RED CROSS CONFERENCE AT CHARLOTTESVILLE LOCAL BOYS SWEEP HONORS AT STATE FAIR

Last Friday a small group from Prince William attended the Regional Conference of the American Red Cross at Charlottesville. The Conference was called for the purpose of setting up plans for the annual Roll Call which is held from Armistice Day, November 11 to Thanksgiving, November 25. Those attending were Mrs. A. B. Persons and Mrs. Purvis of Quantico, and Rev. John M. DeChant, Roll Call chairman.

The Roll Call records of last year were presented and it was seen that Prince William County stood 38th in the list of 93 counties, and 9th in her population group which numbers 35 counties with population between 10,000 and 20,000. 3½ per cent of our people joined the Red Cross last year. We did better than Loudon and Stafford, but Fairfax and Fauquier had much better records than we.

With 95,000 members of the Red Cross in the State of Virginia and 144,000 members in the Junior Red Cross, what has this great organization been able to do in the State in the past year? Public Health nurses have made over 38,000 visits. Nearly 4,000 persons earned First Aid certificates, some of these in our own County. 1,310 Life Saving certificates were issued, six to Prince William boys under the able direction of Edwin Beachley. Nearly 8,000 Ex-service men of families in the State were assisted; 841 disaster sufferers are aided. Twenty-four Emergency Highway First Aid Stations were opened and three times that number promised.

Here is a great humane organization with no political affiliation, never dipping into the public treasury, standing ready, able and willing to help anybody who needs help, capable of meeting any disaster emergency anywhere in the country at any time. The story of its work makes a thrill-

The 4-H Dairy Judging team from Prince William County carried away all honors at the State Dairy Judging Contest held Tuesday at the State Fair in Richmond. The team composed of Bill Hedrick, Clifford Baer, Billy Harpine and J. Owens (alternate) is from the Nokesville 4-H club.

Competing with teams from seven other counties in the state, Prince William won the contest by a margin of fifteen points. Hedrick was high individual in the entire contest with a total score of 360 points out of a possible 400 and Baer was a close second with a total of 355 points. Harpine, the third member of the team was high individual Holstein judge, winning a medal from the Holstein Freisian Association of America. Hedrick was third high individual Guernsey judge winning a medal from the American Guernsey Cattle Club. The team as a whole also won a silver loving cup given by the Holstein Freisian Association of America for being high team judging Holstein cattle.

These winnings entitled the boys to a free trip to the 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago this fall. This is the second consecutive year Prince William County has carried away all honors at the State Judging Contest held annually in connection with the State Fair in Richmond.

The team will appear in tomorrow's Festival Parade.

ing chapter in American history since the war. When the Call comes next November, JOIN.

Some of our Prince William people who work in Fairfax, Arlington or the District, where the Roll Call drive is already under way, are urged to join there. If you do, please be sure to give your address, so that we will receive credit.

PIEDMONT VIRGINIA AWAITS SIXTH FESTIVAL

REGINA VI OF THE PIEDMONT VIRGINIA DAIRY FESTIVAL

Miss Elise Triplett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lake Triplett, of Fauquier County, who will be crowned Regina VI at the festival celebration held in Manassas on October 2.

Scenes from the Fifth Piedmont Dairy Festival

Senator Glass Will Crown the Queen

With the arrival of the Queen and her court in Manassas this forenoon, and rehearsals at Annaburg most of the day, the Sixth Piedmont Dairy Festival, is well underway.

The first official function will be the dance at the gymnasium this evening.

In the forenoon the judging contest by the 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers, that have proved so popular in the past, will precede the coronation exercises that are scheduled for 11:00 a. m.

There will also be a special program rendered by the public schools. The famous Richmond Blues will arrive here at an early hour in the morning to again take part as the military escort for the Queen's Court.

Senator Carter Glass has accepted the duty of acting as coronator of the lovely Queen and he, too, will arrive here shortly before noon tomorrow. This will be the first time that the veteran legislator has presided at a public function in Manassas and this should prove a drawing card for the occasion.

The crowning will be followed by another lovely pageant staged by Mrs. Calloway and her pupils assisted by several bodies of students from the various schools who have been drilled by Mrs. Calloway, to take part in the dances and scenes.

In the afternoon the usual gorgeous display will travel through the streets of Manassas in honor of the dairy industry of Northern Virginia. An official list of the various features of this parade is printed in other columns, including the aerial exhibit, etc.

So much has been said of the history of the Dairy Festival that little need be added this year, except to praise Mr. Hynson, the head, for bolstering the movement when there was some talk of the fete being discontinued for this year on account of the Battle Celebration which was staged on July 21.

Many others, whose names have already been published as committee leaders, deserve an equal amount of praise for backing up Mr. Hynson and scoring what promises to be another hit among the festival occasions in the State of Virginia.

Special mention should be made of the particularly strenuous effort made by Mrs. Janie Abel in soliciting advertising for the annual bulletin.

Credit is due to no small degree to the entertainment committee which also has a load upon its shoulders; to the dance committee for arranging two of the most pleasant evenings in the year; to A. S. Boatwright, who arranged the parade; E. G. Parrish, who solicited many of the floats, and to others, who rendered valiant yeoman service.

All that is now needed is a pretty day which is in prospect and the Sixth Piedmont Dairy Festival will be added to the brilliant list of successes that have been achieved through the co-operation and far-sightedness of the good people of Northern Virginia.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By
Dr. James T. Marshall
THE OLYMPIC GAMES

"So run that ye may obtain." (I Cor. 9: 24) St. Paul was interested in athletics. He had been a university student and was familiar with the games of his day. In writing to the Christians at Corinth he uses the Olympic Games as a type of the Christian life. He bids them watch the victor in the foot race. There he goes, his body bent forward, every muscle and nerve stretched to the utmost tension, his eye fixed on the goal. Reaching the end of the race, he may fall exhausted but he is acclaimed a national hero, and upon his head is placed an amaranthine crown. Back of this victory lie years of severe training and self-denial. "Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible."

The Olympic Games of 1936 are as full of spiritual suggestiveness as those of Paul's day. The youthful victors just fresh from their triumphs at Berlin are saying two or three important things to the young men and the young women of every land.

They are telling us that every life must have some definite goal. There can be no success without a fixed purpose, which will make life worthwhile. Many fail through share aimlessness. There is no person without a talent of some sort and there is no success until we have discovered the thing for which we are fitted.

They are telling us that we must be willing to pay the price of success. "Every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self-control in all things." The great enemy of the athlete is a spirit of self-indulgence and impatience with discipline. The 1936 Olympic Committee did the right thing in debarring a young woman from competing in the swimming contest, and in shipping back home two young men for violating the disciplinary regulations of the games, for no physical prowess should be accepted as an excuse for intemperance and moral delinquency. Clean sport is a powerful ally in the fight for clean living.

They are telling us that the most valuable possession of a contestant in the game of life is endurance. It is a familiar fact that the winner in the foot race is not usually the man who takes the first place during the first lap of the course. He is more apt to lag a little behind in the beginning and to keep pulling up gradually until in the last lap he calls out his reserve strength and springs across the line. This was the case with Johnnie Woodruff of Pittsburgh who won the 800 meter foot-race at Berlin. This is in keeping with what our Savior says about the Christian life, "He that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved."

The young people of today are to be envied. The world is calling for great leadership and opportunities for serving humanity are boundless. Get in step with the great "Captain of our salvation" and help finish the task to which He gave His life, the task of bringing humanity back to posefulness, self-discipline and endurance. Learn from the athlete. Purance, these are the qualities which will give you success.

"Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve,
And press with vigor on;
A heavenly race demands thy zeal,
And an informal crown."

New Guns for Uncle Sam's Navy

Under the expired treaty terms with Japan and Great Britain there is springing forward at the hand of Navy officials in Washington today the greatest battle fleet ever conceived of by the United States. Day and night thousands of naval gun mechanics are laboring to bring into existence mighty guns to adorn the decks of these ships. The story of Uncle Sam's greatest gun factory in Washington, D. C., and the work which is going on there is told in an illustrated article in the feature section of next Sunday's Washington Star.

LITERARY SECTION HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

After an interlude of the summer months, the Music-Literature section of the Manassas Women's Club again resumed their regular monthly meetings, Tuesday evening, September 29. This meeting was held at the home of Miss Virginia Speiden with Mrs. Cocke and Mrs. Gunthrie, joint hostesses.

One of the things brought up under new business was a motion that this section again adopt as a project for this year the financing of fifteen National Symphony Concert tickets, covering four student concerts and that certain deserving school children be selected as they were last year and be transported to these concerts. A Committee was also appointed consisting of Mrs. Paul Cooksey, chairman; Mrs. Cocke and Mrs. Ratcliffe to provide certain musical talent for each meeting of the Woman's Club throughout the coming year. At the last Club meeting Miss Jesse Mae Conner sang two delightful selections and these were enjoyed so much it was thought this little musical addition would add to each Club meeting.

After disposing of all business, the high spot of the evenings entertainment was reached. Mrs. Lloyd introduced her friend, Mrs. Kathryn Walters of Washington, D. C., who had recently returned from Spain after spending nine months there with her daughter and son-in-law, the latter being third secretary at the American Embassy in Madrid. We were delightedly entertained for sometime with descriptions of many places Mrs. Walters had visited in Spain. She told of wonderful cathedrals, various customs she had observed, which to us seemed so unusual, architecture, wonderful works of art and indeed it seemed that Mrs. Walters could have continued on indefinitely if time had permitted. During the serving of refreshments, she was kept busy answering questions and giving promises to fill certain other speaking engagements.

At a late hour we adjourned to meet again in October.

Please read your Church Notices Carefully.

A CAUSE FOR SATISFACTION

The spirit of cooperation between this county and Stafford which has been especially evinced during the Dairy festival has become a source of satisfaction to all progressive citizens.

Lack of contact and understanding in a legislative district that reaches across a considerable portion of the State at one time hindered to a degree the good feeling that has developed gradually in more recent years and is now budding into bloom.

The road meeting at Herndon recently was another example and brought forth several of the most representative and energetic citizens of Stafford to urge improvement of the very link that will do more than any thing else at present to promote the good fellowship that is so necessary to higher and better things in home and community life.

Manassas, Va.
 September 26, 1936.

To So Called Jeffersonian Democrats. I received some literature from a party or parties signing themselves as "Jeffersonian Democrats." As a Democrat and as a citizen I fail to see any connection between your organization and Thomas Jefferson. Were he alive today he would be for the New Deal 100 per cent, as 99.9 per cent of thinking Democrats are supporting it.

What have you to offer in its place? I doubt, judging by your literature, that any of you have had a new thought in 25 years.

Some say you are even thinking of voting for the corn-flower Republican, Landon, who is doing everything possible to steal the New Deal program from Roosevelt and adopt it as his own.

As a farmer, I must say that there is a vast difference between 1932-33 and today. In 1932 I sold wheat for 42 cents and corn for 30 cents per bushel. Fat cows netted one cent per pound, or $12.00 each after paying freight to Baltimore, which is 68 miles away.

You and your friends of your stripe should hang your heads in shame for not supporting the man who is doing more for the farmers, the middle class and the poor people than any other man has done or ever will do, in my humble opinion.

If Mr. Roosevelt has done anything more radical than giving the people a chance to make a living, we have failed to see it. I judge that you must all be a bunch of lawyers or other type of rich grafters. I realize that you do not get your 5 per cent for lending and your 6 per cent interest added to it, as you did by lending money to poor people when Hoover was in office, as well as other Republican Presidents.

Why desecrate the grand old name of Democrat by sailing under false colors?

Very truly,
 CHAS. F. LEWIS.

WELFARE WORKER
ADDRESSES KIWANIS

Mrs. Jean Smith, of the state welfare board, was an interesting speaker before the local Kiwanis Club on Friday evening, being introduced to the club by Mrs. W. L. Lloyd at the instance of Rev. Gibson, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The speaker told of numerous instances where the co-operative county and state work had been beneficial, and showed how the local setup would be established.

She answered a large number of questions to indicate the interest shown in the matter by the club members.

There is no meeting this week, and members are requested to sign up for attendance.

"MR. DEEDS GOES TO TOWN"

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR CAPRA

Once again the matchless genius of Frank Capra has asserted itself and brought to the screen a triumph of the highest calibre. There can no longer be any doubt that Mr. Capra is in a class alone so far as motion picture direction is concerned. He makes a few picture, but they bear the unmistakable mark of technical perfection.

To this director's last three films—"Lady for a Day," "It Happened One Night," and "Broadway Bill," each of them fine enough to warm the heart of an ordinary director for the duration of his professional life—is added now "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," which comes to the Pitts' Theatre with Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur in the important roles.

It is an enchanting film, merry, human, romantic, intelligent, in the inimitable Capra manner. It brings a new and charming Gary Cooper to his innumerable fans and it finds, in Jean Arthur a star of the first magnitude, lovely, clever and sparkling. Together, under Mr. Capra's guiding wand, they have given a performance that lacks nothing. Mr. Cooper and Miss Arthur have a treat in store for you.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" tells the fascinating story of a young man in a small town—Mandrake Falls, if you're curious—who falls heir to $20,000,000 left by an eccentric uncle. Longfellow Deeds, the hick, doesn't give a hoot about the money; he wants to be left alone in Mandrake Falls, where he's having a good time playing the tuba in the village band and serving as a volunteer fireman.

However, he is brought to New York by his late uncle's attorney and dropped in the midst of abunch of grafters—the attorney among them—who are out to leave Deeds as little of the fortune as possible. Of course, his advent into the metropolis is a field day for the newspapers. One clever editor assigns Babe Bennett, a sob sister, the task of getting the story on Longfellow; she does, but she also succeeds in falling in love with him and allowing him to fall for her. Her stories bring Deeds such unhappiness that he decides to give his $20,000,000 away to needy folk. Immediately the attorney, who sees visions of the money getting away from him altogether has Deeds arrested for insanity, and then the fur flies with a vengeance.

Robert Riskin, Mr. Capra's sidekick, Assisting Mr. Cooper and Miss Ar-the gentleman who takes care of the thur in this task that they must have writing of the director's successes, found so delightful, is a cast of such has turned out a screen play that capable character actors as Georgette Mergenters a hot-house full of orchids. Bancroft, Lionel Stander, Douglas Some of the lines are priceless. Credit Dumbrell, Raymond Walburn, Mme. for the original story goes to Clarence Margaret Matzenauer, H. B. Warner, Buddington Kelland. There really isn't Warren Hymer, Muriel Evans, Ruthmuch more to say, except that if you Donnelly and or so many others whomiss "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" you are also fine. certainly must hate yourself.

MAKE YOUR HOME SAFE FROM FIRES

full directions for mailing the same on return to registrar of the National Fire Prevention Week — October 4 to 10, 1936

PUT lighted matches and smokes out before you throw them away. Keep matches where small children cannot reach them. Never smoke in the garage, barn or attic, nor in bed.

REMOVE rubbish, waste papers and all unnecessary combustible materials. Provide metal ash and trash cans. Burn rubbish in a safety covered brick or metal incinerator. Watch the fire.

EXAMINE all stoves, furnaces, and smoke pipes to make sure they are safe and well away from woodwork or other burnable materials. Have needed repairs made at once.

VALUE the advice of your fire chief who says that many fires are caused by dirty or defective chimneys. Have the chimney cleaned regularly, and have all defects repaired.

ESCAPE the danger of flammable liquid fires and explosions by keeping no gasoline in the house. Do dry cleaning with safe liquids or send the work to the cleaner. Never start fires with kerosene NOTIFY the electric company of electrical trouble and the gas company of gas leaks. Replace "blown" fuses with new ones—not pennies. Avoid homemade wiring jobs. Don't look for gas leaks with a match.

TEACH everyone on the premises to be careful of fire, to watch stoves, fireplaces, electric irons and all other possible fire causes, and every day to remove all old rags, papers and other rubbish.

FIREPROOF your home as far as possible by fire-safe roofing, fire stopping in hollow walls and partitions to stop the spread of flames, and a non-combustible basement ceiling.

INQUIRE of your fire chief, when buying a fire extinguisher, to be sure of getting the right kind. Don't hesitate to ask your fireman whenever you have questions on fire prevention.

REMEMBER always where the nearest fire alarm box is and how to send an alarm. If telephoning, be sure the address is clearly understood. Use a neighbors phone rather than the one in the burning house.

EXPLAIN to everyone in the house what to do in case of fire, how to put out fire in clothing by wrapping in a rug or blanket, what to do when grease catches fire in the kitchen.

SAVE life and property from needless destruction by fire by keeping the principles of fire prevention always in mind and never take a chance with fire.

An affidavit having been made, as required by law, that Mattie H. Miller, Elizabeth Miller, Blanche Miller, Mary A. Chearning, Cora S. Wine, Norman B. Wine and Grace Wine, Hiram Wine and James Wine, defendants in the above-styled cause, are not residents of the state of Virginia, and that there may be persons, heirs at law of Sarah J. The object of this suit is to determine the present ownership of a tract of land containing 105 acres, 3 rods and 16 poles, situate in Brentsville Magisterial District, Prince William County, Virginia, being the same land that was conveyed by S. A. Marteller to the late Sarah J. Cold Water Gives
Rescue 'Real' Touch

True realism is attained in a rescue scene of the current Hopalong Cassidy picture, "Heart of the West," at the Pitts Theatre next Wednesday and the dramatic ability of George Hayes is only partly responsible.

Hayes, veteran actor who appears as "Windy" in the picture, is being rescued from a fast-moving river by Bill Boyd and Jimmy Ellison. When the elderly player jumped into the stream to stage the scene, he found himself caught by the current and numbed by the icy water.

Almost overpowered in reality, Hayes was exhausted and chilled when dragged from the water. He was forced to take a 24-hour rest, on order of the staff physician. Other scenes, in which he does not appear, were shot during the next day.

"Windy" is a central character of "Heart of the West," appearing as an old rancher who relies on a black-snake whip as his only weapon. With Hayes, Boyd and Ellison, the cast boasts such talent as Fred Kohler, Warner Richmond, Walter Miller, Charles Martin, John Rutherford, Ted Adams and Robert McKenzie.

ODE TO A COW

When life seems one too many for you,
Go and look at a cow.
When the future's black and the outlook blue,
Go and look at a cow.
For she does nothing but eat her food,
And sleeps in the meadows entirely nood,
Refusing to fret or worry or brood
Because she doesn't know how.
Whenever you're feeling bothered and sore,
Go look at a cow.
When everything else is a fearful bore,
Go look at a cow.
Observe her gentle and placid air,

Her nonchalance and savoir faire,
Her absolute freedom from every care.

Her imperturbable brow.
So when you're at the end of your wits,

Go look at a cow.
Or when your nerves are frayed to bits,

And wrinkles furrow your brow;
She'll merely moo in her gentle way,

Switching her udder as if to say:
"Bother tomorrow! Let's live today!
Take the advice of a cow."

OCCOQUAN and VICINITY

We are sorry to note that one of our good neighbors, Mrs. John Powell of Woodbridge is on the sick list, and hope she will soon be well again.

Mrs. Corbin Thompson of Woodbridge has returned from her summer home in Vermont.

Miss Anne McNeal of Washington, D. C., spent the week end with Miss Mary B. Joyce of Occoquan.

A number of the young folks gave a wienie roast followed by a dance at the home of Miss Madeline Dawson, Deep Hole Farm, Saturday evening, September 26. There was a large attendance and all had an enjoyable evening.

The chicken dinner given by the Women's Missionary Society of Bethel Church on Saturday afternoon, September 26, was very well patronized. The dinner was excellent.

There will be an oyster supper for the benefit of Occoquan District High School at the school auditorium on October 9, commencing at 3:30 p. m. Come all and enjoy a good oyster supper, and meet the folks of the community, and help a worthy cause.

The recent dance given at Occoquan District High School was a great success. Your scribe never saw a better conducted dance, nor a better behaved assemblage of young folks. It clearly shows that the time has passed when the young folks must carry a flask on the hip in order to have a good time at a dance, and passed for ever we hope. It sure is a pleasure to attend such well conducted and well behaved dances.

Buck Keyes, Post No. 28, American Legion, and its Legion Auxiliary will hold their regular meetings October 6 at 7:30 p. m. Remember the date and time, and be sure to attend. Your presence is very much desired.

There will be an oyster and chicken dinner given by the ladies of Pohick Church at the church hall on November 16, commencing at 5:30 p. m. If you never have had the good fortune of attending one of the dinners gives by those ladies, do not miss this one; and if you have had one of their dinners I know you will be sure not to miss this one.

Captain and Mrs. Thomas F. Joyce were hosts to a surprise dinner party at their home in Occoquan on Monday evening, September 28, in honor of their daughter Mary's birthday anniversary. Among the guests were Miss Anne McNeal of Washington, D. C., Miss Mildred Hornbaker of Lorton, Mrs. Harvey Janney, Mrs. Fred Lynn, Miss Elizabeth Vaughan, Miss Mary P. Barnes, Miss Luella Brydie, Miss Evelyn Irons, Miss Ellen Eskridge, Miss Grace E. Madden, Miss Barbara Seelman, and Miss Jessie Neale. After dinner, cards and other games were played, and the cutting of the fortune birthday cake caused great merriment.

You fishermen better get a move on. By the number being caught it looks like there will not be many left in a few weeks.

PIANO CONCERTOS LISTED FOR WASHINGTON SYMPHONY

Three of the great piano concertos of Ludwig van Beethoven will be presented by noted artists appearing this season as soloists with the National Symphony Orchestra.

Kane Kindler, conductor of the Orchestra, announcing plans the 1936-37 season which opens October 25, in Constitution Hall said the No. 3, No. 4, and No. 5 Concertos, generally recognized as Beethoven's greatest, have been scheduled for performance.

Guimar Novaes, the brilliant Brazilian woman pianist, remembered in the Capital for her notable appearance with the National Symphony two seasons ago, will be the soloist in the Fourth Concerto, Dr. Kindler said. She appears with the Orchestra on November 4, an evening concert with which the Symphony opens its mid-week series of programs. Always an event long awaited by the Capital's society, this opening concert now becomes one to be eagerly awaited by all music lovers, especially the Beethoven admirers.

The next Beethoven concerto presentation will be made December 13, when Harold Bauer will be at the piano for a performance of the Concerto No. 3. This will be a feature of the all-Beethoven concert Dr. Kindler has already announced. Taking part in the program also will be the combined men's and women's glee clubs of George Washington University, which will support the Orchestra in a performance of Beethoven's Choral Fantasy.

The best known of all the Beethoven concertos, the "Emperor," No. 5, will be brought to the National Symphony audience with Myra Hess, the outstanding British pianist, as soloist. It will be a feature of January 8.

BUCKLAND

Miss Winifred Murdie returned on Saturday from the Warrenton hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis, and is now rapidly recovering.

Mrs. E. B. Carter is visiting her sister, Miss Belle Carter, of Centerville this week.

We are indeed very sorry to report that Mrs. Willard Gregg is critically ill in a Washington hospital from an abscess of the brain, and little hope is held for her recovery.

Mrs. J. F. Graham and Mrs. O. B. Luncford were guests on Thursday of Mrs. J. P. Fowler at her home, Park Lane, Va.

Miss Lora Glascock was a Washington visitor this week.

Mr. Pete Christensen, who has run a soft drink stand near here for the summer months, left on Tuesday for Washington where he will be employed for the winter.

Their many friends in the neighborhood were shocked and grieved to learn of the sad death on Saturday of Messrs Maurice and Ralph Edwards, which from injuries received Friday night when their automobile crashed into a telephone pole at Mt. Rainier, Md. These young men, 29 and 26 years old, spent most of their boyhood in Buckland, and their friends here extend sincerest sympathy to the bereaved family in their untimely passing. At the time of their death, Maurice was employed by the Holbrook Dairy farm at Hyattsville, Md., and Ralph worked as a lather in Washington.

TO serve our Patrons well and make each service a stepping stone towards their perfect confidence, is the desire and constant endeavor of our organization.

"Cum hyar Black Jack, let me see yo' neck.
(I declare I'll be a nerviss 'reck.)
Mary Jane, did yo' fetch me the needle and thread?
Cum hyar Black Jack, yo' herd what I sed!
Now Mary Jane sew that button on yo' coat
While I write that teacher a note.
Black Jack, turn down yo' shirt collar, put in yo' shirt tail,
And don't forget to put a apple in yo' dinner pail . . .

"Hyar's a dime, stop at the store and get a slate,
And don't stop and play or yo' all will be late.
If yo' see uncle Tom on yo' way, Tell him, Pappy is cuttin' his hay;
And tell ant Molly she can get that ol' goose,
And she better cum early 'fore I turn him loose.
After schule stop in and see cussion Jim,
And tell him, I'll be down t'morrow to see him . . .

"Black Jack, stop wipin' yo' nose on yo' sleeve!
Now children run along—hurry please. I do declare! Just a minnit thar Mary Jane;
It's kinder cloudy, looks like rain.
Better take yo' gum shoes—keep yo' feet dry,
And don't cross on the log ef the branch is high.
Black Jack, put that dog down; now jest look!
Mary Jane yo' yo'r paper and pencil and yo'r book . . .

"Black Jack, run in the kitch'n and see what time it is—
What! yo' say it's half past nine; gee whiz!
Too late to go to schule—it's rainin' anyway,

Looks like it's gin' to be a blustry day.
Mary Jane, take off yo' gum shoes, and stop playing with the kat.
Black Jack, Black Jack, whar is that boy at!
Mary Jane yo' wash the dishes and clean up the table
While Black Jack cleans out the cuppen and the stable . . .

"Lan's sake 'nother day nearly gone; Black Jack yo' better finish shellin' that corn,
And Mary Jane yo' slop the pigs while I milk the cow,
Pappy will be home most any time now.
And after we have a snack, children, get yo' things together
Yo' must get an early start fur schule barin' bad weather."
And now on Pine Top Knoll the Hill-Billies are in bed—
Soon the eastern sky will be speckled with dots of red . . .

DOG MART

until 12:30, followed by the fox horn blowing contest. Beginning promptly at 2 o'clock the auction will begin with Nathaniel Bacon Kinsey, widely known auctioneer, crying the sales. The auction will continue until all dogs are sold. Loud speaking equipment will be installed on the auction stand and will carry the proceedings to the entire crowd.

The Fredericksburg High School Band will furnish music during the day and a number of other entertaining features have been arranged. Entries for the event are being received daily and those in charge have requested that all dogs be registered as far in advance as possible. Information and entry blanks may be secured from the Chamber of Commerce by addressing Ray E. Hall, secretary. No entrance fee is charged, neither is there any charge made for selling the dogs. The only requirement being that the dog be free from disease. Any dog may be entered in the Mart for show or sale, regardless of breed, color or size. Upon entering a dog for the Mart the owner reserves the right to refuse any and all bids.

The 1935 Mart attracted more than 5,000 people and it is expected that even a larger number will witness the affair here on October 8.

LOVERS OUTWIT CROOKS IN NEW . . . OFFERING

The combination of drama, laughter and romance that Damon Runyon introduces in his inimitable fiction, comes to the screen at Pitts' Theatre Friday with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's adaptation of his prize-winning story, "The Three Wise Guys."

Here is a story practically made to order for the screen. Damon Runyon writes so vividly of the life as we see it that his stories provide natural material for the art of the movies.

Robert Young and Betty Furness have the romantic leads. The supporting cast consists of Raymond Walburn, Thurston Hall, Bruce Cabot, Donald Meek, Herman Bing, Harvey Stephens and Harry Tyler. Harry Rapf was the producer and George Seitz directed.

The story relates the adventures of a rich man's son who strolls from his father's private car on a deluxe trolley to encounter a beautiful girl in a forward coach. From that moment the story is a stream-lined account of color, action and romance, with a wealth of humor.

The narrative covers the modern American scene from New York across the continent to Hollywood, with amusing stop-overs in Palm Springs and at a Pennsylvania farm house.

The picture should definitely go on your list of movies to be seen.

Paul, who is well known to many of the residents in Prince William as a resident of the Wellington neighborhood, deserves his good luck as he has served faithfully and labored consistently all his life.

He expects to spend a portion of his winter in Florida and will write to his friends from there.
