mingled with sprays of Iceland Moss and clusters of Flowering Reed; while mounds of Ferns and Palms formed the background. Each bloom represented a well-known floral family.

The ceremonial booth, unlike any that had ever been erected, was entirely of Variegated Tulips (beautiful eyes) appropriately selected as a tribute to the beauty of the bride. The cushions for bride and groom were of Arbutus (these only do I love.) Col. John Quil was the best man and the ushers were selected from Phlox of Sweet William's college chums.

Attending the bride were: Miss Poly Anthus, attired in velvet; Miss Mari Gold, in an orange colored dress; Miss Rose Mary in dark green and Miss An Emone in a vari-colored costume. Mrs. Laurel was matron of honor. The wedding ring was carried on a cushion of Golden Glow by Johnny Jump Up, the bride's young brother. Virginia Creeper, the bride's little sister, wore a wreath of Baby's Breath and walked immediately back of young Trumpet Vine who led the procession. Then followed several Lilies of the Valley.

The bride was escorted by her father, General Jacqueminot. She was charming in a golden-velvet costume with insets of dark brown. Her head was adorned with Bridal Wreath and she carried a cluster of Orange Blossoms and Easter Lilies.

The marriage was performed by Chaplain Jack-in-the-Pulpit. The cloth of gold in his robes and their green trimmings harmonized richly with the colors surrounding the booth. After the ceremony, while the Periwinkle Band played selections from Chinese Chrysanthemum and the Marvel of Peru, the bridal party received their relatives and friends; greeting them with Tulips.

As the happy pair sped away on the Morning Glory Express, they were pelted with Snowballs and Candytuft. On realizing the number of Bleeding Hearts they were leaving, the bride threw Forget-Me-Nots to Johnny Jump Up, telling him to give them to Poppy with her love. As a promise and for good cheer, Sweet William sent him Shamrock.

GREEN NAMED STANDARD BEARER

Young Republicans Take the Lead in 8th District Affairs.

The Republicans of the 8th district assembled at Culpeper Thursday to organize for this year's activities and to name candidates for office, and delegates and alternates to the several conventions.

It was apparent at the start that a live contest was on between the younger element in the party and the so-called old liners. The test vote was had in the nomination of a temporary chairman, William Moseley Brown, of Arlington, former candidate for governor in 1929, defeating Col. R. R. Farr of Fairfax by a vote of 115 to 94.

The next contest of proportions was less spirited when John Locke Green, of Culpeper and Arlington County, defeated J. V. Nichols by a vote of 132 to 70, with ten delegates not voting. This vote was an upset because Nichols' name was brought to the floor by the committee without opposition. Later the convention declared Green's nomination unanimous.

A lengthy set of resolutions were adopted vociferously attacking the Democratic Administration. The sense of the whole convention as expressed by the speakers was that the issue of the coming campaign is "Franklin D. Roosevelt and his acts."

The young element supporting Alf Landon, of Kansas, also carried the day in nominating Phil Campbell, former congressman from Kansas, and now a resident of Arlington, and E. R. Duff of Charlottesville, both delegates receiving positive instructions to support Landon.

Joseph L. Crupper, Rosslyn business man, long an outstanding figure in Republican state politics, was endorsed to continue as national committeeman from Virginia and also Mrs. Murray Bocoock of Albemarle. Alternates named for these positions were J. Sidney Wiley of Lorton, former deputy collector of internal revenue of Alexandria and well known in utility circles in northern Virginia, and Mrs. Hattie A. Birney of Culpeper, probably the most outstanding Republican in that county.

W. Ernest Trusler, of Manassas, was re-elected as district chairman and John B. Grayson of Broad Run, in Fauquier, was named to the state executive committee. Henry B. Goodloe will appear on the ballot as elector for the 8th district.

Much enthusiasm prevailed at the meeting and the capacity of the auditorium was taxed beyond its usual requirements. The mayor of Culpeper was present to make them welcome and the town generally afforded a hospitable reception. This is the first concerted move by the Republican party in the 8th district for the 1936 campaign. Much that may be accomplished in the eight months will depend to a large extent on the activities of the younger element of the party.

DOLLAR OPERA AT RICHMOND

"Dollar opera" is society's latest enthusiasm.

When Fortune Gallo, impresario of the San Carlo Opera Company made grand opera pay by reducing prices to accord with lower incomes and salaries, he made opera a public event. This was done without impairing the artistic quality of his productions, or the cachet of social distinction which has always given prestige to this fascinating blend of music and drama.

The larger public won by "dollar opera" has really served to enhance the formal splendor of the "Diamond Circle" and the boxes, where fashion displays its loveliest and best.

Prices for the series of ten operas the San Carlo Opera Company will present at the Mosque during Grand Opera Week, May 4-9, place the best seats in the auditorium within the dollar brackets. There are many good seats at one dollar, while some sections of the balcony are scaled down to lower prices.

Tickets may be bought now at the Mosque for single performances. These will be reserved in the order of their receipt after the sale of series tickets is completed on April 15. Here is the program for Grand Opera Week:

Monday evening, May 4: "La Traviata," Monday evening, May 4: "Hansel and Gretel," Tuesday matinee, May 5: "Samson and Delilah," Tuesday evening, May 5: "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci," Wednesday evening, May 6: "Marta," Thursday matinee, May 7: "Carmen," Thursday evening, May 7: "Tannhauser," Friday evening, May 8: "Mme. Butterfly," Saturday matinee, May 9: "Aida," Saturday evening, May 9.

THAT UNPAINTED HOUSE
(Contributed by Home Demonstration worker)

"If eyes were made for seeing, then beauty is its own excuse for being." Every one of us is familiar with the sad, grey appearance of an unpainted house on a dull winter day. How one wishes for the power of a magician that he might dot the dull canvas of earth with a few splashes of gay beauty. No less familiar are we with the warming influence of a carefully kept, freshly painted home which seems to say to all who pass that way, "The death of nature has not left her children without joy; within my walls is cheer and love for all mankind." It is the duty of every citizen to his fellows to make his home cheerful without as well as within.

The outside of a house tells the world what sort of people its occupants are. What cleanliness and neatness of body are to the personality, paint is to the house. What pressing and patches are to the clothing of the poor, paint is to the humble home. For everyone admires and respects him who shows what he has with the best of his ability. So paint your home! It will help your family, your community, and your nation.
