Operetta
Bennett Graded School
Tuesday, May 26THARP ARRESTED
FOR SHOOTINGCaught in Mountains by Sheriff
Kerlin and Assistants.

Wrennie Tharp, who is charged with shooting Gordon Murphy, colored, near Gainesville on Sunday, was captured in the Blue Ridge Mountains by Sheriff Kerlin and assistants, after a chase which reflected great credit upon the officers of the law in the efficient and prompt manner in which the ran down and took into custody the culprit.

The shooting took place near Gainesville last Sunday afternoon and is said to have been the outcome of a quarrel over a broken fiddle-bow. Tharp is said to have slain Gordon Murphy with a 22-calibre rifle, death following about 9 o'clock. The sheriff was not notified until Monday at 10 o'clock and with Deputy Woodard immediately got on his trail. They found that he had left Gainesville Sunday evening in a car, in company with John Payne, who stated that Tharp had purchased a railway ticket at Haymarket, for Front Royal. Having verified this fact the sheriff drove immediately to Front Royal where with Sheriff Harlow and his deputy they made a search of Tharp's kin-folks and friends in the Skyline drive area. Information was finally secured that the fugitive had been seen walking in the direction of the home of a brother, Vernon Tharp.

Surrounding the house, they then called Vernon Tharp out. He is said to have denied knowledge of his brother's whereabouts, but upon being advised that the posse would search his house, he admitted that his brother was in bed, having arrived but fifteen minutes previously. Wrennie was immediately placed under arrest and brought on to Manassas, arriving here about midnight.

MAY MEETING OF
BETHLEHEM CLUB

Will Aid U. D. C. at Battle Celebration.

The Bethlehem Good Housekeeping Club met on the afternoon of May 20 with Mrs. Boteler, who was assisted by Mrs. Robert Hutchison. The following guests were present: Mrs. Compton, Mrs. Botts, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, Mrs. John Broadus and Mrs. Ruggles.

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson announced the following books bought for the library: "Honey in the Horn," "The Last Puritan," and two copies of a history book for Mr. Peters' history class.

With the Children of the Confederacy giving $2.50, Mrs. Johnson purchased "Two Little Confederates" and "In the Days of Young Washington" by Nancy Byrd Turner.

The civilian relief committee reported that what funds they had the past month had been used for shoes.

Mrs. Robert Hutchison was appointed to represent the club at the June meeting of the Board of Supervisors, as the club is heartily in favor of Prince William County having a Board of Public Welfare.

A motion was carried that the club would be responsible for the ham cooked, sliced and conveyed out to the grounds for the lunch to be served July 21 by the U. D. C. A committee composed of Mrs. Athey, Mrs. Kincheloe and Mrs. Robert Lewis was appointed to have this in charge.

Mrs. Kincheloe and Mrs. Wissler presented a very interesting program with the topic "Mother's Day." Mrs. John Broadus rendered several violin numbers with Mrs. Ruggles at the piano. Mrs. Johnson gave the reading, "Over the Hill From the Poor House."

A pleasant social hour followed while delicious refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned to meet in June with Mrs. Robert Lewis, assisted by Mrs. Kincheloe.

JUNIOR WOMEN

THANK MRS. LYON

Club Begins Sixth Year of Its Activities.

Mrs. Robert Saunders and Miss Christine Meetze were hostesses for the Junior Woman's Club which held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. P. Lyon, its sponsor, last Thursday night.

The meeting celebrated the fifth anniversary of the club, it having been organized by the Woman's Club in 1931, and the new officers for the year 1936-37 were installed. Miss Rena Bevans, the outgoing president, was replaced by Miss Walser Conner who presided.

Mrs. Sedrick Saunders spoke for the club in thanking Mrs. Lyon for her interest and inspiration as sponsor and extended an invitation to her to remain the sponsor as long as she wished.

Mrs. Robert Saunders was appointed to represent the club at the state convention on the following day, and to submit a report at the Junior day meeting of the convention.

Plans for a dance to be given by the club were discussed and will be enlarged on at the next monthly meeting.

KIWANIS CIRCUS PRESENTS
AMUSING INCIDENTS

The Kiwanis Circus last week was not the usual financial success of former occasions although a very good performance was put on.

There were several unfortunate conflicts, all of which tended to dampen the affair.

"Charmie" Sinclair and "Jum" Davies, plus Sed Saunders, Kitty Baker, Ruth Akers, Mr. Wilfong, and many others of the town put their shoulders to the task. Edgar Parrish made a good ringmaster.

The Kiwanians, somewhat reduced in numbers, added much to the usual gaiety of the situation.

The dance number by the girls was easily the banner feature.

The bearded lady was the best all-round actor for performance and versatility.

There are too many good things and good actors to mention all hands. It is only to be regretted that the attendance was not sufficient to turn in a handsome profit for the underprivileged child fund.

Miss McCormick, the conductor, was here two weeks and tried very hard to get up a good show, even taking one of the hard parts herself.

ARLINGTON CLUB TO BE GUESTS

Dr. Lamar Harris and his cohorts from Arlington are scheduled to stage an interclub meet with the local Kiwanis Club tomorrow evening.

Last Friday evening no program was put on as the club adjourned early.

Mr. Back, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Back were guests of Bill Cocke.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

Greenwich Council, O.F.A., has scheduled a strawberry festival for the evening of June 4 (today two weeks). All their friends are asked to attend and help boost the Order.

MACS TO PLAY
SPRINGS MAY 24Manassas Loses to Quantico
15 to 4.

Next Sunday, May 24, the Manassas A. C. will be host to the Springs A. C. of Fauquier County in the final game of the first round of the schedule of the Tri-County Baseball League at Swaley Field. It is understood that the Macs will be strengthened for the game. Play starts at 3 p.m.

Last Sunday the Macs returned home with the short end of the score in a game with the Quantico Indians at Quantico, the Indians winning 15-4. The Indians scored five runs on four hits, one being a home run. After that, they had the game in command. Saunders of the Macs pitched a better game in the next few innings but weakened in the 6th and gave up a few more runs. In the 8th he was relieved by Crabbill who gave a surprisingly good exhibition of pitching by fanning one batter and making two others grounding out harmlessly.

PATRONS' LEAGUE HONORS
MRS. HITE AND MISS NEALE

The social committee of the Bennett League, composed of Mrs. Will Leachman as chairman and Mrs. L. L. Lomas, Mrs. Edgar Parrish and Mrs. Pickeral, sponsored a lovely party on Monday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Grace L. Hite and Miss Marguerite Neale.

The high school dining room was the scene of this lovely affair. Mrs. L. L. Lomas greeted the guests at the door and, when the honorees arrived, Miss Bozarth played the wedding march and Miss Fanelle Pickeral and Betty Parrish dressed as a bride and groom marched in and presented Mrs. Hite with a crystal bowl and Miss Neale with a silver spoon. The guests were served a delicious ice course and all present thoroughly enjoyed the delightful hospitality.

Elder Stalling of Tennessee will preach in the Primitive Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. this evening, May 21.

FORESTER MEETS
DUMFRIES BOYS

4-H Tour Set for June.

A very interesting talk on Virginia forest trees was given by Wilbur O'Byrne, extension forester, at the regular monthly meeting of the Dumfries 4-H boys Tuesday. Because of rain, the scheduled field identification tour was postponed until next month, at which Mr. O'Byrne will again be present.

With the acceptance of four new members, Newt Persons, Melvin Houghton, Gilbert Liming and George Katsarelis, thirty-three active members are now enrolled in the club. Plans for the Northern Virginia Short Course at Jamestown Camp from August 10 to 15, the State Short Course at Blacksburg from July 20 to 25, and the State Wild Life Conservation Camp at Jamestown from August 17 to 22, were discussed and several expressed a desire to attend one or more of the short courses.

Officers of the Dumfries club are: Buddy Mercer, president; Michel Rafetis, vice-president; Morgan Ogden, secretary-treasurer; Donald Mercer, song leader; Luther Waite, cheer leader, and Vivian Rainey, reporter.

A demonstration team will compete with teams from other clubs of the county in the agricultural demonstration contest at the County Center day program and picnic this summer.

Following the marriage service, an informal reception will be held in the parish house.

DISTRICT FOUR
U. D. C. MEETINGMrs. Robert A. Hutchison Presides at Winchester.

On Tuesday, May 19, a delegation from the Manassas Chapter, U.D.C., composed of Mrs. R. A. Hutchison, Miss Virginia Speiden, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. A. O. Weedon, Miss Nolie Nelson, Mrs. R. S. Hynson, Mrs. T. J. Ashford and Mrs. C. M. Larkin journeyed to the historic city of Winchester to attend the annual convention of the Sixth district, of which Mrs. R. A. Hutchison is chairman.

The ladies of the Turner Ashby Chapter of Winchester were the perfect hostesses. Nothing was spared to make our visit pleasant, with beautiful flowers, flags, lovely music and a delicious luncheon.

The city officials and the management of the George Washington Hotel where the meeting was held were in harmonious accord and the addresses of welcome by the city mayor, Dr. Anderson, and the president of Turner Ashby Chapter, Mrs. R. Bruce Slonaker, were most cordial. Miss Virginia Speiden, president of Manassas Chapter, responded.

There were about 150 delegates present, and reports from twenty-two chapters were heard, all showing great interest in the work.

The convention was honored in having present first vice-president of the U.D.C., Mrs. Charles E. Bolling of Richmond; division president, Mrs. William Forrest; second vice-president, Mrs. H. M. Quisenberry; third vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Coleman; division treasurer, Mrs. W. O. Bickle; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James S. Fitzhugh; historian, Mrs. Thomas J. Starke; also past president, Mrs. Severn Nottingham; past historian, Mrs. B. F. Carey; committee on education, Mrs. R. Sidney Cox and committee on junior work, Mrs. Walter Sydnor, Jr.

Mrs. W. A. Coleman of Richmond, state director of Children of Confederacy, in giving her report, said, "Oh, I am so proud of my Manassas chapter."

In closing the meeting, Mrs. Hutchison thanked the chapters of the fourth district for their co-operation, loyalty and personal interest.

Mrs. Hutchison was highly commended as district chairman and an appreciation of her profound and unselfish service was openly expressed by Mrs. Severn Nottingham, voicing the sentiment of the district as a whole.

The Warren Rifles Chapter of Front Royal extended an invitation to the convention to meet with them in the spring of 1937.

"Bless be the Tie That Binds" was sung by the assembly in conclusion.

The Back of the Book

There is a certain text book on Mathematics which has on its front page this statement, "the answers to these problems will be found in the back of the book." Many of us enjoy a good mystery story. The charm of such a story lies in the fact that the solution is not given until we reach the last chapter. The impatient reader who turns prematurely to the last page destroys all the joy of his reading.

Human life may be compared to a book of mathematical problems or to a mystery story. It has its problems for which we can find no present solution, and its mysteries which will not be unfolded until we reach the last page.

Nature surrounds us with countless mysteries. The most common experiences of the natural life involve secrets which the wisest of our scientists are unable to explain. What is life? What is light? What is electricity. How does a watermelon get its variety of colors out of the soil and distribute them so that its outside is a dark green, its rind pure white, its flesh red and its seeds black? Even in the realm of the commonplace it is true that "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform."

Greater still are the mysteries of divine providence. As we study human history we cry with St. Paul, "How unsearchable are His judgments, and His ways past finding out!" Never was Providence more mysterious than at the present time. When we look out upon the appalling iniquities which are perpetrated every day, and go unchecked and unpunished, we are tempted to ask, Where is God?

Nero, the monster of history, was a saint in comparison with Mussolini. Moved by an insane egotism, ignoring every moral principle and defying the protest of the entire world, he is wading knee-deep in the blood of an innocent and helpless people whose only offense is their desire to live their own lives in their own way and in their own land.

We can only wait for the last chapter. No man ever successfully defied the law of sowing and reaping. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked." Hitler, in a similar spirit, has revised the Sermon on the Mount and flouted christianity. When we reach the last page of the book we shall see these fools standing confounded in the presence of Him who "doeth His will in the armies of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth." There are problems also in our own lives, and there may be times when our faith is sorely tried. We should remember that sorrow is the common lot of humanity. Not even our blessed Lord was immune from sorrow. Remember that in every trial there is the ministry of blessing. "All things work together for good to them that love God." If we cannot see the good now it is our place to wait and trust. There is an explanation. Turn over the pages of life one by one, and you will find your answer to all your problems in the back of the book.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 17.

The golden text was "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God" (1 Corinthians 2:11).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (Romans 13:12).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Being is holiness, harmony, immortality. It is already proved that a knowledge of this, even in small degree, will uplift the physical and moral standard of mortals, will increase longevity, will purify and elevate character. Thus progress will finally destroy all error, and bring immortality" (p. 492).

KATE SMITH CELEBRATION

Honor Guest on Fifth Anniversary of Her First Broadcast.

Kate Smith was guest of honor a few days ago at a spectacular celebration in Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C. More than 4,000 guests, including numerous government officials and other dignitaries, were on hand to witness the colorful ceremonies which marked the Radio Star's birthday and the fifth anniversary of her first broadcast.

While the massed bands of Washington American Legion Posts played, and the audience applauded, John A. Hartford, president of The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, whose Washington unit of 1,500 employees sponsored the party, presented Miss Smith with a 300-pound birthday cake, standing six feet in height.

Mr. Hartford requested that the huge cake be brought in after playfully pretending to fumble in his pockets for the "little birthday remembrance" he wanted to give the radio star.

The golden-voiced singer was so overcome by the enthusiastic reception of her "home-town" people and the honors heaped upon her that she was forced to borrow a handkerchief from the master-of-ceremonies, Mr. Harry Butcher. "I'm so happy," she confessed, "that I'm afraid I'm going to cry."

Among those paying tribute to Miss Smith were: James L. Freiser, vice-chairman of the American Red Cross; Joseph S. Malloy, district commander of the American Legion; Alfred Jacobson, of the Jewish War Veterans; William S. Paley, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, and J. W. Barnett, president of the Washington A&P Managers' Association.

Mr. Malloy and Mr. Jacobson presented Miss Smith with a bouquet and a handsome engraved medallion. Mr. Freiser, on behalf of the American Red Cross, praised her for her work in securing contributions for the stricken victims of the floods, and gave her a parchment scroll in recognition of her services.

Addressing the assembled guests, Mr. Hartford declared that the welfare of each and every employee was the thing nearest his heart. And when he said, "We are more interested in building men than balance sheets," he received a tremendous ovation.

Mr. Paley, extending his congratulations to the honor guest of the evening, said, "Her character of unselfishness, sympathy and human kindness is as much a part of Kate Smith as her voice."

Miss Smith brought with her to the party a revue which included numerous outstanding stage and radio personalities. The performance was directed by Ted Collins, Miss Smith's announcer-manager, who has been associated with her since her radio debut, in 1931. Kate's orchestra, led by Jack Miller, was also on hand.

The popular singer acted as mistress-of-ceremonies, and offered several songs, including her famous theme song, "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain."

The day following the party, she presented the 300-pound cake to the small patients in the Children's Hospital, and the bouquets of flowers to war veterans in the Walter Reed and Mount Alto oHospitals in Washington.

CAMERAS AT THE ZOO

Have you ever looked at the animals in the Washington Zoo from the standpoint of seeing Nature as a capricious creator? To this animal she has given power, to another beauty of line and glorious coloring, to a third simple grotesquerie of form.

It is from this perspective that the photographer of animals views the fascinating Federal reservations out on Connecticut avenue. The story of his particular slant on the Zoo, with pertinent illustrations of its varied points, is told in the feature section of The Sunday Star, May 24.

 BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

And they came to Him, and awoke Him, saying, Master, master, we perish! Then He arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm. And He said unto them, Where is your faith?—St. Luke 8:24.

EDITORS OPTIMISTIC

Newspaper editors from all parts of the country, while in New York attending the annual meetings of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers Association, voiced high optimism over the numerous and impressive evidences of economic recovery. The symposium of the editors' opinions and views prepared by the Associated Press is, as the Atlanta Constitution comments, deeply significant, since "70 per cent of the large newspapers of the United States are of Republican faith, and most of them have vigorously differed with at least some of the policies of the New Deal."

Reports heard at the New York gatherings were to the effect that conditions are either normally prosperous or decidedly on the upswing all over the United States—from ocean to ocean and from the Canadian boundary to the Rio Grande. In these circumstances, it seems paradoxical, indeed, that those who have gained most under the Roosevelt regime are now among its most bitter critics.—Greensboro Record.

PROPHET NOT WITHOUT HONOR

The State of Maryland in a primary election went more than five to one for the renomination of President Roosevelt. As a whole the city of Baltimore registered a six-to-one preference for the President over Col. Henry Breckenridge, the candidate of the American Liberty League which is fomenting a bolt at the Democratic convention at Philadelphia next month.

The big lead of Mr. Roosevelt over the Kentucky colonel, who by the way came from a line of Democrats who would not hesitate to disown him if they could arise from the grave, was exactly what was expected. The Tory candidate would have been worse beaten but for the money put up to bolster his colorless campaign and line up "the boys." In the meantime the loyal Kentucky Breckenridges, Worthingtons and Carlises will be "telling it" to the Blue Grass Democrats and kinsmen.—Suffolk News-Herald.

PRENUPTIAL ENTERTAINMENTS FOR MISS SUSAN S. GIBSON

One of the many prenuptial parties for Miss Sue Gibson was a dinner bridge party, Saturday evening, given by Misses Lucy Arrington, Virginia Frazier and Mrs. Paul Arrington.

The home of Miss Lucy Arrington was unusually lovely for the occasion with a profusion of spring flowers, adding charm. The living room and den were opened together and the guests found their places for dinner at card tables set very attractively with a dainty nosegay at each place.

The bride-to-be's place was designated by a miniature corsage of green and white spring flowers. A burning white taper formed an effective centerpiece for each table. After a four-course dinner was served, the following guests enjoyed a novelty game of "Romance Bridge":

Misses Sue Gibson, Loriece Carter, Veta Marie Draper, Marion Lynn, Anna Bruce Whitmore, Rose Ratcliffe, Susan-Ish Harrison, Madeline McCoy, Evelyn Cocke, Ann Bradford and Mesdames Noel Lynn, jr., James E. Bradford, jr., William H. Brown, jr., Jack Ratcliffe, Stanley Owens, and Sedric Saunders. Mrs. A. S. Gibson and Mrs. Ella Denton were dinner guests.

Miss Sue Gibson was presented with a lovely gift for the occasion and Mrs. William H. Brown, jr., received high score prize.

Another very attractive entertainment in honor of Miss Gibson was a delightful, buffet supper, Saturday, May 9, given by Misses Isabelle Hutchison and Susan-Ish Harrison at their home on Richmond avenue. A gift shower followed the supper which was charmingly introduced by little Miss Barbara Lynn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Lynn, jr.

Mesdames J. E. Bradford, sr., and Mrs. James E. Bradford, jr., also entertained at a buffet supper for Miss Gibson Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. James Bradford, sr. ## TO A BRIDEGROOM

According to Arithmetic
 One and one are two,
 But I've got a little secret,
 I'm going to tell to you.

Cupid hates mathematics,
 And called it stupid prose,
 And out of this dislike,
 A new equation rose.

I do not understand it,
 But sure it is, when done
 By Cupid's calculations,
 That one and one are one.

The Bible too, on Cupid's side,
 Asserts that this is true,
 Accept congratulations,
 That this truth is for you.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By O. J. Schuster

THE CONQUEST OF ETHIOPIA by Mussolini is insignificant in comparison to the conquests England has made in past years. England's ruthless raids in South Africa alone added more territory to her empire than is represented by the combined area of the German empire, France and Spain. And the Boers of South Africa had emigrated from Holland and were as capable and worthy of founding a new nation as were the Puritans who settled in New England and laid the foundation for our republic.

BIGGER AND BETTER GUNS and more money finally defeated the Boers but not until they had electrified the world by their heroism, military skill, and many victories over England's best troops. That was hardly a generation ago and England's attack on the Boers shocked the world at that time more than has Italy's raid on Ethiopia. Cecil Rhodes was England's Mussolini then and thru his intrigues, arrogance, and greed brought on the Boer War and robbed those virile Dutch farmers of their land, their mines, and their forests. Arrogantly and boastfully Rhodes announced his plans: He sought to bring the whole continent of Africa, large part of Asia, the islands of the Pacific ocean, the Malay Archipelago, and even the United States under the British flag. The British empire was to encompass practically the whole world. Rhodes even boasted that he would "annex the planets if I could. I often think of that."

SO-CALLED "BIG MEN" usually shrivel into pigmies as the years pass and they are viewed in the light of

Remarks: ONCE AGAIN the wheel of time revolves and the picture changes—our good friend Clinton Ballenger of Hamilton, Virginia surrenders the throne to a worthy successor Merkle Warfield of Gaithersburg, Md. who moves up from fourth to first place. Middleton and Brogden of Herndon, Va. goes from seventh to third place, and S. H. R. Fred (farm No. 3) comes right up among the prize winners—taking second place.

A great many of the other producers have made most creditable gains and while space will not permit of my enumerating these I wish to state that it gives me the greatest possible pleasure to note the effort you are making to constantly improve your record.

The dairy business today is no longer a haphazard industry—it is governed by highly scientific principles, and every step of the way must be planned with the greatest of care. In other words we are all workers together in a great enterprise serving possibly the most important single element of food to the people residing in the Capital city of the greatest nation on earth. Again let me emphasize how greatly I appreciate your splendid whole hearted cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

FIX THEM

Walls That Will Endure

The success or failure of a wall finish is begun when the person you employ to plaster or use a plaster substitute begins his work.

Plaster has been used for centuries and still remains the most prevalent finish foundation for interior walls. The secrets of its success, however, in many instances, seems to lie forty leagues under.

Wall boards are preferred by some builders to a plaster coat. Some of these offer a better fire resistance. They are lighter in weight. They afford a surface which may be finished in most any way.

Avoid selecting a type of finish which reflects the light unpleasantly. The finish should be dull, neutral and lusterless. There are two kinds of dull paints, water color calcimine, the other, oil or flat paint.

The wall is a vertical support. Its characteristics are solidity and flatness. No wall decoration should destroy these characteristics.

A wall paper that displays realistic pictures of flowers, birds or landscapes cannot make the wall seem flat and solid.

The wall of a certain dining room covered with a large scenic pattern showed a huge panorama of hills and trees stretching far off into the distance. The side-board placed against the wall had the appearance of being on top of a hill. The doorway seemed to stand up alone, unsupported in the middle of a grassy meadow.

Wall paper must carry a predominating background of neutral color. The design and the color in the design must be rhythmic in its quality. No color or design in it should surprise one's critical eye with its conspicuousness. The effect should swing together with complete unity.

The ceilings above our heads are heavy. Color of too dark value or design of too bold or striking patterns gives the ceiling an effect of being top-heavy and insecure. Make the ceiling lighter in value than the walls, giving it a color that tones in with the dominant color of the wall finish. Often when the wall is neutral in color the ceiling can receive the same color.

Spaces that open into one another, rooms, hallways, a group of rooms, apartment houses are more pleasing when treated with the same finish and color. It is wise to consider your window shades part of your wall space. This is what they really become. The color of the shades should usually be the same as that of the wall. The wood work should carry the wall color or something slightly darker or lighter.

Use soft neutral cool colors for southern exposures, maybe grey or green. Use warm neutral colors for cold exposures, maybe soft yellow or ivory. Let no one prescribe color generally speaking for this or that room. Test it experimentally yourself for neutrality, for value, for the light it should or should not reflect because of the absence or presence of the sun. The wall should suggest restfulness and balance. It offers the proper setting for the more intimate and colorful furnishings such as pictures, rugs, draperies and curtains.

MAY CROP REPORT

The Virginia Department of Agriculture states that crop prospects on May 1 were not as promising as usual because of unfavorable weather conditions during the winter and spring. Farm work has been greatly delayed and on May 1 was from 10 to 15 days later than usual. Most farmers had not completed plowing and only a small percentage of the cotton and corn crops had been planted by May 1. Weather conditions during the first part of April were unfavorable for farm work because of frequent rains, but the remainder of the month was quite favorable and rapid progress was made until the last of the month when the ground became dry and hard. Showers on May 3 were quite general over the State and were beneficial to pastures, gardens and truck crops, as well as putting the soil in better condition for cultivation. The condition of wheat, rye, hay and pastures on May 1 was below average, and prospects for fruit crops were not as promising.

CATHARPIN

Miss Frances Lynn Robertson, student of the State Teachers College, Harrisonburg, Va., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale. Mrs. Frank W. Brower of Price, Md., accompanied by several friends, passed through Catharpin last Friday on their way sight-seeing among the historic spots of Old Virginia and stopped for a call at the Brower home, Lone Oak, before proceeding on their way southward.

Messrs. James A. and Edward P. Dorsey of Arlington, Va., spent Saturday of last week with their sister, Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of this city.

The church school at Sudley is growing by leaps and bounds since good weather has opened the gates so tightly closed during the past winter and spring. The school last Sunday was large and full of interest. The Sudley Wesley Bible class organized by electing the following officers: President, Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald; vice-president, Mr. J. S. Tribble; secretary, Mrs. S. A. Moss; treasurer, Mrs. Frederica Spencer. The Christian Education committee composed of the pastor, general superintendent and the several department superintendents, will now take full charge of the summer's program of work. The Young People's organization will meet in the Gainesville church every Sunday night during May.

County Agent F. D. Cox was at Catharpin on Friday of last week in conference with a number of farmers in the interest of the Agricultural Conservation Program now being "put on" throughout the country. After full explanation in regard to rates of payment a number signed their work sheets for filing in the agent's office for future reference.

We have seen notices in the public press regarding the installation of certain electrical appliances in the farmer's poultry establishments which were not intended to imply that said establishments were, in any sense, to be regarded as health resorts for "roost hounds." But here is one a little different: "Any one found near my hen house at night will be found there next month." Let us hope that this man's knowledge of "ballistics" may enable him to shoot straight.

Farmers are beginning to realize that this year they will probably be short of pasture; wheat is short strawed and all grasses of whatsoever nature are playing the "short" side of the "market." People are about through planting corn but it, too, is showing signs of shortness of breath or growth owing to the cool, dry weather at planting time. We often hear it said that "farming is a gamble"; that he plants not knowing whether he shall reap; has no control of the weather; knows nothing of the price he shall receive for his harvest; has to run his chance with the bugs, beetles, grass hoppers and buzzards, and a number of other things that might be mentioned. Well this might be one way of looking at it but we think a rather poor one. We can not agree, either, with that other declaration that "Life, itself, is a gamble." We should much prefer calling them "opportunities." We see so much in print about "stock" gambling and how it abuses legitimate trade, and of all sorts of gambling dens and places of cheating and getting things for nothing, that we fear we have lost our natural "balance" and have come to the conclusion when something happens to go wrong, that we must be gamblers.

According to "Holy Writ" the world is not a gamble but a fact. It was ordained, established and put in motion for a specific purpose without leaving anything open to chance; hence "gambling" is a stranger to Nature and to Nature's God, and to be considered not at all in the scheme of life. If any one indulges in it, he does so at his own risk. But to return to the subject. Life can not be a gamble since it was divinely ordained, divinely environed by nature's laws and regulated by rules of health. If we violate Nature, we are then gambling with trouble and trouble always wins. Man's natural state is to be healthy, but if he drinks poison, he can not call life a gamble because life had nothing to do with it. He took things in his own hands and left nature out of the account; hence his trouble. So to analyze things as nature intended them, we find no gambling, or risk, or chance any place provided for in Nature's perfect setup.

The farmer thinks he plows and plants sometimes, without reward. This can hardly be, for there is no "chance" in nature. Nature is thus and so, and no man can change it. He plants with the "hope" of reward, but he must let nature do the producing. If he plants in the wrong time of year, nature will not yield. If he plants not at all, nature can not help him; hence, man must follow closely all nature's whims and requirements and do his part in all things, and by so doing, he shall be rewarded, some three fold, some four fold and some ten fold according to his own and nature's way. When a are based. Not on gambling.

man plows, plants and tends, he establishes his right to be rewarded and nature will always reward according to the kind of seed sown, care given and intelligence displayed; hence we are very much inclined to the opinion that all life and all the pursuits of life are only methods by which our right to participate in its rewards

RELIEF POPULAR SAYS GALLAHER

Report by State Director Gives Interesting Facts.

The Federal work relief program in Virginia as a whole "has been popular and has had very little criticism," John Gallaher, State director for the National Emergency Council, reported to Washington headquarters last week. The NEC is a co-ordination agency and clearing house for all Federal agencies operating in the State.

Idle persons on "first priority" relief rolls number 21,534, the report states—"apparently a large number, but most of them seem to earn enough for food and others obtain weekly grocery tickets from the Social Service Bureau or other organizations." About 4,000 refused assignments on grounds of location or preference for the home garden plot, Mr. Gallaher said.

Conditions were described as worse in the cities than in rural areas, where the approaching height of the farming season is visibly lessening joblessness.

Under the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, 3,070 relief workers were employed as of May 12, as against 4,367 nonrelief workers, on 215 road repair and construction projects and 20 grade crossing eliminations in the State. The majority of the road projects, 177 in number, are now under construction at an approximate cost of $1,900,000 out of a Federal allotment of $3,650,000 under the Works Progress Highway program. Thirty-eight other road jobs are under the regular Federal aid program at a cost of $1,135,000, out of $2,300,000 of Federal funds to be matched by an equal sum by the State Highway Department.

The soil conservation program is taking care of 1,114 relief workmen, on 11 projects in the Southern part of the State, mainly in tobacco sections. The popularity of the undertaking makes it look advisable to operate eventually in other sections, Mr. Gallaher said.

Loans totaling $43,000,000 are now outstanding in Virginia through various units of the Farm Credit Administration. Mr. Gallaher reported a "very valuable service rendered" in improving agricultural conditions in the State.

Loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration total 11,940 for $12,000,000 as of April 25, with activity still reported increasing.

Approximately 6,000 young people are receiving student aid in Virginia schools and colleges under the National Youth Administration, with 4,030 on NYA work projects.

With loans on livestock averaging "$1,000 or better" the Rural Resettlement Administration has made 4,059 loans in Virginia for $1,543,748. On this amount, collections last year averaged between 15 and 30 per cent, the NEC report states, with the prediction that loans will be liquidated in full under the five-year plan. The WPA was employing 28,365

Verl is a very fine lad and in the short time that he has been in Manassas made many friends. Much concern was felt for him and we are all glad that he is doing so well and will soon be back with us.

MAE WEST GIVES

FILMER BREAK

Mae West always "likes to give a guy a break," so George Clemens became the directing cinematographer on "Klondike Annie," her new picture, which opens next Wednesday at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas.

The blonde star likes to have the same crew work with her in the pictures she makes. She particularly likes Karl Struss, Academy award winner, as cameraman, but he was busy on Bing Crosby's "Anything Goes." Once before the same situation arose and Crosby released Struss, taking Charles Lang. This time, however, Lang was shooting Marlene Dietrich, and consequently Miss West couldn't get Struss.

"O.K.," said Mae, "let's use George Clemens."

"But," she was told, "he's never been a first cameraman on any picture."

"I know," said she, "but he worked with Struss on the two pictures Karl shot for me, and he knows what I like."

So Clemens made his bow as a first cameraman on "Klondike Annie," shooting Hollywood's most important screen personality.

Clemens has been with Paramount 15 years. He started as a youngster, and has spent 12 years in the camera department. Six of these have been as Struss' "second."

"Klondike Annie" is a story in the style of Miss West's two most popular productions, "She Done Him Wrong," and "Belle of the Nineties." Like them, it is set in the gaudy '90's, with Miss West cast as a lady who spreads her own particular brand of sweetness and light along San Francisco's Barbary Coast and in Alaska during the gold rush days. Victor McLaglen plays opposite the star.

NEW S. S. VAN DINE MURDER MYSTERY TOPS THEM ALL

The inimitable Philo Vance, with his suave polish masking that coldly analytical brain, holds sway on the screen of the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday and Tuesday where "The Garden Murder Case" opens.

Edmund Lowe is the famous scientific sleuth, and a more delightful interpretation never has been given to the famous role. Lowe is superb. His nonchalance as he moves through a series of perilous situations is at once thrilling and humorous, and his masterly handling of those he suspects of crime is supreme entertainment.

With him is Virginia Bruce, but a new, lovelier and livelier Virginia Bruce than the screen has seen before. She has sacrificed her long hair and wears an attractive new bob, and with it has come a new personality that is even more intriguing. She is a perfect foil for Lowe's whimsical love-making.

The story is the latest of S. S. Van Dine's exploits of Philo Vance. It deals with three mysterious murders, each of which appears to be accidental. But Vance refuses to believe them accident, and through his application of scientific criminology during which he subjects himself to active peril, he is finally able to trap the culprit, but with surprising results.
