WILL INTRODUCE RELIGIOUS STUDY

County Council to Employ Full Time Instructor.

The Prince William County Council of Religious Education held an enthusiastic meeting in the Presbyterian church last Thursday night. President F. G. Sigman led the devotional service and presided at the meeting.

Rev. John M. DeChant, chairman of the Council's committee on Religion in the public schools, reported that the County School Board had given its approval to the Council's plan for teaching Religion in the public schools. The Council approved this report and voted to engage a teacher who will give her full time to this type of teaching.

The Virginia Council of Religious Education has developed a curriculum of religious instruction which harmonizes with the new curriculum now in use in the schools. Courses will be offered to pupils in the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades in all the consolidated schools in the county. Each class will be given one period of instruction per week. This instruction is not compulsory; parents will make written request to the school principal for permission to take the course. Printed forms will be furnished for this purpose. No attempt will be made to teach the doctrines of any particular Sect or Denomination. The teacher will be engaged by the County Council and her salary will be paid by the Council. No public funds will be used.

In taking this step Prince William joins nine other counties in the State who are already giving religious instruction to the children of the public schools. This type of work is being done in forty states. Over 250,000 children took the courses last year. It is estimated that the work will cost about $700.00 per year. President Sigman is appointing finance committees in the Districts to raise funds for the project. This is a type of Home Missionary work in which everyone may join, whether church members or not. Subscriptions are earnestly solicited. Checks may be drawn in favor of Mrs. L. J. Bowman, treasurer, and sent to Rev. Mr. DeChant, the General Chairman of finances, or handed to your local finance committee.

Among those present were Rev. W. M. Compton, Rev. O. R. Kesner, Mr. J. L. Bushong, Mr. L. J. Bowman and Miss Graybill of Nokesville, all of whom spoke enthusiastically in favor of the movement.

The Council appeals to the whole county to give its support to this project which will pay big returns in character-building and morality. A coupon pledge card appears elsewhere in this paper for your convenience.

NEW SWIMMING CLASS WILL BEGIN

Under the auspices of the Manassas Kiwanis Club, and through the request of many who did not start with the opening swimming class at Lake Jackson pool early in the summer, a new class will begin next Thursday August 20 at 2:30.

Mr. Edwin Beachley who has so efficiently instructed these classes previously, will be in charge of the beginning class next week. Everyone who did not start with the first class now have the opportunity to learn to swim. There are no charges for these lessons.

CHICKEN DINNER AT BRISTOW AUGUST 22

Residents of Prince William County are arranging for a chicken dinner for the benefit of All Saints' Catholic Church, Manassas, to be given Saturday, August 22, from twelve to four o'clock, at the Benedictine Guest House, adjoining Linton Hall, Bristow.

74-ACRE TRACT WILL BE ADDED TO PARK AREA

Wilbur C. Hall, chairman of the Virginia Conservation and Development Commission, announced today that a tract 74.36 acres near Front Royal would be added to the Shenandoah National Park at a cost of $16,000.

The land is being acquired from B. H. and Eva Potts at the request of the National Park Service, Mr. Hall said.

The land, located at the northern entrance to the park, is being acquired out of Shenandoah National Park funds, which can be expended only for additional land for the Park Area.

Dr. F. W. Huddleson, the popular treasurer of Fairfax County, was in town today, visiting around.

The annual picnic of the Order of Fraternal Americans in District No. 5 (Prince William County) will be held at Davis' Beach on August 19.

If weather conditions are bad or if there have been very heavy rains the night before, the date will be reset for August 27.

This year, as last, the Daughters of America, have been invited to go along.

INDIAN SERVICE AT MOUNT VERNON, AUG 16

On Sunday, August 16, the American Indians living at the Indian Stomp Grounds on the Mt. Vernon Blvd near Mt. Vernon, Va., will hold a joint Memorial Service for three of their departed friends, Ex Vice-President Charles Curtis, Mrs. Harold F. Ickes wife of the Secretary of the Interior and Mr. Edgar B. Merritt for 35 years U. S. Asst. Indian Commissioner.

Mr. Curtis was of Kaw Indian descent and was known by all Indians as their friend and Brother. Mrs. Ickes, lived among the Indians, knew them as friends and her last book published shortly before her death was dedicated "To My Indians." Mr. Merritt was the best loved man in the Indian Service.

Many years ago these three people, together with Mrs. Edna Ackers, Indian Claim Agent at Washington, D. C., for the past 22 years, planned a Reservation near Washington, where Indians might come and live as they did in the days before the whites came. The Indian Stomp Grounds at River Bend is the fulfillment of that dream. Mr. Curtis, Mrs. Ickes and Mr. Merritt have passed on to the Happy Hunting Grounds but Mrs. Ackers, who is in charge of the Reservation, is carrying on the work planned by them.

Last season over 41,000 visitors came to River Bend and saw American Indians from many tribes living in full tribal costume in the wigwam or teepee of their people. At the close of the season at River Bend the Indians were taken on a tour of the schools of the east, including the public schools of Maryland and Virginia. Over a million school children saw these Indians on this tour.

Many prominent Government Officials and noted Clergymen from Washington and nearby cities have been invited to take part in the Memorial Services, which will start at three p. m. next Sunday at River Bend. Services are open to the public and a huge crowd is expected. The Indians part of the service will be under the direction of old Chief High Star of the Pine Ridge Sioux and Chief White Eyes of the Cheyennes. David Horned Horse, noted Sioux Medicine Man, will put on the traditional mourning rites and ceremonials of the Sioux that were old when Columbus came to America. Services will be held in the Indian Church or Gamewing one of the most interesting spots on the Reservation.

Distinguished Record Made By American Legion Official

Third Term Completed by American Legion Chairman.

H. G. Breckenridge, chairman of the Department Rehabilitation Committee of the American Legion for Virginia, has just completed his third year of service in this important office and in submitting his annual report modestly reveals a notable record of service to Veterans and to his County in his accomplishments.

Most outstanding were his contributions to the organization of relief measures during the unprecedented flood conditions early in the year. His services during the illness of the Department Commander in organizing relief were widely recognized and appreciated.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, National Chairman of the Red Cross, commended the enterprise and resourcefulness of Mr. Breckenridge in initiating flood relief by the Virginia Department of the American Legion in the following quotation from a personal letter:

"May I assure you that the action you have taken is deeply appreciated and will have beneficial effect in reaching the membership of the American Legion in Virginia with its message of need. Your action is typical of the best Legion traditions in the interest of the service to humanity and will be of direct benefit to the unfortunate victims of this recent calamity."

The probable retirement of Mr. Breckenridge after three years of distinguished service will be a matter of keen regret among thousands of veterans who have been aided by him in his rehabilitation work. In handling guardianship matters in the Washington Area and in the Veterans Bureau, Mr. Breckenridge had endeared himself not only to a very wide circle of friends within the State, but his zeal for Veteran welfare generally had resulted in much timely assistance to needy Veterans in many sections of the United States. Concluding his annual report, Mr.

H. G. Breckenridge

Breckenridge makes the following statement:

"In concluding this report and retiring as your Chairman and Member of the National Rehabilitation Committee for the last three years or more, I would like to personally thank each individual who has so faithfully co-operated to make my term of office not only a success but a real pleasure; realizing this would be an endless task, may I therefore, extend to each and every one my sincere appreciation."

"In accepting the appointment of these offices, it was a solemn obligation on my part, that care of the disabled would always be my first thought and I hope that I have merited the confidence of the trust reposed in me and in carrying out my duties, that I have brought comfort and relief to our unfortunate comrades."

"The best that I can wish my successor is that he may have the same loyal co-operation that has been extended me during my term of office and I pledge to him my support and urge you to carry on with him as you have with me."

FIRE PROTECTION PROGRESSES AT HAYMARKET

The meeting called for Monday night last to discuss the problem of securing fire fighting apparatus for Gainesville District was quite interesting. After considerable discussion in which Dr. Payne and Supervisor Roland took prominent parts the following resolution was passed unanimously, "Resolved that this meeting is in favor of asking the county for financial help to purchase fire fighting equipment."

It is hoped that other sections of the county that have no adequate fire protection may cooperate with Gainesville district and be able to formulate some plan that will commend itself to all good citizens. It was also moved and passed unanimously "that we hereby commend Mr. Roland's plan to organize a local fire brigade and to assemble a temporary fire fighting outfit." It is manifest that such an organization and such local effort will be a long step toward solving this urgent problem.

—W. F. Carpenter, Secretary pro tem.

THEATRE SEAT EXHIBITED

One of the seats to be used in the new Theatre now under construction in Manassas has been placed on exhibition in the Journal window. HAYMARKET

Sunday, July 19, was observed at St. Paul's Church, this village, as "Home Coming Day," and was an occasion of great enjoyment by a large gathering of old friends and parishioners who respond to the invitations sent out by the Rector, Rev. W. F. Carpenter and his committee.

A congregation of more than two hundred and fifty people were present at the morning service. In the chancel with the rector were Bishop Goodwin, Rev. J. H. Bomberger, former rector of St. Paul's, and Rev. Mr. Miller, of Clarendon. The Bishop preached and confirmed a class of six presented by Mr. Carpenter, and five brought by Mr. Miller from his church.

The service included a celebration of the Holy Communion, and was one of inspiration, and no doubt full of tender memories of the old days, for many who again worshipped in the dear and familiar church.

At the close of the service the larger part of the congregation assembled at the parish house where lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mr. Bomberger preacher at the afternoon service, and was warmly welcomed by many of his friends and former parishioners. It is proposed to make Home Coming Day at St. Paul's a yearly event and no doubt, next summer will be even more largely attended.

THE SHENANDOAH, MASTER OF VIRGINIA

Virginians are raised in the mountains mostly.

By the beauties of the Blue Ridge. I was raised in Manassas wholly. By the historical Bull Run Bridge.

I have just been over that mountain. Which human nature thinks so fine. And I've gazed upon the Shenandoah. Time and time.

I have seen that master. Who is so great and grand. And I've looked upon that mountain. On which I now stand.

People come and people go. Who will also gaze on the Shenandoah. Some day with all my friends in mother earth I'll lie.

But the Shenandoah will never die. —Mildred Thornton Merchant, aged 13 Manassas, Virginia.

TINY STARS THRIVE ON PICTURE WORK

Motion picture work agreed so well with the Dionne Quintuplets, who make their feature film debut in "The Country Doctor," coming Monday and Tuesday to the Dixie theatre that the five world-famous babies put on weight in the course of their appearance before the cameras.

A check of the weights of the babies after seven days of "acting" before the cameras of the 20th Century-Fox unit sent to Callender, Ontario, for the purpose of recording their antics, disclosed an aggregate gain of two pounds and a half-ounce.

The individual gains ranged from ten ounces for Cecile to one for tiny Marie, according to Dr. Allen Roy Daffoe, the quint's own physician.

Jean Hersholt, June Lang, Slim Summerville, Michael Whalen and Dorothy Peterson are the leading names in the cast of Hollywood stars who support the world-famous babies in their initial starring venture. Darryl F. Zanuck personally supervised the production of the picture, directed

TODAY In Politics . . .

by Geo. Dent

Does History Repeat Itself?

150 years B.C. huge fortunes, gained so easily and rapidly, helped to lower the moral standard of Romans . . . In their desire for wealth, men lost all sense of Public duty . . . "The Arts of Avarice are these most cultivated at Rome". 133 years B.C. Cato the Censor, wrote: "I dread the more these vices of greed and luxury, for fear that our possessions have captured us and not that we have captured them . . ." It was during this period that Rome's wealth and property that gentry organized great stock companies in which large numbers of people might hold shares . . . Speculation of every kind wrung money from the helpless provincials . . .

Rome was nearing the crossroads . . . The Nobles were often genial gentlemen, dignified and kindly towards each other, but as a whole the Nobility was not patriotic . . .

Tiberius advocated his celebrated Agrarian Law in 133 B.C. The Law was simply this: Divide all farms into small tracts and give them to the poor . . . Send the people back to the soil and have them support themselves . . . Use public funds to stock farms . . .

Just 20 years before this period B.C. farming was at a very low ebb; a Roman farmer could hardly make a go of it tilling the soil . . . Markets flooded with grain from Sicily and Africa . . . Agriculture became impossible, farmers had to sell at a loss and were no longer able to remain on the soil . . . Roman peasantry flocked to the large cities . . . In a few years these people were too lazy to work, but, still, too intelligent to starve . . . They were the nucleus of an element of a dangerous mob . . .

Today we find millions of people in cities throughout these United States without work, on a dole for a few hours, a little short of starvation . . . Living under such conditions causes discontent . . . From the riffraff mobs are formed . . . Man's respect for law gives us order; but for how long?

We still have 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 out of work, 22,000,000 on relief, and the end is not in sight . . . Faded overalls, shoes worn-out, decayed teeth, all give a startling picture . . . My country 'Tis if Thee . . . In 110 B.C. Rome furnished work for the unemployed by building roads throughout Italy . . . Colonies of poor citizens were established in Italy and the provinces . . .

History is simply repeating itself. We have learned very little from the past . . . The Temple of science and invention pushes onward and builds civilization to dizzy heights . . . Economics stills wallows in the slough of despond; politics make the brew that the witches stir . . .

We are face to face with a rise in food prices . . . That takes in about all of us . . . We are all consumers . . .

We want a fair price for the sake of prosperity, but when prices go skyward our dollars purchasing power begins to dwindle . . . Thirty cent an hour soon drops to 20 cents an hour, yet, we have three dimes for an hour's work, but our power to trade has been cut exactly one third . . . It is the purchasing power of the masses that makes for prosperity . . . The farmer can farm and sell; the manufacturer can manufacture and sell providing there is purchasing power . . . Prosperity has a limit, and that limit can be gauged exactly: (a) the power of the masses to consume; (b) the purchasing power of the masses . . .

A simple law of economics, is, you cannot wear a silk dress on a gingham wage, nor can you buy an automobile on a wheelbarrow salary.

We as a nation, can consume 90 per cent of everything we can raise on our farms, and can and will keep our manufacturing machinery busy turning out the necessities and pleasures of life, providing, we have the necessary purchasing power . . .

We imported last year, for our individual use, 27,438,870 bushels of wheat . . . We brought in from foreign shores 43,242,296 bushels of corn, during the same period.

A laboring man should be worth his hire, and when we speak of him being worth his hire, we do not mean starvation wages, but a decent living wage and social security for the years to come.

Just a few days ago, the president of the Young Democratic clubs of the Free State of Maryland, wrote the state's political boss that the old hot must come across with the new tho't, or else, what a change there would be . . . There were no names called . . . No names mentioned . . . No notice taken of the letter . . . To the waste basket, James.

Just about the same time the Young Republican clubs issued through their president (Still in the state of Maryland) a similar letter, calling the old heads to stand by the new order, to stand for progressivism, and in the letter each Republican boss was called by name . . . Did they get results? Sure Mike . . . They knew that the Young Republicans had their number—there names were mentioned, and they simply asked: "What would you have us do?"

When the Young Democratic club met at Manassas about two weeks ago, there a resolution offered to censure Senator Glass for his Henry Day speech . . . Was it allowed on the floor? No, no, no, there was a millstone tied about the weaklings' neck and overboard it went . . .

A young lady in a vigorous speech commended Glass for his political independence . . . But, you can plainly see that the Young Folk Democrat club of Prince William county was left with the nipple in its mouth and the safety pin still fastened . . . When your leader steps on a pin and thinks it is a spike it is time to reorganize . . . The young folks should be as politically independent as the political bosses who have grown old on generations of the young.

The Country Newspaper

Turning from city newspapers to small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these glaring shatterings of the Decalogue. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things. Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little towns around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births and deaths, farmers' items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours.

Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence. — Christian Science Monitor.

An Excellent Appointment

The appointment of C. P. Nelson, of this city, to the state board of control is the summoning of a man of widely known integrity and business training to an important public task.

The board has charge of the operation of the institutions of West Virginia. It disburses millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money annually and is responsible for the honest, efficient management of the institutions. No agency at Charleston plays a more important, difficult role in state government. Therefore, it is heartening to the public to see upstanding men of Mr. Nelson's character, industry and understanding in charge of the board's functions.

In Huntington, where Mr. Nelson's virtues are best known, his appointment will be especially and enthusiastically applauded. Huntington is pleased to know that it will continue to be represented on the board as it has been from the beginning of the present administration.

The Advertiser congratulates Governor Kump upon the wisdom and excellence of his choice of a new member for a vital agency of government. It congratulates Mr. Nelson upon the unusual honor and recognition that come as a reward for his fine qualities of citizenship, also the opportunity that now is his to render valuable, distinguished service to his state.

Would that government, all along the line, had more C. P. Nelsons in control.—Huntington (W. Va.) Advertiser.

UN RACONTEUR SUPERB

Mr. Editor:

Some weeks ago I was reading in the papers that a "Society of Liars" had convened at Rochester, N. Y., to elect a president for their society. My mind at once reverted to some sixty years ago when our own county could have sent a candidate who would have been elected by acclamation. A few miles distant from this village lived dear old "Uncle" Billie Windsor whose visits usually on Saturdays were always looked forward to with pleasure and everyone vied with one another in offering "Uncle" Billy liquid refreshments.

When "Uncle" Billie had two or three potatoes and was comfortably seated, he was in proper form to relate his inimitable stories. He said on one occasion he was on the way to the court at Brentsville when looking up above him he saw a limb black with crows. He had only a single barrel shot gun. He took deliberate aim, crows, and the Court fined him $5.00 for obstructing the highway. "Uncle" was a famous fox hunter and he had a hound he called "Countess" the swiftest of his pack. One day his pack gave chase to a fox and Countess, running with extraordinary speed struck a stump with such force that it split itself in two. Overcome with grief at the supposed loss of the best hound, he hurriedly slapped together the two sides, two legs up two legs down. The hound fully recovered proving swifter than ever, running on two legs until tired, then hopping over on the other two and never failing to run the fox to cover. In my uncle's store on one occasion two travelling salesmen were boasting the merits of their respective cities.

St. Louis said: "In my town I have seen the foundation of a six store brick building laid on Saturday to be occupied a week later. New York said: "In little old New York it is not uncommon to run up twenty stories in the same length of time." "Uncle" Billie sitting silently listening finally spoke. He said, "You two men lie like an infant. At the time of the great Chicago fire 1871 I fought fire two days and nights and on the third day I was so exhausted that I fell down on the open prairie. When I woke next day I was sleeping in the basement of a ten story break. I would be doing, "Uncle" Billie injustice to class him with the list of liars. "In more emphatic French he was our beloved raconteur superb.

MANAGED BANK FOR HOME

(Questions That Are Asked About Banking)

"What are the duties of Bank directors?"

STATED in simple terms, it is the duty of bank directors to direct. They are elected by the owners of the bank—the stockholders who delegate to the board of directors the responsibility of management. The directors, in turn, hire the officers who, with other employees, carry on the daily work of running the bank.

But the final and inescapable responsibility for the bank rests upon its board of directors. It is their job to exercise control and supervision of its affairs. It is their duty to know about the important phases of the bank's business.

Our directors actively direct the affairs of this bank. They meet regularly to pass on important matters, to make decisions and establish policies which guide our officers in the daily management of the bank.

"LUCKY TERROR" TYPICAL OF HOOT GIBSON'S BEST

Comedy with a capital C is the film fare offered by Hoot Gibson, in his latest starring success, "Lucky Terror," which opens at the Dixie theatre, on Friday and Saturday.

"Lucky Terror" is the story of a cowboy who finds himself in possession of a treasure of gold, which is being sought by a band of desperadoes. Hoot Gibson as Lucky Carson, soon discovers, however, that the gold belongs to pretty Lona Andre, who as Ann, plays the part of a dancer in a traveling patent medicine show.

How Hoot Gibson finally restores the gold to its rightful owner, after becoming involved in a series of complications which lead him almost to prison as a murder suspect—is the basis of this fast moving, laugh provoking drama of the west.

"Lucky Terror" is different from most westerns, in that it offers a goodly portion of comedy, mixed up with its fast rides, thrilling moments, and dramatic scenes. It is the type of picture, in which Hoot Gibson has won his greatest success in the past.

Supporting Hoot Gibson in "Lucky Terror" are Lona Andre, as the leading lady; Charles Hill, as Dr. Halliday, owner of a patent medicine show; Frank Yononelli, as Tony, Dr. Halliday's assistant; Jack Rockwell, Bob McKenzie, Art Mix, Wally Wales, Fargo Bussey and Charles King.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Soil Conservation Program Provisions Amended

A supplementary provision has been added to the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program which will make it possible for many farmers to receive assistance with soil building practices who could not have done so before this provision went into effect.

This change provides that any farmer participating in the program may harvest a greater acreage of soil-depleting crops, as wheat and corn, in 1936 than he did in 1935 and still receive full Class 2 or soil-building payments and that there will be no deduction from his soil-building payments (as for the use of lime, seeding of legumes, fertilizing, etc.) because of the fact that he has increased his acreage of soil-depleting crops this year over that of last year.

Those who did not file work sheets during the first sign-up period because they could not qualify for 1936 payments because of increasing their soil-depleting crops this year under the earlier ruling may still participate in the program by calling at the office of F. D. Cox, County Agent, in the Manassas Post Office Building within the next few days and filing work sheets.

JUNIPER TREES

Everybody gets the blues. It is a surprising thing to see a strong man like Elijah crawling under a juniper tree and giving way to despair. We are equally surprised to find periods of despondency in the experiences of men like St. Paul, Martin Luther and George Washington. John Bunyan in "The Pilgrim's Progress," brings Christian into the "Castle of Despair," where is daily cudgelled by the giant.

This is merely saying that all men are human. God does not overlook this fact. As He sent an angel to drag Elijah out from under a juniper tree and put him on his feet, so He is continually sending the sweet messengers of heaven to cheer and aid those who are cast down.

Very often the root of our trouble is physical. It is not easy to be cheerful when one is sick in body. For one thing Elijah was weary and faint with hunger and the first thing the angel did was to feed him. We must recognize, though we cannot understand, the interaction between our minds and our bodies. It is our prime duty to take care of our health and there are times when a physician's pellet will do more good than a parson's prayer.

Many times we become mentally depressed because we are too self-contented and fail to occupy our minds with noble thoughts or our hands with deeds of love toward others. God assigned certain definite tasks to Elijah and thus diverted his mind from his own troubles. If we will try to keep ourselves busy in the service of humanity we will have less time for brooding over our real or fancied misfortunes. Kagawa, the famous Japanese Christian, was consumptive in his early life and was told by his physicians that he could not expect to live more than a few months. He replied that he was too busy to be sick, and plunged into that work which has demanded his attention for the past twenty-five years and has produced such marked results.

Only a few weeks ago this great Christian leader made a tour of our American cities and he is still going strong. Such a career is an outstanding example of the power of mind over body and of the value of an unflinching faith in God.

In such a faith we find our best cure for gloom. After leaving the juniper tree Elijah moved on to Mt. Carmel where he spent a brief period in solitary communion with God, listening to the "still, small voice."

"In peace and quietness shall be your strength." How much time do you give to the cultivation of your own soul? There will be little gloom in the heart of those who live in the spirit of Whittier's lines,

"Drop Thy still dews of quietness
Till all our striving cease;
Take from our souls the strain and stress
And let our ordered lives confess
The beauty of Thy peace."
