WOULD IMPROVE STATE ROUTE 234

Organization Effected Last Night.

The meeting at Herndon held last night in the interest of the permanent improvement of the cross-county through Loudoun to Gilbert's Filling Station was unusually well attended. At least 150 persons from all sections were present.

Senator John W. Rust presided and Hon. Wade Massie was the guest of honor. Prof. R. C. Haydon was elected secretary of the meeting. In very complimentary lanuage, Senator Rust introduced Delegate Frank P. Moncure, who advanced the cause of this road as an important link rather than a local affair.

The next speaker was Ray Hall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce from Fredericksburg. He spoke of the developments around Fredericksburg, both by private and public interest and mentioned the tie-up between the battle fields which would be, created by the improvement of the SCHOOL BUSES road.

Hon. Harry P. Davis of Manassas cited several reasons for the hardsurfacing of the road, claiming that the bad condition diverts traffic and that the main function of a road is to Remarkable Efficiency of Transget people somewhere as well as to have people live along it. He recognized the problems of the Highway Commission and closed his remarks stating that "this road means lots to lots of people."

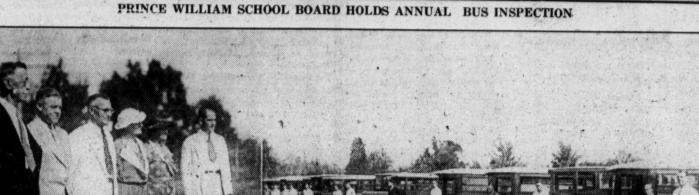

The first speaker from Loudoun County was E. C. Norman from Ashburn, who cited some of the history of attempts to get this road improved. He also advanced the importance of the road as a main battle ground thoroughfare. Mr. Coleman, supervisor of Board Run District, largely echoed the sentiments of Mr. Norman.

NEW PLAY HOUSE DRAWS HUNDREDS

Ovation Given Mr. Pitts As He Appeared Before The Audience

Approximately a thousand enthusiastic patrons assembled Monday evening to witness and enjoy the dedication and first showing at Pitts New Theatre in Manassas. No metropolitan opera house could have apeared more entrancing than did this beautiful edifice which represents the last word in efficient and luxurious enjoyment of motion poctures.

Promptly at 7 o'clock, with every seat occupied, the program began with a welcome by Hor. Harry Davis, Mayor of Manassas, who accepted the Theatre in the name of the Town and paid high compliment to the enterprise and personality of Mr. Ben Pitts, its proprietor. Mr. Davis spoke eloquently of the deep appreciation which is felt by the entire community and voiced the prediction that a new and greater Manassas may date from this occasion. He recalled many interesting facts about public entertainment in Manassas and particularly of the growth of appreciation of motion pictures, with their more recently developed sound accompaniment. His remarks were repeatedly interrupted with applause.

Hon Frank Moncure, Delegate from Prince William, to the General As-sembly was then introduced and paid In observing Constitution Day tribute to Mr. Pitts as his friend and which is today), the Kiwanis Club neighbor and the proceeded to present will assemble on Grant Avenue to- to the audience Mr. Pitts himself. Mr. A. S. Boatwright dwelt on the importance of the road as a by-pass for north and south traffic. Mr. Ben Pitts, owner of a chain of moving picture theatres in Northern Virginia, stated that he dreaded the section bethan any road leading to any town where he had business.

Hon. Wade Massie gave a brief address at this time. He added that there is no state money to allocate this year and no federal money available, in, as, much as Route 234 is not in the federal system. He added further that next year's fund are very uncertain and that Culpeper District, next to the smallest in the State, always receives small allotments.

He told of the location of the convict camps and how they are taking care of some of the major needs of this construction district at the present time. He advanced the idea that the use of one of these convict camps would be one of the most certain methods of getting improvement on the cross-county road.

Mr. Massie was quizzed by Mr. Moncure and Mr. Davis as to his stand on putting route 234 on federal assistance and Mr. Massie promised he would aid, stating that it is largely a question as to whether this District has any federal mileage coming to it.

On motion of Mr. Ray Hall that a permanent organization be set up, Mr. Hall was named head of that group and Mr. W. F. Cocke, secretary, with the idea that the organization is to permanently improved.

ty. The service of some of the men driving the school buses in this county runs as high as 12 years.

School consolidation and transportation in Prince William County dates approximately from the close of the World War, about 1920. The first bus tween Manassas and Dumfries more put into service was used to carry children from the Bacon Race School to Bethel. The next experiment provided facilities for bringing pupils from Greenwich to Manassas and at about the same time a bus was put into service to bring children in to the Haymarket School. From this beginning has developed the present efficient system to which patrons may point with pride. No child has ever been injured in a bus accident in Prince William County.

The second showing was like the first. The large auditorium promptly filled to capacity as the crowd outside cation by Kiwanis Club of Manassas entered to continue the community appreciation of both the theatre and the man who built it. And all who were there, with those now attending in subsequent showings, are delighted and astonished that such a genuinely metropolitan facility should have come to Manassas. On every side is voiced the opinion that the dedication of this beautiful playhouse marks the beginning of a greater Manassas which will not only provide all that the finest of towns can furnish to its citizens but which will have great attraction and pulling power over a wide area from whence large numbers may come to derive enjoyment and profit from their association with this hospital town.

The ladies of the Sudley Missionary society met in regular session last week and perfected plans for their annual bazaar and supper to be held in the dining room of Sudley church on Friday, October 23, 1936, upon which date both noonday dinner and supper will be served. The piece de resistance will be turkey with all its "fixins." Last year's experience with the same menu proved so popular that the "old bird" left for parts unknown before all had realized his presence; so we are just wondering if our memories are long enough to recall the great "jam" upon last year's occasion when 69 Washingtonians, for instance, found their way to Sudley? and when nearly 300 supper tickets had been sold? Sometimes its a pretty good idea to recall past "history" in order to environ our judgments as to pos sible future contingencies.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill and son, F. H. Collins, were tural Bridge, Va., during the past visiting friends and relatives at Naweek.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn of Catharpin, after studied fore-thought and premeditation, left their home on Sunday nite, September 13, 1936, at about 8:30 p. m. of said day, fully birthday. May you have may more armed and equipped with various and sundry articles, and designing to inflict their will upon certain persons in the neighborhood, did quietly and under cover of darkness, approach the private premises of Oakwood, calling upon the inhabitants thereof to surrender their rights and privileges as masters of their own household long enough to be served with a bountiful supply of most delicious peach ice cream and cake, which of their abundance, they most graciously bestowed upon said inhabitants in quantities sufficient to satisfy the most exacting appetite. We had often heard of "Night Riders" and had become somewhat suspicious of their activities, but if this is a sample of their "doings" we shall be glad to welcome a return engagement any time. Schools, once more, are occuping general attention of all citizens just now, and the topic most discussed this week is the big new, yellow bus which replaces the old one of last year on the Catharpin route, and the closing of the Catharpin school. According to the new system of transporation and the centralization of educational effort, many little community centers are losing their former identity. In the "old days" the Little Red Schoolhouse" was the beginning and end of education for many citizens of the Commonwealth; yet people seemed to prosper, boys and girls grew to manhood and womanhood, became good citizens, read their weekly paper, their Bible and attended church more or less regularly and many of them became what is commonly known as "prosperous citizens," leaders of their class in the community and owners of farms. Not all, of course, were prosperous, but the proportion of these successful in life was just about as great in the "Old Days" as they are to-day with all the new improvements. new methods and new "gadgets" in trade, education and commerce. So we are constrained to think that mere knowledge does not always make for righteousness or well being, but it does enable us to follow the trend of our own inmate impulses whether they be for good or mischief. The closing of the Catharpin school closes an epoch in the little bit of history which this neighborhood has been enabled to accumulate during the past one hundred years or more. Like all other places, it came into being, lived its life in various ways, contributed to things in a general way about as its neighbors did, had its horse shows, sold liquor in its grocery stores in times of yore, got drunk and reveled around as did its neighbors, got religion at times, back-slid, came up again at the next meeting, fox hunted, played cards, danced and gambled; in

"Why must a stranger's check be endorsed?"

CHECK is not money. It becomes money A only when honored by the bank upon which it is drawn. Consequently a bank, cashing a check drawn upon another bank, must have some recourse in case the check comes back unpaid.

Banks require endorsement of a depositor on a stranger's check simply as a matter of protection to the bank and its depositors. Cashing a non-depositor's check is, in effect, advancing money without security. You, as an individual, would not consider it good business to give cash to a stranger in exchange for his check. The rules of good banking simply aim to make sure that the bank will carry on its financial business of its customers and its community efficiently and safely.

In accordance, with our established policy we are always glad to cash a check for any person who is properly identified and whose check is endorsed by one of our customers.

TODAY In Politics. by Geo. Dent

Here-to-fore a lot of Virginian's democracy (the leaders) depended upon Ol' Abe to see 'em thru. . . This year Lincoln appears to be a back number. . . . Thos. Jefferson is in the field. . . . Mr. Jefferson is a presidential candidate. . . If you doubt this statement read your state papers. . In body, in soul, in politics and in person Mr. Landon is the re-incarnation of Mr. Thomas Jefferson, according to the latest political nit-wits of Virginia. . . . We habe produced everything in Virginia from the lowly persimmon, that improves with frost, to the Thanksgiving turkey that improves with canberry sauce; we have heard Senator Glass criticise and revile, deny and back-step every action of the New Deal, and then like a spoilt child whimper for a bottle of New deal ninny. . . . It is no use; nay, it is foolish indeed to to spank a child for playing in the mud, making mud pies and getting his pretty, clean for Browder; but believe those who rompers dirty, and then shovel in the mud for more pies . . . Our two senators continue to ride in the band wagon, they blow their horns but seem to be unable to read the music, they toot a sour note that sounds like a tree-frog in a canary's cage, and still try to swing from the New Deal trapezee by an invisable prehensile tail.

In A. D. 1936 we are harking back to the distant year of 1896, in that quently, their political affiliation was distant year William Jennings Bryan was fresh from the far fields of Ne- of one family joined the "Young Dembraska, and had in his bag of magic a new trick, known as the 16 to 1, er family joined up with the "Young guaranteed to alleviate all suffering caused by too much gold in the body joined with one tho't in mind, and that politic. . . The Politicans of Virginia thot was, to be an independent Opinion spat and coughed, drank cider and maker, not be dragged around by the whittled, voted for McKinley and old moss covered politicans. . . . I am Palmer or did not vote at all, but the sorry to say, that an opinion expressed Cross of Gold and Crown of Thorns on any political sbject, is, generally candidate polled more votes than his speaking, unkonwn in either organizat two opponents. . . .

financed by DuPoints and General Mo- wreck! tors, consists of a motely lot of penny snatchers. . . . They are willing to give their services to the highest bidder and like an Egyptian scarab walk backward to roll their stenchful propoganda. . . . I understand Mr. Cannon (Bishop Cannon) was offered the position as General Manager and publicity Agent of this outfit, calling 'em selves "Jefferson Democrats." . . . According to rumors, the Good Bishop was offered a flat $10,000 down and a bonus of $25,000 if the could swing Virginia away from the New Deal. . . The Bishop turned the offer down, said he was not in politics for money . . The Jeffersonians finally settled on a newspaper columnist by the name of T. L. Hunter, who had been writing a column for the Richmond Times-Dispatch for more than a year. . . . Apparently, these Jeffersonian democrats did not rate Mr. Hunter's ability very high, he accepted their faith and $250 for the durance of the campaign. . . State Senator Muse does a flip-flop for publicity. . . . At first he flips from the New Deal to Landon and after have been voting against Abe Lincoln. finding that the flip did not furnish In fact a generout portion of our rural quite enough publicity he flopped into the DuPont and General Motors camp (Jeffersonians). The state senator was a leader in our last legislature meeting, crying aloud for Social Security protection as outlined by the New Deal. . . If Jefferson were with us today, me thinks, he would set his dog on the whole caboodle of that bybrid donkeyism, known as Jeffersonian democrats. Every honest man, woman and child ing her several friends before returnrespects an honest opinion; but an opinion that can be rubbed out for a widow's mite, an opinion that can be changed for political expediency or fleeting publicity is nothing more nor less than a cancerous growth. . Such an opinion is dangerous to the body politic, and becomes a stumbling block to free government. . . .

We respect those who vote, because of an honest opinion, for Landon, for Roosevelt, for Lemke, for Thomas, are in the seats of the mighty, those who trade their birthright for a mess of pottage, those who swap for publicity, those who flipflop for political expediency are more dangerous to our form of government than all the Reds in Russia. . . Our young folks started out, I believe, with good intentions. . . . They inherited their political belief, consea natural sequence. . . . The offsprings ocrats" and the offsprings of the oth-Republicans." . . . They, no doubt,

Mr. H. Caldwell Slack is taking a short course at the University of Maryland while on his summer vacation from the District Workhouse. Capt. and Mrs. Thomas F. Joyce were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Duff Gill at their ome in Garrison-ville, Stafford County. Mrs. Ruby Colbert of Madison College, Nashville, Tenn., and formerly of Garrisonville, Va., spent a few days with Capt. and Mrs. Thomas F. Jayce at their home at Occoquan. Mrs. Colbert is on her vacation and is visiting to Madison College. Miss Virginia Leary of Occoquan took a week end trip to Wilksberry, Pa

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Burke of Washington, D. C., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Janney of Occoquan.

Mr. John Morrison, son of Rev. Morrison of Occoquan, has returned to Randolph Macon to continue his studies.

Mr. A. B. Rogers, postmaster at Occoquan, has returned from several weeks spent at Blue Ridge for his health. We are pleased to note Mr. Rogers looks fine and has taken on several pounds of flesh.

Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Langston of Pohick Church have returned from their vacation spent in Maine and other points North, and have resumed their work at Pohick Church and Rectory.

The Lort-Occo-Wood-Quan bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Robert . Insko at her home at Lorton on Monday. They reported having a very enjoyable afternoon. (This club consists of ladies from Lorton, Occoquan, Woodbridge and Quantico, who meet every Monday to play bridge). They were formerly known as the Occo-Wood Club, but have expanded. The Rector's Aid Society of Pohick Church met at the home of Mrs. N. S. Lambert at Woodbridge on Wednesday, the 16th. There was a good attendance and all enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

A dinner in honor of Mrs. H. E Lyon of Quantico recently elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion of Buck Keyes la, one the George Washington Mem-Post, No. 28, was given at Stone Vilorial Highway Saturday evening, the 12th. There were about thirty-five present at the dinner. Unfortunately, at the last moment Mrs. Lyons was taken ill with appendicitis and had to be rushed to a hospital for an operation. Those who attended the dinner had a pleasant evening, but would have had a far more pleasant evening if Mrs. Lyon had been with them. We are pleased to know the operation was a success and that Mrs. Lyon is now convalescing nicely.

EDGAR HARRIS STATE ORGANIZER

O. F. A. Names New Recruiting Official

The Order Fraternal ,Americans Inc., has announced the appointment of Edgar V. Harris as State Organizer who will operate throughout the State with a large corps of assistants. His appointment takes effect September 15.

The O. F. A., is a Virginia organization composed of approximately 5,00 citizens, and has local branches in 62 cities and towns in the State. It is a non-sectarian, non-political patriotic order limiting its activities to improving the public schools in cooperation with the state school authorities; advocating a reasonable restriction of foreign immigration; preservation of the American form of government; teaching good citizenship; and, giving aid where needed to its members. Its present principal Grand Officers are Alvin W. Shade of Winchester, state president; Lewis A. Parks of Richmond, state vice president; Samuel E. Forwood of Norfolk, state chaplain; John H. Trimyer of Alexandria, state treasurer; and Charles E. Babcock of Vienna, state secretary.

The Order is affiliated with the Junior Order United American Mechanics of North America and cooperates with that organization in maintaining two homes for children, one at Tiffin, Ohio, and the other at Lexington, North Carolina.
