SIGMAN HEADS SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Prince William Association Holds Annual Election.

The Prince William County Sunday School Association met Tuesday afternoon and evening with the President Professor Frank Sigman presiding.

The following ministers of the county took part in the program: "Service of Worship" by W. F. Carpenter, "What Our Churches Have in Common" by Rev. N. J. Miller, and "Religion in the Schools" by Rev. John M. DeChant. Rev. Guy West of Roanoke also gave an address on "Christian Youth Building a New World" with benediction for the afternoon session by Rev. Luther Miller and in the evening by Rev. W. M. Compton.

Musical features of the program included a solo by Mrs. J. L. Hatcher, a duet "If I Should Tell All the Glory" by Misses Nina and Vaude Good of Nokesville, a duet "London-derry Air" by Misses June and Betty Hatcher, a solo "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" by Miss Jessie Mae Conner, a trio "When I Take My Vacation in Heaven" by the Foster Sisters of Nokesville Brethren Sunday School and several quartet selections by the Goode Family of the Nokesville Methodist Sunday School. Other music was given by the congregation.

The election was a mere matter of form, all the present officers being returned in hearty fashion. They are president, Frank Sigman; vice-president, Rev. DeChant; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. L. J. Bowman.

The high points of the meeting were the facts brought out by the main speaker, Rev. M. Guy West, who showed that the conditions of the country in the future would be determined by the training of the youth of today. He brought out the importance of youth training to better the future.

Rev. DeChant also spoke quite briefly on the work of the church and urged that religion in the county be extended. Following this forceful talk a committee was appointed to meet this coming Tuesday to formulate plans for better work in the county among the churches.

Another feature of the evening program was a selection by the Presbyterian choir.

MANASSAS W. C. T. U. QUOTE SENATOR CAPPER

The following article was presented as a paper at the June meeting of the Manassas Union of the National W. C. T. U. and is being published this week through the courtesy of the Journal.

A heartening message comes in a recent interview between Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas and Harry Earl Woolener, editor of the National Methodist Press, on the temperance question.

Senator Capper's statement: "that 36 states of the Union would be under dry laws within ten years, was convincing," he said, "because 'Repeal has failed.'"

"The people," he said, "were deceived into the belief that repeal would improve conditions, but instead they were worse."

"The number of deaths resulting from drink is alarming the people."

When asked, "who would lead in the new crusade against the liquor evil," he answered, "the churches will have to lead as in all great moral and social reforms. They will, however," he said, "have a support from industry such as they never have had before. The manufacturers of machine, automobiles and useful articles are now realizing as never before that drinking individuals are a harm to business and that money spent for liquor can not be used by the people for machine, gasoline or household articles."

Senator Capper thinks the turn to State prohibition will start soon. "The people are dissatisfied and will not long endure the conditions the liquor interests are forcing upon them. Young girls and boys are of greater social and moral value than dollars in revenue."

He says, "to realize how alcohol is reaping a harvest of youth such as this now and other country has ever known, one need only to visit the restaurants the cocktail lounges and dives in our cities."

Governor Peery has appointed a committee to report at once on the need drought aid in Virginia.

POST OFFICE HOURS JULY 4

Postmaster H. T. Davies, Jr., has announced that the Manassas Post Office will be open on July 4 between the hours of 9 to 11 A.M.

TO COMMEMORATE GEORGIA OFFICER

Marker to be Placed Where Bartow Fell.

Mrs. Lucy Washington and Mrs. Nannie Middleton were hostesses on Wednesday to the Manassas Chapter U. D. C., at the home of Mrs. Washington.

The Chapter was delighted to have present Miss Lou Moxley, a beloved member, and a daughter of the 60's.

The president, Miss Speiden, read a letter from Mrs. Frank A. Dennis, president of the Georgia Division, in regard to a marker her Division wishes to place to the first Confederate officer to lose his life at Manassas, Gen. Bartow of Georgia. Mrs. Dennis will have this marker placed shortly, with the Manassas Chapter assisting in the exercises, at the spot where Bartow fell.

Miss Speiden displayed three lovely U. S. maps, sent her by the Jefferson Davis Highway Commission, with the request that they be hung in public places. The Chapter decided to place one in the Prince William Hotel, and one in the High School Library—extra maps may be obtained for sixty cents each.

Mrs. R. L. Byrd gave an excellent report of the District meeting held in Winchester May 19.

Mrs. Jacobson, chairman for the lunch sponsored by the Chapter to the distinguished invited guests on the 21st, gave a detailed report of her and her committee's work. She reported two hundred and fifty engraved invitations had been sent out, beginning with the Chief Executive.

Mrs. Newman, historian, gave interesting facts concerning the state of Louisiana—James Ryder Randall, author of "Maryland, My Maryland," wrote it while living in Louisiana.

The noted statesman, Judah P. Benjamin, was a native of that state.

President Davis died in Louisiana December 6, 1889—Louisiana seceded in January, 1861, and sent more than her quota of troops to General Lee's army of Virginia, where the early fighting occurred. In Louisiana "Tigers" made themselves famous. She furnished four able generals—Beauregard, Bragg, Polk and Taylor.

Mrs. Hutchison read an article telling of a $100,000 dollar statue of Lee and Jackson to be erected in Baltimore, the gift of an admirer of these two men.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Middleton, a guest of the Chapter.

Adjourned to meet in August with Mrs. Stewart McBryde, Mrs. William Hill Brown assisting hostess.

COMMUNITY LEAGUE TO HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

At the regular monthly meeting of the Brentsville District Community League, which will be held in the High School at Nokesville next Tuesday evening, July 7, at 8 p.m., a program of special interest has been arranged by Mr. D. S. Diehl, President of the League.

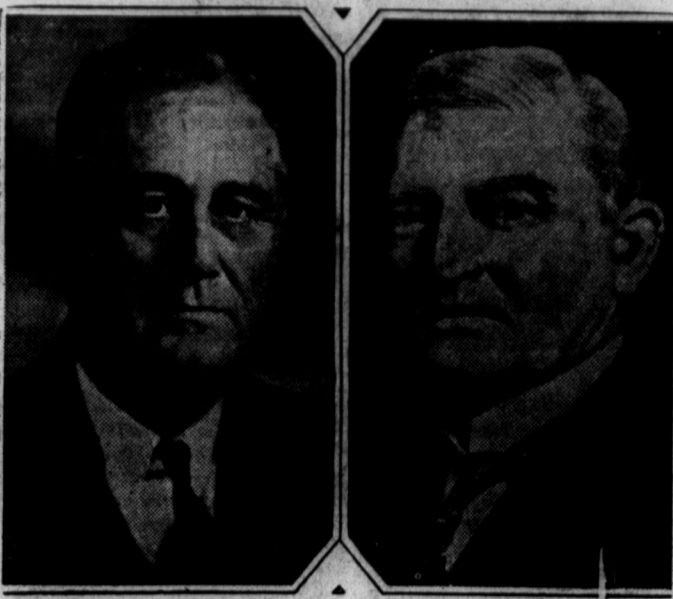

The Rev. J. Murray Taylor, Chairman of the Prince William County Board of Supervisors, will make an address on County Government. Mr. Diehl states that this is not a political meeting, but one for civic improvement in knowledge of county affairs and urges all members of the League, and the general public also, to attend.

A number of important matters will also come up for consideration of the League.

CONVICTIONS IN POLICE COURT

The following convictions in Judge Brown's Court at Manassas are on record: Arrested by County officer Wittner: John O. Kines, T. M. Carr, Neil J. Mackinnon, $10 and costs for reckless driving. Arrested by State officer McDermott: Neon Martini, $10 for reckless driving. Arrested by State officer Sims: Joseph H. Estes, $10 for reckless driving. Arrested by State officer H. Lester: V. P. Caski, $5 and costs for driving without a permit.

OUR DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES

MANASSAS TO PLAY BYRD SEEKS

PARNELL JULY 4

To Play Warrenton Sunday, July 5.

The Manassas baseball team will play the Parnell Athletic Club at the Swavely Field on July 4 at 3:00 p. m. Kite is scheduled to pitch this game and is out to win his third game of the season since he has been with the team.

On Sunday, July 5, Manassas will play the Warrenton Wonders, with Dreifus in the pitcher's box, and Buckner catching. This game should be interesting since the competition between Manassas and Warrenton is very keen.

The past Sunday's game, played against the Springs team at Warrenton resulted in a 12-6 victory for Manassas. Kite was up to his usual good form in pitching, and Blackwell, Dreifus and D. Vetter deserve much credit for their excellent hitting, each scoring a home run.

Both the games this week-end should prove of interest to the fans, and a large crowd is anticipated.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS HOLD SUCCESSFUL DANCE

The Young Democrats held a very successful dance at Haymarket last Friday night, when they entertained nearly two hundred guests. The young people tripped the light fantastic from ten until two, and had such an enjoyable evening that they could scarcely believe it was time to go home when the orchestra played "Home Sweet Home."

Dick Jordan was the lucky recipient of the beautiful bronze bust of Roosevelt, which was given as a door prize.

The Woman's Club of Haymarket and the local Committee deserve a great deal of credit for the success of this dance, in serving delicious refreshments and making the necessary arrangements.

The proceeds of this dance are being forwarded to State headquarters at Richmond.

PUBLICITY OFFICIAL ADDRESSES CLUB

For second time Carl Kincheloe almost broke up the Kiwanis meeting. Last Friday evening the Club was depleted by those who journeyed to Madison to witness the wedding ceremony of the Club's latest benedict.

At home, the Club listened into a discourse from Mr. Borum on the subject of publicity connected with the battlepark celebration.

Huntton Tiffany was busily getting up a couple to go to Fredericksburg this week. Quite a crowd went down Tuesday evening and Fredericksburg entertained them royally.

The Club tabled an invitation from the Aden 4-H Club during the warm weather.

Col Hutchison made a very pleasing report of the International Convention which was greatly appreciated by the Club.

AN EXPLANATION

The Nominator's Committee last Saturday night is in receipt of a protest from a Granger worker at Haymarket complaining that a date used by the Grange had been interfered with by the dance there last Friday evening.

The committee did not set this date and the publicity given the dance was in accord with the fixed policy of the Manassas Journal in making announcements of public affairs.

McCARL'S AID

Retiring Budget Director May Aid Reorganization

As Comptroller-General J. R. McCarl prepared to step out of office, Senator Byrd (D., Va.) said he would urge a Senate committee of which he is chairman to "use McCarl's services to the greatest possible extent" in planning a sweeping reorganization of Government agencies.

McCarl announced that he was "deeply interested" in the reorganization study, and would be available to give the committee "such assistance as I can."

Declaring that the New Deal emergency agencies were "loosely and extravagantly set up and are tax-consuming in the extreme," McCarl expressed hope that "many if not all" of them might be "promptly eliminated."

President Roosevelt has yet to name a successor for McCarl, who is not eligible for reappointment to the job he held for 15 years.

Senator Harrison (D., Miss.) and Daniel Bell, acting budget bureau director, are among others mentioned for the post.

Richard N. Elliott, assistant comptroller-general, will serve as head of the general accounting office until McCarl's successor is named.

McCarl declared that "a systematic and sensible reorganization of the regular governmental agencies and activities would result not only in a vast monetary saving, but would eliminate duplicate and conflicting operations, bring together related functions, simplifying procedures, and in every respect make for better administration."

TO WELCOME PRESIDENT AT CHARLOTTESVILLE

Plans for a general public welcome of President Roosevelt as he passes through Charlottesville on his way to Monticello, where he will deliver a July 4 address in the morning were announced by Randolph H. Perry, secretary of the Charlottesville and Albemarle Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary Perry asked that as many children of the city and county be present on Main Street from the foot of Vinegar Hill to Fifth Street, East, and bring American flags with them.

President Roosevelt is expected to leave the Farmington Country Club, where he will spend the night of July 3, around 9 a. m. and proceed leisurely through Charlottesville and up to Monticello. He is scheduled to speak at Monticello at 10 a. m.

Since parking space at Monticello is limited to between 700 and 800 cars, Secretary Perry has asked that automobiles carry a capacity load. The road to Monticello will be closed at 9:30 except to the President's party.

GRANGE PICNIC

Bull Run Grange will hold a Fourth of July celebration as usual. There will be a picnic, to include fireworks, public speaking, etc. on the Haymarket High school grounds.

The speaking will not begin until 8 p. m. F. P. Moncre, delegate to the General Assembly, and Mr. C. C. McCall are listed as the guests for the occasion.

The public generally invited and the children are sure to have a good time.

CHILDREN'S CLINIC WITH X-RAY

During the week of July 13, in the court house at Manassas will be held a free clinic for the diagnosis of tuberculosis in children, by a specialist of the State Health Department. This clinic will be in cooperation with the physicians of the county.

Children who are living in the homes with cases of tuberculosis should be examined, either by their family physician of the clinic clinician. To be examined in the clinic, you must first get a written request from your doctor for this examination, and then see the tuberculosis nurse in your community for an appointment. All children desiring to obtain complete examination must report to the clinic on Monday.

QUANTICO BACKS RED CROSS WORK

Organized Classes and First Aid Station Among Objectives.

A Red Cross meeting of particular interest to Dumfries District residents was held in Quantico on Monday afternoon, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, president of the Prince William Chapter, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, vice-president; Rev. John M. DeChant, roll call chairman, and Miss Neel, the county nurse, met with a group of Quantico people who have been interested in Red Cross work for some time. The following were named a committee to supervise a variety of Red Cross activities in the district: Mrs. R. F. Pearsons, chairman; Mrs. Ben Weaver, Mrs. P. A. Brown, Mrs. A. B. Pearsons, Mrs. Ralph Carden, Mrs. M. Leiberman and Mayor McInteer.

Mr. Reed, post field worker for the Quantico Marine Post Red Cross chapter, was present and opened the meeting. He announced that Mrs. H. D. Shannon was the new chairman of Red Cross relief in the Post. Mr. Reed then introduced Miss Sadie James, field worker for the American National Red Cross in this area, who took charge of the meeting. After some discussion, the following outline of proposed activities was set up as a guide for the work of the above named committee. 1. To organize a First Aid class in Quantico similar to that conducted in Manassas last winter. 2. To organize Life Saving classes or arrange for interested persons to take this work under the instruction of Edwin Beachley at Lake Jackson pool. 3. To locate a relief center to dispense clothing and other articles to the families of the needy in the district. 4. To organize a class in Home Hgiene particularly for young married women.

In all these activities the Marine Post Chapter will give its support. It is hoped that the people of the community will give hearty support and co-operation to the work of this committee. The enlarged program of the Red Cross ought to capture the interest of all citizens of the County. It is an agency that does much to unite the widely scattered communities of our County. Steps looking to the organization of a First Aid class at Dumfries were also taken. It is expected that in the near future a Highway First Aid Station will be established at this point.

HUNNICUTT-WHITE

Last Saturday evening at six o'clock Miss Evelyn White and Mr. J. Jennings Hunnicutt were united in marriage by Rev. Melvin E. Wheatley in Elkton, Md.

The bride who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, of Manassas, is a former student of the local high school.

Mr. Hunnicutt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Hunnicutt of Spry, Va. He graduated from Surry High School and later attended the University of Richmond. He has been employed by the Agriculture Department and located in this county for about two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunnicutt are both well known and quite popular among the young people in the county.

Following the wedding ceremony the young couple left for a motor trip to Hershey, Pa. They will make their home in Manassas.

Circuit Court Proceedings

All the present school trustees qualified on June 10 except Mrs. Percy of Gainesville and N. N. Free, new trustee for Brentsville District who qualified on June 23.

W. A. Lynn resigned as justice for Occoquan District.

DOLLAR FUND GROWS DAILY

National Committee Appeals to Entire Party.

Prince William came into line with the rest of the Democrats in a nationwide plan to honor President Roosevelt last Saturday evening.

As announced, Mrs. Kitty Baker and the Rhythm Ramblers were on the job and played for more than a half hour prior to the introduction of President Roosevelt from Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

Mr. Franklyn Hibbs had installed one of his late model radios which gave perfect reception and was greatly enjoyed by those present.

Quite a number of those unable to be present on Saturday evening, have either mailed in their subscriptions or have come in the Journal office and signed the rolls as well. Other lists have been typed in. Subscriptions will not be closed until after the holiday period and several of the rolls have been dispatched to points in the county to facilitate matters.

Practically every known Democrat in the county has been afforded the opportunity to make a donation, and everyone who wants to assist the National Committee still has plenty of chance. The present Administration realizing that help must come from the Party as a whole has been the first Administration taking its case to the people for aid. The Democratic Party has ever been the poor man's Party and for that reason its coffers were always flat. Now a practical plan has been offered to the rank and file of the Party to help.

Contributions amounting to five dollars are as follows:

E. R. Conner, J. M. Piercy, Mrs. R. Gratz, Pete Pandazides, and Mr. O. D. Ellis.

Those contributing less than five dollars are as follows:

R. M. Merideth, L. K. Lynn, P. A. Lewis, Mrs. Emily C. Lewis, Margaret Lynch, Mamie L. Delaney, Thomas B. Lynch, L. Ledman, Mrs. L. Ledman, J. P. Kerlin, H. C. Carter, John R. Sealeman, W. R. Sealeman, John S. Powell, R. C. Sullivan, F. B. Morgan, John R. Earheart, D. E. Earhart, Mrs. D. E. Earhart, Bertha Herring, H. W. Herring, M. J. Washington, G. H. Washington, C. C. Leachman, W. F. Roland, E. B. Roland, Mary F. Roland, C. B. Roland, Dora D. Roland, H. Thornton Davies, Jr., Mrs. H. Thornton Davies, Jr., H. Thornton Davies, Sr., Mrs. H. Thornton Davies, Sr., Elizabeth B. Davies, J. Jenkyn Davies, Mrs. J. Jenkyn Davies, J. R. Jones, M. Bruce Whitmore, P. B. Beale, T. N. Berryman, L. V. Berryman, Jas. E. Bradford, Jr., Rev. J. F. Burks, Sarah Donohue, Mrs. A. A. The committee will appreciate having its attention called to any inadvertent omissions. Another list will be added next week of any further subscriptions which come in after this list is printed.

CULPEPER HORSE SHOW

Many sportsmen from Prince William and surrounding counties will journey to Culpeper tomorrow and Saturday to witness the annual horse show and races given by the Culpeper Association.

This annual event started about 1904 and has been one of the horse flesh epics of Northern Virginia for many years.

The racing cards on both afternoons are good and will draw many entries from this and other states.

There is an inn on the grounds and good hotel accommodations in the town. The grounds have plenty of shade and there is a good grandstand from which to witness the races.

MRS. BOWMAN TO ENTERTAIN ADEN LADIES

The Home Demonstration Club will meet Wednesday night, July 8, at the home of Mrs. L. J. Bowman assisted by Mrs. P. L. Trenis and Mrs. S. S. Slutz, husbands and children are also invited. An evening of fun is promised for all. School bells will ring again.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By
Dr. James T. Marshall
Sons of Encouragement

Human beings may be divided into two groups, the gloomy and the glad, the hinderers and the helpers. In the Book of Acts Luke introduces us to one of the most winsome persons of the New Testament. His real name is Joseph. So marked was the cheerfulness of his disposition and so comforting his companionship that his friends gave him the name of Barnabas or the "son of consolation" or as Moffatt translates it "the son of encouragement." (Acts 4:36)

The great need of our day is an increase in the number of sons of encouragement. The prevalence of unbelief, greed, lawlessness and poverty tends to drive us to discouragement. Only men of Barnabas' type can lead us out.

Many a good cause has been injured by the lack of attractiveness in its leadership. The professional reformer is generally portrayed as a person of sour countenance and repelling manners. John Knox excelled Mary Queen of Scots in zeal for righteousness, but was infinitely less winsome in his personality.

I like to think of Jesus as the world's redeemer rather than the world's reformer. It is true nevertheless that there has never been as great a reformer as He, but the changes which He has wrought in the hearts of men have been due to His divind spirit of patience and love.

If all men, ministers of the gospel should be "sons of encouragement." Their commission is given in the words of Isaiah, "Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith the Lord." Jesus never commanded his apostles to club His sheep. He did say, "Feed my sheep." Scolding sermons are always out of place. All men are wearied and troubled by the ordinary trials of life, and when they go to church they have a right to expect an atmosphere of peace and consolation. It is privilege of every christian to make life brighter for all whom he meets along the way of life.

"If a smile we may renew
While our journey we pursue,
Oh, the good we all may do
While the days are going by,"
Abraham Lincoln once said, "I want it said of me by those who knew me best, that I always plucked a thistle and planted a flower when I thought a flower would grow."

TODAY In Politics . . .

by Geo. Dent

The immortals have passed on . . . Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe are now strumming their harps on the other side of the River in tune with Franklin, Lincoln, Cleveland and Bryan . . . In 1776, we, as a young nation thrilled at these words . . . "That when ever form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its power in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness." Since that day we have opened our political eyes and stand today as a nation wise in Politico-isms . . . We have 'isms for breakfast, lunch and dinner . . . We meet our neighbor, and to help along with the conversation we inquire "what particular brand of politico-isms was born over night?"

Our Virginia democracy met in Norfolk and a very sad seance follows . . . Our own Senator, Carter Glass, shed tears as if he were attending an Irish Wake . . . Glass praised the New Deal with his hand over his mouth, and wrote the Norfolk platform looking thru smoked glasses . . . His praise of Roosevelt was Anthony's praise of Brutus. Long-ism was stalemated by an assassin's bullet, but the Rev. Smith carries on with Townsend-ism, and with the new Union Party, Coughlan-ism behind Lemke-ism we may expect a rich Politico-economic aberration that will shake the antiquity of all ancient thot, "Adam, had 'em" . . .

The Happy Warrior, of 1928 fame, Al Smith, Calls on the shades of Jefferson, Cleveland, Jackson and the Pro-Magnon Man, to behold what wonders the New Deal has wrought, and asks all voters who are not afraid of their political party inheritance to buy 'emself a pair of hiking shoes and walk, walk, walk . . . This particular party will be known in the political arena as the "Walk-ism party."

The Liberty League followers boasts of a billion dollar foundation, and a love for the Constitution that surpasses all human understanding . . . They quote, " . . . promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity. . .

They are putting flies in Roosevelt's soup . . . They are calling "Halt" and trying to put a ring around Rosy . . . We dub this party "Bilius-ism" for the sake of identification.

The Democratic Party seems to be following the natural trend of the time and going in for New-Deal-ism, building their hopes on Jim Farley-ism . . . In the City of Brotherly Love they beckoned with a $250,000 purse, and won with hands down a convention that seems to have about the same grade of Brotherly love that Cain had for Abel . . . But in spite of the thorn that pierces the flesh, Philadelphia is going straight ahead to entertain, maintain and hocus-pocus the delegates for a birdie . . . Keys to the city, like the wooden nutmegs of Connecticut, are being polished and sold for $1.00 per key . . . Roosevelt nominators are being herded together, like sheep in the fold, into the open spaces in all our larger cities for $1.00 per head.

"The Convention will come to order," Jim Farley speaking . . . Silence indeed, would be golden . . . The old Quaker City has cast off her Quakerishness and the roar and hubbub of an A 1 Convention patterned after a Roman Holiday is at hand . . . A double deck street carnival has never been able to keep half so much noise . . . Iowa corn welcome, but Kansas sunflower taboo . . .

Again we hear a keynoteer . . . Senator Barkley, hailing from the Burley State, the Dark and Bloody grounds of yesteryear . . . The Senator is an old fashioned speaker of the Campmeeting variety, and can shout until the thunders roll and political lighting flashes . . . Keynoteer Barkley's keynote was like Keynoteer Steiwar's keynote, entirely too long . . . n composition these keynotes didn't denote relationship . . . Three long years, as described by Steiwer, was changed to twelve long years by Barkley . . . Said Barkley, "The President (Roosevelt) to assume the powers of a dictator "for three long years" . . . The Supreme Court was tapped on the chin and Landon's platform was given the once and stretched out on the cooling board . . .

Senator Roberson, just did miss being a Keynoteer . . . A little late, Poor Old Joe . . . But he was given a chance to exercise his wonderful lungs just like he had at the Chicago convention . . . Senator Joe told the world something and pounded it home with a Max Schmeling right . . . One thing you will note, there has never been a word said about the Florida Ship Canal, nor the Passamaquoddy Moon Project, nor about a few of the Great Dams, nor about TVA and FHA . . . Keynoteer Barkley did not make the same Keynote that he did in Chicago in 1932 . . . in 1932 government spending was a sin, today it is a virtue; an unbalanced budget was a dire calamity, today it is something we can point to with genuine pride; Bureaus in the government at Washington were gradually undermining our whole democratic structure, today we give thanks for triple plated Bureaucracy multiplied several times . . .

Come, let us reason together and read the Democratic Platform; Platforms are very similar to the engagement ring, something to be looked at and admired, and later on in life it helps to remind us of broken promises . . . This platform starts out in a new and catchy manner; a preamble runneth at length and five times we read "We hold this truth to be selfevident" . . . We are reminded that we have replaced 12 years of Republican dictatorship by the privileged few, with the New Deal leadership of humanizing policies . . . (We are still reading the Platform) We have built foundations for those who are faced with the hazards of unemployment and old age; (We suppose this means TAXES and DEATH) We have thrown a chain of safeguards around thirt; (We figure this means a scramble for the dole) We want fair play for the consumer and ditto for the producer; (We calculate this is an reiteration of the Golden Rule) We have lifted the farmers from their menial task of agriculture to a place in the sun where crops do not have to be grown; (We surmise this deletes the "Man with the hoe") We conserve the soil, prevent erosion and always keep one step ahead of nature; (We now realize that Old Man Solomon was wrong when he said, "Go to the ant thou lazy pack of human bones") We have looked over the American business man and found that he was slightly out of step and out of tune with the times, so, we have arranged charts and diagrams, graphs and whatnots to guide him on his way to something more substantial than a mere secured financial future; (We agree that a full dinner pail, rocking chair, cut-paper tree and corncob pipe does not make for complete happiness, have you no palm-leaf fans?)

(And the platform goes on) We have opened the doors of opportunity to youth and give you free transportation to a CCC Camp, where you (YOUTH) will find free meals, free clothes, free lodging and a bonus of $1.00 per day; We can't imagine anything more inviting or romantic for youth, unless it is going to heaven on a mule, bare-back) We believe in the merit system in government and only let it slip because of the emergency, and just as soon as we pull out the kinks we are going to use the Civil Service to clinch the tie that binds; (We feel sure this is dead-reckoning and will help to keep mutiny from the high seas and away from the Old Ship of State) We will continue to guard free speech and give equal rights to all; (We give thanks; all married men take notice) We are more determined than ever to reduce the expenses of the government and achieve a balanced budget; (We feel very much like the sweet singer of Scotland when he sat on a root to hear the corn shoot) We are going to maintain the letter and spirit of the Constitution but, when we get to the end of the road we don't want to have the hide rubbed off of New Deal-ism by a Constitutional barrier; (We feel like Upsur felt when he wrote "Throw out the Life Line.") And in conclusion, we dedicate our political fortunes, to a government of liberal American principles . . . A platform, that, undoubtedly pushes the horse and buggy into "No Man's Land."

But why talk about the platform? The Platform and the Candidate may be twins but, we all know that quite frequently one of the twins die . . . Senator Norris visited the White House about a week ago, and when he walked out reporters inquired about the platform and his reactions . . . The Senators reply: "Why bother about the platform; after all the Candidate is the platform. . ."

F. D. R. in accepting renomination for the presidency grew eloquent in speech, and only a stones throw from the Liberty Bell, he said: "Philadelphia is a good city in which to write American history . . ." You know and know that Mr. Roosevelt is writing a new American history . . . Lincoln said, "This nation shall have a new birth of freedom . . ." Later, William Jennings Bryan said, "Why crucify man kind on a cross of gold, why press down upon his brow a crown of thorns . . ." "The forgotten men" has been given a place in the sun . . . Future generations will jot down his exact location to guide the historian as he pens the pages of this era . . . Mr. Roosevelt's speech was not a rough and tumble old fashioned political harangue; it was lofty and appealing; it was truly a sermon on the Mount . . . The reading public will check the record, the listening ear will catalog — we will check, "These truths are self-evident."

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
 If you read a Bible every day, and a light will shine upon your path.—Psalm 119:105
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

OMNIPOTENT CARE: The Lord shall preserve thy going out and they coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.—Psalm 121: 8.

GIVE YOUTH A SMILE

A school essayist suggested a few days ago, in her graduating address, that these young people who are trying to break into the cold world need a kindly and understanding smile. These youngsters seem to be sure of themselves, so confident of their powers, as they step out into life, that the world does not see all their fears and anxiety.

This breaking into a world which is so busy and anxious with its own cares, is a good deal like jumping into a lake of ice water on a wintry day. The tendency is to turn down these young folks with a chilly refusal, when they ask for a job or try to sell something.

It is well to think of all the courage it takes thus to greet the cold world. Even if you can't do anything tangible for them, at least be ready with a kind word and good wishes.

PITTS-JOHNSON

Of interest to a wide circle of friends throughout Virginia and the Carolinas was the marriage of Miss Sarah Hampton Pitts and Mr. Joseph Benjamin Johnson which was solemnized in the Methodist Episcopal church of Manassas at noon, Thursday, June 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Compton, pastor of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pitts, Sr., of Clinton, S. C. She is an A. B. graduate of Lauder College and received her B. S. degree from George Peabody College. Following her graduation she taught in the public schools of upper South Carolina. For the past few years she has done extension work in the home economics department of V. P. I. Extension Division, being located in Prince William county, Virginia.

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and is now engaged in dairy farming.

After a trip through Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina they will be at home at Clover Hill, Manassas, Virginia.

Kincheloe-Clore Wedding in Historic Hebron Church

Old Hebron church, in Madison county, was the scene of a lovely wedding last Friday afternoon, June 26, when Miss Edna Earl Clore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clore, of Madison, and Mr. J. Carl Kincheloe, of Manassas, were united in marriage by the Rev. C. K. Rhodes, pastor of Hebron church.

Never had the historic old edifice appeared so charming as on this occasion when, filled to overflowing with friends and relatives, this oldest Lutheran church in the United States reverberated with the special music emanating from the quaint old pipe organ which has faithfully served many generations of parishoners in times of joy and sorrow. Miss Mary Lacy, of Oak Park presided at the organ, Mr. Bernard Crigler, of Brightwood, and Mr. Frank Moser, of Gordonsville, rendering vocal music.

The church, beautifully decorated with palms, white gladioli and candles furnished a fitting background for the wedding ceremony of a lovely descendant of one of the very earliest pioneers of the county.

Miss Clore was given away by her father. Her gown was of white satin, fashioned on princess lines, and she wore an illusion veil. Her bouquet was of bridal roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Matilda Tisinger, of Atlanta, Ga., was maid of honor, and wore green mousseline de soie over green taffeta and a turban with a short veil to match. Her bouquet was of yellow roses. Miss Rebecca Crigler of Washington, Miss Jane Reynolds of Orange, Va.; Miss Mary Fray of Madison and Miss Margaret Crews, Westfield, N. J., were bridesmaids. They wore yellow mousseline de soie over yellow taffeta, with net turbans to match and short veils in the same shade. They carried clusters of Summer flowers.

The groom is the son of Mrs. M. H. Kincheloe, of Manassas, and a prominent business man and sportsman of Prince William county. He is very popular among the younger set.

Mr. J. H. Brown of Washington was best man and the ushers included Mr. Rudolph Whitmore of Washington, Mr. Paul Kincheloe of Fairfax, Va., Mr. Connie Kincheloe, Mr. W. H.

Altar of Hebron Church

Leachman and Mr. Edgar Conner of Manassas, and Mr. Carlton Clore of Madison.

An informal reception followed in the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Clore receiving the guests assisted by Mrs. Kincheloe, mother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Clore wore navy blue chiffon with a blue hat and had a corsage bouquet of white orchids. Mrs. Kincheloe had a costume of gray sheer with which she wore a lavender hat and orchids.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Kincheloe left for a wedding trip, the bride wearing a brown sheer with brown accessories.

The Commissioner of the District and Mrs. Melvin C. Hazen were among those from out of town at the wedding and others who went to Madison for the event were Mrs. Dick Ingley and Mrs. J. H. Brown of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Wightman of Honolulu, Hawaii; Mrs. Raymond Burhen of San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. P. Kincheloe and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rice of Fairfax, Va.; Mr. E. R. Conner and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lynn of Manassas, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Yowell of Manstead, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hawkins, Miss Louie Hawkins of Richmond, Va.; Miss Camilla Jeffries of Warrenton and Prof. and Mrs. D. R. Carpenter of Salem, Va. and Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison Lamb.

CELEBRATE FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Sedrick Saunders celebrated their first wedding anniversary with a buffet supper followed by bridge for their wedding attendants. The dining room was attractively decorated with roses and regal lilies.

The guests were entertained by bridge and monopoly after the delicious supper was served.

The invited guests were Misses Madeline McCoy, Rose Ratcliffe, Rena Bevans, Walser Conner, Esther Warren Pattie and Christine Meetze, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes Davies, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jenkin Davies, Rev and Mrs.

J. M. DeChant, Mrs. J. L. Bushong; Messrs. Jack Merchant, Maurice Smith, George Botts, Murray Bradshaw, Wallace Lynn, and Mr. Lowery Saunders of Warsaw, Va.

WARD-RUSSELL

The Methodist Parsonage was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding last Friday evening at eight o'clock when Miss Ruby Rosetta Russell and Mr. Walter William Ward were united in marriage by Rev. W. M. Compton.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. Thomas Russell and the late Mrs. Mamie Russell, was quite attractive in white crepe and lace ensemble with white accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses and baby's breath. Mrs. Ward graduated from Manassas High School this spring.

Mr. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward of Manassas, is an employee of a large construction company in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward, who are quite popular among the younger set in Manassas, will make their home here at present, upon their return.

Following the wedding ceremony, the young couple left for an extended tour of the southern states and will visit relatives in Atlanta, Ga.

(Questions That Are Asked About Banking)

"What is the purpose of a Bank's statement of condition?"

THE purpose of a bank's statement of condition is to give to the proper federal or state banking authorities, and to customers and the public, a report of the financial condition of the bank.

Our latest bank statement lists our assets and liabilities, showing what we do with our depositors' and stockholders' money. Part of the money is set aside to maintain required legal reserves. A reasonable amount of cash is kept on hand to meet the daily business requirement. Under normal conditions much of our deposits goes into active business use. A part is loaned to individual customers and well-managed business enterprises which helps the general business life of this community. A part goes into government bonds and other sound readily marketable securities.

500 PRISONERS GET BONUS IN VIRGINIA

Thirty-eight inmates of the Virginia Penitentiary received their World War bonus this week and approximately 500 in the entire prison system, including the road camps, also shared in the Government cash.

As far as penitentiary authorities have determined, none of the prisoners received the full-limit bonus. It was stated that a few who were eligible for the bonus did not apply for it for reasons evidently satisfactory to themselves.

Governor Peery Dedicates Legion Post

Peery; in the center is the Department of Virginia Commander, Frank F. Renne, Jr.; while on the right is National Vice Commander F. Whitney Godwin.

In his address, Governor Peery

mentioned Hopewell's nitrate of soda industry which plays an important role in the nation's self-defense as well as in agriculture. He said it is a "source of pride to the State," and "has aroused a tremendous interest throughout the United States because it has made our country independent of nitrates produced in foreign countries. No longer do we have to go to Chile for our nitrate of soda."

RIVER RACING THRILLS
SEEN IN NEW MOVIE

Out of the romantic pages of American history, Fox Film plucked one of the most exciting and colorful phases of Mississippi River life to furnish a thrilling climax for Will Rogers' new picture, "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Dixie Theatre next week Monday and Tuesday.

Once a year the fastest packets of the Mississippi and Ohio River would line up amid a great celebration and stage a steamboat race from Natchez to New Orleans, the gala event of the year. Crowds would line the shores, river crafts would drift up and down stream cheering their favorites and all work was forgotten in the excitement and anticipation of a thrilling race.

In the film, as in the old days, Rogers and Irvin Cobb, rival steamboat pilots, employ every possible means of winning the race. Old furniture, wax statues, fire-water medicine and most anything that would burn are used as fuel to turn the tide of victory.

The bitter rivalry of Rogers and Cobb, masters of "The Claremore Queen" and "The Pride of Paducah," reaches a thrilling climax when their packets fight it out for the supremacy of the Mississippi.

The race, however, is merely a highlight to the dramatic climax, since Rogers' sole purpose in entering the race is to save the life of a boy, who through a misunderstanding is held by the law for murder.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Grantham and little son of Washington, were callers at the home of Mrs. Etta P. Lynn on Thursday evening of last week.

Mrs. Hollman Willis and daughter, Frances, of Roanoke, Va. are spending a fortnight's vacation with Mrs. Willis' parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Brower of Lone Oak.

Mrs. A. B. Sapp is confined to her room at the parsonage at the present writing and unable to be about her usual duties. Mrs. Sapp is very active with Young People's work on the circuit and her complete restoration to health is anxiously hoped for by her many friends.

Miss Bessie Cordell of Herndon, Va. is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. G. Hughes at this writing.

Mrs. L. J. Canter and daughter, Eleanor, and Mr. Walter Dyson of Charlotte Hall, Md. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey at Catharpin on Sunday last.

Master Kent Curry of Tyson's Corner, spent the week end last week with his school friend, Hampton Alvey, of this city.

Mr. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres was saddened by the news of the death of his only sister who was a resident of the home community near Johnson City, Tenn. and whom he soon expected to visit. Mr. Caldwell is now the only living member of the brothers and sisters of his original family.

This Monday morning as we write, the threshing machines are making their voices heard in several directions throughout the community the community and the "golden grain" is once more the cynosure of all attention. A little early to report yields though one crop last week gave the neighborhood a hopeful expectation by producing a little better than 20 bushels per acre. While some may not produce as much, others may produce more; and so the argument prevails. Labor scarce and hard to get.

An event of local interest was the party given by the Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club for Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Latham, who had just arrived from their wedding trip and whose nuptials were solemnized at the home of the bride in Fredericksburg, Va. on Thursday, June 18, 1936. The party was given in the home of Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, on Thursday night, June 25 and attended by the club members with their husbands. Delicious refreshments were served and the evening was spent in conversation, visiting, and of course, a profusion of good wishes for the happy couple just launching upon the "Sea of Life". While seated around the refreshment tables, the club's president, after explaining that the groom, in his very early history, had had been the club's mascot, presented them with a beautiful end table in commemoration of that great event, and welcomed the little bride with many kind wishes, to her new home in upper Prince William. The Robertson home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The club certainly knows how to make people happy.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Cross of Groveton Avenue, was the scene of a very interesting and festive occasion on last Saturday evening, June 20 when a great number of relatives and friends assembled to celebrate the 77th birthday of Mrs. Fannie Cross, the mother and grandmother of many of the assembled guests, all of whom came to shower their gifts and blessings upon the one who has for so many years, helped, nurtured and labored for them all. Mrs. Cross, who was born and reared in Leesburg, Va., has been a resident of the little valley leading from Sudley to Groveton for all of her more than 60 years of married life, rearing her family, helping her grand children, attending to her church and civic duties, has well earned the appreciation and love of her many friends and relatives who visited her on the above occasion bringing with them many good things to eat and winding up the festivities with a "weenie" roast on the lawn at night. It is needless to say that all enjoyed the occasion and departed with many pleasant memories of this occasion and of the by-gone years which were so full of pleasant experiences.

Sudley certainly had a new experience when the combined Conferences of the Manassas, Sudley and Warrenton circuits met in her church on Monday night, June 29 for their third quarterly conference of the year. Fully 60 people—the three pastors and their official members and friends convened in joint session to transact the official business of their respective churches. As said before, this way of doing things was so new and out of the ordinary, that we were quite anxious to see how it would work; the result being the we were a little like the Queen of Sheba—it was greater and better than we knew. It was very interesting and inspiring to hear the reports of the other 9 congregations of this particular group and to witness the enthusiasm with which all seemed to be inspired. All reports were written and delivered standing up. These reports had to do with the churches, Missionary Societies, Sunday Schools, Leagues, etc. All read before interested fellow workers. Sudley was represented by 20 interested but the "officialdom" was meekly small. Dr. Beery, the Elder, was at his best and is an ideal presiding officer. After the regular business session was over, the Rev. R. K. Nevett of the Mt. Ranier Church was introduced and delivered a 12 minute address on the importance, duty and privilege of "Stewardship." Another 12 minute address was delivered by the Rev. G. G. Oliver of the Hyattsville Church on "Evangelism." Both address were right to the point; so much so, that the hearer could not help taking some of the "point" home with him. With the business and speaking over, the "Social Hour" was in order when refreshments were served by the Sudley contingent consisting of ice cream and cake. The whole experience was delightful. Many of the forty strangers present had never seen Sudley and their interest in the building and equipment was pleasant to hear. To sum it all up it was about the most interesting, helpful and inspiring meeting that Sudley has had the privilege of entertaining for a long time.

TRIANGLE—DUMFRIES

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and two children of Annapolis, Md. are house guests of Mrs. W. E. Lloyd. Mrs. Lloyd also has as guest her daughter, Mrs. Oneiga Decatur of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Sauls are visiting in North Carolina. Mrs. Sauls will be remembered as Miss Marion Reid.

The Home Demonstration Club of Triangle-Dumfries-Quantico held its regular meeting yesterday with the new leader, Miss Sarah Thomas, who succeeds Miss Sarah Pitts. We welcome Miss Thomas to our group and look forward to our work with her.

Mr. Ernest Reid, Sr. who has been suffering of an injured leg for several months is much improved and is able to get out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and two children and Miss Elsie Windsor of Triangle were guests of Mr. and Mrs.

Raymond Curtis of Minnieville last Sunday.

Mr. Jack Reid has accepted a position in the Pool Hall at Triangle.

Mr. Luther Windsor who has been in poor health for several months, continues ill and is now confined to his bed.

Mr. J. F. Fick and mother, Mrs. Mary Fick, made a business trip to Manassas last Friday.

The Dumfries Methodist Church held a very successful lawn party last Friday evening on the church lawn. One of the most interesting features of the evening was the awarding of a prize to the most popular girl of the community. Miss Doris Fick of Quantico was presented with the prize and named the most popular girl of the Dumfries-Quantico vicinity.

VALLEY VIEW

We are glad to say we are having a good season at this time. Some few people are threshing and report wheat turning out better than they had expected. Corn is looking good and the hay crop will be right good.

The Bridgewater quartet of the College of Bridgewater, Va., gave a program at Valley View Sunday, the 28 which was enjoyed by all.

Quite a large crowd attended the Children's Day program last Sunday at the U. B. Church at Aden.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 28.

The Golden Text was "The Kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened" (Matthew 13: 33).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And I will pray the Father, and he shall may abide with you for ever; even give you another Comforter, that he the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you" (John 14: 16-17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God had been graciously preparing me during many years for the reception of this final revelation of the absolute divine Principle of scientific mental healing. This apodictical Principle points to the revelation of Immanuel, 'God with,' the sovereign ever-presence, delivering the children of men from every ill 'that flesh is heir to'" (p. 107).

THEY TOLD GREELEY

"Sutter's Gold," starring Edward Arnold at the Dixie theatre, recalls that the gold seekers of '49 did not wait for Horace Greeley to tell them, "Go West." They told it to him. They were the men who made the news and the editor was the one to write it. They dug for gold. Greeley dug for words. They went mad with the lust for gleaming yellow metal. Many of them met violent ends. Greeley stayed sane. And alive.

Sutter strove to hold his possessions against the clawing and grabbing of the wild horde. His heroic struggle has been the inspiration for 8 different dramatic narratives.

Occoquan, Va. JUNE 24, 1936

Mr. Editor:

In the last issue of your paper appeared an article about Mill street, its improvement. Had the writer gone a few yards to the eastward there would have presented to view more than the exceptional house of which he wrote for there stands in bold relief an old stable, which for many years was used as a habitation while twenty feet to the north are two pig pens. The odor emanating from them in hot weather is a compromise between decaying fish and attar of roses. 450 years B. C. Pericles, the great Athenian, made Athens the art center of the world. His greatest sculptor "Phidias" the greatest the world has ever produced or executed in that metropolis of art, "The Parthenon."

This masterpiece is today used as a model by students. Our city fathers attempting to emulate Pericles without means or talent have placed at the extreme limit of Mills street not a Phidias production but one more appealing to the olfactories.

My people have been paying on the piece of property owned by my sister since 1872, 64 years. Only once when "Babe" Ledman was town sergeant has any improvement to the street in front of the house been made. A second-hand railroad tie was placed at the solicitations of my mother in front of the yard.

The phenomenal growth of Occoquan since 1865, 71 years ago, when there were 38 houses and 135 inhabitants, to the present time there are 216 inhabitants, is to be duly considered. In 1865 there five stores, Janney, Hammill, Underwood, Smoot and Carr, Underwood, Smoot, Simpson, and Selecman.

RECOVERING FROM ACCIDENT

Mr. Ira Richey, who was seriously injured in a saw mill accident at his home near Milford last Saturday afternoon, is doing as well as could be expected. Recent reports from the Alexandria hospital indicate that he will recover.

When his saw mill jumped from its anchorage he was struck in the face and shoulder, suffering deep cuts and lacerations. No first aid assistance could be secured and the long trip was made to Alexandria where he was found to be in a very grave condition.

Two years ago Mr. Richey suffered a compound skull fracture and the present injury reopened the old wound. It is believed at the hospital that he will lose sight in one eye, as had been feared at first.

CCC to Enroll 51,817

To Maintain Strength

Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, said this week that 51, 817 recruits would be enrolled next month to maintain the CCC at its authorized strength of 350,000.

Reporting that in the 12 months ended May 31 there were 145,383 CCC members discharged to accept private jobs, Fechner renewed his invitation to business men to visit the camps and select young men for employment.

The July to July 15 enrolling period, officials said, is to fill vacancies for the first period in which the CCC operates with a regular appropriation instead of with work relief allotments. The $308,000,000 appropriation bill provides for 325,000 junior members and 25,000 war veterans during the 12 months beginning July 1.

MANY NEW LAWS NOW IN FORCE

446 Statutes Added by Last Legislature.

Virginia now has a flock of new laws with the exception of one of two measures, all of the 446 bills passed by the 1936 General Assembly and approved by Governor Peery have become effective in Virginia. Nearly 100 of the bills passed were emergency measures and became effective when they were signed by the chief executive in March. The other acts became law last Friday. Ten bills passed by the assembly were vetoed, but the State's statutes have been swelled by another 1088-page law book.

To give the State tax department time to work out the new method, the law requiring stamps and crowns on beer containers as a legal means of collecting the beer tax, will not become law until August 1. The measure prohibiting the use of any type of slot machines except for pleasure only will not become law until January 1, 1937.

The relief measure provides $950,000 for distribution to the localities which put up 60 per cent of the amount the State fund allocated to them for relief during the first year of the biennium beginning July 1. The same amount is stipulated for the second year of the biennium provided the $370,000 above the unconditional appropriation of $580,000 is available.

"Walkathons," "Bikathons" and any other "thons" of the same general nature are banned from Virginia under terms of one of the acts.

Among the other bills passed, which now are effective, is one to put "teeth" in the Virginia banking code by providing penalties for infractions of the code. Another regulates drastically advertising by dentists. No longer will they be permitted to advertise prices and free examination, but must limit themselves to announcing their name and address and telephone number. A court test of this law is under way.

In Old Dominion elections hereafter it will be necessary for a voter merely to place a mark beside the name of the candidate of his choice. Under the terms of an affirmative-voting act, he will no longer have to go through the rigmarole of "scratching" the other names on the ballot.

Now effective is legislation revising and recodifying the State fisheries code while other measures brought extensive revision to the game and inland fisheries code as well as to sections of the insurance law. Another measure gives the State board of education power to enforce the erection by local authorities of fire escapes on school buildings regarded as fire hazards. This act allows the board to withhold State funds from local boards unwilling to install the fire escapes. Another act provides for alternate jurors in long drawn out criminal cases while other laws give the courts more power to enforce laws against reckless driving.

REMINDS VOTERS OF NEW ELECTION LAW

Reminding voters of the new "affirmative voting" law on the part of electoral boards does not constitute a violation of the constitutional prohibition against "giving aid" to persons planning to cast their ballots, Attorney General A. P. Staples holds.
