PARK AND MILITARY OFFICIALS TO BE HERE TOMORROW

The committee in charge of arrangements of the re-enactment of the First Battle of Manassas, which is to be staged here July 21, will meet with officers of the U. S. Army and the Marine Corps on Friday morning to go over the battlefield to select a camp site for the troops which will be here for the event and also decide upon just which phase of the battle will be re-enacted, according to an announcement made today by Harry P. Davis, chairman of the committee.

C. C. Cloe, who is in charge of the military arrangements, stated that he and other members of the committee were in Washington recently in conference with Brigadier-General C. D. Roberts, commanding officer of the 16th Brigade, U. S. Army, and that he was very much elated over the co-operation that was being offered by the Army and the Marine Corps.

After the inspection trip the party will return to Manassas where they will meet with the entire committee at which time the plans for the entire affair will be discussed.

There will be other attractions during the evening including a Japanese dance directed by Miss Virginia Frazier, and several musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Leachman.

CLUB SEES WONDERFUL FILMS

The Kianis Club was treated to one of the most delightful entertainments in its history when Messrs. Chauncey Whitman and Ernest Green gave an illustrative talk on the eruption of Mt. Manaloa in Hawaii last November.

The pictures were in color and strikingly beautiful. Mr. Green explained how the intense heat of the occasion had actually melted the gelatin on the films which were exposed for only about twenty seconds at a time to prevent cracking the lenses. This condition was accentuated because of the temperature of ten above zero and a stiff icy wind blowing against the rear of the camera.

The showing of the pictures consumed the best part of an hour but every one was only too glad to stay over time and see them. Carl Kincheloe certainly deserves the thanks of the club for this splendid program.

It was decided to have the high school graduates as guests on May 29.

The matter of an indoor circus has been left to the underprivileged child committee and more details will be announced in the near future.

Lt. Governor James Price, late yesterday, notified W. T. Sweeney, president of the Young Democratic Club by telegraph that he would be able to attend the meeting previously scheduled here next Wednesday evening at the high school.

OLIVIA A. RAINES

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. From henceforth," sayeth the Scripture, "They shall rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Entered into eternal rest, Mrs. Olivia Adeline Raines, on Wednesday, April 15, in the Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, Va., after an unsuccessful operation.

She leaves behind her to mourn her loss besides a host of loving friends, three sisters and four brothers, Miss Elizabeth Wine, Mrs. Ethel L. Raines of Stafford County, Va., and Mrs. T. N. Berryman of Aden, Va.; Rev. W. T. Wine of Independent Hill, Mr. M. M. Wine of Fredericksburg, Algonquin Wine of Falmouth, Va., and C. H. Wine of Manassas.

Funeral services were conducted from Ramoth Baptist Church, of which she had been a member since early girlhood, on Friday at 2:30 p.m. o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. Lloyd Boutyard, assisted by Rev. Jas. E. Jett.

The remains were borne to their last resting place by her nephews, preceded by her nieces, who carried a profusion of floral wreaths. The crowded church and the many beautiful floral tributes gave mute evidence of the love and esteem in which she was held in the community. She died as she had lived, beloved by all who knew her.

"Sleep on, beloved, sleep and take thy rest."

Lay down thy head upon the Savior's breast.

We loved thee well but Jesus loved the best.

Good night!

Tietjens, son of Mr. O. P. Tietjens and the late Mrs. Tietjens of Napoleon, Ohio. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a small party of relatives and friends by the Rev. A. Stuart Gibson. The church was attractively decorated with spring flowers and candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Lucien Alexander Larkin, wore dark blue sheer crepe with yellow and blue accessories and a corsage of talisman orchids and lilies of the valley. A SPLENDID SHOWING Since publishing the list of donations for flood sufferers, treasurer O. D. Waters of the County Red Cross committee reports that the ladies from Occoquan have sent in $18.50 in addition to money already derived from that locality.

This brings the total to around $350 or merely 100 per cent over the amount called for by the National Red Cross.

The officers of the local Red Cross chapter are taking this occasion to express their appreciation of the wonderful response given in Prince William County.

FRATERNAL NEWS

(Communications for this column must be in by Wednesday)

District No. 5, Order Fraternal Americans, met last Thursday evening with Aden Council No. 30. State Secretary C. E. Babcock and other visitors were in attendance. J. M. Bell was named district deputy to succeed George D. Baker who refused renomination after serving the district for many years. The State Council will meet at Danville on May 19.

CATHARPIN

Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins, after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. L. K. Lynn of Manassas, has returned to her home at Sudley for the summer.

Mrs. W. S. Brower attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Lucretia Larkin, which was solemnized in the Episcopal Church, Manassas, Va., on Saturday last.

Mrs. J. W. Alvey and Mrs. L. L. Lynn visited the National Capital last week in the interest of some new spring finery; hence, it might be interesting to attend church next Sunday.

Mrs. S. A. Moss of Sudley spent last week visiting friends in the Capital City. That is the way the "society" column would express it, but we are always suspicious of these early spring visits to the big city across the Potomac. You know those great big department stores with their many fine dresses and those alluring hats that "ar ejust too sweet for anything" are a great attraction along about garden-making time.

The Sudley-Farrington group of the young people's organization held an interesting twilight meeting in the church on Sunday night led by Miss Lida Sowers. The same group will hold a candlelight service next Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. led by Miss Emalene Sapp. These services represent the beginning and ending of Self Denial week which is being observed by all the unions connected with this particular movement. The Denial offering will be received at this meeting.

Mr. B. Lynn Robertson of Auburn, N. Y., was a recent visitor at Lawn Vale over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm had as recent visitors Mrs. Kern and two sons, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Briggs and daughter, all of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Pattie and daughter of Manassas.

The event of the season for the Sudley and Gainesville churches was the Washington district conference held in Grace church, Manassas, Va., on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. This annual meeting, being a distinctive part of the annual conference, is a matter of interest to Methodist generally since it enables the laity to get a closer and better insight into the workings and the business end as conducted by the annual body. Aside from its religious and business affairs, there is always a social side which many value beyond calculation. Of all the sessions, the first one on the opening day is, perhaps, the most thrilling; delegates are constantly arriving and each anxious to see "whose here," so for a time it is hard to sit still and look pious. Friendships are made from time to time which one never forgets; pastors of other days are contacted who keep one busy answering questions about former parishioners; thus all the time one has to spare is taken up in a very pleasant way indeed.

These annual meetings are always interesting and this one was no exception; if anything it was probably more interesting from the fact that the new presiding elder, Dr. Edgar C. Beery, was in the chair for his initial visit to this section. Dr. Beery is perhaps the youngest elder we have had and reminds one very much of Bishop Kern by his able, practical and human way of handling business. He has the sympathy and love of his people generally. Those in attendance from Sudley and Gainesville churches were Mrs. W. H. Dogan, Mrs. A. B. Sapp and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald, delegates. Among those visiting were Mrs. H. L. Hundley, Mrs. L. J. Pattie, Mrs. C. F. Sinclair, Mrs. Mary P. Briggs and Mrs. Etta P. Lynn.

These conferences have grown during recent years until they have a membership greater than the annual conference had not so many years ago and the matter of entertainment has become such a problem that but few churches are able to "house" them. Grace church, Manassas, has now entertained the district conference twice within the past three years. This church with its splendid dining-room service, its committee rooms and all necessary equipment, has been the recipient of much praise and appreciation from the church at large for the very pleasant and able manner in which all were so nicely entertained. Grace Church has made many friends by these very pleasant contacts.

Among former pastors of Sudley and their wives were the Rev. Mr. Welch of Fairfax, Rev. and Mrs. King of Falls Church, Rev. and Mrs. Atkins, and Rev. and Mrs. Swecker of Potomac, all anxious to hear from and meet friends of other days. Rachel, young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Welch, is just recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

HAYMARKET NINE STEPPING AHEAD

Chalks up Third Win This Week

The small Haymarket nine rapped out its third victory of the season against the Nokesville baseball team on a wind-swept diamond at Haymarket last Tuesday. Godfrey, diminutive utility man, swung into action on the slab for Haymarket and as the game ended chalked up his thirteenth strikeout. Showalter, for Nokesville, was sent to the showers in the middle of the fourth inning and was replaced by Weaver, who pitched a good conservative brand of ball, striking out eight batters during the remainder of the game.

This victory followed a 6-5 victory over the Warrenton High School team. Bale and Kehve handled the pitching job for Warrenton while Hall, a novice, pitched for Haymarket. Haymarket batters chalked up eleven hits as compared to eight for Warrenton.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

YET SHALL HE LIVE: Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.—John 11:25

LOOK ABOUT

Look about and if you see starved looking horses and dogs, try to locate the reason for their condition. A helpless animal is unable to voice a plea other than in pitiful looks.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS

From modest beginnings in 1915, "Be Kind to Animals Week," sponsored by the American Humane Association and given momentum by all such organizations in the country, has developed into a movement of tremendous proportions, with incalculable results. It is marked by church observances, radio programs, special pages in newspapers and essay contests in the schools.

The 1936 week begins today. Members of the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, acting under the leadership of the American Humane Association, have planned to make this anniversary the greatest since the event was inaugurated 21 years ago. For the benefit of the children, it may be said that Shirley Temple will serve as junior national chairman and pictures of the youthful screen star and her pets have been distributed throughout the country.

We all know what the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has done in the way of promoting kindness and justice to the creatures who cannot speak for themselves. It has given succor to the lost, sick and friendless. In 1934 alone, it cared for more than 9,000 animals and distributed humane literature in hundreds of schools. It has seen to it that wontonly cruel persons were punished. We may be sure that these acts of mercy and of protection were not lost on the dumb beneficiaries, who are able vividly to express appreciation.

The purpose of this movement is very important. It is one in which all of us may cooperate with enthusiasm.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

IN MEMORIAM

Powell, Susie Graham

In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Susie Graham Powell, whom God called to rest just five years ago, April 20, 1931.

When one I loved was called away, God took her home, it was his will, But in my heart she lives still.

There is no love like mother's love, So bright, so pure a flame, There is no sweeter sound on earth, Than her beloved name.

I miss her when I need a friend, In her I could always depend, How can I help but feel sad, When my mother's voice is never heard.

Some day I hope to meet you, Some day I know not when, To clasp your hand in that beautiful land,

Never to part again. Her daughter, GRACE POWELL YOWELL.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

By F. D. Cox

Wheat Farmers to Receive 21½ Cents on AAA Allotments.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced that a payment of 21½ cents a bushel on farm allotments will be made in 1936 wheat farmers who applied for contracts and made adjustments in accordance with the requirements of the contracts. The payments are to be in full settlement of the obligation of the Secretary of Agriculture to farmers who complied with the requirements of the wheat adjustment program before abandonment of that program was made necessary by the decision of the Supreme Court rendered on January 6.

Wheat fields are now being measured to determine compliance.

Wheat Payments Separate From Agricultural Conservation Payments.

The payments to be made in connection with compliance with wheat contracts are entirely separate from any which may be made in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program for 1936. The fact that farmers receive payments in liquidation of AAA obligations will not affect in any way their right to participate in the agricultural conservation program.

Agricultural Conservation Program.

The general plan of the Agricultural Conservation Program is that you may (1) receive payments for making use of soil-conserving and soil-building crops in 1936 on up to 15 per cent of your acreage used for soil-depleting crops in 1935 and (2) qualify to receive repayment, in part at least, for the cost of carrying out certain soil building practices on your farm in 1936.

Meetings for explaining the program in detail will be held as follows: Monday, April 27, 7:45 p.m., G. C. Russell's store at Bethel.

Tuesday, April 28, 7:45 p.m., Masonic Hall at Haymarket.

Wednesday, April 29, 7:45 p.m., Catharpin School.

Thursday, April 30, 7:45 p.m., Nokesville High School.

All available information and assistance in making application for the benefit payments may be obtained at any time at the county agent's office at Manassas. There will be no contracts. You either qualify or do not qualify for the payments when performance is checked next fall. A sketch of the farm showing the different fields, the number of acres in each, and the use to which they were put in 1935 will give about all the information needed for the work sheets and applications.

(QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING)

"Why is public confidence so important to a Bank?"

There are two main reasons why public confidence is so important to a bank.

In the first place people must have confidence in a bank before they will deposit their money. This means confidence in the honesty, integrity and ability of the bank officers, plus the belief that sound, efficient methods are used in its management. Secondly, public confidence is important because it gives the bank assurance of stable deposits. This, in turn, enables the bank to loan or invest its funds for reasonable periods. It is the revenue from these loans and investments which makes it possible for the bank to pay its operating costs, build up reserves and pay stockholders a fair return.

The officers of this bank have justifiable pride in the widespread public confidence it enjoys in this community.

At the April meeting Dorothy Bailey read "My Garden" by Eugene Fields. Miss Pitts presented the garden project. It was decided to plant flowers on the school grounds. The regular meeting time is the third Thursday of each month. Louise Cumberland, reporter.

Miss Drusilla Davis, assistant home demonstration agent, will meet the girls of Haymarket 4-H Club Monday, April 27, to give health check.

Greenwich 4-H Club will meet Monday, April 27, at 10:30 o'clock, at the school building. At this time room arrangement and the care of the bedroom will be taken up. All club members are asked to bring health cards to this meeting.

REPUBLICAN RESOLUTIONS

Platform Adopted by G. O. P. of Prince William.

Of the many important propositions calling loudly for the most earnest and deliberate consideration by the electorate of our State and Nation, we, the Republicans of Prince William County, Va., in convention assembled in the town of Manassas, this March 28, 1936, wish to specially stress the following:

I. Civil Service. Whereas, the number of Federal employees under Civil Service having decreased from 80.8 per cent to 50.7 per cent during the past three years, we, therefore, demand the return from the present method of political appointment to the meritorious system—that all Federal positions be filled from the Civil Service Register, thus employing persons in these responsible positions who are qualified therefor, and not from favoritism by political appointment which we deem detrimental to efficient service.

II. The Tariff. To protect the American laborer and to maintain the American standard of living against the lower standards of living and cheap labor in foreign countries, we believe it necessary that all foreign products, farm and factory be taxed to such an extent that they can not be imported into this country to undersell our American products which would, in reality, be boycotting our own business, throwing our own laboring people out of employment, and increasing our relief rolls. It is, however, an indisputable fact that every producer, whether farmer or manufacturer, must of necessity realize on his investment in order to continue in business. Neither can labor be prosperous when business does not prosper. Motto: A job for everybody.

III. Depression—Relief—Prosperity. To bring relief from depression and to restore prosperity, we believe it necessary not only to determine, but also to remove, the cause of the depression, and not merely to administer the palliative of relief, that is, care for the needy and unemployed by increasing the National Debt. And while we favor caring for the poor and needy who are deserving, we, at the same time, are opposed to taxing the industry and thrift, the economy and self-denial of the frugal to house and feed and clothe those who are not willing to work for a livelihood when given the opportunity, nor those who waste their substance in prodigality or riotous living—in gambling, in drunkenness, in immorality, and the like—for that would be penalizing the good for their goodness to support the bad in their evil-doing. A good motto in this connection: Everybody to a job.

IV. Public Utilities. We are opposed to Government ownership and operation of any public utility, but we do believe in strict government supervision over all public utilities and business to protect the laborer against oppression and exploitation by the employer, and also to protect the industries against spoliation and dictation by strike and mob violence.

We are also opposed to the centralization of such power in different government bureaus in Washington that would empower said bureaus to dictate to the farmer how he shall do his farming and to the business man how he shall conduct his business. That would be Bureaucracy in fee simple, and not Democracy.

V. Freedom and Dictatorship. We declare in favor of a free press, free speech and free thought—a free country and a free people—not subject to the scrutiny of any government bureau, nor Senatorial or Congressional Investigating Committee—so long as sedition and rebellion are not involved—nor to the dictatorship of the Chief Executive, forcing signatures on "the dotted line" by the promiscuous use of "the patronage whip."

VI. Sound Money. We denounce any and all inflation and deflation of the United States dollar and favor a stabilized currency which is the foundation of industry and business and which will, therefore, restore that confidence so essentially necessary to prosperity.

VII. Economy and the Budget. We favor balancing the budget (a) not by penalizing business and industry with increased taxation, but (b) by curtailing Federal expenditures to what is really necessary to operate the government efficiently; and we censure most severely the profligate spending of money which has plunged our country into additional debt by the billions, the payment of which debt will necessitate a heavy drain from the pocket-books of our taxpayers for generations to come.

VIII. Supreme Court. We condemn unequivocally both those in high as well as those in low positions who have had the brazen effrontery to call into question the integrity of the Supreme Court of the United States; who have threatened to pack the Supreme Court with judges committed to their way of thinking in order to accomplish their purposes; who would coerce or intimidate, if such as that were possible, that High Court into interpreting the Constitution of the United States so as to make their New Deal experiments constitutional; and who try to cast odium upon that Honorable Court of Justices by placing at the door of that Court the responsibility for the indebtedness that is brought about by the contracts the AAA entered into with farmers unconstitutionally.

REMARKS MADE BY REP. WOODRUM

Delivered at Recent Meeting of Young Democrats.

"I have felt from the beginning that Franklin D. Roosevelt was Providential. As I read the pages of history of this country, I am more and more impressed with the fact that America is a Providential nation. From the time some Unseen Eye and Unseen Hand guided a small and unstable vessel over uncharted seas, to the laughter and derision of the world, and brought it to drop anchor in the harbor of a new world, on down from that day to this, there is abundant evidence on every hand that somewhere there is an All-seeing Eye and Divine Hand that guides the destiny of this nation.

"It seems that there is always a man of the hour to lead our nation out into the light again—whether it be in war or peace, and I believe that the coming of Franklin D. Roosevelt was Providential.

"Now that the smoke of the thing has passed away, we are beginning to see the facts more clearly, and the first theory or doctrine that was exploded and that we have come to realize is a fallacy is that old doctrine that Republican rule and prosperity are synonymous; that if we would just turn the Government over to the Republicans they could and would manipulate it so there would be great prosperity in industry and finance and manufacturing; they told us that they could so handle the exports and imports and that they could so manipulate the tariffs as to protect our production and our labor.

"The Recovery program under Roosevelt's guidance is our supreme effort to recover from twelve years of such manipulations of the Government by the Republican Party.

"The stand taken by Ex-President Herbert Hoover is, I think, the most shocking example of bad taste in public affairs today. The most charitable statement I can make of Hoover is that he didn't know what it was all about, and now he seems to know all about it. He tells us what is wrong with the country, and how to end the depression and unemployment. But generations yet unborn will associate the name of Herbert Hoover with the greatest economic collapse that ever came to the American people.

"When Silent Coolidge turned the country over to Mr. Hoover, in the days of prosperity, the land was flowing with milk and honey; people were working; two automobiles in every garage; banks were bursting with money. The people listened to all the Republican baloney, and see what happened. Hoover turned out to be a great engineer—yes, a wrecking engineer. And now he is turning to the American people today and trying to convince them that Roosevelt is not doing a good job. When the American people come to cast their votes in November, they are going to pass judgment on what the Republicans and what the Democrats have done. And I don't see how they can conscientiously vote otherwise than for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"... This thing that is commonly referred to as a 'depression' was virtually more than that. It was an economic disturbance that shocked the very foundations of our existence. I know something is wrong with the economic system of a country when I see one small group of people on one side vastly increasing their material holdings, and another increasing group on the other side impoverished; when I see a country abounding in wealth and resources and opportunities, and in its midst sweat shops where women and little children are working under foul and unsanitary conditions at starvation wages; where able-bodied men are pounding the highways begging for a day's work so they may support their families. Under these conditions, with concentrated wealth and increasing power on one side and unemployment and starvation on the other, I know something is wrong, and the American people know it, too.

"The Republicans say we are not Jeffersonian Democrats any more. What would Jefferson do if he were living today? He didn't know anything about budgets and unemployment. Never has our nation or any nation had to cope with such a crisis as this, in his day or at any time. Jefferson believed in the rights of the masses of people, and that's what Franklin D. Roosevelt believes in today.

"The accusation has been made that the Democratic party has not lived up to its platform, adopted in Chicago at the National Convention. Political platforms, after all, are resolutions adopted by a Resolutions Committee in the Convention, setting out certain fundamental principles and work a political party hopes to carry out, and as far as it is possible to do, a political party should live up to the platform upon which it was elected. I challenge anyone to say the Democratic party hasn't courageously and honestly lived up to the spirit of its platform."

Congressman Woodrum enumerated the planks of the Democratic platform, and pointed out in each instance the efforts of the Administration in living up to them—the extension of Federal credit to the States; shorter hours in industry; public works; unemployment and old age insurance; the restoration or agriculture; better financing of farm mortgages, at lower rates of interest; conservation and development of the nation's waterpower; protection of the investing public; repeal of the 18th Amendment.

"This is the first time in history that the Federal Government has ever acknowledged its responsibility to the aged and unfortunate," Congressman Woodrum continued. "We have legislated for banks and railroads and insurance companies, and every other form of investment, but here is one Administration that reaches out and takes cognizance of the fact that thousands of people find themselves in the shadow of the evening of life without means of existing."

"A few planks in this platform have not been carried out as well as we would have liked. For instance, we have not been able to reduce public expenditures. We are not willing to take the food and clothing from the men, women and children who constitute the eight or ten million people of America who are today pounding the highways out of work, and try to balance the Federal Budget in order to save some of the big taxpayers' money. But—there has been no fraud, no grand larceny, no misappropriation of the public funds by this Administration.

"The first thing Mr. Roosevelt did was to close the banks—something that Mr. Hoover hadn't the courage to do, though he had been advised to do it. Then an inventory was made to determine whether they should be permitted to open and resume business. That saved the banks of the country. He opened the vaults of the Treasury of the United States and asked them to bring their frozen assets and get credit for them. Credit was extended to the railroads, insurance companies and industries of various kinds through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Millions of dollars were loaned out, and those loans are being paid back now. Only a very, very small proportion are in default. The Administration held out a helping hand to the Home Owners of America, when hundreds of thousands of home owners were faced with the prospect of seeing their homes auctioned off, and they were given the opportunity of refinancing and saving them.

"During my 14 years in Congress I have voted for every sort of farm bill that you can think of, always hoping that something would help the farmer. Every Administration has sought to relieve the farmer, and he has been relieved so much that he hardly has anything left."

"The Roosevelt Administration has made every effort to help the farmer. Since May 1933 to January of this year thousands of farmers have refinanced their farms through the credit of the U. S. Government at lower rates of interest. From time immemorial the farmer has had to pay a tariff on every manufactured article, but the minute the Administration attempts to raise the price of farm commodities which the farmer has to sell, by placing a tax on them, there is a clamor on the part of the manufacturers that it is unconstitutional, I do not feel ashamed that I happened to be on the side of the minority of the Court that declared it so.

"I don't need to tell you what has been done in stabilizing and raising the prices of farm products—wheat from 35c to 95c per bushel; Corn from 29c to 82c per bushel; hogs from $3.98 to $8.40, and on down the line. The effort of this Administration to stabilize the price of produce that the farmers have to sell has materially increased the welfare of the farmers of the country, and has worked no hardships on the consumers.

"Seven million dollars was paid to the farmers of Virginia, and Prince William County got $65,000 of it. This is concrete evidence of the effort of this Administration to keep faith with the people of the country.

"By far the major problem that confronted the Federal Government was the question of Emergency Relief. The Republicans are having a great deal of fun with the Democrats—they are using a word you probably never heard before 'boondoggling,' which they apply to a certain type of relief project. Let me call your attention to a few facts about this program. It has put three and a half million people to work who were unemployed. These people were taken off the relief rolls and given a job. I'm not in position to say whether or not they all deserved jobs, but nobody got one of these jobs in Prince William County unless it was passed upon by your local relief organization sent us a list of those who needed relief, we took your word for it. But of course the Federal Government had its own investigators too. Just remember that—not one of these projects upon which men were put to work was approved in Washington unless it was first approved by the relief organization in Virginia.

"These projects included flood control, erection and repair of schools and public buildings, construction of farm-to-market roads not included in the State highway system, parks and playground development, and assistance to thousands of young people of high school and college age to continue their education. These three and a half million unemployed people who take part in the above projects were taken off the relief rolls where they were objects of charity, where they received a basket with a piece of meat and a bag of flour, and put to work so that they could hold up their heads and look their fellow citizens in the face.

"We who are from the country can't realize what this depression has meant to the people in the cities throughout the country. If you will but go to Chicago or New York City or any of the big industrial areas where hundreds of thousands of men have been thrown out of work—men with families living from week to week, depending on their weekly wages for their daily bread and meat. They don't have a side of meat hanging up in the smoke house, nor canned goods in the cellar which the good wife put up to be used in an emergency. They have no credit at the bank or grocery store on the corner. When their pay checks stop, these people must go hungry. That was the condition this Administration had to meet.

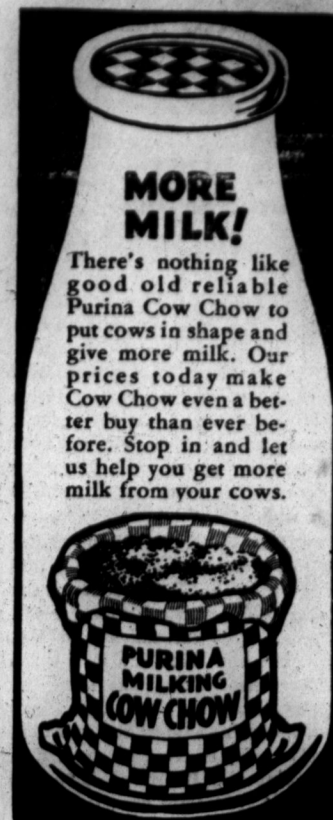

"I grant that it may be true that out of the several millions out of work there are perhaps a million and a half who don't want to work, and who wouldn't work if given a job. There are always people like that even in the best of times. But what about the six or seven or eight million who beg for an honest day's work? Are we going to ignore their pleas for work just because a few are undeserving? That was the situation we had to face, and we handled it the best we could. And the Democrats were criticized and accused of ruining the country!

"Sears, Roebuck and Company filed a statement showing a net profit of 21 million dollars in 1935, an increase of 42 per cent over 1934. Here are a few facts that demonstrate whether or not the Democrats are ruining the country—the national income was increased from 247 billion dollars to 314 billion in 1935—Farm income increased 52 per cent; building construction increased 47 per cent; building units increased 158 per cent; oil products 25 per cent. Still the Republicans are saying 'If the Administration would only give business a chance.' A chance to do what?

"I can't find a single line of business of industry that doesn't show a splendid marked improvement. And now as has been pointed out by some of the writers of today, the miracle of the times appears to have happened. A political party about to go into an election is passing a tax bill! People are shaking their heads and saying 'What's all this about? Politicians must be elected this fall, yet they are going to pass a tax bill before the election. Certainly it should be put off until next winter until after the election, and then slipped to the people. It's very unpopular to enact tax legislation. It's sure to retard recovery and be a shock to the financial centers, said the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.'

REMARKS MADE
BY REP. WOODRUM

bond market immediately jumped up. Stocks and bonds immediately increased in value, and the wise fellows begin to rub their eyes and look around. A few newspaper editors begin to timidly compliment this tax proposal. The President said to himself: 'I see that a great number of large corporations in America have stuck back in an old sock a large part of their earnings in the form of surpluses and undisturbed reserves. We are going to call on them for a few handfals. That will put the money back into the public treasury.'

"The Boards of Directors of the great corporations immediately got busy and said: 'These fellows are planning to dig into our reserves and take some of it for taxes. So let's put one over on them and declare an extra dividend.' The next thing we know millions of stockholders all over America awakened one morning to receive a letter from the mail men saying that the Board of Directors had decided to declare an extra dividend. So hundreds of millions of dollars have been pouring out of the dark closets and passed out to the stockholders who ought to have had it all the time.

"The Federal Government is going to take part of this in taxes. That's the kind of a tax bill that is being passed. It is a popular tax bill, because it increases the value of securities. The Boards of Directors come back and say we are prosperous all of a sudden. We didn't want to divide up this surplus. Instead of hurting us, it has helped us.

"The U. S. Chamber of Commerce will meet in two or three weeks in Washington and call down all the wrath of heaven on Roosevelt and the Administration because they are mixing in public business. In 1932 when they were facing ruin they were glad to turn to him and ask him to help save them. Very fortunately the people of this country know that.

"They can't help but know it, because all over the length and breadth of this country there are organizations similar to yours that are going to see to it that the friends and neighbors are informed upon this question. When any of our Republican friends come to us and criticize Roosevelt and tell us that he is ruining the country, I would suggest that you ask him one or two questions. Say 'If everything he is doing is wrong, how do you account for the fact that conditions are so much better than they were when Mr. Roosevelt took over the reins of Government?' 'If all of this is wrong, what should he have done?' They don't have to answer to that. Ask them this question: 'If you are going to destroy Mr. Roosevelt, then who are you going to give us in his place? They will admit that they are divided on that question.

"I want to call your attention to the Liberty League, a strange organization. These gentlemen claim they are interested in liberty, but what kind of liberty? The liberty to plunder and pillage the American people? That's all they are interested in. Some used to be Democrats, and some Republicans. The main thing they are interested in is big business interests. But the masses of the people are those who will decide in November, and I firmly believe they will bear out my conviction that Roosevelt was sent to us as a leader to bring us out of this crisis."

*Where a NUMBER appears following a name, it is to indicate the PARTICULAR farm upon which the higher score was attained.

Remarks: AGAIN WE TAKE PLEASURE in publishing our "Honor Roll" giving greatly deserved public recognition to those producers who by their unceasing efforts have attained an exceptionally good record in the production of milk of superior quality and low bacteria count.

While Mr. Clinton Ballenger continues to hold first place for another month and a number of new faces appear among our list of prize winners for the period ending March 31st, we are exceedingly pleased to note that practically all of those producers whose names appeared on our "Honor Roll" for February are back again—thus showing that their record was based upon a good, solid foundation of scientific operation.

As the season advances it becomes decidedly necessary to maintain a careful check on your cooling system. Prompt and efficient cooling is especially important in the production of milk of the required grade. This condition is general however and not confined to any one particular farm or locality and it should be of particular interest to all producers to know what is being accomplished by others facing the same problem.

In conclusion permit me to state that after our many years of association we rejoice with you in the splendid showing which you are making, and we are pleased to give you this public recognition.

Very truly yours,
